AUTHOR’S NOTES

This encyclopedia of local history began in 1999 as a series of four directories, modest in size and scope. By making regular and constant amendments and additions, the directories became too large and expensive for retail outlets to stock or for individuals to buy. Fortunately, in 2017 a generous grant from the Drake Middlemist Fund, administered by the Tri-Cities Historical Museum, made it possible to have 50 copies printed and distributed free of charge to local schools, libraries, and museums, where they remained available for individuals or organizations wishing to research some aspect of local history or genealogy. The two-volume set is titled Northwest Ottawa County Encyclopedia of History. Volume I is an alphabetical listing of people. Volume II contains three directories: building and sites by address, a chronological listing of businesses and industries, and an alphabetical listing of historical topics.

In order to continue making the directories available to the public, updated digital editions are shared each year with the Tri-Cities Historical Museum, Loutit District Library, and Spring Lake District Library for use in their local history departments.

My research on the African American population that settled in the Grand Haven area has been inserted into the directories but can be found also in Slaves Soldiers Citizens. Although some persons with Indian ancestry are included in the People Directory, many more biographical sketches of the Native Americans who once walked this land called West Michigan are included in the book titled Footprints.

References at the end of an entry cite the source for some of the information, and bracketed notes after a name, date, or address are my additions, showing alternate spellings or data. Tribune refers to the Grand Haven Tribune, and Chronicle is a reference to the Muskegon Chronicle. Entries that do not cite sources typically were derived from information generally available to everyone. A bibliography toward the end of the Directory of Historical Topics lists my major resources.

Many individuals and organizations helped make the encyclopedia a reality. Among those are the Grand Haven Area Community Foundation, the Drake Middlemist Fund of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum, Grand Haven Tribune, Muskegon Chronicle, Alice Seaver, Joan Humphreys Bergbower, Don Foster, Chuck Rycenga II, and each of the Dusty Dozen, local historians with a deep and abiding interest in local history. I am deeply grateful to my wife Jane. Not only has she inspired me to continue working on the encyclopedia, she also been a perceptive editor of my work.

One of the wonders of the digital age is the opportunity to edit, add text, delete text, and, one hopes, constantly improve the product. I do that on an almost daily basis, which allows me to distribute revised electronic copies annually and print copies every few years.

PEOPLE

An alphabetical listing

Abel [Abba] Abbinga [Abenga] [1879-1963]

Before going into commercial fishing, Abel Abbinga worked for Kilbourn Company in Grand Haven. After the timber business declined, forcing Kilbourn to stop production, Abel in the early 1900s became associated with commercial fisherman Peter Fase. They owned and operated the tugs Alice, Dutch, Neptune, and Sport. After Captain Fase died in 1926, Captain Abbinga ran his own fishing business. His average daily catch of trout in the 1920s was 600 pounds. The son of Henry and Henrietta Abbinga of Grand Haven, Abel was born on February 18, 1879 and died in late December 1963 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He resided with his parents at 8 Clinton Street most of his life.

Henry Abbinga [Abenga] I [1846-1918]

Henry Abbinga, a native of The Netherlands, was born in February 1846. He married Henrietta Stap while still in their native country. Prior to immigrating to the United States sometime after 1889, the Abbingas had several children, including Abel [Abba] Abbinga, who was born in February 1879 and went into commercial fishing in Grand Haven; Dora Abbinga, born in 1880; Ettie Abbinga, born in June 1882; Teman [Timothy] Abbinga, who lived from March 1, 1885 to 1931 and also worked as a fisherman with Peter Fase; Nellie Abbinga, born in January 1887; Elsie Abbinga, born about 1888; and Henry Abbinga, born in March 1889. Another child, Annie [Anna], was born locally in February 1892. Dora married Henry Fase of Grand Haven, and Elsie married John Hammond. The Abbingas had another son, Henry II, whose wife, Nellie, lived from 1896 to 1917. In Grand Haven the Abbingas lived at 8 Clinton Street. Henry, who worked as a freight handler, died about January 17, 1918. Henrietta, a native of The Netherlands, lived from October 22, 1849 to 1933 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband and other family members.

Charles John Abbott [1854-1932]

Born in London, Canada, on June 25, 1854, Charles Abbott came to Michigan when he was 13. A lumberman by trade, he went to work for White, Friant, & Company Sawmill in 1877 and was foreman by 1882. He married Lillie F. Crane of Greenville on September 22, 1880. Lillie was born in Michigan on June 6, 1857. Their daughter, Florence [Frolenie] Abbott, was born in 1882 and lived in Greenville. They had two daughters: Marjory Ethel Abbott, who was born in Montcalm County and lived from 1882 to 1982, and Elizabeth Grace Abbott, who was born in Ipswich, South Dakota, and lived from 1884 to 1965. The year after Lillie’s death, Charles married Ida Wright, a native of Wisconsin, who lived from October 22, 1856 to April 27, 1928. He married Annie Laurie Webb in Traverse City on September 28, 1904. She was born in 1873 and died in 1956. They had a daughter, Barbara Anne, who lived from 1905 to 1988. Charles died in Traverse City on November 20, 1932.

Prior to George Abbott’s marriage, he was in the banking business in Grand Haven, probably with Ferry & Son and its successor, First National, where he was cashier in 1880. On December 24, 1874, he married Ella Adele Conklin, born about 1856 in Auburn, New York, a daughter of Benson Conklin and sister of Mrs. A. E. Bosusch of Detroit and Kate Conklin, a nurse at Harper Hospital, also in Detroit. George’s and Ella’s daughter, Florence [Frolenie] Abbott, was born in Grand Haven in 1876. About 1884 the family moved from Grand Haven to Muskegon, where George became vice president of Hackley Bank. Ella died on January 28, 1906 at Harper Hospital and was buried at Evergreen Cemetery in Muskegon. George was born in New York about 1851, passed away in Muskegon on October 3, 1921, and also was buried at Evergreen. [Tribune obituary, January 30, 1906.]

Jacob Achterhof I [1901-1983]

Born March 25, 1901 in Holland, Michigan, Jacob was the son of Harry and Gezina “Sena” Wiegerink Achterhof. Jacob moved to Grand Haven in 1923 and was employed by the Story & Clark Piano Company. He also owned Achterhof Variety Stores in Ferrysburg and North Muskegon until 1970, when his son Dick took over the business. He was a member of the Second Christian Reformed Church in Grand Haven.

Jacob married Henrietta Bus on March 16, 1921 in Holland. She was born on June 5, 1902 in The Netherlands and died in Grand Haven on October 30, 1994. Their children included Harold J. Achterhof, who was born on February 15, 1922 and died in Grand Haven on May 11, 1997; Kathryn [Kitty] Achterhof, who was born on May 21, 1926 and married Henry Prys of Grand Haven; Joan [Jean] Harriet Achterhof, who was born on February 6, 1929 and died at the age of five; Kenneth P. Achterhof, born on October 16, 1932; Alvin Achterhof, who was born on November 29, 1932 and moved to North Muskegon; and Jacob Achterhof II, born on October 18, 1937 and his twin, Harriet Achterhof; who died at birth. The Achterhofs resided in Spring Lake and later relocated to 1028 Arlington in Grand Haven. Jacob died of “cachia” [cachexia] on December 30, 1983 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 30, 1983 and family history dated November 1982.]

Elmer E. Ackley [1862-1923]

Born in Coopersville on June 1, 1862, Elmer was the son of Hezekiah and Eleanor Ackley. His sister Elizabeth married Sherman Dickinson of Grand Haven. Elmer was a barber in Grand Rapids at Madison Square for more than 25 years. Sometime after 1910 he and his wife Bertha moved to Grand Haven and resided at 129 Elliott. They had several children, including Leona Mae Ackley, born in May 1889; Fern B. Ackley, born in January 1896; and Edith Ackley, who married Edwin W. Thompson of Grand Haven. Elmer died at his home at 720 Fulton Street on February 18, 1923. Bertha, a Michigan native, lived from June 1868 [1869] to 1925 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. [Tribune obituary, February 19, 1923.]

William Wellington Ackley [1842–1911]

Born in Chagrin Falls, Cuyahoga County, Ohio on August 4, 1842 William Ackley served as private in the Civil War with the 14th Independent Battery Ohio Light Artillery from September 10, 1861 to August 9, 1865. He was the son of Uriah W. and Alice Sophia Ackley of Ohio. William arrived in Grand Haven in 1876 and was hired in 1881 as saw filer at Boyden & Akeley’s Mill. He died at his home in Geauga Lake, Ohio on January 26, 1191 from “pleurpneumonia” and was buried at Restland Cemetery in Bainbridge, Ohio. He married Diana [Diane] Jones, who applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on February 24, 1911. Born in Ohio in March 1851, she died from “Bright’s disease” [a kidney ailment] at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Alice and Daniel. McLean of Cleveland, Ohio, on October 17, 1921. Alice Ackley McLean was born about 1872. William and Diana were buried at Bainbridge, Ohio, where they had settled about 1896. [Tribune obituary, January 30, 1911.]

Zenana “Zena” Ackley [1883-1982]

Born on August 18, 1883, Zena Ackley by 1900 was living in her aunt’s house in Adrian, Lenawee County with her widowed mother Emma Neggis Ackley. Zena was a student at Adrian College. Ten years later daughter and mother were in Grand Haven, where Zena taught music at the high school. They were residing at 101 Franklin Street. By 1930 they had moved to 425½ Lafayette Street. She spent the academic year 1937-38 studying at the University of Michigan. By the time of the 1940 Federal Census they had moved again, this time to 520 Franklin Street [also known as 518 Franklin], in a two-unit apartment owned by Agnes Louise Koster, also a teacher. Zena and Emma remained in this home for a lengthy period. Emma, who was born in 1862, died on November 10, 1959. She had married George L. Ackley in Morenci, Lenawee County, on February 7, 1882. George was born about 1856 in New York State. Zena died on March 1, 1982. She and her mother were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles H. Adams [1855-1942]

Born in Waterbury, Connecticut in July 1855, Charles Adams came to Grand Haven as a young man. He was one of the founders of American Brass Novelty Company, which started in 1896 in the Forrest Brothers Grist Mill building on Second Street. His associates were Samuel Ardis, Rev. James A. Kennedy, James Hallas, and Andrew Thomson I. Charles was employed by American Brass for about five years, and then returned to his former job as a salesman.

About 1886 Charles married Anna “Annie” Thomson. Born in Scotland in December 1863 [1861], Anna was the daughter of Andrew and Charlotte Thomson I, early Grand Haven residents, and the sister of Andrew II and Isabel Thomson of Grand Haven. Anna was a teacher in the Grand Haven public schools. The Adams’s’ children were Isabel [Isabella] Adams, who was born in June 1888 and married John D. Bakker [Baker] of Grand Haven; Isabel’s twin, Charlotte Adams, who married Lorimer Dunlevy of Milwaukee; Helen A. Adams, born in January 1894; Frances B. Adams, born in January 1897; and Louise B. Adams, born on October 2, 1899. Helen, Frances, and Louise all moved to Chicago. Louise, who married a Mr. Blair, died on August 1, 1928. The Adams family resided at 533 Lafayette Street. Anna died in Chicago on January 15, 1922. Charles died April 11, 1942 at the home of a daughter, Mrs. George Anderson, in Chicago. Both he and his wife were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. [Tribune obituaries, January 15, 1922 and April 11, 1942.]

Eli Adams [@1842-1862]

Eli, the son of Ephraim and Caroline Allen Adams, was born in Ohio about 1842. He enlisted as private in Company A of the 8th Ohio Infantry on June 20, 1861 and died of disease in Washington, D.C. on December 12, 1862. He was buried at the Military Asylum Hospital in Washington. On June 9, 1880 his mother applied for a survivor’s Civil War pension.

Ephraim Adams II [1809-1899]

Ephraim, the son of Ephraim and Martha Mason Adams, was born in 1809 in New York State. Ephraim II married Caroline [Carolyn] Allen, who was born in the same state and lived from July 1819 to July 7, 1901. In the 1870s the couple moved from Huron County, Ohio to Robinson Township. Ephraim and Caroline had eight children: Eli A. Adams, born about 1842; Angeline Adams, born about 1844; Hiram W Adams., born about 1848; John G. Adams, born about 1850; Mary G. Adams, born about 1853; Ephraim Adams III, born in 1855; Martha E. Adams, born about 1857; and Ezra W. Adams, who was born in April 1860 and died on August 6, 1891 in a sawmill accident. All the children were born in Ohio. Ephraim II died on August 26 [22], 1899 in Robinson Township.

Hiram Mason Adams [@1848-1937]

Hiram Adams was born in Ohio about 1848, the son of Ephraim and Caroline Allen Adams. On February 17, 1864 Hiram enlisted as private in Company C of the Ohio 123rd Infantry. He was mustered out on June 12, 1865. Hiram came to Spring Lake from Clyde, Ohio in 1867. In 1870 he began work for Cutler & Savidge, where in 1878 he became foreman of the yard at Mill #9. Hiram married Emma Caroline Gibbs, who was born in Ohio around 1850. Among their children were Ella L. Adams, who was born about 1870, and married Gustav Diedrich in Robinson Township on December 26, 1891, and May S Adams., born about 1874. Also living with the family in Spring Lake was Emma’s sister, Ellen Gibbs. Ellen, who was born in Ohio about 1856, became a music teacher. By 1910 Hiram and Emma were residing in Home, Newaygo County. At that time they had two more daughters: Marguerite E., born in Spring Lake on September 11, 1889, and Frances T., born about 1892. Marguerite married John W. Bidwell in Home on March 6, 1915. Frances married John L. Hodges in Muskegon on November 11, 1918. Emma died on December 11, 1932, and Hiram passed away January 12, 1937. Both were buried at Evergreen Cemetery in Muskegon.

Joseph Adams [@1794-?]

Joseph Adams, born in Maryland about 1794, was residing in 1860 in Spring Lake, where he worked as a barber. The census enumerator classified Joseph and the other members of his family as Mulattoes. Joseph’s wife, Sophia, was born in Pennsylvania about 1824. Their children were Helen Adams, born in New York about 1848; Frank Adams, born in New York about 1850; Isabella Adams, born in New York about 1852; and Walter Adams, born in Canada about 1858. None of the family members appeared in subsequent censuses for Ottawa County.

Joseph Warren Adams [1834-1912]

Joseph Adams and Ann Dutton were married in Stowe, Vermont on May 8, 1861. They moved to Ottawa County between 1870 and 1880. In 1900 Joseph and Ann were living in Polkton Township, where he worked as a farmer, but by 1908 he and Ann had returned to Howard Street, and he was employed at Challenge Refrigerator Company. Around 1909 the couple moved to 219 South Fourth from 410 Howard Street. Joseph at that time worked as a carpenter. In the 1910 Federal Census, he was classified as a “garment maker” in a Grand Haven factory. He was born in Brookfield, Vermont on March [May] 21, 1834. Ann, six years younger, also was born in Vermont. Joseph passed away in Red Oak, Iowa on May 28, 1912. Ann died the next year and was buried with her husband at Evergreen Cemetery in Red Oak.

Corneil [Cornelius] N. Addison I [1821-1893]

The 1893 Compendium listed Cornelius Addison I as a “shoemaker.” Corneil and his wife, Christina, moved from New York State to Fremont, Newaygo County, and then to Grand Haven. Corneil was born in The Netherlands on March 13, 1821 and died in Grand Haven on May 5, 1893. He married Christina Johanna Fischer in The Netherlands on January 2, 1850. Christina, also a native of The Netherlands, lived from September 12, 1831 [1832] to July 27, 1910. She died in Grand Haven. Among their children were Sophia, who was born on September 15, 1854 in The Netherlands and married Robert [Raymond] Misner in Fremont; Corneil II, who was born in New York on November 1, 1860; Elizabeth “Lissie,” born in New York in June 1863; Fredrick Joseph, who was born in Fremont in April 1866; and Christian, who was born in Fremont on May 20, 1870 and died about July 29, 1910. The Addisons were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Corneil “Cornelius” N. Addison II [1860-1933]

Born November 1, 1860 near Syracuse, New York, Cornelius was the son of Corneil and Christina Addison. The family moved to Fremont, Newaygo County when Cornelius was a boy. When he was 20, Cornelius worked as a clerk in a Fremont store. He later was employed in the sawmills of Muskegon and then in a grocery store in the same city. In 1887 he started a grocery store in Fruitport that burned down in 1889. He then came to Grand Haven in 1890 and joined John M. Cook as owners and managers of a grocery store, located at 123 North Third. Cornelius sold his half interest to his partner in 1892 and opened a dry goods store at the southeast corner of Washington and Second Streets [Akeley Building, 200 Washington], specializing in “bazaar goods,” toys, fancy goods, crockery, and dry goods. The store was known as Addison’s Bazaar. In 1893 he was awarded a patent for his invention of an improved broom holder.

On June 14 [18], 1890 in Grand Haven, Cornelius married Alice Hoffman, who was born in The Netherlands in May 1867 and died in Los Angeles on October 23, 1934. They had seven children, all born locally: Cornelius J., who was born on May 23, 1891; John H., who was born on October 11, 1893 and served in the Navy during WWI; Margaret, who was born about 1897; Howard, who was born on July 11, 1899, worked as bookkeeper at the Addison store, and later moved to Boston; Christina [Cristene] E., who was born in 1902, became a teacher, and married Russell Ray, and Lewis E., who was born in 1908 and died in Mt. Vernon, Ohio on February 16, 1927. A second daughter, Alice J., was born on September 12, 1905 and also... became a teacher. She married Paul S. Matheson, who was born in Canada about 1905. They moved to Los Angeles, where Alice later married Elmore Andre of Los Angeles, who lived from August 14, 1908 to September 6, 1984. The Addison family lived at 413 Lafayette in Grand Haven and later built a Dutch Colonial home at 602 Pennoyer Avenue. Before 1930 they moved to Los Angeles. Cornelius died on June 16, 1933 in Los Angeles and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife, mother, father, and other family members. [Tribune obituary, June 17, 1933.]

Cornelius John Addison [1891-1956]

Born in Grand Haven on May 23, 1891, Cornelius Addison served as first lieutenant with the Medical Corps in England during WWI and later practiced medicine in Grand Haven. On May 25, 1916 in Ann Arbor, he married Caroline Anna Coon, who was born in Grand Rapids on March 20, 1890. He received his medical degree the same year from the University of Michigan. In 1918 Cornelius and Caroline were living in Marquette, where Addison was working as a physician. Two years later the family was residing in Clinton, Lenawee County, where Addison had opened a medical office. They had at least six children, all born in Michigan: Cornelius Philip, born about 1918; Martha Jane, born about 1920; David Russell, born about 1922; Joseph John, born about 1924; Mary Patricia, born about 1926; and Margaret E., born on November 17, 1927 in Grand Haven. The family resided in Cornelius's childhood home at 413 Lafayette. Cornelius served with the U.S. Army as a medical doctor with the rank of major. He was stationed in Europe. His wife and youngest child returned to Michigan from Italy in 1947. Cornelius’s parents were Cornelius and Alice Hoffman Addison of Grand Haven. Caroline died in Orange County, California on January 14, 1985. Cornelius had passed away on December 14, 1956.

Frederick Joseph Addison I [1866-1926]

Fred Addison, who was born in Fremont, Newaygo County in April 1866, married Klazina “Sena” Ver Murlen. The daughter of Cornelius and Catherine Ver Murlen, Sena was born in Grand Haven on November 30, 1869. She and Fred were married in 1889 in Grand Haven. As early as 1893 the Addisons resided in Muskegon, where Fred worked in a factory. By 1908 he and Sena were living at 334 Columbus and Fred was in the printing trade. They had two children: Christina Johanna, who was born on July 10, 1891, died on August 31, 1931, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; and Fred J. II, born in Muskegon on August 15, 1893. Sena died November 27, 1931 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Fred, the son of Cornelius and Alice Hoffman Addison of Grand Haven, passed away in 1926.

Frederick Joseph Addison II [1893-1957]

The son of Fred and Sena Ver Murlen Addison, Fred II was born in Muskegon on August 15, 1893 [1894]. On July 9, 1916 in Grand Haven he married Nellie Ruster, who was born in Michigan on October 7, 1891. They had a son, Robert, who was born on May 7, 1918 and passed away in Kalamazoo on March 20, 1995. Another son, David, was born on February 6, 1926 and died in Kalamazoo on December 7, 2001. By 1917 Fred and his wife had moved to Grand Haven. In Grand Haven, Fred was partner in a furniture business. The Addisons then resided at 230 Clinton. By 1930 the family had moved to Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where Fred worked for a plumbing company. Nellie passed away in St. Joseph, Berrien County on March 1, 1982. Fred died about August 17, 1957. He and Nellie were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Allan C. Adsit [Allen Adzit] [1837-1912]

Born in Rutland, New York on February 20, 1837, Allan was the son of Stephen and Polly Smiley Allen. Allan attended Fairfield Seminary and studied law at Watertown, New York. In 1859 he was admitted to the New York bar. After teaching for a short time, he began the practice of law in Adams, New York in 1859. On September 9, 1861 in Albany, New York Allan enlisted as private in Company B of the 44th New York Infantry. Nineteen days later he transferred to Company G. He was promoted to sergeant on December 29, 1862 and to first lieutenant on February 27, 1863. Allan was discharged on August 6 the same year.
A year after the war ended, Allan came to Ottawa County as a grocer and dry goods merchant. He was supervisor of Spring Lake from 1867 to 1873, representative in the State Legislature between 1871 and 1872, and prosecuting attorney for Ottawa County from 1874 to 1877, when he moved to Grand Rapids and became Kent Circuit court judge from 1891 to 1900. When the Village of Spring Lake was incorporated in 1869, he was elected Trustee and in April two years later he was elected the third president of the Village. The next year, he became one of the first directors of the new Spring Lake Salt Company, along with Aloys Bilz, Hunter Savidge, and others.

Allan’s first wife was Mary Hubble, whom he married in Spring Lake on October 19, 1871. Mary was born about August 25, 1848, died on November 4, 1872, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had a daughter May who died on September 27, 1872, not quite two months old, and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Allan moved to Grand Rapids in 1877, where on February 24, 1886 he married Sarah Kirkpatrick [Kilpatrick]. On May 22, 1899 he applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. He died of “neuralgia of the heart” on January 3, 1912 and was buried at Valley City Cemetery in Kent County. Sarah applied for a widow’s Civil War pension the following February 3. She lived from 1853 to 1920 and also was buried at Valley City. [Tribune obituary, January 3, 1912.]

Henry Ahrens [1843-1935]

German-born Henry Ahrens, who lived from February 1843 to 1935, married Augusta Matilda [Mary/Maria/Bruns] Krause. Like her husband she was born in Hanover, Germany and lived from May 1848 to 1924. Their children, all born in the Grand Haven area, were Charles, who died at birth on March 29, 1874; Ida, who lived from 1875 to 1902; Louisa Dorthea, who was born on March 5, 1876, married August Van Tol, and died September 17, 1958; Henry Theodore, who was born on April 1, 1878, worked at Story & Clark, and died in July 1962; and John, who was born in April 1881, died in 1959, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. The Ahrens’s 120-acre farm was in Section 20 of Crockery Township. Henry, Augusta, and Ida also were buried at Nunica Cemetery.

Edward Doud Aiken [1886-1972]

Born on the 123-acre family farm on Potawatomie Bayou on March 26, 1886, Edward was the son of George and Amelia Doud Aiken. He was a bellboy in the Cutler House Hotel and sailed a few trips on the Naomi steamship between Grand Haven and Milwaukee. Edward was a steeplejack, painter, and window washer. He helped build the 151-foot chimney for Eagle Ottawa Leather Company in 1925. He died at Glenwood Christian Nursing Home in Marne on March 30, 1972 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 30, 1972.]

George W. Aiken [1846-1916]

Born in Rumney, New Hampshire in 1846, George Aiken sailed from 1866 to 1870 in the Southern Pacific Ocean on the whaling vessel, Sappho, commanded by Captain James Handy and owned by a Mr. Seabury. From 1870 to 1874 working as a cook on the bark Chicago Board of Trade, in charge of Captain Fountain and owned by Charles Bradley, he sailed the Great Lakes between Buffalo and Chicago. He settled in the Grand Haven area in 1870 and by 1874 owned a 123-acre homestead on the banks of Grand River a little southeast of Grand Haven [Section 35, then considered part of Spring Lake Township]. Twenty-five acres of the land were devoted to gardening and fruit orchards. In the late 1880s he purchased land from the estate of Townsend Gidley that included a Trotting Park [Trotting Oval] in Section 35. The Aikens named their farm Everlows. One of its features was the large Driving Park.

In 1872 George married Amelia [Emilie] Doud of Port Byron, New York. She was born in February 1845. They had two children: Jessie, who was born in 1874 and married a Mr. Paul of Grand Rapids, and Edward [Edmund] Doud Aiken, who was born on March 26, 1886 and helped on the 123-acre family farm until his mother’s death on November 25, 1921. George was a member of the Unitarian Church and the Masons and he was a Republican in politics. He died in December 1916 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Amelia managed the farm after her husband’s death. She died on December 21, 1921 and was interred at Lake Forest.
Dewitt Ainsworth [1842-1911]

Born July 17, 1842 in New York State Dewitt was the son of Dr. Henry Ainsworth. Dewitt had a brother, Walter, who lived from 1850 to 1931, and two sisters, Delia, who married Charles C. Reed of Stillwater, Minnesota and Mary Campbell of Bellingham, Washington. On August 17, 1864 Dewitt enlisted as private in Company L of the 1st Wisconsin Heavy Artillery and was mustered out on June 26, 1865. He came to Grand Haven from Rome, Wisconsin in 1871 and was an employee of Wait Manufacturing Company. Dewitt moved to Spring Lake and joined the Cutler & Savidge Sawmill in 1877 as foreman of the planing mill.

On October 31, 1869 Dewitt married Frances A. Force, who was born in Rome, Wisconsin on May 8, 1842, died on October 5, 1927, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They resided on Park Street in Spring Lake. Dewitt died on May 4, 1911 at his home and also was buried at Lake Forest. Frances applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on May 27, 1911.

Healy Cady Akeley [1836-1912]

Healy was born in Stowe, Vermont on March 16, 1836, the son of George and Eluta [Electa] Coffin Akeley. His father was a lineal descendant of Hannah Dustin, made famous by her escape from captivity by the Indians in 1698. Healy was instructed in the ancient languages and mathematics at the Academy at Barre, Vermont and studied law with the firm of Dillingham & Durant in Waterbury, Connecticut. He continued his studies at a Poughkeepsie, New York law school. After practicing law in Greensborough, Vermont, in 1858 Healy moved to Grand Haven where he helped develop the lumber and shipping industries. He was one of the major stockholders of the Grand Haven Lumber Company, and he served as justice of the peace and circuit court commissioner for two years. In 1862 he founded the newspaper Grand Haven Union, a voice of the Republican Party, which was edited by Lemoyne M. S. Smith from 1862 until 1872. Healy enlisted in the 2nd Michigan Cavalry on October 23, 1863. He served primarily in Mississippi and was promoted to first lieutenant and adjutant on November 30, 1864 and to captain the following July 31. He was discharged on August 17, 1865.

After the war, Healy bought for $13,000 a considerable amount of land outside the original Grand Haven village limits for building sites. From 1866 to 1880 he was customs collector for the United States Government. In 1872 he shared a law office with a Mr. Stewart. The next year Healy was named a director of the First National Bank of Grand Haven.

In 1871 Healy erected a large two-story frame building at 200-202 Washington, which became known as the Akeley Block. The new structure housed several retail establishments over the years, including Slayton’s Dry Goods, Watson’s Dry Goods, Addison’s, Addison-Baltz, and Steketee’s, and now is home to the Tri-Cities Historical Museum. In 1872 Healy entered into partnership with Charles Boyden and formed the Boyden and Akeley Shingle Mill, for a time the world’s largest. He and Captain Thomas Kirby owned the Kirby & Akeley Shipbuilding Company. Their steam barges, including the H. C. Akeley built in 1881, transported goods to every corner of the Great Lakes. He was also a silent partner in the firm of Harris Brothers, merchants in Grand Haven. Healy was a civic leader, and from 1882 to 1884 served as mayor of Grand Haven. In 1882 he contributed $20,000 to provide the Unitarian Church with its first permanent building on Washington, between Third and Fourth Streets. When the lumber trade along the Grand River began to decline in the late 1880s, Healy and his family left Grand Haven for Minneapolis, where he started the Akeley Lumber Company in partnership with Charles H. Hackley and Thomas Hume of Muskegon.

In 1871, Dr. Stephen Munroe graded the ridge on Washington and Fifth, put a wall around it, constructed a barn, and then sold the property to the Akeleys, who built a “beautiful residence.” In 1887, after the Akeleys had moved to Minneapolis, the philanthropist gave $5,000 in cash and their mansion and land on Washington Street, then valued at $47,000, to be used as the main building of the Akeley School for Girls. The home was named Blanche Hall, in memory of Akeley’s daughter. On September 12, 1888, Akeley Institute opened with 11 boarding pupils. Rev. James W. and Mrs. Wilkinson [Abbie] were in charge. The school flourished for years, and then closed in 1926. Healey was a Mason and in politics he was a Republican.

In June 1859, Healy married Anna Murray, who died in 1868. On August 10, 1869, he married Henrietta “Hettie” [Hattie] E. Smith, who was born about 1835 in Ohio. They had two daughters, Alice Blanche, who lived from April 26, 1873 to May 7, 1884 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, and Florence, who was born on November 3, 1878, married James Park Quirk, and died in Los Angeles on September 10, 1956. On August 11, 1905 Healy applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. In Long Beach, California, on October 18, 1911, Healy married Clara Rood, who was born in Minnesota on January 1, 1872. Clara resided in Alhambra, California after her husband’s death in 1912 in Minneapolis. His name was inscribed on a monument in Lake Forest Cemetery. Hettie, who was born in 1835, died about May 5, 1907 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Clara died in Los Angeles on November 1, 1947. Thomas I. Akeley [1834-1899]

On September 23, 1873 in Olive, Thomas Akeley married Martha Welton Keller. In 1880 Thomas owned a “Commission Store” in Grand Haven. The Akeleys resided in the 100 block of Washington with their son, Charles S. Thomas was born in Vermont in June 1834, and Martha was a native of Ohio, where she was born in March 1850. Their son Charles, a Grand Haven native, was born in March 1876. Thomas died on November 30, 1899 and was buried at Valley City Cemetery in Kent County. In 1900 Charles and his widowed mother were residents of Grand Rapids. Charles was a teamster.

Clark Barton Albee [1811-1874]

Born in Highgate, Vermont on July 10, 1811, Clark was the son of Elkanah A. and Susan Potter Albee. In 1835 Clark took a position with David Carver of Chicago. The two men came to Grand Haven from Chicago in 1836, Clark working as an agent in Carver’s forwarding and commission business. After Carver left the area in 1838, Clark opened a general store at One North Harbor [Lot 10]. He lost a winter’s stock of stores for his general store because the schooner Pocahontas lost its propeller when it struck a sand bar at the mouth of Grand River. Later he ran a boot and shoe store at approximately 122 Franklin [Lot 139], midway between First and Second Streets on the south side of Franklin. He also owned a warehouse built by John F. Stearns on the northwest corner of Washington and Water [Harbor]. The structure later was called “The Stegeman” after its new owner, Albert Stegeman, who bought Albee’s commission business in August 1863. Albee’s slogan was “sell for small profits and get quick returns.” Clark was elected county commissioner in 1842. He donated land on the west side of Third Street between Fulton and Elliott [Lot 254] for construction of the original First Reformed Church from waste lumber. Clark took an active interest in civic affairs from the start, being elected Register of Deeds in 1838. He was originally a Whig, then a Republican. In 1846 he was awarded construction of the county jail, to be erected at the southeast corner of Washington and Fourth Streets at a cost of $100. In 1850 he was commissioner to the Grand Haven and Black River Plank Road Company which laid out a plank road between Grand Haven in Holland. About two years later Clark bought the Washington House [12 Washington] from Henry Middlemist. In 1854 he took over Sheldon’s tannery and started his own tannery on the corner of Harbor and Washington Streets. His ship, the schooner Vermont, was destroyed in a wreck off little Pigeon Creek on December 9, 1855, while returning from Chicago with a load of oats, wheat, and lumber camp supplies. The schooner also was used to transport hides for the tannery. Captain Albee was in command of the vessel at the time it went down. All 18 crew members were rescued through the efforts of Richard Connell. [Shipping in the Port of Grand Haven, 1820-1840, pages 9-10.] Clark needed the straw for 150 vats he was installing at the tannery. The tannery burned down in 1865 at a loss of $20,000. It was rebuilt in a different location three years later.

During the Civil War Clark was draft commissioner, allowing him to help heads-of-family secure substitutes when they were drafted into the military. In 1863 he became moderator of the new Grand Haven Union High School and in 1867 he was school commissioner for the Second Ward. He owned the scow Crook and later, with Captain Noyes, built the schooner Vermont.

On June 1, 1840 Clark married Caroline Lucretia Hathaway in Grandville. The daughter of Nehemiah and Lucretia Hathaway, Caroline was born in Ashfield, Massachusetts on March 10, 1822. The couple had two sons, both born in Grand Haven: Harry Clark Albee, born on July 9, 1841, and James Elkanah Albee, born February 28, 1848. The Albees also had a daughter, Caroline Amanda Albee, who was born in Grand Haven on April 7, 1846 and married James Oscar McClellan on October 31, 1868 in Grand Haven. Daughter Caroline died in Washington, D.C. on March 30, 1935. Following the death of Clark's wife Caroline on August 1, 1850, he married Samantha Taylor on November 23, 1851. Samantha, who was born in Vermont about 1833, died in 1857. Their daughter, Mary Samantha [“Minnie”], born in Grand Haven in 1853, married James P. Brayton in 1871 and died in Florida in 1880. After the death of his second wife, Clark married Tryphena Ransom Farnham in Grand Rapids in 1858. She was born on June 1, 1828 and died in Chicago at the home of her daughter, Louisa [Louise] Amelia, on April 14, 1900. Louisa was the wife of Andrew Lytle Cummings, whom she married in Chicago on June 15, 1882. The Albees were members of the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven, where Clark was one of the first trustees. Clark died on January 30th, 1874 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Albee Street in Grand Haven memorialized his name. [Tribune obituaries, September 1, 1897 and April 16, 1900; article in the Tribune, “The Family Album.”]

Harry Clark Albee [1841-1921]

Harry, the son of Clark B. and Caroline Hathaway Albee, was born in Grand Haven on July 9, 1841. On July 26, 1862, a year after the start of the Civil War, Captain Harry Albee recruited men in Grand Haven for Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry. Called the “Ottawa Wild Cats,” Albee’s Regiment was united with a company of sharpshooters. Captain Albee was wounded at the Battle of Stone River, near Murfreesboro, Tennessee, on December 31, 1862, and was discharged for disability on December 20, 1863. He returned to Grand Haven three weeks later, one week after the Wild Cats left for duty. He applied for an invalid’s pension on September 16, 1876. By 1910 Harry had moved to Portland, Oregon. There his wife, Nellie A. Russell, applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on March 10, 1921, not long after Harry’s death. He was buried at Riverview Cemetery in Portland. Nellie was born in Connecticut about 1848. They had at least one child, Harry Russell, who was born in Illinois about 1868.

James Elkanah Albee [1848-1897]

Born in Grand Haven on February 28, 1848, the son of Clark and Caroline Hathaway Albee, James was alderman on the City Council for several terms representing the Fourth Ward [Beech Tree District]. He was a member of Grand Haven Lodge No. 139. James moved to Detroit, where he took a job as railway mail clerk. He graduated from the University of Michigan College of Medicine and had a medical practice in Detroit for about six years. On August 4, 1867 James married Lucy Duncan of Grand Haven. She was born about 1850 and was the sister of Benjamin D. Safford’s second wife. By 1880 James was a postal clerk in Detroit, where he and Lucy lived with his uncle, Charles W. Hathaway. The Albees resided at 488 Third Avenue in Detroit. James died on August 31, 1897 after collapsing on the street in Saginaw. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, September 1, 1897.]

Frederick Albers [1856-1948]

Frederick was born in Grand Haven on April 21, 1856, the son of Johannes and Lydia Maria Michmirhuizen Albers. For 60 years he worked as a painter and decorator with his two brothers, Johannes II and Henry. Frederick was a member of the First Reformed Church for 68 years and teacher of the Star Adult Bible class for 38 years.

On October 26, 1886 in Grand Haven, Frederick married Adrianna “Anna” Van Tol. Born in Michigan in January 1863 [1860], Anna was the daughter of Adriannus and Johanna Bentley Van Tol. In the 1900 census and 1908 City Directory, Anna was listed as “Jennie.” Frederick and Anna had five children, all born in Grand Haven: John Maurice, who was born on August 4, 1887, moved to Madison, Wisconsin, became a member of the State Planning Board of Wisconsin, and died in Madison on June 7, 1960; Frances J., who was born in June 1889 and died in 1911; Marie A., who was born on July 21, 1891 and married William Fritz of Grand Haven; Bentley Adrian, who was born on June 22, 1895 and served with the 120th Artillery in France during WWI; and Julia, born in 1902. Bentley, who married Elizabeth Nemire, died in 1967. Elizabeth lived from March 2, 1900 to June 8, 1988.

Frederick built a house at 115 South Third Street in Grand Haven, across from his father’s home, which later became the home of his daughter. He died on October 8, 1948 at his home at 115 South Third Street, then also occupied by his daughter Julia and her husband, John Joldersman, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, April 25, 1936, October 9, 1948, and June 9, 1988.]

Henry Albers [1865-1932]

Henry, the son of Johannes and Lydia Maria Michmirhuizen Albers, was born in Grand Haven on November 3, 1865. After the death of his father, and in partnership with his brothers, Fred and Johannes II, Henry continued in the family painting business until he went out on his own about 1927. Many of the largest public and commercial buildings and some of the finest homes in the city were decorated by the Albers brothers. Among them were the 1894 Court House, several public school buildings, the First Reformed Church, the Bell Telephone building on Washington, the Hunter Robbins home on Spring Lake, and the Nathaniel Robbins home on Fifth Street in Grand Haven. Henry was a member of the First Reformed Church and Grand Haven Bible class.

On October 25, 1892 in Grand Rapids, Henry married Dora Maria [Marie] Vis, who was born on November 17, 1866. She was the daughter of Cornelius and Eliza Vander Velde Vis of Grand Rapids. The Alberses’ children included Harold J., who was born in August 1895, served as seicutenant in Company L of the 126th Infantry in France during WWI and moved to Cleveland after the war; Adelaide Dorothy, who was born January 28, 1896 and married Abram James Fisher; Londrie E., who was born about November 1898; James M., who was born about 1905 and moved to Detroit; Dora M., who was born about 1914; and Mrs. E. M. Alexander. Henry lived at 114 South Third Street for the last 35 years of his life. He died in Grand Haven in January 1932 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Dora died on December 15 four years later and was buried next to him. [Tribune Obituary, January 31, 1932.]

Johannes Marinus Albers I [1821-1902]

Born in The Netherlands on May 7, 1821, Johannes Albers came to Grand Haven in December 1855 and became one of Grand Haven’s earliest house painters. Albers operated a paint store next to the family home on Third Street in the early years, and later moved into a large garage in the back of the property. Three sons joined him in the business, and they were noted for quality decorating work. Johannes was a member of the First Reformed Church.

On May 1, 1850 Johannes married Lydia Maria [Maria Alyda] Michmerhuizen, who was born in The Netherlands on September 25, 1823 and died in Grand Haven in 1908. They had six children: Johannes Marinus II, who was born in The Netherlands in 1851; Frederick, who was born in 1856; Sena, who was born on September 4, 1860 and died on October 28, 1910; Mary, who was born in 1863; and Henry, who was born in 1866. All the children except Johannes II were born in Michigan. The Albers’s first home was on the north side of Clinton, two houses west of Third Street, and in 1880 they built a larger home at 114 South Third. Lydia Maria Albers died on March 6, 1901 and her husband died at his home on Third Street on April 18, 1902. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, March 7, 1901, April 18, 1902, and October 29, 1910.]

Johannes Marinus [Morris] Albers II [1851-1929]

Born in The Netherlands in July 1851 [1850], Johannes was the son of Johannes and Lydia Maria Michmirhuizen Albers. The younger Johannes came to Grand Haven in 1854 with his family, and in 1867 he went into the house painting business with his father. The 1908 City Directory listed brothers Fred, Henry, and Johannes Albers as “painters and paper hangers.” Their office and residences were on South Third. Johannes built a fine home at 202 South Seventh. He died about July 1, 1929 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He married Mary Kampt, who was born in The Netherlands and lived from August 1850 to 1933 and was buried with her husband. In 1880 Mary’s brother, Harm, resided with her and her husband in Grand Haven. Harm, who worked in the shingle mill, was born in The Netherlands about 1853.

Maybelle Alderman [1913-1990]

Maybelle Bayliff Johns Alderman was president-secretary of the Dama Tool & Gauge Company when it moved from Warren, Macomb County, to Grand Haven in 1964. It was located at that time at 1634 Marion. Maybelle was born in Columbia City, Indiana on September 17, 1913 and died in Grand Haven on January 23, 1990. She married Dale Alderman on October 28, 1949. He was born on May 18, 1901 and died on August 29, 1965. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Maybelle’s first marriage was to Carlton Johns on April 15, 1935.

Agnes Bodine Lowe [Low] Allen [1788-1868]

Born on March 30, 1788 in Northumberland, Pennsylvania, Agnes was the daughter of Cornelius and Catherine McKinney Lowe. On September 7, 1808 in Smithville, Canada, Agnes married Captain Hannibal Montresor Allen of the U.S. Army. Hannibal, born in Burlington, Vermont on November 24, 1787, was the eldest son of Revolutionary War hero Colonel Ethan Allen. It was Colonel Allen, leader of the Green Mountain Boys, who demanded that the British surrender Fort Ticonderoga “in the name of the great Jehovah and the Continental Congress.” Agnes’s sister Catherine married Benjamin Hopkins. Agnes and Catherine and her family arrived in Eastmanville in 1837. At the time of the Federal Census of 1850, Agnes was living with Rev. William Comfort and his family. William’s wife Cornelia was Hannibal’s and Catherine’s daughter. Ten years later, Agnes, listed as a “Domestic,” resided in Eastmanville with Hannibal and Catherine. She resided with them in Eastmanville until her death. Agnes owned 100 acres close to the site of the County Poor Farm [Infirmary], which opened in 1866. She was credited with being the first person named in the tax roll of 1846 for Eastmanville. Hannibal Allen died of Yellow Fever at Fort Nelson, Virginia, on April 18, 1813. His burial site remains unknown. Agnes Allen died on November 8, 1868 and was buried at Eastmanville Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, August 9, 1899.]

Charles Allen [1830-1893]

Charles Allen married Catherine Donahue. They were early residents of Spring Lake, where they settled in 1850. Their home at 110 West Savidge later became the site of Braak’s Bakery. In 1853 they built a house at 341 South Lake and raised fruit on the adjoining land. At the same time Allen built the house across the street at 344 South Lake. The Allens were members of the Roman Catholic Church and held services at their home until a place of worship was erected in 1866. Charles was a partner in the bond business with Hunter Savidge, and he was Spring Lake Township treasurer at one time. He was born in Wexford, Ireland in 1830 and died on February 28, 1893. Catherine died on March 12, 1868 at the age of 40. The couple was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Charles Mathew Allen I [1859-1940]

Charles Allen was born in Spring Lake on March 29, 1859. On July 2, 1894 in Grand Haven, he married Mary A. Diendorf, who came from Trier, Germany, where she was born on December 21, 1873. Among their children, all born in Michigan, were Mary, born in July 1895; John C., born in April 1896; Catherine P., born in September 1898; Margaret, born in February 1900; Charles II, born on January 19, 1903; Martin J., born about 1909; Martha A. and Dennis P., both born about 1913; Geraldine, who was born on May 3, 1915 and passed away on October 2, 2000; and James Pershing, who lived from September 13, 1918 to May 5, 1997 and practiced medicine. Charles owned a fruit farm in Section 23 of Spring Lake Township. Originally 20 acres in size, the farm by 1912 was reduced to five acres. Charles died on September 6, 1940 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Mary passed away on October 7, 1958 and was buried with her husband.
Charles Mathew Allen II [1903-1995]

Charles was born on January 19, 1903 in Spring Lake Township to Charles and Mary Diendorf Allen. All of whom preceded Charles II in death. Charles retired on May 31, 1967 after 31 years with the Grand Haven Board of Light & Power. He was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church. On December 6, 1934 in Grand Haven, Allen married Ruth Edna Bosse, who was born in 1907 and died in May 1948. On October 6, 1949 Charles married Mina Verlan Hudson, who was born on May 4, 1907. Charles died on June 15, 1995 in Grand Haven and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Mina died on October 13, 1998 and was buried with her husband. [Tribune article, June 8, 1967 and obituary, June 16, 1995.]

John Allen [1796-1851]

John Allen spent all or most of his adult life in Ann Arbor, a village he co-founded in 1834 with Elisha Rumsey. John was the village’s first president, sheriff, coroner, and postmaster from 1824, the date of the town’s founding, to 1830, and he was state senator from 1845 to 1848. One theory is that Ann Arbor was named for John’s wife, Ann Isabella Barry McCue, whom he married on June 7, 1821. She formerly had been married to William McCue, who died in 1817. John purchased thousands of acres in West Michigan, including some in Ottawa County, for the timber. He partnered with Henry Morgan, another speculator who invested his money in land in and around Grand Haven. John appeared in the 1827, 1830, 1834, and 1835 censuses for Ann Arbor. He was born in Virginia about July 1796. Ann was born January 22, 1797 in Staunton, Virginia and died in Augusta, Virginia on January 27, 1875. John died on March 11, 1851.

Benjamin Allison I [@1831-1895]

A native of England, Benjamin Allison became a saloon keeper in Spring Lake, including one located at 226 West Savidge. Charles Begin purchased the saloon. Benjamin was born about 1831, and married Margaret Lewis, who was born in Ohio around 1832. Benjamin died on December 25, 1895 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with his wife [no dates]. Their son, Frank, lived from June 1, 1869 to April 10, 1951 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Another son, Benjamin II, was born in June 1868. The Allisons had a daughter, Ida, who was born in Grand Rapids about 1852 and on March 25, 1872 married Robert Clydesdale of Spring Lake.

David G. Alston [1826-1919]

Born in Glasgow, Scotland in October 1826 [1823], David Alston came to the United States in 1841 and to Spring Lake 28 years later. On December 20, 1853 he married Margaret [Marguerite], who was born March 16, 1831, the daughter of Daniel and Margaret Campbell of Scotland. The Alstons had five children: James, who was born in Illinois on September 18, 1854 and died in 1902; Daniel, who also was a native of Illinois and lived from November 1, 1855 to June 6, 1902; Margaret [Marguerite], born in Wisconsin in May 20, 1859; Christina, who lived from June 10, 1869 to December 3, 1893; and a daughter who died in 1863. The family had a 40-acre fruit farm on Spring Lake in Section 10, extending to both sides of West Spring Lake Road [approximately 17700 West Spring Lake Road]. Margaret passed away on May 17, 1904 and David died in 1919. The family was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 22, 1904.]

William Alt [1914-2003]

William Alt founded CoroTech, Inc. in Grand Haven in 1974, after retiring from the Brunswick Corporation in Muskegon. He was born in Chicago on January 16, 1914 to Hugo and Anna Alt. In 1936 William graduated from Illinois Institute of Technology with a degree in mechanical engineering. He married Edith Mae Howell on June 10, 1939 in Chicago. Edith lived from January 26, 1912 to March 2, 1999. While serving as lieutenant commander in the U.S. Navy during WWII, William taught aeronautical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and later he was stationed at Seattle, Washington.

As an employee of Brunswick, William and his wife moved to Spring Lake in 1951. Seven years later the Alts and their two daughters, Sandra [Mercurio] and Susan [Jonas], moved to New Jersey, where they stayed for two years before William was transferred back to West Michigan. Their home was at 17863 Oakwood in Spring Lake, built on land that William had bought in 1935 from Edwin and Nora Booth, who just that year had purchased the property, known as Arbutus Banks. William retired from CoroTech in 1993. He was a member of the American Legion, trustee of the Spring Lake Schools Foundation, president of the Spring Lake Rotary Club, and president of Spring Lake Country Club. He received the Paul Harris Award from Rotary. He also helped start the STRIVE mentoring program at Spring Lake High School and coached Odyssey of the Mind teams. He was a member and elder for the First Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven. In 2001 he was recognized as an outstanding senior volunteer at the “Night of 100 Stars.” William died on November 8, 2003. [Tribune obituary, November 10, 2003.]

Jacob Ammeraal [1871-1952]

On June 1, 1905, in Grand Haven, Jacob Ammeraal married Isabella Sarah Hale Deremo, who had been divorced from John Quincy Deremo on August 11, 1904. The Ammeraals owned a 70-acre fruit farm in Section 35 of northern Grand Haven Township. A residential street in that Section, running parallel to the Grand River, was given the family name. Prior to moving to the township, Jacob owned a grocery store on Jackson Street for six years. Isabella, who was born in Kenosha, Wisconsin, lived from July 6, 1858 to October 18, 1931. After her death, Jacob remarried. His second wife, Anna, died on November 7, 1945. Jacob was born in The Netherlands on October 6, 1871 and died in Grand Haven Township on November 2, 1952. He and Isabella were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, October 19, 1931 and November 3, 1952.]

Andrew Anderson [1845-1916]

Andrew Anderson owned a 59-acre farm in Section 10 of Crockery Township by 1893. Born in September 1845 in Denmark, he died on April 20, 1916 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. Apparently he was never married.

Andrew Anderson [1851-1934]

Andrew Anderson and his wife, Mary Nelson, were both born in Sweden in 1851, he in September and she in November. They met on the ship coming to America in 1883. They lived in a house located on the southwest corner of Exchange and Buchanan Streets [105 West Exchange] in Spring Lake, which was torn down in 1968, and the lot later became the site of Barber School. The Andersons raised five children, all born in Michigan: Hannah, born in 1884; Nels [Nelson] August who lived from August 29, 1885 to 1958; Amanda Marie, born in December 1887; Minnie born in 1890; and William, born on May 21, 1893. Andrew, who worked on the railroad, died on February 13, 1934, and Mary died a month later on March 11. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Benjamin Anderson [1862-1934]

Benjamin Anderson, who was born in Sweden in December 1862, came to the United States in 1880 and became a shipping clerk at Challenge Refrigerator in Grand Haven. He and his wife, Ida, lived at the corner of Madison and Elliott. Their son Arthur Walter Anderson was born on May 20, 1890 and worked at Johnston Bros. Their other children were George, born in August 1892; Oscar, born in February 1895; and Edith, born in October 1897. The children were all born locally. Ida, also a native of Sweden, lived from March 1871 to 1927. She arrived in the United States in 1886. Benjamin died in 1934 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. The family resided on Third Street around 1900.

Carl Eric Anderson [1883-1960]

Born in Sweden on February 4, 1883, Carl was the son of Elba Jacobson and C. P. Anderson, a landscape gardener. Carl attended a trade school for nine years in Sweden, specializing in mechanical engineering. In 1909 he came to the United States and settled in Chicago, where in 1911 he became superintendent of the Acorn Brass Works and then served as superintendent of the Reliance Die & Stamping Company. He later was employed as a mechanical engineer by the Western Cartridge Company at Alton Illinois, after which he became a consulting engineer for the S. S. White Dental Manufacturing Company of Staten Island, New York. During World War I he developed the gas masks which were used by the soldiers and also created improvements for making cartridges. On February 22, 1935, in partnership with Baltzar Bolling, he established the Anderson-Bolling Manufacturer Company to manufacturer automobile parts and electrical appliances.

Carl was a Republican and a member of Blue Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, the Rotary Club, Citizens Historical Association, and the Presbyterian Church. He was also interested in art, especially copperware and charcoal drawings. In 1917 he married Gertrude Bowling of Sweden, daughter of Captain Lars Bowling. Carl died in 1960, and Gertrude passed away the next year. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The Andersons had no children. [Citizens Historical Association, Indianapolis, September 27, 1941.]

Born in Chicago, Illinois on January 3, 1916 to Oscar H. and Evelyn Berggren Anderson I, Chester graduated from Michigan State College [MSU] and served as an officer in the Army’s 922nd Field Artillery during WWII. Chet and Bob Cernoch formed the Anderson-Cernoch Construction Company in 1952, working as carpenters and building contractors. Anderson helped remodel the 1870 Grand Trunk Depot into the Tri-Cities Historical Museum. Anderson served 18 years on the Grand Haven Zoning Board and was a member of the American Legion.

Chet married Betty Jane Johnson on February 22, 1947 in Lake Odessa, Ionia County. They became members of the Tri-Cities Historical Society and were named Historians of the Year in 1994. Their children included Marcia of New Jersey; Abigail of Grand Haven; Bruce of Milwaukee; Randall of Lake Odessa; and David, who died in 1975. They lived at 421 Clinton Street. Chet died on December 12, 1995. Betty, who was born in Lake Odessa on November 21, 1918, passed away in Grand Haven on August 15, 2019. She was a long-time active member of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum. [Tribune obituaries, December 13, 1995 and August 30, 2019.]

John Anderson [1850-1905]

John Anderson, a ship’s carpenter, was born in Norway on May 5, 1850. He came to the United States in 1870. John and his wife, Carrie, lived at 218 Water Street [South Harbor]. Carrie was born in Ohio in February 1859. They had an adopted son, Robert Anderson, who was born in Michigan in January 1889. John died on May 15, 1905 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Carrie passed away on February 17, 1909 and was buried with her husband.

Joseph Anderson [@1802-1882]

The First Congregational Church was organized in Grand Haven in 1858. A year later, on May 31, its first place of worship was dedicated at 134 Washington, and in the afternoon of that day Rev. Joseph Anderson was installed as pastor. Rev. Anderson, who was born in Scotland, also served members of the Spring Lake Congregational Church. In addition he, among others, filled in at the Grand Haven Presbyterian Church during the period between Rev. Ferry’s retirement in April 1857 and the arrival of a full-time replacement on October 18, 1859. Joseph replaced Rev. Lucas in 1854 to lead the Presbyterian Church in Spring Lake during its early years. On April 1, 1862 Joseph was given a leave of absence to allow him to be Chaplain to the 3rd Michigan Infantry, then in Virginia under the leadership of General George McClellan. The 3rd Infantry had been organized in Grand Rapids shortly after the Civil War began. Joseph resigned his Chaplain’s post on March 28, 1863 and entered the U.S. Volunteer Hospital Chaplain Corps. He was mustered out on August 4, 1865. By 1870 he had relocated to South Haven, where he died of “disease of the brain and paralysis” at his home there on April 2, 1882 and was buried at Lakeview Cemetery in South Haven. Joseph’s wife, Lucy P. applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on August 16, 1884. She was born in Vermont in 1820 and died in South Haven in 1894. Joseph was born in Scotland about 1802.

Leo Godfrey Anderson [1906-1977]
Born in Muskegon on May 16, 1906, Leo Anderson married Minnie Groth, who was three years younger than her husband. Her parents were William G. [1875-1964] and Mary Hartman Groth [1883-1938]. In 1940 Leo and Minnie lived in Spring Lake Township. With them were two children: Jean, born about 1935, and Leonard “Len,” born about 1938. The Federal Census of 1940 noted that Leo worked in a “steel factory.” For the remainder of the 1940s and into the 1950s, Leo was manager at the Sam Garvin plant, 402 South Harbor Drive. A few years later he became a tool and die maker at Automatic Spring Products at 803 Taylor Avenue in Grand Haven. He and Minnie resided at 113 South First Street in Grand Haven. Leo passed away on May 27, 1977, and Minnie died in 1982. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their son Len, who was born in Grand Haven on May 29, 1937, married Wanda Gringhuis of Grand Haven. Len, who owned an investment firm, and Wanda, an artist, remained in the Tri-Cities area. [Personal correspondence with the family.]

Nels [Nelson] August Anderson [1885-1958]

Nels Anderson was born in Spring Lake in August 29, 1885 and died in 1958. He was one of five children of Andrew and Mary Anderson. Nels worked as a ship carpenter for Barrett Boat Works for about 40 years. On October 21, 1905, he married Nellie Vander Vere in Spring Lake. The daughter of Henry and Jantje “Jane” Wierenga Vander Vere, she lived from 1886 to July 31, 1935 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Nels was employed at Barrett Boat Works. The family resided at 305 Liberty, where they raised three sons: Clyde Andrew, Harold Henry, and Norman William. Norman’s daughter, Norma Anderson Koopman, resided in the Grand Haven area.

Oscar Henning Anderson I [1884-1959]

Oscar Anderson was born in Sweden on February 23, 1884. He married Evelyn F. Berggren on June 24, 1911. She also was a native of Sweden, where she was born on April 7, 1886. Their children were Oscar II, born in Illinois on July 20, 1914; Chester, born in Chicago on January 3, 1916, and Stuart, born in Michigan about 1921. The Andersons lived at 943 Lake Avenue in the 1920 and into the 1940s. Oscar was a polisher at one of the local factories, and he also had worked in Chicago. He died on July 5, 1959 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Evelyn passed away on March 7, 1974 and was buried with her husband.

Oscar was born July 20, 1914, in Michigan, the son of Oscar H. and Evelyn Berggren Anderson I. Oscar’s wife, Katherine, was born in Evanston, Illinois on November 12, 1911. Oscar and Katherine lived in Grand Haven from 1931 to 1965, when they moved to Virginia. She worked at Reichardt’s until 1952, when she opened Anderson’s Store for Children at 224 Washington, later the location of Grand Haven Jewelry. After closing the store in 1965 she worked for Leggett Department Store in Lynchburg, Virginia. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven, the Red Cross, and Community Chest [United Way], and she was a Grand Haven Public School volunteer. Their children included Kristen A., who married Danny Fox of Chapel Hill, North Carolina. Katherine died in Lynchburg on January 24, 1993 and Oscar died November 24, 1992. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 18, 1993]

Thomas F. Anderson [1843-?]

A resident of Grand Haven, Thomas Anderson enlisted as private in Company D of the 2nd Michigan Cavalry on September 10, 1861. He was promoted to sergeant on January 5, 1864 and to sergeant major on April 1 the same year. He then was promoted to first lieutenant of Company M on the last day of December 1864 and to captain on July 1, 1865. He was mustered out on August 17, 1865. Thomas was born about 1843. On December 22, 1898, while living in Illinois, he applied for a Civil War pension.

William Andrew Anderson [1893-1966]

William, the son of Andrew and Mary Nelson Anderson, was born on May 21, 1893 and served in the military during WWII. Prior to his military service, William was a woodworker at Challenge Refrigerator. He married Alice De Young of Grand Haven in 1923 and died in 1966. Their home was on Summit Street in Spring Lake. A son, William L., was born in March 1925, and remained a resident of Spring Lake. The elder William was a house painter. He died December 5, 1966 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Pierre [Peter] Charles André [Andree] [1817-1908]

Pierre André owned a warehouse at the “Lower Diggings,” now known as Government Pond. It was close to the warehouse that fur trader Louis Campau had Nathan Throop build for him. By 1844, Pierre’s structure had tumbled into the river, according to a government map of that year [Lillic, pp. 151-152 and 203.] On October 29, 1839, Pierre and his wife Clarissa purchased from William Kanouse his pre-emption title to about 70 acres in the Fort Village area, on or near Battle Point. The Andrés, in turn, on October 15, 1846 for the sum of $300 transferred 59 acres to the “Fort Village Band of Ottawas.” The Andrés were residents of Detroit and Saginaw. Pierre was born on October 15, 1817 in Detroit and died in Saginaw on November 2, 1908. Clarissa Alina Stark André, a native of New York State, lived from May 15, 1825 to April 30, 1896. She also was buried at Oakwood. They had three children.

Edward Harry André [1864-1944]

Born in Grand Haven on October 1, 1864, Edward was the son of Ernest and Ida Schultz Andres. In Grand Haven he and his brother, William L. managed the New Cutler House when it opened in 1891 after the big fire two years earlier destroyed the original hotel, the Cutler House. After his father’s death in 1882, Edward assumed management of the Andres House, located at the southeast corner of Franklin and Water [Harbor], which he leased in 1891 to Joseph Rue. Edward was one of the incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. The next year 1887 he was chosen second lieutenant of the “Grand Haven Guards.” As its captain in 1898 he led Company F of the 32nd Michigan Infantry to Tampa, where the group remained during the short Spanish-American War. He was mustered out on October 31, 1898. He was a graduate of the Fort Leavenworth Officer’s School. By 1910 he was residing in Sheridan County, Wyoming. Edward also served in World War I as a lieutenant colonel in the quartermaster’s division at Waco, Texas. After the war he was assigned to Fort Jay on Governor’s Island, New York, where he lived with his wife and son. He retired to a ranch near Tucson, Arizona, where he was residing in 1930 with his wife, Lydiann, and their son, Edward II, who was born about 1911 in Wyoming. Edward died on February 19, 1944 and was buried at Arlington National Cemetery. Lydiann was born in Michigan around 1878 and died on March 3, 1944 and was buried with her husband.

Ernest Andres I [Andrees, Andreis, Andrews] [1832–1882]

A native of Germany, where he was born on October 6, 1832, Ernest Andres and his wife in 1857 moved from Port Huron to Grand Haven, where he was employed as a clerk by Clark B. Albee. However, he is listed in the 1856 Michigan Gazetteer as manager of the Grand River House, a hotel in Grand Haven. In 1858 he opened the first bakery in Grand Haven, a restaurant, and a hotel, called the Milwaukee House, on the west side of the river [Muir], which at that time was the terminus for the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad. Both buildings burned down in June 1860. He later ran the Washington House in Grand Haven, and in 1863 built a new hotel, which he also called the Milwaukee House, on the northeast corner of Franklin and Harbor Streets.

By 1864 Ernest owned acreage in Section 1 of Grand Haven Township, south of Potawatomie Bayou. In 1867 he bought additional acreage from Robert W. Duncan and about that time built a gristmill, which he operated for awhile, and then converted to a shingle mill. Located on the Grand River and adjacent to Potawatomie Bayou, the mill was destroyed by fire in 1874. That same year he built the Andres House, later called the River View Hotel, at 100 South Water Street [Harbor Drive]. He was alderman in 1877, 1878, 1879, and 1880, and a member of St. Paul’s Evangelical Church.

In 1854 in Buffalo, New York, Ernest married Ida Schultz, born in Mecklenburg, Germany on October 24, 1836. Their children were William Louis, who was born in Michigan on September 3, 1859; Edward, who was born in Michigan on October 1, 1864, and made his career in the United States Army, where he achieved the rank of captain; Ida, who was born in 1867 and married Archie Campbell of Grand Haven; and Ernest II, who died on August 11, 1877 at the age of six months. The older Ernest died on October 7, 1882 and was buried at Lake Forest on October 9. His wife died of the “grippe” on February 18, 1913, at the home of her daughter at 225 Franklin Street, which was the family homestead and where she had lived for 17 years. She also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, February 19, 1913.]

William Louis Andres [1859-1936]

Born in Grand Haven on September 3, 1859, William was the son of Ernest and Ida Schultz Andres. In Grand Haven he and his brother, Edward, managed the New Cutler House when it opened in 1891 after the Great Fire two years earlier destroyed the original hotel, the Cutler House. On August 1, 1888 William married Florence, the daughter of Henry and Hannah Trotter Buswell, in Grand Haven. She was born about 1862 in Ohio. The couple moved to Mt. Pleasant. On June 29, 1905 William married Fannie Worden [Warden] in Winnebago, Illinois. William passed away in Eastmanville on July 19, 1936. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Daniel W. Andrews [1857-1929]

Born in Michigan in 1857, Daniel Andrews married Anna, daughter of William and Anna Evarts Angel of Grand Haven. Daniel was an insurance agent who worked out of his home at 532 Lafayette, formerly Anna’s family home. Anna was one of the founders of the Christian Science movement in Grand Haven. Daniel and Anna had at least four children: Helen, who was born about 1891 and married Stanley B. Oakes of Grand Haven; William A. born about 1892; George, who was born about 1893 and served as lieutenant in the Navy during WWI; Louise, who moved to Elsah, Illinois; and Winifred. Louise Andrews in 1916 built “Windy Dune,” one of the early North Shore cottages. Daniel died in 1929 and Anna, who was born in Michigan in 1860, died the next year. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Tony Andrews [Andres] [@1899-?]

Tony Andrews operated the New York Shoe Shine Parlor, first relocated at 24 Washington and, after 1927, at 9 Washington. He lived at The Frances, a boarding house owned by Frances and Josh Lehman at 112 Franklin. A native of Greece, he was born around 1899.

Elijah [Eleazur] C. Angel [Angell] [1849-@1912]

The son of George A. and Mary Ann Eatiner Angel, Elijah was born in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, on May 13, 1849. On December 21, 1863 he enlisted as private in Company I of the 128th Ohio Veteran Infantry, where his name was entered as Eleazur Anger. He represented himself as being 18 years old. He was mustered out on July 13, 1865 and came to Ottawa County the same year to work in the lumbering business, eventually becoming the head sawyer and filer at Olive Center Mills in 1882. On September 27, 1876 he married Jennie [Lydia] Pocock, who was born in Fulton County, Ohio on March 18, 1856. She applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on September 14, 1912, indicating her husband’s approximate year of death.

George Evarts Angel [Angell] [1864-1952]
George E, the son of William and Anna Evarts Angel, was born locally on April 23, 1864. He moved to Prince Rupert in British Columbia but returned to Grand Haven. On January 19, 1891 in Grand Haven he married Clara B. Benton [Burton] Mower. She was the widow of Grand Haven resident Samuel C. Mower, who died about 1890. Clara was born in Illinois in July 1849. By 1900 George and Clara were residing in Detroit, where he operated a confectionary. Living with them was Samuel W. Mower from Clara’s earlier marriage. Ten years later Clara was listed as widowed and still living in Detroit, and in the 1940 census George Los Angeles and shown as being a widower. He died on May 22, 1952 in Los Angeles.

William M. Angel [Angell] [1825-1911]

Born in Moores, New York, on December 16, 1825, William was a descendant of Thomas Angel, who was born in England in 1618 and came to America in 1625 with Roger Williams, founder of Rhode Island. William’s grandfather, Asa Angel, was born in Rhode Island, and his father was born in Champlain, New York in 1800. William’s mother was Mary Keyes, a native of Vermont. William was third in a family that consisted of four sons and two daughters. Starting at the age of ten he and his father spent eight years on a dairy farm in Portage, Ohio. He studied for part of a year at Twinsburg Seminary, and in 1844 [1843] joined his family in Tallmadge Township, Ottawa County, where he chopped wood and cleared forest. When he was about 20 he was attacked with sciatic rheumatism, which resulted in dislocation of a hip. From 1848 to 1854 he was Register of Deeds for Muskegon County. In 1851, with John and James Barnes as partners, he was editor of Grand Haven’s first newspaper, the Grand River Times.

At the expiration of his period of public service, William resumed farming operations for two years in Tallmadge Township. However, because of his lameness, he found it necessary to select a less active vocation and accordingly entered Bryant and Stratton’s Business College, where he spent the winter of 1856-57. Upon finishing his commercial studies, he accepted a position as bookkeeper in a country store at Eastmanville. Later he came to Grand Haven and worked as bookkeeper for a merchant and vessel owner. By 1864 he was in the drug and grocery business under the name of Angel & North, and for a time had an extensive dry goods business called Angel & Beaudry. In December 1869, the store burned to the ground, and since there was no insurance it proved a total loss to the owners. They did, however, pay seventy cents on every dollar of their indebtedness.

In the spring of 1870 William was elected recorder and police justice, holding these positions for two years. He studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1871, forming a partnership with Lurentus B. Soule, of Ionia and at different times with other prominent lawyers. In 1887 he was elected to the office of City Recorder and was reelected in 1889, 1892, and 1893. He had his own law office by 1892. With Charles Soule he owned the land on the North Shore and sold part of it to the U.S. government on January 22, 1922 as the new site for the Life Saving Station. At one time an Episcopalian, Angel later converted to Christian Science. Angel spoke at the laying of the cornerstone for the Court House, built in 1893 near the corner of Fifth and Washington Streets in Grand Haven.

In 1853 William married Anna [Ann] Marie Everts [Evarts]. The daughter of Shadrick [Shadrock] [1802-1892] and Eunice [1797-1879] Evarts, she was born in Niagara County, New York on July 19, 1831 and died on March 14, 1903. Anna and her parents moved to Grand Rapids when she was young. The Angels had seven sons and one daughter, including a child who died in infancy, and another, Charles Hudson, who was born in Grand Haven in 1870 and died on January 9, 1893. Among the surviving members of the family in 1893, all born in Michigan, were Anna, who was born about 1860 and married Daniel Andrews of Grand Haven; George E., who was born about 1864 and settled in Prince Rupert, British Columbia; and Harry A., who was born about 1868 and later resided in Indianapolis. The Angels resided at 532 Lafayette, also the home of their daughter Anna, her husband, Daniel Andrews, and their family. William died at his home in Grand Haven on December 24, 1911. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa County Michigan, pp. 553-554; Tribune obituary December 27, 1911; and Tribune article by Charles E. Soule, December 26, 1911.]

Donald James Angus [1887-1966]
Donald was the son of John and May Sibly Angus, who became residents of Grand Haven. Donald was born in Plymouth, Wisconsin in June 17, 1887 and died in Indianapolis, Indiana, in October 1966. He was a self-taught engineer-inventor and electrician. Donald didn’t finish high school, but he did attend engineering classes at the University of Wisconsin and Michigan State University. He became expert on electrical measuring and recording devices and was granted 47 patents. In 1910 Donald resided with his parents at 1226 Washington Street and worked as an electrician. Ten years later he and his parents had moved to 526 Lafayette. At that time, Donald was a consulting engineer. Donald joined John W. Esterline in 1910 in the Esterline-Angus engineering firm and became its president. In 1939 he purchased a home at 302 North Buchanan in Spring Lake, which remained in the family into the 21st century. The Annis Water Resources Institute of Grand Valley State University operates a research vessel, the 45-foot D. J. Angus that Donald donated in 1965. The vessel, berthed in Muskegon, is equipped for sampling chemical, biological, and physical parameters and houses on-board laboratories for analyses of the samples. Francis Angus was Donald’s brother.

Francis Clark Angus [1889-1971]

Francis, the son of John and May Sibly Angus of Grand Haven, was born in Plymouth, Wisconsin on February 18, 1889 and died on September 22, 1971. From 1907 to 1915 he worked at Challenge Machinery. From 1915 to 1917 he was co-owner of Franklin Press with Henry Arkema II. He held a variety of positions until 1921, when he became a manufacturer of electrical instruments. On January 1, 1932 Francis married Margaret W., the daughter of Charles and Margaret Belle Cotton. Margaret, who lived from December 16, 1899 to May 20, 1993, taught school in Grand Rapids prior to her marriage and in Grand Haven during the 1930s. The Anguses resided at 710 Lake Avenue with their two sons, John, who was born about 1933, and Charles, who was born two years later. In the 1950s, when Francis and Margaret moved to 220 North Buchanan in Spring Lake. The Anguses also owned some acreage on Spring Lake in Section 10 of Spring Lake Township. Donald Angus, Francis’s brother, in 1939 bought a house at 302 North Buchanan in Spring Lake. When Donald died in 1966 the house went to Francis, who in turn passed it on to his son Charles. Francis and Margaret were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Donald Angus was Francis’s brother.

John James Angus [1859-1932]

Born in Wisconsin on August 7, 1859, John Angus became a resident of Grand Haven sometime after 1905. He married May Benton Sibley in Waldo, Wisconsin on January 15, 1883. In the early 1900s the couple lived at 1226 Washington with their two sons, Donald, born in Plymouth, Wisconsin on June 17, 1887, and Francis, born in the same town on February 18, 1889. By 1917, the family was residing at 526 Lafayette. They also owned a cottage in Highland Park. John died on October 31, 1932. May also from the Badger state, lived from May 12, 1863 to December 13, 1939. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Edward G. Applegate was born in Illinois on June 15, 1909 and died on May 13, 1994. He and his wife, Beverly, lived at 202 South Eighth Street in Grand Haven. On October 27, 1942 in Kalamazoo, Edward enlisted as private in the U.S. Army Air Corps. After the war, he became a design engineer at Bastian Blessing. Beverly lived from January 11, 1921 to October 10, 1999. She died in Grand Haven. They had a son Terrence L.

Frank F. Archer [@1845 -1917]

Frank Archer, who was born about 1845 in Ohio, became a resident of Lamont, where he lived with his mother, Maria A. Archer. Maria was born on May 18, 1819 in New York and died in Tallmadge Township on January 10, 1885. In 1878 Frank received a five-year license to operate a ferry across the Grand River, but two years later the license was passed to Bradford Velsey. Frank died in Muskingum, Ohio on September 11, 1917.

Mark B. Ardis [1872–1952]
vice president of the American Brass Novelty Company, a position he assumed in 1904, Mark Ardis also was associated with the Wilshire Glove Company in Grand Haven. He was born in Ireland on March 16, 1872. Samuel Ardis was his uncle. On June 5, 1899, Mark married Alta Mae Gilbert in Reed City, Osceola County. They lived at 502 Lafayette in Grand Haven. Alta was president of the first Parent Teachers Club, organized in Grand Haven in 1909. She was born in Burlington, Calhoun County on January 23, 1876, died in East Lansing in April 1957, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery on May 1. Mark died on December 7, 1952 in Los Angeles and also was buried at Lake Forest. The Ardises had one daughter, Margaret, who was born in Lake City on May 1, 1901. Samuel Boyd Ardis was his uncle.

Samuel Boyd Ardis [1855–1950]

In 1902, Samuel Ardis, as company president and with help from the Grand Haven Board of Trade, reorganized the American Brass Novelty Company, which he had assisted in forming seven years earlier, the year he and his wife arrived in Grand Haven. First situated in a three-story frame building at 13 South Second Street, about 1903 the company was moved to a new building on Harbor Drive. In 1950 the business took the name Michigan Brass. Samuel also was associated with the Wilshire Glove Company, formed in 1905 and situated near the southwest corner of Washington and Second Streets in Grand Haven.

Samuel was born in Ireland on March 10, 1855 [January 1856/1857] and had his first retail job there at the age of 13. Ten years later he came to Michigan, settling first in Evart and then in Lake City, Missaukee County. On March 28, 1884 in Lake City, he married Maymie Thompson, who was born in Ireland in May 1861. They lived at 318 Washington in Grand Haven, but. The Ardises had a son, Everton, who was born in Grand Haven in July 1888 and settled in Detroit; a daughter, Dorothy E., who was born on December 19, 1899 and died five years later; and another daughter, Amy, who lived just nine years. Ardis also had banking and business interests in Ann Arbor and Lake City, California. Maymie died in Cadillac on January 5, 1911 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Samuel then married Jeanette “Nettie” Cherry in Grand Haven on February 4, 1913. She was the daughter of James and Mathilda Julia Johnson Cherry of Grand Haven and resided in the family home at 520 Clinton until her marriage. About the time of his marriage to Nettie, Samuel bought 160 acres in Robinson Township Around 1920 the Ardises moved to California. Nettie, who was born in 1867, died in San Diego, California on May 24, 1935, but was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. She taught first grade in the Grand Haven School System for almost 30 years. She also taught a Sunday School class for older girls at the First Presbyterian Church for more than 35 years.

After Nettie’s death, Samuel married Susan Miller. Susan was born in 1886 and passed away in Orange County, California on February 10, 1967. Samuel died in Los Angeles on December 18, 1950 and also was buried at Lake Forest. Mark Ardis was his nephew. John “Andrew” J. [Andrew John] Arentsen [Arentson] [1831 -1913]

Andrew Arentsen, a native of The Netherlands, was born on October 30, 1831. On April 7, 1861, while living in Wisconsin, he enlisted as private in Company G of the First Wisconsin Infantry. He was mustered out in August the same year. Andrew and his family continued to live for awhile in Wisconsin, and then came to Ferrysburg in 1864. By late 1867 he owned a store in Ferrysburg near the railroad depot. His motto was “Small profits and quick returns” and “The nimble sixpence is better than the slow shilling.” He carried groceries and other provisions. In 1873 he was operating a billiard hall, located inside or close to the Rideout House at 201 West Savidge. In the 1880 Federal Census Andrew was listed as a hotel keeper, probably at the Rideout House. He married Barbara Hoffman. In an 1883 list of Civil War Pensioners, Andrew was listed as a resident of Spring Lake. He was receiving a pension of $6.00 a month because of a wound to his left thigh. By 1907 Barbara was living in Benton Harbor. Andrew’s and Barbara’s daughter, Lena, married Charles Begin of Spring Lake. Barbara managed the Central House, probably in the early 1900s. She was born in Germany on March 7, 1825, passed away on October 7, 1918, and was buried at Spring Lake.
Cemetery. Among their children were Emma, born on September 25, 1855 in Wisconsin, and John, born about 1861, also in Wisconsin. Andrew died in Sheboygan, Wisconsin on December 24, 1913.

Gerald C. Arkema [1911-1977]

Gerald, the son of Gerrit and Sena Arkema, was born July 7, 1911 in Spring Lake and died on May 6, 1977. He started Citizens Realty Company in 1930 and operated from his home at 422 Franklin Street in Grand Haven, where he resided with his wife, Jean. He also lived in Spring Lake Township, later at 14417 Lakeshore Drive, and finally in Muskegon. Gerald owned large parcels of land, including nearly 300 acres in Section 16 of Grand Haven Township, which he sold around 1960 to W. Bruce Matthews as the site for Grand Haven Golf Club. Jean, who was born on October 25, 1912, died in Muskegon on April 28, 1974. She and Gerald were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Gerrit Arkema [1875-1952]

Gerrit, the son of Gerrit and Sena Arkema I, was born on May 4, 1875. He became proprietor of the Franklin Press at 401 Fulton in the early 1900s. He married Etta Byl on September 20, 1900 in Grand Haven. They lived at 519 Fulton. Etta, who lived all her life in Grand Haven, was born on December 29, 1880 and died on November 19, 1959. Their sons were Herbert, who lived from 1901 to 1908; Leonard, born about 1906; Gerald C., born on July 11, 1907; Fitzgerald, born about 1912; and Kenneth J., born about 1916. They also had a daughter, Dorothy M., who was born about 1912 and may have been Fitz’s twin. Gerrit died about September 23, 1952 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, February 28, 1957, and marriage announcement, March 23, 1996.]

Gerrit John Arkema [1900-1971]

Gerrit John Arkema was born in Grand Haven on September 2, 1900 and died there on May 21, 1971. He was the son of John and Sena Holman Arkema and the grandson of Henry Arkema I. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his parents. At the time of his death he resided in the family home at 517 Madison.

Hendrick “Henry” Arkema I [1842-1921]

Born at Uithuizen, The Netherlands in May 1842, Henry Arkema came to Grand Haven in 1867. He was engaged in the flour and feed business until he retired, but also had an interest in the printing business. On June 24, 1867 in Grand Haven, he married Grace [Geeske/Gieski] Kampenga. Also a native of The Netherlands, Grace lived from October 1838 [1839] to 1924. Their children, all of Grand Haven, included John, born in 1868; Dena, who was born in December 1871 and married William Vaxter of Grand Haven; Gerrit I [Gerret], who was born on May 4, 1875 and married Etta Byl in 1900; and Henry II, born in April 1877. The elder Arkema died at the family home and place of business, 517 Fulton Street in Grand Haven, on March 13, 1921 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, March 14, 1921 and April 24, 1930.]

Henry Arkema II [1877-1942]

The son of Henry and Grace Arkema, Henry II resided at 523 Pennoyer with his wife, Della. Della, the daughter of John and Kate Hoeksema of Grand Haven, was born in Michigan on September 9, 1882 and passed away in Grand Haven about June 12, 1962. Henry was born in Grand Haven on April 19, 1877 and died on January 11, 1942. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Henry and Della were married in Grand Haven on September 8, 1910. He worked at the Grand Haven Tribune in the early 1900s and was hired there as fulltime pressman in 1918. In 1912 he started his own print shop, Franklin Printing, at 517 Fulton, which he operated for 30 years.

Henry J. Arkema [1895-1977]

Henry J., the son of John and Sena Holman Arkema was born in Chicago on September 19, 1895 and died on May 14, 1977. He and his wife, Leatha, lived at 949 Franklin Street in Grand Haven. Leatha was born on June 24, 1895 and died on February 11, 1976. She was a Grand Haven resident all her life. In 1918 Henry was a tacker at Eagle Ottawa. Henry and Leatha were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Henry Arkema [1868–1955]

Born in Grand Haven in December 1868 [1867], the son of Henry and Grace Arkema, John was first employed by the Boyden Shingle Mill and later worked for Story & Clark, Eagle Ottawa, and other factories, as well as the City of Grand Haven. On December 17, 1888, he married Sena Holman, who was born in March 1868 in The Netherlands and came to the United States in 1881. The wedding took place at the groom’s home, 517 Fulton, where he had lived for many years. John and Sena resided at 517 Madison. Among their children were Henry, born in Chicago on September 19, 1895, and Gerrit John, born in Grand Haven on September 2, 1900. They were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. John died around September 22, 1950, and Sena passed away about June 21, 1955. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Kenneth was born on September 4, 1915 to Garrit [Garret] and Etta Byl Arkema. He married Ruth Bomers on April 9, 1941 in Holland, Michigan. Ruth, the daughter of Dewey and Reka Kolenbrander Bomers of Holland, was born on August 6, 1920. Kenneth earned a bronze star while serving with the Army during WWII. In Grand Haven, he was Public Relations manager for Gardner-Denver. Kenneth also was an amateur musician. The Arkemas, who resided at 1230 Slayton, were members of the Second Christian Reformed Church. Their children were Kenneth II and Karen, who married Vern Peters. Kenneth died on September 11, 2003 in Muskegon. Ruth passed away in Grand Haven on November 3, 2004. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, September 13, 2003 and November 4, 2004.]

Henry T. Armstead [1822-1896]

Born in Schroon, New York on October 17, 1822, Henry Armstead moved to Ohio and then became involved in lumbering operations at Wyman, Montcalm County, and relocated to Grand Haven in 1870. While still in Schroon he married Jane A. Wyman in 1858. She was born in New York on March 25, 1822 and died on December 10, 1900. Their children included James P. of Grand Haven, and C. O. and Wyman P. of Aitkin, Minnesota. Wyman was born about 1864 in Ohio. Henry died at his son’s home, located on the corner of Fifth and Clinton Streets [120 South Fifth], on July 19, 1896. Henry and Jane were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, July 20, 1896 and December 10, 1900.]

James P. Armstead [1855-1918]

James P. Armstead, the son Henry T. and Jane Wyman Armstead, was born near Cleveland, Ohio in May 1855. Jane was born in England in March 1822. James came to Grand Haven with his family in 1870. He attended high school in Grand Haven and spent one year at Grand Rapids Commercial College. He worked three years for the Crystal City Glass Works in Detroit. He returned to Grand Haven in 1877 as head clerk of the Cutler House. James was named secretary and treasurer of Dake Engine Company when it was organized in 1887, and he became secretary and general manager at a later re-organization. In 1907 he was secretary for the Grand Haven Board of Trade. James was a charter member of the Spring Lake Yacht Club, founded in 1897. On November 3, 1880 James married Carrie, daughter of Ebenezer and Caroline Barnes and a niece of Dwight Cutler. Carrie, who was born on December 22, 1856, died on January 5, 1882 in Grand Rapids, leaving one child. On December 3, 1901 James married Myrtle “Myrtie” Moody. They built and lived in a home at 120 South Fifth. James died in June 1918 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Myrtie passed away around June 9, 1952 and was buried with her husband. [Dake, The First One Hundred Years, 1887-1987.]

George Armstrong [@1845- ?]
In 1867 George Armstrong was arrested at White River for burning down a sawmill at Nortonville in April. A George Armstrong living in White River in 1880 was born in Michigan around 1845, and another George Armstrong, also living in White River, was born in Canada in 1833 and married Lydia Armstrong, an Ottawa Indian.

Charles Lee Arnold [1903-1991]

Born April 12, 1903 in Waupaca, Wisconsin to Leonard and Mary Arnold, Lee earned his teaching certificate from the State Normal and Industrial College in Ellendale, North Dakota, and a bachelor degree from Western Michigan University in 1938. He came to Grand Haven from Ellendale in 1928 to teach general shop and to work with the junior high athletic program. He taught industrial arts for several years and worked later in the Vocational Department of Grand Haven Public Schools. Lee retired in 1968. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, Masons, and Grand Haven Historical Society. Lee in 1932 became County Agricultural Agent. He went before the Board of supervisors and asked for funds to develop a soil stabilization plan within the county. He was granted $75.

Lee married Helen Dunphy, who taught kindergarten in Grand Haven from 1954 to 1962. She was born on September 19, 1903 and died on March 30, 1993. The Lee family resided at 912 Sheldon Road in Grand Haven, and later moved to 18047 North Beach Drive in Spring Lake. Their children included two sons, both became dentists: Charles, who had a practice in Grand Rapids, and William of Parnell [Kent County]. Lee died March 20, 1991 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Helen. William Dunphy Arnold, who was born on September 18, 1939, married Sandra Johnson of Grand Rapids on May 3, 1968. He served as a dentist in the U.S. Navy and later maintained offices in Rockford and Grand Rapids. William died on June 23, 2001. [Tribune obituaries, March 21, 1991 and January 18, 2002.]

Albert Bartlett Ashley [1838-1916]

A native of Massachusetts, where he was born on September 9, 1838, Albert Ashley enlisted in the city of Freetown and was mustered into the United States Navy on May 9, 1861 as an Ordinary Seaman. He served on the USS Ohio and the USS Mississippi. He was discharged from his unit on June 23 the next year, and then became a member of Company A of the Massachusetts 3rd Infantry the following September 23. He left that detachment on June 26, 1863 and was mustered into Company B, Massachusetts 4th Cavalry, which he left on March 12, 1865. He next was commissioned into the Connecticut 21st Infantry and left the military for good on April 25, 1866.

On October 30, 1865 Albert married Jeanette [Janette] Wilhelmina Miller, who was born on June 20, 1839 in Edgartown, Massachusetts. In 1880 they were residing in Kewanee, Illinois, where Albert was superintendent of a coal mining company. The two of them started spending summers in Spring Lake, and in 1892 they built a 30-room hotel, called Ashley Heights, on the west shore of the lake, at the east end of Van Wagoner Road [Section 10, approximately 17800 West Spring Lake Road]. The couple operated the resort until the early 1900s, when they started to spend their summers in a home in Lovell Park, just north of Ashley Heights, which burned down in 1918. Their principal residence remained in Macon, Illinois, where they were living in 1910. By 1904 Edward and Anna Selbmann held title to the property and renamed it Lott Hannah Resort. The property reverted to the Ashleys in 1907 when the Selbmanns defaulted on the mortgage. Called “Captain,” Albert was active in the Masons and attained the position of deputy grand master of the Illinois Chapter in 1909. He was also active in the Masons locally. Albert died in Chicago on November 2, 1916, while en route to Florida for the winter. Jeanette applied for a widow’s Civil War pension about two weeks after his death. She died eight years later, and both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The Ashleys had a daughter Jennie W., born in August 1867 in South Carolina, and a son Albert II, who was born around 1873 in Illinois.

The first person to be admitted to the newly established Ottawa County Poor Farm was John Atwell. The county purchased acreage for the farm in Section 4 of Polkton Township in February 1866, and John became a resident there on the following March 21. Like many of his peers, John, a Civil War veteran, had a difficult time adjusting to post-war life. He had volunteered for Company F of the 10th Michigan Infantry in February 1864, while living in Dryden, Lapeer County. His regiment followed General Sherman on his March to the Sea. John, a private, was badly wounded at the Battle of Peach Tree Creek in Georgia and was put in a hospital. After being discharged on June 21, 1865, “he was too ill to return home,” his obituary said.

John’s first wife, Theresa Tuttle, died in November 1867. They were married in Lapeer on November 12, 1854. On May 10, 1868 in Lapeer County John married Prudence Hatherly. Prudence lived from July 4, 1848 to August 9, 1918.

By the time of the Federal Census of 1870, John was back home in Lapeer County. He applied for an invalid’s pension on April 20, 1878, and his wife, Prudence, made application for a widow’s pension on April 27, 1907. John was born in Erie County, New York on October 20, 1829. He passed away in Cass City, Tuscola County on August 3, 1906 and was buried with his wife at Silverwood Cemetery in Lapeer County. [Cass City Chronicle, August 17, 1906.]

George G. Austgen [1903-1982]
George Austgen was born in Indiana on April 23, 1903. The 1930 census listed him as an aviator, living in Paris Township, Kent County. In 1949 he started Auto Radiator & Welding Service and Welders & Fabricators at 307 Pine Street in Ferrysburg. His residence was at 18316 144th Street in Crockery Township. He died on July 28, 1982. His wife, Phyllis, worked as a clerk at Hostetter News Agency.

Edward John Avery [1876-1912]
The son of James Colby and Mary Catherine Murray Avery, Edward was born in Grand Haven in December 1876. He became a partner with his father in a jewelry business located at 128 Washington, which he operated until he died in May 1912 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He resided in the family home at 426 Franklin.

Edward Jones Avery [1816-1901]
Born in Groton, Connecticut on May 4, 1816, Edward Avery was engaged in cabinet making while living in the east. On August 8, 1837, in Sherburne, New York, Edward married Eleanor [Honor] Jane Murray, who was born at New Berlin, New York on December 17, 1819 and died in Grand Haven on June 9, 1893. The couple left New York and moved to Grand Haven in the spring of 1845. Edward was listed in the Business Directory of the 1864 Map of the Counties of Ottawa & Muskegon as a house carpenter and undertaker. The Averys had two children, James Colby and Ellen Cornelia. Both children were born in New York, James on December 1, 1842 and Ellen a year earlier, on August 2. Ellen married Robert Leggat of Grand Haven. In the 1880 census the two Leggat children were listed as living in Grand Haven with their Edward and Eleanor. The Averys apparently had a second daughter, Margaret, who appears in the 1860 census, residing with Henry and Rachel Griffin and her brother, James C. Avery.

In their early years in Grand Haven, Edward and Eleanor resided on the corner of Second and Columbus Streets, but by 1880 they were at 426 Franklin Street, in a house occupied by their son James and his family after Eleanor’s death. Edward lived with his son until his death on September 4, 1901 and was buried with Eleanor at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Evening Tribune obituary, June 2, 1893 and Tribune obituary September 5, 1901.]

James Colby Avery [1842-1903]
Born in Sherburne, New York on December 1, 1842 [1843], the son of Edward Jones and Eleanor Jane Murray Avery, James came to Grand Haven with his parents when he was four years old. In 1860 he was living with Henry and Rachel Griffin, working as an apprentice at Henry’s drugstore in downtown Grand Haven. A jeweler and watchmaker by trade, James owned a jewelry store at 128 Washington in partnership with his son, Edward John Avery, who was a jeweler and optician. James later became associated with A. L. Holmes in putting in water supply systems in the west. They put in the first water supply for the City of Denver and did similar work at other places in Colorado. By 1884 he was in the wholesale and retail tobacco trade and a producer of cigars with George E. Hubbard, a Grand Haven hardware merchant.

On May 12 1869 in Grand Haven, James married Mary Catherine Murray, who was born on Prince Edward Island, Canada, in May 1850 [1851] and died on August 31, 1911. They lived on Lafayette Street in 1880. After the death of his mother in 1893, James moved into the family home at 426 Franklin, where they resided with Edward Avery. After her husband’s death, Mary remained at the Franklin Street house. James and Mary had two children, both of whom remained in Grand Haven: Eleanor C., who was born in July 1870 [1872] and on February 4, 1900 in Grand Haven married Augustus Eugene Scott, and Edward John Avery, who was born in December 1876. James died from complications of asthma on January 12, 1903. Family members were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, January 16, 1903 and August 31, 1911.]

Riley “Pete” Avery [1933-1999]

Pete was born on February 19, 1933 in Grand Haven, the son of Riley C. and Lois Hubbell Avery. He was an employee of Michigan Plastics for 30 years, retiring in 1988. During the Korean War Pete served in the U.S. Army, and upon his return to the area he joined the Conklin Post of the American Legion. He had two sons, Ken Schmitt of Fruitport and Dirk Schmitt of Grand Haven. Pete died on December 13, 1999.

Henry Baar [Barr] [1862-1951]

Henry Baar was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. A druggist, he owned a pharmacy at 216 Washington and evidently had a second outlet, called “East End Drug Store,” at an unspecified address. Henry, born on April 15, 1862 in Grand Haven, was the son of Simon and Helena Yonker Baar. On February 23, 1886 in Grand Haven, he married Isabelle Johnston, the daughter of John Watt and Ann Baud Johnston of Ferrysburg. Isabelle was born on August 27, 1862 and died in Los Angeles on June 24, 1947. The Baars lived at 515 Clinton in the early 1900s. In 1907 Henry sold his drug business to Van I. Witt but continued to work as a pharmacist. Around 1911 Henry and Isabelle moved to Los Angeles, California, where he was employed as a pharmacist. In 1940 they still lived in Los Angeles, but Henry at that time was retired. The Baars’ daughter, Marguerite, was born in Michigan on September 11, 1888. On February 26, 1916 she married Harry Miles in Los Angeles. Marguerite died in Orange County, California on April 2, 1981. Henry passed away in Los Angeles on May 17, 1951. Henry and Jacob Baar were brothers.

Jacob Baar [Barr] [1859-1949]

Jacob was born in Grand Haven in May 16, 1859 [1858] to Simon and Helena Yonker Baar. The third of their four children, Jacob grew up in Grand Haven. He was a clerk in George W. Miller’s hardware store for five years, and he was in the employ of George E. Hubbard, Grand Haven hardware dealer, until 1880, when he was elected to the office of Registrar of Deeds of Ottawa County for four years. After leaving the office Jacob embarked in the real estate business. In 1892 he advertised the availability of “Real Estate and Loans” from his office at 136 Washington, and added, “Desirable Property in farms and wild lands for sale or exchange.” Jacob was a member of the Reformed Church, for three terms was director in his school district, and he was staunchly Democratic. He was mayor of Grand Haven from 1898 to 1899 and postmaster from 1894 to 1898.

In September 1878 Jacob married Hattie, daughter of Abraham [Abram] and Sarah Slaghuis of Grand Haven. Hattie lived from 1857 to about January 24, 1939. The Baars had four children, all born in Grand Haven, including Helena [Helen/Ella]; also born in 1879; Gertrude [Gertruda] Evans, who was born in Grand Haven on November 19, 1881, and married Clarence Garlick in Grand Haven on April 14, 1904; Seymore, who was born about 1883; and Katherine “Kitty,” who was born in 1885 and married Stickney Seymour. The Baar home on Third Street in Grand Haven had a large lawn with huge maple trees and choice shrubbery. In the 1900 census, Hattie and her children were still in Grand Haven, but Jacob was in Birmingham, Alabama, working as a traveling salesman. Later that year the family relocated to Chicago, where Jacob was appointed American Consul to The Netherlands. He was responsible for The Netherlands exhibit at the World’s Fair [Century of Progress] in Chicago in 1932. He was employed by the Davis Scale Company in Chicago. Residing with the Baars were their daughters Gertrude and Katherine, and Gertrude’s husband. Jacob and Henry Baar were brothers.

Jacob died in Chicago in April 1949. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife and other family members. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa County Michigan, pp. 290-291, Tribune obituary, April 1949, and “Guide To The Hume-Hackley Papers.”]

Simon Baar [Barr] [1830-1901]

Born on March 1, 1830 [1829] in Groningen, The Netherlands, Simon Baar in 1851 married Helena “Lena” Yonker while they were still living in their native country. Lena also was born in The Netherlands on March 12, 1829. She died on October 15, 1911 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1855 they immigrated to the United States. They first settled in Chicago but moved from there to Kalamazoo and in 1857 came to Grand Haven, where they continued to reside. Simon was classified as “gardener” in the 1880 census. They had five children, including a daughter Altje “Alice,” who was born in The Netherlands in 1852 and married Folgert Van Zanten of Grand Haven; Johanna “Anna” [Joan], who was born in Illinois in 1854, married Cornelius Glerum, and moved to Kenosha, Wisconsin; Jacob, born in Grand Haven on May 16, 1859; Henry, who was born in Grand Haven in 1853 and apparently died before 1862; and a second Henry, born about 1862 in Grand Haven. Living with the family in 1870 was Jacob’s widowed mother, Johanna, who was born in The Netherlands around 1798. Simon died on June 27, 1901 in Grand Haven and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, p. 288, and Tribune obituary, June 27, 1901.]

Edward M. Baas [1911-2003]

In May 1943 Ed Baas left his hometown of Grand Rapids and moved to Grand Haven as owner and proprietor of the well-established Big Store at 100 North Third. Accompanying him were his wife, Margaret, and their son, Gary. Eddie married Ruth Dornbos in Grand Rapids on October 9, 1936. Gary joined his father at the Big Store in 1964 and in 1970 changed the business name to Baas’ Store for Men. Ed retired in 1979. He and his wife were members of the Second Christian Reformed Church, where he was Deacon and Sunday school teacher. He was a member of the Kiwanis Club, Spring Lake Country Club, and Chamber of Commerce; he served on the United Way Fund Board and was its fund drive chairman; and he served on the Grand Haven Christian School Board and was a director of Security First Bank [Fifth Third]. Eddie died in Zeeland on May 19, 2003. Margaret lived from June 25, 1913 to February 24, 1992. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children were Gary L., Sarah, and David W. Ed and Margaret resided at 18141 Holcomb Hills Road in Grand Haven Township.

Albert H. Babcock [1877-1912]

Born in February 1877, Albert Babcock owned a boat repair shop and offered marine fuel at a place on Spring Lake called Babcock’s Landing, near the foot of Jackson Street. He also was a watch maker, jeweler, and optician in Spring Lake, and he sold electrical supplies for boats and automobiles. In 1899 he married Celestine L’Huillier, who was born in France in November 1878. In 1900 the couple resided in Chester Township. They had two children: Madeline, who lived from 1901 to 1989, and Louis, who lived from 1907 to 1976. Albert died in 1912 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Celestine passed away in Lane, Oregon on December 12, 1962.

Charles Babcock [1882-1960]

Charles Babcock raised stock and sold farm implements. His 42-acre farm was located in Section 12 of Olive Township. Charles, the son of George and Barbara Walder Babcock, was born on June 16, 1882 and died on September 12, 1960. His wife, Margaret, the daughter of Alfred and Mary Wolder [Walter] Wabbel, was born on January 27, 1883 and died on January 4, 1959. Three of their sons died as infants. Both Babcocks were buried at West Olive Cemetery with other family members.

Earl Babcock was born on December 30, 1886 in Britton, Lenawee County. He was the son of Laban A. Babcock, who was born near Sylvania, Ohio, and Addie M. Underwood. Earl’s father was a cooper by trade. Earl’s grandfather, Henry Babcock, who was born in New York and died in Ohio, also was a cooper. About 1880 the Babcocks moved to Britton, where Laban operated a stave mill and general store. Laban and Addie also had a daughter Myrtle. Myrtle married Warren D. Byrum, a farmer in Leslie. Laban died in 1911 and Addie married Silas S. Main [1867-1954]. Addie lived from 1867 to 1958.

Earl graduated from Britton High School and from Michigan State Normal College in Ypsilanti, where he received a Bachelor of Arts in 1922 and a Master of Arts in 1929 from the University of Michigan. In 1939 he was given an honorary Master of Education from Michigan State Normal College. He also attended Columbia University Graduate School. He taught two years in rural schools. From 1909 to 1912 he was principal of Fremont High School, from 1912 to 1915 he was superintendent of Newaygo Schools, and between 1915 and 1923 he was superintendent of Fremont Schools. In 1923 he became superintendent of Grand Haven Public Schools, a post he held until his retirement in 1951. He was president of the Michigan Education Association in 1938; chairman of the Special Michigan Education Association in 1925; chairman of the 4th District in 1928; Michigan Education Association director at-large from 1929 to 1932; chairman of the Journal Planning Commission in 1933-34; and president of the Michigan Education Association Department of City superintendents in 1934-35. Earl was independent in politics and was a member of the Blue Lodge of the Free and Accepted Masons, Scottish Rite Consistory, National Education Association, American Association of School Administrators, Kappa Phi Alpha, Rotary Club, Spring Lake Country Club, Lame Duck Hunt Club, Ottawa County Chapter of Citizens Historical Association, the Grand Haven Stag Club, and the Presbyterian Church.

On July 24, 1912, Earl married Hazel O. Exelby of Britton. She was the daughter of Walter L. Exelby, a farmer, and Jennie Gibson Exelby. The Babcocks had two children. The first was Earl Paul Babcock, born May 19, 1913. Their other child was Richard Exelby Babcock, who was born August 15, 1916 and studied at the University of Michigan and became a metallurgical engineer. The Babcocks lived at 409 Clinton Street and later at 315 Woodlawn. Earl died about December 21, 1966 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Hazel was born on October 6, 1889 and died in Grand Haven on February 15, 1984. She, too, was buried at Lake Forest. [Citizens Historical Association Manuscript.]

Earl, born in Fremont, Newaygo County, was the son of Earl and Hazel O. Exelby Babcock. Young Earl was born May 19, 1913 and died in October 1982. He was employed as Purchasing Agent by the Challenge Machinery Company. He married Helen Clark, and they had one child, Barbara Ann. The Babcocks resided at 414 Duncan Court.

He served as the first mayor of Ferrysburg for seven years; was employed at Challenge Machinery Company for 32 years as an industrial engineer; served as volunteer fireman for 20 years; belonged to St. John’s Episcopal Church; was a member of the Ferrysburg Planning Commission; and joined the Supervisors Club, Industrial Engineers Society, Masons, Eastern Star, American Legion, Boy Scouts, Red Cross Board, and the Republican Party. Gene married Margaret Clark in Muskegon on July 22, 1950. Margaret, the daughter of Fred L. and Ethel Jupp Clark, was born in Flint on March 19, 1923. The Babcocks had five sons: Gerald of Mackinac Island; James of Ann Arbor; John of Fremont, California; Mark of Bay City; and Robert. The family resided at 16789 Lake View in Spring Lake. Gene died in Grand Haven on May 23, 1985 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Margaret passed away on July 6, 2008. [Tribune obituary, May 24, 1985.]

Harriet Cecilia Babcock [1860-1943]

Harriet Babcock was a long-time teacher in the Grand Haven schools. The daughter of Joseph and Harriet Babcock, Harriet was born in Berlin, Ionia County about July 1860. Soon after she and her parents moved to Grand Haven in 1881, Harriet started teaching. In 1900 Harriet lived with her 78-year old mother at 329 South Third Street, and ten years later they mother and daughter were residing at 107 South Fourth Street. Harriet the mother died on November 14, 1912. Harriet retired from teaching in 1919 and was among the first teachers in Michigan to receive a pension. Hers amounted to $300 per month. She was working as a maid in the mid-1930s. Harriet died in Grand Haven on May 20, 1943 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. At the time of her death she was living with the Edgar Slater family at 223 Madison Street. Ten years earlier she was lodging with Lawrence Breitels and his family at 331 Elliott Street.

The son of Fred and Cecelia [Celia] Babcock, Isaak was born in Spring Lake on September 30, 1883. An employee of Johnston Bros., where he worked as a boilermaker, Isaak resided with his wife, Florence, at 108 East Savidge in the early 1900s. She was born in Canada about 1881. In 1925 they moved to 114 East Savidge. Florence was born in Canada about 1880. The Babcocks had a daughter, Cecilia, who was born in Michigan about 1904. Ike died in 1948 and Florence passed away sometime after 1950.

Joseph Bachunas [1893-1969]

A resident of Berrien County, Joseph Bachunas was born on May 10, 1893. He bought the Spring Lake resort Prospect Point in 1941. He also operated the Macatawa Hotel near Holland and Tabor Farm near Benton Harbor. In 1953 he sold Prospect Point to Weldon Brummels of Grand Rapids. Joseph died in Berrien County in January 1969.

Donald Badcon [1918-2001]

Donald was born in Ludington on August 19, 1918, the son of Harry J. and Margaret McKenzie Badcon, who moved to Grand Haven in 1919. On August 3, 1956 in Grand Haven, Donald married Winifred, the daughter of John E. and Ella Osterburg Mieras. Donald received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Michigan in 1940 and served with the Army in Europe during WWII. From 1953 to 1983 he was Sports editor for the Grand Haven Tribune, at first covering Grand Haven High School, but eventually adding Spring Lake and Fruitport, as well as girls’ sports Don headed a successful effort to organize the Tri-Cities Kids’ Baseball League in 1954. He also was a charter member of the Y.M.C.A., assisted in bringing that organization to Grand Haven, and served on its first Board of Directors, organized in 1963. In 1985, Don became a charter board member of the Muskegon Area Sports Hall-of-Fame. He and Winifred resided at 404 Leggat. After retiring from the Tribune, the Badcons moved to Freedom Village in Holland. In 1985 Don was a charter board member of the Muskegon Area Sports Hall of Fame. Don died on March 24, 2001. Nine years after his death, Don was named a Hall of Honor Inductee by the Basketball Coaches Association of Michigan, in recognition of his extensive sports coverage for 30 years and beyond. One of his awards included the statement, “[Don] loved to see the kids progress and get the credit they deserved.” [Tribune obituary, March 26, 2001.]

Harry J. Badcon [1885-1937]

Harry Badcon was chief engineer of the Municipal Power Plant [Grand Haven Board of Power and Light] from 1919 to 1930 and superintendent of the Board of Public Works from 1930 until his death on March 25, 1937. He served in similar positions in Gaylord and Ludington before moving to Grand Haven. Harry was born in Otsego, Allegan County on May 22, 1885. On May 12, 1912 he married Margaret McKenzie in Otsego. Margaret was born in North Dakota about 1884. They had two children: Donald, who was born in Ludington on August 19, 1918, and Betty, who was born in New Jersey about 1925. The family resided at 612 Wallace Street in Grand Haven.

Edmund Root Badger [1812-1871]

Edmund Badger, attorney for the Port Sheldon Land Company, was appointed Port Sheldon’s first postmaster on February 13, 1838. He was succeeded by John Fisk Stearns on February 22, 1841. From 1837 to 1841 he also was proprietor of the Marshall House in Philadelphia. On August 10, 1841 Edmund purchased 80 acres in Section 3 of Olive Township. He was elected judge of probate in 1837 at the first meeting of the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners. Edmund married Mary Davis, who lived from 1829 to 1908. By 1850 Edmund had returned to Philadelphia, where he had opened a law office. Born in Pennsylvania on March 7, 1812, he died in Philadelphia on November 28, 1871 and was buried at Philadelphia National Cemetery. He carried the honorary title colonel, although he served in the U.S. Army as private. Mary passed away in Philadelphia on December 4, 1908.

William F. Bading [1850-1916]

About January 1, 1907, William Bading opened a machine repair shop at 628 Washington, where he also resided. Previously he was employed by the Challenge Machinery Company and the American Brass Novelty Company. He also had worked in Chicago, where he was foreman in a bicycle manufacturing plant, and he had formed a partnership to open the Harmony Company in Chicago for the production of guitars, mandolins, drums, and other musical instruments. Also in 1907 William became proprietor of the Riverview House at 10 Franklin. His wife, Louise, was born in Germany in February 1841 and died on August 27, 1901. They came to the United States in 1877. Their children were Lucy, born in Austria in April 1873; Eva, born in Michigan in March 1892; and Florence, born in Illinois in November 1894. On November 1, 1902 in Grand Haven, William married Frederika [Frederika] Dronian Stittgen, who was born in Germany about 1860 and died about May 5, 1904. William, born in Austria in November 1850, died about December 18, 1916 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Louise and Frederika.

Henry C. Baehre [Bahre] [1837-1871]

Henry Baehre was born in Germany about June 16 [July 16], 1837 and died on January 26, 1871. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. After Henry’s death, his wife, Mary [Anna], opened a boarding house at their home, located at 709 Franklin Street in Grand Haven. Mary was born in New York on September 6, 1843 and died in Grand Haven on January 31, 1933. She was buried with her husband at Lake Forest. Interred with them was a son, Roland A., who lived from 1867 to January 9, 1891. They also had two daughters, Julia E., born in September 1866 [1865], and Ida, born in Grand Haven in 1868.

Harry Baggott [1891-1955]

Born in Grand Haven on November 19, 1891, Harry was the son of Samuel and Elida Baggott of Grand Haven. After the death of his parents when he was quite young, Harry was adopted by Samuel and Mary Kimball of Grand Haven. Harry was a gas company employee for 33 years, retiring on December 20, 1954. He was a WWI veteran, serving with the Polar Bear unit in Russia and in Calumet on mine strike duty. Harry was past commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Sgt. Alvin Jonker Post. He was a member of the Second Reformed Church and the Masons. On Sept 27, 1922 Harry married Clara Bouwman. Their children included Glenn, who was in the Army, and Norman, who was killed in a motorcycle accident near Holland in 1949. Harry died at his home at 523 Butler Street in Grand Haven on March 21, 1955 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Clara was born on May 30, 1897 and died in Grand Haven on February 3, 1991. Harry and Clara were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 22, 1955.]

Samuel Baggott [Baggett, Baggatt] [1862-1896]

Samuel Baggott, born in England on August 23, 1862, was listed as a “railroader” in the 1893 Compendium. His wife, Elida, lived from March 7, 1855 to December 28, 1896, and Samuel died on December 21, 1896. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. A daughter, Carrie, who was born on March 1, 1885, died on September 23 two years later, and was buried at Lake Forest with her parents. Another daughter, Laone, was born about 1893. They also had two sons, William David born on November 1, 1889, and Harry Joseph, born on November 19, 1891.

Charles Bahr [1856-1936]

Charles and Adeline “Lena” Bahr were married in Germany just prior to immigrating to the United States in 1881. Lena was born in Germany about 1862. Their children were William, born in September 1884, and Catherine, born in 1888. The family resided at 620 North Fifth Street. Charles was listed in the 1900 census as a farmer and in 1920 as a gardener. Lena died about February 26, 1922, and Charles about December 9, 1936. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Catherine married Frederick Fink.

Isaac Edward Bailey [†1829-1921]

Isaac Edward Bailey’s obituary noted that he resided in Grand Haven. According to the article, which appeared in the Grand Rapids Press around December 26, 1921, the date of Isaac’s death, he “broke away from his owner’s plantation in Essex County, Virginia, the state in which he was born, and in 1852, when he was about 23 years old, Isaac made his way by the ‘underground railway’ to Canada.” He enlisted in Company A of the 102nd Colored Infantry in Grand Rapids on January 30, 1865. A resident of Ionia at the time of enlistment, he was listed as 36 years old, and his occupation was given as ostler [variant of hostler], someone who looks after guests’ horses at an inn. [Isaac’s death certificate cited July 4, 1816 as his date of birth, which would have made him 49 at the time of his enlistment.] Isaac was discharged on September 30, 1865. He filed for an invalid’s pension on November 4, 1890, and on May 11, 1891, while living in Detroit, he applied again. On May 24, 1867 he married Clarissa Ann Bardley in Grand Haven, with Reverend John B. Fisk of the Congregational Church officiating. Clarissa filed for a widow’s pension shortly after her husband’s death. Also African American, she was born in Marion, Pennsylvania in 1848 [cited elsewhere as July 4, 1850] and moved with her family first to London, Canada, and then to Grand Haven. Although the name Bardley does not appear in the censuses for Grand Haven, the name Barley does. Included in the Barley household in the 1870 census was Clara [a name also used by Clarissa], born in Pennsylvania about 1847. Other family members in the census were Isaac Barley, born in Virginia about 1826, Marid, born about 1866 in Michigan, and Isaac II, born about February 1870, also in Michigan. There was no explanation for the family using Clarissa’s maiden name instead of Isaac’s. In the 1880 census Isaac was living in Grand Rapids, working as a laborer. He was shown as 65 years old and married, but his wife was not with him. In 1910 he and Clara were still in Grand Rapids. Isaac, spelled Isac in the census, was listed as 94 years old and still working as a laborer. He then disappeared from view until his death notice in 1921. In a letter dated June 2, 1929, Clarissa referred to her sister, Celess who married a Bennett. A Celeste Bourdley married Virgil Bennett of Grand Haven [see above], and she must be the sister Clarissa refers to. Clarissa in 1930 was still living in Grand Rapids, where she shared a house with her granddaughter’s family. Also living in the house was Clarissa’s daughter, Minnie Harris, who was born in Michigan about 1865. Minnie married Jerome Harris in Grand Rapids on October 4, 1888. Minnie’s presumed birth year matches that of Marid, who appeared in the 1870 census. Isaac the father was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids, but his headstone does not indicate the date of death.

William Thomas Bailey I [1845-1914]

William Bailey owned a sawmill at the north end of today’s Beechtree Street in Grand Haven. Positioned on the bank of Grand River, the mill was still in business as late as 1880. By 1895 William had relocated to Duluth, Minnesota. He was born in Baileboro, Canada on September 22, 1845. On June 25, 1873 in Allendale he married Rebecca Roberts. She was the daughter of Richard and Rebecca Roberts of Allendale. The Baileys had two children: Richard Roberts, who lived from 1875 to 1962, and William Thomas II, who was born in 1877 and died in 1950. Rebecca was born in Allendale on June 16, 1850 and died in Duluth, Minnesota on August 22, 1935. William passed away in Olmstead, Minnesota on March 31, 1914 of prostate cancer and kidney failure.
Warner Baird I [1885-1984]

Born in Chicago on March 25, 1885 Warner was the son of Wyllys Baird who, in 1883, married Olivia, daughter of Oliver Bourne Green. Warner was the grandson of Lyman Baird, who owned and managed the Baird & Bradley real estate office located at 90 La Salle Street in Chicago, which was destroyed in the great fire of 1871, but rebuilt afterwards. As a mortgage bank, the firm obtained funds from investors in the East and helped rebuild Chicago after the fire. Warner first came to Spring Lake when he was a college student. He graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree from Cornell University in 1908. After 1965 his residence was in Geneva, Illinois and he summered at his home at Orchard Estates on the west shore of Spring Lake [18720 West Spring Lake Road], the former Ferndale Resort. He was associated with his grandfather’s real estate firm for 67 years. Warner was president from 1928 to 1963 and chairman of the Board until his death. In 1975 he was designated Realtor Emeritus by the National Association of Realtors.

On January 14, 1913 in Evanston, Illinois, Warner married Julia L. Dole, a graduate of Smith College. She was born in Illinois on March 3, 1887. The couple had four children, all born in Illinois: John Wyllys Baird, who was born about 1916 and succeeded his father as president of Baird & Bradley; Katherine, who was born about 1917 and married Herbert Hanson of Vero Beach, Florida and Cazenovia, New York; Warner G. Baird II, who was born July 4, 1918, became vice president and treasurer, and died in August 1981; and Olive, who was born about 1924 and married Neil McKay of Geneva, Illinois. Warner died on February 8, 1984 and was buried in Geneva, Illinois. Julia passed away the following August 15. [Tribune obituary, February 9, 1984, and Tribune articles, “Family gives $100,000 to SL Twp.,” December 10, 1976, and “WB family in Great Chicago fire,” April 3, 1978.]

William B. Baird [@1817-1886]

William Baird, born in Scotland about 1817, managed the Michigan Exchange in Muir, at the base of Dewey Hill. Muir lost its importance when the railroad moved its depot to the Grand Haven side of the Grand River in 1870. By the time of the 1880 Federal Census he was listed as a sailor. On September 10, 1845 in Scotland, William married Ann Jane [Jean] Smith, who was born in Ireland about 1833. They moved to Grand Haven by way of New York State. On August 26, 1861, William enlisted as private in Company L of the 1st Michigan Cavalry. He was discharged for disability on October 9 the next year and applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension on September 5, 1883. Among the Bairds’ children were John, born around 1853 in Scotland, Janet born on December 20, 1885 in Scotland, Hercules, born about 1858, also in Scotland, and William, born about 1866 in Michigan. The family resided on Fulton Street. William passed away in 1886 and Ann nine years later.

Geraldine, the daughter of Theodore and Edith M. Dreese vanden Berg of Ferrysburg, was born on July 24, 1921. She married Paul J. Bakale on October 18, 1941. Paul was born on March 10, 1919 and raised in Robinson Township. His parents were Ivan and Luba C. Bakale. Paul became Field supervisor for Sta-Rand Enterprises. Geraldine and Paul resided at 15241 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven Township. Their children were Linda, who first married Wallace Schroeder of Grand Haven and, after Wallace’s death, Ray Mieras; Larry; and Roger. Geraldine attended the Second Reformed Church. She passed away in Muskegon on January 31, 2003, and Paul died in Grand Haven on May 24, 2004. [Tribune obituary, February 1, 2003.]

Alfred S. Baker [1846-@1926]

Alfred Baker was a farmer in Section 12 of Olive Township in the 1890s. He was born in Indiana in June 1846. On March 5, 1864 he enlisted as private in Company F of the 42nd Indiana Infantry and mustered out on July 21 the next year. He married Rebecca A. Bowers about 1870. She was born in Indiana in January 1852. Their children were Georgia Alberta, who was born August 8, 1875 in Indiana and died in Grand Haven as Alberta Miles, a widow, on November 13, 1930; Carrie, born about 1877 in Olive Township; and Emily, born on September 2, 1891 in Olive Township. By 1910 the family was residing at 107 Madison in Grand Haven, where Alfred and Rebecca were still living in 1920. Alfred became post commander of Weatherwax Post, No. 75 of the G.A.R. [Grand Army of the Republic]. From 1924 to 1925 he was in a Soldiers’ Home in Danville, Illinois, with serious medical problems. He died about 1926 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery [no dates]. On September 2, 1926, as a resident of Michigan, Rebecca applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. She resided at 426 Sixth Street in Grand Haven.

Austin S. Baker [1861-1930]

Born in Massachusetts on August 17, 1861, Austin Baker came to Grand Haven in 1908 and owned and operated an ice cream parlor on Washington just off Seventh street and a candy store on the corner of Seventh and Fulton Streets in Grand Haven [105 North Seventh], where they also resided, although later they moved to 607 Sheldon. For nine years prior to his death he was employed by the Story & Clark Piano Company. Baker was a member of the Maccabees and Odd Fellows. His wife’s name was Isabelle. They had two children, Shirley and Clarence. Clarence was born on April 19, 1899 and moved to Muskegon. Austin died at his home at 1000 Pennoyer Avenue on December 11, 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Isabelle, who was born in Pennsylvania on August 1, 1871, passed away on February 16, 1951 and was buried with her husband. [Tribune obituary, December 12, 1930.]

Bernard William Baker I [1899-1983]

Bernard Baker was born on August 31, 1899 in Cressey, Barry County. He owned Baker Plaza on Getty Street in Muskegon, and also was a sculptor and ceramist who exhibited at Grand Valley State Colleges and at the Grand Haven Community Center. He was a member of Lakeland Painters. In addition Bernard was active in conservation causes and a member of the Michigan Audubon Society. He donated a 491-acre “wildlife oasis” [Bernard W. Baker Sanctuary] in Convis Township, Calhoun County. He first married Hazel Smith on June 14, 1924 in Kalamazoo. She was born in Cressey on December 24, 1901 and passed away in Lansing on September 28,1970. On January 14, 1943 in Grand Rapids, he married Emilie Stepanek, who was born about the same year as her husband. His children were David J. of Berkeley, California, Don of Grand Rapids, and Bernard W. II of Lansing. Bernard died on February 2, 1983. [Tribune obituary, February 2, 1983.]

Charles Baker [1920-1991]

Born in Chicago on July 1, 1920, Charles was the son of John and Isabel Bakker [Baker] and brother of John Douglas Baker of Spring Lake. He earned a bachelor degree at Harvard College. In WWII he served in the Navy, mainly assigned to patrols on the North Sea, and was promoted to lieutenant. After the war, Charles became an agent in New York City for Angela Lansbury, Jack Lemmon, Walter Matthau, Eva Marie Saint, and Robert Preston. He died in New York City on March 15, 1991. [Tribune obituary, March 19, 1991.]

Edwin P. Baker [@1830-1915]

Born about 1830 in New York, Edwin Baker moved to Grand Haven from Ypsilanti in June 1880. He bought the photography studio of Joseph T. Wixon, located over the post office at the southeast corner of Washington and First Streets [100 Washington]. Later he moved his studio to the Cutler Building on the southeast corner of Washington and Third Streets.

By 1863 Edwin was married, living in Ypsilanti, and working as an artist. Seven years later he was a daguerreotypist, still living in Ypsilanti. About 1853 he married Maria Marshall, who was born in New York in March 1833. They had two daughters, Eva S., born about 1857, and Flora, born about April 1870. Edwin was living in Grand Haven by the time of the 1880 Federal Census, rooming with Joseph Wixon and his family. Maria had not yet joined him. In 1900 Edwin and Maria were living in Plymouth, Wayne County, with a granddaughter, Nellie, and Nellie’s husband, Chauncy Rauch [Ranch]. Nellie was born about 1876. Edwin continued to work as a photographer. In 1910 Edwin was retired and still living with his daughter’s family, but Maria had died in 1908. Edwin passed away in 1915 and was buried with his wife at Riverside Cemetery in Plymouth.

George Baker [1844-1925]

George Baker, a day laborer, and his wife Anjes “Anna,” immigrated to the United States from The Netherlands in 1869 when they were in their mid-twenties. George was born on August 11, 1845, and Anna was born on December 22, 1844. A daughter, Jennie, was born in May 1878 and a son, Tony George, was born on November 28, 1883. The family lived in Spring Lake. Around 1920 Tony owned a store on Savidge Street and resided on Liberty with his widowed father and sister. George died about November 13, 1925, Anna about October 14, 1908, Tony around February 16, 1945, and Jennie about February 24, 1961. All four were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John Douglas Baker [Bakker] II [1918-2008]

Born on July 1, 1918 in Newark, New Jersey, Doug was the son of John and Isabel Adams Bakker [Baker]. In 1941 he graduated from Antioch College at Yellow Springs, Ohio at which time he worked for the Currier Lumber Company in Detroit and wrote for the magazine Wood Construction and Building Materials. In 1943 he graduated from Harvard Business School. In 1946, following four years serving in the Navy as supply officer on the ship Otus during WWII, he joined the family business, D. Baker & Sons, and purchased his brother Charles’s shares in the company. In 1949 he purchased the remaining shares in the company from his aunts, Della Steininger and Harriet Prins, and by January 1, 1950, he was the sole owner of the business.

Doug was a clarinetist and saxophonist who played with the West Shore Symphony Orchestra [West Michigan Symphony]. Doug was instrumental in ushering in the Big Band Era in the Grand Haven area. He was first chair clarinet in Grand Haven High School’s band and orchestra and went on to play saxophone in Don Waarner’s band. He became an investor and later vice president of the Bilmar Resort on Treasure Island, Florida, owned by his friend Russ Baltz, and played Dixieland music there on Sunday afternoons.

He married Katherine Hall, also a student at Antioch, on August 31, 1941. They had four children: Rachel Ann, born on May 2, 1944; John Dickinson, who was born on June 16, 1947 and became president of the company; Bruce Winship, born on June 28, 1949; and Virginia, born on April 8, 1952. Doug passed away on August 2, 2008. [Tribune articles, “DB Becomes Owner of Lumber Yard” March 11, 1950, and “Baker and Baltz families are close,” June 21, 1989.]

Jan “John” [James] Baker [Bakker] [1834-1914]

John Baker was born in The Netherlands in March 1834. He came to Grand Haven in 1871 and was a commercial fisherman, one of the early industries in- Grand Haven. His wife, Marie [Maria], was born September 14, 1835 [1834]. Their children included William, born in 1862; Tony, born in 1863; Jacob, who was born in 1864, remained in the area as a businessman and later as a grocer in Grand Rapids, and died in May 1923; Johannes, born in 1865; Cornelius, born in December 1866 [1865]; J. Anna, born in January 1867 [1868]; Henry, born in January 1868 [1869]; Adrianna, born in 1869; Johanna, born in 1870; Frank, born on January 17, 1874; Amelia, born on June 10, 1875; Gertrude, who was born on April 16, 1878 and became city clerk for the City of Grand Haven; and Jennie, who was born in 1873, married John Klaassen and moved to Grand Rapids. All the children except the last three were born in The Netherlands. The Bakers resided at 731 Columbus. John died on November 12, 1914. Marie died March 13, 1921 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband and other family members. [Tribune article, January 4, 1900, “Jacob Baker Loses Business to Fire” and Tribune obituary, November 14, 1914.]

Tony J. Baker [@1863–1953]
Tony was born in The Netherlands about 1863 and came to Grand Haven with his parents, John and Marie Baker, in 1871. Tony and his brother William opened a grocery store on Fulton Street about 1895. Then in 1904 they erected a new structure at 109-111 Seventh Street and opened a dry goods and grocery store called the People’s Mercantile Company, which included Edward Moll’s Shoe Store. Tony was president and in charge of the dry goods.

On November 20, 1901 Tony married Sena Boer in Chicago. They lived at 109 North Seventh. Sena was the daughter of Jan and Lammigye [Lammechien] Jans Van Dam Boer and the sister of John Boer of Grand Haven. She was born in 1868, died about March 27, 1963, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Tony passed away about February 14, 1953, and also was buried at Lake Forest.

William Chapman Baker II [1809-1901]

Born on April 27, 1809 in Natchez, Mississippi, William Baker was at one time the oldest living graduate of Princeton, having been one of four to divide second honors at Princeton in 1825. For a time he was engaged in cotton trade down south and later was associated with his father, William Chapman Baker I, who was a wealthy silk merchant from New York. Their home for many years was in Morristown, New Jersey, where William I shared his wealth. During the Civil War he provided an entire New Jersey regiment with rubber blankets. He established a seminary for young women and was instrumental in giving Morristown its first gas illumination system through his personal efforts and funds.

On June 23, 1842 in Detroit, William II married Kate, the daughter of Robert and Emma Elizabeth Sullivan Stuart. Kate was born in Michilimackinac on July 21, 1820. They had six children, none born in Michigan: Mary Stuart, who was born in New Orleans on April 14, 1843, married William Newton Ladue in Morristown, New Jersey on September 19, 1867, and passed away in Mount Vernon, New York on May 2, 1936; Elizabeth Emma, who was born in New Orleans on November 9, 1845, married her first cousin and step-brother, Robert Stuart Turner, and died in Mount Vernon, New York on July 21, 1923; Sarah Morris, who was born in Chicago on November 24, 1847 and died in Morristown four years later; Eliza Wardell, who was born Skaneateles, New York on August 8, 1849 and died in Minneapolis on July 26, 1928; Looe, who was born in Morristown, New Jersey on July 29, 1851, married Elizabeth Saunders, resided in Chatham County, Georgia with his wife and children, and died near Savannah, Georgia on April 26, 1911; and Kate Stuart, who was born in Morristown on April 26, 1853 and died in Minneapolis on February 21, 1878.

Kate died in Morristown, New Jersey on October 4, 1853. William then married his sister-in-law, Mary Elizabeth Stuart Turner, on April 18, 1856 in Detroit, Mary. The widow of Dr. George Franklin Turner, Mary was born in New York City on June 27, 1814. Robert Stuart Turner, who married Elizabeth Emma Baker, was their son. Mary passed away in Minneapolis on June 4, 1878. William and Mary had one son, William C. III, who was born in Morristown, New Jersey, on January 15, 1858.

In 1872 William II and Mary moved to Minneapolis, Minnesota, where they resided with William III and his family. On June 4, 1878, Mary died in Minneapolis. By 1880 William III, Frederika, Robert S., and the Looe born in 1851 were living in Spring Lake Village. By the late 1800s William II owned a 45-acre fruit farm located on Spring Lake at Point Stuart, just east of today’s Spring Lake Yacht Club [Sections 10 and 15 of Spring Lake Township]. In the winters, he joined the Howletts at their home in Grand Rapids, and in the summers the Howletts took up residence at Point Stuart. William was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. Through his father, William became personally acquainted with General Lafayette of France and visited and was entertained by the Marquis on his trips abroad. Also, while in New York City, William became acquainted with Cornelius Vanderbilt, who built a railroad empire. Another acquaintance was Samuel Morse, inventor of the Morse code, whom he met while aboard the ship Sully on its way back to New York from Europe. William was a member of the Episcopal Church in Spring Lake and the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Grand Rapids. He died on February 2, 1901 in Grand Rapids. Bakers interred in the Howlett-Loutit Mausoleum at Lake Forest Cemetery were Robert Stuart Baker, who died on April 8, 1915, and his wife, Lulu D., who was born on January 4, 1881 and died on August 17, 1958. [Tribune obituary, February 4, 1901.]
William Chapman Baker III [1858-1887]
The son of William C. and Mary Elizabeth Stuart Turner Baker, William III was born in Morristown, New Jersey, on January 15, 1858. He married Frederika Matilda Schneider in Minneapolis on November 17, 1877. Frederika was born in St. Paul, Minnesota on January 11, 1861. William and Frederika had two sons: Robert, who was born in Michigan on November 17, 1879, and Looe, who was born in Detroit on February 10, 1884, married Margaret Klassy, practiced medicine in Minneapolis, died in Orange County on July 16, 1954, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William died in Spring Lake on August 26, 1887. After his death, Frederika married Nelson Howlett of Grand Haven.

Born in The Netherlands in November 1862 [1861], William came to Grand Haven with his parents, John and Marie Baker, in 1871. William and his brother Tony opened a grocery store on Fulton Street about 1895. Then in 1904 they erected a new structure at 109-111 Seventh Street and opened a dry goods and grocery store called the People’s Mercantile Company, which also included Edward Moll’s Shoe Store. William was secretary and vice president and was in charge of the grocery department.

William was alderman from 1899 to 1901 and served on the Grand Haven City Council during the formation of the Grand Rapids, Grand Haven, & Muskegon Interurban. He was a member of a well-known quartet, which sang in the Second Reformed Church for 36 years. In 1893 he married Clara Van Hoef in Grand Haven. Clara, who was born in Michigan in April 1862, had a sister Dirke “Delia,” who married Jurrien Ball, and a brother Andrew, who was a commercial fisherman in Grand Haven. One of the Baker’s children, Marion, who was born about 1902, became a teacher in local schools. The family lived at 128 Elliott and later at 515 Clinton Street. Clara died in 1910. William died on March 17, 1933 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituary, March 18, 1933.]

William T. Baker I [1867-1931]
Born February 28, 1867 in The Netherlands, the son of Teunis Baker, William came with his family to Grand Haven when he was three and later worked in a sawmill. In his youth he moved to Muskegon, where for many years he was connected with the W. D. Hardy & Company Department Store. He returned to Grand Haven in 1901 and became associated with Beaudry & Company, then located at 224 Washington. An avid sports enthusiast, he sponsored a baseball team called the Beaudry Boys. About 1920 he sold his interest in Beaudry’s and organized his own store, Baker & Baker, selling floor coverings and draperies.

In 1891 William married Dora Vogel, who was born in 1868. Their children were T. Frederic, who was born about 1892 and relocated to Englewood, New Jersey; Barbara Adrian [Ada], who was born about 1893 and married Clarence N. Vyn, originally from Grand Haven and later a dentist in Detroit; Bess, who was born about 1896 and married Charles Robinson; and William T. Baker II, who was born about 1897 and married Helen Van Oorde of Ferrysburg. William and Dora resided at 107 South Seventh Street. Dora died in April 1941 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William I died January 16, 1931 and was buried at Lake Forest with other family members. His granddaughter said he was a “fine Christian man and a great trickster.” [Tribune obituary, January 16, 1931.]

Derk [Dirk] W. Bakker [Baker] [1842-1925]
Derk, the son of William [Willem] J. and Etje [Ettye] Bakker, was born in The Netherlands in January 1842 [1844]. The family immigrated to the United States in 1846, settled for awhile in Saugatuck, and then moved on to Holland. In the censuses of 1850 and 1870 Derk was living with his parents, who operated a farm in Sections 14 and 15 in Olive Township. By the early 1900s the family spelled its name “Baker.”

By 1870 Derk was employed at a sawmill. The next year, with his brother Jeltz, he began the Derk Bakker Sawmill at the foot of Third Street, just south of the Boyden & Akeley Shingle Mill. It had a capacity of 40,000 board feet a day. By 1893 the business name was Bakker & Son, although it was listed as D. Baker in an advertisement in the 1908 Directory. After the mill burned down in 1894, Derk rebuilt and started to supply lumber to local builders. About 1912, he and his son John purchased eight lots from Charles and Lizzie Shupe on Pennoyer Street, whose land had been used for raising berries. On that site the Bakkers built D. Bakker & Son Lumber Company at 722 Pennoyer. When Derk’s son John died in 1920, he resumed control of his lumber business. He hired Martin Boon as manager. Boon, an employee of the lumber company for more than 50 years, worked with another Bakker son, Doug, and later with Doug’s sons, Dick and Bruce. Derk was on the Board of Directors of Peoples Savings Bank of Grand Haven in 1920.

Derk married Sjietse [Tjetske] “Sarah” [“Jessica”] Vanderkooi on December 9, 1871. She passed away on July 1, 1885 at the age of 33 years and six months and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Derk next married Sena [Lina] Lamann [Lamen] in Grand Haven on April 22, 1886. She was born in Germany on March 12, 1860 and came to America when she was 18. After living in Holland and Fremont, she came to Grand Haven. Derk and Sena had three children: John Douglas, born on March 15, 1887; Della [Dora] who was born in November 1891, married George Steininger, and moved to Brooklyn, New York; and Harriet [Henrietta], who was born in May 1897, married Henry Prins, and moved to Lyon County, Iowa. Derk also had a son, William D., by his earlier marriage to Sjietse. William was born on October 8, 1872. The Derk Bakker family resided at 208 Franklin Street. Derk died about July 4, 1925 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Sena died around August 11, 1941 and was buried with her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune articles, August 18, 1920, “Expressions of Sympathy,” and “DB Becomes Owner of Lumber Yard.”]

Jeltz [Jeltze, Jellje, Jeltje] W. Bakker [1839-1872]

An older brother of Derk Bakker, Jeltz helped start his brother’s lumberyard, Derk Bakker [Baker] & Son. He married and had two children. Born in The Netherlands in 1839, Jeltz died of smallpox on August 28, 1872 along with his wife, Antje, and two children. They were buried in the pest house cemetery near Sheldon Road and Taylor Street. Their bodies were discovered at an excavation site when North Ottawa Community Hospital expanded in 1969. [Tribune article, October 11, 1969, “Tragedy Recalled by Bakers.”]

John Douglas Bakker [Baker] I [1887-1920]

Born March 15, 1887, the son of Derk and Sena Lamann Bakker, John was associated with his father as the junior member of the lumber firm of Derk Bakker & Son. He married Isabel G., daughter of Charles Adams of Grand Haven. She was born in June 1888, died about February 19, 1951, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children included John Douglas II, born on July 1, 1918, and Charles, born about 1919. John I died of meningitis on March 16, 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Isabel. Martin Boon, who had been with the company since March 1 that year, took over as general manager. Isabel was a teacher in the Grand Haven Schools. In 1930 she was residing at 209 North Fifth Street with her two sons and sister, Isabel Thomson. Charles became an agent for Broadway theater productions in New York City. Doug remained with the family lumber business in Grand Haven. [Tribune obituary, March 14, 1921 and Tribune article, March 11, 1950, “Doug B. Becomes Owner of Lumber Yard.”]

William D. Bakker [Baker] [1874-1952]

William, the son of Derk Bakker, was born on October 8, 1874. In the early 1900s he worked at the family lumber yard. On October 25, 1895 in Chicago, he married Matie [Matie] Farnham, the daughter of Byron and Bodelia Farnham and the sister of John Farnham. Matie was born about 1874. William and Matie lived at 222 Franklin. By 1910 William and Matie were residing in Battle Creek, where he continued to work in the lumber business. They had six children: Mary Williene, who lived from 1896 to 1980; Donald W., who lived from 1898 to 1992; James Byron, who lived from 1900 to 1954; Catherine A., born in 1902; Helen Hunt, who lived from 1906 to 1990; and Robert F., also born in 1906. William died in Battle Creek on September 28, 1952.

William J. Bakker and his family immigrated to the United States in 1846 and spent four years in Saugatuck. In 1850 William and his wife, Etje, purchased from Abram Pike 80 acres in Section 15 of Olive Township [now Port Sheldon Township], and additional acreage in Section 14. The Bakkers farmed the land, and for eight years they lived in the 29 rooms of the defunct Ottawa House Hotel in Port Sheldon, on the north side of Pigeon Lake. A meeting was held at the Bakker house on April 6, 1857 to organize Olive Township. William was born in The Netherlands on April 3, 1800 and died on August 25, 1876. Etje, who was born on March 27, 1807 in The Netherlands, died on May 15, 1880 and was buried in Lake Forest Cemetery. They had at least six children, all born in The Netherlands, including Detje, who was born on February 27, 1829; Jeltz, who was born in 1839; and Derk, who was born in January 1842. Detje was first married to Piebe J. Klaver and, after Piebe's death in 1861, to Enne E. Kraai. Detje passed away on May 28, 1901 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 29, 1901.]

Melvin Baldwin [1922-1994]

Melvin, the son of Arthur J. Baldwin of Staples, Minnesota, was one of two hands to survive the sinking of the Coast Guard Cutter Escanaba in June 1943. He was a boatswain mate at the time. Baldwin was born on October 21, 1922 and died August 3, 1994.

Phineas Orlando Baldwin I [1817-1882]

Born in Vermont on February 15, 1817, Dr. Phineas Baldwin opened a medical office in Spring Lake in 1863. He helped organize Spring Lake Baptist Church on December 7, 1867, and he served on the Spring Lake School Board. He advertised himself as a “Botanic Physician,” one who cured with natural products. He claimed to cure “every description of chronic and private diseases quicker and cheaper than any other physician. (No poisonous medicines used.) Five hundred kinds of Botanic Medicines constantly on hand wholesale and retail. Consulation free.” On July 18, 1871 Phineas received patent #117034 for an “Improvement in Cultivators.” His wife, Lucy, was born in New York about 1809. A son, Edwin, was born in New York about 1845, another son, John, was born in the same state about 1850, a daughter, Martha, was born in Pennsylvania about 1841, and another daughter, Idella, was born in Wisconsin around 1860. A third son, Phineas Orlando Baldwin II, was born in New York about 1838. The older Phineas died in Spring Lake on July 18, 1882.

Phineas Orlando Baldwin II [@1838-@1890]

The son of Dr. Phineas and Lucy Baldwin, the younger Phineas was born in New York about 1838. On September 16, 1861, Phineas II enlisted as private with Company E of the 1st Wisconsin Infantry. He was mustered out on April 25, 1862. Phineas married Laura Brown in Kalamazoo on December 17, 1863, although his military draft registration that year noted that he was married and living in Spring Lake, where he worked as a blacksmith. On June 12, 1865, Phineas applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension for Laura when she applied for a widow’s pension on May 17, 1917. Laura was born about 1844. [Her name also appeared as Lucy and Louisa.] Phineas and Laura were residing Spring Lake in 1870, but ten years later, they were in Hamilton, Van Buren County. With them were three children: Louis, born about 1867; Edgar, born on July 30, 1873 in Kent County; and Myrtle, born about 1878. Louis died in Reed City on November 22, 1934.

On April 1, 1894 in Elbridge Township, Oceana County, Laura married 58-year old William Green.

Phineas married Marion [Marian] E. Strong in Kenosha, Wisconsin, on May 3, 1888. A native of Vermont, she had been married previously. Marion applied for a widow’s pension on July 14, 1890 in Illinois, presumably marking the approximate date of her husband’s death. On August 23, 1890, an unnamed minor applied for a Civil War pension. On May 17, 1917, Laura Guilfoyle applied for the pension as a remarried widow of Phineas Baldwin, and it isn’t clear if one or both of the widows were successful in their application.
On June 10, 1931 Marion applied again for a widow’s Civil War pension. At this time her married name was Roberts.

Hendrick “Henry” Balgooyen [Van Balgooyen, Van Balgoozen] [1823-1893]

Henry Balgooyen was born in The Netherlands in 1823. He helped organize Olive Township in 1857 and was one of its first officers. On December 1, 1860, he took title to 130 acres in Section 28 of Olive Township, along the Lake Michigan shoreline. By 1864 he also owned about 80 acres in Section 4 of Grand Haven Township. In 1863 Henry became the first district director of the Rosy Mound School. In 1880 he was listed as a railroad worker. His wife, Julia, was born about 1831 in The Netherlands and died on December 27, 1893. Their daughter, Annie, was born on December 13, 1873 and married James Misner of Grand Haven. The Balgooyens had at least four other children, including Albert. Albert, who was born about 1870 and graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1899, went on to become a Methodist clergyman in Augusta, Washtenaw County. At some point many family members dropped the “Van” and were listed as “Balgooyen.” Henry died on January 22, 1893.

Born in The Netherlands on February 5, 1862, John Balgooyen for many years was foreman at the Silas Kilbourn barrel factory in Grand Haven. In the early 1900s John began the manufacture of concrete building blocks at the corner of First and Clinton Streets in Grand Haven. His father, William Balgooyen, was born in The Netherlands on January 3, 1814.

About 1884 John married Fredrika, born in Kalamazoo on July 13, 1865, the daughter of Gerrit Vanden Beldt. The Balgooyens’ children included Susan W., who was born on May 29, 1886 and married Ralph L. Farnham of Grand Haven; Marion E., who was born in December 1888, married Solon Winter, and moved to Grand Rapids; Janet [Jeanette] A., who was born in July 1890 and married George Vander Weide of Zeeland; William John, who was born January 25, 1894, married Edna Thelma Fors [January 30, 1907-February 5, 1953], attended the U.S. Naval Reserve Officer Training School in Cleveland during WWI, and moved to Muskegon Heights after the war, where he died on February 16, 1958; Jerrold C., who was born in February 1896, moved to Fort Wayne, Indiana, died about December 14, 1935, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Ethelyn, who was born in December 1897; Gertrude M., who was born in December 1899 and married Ernest R. Fett of Grand Haven; and Edwin F., who was born January 28, 1905, married Hazel E. Bottema [1905-1994], and moved to Spring Lake. Fredrika died at her home at 16 South Sixth Street on January 6, 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. John died at home on June 18, 1934 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituaries, January 6, 1930, June 18, 1934, and January 4, 1994.]

William Balgooyen [1814-1892]

William Balgooyen was born January 3, 1814 in The Netherlands, settled in Grand Haven in 1877, and died on January 29, 1892. He worked in the sawmills. A daughter, Elizabeth, was born in The Netherlands in May 1855 and married Martin Van Doorne of Grand Haven. William’s other children, all born in The Netherlands, were Peter, born about 1853; Henrietta, born about 1859; and John, born on February 5, 1862. The family resided on Madison Street. William’s wife died before 1880. Living with the family in 1880 was William’s unmarried brother Alexander, born in The Netherlands about 1822. Alexander was a dock worker.

Cornelis “Neal” Ball [1881-1957]

After starting in the minor leagues, Neal Ball between 1907 and 1913 played baseball with the New York Highlanders, forerunner of the Yankees, the Cleveland Naps [Indians], and the Boston Red Sox. A righthanded hitter, Neal was best remembered for completing the first unassisted triple play in the American League. That occurred on July 19, 1909, when he was playing shortstop for the Naps. Against Boston in the opening game of a doubleheader, he grabbed a liner hit by Amby McDonnell, doubled Heinie Wagner off second, and tagged Jake Stahl coming into the bag to end the second inning. In the home half of that inning, Ball hit one of only four home runs in his 496-game career, this one an inside-the-park four-bagger. He maintained a .251 batting average for the 496 games of his major league career. Neal returned to the minor leagues in 1914, and he also was manager from time to time until his full retirement from the game in 1922. Neal, who stood five feet seven inches and weighed 145 pounds, was born in Grand Haven on April 22, 1881 and died in Bridgeport, Connecticut on October 15, 1957. He was the son of Cornelius and Minnie Ball, who by 1900 were living in Kalamazoo. Neal, who then lived with his parents, was listed in the 1900 census as a professional ball player. As late as 1940 Neal was listed as a ball player living in Bridgeport, Connecticut. On September 1, 1903 in Grand Haven, he married Maud Smith, who sometimes was referred to as "Este." She was born about 1883.

Born in The Netherlands about 1850, Cornelius Ball settled in Grand Haven and became a commercial fisherman. He married Jakomina “Minnie” Mieras, who was born around 1851, also in The Netherlands. Cornelius and Minnie had several children, all born in Michigan, including Willemina, born about 1872; Adrianna S., born about 1874; Cornelia, born in Grand Haven on June 20, 1876; and Jacob, who lived from 1878 to 1871. Cornelis “Neal” Ball, born on April 22, 1881, was another son. In 1880 Adriana Glerum, a widow, was residing with them. Listed as mother-in-law, Adriana was born in The Netherlands about 1817. The Ball family resided at 116 Howard in Grand Haven, but relocated to Kalamazoo, where Cornelius died on March 9, 1899.

Gerrit Ball [1861-1929]
On April 17, 1878 brothers Gerrit and Jurien Ball opened a store at 201-203 Washington Street. For many years the building was known as “The Ball Block.” Initially the brothers worked together and offered groceries and dry goods. Later Gerrit concentrated on groceries, located on the east side of the building, and Jurrien operated the dry goods store on the other side. Gerrit in the 1920s moved his City Grocery to 208 Washington. On August 23, 1888 in Grand Rapids, Gerrit married Dora Belle Robinson. The daughter of Benjamin “Frank” and Addie Griswold Robinson, Dora was born in Robinson Township on 1868. Gerrit and Dora resided at 100 Franklin Street. In 1920, Dora’s mother, Addie Robinson, was living with the Balls. Gerrit died on May 15, 1929 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Dora continued to live at 100 Franklin after her husband’s death. She passed away on March 10, 1956.

John R. Ball [Bol] [1818-1871]
Born on April 17, 1818, John Ball in 1849 immigrated from Groningen, The Netherlands to Holland, Michigan with his wife, Angie [Anje] “Anne” Winter and at least two children. Two years later the family moved to Grand Haven. John and Angie were married on July 31, 1845 in Groningen. In Grand Haven John became proprietor of a grocery store. He was active in founding the First Reformed Church in 1851. Fifteen families braved hardships in their attempt to worship. With two 25-foot canoes bought from the Indians, they picked up logs that were thrown into the river as waste and built their first church on Third Street, a feat that earned it the name “Slab Church.” Rev. Seine Bolks was their pastor. Angie Ball remained a member of the First Reformed Church until her death at the age of 93.

John and Angie had six children: Rijpke [Riepke], who lived from September 14, 1845 to February 9, 1877, married Mary [Maria] Kooiman; Jurrien Jans, who was born in Grand Haven on July 11, 1852; Jan “John,” who was born on August 13, 1855 and died in Grand Haven on December 11, 1943; Peter, who was born on December 18, 1858 and went into the concrete block business; Gerrit, who was born on July 5, 1861; and Rena, who was born January 7, 1863 and married William Balgooyen in 1883. William died before 1900, and Rena and her daughter, Ella H., who was born in February 1884, resided with Angie. Gerrit joined his brother Jurrien in a downtown business, and eventually owned and operated a grocery store at 201-203 Washington. The Balls made their home at 320 Clinton Street. John died on May 21, 1871, Angie was born in Groningen, The Netherlands on June 9, 1822 and died in Grand Haven on January 26, 1917. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. [Tribune article, November 2, 1984, “Ball came from The Netherlands in 1849.”]
John Ball [1844-1922]

John Ball was born in The Netherlands about 1844. He joined the Army in Grand Haven on August 6, 1862 and was assigned to Company D of the 21st Michigan Infantry. He married Jane Merris, who was born in The Netherlands also, about a year after John. Their children, all born in Grand Haven, were Minnie; born about 1868; Lucy, born on July 8, 1871; Anna, born on November 14, 1873; James, born about 1876; and Cornelius, born on July 6, 1879. James was a fisherman. The family resided on Fulton Street. John died in Grand Rapids on January 25, 1922.

Jurrien [Jurren, Jurrin] Jans Ball [1852-1941]

Jurrien was born on November 7, 1852 in Grand Haven, the son of John and Angie Winter Ball. When Jurrien was 12 he quit school to make fishnets. Later he went to work making wagons and then he was employed at Challenge Refrigerator Company, where he made $2.25 a day, a substantial sum for a 22-year old in those days. Jurrien began business in Grand Haven in 1875 as partner with Jurrien [Jerry] and Arie [Orie] Woltman [Waltman] at their store, called Woltman, Ball & Company, built in 1872 at 201-203 Washington Street [Howlett Block]. It was a grocery and dry goods outlet. Their first customer was Grand Haven pharmacist Jacob Vander Veen, who bought a gallon of vinegar for 30 cents on April 17, 1875. On November 1, 1877 the business failed, but Jurrien appealed to his creditors to let him carry on. He and a brother bought out the Woltmans and operated the dry goods and grocery business as the J. Ball Store. Later Jurrien confined himself entirely to dry goods and his brother Gerrit took over the grocery outlet. He retired from business in 1940. He claimed to have three distinctions: at one time he was the oldest native son, the oldest baptized member of the First Reformed Church, and the oldest merchant in the city.

On January 23, 1879 in Grand Haven, Jurrien married Dirkje “Delia” Van Hoef, who had come to Grand Haven when she was two years old. She had one sister, Clara, who married William Baker, and a brother, Andrew. Jurrien and Delia had two daughters: Anna Ball, who was born in February 1881, became a music teacher, and died in October 1959, and Kitty [Cornelia, Clauzine] Ball, who was born in December 1884. Kitty worked as a clerk in the family store and resided in the family home at 215 South Fourth until she fell in 1976 and moved to a nursing home. There she celebrated her 100th birthday on December 8, 1984. Kitty died two years later, on January 11, 1987 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Delia was born in The Netherlands in April 1854 and died on February 3, 1918. Jurrien passed away on December 24, 1941 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 24, 1941, two Tribune articles, August 1, 1934 and November 2, 1984, “Ball came from The Netherlands in 1849,” and a Chronicle article, “Jurrin Ball In Business for Fifty-seven Years,” about April 17, 1932.]

Kitty Ball [1881-1984]

Kitty [Cornelia, Clauzine], the daughter of Jurrien and Delia Van Hoef Ball, was born on December 8, 1884. She worked as a clerk in the family store and resided in the family home at 215 South Fourth until she fell in 1976 and moved to a nursing home. There she celebrated her 100th birthday on December 8, 1984. Kitty died two years later, on January 11, 1987 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Peter Ball [Boll, Bol] [1858-1944]

A manufacturer of concrete blocks with a plant at 312 South Fourth, Peter Ball [Boll/Bol] resided at 314 Clinton and 323 Lafayette. Peter, the son of John R. and Angie Winter Ball, was born on December 18, 1858 and died on June 26, 1944.

Melkon Arakel Baloyan [1878-1971]

A native of Turkey, Melkon Baloyan was born in Istanbul on December 3, 1878. He was approximately 29 when he married a woman with the last name Minasian. In the mid-1920s Baloyan operated a shop at 28

Mary Helen Connolly Baltz [1922-1999] and Russell Louis Baltz [1922-1993]

Mary Helen Connolly, born in Ishpeming, Marquette County on October 12, 1922, married Russell Baltz. Russell, born on February 23, 1922, was the son of William D. and Ethel Baltz. William in 1928 became part owner of the department store at 200 Washington, subsequently known as Addison-Baltz. Russell graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1939 and soon he and Mary Helen Connolly were married. The two of them in the 1940s managed the “Barn,” a roller-skating and dance pavilion at 215 Harbor. Later they ran Hyland Gardens and the Bil-Mar Restaurant, near Highland Park. In 1957 the couple moved to Florida, where they bought and operated the Bilmar Resort on Treasure Island. Mary Helen was a graduate of Alma College and was a certified registered medical assistant. She also belonged to the Spring Lake Country Club. For awhile the Baltz family lived at 522 River Street in Spring Lake. She and Russell had two children, Bill and Margot. By combining those two names the Baltzes arrived at “Bil-Mar” as the name for their enterprises, including the lakefront restaurant in Grand Haven with that name. Russell died in St. Petersburg, Florida on October 3, 1993. Mary Helen passed away in Gulfport, Florida, on September 24, 1999.

William Dominique Baltz [1889-1959]

A native of Attica, Kansas, where he was born on January 22, 1889 [1890], William Baltz came to Grand Haven in 1925 and three years later became part owner of Addison & Company in Grand Haven, a retail outlet. Prior to that he managed the F. N. Arbaugh Department Store in Lansing. The Addison Company, located at 200 Washington, subsequently became known as Addison-Baltz. On July 3, 1916 he married Ethel Cassidy in Lansing. Ethel was born in Michigan on June 30, 1895, died in Grand Haven on December 31, 1962, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Baltzes’ children were Stanley, born about 1918 in Michigan, and Russell, born on February 23, 1922, also in Michigan. Around 1930 the family resided at 532 Lafayette. Later William and Ethel moved to 522 East River in Spring Lake. Around 1950 William sold the department store business, but not the real estate, to Paul F. Oltman. William passed away on July 20, 1959 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Ethel.

Kenneth Bandstra [1929-1989]

A native of Chicago, where he was born on January 12, 1929, Kenneth Bandstra married Pearl Lucille Hanstra in his hometown on September 10, 1954. Pearl was born in the same city on March 26, 1931. The Bandstras had one daughter, Tamara, and four sons: Steve, Jeff, Terry, and Randy. Tamara’s first husband, Paul Jay Laninga, died in a snowmobile accident near Traverse City in February 1, 1995 at the age of 27. She subsequently married Tom Elhart. Kenneth died in Ann Arbor on January 12, 1989 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In the late 1960s Pearl purchased a home at 1015 Oak Lane in Grand Haven and renovated the interior. Pearl, who died in Grand Haven on May 15, 2012, was at different time secretary to three physicians in Grand Haven, administrator at Northcrest Living Center in North Muskegon from 1985 to 1988, and school secretary at Grand Haven Christian School from 1988 to 1993. She was an active member of the Second Christian Reformed Church, including several mission assignments overseas. She, too, was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Aaron Barber [@1827-1899]

Aaron Barber owned a 160-acre farm in Section 22 of Grand Haven Township. The two-story brick farmhouse, built about 1880, faced west and later was numbered 11250 168th Avenue. On December 27, 1877 in Grand Haven, Aaron married Sophia Maria Schultz [Schulz]. Born in Germany, she had been married previously and had two children, a daughter Levine Schultz, born in Michigan about 1866, and a son, Fredrick Schultz, born in Michigan about 1868. Aaron was a native of Ohio, where he was born around 1827, and Sophia came from Mecklenberg, Germany, where she was born about 1830. They moved to Polkton Township, where Aaron died on August 4, 1899. He married his first wife, Elizabeth, in Branch County on August 5, 1867.

Jabez Barber [@1810–1854]

Born around 1810 in England, Jabez Barber arrived in Spring Lake subsequent to the 1837 rebellion in Canada. In 1841 he and fellow Canadian Richard Mason hired John Newcomb to construct a sawmill at Mill Point [Spring Lake]. He opened a boarding house, which was managed by Henry Middlemist, and in association with Amos Norton, Jabez built a sawmill about four miles up the Grand River from Grand Haven. The Nortonville sawmill burned down in 1854. The mill was rebuilt in 1856 at Mill Point, with the help of Richard Mason. This mill was destroyed by fire in 1859. On March 6, 1843, Jabez married Frances Baley in Ottawa County. Frances was born in England about 1827. By 1850 the Barbers lived in Chicago, where Jabez built schooners to carry their milled lumber from Spring Lake. Jabez, Frances, and their two daughters, Ann and Mary, were drowned when returning from England on the steamer Pacific in 1854. The husband of Jabez Barber’s sister Elizabeth was Charles Y. Bell. He ran the business after the shipwreck and named it W. H. Bell & Company for his son, William H. Bell.

Don M. Barbier [1907-1993]

Born on February 13, 1907, Don Barbier started as an apprentice mortician in Detroit at the Henry J. Stahl Funeral Home in 1926 and was licensed as a funeral director in 1928. In 1931 he became a partner in the Robinson-Barbier Funeral Home in Lansing and in 1947 bought the Ringold Funeral Home in Spring Lake. He sold to Kammeraad Funeral Home on December 1, 1966. Don achieved the distinction of reaching 50 years of continuous licensing as a Michigan funeral director in 1978. He worked at Oldberg Mfg. Company for six years and in 1975 joined Medallion Instruments, Inc. of Spring Lake as a janitor and became sub-assembler. He spent 30 years as a volunteer for the Spring Lake Fire Department, served on the Village Council, and was a member of Spring Lake Baptist Church, Eagles, and Rotary Club. He married Edith M. Schofield. They had a son, David, who had four daughters. Don and Edith lived at 213 East River in Spring Lake. Don died on his birthday in 1993. Edith was born on May 31, 1907 and died in Spring Lake on January 14, 1999. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune articles, “Licensed mortician for 50 years,” May 16, 1978, and “Retirement Job Keeps SL man Young,” February 12, 1987.]

Karl [Charles] Barbrick [1846-1935]

He was born on June 24, 1846 and died on December 16, 1935, and Christina lived from June 17, 1857 to March 6, 1921. Both were buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery. One son, Gustav, who was born on November 20, 1891, married Catherine, widow of William Frietchen I. Karl and Christina arrived in the United States in 1892.

Jack V. Barendse [1922-1987]

Jack Barendse was sales representative for Grand Haven Gasket Company. About 1980 he left that job to open his own business at 700 Fulton. There he started a business named Accent-Us and produced flags, pennants, and banners. Jack and his wife, Katherine Marie Roozen resided at 15045 154th Street in Grand Haven Township. He was born on May 12, 1922 and passed away in Ann Arbor on October 10, 1987. Born in Milwaukee, Katherine lived from October 20, 1923 to October 1, 2002.

Eunice Keskey Bareham [1925-2002]

Eunice Evelyn Keskey was born to Finnish parents in Wakefield, Gogebic County on May 23, 1925. During WWII she worked at the Pentagon in Washington, D.C. for General Eisenhower. After the war she attended Nursing School at the University of Michigan, where worked as record clerk at the university hospital. It was there she met her husband, Robert Nelson Bareham. They were married in Wakefield on September 3, 1949. Robert lived from October 31, 1922 to January 15, 1971. The couple resided at 530 Grand View in Spring Lake. Eunice served as county commissioner from 1972 to 1978 and was treasurer of Ottawa County from 1979 to 1992, the first woman to serve in that capacity. In 1976 she was a delegate to the Republican Convention. Eunice was a member of the Mackinaw Bridge Authority, Spring Lake School Board, Spring Lake Education Foundation, and the state and national County treasurer’s Associations. She attended St. John’s Episcopal Church in Grand Haven. The Barehams had four children: Robert of Spring Lake [March 14, 1951 to April 12, 2008], his twin brother Bruce of Grand Haven [March 14, 1951 to July 17, 2013], Philip of Lansing, and Elizabeth of Oshawa, Ontario, Canada. Eunice died at her daughter’s home in Oshawa on April 11, 2002 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, April 17, 2002.]

Adora Barlow [Barlou] [1825-1912]

Adora Barlow was born in Prussia in January 1825. Her husband, Henry Barlow, also a native of Prussia, was born about 1824 and died between 1871 and 1879. After his death, Adora took in laundry. By the early 1890s she was proprietor of The Madison House, located at 301 Madison [approximate number], close to the Chicago & West Michigan Depot [Pere Marquette Station]. Rates were $1.00 a day or $4.00 a week. The Barlows had six children, including Lina [Lena] Sophia, who was born in Prussia on July 8, 1856, died in Grand Haven on January 8, 1878, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; and Lurissa, who was born in June 1862 in Michigan and married Adelbert Van Wormer of Grand Haven. Adora died in Grand Haven on February 27, 1912.

John W. Barnard [@1823-1876]

On June 15, 1857, John Barnard became the first postmaster in Robinson Township and was the Township’s first supervisor. Born about 1823 in New York, John by 1850 was settled in Crockery Township, but by 1860 he owned a farm and land in Sections 22, 23, and 24 of Robinson Township. He also was known as a lumberman. He married Jane E. Allen, who was born in Michigan around 1834. John and Jane had two sons, both natives of Michigan: Hepsy J., born about 1853, and Charles H., born about 1858. John passed away in Van Buren County on October 10, 1876.

Cornelius Barnes [1830-1891]

Born in Waterbury, Vermont on February 17, 1830, Cornelius was the son of Jacob and Nancy Winslow Barnes and the brother of Ebenezer, James, and John Barnes. The family moved to Grand Rapids in 1838. On November 26, 1857, in Grand Rapids, Cornelius married Catherine “Kate” Miller, who was 22 at the time. They moved from Plainfield Township, Kent County, to Grand Haven before 1860, the year Cornelius was enumerated in the census for Ottawa County. Their children, all natives of Michigan, were Monroe, born about 1863; Egbert W., born around 1865; Mary, born about 1868; Mabel, born about 1875; and another daughter, born about 1879. From 1872 to 1882 Cornelius was bookkeeper for Boyden & Akeley’s Shingle Mill. In 1882 he became bookkeeper for lumberman Stephen C. Hall in Muskegon. Cornelius died in Minneapolis on September 8, 1891.

Ebenezer Winslow Barnes [1819-1890]

Ebenezer was born in Pomfret, Vermont on July 10, 1812 and arrived in Grand Rapids with his parents, Jacob and Nancy Winslow Ebenezer, in 1838. Cornelius, James, and John were his brothers. Ebenezer was appointed Kent County’s Register of Deeds to fill a vacancy in 1842, and he also filled the post of County treasurer. On August 19, 1852 in Vermont he married Caroline Fidelia Slayton, the sister of Nathaniel Slayton of Grand Haven. Caroline was born in Vermont on August 2, 1826. The couple moved to Grand Haven in 1853. When Rev. William Ferry gave up his position as Grand Haven postmaster, Ebenezer took over and held the position from May 30, 1853 to April 9, 1861. Ebenezer owned a farm in Section 10 of Olive Township. He returned to Grand Rapids in 1865, where he died on November 20, 1890. Caroline subsequently relocated to Emporia, Kansas. Four of the couple’s five children were born in Grand Haven. One of them, Carrie, married James P. Armstead of Grand Haven. Carrie was born on December 22, 1856. The Barnses’ other children were Hattie, born about 1854; Nancy, born about 1860; and Edward, born about 1864. Caroline, the mother, died on December 22, 1899. She was buried with her husband and other family members at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids.
Jacob Barnes [Barns] [1799-1841]
Although Jacob Barnes never resided in Ottawa County, four of his children were early settlers here: Ebenezer, born in 1819; James and John, twins, born in 1823; and Cornelius, born in 1830. Jacob was born in 1799 in Washington County, Vermont, and died in Grand Rapids on May 14, 1840. His wife, Nancy Winslow, lived from 1801 to April 30, 1844. They moved to Grand Rapids before 1837. Jacob was Register of Deeds for Kent County from 1837 to 1838. Both Jacob and Nancy were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

James Barnes [Barns] [1823-1899]
Born in Stowe, Vermont on April 10, 1823, the son of Jacob and Nancy Winslow Barnes, James moved from Grand Rapids to Grand Haven in 1845 [1846]. In 1851, with his twin brother John and William M. Angel, Barnes helped edit and publish The Grand River Times, the first newspaper in Ottawa and Muskegon Counties. The newspaper office was located in the upstairs rooms of Henry Griffin’s drug store on the northwest corner of First and Washington. Leaning towards the views of the Democratic Party, the first issue came out on July 2, 1851. James and John acquired sole ownership of the paper, which they sold to Galen Eastman in 1857. The new owner moved it to Eastmanville, trusting that the village would become the County seat. When that expectation failed, publication ceased the same year and Barnes repurchased the paper, returned it to Grand Haven, and changed its name to the Grand Haven News, publishing the first issue on December 22, 1858. In 1862 James became a trustee of the new Grand Haven Union High School. Also known as a carpenter, in 1866 he constructed a building at 121 Washington Street as a site for a furniture store. He continued to work there until his death in 1899. James supervised the building of Grand Haven’s second jail, located on the southeast corner of Washington and Fourth Streets. With John W. Cook he built Senator Ferry’s large residence on the northeast corner of First and Columbus Streets, one of the local schoolhouses, and other structures.

James married Pamela Ranney in 1850. She was born in New York about 1832. On May 24, 1865, four years after Pamela died, James married Ellen M. Moss of Eastmanville and Grand Rapids. Ellen was born in Youngstown, New York on February 28, 1840. The newlyweds immediately moved from Grand Rapids to Grand Haven. They resided at 226 Franklin and had several children: Bessie [Jessie], who was born in November 1866 and married George Simpson of Detroit; Nellie, who was born on October 30, 1874, married William Stobie Marks of Grand Rapids, and died in April 1962; and Frederick T. Barnes, who was born in November 1879 and moved to Cincinnati, Ohio. Ellen died on March 1912 12 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband, who died in Grand Haven on January 17, 1899. [Tribune obituary, March 13, 1912.]

James B. Barnes [1857-1909]
Born in Grand Haven in October 1857, James was the son of John and Ruth C. Brough Barnes. James was connected with the Johnston Brothers shops at Ferrysburg for many years, and he was known as one of the best and most efficient mechanics in the area. He was a Mason.

On December 5, 1882 James married Jennie, the daughter of Uzell and Sarah Ames of Ferrysburg. Jennie was born in March 1862 and died on February 17, 1925. James and Jennie had four children, all born locally: Mille E., who was born in October 1883; Allan Uzell, who lived from August 16, 1888 to 1967 and graduated from Michigan Agricultural College [MSU]; Everett J., who lived from December 1893 to 1969 and served in France with the Engineering Corps during WWI; and John M., who lived from May 1900 to 1984. James died at his home in Ferrysburg on May 23, 1909. He and his wife were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 24, 1909.]

John W. Barnes [Barns] I [1823-1892]
Born in Stowe, Vermont on April 10, 1823, the son of Jacob and Nancy Winslow Barnes, John moved to Grand Rapids in 1838 [1836]. In 1845, John came to Grand Haven with his twin brother James. In 1851,
John, James, and William M. Angel, published the first newspaper in Ottawa or Muskegon Counties, The Grand River Times. Leaning toward the Democratic Party, the first issue came out on July 2, 1851. John and James Barnes acquired sole ownership, and published the paper until December 1856, when they sold it to Galen Eastman, who moved it to Eastmanville. From December 29, 1859 to April 1860, John, with the help of Reuben Fosha, was proprietor of the Grand Haven News. In 1860, James became second partner and in 1865, John became sole owner, publishing it until July 17, 1876 when he became engaged in the furniture business with his brother. The office was destroyed twice by fire, once in 1859 and again in 1866. It was leased for one year to De Long and Mills, then in 1867 it was sold to J. H. Mitchell, and soon afterward it was consolidated with the News Journal of Grand Haven. John was city alderman from 1876 to 1879.

In 1856 John married Ruth [Lucy] C. Brough [Breau] of Ohaze, New York. She was born February 6, 1836 and died February 6, 1899. The Barneses had three sons and three daughters, all born in Michigan: James B., born in 1857; Orpha M., who was born about 1861 and married a Mr. Quayle of Santa Barbara, California; John II, who was born in 1862; Jennie, who was born about 1865 and married Dwight A. Lane of Grand Haven; Bertha, who was born about 1867, married a Mr. Donaldson and moved to Des Moines, Iowa and Washington, D.C.; and Jerry [Jedediah] H., who was born about 1869 and moved to Los Angeles. John I died January 18, 1892 from influenza. He had suffered a severe stroke with resulting paralysis years earlier. John and Ruth were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, January 18 1892 and February 7, 1899.]

John Winslow Barnes II [1862-1935]

The son of John and Ruth Brough Barnes, John II was born in Grand Haven in 1862. From 1883 to 1890 he worked for Kilbourn Company of Grand Haven, and he then became partner with M. L. Green and John Bryce of the Bryce, Barnes & Green Mfg. Company, located at the corner of Seventh and Elliott Streets. The company made interior wood products for residences. In the 1893 Compendium John was listed as a machinist. On November 19, 1884 in Grand Haven, John married Lillie May Stone, who was born in Ohio about 1865. She was the daughter of George W. and Mehitable Stone of Grand Haven. The Barnes’s children, both born in Grand Haven, were Florence, born on October 18, 1885, and Kenneth George, born in Grand Haven on February 8, 1893. Not long after Kenneth’s birth, the family moved to Los Angeles, California, where Lillie died in 1927. John passed away in Los Angeles on December 27, 1935.

Alexander Barnett [1840-1910]

Born in Arbroth, Scotland in August 1840 Alexander Barnett immigrated to Detroit in 1862 and moved on to Grand Haven ten years later. He was a ship’s carpenter by trade and served his apprenticeship on the River Clyde. During the Civil War, Alexander, John Neil, and John W. Callister were among the expert ship carpenters engaged by the government to build and rebuild the ships for the U.S. Navy at Newport News and Norfolk. Later Alexander was engaged with Thomas Kirby in shipbuilding at the Kirby yards in Grand Haven. He was a Mason and member of the Presbyterian Church.

In 1867 Alexander married Katherine [Catherine] Duff Patterson, who was born in Scotland in May 1840. They had four children, all born in Michigan: William James, born about 1867; Cora Ann Flemley, born in October 1875; Alexander Ford, born in July 1887; and Scott Anderson, who died young. The three surviving children later settled in Kenosha, Wisconsin. Alexander died at his home at 620 Clinton Street on November 10, 1910. His wife lived from 1840 to 1926. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with their son Scott, who died on February 14, 1879 at the age of nine. [Tribune obituary, November 10, 1910 and November 12, 1910.]

Delmar Dalace Barnett [1900-1993]

Delmar Barnett, a native of South Dakota, married Gladys Hippler in Holland on December 1, 1923. Gladys was born in Sparta, Wisconsin on December 7, 1906, and Delmar was born in South Dakota on May 30, 1900. Their daughter, Kathryn Sarah, was born in Michigan about 1927 and married Robert William Cash in Coopersville on May 22, 1946. A second daughter, Mary, was born in Michigan in 1926. By 1930 the family was living in Crockery Township, where Delmar worked in a furniture store as a “sawyer.” At the time of the 1940 Federal Census, they were living at 723 Beechtree Street in Grand Haven. Delmar was proprietor of a trucking business. Two sons had been added to the family, both born locally: Duane, born about 1933, and Jerrold, born about 1936. Delmar and Gladys owned and operated Barnett’s Motel and Housekeeping Cottages from the mid-1950s to the mid-1970s. My 1979 they had hired William Jenerou as

James Melancthon Barnett [Barnette] [1832-1908]

In 1873 James Barnett joined Edward P. Ferry and others from Grand Haven to form the “Michigan Bunch” in Utah, a group that speculated in the silver mining business. By 1880 he was back in Grand Rapids as a lumber merchant. James was born in New York on September 8, 1832. On December 5, 1865 in Grand Rapids he married Lucy Foote, who was born in the same state in 1839. James died on September 19, 1908 in Grand Rapids.

Robert P. Barney [1867-1936]

Robert Barney was a Spring Lake barber. His shop was located at approximately 224 West Savidge. He married Clara “Carrie” Lape in Evansville, Indiana on November 24, 1893. She was born on March 15, 1870. They had two daughters, Irene [Irine], born in July 1895, and Inez M., born in January 1897. The family lived at 103 East Exchange. In the early 1900s Robert played cornet with the Spring Lake orchestra.
He lived from December 1867 to 1936 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Carrie passed away on June 15, 1951 and was buried with her husband.

Washington Street. George Abram Barnum was born too late to be the photographer.

Joseph Needham Corey Barnum [1832-1920]

Joseph C. Barnum enlisted as private in Company A of the 34th Iowa Infantry on September 6, 1862. He was mustered out on January 1, 1865 and transferred the same day to Company F of the 38th Iowa Infantry. He was mustered out permanently on August 15 that year. He applied for a handicapped pension in 1879. Joseph was a resident of Spring Lake in 1890. That year he also was resident of the Soldiers’ Home in Milwaukee.
Ten years later he was in a home for disabled soldiers in Milwaukee. By 1915 he was living in a soldiers’ home in Marshall, Iowa. Born in 1832 in New York, he died in Iowa in 1920.

Lewis [Louis] Barnum [@1830- ?]
In the 1870s Lewis Barnum sold to Walter Sinclair the boarding house on the northeast corner of Exchange and Division Streets in Spring Lake [Lot 4, Block 14, and Bryant’s Addition]. Lewis was born in Connecticut about 1830 and was listed in the 1870 Federal Census as a hotel keeper in Spring Lake. His wife, Frances, also from Connecticut, was born in March 1836. Their son, Brigham, was born in Connecticut about 1863, and a daughter, Betsy, was born in Michigan about 1870. By 1900 the Barnums were living in Florida.

Robert Milton Barrett [1889-1950]

Robert Milton Barrett, who lived from December 23, 1889 to March 22, 1950, married Sadie Lex Matthews in Spring Lake on September 6, 1923. Sadie was born in 1884. Robert, the son of William and Catherine Patterson Barrett, worked in the family boat business in Spring Lake and, with his sister, Ruby, took over ownership and management of Barrett Boat Works after their mother’s death in late 1943. Robert died in Eau Clair, Wisconsin on March 22, 1950 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Ruby I. Barrett [1880-1960]

The daughter of William and Catherine Patterson Barrett of Spring Lake, Ruby was born on February 1, 1880. In 1901 she attended the School of Music at the University of Michigan, but her health failed, and she returned to Spring Lake to rest. She resumed working with her father in the boat yard office. In 1943 she and her brother Robert became owners of the Barrett Boat Works when her mother died and willed it to her. Ruby ran the business following her brother’s death in 1950. She was organist at the First Presbyterian Church for over 40 years. Ruby died on January 7, 1960 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. She lived at 206 North Buchanan in Spring Lake. William M. Barrett [1854-1917]

Born in Toledo, Ohio in March 1854 [1856], William Barrett by 1879 was living and working in Spring Lake. His father, Milton Barrett, was born in Sevillia, Ohio in September 1828. On January 11, 1850 Milton married Ruby Doolittle in Maumee, Ohio. They had six children, including William. Milton died in Toledo on August 17, 1862, and Ruby passed away in March 1874. Both were buried at Forest Cemetery in Toledo.

William went to work for the Cutler & Savidge Sawmill as a “tallier” [one who keeps a tally], but he was more interested in shipbuilding. The Spring Lake Clinker Boat Company was organized in 1887; eight years later, William was named vice president and manager. “Clinker” referred to rowboats in which external planks were attached so that the edge of one overlapped the edge of the next one, like clapboard on a house. These boats were sold all over the world. Another local ship builder, Hiram C. Pearson, went out of business in 1872, and Clinker Boat Company subsequently assumed control of his patents. Later William’s firm became known as the Spring Lake Boat Company. William also had the time and expertise in the early 1900s to manufacture three automobiles.

William married Catherine [Katherine] Patterson in Grand Haven on February 19, 1879. The daughter of Scott and Catherine Patterson of Spring Lake, Catherine was born in Canada [Scotland] on December 11, 1856 and came to the United States when she was four. William’s and Catherine’s children, both born locally, were Ruby I., who was born on February 1, 1880, and Robert Milton, who was born on December 23, 1889. He died in Eau Clair, Wisconsin. William died in May 1917 and was given the largest Masonic funeral ever held in Spring Lake. After her husband’s death, Catherine continued running the business until the time of her death on December 24, 1943. It was then taken over by Ruby, while her brother Robert, a marine mechanic, worked mostly in the yard. After Robert’s death, Ruby managed the business. William was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, where Catherine, Ruby, and Robert also were buried. [Tribune article, “Spring Lake Woman Devotes over 50 Years to Boats,” 1955.]

R. M. Barrow [? - ?]

He was mustered out on August 24, 1865 and then moved to Ottawa County. He and his wife, Mary, lived on a 40-acre farm in Section 12 of Olive Township. On July 22 following her husband’s death on October 19, 1895, Mary applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. Later she moved to Grand Haven Township, where she maintained a 35-acre farm. Mary lived from 1868 to 1931 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Barend Preston Bartels [1861-1953]

Barend Bartels owned a 60-acre farm in Section 16 of Olive Township. His wife, Lena, the daughter of Lucas and Lena Brink Busscher, lived from June 8, 1866 to October 11, 1941. She was born in Germany. Berend was born in The Netherlands in June 1861 and immigrated to the United States in 1882. He died in 1953 and was buried at Olive Township Cemetery with his wife and other family members. Their children, all born locally, included Herman B., born on June 25, 1889; Suna, born in July 1891; Lefert, born in June 1892; Johanna, born in December 1898; and Elizabeth, born in November 1899.

Herman B. Bartels [1889-1967]

Herman was born on June 25, 1889, the son of Berend and Lena Busscher Bartels. Herman owned a 40-acre farm in Section 33 of Olive Township, where he raised livestock. His wife, Johanna, was the daughter of Peter and Susan De Barnes De Haan. Johanna was born on November 25, 1888 and died on July 29, 1956. She was buried at Olive Township Cemetery with her husband. He passed away in Holland in April 1967.

James Carroll Bartels [1923-2016]

Born in Muskegon Heights on February 11, 1923, Jim Bartell married Erma Ruth Johannes in Grand Haven on June 18, 1948. The son of Levi and Nettie Workman Bartels, Jim served with the Army from 1944 to 1946. He owned and operated Kinkema Bartels Funeral Home in Grand Haven until it merged with Van Zantwick Funeral Home on January 1, 1978. The combined business became known as Van Zantwick, Bartells, and Kammeraad Funeral Home. Jim and Erma had two sons: Bradley and Scott, both of Grand Haven, and a daughter, Kim, who married Jason Rykse of Dover, Ohio. Jim was a member of St. John’s Lutheran Church, the local American Legion, and the Rotary Club of Grand Haven. Jim died in Grand Haven on February 26, 2016 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Jan “John” Bartels [1866-1939]

The son of Hermanus Bartels, John was born in The Netherlands on January 7, 1866. On October 28, 1892 in Olive Township, he married Klaage “Clara” Troost, also a native of The Netherlands. She lived from November 1873 to 1974. John immigrated to the United States in 1882 and Clara the following year. They owned a 60-acre farm in Section 17 of Olive Township. Their children, all born locally, were Herman, born in October 1893; Klaas, born in February 1896; and Johannes, born in May 1898. John died on November 25, 1939. He and his wife were buried at Olive Township Cemetery with other family members.

Arza Bartholomew I [1806-1871]

The son of Ebenezer and Charlotte Pratt Bartholomew, Arza moved with his parents, wife, and children to Crockery Township in 1846. He married Isabel Mumy of New York, who was born on February 28, 1810, died on June 12, 1851, and was buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery. He next married Eliza Hunter, who lived from 1817 to February 18, 1876. By 1864 he and Eliza owned a 40-acre farm in Section 24, supplemented by another 40 acres in Section 25. Among Arza’s and Isabel’s children were Arza II, who was born in New York about 1842; Amanda, who was born on April 24, 1838 and married John S. Castle of Crockery; William H., who was born about 1842; Lucinda, who was born in January 1844 and first married Almond Landon. and then Orange Jubb, both of Crockery Township; Wheeler H., who was born on May 5, 1846, resided in Montcalm County and later in Muskegon County, and died on October 27, 1933; and George Newton, who was born on June 10, 1848 and died on August 4, 1932. Arza I was born on August 1, 1806 and died in Ottawa County on April 28, 1871. Isabel, Eliza, and Arza were buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery.

Arza Bartholomew II [@1842-1863]

Born about 1842, Arza was the son of Arza and Isabel Bartholomew. On August 14, 1861, young Arza enlisted in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry as private. Around January 1, 1863, he was killed in a battle near Murfreesboro, Tennessee, and was buried at nearby Stone River National Cemetery. The G.A.R. [Grand Army of the Republic] organization in Nunica, founded in 1891, was named Arza Bartholomew Post #136.

Ebenezer Bartholomew [1782-1864]

A native of New York State and a veteran of the War of 1812, where he served as Fifer, Ebenezer Bartholomew settled in Sections 24 and 25 of Crockery Township in 1846. He owned 80 acres in each section. On July 19, 1805 he married Charlotte Pratt in Watertown, Jefferson County, New York. Ebenezer was born on December 27, 1782 and died in Crockery Township in 1864. Charlotte, who was born about February 25, 1782, died on September 18, 1850. Both Bartholomews were buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery with other members of their family, including their children, Arza I, who was born in 1806, and Daniel, who lived from 1822 to 1848.

William H. Bartholomew [@1842-1865]

A resident of Crockery Township, William Bartholomew on August 4, 1862 enlisted in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry as private. He was promoted to sergeant before he returned home on furlough, where he died of wounds on March 1, 1865. He was buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery with other Bartholomews, including his parents, Azra and Isabel Mumy Bartholomew. William was born about 1842.

Alson [Alanson] R. Bartlett [1827-1902]

A Methodist-Episcopal preacher in charge of the Grand River circuit, Rev. Alson R. Bartlett was aware of the inadequate condition of the Ottawa Indians living at Battle Point in Crockery Township, about five miles upriver from Grand Haven. Several families of Indians, who made Battle Point their home around 1855, wished to live harmoniously with their White neighbors. That year, Rev. Bartlett established a school that enrolled 20 or more Indian pupils. Martha Maxfield of Eastmanville was the teacher.

In 1850 Rev. Bartlett was included in the census for Lansing, unmarried and working as a “sawyer” in a lumber mill, but by 1870 he was residing in Lapeer County with his wife and their three children, working as a Methodist minister. In 1880 Alson, still working as a member of the clergy, was residing in Birmingham, Oakland County with his wife and children.

Rev. Bartlett was born in Essex County, New York in February 1827. He married Catherine M. Stevenson, who was born in England in May the same year and immigrated to the United States when she was about four years old. Their three known children, all born in Michigan, were Lillie J., [Lelia] who was born about 1858 and died in Marquette, Marquette County on February 17, 1924, and twins Effie and Kate, born in January 1860. Effie died in Highland Park, Wayne County, on April 6, 1937, and Kate, under the name Kitty Thompson, died in Evanston, Illinois on September 12, 1938. By 1870 the Bartlett family was residing in Lapeer County. In 1900 Alson, Catherine, and Effie were living in Detroit. Alson passed away in Detroit on February 21, 1902 and was buried at Woodlawn Cemetery.

While on a hunting trip in Wisconsin, Charles L. Bastian’s sight suddenly failed him as he was walking across a field. Within a short time he was totally blind. Because of this handicap, the brass foundry at which he worked in Chicago terminated his services. Bastian was not a man to have idle time on his hands, and almost immediately he made plans to start his own business, persuading a co-worker, Lewis Greene Blessing, and several other young associates to join him. Together in 1908 Charles and Lewis formed the Bastian-Blessing Company in Chicago, and from the very start they were highly successful. Two years later they moved the company to Grand Haven. Charles obtained some 54 patents on inventions for his company after losing his sight. Bastian, who was born in Germany in November 1861, came to the United States in 1880. On February 18, 1888 he married Meta Schroeder. There is no evidence Charles ever resided in the Grand Haven area. He died in Winnetka, Illinois on December 3,1936.

James Batchellor [Batcheller, Batchelor] [1881-1921]
Born in Grand Haven in 1881, James Batchellor was employed by the Grand Haven Gas Company. He served in the army during WWI and while in the army was said to have suffered a stroke of paralysis which impaired his health. He invented a musical instrument, which he planned to use in a vaudeville skit, and at one time he reportedly was connected with the stage. He drowned in Spring Lake while swimming off a dock in Fruitport on July 11, 1921. [Tribune obituary, July 11, 1921.]

Webster Batchellor [Batcheller, Batchelor, Batchells] [1834-1904]
Webster was born in South Adams, Massachusetts on November 21, 1834, the son of Daniel and Martha Jennison Batchellor. He moved to Chicago where in 1866 he and a man named Slaght started a business. They bought the Hopkins & Ferry Sawmill in Ferrysburg in 1871, adding George Shippey as a third partner, giving it the name Batchellor, Slaght, and Shippey Sawmill. [No details were found regarding Slaght.] Webster’s older sister Sarah Dorah Batchellor married George Shippey in 1848. They lived in Ferrysburg. In 1881, the partners sold the mill to Grand Haven Lumber Company. It was located approximately where the north end of the U.S. 31 bridge later rested. Webster was one of the original shareholders of the Dake Engine Company when it was formed in 1887. His sister Sarah married George Shippey of Ferrysburg. Webster died in Lane Hospital in San Francisco, California on June 2, 1904 and was buried at Glen Falls Cemetery, Glen Falls, New York. His death certificate listed his occupation as “Capitalist.” [Tribune obituary, June 3, 1904.]

James O. Bates [1837-1922]
Born in New York on November 25, 1837, James Bates by 1870 was one of Spring Lake’s physicians. He married Hattie M. Hixon in Eaton County on July 29, 1861. She was born in New York about 1843. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Willie E., born about 1862; Jessie A., who was born in Hubbardston, Ionia County about 1867 and married Benjamin N. Savidge in Spring Lake on October 6, 1886; and Arthur D., born about 1868. In 1871 James was appointed Consulting Physician for the Magnetic and Sulphur Springs Company of Fruitport. For awhile he was a partner with Charles Begin as owner of a brick company that in 1889 was sold to Fred Bertschy. James died in Grand Haven on June 16, 1922.

Joseph Bates [1849-1938]
Joseph Bates married Eliza [Elizabeth] Wells in Ottawa, Canada on July 2, 1877. The couple immigrated to the United States the next year. Joseph was born in Canada on October 3, 1849, and Eliza, also a native of Canada, was a year younger. A son, Walter, born about 1877 in Canada, was killed accidentally on October 9, 1903, while in the engine room of the passenger steamer Georgia, owned and operated by the Goodrich Transportation Company. According to an article in the newspaper Inter-Ocean, dated October 10, 1903, he “received a crushing blow on the back of the head.” The boat had just left the dock at Milwaukee harbor, on its way to Mackinac Island when the accident occurred in the boiler room. His death was determined to be accidental. Walter was a licensed boiler inspector and lived in Spring Lake.

Joseph and Eliza had another son, Thomas, who was born in Spring Lake on June 20, 1888, and died in Muskegon on April 30, 1951. A daughter Anna was born about 1892, married Joseph W. Peters in Wexford County on April 22, 1913, and died in Wexford County in March 1987. A second daughter, Effie, was born in Spring Lake on February 16, 1879 and married Francis Wilson in Grand Haven on June 15, 1904. The Bates family lived on Summit Street in Spring Lake.

Edward [Edwin] Baughn [@1852- ?]

Coming to Grand Haven from St. Johns, Clinton County in 1865, Edward Baughn was a lumber inspector [scaler]. He married Henrietta “Nettie” Rud [Reed] in Coopersville on October 6, 1877 and remained in the area into the 1880s. Their surviving children were Francis, born in Michigan around 1878; Bertha, born two years later; George, born in Grand Haven on January 29, 1881; and Edna, born in Muskegon on May 3, 1887. In Grand Haven, the family resided at 300 Franklin. Edward was born in Michigan about 1852 and died after 1880. Henrietta was born in Ohio about 1858. George and Gilbert Baughn were Edward’s brothers.

George W. Baughn [1844-1880]

George Baughn was born in Michigan on May 9, 1844 and was included in the 1860 census for Bingham, Clinton County. His wife, Susan Eaton, was born in England around 1856. They were married in Ottawa County on January 25, 1873. George served as private with Company M of the 7th Michigan Cavalry during the Civil War. He stayed with his unit from the time of his enlistment in St. Johns on June 22, 1863 until he received a disability discharge on June 15, 1864. After George died of kidney disease in Grand Haven on February 5, 1880, Susan managed a rooming house on the corner of Franklin and Fourth Streets. She was a member of the Grand Haven First Presbyterian Church and the Order of the Eastern Star. Susan passed away on Grand Haven on February 26, 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Susan’s brother William Eaton [Heaton] lived in Muskegon. Edward and Gilbert Baughn were George’s brothers.

Gilbert Lafayette Baughn [1859-1934]

By 1880 Gilbert Baughn was employed at a Grand Haven sawmill. Like his brother George, Gilbert was included in the 1860 census for Bingham, Clinton County. Edward Baughn of Grand Haven was another brother. On September 1, 1886 he married Celia De Witt in Grand Rapids. Celia was born in Ferrysburg on September 8, 1863. Gilbert and Celia had at least one surviving child, Julia [Lulu], born in Spring Lake on July 8, 1885. Julia was married in Muskegon on June 29, 1905 to George W. Pegg. Gilbert and Celia were residing in Muskegon, where Russel Gilbert Baughn was born on December 7, 1899. Gilbert was born in St. John’s, Clinton County in 1860. Gilbert passed away in 1934, and Celia died in Detroit on July 14, 1937.

Edward John Bauman [1886-1963]

Michigan native Edward Bauman was a motorboat dealer as early as 1926. He previously had been in the restaurant business in Grand Rapids. In Spring Lake, his place of business was at the north end of Alden Street, at the lake’s edge [227 Alden]. Ed retired in May 1945. Grand Rapids residents Howard C. Raimer operated the business for ten years. Edward resided nearby, at 401 Lake View Court, with his mother, Carrie. Edward’s wife and father had passed away before 1930. Edward was born on February 17, 1886 in Grand Rapids and passed away at his home in Spring Lake on May 2, 1963. Ed never remarried. [Tribune obituary, May 2, 1963.]

Charles Bavry [Barry] [1872-1927]

Charles Bavry served as Lighthouse keeper at Grand Haven from 1922 to 1926 and died in 1927. His wife Mabel was born in Michigan about 1888. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Viola C. Bavry, who was born on October 7, 1903 and died in California on September 7, 1988; Louis W. Bavry, born on October 2, 1904; Myrtle [Marion] L. Bavry, who was born on September 6, 1905 and died in California on May 2, 1990; Marian C. Bavry, also born about 1906; and Charles Harold Bavry, who was born on July 17, 1907 and died in Florida in 1952. Charles the father was born in Wisconsin in 1872.

Christopher Davis Beale [Beal] [1835-1904]

Christopher Beale was born in Cohasset, Massachusetts on October 12, 1835. His wife, Helen M., was born in New York in March 1839. They had at least seven children, including Warren E., who was born in Brooklyn, New York in December 1859 and settled in Spring Lake; Roland Rutherford, who was born in New York on March 30, 1866, married Augusta Hall in Ottawa County, died on October 8, 1899, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; Lulu, born in New York about 1870; Evelyn M., born in New York in July 1871; Helen L., born in New York in September 1872; William I. A., who was born in New York in August 1875, became a minister, died in Spring Lake in 1910, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; and Louis M., born in Illinois in January 1880.

Augusta Hall Beale, Roland’s wife, died on March 26, 1906 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Christopher was a merchant and sales agent. Most of the family moved from Chicago to Spring Lake after 1900, where Helen, the mother, became manager of Prospect Manor Resort in Section 11 of Spring Lake Township [approximately 15820 Connelly]. Later, ownership passed to her son and daughter-in-law, Warren and Agnes Beale. Christopher died on June 27, 1904 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Christopher Beale was born in Boston, Massachusetts on October 12, 1834. He married Helen Annerman, who lived from 1839 to 1918. In 1880 the couple resided in Evanston, Illinois, where Christopher was a coat salesman. In 1895 he purchased from Marshall Field & Company of Chicago a lodge and land on Spring Lake, not far from Hammond’s Bayou. He opened a resort and named it Prospect Point Manor. In 1900 he was living with his family in Chicago and working as a salesman of “cotton spools.” Christopher died in Chicago on June 27, 1904, but was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, indicating he and Helen may have made Prospect Point their permanent residence. Helen also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. After Christopher’s death, his son Warren took over ownership and management of the Manor. The Beales had six children in addition to Warren.

Warren A. Beale [1859-1929]

Warren, born in Brooklyn, New York in December 1859, was the son of Christopher and Helen M. Beale. Warren moved from Chicago to Spring Lake after Christopher’s death in 1904 and took over ownership and management of Prospect Point Resort [Section 11 of Spring Lake Township, approximately 15820 Connelly]. He married Agnes Linehan in Grand Haven on October 11, 1918. After Warren’s death in 1929, Agnes continued management of the property. She was born in Michigan about 1870. Warren was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

George W. Beamer [1908-1983]

After retiring as a tool and die maker, George W. Beamer started Falcon Corporation at 510 Elm Street in Ferrysburg in 1962 for the manufacture of tools. He was chairman of the Board and his wife, Evelyn R., was president-secretary-treasurer. Their son John was vice president. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Albert, born on April 24, 1875; Henry, born on September 1, 1877; Bertha, who was born in 1880 and died on January 13, 1899; Anna, born in July 1882; Louis, born in February 1885; and John, born on May 12, 1887. John, Minna, and Bertha were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery;

Johannes “John” C. Behm [1856-1938]

John Behm was born in Germany on July 21, 1856 and came to the United States in 1868. His wife, Mathilda, was born in Michigan in September 1858, passed away in 1919, and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Their daughter Emma was born in September 1882, and Clara, who became a telephone operator, was born on September 20, 1890. The Behms also had a son, Ferdinand “Fred,” who was born on March 15, 1880, became a teamster, and on October 30, 1912 in Coopersville married Cleora Olive Ives Walling, the widow of Amos Walling. Another son, Walter, was born in July 1884.

In 1900 the Behms owned a farm in Section 16 of Grand Haven Township. According to the 1908 Directory, Matilda and her daughter Emma ran a millinery shop at 103-105 Washington Street, and John had a draying business and sold windmills and pumps. His business and residence were both located at 202 North Seventh Street. By 1910 the couple was residing in Grand Rapids. John died in Grand Haven on December 16, 1938.

Karl Frederick “Fred” Behm [1844-1916]

Frederick Behm, who became a ship carpenter in Grand Haven, was born in Stettin, Prussia on June 22, 1844, the son of William and Karoline Hartman Behm. His wife, Minnie [Wilhelmina], was born in the same country in February 1842. The Behms had four children, all born locally: Charles W., born about 1870; John W., born about 1871; Louis W., born about 1873; Lena, born on September 4, 1874; and Willi, who was born on April 20, 1877 and died of diphtheria on December 23, 1879. They also had an adopted child, Ella, born in Michigan in August 1897. The family resided at 216 Madison. In 1886 Captain Behm launched a two-masted schooner, named Lena Behm for his daughter. The 59-foot craft carried lumber, fruit, and other products to various Lake Michigan ports. Captain Behm sold the vessel when he retired in 1899. In 1900 he was classified as a lumber dealer and a few years later he was working as a carpenter. Lena passed away on November 11, 1899. Frederick died on April 26, 1916 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife, daughter, and other family members. Minnie died in 1917.

Ludwig Behm [1845-1905]

The son of William and Karoline Hartman Behm, Ludwig was born in Stettin, Germany in October 1845 and immigrated to America in 1871. He married Albertine Louise Marie [Mena/Mary] Hartmann, worked as a ship’s carpenter in Grand Haven, and died in St. Louis, Missouri on January 12, 1905.

Richard H. Behm [1930-2015]

In the mid-1940s, when he only 16 years old, Dick Behm started a long career with the U. S. Corps of Engineers, working as cabin boy on the hopper dredge General Mead. He retired 38 years later as captain of another Corps of Engineers vessel, Peter Conover Hains. The son of Henry and Dorothy Klemke Behm, Dick was born in Grand Haven on July 3, 1930. He married Corrine Stevenson in Monroe, Monroe County on October 27, 1952. She was born in Monroe on May 15, 1929 and died in Grand Haven on January 10, 1998. After her death, he married Marguerite Selgert on November 17, 2010. Dick received his Pilot’s License after serving as an infantryman with the Third Division during the Korean conflict. After retirement from the Corps of Engineers, he chaired the Harbor Board for 12 years, and he worked on the continuing restoration of Pere Marquette engine #1223 on display at the Coal Tipple. He was a member of the American Legion Post #28 in Grand Haven. [Chronicle obituary, October 19, 2015.]

William Behm [1863- ?]
William and Alvirne [Alvine] Behm owned a 180-acre farm in Section 21 of Grand Haven Township. William was born in Michigan in July 1863. Alvirne, the daughter of Wilhelm and Emily Friese, was born in Germany in February 1871. Wilhelm Friese was born in May 1837 and came to Grand Haven Township in 1899. Emilie, a native of Germany, was born in June 1838. Alvirne had been married before, and had a son, Willi, born in Germany in April 1894. The family of four was residing in Section 4 of Grand Haven Township in 1900.

John “Jack” Paul Beihl [1893-1964]

Jack Beihl was born in Grand Haven on January 4, 1893. His father, William, was born in West Virginia [then part of Virginia] in 1861 and died about February 19, 1926. His mother, Mary Ann, was born in England about 1868 and died on December 11, 1941. The Beihls moved to Grand Haven from Wheeling, West Virginia, during the 1880s or early 1890s, and early in the next decade resided at 1202 Franklin. William worked at Story & Clark. Jack had three sisters and four brothers. As a cornet player, he was a member of the Grand Haven Concert Band in its early days, as well as the Jackie Band and the Elk’s Band. In his teens Jack became a member of the Ewing Zouave Band for a year, and he gave Henry Kooiman lessons on the saxophone. He earned enough money from his musical talents to cover his tuition fees at Ferris Institute [Ferris State University], where he graduated in 1917 as a pharmacist. He worked for the Van I. Witt Pharmacy in downtown Grand Haven [216 Washington]. About 1922 Jack became a partner with John Boyink and bought Raymond Presley’s Square Drug Store on the northwest corner of Seventh and Fulton Streets [635 Fulton]. Two years later, he bought out Boyink and became the sole owner of the store but lost it during the Depression. After the loss, Jack worked as pharmacist at Mulder’s Drug Store [136 Washington] and Voss’s at 635 Fulton. In 1928 Jack was elected alderman under Mayor Herbert H. Hillman. He served in 1929, also.

On March 11, 1919, Jack married Ruth Mae Workman of Spring Lake and they moved into a home on Lake Avenue before building a new house at 515 South Seventh Street as early as the 1920s, where they remained into the 1960s. One of their children, Kathleen, was born about 1921 and died in 1997. Jack died on July 4, 1964 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ruth was born on May 11, 1896 and died in Grand Haven on October 25, 1974.

Harvey Bekins [1934-2016]

Born on June 30, 1934 in West Olive, Harvey was the son of Joseph and Jennie Kuyers Bekins. Harvey started his own business, Bekins’ Appliance, after working for 27 years as an appliance repairman for Cook’s Appliance Store. He married Barbara Purcell on March 27, 1954. Their children were Cheryl, who married Terry Alman; Cindy Kleinheksel; Karen, who married Mike Sterenberg; Kelley, who married David Reenders; and Scott. Some years prior to Harvey’s death, Scott assumed management of the family store and expanded it. The store was located at 735 Washington Street in Grand Haven. Harvey died in Grand Haven on April 7, 2016. He was buried at Lakeshore Cemetery in Grand Haven Township. [Tribune obituary, April 11, 2016.]

Charles Hobart “Hoby” Bell [1905-1985]

The brother of Helen Bell, with whom he shared a home at 18168 Terrace Road in Spring Lake, and son of Jacob and Martha Bell, C. Hobart Bell was born on July 23, 1905 and died in Grand Haven on April 28, 1985. He owned and operated Hoby Bell’s Sport Shop, first located in the mid-1930s at 118 Washington Street, then at 126 Washington in the 1940s, and finally at 220 North Beacon by 1971. He and Joseph Zeimet I were partners when the Sport Shop was established about 1935. Before he opened the shop on Washington, Hoby was a trimmer at Grand Haven Awning and Auto Trim, located at 409 North Seventh Street. At that time he and his sister lived with their mother, Martha Bell, at 1411 Washington Street.

Charles Y. Bell [1808-1870]
Charles Bell married Eliza Barber, the sister of Jabez Barber. Eliza was born in England about 1807. After Jabez lost his life in the wreck of the Pacific while returning from England in 1854, Charles took up residence in Spring Lake and ran the business. His wife had inherited the Barber property. Charles was born in 1808 and died on October 26, 1870. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their son Charles eventually took over the mill, which became known as the W. H. Bell Company Also working at the mill were two other sons, Edward, born in Canada about 1847, and Frederick, also born in Canada, in 1845. Frederick died on September 18, 1870. Henry, a bookkeeper, was another member of the Bell family employed at the mill in 1870. He was born in Canada about 1833.

Edwin George Bell I [1837–1915]

Born in Canada [Clinton County, New York] on April 1, 1837, Edwin Bell came to Grand Haven from Menasha, Wisconsin in July 1878 as bookkeeper for the Wait Manufacturing Company. When the Wait Company was reorganized in 1881, Edwin was named president and general manager. On September 3, 1862 he married Louisa Buttrick [Buttrich] in Appleton, Wisconsin. She was born in New York and lived from 1844 to 1941. Edwin died on August 4, 1915 in Iowa City, Iowa. and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was his wife. They had two children born in Wisconsin: Mattie A., who lived from 1867 to 1935, and Clara C., born in 1869 and married Hubert “Bert” Mansfield of Grand Haven. A son, Edwin G. II, was born in Grand Haven in 1886 and died shortly after birth.

Living with the Bells in Grand Haven in 1880 was Louisa’s sister, Flora Buttrick. Flora was born in Menasha, Wisconsin on September 10, 1861. She married Chester W. Richard in Grand Haven on September 23, 1885. Flora died in Coopersville on April 20, 1932.

Helen M. Bell [1898-1968]

Born October 5, 1898 in Salem, Massachusetts, Helen was the sister of C. Hobart Bell of Spring Lake. As a child she moved to Holland with her parents, Jacob and Martha Bell, and graduated from Holland High School and Hope College. Helen did graduate work at Northwestern University and received her master degree from the University of Wisconsin. She taught at Hope College for five years and then came to Grand Haven, where she taught American history at the high school until her retirement in 1964 after 42 years teaching. She was one of the organizers of the League of Women Voters in the 1940s. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church. Helen died at her home, which she shared with her brother, at 18168 Terrace, Spring Lake, on October 10, 1968 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 11, 1968.]

John Bell [1844-1893]

John Bell was listed in the 1893 Compendium as “engineer.” He was born in New York about July 2, 1844, died on January 2, 1893, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On October 4, 1870 in Lisbon, Ottawa County, he married Helen Braisted [Brasted], who was born “at sea” about 1852. They resided at 214 Columbus. John and Helen had a daughter Jennie, who was born locally about July 1879, and a son, William James, who was born locally on October 7, 1873 and married Jennie Cunning in Grand Haven on December 30, 1892. William was a Grand Haven fireman.

William H. Bell [1840-1913]

William Bell joined the firm of Barber & Mason in Spring Lake in 1864 as an engineer. The son of Charles Y. and Eliza Barber Bell, William was born in Canada and lived from February 1840 to June 12, 1913. Eventually the mill took William’s name and was called W. H. Bell Company By 1876 William owned more than 85 acres in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township. In 1900 he continued to work as a lumberman. William was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Salvador [Salvatore] Belsito [1870-?]

Salvador Belsito and his wife, Rose, arrived in the United States in 1893, a year after their marriage in Italy. Salvador was born in February 1870, and Rose was born in April 1872. In 1896 they came to Grand Haven, where Salvador opened a fruit market at 126 Washington. He missed his native land, and sold the business to Charlie Spadore in 1907, allowing him and his family to return to Italy. The Belsitos had two children: Tillizena, who was born in Italy about 1893, and Nellie, who was born in June 1900 in Grand Haven.

Albert Earl Bement [1879-1957]

Born in Georgetown Township, Ottawa County, on May 10, 1879 [1878], Albert Bement owned a 40-acre farm in Section 30 of Allendale Township. His parents were Harley C. and Marinda Parker Bement, who were married in Ottawa County on June 14, 1857. On March 30, 1905, in Ottawa Station, Albert married Fern Heady, who lived from 1883 to October 1, 1969 and was buried at Allendale Cemetery with her husband, who passed away in 1957. The Bements had six children. Clemens Bement was Albert’s brother.

Clemens Clinton Bement I [1867-1955]

Around 1900 Clemens Bement and Henry Spear owned Spear & Bement, “Manufacturers of Fish, Syrup and Pickle Packages, Flour, Fruit, and all kinds of slack barrels.” The company was located in Grand Haven. Clemens was a cooper by trade. The son of Harley C. and Marinda Parker Bement, he was born in Georgetown Township on May 29, 1867. He married Lutie [Leutie] I. Robinson on September 15, 1892 in Robinson Township. Lutie, the daughter of Ira and Marian Juilene Robinson, was born locally on July 19, 1870. They were married about 1892. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Sherman, born in August 1895; and Clemens II, who was born on August 16, 1899 and died in February 1985. The family resided on Washington Street. By 1930 the Bements were residing in Bay City, Saginaw County, where Clemens passed away on November 16, 1955. Lutie died on December 31, 1964 in Gladwin, Gladwin County. Albert Bement was Clemens brother.

Harley Bement I [1795-1882]

On January 19, 1863 Harley Bement I enlisted in Grand Rapids as private with Company F of the 7th Michigan Calvary during the Civil War. He was mustered out a few months later, on May 12, 1863 because of severe “illness,” probably a reference to the loss of his left hand. He received $8.00 a month for his service and wound. In 1834 [1818] he married Eliza Wood Briggs, who was born about 1800. Eliza died in June 1856 in a house fire in Croton, Newaygo County. On February 27, 1857 in Ottawa County, he married Annie “Anna” Parker. She was born in New York about 1818. Harley was born in Lenox, Massachusetts about 1795 and served with the Sixth New York Infantry in the War of 1812. A compilation of veterans of that war listed Harley as serving in Dox’s and Perry’s Company of the 13th Regiment of the United States Army. Harley and Eliza had at least one son, Harley II, who was born in Steuben County, New York on January 3, 1835. The young Harley also served during the Civil War. Harley and Eliza had nine other children. The 1850 census cited Harley I as owning an 80-acre farm in Section 5 of Georgetown Township. The family was located there by 1845. Harley died on March 1 [3], 1882 in Allendale, probably at the home of Harley II. On July 22 his widow applied for a widow’s pension.

Harley Bement II [1835-1916]

Harley C. and Marinda Parker Bement were married in Georgetown Township on June 14, 1857. Marinda was his stepmother's sister. Among their children were Clemens Clinton, born in Georgetown Township on May 29, 1867, and Albert Earl, born in Georgetown Township on May 10, 1879. On May 13, 1861 in Grand Rapids, Harley enlisted as corporal and joined Company I of the 3rd Michigan Infantry about a month later. He received a disability discharge on November 11, 1862 in New York City. According to an 1890 Civil War census of veterans in Ottawa County, Harley’s left hand had been shot off in the war, deeming him “crippled, useless.” Harley settled in Georgetown Township after the war and moved to Allendale Township about 1881. In Allendale, he was a justice of the peace for 20 years. The son of Harley and Eliza Briggs Bement I, Harley II was born in Steuben County, New York on January 3, 1835 and died on November 5, 1916. He was buried at Allendale Township Cemetery. Marinda, who was born about June 1835 in Indiana, passed away in 1915.
George Benedict [? - ?]

George Benedict was born in Brooklyn, New York on August 4, 1888. His father leased a building on the corner of Fulton and Ferry Streets [1003 Fulton], formerly the Maurer Glove Factory, to manufacture baseballs. Organized as a branch of a Brooklyn, New York company, the local business sold baseballs to a number of minor league teams. [Tribune article, “GH Sources New Industry,” February 2, 1909.]

George J. Benedict [1888-1955]

George Benedict was born in Crystal Valley, Oceana County on August 4, 1888. He married Ora F. Wellman in Grand Rapids on June 29, 1912. George worked for Challenge Machinery, Story & Clark, Rest Haven Home in Spring Lake, and in other places. He belonged to Grand Haven Gospel Church and started its first Sunday School. The Benedicts had two sons, Homer, born in 1915, and Theodore, who was born about 1919 and remained in Grand Haven. They also had two daughters, Frances, born in 1913, and Theodora, Theodore’s twin sister, born in 1919. Frances married John Van Dyke of Grand Haven, and the other married Bert Smith and moved to Grand Rapids. George died in Grand Haven on April 29, 1955. Ora lived from August 21, 1887 to April 29, 1967. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, “GH Sources New Industry,” February 2, 1909.]

Homer W. Benedict [1914-1976]

With Lester Kammeraad as his partner, Homer Benedict started Grand Haven Screw Products in 1947. Benedict was born in Grand Haven on July 29, 1914 and died there on January 2, 1976. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Benedict’s wife was Christine Dense, whom he married on July 13, 1933. They resided at 519 Terrill in Grand Haven. After Homer’s death his son, Robert P. Benedict, became president of the company. Robert’s wife Sheryl was vice president. Richard and Sheryl resided at 14879 Cross Lane in Spring Lake Township. Christine passed away on December 12, 2001 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Frank Benes [1922-1998]

Frank Benes married Margaret J., daughter of John and Janet Van Tol Verseput of Grand Haven. Margaret lived from April 23, 1920 to November 22, 1994. Frank, who worked for Construction Aggregates in Ferrysburg, was born on August 12, 1922 and died on September 7, 1998. The Beneses resided at 15705 Robbins Road. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Whitman Stoddard Benham [@1825-1880]

Born in 1825 or 1826 in Byron, New York, the third son of James and Lucy Mead Benham II, Whitman first taught for awhile and then became interested in newspaper publishing. The Benhams left New York and moved to Peru, Indiana, where Whitman was editor of the Republican. From there he became editor and owner of the Bedford, Indiana Independent, and the Newton, Iowa Free Press, before moving to Grand Haven. In June 1877 Whitman bought the Grand Haven Herald from Crinis H. Dubois and published it until his death. Guy Weber bought the business from Benham’s estate.

Whitman married Sarah Louise Bates on February 9, 1856. Sarah was born in New York about 1832. They had six children, two of whom survived: George Bates, born in Indiana in 1860, and Grace, born in Newton, Iowa on March 11, 1869. Bates was listed as Printer in the 1880 census. Whitman died, along with his wife, in the wreck of the Alpena, which was lost in Lake Michigan on October 15, 1880.

The Wiltshire Glove Company had a factory near the southwest corner of Washington and Second Streets in Grand Haven. In the early 1900s Perry Benjamin was secretary of the company. Perry was born in Zeeland about 1862. On December 27, 1888, in Hamilton, Allegan County, he married May E. Harvey. May the daughter of John Delia Harvey, was born in Kalamazoo County about 1867. May died in Allegan County on January 22, 1897. On October 31, 1901, in Grand Haven, Perry married Margaret Young, who was born in Grand Haven about 1871. She was the daughter of William and Ellen Young and sister of Williamena Young. The Benjamins lived at 308 South Fifth Street. After Perry’s death, Margaret and her sister Williamena lived in their parents’ home at 406 Lake Avenue. The Benjamins attended the Presbyterian Church. Their daughter, Lois Catherine, was born on December 12, 1909 and died on August 7, 1929. She was buried with her grandparents, William and Ellen Young, at Lake Forest Cemetery. Perry died about May 3, 1917. Margaret passed away on December 29, 1958 and was buried at the same cemetery.

Alfred Bennett [Bennet] [1803-1881]
Alfred and Louisa Bennett, apparently the first permanent Black settlers in the Grand Haven area, were part of the local population by 1845. They and their descendants remained in Spring Lake and Grand Haven for decades. Alfred Bennett was born in Virginia [New York] on August 12, 1803. His wife, Louisa [Louise], a native of New York, was born about 1806. The Bennetts appear in the 1850 census for Spring Lake. The next year, on October 4, 1851 the Bennetts purchased from Henry Pennoyer and William Kanouse land just east of Five Mile Hill, the location of today’s Grand Haven Y.M.C.A. [Section 29 of Grand Haven Township]. Not long after paying $100 for the parcel they purchased additional abutting land. Their combined holdings of 24 acres became known as Bennett’s Hollow long before it became Mulligan’s Hollow, as it is called today. The Bennetts moved their homestead to the Hollow, and they were there at the time of the 1860 census. Another Black family, Leonard and Mary Thompson, lived next door to the Bennetts. The Bennett family was not found in the 1870 enumeration, and by the time of the next census they were residing on Third Street in Grand Haven. Possibly John Mulligan purchased the Hollow from them in the decade of the 1870s. Their children, all born in New York, were George, born in July 1826; Edward, born about 1831; John E., who was born about 1834 and in 1860 worked as a cook at the Rice Hotel in downtown Grand Haven; Mary J., born on May 30, 1839; Virgil, born about 1841; Rutson [Rudson] M., born about 1844; and Helen, who was born in July 1845 and married Albert Hicks of Grand Haven. Living with Alfred and Louisa in 1880 was their eight-year old grandson Ivan Bennett. Alfred died in Grand Haven on January 16, 1881. His was one of the bodies moved when the original cemetery was converted to Central Park and Lake Forest became the city’s burying ground. [On July 19, 1883 the Grand Haven City Council passed a number of resolutions requiring removal of the bodies, considering the action a “public necessity to safeguard the health of the community.” Most of the dead were relocated to the more remote Lake Forest Cemetery]. Louisa, who passed away on March 17, 1885, also was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Dennis H. Bennett [1861-1940]
Dennis Bennett partnered with Jesse Woodbury of Allendale Township to start a planing mill. Dennis was born in May 1861 in Michigan. On January 15, 1890 in Allendale, he married Emma Jenkins. She was born in May 1873 in Michigan. They had at least three children: Flossie, born about 1892; Fidelia, born about 1893, and Nellie, born about 1896. Dennis and Emma were married in 1889. By 1930 they had moved to Gaines in Kent County. Dennis died in 1940 and was buried at Allendale Township Cemetery. Emma had passed away in 1936 and also was buried at Allendale.

George E. Bennett I [1826-?]
Alfred and Louisa Bennett’s oldest child, George, married Bridget [Britton], a White woman, who was born in Ireland about 1823. George’s and Britton’s children, listed as Mulattoes in the 1860 census, were Sarah L., born in Michigan about 1856, George E. II, born in Wisconsin about 1858, and Charles, born in Michigan about 1866. George I, born in New York in July 1826, worked as a laborer in Grand Haven, but by the time of the 1880 census he and his family had moved to Walker, Kent County, where he was employed as an expressman [a freight handler]. In 1900 he was a widower and retired and still residing in Walker. The Bennett family was Black.

Richard Bennett [@1831-?]
In 1870 Dick Bennett was a laborer residing in Grand Haven. He was born about 1831 in New York. With him were his wife, Ann, who was born in Ohio about 1834. Their children were Ruth, who was born about 1852 and became a dressmaker; Mary, also born about 1852 and also a dressmaker; John, born in New York about 1858; Henry, born in Indiana about 1862; William, born about 1864; Susan, born about 1867; and Phebe, born about 1869. Ruth and Mary were born in Ohio, William, Susan, and Phebe were born in Michigan. Also part of the Bennett household in 1870 was Mary Witter, another dressmaker, born in Ohio about 1851.

Rutson [Rudson, Rutsen] Bennett [@1844-1917]

On March 12, 1863 in Detroit, Rutson Bennett enlisted as private in Company E of the 1st Michigan Colored Infantry. The regiment left Detroit on March 28, 1864 and was first attached to the Ninth Army in Annapolis, Maryland, but around the middle of the next month it was sent to Hilton Head, South Carolina, and eventually on to other assignments in the southeast United States. The troops of the 102nd participated in a number of battles, mostly in South Carolina. Rutson, the son of Alfred and Louisa Bennett of Grand Haven, was promoted to corporal on January 1, 1864. He and the rest of the regiment were mustered out in Charleston, South Carolina on September 30, 1865 and released with pay in Detroit two and a half weeks later.

Rutson’s wife, Ellen [Ella], was born in Missouri about 1847. They had three sons, including Irwin [Edwin], who was born in Grand Haven on June 7, 1872 and died in Grand Haven on September 7, 1872. Another of their sons, Eugene, was born locally about 1874. A third son, Frederick, died in Grand Haven on December 24, 1877 at the age of one year. In the 1870s Rutson worked as a barber at a shop on Washington Street in downtown Grand Haven. He and Ellen were still in Grand Haven as late as December 24, 1877, the day they lost their three-month old infant boy, Frederick, who was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. By 1880 Rutson and Ellen were residing in Savannah, Georgia, where both worked as hairdressers. Ellen passed away in Savannah on October 30, 1900. In 1910 Rutson was a widower living alone in Oakland, Alameda County, California. In the Alameda Voter Registration for 1912, Rutson was noted as being a Socialist and still working as a hairdresser. His brother Virgil’s obituary of November 6, 1915 listed Rutson as a resident of California, and he was listed in the Oakland City Directory of 1916 as being a barber. Soon after that, he moved to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where he died on December 7, 1917. His occupation was listed as Barber. Rutson was born in New York State on May 15, `844.

Selet Bennett [? - ?]

Selet Bennett appeared as the name of the father in two death records for Ottawa County, but did not show up in any other records. On April 8, 1891, his son Bertel died. Bertel was born in Michigan on January 20, 1874. Selet’s daughter Daisy died a little more than a month after her brother, on May 23. She was nine years old. The cause of their deaths was not given, nor was their mother’s name. Selet and the children were listed as Black.

Virgil C. Bennett [@1841-1915]

Virgil, the son of Alfred and Louisa Bennett, in 1880 was working as a tugboat engineer in Grand Haven. He married Celeste Bourdley in Ottawa County on January 27, 1866. She was born in Pennsylvania [Canada] in 1847. As early as 1871 and into the 1880s Celeste owned and operated a laundry at the corner of Fulton and Third Streets, where she, Virgil, and their ten children also resided. The children, all born locally, included Robert C., born about 1866; Nan, born on December 29, 1868; Mary, born about 1869; Cecilia, born in October 1869; Ira W., who was born about 1871 and moved to Cleveland; Virgil Alfred, born on March 10, 1873; Harry M., born on December 18, 1874; Clara L, born on June 6, 1876; Joseph Almer, who was born on January 19, 1878 and died on May 15, 1879, and Alva [Alovy], who was born on March 3, 1879 and died on February 2 two years later. Both Joseph and Alva were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Living next door to Virgil and his family on Third Street were his parents, Alfred and Louisa Bennett. In 1860 Virgil was working as a laborer, as were his father and his brother, Edward. Virgil left town for a number of years, not returning until 1912 or so. None of Virgil’s children appears in subsequent censuses for Ottawa County. He passed away at the home of Ulysses Fordham in Ferrysburg on November 6, 1915 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Celeste passed away in 1934 and also was buried at Lake Forest, where her name was listed as May Bennett. On various occasions Virgil’s wife’s name appears as Celeste, Celestia, Silly, and May. The various names must refer to the same woman, since presumably Virgil had one wife. It was an African American family. [Tribune obituary, November 6, 1915.]

Lieutenant Commander Ward Bennett was Coast Guard District Commander in Grand Haven from 1933 until 1939, when the headquarters were moved. Before that he was a crewman. He was born in Glen Haven, Leelanau County on June 21, 1879 and married Jessica M. Hanchew [Hanshew] in Charlevoix on February 15, 1907. She was born in Indiana in 1887. They had a son, Kentnor Ward., who was born about 1911 and died around December 10, 1938. The family was residing at 17 South Fourth Street in Grand Haven in 1930. Ward died around May 28, 1959 and was buried with his son at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 28, 1959.]

James Benstead [Beaustead] [1816-1877]

The Bensteads were early settlers in the Spring Lake area. James was born in England on January 25, 1816 and died on June 27, 1877. His wife, Mary, was born in England on May 26, 1814 and died on June 18, 1883. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their daughter Ella was born in Michigan in 1858. In 1870 James was a teamster. William Benstead was James’s brother.

William Benstead [Beaustead] [1812-1880]

The Bensteads were early settlers in the Spring Lake area. William was born in England on June 19, 1812. His wife, Mary Ann, was born in England on November 30, 1814 and died on June 18, 1906. William was a teamster in 1870. He died on June 21, 1880. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. James and William Benstead were brothers.

Isaac Wilbur [Wren] Berd [1842-1912]

Born into slavery in South Springs, Virginia and sold “on the block” three times, Isaac Berd eventually found his way to Grand Haven. On January 28, 1870 in Grand Haven he married Anna Smith. The family appeared in the 1880 Federal Census as residents in a house on Second Street in Grand Haven. Isaac was a cook on a boat and Anna was a dressmaker. Living with them was a daughter, 8 years old, and a sister-in-law Alexandra Savina, who worked with Anna as a dressmaker. Each member of the household was listed as Black. By the late 1880s, the Berds were residing in Muskegon.

Isaac held a variety of jobs in Grand Haven, Montague, and Muskegon. Among his other jobs, he was chef at the Rice House in Grand Haven. During the Civil War, he went to the front with his “master,” a man named Christian, who was an officer in the Confederate Army. When Christian died of measles, Isaac escaped and joined the federal forces.

Isaac died in Muskegon on July 27, 1912. [Tribune article, “Born in Slavery—Won Success,” July 31, 1912.]

Carl Ferdinand Berg [1906-1976]

Carl was born in Grand Haven on March 31, 1906, the son of Ferdinand and Mary Schroeder Berg. Carl married Margaret Julia Wachter, who was born on January 6, 1909 and died on April 9, 1992. The Bergs around 1930 resided at 211 Fulton. Carl, who was an auto mechanic, owned the Grand Haven Pontiac dealership at 9-11 Washington. The building was destroyed by fire on January 18, 1940, but Carl rebuilt and continued operating his business until he sold it to Donald Rosso of Grand Haven about 1958. Carl died on August 19, 1976.

Ferdinand [Fred] Berg [1873-1961]

Ferdinand, the son of William F. and Mary Berg, lived from June 22, 1873 to June 5, 1961, and his wife, Mary, from August 22, 1886 to February 5, 1973. They owned a 110-acre farm in Grand Haven and Robinson Townships.

Frederich Berg [1844-1933]
Frederich [Ferdinand] Berg by 1876 owned an 80-acre farm in Section 13 of Grand Haven Township. The farm by 1912 had expanded to 220 acres, plus additional acreage in Robinson Township. Frederick was born in Prussia in April 1844 [1845] and died in 1933. His wife, Wilhelmina [Wilhelmine], lived from May 1845 to 1914. Both were born in Prussia and immigrated to the United States in 1872. A son, Herman, who was born on March 22, 1888, took title to the property. Their other children were Elizabeth, who was born in Prussia about 1871 and died in Ottawa County on November 27, 1881; Carl, born in Prussia about 1872; Mathilde, who was born about 1874 and died on July 10, 1893; Martha Maria Helene [Mary], who was born on April 26, 1876 and married Henry Saul II of Grand Haven Township; Richart [Richard], who was born on April 3, 1878 and married May Stearns in Grand Haven on October 8, 1905; Wilhelm [William Frederick], born on February 24, 1880; Frederick II, born in November 1882; Edward, born in January 1884; and Herman, born in March 1888. Elizabeth and Carl were born in Prussia, while the other children were born locally. Frederich and Wilhelmina were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.

William Ferdinand Berg [1849-1931]

William F. Berg was born on March 22, 1849 and died on July 6, 1931. His wife, Mary Priem, lived from December 7, 1849 to May 29, 1935. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Born in Ziemkendorf, Germany [Prussia], William served in the Franco-Prussian War in 1870-71. With his wife and oldest son, William immigrated to the United States in 1883 and settled on a farm in Robinson Township. About 1919 William and Mary moved to 310 North Third in Grand Haven. Among their children were Ferdinand, born in Germany in June 1873; Carl Ferdinand [Charles Fred], who was born on September 12, 1880; Suzzie, born in April 1884; Elizabeth Louise, who was born about 1885, married Albert Graska of Grand Haven; died about December 7, 1946, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; August born in May 1887; Fred, born in April 1891; William, born on August 19, 1893; Matilda, born in March 1896; and Bertha, who married a Mr. Van Weelden. Albert C. Bertch I [@1868-1929]

In February 1926, Albert C. and Eda [Edna] Widman Bertch purchased from Robert Ferris 13 acres and a home that were part of a resort known as The Willows. The property was located in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township [18635 Fruitport Road]. Albert was a meat dealer from Grand Rapids. He was born about 1868 in New York. Eda was born on July 14, 1872 in Michigan and died in May 1967 in Grand Rapids. They were married in Bay City on October 27, 1896. A son, John Widman, was born in Maine on May 14, 1900. Another son, Albert C. II, was born in Michigan in 1907.

Frederick J. Bertschy [1868-1932]

In September 1889, Fred Bertschy purchased from Dr. James O. Bates of Muskegon and Charles Begin of Spring Lake the machinery and land of a brickyard located on Spring Lake in Muskegon County, just north of Stahl’s Bayou. He named the business Fred J. Bertschy & Company, and later, when C. J. Bertschy of Milwaukee joined the firm in 1891 as president, it became the Bertschy Brick and Tile Company. Fred J. was secretary/treasurer and Begin was named superintendent. Three years later C. J. sold his interest to Adolph L. Kern of Milwaukee, who then became chief executive officer. By 1880 Bertschy owned a men’s clothing store in Spring Lake, which he advertised as the “New Agency for the Star Laundry of Grand Haven,” in addition to carrying “Gents’ Furnishings & Shoes.” He then bought Sam Fall’s grocery store at the southwest corner of Jackson and Savidge [200 West Savidge]. In 1915 he sold that business to William Spencer and John Singerland, who opened the S & S Grocery Store. Fred was postmaster of Spring Lake from June 15, 1911 to April 16, 1917, when his wife, Helen J., was appointed to the post and held it until September 13 of the next year.

It was 1878 when Fred, who was born in Wisconsin on March 12, 1868, came to Spring Lake from Milwaukee with his mother after his father died at a young 36. On July 28, 1903 he married Helen “Nellie” V. Shoemaker, Nellie was born in February 1870 in Spring Lake. The Bertschys’ daughter, Esther J., born about 1907, was Spring Lake Township treasurer for 11 years. Her husband was Jack T. Ahern, born about 1904. The Bertschy family resided at 305 East Savidge and was still living there in 1930. Fred’s mother, Johanna H. Bertschy, was born about 1820 and died on June 12, 1905. His father’s name was Jacob. Fred died in Spring Lake in 1932 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 13, 1905.]

Emil Wilhelm Bethke [1872-1959]

Born on January 11, 1872 in Potrzymowo, Posen, Prussia [Germany], Emil was the son of J. Frederick and Otilie Fritz Bethke. He immigrated to America with his parents in 1873. On August 30, 1902 in Milwaukee, he married Katharina [Katherine] “Kate” Gross. A native of Galicia, Austria, Kate lived from December 5, 1883 to June 28, 1975. The family homestead was an 80-acre farm in Section 17 of Robinson Township [12134 136th Avenue]. Kate’s parents, George and Magdalena [Amelia] Huhlman Gross had an adjacent 40-acre farm.

Emil’s and Kate’s children all born locally, were Emilie, who was born on August 5, 1903 and on June 20, 1923 in Robinson Township married Julius M. Ott [1900-1977]; George F., who was born on April 14, 1905 married Margaret Crouse [1910-1998] in 1929, and died on August 11, 1972; Charlotte “Lottie” Ottlie, was born on August 29, 1906, married Anthony Ploughman [1900-1986] in 1926, and died on August 28, 1993; Carl John, who was born on December 21, 1908, married Jeanette Wiegerink [1913-1988] in 1937, and died on September 29, 1981; Edward Emil., who was born on March 18, 1911, married Dorothea Schillo [born on December 17, 1913] in 1937, and died on July 8, 1988; Wilhelmina “Minnie” Katharina, who was born on August 19, 1912; married Stewart “Bob” Johnson in 1932, and died on December 29, 2006; and Arnold Adolph, who was born on March 1, 1919, married Garnetta Spiegel [1924-2009] in 1946. In their later years, Emilie and Kate built a small retirement home on the corner of their farm property at 13467 Buchanan. Emilie died on January 11, 1959 and was buried with Kate in Robinson Township Cemetery.

Frederick George Bethke [1877-1965]

Frederick, the son of J. Frederick and Otilie [Ottile] Fritz Bethke, was born in Peru, Indiana on October 3, 1877. He married Alma Dransfeldt on May 25, 1907 in Robinson Township. Alma, the daughter of Andrew and Christina Handeveldt Dransfeldt, was born on August 7, 1888 in Dwight, Illinois. Four children were born on the family’s 120-acre farm in Section 17 of Robinson Township: Harold A., who was born on March 8, 1908, married Frances Edna “Betty” Alberda [July 13, 1912 to March 26, 1997] in 1933, and died on April 3, 1996; Stanley B., who was born on June 6, 1912, married Edna Engle [1913-1996] in 1934, and died on July 9, 1989; Irma, who was born on January 31, 1914, married William Melvin [1916-1989] in 1935, and died on August 9, 1994; and Kenneth, who was born on March 21, 1920. The four children played on a Robinson Township baseball team called the Rinky Dinks. They played many of their games on fields at Battle Point in Crockery Township and the Driving Park in Grand Haven Township. About 1925 the family moved to 1126 Slayton Street and Frederick was employed at Bastian-Blessing. Frederick died on February 15, 1965 and Alma passed away on October 3, 1978. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Personal correspondence from Marjorie Viveen, February 3, 2008 and from Ruth Horton on January 7, 2010.]

Johann Friedrich [Frederick] “Fred” Bethke [1837-1918]

Frederick Bethke was born on February 6, 1837 [1835/1836] in Bierzglin, Posen, Prussia [Germany]. Prior to immigrating to the United States aboard the G. L. Rhein in 1873, he married Otilie Wilhelmine Heriette Fritz on December 30, 1866 in Schwarzenau, Posen. She was the daughter of Johann and Katie Seeman Fritz and lived from April 25, 1845 to January 20, 1912. At the time of their arrival in American, the Bethkes had three children, all born in Germany: Rinhold, who was born on October 26, 1867; Emma [Lena] who was born on June 23, 1870, married Captain William Rosie of Grand Haven; and Emil Wilhelm, who was born on January 11, 1872. They spent one year in Grand Haven before settling in Peru, Indiana for the next eight years, and returned to Ottawa County permanently in 1882. Frederick purchased a 240-acre farm and raised livestock on the southeast corner of Section 17 in Robinson Township. On December 30, 1866 married Ottilie Wilhelmine Henriette Fritz about 1866 in Prussia. A native of Germany and daughter of Johann and Katie Seeman Fritz, she lived from April 1845 to 1912. Their other five children were: Frederick George, born in Indiana on October 3, 1877; Mina “Minnie” Anna, who was born in Peru, Indiana on February 21, 1880, married Alfred E. Kramer [1875-1950] in 1901, and died on December 19, 1940; Natalie “Nettie,” who was born on October 7, 1892 in Pennsylvania and died in 1958] in 1916 in Cleveland, Ohio; moved to Gross Pointe, Wayne County and died on June 9, 1975. Rinold, Emil, Frederick, and John. remained for the most part on farms near their parents in Section 17 of Robinson Township. Frederick J. died on May 3, 1918 and was buried at Robinson Cemetery with his wife and other family members.

John Wilhelm Bethke [1888-1984]

Born in Robinson Township on January 4, 1888, the son of Frederick and Ottilie Fritz Bethke, John was a carpenter and tree farmer. Between 1938 and 1949 the family planted 10,000 red and scotch pine and spruce trees to stabilize the soil and generate return from pulpwood and Christmas tree sales. His 100-acre farm at 136th and Lincoln in Section 17, which had been homesteaded by his father, was certified in 1942. He was one of the founders of the Soil Conservation Service and Christmas Tree Growers Association. On August 9, 1913 he married Celia Emma Rapp, who was born on March 1, 1894 in Bloomdale, Illinois, the daughter of Henry and Ida Raap. Their children included: Robert Herman, who was born on April 18, 1916; Warren C., who was born on April 14, 1923, married Norma M. Warber [1928-2006] in 1949, and died on September 30, 2004; and Lucille A., who was born on June 13, 1927, married Walter Tejchma [born on June 25, 1920] in 1948, and died on May 1, 2007. John died in Robinson Township on August 14, 1984, and Celia passed away on May 3, 1994. Both were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. [Tribune article, “Robinson Couple Owns 100 Acre Tree Farm,” June 23, 1976.]

Kenneth Bethke [1920-1999]

Kenneth was born in Grand Haven on March 21, 1920, the son of Frederick G. and Anna Dransfeldt Bethke. He married Marian F. “Jane” Spegel on July 17 1942 while serving with the Army during WWII. She was born on September 7, 1920 and died in Grand Haven on October 16, 1984. Kenneth served in the Army Air Corps during WWII and was a member of the local American Legion post. He was employed by Botbyl’s Garage in Grand Haven. Kenneth and Jane had a daughter, Roxanne, who married Rich Thibault of Hudsonville. Kenneth died on March 4, 1999.

Rinold [Reinold] Bethke [1867-1941]

Rinold Bethke was born in Wygota, Posen, Prussia [Germany] in October 1867, the son of Frederick J. and Ottilie Fritz Bethke. At age six, Rinhold moved to the United States with his parents, lived in Peru, Indiana for eight years, and settled permanently in Robinson Township in 1882. On October 11, 1894 in Grand Haven, Rinold married Fredarika Schroeder, who was born on September 16, 1868 in Rittermannshagen, Mecklenberg, Germany. She was the daughter of Johann and Sophie Roggelin Schroeder. Fredarika was employed as a laundry woman at the Cutler House in downtown Grand Haven. In 1895 the Bethkes built their home on an 80-acre farm in Section 17 of Robinson Township [13160 Lincoln Street]. They cleared the land and operated a general farm where they lived the rest of their lives. Their children were: John Emil, who was born on August 3, 1896, remained single, worked the family farm, and died on July 24, 1971; Frederick R., who was born on January 15, 1898, remained single, and died on November 12, 1923; Rinold F., who was born on October 1, 1901, in 1936 married Marian J. Slaughter [1905-1967], the daughter of Louis and Elizabeth Solms Slaughter of Grand Haven, and died on May 25, 1981; and Herbert H., who was born on September 7, 1906, married Leah alderman White [1904-2003] in 1936, and died on January 18, 1998. Rinold the father died on October 19, 1941, and Fredarika passed away on July 19, 1927. Both Bethkes were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery with their sons John, Frederick, Herbert, and Herbert’s wife, Leah.
Robert Herman Bethke I [1916-1986]
Badly wounded while serving in Europe with the U.S. Army during WWII, Robert Bethke returned home to face two years of reconstructive surgery. The son of John and Celia Raap Bethke, Robert was born in Grand Haven on April 18, 1916. On April 18, 1941 he married Ella Mary Van Burgel in Benton Harbor. Ella was born on May 26, 1919. The day after the wedding, Robert began his service with the Army. After the war, he became ill from a brief stint as a house painter. Not long afterward, Robert met U.S. Representative Gerald R. Ford. They chatted awhile, and before long Robert was hired as a mail carrier, a position he held for 30 years. Making his regular postal deliveries on June 18, 1957, Robert opened a mailbox and discovered a newborn boy stuffed inside. The week-old infant survived and became known around the world as the “Mailbox Baby.”

Robert and Ella had three children: Robert II, Bonnie, and Bruce, who was born on September 26, 1953. Robert I died in Grand Haven on July 23, 1986. Ella passed away on September 3, 2000 in Palm Beach Gardens, Florida. She was 81 years old. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Theodore [Theodor] Bethke [1874-1945]
Theodore, the son of William F. and Henrietta Klukas Bethke, was born in Toledo, Ohio, on December 3, 1875. His parents purchased an 80-acre farm in Section 24 of Grand Haven Township in 1883. Around 1898 Theodore married Augusta Johanna Yeske, who was born on January 18, 1870 in Germany. By 1921 Theodore and Augusta had owned 80 acres in Section 25, across the street from his parents 80 acres. The couple’s surviving children were: Ella M., who was born on April 7, 1899, married Fred C. Holtz in 1921 in Grand Haven, and died in Kalamazoo on September 22, 1958; Emma Augusta Maria, who was born on May 28, 1900, married Joseph W. Wessels [1901-1957] in 1923, and died in Kalamazoo on July 3, 1964; Maria Hulda Lillian, who was born on January 7, 1905, married Russell Van Stratt [1906-1967] in 1929, and died on November 13, 1962 in Muskegon; and Walter Paul, who was born on September 6, 1909, married Dorothy Berry in 1938 and Helen Easterling in 1958; and died in Grand Haven on March 3, 1966.

Claude Beukema [1887-1969]
The son of Hendrik and Jantje Neiwold Beukema, Claude was born in Grand Haven on June 17, 1887. In 1912 he married Rose Buwalda in Holland. Six years later Claude purchased Gerritt Bottje’s hardware store at 203 Washington, where he had been an employee since 1906. He renamed the store Beukema Hardware. He sold the business in 1930 and worked for Bastian Blessing as a sheet metal worker. Claude and Rose were members of the First Christian Reformed Church. They resided at 220 Sherman, and had two daughters, both born in Grand Haven: Janet, who was born on November 18, 1912, and Ruth, who was born on August 20, 1914 and died on June 4, 2004. Claude died on January 1, 1969 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Rose was born in Grand Haven in May 1891 and was a teacher before marrying Claude. Her parents were Charles and Susie Buwalda. Rose died on February 13, 1978 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, June 3, 2004.]

Cornell Dean “Corky” Beukema [1920-2016]
Born in Grand Haven on May 5, 1920, Corky was the son of Fred and Cornelia “Cora” Van Koeevering Beukema. Corky married Phyllis Boss in Lansing on March 29, 1945. She was born in Centerville on December 1, 1923. After Corky received his degree in Civil Engineering from Michigan State University, he served with the Army during WWII. At the war’s end, he worked for the Michigan Highway Department of Engineering in Lansing for more than 34 years, first in its office of bridge design and then in the road design office. After retirement on April 1, 1980, he and Phyllis moved to a home on the Grand River channel. The roadside park on U.S. 31 near M-45 was named in his honor. Corky was an active of the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers. He had a strong interest in dancing, which he taught for more than 33 years. He and Phyllis had four daughters: Marsha Rosenburg of Calumet, Houghton County; Kristi Beukema of Spring Lake; Jan Beukema of Grand Haven; and Leslie, who married Dennis Sotola, also of Calumet. Corky died on December 11, 2016 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Phyllis received a Master Degree in Education from Michigan State University. After graduation, she was appointed Instructor of Adult Enrichment classes for Lansing Public Schools, followed by teaching positions at Lansing and Muskegon Community Colleges. Phyllis died in Grand Haven on April 29, 2018. [Tribune obituaries, December 13, 2016 and May 23, 2018.]

Frederick Beukema [Buikema] [1882-1961]

Fred Beukema was born in Grand Haven on May 22, 1882, the son of Hendrik and Jantje “Jennie” Niewold Beukema. He was a painter by trade. On July 27, 1916 Fred married Cornelia “Cora” Van Koevering [Van Coevering] of Grand Haven. Cora was born on June 19, 1889. Shortly after their marriage the Beukemas moved to 714 Pennoyer, where they lived for the next six years. It was there two of their three children were born: Christian, who was born on July 20, 1917, died in Florida on May 14, 1999 and was buried at Arlington National Cemetery, and Jean, on February 28, 1919. Their third child, Cornell “Corky,” was born at Elizabeth Hatton Memorial Hospital in Grand Haven on May 5, 1920. The family attended the Second Christian Reformed Church. Although Fred and Cora lived in such places as Miami, Orlando, Grand Rapids, and Phoenix, they maintained their church affiliation in Grand Haven. Fred died in Grand Haven on August 12, 1961. Cora passed away in Phoenix, Arizona on February 14, 1970. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [privately printed manuscript “These Are Mine,” 1988, by Cornell Beukema.]

Hendrik “Henry” Beukema [Buikema] [1841-1909]

Hendrik Beukema was born in The Netherlands on May 7, 1841. Although he and Jantje “Jennie” Neiwold knew each other in The Netherlands, they evidently came to America separately, and were married in Holland, Michigan about 1869. At that time Hendrik was working for the railroad, laying track south of Holland. Jennie was born in Groningen, The Netherlands, in June 1846 [1845]. After the couple moved to Grand Haven around 1879, Henry worked in a local sawmill, and then found employment loading and unloading boats. The Beukemas had ten children, six born in Holland and four in Grand Haven. The children were Pieter “Peter,” who lived from 1870 to 1934; twins John and Hilbrand [Hillebrand], born on March 29, 1872, although Hilbrand lived only a month; Hilbrand “Hilbert,” born on February 1, 1874; Fanny, who was born on May 28, 1876, married John Martin Japinga of Grand Haven, and settled in Holland; Jacob, born on February 7, 1879; Frederick, born on May 22, 1882; on May 11, 1884 another set of twins was born: Jantje “Jennie” and Henry; and Klaas “Claude,” born on June 17, 1887. The family paid $100 for a home at 109 Elliott, which was moved in 1922 to 106 Clinton. Henry died in June 1909, and Jennie passed away on April 8, 1934. At the time of her death she was living at 121 North Second Street with her daughter Jennie, who was not married. Henry, Jennie, Peter, and Peter’s wife, Reka [Rika], were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [privately printed manuscript “These Are Mine,” 1988, by Cornell Beukema.]

Henry Beukema [1884-1961]

Henry Beukema was born in Grand Haven on May 11, 1884. His parents were Hendrik and Jantje Neiwold Beukema, who lived at 109 Elliott. Henry studied accounting at Davenport College in Grand Rapids, and in 1914 was bookkeeper at the Dake Engine Company. By 1920 he was doing the same job at the Thieleman Ford dealership at 12-16 North Third Street. Henry and his wife, Etta, resided at 627 Fulton, before moving to Zeeland sometime before 1930. He retired from the job in Zeeland, returned to Grand Haven, and opened a feed store on North Seventh. He and Etta were members of the First Christian Reformed Church. Etta, who was born about 1889, died in February 1961, and Henry passed away the following December 16. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They left two daughters, both born in Grand Haven: Jennie Harriet, who was born on June 28, 1915 and married Jay Rop of Muskegon, and Anje Lois, who was born on March 25, 1922, married John A. De Kruyter and eventually moved to Decatur, Georgia.

Henry John Beukema [1915-2005]

Henry was born in Grand Haven on February 21, 1915 to Hilbrand and Johanna Fisher Beukema. His childhood home was at 127 Fulton Street. Henry graduated from Grand Haven High School, Muskegon College of Business and Technology, Western Michigan University, and the University of Michigan, where he earned a master degree. He taught industrial education courses at Algonac, St. Clair County, and Grand Haven. He retired in 1977 from Western Michigan University where he taught engineering graphics for 35 years. In addition to his academic career, Henry worked in various engineering capacities with the Army Corps of Engineers, Camfield Company, Ingersol Division of Borg-Warner in Kalamazoo, Hapman Conveyor Corp., and Prab, Inc. With Dr. J. W. Giachino he authored more than a dozen high school and college textbooks in engineering graphics and welding technology. He also was a consultant to the Department of Defense in the preparation of instructional materials for the Armed Forces Institute. Henry was a member of Rotary, Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi, and Epsilon Pi Tau. He served on the Board of Directors of the Kalamazoo Engineering Society and the Michigan Industrial and Technology Society. He married Helen Rhoads in 1943. Helen, the daughter of Benjamin and Eva Emmons Rhoads, was born on December 15, 1919 and died in Waterford, Wayne County on February 14, 2006. At the age of two, following the death of her mother, Helen was adopted by Hugh and Rose Acker Wilt. The Beukemas’ daughter Susan married John Trudeau of Waterford. They also had a son John, whose wife’s name was Patricia. Henry died on November 23, 2005. [Tribune obituaries, November 26, 2005 and February 20, 2006.]

Hilbrand [Hilbert] Beukema [1874-1951]
The son of Hendrik and Jantje Neiwold Beukema, Hilbrand was born in Holland, Michigan on February 1, 1874 and was given the same name as a brother born earlier, who lived only a month. Hilbrand moved to Grand Haven with his parents about 1879. On March 17, 1914 Hilbrand married Johanna, the daughter of Henry Fisher of Grand Haven Township. Not long after the wedding they built a home at 111 North First Street for $1600. That house was moved to the southeast corner of Leggat and Howard Streets [102 Howard] in 1922, when Story & Clark expanded. The family moved again, this time to 127 Fulton Street. Hilbrand became a tinsmith, and worked for Augie Hartel, first at 30 Washington and later in the 100 block of North Third Street. Hilbrand died of skin cancer in May 1951, and Johanna, who was born on September 25, 1884, died about January 4, 1958 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children, both born locally, were Henry John, born on February 21, 1915, and Mary Jane, who was born on April 30, 1919, married Anthony John Kovak [Kovacich], and died on February 13, 2007. The family attended the First Christian Reformed Church. [Tribune obituary, February 16, 2007.]

Jacob Beukema [1879-1959]
Jacob was the first child of Hendrik and Jantje Neiwold Beukema to be born in Grand Haven. The date was February 7, 1879. Jake married Lillian Shields Web from Petoskey in 1921. He did general labor until taking a job with Construction Aggregates in Ferrysburg. Jake retired in 1949 from that company and died in New York City on December 15, 1959. Lillian died in 1952. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Jan “John” Beukema [1872-1931]
John and his twin brother, Hilbrand, were born in Holland, Michigan on March 29, 1872, the sons of Hendrik and Jantje Neiwold Beukema. Hilbrand died when a little more than a month old, and John moved to Grand Haven with his parents about 1879, where he later worked for the Challenge Refrigerator Company, and later Bastian Blessing. In 1919 he married Cornelia “Cora” Boon of Holland. John died of a heart attack on December 1, 1931. Their home was at 1022 Washington, and they attended the First Reformed Church. John was a sergeant with the Michigan National Guard. Cora was born about 1877, passed away around 1953, and was buried with her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Peter was born in Holland, Michigan on January 5, 1870, the eldest son of Hendrik and Jantje Neiwold Beukema. His parents moved to Grand Haven, and Peter followed about 1900, moving into a house at 207 Elliott, just a block east of his parents’ home at 109 Elliott. Accompanying him were his wife, Reka [Rika] Alderink of Holland, whom he had married on August 25, 1896, and their first child, Henry Peter Beukema, who was born on May 13, 1897 and on December 23, 1936 married Marian Vanderkolk of Ferrysburg. Marian was the daughter of Roelf “Ralph” and Mina Vanderkolk. Peter worked as a wood finisher at Story & Clark, a job he held for 35 years. He died about May 23, 1934. Reka lived from 1876 to late July 1936. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Emily “Emma” Jane Bidgood [1858-1941]

When Loretta Lemke had her kitchen at 608 Clinton Street remodeled in 1986, workers found stuck between the wall studs a collection of poems, miscellaneous writings, and arithmetic worksheets, most of it the work of Emily “Emma” Bidgood. Emma was born in Detroit on December 15, 1858. Her family moved to Grand Haven prior to 1870 and lived on Washington Street. Her mother, Sarah Bidgood, passed away on September 19, 1872, and her father, John, died on February 3, 1879. Immediately after the death of her father, Emma moved in with Joseph Kirkland and his wife Elizabeth, Emma’s older sister. Since at least 1880, the Kirklands had resided at 608 Clinton, the home later occupied by Mrs. Lemke. Around 1890 Emma married Elmer Bryce, son of John J. and Helen Bryce of Grand Haven. Elmer was a machinist. They were divorced by 1900. Emma and Elmer had at least two children, an unnamed daughter who died shortly after birth in 1891, and a son, Lawrence, born in Grand Haven on May 21, 1892. After her divorce Emma worked as a telephone operator before being employed as a clerk at National Bank of Grand Haven [Grand Haven State Bank/Fifth Third]. She retired as bookkeeper at the bank in the early 1920s. Emma was a charter member of the Grand Haven Woman’s Club and she attended the Christian Science Church. In 1930, four years after Joseph’s death, Elizabeth and Emma were again living together in the house on Clinton. Emily signed all her papers “Emma.” She passed away on December 8, 1941, while living with her son Lawrence and his wife Maurine in Long Beach, California. [Tribune obituary, December 9, 1941.]

John Bidgood [@1822-1879]

John Bidgood was born in England about 1822. His wife Eliza Sarah, also from England, was born about 1824. Among their children were Elizabeth A., who was born in August 1856 and married Joseph Kirkland of Grand Haven; Walter J., who was born on December 3, 1858, died on November 23, 1910, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Emily “Emma” Jane, who was born in Michigan in December 1861, and married Elmer Bryce, son of John J. and Helen Bryce of Grand Haven; and Frederick, who was born about 1863 in Michigan. John died on February 3, 1879, and Sarah passed away on September 19, 1872. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. After the death of their parents, Walter, Emily, and Frederick moved in with Joseph and Elizabeth Kirkland, who as early as 1880 resided at 608 Clinton. In 1930, four years after Joseph’s death, Elizabeth and Emily were still living together in the house on Clinton. Emily worked as a telephone operator and bank clerk in Grand Haven in the early 1900s. The Bidgoods moved from Detroit to Grand Haven in 1868. The family was in Detroit as early as 1852. John was a ship’s carpenter.

Hendryk [Henry] Bierman [Beerman] [1833-1902]

Born in Mecklenberg, Germany in 1833, Henry [Hendryk] Bierman immigrated to Grand Haven Township and on April 8, 1863 purchased 60 acres in Section 9 from George P. Mulder. Nine years later, Henry took title to a one-acre parcel abutting the southwest corner of his acreage, property that had been designated for a township school, but was never used for that purpose. Henry later added another 40 acres to his farm, north and east of his 61 acres. He died in 1902. Henry married Sophia Smith, who also was born in Germany and lived from August 31, 1845 to October 12, 1923. The Bierman children, all born in Michigan, were Augusta, who was born in 1867 and married Henry Roth of Muskegon, Ludwig, born in 1869; Bertha, who was born in 1870 and married Frank Rymer of Grand Haven; Elisabeth, born in 1874; Carl [Charles Louis], born on March 9, 1875, and Henry II, born on July 21, 1877. After Sophia’s death the land passed to Henry [Heinrich] II and Henry’s wife, Hannah [Anna]. When the younger Henry died on August 2, 1937, the 61 acres went to his widow and a daughter, Emma Burkhart, and three sons, Walter, Fred, and Henry III. Henry and Sophia were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.

Henry Grove Bigelow [1841-1936]

Born in Paxton, Massachusetts on October 22, 1841, Henry Bigelow on July 12, 1861 enlisted as private in Company D of the 15th Massachusetts Infantry. He was promoted to full sergeant on December 23 that year and to lieutenant on October 28 the next year. He was mustered out on March 15, 1863, the same day he was commissioned as an officer. He was mustered out of the service again on August 28, 1863. After the war he came to Grand Haven, where he married Amanda Hopkins on October 24, 1869. The daughter of Moses and Lamira Hopkins of Grand Haven, Amanda was born in Ohio in 1843. She died in Grand Haven on July 27, 1870. On October 16, 1872 in Livonia, Henry married Clarissa Tibbets. The 1877 gazetteer and business directory listed Henry as a partner with a Mr Stone in a lumbering manufacturing business. At the time of the 1880 Federal Census for Grand Haven, he was listed as clerk and secretary for “Mb Co.” By 1900 he was working as a bookkeeper in Muskegon, where he lived with his wife, listed by census taker as “Eva.” Henry died in Muskegon on November 16, 1936 and was buried at Evergreen Cemetery. Clarissa, a native of Michigan, lived from June 19, 1844 to December 11, 1916 and was buried at the same cemetery.

William Francis Biggar [1836-1907]

Born in Canada on July 10, 1836, William Biggar came to Michigan in 1881 and to Grand Haven in 1891. A civil engineer by trade, William surveyed the lines of the Chicago and Grand Trunk and the Michigan Air Line railways. He married Ada Mary Clarke on September 29, 1885 in Jackson. After moving to Grand Haven, Ada became the proprietor of the White Laundry, located at 100 Washington in downtown Grand Haven. Working with her at the laundry were her two children, Eleanor and Ivan F. Ivan was born in Michigan on December 17, 1887, married Akke Postma in Holland on April 18, 1914, and died in Mason, Ingham County in August 1968. Eleanor Lucy was born in Ohio on June 17, 1890, married Karl Friedrich “Fred” Kuehn [1881-1956], and moved to Milwaukee, where she died on March 4, 1968; she and Fred were buried at Wauwatosa Cemetery in Milwaukee County. Another son, Herbert Biggar, listed in the 1908 City Directory as a news agent, lived at the same address. He was born in Canada in April 1884. The family resided at 17 First Street. The laundry remained in operation until at least 1910. William Biggar died on August 20, 1907 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ada was born in Canada in February 1858 [1857], died in Milwaukee on August 20, 1940 and was buried at Lake Forest with her husband. [Tribune obituary, August 20, 1940.]

Jamies [James] Bignell [1856-1941]

Jamies, the son of Thomas and Mary Bignell, was born in Schoolcraft, Kalamazoo County, on December 12, 1856. As a youngster, he lived on the family farm in Muskegon County before moving to Grand Haven Township about 1872. Jamies married Harriette “Hattie” [Kitty] Clark in Grand Haven on January 1, 1881, with the groom’s father officiating. Hattie, born to Charles and Abigail Wall Clark of Robinson Township on June 4, 1858.

By 1897 Jamies and Hattie owned 190 acres in Sections 11 and 14 that were once held by Jamies’ father. Bignell School, near the southwest corner of Ferris and 152nd Streets, was named for this family and Hattie, its first teacher, was there from 1879 to 1883. The land on which the school sat originally may have belonged to the Bignell family. Jamies and Hattie bought 170 acres between Potawatomie and Millhouse Bayous in Section 1 of Grand Haven Township, land once owned by Robert and Martha Duncan. Their holdings totaled about 375 acres. Jamies and Hattie were living at 825 Washington Street, Grand Haven, by the time of the 1910 Federal Census. Jamies was working for himself as a cabinet maker and also as a “Dealer in Real Estate.” He was listed as a real estate agent in the 1912 Atlas of Ottawa Counties and as the sole owner of Potawatome Lake Resort, a subdivision dating to at least 1897 that was intended to attract buyers interested in hunting, fishing, and bathing [swimming]. [Potawatomi was then called a lake.] The lots ranged from 66-feet by 200-feet on Millhouse to 100-feet by 200-feet on Potawatomi. Prices varied from $75 a lot to $350 for five-acre parcels. Jamies and Peter Northouse, a real estate agent, claimed the five and ten acre lots would make “fine poultry and fruit farms.” A 1915 plat map showed Bignell and Peter as co-owners of acreage between Potawatomie and Millhouse Bayous. Riverfront property continued to attract buyers. In 1920 Jamies was listed solely as a real estate agent, and ten years later he was retired. By then the Bignell name had disappeared from the Potawatomie Lake Resort plat. He and Hattie continued to reside at 825 Washington.

Jamies was a member of the Methodist Church and donated to the organization two parcels of land located in Grand Haven Township. The land was used as picnic grounds. Jamies and his wife both taught Sunday school and supported the work of the WCTU [Women’s Christian Temperance Union]. Jamies also gave land to the First Reformed Church, which erected a chapel. The Bignells’ children were: Gayla, who was born in May 1882, married a Mr. Lange, resided at 905 Washington after living in Grand Rapids for awhile, and died in 1972; Thomas, born in October 1885; Garnet, who was born in March 1888, married Gerrit Rose and moved to Detroit; and Dora Bignell, who was born on November 22, 1890 and died on January 28, 1991. Dora remained in the Grand Haven area. Jamies died on December 24, 1941 at his home, 825 Washington and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Hattie passed away on May 6, 1955, just a few weeks short of 97, and was interred at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, December 24, 1941.]

Thomas H. Bignell (1820-1900)

Thomas Bignell was born in New York on June 26, 1820, and moved to Schoolcraft, Kalamazoo County, then to Muskegon, and finally to Grand Haven Township about 1872. As early as 1876 there was an O. Bignell who owned 20 acres in Section 2 of Grand Haven Township. About the same time Thomas Bignell, a farmer and a minister, held title to three different parcels in Section 11, totaling 230 acres. In 1897 Thomas and his wife, Mary, purchased a 20-acre site, once owned by a M. Munger, which adjoined their son Jamies’s property in Section 11. The Bignells also had a daughter, Ann Jeanette Pearson, who married George L. Pearson and moved to San Jose, California; another daughter, Arlette, who was born in Michigan about 1850; and a son, John W., who was born in Michigan about 1856. Mary was born in England about 1819. The Reverend died at the age of 80 on November 9, 1900, and Mary died nine years later, on January 8, at the age of 90. Thomas was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Aloys Bilz (1841-1934)

Born on July 2, 1841 at Dipplesgreen, Bohemia, Aloys was one of 10 children of Joseph and Margaret Haberkorn Bilz. The three eldest immigrated to America and in 1849 the father, mother, and seven remaining children came to the United States. The mother died in the fall of 1866 and the father in the following spring. Aloys attended private school in Buffalo and St. Vincent’s College in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, and at the age of 13 learned the trade of tinner in New Hamburg, Ontario. In 1853 he settled in Detroit. Eight years later he enlisted in the only regiment of lancers organized in the State, but the regiment was disbanded, so his service was restricted to recruiting. He next moved to New Baltimore in Macomb County.

In 1866 Aloys came to Spring Lake and started a tin shop and hardware and furniture business with $500. He had intended to open his business in Grand Rapids but decided there would be less competition in Spring Lake. He soon became interested in real estate and handled large amounts of land. Within five years he had increased his worth from the initial $500 to $20,000. In 1871 a disastrous fire destroyed his hardware business, destroying all his assets and leaving him $10,000 in debt. He was saved by Hunter Savidge, who loaned him $10,000 to restart his business.

The year before, in 1870, Aloys formed the Spring Lake Salt Company with Hunter Savidge, Allan C. Adsit, and Robert A. Haire. They bored for salt on the Hopkins Mill site, and at a depth of 200 feet struck water, which turned out to be magnetic. He and the others immediately made plans to build the $70,000, 74-room, four-story Spring Lake House on the site and take advantage of the Magnetic Mineral Springs. The building was destroyed by fire on June 16, 1916.
For two years Aloys published the Spring Lake Republican, a bright, newsy paper representing the Republican point of view. Kedzie & Kedzie purchased the newspaper in 1881 and merged it with the Grand Haven Tribune. In 1867 Aloys drew up the first charter for Spring Lake, when the name was changed from Mill Point, and he served 10 years as president of the village. He was supervisor of Spring Lake in 1877-78, County Register in 1878, and as a member of the Board of Education helped advance local education. As an insurance agent he represented Phoenix of Hartford, Continental of New York, and the Fireman’s Fund of San Francisco. With his other businesses he combined the local agency of the American Express Company. He was one of the organizers of the Spring Lake State Bank in 1913 and served as president for a number of years. He was for 26 years a Trustee of the Presbyterian Church of Spring Lake. Aloys became one of the outstanding civic and political leaders during the growth of the village. For a number of years he was proprietor of the Forest City Press, at Forest City, South Dakota.

On August 17, 1864 Aloys married Mary Alice Thompson in Detroit. She was born May 9, 1839 in St. Clair, St. Clair County, the daughter of Rev. Oren C. Thompson. The Bilzes had eight children, all born locally: Fannie G., who lived from 1867 to 1933 and married John Slingerland of Spring Lake; Margaret J., who was born about 1868 and became a nationally known worker in the Women’s Christian Temperance Union [WCTU]; Suzan, born in 1871; Bessie E., who was born about 1872 and married Harry B. Albertus of Los Angeles; Charles, who was born early in 1873 and lived about two weeks; Mamie E., who lived from 1874 to 1930 and married Arthur E. Van Emon of Portland, Oregon; Alice B., who was born in 1877 and married Harlan Stigand Emlaw on June 26, 1901 in Grand Haven; and William Aloys, born on May 15, 1880. Mary Alice passed away on March 25, 1914, and Aloys died on November 28, 1934. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as were Mamie, Fannie, and William. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa County Michigan, pp. 513-514, Tribune obituaries, Tribune wedding announcement, June 9, 1904, and article in the Grand Rapids Press, November 28, 1934, “Spring Lake Loses Aloys Bilz at 93.”]

Born on August 5, 1905 in Spring Lake, Preston was the son of William and Mildred Bilz. He graduated from Western Michigan College [WMU] and was a teacher in the public schools of Decatur, Van Buren County. In 1930 he took over management of Bilz Plumbing and Heating Company in Spring Lake from his father. He was a trustee on the Spring Lake Village Council from 1949 to 1953 and again in 1963. He was a member of the Spring Lake Lodge, De Witt Clinton Consistory of Grand Rapids, Saladin Temple of Grand Rapids, Knight of the York Cross of Honor, Boy Scouts of America for 50 years, from whom he received the honorary rank of Eagle Scout in 1924, Silver Beaver in 1942, and scout master key in 1938, Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity, Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, Spring Lake Presbyterian Church, and the National and Michigan Association of Master Plumbers. He supervised the installation of the plumbing for the Grand Haven Musical Fountain.

On August 31, 1938 Preston married M. Isabel Smith, who taught school in Spring Lake Public Schools for 15 years and was a grade school librarian for 10 years. She retired in 1976. She was a member of the choir at Spring Lake Presbyterian Church for more than 50 years. She also belonged to Eastern Star, White Shrine of Jerusalem, and Greater Muskegon Court of Order of the Amaranth. She served as Corresponding secretary when the Tri-Cities Historical Society was organized in 1959. In addition, she was president of Tri-Cities Garden Club and worked with the Spring Lake Historic Commission. Isabel was born on May 30, 1913, the daughter of Robert A. and Laura Smith. Isabel and Preston had two children, Doris Ann, who married Donald R. McLeod of Portland, Wisconsin, and later moved to Alpena, Alpena County, and Richard Gordon Bilz, who died in 1964. The Bilzes lived in the family home at 107 South Division in Spring Lake. Preston died on April 6, 1983. Isabel passed away on September 14, 2001 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with her husband. William Aloys Bilz [1880-1940]
The son of Aloys and Mary Bilz, William lived from May 15, 1880 to 1940 and was buried Spring Lake Cemetery with his parents. He founded Bilz Plumbing and Heating Company in Spring Lake. On June 9, 1904 he married Mildred, a daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Bidgood Kirkland. Mildred was born in Grand Haven on December 1, 1880. W. Preston was their son.

Charles B. Binns [1859-1916]

Charles Binns raised livestock on his 100-acre farm in Section 7 of Olive Township. Charles, who was born in Michigan and arrived in the area in 1900, lived from March 3, 1859 to December 13, 1916. On December 6, 1880 in Westmoreland, Kansas, he married Cornelia Bell Row. She was born in Kansas in October 1863. Charles, the son of Thomas and Mary Leslie Binns, was buried at West Olive Cemetery. Among the Binnses’ children, both born locally, were Row, born in December 1890, and Fern, born in September 1892.

Isaac W. Bird [Berd] [@1839-1912]

On January 28, 1870 Isaac Bird married Anna Elizabeth Smith in Grand Haven. He was born about 1839 in Munroe, Virginia. Isaac was a cook in a Grand Haven hotel in the year of his marriage. Anna, a dressmaker, was born in Ohio in 1832. She and Isaac were African-American. They had a daughter Eva, born about 1872. The family in 1880 lived on Second Street. By 1897 the family was living in Muskegon. On May 21, 1898, Isaac was appointed postmaster of Wabaningo, a resort community on Lake Michigan, not far from Muskegon. He died there on July 12, 1912. Anna passed away on December 3, 1916 in Norton, Muskegon County. Eva died on January 8, 1917. The three were buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon.

Leonard “Red” Bird [1936-2010]

Born in San Diego, California on June 3, 1936, Red was the son of George and Florence Crockett Bird. In 1957 he was one of 900 marines ordered to witness the detonation of a nuclear weapon at Yucca Flats, New Mexico. Exposure to extreme levels of radiation caused the bone cancer that took his life on October 22, 2010. He joined the Marines when he was 18 years old and recorded his experiences in a book titled Folding Paper Cranes, an Atomic Memoir. Red taught English at Concordia College in Morehead, Minnesota and at Fort Lewis College in Durango, Colorado, where he was on the faculty for 31 years. He published two other books: River of Lost Souls and The Scorned Ally. He and his wife, Jane, resided at 1910 Grand Street in Grand Haven. They had two children: David and Maria, who married Clint Thorne. [Tribune obituary, October 25, 2010.]

Gary Joe Bisacky [1942-2015]

The son of Joseph and Edna Farmer Bisacky, Gary was born in Grand Haven on July 17, 1942. He graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1960 and married Ruth Ann Boyink on October 3, 1964. Gary owned and operated Joe’s Auto Parts in Spring Lake for more than 50 years, and he and Ruth also were proprietors of Depot Antiques, across the road from the auto parts business. He was a member of Christ Community Church in Spring Lake. He and Ruth had three sons: Aaron, Zachary, and Caleb, all of Spring Lake. He died on April 3, 2015 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, April 7, 2015.]

George Louis Bitting I [1876-1949]

George Bitting was born on May 24, 1876 and married Leila Ruth Soule on June 21, 1913. She was born in Grand Haven on September 13, 1881. Their children were George L. Bitting II, born about 1914; Soule Tyron Bitting, born in Grand Rapids on January 7, 1916; and James T. Bitting, born about 1917. Leila passed away on June 21, 1931 and George died on October 2, 1949; they were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Sisters Mary and Julia Soule shared the family home at 527 Lafayette with the Bittings, and when Leila died as a young mother, they raised the Bittings’ children. See Soule Bitting’s and Julia Soule’s entries for more detail.

Soule Tryon “Bill” Bitting [1916-1976]
Bill Bitting was the son of George and Leila Ruth Bitting. In 1930 and 1940 Bill and his mother were living with his mother’s sister Julia Soule at 527 Lafayette Street in Grand Haven. Ruth died the next year. The grandson of Judge Charles Edward Soule, Bill was born in Grand Rapids on January 7, 1916 and graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1934. In October 1938 he swam from Fruitport to the foot of Washington Street, an estimated distance of ten or eleven miles. It took him five hours and nine minutes. He received his bachelor degree from Northwestern University, where he was a member of the water polo team.

Bill served with the United States Navy during WWII with the rank of lieutenant. He was awarded the Navy Cross with this citation: “For extraordinary heroism in the line of his profession as Pilot of a torpedo-bomber based on the Carrier, U.S.S. Savo Island, during her action against enemy forces at Leyte Island, Philippine Islands, on 25 October 1944. Lieutenant Bitting led his torpedo division through heavy intense anti-aircraft fire, to register two torpedo hits on an enemy Cruiser. His perfect timing and execution caused much damage to the enemy, thereby preventing serious harm to his own forces. His conduct throughout was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service.” Bill spent 25 years with the Navy.

Bill married Margaret “Peggy” Lighter in Wollaston, Massachusetts on September 9, 1942. She was born in Fredricksburg, Virginia on May 5, 1919. When Julia died in 1945, Bill inherited Julia’s North Shore property [20053 North Shore Drive], went to Soule “Bill” Tryon Bitting. Thirty-one years later, following Bill’s death Peggy the cottage, called Grand Manor, passed to Peggy. Bill died on September 27, 1976 and was buried at St. James the Less Episcopal Chrch Memorial Garden in Northfield, Illinois. Their children were Linda Bitting, who married Fred Strevy; Soule Tryon “Ty” Bitting; and Julia Bitting, who married Robert Fullerton. Peggy married F. William Hutchinson in Grand Rapids on October 22, 1977. He died on July 20, 1999. Peggy passed away on May 1, 2008 in Grand Haven.

William Blackaby owned a barber shop at 22 South Beechtree in Grand Haven. He was born on December 24, 1885 in Indiana, and his wife, Clementine, was born about 1889 in the same state. They were married in 1909. A daughter Marjorie was born in Indiana around 1911. The Blackabys moved to Grand Haven after 1920, where William died on November 24, 1951. Clementine passed away the next year. They were buried at Reitenour Cemetery in Winchester, Indiana.

Edwin D. Blair [1829-1909]

From 1874 to 1882, Edwin Blair was “Searcher of Records” for Ottawa County, and at about the same time he owned an Abstracts and Real Estate Office in Grand Haven. He was listed in the 1893 Compendium as oil inspector. Edwin was born in Lebanon, New York in June 1829, and arrived in Grand Haven in 1865. He married Virginia L. Scott in Grand Haven on August 17, 1867. She was born in Grand Haven around 1849. They had four surviving children, all born in Michigan: Grace, born on March 12, 1867; Edwin, born in 1870; Ada, born on March 23, 1875, and Virginia, born in 1879. By 1916 Virginia was living in Minneapolis with her daughter Virginia. Edwin the father died on July 20, 1909.

Benona Angell Blakeney [1859-1941]

Born in October 1859, Benona Blakeney was Ottawa County treasurer from 1892 to 1893 and a traveling salesman by the early 1900s. On March 13, 1884 in Lamont, he married, Mabel, the daughter of Walter Lynn. The couple lived at 454 Pennoyer [454 Sheldon Terrace] with their two children, Kittie [Katie] and Lou. Kitty was born in Blunt, South Dakota in June 1885 and graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1904, where she later taught mathematics and German. Kitty and her husband, Ralph Gordon Wilson, eventually occupied 454 Sheldon Terrace [also known as 454 Pennoyer]. Benona served on the Grand Haven School Board in the early 1900s. Another daughter, Lucy, was born in May 1887, also in South Dakota. Mabel was born in December 1862 [1861] and died around January 9, 1941. Benona passed away about May 18, 1941. He and Mabel were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Chauncey Milon Blakeslee [1863-1928]

Born in Grand Rapids [Kalamazoo] on February 13, 1863, Chauncey was the son of William and Mary Wood Blakeslee. He worked with his father in Grand Rapids in the contracting business, where they built many structures, including part of the Michigan Soldiers’ Home. By 1893 he and his wife were living in Spring Lake, but in 1904 he went to Mexico to help with masonry work there. He returned to Spring Lake, and in 1914 laid the first half-mile of concrete road in the area, one half mile east from the Village limits. Chauncey was responsible for many miles of paved road after that. Chauncey and his brother-in-law, James Spencer, built in Grand Haven the Armory, the Grand Theater, and the Presbyterian Church that preceded the current structure at the corner of Franklin and Fifth Streets. They also were hired to build the Spring Lake County Club, where Chauncey was an officer when the clubhouse was dedicated on May 31, 1926. In partnership with William Connelly and Samuel Falls, Chauncey developed Long View Resort, situated between Petty’s [Hammond’s] Bayou and Spring Lake. He was one of the organizers of the Spring Lake Yacht Club, promoted and helped organize the Spring Lake Motor Boat Club, and served on the township board.

On March 30, 1886 in Grand Rapids, Chauncey married Mary Wood Spencer, the daughter of David and Elizabeth Spencer of Spring Lake. Mary was born in Ontario on August 10, 1867. In 1893 he and Mary built a cottage on Spring Lake and lived in it for two years. They then built a new home, large enough to take in summer boarders. They added to the home and improved it over the years until they were able to accommodate as many as fifty guests. The resort became known as Arbutus Banks Hotel, which they operated until 1914, when they sold the property to Earl J. and Clarice Blanche Davis of Grand Rapids. They also owned the Oval Inn on Harbor Drive, which in 1926 they sold to Frank and Florence Reghel. Chauncey died on March 24, 1928 in Spring Lake and Mary passed away on September 21, 1944 in Grand Haven. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

William Wallace Blakeslee I [1832-1891]

William Blakeslee was settled in Grand Rapids by the 1870 census. He was born in Ohio on June 20, 1832 and became a building contractor, starting in the Grand Rapids area. He and his son, Chauncey, worked together and constructed such buildings as part of the Michigan Soldiers’ Home in Grand Rapids. The Blakeslees later moved to Spring Lake. William married Mary Ann Wood, who was born in England on May 8, 1837. In addition to Chauncey, the Blakeslees had two other sons: Charles Sherman, who lived from July 31, 1857 to 1910, and William W. II, who was born in Michigan in March 1859. Their seven daughters were Verona, born in 1861; Mary, born in 1866; Fanny S., who was born in 1868 and married Joseph Edward Clark; twins Martha and Marcia, who was born in Grand Rapids in August 1872 and married George Dodington of Grand Haven; Lenora, born in 1874; and Cassie, born in 1877. William I died on November 11, 1891 and his wife passed away on August 2, 1904. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

William Wallace Blakeslee II [1859-1933]

William, born in Kalamazoo in March 1859, was the son of William and Mary Wood Blakeslee of Grand Rapids and Spring Lake. William II entered the contracting business as a mason, although in the 1893 Compendium he was listed as a railroad agent. He married Sarah Margaret [Maggie/Marguerite] McIlraith in Grand Rapids on January 1, 1884. She was born in Perth, Ontario in September 21, 1863. Their three sons were: Laurel S., who was born on May 28, 1886 and died in Los Angeles, California, on June 12, 1966; Stanley, who was born in Grand Rapids on October 30, 1888 and died in Merced, California in May 1964; and Earle James, who was born in Spring Lake on February 18, 1893 and died in Los Angeles on September 25, 1964. The family moved to Spring Lake from Grand Rapids. William died on March 22, 1933, when he was residing in Los Angeles, California. Maggie passed away in Los Angeles on August 6, 1948.

Lewis Green Blessing [1873-1964]
Lewis Blessing, an expert in sales and finance, was vice president of the Bastian-Blessing Company in Grand Haven [301 North Hopkins] by 1930 and eventually ran the company until his retirement in 1961. On August 31, 1896, in Chicago, he married Grace Elizabeth Williams. Lewis, a native of Illinois, was born on March 28, 1873 and died in Wilmette, Illinois in December 1964. Apparently he never resided in Grand Haven.

Henry Bloecker (Blocker) [1845-1910]

Born in Schleswig, Germany, on September 6, 1845, Henry was the son of Mark Bloecker, a German soldier. Henry was educated in Germany and learned the trade of machinist, following that profession as a journeyman, and he traveled to many of the principal cities of Germany and France. In 1867 he came to Grand Haven and worked at the Ottawa Iron Works in Ferrysburg. In 1879, in partnership with John Bryce, he formed Bryce & Bloecker to manufacture general marine engines and all kinds of machinery for tugs, steamers, and any vessel using steam. The plant, located at the corner of First and Fulton Streets, suffered a serious fire in 1881 and the company sustained heavy loss. It was reorganized and in 1883 the name changed to Bloecker & Company, and still later to Henry Bloecker & Company. The firm had excellent shipping facilities, and during the busy season it employed thirty to forty men.

A Democrat in politics, Henry served in 1881, 1882, 1883, and 1884 as alderman of the First Ward and was elected mayor of Grand Haven in 1893. He was U.S. inspector of boilers from 1894 to 1895, president of the National Dotare Association and German Workingmen’s Society, a Royal Arch Mason, a member of the Maccabees, and one of the leading citizens of Grand Haven.

In 1868, Henry married Mary, the daughter of Herman Glazat. Mary, who lived from December 21, 1850 to December 6, 1913, was a native of Prussia and moved to Grand Haven after her father arrived in 1855. The Bloeckers had eight sons and one daughter, all born in Michigan: Hugo, who was born in 1869; Edward, who was born about 1871; Paul, who was born in 1873 and died on October 20, 1935; Fred [Ferdinand] Emil, who was born on March 19, 1875, moved to Marion, Indiana, and died on December 9, 1927; Robert M., who was born in 1878 and became chief engineer of the car ferry City of Grand Haven and died on May 8, 1965; Emma M., who was born February 28, 1882 and died on July 10, 1965; Ernest, who was born in December 1886 and moved to Detroit; and Henry F., who was born on June 8, 1888, worked as a machinist at Dake, and died on May 10, 1957. The family resided at 112 Franklin, where Henry died on February 16, 1910. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa County Michigan, pp. 273-274, and Tribune obituary, February 16, 1910.]

Willard “Bill” Bernard Bloemendal [1901-1995]

Willard Bloemendal opened his medical practice in Grand Haven on June 8, 1928. He was born in Chicago on May 28, 1901. His parents moved to Holland, Michigan, where Bloemendal attended Hope College. Bill subsequently graduated from the University of Wisconsin at Madison and then received his medical degree from Rush College in Chicago. He was Ottawa County Coroner from 1934 to 1942, served on the Grand Haven School Board, and was a director of Security First Bank and Trust [Old Kent/Fifth Third]. He was a member of the Grand Haven Stag Club, and he sang as tenor at the inaugural performance of the West Shore Symphony Orchestra [West Michigan Symphony] in Muskegon on November 28, 1939. His office was first 304½ Washington Street, next at 224½ Washington, and sometime after 1940 he moved his office to 300 Franklin.

Bill married Ethel M. Leenhouts on September 17, 1929. In 1944 he and Ethel sold a house on Fourth Street to the Methodist Church for $2,000 to make room for the church to expand. In the late 1920s Bill resided at 312 Franklin, and in the early 1930s he and Ethel lived at 219 Franklin Street and later at 400 Grant Street, but in 1939 they and a daughter moved into a house they built at 411 Woodlawn Avenue. They remained at this location until 1978, when they moved into an apartment at 704 South Beacon Boulevard; from there they moved to another apartment, this one at 515 South De Spelder. The daughter, Mary Margaret, was born about 1936. Ethel, who was born on March 2, 1902, died in Grand Haven on September 9, 1987. When Bill died on March 20, 1995, he was residing in Grand Rapids. He and Ethel were buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery in Holland.

Walter Kirkland “Kirk” Bloeser [1922-2014]

In 1950, when local photographer Bill Mosher relocated his studio to 104 Washington Street, Kirk Bloeser was one of his employees. Later that year Kirk took over the business, renamed it Kirk’s Camera Shop, and moved across the street to 105 Washington. Kirk, who was born in Chicago on August 12, 1922, served with the Army during WWII. On October 17, 1947 Kirk married Marian Andros in Grand Haven. Born in Grand Haven, on June 15, 1923, Marian was the only child of Nicholas and Margaret Andros. She owned a hat shop at 104 Washington Street in downtown Grand Haven. Kirk and Marian had four children: John, who moved to Kalamazoo with his wife Pamela; Barbara, who married Ted Skendrovic of Spring Lake; Janet, who married Stephen Gullis and moved to Rockford, Kent County; and Marianne, who married Dennis Systma and relocated to Loveland, Colorado. Kirk died on March 10, 2014. Kirk’s mother, Miriam Elizabeth Bloeser, the daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Kirkland of Grand Haven, was born in Chicago on October 22, 1882, married Walter Alfred Bloeser in Chicago on July 7, 1915. They were divorced on July 3, 1943. Miriam died in February 1969 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Edward John Blotney [1913-1978]

When B & B Metal Products Company was organized in Spring Lake in 1955, Edward Blotney was vice president and Hubert Burnside, president. He resided at 403 Ohio in Grand Haven. Edward was born on March 16, 1913 and died in Palm Beach, Florida on June 13, 1978.

Harvey B. Blunt [Blount] [1840-1917]

After the Civil War, an increasing number of African Americans made their home in Northwest Ottawa County. These early settlers tended to stay longer than their predecessors, although there still were many who showed up only briefly. One of the more permanent ones was Harvey B. Blunt [Blount]. Harvey was born into slavery in Kentucky [Georgia] in May 1840. He was settled in Grand Haven by 1870 with his wife, Anna. She was born in Georgia [Tennessee] about 1841 [1830], died on March 30, 1899, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Harvey was working as a laborer in 1870 and as a janitor in 1880. He was listed in the 1893 Compendium again as a laborer. He is said to have worked for the Ferry family, descendants of Rev. William Ferry who, with Rix Robinson, founded the City of Grand Haven. Living with Harvey and Anna in 1870 was Hannah Blunt, who was born in Virginia in 1814. Although the census enumerator listed her as a Blunt when she passed away about January 12, 1880, she was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with the name Hannah Cox. It’s likely that Hannah was Anna’s mother. Also in the household in 1870 was Gordon [Gorton] Miller, born in Georgia about 1822, and unemployed at the time of the census. In the 1900 census Harvey was listed as building janitor, and reportedly was custodian for several businesses on Washington Street. By 1910 he was retired and living alone at 512 Adams Street. [Tribune obituary, March 30, 1899.]

In late summer 1912 city health officer Dr. Arthur Turner and city marshal John Welch went to Harvey’s house at the request of neighbors, who had complained “of the filth and stench” associated with his home. “All of the dirt and accumulation was burned and the entire place rooted and dug out,” the Grand Haven Tribune reported. There also had been rumors of a Blunt fortune hidden there. During their inspection, the authorities found one quarter, an ornament made from a gold dollar, more than 600 yards of unused bolts of cloth, but no treasure. The article did not mention whether Harvey was home at the time of the inspection. On August 12, 1913 Harvey became a self-sufficient inmate at the County Poor Farm in Eastmanville. On July 16 two years later, he was transferred to the State Hospital in Kalamazoo, diagnosed as insane and ill. He died there on February 11, 1917 and was returned to Grand Haven to be buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. There is no record that the Blunts had children. [Tribune article “No Fabulous Fortune Found,” August 20, 1912, and Tribune obituaries, March 30, 1899 and February 12, 1917.]

Garrett “Garry” Boelens [1893-1958]
Garry, the son of Klaas and Tryntje “Katie” Klouw Boelens, was born in Spring Lake on June 18, 1893. On September 8, 1920 in Spring Lake he married Florence I. Cross, the daughter of Ira and Minnie Cross. Florence was born in Spring Lake on April 25, 1901. Garry, an electrician, died on January 30, 1958. Florence passed away in Spring Lake on October 29, 1994, and Garry had died in 1958; both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The family resided at 237 Lake Avenue in Spring Lake. They had at least two sons: Herbert E., who lived from December 19, 1922, and Gordon H., who was born about 1927. Herb married Doris Balgooyen on June 25, 1949 in Grand Haven, after serving in the Army during WW II. Herb died in Grand Haven on January 8, 2014. [Tribune obituary, January 10, 2014.]

Klaas [Klaus] Boelens [1865-1931]

Klaas Boelens and David M. Cline operated a road building business named Cline & Boelens Contracting Company. On July 3, 1890 in Spring Lake, Klaas married Tryntje “Katie” Klouw of Spring Lake. They had at least five sons: Herman, who was born on March 27, 1892 and died on June 10, 1918 while serving with the U.S. Army in Europe; Garrett “Garry” K., born June 18, 1893; John K., born about 1897; Barney, who lived from May 27, 1900 to March 11, 1957; and Henry, who lived from March 3, 1907 to December 30, 1998. In 1920 the family resided on Lake Avenue in Spring Lake, and Klaas worked as a highway contractor. Tryntje lived from 1866 to 1931 and Klaas from 1865 to 1931. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as were other members of the family.

Helen Elizabeth Boer [1904-2002] and Catherine Boer Fisher [1901-1999]

Pair-A-Dice, named Ben-Hur at the time of its building in 1906, was later owned by Skip and Meg De Wall. Long-time owner Helen Boer became acquainted with a cottage called Pair-A-Dice during summer visits to Highland Park with her parents, Rufus and Minnie Wagner Boer of Grand Rapids. Through the years her admiration for the quaint charm of the cottage led to a strong desire to own it. Never giving up her dream, she made an offer on the cottage when the opportunity arose in 1934 and made her dream a reality. Pair-A-Dice was given the address 99 Poplar Ridge Trail. Helen, a teacher in the Grand Rapids school system, wrote Highland Park Yesterday and Today in 1983, preserving the history and memories of the place she adored. Next door to Pair-A-Dice is Ceil Laplage, French for “heaven at the beach.” This cottage once was owned by Walter and Catherine Boer Fisher. Catherine and Helen Boer were sisters. Helen was born in Grand Rapids on September 4, 1904, died on March 9, 2002, and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids with her parents. Catherine, who taught in the Grand Rapids schools after her husband’s death, lived from October 28, 1901 to October 19, 1999. She, too, was buried at Oakhill, where Walter [1900-1936] was interred.

Henry John “Bub” Boer [1885–1973]

Henry, the son of John J. Boer, in January 1907 went into partnership with James W. Oakes to form the Grand Haven Realty Company. He next opened an insurance office in his father’s building at 119 Washington. Later, working with his father, he operated the family furniture and undertaking store under the name of John J. Boer & Son at the same address. Bub, who was born on November 24 [27], 1885, died in February 1973 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. At the time of his death he resided at 215 South Barry in Greenville. His wife, Hannah, was born in Michigan about 1884. They had a daughter, Mary E., who was born about 1920. [Tribune obituary, November 5, 1942.]

John J. Boer [1857-1942]

John was born in Drenthe, Ottawa County on March 10, 1857. He was one of nine children, including Jennie, who was born about 1858 and married John Henry Rysdorp of Grand Haven; Egberdena, who was born in September 1866 and married Peter Klaver of Grand Haven; Sena, who was born in 1868 and married Tony Baker, also of Grand Haven; John L. who moved to Lansing; and Rufus, who moved to Grand Rapids. John’s father, John, died before he was 10, so young John came to Grand Haven and worked as an errand boy for Henry Brouwer, who operated a grocery store near the corner of First and Washington Streets. John’s mother, Lammigye [Lammechien] “Lucy” Van Dam, was born in Drenthe Province, The Netherlands, on April 14, 1837. Lucy’s parents were Jan, born August 23, 1801 in Groningen Province, the son of Roelof and Engerdina Van Dam, and Geesje “Gertje” Jans, born May 14, 1801 in Drenthe, The Netherlands, the daughter of Jan Meinders. Gertje died on October 7, 1875.

John Boer drove a horse-drawn bus for Henry Sprick, worked for George W. Miller in a hardware store, and was an employee at “Little Joe, Clother King of the World” [101 Washington]. After his marriage he left his job clerking in a clothing store and went to Grand Rapids and then to Muskegon where he worked for the J. Riordan Company for more than six years. In 1877 John opened a grocery store with his future father-in-law, Henry Bolt, near the corner of Seventh and Washington Streets, operating under the name Boer & Bolt. In 1888 he opened a grocery store in the Snook building at Eighth and Washington Streets [800 Washington]. The grocery store was called the Beehive. About 1897 John sold out his share of the grocery business and became a traveling salesman as part of the “Knights of the Grip.” After three months he bought a furniture business from James Barnes and named it Boer & Boer. His store, located at 119-121 Washington Street in Grand Haven, carried a complete line of dry goods, groceries, provisions, and general merchandise, and also offered sewing machines and pianos. About 1930 his son Henry joined the business, which became known as “John J. Boer & Son.” He was also well established as the leading mortician in the area.

On December 21, 1880 John married Jennie, who was born June 13, 1857, the daughter of Hendrick “Henry” Jan and Cornelia Elfers Bolt. The Boers had four children: Lucy, born in May 1883; Henry John “Bub,” who was born on November 27, 1885 and went into business with his father; Cornelia B., who was born on February 26, 1892; and Cathryn Ruth, who was born on February 27, 1897 and married Elmore J. Hoek of Grand Haven. Cornelia married Wayland Bickford in 1927. The Bickfords lived in New Orleans until Wayland’s death in 1932. Cornelia next married Cornel R. Wagener; they resided in Spring Lake. John Boer was a member of the Grand Haven Elks. He and his family lived at 102 Washington Street for many years. John died on November 4, 1942, and Jennie died August 8, 1937. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, November 5, 1942, and Tribune articles, “Golden Wedding Anniversary,” Jan 3, 1931, and other articles on March 10, 1932, August 1 1934, and June 23, 1938.]

Lambertus Boerma [Boersma] [@1839-1889]

A native of The Netherlands, Lambertus Boerma came to Spring Lake in 1868. He was a civil engineer, and in 1877 he joined the Sisson & Lilley Sawmill. He married Renske Annema [Irene/Irena Anema] in Spring Lake on December 25, 1882. She was born in The Netherlands about 1838. For unknown reasons, Lambertus Boerma also was known as or was confused with Lambertus Beukema. He passed away in Grand Rapids on July 8, 1889.

Chester Boersema [1931-2003]

In 1972 Chester Boersema founded Non-Ferrous Cast Alloys 18750 Trimble Court in Spring Lake Township. In 1998 the company moved to Norton Shores. Chet was born October 31, 1931, the son of Cornelius and Grace Werkema Boersema of Grand Rapids. He married Vivienne Schreiber in Borculo, Ottawa County on November 9. 1951. They resided at 15931 Robbins Road and had four children: Kristen Miner, Anita Anderson, and Dale and David Boersema. The family attended Christ Community Church. Chet was a member of Spring Lake Country Club and American Foundryman’s Society. He died in Grand Haven on December 15, 2003. [Tribune obituary, December 17, 2003.]

Richard Boersma [1881-1939]

Born in The Netherlands on June 27, 1881, the son of Fred Boersma, Richard came to Grand Haven in 1906. He was a commercial fisherman before opening a dry goods business on Seventh Street. He married Nellie Joldersma, a native of Grand Haven, who died about June 10, 1951. Richard died around December 4, 1939 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Antone [Toney, Anthony] Boet [Boot] [1847-1917]

On February 27, 1864, while in Flint, Antone Boet enlisted as private in Company D of the 8th Michigan Infantry. He was listed in the roster as Anthony Boot. He was mustered out on July 30, 1865. On July 3, 1868 in Grand Haven, he married Pauline [Paulina/Paulena] Moll. They lived at 1203 Washington in Grand Haven. Antone, a carpenter, lived from May 1847 to 1917. Pauline, the daughter of Arie and Adriana Moll of Grand Haven, was born in February 1851 and died in 1932. Both were natives of The Netherlands. Pauline was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Their daughter Minnie, born in 1871, married Albert J. Bolt of Grand Haven. Pauline lived with the Bolts after her husband’s death.

Born December 31, 1907 in Grand Haven to Rudolf G. and Anna M. Boettcher I, the young Rudolf was a life-long resident of the community. His father lived from 1875 to 1933 and his mother from 1867 to 1940. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Rudolph II was employed as an engineer at Structural Concepts. He was a member of St. John’s Lutheran Church, Muskegon Heights Eagles, and Muskegon Moose Club. His wife’s name was Lorraine. Baltzar E. Bolling [1890-1969]

Born in Gothenburg, Sweden, on December 20, 1890, Baltzar was the son of Lars Johan, a sea captain who lived from 1845 to 1931, and Selma Emanuella Gronquist Bolling, who died in 1892. Lars owned his own sea-going boat at 17. He became a teacher and later engaged in the plumbing business. Baltzar came to the United States at age 16, settling in Chicago. There he studied mechanical engineering at the Armour Institute of Technology and took courses in factory management and business administration at Northwestern University. He later studied commercial law at Marquette University in Milwaukee. In 1907 he started work for the Chicago Flexible Shaft Company as toolmaker. In 1911 he became a draftsman for the Adams and West Lake Company in Chicago. From 1913 to 1917 he was chief engineer of the J. K. Stewart Manufacturing Company, later becoming superintendent of the Alemite Die Casting and Manufacturing Company. In 1918 he was named general manager of the die casting department of the Hamilton Beach Manufacturing Company in Racine, Wisconsin, but returned to Chicago in 1921. In 1924 he organized the Bolling Manufacturing Company, which was sold in 1927 and later was named the Grand Haven Metal Products Company. In 1928 he established the Lumite Corp. in Grand Haven. In 1929 Stewart Die Casting purchased the business. In 1930 Bolling became assistant manager of the Iowa Manufacturing Company in Spring Lake. On February 22, 1935, in partnership with Eric Anderson, he established the Anderson-Bolling Manufacturing Company, at first leasing a wing of the Challenge Stamping & Porcelain Company at 850 Jackson and using the facilities of Michigan Brass at night. In 1941 a 16,500 sq. ft. building was erected at 701 East Savidge in Spring Lake, which was increased to 57,250 sq. ft. in 1950. Baltzar was a Republican and member of the Blue Lake Free and Accepted Masons; Medina Temple Shrine; Rotary Club; Kiwanis, Spring Lake Country Club; Spring Lake Yacht Club; Citizens Historical Association; and the People’s Church of Chicago. He was active in Boy Scout work, received the silver beaver award, and was an honorary citizen of Boys’ Town. He owned four sailboats and won many racing trophies.

On August 30, 1920 Baltzar married Esther Olivia Turnquist, daughter of John and Matilda Turnquist of Chicago. Esther was born January 25, 1894, and she died October 27, 1983 in Pompano Beach, Florida. The Bollings had four children: Warren Ellwood, who was born on July 25; Roger Eugene, born May 20, 1926; Vernon Baltzar, born on July 3, 1927; and Donald Winfield, born on December 22, 1929. Baltzar died in Florida in February 1969. The family resided at 18777 Fruitport Road in Section 1 of Spring Lake Township. [Citizens Historical Association, September 20, 1941, Tribune article, August 1948, and Tribune obituary, November 1, 1983.]

Roger Eugene Bolling [1926-2000]

Roger, the son of Baltzar and Esther Olivia Turnquist Bolling, was born in Muskegon on May 20, 1926. He served in the Army during WWII. After the war he graduated from Augustana College in Rock Island, Illinois and returned to Spring Lake, where he was employed at his father’s company, Anderson-Bolling, eventually becoming its owner and chief executive officer. He served on the Grand Haven School Board and as president of the Spring Lake Country Club. He also was a member of the Presbyterian Church, Grand Haven Rotary, Spring Lake Country Club, Spring Lake Yacht Club, and Tri-Cities Y.M.C.A.

On February 7, 1948, Roger married Vivian Dahlman. She was born on November 18, 1927 to Albert and Amanda Dahlman. Vivian graduated from Grand Haven High School and was a volunteer at the Mary Free Bed Guild of North Ottawa Community Hospital. The Bollings lived at 1856 Doris in Grand Haven and later at 16069 Lake Point Drive in Spring Lake. Their five children were Pam Ellison of Fort Lauderdale, Florida; Roger of Lake Worth, Florida; Cindy, who married Bryan Lewis of Royal Palm, Florida; Debby Lintjer of Spring Lake; and Craig of Grand Haven. Vivian passed away on December 23, 1997, and Roger died three years later, on December 1, 2000. Their residence was at 16069 Lake Point Drive [Harbor Point], but they were living in Palm Beach, Florida at the time of their deaths. He became Sales manager for the Anderson Bolling Company of Spring Lake. He was a member of the American Legion; Kiwanis Club; Century Club of Muskegon; and Lake Shore Club of Chicago. He married Mary Elaine Aldrich of Grand Rapids. Warren passed away in Naples, Florida on October 16, 2000.

Albert J. Bolt [1871-1938]

In the early 1900s Albert Bolt had a grocery store at 706 Washington. He and his wife, Minnie Boet, lived at 728 Washington and later at 1046 Washington. They were married in Ottawa County on September 29, 1898. Minnie, the daughter of Antone and Pauline Boet of Grand Haven, was born in Michigan in February 1871. Albert also was born in Michigan in May of the same year. The Bolts’ two children were Pauline [nee Antonet], born in July 1899, and Willis, born about 1913. Albert died around March 15, 1938 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Minnie, who passed away about November 24, 1950, was buried with her husband. Albert’s parents were Henry John and Cornelia Elfers Bolt of Grand Haven.

Frederick Cornelius “Ted” Bolt [1897-1976]

Born July 15, 1897 in Grand Haven, Ted was the son of John J. and Dena Van Zanten Bolt. He graduated from the University of Michigan School of Business Administration and was a WWI veteran. He was employed by the Peoples Bank on November 1, 1917. Ted became president of the bank in 1944 and chairman and Trust officer in 1962. Ted was working at the bank on the day it was robbed, August 17, 1933. He and others stopped the robbery while it was in progress, and Ted shared in a $1,000 reward. From 1921 to 1934 he went into business with his father, John J. Bolt. They offered general insurance at their office located in the Grand Haven State Bank building at 223 Washington. Ted was a member of the Elks; Grand Haven Aviation Club, which initiated the Ted Bolt Annual Award; Chamber of Commerce; Grand Haven Library Board; Grand Haven Gideon Camp; and Spring Lake Country Club. Bolt also headed bond drives for the WWII war effort and raised money for a new Chamber of Commerce building and the Grand Haven High School building on Cutler. In addition, he organized and was trustee for the Hofma Trust, and was secretary of the Grand Haven Salvation Army Advisory Board. Ted organized the Boy Scout troop of the Second Christian Reformed Church. Ted never married and lived in the family home at 826 Washington with his sister Anje, who was born about 1889 and died on February 22, 1974. Ted died of heart disease on May 10, 1976 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune articles, “Peoples Bank Names Three New Directors,” December 7, 1971, and “F. C. Bolt: Dies at 78,” May 11, 1976.]

Henry John [Hendrik Jan] Bolt I [1823-1907]

The son of Arend and Jennekje Bouwhuis Bolt, Henry was born in Lockum, The Netherlands on October 30, 1823. He came to Grand Haven in July 1847, where he spent the remainder of his life. By occupation Henry was a farmer. He had no money at the time of his arrival and had to depend upon his own resources to make a livelihood. He started earning money by shoveling sawdust at the Throop Mill for $16 a month. In 1848 he was employed by Clark Albee and stayed with him for six years. He was paid $180 a year, plus board. He was the first coroner in Ottawa County and held a number of inquests. He was street commissioner of Grand Haven for over ten years, beginning about 1870. After a time he began devoting his energies to farming and fruit growing. Nathan White, assisted by Thomas White, started planting maple trees on Franklin Street, and Bolt helped plant many hundreds of trees in the city. He was a charter member of the First Reformed Church, started by 15 families in 1851. He later was a member of the Second Reformed Church. He was Republican in politics.

On May 9, 1852, Henry married Cornelia [Lena/Rena] Elfers. She was born on April 7, 1828, in Goor, The Netherlands, and came to America at age 20. They had eight children: Johannah [Hannah], who was born on July 10, 1853 and on July 30, 1874 married Johannes “John” Kolvoord of Battle Creek; Aaltje “Alice,” who was born on April 26, 1855 and died in Battle Creek on June 10, 1918; Jantje “Jennie,” who was born June 23, 1857 and married John Boer; Henry, who was born on August 27, 1859 and died 17 months later; Hattie, who was born on June 27, 1862; Cornelia, who died at the age of six months in June 1865; Hendrick “Henry” J. II, who was born on October 22, 1866 and was listed as a teamster in the early 1890s; and Albert J., who was born May 29, 1871. The Bolt family resided at 1036 Washington Avenue. Around 1913 they sold five acres of their land at the southwest corner of Ferry and Pennoyer for $1,600. That land became the site of Ferry School. Cornelia died on April 1, 1892. Henry died at his home on Washington Street on March 26, 1907 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. On June 10, 1938, Bolt Park, at Beechtree and Pennoyer, was named in his memory. Henry II, the son of Henry V. and Jennie Bolt, was born on May 1, 1915 and died in Grand Haven on December 13, 1999, when he was still residing in the family home at 719 Pennoyer. Henry II graduated from Western State Teachers College [WMU] in 1936 and went into teaching, first at Durand High School in Michigan and later at Grand Haven High School.

Jacob Bolt [1840-1887]

Jacob Bolt, born in The Netherlands on May 31, 1840, became a lumber shaver in Grand Haven, and later was classified as a teamster. He married Johanna Moss, who also was born in The Netherlands about 1842. They had seven surviving children, including: John L., born in 1864; Derk, born about 1866; Mary, who was born about November 1870 and married John Lock of Grand Haven; Jane [Jennie], who was born about 1874 and married Joseph Maurits in Grand Rapids on May 17, 1900; Kate, who was born about 1876 and married Doeke Kniper in Ottawa County on October 24, 1893; Henry, who was born about 1877 and in Grand Haven on July 17, 1901 married Jennie, the daughter of Toney and Dora Voss Vander Zalm; Fanny, born about 1880; Gertrude, who was born about 1883 and married Fred Ensing in Grand Rapids on February 19, 1902; James, who also was born about 1883 and married Nellie Patterson in Muskegon on December 24, 1904. John and Derk were born in The Netherlands, and the rest were born locally. Jacob died on August 27, 1887. After his death, Johanna maintained a dressmaking business in her home at 508 Elliott Street in Grand Haven. Living with her in the early 1900s were Florence Bolt, who worked at Challenge Machinery, and Henrietta, the widow of John Bolt, Jacob’s and Johanna’s son, who died on August 26, 1905. Henrietta lived from 1865 to 1928. Johanna passed away in 1908. She and Jacob were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members, including John and Henrietta.

Jacob J. Bolt [1892-1978]

Born on December 30, 1892 in Grand Haven, the son of John and Henrietta Dykema Bolt, Jacob worked at the Grand Haven post office for 48 years. In August 1951 he became assistant postmaster and in 1962 he was named the 15th postmaster of Grand Haven. On June 18, 1918 in Kent County, he married Esther Goodrich. Esther, the daughter of William and Alice Gorman Goodrich, was born in 1895 and about September 23, 1948. The Bolts had two daughters, Mary Alice, who married Robert Storm of Merritt Island, Florida, and Delores, who married Donald Bartels of Grand Haven. The Bolts resided at 904 Pennoyer. In Muskegon he married Agnes E. Sullivan, who lived from September 17, 1897 to June 5, 1983. She was the daughter of James Sullivan. Jacob died on July 3, 1978. Esther, Jacob, and Agnes were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, “Jake Bolt Named postmaster Here,” April 3, 1962, and Tribune obituary, June 6, 1983.]

John Bolt [1880-1939] and Etta Koster Bolt [1878-1974]

John Bolt was born in 1880 in Spring Lake. After attending Muskegon Business College, he bought John Koster’s grocery business in Spring Lake, which he sold after a short time to George Rankin. John then bought a concrete and fuel business in Muskegon, operating it under the name of Bolt Cement & Coal Company. On March 30, 1909 in Spring Lake he married Etta, daughter of the man who owned the grocery store in the Village. John and Etta lived in Muskegon, where the family business was located. He died on January 4, 1939.

Born in Spring Lake on October 11, 1878, Etta was the daughter of John and Gertrude Ekster Koster. Etta worked at Beaudry’s Dry Goods Store in Grand Haven for 11 or 12 years. She recalled that her commute on the Interurban would have cost five cents each way, 60 cents a week, at a time when she was earning $3 a week, so she traveled by horse-drawn bus, instead. When her husband died in early 1939, Etta returned to Spring Lake, where she passed away on June 12, 1974. She lived at 205 North Division. John and Etta were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

In partnership with Edward P. Kinkema, John Bolt operated a cold storage and fresh fish market at 1034 Fulton in Grand Haven from 1901 to 1921. He then went into business with his son, Cornelius Frederick. They offered general insurance at their office located in the Grand Haven State Bank building at 223 Washington. John was an original director of Peoples Bank, which opened in 1910 in downtown Grand Haven [300 Washington]. He was born in The Netherlands on February 23, 1861 and came to Grand Haven when he was ten.

On December 21, 1880, John married Wilberdenia “Dena,” daughter of Cornelius Van Zanten I. Dena was born January 13, 1869 and died September 2, 1937. The Bolts lived at 1221 Washington and later at 826 Washington. They had four children: Anje, who was born in March 1888, became a school teacher, and died on February 22, 1974; Cornelius Frederick, who was born in August 1889, served as principal at Muskegon Heights High School principal for many years, and died on December 19, 1954; Arthur J., who was born in March 1891 [1892] and became a Muskegon dentist and state senator; and Frederick Cornelius “Ted,” who lived in Grand Haven and was born on July 15, 1897 [1898/1899]. Richard D. Bolt I [1865-1938]

Richard Bolt, born in The Netherlands in 1865, operated a meat market at 207 North Seventh Street in Grand Haven and resided in a nearby two-story frame house [219 North Seventh]. In the 1908 Directory he was listed as a cooper, and two years later he was a machinist at Dake Engine Company. He married Margaret Powell, whose father, John Powell, had once owned the meat market. Margaret was born locally the same year as her husband. Richard took over the meat market following his father’s-in-law death in 1913. By 1928 he was partnered with Henry Swartz, and the name of the store revealed the name of its owners. Among the Bolt children, all born locally, were Joy, born about 1886; John, born about 1888; Josephine Margaret “Josie,” who was born about 1894 and married Paul B. Markhoff of Spring Lake; Katie, born about 1902; and Richard II, who lived from 1904 to 1921. Richard I died about January 26, 1938 and was buried in the family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery. Margaret passed away about September 25, 1952 and was buried with her husband.

Henry “Harry” J. Balthouse [Bulthuis] [1887-1975]

Henry Balthouse had a 25-acre farm in Section 9 of Spring Lake Township in the early 1900s. He was born in Michigan on October 22, 1887 and died on October 28, 1975. On May 24, 1911 in Ferrysburg, he married Hilda Katt. The daughter of John and Steentje “Kate” Wierenga Katt of Ferrysburg, Hilda was born on September 2, 1891. Henry’s and Hilda’s children, all born locally, were Selma J., born about 1913; Clarence, born about 1915; Stella J., born about 1918; Kenneth, born about 1920; and Raymond, born about 1922. They also had an adopted son, Robert L. Balthouse, who was born around 1930. Hilda died in Spring Lake on December 11, 1982. Henry and Hilda were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John Paul Balthouse [1912-2006]

John, the son of Harm and Maggie Dekkinga Balthouse, was born in Spring Lake on September 4, 1912. He married Thelma M. Vander Ark in Melville, Louisiana on March 2, 1934. She was the daughter of Henry and Margaret Hansma Vander Ark. John owned and operated the Texaco Service Station in Spring Lake for 32 years, including 25 years in partnership with Steve Bottema. He served on the Spring Lake Village Council in 1940, was village clerk for 31 years, and Village manager from the early to mid-1970s. He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Spring Lake. The Balthouses children include John of Grandville, Kent County; Jim of Andalusia, Alabama; and Jerry of Spring Lake. John passed away at home on February 17, 2006 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Thelma lived from November 6, 1908 to December 12, 2001. She also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, February 20, 2006.]

Richard Balthouse [Bulthaus, Balthuis] [1880-1956]

The son of Krein and Soutje “Sarah” Balthouse, Dick was born in Ferrysburg on June 6, 1880 [1879]. On June 15, 1904 in Spring Lake, he married Jennie Luloffs. She was born in Coopersville on October 20, 1882. Her father, Meindert Luloffs, was born in The Netherlands on April 30, 1856. Meindert married Martha Leuring Luloffs. One of the Balthouses’ children, Susan Marie, who was born about 1907, married Charles Rouwhorst. Jennie died on October 24, 1941. Dick passed away in Grand Haven on August 8, 1956. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

George Bolton [1862-1923]

Born in 1862 in Canada, George Bolton brought his family to Spring Lake in 1905. He owned and operated Bolton’s Shoe Repair Shop, which was located at 213 West Savidge, later the site of the Idle Hour Bowling Lanes. George also repaired clocks, watches, and rings. His wife, Hannah, also a Canadian, was born in 1864. The couple lived at 210 Williams Street. They had five sons, all born in Canada: Adelbert, born about 1887; Stewart W. born about 1890; Harry, born on April 8, 1891; and Ernest, born in 1894. All five sons resided in Spring Lake. George Bolton died at his home in Spring Lake on September 6, 1923 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Hannah died 13 years later and was buried in the family plot. [Tribune obituary, September 7, 1923.]

Harry Bolton [1891-1973]

Born in Canada on April 8, 1891, Harry Bolton in 1905 came to Spring Lake with his parents, George and Hannah Bolton. Harry worked for the Challenge Corn Planter Company for 16 years and later was custodian of the Spring Lake School on Exchange Street for 23 years. On May 13, 1913 he married Gertrude Eckelcamp, who lived from December 10, 1891 to November 26, 1983. She was the daughter of Henry Eckelcamp. The Boltons’ children included Gladys, who was born on August 20, 1914 and married Paul Lampe of Spring Lake on May 1, 1937; Harold, who was born May 9, 1917, married Winifred Weavers on May 18, 1939, and died October 27, 1991; Russell, who was born about 1920 and whose wife’s name was Maxine; Irene, who was born about 1922 and married Darwin Andree of Muskegon; and Albert G., who was born in 1926 and died July 1963. Lucius Boltwood I [1792-1872]

Lucius Boltwood I purchased land in Michigan as early as 1836 and by 1864 owned 80 acres in Section 12 of Robinson Township, 80 acres in Section 11, and 80 acres in Section 32 [North] of Grand Haven Township, and additional acreage in Section 21, now part of the City of Grand Haven. On June 12, 1849 he and his wife, Fanny, conveyed to Dennis Robinson substantial acres of land in Ottawa County. Dennis was Rix Robinson’s brother, but did not reside in Ottawa County. Lucius was born in Massachusetts on March 16, 1792 and died on July 10, 1872 in Amherst, Massachusetts. He married Fanny Haskins Shepard on August 20, 1824. She was born on March 23, 1807 in Rhode Island and died on April 26, 1888 in Amherst. Their son, Lucius Manlius Boltwood, was born on June 8, 1825 in Amherst. There is no evidence that the Boltwoods ever lived in Ottawa County.

Lucius Manlius Boltwood II [1825-1905]

Lucius Boltwood was reputed to be 100 years old when he died in Grand Rapids on February 28, 1905, but recent data points to a birth date of June 8, 1825, in Amherst, Massachusetts. His birth date may have been confused with his father’s, Lucius I, who was born in 1792 and died in 1852. Lillie recorded that in 1861 Lucius II offered to forgive any balance remaining on land bought from him by a husband or father enlisting in the military, if that soldier failed to survive the Civil War. By 1864 he held title to acreage in Section 32 of Grand Haven Township, near the south border of the City of Grand Haven, and he also had large holdings in Sections 19 and 30 of Allendale Township. Lucius developed Boltwood’s Addition to the City of Grand Haven, land that previously had been owned by his father. Located north of Madison Street and west of Seventh Street, the plat included about 90 building lots, most of them 66 feet by 132 feet. On June 6, 1860 Lucius married Clarinda Boardman Williams, who was born in Amherst, Massachusetts on August 31, 1836. Clarinda died on October 8, 1890. A son, Lucius III, was born in Amherst on July 27, 1862 and married Etta Monique Comstock in Grand Rapids. Lucius III, an attorney, died in Grand Rapids on June 10, 1938.

Abigail “Gail” Weldon Harbeck Bos [1883-1960]

Abigail was born October 6, 1883 in Chicago, the daughter of Dr. William Weldon. The Weldons spent summers at Spring Lake. At the age of eight, following her parents’ deaths, Abigail and her sister Ruth were adopted by Herman and Mabel Boynton Harbeck of Grand Haven. Abigail graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1902 as Gail Weldon Harbeck. She became an active member of St. John’s Episcopal Church. She began her work at the Grand Haven Daily Tribune as a society reporter. During the mid-1920s she went into partnership with Jack H. Reichardt, purchasing the Guillard Hat Shop at 218 Washington and expanding it to include women’s apparel. It was called “The Abigail,” and after a year and a half she sold her interest and started working full time as a reporter for the Tribune, eventually becoming Fashion editor. She also was a correspondent for other newspapers, including the Grand Rapids Press, Grand Rapids Herald, Detroit Free Press, Milwaukee Journal, Chicago Tribune, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and St. Louis Globe-Democrat. She retired from her job with the Tribune in 1951. Abigail promoted a wide variety of civic organizations, including Community Chest [United Way], Red Cross, Polio Foundation, Chamber of Commerce, Coast Guard Water Festival, and Lake Michigan Playhouse.

On August 20, 1908 in Grand Haven Abigail married Martin [Mortimer] Bos, who was born on April 10, 1884 and died on June 20, 1951. Martin’s parents were Cornelius and Maria Van Doorne Bos. Martin worked at a local bank as a cashier. At the time of marriage, Abigail was a teacher in Grand Haven, but two years later she was unemployed. She and Martin had two children: Ruth, who was born April 13, 1912, and Mary Fran. Ruth married Milton Burr of Grand Haven when both were about 17 years old. Mary Frances, who was born about 1918, on September 9, 1939 in Grand Haven, married Lawrence Jack of Vancouver, British Columbia. In 1920 Abigail and Martin were residing at 527 Slayton, and ten years later they were located at 518 Franklin. Abigail and Martin were divorced on July 2, 1931. By the time of the 1940 Federal Census, she was then working as City editor at the Grand Haven Tribune and still residing at 518 Franklin. Martin was living with his sister and her husband, William and Marie Poel at 503 Fulton Street. Abigail died on October 13, 1960 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Carroll G. Bos [1921-2000]

Carroll, the son of Gilbert and Cecilia Zuidema Bos, was born in Grand Rapids on May 14, 1921. He had two sisters, Betty and June and one brother, Lawrence. On September 1, 1941, Carroll married Jeanette A. Gezon in Grand Rapids. She was the daughter of Marcus C. and Louise Gazan. Carroll served with the U.S. Army Air Corps during WWII. He and his wife moved to Spring Lake in 1948, where he and his father-in-law started the Tri-City Dairy. The Dairy Company closed eight years later. Carroll then became statewide representative for Rycenga Homes of Grand Haven, a position he held for 40 years. In partnership with Ray Markle, Carroll started M & B Enterprises and developed Princeton Estates in Grand Rapids, the first housing development in Michigan having all utilities underground. He also owned Home Sales and was a partner in BB & C Builders, both located in Spring Lake. BB & C built the Spring Lake Post Office on Exchange Street, Dogwood Meadows, Baird Pointe Farms, Wildwood Springs, Veit’s Landing, and River Run, all in Ferrysburg and Spring Lake Township.

Carroll was president of Spring Lake Businessmen’s Association in the 1960s and was elected to the Spring Lake Village Council in the same decade. He was a member of the Tri-Cities Optimist Club, which he served as president in 1954 and as state lieutenant governor the next year. He was president of the Haven Foundation, which founded Haven School, later known as the Ottawa Area Center, a school for mentally impaired adolescents and young adults. As a member of the Spring Lake Christian Reformed Church, Carroll served as Deacon and Sunday School superintendent. He and his wife also were members of the Spring Lake Country Club. Their children were David C., and Janice, who married Douglas Zuidera. Both children resided in Spring Lake. Carroll died at his home on February 2, 2000. Jeanette was born on November 18, 1920 in Milwaukee and passed away on December 31, 2009. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Born on February 3, 1841 [1840] in Jerome, The Netherlands, Cornelius was the son of John and Knelska Deint Hanns Bos, who spent their entire lives in their native country. At the age of 24, the young Bos came to Ottawa County, where he began working in a sawmill on the Grand River. Two years later, in 1867, he opened a meat market, which he sold after 20 years. In 1885, having bought a tract of 22 acres near Fulton Street in Grand Haven, he began raising celery on 13 acres. He washed and marketed from 700 to 1,000 stalks of celery per day and made large shipments to Chicago by boat. Cornelius advertised, “Orders by telephone and telegraph, promptly attended to, and Mail Orders carefully filled. Correspondence Solicited.” Another of his celery beds was on Wallace Street [Beacon Boulevard]. He became very prosperous and made large investments in real estate and owned a number of residences and other town property. Cornelius was a Republican in politics and was elected alderman of the Third Ward.

On November 12, 1873, Cornelius married Maria, the daughter of Martinus and Maria De Bruyn Van Doorne. The young Maria was born in Grand Island, New York, on January 26, 1852 and lived in Grand Haven Township for about 15 years prior to her marriage. The Bos family lived at the corner of Fulton and Fifth Streets. They were members of the Second Christian Reformed Church of Grand Haven, which Cornelius helped organize. Cornelius and Maria had six children: Cornelia, who was born in October 1874 and married William Ver Duin of Grand Haven; Mary, born in September 1876; Jennie, born in May 1878; Martha, born in July 1880; Henrietta, born in May 1882; Martin [Mortimer] [Martin], who was born in April 1884 and married Abigail Weldon, the adopted daughter of Herman and Mary Harbeck; and Marie, who was born in November 1893 and married William Poel of Grand Haven. Jennie married Gerrit Zaagman. Cornelius died in Grand Haven on July 24, 1903 and was buried at Lake Forest. His wife died April 1, 1945. She wrote two books, “Games for Elementary and Rural Schools,” and “Songs for Children.” She retired in June 1956 and was named Associate Professor Emeritus of Physical Education at Western. She was a member of Pi Lambda Theta honorary sorority, served on the Assembly Committee at Western, sponsored the Women’s League and was sponsor for the Women’s Physical Education Association. She spent summers at Camp Bryn Afon at Rhinelander, Wisconsin, supervising summer pageants and regattas and editing and writing the camp papers. She lived in the family home at 618 Sheldon with her sister Jeanette, who also taught at Grand Haven High School. Mary died of congestive heart failure on April 13, 1985 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, “Western Michigan U. Honors Mary Bottje,” May 24, 1957, and Tribune obituary, April 15, 1985.]

Sena Bottje [1866–1933]
Born in Grand Haven in 1866, the daughter of Anthony [Antoine] Bottje, Sena as a young girl clerked in her father’s store, Bottje & Sons, located at 106 Washington. She was a member of the First Reformed Church. For the last 15 years of her life she suffered paralysis and lost her ability to talk because of a stroke. She died in July 1933 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, July 31, 1933.]

Will Gay Bottje [1925-2018]
In 1928 to 1929, Sam Kimerly built a cottage at 12871 Lakeshore Drive in the Wilderness, a second home development a few miles south of Grand Haven. He used it one year, and in 1931 Kimerly sold it to the widow of William H. Gay of Grand Rapids. Around 1934 Mrs Gay hired Ed Hein, a Grand Haven carpenter and mason, to build an addition that included two bedrooms, a sunroom, and a garage, and other improvements. For instance, the roof was raised to provide more headroom and electrical wiring with metal sheathing was installed as a way of keeping mice from chewing at it. Electricity was brought in around 1937, about the same time as the telephone.

In 1980 Joyce and Will Gay Bottje made the Wilderness cottage their year-round retirement home. Born on June 30, 1925 in Grand Rapids, Will was the son of Clifford and Ann Pratt Bottje and the grandson of Gerrit
A. Bottje, who owned a hardware store in downtown Grand Haven. In 1948 Will married Joyce Thompson. After studying music in The Netherlands and France, Will received a doctorate in music at Rochester University in New York State. He taught music at the University of Mississippi and Southern Illinois in Carbondale. He became a leader in electronic music and was among the first musicians to obtain a Moog synthesizer in the United States. He was commissioned to compose an opera for the Sesquicentennial anniversary of the State of Illinois, and he wrote Sounds of the West Shore for the West Shore Symphony Orchestra in Muskegon [now West Michigan Symphony].

Arthur P. Bourns [1870-1966]

Arthur Bourns, pastor of Spring Lake Presbyterian Church from 1905 to 1910, was born in Illinois in October 1870. He married Bessie Marion Beach in Austin, Illinois on June 22, 1897. Bessie was born in Wisconsin around 1871. They had two daughters and three sons, who were born between 1898 and 1908. By 1920 they were residing in Union, Indiana. Bessie passed away in 1944. Arthur died in Cleveland, Ohio on July 17, 1966.

Jacob Bouwman [1869-1897]

Jacob Bouwman, who was born in 1869, died in Grand Haven on April 22, 1897. In the early 1900s his widow, Maggie, and their son Claud resided at 606 Elliott Street. By 1910 she was married to Thomas Ruiter, also of Grand Haven. Maggie, the daughter of William and Anje Helder, was born in November 1869 and became a nurse. Claud, who was born in August 1893, worked at American Brass Novelty Company. Jacob was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Jacob and Maggie also had a daughter, Anna, who was born in August 1894.

Carl Taylor Bowen [1890-1957]

About 1918 Carl Bowen, a graduate from the University of Iowa, was hired as engineer-manager of the Ottawa County Road Commission, less than ten years after its formation. His salary, $5,200 the first year, was increased only $300 during the next 20 years. Bowen first had worked as City Engineer for Holland and then took a position with the State Highway Department in Lansing before moving to Spring Lake. Carl retired in 1953. A bridge over Petty’s Bayou in Spring Lake Township, completed in 1947, was named in honor of Carl’s decades of service and in 2000 was designated an Historic Place in the National Register. Carl owned a 39-acre parcel east of Fruitport Road in Section 11 of Spring Lake Township. He and his family had a home on a smaller lot west of Fruitport Road, bordering on Spring Lake. On December 29, 1915 he married Edna Lucille Imhoff, who was born in Iowa on May 3, 1892 and passed away on November 14, 1987. After his death, Edna purchased a house at 110 North Buchanan in Spring Lake. The Bowens had three sons, all born locally and all of whom became engineers: Howard, born about 1917; Paul, born about 1919; and Robert, born about 1924. Carl, who was born in Chariton, Iowa on June 30, 1890, died in San Diego, California, on February 24, 1957 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, where Edna also was buried. He was a member of the Grand Haven Rotary Club, the Grand Haven Stag Club, Masons, Elks, and Spring Lake Presbyterian Church. Willard Bowen of Spring Lake was Carl’s brother.

Willard Lincoln Bowen [1905-1952]

An optometrist, Willard Bowen kept an office at 304½ Washington Street in Grand Haven, above the Addison-Pellegrum-Colson furniture store. Willard was born in Chariton, Iowa on June 9, 1905 and died on February 18, 1952. He married Helen Mae Smith on March 5, 1934. She was born on April 16, 1911. They had at least two children, Roger, who was born about 1936 and Bruce, born about 1939. The family resided at 203 East Savidge Street in Spring Lake. After her husband’s death, Helen married Robert H. Turner. She and Robert resided in the house on Savidge Street until her death on March 21, 1999. She was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Carl Bowen of Spring Lake was Willard’s brother.
Sherman H. Boyce [1832-1904]

Sherman was born in Duchess County, New York on February 19, 1832, where his father, John M. Boyce, was born in 1780. John, a farmer, was of English origin. Sherman’s mother, Hannah Schofield, was a native of Connecticut and daughter of Jacob Schofield. Sherman was the third of seven children. The only one besides Sherman still living in 1893 was Harvey, who resided in Chenango, New York. Sherman came to Michigan with his sister, Mrs. Divine, when he was 11 years old. He made his home with her in Montcalm County until he was 20. In 1852 he moved to Grand Rapids and helped clear the land where Greenville now stands and resided there until the fall of 1866, when he came to Grand Haven. He became connected with the lumber industry when he joined Carlton L. Storrs, and in 1871 he was named director of the First National Bank of Grand Haven.

In 1872 Sherman became associated with Dr. Stephen Munroe in the firm of Munroe, Boyce & Company in Spring Lake. He was a director and stockholder in the Grand Haven Furniture Company and the Globe Match Company. He was a member of the Democratic Party. In 1896 and 1897 he was alderman on the Grand Haven City Council. Socially, Sherman was a member of Grand Rapids Lodge No. 34, Free and Accepted Masons, and reached the degree of Knight Templar. He was one of the organizers of the Grand Haven Street Railway Company in 1895.

Sherman married Mary P. Holbrook in Grand Haven on April 10, 1881. The daughter of James and Althea Holbrook, she was born in Muskegon on October 16, 1858 and died about February 12, 1941. The Boyces lived at 326 Franklin Street, next door to the George McBride home at 332. Sherman died about October 22, 1904 in Grand Haven. After his death Mary lived at 1035 Washington Street. He and his wife were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa County Michigan and Tribune obituaries, August 6, 1936 and February 12, 1941.]

A mechanic by trade, Walter Boyd by 1932 had opened Boyd’s Garage at 201 Columbus Street. He was born in Fremont, Newaygo County, on November 8, 1895. Prior to opening his own garage, Walter was employed as a mechanic at Kooiman Auto Company at 217 South Seventh. By the early 1940s he was working at the Grand Haven Sewage Treatment Plant, then located at 509 Adams Street, and by the mid-1950s he was named superintendent of the city streets department. He married Nina Amelia Seelig [Seeley] in Northport, Leelanau County on June 30, 1936. Born in Northport on June 30, 1900, she died in Grand Haven on January 27, 1946. On April 2, 1947 Walter married Amy Harger in Lansing. In 1930 he resided as a boarder at 534 Fulton. After his first marriage, he and Nina lived at 442 Grant Street, where he continued to live after his marriage to Amy until they moved to 500 Marion Street. Walter passed away in Grand Haven on July 30, 1956 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Amy lived from June 24, 1906 to October 20, 1993 and was buried with her husband.

Charles Boyden I [1843-1897]

Born in Onondaga County, New York on August 3, 1843, Charles Boyden began selling Soule’s Pills in the rural areas of that state. The pills were manufactured by an uncle of Judge Benjamin Soule of Grand Haven. On August 12, 1862, Charles enlisted in the 3rd New York Cavalry, but no further military records were located. He came to Grand Haven about 1868 and purchased the Hunting Mill property, which subsequently burned down. In 1871, with Healy C. Akeley as his partner, he started the Boyden & Akeley Shingle and Sawmill on the south side of the Grand River channel between Second and Third Streets. It burnt later that year. They rebuilt the mill and it became the world’s largest shingle mill and produced the best known and most popular shingle known at that time. However, this plant, too, burned down in June 1882. In 1881 [1880] the Grand Haven Lumber Company was organized with Charles as president. He bought out all the shareholders and until 1890, when it closed, he was sole owner. It included three sawmills, one shingle mill, extensive tracts of pinelands, a logging railroad and lumberyards. He became president and treasurer of the Boyden & Wyman Lumber company at Neelyville, Missouri. He was deeply involved in the Keystone Land & Cattle company in the Dakotas, which owned over 20,000 acres of hardwood timberlands. He served from 1882 to 1883 on the Grand Haven City Council.

On August 22, 1876 Charles married Jerusha “Inkie” Mitchell, who was a teacher and cousin to Senator Mitchell of Pennsylvania. She was born in Pennsylvania on January. The Boydens had two sons, John, who was born in Michigan in September 1881 and was scheduled to take over his father’s business, and Charles II, who was born in Grand Haven on July 16, 1883. Charles and Inkie also had a daughter, Maud, who married Robert Graham Macfie of Grand Haven. Maud was born in Pennsylvania on August 19, 1868. In 1872 Charles constructed for the Thomas Stewart White family the house on the southwest corner of Lafayette and Fifth Streets in Grand Haven [301 South Fifth]. When the Whites vacated the house, the Boydens moved in. Charles in 1891 built a cottage in Highland Park named Killkare.

Charles I was injured at his mill in Neelyville, Missouri, on Saturday, February 20, 1897 and died two days later. A private train returned him to Grand Haven. The impressive Boyden mausoleum in Lake Forest Cemetery has a cap piece of granite, which probably had to be lifted into position by real horsepower. [Charles was not interred in the mausoleum until August 26, 1901.] Inkie continued to live in the family home at 301 South Fifth until her death on December 16, 1913. [Tribune article, “Common Council,” March 30, 1897, and Tribune obituaries, February 23, 1897 and August 13, 1913.]

Charles Boyden II [1883-1960]

Charles, the son of Charles and Jerusha Mitchell Boyden, was born in Grand Haven on July 16, 1883. He attended Poughkeepsie Military Academy in New York. Around 1900 Charles bought Dwight Lane’s Bookstore at 129 Washington. Charles constructed a new building at 222 Washington and moved his book business there. Before 1910 he sold the business to Jack Reichardt. On January 21, 1908 in Kalamazoo Charles married Kate, daughter of John and Lizzie Wiles of Grand Haven. Kate, who was born in March 1886, died in August 1913. Charles and Kate resided at the family home at 301 South Fifth Street, until they moved to Indianapolis between 1908 and 1910. Charles and Kate had a son, Charles Boyden III, who was born in Indianapolis around 1909. By 1920 Charles II was a mechanical engineer working and residing in Pasadena, California with his second wife, Lestella Fueser [Fusser], whom he married in Indiana on September 29, 1917. Charles III lived with them. Ten years later Charles was divorced and living in Los Angeles. He died in Los Angeles on July 17, 1960 and was buried at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Glendale, California. Lestella lived from 1890 to 1980.

James G. Boyes [Boyce] [1837-1896]

Born in New York City on June 5, 1837, James Boyes learned the blacksmithing trade. On December 4, 1863 he enlisted as private in the New York 7th Heavy Artillery, but there were no further records of his service. By 1870 he had settled in Sections 27 and 33 of Olive Township [later Port Sheldon Township]. James owned 165 acres and engaged in farming and fruit growing. He was married first to Josephine L. Jocelyn on August 2, 1863. Born in New York around 1843, Josephine died May 12, 1877. Their daughter Ann was born in Olive Township about 1871. After Josephine’s death, James married Laura A. Calkins [Calkin/Colkins] in Allegan County on November 20, 1877. Laura was born in Pennsylvania on January 13, 1849. James passed away in Pine Plains, Allegan County, on November 11, 1896.

Bernard Boyink II [1913-1976]

Born in Muskegon on May 19, 1913, Bernard Boyink moved with his family to Grand Haven when he was just six months old. His parents were Bernard “Red” and Gertrude Stang Boyink. Bernard was the first Grand Haven Community Center director, a position he held for the ten years prior to his death. Bernard also was official scorekeeper for 23 years for all basketball games at Grand Haven High School, and he was the “down marker” at home football games for over 20 years. Bernard was the area representative for West Michigan Sound Company. He was a veteran member of the Buccaneer Banquet Committee. On October 16, 1936 he married Charlotte Moll. They a son, Rick, and another son, Brent, who was born March 14, 1940 and died...
March 26, 1993. The family lived at 511 South Griffin. Bernard died on July 4, 1976 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, Community says “Thanks to Bernie,” March 18, 1976.]

Henry Gerrit Boyink [1868-1941]

Born in Grand Haven in May 1868, Henry was the son of John Albert and Sena Boyink. Henry started as a blacksmith in Spring Lake, but in 1897 moved to Grand Haven, where he opened a blacksmith shop at the corner of Seventh and Fulton Streets. Around 1922 Henry joined Jack Biehl as co-owners of Square Drug Store at 635 Fulton. Henry married Henrietta Boss in Grand Haven on August 20, 1891. They lived above the drugstore from the early 1900s into the late 1920s. Henrietta was born in The Netherlands in December 1872. A daughter, Sena J., was born in February 1892. Henry died about August 6, 1941 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

On December 8, 1890 John Boynton married Catherine Stewart in Grand Haven. At the time of their marriage, John was a physician in Spring Lake, which also was Catherine’s home. Both were born in New York. This was John’s second marriage. On May 17, 1886, he had married Naomi Haines in Livingston County, Illinois. Naomi, who was born in 1843 in Illinois, died in 1890. John was born in 1830 and passed away in Ottawa County on March 26, 1896. In 1900 Catherine was listed as a widow living in Spring Lake Township on a 120-acre parcel at the north end of the lake. In the census of that year, she was listed as a farmer. Catherine was born in 1847.

Milo Boynton, who was born in Hillsdale on June 21, 1850, studied law and by 1877 had joined his father’s office in Grand Haven. His parents were Ruel and Mary Pratt Boynton. On August 28, 1879, Milo married Emma Brigham in Grand Haven. She was born about 1858 in Ohio and died in Ottumwa, Iowa on August 2, 1933. At the time of the 1880 Federal Census, Milo continued to practice law, presumably with his father. He and Emma resided with her mother, Maria Brigham, on Franklin Street in Grand Haven. Her father, Nelson, was deceased. Milo passed away in Muskegon on September 1, 1918.

Ruel William Boynton I [1821–1927]
A native of Liberty, Maine, where he was born in December 1821, William Boynton came to Michigan in 1844 and arrived in Grand Haven in 1868 to open a law office, which he operated with his son, Milo, into the 1880s. He died about December 1, 1927 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1846 he married Mary Pratt, who was born in Niagara County, New York. She lived from May 24, 1823 to June 29, 1895 and also was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children included Henry, who was born in 1847; Milo, who was born on June 21, 1850 in Hillsdale and died in Muskegon on September 1, 1918; Esther, who was born in 1853 in Allegany County, New York; Ruel II, who was born in the same place in 1855; and Mabel, who was born in December 1858 and married Herman Harbeck of Grand Haven.

Ruel W. Boynton was a member of the first class to graduate from Grand Haven High School in 1876. He evidently used both names, Ruel W. and William Ruel. Born in Youngstown, New York [Maine] in March 1855, Ruel was the son of William and Mary Pratt Boynton, who moved from New York to Grand Haven. About 1890 Ruel married Iva Rose Reed, who was born in September 1873 in Coopersville. Her parents were Theophilus M. and Rose Adna Roath Reed of Coopersville. Ruel was Inspector at Challenge Refrigerator Company. He and Iva resided at 521 Franklin Street in Grand Haven. Iva died on August 6, 1916 and Ruel on November 30, 1927. They had three children: Jay; Roselyn “Rose,” who was born in March 1891; and Mabel, who was born in April 1893 and died in Grand Haven on July 2, 1932. Ruel, Iva, and Mabel were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Mary Boynton.

Born in Spring Lake on March 4, 1909, Albert was the son of Jacob and Jennie Braak. He was the owner and operator of Braak’s Bakeries since the 1940s. He was a member of the Second Reformed Church and, before that, the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church. He was a member of Gideons, Western Michigan Bakers Association, Tri-Cities Ministries Forum, and the Spring Lake Business and Professional Association. Braak served on the North Ottawa Council on Aging, delivered Meals on Wheels, volunteered for the Red Cross Blood Bank, was involved in Boy Scouting, and belonged to the Chamber of Commerce and Y.M.C.A.

On June 17, 1931 Albert married Kathryn Ruiter, who was born December 27, 1910 and died in Florida on January 31, 1976. Their children were Joyce, who married Roy Overway; Ronald, whose wife’s name was Dorah; and Jack, who, with his wife, Judy, moved to Doylestown, Pennsylvania. On July 17, 1982 Albert married Katherine De Young. He died December 22, 1985 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 23, 1985.]

Arnold Braak was born in Spring Lake on October 2, 1906. He and his brother, Reynard Braak, ran the family bakery in Spring Lake after their father’s death in 1949. They were the sons of Jacob and Jennie Reenders Braak, the founder of the bakery.

In 1934 Arnold married Louise Caroline Augusta, the oldest child of Mary and August Ellingen of Grand Haven. Louise was born in 1912. Arnold and Louise owned and operated Braak’s Bakery in Spring Lake for many years, and then managed Christian Haven Nursing Home, where Louise continued to work until retiring in 1978. Arnold died in July 1970, and 15 years later Louise married Raymond Streeting of Muskegon. Raymond died in 1995. Louise was a member of the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church, where she served as an elder, deacon, Sunday school teacher, and participated in the Women’s Association and scouting program. One of her four children, Charles, died in 1997. The others were Richard, of Chico, California, Larry, and Mary Nash. Louise died on January 19, 1999.

Jacob Braak was born in Friesland, The Netherlands, on June 19, 1882, and became a baker’s apprentice there. He came to America in 1899. After a brief stay in Grand Rapids, he bought a bakery in Chicago on June 1, 1901, when he was only 18. He returned to The Netherlands to fulfill his military obligation but was excused from service. On his way back to Chicago, he visited a friend from the old country, John Ver Kuyl of Grand Haven. Ver Kuyl, who was born in The Netherlands in 1849, happened to need a baker at the time of Jacob’s visit. Jacob sold his Chicago bakery in February 1902 and went to work for his friend. After two unsuccessful starts in Grand Haven, in June 1903 he started the Spring Lake Bakery, located in the Reender’s Building at 110 West Savidge. Jacob worked in the bakery by day and at the Holland Honey Cake Company in the city of Holland at night, until he got his bakery business established, rechristened as Braak’s Bakery. In 1926 Jacob opened another store, this one in Centertown Grand Haven [707 Washington]. He retired in October 1941 and turned the business over to his sons. They opened a store in downtown Grand Haven [308 Washington] in 1953, started another one in Fruitport in 1958, and opened a store at 940 Robbins Road in 1965. They sold the business in 1990. Jacob originated the secret recipe for his famous “Town Talk” cookies that he preferred to cut by hand. He was active in the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church and in the Boy Scouts.

On March 2, 1904 in Ottawa County, Jacob married Jennie Reenders. Jennie, born in March 1877, was a clerk in Ver Kuyl’s shop at the same time her husband worked there. She was the daughter of Reender and Martje Brongersma Reenders of Spring Lake. Jacob and Jennie had eight children, all born in Michigan: Sidney, born in 1904; Arnold R., born in 1906; Martha L., born about 1906; Albert, born in 1909; Christine, born about 1912; Reynard, born in 1914; Ida, who was born October 23, 1915, married Ray Streeting of Muskegon, and died on February 18, 1984; and Lola, who married Elsbert Cummins of Ferrysburg. The Braaks built and lived in the house at 212 Prospect. Jennie died on December 30, 1944. Jacob was married a second time, on January 19, 1949, to Mrs. Leonora Johnson of Ferrysburg. He died on January 25, 1950, five years after his first wife, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune article “Jacob Braak, Bakery Pioneer is Taken,” January 26, 1950 and Citizens Historical Association, October 11, 1941.]

Reynard E. “Ray” Braak [1914-1999]

Reynard Braak was born in Spring Lake on July 13, 1914 and graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1934. He and his brother, Arnold, ran the family bakery in Spring Lake after their father’s death in 1949. They were the sons of Jacob and Jennie Reenders Braak, the founder of the bakery. Reynard was a member of the Spring Lake Baptist Church, where he served as a deacon and elder. Braak was the first Boy Scout in Spring Lake to receive the Eagle Scout Award with Troop 14. Reynard and his wife, Margaret D. Rank, were married on February 14, [September 29], 1937. Margaret was born about 1916 and died in Grand Haven on June 23, 1903. Their children were a daughter, Daneen Braak, who lived in Three Rivers, St. Joseph County, and a son, James, who moved to Grand Rapids. Reynard died in Spring Lake on February 14, 1999. Margaret died on June 23, 2003. The daughter of August and Elsie Burnhouse Rank, Margaret was born in Grand Haven on February 1, 1916. [Tribune obituary, January 30, 2003.]

Born in 1815, Thomas Brady came to Ottawa County from Goederich, Ontario, Canada in 1857 and continued farming. In 1845 in Goederich he married Bridget Morisy, who was born in January 1830 [1823] in Ireland and migrated to Canada at age one. Not long after the Bradys’ arrival in Spring Lake, Thomas was hired as foreman to supervise construction of the Detroit & Milwaukee Railroad, being extended from Grand Rapids to Grand Haven at that time. At the same time, Bridget managed a boarding house at the northeast corner of Exchange and Division Streets, later known as the Sinclair House and the Rideout House. After completion of the railroad, Thomas was hired as watchman for Hunter Savidge. Eventually the Bradys were able to buy acreage on 144th Avenue in Spring Lake Township, where they built a house and started a farm.
The Bradys were members of the Catholic Church of Spring Lake. They had nine surviving children: Ann, who was born in 1846 and married Michael Shoemaker of Spring Lake; James H. of Spring Lake, who lived from March 1864 [1865] to 1929; Mary, who was born in 1867 and married Anthony Quinton of Crockery Township; Julia, who lived from 1868 to 1942, taught school in Crockery Township, and was principal at Agnew School when she retired; Michael and Mrs. Duane Campbell, both of Manistee; Thomas, who was born in 1870 and settled in Traverse City; John [Joseph] who in 1882 worked for White, Friant & Company Lumber Mill in Nortonville; and Margaret “Maggie,” who was born in August 1874 and married John Walsh of Berlin [Marne]. John apparently died prior to his mother in 1909. Thomas died July 3, 1883, and his wife passed away on July 14, 1909. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, July 16, 1909.]

William Henry Brady I [1829-1902]

Born in Canada in August 1829, William Brady and his wife, Emma [Alice Emma, Amy], settled in Robinson Township about 1866. Emma, also a native of Canada, was born in May 1840. Their children were William II, born in Canada in July 1859; John A., born in November 1863 in Canada; and a foster son, George A. Hitsman, born on October 1, 1873 in Michigan. George remained in Robinson Township. William I and his son John took over Oliver Whitney’s general store in Robinson Village in the 1890s. Around the same time William I owned an 80-acre in Section 14 of Robinson and John had a 40-acre farm in Section 15. John eventually moved to Cheboygan, Cheboygan County. William I died in Robinson Township on March 20, 1902. Emma passed away in Cheboygan on December 18, 1921. She and William were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery.

William Henry Brady II [1859-1930]

William, the son of William and Emma Brady, was born in Canada in July 1859 and came with his family to the Grand Haven area when he was seven years old. He lived for many years in Robinson Township with his parents and then started out on his own as a farmer on 40 acres in Section 16. Around 1920 he moved to Grand Haven and was employed as a laborer. He resided at 525 Elliott Street. William died around February 20, 1930, when he fell off a city truck and on to the newly laid pavement of Harbor Drive. On April 2, 1889 he married Mariah, the daughter of Andrew Logan of Robinson Township. The Bradys’ children, all born locally, included Owen, born in February 1892; Lafayette, born in June 1894; Nancy T., who was born in April 1897 and married Henry Borchers of Detroit; and William III, born about 1901. William III and Lafayette moved to Grand Haven. William II was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. Mariah was born in Michigan in November 1867 and died in Robinson Township in 1955. Helen Lucretia Brayton [1839-1898]

See Helen Lucretia Brayton Macalister.

James Pease Brayton [1847-1912] and Emma Sanford Brayton [1849-1935]

James was the son of Jasper [James] Colgrove and Julia Ann Barnard Brayton. Jasper was born in 1814 and died on September 2, 1892. Julia was born about 1816 in New York. Jasper and Julia were married in Monroe County on September 30, 1838. Their son James was born in Aztlan, Wisconsin, on November 23, 1847. His father bought 240 acres in that state between 1840 and 1848. Jasper and Julia returned to Michigan when their son was 15 years old and eventually settled in Grand Haven. The father was a civil engineer and surveyor, and for some years he was the surveyor for Ottawa County. One of his charts was reproduced on page 317 of Lillie’s Historic Grand Haven. James went to Appalachicola, Florida, in 1877, where he continued in the lumber business he had started in Ludington with T. R. Lyons. James opened an office in Chicago but returned to Grand Haven in 1899.

In 1873, Second Street was extended south and west from Clinton Street to the bluff overlooking Lake Michigan and named Lake Avenue. On November 15, 1871, James married Mary Samantha “Minnie” in Grand Haven. She was the daughter of Clark and Samantha Taylor Albee, bought a piece of land near Lake Michigan for $495. The year after their wedding, the Braytons built a cottage at the west end of Lake Avenue on land they had purchased for $495. They named it Khardomah, which, according to legend, either was a Native American word meaning Happy Home or the name of a local Indian chief. The Braytons and their daughters, Louise, born in 1874, and Mary, born in 1878, enjoyed their summer residence for many years. James was a member of the original Grand Haven Concert Band, formed in 1868, and he was a Mason. Minnie, who was born about 1852 in Michigan, died in Apalachicola, Florida on August 1, 1880.

On January 24, 1884, James married Emma Maretta Sanford of Grand Haven. The daughter of Isaac and Mary Stanton Sanford, Emma was born in Akron, Ohio on August 6, 1849. Emma was about 10 when her family moved from Akron to Grand Haven. By 1900 James and Emma had moved to Grand Rapids permanently. He died on January 25, 1912 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids Township. Emma in 1907 delivered to the Grand Haven Woman’s Club a paper titled “Early Days in Grand Haven,” a personal memoir of her youth. She sold the Khardomah cottage for $2,000 on January 10, 1919 to Susan Hill Yerkes, who was head mistress at Akeley Academy for Girls. Emma died on October 28, 1935 in Grand Rapids and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 30, 1935.]

Charles Landon Breckon [Brecken] [1858-1936]

A second area newspaper named Grand Haven News was established by Charles Breckon in November 1894. It appeared weekly until July of the next year, when the Daily News was formed. Both newspapers leaned toward Republican policies. On May 5, 1880 in Muscatine, Iowa, he married Mary Elizabeth Cunningham, who subsequently worked with him. Mary was born in Muscatine about 1859. They had at least three children: Annie M. born in Muscatine, Iowa about 1881, Mabel L, who was born in Chicago on April 11, 1884 and died in Dallas, Texas on August 9, 1947, and Charles Harry, born in Chicago on January 6, 1890. Charles the father had spent 12 years with the Chicago Herald before coming to Grand Haven. He returned to Chicago, and in 1903 was an unsuccessful candidate for mayor of the city, running on the Socialist ticket. The next year Charles was state representative to the Socialist Party Convention. He was born on September 16, 1858 in Illinois, and passed away in Dallas, Texas on February 6, 1936.

Louis [Lutje] Bredehoft [Bredehoeft] II [1840-1928]

Louis Bredehoft was born in Hannover, Germany, on July 15, 1840. His parents were Lutje and Anna Margaretha Ehlers Bredehoft of Hannover. Louis II came to Grand Haven in 1866 [1867] as a mill worker. On November 15, 1869, he and Metha [Metta] “Martha” Lutze were married in Grand Haven. She was born in Germany in October 1845, died in Grand Haven Township on November 17, 1885, and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Their children, all born in Grand Haven Township, were Louis III, born in November 1871; Annie, born on May 8, 1872; Hendrick, born on July 18, 1874; Catherine, born on August 24, 1876; Frederick Martin, born on June 14, 1878; John Theodore, who was born on December 17, 1880, married Matilda Pearl Puglsey on November 7, 1906, and died in Coopersville on December 14, 1967; Carl William, born on June 24, 1883; and an unnamed child, who was born on November 17, 1885 and died as an infant. After Martha’s death, Louis married Augusta F. Lueke in Ottawa County on December 29, 1887. Augusta, a native of Posen, Germany, was born April 29, 1855. Her parents were Ludwig and Rosalie Lueke. Louis and Augusta had several children: Franklin, born in November 1889; Albert, born in November 1891; Lorenz, born in April 1893; and Charles, born in December 1898.

Between 1876 and 1897 Louis purchased 40 acres of farmland at 13699 Lakeshore Drive, an open, flat, sandy area just south of Rosy Mound in Grand Haven Township. In 1874 Louis took ownership of 90 acres of Lake Michigan frontage in Sections 8 and 17, which he sold in early 1920 to Alvin and Carlotta Ewing.

Louis and Augusta had four sons, all born in Grand Haven Township: Franklin Louis II, born November 7, 1888, died in Woodland, California on September 6, 1965, and was buried at Inglewood Park Cemetery, Inglewood, California; Albert Theodore, born on November 2, 1890 and died on July 18, 1968; Lawrence Arthur, born April 20, 1893 and died in Missouri in June 1973; and Carl, born December 12, 1897 and died February 28, 1932. Lawrence served in the military during WWI and was injured by gunshot wounds in both legs. Louis died August 15, 1928 and Augusta died in Grand Rapids on November 2, 1945. Both were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.

Louis Bredehoft III [1888-1965]

The son of Louis and Augusta Lueke Bredehoft, Louis III was born in Grand Haven Township on November 7, 1888. He was farming at 16865 Lincoln Street by 1912 on 40 acres of land, previously owned by one of the Behms. Louis later bought from Henry Bierman an adjacent 40 acres to the north. He married Louise, a daughter of Henry Bierman. One of Louis’s sons, Harold, was born on January 16, 1914 and died October 25, 1978. Harold and his family occupied the property on Lincoln Street. The Bredehoft farmhouse on Lincoln Street, with barns and sheds intact, was still occupied in 2002 by Harold’s daughter, Mary Jane Bredehoft Pyle. Louis and Louise also had a daughter, Martha, born about 1911.

Lawrence Breitels I [1869-1942]

Lawrence Breitels was born in Chicago on October 20, 1869, died on August 21, 1942, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On December 25, 1895 in Grand Haven, he married Matilda, the daughter of Gustave and Augusta Hubert of Grand Haven. She lived from June 1875 to about December 28, 1933 and also was buried at Lake Forest. With Nels Fisher, Lawrence owned the Grand Haven Coal & Dock Company at 117 South Harbor. It carried coal, fuel oil, and a “COMPLETE LINE OF BUILDERS’ SUPPLIES.” A son, Arnold, was born on July 29, 1897 and died shortly after birth. Another son, Louis II, was born on May 4, 1899. A third son, Richard A., was born in 1901 and married Pearl R. Swiftney in Grand Haven on May 1, 1919. Richard was organist at the Robin Hood Theater. The family resided at 331 Elliott.

Louis, the son of Lawrence and Matilda Breitels, was born in Grand Haven on May 4, 1899. As a young man, Louis worked at Keller Tool Company and later he was employed by Nathaniel Robbins. In 1936 with Nelson Fisher as his partner, he took over his father’s business, Grand Haven Coal & Dock at 117 South Harbor Drive. Louis served as Grand Haven alderman from 1947 to 1953. On September 15, 1920 in Grand Haven, Louis married Harriet, the daughter of John and Dena Fisher of Grand Haven. Harriet was born on February 8, 1899 and died in Grand Haven on June 10, 1990. A daughter, Gwendolyn, was born about 1922. Another daughter, Sylvia Maxine, was born in Grand Haven on June 8, 1923. She married Leslie Vink on December 10, 1943. He died on May 10, 2003, and Sylvia passed away in Grand Haven on March 23, 2011. They also had a son, Louis F., who was born about 1927 and became assistant manager of the family business. Louis I died in Grand Haven on September 3, 1983. He and Harriet were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Breitels family resided at 214 North Fourth Street and later at 704 Pennoyer. [Tribune obituary, March 28, 2011.]

John Brems [Breems] [1835-@1924]

Born in Germany in May 1835, John Brems immigrated to Bloomfield, Illinois in 1852 and then moved to Robinson Township, where by 1900 he owned a farm. By 1918 the farm had grown to 600 acres, with additional acreage in Sections 10, 22, 23, and 26, as well as within the Village of Robinson. On August 15, 1862, John enlisted as private in Company L of the 105th Illinois Infantry. Two years later he was transferred to the 1st U.S. Engineers. His date of discharge was not recorded. His wife, Willamena [Wilhelmine], applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on November 13, 1924, presumably not long after her husband’s death. Willamena was born in April 1847, also in Germany, and came to the United States in 1862. Their children, all born in Illinois, were Charles H., born in May 1876; Arthur, born in October 1880; Emma, born in April 1883; and William, born in May 1888.

Deane Rockhold Brengle II [1928-2000]

Deane was born on March 8, 1928, in Highland Park, Wayne County, the son of Deane R. and Hazel McClay Brengle. On February 3, 1951 in Dearborn, Wayne County, he married Irene Winifred Rodgerson in Dearborn. She was born in Windsor, Canada, on November 6, 1928. Deane II served in the 43rd Infantry from October 26, 1950 and October 11, 1952, during the Korean War. He moved to the Grand Haven area from Princeton, New Jersey, about 1983. In Grand Haven he was Chairman of the Board of Brengle Companies with an office at 203 Washington Street. He was co-owner of the Dee Lite and Thymes Three Restaurants in Grand Haven, Health Hutts in Grand Haven and Muskegon, and Mail Boxes Etc., also in Grand Haven. He was a member of the Grand Haven Zoning Board of Appeals, the Grand Haven Central Business Downtown Development Association, Ducks Unlimited, and the National Rifle Association. He resided at 23 Sherman Avenue. Deane’s children, all residents of Michigan, were Martha Bultema of Lowell, Deane R., of Belding; and Gary of Sand Lake. Deane died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound on September 24, 2000.

Harold [1920-2010] and Bernice Bender Bretschneider [1925-2003]

He arrived in Michigan in 1865. He was married twice, first to Adelina [Adeline] Kelly, who was born in Ontario, Canada about 1834, and died in 1872, and then to Ida [Muda] Farnum Rich on September 8, 1875. Ida, who was born about 1841 in Indiana [1843 in New York], died in 1888. William and Adelina had two sons: William Brough II, who was born in Ontario and lived from 1856 to 1902, and Thomas Brough, who died in 1869 at the age of four. They also had two daughters, Emma Brough, who was born in New York about 1864 and died in 1882, and Maud Brough, who was born in Michigan in July 1869. William moved to Grand Rapids. He died in 1907 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Kent County with his two wives and three of his children.

Charles W. Brouwer [? - ?]

Charles Brouwer, who owned a 40-acre farm in Section 33 of Olive Township, settled in the area in 1889. His wife’s name was Nellie. They were still farming in 1918.

Hendrik Henry Brouwer [1815-1888] and Klaas Brouwer [Brower] [1839-1917]

There were two Brouwer brothers and “one could hardly have a picture of one without the other,” a friend wrote. Both were born in Overijssel, The Netherlands, Hendrik on March 13, 1825, and Klaas 14 years later, on February 25. Their father, Roelof Brouwer, lived from 1847 to 1917, and their mother, Gertje, was born in 1851 and died in 1925. The brothers, who arrived in Grand Haven in 1856, owned H. Brouwer & Bro., a store at the corner of Washington and First Streets during and after the Civil War. They carried a large inventory of groceries, dry goods, boots, shoes, and clothing needed by the mill workers. They set up a windmill in the backyard of the store and rigged a gristmill to grind feed to sell for family pets and livestock. The brothers also helped organize the Second Reformed Church in Grand Haven in November 1871. They built a two-story home on Washington Street in 1876. Henry was the inside man, paler and more delicate looking than Klaas, and he did the bookwork. Klaas was ruddier in appearance, looked stronger and more robust, and he did the more active work.

Henry married Aaltje “Ellen” Bolt on May 30, 1852. They had at least two children, both born in Michigan: Jennie Brouwer, born about 1856, and Christiana Brouwer, who was born on July 5, 1858 and died on December 21, 1860. Ellen was born in The Netherlands on July 9, 1834, died in Grand Rapids on July 2, 1881, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Henry died in Grand Rapids on November 1, 1888.

Klaas’s first wife, Maria, was born on September 18, 1844, died on January 17, 1863, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other Brouwers. Klaas then married Jerchje “Jane” Van Dam on November 26, 1863 in Grand Haven. She was born in The Netherlands in 1845 and died about March 23, 1899. Klaas and Jane had at least two children, both born locally: John, born about 1865, and Maria J., born about March 1870. Klaas moved to Chicago, but died in an auto accident in Los Angeles, California on January 14, 1917.

Ruth Brouwer [Brower, Brower] [1847-1917]

In the 1890s Ruth Brouwer owned a boot and shoe store in Grand Haven. He and his wife, Gertrude, lived at 408 Lafayette Street. Ruth was born in Louisiana in September 1847 [1848] and died in 1917. After his death Gertrude and their daughter, Eleanor Brouwer, resided at 318 Fifth Street. Eleanor was born in July 1894. A son, Stephen, was born in September 1876, and a daughter, Gertrude Brouwer, was born in February 1881. The children were all born locally. Gertrude, the mother, a native of The Netherlands, lived from September 1851 to 1925. Both Ruth and Gertrude were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Archibald Brown [1823–1888]

A native of Ayrshire, Scotland, where he was born on January 26, 1823, Archibald Brown came to America in 1854. In 1866 he left Detroit and moved to Grand Haven, where he opened a blacksmith business. The next year he and Frank Spence started a company known as the Iron Works on the northwest corner of First and Elliott Streets [Lot 85]. They sold the business in 1871 to James Lewis, Otto Gronberg, and John Bryce. Archibald died on December 7, 1888 in Rhinelander, Wisconsin, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife Harriet also a native of Ayrshire, was born on September 25, 1819. She died in Grand Haven on February 16, 1886 and was buried at Lake Forest.

Charles B. Brown [1893-1929]

Charles Brown was first mate aboard the Andaste when it went down 14 miles off Holland on September 9, 1929. Born on June 20, 1893 in Grand Haven, Charles joined the 57th Engineers as private and served during WWI. At that time, his home address was in Nunica. On December 6, 1921 in Grand Rapids, he married Sarah “Sadie” Sherwood Swanson. She was born in Michigan in January 1890. On February 6, 1907 in Nunica, Sarah had married Earl L. Flanders, and on September 23, 1908 she married August Swanson, again in Nunica. Charles and Sarah lived at 417 Elliott Street in Grand Haven in the mid-1920s, but after her husband’s death she moved to 1121 Columbus. Living with her then were two children, Russell E. Swanson, who was born on April 20, 1911 and died in Crockery Township on September 7, 1985, and August R. Swanson, who was born on September 20, 1913 and died in Muskegon in January 1967. Both children were born locally. Charles was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Cyril P. Brown [1844-1917]

Born on November 22, 1844 at Medina, Lenawee County, Cyril was the son of Dr. David and Harriet Peck Brown. The father, a native of Massachusetts and one of Michigan’s early physicians, lived from October 9, 1819 to August 22, 1857. Cyril’s mother, Harriet, was born on June 24, 1825. She and David were married on April 4, 1843. Of their three sons and one daughter, Cyril was the eldest. Another son was Fred D., a Grand Haven photographer. After Dr. David Brown died, his widow and three of her surviving children moved to Hudson, not far from Medina. Cyril wrote in his memoirs that the first great grief of his young life was the death of this good father and beloved physician. At 16 he entered the freshman class at Hillsdale College. In August 1862, without the consent of his mother, he enlisted as private in Company F, 4th Michigan Infantry, and was assigned to duty with the Army of the Potomac. Two weeks after enlistment in September he reached the front just after the battle of Antietam and, although he was an infantryman, he was detached from his regiment to serve in the field hospital. He stayed with the Medical Department through Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, and Gettysburg, always at the front in the field hospitals. The entry in his diary for July 4, 1863, the day after the close of the Battle of Gettysburg, read, “At the Corps hospital attending the wants of the wounded. Their suffering [is] indescribable. Many have not had their wounds dressed. Rained all the afternoon, many of the wounded were without shelter.” About a week after the Battle of Gettysburg he and another young man were given horses in order to catch up with their regiment, part of the Army of the Potomac, which had gone in pursuit of Lee. After riding for three days they caught up with the regiment to find that it had dwindled down to about 20. He was proud to represent the Blue and Gray on the 50th anniversary of that great battle. He was discharged from the army for disability on January 9, 1864.

In 1865 Cyril resumed his studies at Hillsdale and graduated with honors in June 1868. In October he entered Rush Medical College in Chicago and received his degree of Doctor of Medicine in February 1870. In March of that year he opened an office in Hudson. He wrote: “I unfurled my banner to the breeze, opening my doors to the public and at least by looks and manners, advertised to the good people to take notice that Dr. C. P. Brown, of Rush, was on deck, but they failed to walk the plank, not knowing a good thing when they saw it.” In 1871 he moved to Spring Lake with $2 cash. In July 1872 he received an appointment as medical director from the Spring Lake Mineral Spring Company, which he stated was a godsend, and in 1881 he was named Village Health Officer. The Spring Lake Clinker Boat Company was organized in 1887, with Dr. Brown as president. For six years he was president of the United States Pension Board at Muskegon, and in 1888 he was named delegate to the National Convention which nominated Benjamin Harrison. He was a fellow of the American Medical Association, this honor coming to him around 1910 or 1912. He was also a member of the Ottawa County Medical Society and organized the Grand Haven and Spring Lake Medical Society. He was a Republican and belonged to the Baptist Church and Masons. Of himself he said, “I drive a car, practice medicine, cuss a little, smoke anything from a pipe to a cigarette, and have been known to hit a cold bottle.” Brown was one of the first in Spring Lake to buy an automobile, a Sears Roebuck model.

On March 30, 1869 Cyril married Clara J. Ames of Hudson, who was born on January 14, 1852. They resided at 223 East Savidge in a home they had built. Their only son, Dana, was born in 1871. Clara was a fine musician and very interested in young people. She enjoyed working with them and their home was the scene of many social gatherings. Dana, who was involved with the Spring Lake Boat Company, died in 1897. The shock was more than Clara could overcome, and she died on October 26 the next year. On June 11, 1901 Dr. Brown married Jennie, daughter of John Watt and Ann Johnston, of Ferrysburg. Brown died May 4, 1917 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Portraits and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, p. 423.]

Dana Brown [1871-1897]

Born in 1871, Dana was the only child of Dr. Cyril and Clara J. Ames Brown of Spring Lake. He was an energetic and enterprising young man with a bright future before him. The Spring Lake Clinker Boat Company was organized in 1887, with Dana Brown as secretary and treasurer. He also worked as a carpenter. Dana died July 9, 1897 “after a critical operation for a stricture of the intestines” and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Portraits and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, page 423, Tribune obituaries, July 10, 1897 and July 14, 1897.]

Elwyn “Win” Barnard Brown [1885-1975]

Born in South Dakota on December 30, 1885, Elwyn was the son of M. Alvanz and Phoebe Barnard Brown of Cooperstown, New York. His father lived from 1836 to 1919, and his mother from 1848 to 1913. Nathaniel Brown, a Grand Haven photographer, was Win’s brother. Win worked as a machinist at Peerless Novelty in Grand Haven. In 1912 he held title to a 24-acre farm in Section 22 of Crockery Township. By 1930 the farm consisted of 21.5 acres. On January 19, 1915 he married Alma Alice Coomer in Grand Rapids. Shortly after their marriage they resided at 22 Washington. Alice was born in Ohio about 1890. They had two children, both born locally, Robert E., born about 1916; Margaret E., born about 1917; Betty J., born about 1919; Dorothy A., born about 1922; Phoebe J., born about 1925; and Frank E., born about 1927. The family later lived at 1127 Franklin and then 1327 Pennoyer. Win died in Grand Haven on January 25, 1975.

Floyd Brown [1914-1952]

Floyd Brown was electrocuted when he accidentally picked up a live 2,400-volt wire at 116 Sherman Street following a storm that struck the ‘Tri-Cities on July 23, 1952. He was a six-year employee of the Grand Haven Board of Power and Light. Floyd was born in Davis Junction, Illinois, on September 6, 1914 and by 1930 was a resident of Coopersville. A twin brother, Lloyd, was principal at Peach Plains School. Floyd’s wife, Ruth, lived from February 16, 1912 to May 28, 1981. She was residing in Coopersville at the time of her death.

Fred David Brown [1856-1931]

Fred, the son of Dr. David and Harriet Peck Brown and a brother of Dr. Cyril P. Brown, was born on June 15, 1856 in Hudson, Lenawee County. An advertisement in the 1893 Compendium advised readers, “Do not let traveling picture agents gull you any longer, but go to Brown’s, Spring Lake, Michigan, for fine photo work of all kinds. Headquarters for copying and enlarging. All work guaranteed.” The next year, with Warren L. Tenny as partner, he opened a photography studio in Grand Haven. On November 6, 1883 in Spring Lake, Fred married Frances, the daughter of Hannibal and Emma Hopkins of Spring Lake. Fanny was born in 1860, died in 1899, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. On September 26, 1923 in Hudson, Fred married Jennie M. Dean Loister. He died in 1931 and was buried at Maple Grove Cemetery in Hudson.

Born in Coopersville on October 10, 1856, Fremont was the son of Joseph and Susan Lawton Brown. The Brown family moved to Nunica in November 1883 and operated a gristmill under the name Nunica Roller Mills, Joseph Brown & Son proprietors. He married Della Wright in Crockery Township on September 26, 1880. The daughter of John and Nancy Wright of Crockery Township, she died on November 3, 1888 at the age of 28. Fremont and Della had at least one daughter, Lulu, born in June 1882. On September 25, 1890 in Nunica, Fremont married Emma Jubb. The daughter of Orange and Lucinda Bartholomew Jubb, Emma was born in Michigan in September 1872. Their children were Ray D., born in February 1892; Rollo, born in December 1893; Alden, born in October 1895; Laura, born in June 1898; and another son, born in October 1899. Fremont passed away in 1922. Both were buried at Nunica Cemetery.

John M. H. Brown [1844-1908]

At the age of 21 John Brown came to Grand Haven from New Brunswick, Canada, where he was born on March 4, 1847. His wife, Ann [Mary Ann, Anna], also a native of New Brunswick, was born the same year as John. Their daughter Caroline “Carrie” was born in Grand Haven in 1876. In 1880 the family of three was located in Stanton, Montcalm County. John was working as a carpenter. Ann died on December 9, 1894 in Muskegon. Carrie, on April 6, 1897 in Norton Township, married George R. Pitt [Pett]. George died three years later, on July 9, and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon County. On September 1, 1915, Carrie married Charles D. McKenzie in Muskegon Heights. John, on August 12, 1896, married Ida Earl Kinney in Norton Township. He died on October 29, 1908 in Norton Township and also was buried at Oakwood Cemetery. Ida passed away in Des Moines, Iowa on August 4, 1932.

Joseph T. Brown I [1825-1908]

Joseph Brown was born in Massachusetts on August 27, 1825. He arrived in Michigan at the age of 25 and bought land in the Coopersville area. On December 28, 1852, in Polkton Township, Joseph married Susan A. Lawton. Susan, the daughter of Henry and Elizabeth Newton Lawton, came with her parents from Pitcairn, St. Lawrence County, New York, where she was born on February 13, 1837. On May 13, 1861 Joseph went to Grand Rapids to enlist as corporal in Company I of the 3rd Michigan Infantry. On August 29, 1862 he was wounded at the Second Battle of Bull Run, where he was shot in the thigh and left for dead. He was discharged as a result of his wound. On August 25 the next year Joseph returned to Coopersville in 1864 and was appointed postmaster three years later. He held that office for ten years, and also was township clerk for 16 years. Joseph moved to Nunica in November 1883, and with his son, Fremont, built a gristmill that operated under the name “Nunica Roller Mills, Joseph Brown & Son proprietors.” Fremont, one of seven children, was born on October 10, 1856. Another son, Joseph II, was born August 1876. Joseph I died June 17, 1908 and was buried at Coopersville Cemetery. Susan passed away on May 5, 1913, in Nunica.

Born in Oswego, New York on October 6, 1866, Nathaniel was the son of M. Alvanz and Phoebe Brown of Cooperstown. Nat’s father, a carpenter, lived from 1836 to 1919, and his mother from 1848 to 1913. Nat was living with them at 1012 Washington Street in 1910. Other members of the family were Frank S. Brown; Elwyn [Win] Barnard Brown; Mrs. W. H. Babcock of Grand Rapids, and V. A. Brown of Minneapolis. Nathaniel came to Grand Haven about 1905 after being a backwoods guide in Minnesota for some 12 years. [The 1900 Federal Census listed Nat as a paperhanger, living and working in Atkin County, Minnesota.] He was an inventor and a photographer with studios first located at 5 Washington and then at 22 Washington Street, later the site of the Grand Theater. He claimed to be the first to get “bird’s eyes views” by attaching his camera to a kite, and he was granted a patent for it. He devised a propeller-powered sled and a propeller-driven motorboat. Many of his early shots were made into postcards, which still are in circulation. He also came up with the idea of putting signatures on film, and he sold “Life Motion Photographs,” in which the image moved as the viewer moved his head “to and fro,” as the instructions put it. He was a hunter and trapper and devised a toboggan to travel over rough areas for use in the north country. At one time Nat was in contact with Commander Robert E. Byrd to furnish a toboggan for one of the explorer’s Arctic trips. Nat also invented a gyroplane and received a patent for it in 1912. In 1916, at a cost of $100, he built and operated a three-wheeled automobile. An announcement said the car could speed up to 50 miles per hour, and that Nat “could turn a corner almost at right angles and can thread any thoroughfare with ease.”

Nat’s wife Martha died February 1, 1919, and he may have married again in August 1930. In 1920 Nat resided by himself at 22 Franklin, and ten years later he was living alone on Potawatomi Bayou in Section 2 of Grand Haven Township [Potawatomi Lake Resort]. He was accused and convicted of blowing up his former home on the bayou with dynamite in September 1931, as a protest over a real estate deal with Nicholas De Witt that went bad. Nat was released from prison for good behavior on August 27, 1933. He died on December 27, 1938 at the home of his brother, Elwyn Brown, who lived at 1327 Pennoyer Avenue, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His death certificate lists Abby as his wife’s name. [Tribune obituary, December 27, 1938.]

Peter Brown [De Bruyn] [1885-1944]

Peter Brown and his family resided at 311 North Third Street in Grand Haven from as early as 1914 to his death in 1944. He was born in Michigan on August 4, 1885 and worked as a carpenter for the Grand Trunk Railway and for the Vyn Company. He married Emma De Bruyn, who was born in Michigan on August 2, 1884. They had three children, Harley, who was born in Illinois about 1909 and moved to St. Johns, Clinton County; Roland, who was born in Michigan about 1913 and resided in Spring Lake; and Katherine, who was born in Michigan about 1916 and married Joseph Domanski. Peter died in Grand Haven on November 15, 1944 and was interred at Lake Forest Cemetery. Emma passed away in Grand Haven May 26, 1972.

Friedrich J. Bruhn [1852-1926]

By 1900 Fred Bruhn owned an 80-acre farm in Section 22 of Grand Haven Township [11250 168th Avenue]. He was born in Germany on April 10, 1852 and his wife, Augusta, was born in Germany in June 1858. Their children, all born in Illinois except the last one, included Max, born in June 1886; George, born in June 1887; Walther, born in March 1890; Alma, born in September 1891; Emma, born in August 1895; and Leonhart [Leonard] Emil, born in Grand Haven in December 1899. Friedrich passed away on July 11, 1926 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Etienne Brulé [1592-1633]

A Frenchman by birth, Etienne Brulé lived with the Huron Indians on Georgian Bay for many years, learning their language and customs. Etienne traveled through Michigan waters and is credited with being the first European to see what would become the State of Michigan, perhaps as early as 1629, and he may have set foot on the land, although there is no proof of that [Lillie, p. 26]. Étienne lived from approximately 1592 to June 1633.

Weldon George Brumels [Brummels, Brummel] [1926-2012]

Weldon Brumels of Grand Rapids purchased Prospect Point Hotel in 1968. He planned to tear it down, but fire destroyed the hotel on June 10, 1971, saving him the task. In the 1980s a condominium was built on the site. He next developed Sheldon Dunes Subdivision in Port Sheldon Township. Weldon was born in Grand Rapids on December 1, 1926. Weldon served with the U.S. Air Force during WWII. On May 19, 1949 he married Marilyn Joyce Trapp. Weldon died on April 7, 2012, and Marilyn passed away on April 18, 2016 in Grand Rapids. The couple had three children: Craig, Jack, and Sally, who married Bill Weller.

James N. Brummel [1938-2002]

A native of Flint, where he was born on August 5, 1938, Jim Brummel moved to Grand Haven from Muskegon around 1970. His parents were Nelson and Frieda Lindemulder Brummel. Jim married Barbara
Masters on December 27, 1958 in Olivet. His real estate businesses in Grand Haven included All American Homes and J. N. Brummel Realty. He was a member the Second Christian Reformed Church, ACLU, AMBUCS, and he was founder and member of the Tri-Cities Realtors Board. He was active in the Republican Party. Jim and Barbara had a daughter, Suzanne Brummel, and four sons: Timothy, Steve, Nelson, and Chris. Jim died in Grand Haven on October 22, 2002. [Tribune obituary, October 23, 2002.]

Benjamin Bruno [Bruneau] [1835-1900]

Born in Canada [France] on March 1, 1835, Benjamin Bruno came to Grand Haven around 1857, and worked in a sawmill. Benjamin’s wife, Mary M. [Madeline], was born in Canada in September 1843 [1844] and died about September 22, 1907. Their children, all born in Michigan, included Louise, who was born about 1872, married Joseph Poisson, and moved to Grand Rapids; Alexander, who lived from August 1873 [1872] to 1920; and Rose, who was born about 1876 and married a Mr. Fisher. Another son, Theodore, was born about 1881. Theodore’s wife, Esther, was born in Michigan around 1881. Theodore and Esther lived at 915 Columbus. Benjamin died in Grand Haven on January 3, 1900 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 4, 1900.]

Edgar [Edward] F. Bryce [1858-1919]

Edgar Bryce and his wife, Mary, resided at 3 North Second Street in Grand Haven. The son of John and Helen Ellis Bryce, Edgar was born in Wisconsin in April 1858. Like his father, he became an engineer. Edgar died in Kalamazoo on January 14, 1919. Mary was born in June 1861 in Michigan. A son, Ellis, was born in November 1881.

Emily “Emma” Jane Bidgood Bryce [1858-1941]

See Emily “Emma” Bidgood.

John J. Bryce I [1834-1896]

Born on April 12, 1834 in the Highlands of Scotland, John Bryce in 1871 came to Grand Haven from Wisconsin with his employer Justin B. Wait. His mother, Mary, was born in Scotland about 1801 and resided as a widow in Grand Haven with John and his family around 1880. John took out patent number 131,657 on September 24, 1872 for a tabletop spinning wheel. Several examples of the wheel exist, including one in the collection of the American Textile History Museum in Lowell, Massachusetts and a patent model in the Smithsonian Institute. The wheel was primarily made of cast iron and works on the friction principle. John formed a partnership with James Lewis and Otto Gronberg to buy the Grand Haven Iron Works business from Frank Spence and Archibald Brown, who had started it four years earlier. In 1879 John went into partnership with Henry Bloecker and the two formed Bryce & Bloecker to manufacture marine engines. The plant suffered a fire in 1881 and the owners sustained heavy losses. Bloecker reopened the business in 1883, but John went to work for the Challenge Corn Planter Company. In 1893 he was part owner of a business called Bryce, Barns, & Green Lumber Company at the corner of Seventh and Elliott Streets. John W. Barnes [Barns] and M. L. Green were the other principals. John was an active member of the Knights of Maccabees and was a Republican.

John married Helen M. Ellis of Wisconsin, who was born in 1837 and died about February 21, 1918. Their children were Edgar F., born in Wisconsin in 1858; Elmer E., who was born in Wisconsin about 1860, became a machinist, married and divorced Emma [Emily] Bidgood of Grand Haven, and died on September 16, 1914; John II, born in Wisconsin in 1868; and Marion A. [Marnie], born in Michigan about 1877. In the early 1900s the Helen resided with her son John at 624 Washington. John I died at Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids after bladder surgery on October 26, 1896 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, where other family members were interred. [Tribune obituary, October 27, 1896, Tribune article, October 29, 1896.]
John J. Bryce II [1868-1929]

The son of John and Helen M. Ellis Bryce, John II was born in Jefferson, Wisconsin on May 28, 1868. On May 11, 1898 he married Anna Hoffman in Ottawa County. Anna, the daughter of Peter Hoffman, was born in Michigan about 1877. The Bryce children were Francis H., born about 1899, and Margaret H., born about 1905. In the early 1900s the family lived at 624 Washington Street, where they shared their home with John’s widowed mother, Helen. By 1920 John and Anna were living at 109 South Fifth Street. John was a member of the Grand Haven Stag Club, Elks, and Masons. He was a “nickel plater” at Challenge Refrigerator. He died on July 15, 1929 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Jay Buchanan [1903-1975]

John Buchanan was organist at the Grand Theater on Washington Street when it opened in 1928. Later he was custodian at the theater. He resided at 22 Franklin Street with his mother and stepfather, Ida and George Duglas. Some years later he moved to 112 Franklin Street. John was born in Pennsylvania on May 12, 1903, died in Grand Haven on March 19, 1975, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Ida Leone Buchanan lived from 1865 to 1946 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with another son, James M. Buchanan, who lived from 1899 to 1987.

William H. Buckley [1858-1933]

Born in Illinois in July 1858 William Buckley moved to Spring Lake from Marne [Berlin], Ottawa County, in 1878. In 1888, Dr. Brown performed an appendectomy on William on the kitchen table, said to be the first appendectomy in Michigan. William worked in Henry Cliff’s hardware store, and then went into a business partnership with Enno Pruim, sold out to him, and took a job in Charlotte, Eaton County, returning to Spring Lake in 1888. After his hardware store burned down, William borrowed $600 from George Schwab and put up a brick structure at 214 West Savidge. There he operated a profitable hardware and undertaking business.

In 1883 William married Harriet Richardson, a Michigan native, who lived from November 1859 to 1944. She was the daughter of Benjamin F. Richardson, a lumbering pioneer in Traverse City and Spring Lake. Harriet began teaching in a rural Spring Lake school when she was 14 years old. The Buckleys had a son, William Lloyd, who was born on July 13, 1886 and ran the hardware business after his father was injured in a fall while working at the Spring Lake Hotel. Another son, George H., was born in June 1889. In 1891 William bought a house at 108 West Mason. It originally was a one-room home, owned by an Indian family. William enlarged it as a residence for his widowed mother, Mary [Merry], who was born in Ireland in August 1822. He also bought a house located on the north side of Mason Street and moved it to 217 North Buchanan, because its owner was willing to sell the structure but not the lot upon which it sat. In 1953 his granddaughter, Marge, and her husband, James Oakes, bought the property. William died in 1933.

William, the son of William H. [b. 1859] and Harriet Richardson Buckley [1859-1944], was born in Spring Lake on July 13, 1884 [1886]. The younger William ran the family hardware business after his father was injured in a fall while working at the Spring Lake Hotel. He married Elsie Johnson, who was born on November 3, 1888, died on April 30, 1930, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had two daughters, Sarah [Sally], who was born on January 31, married Wilson Bond in Grand Rapids on November 23, 1934, and died on March 7, 1987 in Spring Lake, and Margaret, who lived from June 2, 1918 to August 16, 1997. She married James Oakes of Grand Haven.

John Budge [1836-1920]

Born in the Orkney Islands, Scotland, in March 1836 [1841], John Budge was a sea captain. After living in Canada for awhile, Captain Budge arrived in Grand Haven in the 1860s and sailed the Great Lakes until 1872. In 1867 he went into partnership with Duncan Robertson and Peter Sinclair in the Robertson & Company Shipyard, which built wooden ships in Grand Haven. He also invested in lumbering. John died in Grand Haven on December 1, 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 2, 1920.]

Charles K. Bugielski [1912-1996]

Born March 4, 1912 in Newark, New Jersey, Chuck was the son of Zygmunt and Karoline A. Lucek Bugielski. By the mid-1920s the family had moved to Grand Haven. A Tribune article noted on March 9, 1925 that Chuck saw the first robin of the season. After graduating from Grand Haven High School in 1930, he went to work for the McLellan Five and Ten Cent Store in Grand Haven as stockman. He was promoted to assistant manager in 1933 and played a part in the bank robbery of August 18 that year. In 1938 Chuck left his job at McLellan’s and opened the M & M Variety Store, located first at 706 Washington and by 1944 at 711 Washington. For the 100th birthday of Grand Haven in 1934 the 22-year old was asked to help expand the annual Coast Guard picnic. Although meant to be a one-time event, the Coast Guard Festival evolved into an annual community observance. Bugielski managed the festivities with Glenn Eaton and Claude Ver Duin from 1947 to 1981. The back office of his store served as the Coast Guard Festival’s office from 1938 to 1981. Chuck worked for the March of Dimes for 20 years, led the Community Chest Fund, and belonged to the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, and Eagles.

In 1936 Chuck married Grace, the daughter of Herman and Ida Teunis. Grace, born on September 1, 1911, became a teacher in the Grand Haven and Spring Lake school systems and retired in the 1970s. The Bugielskis had a daughter and two sons: Nancy Hanavan of Buffalo, Charles of Grand Haven, and Michael of San Diego. Grace died October 18, 1988 at their home at 18837 North Fruitport Road. Chuck died on August 19, 1996, and he and his wife were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

From his office at 315 Washington in Grand Haven, Lewis Bussey in the early 1900s operated a real estate and insurance business with his father, William H. Bussey, under the name Bussey & Son. Lewis was the Realtor for Bussey & Steen, developers of the Highlands, a subdivision on Spring Lake. On June 13, 1904 Lewis married Maud [Lillian Maude] Bevens in Woodbury, Iowa. In Grand Haven they lived above the Lewis’s office. Lewis, who was born on July 30, 1878 in Oak Park, Illinois, passed away in Sonoma, California on March 26, 1957. Maud was born in 1877 in Nebraska. Lewis’s father, William Bussey, was listed in the 1908 Grand Haven City Directory as residing in Evanston, Illinois. William, who was born about 1854, died about June 13, 1912. [Tribune obituary, June 13, 1912.]

Henry William Buswell I [1830-1897]

Born in Essex County, New York on August 27 [8], 1830, Henry was the son of Jacob and Almina Everest Buswell of New York. Jacob, originally from Massachusetts, was a carpenter and joiner by occupation. Henry was the eldest son of his mother’s second marriage. After his father’s death, Henry and his mother moved to Ohio, where she died in 1865. Henry then moved to Ottawa County. In 1864 he formed a partnership with Charles E. Wyman and bought the Ferry Mill at the foot of Columbus Street in Grand Haven, renamed it Wyman & Buswell Sawmill, and began the production of pine lumber. In 1878 Averill Cairns joined the firm as another partner. In 1884 the mill suffered a damaging fire and Henry retired from business. However, by the following year he was part owner and president of the Grand Haven Broom Company. He was a director of the National Bank for several years, stockholder and director of Dake Mfg. Company of Grand Haven, and president of the Grand Haven Match Company. Formerly a Whig, he became a Republican. He was member of Corinthian Chapter of the Grand Haven Masons. He belonged to the Unitarian Church.

On January 28, 1860 Henry married Hannah L. Trotter in her hometown of Summit, Ohio. They had two children, Forrest E., who lived from 1860 to 1917, and Florence E., who was born about 1862 in Ohio and married William Andres of Grand Haven on August 1, 1888. Hannah, who was born December 9, 1839, died on August 10, 1876, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On March 3, ten years after his first wife’s death, Henry married Ellen J. Cavanaugh of Grand Haven. They had one child, Henry W. II, who was born in 1887 and relocated to Chicago. The elder Buswell died on September 8, 1897 at his home at 312 Franklin Street from heart disease. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, page 555, and Tribune obituary, September 12, 1897.]

The son of a farmer, Edwin Butts was born about 1836 in Vermont and came to Grand Haven in 1873. He took charge of the Cutler House Livery on Third Street in 1875, and six years later he bought the business and operated it for himself. His wife, Angleline, was born in Vermont about 1841. They had a son, Frederick E. Butts, who was born in Vermont about 1866 and drowned near Grand Haven on August 29, 1876. Another son, Charles, was born about 1864, also in Vermont. By 1910 Edwin and Angleline were living in Meyers Falls, Washington. He died around February 6, 1916 in Spokane, Washington.

William Butts [@1810-?]
William Butts, originally from Canada, was born about 1810. In 1835 he built a steam operated sawmill in Grand Haven, with William Hathaway as a partner. Located near the site of the Grand Trunk Railroad Depot, later the Tri-Cities Historical Museum, it was the first sawmill in the county. The mill was soon sold to Nathan Throop and William Ferry. On September 1, 1838 William, Butts, again with William Hathaway as partner, purchased approximately 234 acres in Sections 6 and 17 of Robinson Township. Hiram Hathaway also was part of the transaction. On May 1 the following year William bought 80 acres in Section 12 of Grand Haven Township.

Averille Thomas Cairns [1846–1912]
Born in 1846, Averille Thomas Cairns, a Canadian, came to Grand Haven in 1868 as a lumber inspector. He generally went by the name Thomas rather than Averille. In 1878 he was one of the principals in the Wyman & Cairns Lumber Company, dealing in logs, lumber, and shingles. When Dake Engine Company was formed in 1887, Thomas was named its first vice president. He was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. He died about June 12, 1912. He married Flora Delcina Darling in Grand Rapids on May 23, 1868. Flora, a native of New York, lived from October 1845 to 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Their daughter, Cora, was born in May 1869 and married James H. Safford of Grand Haven. Other children were Ada P., who was born in 1871 and married George W. Lilley, a Grand Haven optician; Pearly I., born in January 1882; Flora, born on May 8, 1883; Florence E., born in December 1886; and Robert L., born in February 1887. All the children were born locally.

Edward Byron Caldwell [1859-1949]
Shortly before 1910 Robert Ferris sold thirty acres of his Willows Resort property in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township to Edward B. Caldwell. Edward and his wife, Ada M., constructed a home on the site. Both Edward and Ada were born in Michigan, he on July 16, 1859 and she on December 8 four years later. Their daughter Elizabeth was born about 1885 and resided with them. By 1920 Edward and Ada were residing in Tulare County, California and ten years later they were living in Beverly Hills, California. He passed away in Los Angeles on November 1, 1949, and Ada died in the same city on August 22, 1953.

William J. Caldwell [1851-1938]

William J. Caldwell and Esther Hazard Brooks were married in Jackson on January 24, 1884. Not long after 1900 the couple left Jackson and purchased a 120-acre farm in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township. The couple named their country estate Oakhurst. In the 1910 census William was listed as a farmer running a farm resort. Shortly after 1912 the Caldwells sold some of their acreage to Paul F. and Ida Markoff and another parcel to the Welch family, but retained the two-story frame home, barn, and other outbuildings that stood near the shores of Spring Lake. By 1918 the Caldwell estate had diminished to 20 acres. William was born in Michigan on January 18, 1851, and died in Cleveland, Ohio on October 8, 1899. His wife, Esther was born in New York on November 30, 1848 and died in Spring Lake on December 17, 1928. In 1930 William, a widower, was still residing at Oakhurst. He passed away in Spring Lake on January 15, 1938 and was buried at Mount Evergreen Cemetery in Jackson, where Esther also was interred.

Charles “Wint” H. Calkins [1853-1935]

Charles Calkins and his wife, Emma J., resided at 100 South Sixth Street in 1930, but at another time they also lived at 1422 Pennoyer. On January 24, 1929 the Grand Haven Tribune reported that Charles owned and played a Stradivarius violin, an instrument that had been in his family for three generations. In 1930 Charles was employed at a Grand Haven candy store. The Calkins’ daughter, Mabel, who lived from June 1880 to 1921, married Peter De Boe of Grand Haven. Peter owned a confectionery in downtown Grand Haven. Charles lived from April 1853 to 1935 and Emma from June 1857 [1855] to 1935. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John W. Callister [Callister, Collister] [1831–1897]

John Callister was born on the Isle of Man, England on May 9, 1831. He immigrated to Cleveland in 1849, where he lived for several years before moving to Detroit. During the Civil War, he worked for the U.S. Government as a ship’s carpenter, a trade he had followed since 1847. John came to Grand Haven from Detroit in 1866 and became part owner and foreman of the Kirby Shipyard. By the early 1870s he had his own ship building business. He built several vessels for Thomas Kirby, John Zietlow, Michigan Barge Company, and other local businessmen. [See Directory of Businesses for a listing of Callister’s ships.]

In 1859 John married Eliza [Elizabeth] Shimmin, who was born about 1841 in England. The couple was residing in Detroit in 1860. John and Eliza had two children, William [Walter] H. Callister, who was born in Michigan in July 1862, married Lucy Luikens in Grand Haven on May 12, 1882, and moved to Cleveland, where he died on January 9, 1932; and Eliza E. Callister, who was born about 1899, married Robert Christian Quay [1855-1903], and died in Cleveland, Ohio on October 8, 1899. Lucy, the daughter of John and Sarah vanden Berg Luikens of Grand Haven, was born on December 26, 1868. After William’s death, she returned to Grand Haven, and joined her brother-in-law Charles Reghel as co-owner of the KarmelKorn shop and restaurant at 110 Washington. Lucy died in Grand Haven on March 2, 1944. Eliza, the mother, died in 1864, and John then married Anne Cannell of Warrensville, Ohio, in December 1873. She was born on the Isle of Man about 1833 and died December 28, 1902. The Callisters were members of St. John’s Episcopal Church in Grand Haven and lived at 626 Clinton. John was a Mason and a member of the Royal Arcanum. He died on September 2, 1897. [Tribune obituary, September 4, 1897.]

William [Walter] H. Callister [Collister] [1862-1932]

William, the son of John and Eliza [Elizabeth] Shimmin Callister, was born in July 1862. He married Lucy Luikens in Grand Haven on May 12, 1882. Lucy, the daughter of John and Sarah vanden Berg Luikens of Grand Haven, was born on December 26, 1868. After William’s parents died, he and Lucy moved into the family home on Clinton before relocating to Cleveland, Ohio, where he died on January 9, 1932. William was a ship’s carpenter. After William’s death, Lucy returned to Grand Haven, where she died on March 2, 1944. Lucy’s sister Nettie was residing with them in Cleveland when she died on January 6, 1902.

James Dunning Cameron [1841-1921]

James, the son of John and Ann Cameron, was born in Canada in 1841. Soon after arriving in this area in 1878, James purchased an 80-acre farm in Section 14 of Robinson Township, where he raised livestock. The Camerons were still residing on their farm in 1918. His wife, Marian [Mary] died before 1920. James died on August 12, 1921 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery.

Russell Walton Camfield [1900-1947]

Russell Camfield, who founded Camfield Manufacturing in Grand Haven in 1937, died on August 9, 1947 at the age of 46 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. He was born in Springfield, Illinois on October 12, 1900. When he was 16, he joined the United States Navy and served in England, where he became adept at communications. After the war he was assigned to the Great Lakes Naval Training Station near Chicago. Later he became chief engineer for E. T. Cunningham, Inc., in Illinois. Russell was in his second year as president of the Spring Lake Country Club when he fell and fractured a knee cap. That injury led to a blood clot that ended his life. Camfield Manufacturing was well known for its toasters and other products for the home. After Russell’s death his wife, Marie [Marion], continued to reside in the family home at 216 North Buchanan in Spring Lake. They had at least one son, Stephen Camfield. Marie passed away on October 7, 1952 and was buried with her husband.

Louis Campau [Campeau] [1791-1871]

Born in Detroit on August 11, 1791, Louis Campau, a fur trader who spoke French and English, was with the American militia in Detroit under General William Hull, who on August 16, 1812 surrendered to the British. After the war, Louis became best known for establishing the first trading post at what is now Saginaw and for being the first permanent settler in Grand Rapids. Louis arrived in the Grand River Valley in the spring of 1826. He earned the Indian name “Wagushe” [“Fox”] because of his skill in trading with the Indians and for his shrewd transactions with the Native Americans. Antoine Campau, his brother, also was an early settler in Grand Rapids.

Louis’s first wife died in Saginaw, and he married Sophie de Marsac in Detroit on August 9, 1825. Sophie was born in Detroit on September 25, 1807 and died on July 31, 1869, only two years before Louis’s death. Louis’s brother, Toussaint, had a trading post in Grand Haven at the “Lower Diggings,” the present Government Pond, which Louis bought in July 1834, for $350. Louis had Nathan Throop of Grand Haven build a warehouse for him on the same site. Toussaint married Emily Marsac, Sophie’s sister, in Grand Rapids on November 27, 1834, which according to Lydens was the first Catholic wedding ceremony in the area. Another brother, Antoine, was an early settler in the Grand Rapids area. Louis died April 13, 1871.

Archibald Campbell I [1860-1936]

Born in Markham, Ontario on February 12, 1860, Archibald Campbell came to the Grand Haven area at age 19 with five other men. He was a foundry man and in the early 1890s with Edward Gillen he established a foundry to fabricate parts for Dake Engine Company. The company, called Gillen & Campbell, was located at the corner of Seventh and Monroe. Dake Engine owed Campbell’s firm some money. In early 1900 Johnston Boiler of Ferrysburg bought out all the stockholders of the Dake Engine Company except James P. Armstead. In 1905 when Dake Engine and Archie’s company were merged, Thomas B. Johnston became president, his son John F. Johnston was treasurer, and Campbell was vice president. Armstead was named secretary and general manager. Archie, a staunch Democrat, was mayor of Grand Haven from 1909 to 1911. He became president of Dake Engine Company from 1924 to 1936. He was a Mason, the Order of Eastern Star, Spring Lake Country Club, Stag Club, and Elks.
On October 11, 1887 Archie married Ida L. Andres, who was born in July 1867 and died about March 11, 1951. Ida was the daughter of Ernest and Ida Andres of Grand Haven. For years the Campbells lived at 225 Franklin Street in Grand Haven, in a place that became known as the “Campbell House.” Their children were Agnes L. Campbell, born in April 1895; Esther M. Campbell, who was born in October 1897 and taught at Social Studies at Grand Haven High School from 1923 to 1963; Archibald Andres Campbell, who was born in Grand Haven on November 5, 1904 and became general manager of Dake Engine Company; and Kenneth Campbell, born about 1908. Archie II and Kenneth, like their father, worked for Dake Engine Company. Archie I died in Grand Haven from a heart attack on December 4, 1936 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 5, 1936.]

Benjamin R. Campbell I [1833-1908]

Benjamin R. Campbell I made shoes and boots at a shop near the Grand Trunk Depot in Spring Lake, not far from his home. The railway depot was located near the northwest corner of Savidge and Cutler Streets, and Benjamin’s shop likely was on Savidge Street, or State Street, as it was then known. Benjamin was born in Canada in August 1833. While in Canada, he married Emily Hill [Emilie/Emma] about 1853. She was born in Haiti in January 1835. Emily was three when she immigrated to the United States. She and Benjamin came to the United States in 1865, settling in Spring Lake. They were charter members of the Spring Lake Baptist Church, founded on December 7, 1867. The couple’s children, listed in the 1870 census were Charles Campbell, born in March 1856 [1857]; Mary J. Campbell, born in June 1858; Emily Campbell, born about 1862; Annie [Anna] E. Campbell, born about 1866; and Benjamin Campbell II, who was born on April 28, 1867 and died of peritonitis in Spring Lake on February 8, 1883. Later arrivals were Thomas Campbell, who died on September 12, 1871 as a six-month old infant; and William Edward Campbell, who died on August 25, 1873, a little over a year old. Charles, Mary, and Emily were born in Canada, the others were born locally. Benjamin II was one of six members of the first class to graduate from a fully graded school [1 through 8] in Spring Lake in 1881. Benjamin II, Thomas, and William were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. In 1870 Benjamin was doing well enough to afford hiring a domestic servant. In 1880 Benjamin’s mother, Jane, was living with the family, but son Charles had disappeared. Jane was born in Virginia about 1810. In 1877 Benjamin I was included in R. L. Polk’s Michigan Business Directory as a shoemaker in Spring Lake, and ten years later he was listed in R. G. Dun & Co., Registry Mercantile Reference Book for 1887, again as a shoemaker and still in Spring Lake. [Kitchel, p. 96.] However, Benjamin is not included in the 1893 Business Compendium, making it likely that he had left Spring Lake by then. A newspaper article reported, “The [Campbell] family moved to Detroit thirty years ago and have all passed away except the oldest daughter, Mary . . . Mr. Campbell died 12 years ago and Mrs. Campbell three years previously. Miss Mary, who never visited here during those thirty years, motored from Detroit, accompanied by Benj. F. Campbell, No. 3, and a niece, and was greatly delighted in meeting childhood acquaintances here on Monday.” [Kitchel, p. 185.] The article, apparently taken from the Grand Haven Tribune, is not dated, but appears to have been written about 1920. The same article noted that Dwight Cutler, one of Grand Haven’s leaders, continued buying his boots from Benjamin, even after the boot maker had moved to Detroit and “long after shoes came in vogue.” Records show he died in Detroit in 1908 and was buried at Woodmere Cemetery.

Benjamin I continued in the shoe making business after his move to Detroit, but the date and place of his death was not determined. The Benjamin III referred to in the newspaper article was born on December 29, 1892 in Detroit. He was the son of Charles and Julia Campbell. On November 14, 1889 in Wayne County Charles married Julia A. Bush [Bresch]. The Campbells in 1900 remained in Detroit, where Charles worked as a barber. The 1900 census showed Charles and Julia had three children, all born in Detroit: Nellie A., born in October 1891; Benjamin, who was born on December 29, 1892; and Charles H., who was born on November 7, 1895. The census taker that year spelled the family name Campbell and Benjamin as Bengaman. This “Bengaman” is referred to as Benjamin No. 3 in the undated newspaper article. In 1910 he was living in Detroit with his widowed mother, Julia, and his brother, Charles. Julia at the time of the census was working as a hairdresser and 50 years old. On June 21, 1920 in Detroit, Benjamin III married Alice Jones. Mary J. Campbell was unmarried and still residing in Detroit in 1930. No more information about the Campbells was found after 1930, except that Benjamin III died in Detroit in March 1980. The Campbells were an African American family.

Esther Campbell [1897-1967]

Among their other children, Archie and Ida Andres Campbell had a daughter Esther Campbell. She was born on October 11, 1897 and died on November 11, 1967 in Grand Haven. She taught history, Spanish, and English at Grand Haven High School from 1923 to 1963.

Leon Joel Campbell [1884-1965]

Born on September 12, 1884 at Eagle, Wyoming County, New York, Leon was the son of William A. and Cora B. Austin Campbell. William was born in New York State in 1861 and married Cora Austin in July 4, 1882. Also a native of New York, Cora was born on April 18, 1862. The family moved to Big Rapids in 1886 and later relocated to Muskegon.

Leon graduated from high school in Paris, Kent County and worked for Eckerman Drug Store in Muskegon for four years. On April 5, 1906 he married Margaret Hoffman, born on December 15, 1884 in Muskegon. She joined her husband in Spring Lake in 1907, a year after they were married. She was the daughter of Jacob and Maartje Hoffman, both natives of The Netherlands. In 1906 Leon started work in a drugstore at 208 West Savidge, owned by Felix Perl. Leon purchased the bankrupt business about 1908 with E. L. Reinecke as his partner. Reinecke moved to Port Huron and Campbell became sole owner, operating under the name Campbell Pharmacy. In 1923 Leon paid Julia Falls, Andrew’s widow, $3,500 for the property at 200 West Savidge, at that time the site of Spencer’s Grocery, and moved his business there. He sold the business in 1948 to Clarence Eshleman.

The Campbells had two children, Dana A. Campbell, who was born January 30, 1916 and married Rena Vandersys, and William Arthur Campbell, born on January 13, 1926. Leon served for eight years on the Spring Lake Village Council and belonged to a number of organizations, including Blue Lodge, Free & Accepted Masons, Grand Haven Chamber of Commerce, the Spring Lake Country Club, the Rotary Club, and the Yacht Club. He passed away in Spring Lake on November 19, 1965 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Margaret died on November 30, 1970 and was buried with her husband.

Elmer Campbell [1908-1979] and Marie Viebrock Campbell [1915-1999]

Born in Ferrysburg on September 23, 1915, Marie was the daughter of Martin and Anna De Witt Viebrock. She married Elmer Campbell in 1931. He was born on January 31, 1908, died in Spring Lake on November 24, 1979, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Marie was a seamstress for the Kiddie Kover Company in Grand Haven, which operated from 1929 to 1953. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church of Spring Lake. She and her husband had one daughter, Betty Ann, who married Harry Silvers of Spring Lake. Marie passed away on January 7, 1999 and was buried with her husband.

Leland was born in Kalamazoo on November 4, 1918, the son of Percy G. and Gertrude Hensley Cannon. On August 2, 1940, he married Ethel Victoria Masselink. Cannon was an advertising sales representative for the Muskegon Chronicle. In 1947 the Cannons bought the Hatton home at 482 Sheldon Terrace, which they owned for the next 53 years. In 1995 Cannon and his wife drove to Rolla, Missouri, where he was to undergo treatment for colon cancer. His son-in-law was the surgeon. While in Missouri, Ethel contracted shingles and died on January 16, 1997, after more than a year in the hospital. Because of his health problems, Lee was unable to return to Grand Haven and remained with his daughter Vicki in Rolla. In the summer of 2000 he decided to sell the home to Scott Bekins and auction off its contents. He died in Rolla on February 1, 2001. The Cannons had been married more than 55 years.
According to an article in the Tribune, Coppins Carew started the Chicken Inn, but more likely it was his parents, Robert and Gertrude Carew. Coppins’s wife, Adelaide [Adelaise] Marie Fox, born in St. Paul, Minnesota on July 12, 1911 [1912], married Coppins when she was 16. They lived at 819 Washington Street in Grand Haven in 1930. The next year their residence was located at 821 Bignell Court in Grand Haven Township. Living with them was a son, Coppins St. John Carew II, who was born in Minnesota about 1928, and a daughter, Juanita Carew, born in Michigan about February 1930. They had two other children: Gertrude Carew [1932-2013] and Joaquin Carew [1939-2013]. In 1930 Coppins was a waiter at the Ferry Hotel in downtown Grand Haven. Coppins’s brother Ben was a member of an orchestra that played at the Ferry Hotel. Coppins’s and Adelaide’s son, Coppins St. John Carew, was killed in a sledding accident in Grand Rapids on January 10, 1941. The boy was 12 years old. The older Coppins passed away in Grand Rapids on September 26, 1989. Adelaide died in Grand Rapids on November 12, 2006. [Tribune obituaries, January 5, 1935 and January 10, 1941 and Grand Rapids Press obituary, November 16, 2006.]

Robert Abraham Carew [@1870-@1935]

In 1928 Robert and Gertrude Stewart Carew owned and operated the Grand Haven Chicken Inn at 22 South Beechtree Street in Grand Haven. Robert was born in Alabama about 1870 and Gertrude in the same state about seven years later. Among their children, all born in Alabama, were Helen, born about 1894; Ruth, born about 1897; Samuel, born about 1900; Gertrude Carew Jr. [sic], who was born on August 16, 1902 and died of pneumonia in Norton Township on January 4, 1935; Rosseveldt [sic] Carew, born about 1906; Coppins Carew, born on February 13, 1907; Theresa Carew, born about 1910, and Benjamen [sic] Carew, born about 1913. The Carew family was living in Jefferson County, Alabama in 1910. Robert was working as a preacher at that time. They moved to Iowa about 1914 and later to Minneapolis. By 1930 they had moved their local restaurant business to a vacant building at 10 Franklin Street. The name of the family business continued to be the Grand Haven Chicken Inn., with Robert and Gertrude as managers. Rosseveldt was the buyer for the new restaurant, Theresa was the second chef, and Benjamen was a waiter. Helen was unemployed. The family resided in Muskegon in 1928, but by 1930 it was included in the Federal Census for Grand Haven and living at 12 Franklin, now the site of Tip A Few tavern. By 1932 the Carews had relocated to Norton Township in Muskegon County, where they operated another restaurant, also called Chicken Inn. Robert died before 1935. In 1940, Gertrude and her daughter Helen were residents of Keene, Ionia County. The Carew family sold the Grand Haven business about 1941 to Kathryn Fons. Gertrude the mother died on November 20, 1951 and was buried at Woodlawn Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Alfred X. Carey [Cary] [1811-1882]

Alfred was born in Kent, Rhode Island, on March 28, 1811, the son of Dr. Joseph and Ruby Ann Carey. In 1833 he married Sarah Musdirk. In Michigan Alfred Carey was captain of the 127-foot Algoma, which operated between Grand Rapids and Grand Haven beginning in 1848. He was listed as one of the Catholic families in the Grand Rapids City Directory for 1859. That year he was proprietor of a flour and produce company in the same city. Alfred died on August 6, 1882. Sarah lived from 1812 to 1890. They both were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

James Henry Carey [1851-1940]

Born in Hillsdale County on July 22, 1851, James Carey arrived in Olive Township in 1861. There he later operated a sawmill and became sole owner of a large sawmill at Olive Center, where he also was town clerk. On May 26, 1875 in Ottawa County, he married Cora Lyon, who was born in Medina County, Ohio, on August 11, 1857. They had one child, Herbert W. Carey, born March 6, 1877. By 1876 James owned a 40-acre farm in Section 8 of Olive Township. He died in Lowell, Kent County in 1940 and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery. Cora lived from 1857 to 1939 and was buried at the same cemetery.

Born May 11, 1925 in Lansing to Glen and Pearl Carey, John served in the Navy during WWII. He was employed as president and CEO of the Credit Bureau of North Ottawa County from 1955 to 1975. He served as a systems analyst, worked for Coastal Real Estate for two years, and managed Spring Lake Yacht Club for several years. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, the Masons, Elks and V.F.W. On November 27, 1946 he married Joyce E. King in Lapeer, Lapeer County. Joyce was born on April 6, 1926 and died in Grand Haven on February 25, 1993. Their children were Nancy Carey, who married Gary Sudy of Grand Haven; Patricia Carey, who married Dwayne Avery of Ravenna; Randolph Carey, who moved to Hawaii; and Timothy Carey. John died January 30, 1991. [Tribune obituary, January 31, 1991.]

Carl [Karl] Fredrik Carlson [1889-1935]

A touch of New England Cape Cod style is reflected in this bungalow-style home built around 1923 by Carl Carlson. Carlson, a native of Sweden, came to Grand Haven in the early 1920s and bought the lot at 1010 Sheldon. He first built the garage, where he lived while constructing the house, warmed by a pot belly stove. When the house was completed, his wife Maria [Marie], a midwife, joined him at their new home. Called the Sheldon Road Maternity Home, the Carlson house was used as a birthing place, an alternate to the maternity ward at the Elizabeth Hatton Memorial Hospital, 114 South Fifth Street. In anticipation of his wife’s profession, Carl included an 8’ x 12’ birthing room that boasted a fireplace, one of two in the home, to keep the mothers and their infants warm. In 1930 the Carlsons’ son, Carl T. Carlson, and the son’s wife, Josephine, and their new-born son, also named Carl, were living in the house with the elder Carl and Maria. Carl was a cabinet maker with the Basian Blessing Company. Carl T. lived from March 8, 1901 to January 31, 1958. Josephine lived from 1907 to 1985.

Carl, a native of Sweden, was born on March 3, 1889 and died in Grand Haven on January 3, 1935. His wife was born in Sweden on July 3, 1872 as Maria Katrina Bengsston. The Carlsons were married before they immigrated to the United States. Maria died in Grand Haven on March 13, 1966 and was buried with her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery. Carl T. and Josephine were buried in the same plot.

John Carlyle practiced law in Grand Haven for 40 years, first with the Scholten Fant law firm, then independently, and finally with the local Varnum law office, which he opened. He also served on several Boards of Directors of Grand Haven area companies, and he owned M & S Companies in Grand Haven and Wright Coating Company in Kalamazoo.

John was born in Plainwell, Allegan County, on September 20,1938. He received a bachelor degree from Albion College in 1960 and a degree in law from Duke University Law School four years later. He and Nancy Sessions were married on August 26, 1961. They lived for awhile in Chicago, where John became a Certified Public Accountant. They moved to Grand Haven in 1968. Their children were Megan, who married Tim Dadson, and Amy, who married Kyle Williams.

John was a member of Lion’s Club, Grand Haven Area Jaycees, and United Way. He helped start the YMCA and was a contributing member Hospice of North Ottawa Community Hospital and the Grand Haven Area Community Foundation. He died on April 22, 2018.

Anthony “Gus” Carowitz [1918-1983]

Born in Grand Rapids on March 27, 1918, Gus Carowitz moved to the Grand Haven area after serving in the Army during WWII. He was owner of Turk’s Restaurant in Nunica for 30 years. He was a member of St. Mary’s Catholic Church, American Legion, Elks, V.F.W., Disabled Veterans, Sacred Heart Society in Grand Rapids, St. Isidore’s Benevolent Society in Grand Rapids, and the Spring Lake Vets Club. Gus married Della Kulik, who was born on May 10, 1916 and died in April 1966. He then married Dorothy Ringgold. His children included Susan, who married Joseph Stalec of Spring Lake; Kay of Houston, Texas; a stepdaughter, Judy Hoopfer, who lived at 112 Lake Street in Spring Lake; and a stepson, Jay Howard De Jonge II of Zeeland, who lived from January 21, 1930 to March 26, 1994. Gus died on April 20, 1983. Dorothy, who was born on February 6, 1921, died in Grand Rapids on January 28, 1987. [Tribune obituary, April 21, 1983.]

Michael C. Carpenter [1829-1909]
Born in Ireland on November 1, 1829, Michael Carpenter was one of Nunica’s earliest settlers in 1855 [1858]. He had a farm in Section 15 of Crockery Township, on the south boundary of Nunica, where he also ran a boarding house and sold groceries and other items. In 1881 he took over management of the National Hotel on the southeast corner of Columbus and Water [Harbor] Streets in Grand Haven but maintained his farm. After Michael died on March 22, 1909, his son William held title to the 76-acre farm. Michael’s wife, Ann Cavanaugh, was born in Ireland in 1835 and died April 22, 1908 at her home in Nunica. Their five children were all born in Michigan, including a son, William, who was born in February 1868 and died in 1931. Another son, Owen Patrick Carpenter, lived from 1864 to 1952.

Frederick M. Carr [1874-1898]
Frederick Carr, a Coopersville resident, died on September 1, 1898 at Fort McPherson, Georgia of typhoid fever. He was one of several members of Company F of the 32nd Michigan Infantry, out of Grand Haven, who came down with typhoid. They were in training for the Spanish-American War. He was born in 1874. He was buried at Coopersville Cemetery.

Fred M. Carter [? - ?]
Fred Carter was treasurer of the Milliman Manufacturing Company, which started operations in 1907 at the corner of Howard and Water Street [Harbor Drive], in the same building as American Brass Novelty. He lived in Chicago. The company offered millwork and interior finishes.

David Carver [1803-1849]
In April 1835 David Carver opened a warehouse in Chicago. A newspaper advertisement advised readers that “he was “ready to receive consignment of any goods, or cargoes of goods, to be forwarded to any section of the country, or sold on commission.” The next year, he came to Grand Haven, bringing Clark Albee with him. In Grand Haven, David opened another forwarding and commission business. He loaned $2,000 to William Butts and William Hathaway, both Canadians, allowing them in 1836 to complete the Butts & Hathaway Sawmill, the area’s first functioning sawmill at the foot of Columbus Street in Grand Haven. Clark Albee was clerk at David’s warehouse and dock on Harbor Drive. He and Dr. Sydney Williams shared a residence at 225 Franklin [Lot 222] in Grand Haven, and Carver also was credited with building a home at 108 South First Street. David and Alonzo L. White were proprietors of the Town of Charleston, Ottawa County, platted in 1836. When the forwarding business went bankrupt in the financial depression of 1836 to 1837, David left the area. According to Franklin Everett [Memorials of the Grand River Valley], David died of exposure in Rocky Mountains about January 22, 1849 while part of John Fremont’s fourth expedition. David was born in Gloucester County, New Jersey in 1803. He married Emeline Weyant, but they left no descendants. She lived from 1812 to 1889. (“David Carver,” Debra Lynn Carver Bruns, “Chicago Genealogical,” Spring 2011.)

Abel Casemier [CazmierCazemier] [1855-1905]
Abel Casemier was listed in the 1893 Compendium as a gardener [under Able Cazermier] and in the 1900 census as a farmer. A native of The Netherlands, he was born in Groningen Province The Netherlands, on May 17, 1855 and died on December 17, 1905. On May 14, 1881 in Groningen Province he married Johanna Olthoff, also born in The Netherlands. She lived from August 1851[1853] to 1932. They immigrated to the United States in 1882. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Among their children, all born in Michigan, were Jennie, born in July 1883; Mary, who was born on December 29, 1883, married Robert Muller in Grand Rapids on May 17, 1911, died on March 16, 1974, and was buried at Woodlawn Cemetery in Grand Rapids; Martin, who was born on January 10, 1886, died in 1938, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Sena, who was born on April 26, 1888 and married Edward Poel; Henry I, born on October 24, 1890; Ida, born in May 1893; and John, born on September 8, 1896. The family resided at 1121 Fulton.

Henry Casemier [Cazmier] I [1890-1974]

Henry, the son of Abel and Johanna Casemier, was born in Grand Haven on October 24, 1890. His first job was driving a wagon to deliver groceries, but in 1921 he purchased Henry Ringelberg’s Meat Market at 708 Washington. Later Henry broadened the business and renamed it the Henry Casemier Super Market.

Henry married Johanna [Nana/Nora] Boomgart [Boogard] in Grand Haven on June 25, 1913. She was born in Michigan about 1891. Their children included Marjorie A., born about 1915; Donald C., born who was born on August 31, 1915, moved to San Diego, California, and died there on June 12, 1986; Dorothy, who was born on April 7, 1918, married Paul Boyink of Grand Haven, and died on March 26, 2012 in Jenison; Jane Lois, who was born on September 11, 1919, married Peter Klaassen on August 1, 1940 in Grand Haven, and died on December 10, 2010; Ruth, who was born on February 6, 1921 and married Eugene Rothi of Grand Haven; Betty I., who was born on September 1, 1934, married Harry Bosscher in Grand Haven on September 27, 1946, and died on August 14, 2013; Henry II, who was born May 27, 1926, took over management of the stores, and died in Spring Lake on November 4, 1995; Priscilla, who was born on October 29, 1927, married Alfred Charles Pedersen in Grand Haven on September 1, 1949, and died on December 27, 2012 in Mishawka, Indiana; and Marvin J., who was born on September 27, 1931, became a partner in the family grocery business, and died in Grand Haven on April 24, 2016. The Casemier residence was located at 1027 Washington in 1920, at 618 Fulton around 1930, later at 1121 Fulton, and then at 1825 Waverly. Nana passed away about February 23, 1952 and buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In March 1953 Henry married Bertha Kraai, the widow of Mennow Smith. Bertha was born on June 8, 1889. Henry I died on August 2, 1974 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune article, “Boyinks To Celebrate 50th,” December 19, 1990.]

Jay Richard Casemier [1934-2004]

In 1961 Jay Casemier, a pharmacist at Steiner’s Drugstore at 136 Washington, purchased Presley’s Drugstore at 700 Washington. Two years later he moved his pharmacy business to the Meijer complex at 430 North Beacon, where he operated under the name Casemier Pharmacy until the chain store bought the business in 1975. He next purchased and operated Bunte’s Pharmacy in downtown Holland until 1989. He then joined the D & W grocery store chain and was manager at the Grand Haven D & W until he transferred to the Norton Shores store. Jay, the son of John and Jessie Ver Duin Casemier, was born in Grand Haven on April 27, 1934. He married Carolyn Ferguson in Kalamazoo on May 7, 1960. She was born on June 14, 1938. Jay, who had a real estate license, served with the North Ottawa Board of Realtors, and he was a member of Christ Community Church, the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, the Spring Lake Country Club, and the West Michigan Pharmacists Association, where he once served as president. Jay died in Spring Lake on January 14, 2004 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He and Carolyn had three daughters: Cyndi, who married Robert Johnson of Berlin, Vermont; Cammie, who married David Heatherington of Spring Lake; and Christi, who married Tom Lindow of Westerville, Ohio. The family resided at 13668 Lakeshore Drive. About 2010 Carolyn married widower Lloyd Rotz, a former Grand Haven physician [Tribune obituary, January 15, 2004.]

John Casemier [1896-1971]

In 1927 John Casemier Casemier Sanitary Market at 1322 Washington, in a building later occupied by the Fred Strahsburg Market. Casemier moved his store to 1123 Washington and then to 1117-1119 Washington. He also had a store at 222 North Fifth around 1940 and later at 401 South Beechtree. In 1946 his sons Robert J. and Abel L. took over management of the business. At various time John had stores in Grand Haven, Spring Lake, Ferrysburg and Coopersville, and he operated a summer store at Highland Park. The family resided at 945 Washington Street in the 1920s and later at 1143 Waverly. On May 3, 1925 he married Jessena “Jessie” Ver Duin, who was born on August 12, 1894, died in Crockery Township on February 2, 1988, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. John, the son of Abel and Johanna Casemier, was born in Grand Haven on September 8, 1896 and died in Bradenton, Florida on January 28, 1971. He was buried at Lake Forest. Among their children were Jay Casemier, born on April 27, 1934; Abel Louis, who lived from July 19, 1925 to November 16, 2007; Robert James, born about 1928; and Beverly Joan, who was born on September 20, 1936, married Byford Goldman on May 6, 1960 in Grand Haven, and died on February 22, 2014.

William Cass [1827-1905]

William Cass was an early Grand Haven photographer in partnership with J. P. Hughes. William was born in New York in 1827. He married Adelia [Adela/Delia] Meeks, who was born about 1837 in the same state. They were residents of Grand Haven as early as 1865, when the photography studio opened and he continued it until at least 1880, although J.P. Hughes disappeared from the area after 1868. The studio’s address was given as 72 Washington, a number that was invalidated when the numbering system was changed. [Number 72 probably was on the north side of Washington in what is now the 100 block.] It may have been burned down in the fire of February 21, 1866, when many of the businesses on Washington Street between Water [Harbor] and First Street were destroyed. He and Adela resided on Second Street. By 1900 they were located in Chicago, where William was proprietor of a candy store. He died in Chicago on July 25, 1905 and was interred at Forest Home Cemetery.

Ferris K. Cassis [1922-2000]

Ferris Cassis, the son of Syrian parents, was born in Toledo, Ohio on November 16, 1922, died on October 5, 2000 in Elmore, Idaho, and was buried at Woodlawn Cemetery in Grand Rapids. During the 1940s and 1950s Ferris leased a building at 12 Washington from Joe Nejem and ran the Harbor Inn. He resided on Ferris Street in the mid-1950s. He and his wife Dorothy Ellis had at least one child, Leslie Cassis, who was born in Grand Rapids on November 4, 1952 and married Paul Withun of Grand Haven.

Heamon [Heman] Castle [1862-1930]

Heamon Castle was born in Eastmanville on July 16, 1862. His parents were Truman S. and Mary M. Cross Castle. Heamon worked in local sawmills and owned a farm in Section 8 of Polkton Township before joining the U.S. Life Saving Service in 1896, where he spent the remainder of his working career until he retired in 1926 as a boatswain’s mate, first class. On April 9, 1883 he married Mary L. Quigley in Crockery Township, but two years later the family was in Frankfort, evidently for a short time. Mary lived from May 1863 [1864] to 1915. By the early 1900s the family had moved to Grand Haven and resided at 501 Lake Avenue. Heamon died on October 21 [24], 1930. Both were buried at Nunica Cemetery. John Franklin Castle, born on August 23, 1885, was their son. Other children were Eunice Mary, born in April 1893, Flora A., and Lewis Heamon Castle.

John Franklin Castle I [1885-1953]

Early in his life, John F. Castle worked for the Life Saving Service in Grand Haven. In the 1930s he and Henry Arkema operated Castle Gardens in Spring Lake, specializing in gladiolas. The Castle property was located at 17802 Fruitport Road. John, the son of Heamon and Mary Quigley Castle, was born in Frankfort on August 23, 1885. He married Clara Frieda Reichel on December 4, 1907. They had five children, including John F. II, who was born on December 17, 1921 and died on March 28, 1990. Clara passed away around June 14, 1955 and was buried with her husband at Spring Lake Cemetery. John II also was buried there.

John S. Castle [1830-1916]

When John Castle enlisted as private in Company M of the 7th Michigan Cavalry on May 11, 1863, he was a resident of Polkton Township. George W. Christman, born in Turbotville, Pennsylvania, on February 11, 1850, was brought to the Spring Lake area by Hunter Savidge about 1870 to work for him in his lumberyard. On October 10, 1879 George married Agnes “Aggie” E. Seagrove, who was born in Grand Haven on September 20, 1857 and died in 1908. For the three years after his marriage, George worked with a John Gauger, a former employee of Cutler & Savidge, in Ogallah, Kansas. When the Christmans returned to Spring Lake, they lived for awhile in one of the homes owned by the Spring Lake Hotel. When Cutler & Savidge moved their business to Canada, George acquired their planing mill and formed the Christman Lumber Company in 1895. George W. was a member of the Spring Lake Board of Education for 15 years, and he was a vice president of the Spring Lake State Bank when it was organized in 1914.

The Christmans had three children, all born in Spring Lake: Priscilla [Estella], who was born on April 9, 1881; George S., who was born on September 10, 1883; and Mildred A., who was born on February 2, 1887 and died on May 4, 1909. The family lived at 524 East River Street. Young George took over the family business in 1925, and his sons, who took over in the early 1950s, ran the business until 1967, when they converted to manufacturing pallets. George W. died July 14, 1934 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Aggie, George S., and Mildred.

James, the son of George and Adrienne Glerum Christman, was born in Grand Haven on May 19, 1925. On September 6, 1947, in Grand Haven, he married Lois M. Austin. James and his brothers owned and operated Christman Lumber Company, a business started by their grandfather, George W. Christman, in 1895. James served on the Spring Lake Village Council for more than twenty years, beginning when he was 24 years old, and he was president of the village from 1983 to 1987. He and his family attended Spring Lake Presbyterian Church. James also was a member of the Spring Lake Yacht Club, where he served on the Board of Directors, and he was a director of the Grand Rapids Reserve Supply Company. During WWII, James was a member of the Army and saw action at the Battle of the Bulge.
James and Lois had a son, James A. Christman of Oak Brook, Illinois, and another son, Douglas K. of Clive, Iowa. James passed away at his home on May 15, 2006. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 17, 2006.]

Normand J. Christman [1930-1994]
Normand, the son of George S. and Adrienne Glerum Christman, was born December 6, 1930, died March 29, 1994, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Normand worked for the family lumber business and was vice president/secretary of Industrial Lumber and Packaging, when that business was formed in the 1970s. Normand and his wife, Lucia C. Crane, whom he married on August 22, 1953 in Pontiac, lived at 536 East River Street in their early married years and later at 17887 Fruitport Road.

Priscilla Christman [1881-1902]
Born in Grand Haven on April 9, 1881 the oldest child of George W. Christman, Priscilla attended Kalamazoo College, where she graduated in 1901 with honors. She accepted a position to teach in the high school, but due to fatigue asked Etta Lee of Grand Rapids to fill her position temporarily while she gained her strength. She died on September 30, 1902 from a broken blood vessel incurred during a coughing spell. She was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 4, 1902.]

Caroline Searle Christmas [1847–1945] and Charles Christmas [1843–1912]
Born in England on July 6, 1847, Caroline Searle Christmas arrived in Grand Haven in 1872 with her husband, Charles. Caroline was one of this area’s first naturalized citizens and one of the founders of the Maccabees of Michigan. Her husband, Charles, was office clerk around 1880 and a janitor at the Court House in the early 1900s. He was born in England in August 15, 1843 and died about May 3, 1912. The couple lived at 602 Clinton. Caroline lived her last years at 400 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven, where George S. Christmas, her son, lived. George was born on January 9, 1876. Their other children were Bessie, who was born in 1874 and married Asa McCoy of Grand Haven; Robert H., born in 1882; Charles II, who was born in 1883 and served as secretary of the Grand Haven Furniture Company between 1890 and 1895; and Frank C., born in June 1884. All the children were born in Grand Haven. Caroline died about July 10, 1945 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

George Haydn Searl Christmas [1876–1964]
Born in Grand Haven on January 9, 1876, George, the son of Charles and Caroline Searle Christmas, became a cooper at the Kilbourn barrel factory. Later he worked for the Crosby Transportation Lines. George married Cora Strong on October 12, 1898. She was born in New York in August 1873 and died approximately February 10, 1968. Cora had been married previously and had a daughter, Sadie Strong, born in Michigan in June 1893. George passed away around April 18, 1964 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Christmases lived at 400 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven. In 1917 George and Cora bought an old railroad depot that had been moved from Harbor Island down the channel to North Shore. They converted it to a cottage and named it Christmas Lodge [approximately 20060 North Shore Road].

Felix Marshall Church [1891-1963]
Born in Detroit on December 2, 1891, Felix Church married Eleanor Baker in Saginaw on May 25, 1918. They were divorced in Saginaw on April 30, 1937. In 1927 Felix and Almon McCall purchased the Grand Haven Tribune. Felix became its secretary and treasurer. In Grand Haven, Felix and Eleanor resided at 316 South Fifth Street. Felix passed away on October 22, 1963 in St. Louis, Gratiot County and was buried at Oak Grove Cemetery in that community.

Nathan B. Church [1840-1926]
Nathan, born November 22, 1840 in Lyons, Ionia County, was the son of Lafayette and Sophronia Benjamin Church. Lafayette lived from 1816 to 1907, and Sophronia was born in 1823. On August 12, 1861, while living in Gratiot County, Nathan enlisted in Company C of the 26th Michigan Infantry. He was discharged for disability on January 17, 1862, but on September 15 that year he was commissioned in Company D of the 26th Michigan. He was Aide-de-Camp to Brigadier General John B. Slough from January 15 to April 1, 1863. Nathan was promoted to major on January 12, 1864 and to captain the following April 15. He was mustered out on October 30, 1865. In June 1872 he bought the Grand Haven Union newspaper from Lemoyne M. S. Smith and ran it as the local voice of the Democratic party until the election of 1872 and the defeat of his candidate. The newspaper then discontinued publication. Nathan and his wife Mary H. may have returned to Ionia County, where on October 1, 1877, he bought a 40-acre parcel. Nathan died in Ithaca, Gratiot County on December 26, 1926. When Mary applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on January 8, 1927, she was living in New York State.

Thomas Brownell Church [1813-1890]

A Grand Rapids attorney and noted orator, Thomas Church was born in Bristol County, Massachusetts on September 13, 1813. In 1843 he started practicing law in Grand Rapids, a year after he had participated in litigation between William M. Ferry and Clark B. Albee in Grand Haven. Charles Whipple was the presiding judge. In 1855 Thomas was the prosecuting attorney in the murder trial of Jordan Turpin. Church also was a representative to the State Constitutional Convention in 1850, and in 1851 he was elected representative to the State Legislature. The next year he was elected mayor of Grand Rapids. Thomas in 1841 [1842] married Mary E. Stuart [Steward] of Marshall, Calhoun County. He died in Grand Rapids on July 30, 1890.

Frederick Churchill [1859-1921]

Fred Churchill and James Edward [Edwards] owned the Edward & Churchill Company in Agnew. The firm manufactured crates for celery, berries, peaches, and grapes, and also offered “Custom Sawing, Planing and Matching. Custom Feed Grinding During Season.” Fred owned a 40-acre farm in Section 26 of Grand Haven Township. The son of Lorenzo and Triphena Ball Churchill, he was born in Paw Paw, Van Buren County in September 1859 and married Ada L. Harris in Agnew on July 2, 1891. Ada, the daughter of George Harris of Grand Haven Township, was born in September 1871. Fred and Ada had two daughters: Ida, born in May 1892, and Francis, born in April 1897. Fred died in 1921 and was buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery. His wife died in 1948 and was buried under the name Ada Churchill Thorpe at the same cemetery.

The grandson of James Golden Cilley and the son of Ithiel John and Georgia E. Cilley of Grand Rapids, Verl was born November 8 [10] 1888. Ithiel John and Georgia were married in Grand Haven on January 15, 1881 but moved to Grand Rapids. Verl on October 4, 1912 married Viola Elizabeth Cousin in Kanabec, Minnesota. Viola, about five years younger than her husband, was born in Michigan [Wisconsin/Nova Scotia]. In November 1920 Verl and his father were granted a patent for a “Direction-Indicator.” The next year Verl was given a patent for a vehicle taillight. In 1930 Verl was manager of Multi-Selecto Phonograph in Grand Rapids, and he was treasurer and manager of an oil company in Grand Rapids. Their daughter, Viola G. [Geraldine], was born in Grand Rapids around October 1919. Verl died in Grand Rapids on January 28, 1954, and Viola the mother passed away on March 27, 1966 in Kent County. Both were buried at Greenwood Cemetery.

Verl and Viola, residents of Grand Rapids, in 1928 built a second home at 200 Prospect Street, atop Five Mile Hill. It soon became known as the Castle, because of its intended resemblance to a 15th Century Spanish castle. The brick on both the inside and outside of the structure was imported from Italy.

James Golden Cilley [1827-1912]

Born in St. Lawrence County, New York on October 8, 1827, James Cilley arrived in Grand Haven in 1855, but was listed in the Coopersville census for 1860, where he opened a law office. On February 15, 1865 he enlisted in Company C of the Michigan 10th Cavalry. By the following November 11 James was mustered out of the service, having recently been promoted to Hospital Steward. After the war he re-opened his law office in Coopersville. In 1870 the family was residing in Polkton Township, and ten years later they had moved to Tallmadge Township. James was again residing in Coopersville in 1910. In partnership with Marvin H. Creager, James in the spring of 1881 built a planing mill near the Pere Marquette train depot on Madison [Jackson] Street in Grand Haven. On November 19, 1890 he applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. He married Mariam [Marian/Miriam] Monroe, who was born on December 31, 1828 in New York and died on April 10, 1906. They had four children, including Ithiel John, who became a Grand Rapids patent attorney and lived from 1846 to 1926; Maria August who lived from 1853 to 1936; Adella “Delia”
M. who was born in October 1858; and Earl Oscar, who was born in March 1865 and passed away in 1943.
Ithiel married Georgia Thurston in Grand Haven on January 15, 1881, and they had a son, Vrl. Delia married
Elbert Lynn of Grand Haven. James died on October 14, 1912 in Coopersville and was buried at Maplewood Cemetery in Lamont with his wife. Vrl [Vrl] Ithiel Cilley, who built “The Castle” on Five Mile Hill was his grandson.

Vrl [Verl] Ithiel Cilley [1888-1954]

Adeline “Addie” M. Clark [1868-1949]
Born in Grand Haven on January 15, 1868, Addie was the daughter of Sidney and Adeline Clark. Addie began her 28-year career teaching fifth grade when she was 17. Her starting salary was $32 a month; 28 years later she was making $48 a month. Her sister, Clara A. Clark, also a teacher, lived with Addie. Clara’s death about February 27, 1904 at the age of 43 “was one of the great sorrows” of Addie’s life. Addie served three and a half years as the Robinson Township correspondent for the Tribune. She started teaching in 1886 and retired in 1913, returning to a farm in Robinson Township, where her parents had relocated. [She taught two additional years at Robinson Elementary School in order to qualify for a pension.] She was at different times president, secretary, and treasurer of the Robinson extension group, and she was a member of the Presbyterian Church. She lived during her last years at 220½ South Seventh Street. Addie about November
7, 1949 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 15, 1943, and Tribune articles,
May 25, 1913 and January 15, 1943.]

Charles Henry Clark [1835-1901]
Charles H. Clark, who was born in Augusta, Maine on February 8, 1835, came to Michigan in 1853 to work in a lumber camp in Robinson Township. He was hired to help construct a “horse railroad,” which transported cut timber from today’s intersection of Lincoln and 144th Streets to Stearns Bayou. There the logs were rolled into the water and floated to the various sawmills in Spring Lake and Grand Haven. In 1855 he returned to Maine to marry Abigail Hartwell Wall, and in early November that year they settled on a farm in Robinson Township. In 1865 they purchased 142 acres in Section 6 of Robinson Township, eventually extending their holdings into Section 31.

Among the Clarks’ nine surviving children were Frederick, born in Michigan in September 1856; Harriet
Abigail “Hattie,” also born in Michigan and who lived from 1858 to 1955 was the wife of James Bignell;
Phebe Augusta, who was born in Augusta, Maine on July 2 1860; Hannah Wall, who was born in Michigan in 1863, married Benjamin Barton, and died in October 1953 in Marion, Indiana; and Walter H., who was born in Robinson on December 3, 1866. Charles’s wife, Abigail Hartwell Wall, was born about July 26, 1833, died on July 1, 1873, and was buried at Robinson Cemetery. After Abigail’s death, Charles married her sister, Augusta Ballard Wall, who died in 1888 at the age of 53. Charles passed away on February 23, 1901. [Tribune obituary, October 12, 1955, Tribune article, November 2, 1984, and letter from Helen F.
Clark to Maurice Wilson, Director of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum, June 22, 1977.]

Chauncey [Chaney] Robert Clark I [1890-1957]
Born in Grand Haven on June 17, 1890, Chauncey was the son of Joseph and Fanny Clark. Joseph was a mason and building contractor. Chauncey was listed as a student in the 1908 City Directory, but a year later he was secretary for the Getsmall Roach Trap Company, formed in Grand Haven in 1909. Marvin Klaver recalled that Chauncey brought his 16-year-old bride to their home at 417 Lafayette [approximate number] after their wedding in Muskegon on December 31, 1912. The bride, Dorothy “Dora” Mathilda Ward, the daughter of Andrew Jackson and Lucy Harrington Ward, was born in Grand Haven in 1896. In 1915 Chauncey and Dora lived at 398 Howard Street. Two years later, Chauncey noted on his military draft registration that he was a self-employed brick layer, residing with his wife and children at 640 Lake Avenue. However, there has never been an address 640 Lake Avenue, and Chauncey may have been referring to the house at 634 Lake Avenue, where he and his family were living in 1920. Sharing the house at that time were Chauncey, Dora, their three children, and Dora’s widowed mother, Lucy Ward. The children, all born locally, were Chauncey II, born about 1914; Dora E., born about 1916; and Patricia A., born about July 1919. Chauncey followed his father’s career path and became a building contractor. By 1930 Chauncey and Dora had moved to Miami, Florida, where Chauncey’s parents were located. He and Dora were divorced in Florida in 1952. Chauncey died in Dade County, Florida, in 1957.

Helen F. Clark [1896-1978]

Helen Clark taught at Clark School in Robinson Township from 1933 to 1958, the year the school closed permanently. She then transferred to the new Robinson School on 120th Avenue, where she taught second grade until her retirement in 1962. Helen lived from November 1, 1896 to June 20, 1978. Her parents were Walter and Edna Chappel Clark, residents of Robinson Township. Helen’s aunt Phebe Clark taught at the same school from 1885 to 1933.

Joseph Edward Clark I [1868-1950]

Born on January 23, 1868 in Spring Lake, Joseph was the son of Robert and Susanna Doddington Clark. Joseph’s wife, Fannie, was born in Michigan in October 1869. They had five sons: Chauncey Robert, born in Grand Haven on June 17, 1890; Stewart E., born in 1895; Harold B., born in 1905; Joseph E. II, born in 1906; and Walter D., born in 1909. Joseph II was born in Illinois, the rest in Michigan. Joseph I became a mason and building contractor. One of the sons joined his father in the contracting business, which was operating as J. E. Clark & Son in 1922 but was gone by 1928. In the early 1900s the Clark home was at 520 Pennoyer, west of the railroad tracks. By 1920 they had moved to 214 Franklin Street. By 1930 Joseph and Fannie had moved to Miami, Florida. Joseph I died in 1950 and was interred at a cemetery in Miami, Florida.

Lewis Lee Clark [1899-1988] and Rose [Rosa] Sonrel Clark [1907-2005]

Lewis, the son of Walter and Edna Clark of Robinson Township, was born in Manse on August 31, 1899. He owned 35 acres at 14315 Lakeshore Drive, where his wife, Rose Sonrel, lived until her death on August 21, 2005. The property had been part of Rose’s parents’ farm. He and Rose were married in Grand Haven on June 7, 1940. She was born in Grand Haven on August 18, 1907. Rose was the daughter of Francis and Rosa Zwygart Sonrel, who owned other property nearby, and the sister of Francis and Robert Sonrel. She attended Northern State and Ferris Universities, received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Western State University, and later was awarded a Master of Arts degree from the University of Michigan. Rose started teaching at Rosy Mound School in 1931 and left her teaching post after five years to join the faculty at Ferry School, where she remained until 1961. Lewis, who attended Hope College and the University of Michigan, became a surveyor. He also worked at the General Motors plant in Grand Rapids. A large school bell that once called Rosy Mound students to class was fitted onto the Clarks’ windmill. Lewis died in Grand Haven on October 5, 1988. He and Rose were buried at Grand Haven Township Historic Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, August 24, 2005.]

Phebe Clark [1860-1895]

Phebe Augusta Clark, born in Augusta, Maine on July 2, 1860, was a teacher for 52 years, including 48 years at Clark School in Robinson Township. She died October 11, 1955. Her parents were Charles and Abigail Wall Clark of Robinson Township. Phebe’s niece, Helen Clark, taught at the same school from 1933 to 1958.

Robert was born on January 22, 1830 in New York. His wife, Susanna [Susannah/Susan] Doddington, was born in England on February 16, 1846. Mark Doddington of Spring Lake was her brother. Robert served as private with Company G of the 25th Iowa Infantry from September 1862 to June 1865. He filed for an invalid’s pension on October 3, 1856, and his wife applied for a widow’s pension on November 20, 1908. Robert and Susanna were married in 1866. In 1870 Robert, Susanna, their son Joseph, and Susanna’s mother, Alice [Alvire] Doddington, were living on a farm in Crockery Township. By 1880 the family was residing in Spring Lake, where it remained. Among their children were Joseph Edward Clark, who was born in Spring Lake on January 23, 1868, Verona [Veronia], who was born in Spring Lake on December 21, 1889, and Spencer, who lived from February 9, 1887 to July 6, 1925. Spencer was buried at Marne Cemetery. Robert died on October 20, 1908 in Spring Lake. Susanna died in Spring Lake on February 15, 1917. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Sherman Boyce Clark I [1878-1962]
A mail carrier in Grand Haven, Sherman, the son of Sidney and Adeline Prentice Clark, was born on January 4, 1878. He married Henrietta Bos in 1901. They were living at 119 South Fifth Street shortly after their marriage. Living with them in the early 1900s were his sister Addie Clark, and Carrie Hamilton, a nurse. By 1930 Sherman and his family was living in Walker, Kent County. At the time of Sherman’s death in December 1962 the family lived at 515 Slayton. A son, Sherman II, was born on April 16, 1914, resided in Spring Lake, and died in Lowell, Kent County, in May 1984.

Sidney Clark [1839-1911]
The brother of Charles H. Clark, Sidney was born in Augusta, Maine in April 1839 [1840] and came to Robinson Township in 1856 by way of covered wagon and the Erie Canal. He held considerable acreage in Sections 33 and 34, along the south side of the Grand River. In 1860 Sidney married Adeline, daughter of Alonzo and Dorliska Prentice of Robinson Township. Adeline was born in February 1844 and died on May 18, 1911. Sidney died about May 18, 1911. Sidney and Adeline came to the area around 1850, probably from Maine and New York, by way of covered wagon and the Erie Canal. The family lived in Grand Haven for several years, initially on First Street and then at 219 South Fifth. For awhile, Sidney worked with the Ferry Lumber Company in Grand Haven and in 1867 started a livery there, which he operated for about 29 years. After the family residence on First Street was destroyed by fire, Sidney built a house in 1873 at Lafayette and Fifth Streets [219 South Fifth], which was the family home for 22 years. At that time Sidney retired to a farm in Robinson Township known as the Clark House, where he remained until his death in 1911.

Among the Clarks’ children were Clara A., who was born in November 1861, became a teacher, lived with her sister, Adeline “Addie,” and died on February 27, 1904; Charles A., who was born in August 1864, became a rural mail carrier in Grand Haven, and died about March 22, 1944; Adeline, born on January 15, 1868 [1869]; Horace, born in February 1874; Mintie, born in 1877; Sherman, born on January 4, 1878; and Sydney Helen, an invalid, was born on April 5, 1884, lived as an invalid with Addie in the family home in Robinson Township, and died on June 28, 1945. Clara, Charles, and Addie were born in New York, and Mintie, Horace, and Sherman were born locally.

Walter Henry Clark [1866-1960]
Walter, the son of Charles Henry and Abigail H. Wall Clark, was born on December 3, 1866 in Robinson Township, where his parents had settled on a farm in November eleven years earlier. They originally were from Augusta, Maine. Charles, who was born about 1835, had come to Michigan in 1853 to work in a lumber camp in Robinson. He was hired to help construct a “horse railroad,” which ran from today’s intersection of Lincoln and 144th Streets to the head of Stearns Bayou. There logs were rolled into the water and floated to the various sawmills in Spring Lake and Grand Haven. The farm he bought two years later was on the banks of the Grand River.

Walter became a lumberman and farmer. As a youth he was employed in lumber camps and learned the work of river crews: how to drive logs, float them, and “boom” them. From 1907 to 1911 he was County treasurer with an office at the County Building, and from 1911 to 1915 he represented his district in the State Legislature. On June 27, 1895 he married Edna O., daughter of Richard Chappell. Edna was born in Michigan in October 1878. They lived on River Road, “six miles east of the city” [Robinson Township]. They had a daughter Helen, who was born on November 1, 1896; a son Lewis [Louis], born in August 1899; a son Charles, born in 1907; a daughter Alice, born in 1910; and another daughter, Florence, born in 1913. Edna died in an auto accident in 1940. Walter, who held various public offices in Robinson Township, including supervisor from 1901 to 1907, died on February 29, 1960 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Lewis Lee Clark was their son. Henry Warren Cleveland [1835- 1889]

Henry was born in Rutland, Jefferson County, New York, on June 17, 1835, the son of Henry and Phebe Reed Cleveland. Young Henry married Phebe Maria Perham, also of Rutland, on February 16, 1852 [1853]. She was born on February 16, 1838. John and Loren Perham of Spring Lake were Phebe’s brothers. Henry and Phebe moved to Ottawa, Illinois the following May and then settled in Spring Lake in 1856. Henry worked as a millwright and constructed at Hopkins Mill the first steam cant hoister in the area. He also made and repaired boots and shoes. He learned the drugstore business and owned and operated a store at 208 West Savidge with Ormond Messinger as his partner. Eventually Messinger bought out Henry’s interest. Henry moved to Nunica in 1874 and opened a drugstore. In Nunica, Henry was appointed postmaster, and he was elected township supervisor in 1878 and 1880 and township clerk in 1879. Henry and Phebe [Phoebe] had two sons, both born in Michigan: George E., born about 1863, and Guy L., born in November 1870. Henry passed away on September 27, 1889. Phebe and George ran the drugstore after Henry’s death. Phebe had moved to Grand Haven by 1900 and died on August 14, 1907.

“Barney” Menno [Minno] Cleveringa II [1868-1900]

Barney, the son of Menno and Fokeltje Hilje Elema Cleveringa, was born in Grand Haven on February 17, 1868 and died on August 17, 1900. Barney worked with the United States Life Saving Service in the 1890s. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife, Minnie, and other family members. Minnie was born in Germany in February 1872. Their children were Frederick V., born in February 1889, and Florence B., born in March 1894. After Barney’s death, Minnie married John Bienz of Grand Haven.

Dick Cleveringa [1871-1944]

Born in The Netherlands in October 1871, Dick Cleveringa immigrated to the United States in 1882. He married Hendrika “Reka” Gringhuis in Grand Haven in 1896. Reka, the daughter of Gerrit and Jennie “Jane” Nordhuis Gringhuis, was born in April 1875 in Grand Haven, where she died in 1934. Dick was a teamster. The family lived at 908 Fulton Street. The family belonged to the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Dick died about March 6, 1944 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Menno [Meno] Cleveringa [1873-1945]

John Cleveringa was employed as a millwright at Challenge Machinery. He and his wife, Blanche, resided at 322 North Seventh Street. Their children, all born locally, were Menno Mark, who was born on June 25, 1899 and became a molder at Dake Engine Company; Avice, who was born on June 13, 1904 and died in Muskegon on May 26, 1974; Berdena, born about 1915; George R., born about 1917; and David R., born about 1921. John passed away on December 22, 1945 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Blanche died about October 17, 1956 and was buried with her husband.

Menno [Menne, Mino] Cleveringa I [1837-1914]

Menno, the son of Trientje Derks Cleveringa, was a Grand Haven carpenter. He was born in Eenrum, The Netherlands, on March 8, 1837 and died in Grand Haven on March 16, 1914. He married Fokeltje Hilje [Florence Viola] Elema in The Netherlands on July 17, 1865. She lived from April 1845 to 1909. In the early 1900s the family resided at 500 North Seventh. A son, Menno “Barney” II was born on February 17, 1868. They also had two daughters: Gertrude, who lived from 1866 to 1907 and married John Nienhuis, and Katherine, born in April 1888. The Cleveringas were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Henry Cliff [1850-1934]

Henry Cliff was born on January 26, 1850 in England. By 1870 he was a resident of Spring Lake, living with his mother, Elizabeth, and running a hardware store. Elizabeth was born about 1805 in England. In 1875 Henry served one term as president of Spring Lake Village. Two years later he purchased the furniture inventory of Ormond Messinger, which Henry added to his hardware and undertaking business. He also sold wagons and buggies. An invoice, dated 1882, noted that he sold “Hardware, Tinware, Furniture, Building Material, and Farming Implements.” Henry died in Grand Rapids on November 17, 1934.

Born in Martins Ferry, Ohio on September 17, 1863, David was the son of William H. and Nancy A. Norman Patton McClellan. David’s father was born in Pennsylvania about 1818 and died when David was a boy. His mother then married William Cline, who was a shoemaker and native of Ohio, where he was born about 1816. Nancy was born about 1818, also in Ohio. William adopted the young David, who took the name Cline. David moved to Muskegon on March 29, 1882. He worked in the sawmills until 1887, when he went into the fruit packaging business with his brother-in-law, Rushton B. Cobb, in Eastmanville. In October 1889, the business moved to Spring Lake and became the Spring Lake Basket Factory. David bought a one-third interest in the business, which was destroyed by fire on June 28, 1898 and then shut down. David next went into sales, offering farm implements, windmills, bicycles, and photographic supplies. His store was on the north side of Savidge in the 200 block [approximately 209 West Savidge]. He later went into road construction with Klaus Boelens, and the business was called Cline & Boelens Contracting Company. David was a member of the Village Council, Council treasurer, and village president for 13 terms, 1902 through 1907 and 1925 through 1931. He represented Spring Lake on the Ottawa County Board of supervisors in 1913 and 1914.

David married Anna “Annie” Cobb of Muskegon County on August 20, 1884. Born about 1867, she was the adopted daughter of George and Helen Cobb and Rushton Cobb’s sister. The Clines had one child, George Ray, who was born on October 10, 1887, at Eastmanville. Anna died in 1888. In 1900 Cline married Celia Vos, daughter of Warner and Anne Pruim Vos of Spring Lake. As newlyweds, the Clines lived at 231 East Savidge Street in Spring Lake, in a home built by George Dixon in 1875. During the years David was a widower, he allowed school children to borrow his wife’s “old fashioned” clothing for school plays. David and Celia had no surviving children. He died November 3, 1954 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Harold Francis Cloutier [1917-1994]

Harold Cloutier married Irene Ralya in Grand Haven on August 1, 1941. Harold had started the Busy Bee Shoe Repair Shop at 111 Washington about 1939, and Irene joined him in the business. They later moved their shop to 103 Washington. Harold, who was born in Grand Rapids on July 24, 1917 and had lived in Muskegon. He died in Grand Haven on July 1, 1994, while Irene lived from August 19, 1919 to May 14, 1993. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He and Irene resided at 1313 Washington. They had four children: Harold II, born about 1946; James, born about 1951; Linda, born about 1954; and Steven, born about 1969.

Florence Bailey Clover [1907-2001]

Florence’s parents, Oran and Flora Bailey Clover, lived in Mancelona when she was born on April 8, 1907. On May 28, 1925 she married George E. Clover I, who was born on August 31, 1903. Florence worked for Stokely-Van Camp Cannery in Hart and for Eagle Ottawa in Grand Haven. She and George lived in Crockery Township, where they had a dairy farm, and also raised chickens and vegetables. They maintained a roadside vegetable stand in the Nunica area. They had a daughter, Doris, who married Eugene Taylor of Grand Haven, another daughter, Beverly, and two sons, Thomas and George II. George II was born on February 2, 1926 and died in Grand Haven on April 18, 1993. George I died on December 18, 1976 in Arizona. Florence then married Thomas G. Watson, who was born on June 16, 1901 and died December 25, 1982. Florence died in Grand Haven on August 17, 2001.

Henry Clubb, born on June 1, 1827 in Colchester, England, immigrated to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania in 1853. He next moved to Kansas, where he established a Vegetarian Settlement Company
Emigration Company] in Neosho County. One evening, while on business in Ft. Scott, Kansas, Henry was threatened by a crowd opposed to his abolitionist views. Henry “looked them in the eye” and told them, “Well, gentleman, your numbers are sufficient to put any threat into execution, and I am among you alone and unprotected. If you require me to leave, I must, under the circumstances, do so, but it is rather late, being after sundown, and if tomorrow morning would suit you as well, it will be a good deal better, as I intend to leave then.” He was allowed to go. [New York Daily Tribune, July 1, 1856.] The next year he settled in Grand Haven, where he published and edited the Ottawa Clarion, which first appeared in March that year. The Clarion was strongly supportive of the Republican party, and it was issued until the fall of 1862, when Henry joined the United States Volunteer Service as captain and assistant quartermaster. He was wounded at Corinth, Mississippi on October 13, 1862 [not cited in his service record] and was discharged from the service on April 7, 1866. In 1867 he became alderman for the Fourth Ward of Grand Haven’s first City Council and a school commissioner. In the years 1873 to 1874 he served in the Michigan Senate, and in 1873 he was secretary to the Michigan Constitutional Convention. In August 1869 Henry began publication of the Grand Haven Herald, which also leaned toward the Republican party. It was a daily publication from its inception until December 7, 1872, when he sold it to Charles N. Dickinson. In 1876 Henry was called to be pastor of the Bible Christian Church in Philadelphia. In Philadelphia Henry, by then a noted vegetarian, became editor of a magazine titled Food, Home, and Garden. On November 15, 1855 in Allegan County, he married Anne B., the daughter of James and Isabella Campbell Henderson of that county and originally from Scotland, where Anne was born in May 1833. She immigrated to the United States with her parents when she was one year old. Henry and Anne had at least four children, all born locally: Anne, born about 1862; Naomi, born in June 1865; Rose Elizabeth [or Elizabeth Rose], born in August 1868; and Martha W., born in May 1871. The family moved to Philadelphia in 1876, where Henry died in 1921. Anne passed away between 1910 and 1920.

James [John] Clydesdale [Clydesdell] [1876-1859]

James Clydesdale arrived in Grand Haven in 1836 with his wife, Jane, seven children, and very few assets. He was a successful businessman, however, and eventually was able to buy Timothy Eastman’s house on Lot 89 on the southeast corner of Elliott and First Streets. The family later moved to Mill Point [Spring Lake]. Richard, Robert, and William were their sons. James, who was born in 1786, died in 1859 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. James also was known as John Clydesdale.

Richard Clydesdale [Clidesdell, Clydesdell] [1828-1879]

Richard and his brothers, Robert and William, arrived in Grand Haven in 1836 with their parents, James and Jane Clydesdale. The family shortly afterward moved to Mill Point [Spring Lake]. The brothers sailed together on Lake Michigan, Robert as captain and Richard as mate. Richard owned the Sinclair House, a hotel on the northeast corner of Division and State [Savidge] Streets in Spring Lake from 1859 and into the 1870s. He also was a lumberman. Richard, who was born in Canada on June 3, 1828, was killed by a falling tree on February 8, 1879. His wife, Jane Torrans, a native of Ireland, lived from 1833 to October 7, 1909 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with her husband. Their daughters, both born in Michigan, were Mary, born about 1854, and Jennie, born around 1859. Mary became a teacher and Jennie married Blair Hileman, born about 1857 in Michigan and a resident of Spring Lake.

Robert Clydesdale I [Clidesdell, Clydesdell] [@1820-1899]

Robert arrived in Grand Haven in 1836 with his parents, James and Jane Clydesdale, and his brothers, Richard and William. Shortly afterward the family relocated to Mill Point [Spring Lake]. Robert, who was born in Canada about 1820, was captain of the schooner Lizzie Throop and Richard was mate. He and his wife Esther Maria had at least two children: Robert Clydesdale II, who was born in New York [Grand Haven] in 1851, and Jennie, who was born in New York around 1855. Esther Maria was a native of Ohio, where she was born in 1822. The family was residing in Chicago at the time of the 1870 Federal Census, and in the next census the family was still in Chicago, but Robert and Esther Maria were living with their daughter Jennie and son-in-law, Leonard Kipp. Also in the household was their daughter Emma Clydesdale, a 24-year old native of Michigan, who died in 1901 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Esther Maria passed away on September 10, 1883 in Chicago. Robert died in Chicago on September 24, 1899. He was buried at Rose Hill Cemetery with his wife. [Ireland was listed as country of birth on his death certificate, which also noted that he was a lake captain.]

Robert Clydesdale II [1851-1930]

Robert, the son of Robert Clydesdale, was born in New York [Grand Haven] in 1851. On March 25, 1872 in Spring Lake he married Ida Allison. The daughter of Benjamin and Margaret Lewis Allison of Spring Lake, Ida was born in Michigan in 1851, lived until October 27, 1913, and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon. Edith J., the Clydesdales’ daughter, married Fred J. Brown in Muskegon on July 29, 1896, when Edith was 19 years old and the groom was a year older. Robert died on September 19, 1930 and was buried at Oakwood with his wife. They had lived in Muskegon since at least 1887. [Tribune obituary, October 29, 1913.]

William Clydesdale [Clidesdell, Clydesdell] [@1823-1886]

On May 10, 1864, Spring Lake resident William Clydesdale married Harriet Huggard in Grand Rapids. William. The son of James and Jane Clydesdale [Clydesdell], William was born in County Cavan, Ireland in 1823 [1822]. He came to the area by way of Canada and Oswego, New York, arriving in Grand Haven in 1836 with his parents and brothers, Richard and Robert. By the time of his marriage William owned a farm in Section 12 of Crockery Township, amounting to approximately 60 acres. By 1882 he had settled on 40 acres in Section 31 of Fruitport Township in Muskegon County. He was born in Ireland in 1823 [1822] and died in 1886. Harriet lived from 1834 to 1915. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Saunders Coates [1811-1883]

Saunders, the son of John Reynell and Sarah Morton Coates, was born in Philadelphia on April 26, 1811. They were a family of Quakers. Saunders married Rebecca Harvey Bell in Yonkers, New York on October 23, 1845. Rebecca, the daughter of Abraham and Mary Christy Bell, was born on January 22, 1813. Saunders became general superintendent of the Port Sheldon Company, which tried to develop a resort community at Little Pigeon Lake in Olive Township. Saunders was elected to the first Ottawa County Board of Commissioners in 1838. He left the area when the Port Sheldon Company failed in the late 1830s but was counted in the Ottawa County census for that year. Reportedly, Saunders returned East and in New York City built the first gas works in the country. His occupation as listed in the 1860 Federal Census for Yonkers, New York, was “Gentleman.” He died in Florida on April 30, 1883. Rebecca passed away on January 26, 1894. Both were buried at Greenwood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York.

Josiah Cobb [1802-1888]

While living in Essex, Clinton County, Josiah Cobb on April 22, 1863 enlisted as private in the federal army. He gave his age as 44. On June 12 that year he was assigned to Company M of the 7th Michigan Cavalry. He was mustered out on October 3, 1863. According to Ottawa County death records, he was born in New York in April 1802. His wife, Charlotte, was born in the same state about 1809. Their son Lyman was born in Michigan about 1848. Josiah and his wife were still living in Essex in 1870 and 1880. Although there is no evidence Josiah and Charlotte ever resided in Robinson Township, Josiah died in the township on May 21, 1888 and was buried at the township cemetery. Possibly Josiah was living with his son, Lyman, at the time of his death. He was 88 years old.

Lyman [Lymon] Cobb [1848-1939]

A resident of Robinson Township, Lyman Cobb ran a ferry across the Grand River to Spoonville. The dock was at the end of Spoonville Road [120th Avenue]. Like many others, this ferry was operated by a crank and chain mechanism. The ferry was discontinued about 1920. Lyman, a Michigan native, lived from August 1848 [1849] to 1939 and his wife, Anna Elizabeth Dowd., from September 1856 [1855] to 1932. Their 40-acre farm was in Section 34 in Robinson Township, near the south bank of the Grand River. A daughter, Nellie M., was born in September 1886 and a son Charlie was born on May 14, 1898 and was employed at American Brass Novelty Company. Lyman was the son of Josiah [1807-1891] and Charlotte Whitman [1809-1881] Cobb. Lyman and Anna were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Rushton “Rush” Bensom Cobb [1851-1900]

Born near Ripon, Wisconsin on July 1, 1851, Rushton was the son of George N. and Helen Tabor Cobb and the stepbrother of Anna Cobb, who married David Cline. Rush came to Muskegon County with his parents in 1869, and in 1887 went into the fruit packaging business with his brother-in-law, David Cline. In October 1889 the business moved to Spring Lake and became the Spring Lake Basket Factory. It burned down on June 28, 1898. Rush took command of the steamer Fanny M. Rose, built for him by the Grand Haven Shipbuilding Company in 1893 and made as many as four trips a day between Grand Haven and Fruitport.
On September 4, 1896, he took Vice President Adlai Ewing Stevenson, his wife Letitia, and their daughter for a ride on the Fanny Rose out to Lake Michigan. The Adlai Stevensons were in Spring Lake at the invitation of Adlai T. Ewing, a cousin, who had a home on Spring Lake called “Glenewing-on-Spring-Lake.”
On September 20, 1882 in Muskegon, Rush married Alice Gay of that town. Alice was born in Eastmanville in November 1859. In 1891 the Cobbs moved to Grand Haven. Rush died of consumption on April 20, 1900, in Florida. His father George Cobb, born in Connecticut in 1814, died the previous year on October 18.
Rush’s mother Helen lived from 1824 to 1912. [Tribune obituary, April 23, 1900.]

Silas Tower Cobb [1838-1867]

Although never a resident of Northwest Ottawa County, Silas Cobb was visiting Grand Haven on November 9, 1867. While crossing the Grand River, in a small boat, he and three others were drowned when their craft capsized. With Silas at the time of the accident were Edgar L. Fletcher and James H. and Sarah Marcy and their young child. Sarah, survived. Silas’s death caught national attention because of the part he played in the aftermath of Abraham Lincoln’s assassination on April 14, 1865. On the night of the assassination, he was on duty as sergeant with the Company F of the 3rd Massachusetts Heavy Artillery. His orders were to prevent anyone from crossing a bridge that spanned the Potomac River in Washington, D.C. The curfew was in effect from nine p.m. to sunrise. Sometime after ten p.m. a man who identified himself as John Wilkes Booth told Silas a credible story about why he should be allowed to cross into Maryland. Not long afterward, Silas allowed David Herold, another conspirator in the plot to kill Lincoln, to cross the bridge. Silas did not learn until later that Lincoln had been shot and that all guards in the Washington area should “look out for the killer.”

Silas and Edgar Fletcher were from the same hometown, Holliston, Massachusetts, and both were bootmakers. They may have been in Grand Haven to meet with other craftsman in the same trade. Silas was born in Holliston on August 13, 1838. He married Sophia Hilton Treen in Medway, Massachusetts on May 1, 1863. She was about five years younger than Silas. He enlisted as corporal with the Massachusetts regiment on July 13 the same year and was mustered out on September 18, 1865 with the rank of sergeant.

Cornelius “Corie” Coburn [1878-1942]

In the early 1900s Corie Coburn was prosecuting attorney for Ottawa County with an office in the Court House. Corie was born in Zeeland on April 15, 1878. On June 17, 1919 in Holland, he married Lillian O’Hara. In 1918 Corie was working as an attorney in Grand Rapids, but 12 years later he and his wife, Lillian, were residing in Highland Park, Wayne County, where he was a real estate attorney. Corie and Lillian lived at 312 Franklin in Grand Haven. Lillian was born in Michigan about 1888. She and Corie were divorced on June 17, 1919. Corie died in Detroit on November 27, 1942.

Thomas Coffee [@1838-1873]

On September 25, 1873 the schooner W. J Whaling, carrying 3,000 barrels of salt, was stranded on a sandbar off Grand Haven harbor. Thomas Coffee lost his life when the lifeboat he was in capsized during an attempt to rescue the crew of the Whaling. Thomas, who was 35 years old at the time, was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Also killed in the wreck was Michael Whalen, the ship’s cook.

Gustave “Gus” Victor Cohrs [1892-1985]

Gus Cohrs was athletic director at Grand Haven High School for many years, leading the basketball team to seven championships in 11 seasons during the 1920s and 1930s. He joined the school system in 1922 and retired in 1958. On November 26, 1915 Gus married Johannah “Hannah” Anderson in Muskegon. She was born on March 5, 1891 and died of a “ruptured abdominal aorta” on June 4, 1977. Gus, who was born in Illinois on November 27, 1892, died of pneumonia on August 15, 1985 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They lived at 535 Waverly and at 205 Fifth Street. Their daughter Joyce Helen Cohrs was born in Grand Haven on June 8, 1924. She married Paul Charles Nelson in Muskegon on April 6, 1950, died on February 8, 1970, and was buried at Lake Forest. Paul was born on November 21, 1916 in Muskegon and died in 1964. He, too, was buried at Lake Forest. [He also was known as Paul Charles Franzen.]

William M. Colby [1836-1920]

William Colby, a resident of Spring Lake, organized a group of 12 to 15 people to start a Methodist Episcopal Church. William was a church Elder and its first pastor. He was born on September 27, 1836 in New York. By 1880 he and his wife, Charlotte, had moved to Branch County, where William continued as minister. Charlotte, the same age as her husband, was a native of Maine. Their two children, Eva, born about 1865, and Jessie, born about 1872, were born in Michigan. William died in Owosso, Shiawassee County on October 13, 1920 and was buried at Chapel Cemetery.

Andrew M. Cole [1824-1900]

From Wilson, New York, where he was born on October 13, 1824 [@1830], Andrew Cole moved to Lockport, New York. On October 11, 1861 in Albany he enlisted in Battery M of the 1st New York Light Artillery. He was discharged for disability on January 19, 1865. After the war he moved to Battle Creek, where he went into the dry goods business, and then came to Grand Haven in 1876. He married Mary A. Culver of Royalton, New York. In 1880 they were residing on a fruit farm in Section 35 of Grand Haven Township. Andrew died on April 9, 1900.

Edward C. Cole [@1827-1899]

The date that of the founding of Blendon Lumber Company is uncertain, but it was in full operation by 1854, when Frederick B. Leonard, Thomas C. Brinsmade, and Jonathan E. Whipple, all residents of Troy, New York, owned it. They had hired John Ball, a well-known figure in Grand Rapids, to invest their money in profitable mills, and Blendon was one that he selected. The trio sold the company to Edward Cole in September 1866, even though the mill had burned down two years earlier. In 1867, with Robert Haire as his partner, Edward bought Frederick Ranney’s sawmill on Grand River in Nortonville, giving it the name Haire & Cole Company. Haire and Cole also owned a mill at the foot of Division Street in Spring Lake. In 1871 Edward sold his share to William D. Tolford of Grand Rapids, and the sawmill took the name of its two principals, Haire & Tolford. An 1876 plat map for Georgetown Township revealed Edward owned 6.54 acres in Section 31, adjacent to Blendon Landing.

Edward was born about 1827, the year he was baptized, in Devon, England. He immigrated to the United States in 1859. In 1870 Edward was residing in Blendon Township with William Lowing and his family and employees. Six years later, according to the Illustrated Historical Atlas of Ottawa & Kent Counties, he owned land in Section 21 of Olive Township and had owned the land since 1863; he was listed as a “Lumber Manufacturer.” In 1880 Edward lived on a farm in Olive Township, sharing his home with a sister, Jane, who was 12 years younger than Edward, and also born in England. He was listed as a lumberman. For seven years in the 1880s he employed Harley Bement to farm the land for him and to haul “logs and lumber from the woods to the sawmill.” By 1886 brother and sister had moved to Pierce County, Washington, where Edward became a dairy farmer. He died in 1899. Jane passed away in the same area in 1921. [The Edward Cole buried at West Olive Cemetery, with no headstone or dates, is not the Edward Cole associated with the Blendon Company. [Thanks to Jeffrey Seaver for supplying some of the vital statistics for this entry.]

Edward Nicholas Cole [1909-1977]

Edward Cole died in 1977 at the age of 67 in a crash during a storm, while he was piloting his private twin-engine plane near Kalamazoo. After he retired from General Motors in 1974, he became chairman and CEO of Checker Motors Corporation and chairman of International Husky, an air-freight company. In 1977, the Rifle River Scout Canoe Base was renamed the Edward N. Cole Canoe Base to honor Cole’s dedication to the Boy Scouts in the Detroit area. Edward was inducted into the Automotive Hall of Fame the same year, 1977. Edward, the son of Franklin and Lucy Blasen Cole, was born on a farm near Marne on September 17, 1909.

Ed attended Grand Rapids Junior College from 1927 to 1929 and then attended General Motors Technical Institute, where he received a bachelor of science degree. An engineer-salesman, Ed joined GM in 1930. In 1952 he came up with the new engine in just four months. Four years later he was president of GM’s Chevrolet Division. Earlier, Ed was in charge of tank design operations for GM during World War II. He was named GM president at the age of 58 in 1967.

On October 17, 1933, Ed married Esther Helene Engman in Grand Rapids. After he and Esther were divorced, Edward remarried in 1964. He brought two children to the marriage, and he and his second wife, Dollie Ann, had a son. Ed was buried at Greenwood Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Esther lived from December 4, 1906 to April 9, 1980 and also was buried at Greenwood. [Tribune article, “Marne farm boy at top in GM,” December 3, 1973.]

H. Cole [? - ?]

In 1950 H. Cole painted a large, bird’s-eye view of downtown Grand Haven, looking west from the corner of Washington and Third Streets. Cole adapted his view from an etching that originally appeared in the 1876 Atlas of Kent and Ottawa Counties. The watercolor was donated to the Tri-Cities Historical Museum.

Russell Jarvis Collins [1828-1903]

A physician and surgeon, Russell Collins came to Spring Lake in 1854 and stayed at the Middlemist Hotel. In a short time he had an office at Lemoyne M. S. Smith’s Drug Store, where he remained for two years and then was replaced by Dr. Abram Van Dusen of Grand Haven. He next moved to Grand Rapids and by 1860 he was residing in Mulberry Grove, Illinois. Russell was born in Warner, New Hampshire on December 15, 1828. In 1855 he married Mary M. Davis, a native of Canada. The had four children: William Russell, born about 1858, Edward Mordecai, born about February 1860, Phillip M., and a daughter who died as an infant. While in Illinois, Russell on August 6, 18621 was appointed First assistant Surgeon for the 22nd Regiment of the Illinois Volunteers. He died in Colorado on July 17, 1903 and was buried at Fairmount Cemetery in Denver, Colorado.

Abraham J. Colman [1889-1952]

Abe Colman was born on March 27, 1889 [1891] in Romeo, Macomb County. He and Arthur T. Colten started the Kiddie Kover Company in Detroit in 1918. The firm made children’s clothing, including such items as bib overalls. Eleven years later the business was moved to Grand Haven and located at 702 Sixth Street. Abraham married Bertha Weisblum on May 21, 1916. Bertha was born in Michigan around 1898. They lived at 244 Grand in Grand Haven. The Colman had two sons, Arthur, born about 1917, and Robrt, born about 1923. Abe died on August 18, 1952. Kiddie Kover closed in April the next year.

Charles Alexander Colson [1883-1948]

Charles Colson was born in Grand Haven on November 1, 1883. After attending local schools, he was employed by the Story & Clark Piano Company and became assistant superintendent. He also worked for the American Brass Novelty Company and the Pellegrom and Kinkema Furniture Store located at 204 and later at 304 Washington. Charles married Elsie Cairns of Grand Haven on August 21, 1907. She was born in Grand Haven on August 21, 1878, attended local schools, Akeley Institute, and the University of Michigan. She was a member of the Tuesday Musicale and the First Presbyterian Church. The couple lived at 512 Franklin Street. Charles died on July 12, 1948 and his wife passed away on July 31, less than three weeks later. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Victor Colson was born on February 17, 1895 in Michigan. Around 1917 he married Hazel, the daughter of Gerrit and Elizabeth Van Toll Bottje. Victor and Hazel resided at 416 Clinton, next door to Gerrit and Elizabeth. Hazel was born July 1, 1895 and died in Grand Haven in December 1983. Victor worked in a local factory and also was captain with Company F of the National Guard. He died about October 30, 1953 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, where Hazel also was buried.

Arthur T. Colton [Colton] [1891–1937]

Arthur Colton and Abraham J. Colman started the Kiddie Kover Company in Detroit in 1918. Eleven years later the business moved to 702 Sixth Street in Grand Haven. Arthur was born in Detroit on May 11, 1891. On August 5, 1917 he married Judith Ginsburg, who was born in Michigan about 1895. They had four children: Mary, born about 1921; Tom, born about 1923; Jerry, born about 1926; and Richard, born about 1932. After Judith’s death about 1930, Arthur married Ethel Crane Mills on October 5, 1934. Arthur and Ethel resided on Barber Street in Spring Lake. Ethel had two children by a prior marriage: Beverly, born about 1915, and Virginia, born about 1917. Two years after his second marriage, Arthur died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound and was buried in Detroit. Kiddie Kover closed in April 1953, several months after Abraham Colman’s death. [Interview with La Mar Van Haaften, January 15, 1999.]

William Cooper Comfort [1821-1865]

A resident of Eastmanville and a minister by profession, William Comfort was instrumental in organizing many of the early Methodist Churches in the area. He was included in the 1850 census for Polkton Township. In 1851 nine Allendale residents formed the first Methodist class with Rev. Comfort as pastor. He married Cornelia A. Hopkins in Ottawa County on October 2, 1845, apparently his second wife. Cornelia, the daughter of Benjamin and Catherine Lowe Hopkins, was born in New York about 1815. Emma Comfort, William’s sister, was born about 1825 and married Benjamin Hopkins of Spring Lake in 1851. In 1847 William was named postmaster of Eastmanville, a position he held until March 8, 1856, when Timothy Eastman took the position for the second time. William was born in New York on June 17, 1821 and died in Hillsdale County [Branch County] in 1865. Cornelia, following William’s death, relocated to Detroit and lived with Silas but at the time of her death on July 3, 1883, she was residing in Kalamazoo. William and Cornelia had one son, Silas Hopkins Comfort, who lived from 1846 to May 29, 1898. During the Civil War, he served with Company L of the 1st Michigan Cavalry. At the time of his enlistment, he was living in Branch County. They also had a daughter, Catherine, who was born about March 1850.

E. B. Comstock [? - ?]

An architect and engineer, E. B. Comstock lived in Steele’s Landing [Lamont] around the mid-1850s.

Robert J. Conant I [1895-1944]

By the late 1920s Robert Conant owned Conant’s Restaurant at 19 Washington. The son of John and Maud Conant, he was born in Robinson Township on July 5, 1895. Before going into the restaurant business, he was a farmer in Robinson Township. He died about September 9, 1944 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Robert married Nina Rittenburgh, who was born in Allendale on January 24, 1893. The family resided above their business until moving to 901 Pennoyer. Nina, also a Michigan native, was born in January 1893 and assisted her husband at the restaurant. Robert and Nina had at least three children: Ethel, born about 1915; Lois, born about 1921; and Robert J. II, born on January 18, 1933. Nina passed away on June 17, 1973 in Grand Haven. Bob II died on November 30, 1988 in Muskegon.
Reuben Hess Conant [1839-1913]

As a youngster, Reuben Conant lived with his parents, a brother, and three sisters in Savannah, New York. The family migrated to Robinson Township, where they purchased 40 acres of government land in Section 25 before 1876. Reuben’s sister Mary and her husband Ed Wilson, a brother James, and Reuben built three log homes near one another. Reuben traveled to Tomah, Wisconsin, where he married a second or third cousin, Alveretta [Alfretta] “Etta” Vandalia on November 10, 1873. The couple settled on family land in Robinson Township and in 1896 replaced the original log home with a frame house. They lived there until 1908, when they moved to 127½ Washington Street, above the American Express Office. The next year they moved again, this time to 1113 Grant Street in Grand Haven. By 1915 they were living at 203 Columbus Street. Reuben was born in New York in 1839 and died in Grand Haven on June 16, 1913. His brother James lived from 1844 to 1911 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery, as was Reuben. Etta was born in Wisconsin on May 31, 1854 and died on January 3, 1921. She was buried with her husband.

Charles Eugene Conger [1848–1927]

Charles Conger learned the printer’s trade working for Henry S. Clubb, a newspaper publisher who started the Grand Haven Herald in 1869. Charles was associated with the Grand Haven newspaper Venture from 1887 to 1891. The newspaper eventually was renamed the Grand Haven Daily Tribune. He also was a partner with Hiram Potts in a printing business. It was Potts and Conger Publishing that distributed the Historical and Business Compendium of Ottawa County in 1893. In the late 1890s Charles became chief clerk in charge of supplies for District superintendent of the U.S. Life Saving Service in Grand Haven. He applied for a Civil War pension, but details of his service were not found. He retired from the Coast Guard in 1924, which was formed from the Life Saving Service in 1915. Charles was born in Sheboygan, Wisconsin on October 30, 1848. He arrived in this area in 1858 with his parents, David B. and Clarissa Conger, who settled on a fruit farm in the Peach Plains section of Grand Haven Township. On August 22, 1875 in Grand Haven, Charles married Emma Louise Howe. They lived at 321 Franklin. Emma was born in Indiana in November 1847 and died about June 24, 1928, approximately a year after Charles passed away [August 17, 1927]. A daughter, Clara A., was born in Grand Haven on December 3, 1879 and on December 31, 1902, she married Murray M. Fuller in Grand Haven.

David Beaman Conger I [1814-1882]

David Conger was born in January 1814 in Columbia County, New York. About 1841 [1838/1839] he married Clarissa “Clara” Decker. Clara also was a native of Columbia County, where she was born on October 16, 1818, the daughter of Peter and Hannah Snooks Decker. The couple moved to Greenbush, Sheboygan County, Wisconsin and later to Prairie du Sac in Sauk County. David enlisted as captain in Company B of the 8th Wisconsin Infantry on June 1, 1861. He resigned a year later on June 23. David was educated for the law, visited Australia and other countries, and was senator in the Wisconsin legislature for three terms prior to his move to the Grand Haven, where he was residing at the time of the 1870 Federal Census. A resident of Section 35 of the Peach Plains area in Grand Haven Township, David raised peaches and other fruit on his 20-acre farm. He and Clarissa had least three sons and a daughter, all born in Wisconsin: David II, born about 1842; Charles, born in 1848; Aileen [Adelaide], born about 1852; and Byron F., born about 1856. David I died September 22, 1882 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Clara died on June 14, 1890 and was buried with her husband.

Charles A. Conklin [1895–1918]

Charles Conklin was born in Grand Haven in 1895, the son of Anna C. and Andrew Conklin. His father, born in 1865, died about June 14, 1932 and his mother passed away about March 3, 1959. When the United States entered World War I in 1917, Charles happened to be in Ohio and went out with an Ohio National Guard unit, which became part of the Rainbow, or 42nd Division. Charles’s detachment was Machine Gun Company C of the 166th Infantry. He died from wounds received while fighting in France when the American troops went into action against the Germans. Because he was the first soldier from Grand Haven to fall, the American Legion Post in Grand Haven was named in his honor. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 23, 1921.]

Oscar F. Conklin [1837-1933]

The town of Conklin in Chester Township was named for Oscar, who was born on May 6, 1837. As an agent for the Grand Rapids, Grand Haven, and Muskegon Railway Company, Oscar bought the right-of-way from Grand Rapids to Muskegon that was needed for the Interurban. A dry goods merchant in Conklin, Oscar died in Jacksonville, Illinois in 1933. On June 6, 1875, he married Esther Price, who was born about 1842 in Pennsylvania and died in 1905. Their daughter Grace was born in Michigan on October 11, 1875, in Ravenna. A second daughter, Herma, was born on December 20, 1882 in Polkton Township. Two years after Esther’s death, Oscar married Alice Hackman in Riverside, California. She lived from 1873 to 1942.

Charles James Connell [1886-1975]

Charles was born in White Lake, Muskegon County, on May 19, 1886. His parents were Charles T. and Florence Hiler Connell of Grand Haven. On December 27, 1911 in Grand Rapids, Charles married Dora Mable Willsie. The daughter of Tom and Madora Gardner Wilsie, Florence was born in Ionia in 1891 and passed away in Detroit in 1930. In 1900, after the death of both his parents, Charles resided with his grandparents, George and Amanda Hiler, at 835 Elliot Street. In 1909 Charles worked with Grand Rapids resident Hugo Thum, who also was a summer home on, Spring Lake in taking natural color pictures using “Hummer’s autochromes.” The process required 18 different chemicals. Charles worked with Harry La Barge at a photography studio on Second Street in Grand Haven. Toward the end of December 1909, Charles purchased the studio from Harry, who moved to Grand Rapids because of poor health. In March 1910 Charles sold the studio to Guy T. Perkins. Charles then went to Lafayette, Indiana, where he worked with Donald Angus, formerly of Grand Haven, in a large machine shop. Charles died on December 27, 1975 in Muskegon. He and Dora were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles T. Connell [1860-1894]

Charles, the son of Richard and Margaret Sarah Gibbs Connell, was born in Grand Haven in 1860. In the 1880 census he was classified as an engineer. On April 6, 1881 he married Florence Lillian Hiler, who was born on November 3, 1866 in Plainfield, New York. They had three children: Sadie, who was born in April 1885; Charles J., who was born on May 19, 1886; and Frederick H., who lived from 1888 to 1923. Lillian died on March 20, 1892 in Kensington, Illinois, and her husband died two years later on July 12 in South Haven. Charles died of injuries incurred when the steamer Myrtie M. Ross caught fire. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. In 1900 Sadie and Charles were living at 835 Elliott Street with their grandparents, George and Amanda Hiler.

Daniel O. Connell [O’Connell] [1826-1891]

Daniel Connell, his wife Ellen, and son John are listed in the 1860 census as residents of Olive Township. By 1864 Daniel owned a 60-acre parcel in Section 33 of Grand Haven Township. By 1876 he owned at least two parcels in Grand Haven Township: 80 acres in Section 23 and 180 acres in Section 33. He was born in Ireland on August 14, 1826 and died on August 24, 1891. Ellen also was born in Ireland. After Daniel’s death, both pieces of land were in the name of his sisters, Abbie A. and Katherine [Catherine] J. Connell. The sisters were born in Michigan, Abigail in April 1862, and Katherine in September 1865. The 1912 Atlas of Ottawa County listed Katherine Connell as owner of 200 acres in Section 33 of Grand Haven Township. Abigail had sole title to the Connell property in Section 33 in 1930.

John O. Connell [O’Connell] [1822-1899]

John Connell was born in Ireland on May 24, 1822. By 1864 he owned approximately 80 acres in Sections 4 and 9 of Olive Township, along the Lake Michigan shoreline. His wife, Margaret, was the daughter of Thomas and Mary Haley of Ireland, where she was born about May 25, 1833. She died on May 29, 1873 and was buried at West Olive Cemetery. When John died on May 16, 1899, he was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Among their children was a son, Dennis, who was just under 22 years of age when he died on February 26, 1873. He was buried at West Olive, but in 1899 his body and Margaret’s were moved to Spring Lake Cemetery to be interred with John. Also buried there were William, who lived from 1860 to 1930, and William’s sister, Abigail, who was born in 1861 and died in 1930. They all were buried as O’Connells. Connell School in Olive Township was named for this family.

Mary Malone Connell [O’Connell] [1808-1880]

Around 1825 Mary Malone married James A. Connell [O’Connell] in Ireland, where he was born in 1810. Mary was born in December 1808, also in Ireland. James was a builder. The couple and their children immigrated to Quebec in 1842, and subsequently relocated to New York City. They then moved to Oswego, New York, where he died in 1847, leaving his wife with six of their 14 children. When Mary moved to Ottawa County, she married Edward McCue, who had a farm in Polkton Township that abutted Charles T. Gibbs’s property. She died in Ottawa County on April 9, 1880 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Among James’s and Mary’s children were Margaret, who was born in County Meath, Ireland on September 25, 1834, died in Muskegon on September 17, 1899, and was buried at St. Mary’s Cemetery in Muskegon; Richard J., who was born in County Meath on November 2, 1835 and married Margaret Sarah, daughter of Charles T. Gibbs; and Mary, who was born in 1847 in Canada and died in Ottawa County on March 26, 1889. Margaret lived in Grand Haven from 1855 to 1885, when she moved to Muskegon. She was married twice, first to James K. Fallon and then to Joseph Cowan.

Richard was born in County Meath, Ireland on November 2, 1835, the son of James and Mary Malone Connell [O’Connell]. In December 1855 Richard was first mate on the schooner Vermont, owned by Clark B. Albee, when it wrecked on a sand bar off Port Sheldon during a terrible storm. Richard swam ashore from the foundering ship, was pulled from the surf by four Indians, assisted to safety by local resident Philip Dushane, and returned to rig the breeches buoy that allowed all 18 [17] of the crew to be saved, including Captain Robert Gettie.

Captain William R. Loutit organized the first volunteer life-saving operation in 1871, with Captain Richard Connell in charge. He remained in that position until 1879. One of Richard’s early lifesaving endeavors happened when the ship Ironsides sank in a storm off Grand Haven harbor on September 15, 1873, the day after it left Milwaukee with a load of wheat, flour, pork, and other items. The newly formed volunteer crew of lifesavers, led by Richard, managed to maneuver their lifeboats through the towering waves and save about 20 passengers and crew. The Captain, Harry Sweetman, and approximately 20 others lost their lives.

Richard’s busiest day was November 1, 1878 when a series of westerly gales pushed five vessels to shore within sight of Grand Haven. The most unfortunate of the five was the L. C. Woodruff of Cleveland, which went to pieces off White Lake and three of the 10 crewmen were lost.

Richard was married twice, first in 1856 to Margaret Sarah, daughter of Charles T. Gibbs. Margaret was born in Michigan on November 16, 1841 and died November 25, 1872. She was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with three of her four children who died as infants. The Connells had nine children in all, including a son Charles who was born in 1860. After Margaret died, Richard married Julia Walsh on June 30, 1873 in Muskegon. The daughter of Thomas and Mary Golden Walsh, she was born in Pennsylvania on November 16, 1859 and died August 9, 1922 in Milwaukee. Julia previously had been married to William Barnum. Richard and Julia had seven children. Richard’s brother, Patrick J. Connell, settled in Grand Haven around 1862, after serving with the military in the Civil War. Patrick, a building contractor, moved to Muskegon about 1870, but died in Tucson, Arizona on December 24, 1917. Richard died of pneumonia in Milwaukee on January 30, 1923. He was buried at Holy Cross Cemetery in Milwaukee with Julia.

William Connelly and his wife moved to Spring Lake from Chicago, where in 1910 he was an electrical engineer. In Spring Lake he purchased 11 acres in the township. With Chauncey Blakeslee and Samuel Falls William developed Long View Resort, situated between Petty’s Bayou and Spring Lake. He was an employee of the Ottawa County Road Commission, beginning in 1915. In the 1918 Directory he was listed as a manufacturer. In the 1920 census he was listed as a truck manufacturer, and ten years later he was a real estate agent living in Spring Lake Village. William was a delegate to the Republican National Convention in 1920. As a member of the Grand Haven Board of Trade, he helped bring Keller Tool Company to the area in 1917. William was born in West Virginia on January 15, 1878. He married Sonoma “Nona” M. McJilton in West Virginia in 1900. Also from West Virginia, she was two years younger than her husband. William died in San Mateo, California on March 19, 1965.

Jared Conner [Connor] [1800-1852]

Jared Conner, an early settler in Robinson Township, owned land abutting Grand River in Section 33 and gave the bayou the name it is known by today, Connor Bayou. Jared sold his 240 acres in 1849 to William M. Ferry. He married Caroline McCord in Goshen, New York on February 7, 1824. She was born in New York in 1803 and died in Easton, Ionia County in 1883. Jared and Caroline had moved from New York to Oakland County by 1830, and four years later they relocated to Easton, Ionia County, where he built a sawmill in 1836. They were in Robinson Township before the end of the decade, but only for a short time. The couple had at least one son, William J. Conner, who was born in Orange County, New York on August 22, 1830 and died in Easton on March 13, 1913. Caroline died in Easton on July 3, 1883. Jared passed away in Grand Haven on March 3, 1852. [Some sources claim he died in Easton on that date.] His brother, Thomas Harrison Conner, also an early settler in Robinson Township, relocated to Easton in Ionia County. Connor Bayou and the area surrounding it are now a 142-acre park managed by the Ottawa County Parks Department. [Ionia Daily Sentinel, July 5, 1883.]

Thomas Harrison Conner [Connor] [1813-1886]

The younger brother of Jared Conner, Harrison, as he was called, was born in New York in 1813. He married Mary Ann Hunt on February 11, 1838. He followed a pattern similar to Jared’s, relocating to Oakland County and then to Easton, Ionia County. In 1838 he and Mary were living in Robinson Township, where they purchased land, and 12 years later they were located in that part of Ottawa Township [now Grand Haven Township] that became Robinson Township, probably on what is know today as Connor Bayou, now an Ottawa County Park. They had a daughter, Mary Melissa, who was born in Grand Haven on September 11, 1848 and died in Big Rapids on January 29, 1933. Harrison passed away in Easton on October 17, 1885 [1886].

John Conrath [1852-1914]

A farmer with 40 acres in Section 1 of Grand Haven Township, John Conrath arrived in the area from Chicago in 1910. He was still the owner of record in 1912. John, the son of Joseph and Anna Marie Conrath, was born in Germany on January 9, 1852. He arrived in the United States in 1868, On July 14, 1873 in Chicago, John married Mary Litterscheid. They were still living there in 1900 and 1910. John passed away in Chicago on June 27, 1914. Mary was born in Illinois in 1854 and died in Grand Haven on November 27, 1940. Both were buried at Saint Boniface Cemetery in Chicago. Their seven children were: Joseph, who lived from 1877 to 1951; Bernard, 1880 to 1967; Mary, 1885 to 1923; J. Peter, 1886 to 1946; John, 1890 to 1961; Gertrude, 1894 to 1929; and Frank, 1896 to 1983. By 1920 Mary had returned to Chicago.

Louise “Lisette” Constant [1812-1907]

See Louise “Lisette” Constant Lasley.

Pierre Constant [? –1828]

Franklin Everett quoted a sketch by Rev. Ferry stating that the first fur trader in the area was Frenchman Pierre Constant, who in 1810 established a trading post for the British Fur Company on the south side of the Grand River, about two miles west of Lamont, another a short distance from the mouth of the Grand River, and a third on Muskegon Lake. However, we know that Pierre had trading posts near the mouth of the Grand as early as 1790, the year voyageur Hugh Heward paddled down the river and recorded meeting the fur trader. After Pierre’s death in 1828 the business was taken over by his oldest child, Lisette [Louise], who was born in Muskegon on August 15, 1812 and who had been acting as his clerk since she was 12. Lisette carried on the fur trading business for six more years but switched from British Fur to the American Fur Company, owned by John Jacob Astor and headquartered at Mackinac Island. She worked at least for a while with Rix Robinson and is on his roster for 1830. Her husband was William Lasley of Muskegon, who established a trading post in 1846 at the east end of Muskegon Lake. Their son, Henry Lasley, became a prominent merchant in Muskegon County. After her husband’s death, Lisette moved to Oshkosh, Wisconsin. She passed away there on September 13, 1907.

Pierre Constant and his Indian wife, Popamansaouekoue, had five other children.

George W. Cook [1824-1910]

A prominent Unitarian pastor in Grand Haven, George Cook arrived to lead his congregation in February 1876, a year after the members first gathered for worship. George was born in 1824 and died on August 14, 1910.

Jacob Cook [1893-1970]

The founder of Cook’s Hardware and Plumbing, Jacob Cook was born in Grand Haven on April 24, 1893. In 1918 he opened a grocery store at 1118 Washington Street, and eight years later switched to hardware and plumbing. He built a new store at 1116 Washington in 1954 with sons Ed and Al as partners. Jacob retired in 1955. On May 7, 1914 in Muskegon, he married Fannie Schoonveld, who died about March 11, 1961. In 1961 Jacob married Winifred De Witt Van Zantwick, who was widowed in 1944 when Govert Van Zantwick died. Jacob and Winifred lived at 1408 Sheldon Road in Grand Haven. Jacob died about January 4, 1970 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Winifred, who was born on October 25, 1893, died in Grand Haven on February 27, 1982. She and Jacob were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John H. Cook [1865-1922]

A Grand Haven merchant, John H. Cook was born in The Netherlands in July 1865 and came to the United States when he was nine. In the 1893 Compendium John advertised his dry goods and grocery store on the corner of Washington and Seventh Streets [701 Washington], where he offered “All Kinds of Staple and Fancy Groceries, Headquarters for Bulk Oysters and Fruit.” His store was not listed in the 1908 Directory, and presumably the family had moved from Grand Haven by then. John’s wife, Maggie, also a native of The Netherlands, was born in November 1865. Their children, all born locally, were Josie, born in February 1890; Marguerite, born in October 1893; Paul, born in March 1896; and Oswald, born in May 1900. Maggie died about November 27, 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband, who had passed away around February 1, 1922.

John M. Cook [1860–1922]

Moving from Grand Rapids to Holland and then to Grand Haven, John Cook in 1890 became partner with Corneil Addison in a grocery business at the corner of Fulton and Third Streets [123 Third Street]. Two years later, he bought his partner and added other lines of merchandise. In the 1893 Compendium he advertised his “Dry Goods, Groceries, Provisions” store, where customers could purchase “Farm Produce, Choice Butter And Eggs.” John later became secretary and treasurer of the Grand Haven Basket Company, located on Sixth Street between Madison and Elliott. By 1912 he had his own real estate office in Grand Haven. On January 4, 1888 in Grand Haven, John married Maggie Kieft, who was born in Michigan on October 1, 1858, died on November 24, 1923. Her father was Derk Kieft of Grand Haven. The Cook family resided on Third Street around 1900, but soon moved to 601 Lake Avenue, and by 1920 were residing at 631 Lake. Their children were Henrietta M., who was born on December 30, 1882, became a teacher in the Grand Haven schools, and married Corneil Van Zanten II of Grand Haven; Anna “Annie,” born in July 1887; Richard L., born in Grand Rapids on June 8, 1884; Katie, born in January 1886; Albertus J., born in June 1895; and Bernard, born about 1902. Richard bought his father’s grocery and dry goods business in 1903 and with Cornelius Donker as his partner, operated the Cook Mercantile Company at 216-222 North Third Street. John, who was born in The Netherlands in February 1860, died about January 29, 1922 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He arrived in the United States in 1880.

John W. Cook [1810-1882]

John Cook was a builder in partnership with James Barnes in the third quarter of the 19th century. They built Senator Ferry’s large residence on the northeast corner of First and Columbus Streets, one of the local schoolhouses, and other structures. John’s wife Julia A., who was born on September 24, 1817 in Warwick, New York, died in Grand Rapids on May 15, 1900. In Grand Haven they resided at 418 Franklin Street in a house later owned by Samuel and Mary Eames. John was born on October 22, 1810 in Harly, New York, and died on May 31, 1882 in Grand Haven. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 17, 1900.]

Katherine Cook [1883-1916]

See Peter Kieft.

Pieter “Peter” Cook [1851-1911]

Peter Cook was one of the first uniformed policemen in Grand Haven. [John Klaver was the other uniformed policeman of that era.] Peter was born in March 1851 [1852] in a log cabin on a farm three miles north of Zeeland. He married Martje “Marjorie” Sluiter, who was born in The Netherlands in January 1854 and died in 1912. The Cooks moved to Grand Haven after their marriage and resided at 401 North Fifth Street. Before becoming a policeman, Peter worked for seven years with Jan “John” Klaver as leader of the freight handling crew at the Grand Trunk Railroad Warehouse. Peter’s daughter Katherine was born on July 4, 1883 [1882] and married Peter Kieft of Grand Haven. Another daughter, Maud, was born in July 1889.

Richard L. Cook [1884-1966]

Born in Grand Rapids on June 8, 1884, Richard came to Grand Haven as a young boy with his parents, John M. and Maggie Cook. Richard graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1902. He attended the University of Michigan for a brief time, then went to a business college in Grand Rapids. He bought his father’s business in 1903 and operated the Cook Mercantile Company with Cornelius Donker from that date until 1917. It was located at 216 to 222 North Third Street in Grand Haven. During World War I he served with the Red Cross on the Italian Front and returned home in 1919 to continue business at the Grand Haven Co-Op as general manager and director for six years. He then became a wholesale importer and for a year ran a store in Holland, retiring in 1935, the same year he was elected mayor of Grand Haven. He served six consecutive terms in that post, ending in 1941, when he was appointed to the Ottawa County Board of supervisors and served until 1965. He was vice chair of the board from 1963 to his retirement. He also served 18 years with the local Selective Service Board. During Richard’s time as mayor, the police, fire station, and Municipal Hospital were built. He married Martha J. Mansfield of Chicago on March 23, 1908. They resided at 226 Franklin Street. Martha was the daughter of Frederick A. and Mary Mansfield of Grand Haven. Martha died December 20, 1965. Richard died about October 26, 1966 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Jesse Hopkins Cooley [Cooly] I [1820-1905]

Jesse Cooley in 1825 at the age of five moved with his family to Detroit from his birthplace in New York State. In 1843 Jesse arrived in Mill Point [Spring Lake] and worked for the Barber & Mason Sawmill. In 1848 he married Theresa [Lina] “Teressie” Campbell in Ottawa County. Theresa was born in Michigan in June 1832 [1835]. In a Tribune article dated December 17, 1896, Jesse was quoted as saying that “Muskegon” was a Chippewa word meaning “cranberry.” He went on to say, “30 negroes lived on the Big Bayou, now called Spring Lake. They earned a living by shaving shingles. One day the schooner C. Walker, owned by Capt. Brooks sailed into Spring Lake, all the negroes boarding her and going to Chicago.\textsuperscript{7} By 1870 Jesse, Theresa, and their four children were residing in Fruitport Township, Muskegon County, where evidently he spent his last years. They were still there as late as 1900. At that time their son Jesse II and his wife, Emma, were living next door. Jesse’s and Theresa’s children were: Levina, born about 1851; Jessias, born about 1853; Jesse II, who was born in April 1855 and died in Fruitport on January 1, 1934; and Royal, born about 1860. Jesse I was the first farmer to raise apples in the Fruitport area. He died on August 28, 1905 and was buried at Fruitport Cemetery, as were Theresa, who died on May 3, 1904, and Jesse II.

Joseph H. Coon [1907–1985]

Joseph Coon, who was born on November 20, 1907, moved to Grand Haven in 1948 and was employed by Bastian-Blessing. Prior to that he was with the Coast Guard. He retired from the military with the rank of Ensign after 19 years of service, and he once was a member of the Escanaba. He died in Grand Haven on May 21, 1985 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Emelia, passed away on June 6, 2003 and was buried with her husband.

Benjamin F. Cooper [1801-1864]

Born in Utica, New York in 1801, Benjamin Cooper bought 640 acres in the area that became known as Coopersville. In 1829 he married Mary A. Brantly, who was born in New York about 1801. Benjamin was the founder of the community, starting in 1845. For several years the land remained mostly unpopulated. In 1858 Benjamin offered to donate to the railroad all the land it needed, if the station were named after him. Timothy Eastman wanted to name the town Polkton, in honor of then President James Polk, but Benjamin prevailed. On January 22, 1859, the name Coopersville became official. It was incorporated as a Village in 1871 and became a City in 1967. Benjamin and his two sons built a sawmill and a dry goods store in Coopersville. Benjamin died in 1864.

Clayton J. Cooper [1900-1983]

Born in Muskegon on September 19, 1900, Clayton Cooper was founder of Cooper Machine and Welding, which he operated for 41 years, retiring in 1978 as its president and treasurer. On May 21, 1921 he married Laura M. Viebrock. Laura lived from April 10, 1895 to August 20, 1990. Their children included Alva E. Cooper, who was born on June 2, 1926, resided in Spring Lake, and died October 2, 1999; Eileen, who married Curtis Amundson of Grand Rapids; Shirley, who married Harold Van Etten of Muskegon; and Charles Cooper of New Port Richey, Florida. Clayton died in Muskegon in April 1983. [Tribune obituary, April 14, 1983.]

David Mack Cooper [1827-1908]

Reverend David Cooper succeeded William Ferry as pastor at Grand Haven Presbyterian Church. Rev. Ferry officially retired in April 1857, but David Cooper appears to have been in Grand Haven as early as 1856. He was born in Detroit on April 18, 1827. On May 6, 1851 he married Arabella M. Baldwin in Washtenaw County. A native of Vermont [New York], she was born about 1828. Their children were Mary L., born in Michigan about 1854, and David L., born in Michigan about 1858. Rev. Cooper left Grand Haven because of poor health in 1863. By 1870 the Coopers were residing in Albion, Calhoun County. Arabella died in Detroit on October 5, 1881. On October 29, 1883, he married Carrie Skinner in Battle Creek. David passed away on August 28, 1908 in Detroit.

Jacob Cooper [1896-1918]

Jacob Cooper was born August 25, 1896. His mother was Dowina [Delia] Cooper of Ferrysburg. She was born May 12, 1869 and died on December 4, 1933. Jacob’s father, Hemmo, lived from December 15 1869 to December 31, 1910. A few days before the Armistice ended World War I, Jacob was mortally wounded in France and died on November 7, 1918. He was a member of Company L of the 128\textsuperscript{th} Infantry, 32\textsuperscript{nd} Division. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with other family members.
John William Cooper [1879-1954]

John Cooper started out as a claims adjuster for the railroad. In 1914 he purchased from John Buss the building at 226 West Savidge in Spring Lake. Buss had a saloon at this site called Jack’s, which apparently remained in business for a few years before Cooper opened a variety store. In 1924 he added a coal and trucking business, concentrating primarily on the local delivery of fruits from this area, and gradually phased out the store. He sold the coal business to Eli West in 1945. It was located west of Liberty Street on the north side of the railroad tracks. John married Kathryn [Cathryn] Eckelcamp. The daughter of Henry John and Reintje Vos Eckelcamp, Kathryn lived from April 1, 1888 to August 15, 1968. They resided on Buchanan Street in Spring Lake and later at 107 West Exchange. John was born on October 17, 1879 and died on October 16, 1954. He and Kathryn were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their children were Mildred, Dorothy, Rose, and Ruth. Ruth married John J. Holtrop of Spring Lake.

Nelson Cooper [1842-1910]

See Nelson Neels.

Earl Cope [1915-2001]

By the mid-1950s Earl Cope owned Cope’s Hardware Store at 820 East Savidge in Spring Lake. In the late 1970s the store passed into the hands of Wilbur Hughes, who changed the name of the business to Village Hardware. Earl and his wife, Wilma A., resided at 812 East Savidge. Earl was born on September 7, 1915 and passed away in Spring Lake on July 24, 2001. Wilma, who was born on July 6, 1910, died in Florida on December 11, 1994.

Alfred Joseph Cordes [1898-1949]

Alfred, the adopted son of Allen and Julia Kellar Cordes of Robinson Township, was a welder at Johnston Brothers in Ferrysburg as early as 1928. Born in Chicago, Illinois on June 30, 1898, Alfred married Ula Beatrice Little in Ionia on September 28, 1920. She was born in Palo, Ionia County on September 29, 1902. They had four children, all born in Michigan: Alfred M., born about 1922; Beatrice L., born about 1923; Colleen J., born about 1925; and Don J., born about 1929. In 1930 the family lived on Exchange Street in Spring Lake. In the 1940s they resided at 523 East River in Spring Lake He passed away on March 2, 1949 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Ula married Frank P. Minier in July 1971. He died six years later, and Ula passed away in 1982. She was then residing at 939 Franklin Street.

Allen Relyer Cordes [1880-1962]

Allen, the son of Michael and Mary Cordes, was born in Grand Rapids on June 20, 1880. By 1900 Allen was residing in Chicago with his brother and working as a musician. He was listed as a single man. The 1910 census noted he was married to Julia Ada Kellar and still working as a musician. Living with them was a ten-year old son, Alfonso, but at some point they adopted a boy who became known as Alfred, and Alfonso disappeared. Allen married Adelphia J. Kellar in Detroit on August 3, 1916. He was continuing his work as a musician. Apparently Adelphia J. Kellar and Julia Ada Kellar are the same person. Julia was born in Illinois about 1880. On his WWI draft registration form Allen noted that he was “lame in one leg” and apparently was not called to service. At the time of registration, he was working as a farmer in Ottawa County and still listed his wife as Adelphia, but in the 1920 census she appears again as Julia. Living with Allen and Julia in 1920 at 119 Hopkins Street in Grand Haven was their son Alfred J., who was born in Chicago on June 30, 1897 [1898] and died in Grand Haven on March 2, 1949. Allen was then working as a welder at Challenge Refrigerator. In the 1920s Allen and Julia purchased a 40-acre farm in Section 1 of Robinson Township [approximately 10367 North Cedar Drive], where they constructed a barn in 1928. Three years later they converted the barn to a restaurant and dance hall named Jac Jungle. The initials of his wife’s name, Julia A. Cordes, supplied the word “Jac.” In 1943 Allen sold his business to John Freitchen of Robinson Township. Allen died in Palm Beach, Florida on April 22, 1962, and Julia had passed away on 1942. Both were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery.
John Corey [1863-1954]

Born in Syria October 15, 1863, John Corey in 1900 owned a pool hall at 12 Washington in downtown Grand Haven. In 1914 John was working at Eagle Ottawa and residing with his family at 1037 Washington. By 1930 he was retired and resided at 1433 Washington with his family. John’s wife, Husan [Osen/Oren], also was born in Syria on May 15, 1880. Their son, Charles J. Corey, was born in Michigan about 1914. John passed away on September 23, 1954, and Husan died on July 6. 1955. They were buried at Resurrection Cemetery in Wyoming, Kent County.

John Franklin Corl [1865-1926]

In the early 1900s John Corl was employed as secretary/superintendent at the Story & Clark Piano Company. He subsequently opened his own business, Western Piano Supply Company, which operated at 702 North Sixth Street from July 1903 to 1910, and he operated the John F. Corl Piano Company at the same address. Western Supply manufactured piano cases for shipping. Around 1900 John and his wife, Lucinda Anne, purchased the Enoch Cummings residence at 482 Sheldon Terrace, which they later sold to Nelson Howlett. By 1908 the Corls resided in a house on Pennoyer, west of the railroad tracks. John was mayor of Grand Haven in 1906 and 1907. The Corls later moved to Battle Creek, where John started Corl Piano Company and then to East Cleveland, Ohio, where he managed an auto and truck sales company. John was born in Albany, New York on April 29, 1865 and died in East Cleveland, Ohio on March 25, 1926. Lucinda was born in Kingston, New York on December 12, 1866 and passed away in East Cleveland on April 1, 1941.

John Mott Cornelius [1830-1906]

John Cornelius was a farmer and fruit grower in Section 3 of Spring Lake Township, where he 600 acres that surrounded the bayou later given his name [later named Jerusalem Bayou]. John’s daughter, Bertha Cornelius, bought 25 acres in the same area. She was born in Michigan about 1863. John was one of the organizers of the Ottawa County Fruit & Vegetable Association, established in 1896, and he was a justice of the peace and councilman for Spring Lake Township. A native of New York, he lived from June 1830 to 1906 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Kent County. His wife, Anna E., was born in New York in March 1833 and died in 1921. She also was buried at Oakhill.

Joseph Ewing Correll [1880-1920]

Joseph Correll had a dairy farm at 810 Madison in Grand Haven, where he sold his products and lived with his wife and children. Joseph married Gertrude Fant Westerhof in Grand Haven on September 20, 1906. They had at least one child, Marjorie Louise, who was born in La Porte, Indiana on July 28, 1917 and married Howard De Heer of Grand Haven. Joseph lived from 1880 to about September 9, 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Gertrude, the daughter of Egbert and Gertrude Fant Westerhof, passed away about July 21, 1944 and also was buried at Lake Forest. Joseph was the son of Samuel A. and Mary Jane Adair Correll. Prentice Correll was his brother.

Prentice Correll [1850-1927]

Prentice Correll was born in Noble County, Indiana on March 3, 1850. His parents, Samuel A. and Mary Jane Adair Correll, moved to Grand Haven Township. Samuel was born in Pennsylvania in 1822 and died in Pikes Peak, Colorado on January 23, 1864, while Mary lived from May 11, 1825 to September 11, 1909 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. She was the daughter of Joseph Ewing and Eliza Winders Adair. Prentice was a farmer and auctioneer, whose 40-acre farm was located in Section 27 of Grand Haven Township. Prentice died July 29, 1927. Joseph Ewing Correll was his brother.

Augustus M. Cosgrove [1855-1938]

Born in Ashland, Ohio on February 15, 1855, Augustus was the son of Stephen C. of New Jersey and Hannah Hiler Cosgrove of New York. Stephen, a broom-maker by trade and later a farmer, died on February 17, 1877, in Crawford, Ohio at the age of 71. Hannah died in September 1891, also in Crawford. Augustus’s paternal grandfather was William Cosgrove. Augustus secured employment in the steam engine works at cyrus, Ohio. In 1878 he moved to Adrian, Lenawee County. He worked at the Adrian Water Works and acquired knowledge of the details of the business. After eight years he went to Richmond and was employed by a prominent firm there for about one year. In 1885 he came to Grand Haven and was appointed superintendent of the Grand Haven Water Works, then located on South Harbor. By the 1920s he owned a plumbing business at 16 North Seventh.

On November 28, 1878, Augustus married Sarah Ann, the daughter of Frank J. Smith of Jasper, Lenawee County. She was born in New York in October 1853 and died on September 28, 1918. Augustus and Sarah had two children: a daughter, Caroline E., who was born in October 1879 and died on June 24, 1902, and a son, Freddie, who died on November 12, 1899. Both children died from heart disease, preceded by inflammatory rheumatism. After Sarah Ann’s death, Augustus married Margaret M., who was born in Ohio about 1872. The Cosgrove family resided at 711 Columbus in Grand Haven. Augustus was a member of the Order of the Maccabees. He died about November 15, 1938 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, pp. 465-466, and Tribune obituary, June 24, 1902.]

Benjamin N. Coster [1914-1994]

A native of Spring Lake, where he was born on May 19, 1914, Benjamin Coster married Doris Louise, daughter of Hugh and Florence Oviatt Deremo of Crockery Township. The Costers lived at 522 Fleser Court in Spring Lake. Doris was born on June 20, 1908 and died in Grand Haven on June 4, 1997. Benjamin died on March 14, 1994.

Charles W. Cotton [1871-1925]

Born January 10, 1871 in Saranac, Ionia County, Charles Cotton became a printer and for a time was employed in the Government Printing Office at Washington, D.C. He graduated from Northwestern University School of Dentistry and opened his practice in Grand Haven on the second floor of 222 Washington. He served as alderman from 1910 to 1912. He was elected mayor of Grand Haven in 1912 and 1913, and he was alderman again from 1916 until May 1918 when he entered the military during WWI. Charles returned to be mayor again in 1923 and 1924. He was a Mason, Worthy Patron of Grand Haven Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, an Elk, an Eagle, and an original member of the Grand Haven Stag Club. He was a member of the Christian Science Church.

In the early 1900s Charles and his wife, Margaret Belle, resided at 519 Clinton. Later they lived at 415 Clinton. They had two children: Margaret, who was born on December 16, 1899, taught in Grand Rapids, and married Francis Angus of Grand Haven; and Laura, who was born about 1903 and taught in Grand Haven. Charles died October 12, 1925 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Margaret died on December 28, 1943. [Tribune obituary, October 12, 1925.]

John W. Cracroft [1880-1914]

John Cracroft tended bar at the Hotel Gildner in downtown Grand Haven in the early 1900s. He and his wife, Martha, lived at 209 Clinton. He also served as headwaiter aboard the Naomi, a steamer that caught fire in mid-lake on May 21, 1907 with the loss of five lives. John was born in 1880 and died in 1914. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Eben [Eber] B. Crandle [Crandall] [1840-1899]

Eben B. Crandle served with Company E of the 14th Michigan Infantry during the Civil War. He was born in 1840 and died in 1899. His wife, Ellen, lived from 1852 to 1917. He owned a 117-acre farm in Section 6 of Robinson Township as early as 1876. Eben and Ellen were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery.

Edward Livingston Craw I [1832-1912]

On August 28, 1862, while living in Lyons, Ionia County, Edward Craw journeyed to Grand Rapids, where he enlisted as first lieutenant with Company E of the Sixth Michigan Cavalry. On May 9 the next year, he was promoted to captain, and on November 12, 1863 he was discharged for disability. In the spring of 1866 Edward, a fruit farmer, purchased considerable acreage in Section 11 of Spring Lake Township and Fruitport Township and a smaller plot in Section 2 for his orchard. In 1868 he platted the Village of Crawsville, later changed to Fruitport. He was a developer and promoter of the Pomona House in Fruitport. A portion of his holdings in Spring Lake Township became the site of the Willows Resort.

Edward was born in Wayne County, New York on June 7, 1832. On November 10, 1858, in Chagrin Falls, Ohio, Edward married Julia Annah Soule, who was from Dover Plains [Dutchess County], New York, where she was born on October 16, 1836. Julia was the daughter of Ambrose and Ruth Patten Brown Soule of Spring Lake. The Craws children were: Lillian Inez, who was born in Illinois on July 29, 1859 and died on June 28, one day short of her 20th birthday; Edward S., who was born in Onandaga, New York on March 3, 1862 and died in 1919 in Grand Rapids; Sarah Annette, who was born in Grand Haven on January 5, 1868 and died in 1919 in Grand Rapids; Mary Cordelia, who was born in Grand Haven on August 11, 1869 and died on February 26, 1963 in Grand Rapids; Florence Laura, who was born in Grand Haven on November 7, 1870 and died on September 10, 1877; Claribel, who was born on November 19, 1872 and died on July 11, 1879; Viola, who was born on March 4, 1874 in Ottawa County and died in Grand Rapids on October 3, 1958; and Evelyn Noble, who was born on March 12, 1879 in Grand Haven.

In the 1870 census Edward was listed as a “Realestate merchant.” In the spring of 1869 Edward and Julia sold 85 acres in Section 11 to David and Alice Waters, leaving the Craws with two parcels totaling approximately 80 acres. In 1887 they sold 64 acres to Jacob and Anna Ferris, property that later became known as the Willows Resort. About the same time they sold Sunny Slope Farms in Section 14 of Spring Lake Township to Marshall Field & Company of Chicago for use as a campsite for its executives.

By 1880 Edward and his family were residing in Grand Haven, where he continued in the real estate business. He was still in Grand Haven in 1890, but by 1910 he was living in Grand Rapids with his wife and three of their children. Julia died on February 16, 1912. Edward passed away on June 19 the same year and was buried with Julia, Edward S., and Sarah at Valley City Cemetery in Kent County.

The first permanent home in the Holcomb Hills subdivision was built in 1972 by Arthur and Libby Crawford at 18255 Holcomb Hills. Arthur was born on March 4, 1909, died on October 25, 1981, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Libby was born on February 3, 1913, the daughter of John N. and Winnifred Linderman Forshar. Libby’s given name was Mary Elizabeth. She passed away on February 26, 2005 and was buried with her husband. Arthur and Libby were married in Port Huron on June 30, 1934. Libby was a graduate of Alma College, and in 1984 received the college’s Distinguished Alumni Award. She was an accomplished weaver, and an active member of Calvin Presbyterian Church in Detroit. After moving to Grand Haven in 1971, she joined that community’s Presbyterian congregation. Libby died in Holland, Michigan, on February 26, 2005. The Crawfords’ children included Linda Crawford of Southold, New York; Jill Kartalia of Westminster, Maryland; Richard, of Ann Arbor; and Jeffrey of Cedarville, Ohio. Marvin H. Creager I [1836-1898]

Born in Geauga County, Ohio, in 1836, Marvin Creager moved to Berlin [Marne], Ottawa County, in 1856. On April 30, 1861 he enlisted as first sergeant in Company F of the Second Michigan Cavalry. He was promoted to second lieutenant and then captain. After he was mustered out on August 15, 1865, Marvin moved to Chester Township, where he took up the lumbering business. After his business burned down in 1871, he spent a year teaching until 1876, when he was elected county treasurer and moved to Grand Haven. In 1881 he was appointed collector of internal revenue for Grand Haven. In partnership with James C. Cilley, Marvin in the spring of 1881 built a planing mill near the Pere Marquette train depot on Jackson Street in Grand Haven. Marvin was secretary of the Republican County Committee in 1866-67, and later became chairman of that group. Marvin operated the Grand Haven Herald in behalf of the Whitman Benham estate from October 1880 until the firm of Kedzie & Kedzie purchased it a few months later. Marvin died on April 20, 1898 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His first wife’s name was Alma. On August 29, 1868 in Chester Township a son, Phillip S., was born. A daughter, Mattie Estelle, died at the age of seven years on February 5, 1875 and was buried at Lake Forest. On December 31, 1874, in Grand Rapids, Marvin married May [Mary] Paine, who was born in Sweden about 1845. Their son, Marvin II, was born in Grand Haven on February 4, 1882.

William M. Creason [1922-2014]

Bill Creason was born in Dishman, Washington in 1922. His parents, Walter and Hattie, were killed in a car accident in 1950. Prior to that they bought a farm near Fenville, Allegan County, and resided there. After attending Western Michigan University, Bill obtained his dental degree from the University of Michigan. He served in the Navy and in the Army between 1943 and 1953, including service in Germany. He married Mary Rawlinson in 1945, and they subsequently moved to Grand Haven, where Bill practiced dentistry for 47 years. He served on the City Council from 1955 to 1956 and again in 1961 and 1962, and he was mayor from 1957 to 1958 and again from 1963 to 1968. The Musical Fountain was his idea, based on something similar he had seen during his military stay in Germany. While mayor, he and cooperating businesses experimented with a downtown mall. He was a member of the Grand Haven Presbyterian Church. He belonged to and helped foster the work of the Grand Haven Area Community Foundation, Grand Haven Rotary Club, the Tri-Cities Y.M.C.A., the Tri-Cities Historical Museum, and the Stag Club. Bill and Mary, who resided at 824 Lake Avenue, had four children: Kennard, Yvonne, Steve, and Paul. Bill passed away at home on September 21, 2014. [Tribune obituary, September 24, 2014.]

Cresswell [? - ?]

A man with the last name of Cresswell opened what some considered the first photography studio in Grand Haven, although no date was cited.

Thomas Henry Cron [1924-2005]

The son of Charles and Mary Beiersdorfer Cron, Thomas was born in Celina, Ohio, on September 6, 1924. He married Evelyn Louise Reichard on May 29, 1948 in Dayton, Ohio. Thomas served with the Army during WWII, earned a bachelor degree from the University of Dayton in 1948, and a Doctor of Optometry degree from the Illinois College of Optometry in Chicago in 1953. He practiced optometry in Muskegon and Grand Rapids. He was a member of St. Mary’s Catholic Church in Spring Lake, and he was a member of the Ferrysburg City Council. Thomas and Evelyn had two daughters and five sons: Barbara, who married Doug Nastally and moved to Brownsburg, Indiana; Susan, who married Michael McDermott and moved to Bloomfield Hills, Oakland County; Michael, who moved to Canadian Lakes; Steven, of Grand Rapids; Kenneth of Vicksburg; Ron, of Muskegon; and Joseph of Federal Way, Washington. The family resided at 17377 West Spring Lake Road. Thomas died in Spring Lake on December 19, 2005 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 21, 2005.]

Edward Gifford Crosby [1842-1912]

Born in New York on February 18, 1842, Edward Crosby on August 15, 1861 enlisted as private in Company E of the 1st Michigan Cavalry. He was mustered out on September 3, 1864. Edward came to Muskegon about 1866 and developed an interest in ships. He obtained a tiny tug and picked up logs that had gone adrift until he was able to buy the steamer Nyack. He then moved to Milwaukee, where he founded and managed Crosby Transportation Company. He maintained an office in Grand Haven. Among his other ships were the E. G. Crosby, Conestoga, and May Graham. On April 18, 1868 he married Catherine Elizabeth Halstead. Catherine and their daughter Harriette often accompanied Edward on ship. The three of them were aboard the ill-fated steamer Titanic when it left England on its maiden voyage in April 1912. Edward lost his life when the big ship struck an iceberg just before midnight on April 14. He was reported to have said to his wife and daughter as he put them into a lifeboat, “I will stay here: you go: if it be my fortune to get out of this alive I will see you again, if not, good-bye.” Catherine was born in Waterloo, New York on October 26, 1847 and died on July 29, 1920 in Milwaukee. Both Crosbys were interred at Fairview Mausoleum in Milwaukee. Harriette lived from October 8, 1872 to February 11, 1941. The Crosbys’ son, Frederick, was born in Michigan about 1881. [Pamphlet in Loutit District Library, “In Memory of Capt. Edward G. Crosby.”]

George Herbert Cross [1866-1964]
The son of James and Sarah Tenny Cross, George was born on May 4, 1866 in Monroe County, New York. He moved with his family to Michigan and eventually to Spring Lake around 1870. Like his brothers, Ira and Lewis, he attended Valparaiso College in Indiana. In 1889 George and his brother Lewis made a long trip in a sailboat they made down the coast of Lake Michigan to the Illinois River and then to the Mississippi and eventually into the Gulf of Mexico. In Pensacola, Florida they sold the boat and returned home by train. George kept a journal of their trip; a copy of that journal is in the Tri-Cities Historical Museum’s archives. On September 2, 1903 in Coldwater, St. Joseph County, he married Jessie Freemyre Stiles, who was born about 1877. They had at least two daughters, Ruth, born about 1905, and Margaret, born three years later. George became an attorney and assistant prosecutor in Muskegon, where he and his family also resided. George died in October 1964.

Ira H. Cross [1868–1948]
Ira Cross was born in Michigan, probably in Spring Lake, on December 30, 1868, not long after his parents, James A. and Sarah Cross, had moved there. On November 15, 1893 Ira married Minnie, the daughter of Hance and Catherine Wilson. Minnie, who was born in Canada on October 21, 1875, came to Spring Lake from Canada with her parents when she was five. Ira attended Valparaiso College in Indiana and returned to Spring Lake to teach at Patchin School. Not long after their marriage, Ira and Minnie lived on the Cross family farm bordering the Grand River in Section 31 of Crockery Township, close to both their families. They had at least two daughters: Hazel, born in August 1898, and Florence I., born on April 25, 1901. Ira died on March 30, 1948 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. About that time Minnie sold the farm and moved into the Village of Spring Lake. She passed away on August 5, 1972 and was buried with her husband.

James Arthur Cross [1836-1914]
James Cross, a New York native, lived from August 1836 to March 29, 1914. His wife, Sarah A., lived from 1835 to January 16, 1895. Both were natives of New York. About 1868 the Crosses moved to Crockery Township, where James grew fruit in Section 31 along the Grand River. Their children were Charles B., who was born about 1862 in Michigan and became a municipal judge in Muskegon, Lewis, who was born in June 1864 in Davison, Genesee County; George H., who was born about 1866 in New York and became assistant prosecutor in Muskegon; and Ira S, who was born on December 30, 1868 in Michigan. By 1893 James and Sarah resided in Spring Lake Village. After his first wife’s death in 1895, James married Sarah Bigelow Rymer, the widow of John Rymer. They were married in Nunica on December 6, 1900. This Sarah was born in 1863 in New York, died on April 8, 1948 in Fruitport, and was buried at Fruitport Cemetery. James and his first wife were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Jesse Morris Cross I [1828-1901]
Born in Grantham, New Hampshire, on February 24, 1828, Jesse Morris Cross studied for the law and then entered the ministry, serving in New Hampshire, Urbana, Ohio, and Grand Haven. On April 12, 1860 he married Lucinda C. Noyes of Essex County, Massachusetts, where she was born on March 9, 1839. Jesse and his family arrived in Grand Haven on October 6, 1869, when he started serving as pastor of the Presbyterian Church for two years. Between 1872 and 1882 he practiced law in Grand Haven with Stephen L. Lowing. Lucinda died on November 30, 1872. Five years later, on November 21, 1877, Jesse married Elizabeth M. Beckwith. She was the daughter of Hiram and Hannah Moore Beckwith, who raised fruit in Spring Lake Township. Elizabeth was born in Shelby, New York, on November 25, 1847. She became a teacher and was principal of Grand Haven High School, and from 1876 to 1877 she was superintendent of Schools in Grand Haven. She earned a Doctor of Philosophy degree from Worcester University. Jesse’s children were Helen, born in 1862 in Ohio; Harry, who was born in 1863 in Ohio and died in Grand Haven in December 1894; Albert M., born in 1872 in Ohio; and Jessie M., born in 1873 in Michigan. Daughter Jessie apparently was Elizabeth’s only child. After Jesse died on November 11, 1901, Elizabeth moved to Seattle, Washington, where she studied educational methodology at the University of Washington and received another degree when she was 60. She spent the next ten years teaching English at Snohomish High School. In 1930 she was retired and residing in Seattle with her widowed brother, Andrew Beckwith. [Tribune obituary, December 28, 1894.]

Born on January 10, 1864 near Davison, Genesee County, Lewis in 1868 came to Ottawa County with his parents, James A. and Sarah Cross. Lewis never married. He made his living as a farmer, fruit grower, hunter, and fisherman, as well as a taxidermist and artist. He loved to paint and dabble in art. 500 to 600 of his paintings sold at auction after his death. Someone from Chicago bought many, including nine large ones Lewis had stored and displayed in his home. Those nine paintings were rolled back-to-back into a drum that he created for storage. Lewis would pull them down and display them on a whim. Two of them came into the collection of the Grand Rapids Art Museum. Lewis did two to three dozen paintings of passenger pigeons, all in the same earth tones. The Tri-Cities Historical Museum was given a very large one with several figures of children, and another smaller, somewhat stylized painting that was perhaps unfinished or possibly just an early work. Being a nature lover, Lewis had a special feeling for the pigeons and what was happening to them. He began the paintings so “no one would forget.” In his portraits the subjects looked quite refined. Another of Lewis’s painting held by the Museum depicted the 1883 logjam on the Grand River. That painting also represented a blending of art and historical event.

In 1889 Lewis and his brother George made a long sailing trip down the east coast of Lake Michigan to the Illinois River and then to the Mississippi and eventually the Gulf of Mexico. George, who was born about 1866 in New York, kept a journal of their trip; a copy of that journal is in the Tri-Cities Historical Museum’s archives. Lewis’s homestead was at the end of Boom Road on the Grand River in Crockery Township. Known as “The Castle,” it was built entirely by Lewis between 1910 and 1914. The three-story home was made out of concrete block that he manufactured, and it had concrete floors on all levels. He died on April 4, 1951 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John Crow was born in Perry, Ohio on November 8, 1837. While in Iowa he enlisted as private in Company E of the 22nd Iowa Infantry on August 7, 1862. John was mustered out on July 25, 1865 and eventually located in Grand Haven Township, where he had a 40-acre farm in Section 28. On July 16, 1857 in Carroll, Missouri, he married Rebecca [Rebecka] Harris. She applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on June 22, 1900, not long after Elmer died on May 3 that year. She was born in Mississippi, lived from November 7, 1841 to June 10, 1910, and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery with her husband and other family members. The Crows had seven children, including Mabel, who was born in 1875 and on November 12, 1892 in Grand Haven married Elmer Suits.

John and Barbara Crozier were the original owners of the home at 12989 Wilderness Trail, high atop a wooded dune in an area called the Wilderness, a few miles south of Grand Haven. In 1994 they sold the property to Frank and Wendy Fernandes of West Chicago, Illinois. Barbara, the daughter of Bert and Lillian Vanderwest, was born in Muskegon on September 5, 1945. A graduate of Michigan State University and Cooley Law School, Barbara was hired as an adoption case worker. Later she was employed by the Kent County Prosecutor’s office, and finally went into private practice. She and John were married about 1966. John was principal of Ferry and Griffin Elementary Schools in the Grand Haven Public School District, and later became a fire fighter.
Barbara formed a friendship with Carol Irons, a Grand Rapids District Court Judge. Together, they purchased from Sidney Kleinman of Chicago a few acres in the Wilderness. On October 19, 1988, Judge Irons was murdered by her ex-husband, Clarence Ratliff, an officer with the Grand Rapids Police Department. Following Carol’s death, Barbara took ownership of the Wilderness property, selling portions of it and building the house at 12989 Wilderness Trail. Clarence died in prison in 2011. The Croziers sold their Wilderness House to Frank and Wendy Fernandes of West Chicago, Illinois and moved to 18270 North Shore Estates Road in Spring Lake Township. They had three daughters and two sons. One of the sons, John Bryant Crozier, died in Grand Rapids on February 19, 1966, not quite 45 years old.

Barbara passed away at her home in Spring Lake on January 18, 2017. [Tribune obituary, January 20, 2017.]

Edward was born in Grand Haven on June 28, 1871, the son of Enoch and Juliet Dailey Cummings. Edward graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1889 and in 1893 from the literary department at the University of Michigan. He was superintendent of Lansing City Schools for ten years, in charge of the Spring Lake Schools from 1895 to 1899, principal of Grand Haven High School in 1899, and superintendent of Grand Haven Schools from 1900 to April 1, 1907. His salary the first year was $700. Cummings was president of the State Teachers Association and was regarded as one of the foremost men in education. On July 2, 1901 he married Louise R. Kay, daughter of Charles M. and Elizabeth Scott Kay of Spring Lake. Louise was born in Spring Lake on May 2, 1876. Edward and Louise had three children: Frank Edward, who was born on June 22, 1903, Elizabeth, and Jean. Edward died on March 31, 1916 in Chicago of self-inflicted gunshot wounds to the temple and chest on the same day his brother Herbert passed away in Grand Haven. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. After his father’s death, Frank lived with his aunt, Nettie Kay Hargraves, in Chicago. [Tribune articles, “Brothers Die the Same Day,” 1916, and wedding announcement July 1 and 3, 1901.]

Enoch Page Cummings [1837-1901]

Enoch was born in Grafton County, New Hampshire on November 30, 1837, the son of Edward Taylor and Mary McGrath Cummings. Enoch came to Grand Haven in 1867 and was reported to be the first to open a dentistry practice in the city. He was a graduate of the University of Michigan and was one of the first dentists in the country to make a cleft palate plate. When he retired in 1897, his son Herbert took over the practice, with offices at 202 Washington. Enoch in 1892 built the large home at 482 Sheldon Terrace. He died on February 20, 1901 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Juliet Walker Dailey, was born in Boston on May 8, 1835. They were married in Lebanon, Grafton County, New Hampshire on October 31, 1864. The Cummings family reportedly also had lived at 401 Sheldon Road. Another son, Edward Page Cummings, was superintendent of Grand Haven Schools in the early 1900s.

Herbert Thurston Cummings [1874-1916]

Born in Grand Haven on November 10, 1874, the son of Enoch and Juliet Dailey Cummings, Herbert, who studied in Chicago and at the University of Michigan, took over his father’s dentistry practice in 1897. The office was on the second floor of 202 Washington. The 1908 Directory noted that he also roomed at the same address. Herbert was widely recognized in dentistry for fine workmanship, but “an unfortunate craving for liquor ruined his life.” On the same day on March 31, 1916 that his brother Edward killed himself, Herbert died in Grand Haven, at the age of 42, from a “heavy dose” of arsenic and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He married Marietta Boynton, who was born in Wisconsin in March 1882. Julia, died about January 24, 1917. [Tribune article, “Brothers Die the Same Day, 1916.”]

Robert Lane Currier I [1924-1999]

Robert was born in Grosse Pointe, Wayne County on January 24, 1924, the son of Osceola and Viola Sommers Currier. Robert served in the Navy during WWII as a Hellcat pilot with Fighter Squadron 34 on the USS Saratoga and USS Monterey. He attended Choate Academy in Connecticut and Williams College in Massachusetts, and he graduated from the University of Michigan. His first wife, Patricia Hefferan, was born on September 20, 1922 and died in Ottawa County on February 11, 1972. Robert then married Joan Sweeney Owen.

Joan was born in Brooklyn New York, on April 6, 1926. Her parents were Charles Anthony and Muriel Rutan Sweeney. She married Robert E. Owen on August 12, 1950. He died in 1973. Joan then married Robert M. Edison in January 1976. He died two years later. She then married Robert Currier on October 12, 1982.

Robert founded and operated Mackinaw Engineering and he co-founded Shape Corporation of Grand Haven in 1974. Later he also helped establish Light Corporation, Finish Corporation, and Track Corporation, all in Grand Haven. Robert was a member of the Lost Tree Club of North Palm Beach, Florida, Kent Country Club in Grand Rapids, and the Spring Lake Country Club. He belonged to the Spring Lake Yacht Club and similar organizations elsewhere. He was a member of St. John’s Episcopal Church in Grand Haven. He and Joan resided at 12945 Lakeshore Drive, located in a lakeshore development south of Grand Haven called the Wilderness. Robert died on December 24, 1999, and Joan passed away on September 3, 2004.

John W. Curtis [@1836-1897]

John Curtis was listed as a fruit grower in the census of 1870. His 32-acre farm was in Section 1 of Spring Lake Township. He was born in New York about 1836. His wife, Frank, was also a native of the Empire State, where she was born about 1844. Their son, Harry, was born in Michigan about 1868. The Curtises remained in Section 1 until at least 1876. John died in San Francisco, California, on August 20, 1897 and was buried at San Francisco Columbarian.

Benjamin Franklin Curtiss [@1820-1880]

Born in Cuyahoga County, Ohio about 1820, Benjamin Curtiss was admitted to the bar in Trumbull County of that state in 1844. In May eleven years later, he arrived in Grand Haven and was prosecuting attorney from 1866 to 1867. For a short time he practiced law with William H. Parks, who moved to Holland. Benjamin worked alone from that point on. His wife, Lucy, was born in Ohio about 1834. Their son, Edward D., was born in Ohio around 1855. Edward worked at a planing mill in 1880. The family resided in the 100 block of Washington Street. Benjamin and Lucy lost their lives in the wreck of the Alpena on October 15, 1880.

Charles Wesley Cushman [1834-1877]

Charles Cushman was principal of Grand Haven Union High School [Clinton School] from 1860 to 1863. He was born in New Hampshire on May 11, [November 5] 1834, the son of Ebenezer and Abigail Emery Cushman. On August 30, 1858 in Bath, New Hampshire, he married Sarah Stevens. He and his Sarah were residents of Grand Haven as late as July 1, 1863. Charles died in Iowa on February 17, 1877.

John W. Cusick [1869-1956]

John Cusick was a clerk in Andy Falls Grocery Store in the early 1900s. He delivered groceries for the store by wagon and boat. In the 1910 census he was listed as a carpenter. In 1915 he was hired as the first superintendent of the Spring Lake Water Works, as well as marshal, janitor, and street commissioner, at a salary of $780 a year. Two years later his salary was increased to $900. John, who was born in New York on August 24, 1869, retired in 1947, and passed away on August 31, 1956. On May 20, 1903 in Grand Haven he married Catherine D. “Katie” Donahue. She was born in Ireland in 1868 and died in 1921. After her death, John married Elizabeth T., the daughter of Michael and Ann Brady Shoemaker. She was born on April 27, 1881 and died on September 1, 1973. Catherine, Elizabeth, and John were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John Edward Cuson [1875-1957]
John Cuson continued the boat-building business started by his father, Mitchell Cuson, at the southwest corner of Lake and Savidge Streets [534 East Savidge]. John and his wife resided on the property. John was born in Chicago, Illinois on June 10, 1875. On April 11, 1899 in Grand Haven, he married Caroline Marie Steinbach. She was born in Spring Lake on January 6, 1879. The boat shop, located on the lot behind the house, was later converted to a residence. John also was a cabinet maker, and in 1918 he was employed by the Eagle Ottawa Leather Company. Caroline passed away on July 14, 1945. John died on October 29, 1957. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

A son, John, was born in Chicago, Illinois on June 10, 1875 and continued his father’s boat building business. Mitchell and Mary were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Charles Cutler [1826-1881]

Charles Cutler, who was born on July 22, 1826 in Amherst, Massachusetts, died on September 16, 1881, when the gas plant at the Cutler Hotel exploded. Joseph Spires, the hotel manager, was injured. Charles, the son of Isaac and Nancy Hastings Cutler, was Dwight Cutler’s older brother. On April 4, 1850 he married Harriet Ann Coolidge, who was born in May 1832 in Westminster, Massachusetts. Charles Cutler was their son. In the 1880 census Charles was listed as “Furniture Dealer.”

Charles Lyon Cutler [1862-1892]

Charles Cutler, who was born in Grand Haven [Massachusetts] on April 19, 1862, died on May 10, 1892. The son of Charles and Harriet Coolidge Cutler, young Charles worked as a carpenter. On September 23, 1889 in Grand Haven, he married Julia A. Robinson, who was born in Robinson Township in 1875. On June 2, 1915, Julia married George A. Ford [1873-1954] in Grand Rapids. She was the daughter of Benjamin Franklin “Frank” and Ada Robinson. Julia died in 1945 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery, as was George. [Tribune obituary, January 4, 1913.]

Dwight Cutler I [1830-1901]

Dwight Cutler was born in Amherst, Massachusetts on November 18, 1830. He was one of eight children of Isaac Garnsey and Nancy Hastings Cutler. Isaac was born in Greenwich, Connecticut, on November 18, 1782. Nancy, the daughter of Elisha and Jerusha Billings Hastings, was born at Amherst, Massachusetts and baptized on October 14, 1798. She and Isaac were married on December 24, 1807. Isaac graduated from Williams College in the class of 1801, studied medicine and practiced in Amherst until his death on November 29, 1834. Nancy died on January 28, 1849. Dwight’s grandfather was born in Amherst, and his great-grandfather was a native of Wales.

Dwight was educated at Williston Seminary in East Hampton, Massachusetts and came to Grand Haven in 1847. He went to work for Gilbert & Company, forwarding and commission merchants with a warehouse and store on the northwest corner of Franklin and Harbor Streets. In 1853 Henry Martin of Grand Rapids purchased the Gilbert business and put Dwight in charge. After three years Cutler was able to buy out his employer and went into business for himself. During that time he bought a number of vessels, both sail and steam. The Gilbert name remained for awhile, although the business eventually became known as Cutler, Warts, & Stegeman and later as Cutler & Warts [Wartz]. In 1870 Dwight went into partnership with Hunter Savidge and together they bought the Hopkins Mill on Spring Lake. By 1874 Cutler and Savidge had half a million dollars capital to organize the lumber company bearing their names, and which became the largest in West Michigan. They had lumberyards in Michigan City, Indianapolis, South Bend, and Detroit and employed over 500 men. When Savidge died in 1881, Dwight became president of the business, and his two sons, along with the two Savidge sons, operated the business until it moved to Canada.
In 1871 Dwight erected the Cutler House, a five-story hotel on the southwest corner of Third and Washington Streets, opposite Sheldon’s resort, built in the Second Empire style at a cost of $200,000. After it was destroyed in the fire of 1889, Dwight built another, smaller hotel on the same site and called it the New Cutler House. Around 1893 Dwight bought the former World’s Sanitarium and Magnetic Mineral Springs and Laboratory, which previously was owned by his brother-in-law, Willard C. Sheldon. Across the street from the Cutler House, the resort had been converted to a hotel shortly after the 1889 fire and renamed The Norris. It now earned a new name, the Cutler Annex.

Dwight served as mayor of Grand Haven in 1869, 1870, 1890, and 1891. From 1871 until 1891 he served as the first president of the new First National Bank of Grand Haven, a bank he helped organize to replace the Ferry & Son bank. In 1886 he was one of 50 men to develop the Highland Park Association. In 1887 Dwight became a shareholder and director of the newly formed Dake Engine Company. He was an Independent in politics and a member of the Unitarian Church. He also served as Trustee of Akeley Institute, he was a principal stockholder and director of Challenge Corn Planter, and he was a director of the Grand Rapids Fire Insurance Company.

On February 10 [16], 1858, in Grand Haven, Dwight married Frances E. Slayton, who was born October 12, 1831 at Stowe, Vermont. Frances was the sister of Caroline Fidelia, who married Ebenezer W. Barnes, one-time postmaster of Grand Haven. Another sister, Mary Malvina, married Willard C. Sheldon of Grand Haven. Frances’s brothers were Decatur Slayton of Stowe, Vermont, and Osman Slayton, originally of Stowe and then of California. Her mother, Millison Slayton, who lived from 1802 to 1874, resided in Grand Haven in her later years. Frances died March 4, 1892 and was interred in the Cutler mausoleum at Lake Forest Cemetery.

The Cutlers had six children, all born in Grand Haven: Millison [Millicent] Slayton Cutler, who was born on April 8, 1859, married Isaac Lambert, and died in Detroit on August 17, 1950; Esther Pomeroy Cutler, who was born on December 13, 1860, married 25-year old John Newbury Bagley [1860-1929] of Detroit on March 11, 1884, and passed away in Grosse Pointe on April 22, 1952; Dwight Cutler II, who was born on December 2, 1862; Frances “Fanny” Cutler, who was born on June 6, 1868 and died in San Diego on January 2, 1941; and Mary Cutler, who was born on June 11, 1874, married Edward Lawyer Hardy [1874-1961] in Grand Haven on June 28, 1898, and died in Imperial, California on March 22, 1968.

The Cutlers had a stately residence at the southeast corner of Washington and Third Streets [300 Washington], which burned down in the extensive fire of 1889. In 1899 Dwight built a cottage in Highland Park that he named Grey Gables. Dwight died of diabetes on August 26, 1941 and was buried in the family mausoleum at Lake Forest. Cutler Street in Grand Haven was named in his memory. [Tribune obituary, March 4, 1892, Tribune article, “Memories of GH 60 Years Ago,” July 11, 1957, and American Biographical History.]

Dwight Cutler II [1862-1946]

The son of Dwight and Frances Slayton Cutler, Dwight Cutler II was born in Grand Haven on December 2, 1862. On January 15, 1895 he married Adelaide S. Bowen in Detroit. He died on August 17, 1946 in Detroit and was buried at Woodmere Cemetery in that city.

Isaac Daane [† 1890-1955]

Born in The Netherlands, Isaac Daane and his wife, Gladys, owned a celery farm at 1607 South Beacon Boulevard [then called Wallace Street]. Isaac and Gladys Volker were married in Muskegon on August 27, 1921. In 1942 they sold their Wallace Street property to Ralph and Minnie De Young. The Daane’s home was located at 1206 Slayton Street. Their children were: Helene, born about 1924; Robert, born on June 8, 1926; Leslie, born about 1930; and Marilyn, born about 1932. Isaac, who was born about 1890, died about June 15, 1955. Gladys was born on April 7, 1896 and died on September 21, 1977. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.
John H. Dabelstein [1902-1975]

Started August 1954 by John H. Dabelstein, Elmer C. Dvorak, and N. M. Carndell, Sterling Manufacturing employed four people. Located at 206 South Jackson in Spring Lake, it manufactured lighting accessories for fluorescent fixtures. John was born on August 16, 1902, died in Grand Haven on September 17, 1975, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Lucille R., was born on May 3, 1907, passed away in Kalamazoo County on November 13, 1986, and also buried at Lake Forest. They resided at 14823 Lakeshore Drive in Grand Haven Township.

Olaf “Olie” Dahlman [1851-1925]

Olaf Dahlman was born in Stockholm, Sweden in November 1851 and arrived in the United States in 1880. Olaf had a son, Arthur, who was born in Michigan in January 1883. Apparently Olaf’s first wife died, and on December 18, 1889 Olaf married Johanna Christina Larson in Fruitport. Also a native of Sweden, Johanna was born on May 22, 1872 and immigrated to the United States in 1882. Among Olaf’s and Johanna’s children were Roy Luz, who was born on April 22, 1892; married Angie, the daughter of Nicholas and Jennie Stuveling Vyn of Grand Haven, on June 12, 1920 moved to Minneapolis, Minnesota Carl O., who was born on November 9, 1893, married Albertina Nitz in Sioux City, Iowa on August 16, 1927, and died in Spring Lake on December 20, 1967; Eric Albert, who was born on March 15, 1895, died on December 30, 1895, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; Hilma, born in February 1900; and Ernest L., who was born on January 7, 1911 and died in Muskegon in November 1980. By 1912 the Dahlmans owned a 135-acre fruit farm on the west shore of Spring Lake [Section 10], property which later became known as Lovell Park. Eventually Olaf took up general farming. He died in Spring Lake in 1925. Johanna died on September 18, 1946 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

David Edward “Ed” Dahlstrom [1913-1999]

Ed was born in Whitehall on May 1, 1913, the son of Fred and Selma Anderson Dahlstrom. After graduating from Whitehall High School in 1932 and then Muskegon Junior College, he joined the accounting department of Eagle Ottawa Leather Company in Whitehall. Ed married Kathleen Matusek on Christmas Day, 1939 at St. John’s Lutheran Church in Grand Haven. She was born February 2, 1917, the daughter of Victor and Elsie Metzler Matusek. Kathleen graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1934, attended Howell’s Business School in Muskegon, and then worked in the personnel office of the Eagle Ottawa Company in Grand Haven. For the next 11 years the Dahlstroms lived in Whitehall before moving to Grand Rapids, where Ed worked for Grand Rapids Metalcraft for two years. In 1952 he and his family moved to Grand Haven, where he joined the accounting department of Challenge Machinery. The family resided at 1206 Hillcrest. Ed remained with the company until his retirement as vice president and treasurer in 1978. He was active on the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army, and in 1998 he was named a Life Member of the Board. He was instrumental in the completion of the new Salvation Army building on De Spelder Street in 1976 and the addition of an education wing two years later.

The Dahlstroms were members of St. John’s Lutheran Church, where Ed was treasurer, Elder, and Sunday School superintendent. He joined the Grand Haven Rotary Club in 1966 and served as its president for one year. He also was a founding member of the Grand Haven Area Community Foundation, serving as trustee from 1971 to 1977, and he was chair of the Tri-Cities Area United Way campaign in 1966. Ed spent many years as an advisor to Junior Achievement and he delivered Meals on Wheels. The Dahlstroms had two sons, David of Grand Haven and Donald of Goodrich, Marquette County, and a daughter, Anne, who lived in Wellington, Florida, with her husband, Martin Riepma. Ed died at his home at 1512 Klempel Farm Road in Grand Haven on December 18, 1999. Kathleen died on January 2, 2000. [Tribune obituaries, December 20, 1999 and January 3, 2000.]

Johann “John” Leonhard Daib [Dail] [1830-1894]
A native of Germany, where he was born on July 13, 1830, John Daib came to America at the age of 19, studied for the ministry, and settled in Grand Rapids. He became the first pastor of St. John’s Evangelical Lutheran Church, organized in Grand Haven on April 8, 1866. Services were in German. His wife was Susan [Susanna] Eliza Daub, whom he married in Grand Rapids about 1869. A daughter, Matilda, was born in Grand Rapids the next year on October 10. John died in Indiana on December 31, 1894. Among their 11 children was Herman, who also became a Lutheran minister.

Charles William Dake I [1868–1946]

Born in May 1868 in St. Clair, St. Clair County to Henry F. and Caroline Faulker Dake, Charles studied Mechanical Engineering at the University of Michigan and later was associated with his brother, William F. Dake, at the Dake Engine Company. Early in his career, Charles became a designer of mechanical products and machinery for Challenge Corn Planter of Grand Haven, Grand Rapids Cycle Company, and the Michigan Iron Works of Manistee. In 1889 he designed his first steam turbine, which led in 1902 to the organization of the Dake American Steam Turbine Company of Grand Rapids. In 1909 he sold his interest in the company and became chief engineer and designer of the Pyle National Electric Headlight Company until 1931, when he returned to Grand Haven and took charge of the patent business of the Campbell, Wyant and Cannon Foundry Company of Muskegon. In 1939 he established a firm of patent attorneys and designing engineers in Grand Haven called Dake & Dake. Charles Dake was granted more than 400 patents, including those for operating mechanisms for locomotive lighting. He was a Republican and a member of the Board of Trustees of the Muskegon Heights Board of Trade, Blue Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, Shrine, Elks, Spring Lake Country Club, Citizens Historical Association, and the Presbyterian Church.

On June 25, 1890 Charles married Grand Haven native Johanna C. Vander Noot, the daughter of Cornelius and Caroline Vander Noot. She was born on November 15, 1873. Their children included Caroline Dean Dake, who was born in Grand Haven on June 4, 1891; Henry F. Dake, born about 1894; Francis H. Dake, who was general manager of the Charles Heyer Company of St. Louis and resided in that city with his wife and child; and Charles W. Dake II, who was in business with his father. The Dake family resided at 602 Pennoyer. Charles I died on June 23, 1946 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Johanna passed away on November 28, 1953 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Edward B. Dake [1863-1933]

Edward B., the son of Henry F. and Caroline Faulker Drake, was born in St. Clair, St. Clair County in 1863. On April 23, 1890 in Grand Haven, he married Marion “Mamie/May” [Maude] Frances Hubbard, the daughter of George and Christiana Landreth Hubbard of Grand Haven. The couple resided in Muskegon. Mamie was born in 1861 and died in June 1919. Edward passed away about December 28, 1933 in Muskegon and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Marion died about January 20, 1943 and also was buried at Lake Forest. A son, George Edward., was born on September 8, 1896.

Edward C. Dake [1878-1905]

Edward, the son of William F. and Maria Foss Dake of Grand Haven, was born on January 21, 1878. He married Clara M. Vos in Grand Haven on November 29, 1904. She was born in 1879 and died about November 8, 1917. Edward died on August 6, 1905. Clara resided at 215 North Seventh after his death. Edward and Clara were buried in the Vos family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Henry F. Dake [1827-1900]

Born in Hanover, Germany on June 7, 1827, Henry Dake at the age of 10 moved to the West Indies with his parents, who were in the sugar business. On September 4, 1864, in St. Clair, St. Clair County, Henry enlisted as private with Company I of the 4th Michigan Infantry. About a month later he was promoted to sergeant.
He was mustered out sometime after he was reported ill in Detroit on September 12, 1865. Henry came to Grand Haven about 1872 and was employed by various mills as an engineer and mechanic. However, he and his family were living in Ludington at the time of the 1880 census. Henry was a member of the Grand Haven Weatherwax Post of the G.A.R. [Grand Army of the Republic] and the Congregational Church.

About 1851 Henry married Caroline L. Faulker, born in Hanover, Germany on October 12, 1826. She also had moved to the West Indies at the age of 10, where her parents were involved in the sugar business. The family was living in St. Clair County around 1870, but soon moved to Grand Haven and resided at 226 Columbus Street. Henry and Caroline had seven children including William F., who was born in Jamaica in 1850 and invented the Dake Engine; Mary E., who was born in St. Clair on October 10, 1857, became a dressmaker, lived in the family home on Columbus, died in Saugatuck on February 15, 1949, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Edward B., who was born in 1863 in St. Clair; and Charles William, born in Michigan in May 1868. The elder Dake died “of a disease of the kidneys” in Grand Haven on March 9, 1900. Caroline died on December 7, 1904. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband and other Dake family members. [Tribune obituaries, March 9 and 10, 1900 and December 7, 1904.]

Wilford “Ford” W. Dake [1873-1913]

Born in Ferrysburg on April 7, 1873 [1872], the son of William F. and Maria Foss Dake, Ford became active in bicycle riding and racing and was considered one of the fastest track and road riders from the Grand Haven area. As a young man he went to Alaska with Peter and Fred vanden Berg and a half dozen others to prospect for gold in the Copper River country. Apparently they came home empty handed. He owned a bicycle retail and repair shop at 213 Washington in Grand Haven. He also offered automobile and phonograph repair. Ford was a machinist and, like his father, an inventor.

On November 26, 1902 Ford married Alice [Allie/Ella], the daughter of Lambertus J. and Elizabeth Van Woerven Mulder, in Grand Haven. Alice, born on January 17, 1874 in Michigan, was a clerk at the Ball Dry Goods Store before marrying Wilford. The Dakes lived at 118 South Third Street in Grand Haven, where they raised a daughter, Elizabeth Lauretta [Loretta]. Lauretta was born in Grand Haven on April 3, 1910 and married Barney Vander Molen of Nunica. Ford died in Grand Haven at the home of his in-laws on June 5, 1913 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His widow and daughter subsequently resided with Alice’s parents at 612 Columbus. Alice married Martin Sprick on April 20, 1927. She died on September 26, 1944 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 5, 1913.]

William Charles Dake [1889-1943]

William C., who was born in Grand Haven on October 20, 1889, married Jeanette McLeod in Grand Rapids on October 26, 1912. William was the son of William F. and Maria Foss Dake. Jeanette, the daughter of William and Margaret MacLeod [McCloud] of Grand Haven, was born on September 10, 1890 and died in Muskegon on August 3, 1977. In 1910 William was living with his mother at 219 Fourth Street and working as a machinist. By 1918 he was employed as a pattern maker at an iron foundry in Muskegon, where the family also resided. By 1930 he was a manager at the foundry. In Grand Haven, the Dakes lived at 1149 Sheldon Road. Jeanette was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven and the Eastern Star. Their daughter, Wilda, married Francis E. Marquard of Muskegon. William was born in October 1889, died about February 19, 1943, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Jeanette passed away in Muskegon on August 3, 1977 and was buried with her husband.

William F. Dake [1850-1892]

Born in Jamaica, West Indies on July 21, 1850, William was the son of Henry F. and Caroline Faulker Dake. William worked in St. Clair, St. Clair County for five years before coming to the Grand Haven area in 1872. A draftsman, he worked for eight years at Ottawa Iron Works making and drawing patterns. In November 1880, he joined Bryce & Bloeker. Dake was one of the directors of Dake Engine at its organization in 1887. The company produced the Dake double reciprocating square piston engine, which gained a worldwide reputation in the marine industry. William had long been a member of the Spring Lake Masonic Lodge. “He rests from his labor, but his works will live long years after him.”

William married Maria [Marie/Mira] Foss, also from Jamaica. In 1870 she was working as a “domestic” for a family in St. Clair. Two years later she and William were married and moved to Ferrysburg. Maria lived from October 1851 to 1926. They had six children, all born locally, including Wilford W., who was born on April 7, 1873 [1872]; Maria [Mary], who was born on October 14, 1876; Edward C., who was born on January 21, 1878; Thurza, who was born November 1, 1881 and died of consumption on February 27, 1905; and William “Willie,” who was born on October 20, 1889.

William died in Chicago on October 6, 1892 at the age of 42. He had been ill for four years. With his brother he had gone to Chicago some two months previously for treatment at the Lincoln Park Sanatorium and to undergo an operation. His widow sold William’s patents to the Dake Company and used the money to purchase a house at the corner of Fourth and Elliott [219 North Fourth]. Maria died about May 11, 1926 and was buried at Lake Forest with her husband. [Tribune obituaries, October 7, 8, 10, 1892.]

James R. Dalton II [1828-1885]

In 1857 James Dalton was captain of the propeller-driven Ottawa, owned by William M. Ferry I. It provided service on Lake Michigan between Grand Haven and Chicago. James helped David Realey of Eastmanville harvest the area’s first crop of wheat in 1838. In 1859 and 1860 he was an Ottawa County representative to the State Legislature. Born on November 15, 1828, his parents were James and Emily Burrows Dalton, who settled first in St. Joseph, Berrien County in 1834, moved to the Grand Rapids area in 1838, and then moved permanently to White Lake. He and Emily were married in 1861. James died in Montague on March 23, 1885. Emily lived from 1840 to 1937. She was buried with her husband at Oak Grove Cemetery in Montague.

William Alfred Dalton [1867-1933]

Born in Stanley, Ontario, on February 23, 1867 William Dalton was the brother of Maude, Frank, Thomas, and Daniel Dalton, all of St. Thomas, Ontario, and Agnes Brockleband of Windsor. Dalton sailed the Great Lakes with his father, who was master of many sailing vessels. When William was 14, he apprenticed himself to the molders and mechanics trade, which proved beneficial in his trade of railroading. He began work for the Grand Trunk Railroad at Niagara Falls in April 1891, went to Port Huron and Pontiac, and came to Grand Haven in 1901, where he retired after 33 years of service. In 1914 he and his wife, Gertrude, lived at 628 Washington Street. At that time he was foreman of the roundhouse, located near the Piano Factory. He was an active Mason, former member of the Odd Fellows of Niagara Falls, and member of the Methodist Church in Grand Haven. He and his wife, Gertrude, had two children, Alice Edith and Arthur T., both of Detroit. William died at his home at 21 South Fourth Street on December 10, 1933 and was buried at Windsor, Ontario. [Tribune obituary, December 11, 1933.]

Benjamin John Danhof [1896-1960]

Benjamin Danhof was pastor at the First Christian Reformed Church in Grand Haven around 1927, after serving at churches in Zeeland in 1924 and Hull, Iowa from 1925 to 1927. He received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Calvin College and Seminary in Grand Rapids. He and his family resided at 407 Columbus, the same address as the church. Benjamin was born in Chicago on December 14, 1896, and died in Dallas, Texas on June 6, 1960. He married Lois Dena van den Berg on July 31, 1919 in Kalamazoo. She was born in the Netherlands on May 30, 1898 and passed away in June 1983 in Dallas, Texas. They were married around 1920 and had four children. The Danhofs resided in Grand Rapids before coming to Grand Haven.

Jacobus Danhof [ @1826- ?]

Between 1865 and 1870 Jacobus Danhof, his wife, Jacoba, and their daughter Maggie emigrated from The Netherlands to Grand Haven. Jacobus worked as a laborer on the docks. Jacoba was born about 1833 and Maggie around 1859. The family resided on Madison Street in 1880.
James John Danhof [1858-1933]

Born in Grand Haven on February 17, 1858, James Danhof was the son of Rosa and John J. Danhof I, a pioneer merchant tailor who came to this country from The Netherlands. James attended local schools and later learned the tailoring trade from his father. He graduated from Hope College with a master degree and from the University of Michigan Law School in 1893. He opened law offices in Grand Rapids with George Heffaran, who later became secretary of the Michigan Trust Company. Before completing his law education, he was appointed deputy collector of Customs by Healy C. Akeley in 1877. He held that office for about six years. During that time he formed a life-long association with Akeley, a lumber king of that day, who lived in Grand Haven for many years before moving to Minneapolis, and for awhile was his personal secretary. Judge Danhof was also secretary of the Roscommon Lumber company, a half million-dollar corporation operating in Roscommon County with offices in Grand Haven. Herman F. Harbeck appointed him city attorney, an office he held for about four years. He was a staunch Republican and attended county and state conventions for many years. He was elected Judge of probate in 1914 and stayed in that post for 16 years. He was a candidate for reelection at the primaries in September 1930, when he was defeated by the incumbent, Judge Cora Vande Water. For many years he was associated with the Second Reformed Church and was active in the Men’s Club and other church organizations. He was a charter member of the Ottawa County Bar Association. A brother recalled that James never had a case carried to the Supreme Court and few cases that ever were appealed to the Circuit Court. During the last two years of his term as probate judge he took a voluntary reduction in salary, which was used for welfare. His benefactions were known intimately by his close friends and many relatives, and on several occasions he made generous donations to public charities.

On November 23, 1898 in Grand Haven, James married Gertrude Pellegrin, a teacher in the local schools and a woman who was prominent in the city for many years. Born on May 26, 1870 in Michigan, she was the daughter of Mathias and Jane Pellegrin, pioneers of the area. The Danhofs lived on Slayton Street and later at 603 Lafayette. Gertrude died on August 18, 1931. James died on March 9, 1933. He and Gertrude were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, August 18, 1931 and March 9, 1933.]

Jan “John” Jans Danhof I [1827-1895]

Born December 31, 1827 in Warffum, Groningen, The Netherlands, John Danhof came to Grand Haven in 1854 with his brother Pieter [Peter] and their two wives. He was a tailor by trade and for many years the leading clothier of Grand Haven. On May 24, 1851, at Uithuizen, Netherlands, he married Renske “Rosa” Hindricks Jonker [Yonker], born in Winsum The Netherlands, on March 12, 1829. She was the daughter of Henry [Hindrik] Klaassen and Janna Kaspers van Dam Jonker. Henry owned several vessels plying the canals of Holland and the North Sea. Renske’s siblings included Helen Baar and Klaas Jonker [Yonker] of Grand Haven. The Danhofs helped form the Second Reformed Church in Grand Haven in December 1871. They had nine children, all born in Grand Haven, five of whom survived: James J., born on February 17, 1858; John J. II, born on October 24, 1859; Peter J., born on December 1, 1864; Mary J., who married Walter Fitzroy Mercer of Grand Rapids on October 6, 1884; and Henry J., who was born in 1868, became manager of the Furniture Commercial Agency Company of Grand Rapids, died about July 22, 1943, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Walter Mercer was born in 1856 and died on May 12, 1935, and Mary lived from 1861 to November 13, 1931; both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. John died on October 2, 1895. His wife passed away on January 23, 1908. The Danhofs were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. [Tribune obituaries, September 30, 1895, September 25, 1908, and February 24, 1930.]

John J. Danhof II [1859-1930]

Born in Grand Haven on October 24, 1859, the son of John J. and Renske Jonker Danhof, young John attended Hope College. When he returned home, Danhof became secretary to the Grand Haven Gas Company and Grand Haven Lumber Company. He was supervisor for several terms and alderman for two terms. John opened an insurance office on January 1, 1885 and became the oldest fire insurance agent in the state with more than 45 years of service by the time of his death. He was a member of the Second Reformed Church. He became a leading Detroit attorney and served as high school principal early in the 1900s. He was chief counsel for the New York Central Railroad.

On March 28, 1883 in Holland, Michigan, John married Anna [Johanna] Miedema [Medema], who was born in September 1857 and died about May 28, 1931. The couple raised their family at 221 South Seventh Street. One of their children was John James Danhof III, who was born July 15, 1884, became a teacher, married Erma Mueller, and moved to Detroit, where he died on August 24, 1973. John and Erma had three children: Annabel, who was born in 1924 and married Samuel Hess, born in 1921; Rosemary, who lived from 1914 to 2001 and married George Hammerschmidt [1910-1973]; and John J. IV, who lived from 1921 to 1990 and married Denise Hochstadt. Anna Erma was born in Wisconsin around 1885 and died in 1986. John and Anna also had a daughter Rosina [Rosena] “Rose” M., a music teacher, who was born on November 14, 1886 and in Grand Haven, attended Akeley Institute for Girls, and on October 23, 1912 married Robert A. Fisher in Muskegon. By 1930, Rose was divorced and using her maiden name. She died on January 7, 1972. John and Anna’s other children were Edith, who was born on September 19 [22], 1888 and died in Grand Haven on July 18, 1982; and Alice Emelia, who was born on January 20, 1897 and married Merle A. Storr, who was born in Olivet, Eaton County on May 20, 1894. In 1916 Merle was a mathematics teacher at Grand Haven High School, but by 1930 he and Alice had moved to Grand Rapids, where he continued teaching until his death about April 3, 1955. Alice died in Grand Haven on August 25, 1979 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. She was residing at 221 South Seventh at the time of her death. John II died of a cerebral hemorrhage on February 23, 1930 in Grand Haven. He and his wife were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, September 25, 1908 and February 24, 1930.]

Pieter “Peter” Jans Danhof I [1825-1885]

Born May 28, 1825 in Warffum, The Netherlands, Pieter Danhof came to Grand Haven in 1873, 19 years after his brother Jan. Like his brother, Peter was a tailor. On May 15, 1851 in Hoogezand, The Netherlands, Peter married Roelfje [Roelfien] Brons. The daughter of Derk and Janna Weges Brons, Roelfje was born in The Netherlands on September 1, 1828. Peter died in Grand Haven on March 1, 1885 and Roelfje passed away in Grand Rapids on April 18, 1898. Both Peter and Roelfje were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Among their nine children, all born in The Netherlands, were Dick, who was born about 1853, moved to Kenosha, Wisconsin, and passed away around November 6, 1919; Jannetje “Jennie,” who was born in 1861, married Lambertus Vandenbosch in 1882. And moved to Grand Rapids; Pieter [Peter] II, born about 1862; Cornelius, who was born about 1863, married Jannetje “Jane” Evertsen Vanden Bosch on March 28, 1884, and died in 1910; Loiza “Louise” Vanden Bosch died in 1921, and was buried at Valley City Cemetery [later known as Oakhill Cemetery] in Kent County.

Pieter “Peter” P. Danhof [1856-1904]

Peter was born in Groningen, The Netherlands on November 15, 1856. He immigrated to the United States in 1873 with his parents, Pieter and Roelfje Brons Danhof. In Muskegon on December 28, 1882 he married Johanna “Anna” Jonker [Jonker], who was born in Grand Haven on August 5, 1863 and died on October 3, 1929. Among their children, both born in Grand Haven, were Loiza [Louisa] Johanna, born in 1884, and Gertruita [Gertrude] Bertha, born on March 11, 1886. On March 25, 1908 in Zeeland, Loiza “Louise” married E. Lambert “Bert” Geerlings; they moved to Marshall County, Minnesota. Gertrude married Edward Floyd Seaver. On May 7, 1900, Anna divorced Peter on grounds of desertion. She married Martin T. VerHage of Zeeland on October 29 the same year. Martin, a widower with two small children, was born in Michigan around 1863 and passed away in 1929. Anna was buried at Vriesland Cemetery. Peter died on March 30, 1904 at the Peoria, Illinois Poor Farm and was buried at the cemetery there.

Pieter “Peter” Jans Danhof [1864-1944]

Born in Grand Haven on December 1, 1864, Peter was the son of Jan Jans and Renske “Rosa” Hindricks Jonker Danhof. Young Peter graduated from the University of Michigan Law School in 1888 and was for a time associated with George W. McBride’s law practice in Grand Haven. Peter was an unsuccessful candidate for state senator in 1892. He was the county’s prosecuting attorney for one term and from 1905 to 1908 was Grand Haven’s city attorney. In 1915 he was appointed judge for the Superior Court of Michigan but served only a few weeks before being defeated for election by major L. Dunham of Grand Rapids. Z. Z. Lydens recorded the episode: “Judge Danhof was loath to part with his honor still so new. When Judge Dunham sought to take the bench, Judge Danhof ruled he could not take the oath of office until he had filed a campaign expense account. The swearing-in ceremony had to be delayed until afternoon.” Peter also had a law office in Grand Rapids.

On September 4, 1888 in Grand Haven, Peter married Emile Walkley, who was born in 1867. She was the daughter of Dr. Wyllys Walkley and Ida Skinner, originally of Muskegon County and then of Grand Haven. The Danhofs lived at 537 Lafayette. One of Peter and Emile Danhof’s daughters was Ida Olive, born in Grand Haven on August 27, 1889. Peter also had a law office in Grand Rapids.

Asa G. Darbee [Darby] [1836-1922]

A native of Erie County, New York, where he was born on November 22, 1836, Asa was the son of Nathan Niles and Harriet Minor Beardsley Darbee. On May 24, 1861, while in Aledo, Illinois, Asa enlisted as private in Company D of the 13th Illinois Infantry. He was mustered out on June 22, 1864. He later settled on a 120-acre farm in Section 14 of Robinson Township. He married Sarah B. Anderson of New York. She lived from April 1852 to 1924. A son, William A., was born in April 1868 in New York State and died in Robinson Township in 1933. Their other children were Hattie, born about 1870 in New York, and Harris “Harry,” who was born in New York in June 1878. Asa, who settled in the Grand Haven area sometime after 1880, died in 1922 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery with his wife and son William. Sarah applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on February 25, 1923.

Charles Jacob Darbee [1867-1941]

Charles Darby was an employee of Grand Haven Brass Foundry in the early 1900s. In 1886 he married Cora May Suits, a native of Ionia, who lived from April 1, 1869 to August 16, 1933 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. She was an employee of Gardner Denver and a member of the Spring Lake Christian Reformed Church. Bill worked for the Shell Oil Company as a mechanic. He also was responsible for maintaining the tanker truck that used the storage tanks at the northeast corner of Third Street in Grand Haven. Later he owned and operated the Shell Service Station on the northeast corner of Beacon Boulevard and Washington. The Deremos’ two children were Edwin J., who married Charlyn Sue De Young and moved to Lexington, South Carolina, and Diane Fay, who married Dale Bates of Muskegon. The Deremos lived at 16670 De Witt Lane in Spring Lake. Nellie Deremo died on January 14, 1999. She and her husband were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Jacob J. De Spelder [1860-1897]

Born in Grand Haven on June 7, 1860, Jacob was the son of Jacobus and Jannetje De Spelder. Young De Spelder had a grocery business on Washington Street and at another time on Seventh. He took an active interest in local affairs and represented the Fourth Ward on the City Council from 1887 to 1889. He left the retail grocery field and went into business in Evanston, Illinois and later was associated with the wholesale grocery house of Misner, Hamlen & Company of Muskegon. John was a member of the Second Reformed Church.

On October 15, 1884 in Grand Haven, John married Elizabeth Evarts [Everts]. She was born January 11, 1863 in Grand Haven, the daughter of pioneer settlers. Elizabeth was a teacher for 50 years, 36 of them in local schools. She was a member of the Second Reformed church and taught Sunday School. She died in Ann Arbor Hospital on December 19, 1932. The De Spelders had two children: Nellie Jeanette, who died of spinal meningitis on February 7, 1892 at the age of four, and a son James E., born in Illinois on July 10, 1892. The older De Spelder died at his home at 913 Elliott Street on January 1, 1897 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, January 2, 1897, and December 20 and 21, 1932.]

Jacobus De Spelder [1816-1901]

Jacobus De Spelder and his wife arrived from The Netherlands in New York City aboard the Wilhelm Von Wolgast on June 18, 1847. He came to the Grand Haven area the same year. In the earliest days of the Dutch colony he was engaged in bringing supplies and building material from Grand Haven to Holland. It was his privilege to convey from Grand Haven to Holland the town’s first city charter. On April 1, 1850, Jacobus bought 80 acres in Section 36 of Blendon Township. Four years later, on October 5, he purchased 80 acres in Section 4 of Grand Haven Township and 160 acres in Section 9. Finally, on March 1, 1857, he took possession of another 120 acres in Sections 1 and 3. De Spelder Street in Grand Haven was named for his family.

Jacobus’s wife, Jannetje “Jennie,” was born in The Netherlands on March 9, 1835 and died in Grand Haven on May 3, 1910. A son, John, was born on September 14, 1835. Two other sons were Peter, born about 1839, and Jacob, born on June 7, 1860. The family lived at 913 Elliott. Jacobus, born on January 10, 1816, died on March 9, 1910. He and his wife were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

James Everts De Spelder I [1892-1975]

James was the son of Jacob and Elizabeth Evarts De Spelder of Grand Haven. Prior to WWI he was an insurance agent. During the war he served with the Ordnance Department at Camp Hancock, Georgia. James, a native of Illinois, lived from July 10, 1892 to July 28, 1975 and resided at 114 Lafayette in Grand Haven at the time of his death. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His son James II assumed ownership of the home and lived there.

John De Young II [1881-1911]

Born in Grand Haven on November 20, 1881, John was the son of Captain John and Trientje Meyer De Young. Young John married Hilda Scheel on January 25, 1904. They had two children, John Edward and Louise. John the father died of pneumonia at his home on Lake Avenue on February 18, 1911. [Tribune obituary, February 18, 1911.]

Ralph [1906-1976] and Minnie Vander Zwaag De Young [1908-1998]

In 1942 Ralph and Minnie De Young purchased the James Daane celery farm at 1617 South Beacon Boulevard [formerly Wallace Street]. In 1961 Ralph and his son Hank, a father and son team, built a two-story addition to the family home at this address and opened the Tarry-Ho Motel, which was in business until the mid-1970s. The De Youngs sold the motel to Henry and Nellie Wagenmaker. Minnie had worked for the Homel Shirt Company and Kiddie Kover, both in Grand Haven. She was born on May 19, 1908 in Spring Lake, the daughter of John Lambert. and Anna Y. Huizenga Vander Zwaag. Minnie and Ralph were married in Spring Lake on June 30, 1927. Born in Grand Haven on June 10, 1906, Ralph was the son of Hendrik Jans and Janna “Anna” Bosma De Jong. Ralph’s and Minnie’s first home, located at 109 Park Street in Spring Lake, was built prior to their marriage for $4500. Ralph died on September 10, 1976 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The couple’s sons were Ralph Henry “Hank” and John Louis De Young. Hank built residences, and John operated the De Young Oil Company at 1705 South Beacon, where he also sold used cars. Minnie died October 4, 1998 in Grand Haven and was buried with her husband.

Ralph started work at Grand Haven Brass Factory when he was 14, gradually working his way up to shipping clerk. In 30 years of employment he never missed a day of work. On nights and weekends Ralph and his brother Johan “Joe” De Young constructed a small machine shop at 601 West Savidge Street in Spring Lake. They sold the shop to Miller & Smith Plating Company, which opened in 1946. In 1943 Ralph left his job at the Brass Company and bought Isaac Daane’s celery farm at 1617 Wallace Street [Beacon Boulevard]. He also purchased Henry Tripp’s celery farm at 1000 Wallace and the Ver Berkmoes celery farm, also on Wallace. In 1945 Ralph and his son Hank built a brick home for the family at 1612 Wallace Street. Ralph raised celery for the Chicago market, and also raised and sold cut flowers. In 1947 Ralph and his two sons started the R. De Young & Sons Construction Company, specializing in building homes on speculation.
About ten years later the trio started the De Young Oil Company, located in a small building behind the residence on Wallace. In 1959 they built the De Young Sinclair Service Station at 2001 Beacon Boulevard, where they also moved the oil business. In 1961 Ralph and Hank built a two-story addition to the family home, which became the Tarry-Ho Motel. After operating it for a few years the De Youngs sold the motel to Henry Wagenmaker. In 1978 Hank started working on remodeling jobs and smaller building projects, while John L. operated the gas station and oil business. Hank erected a steel building behind the gas station and rented it to Russ Berg Truck Palace. Later, Hank built a smaller concrete structure as headquarters for his construction business. He rented part of the building to Howard De Hare, who used it for a small machine shop. The gas station eventually was sold to Gordon and Bud Knoll. Son Hank married Arlene May the daughter of Albert and Angie Roossien Neitring.

Austin Dibble was born in Pennsylvania on September 14, 1841. He was the son of James and Mary Jane Pickle Dibble. While residing in Barry County, Austin on May 13, 1861 enlisted as private in Company K of the 3rd Michigan Infantry. On July 17 the next year he was discharged for a disability [sunstroke] at Harrison’s Landing, Virginia. On May 19, 1863 he enlisted again, this time in Company M of the 9th Michigan Cavalry. The next day he transferred to Battery L of the Michigan Light Artillery. On June 1 he was promoted to corporal and to sergeant on May 27, 1865. He mustered out on August 22 that year. In Calhoun County [Grand Rapids] the following September 24 he married Allie Brown. They moved to Grand Haven, where Austin became a “lather,” someone who installs lath in homes with plaster walls. He and Allie resided at 1314 Washington Street in Grand Haven. Allie offered dressmaking services. They moved to Kent County, where Austin died on July 31, 1917 and was buried at Alaska Cemetery in Caledonia Township. On October 26, 1914, Austin applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension.

Elmer Chase Dicey [1831-1897]

Elmer Dicey on September 30, 1858 married Amy [Emma] Brown in Ottawa County. On August 11, 1862 Elmer enlisted as second lieutenant in Company F of the 5th Michigan Cavalry. Noah Ferry, son of Rev. William Ferry, was captain. Although a Grand Haven resident at the time, Elmer enlisted in White River, Muskegon County. He resigned from that post on December 20, 1862, and on March 31 the following year he was promoted to Captain and recruited men for Company B of the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters, also called the Ottawa Wild Cats. Many of his recruits came from Grand Haven, including Nathan White, William “Chid” Duvernay, and Chid’s half-brother, John Kedgnal [also known as John Duvernay]. Elmer was taken prisoner at the Siege of Petersburg on July 30, 1864. He was discharged from the service on May 6, 1865. Amy died in 1869, and on December 7 that year Elmer married Mary J. Turner in Madison, Wisconsin. By 1880 they were living in Chicago, where Elmer worked as a machinist. Mary was born in Wisconsin about 1846. At the time of the 1880 census, they had three children living with them. Elmer was born in Bath, New York in 1831. He died in Chicago on November 18, 1897 and was buried at Rosehill Cemetery.

A. M. Dickee [Dickey] [? - ?]

In partnership with Nathan White, A. M. Dickee operated a hardware store at the northeast corner of Washington and Second Streets [201 Washington] as early as 1871. An Albert Dickey, listed in the 1850 and 1860 censuses for Polkton Township, was born in Ohio in 1826. He owned a farm in Section 34, and he held title to another large parcel in Section 3. Albert’s wife, Caroline, was born in Pennsylvania in 1829. However, an Alexander Dickey, born in Scotland in 1848, resided in Robinson Township in 1880 and worked as a farm laborer. Either of these could have been the A.M. Dickee who partnered with Nathan White. Dickee was not included in the 1877 Business Directory for Grand Haven.

Henry Dickerson [Dickenson] [@1884-1961]

Adelia, the daughter of Ephraim Molson of Grand Haven, was residing at 621 Monroe Street in 1928. She had a boarder, Henry Dickerson [Dickenson], who also was African American. Henry, who was working as a cook for a railroad company, was born in Georgia about 1884 [September 1887]. By 1930 they had moved
Charles Nathan Dickinson [Dickenson] [1841-1931]

Born in New York in April 1841, Charles was one of eight children of Monroe and Matilda Canfield Dickinson. In 1862 Charles enlisted as sergeant in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry [where he was listed as Charles W. Dickinson], and became a member of the local Weatherwax Post of the G.A.R. following the war. In the mid-1880s he was one of the owners of the Grand Haven Broom Company. Charles was justice of the peace for 14 years and deputy in the county offices. In 1913 and 1914 he was on the Board of superintendents of the County Poor Farm. He was deputy postmaster under Thomas Parish, who was postmaster from 1894 to 1898. Charles was a member of the Masons, Order of the Eastern Star, Blue Lodge, Corinthian Chapter, and the Presbyterian Church, but after his second marriage attended the Methodist Church. He acquired the Grand Haven Herald from Henry S. Clubb, in December 1872, and sold it to Sylvester L. Morris in March 1873. Charles was County treasurer in the late 1870s and in 1882 he was treasurer of the Herald Publishing Company.

On April 24, 1866 Charles married Marietta Cook. They lived in Coopersville before moving to Grand Haven about 1867, where he later became agent for Prudential Insurance. His wife, who was born in New York in September 1842, died about December 24, 1916. On July 18, 1901, Charles applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. He died January 5, 1931. They had two daughters, Fanny and Florence Marietta. Fanny, who lived from September 1869 [1870] to about April 5, 1924, was a clerk at the County Register’s Office.

Martha Jane “Mattie” Rice Dickinson [1862-1940]

Mattie Rice taught elementary school in Grand Haven as early as 1882 and later in Duluth, Minnesota. The daughter of James and Margaret Vincent Rice, she was born on September 2, 1862. As a child, she went to Wisconsin with her parents, two sisters, and six brothers. One of the sisters, Mary K. Rice, married Frederick Mansfield of Wisconsin and later of Grand Haven. A niece, Martha J. Mansfield, married Richard Cook of Grand Haven. Mattie and her sister Mary were the first managers of Highland Park Hotel, which opened on July 4, 1890. On September 19, 1895 Mattie married Otis Bowman Dickinson [Dickenson] in Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin. By 1900 the Dickersons had moved to Kansas City, Missouri. In 1908 the Dickersons resided at 108 Franklin Street. By 1910 they had moved to 307 South Fourth Street, where they remained the rest of their lives. In 1910 Florence took title to the house and remained there until her death. The four Dickersons were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 6, 1931.]

Nathan Dickinson [1799-1861]

The son of Ezekiel and Perley Gunn Dickinson and brother of Sherman Dickinson, Nathan was born in Amherst, Massachusetts on March 21, 1799 and moved to New York State before settling in Michigan in the mid-1830s. His wife, Mary Ann of Westfield, Massachusetts, whom he married in 1828, was born about 1806. They resided in Macomb County, where they raised at least five children. Nathan purchased hundreds of acres of land, primarily in the eastern part of the state, but he also took ownership of large parcels in Ottawa County, including Robinson Township, where he bought 131 acres in Section 1 on November 6, 1835; 160 acres in Section 2 on the same date; 628 acres [nearly a full section] in Section 4 on November 5, 1835; 320 acres in Section 9 on November 6, 1835; and 320 acres in Section 12 on the same date. Two years later, on May 1, 1839, he bought two more parcels in Robinson Township, totaling 130 acres in Section 1, as well as 628 acres in Section 4, 160 acres in Section 2, 320 acres in Section 9, 320 acres in Section 12. The same day Nathan acquired 322 acres in Section 19, 321 acres in Section 3, 111 acres in Section 29, 83 acres in Section 32, 111 acres in Section 2, and 101 acres in Section 35 of Tallmadge Township, plus an additional 160 acres in Section 18 of Allendale Township. Despite his real estate interests in the area, no evidence was found that Nathan or Mary ever resided in Ottawa County, although they were living in Macomb County around 1860. Nathan died in 1861.

Sherman Samuel Dickinson [Dickenson] [1854-1919]

Sherman, one of eight children of Monroe [born 1816] and Mathilda M. Canfield Dickinson, was born in Wright Township on July 26, 1854 [1853]. In the 1880 census he was listed as a tinsmith in Coopersville. He was listed in the 1893 Compendium as a “turner” and in the 1908 Directory as a tinsmith. For several years, at least, he was employed by the Challenge Corn Planter Company. During the Spanish American War in 1898 he served as first lieutenant with Company F of 32nd Michigan Infantry. On August 7, 1899 he was made captain of Company F, 126th Michigan Infantry, and helped reorganize the group. Sherman served as captain until September 1899. On November 10, 1878, in Lamont, he married Elizabeth “Libbie” Ackley, who was born in September 1858 [1857], died in 1942, and was buried with her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery. Elizabeth’s parents were Hezekiah and Eleanor Ackley of Wright Township. The Dicksons lived at 15 South Seventh Street. Their daughter, Kathryn, who was born on March 18, 1886, married George Olsen. Sherman died on January 15, 1919. On February 26 that year Elizabeth filed for a widow’s army pension. Their other children were Grace, born about 1880; Charles, born in November 1883; and Annie, born in March 1889. The children were all born locally.

Samuel Dickman [1872-1936]

Listed as a “Farmer and Stockraiser,” Samuel Dickman owned 72 acres in Section 8 of Crockery Township. He was born in Russia on October 18, 1872 and came to the area with his wife and oldest child in 1908. His wife, Annie, was born in England on November 9, 1879 [1881/1882]. They had at least five children: Gertrude, born in England about 1905; Lyman, born in Illinois about 1908; Leon, born about 1909; Fannie, born about 1912; and Esther, born about 1913. The three youngest children were born in Michigan. In 1918 Samuel was living in Chicago, where he worked as a carpenter for a railroad company. His family remained in Crockery, where he had returned by 1920. Ten years later he, Annie, and their children were back in Chicago, where Samuel worked in house construction. Samuel died on March 20, 1936 in Chicago. Annie remained in Chicago, where she passed away on October 26, 1947.

“Doc” Dillard [? - ?]

Doc Dillard, an African American, made a brief appearance in Grand Haven in April 1897, but he was present long enough to have an impact on the Graves family. Doc arrived in the community claiming to be a Mr. Kay, administrator of a large estate in Southern California. Grand Haven resident Isabella Graves, he said, was the sole heir of the estate. Upon hearing the news Isabella’s husband, Fred, quit his job as yardman at the Cutler House. The couple, accompanied by Mr. Kay, boarded the train for Detroit, where they would get on a connecting train headed for San Diego, California. They withdrew their life savings of $276 to make the journey. A Grand Haven resident, suspicious of the arrangement, contacted the conductor of the train bound for Detroit “to find out if all was as it should be.” It appeared Doc Dillard already had $150 of the Graves’s money, and he was arrested upon the group’s arrival in Detroit. In addition, Dillard was suspected of a similar scam in Grand Rapids. No follow-up articles were uncovered regarding the outcome of his arrest, aside from a quotation in the Grand Haven newspaper: “Dillard had stated that he intended to remain here [Grand Rapids] until July at least, but found it convenient to leave earlier. Yesterday Dillard was very sick and had to have the services of a physician. The reception he received from the Grand Haven people last Friday completely upset his nerves.” [Tribune articles, April 10 and 12, 1897 and October 19, 1897.]

Patrick V. Dillinger [1934-2001]

Patrick Dillinger owned and operated “Dillinger [Dillenger] Business Equipment” at 517 Fulton. The business, also known as Consumers Electronics, specialized in cash register sales and repair. He and his wife, Delores, had four children and lived at 615 Washington. Patrick was a candidate for several elected offices, including Congressman in 1970, Michigan senator in 1972, Governor in 1974, and representative for the 95th District in 1984. Patrick was born on March 12, 1934 and died in Louisville, Kentucky on March 1, 2001. His parents were Roy and Beatrice Dillinger of Grand Haven.

Roy A. Dillinger [Dillenger] [1898–1972]

Roy Dillinger came to Grand Haven from Macomb, Ohio, about 1943. However, from 1939 to 1940 he represented the 28th District in the Illinois House of Representatives. In Grand Haven, Roy resided in the Edward Payson Ferry home at 514 Lafayette. Born on October 25, 1898, Ray worked for the Eagle Ottawa Leather Company and later for Continental Motors in Muskegon. On June 7, 1924 in Grand Haven, he married Beatrice Bell. Beatrice was born on June 13, 1899 and died in Grand Haven on May 27, 1981. Three of the four Dillinger children remained in Grand Haven: Betty, who married Lester Wildey and worked for Security First Bank and Trust [Old Kent/Fifth Third]; Eletha, who was born on October 12, 1927, married Eugene Darling in Tacoma, Washington, on November 17, 1950, taught at Grand Haven Junior High School, and died on October 23, 1984; and Patrick V. The family attended the Second Reformed Church. At the time of Roy’s death on February 15, 1972 he was still residing at 514 Lafayette. Beatrice later moved to 404½ Franklin.

Cornelius Donselar was born in The Netherlands about 1862. He and his wife, Grace [Greitje], arrived in the United States in 1891. Grace, also a native of The Netherlands, was born about 1867. They had at least two children, both born locally: John, born about 1905, and Catherine, born about 1907. Cornelius operated a radio repair service from his residence at 418 North Sixth Street. Cornelius died about June 21, 1949 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife, who died around September 28, 1942.

Helyn G. Rosema Donselar [1926-1998]

Helyn was born June 2, 1926 in Nunica, the daughter of Harm and Dena Poll Rosema. She married Leslie Donselar on June 2, 1950, in Grand Haven. Helyn was a real estate agent most of her professional life. She was a member of Trinity Reformed Church, where she sang in the choir, played the organ and piano, and belonged to the Church Women’s Group. She and her husband, Leslie, had two daughters: Denise, who married William Casemier, and Dorothie, who married Stephen Shelley. Both daughters remained in Grand Haven. The Donselars’ two sons were Mark and Matthew. Leslie, the son of Hio and Ethel Barthel Donselar, was born in Grand Haven on September 5, 1916. He served with the U.S. Army during WWII and was awarded two purple hearts. Upon returning to Grand Haven, Leslie was a machinist at Gardner Denver and later drove cars for Gage Motor Mall. He was a member of Trinity Reformed Church, the Charles Conklin Post of the American Legion, and the Sgt. Alvin Jonker Post of the VFW. Helyn died December 13, 1998 and Leslie passed away on January 17, 2002. [Tribune obituary, January 18, 2002.]

Derk Doornbos I [1885-1965]

Derk Doornbos resided at 16623 136th Street in Nunica. He was born July 19, 1885 and died in November 1965. His son, also named Derk, lived at the same address.

Ervan S. Dornbos [1921-1977]

Born in Grand Haven on December 30, 1921, Ervan was the son of Isaac and Mary Meeuwsen Dornbos. Isaac died about February 14, 1966 and his wife died on August 7 five years later. Ervan attended Calvin College for one year and then attended the University of Michigan. He was in the military service from 1943 to 1945. Ervan received his officer’s commission in meteorology and was transferred to the Air Traffic Control Board. He was with State Mutual Life Insurance Company and lived in Worcester, Massachusetts, then joined Franklin Life Insurance Company of Springfield, Illinois. He taught college math at Simpson College in Indianola, Iowa, and then returned to Grand Haven and in 1954 joined his father in the real estate business, called Iaasc Dornbos Real Estate and located at 1113 Washington Street. In 1971 Ervan was elected president of the North Ottawa Board of Realtors.

In 1949 Ervan married Marilyn Haight of Springfield, Illinois. They had one daughter. The family resided at 528 Terrill in Grand Haven. Ervan died on April 13, 1977 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Biographical sketch presented at Kiwanis, on file in Loutit District Library’s Tribune collection.]

Gerrit Dornbos was born in Grand Haven on May 2, 1877. He started a fishing business, H. J. Dornbos & Brother, located at 614 Monroe, on May 2, 1889, with his brother, Henry Dornbos. After Henry’s death in 1944, Gerrit and his son Harold J. Dornbos owned and operated the business. In February 1949 Gerrit purchased the H. C. Fisher & Sons Company of 2140 South Second Street in Milwaukee to operate in addition to the Grand Haven business. Gerrit retired in 1951, selling his interest in the firm to Harold. He also was on the Board of Directors of Peoples Savings Bank when it was organized in 1909.

Gerrit married Pieternella “Nellie” Meeuwsen, who was born in Zeeland on April 23, 1880 and died in Grand Haven on April 9, 1968. She was the daughter of Jan and Janna Van Loo Meeuwsen and the sister of Mary, who married Isaac Dornbos. Gerrit and Nellie lived at 1039 Washington and had four children: Lester, whose death on August 13, 1933 resulted from an auto accident when he was almost 29 years old; Harold Jay Dornbos; Margaret, who married Edward Baas of Grand Haven; and Janet, who was born on July 24, 1907 married Neil [Neal] Bierens [March 10, 1904-July 10, 1958], a native of The Netherlands, and died in Grand Rapids on January 27, 1995. Gerrit died July 2, 1955 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune articles, “Buys Milwaukee Firm,” February 26, 1949 and “Buys Father’s Interest in Firm,” January 19, 1951.]

Harold Jay Dornbos [1914-1969]

Born September 4, 1914 in Grand Haven, the son of Gerrit and Nellie Dornbos, Harold became a partner in H. J. Dornbos & Bros. for 16 years. In January 1951 he purchased his father’s interest in the firm and became sole owner. The commercial fishing firm operated 18 ovens and employed 35 men and women. In the Milwaukee plant there were 12 employees. In 1963 an outbreak of botulism in Nashville, Tennessee forced new food processing standards which made it impossible for Harold to continue the out-of-state smoked fish business. The fishery was not found to be at fault and H. J. Dornbos Company, with the help of Grand Haven attorney Harvey Scholten, filed a $500,000 suit for damages against Kroger, Rooks Transfer, Adkins Transfer, Adkins Cargo Express, and Tennessee Cartage, charging negligence in handling the firm’s smoked fish chubs in connection with the botulism blamed for several deaths. After the botulism scare there was a marked decrease in the smoked fish business and the firm attempted to sell boned perch. The fish supply dwindled, and the operation was curtailed in 1965-66. Harold was a member of the Presbyterian Church, Spring Lake Country Club, Spring Lake Yacht Club, and the Elks.

In July 19, 1933 Harold married Beverly Mills, who was born in East Orange, New Jersey on December 22, 1916. She was the daughter of Elsworth “The Coronal” and Mary Ethel “Molly” Crane Mills. Elsworth worked in management at the Bastian Blessing plant in Chicago. Beverly’s sister, Virginia, married Ralph Trieschman of Chicago. Harold and Beverly lived at 218 North Buchanan Street in Spring Lake and had two children, Virginia, who taught in London, England and married David Rolstone of Wales, and La Mar Ethyl, who married Lee Van Haaften of Grand Haven. Lee was the son of Cornelius and Marion Wilcox Van Haaften. Beverly worked for Bastian Blessing and later was secretary at the Dornbos Fisheries. She started and ran the hot lunch program and summer school activity program in Spring Lake Schools. She began the gift shop at Grand Haven Hospital and was active in the PTA, the Presbyterian Church, the League of Woman Voters, and the Woman’s Club. Beverly had master points in duplicate bridge and sailed in racing regattas. In 1962 she lent Betty Ellis some hand-carved camels from Egypt to use as models for the camels.

Henry J. Dornbos [Doornbos] [1870-1944]

Born in The Netherlands, March 20, 1870, Henry was the son of Louis and Martha Perdok Dornbos. Henry attended school in The Netherlands, and after coming to America began working in factories when only 12 years old. He worked at Silas Kilbourn’s mill as a youth and lost an eye when a barrel stave flew back and hit him. It forced him to change his vocation and on May 2, 1889 he established a fish business in Grand Haven in association with his brother, Gerrit L. Dornbos, under the name, H. J. Dornbos and Brother. At first he smoked the fish in his backyard. Later he sold the products in a basket from house to house and eventually became the largest wholesale fish dealer in the world, with products being shipped throughout the country. At its peak, the company handled approximately a million and a half pounds of fish annually, mostly smoked fish. After 1940 the company handled more than 300,000 pounds of Alaskan salmon, shipped frozen by boat from Alaska to the Pacific Coast and then by train to Grand Haven. During the company’s process of smoking, the natural color of the fish was retained. The business was destroyed by a botulism epidemic in 1963 that eventually led to its closing.

In 1909 the Dornbos brothers helped organized the Peoples Savings Bank in Grand Haven, with Henry as vice president and Gerrit L. as first vice president. In 1936 Henry became president and chairman of the board. He was a Republican, member of Chamber of Commerce, Citizens History Association, and Second Christian Reformed Church. His favorite recreation was travel and he toured throughout the United States, Canada, and Europe. He spent his winter months in California and Florida.

On June 27, 1894, Henry married Mary Bouwens, who was born in September 1871 and died about June 14, 1959. She was the daughter of John and Anna Barbara Van Harn Bouwens, who were born in The Netherlands, and later immigrated to Zeeland. John Bouwens was a merchant and farmer who died in 1918. His wife, Anna, died in 1891. Henry and Mary had two children: Lawrence, who was born January 1896 and was associated as partner with his father in the family business, and Anna B., who was born in May 1898. Henry died at his home at 608 Washington on November 16, 1944 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Citizens Historical Association, September 13, 1941 and Tribune obituaries, November 16, 1944 and Dec 31, 1960.]

Hio Dornbos [1887-1959]

Hio, the son of Luitje “Louis” and Maatje “Martha” Perdok Dornbos, was born on June 24, 1887. On August 12, 1908 in Grand Haven, he married Johanna Hoebeck. The daughter of Henry and Cornelia Vander Boomgaard, Johanna was born on December 27, 1886. The couple resided at 427 Washington and later at 524 Columbus. Johanna was born in Michigan about 1888 and married Hio around 1898. Hio was a machinist at Dake Engine Company. Their two children were Louis, born about 1910, and Helen, born about 1916. Hio was killed in a car accident on February 18, 1959 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, with Johanna, who had died on April 29, 1955.

Howard F. Dornbos [1912-1989]

Howard Dornbos was born on February 29, 1912 and died October 4, 1989. On September 9, 1939 he married Beverly Morrison. The daughter of John and Edith Johnson Morrison of Whitehall, Beverly was born on September 16, 1916 and died February 14, 1989 at North Ottawa Community Hospital. The Dornbos lived at 1306 Sheldon Road in Grand Haven. Beverly was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, the Ladies’ Circle, the Free Bed Guild, and the Grand Haven Garden Club. A daughter, Mary Lynne, married John J. Hattenbach of Greenville. They also had a son, David, who remained in Grand Haven.

Isaac Dornbos [1883-1966]

Isaac Dornbos, a Grand Haven native, lived from May 2, 1883 to February 14, 1966. On May 18, 1910 he married Maria [Mary], daughter of Jan and Janna Van Loo Meeuwsen. Maria was born in Zeeland on October 10, 1883 and died in Grand Haven in 1971. Her sister Nellie married Gerrit Dornbos. Among Ike’s and Mary’s children were Marjorie Lois, who was born about 1915, and Ervan, born December 30, 1921. The family resided at 1002 Washington, where Ike also operated Isaac Dornbos Real Estate, which he started in 1926. His son Ervan joined him in the business in 1954. Prior to entering the insurance business, Isaac was co-owner of the Van Dyk & Dornbos Shoe Store at 704 Washington. John Van Dyke was his partner. They sold to brothers John and Henry Poel in 1923. Ike’s earliest business was selling washing machines from his garage. He also rolled cigars at his brother Peter’s store at 101 Washington. Elizabeth’s sister, Roberta, married Robert Stobbelaar of Grand Haven. The Draegers’ son Louis opened Draeger Motor Sales at 15001 Cleveland in Spring Lake.

William Henry Drake [1836-1905]

Born in Halifax, Yorkshire on February 15, 1836, William Henry Drake in 1857 arrived in Spring Lake, taking a room at the Middle-Mist Hotel. He enlisted as corporal with Company A of the 3rd Michigan Infantry on May 13, 1861. He was listed as missing at the Battle of Fair Oaks, Virginia on May 31, 1862 and was discharged for disability on the following January 13. On November 8, 1865 he married Sarah Middlemist of Spring Lake. She was born in Grand Haven on July 4, 1840 to Henry and Dorothy Dods Middlemist, owners of the Middlemist Hotel. After teaching at the Spring Lake school, in 1862 Sarah Middlemist became assistant to Charles W. Cushman, principal of the Grand Haven Union High School. The year after their marriage the couple moved to Chicago, where William was employed as an architect. Sarah died there on April 9, 1898, seven years before her husband’s death in the same city on January 19, 1905. The Drakes had four children, all born in Illinois. One of their descendants, William Depue Drake of Ann Arbor, purchased the property at 322 Clinton Street in Grand Haven in 2001. After his death on June 13, 2003, he left a legacy in the form of a Perpetual Endowment for the benefit of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum.

William Depue Drake [1936-2003]

In 2001 Bill Drake became co-owner with Betty Kammeraad [Dobbie] of the home at 322 Clinton Street in Grand Haven. Bill was a descendant of the Drake and Middlemist families that once resided in Grand Haven and Spring Lake. Professor of Resource Planning and Conservation at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, Bill made frequent trips to the Grand Haven area as he traced his family genealogy. He was born on April 13, 1936 and died in Ann Arbor on June 13, 2003. His will stipulated that $100,000 of his estate go to the Tri-Cities Historical Museum to establish the Drake Middlemist Heritage Fund. The fund is managed by the Grand Haven Area Community Foundation and administered by the Museum.

Thomas A. Drelis [@1896- ?]

For a few years in the mid-1920s, Thomas Drelis was proprietor of the Harbor Café at 13 Washington Street in Grand Haven. He was born around 1896 in Greece. He immigrated to the United States in 1914. On October 27, 1924 he married Martha Miller in Detroit. She was born in Ohio about 1906. By 1930 the couple was residing in Muskegon, where he was proprietor of another cafe.
Walter Drinkwater [1865-1938]

Listed as a “Farmer and Stockraiser,” Walter Drinkwater owned acreage in Section 33 of Olive Township. Born in May 1865, he came to the area from England with his parents in 1876. His father, Robert, lived from 1831 to 1910 and his mother, Margaret, lived from 1828 to 1913. All were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Paul Edward Droppers [1919-1988]

Paul Droppers started B & B Design in 1948. He merged with ASP & Manufacturing Company when that firm moved to the former Stanco building on Savidge in Spring Lake. Howard Broersma was president, his brother Robert was vice president, and Paul was named secretary-treasurer after the merger. Paul and his wife, Janet, resided in Muskegon. He was born on September 24, 1921 and died in St. Petersburg, Florida on January 25, 1988. Janet, who was born on November 15, 1917, passed away in St. Petersburg on March 29, 1994.

Henry William Dubee [1861-1945] and Marian Dubee [1870-1973]

Born in Brunswick, Germany in 1861 and educated there, Henry Dubee was proficient in languages and music. Unwilling to serve in the military in Germany, he came to the United States in 1880. He was a professor at Olivet College and at Ripon College in Wisconsin. Henry graduated from Harvard with a doctor’s [Ph.D.] degree. During much of the time while he was studying and teaching, Henry’s wife and children lived at her parents’ home at 508 Washington Street in Grand Haven. Henry also taught at Radcliff for a time and eventually moved his family to Ann Arbor, where he taught at the University of Michigan until 1908, when he moved his family to Beloit College in Beloit, Wisconsin. In 1911 Dr. Dubee spent his sabbatical in Europe and his family again moved in with the Vander Veens.

On August 26, 1891 in Grand Haven, Henry married Marian. She was born on July 12, 1870, the daughter of Dr. Arend and Kate Howard Vander Veen of Grand Haven. The family resided at 508 Washington Street. The Dubees had two sons. One, Stuart W., was born on July 9, 1894, graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1911, served in the U.S. Army’s Ordnance Department at Camp Hancock, Georgia, during WWI, graduated in engineering from the University of Michigan, and retired from the Michigan State Highway Department. He passed away in Spring Lake on July 14, 1974. The other son, Arend, was born in April 1892, graduated from the University of Michigan School of Law, resided in Grand Rapids, and died in December 1964. Henry died in Grand Rapids on December 7, 1945 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. After her husband’s death Marian continued to reside at her childhood home, 508 Washington, until her death on September 3, 1973 at the age of 103. [Tribune articles, “Happy 100th Mrs. Dubee,” July 18, 1970, and “Manages own affairs at Age of 100,” July 17, 1970, and Tribune obituary, September 4, 1973.]

Crinis [Crines] H. Du Bois [@1847-1918]

In August 1874 Crinis Du Bois purchased a half-interest in the Grand Haven Daily Herald from Sylvester L. Morris. By 1875 Crinis had full control. Five years later he and his family were residing in Minneapolis, where he was editor and publisher of the Minneapolis Spectator. Crinis was born in High Falls, New York about 1847, the son of Albert and Sarah Ann Dubois. He married Mary Bigelow Hall [Hale] on February 17, 1873 in Ann Arbor. Mary was born on March 9, 1846, also in New York, and apparently passed away around 1891. Their three sons, all born in Michigan, were Charles H., born in 1876; Israel, born about 1879; and Eugene, born about 1880. By 1880 Crinis was living in Minneapolis, and by 1910 he was living in Los Angeles, California with his second wife, Grace Warren, and their four children. Their son, Frank Ellsworth Du Bois, was born in Chicago on August 12, 1893. In 1910, Crinis was still in the newspaper business. He died on February 13, 1918 and was buried at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Glendale, California. Grace was born in Florida on January 31, 1875 and passed away in California on November 14, 1945. She, too, was buried at the Forest Lawn.

Daryl Du Bridge [1939-1999]
Daryl Du Bridge was killed on November 17, 1999, while bicycling home from the store he owned and managed. His shop, located in the D & W Plaza, was known as “Just For You” and carried cards and gifts. He was born in Grand Rapids on May 31, 1939, to Flinton and Nora Haywood Du Bridge. In Grand Haven, he was an active member of the Association of Commerce and Industry and its president for many years. He and Gail Le Blanc were married on November 26, 1960. She was born on July 1, 1941.

Doris Hardy Ducey [1932-2018]
The daughter of Harry and Helen Hardy, Doris was born in Chicago on May 15, 1932. She married Walter J. Ducey in Chicago on July 13, 1951. Doris received a master degree in education from the University of Illinois and taught first grade and special education in Chicago public schools. After retirement in 1993, she moved to Spring Lake. Doris and Walter had a son, Richard Ducey of Waukesha, Wisconsin. Walter was born on May 3, 1925 in Jackson, died in Spring Lake on August 1, 1998, and was buried at Mt. Hope Cemetery in Chicago. He was the grandson of Michael Henry Ducey, who owned property Spring Lake as early as 1902. Doris passed away in Oconomowoc, Wisconsin on December 3, 2018 and also was buried at Mt. Hope Cemetery. Her long-time friend, Gerrard “Sam” Harring had died the previous July.

Michael Henry Ducey [1862–1923]
In 1902 Michael Ducey purchased the house at 535 Buena Vista in Spring Lake Village, along with seven and a half acres of land on Spring Lake. The land bordered the west side of Lake Street and extended from Spring Lake south to State Street [Savidge]. Michael was a partner in the Grand Rapids Piano Case Company, and he purchased the Spring Lake property as a summer residence for his wife and their 13 children. During their months on the cool shores of Spring Lake, Michael commuted to work on the Interurban.

Michael was born in Michigan on June 10, 1862. His father, William Anthony Ducey, was born about 1820 in Ireland. In 1847 in New York City, William married Mary Burbage, who died in Grand Rapids about 1868. On June 7, 1892 Michael married Agnes McMullen. Agnes was born in Chicago on January 1, 1873. Michael and Agnes had 13 children, all born in Michigan: Michael Joseph, born on March 11, 1893; Walter J., born on June 23, 1894; Mary A., born about 1896; William Michael, born on February 3, 1897; Brian J., born on June 17, 1898; Agnes, born on November 21, 1899; Edward Francis, who was born on September 28, 1902 and passed away in California on August 12, 1985; Lawrence, born about 1905; Vincent P., who was born on September 11, 1906 and died in California on July 27, 1956; Bernard, who was born on May 13, 1908 and died in California on May 21,1990; John, who was born on April 10, 1910 and died in California on January 5, 2004; Joseph, born about 1913; and Thomas Robert, who was born on December 15, 1915 and passed away in California on January 29, 1994.

As early as 1912 nine lakeside lots on the Ducey property were platted and called Buena Vista Subdivision. After Michael died in 1923, Agnes sold the lots throughout the 1920s and 1930s. Michael J. Ducey, the couple’s oldest son, purchased the house and 108 feet of lake frontage in 1932. Having sold the Grand Rapids business and home, Agnes returned to Chicago, where she died on August 24, 1963. Young Michael Ducey had died suddenly in 1938, and his widow, Loyolla C., rented the Spring Lake house to friends from time to time. During the 1960s she began again to spend summers in the home. Loyolla was born on August 24, 1894 and died in Jackson on January 8, 1977. After her death, her three children, Patricia, Walter, and Frank, inherited the property and winterized the house. Patricia and her husband, James C. MacDonald, took ownership and continued to use the site as a summer residence and for family gatherings. Her brother Walter died on August 1, 1998 and her brother Frank died in 2002.

See Charles Dushane.

George Dudley [@1826-1864]
Residing in Grand Haven at the time, George A. Dudley was 37 when he enlisted in Company G of the 102nd U.S. Colored Infantry on December 28, 1863. He worked as a barber and as a cook. Born in New Orleans, Louisiana, George died in a military hospital in Beaufort, South Carolina on July 5, 1864 and was buried at Beaufort National Cemetery.

William J. Duga [1908-2004]

Born on July 23, 1908, William Duga moved to Grand Haven from Grand Rapids during the Depression, after he had married Helen Mary Zysk. She was born in New Jersey about 1911, died on April 19, 1977, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William's parents were Jerome and Mary Newhouse Duga of Grand Rapids.

William opened an insurance office in Grand Haven after WWII, and later added real estate. He was a charter member of the Board of Realtors and started the first multiple listing service for Board members. His office was at 102 Washington in downtown Grand Haven, but he moved to 107 Washington. He and Helen lived in the second floor apartment. In addition to serving as president of the Young Democrats of North Ottawa County, William was active in the local Veterans of Foreign Wars and the March of Dimes. In 1950, as V.F.W. commander, he initiated the idea of bringing a carnival to town as part of the annual Coast Guard Festival.

William, who served in the Navy Construction Battalion [Sea Bees] during World War II, died on November 14, 2004 in Spring Lake. In 1956 he married Doris Garnett Johnson, who was born on December 31, 1914 and died on July 16, 2000. William and Doris were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, July 12, 2000 and November 15, 2004.]

Father Pierre du Jaunay [1704-1780]

Father du Jaunay arrived in what was then the French colony of Michigan in 1734. He ministered to the Native Americans for 30 years and traveled throughout the area, working from the Catholic Mission in Michilimackinac, and performed the earliest baptisms on record, mostly along the east coast of Lake Michigan, including a few on the Grand River and some inland. In 1765 the Michilimackinac Mission was closed, and he was recalled to Quebec, where he died on July 17, 1780. He was born in Vannes, France on August 11, 1704/August 10, 1705 [unsubstantiated].

Henry “Harry” C. Dunbar [1867-1936]

Harry Dunbar was an electrical contractor with an office at 131 Washington. He was born in August 1867 in New York. In Grand Haven he resided at 9 South Sixth Street. Harry died in 1936 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Martha McKee Huntington Duncan [1845-1918] and Robert William Duncan [1824-1903]

Born in West Rutland, Vermont on February 24, 1824, Robert Duncan and his parents came to the Grand Haven area in June 1851 and opened his law practice with an office over Henry Griffin’s store, on the northwest corner of First and Washington. Robert was representative to the Michigan Legislature in 1855; presided over the Board of County supervisors in 1856; was prosecuting attorney and circuit court commissioner in 1867; was mayor of Grand Haven in 1868 and 1869; and was Grand Haven’s first city attorney. Robert was one of the negotiators who helped bring the railroad to the south side of the river in 1870. He was a Democrat.

Martha, the daughter of James and Eleanor McKee Huntington, was born on March 22, 1845 in Mount Tabor, Vermont, but by 1850 Martha, her parents, and her siblings were residing in Rome, New York. The Federal Census placed her birth in New York. In 1870 Martha was a teacher living in Grand Rapids with the Hoyt Post family. Hoyt was from Tinmouth, Vermont. Tinmouth, Mount Tabor, and West Rutland are all in Rutland County. This census placed her birth in Vermont. On November 13, 1872 in Grand Rapids, she and Robert Duncan were married. Martha’s brother, Pope Catlin Huntington, who lived from 1835 to 1920 and earned a reputation as a poet, along with his wife, Jane, lived with the Duncans in Grand Haven before moving to Chicago.

According to the 1880 Federal Census, Martha was born in New York. In 1900 she and Robert occupied a two-story frame home at 21 North First Street [approximate number], where Story & Clark built their original plant. His law office was across the street at 12 North First. After Robert’s death, Martha built two houses across from Duncan Park at the bend on Lake Avenue where the street turns to the west. She lived in one of the houses and enjoyed looking onto the Park while working in the kitchen. Both the 1900 and 1910 census placed her birth in New York. In 1910 she was living in Ann Arbor.

Robert died on May 17, 1903. Although he and Martha had no children, they were dedicated to Grand Haven’s growth and improvement. On October 22, 1913, Martha deeded to the City of Grand Haven 50 forested acres. The acreage later was named Duncan Park, and carried the restriction that it remain in its natural state for the benefit of the community. In the late 1920s two sets of stone pillars were erected, one at the Sheldon Road entrance and the other at the Lake Avenue entrance. The road through the park was paved in 1940. The Duncans also owned 550 acres on Potawatomie Bayou, which Martha sold after her husband’s death, and she sold another piece of land, called Duncan Grove, at the corner of Fulton and Beechtree Streets, to Eagle Ottawa. Martha died on August 7, 1918, leaving the bulk of her estate to the City of Grand Haven. [Tribune obituary, May 18, 1903, and Tribune article, “Keep Duncan Woods--Natural Forest,” October 23, 1984.]

William Oscar [Oscar William] Duncan [@1833- ?]

One-time principal at Grand Haven Union School on Clinton Street, William Duncan became a teacher at Spring Lake Union School in 1861. The year before he was living with the Moses Hopkins family in Grand Haven. In the Federal Census of that year he was listed as working as a teacher. He was born in Maine about 1833.

Solomon [Samuel] Rollman Dunkelberger [1843-1896]

Born in Pennsylvania on December 26, 1843, Solomon Dunkelberger married Elmira Sharman [Scharman], who was christened in Berks County, Pennsylvania on November 22, 1846. On February 1, 1864 Solomon enlisted as sergeant in Battery D of a Pennsylvania Light Artillery Company. He was mustered out on June 19, 1865. Elmira passed away on August 11, 1876. A shoemaker by trade, Solomon migrated to Michigan in 1882 and arrived in Nunica a short time later and opened a shop in Nunica. Apparently he didn’t stay long. On April 9, 1891 Solomon applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. He died on April 5, 1896 and was buried with his wife at Sinking Spring Cemetery in Berks County, Pennsylvania. They had one child, Adam, who died in infancy.

Hulbert “Halb” Dunlevy [Dunleavy] [1866-1918]

By 1900 Halb Dunlevy owned a large fruit farm in Section 3 of Spring Lake Township [approximately 18400 West Spring Lake Road]. He was born in Ohio in January 1866, and his wife, Mary Ladine, was a native of New York, where she was born in September 1869. They had at least three children, all born in Illinois: Loomis H. [Lorimer H.], born in July 1891; Sarah, born in December 1893; and Edith H., born in November 1895. Halb died on January 5, 1918 and Mary Ladine passed away on January 17, 1929. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Joseph D. Dupont [1917-2000]

Joseph Dupont was born on July 18, 1917. In 1943 he married Kathlyn, the daughter of Julius and Helen Oros Vig of Bridgman, Berrien County. Kathlyn was born on March 26, 1923 and died in Spring Lake on February 3, 2003. Joseph and Kathlyn were members of St. Mary’s Catholic Church in Spring Lake and resided at 2450 East Fruitport Road and later at 2450 East Vig Drive, both in Fruitport Township. Joseph died on August 26, 2000 in Spring Lake. Their children were Steven, Daniel, Michael and James Dupont and Veronica Adame, Connie Johnson, Mary Sly, and Ilona, who married Dale Levandowski.
George M. Duram [1844-1935]

George Duram married Bianca Smith in Grand Haven on February 24, 1867. In 1880 George was an insurance agent in Montague, Muskegon County, and Bianca was a milliner. They moved back to Grand Haven in May 1893 and opened a shop at or near 28 Washington to sell Farrand & Votey organs, pianos, sewing machines, and supplies. At the same time, Bianca offered classes in oil painting, portrait and landscape, and sold her own work. George apparently resided in Chicago for awhile, but by 1900 Bianca was living in Saugatuck, working as a baker with her daughter Carrie. At that time, George was working as a servant in Fruitland Township, Muskegon County, where he was still living in 1910. In 1910 Bianca was residing in Bangor Township, Van Buren County, and in 1930 she was widowed and again living with her daughter, Carrie, and son-in-law, Charles R. Bill, in Kalamazoo. Carrie was born in Michigan in 1877. Arthur, a son, was born about 1872, and Edson, another son, was born in Montague on March 17, 1873. George was born in Seneca County, New York on April 8, 1844 and died on October 11, 1935 in Sparta, Kent County and was buried at Greenwood Cemetery. Bianca was born in Ionia, Ionia County on January 25, 1850 and died in Bangor, Van Buren County on November 5, 1942 and was buried at Arlington Hill Cemetery.

Millard F. Durham [1856-1939]

In 1900 Millard Durham was a grain merchant in Coopersville. A few years later he became Cashier at the Coopersville State Bank. He chaired the first Ottawa County Road Commission, formed in 1911. On January 8, 1880 in Lamont, he married Sarah Catherine Pierce, who lived from August 1860 to April 1948. They had at least two children, both born locally: Eloise, born in June 1882, and Grace May who was born on May 9, 1885 and died in Jackson on July 10, 1866. On November 6, 1919 in Jackson, Grace married Milo R. Hulliberger, a plumber. He was born in Ionia County on December 27, 1887 and died in Jackson on January 15, 1942. Millard lived from July 25, 1856 to March 1939 and was buried at Coopersville Cemetery, as was Sarah.

Richard Cornell Duryea [1830-1902]

Richard Duryea was classified as “U.S. harbor inspector” in the 1893 Compendium, a position he assumed in 1882 and held until his death. An 1853 graduate of West Point, Richard served as colonel with the First U.S. Artillery during the Civil War and later transferred to the 7th New York Hard Artillery. He was cited several times for meritorious service and mustered out on December 15, 1870. Richard was born in New York on September 9, 1830 and died in Grand Haven on January 23, 1902. He married Alice Hull, also a native of the Empire State, where she was born on June 28, 1862. Alice previously had been married to a Mr. Sherborne. A daughter, Nina, was born to the Duryeas in Brooklyn, New York in July 1880. On August 4, 1902 in Grand Haven, Nina married Jesse H. Newell. Richard was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Alice died in Toledo, Ohio on September 3, 1932 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Doede Johannus Du Saar [1870-1934]

Doede J. Du Saar was a partner with John Mulder when the two men purchased the Square Drug store at Seventh and Fulton [635 Fulton] in 1916. The next year Mulder bought out his partner’s interest. Doede was from Huron, Wayne County, where he married Cora M. Tarry on December 24, 1895. They had at least one child, Beulah, who was born locally in June 1899. Doede was born in The Netherlands in February 26, 1870, immigrated to the United States in 1899, and died in Holland on December 6, 1934. He and Cora were residents of Holland, Michigan in 1930. Cora lived from December 23, 1874 to August 1972. She was living in Sioux Falls, South Dakota when she died.

Charles Dushane [Du Chien, Duchine] I [1793-1889]

Charles Dushane, born in 1793, settled in Grand Rapids, where he and his wife had a son, Charles Peter Dushane, born in May 1844. The family moved to Ottawa Township [later renamed Grand Haven Township], where Charles on July 1, 1857 bought approximately 65 acres in Section 28 and later 59 acres in Section 33. The Section 28 acreage passed on to his son Peter. Charles’s wife was born about 1810. Charles died in 1889 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members.

Charles Gastinon Dushane II [1813-1889]

Charles Dushane II was born in Detroit on April 12, 1813. He married Therese Carmel of Kent County. By the time of the 1840 census, Charles and Therese were living in Kent County a son, who was under five years old. Therese may have died, because in September 1850 in Grand Haven, he married Cornelia [Cornelies] Fries. She was born about 1827 in The Netherlands. At the time of the 1860 Federal Census, Charles Dushane was living on a farm in Ottawa Township [now Grand Haven Township]. Living on the farm with Charles and Cornelia were three children, all born locally: Lewis P., born about 1842; Charles III, born about 1842 and Mary J., born about 1851. Mary probably was Charles’s and Cornelia’s daughter. Their neighbors in 1860 were the families of Isadore Naughty [Nontoit], William Cobmoosa, Jacob Poel, and George Robinson I. Charles, Cornelia, and daughter Mary were listed in the censuses of 1870 and 1880, still in Grand Haven Township. By 1880, Mary was known as Mary Laver and had a son, Robert, who was born about November 1879. Charles II died in Grand Haven on April 22, 1889.

Charles E. Dushane [1868-1937]

Charles E., the son of Charles and Mary Alice King Dushane, was born in Grand Haven Township on January 17, 1868. He married Laudina [Claudia] Meyers, who was born in November 1874. They had a 91-acre farm. Their children were Robert, born in September 1895; Frank, born in June 1897; and Clara, born in December 1899. Charles died in an auto accident on U.S. 16 near Marne on October 30, 1937, and Laudina passed away about March 9, 1953. Both were buried at Grand Haven Township Historic Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, November 4, 1937.]

Charles Peter Dushane [Dushain, Du Chien] [1844-1916]

See Peter Dushane.

Lewis [Louis] Philip Dushane [@1842-1892]

Lewis [Louis] Phillip Dushane on September 8, 1860 married Magdalena [Madeline/Nellie] Snay in Grand Haven. The daughter of February and Harriet Snay, Magdalena was of Indian descent through her mother. Magdalena was born about 1842. Lewis, the son Charles and Cornelia [Cornelis] Dushane, was born about 1842. Magdalena may have died young, because on September 27, 1866 Lewis married Mary Ellen Ellis in Grand Haven. Mary was born about 1849. Lewis and Mary had at least one child, William L. Dushane, who lived from 1871 to 1957. Lewis, his parents, and his siblings were enumerated in the Federal Census of 1860 for Grand Haven Township. Lewis died in La Grange, Indiana on November 21, 1892.

Marion E. Dushane [1911-1988]

Born July 30, 1911 in Agnew, the son of Charles and Claudia Dushane, Marion worked for Grand Haven Board of Light and Power until he retired in 1971. On September 16, 1935, he married Lena K. Diedrich in Grand Haven. They had a daughter, Mary, who married August Garbrecht of West Olive. Marion died January 22, 1988 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery.

Matilda Dushane [Du Chien] [1872-1872]

Matilda, the daughter of Peter and Mary Alice King Dushane, died of cholera on August 9, 1872, when she was eleven days old. The infant was buried near the eastern boundary of the family property in Section 33 of Grand Haven Township. Lakeshore Drive, which had followed what became Hiawatha Street to the southeast, was extended due south in 1930. The new route took the road over Matilda’s gravesite. Lorraine Orsinger, a Dushane descendant, protested its planned removal and prevailed. The fenced-in grave still can be seen near the east shoulder of the road, slightly south of Hiawatha.

Peter [Charles Peter] Dushane [Dushain, Du Chien, Duchene] [1844-1916]
Peter, the son of Charles Dushane, was born May 10, 1844 in Grand Rapids. Evidently his full name was Charles Peter, although he usually was referred to as Peter. On August 14, 1862 he enlisted as private in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry. On December 31, 1862, he was listed as a prisoner of war at Stones River, Tennessee. Peter was exchanged on April 15, 1863 but was listed as a deserter on June 10 that year. [In his service records, Peter’s last name was spelled “Duchaine” and “Duchanine.”] He settled on the family property in Section 33 of Grand Haven Township in 1871, which his father owned by 1864. The 59 acres included what later became a portion of Lakeshore Drive near Hiawatha Street. After his father’s death Peter also acquired 64 acres in Section 28, just to the north.

On October 17, 1867 in Grand Haven, Peter married Mary Alice [Minnie/Minne] King, who was born in Milwaukee on September 15, 1849 and died in Grand Rapids about January 17, 1920. She was the daughter of Peter [1790-1877] and Mary Agnes [1805-1872] King, both of whom were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Dushanes’ infant daughter Matilda died of cholera on August 9, 1872 and was buried on the family property. Another child, Theodore, died at age 23 of consumption and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, and a son, Robert Sheridan, who was born on December 21, 1873, died on May 30, 1894 and was interred at Lake Forest. The other Dushane children, all born in Grand Haven Township, were Charles E., who was born on January 17, 1868; Alvira Agnes, born October 12, 1870, married Fred Kreiling, and died on May 2, 1947 in Phillips, Wisconsin; Franklin Alonzo, born on February 11, 1876, married Kitty Pearl Johnson [August 17, 1879-September 7, 1971] on July 14, 1899, and died in Grand Rapids on November 2, 1950; Phillip Sherman, who was born on April 2, 1887, married Lulu Smith in Robinson Township on July 1, 1906, and died in LaSalle County, Illinois, on March 16, 1919; Peter Leroy, born on April 22, 1889, married Lena Clara Dornan, and died February 1, 1944, in Grand Rapids; and Ellen Elizabeth “Louise,” born May 28, 1892, married Fred C. Orsinger [1892-1953], and died in 1965 in Grand Rapids.

On April 1, 1891 Peter applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. He died on November 16, 1916 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Minnie died in Grand Rapids at the home of her son, Adolphus, on January 17, 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest under the name Mary Alice Dushane. It’s possible that listing Minne’s last name as Van Zee in the Durant Roll was an error. She died as Minnie Dushane and no record was found that she married a Van Zee nor was she included in a Federal Census under that name. [Tribune obituaries, November 18, 1916; November 19, 1920; and November 4, 1937, and Grand Rapids Press obituary, January 17, 1920.]

Minnie was included in the 1868 Annuity Roll, with her last name spelled Duchene. She was living alone. Her allotment amounted to $15.85. With the family name spelled Duchesne, Minnie appeared in the 1870 Annuity Roll among a group of Indians that were at least part-time residents of the Grand Haven area. They were members of Chief Penayse’s Band of Ottawas. She lived alone and received $15.30. Her name was not found in any other annuity rolls or censuses, except in the 1908 Durant Roll, where she was listed as Mrs. Minnie Van Zee, born Duchesne. She then resided in Grand Rapids. Her entry included the note that she could not be located. She was a member of the Grand River Bands of Indians.

Peter’s and Mary’s daughter Matilda died of cholera on August 9, 1872, when she was eleven days old. The infant was buried near the eastern boundary of the family property in Section 33 of Grand Haven Township. Lakeshore Drive, which had followed what became Hiawatha Street to the southeast, was extended due south in 1930. The new route took the road over Matilda’s gravesite. Lorraine Orsinger, a Dushane descendant, protested its planned removal and prevailed. The fenced-in grave can be seen near the east shoulder of the road, slightly south of Hiawatha Street.

Dreewes [Drewis] J. Duursema [1826-1892]

Born in Groningen, The Netherlands, on December 26, 1826, Dreewes Duursema came to Grand Haven in 1855. He was a member of the First Reformed Church. On July 8, 1857 in Grand Haven he married Lentje “Lucy” Rosendal Mieras, who was born in The Netherlands on January 6, 1819 and was the widow of Jan “John” Mieras. Lucy’s son from her first marriage, Jan Mieras II, lived with her and Dreewes. She and Jan had at least one other son, William Mieras, who was born in The Netherlands in 1852. Lucy and Dreewes had two children: Jennie, who was born in 1859 and died in 1871, and John D., who was born about 1862. Dreewes died from the “grippe” at his home on Franklin Street on February 12, 1892. Lucy died on April 2, 1903. Both Duursemas were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with their daughter Jennie. [Tribune obituaries, February 13, 1892 and April 3, 1903.]

John [Jonathan] D. Duursema [1862-1947]

John, the son of Dreewes and Lucy Duursema, ran the Star Bakery near the corner of Washington and Second Streets [136 Washington], in partnership with William Mieras, his half brother. His advertisement in the 1893 Directory said that he was “Baker and Confectioner.” John also was vice president of Grand Haven Furniture, which manufactured bedroom suites between 1890 and 1895. He and his wife, Elizabeth, lived at 219 South Fifth. Their children, all born locally, were Lucy C., born in January 1888; Christine J., born in October 1891; Chester D., born in January 1894; and Jeanette C., born in April 1899. Elizabeth was the sister of Cornelius Addison, who owned the Addison Dry Goods Store in downtown Grand Haven [200 Washington]. John, who was born in Michigan in May 1862, died about July 1, 1947. Elizabeth was born in New York in June 1863 and passed away around November 10, 1941. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles Duvernay [Diverney] [1820-1880]

Charles, born in 1820, was Pierre and Julia Minedemoyea Duvernay’s oldest son. Along with other members of the Duvernay family that arrived at the mouth of Grand River with Rev. William Ferry and his entourage on November 2, 1834, Charles was a charter member of the Grand Haven Presbyterian Church. He married Eliza Lawrence, who was about two years younger than he. Charles, Eliza, and their 14-year old son John appeared in the 1860 census for Grand Haven. In the household at that time also was a Duvernay daughter, Louisa Maria, born in Grand Haven about 1848 and William Parrisien [Parigian], five years old at the time. John served with the federal forces during the Civil War under the name Kedgnal or Kedgnot. [See John Henry Duvernay for more detail.]

Charles appeared in the 1859 Annuity Roll for Grand River Ottawas as a member of Chief Payshawsegay’s Band. Charles’s family name was spelled Devereaux; he received $6.85. In the Roll taken two years later, under the same chief, his annuity amounted to $23.10. In the 1864 Annuity Roll for Grand River Ottawa Indians he received $10.26 as a member of the same Band. His annuity the next year amounted to $14.70. Three years later, still with the same Band, he was given $47.55. In the 1870 Indian Census and Annuity Roll Charles was awarded $30.60 and remained a member of Payshawesegay’s Band.

In the 1860 Federal Census, Charles and his family were living in Ottawa Township [now Grand Haven Township]. Living with Charles and Eliza were three young people: John Duvernay, 14 years old; Louisa Duvernay, 12; and William Parriagon [Parrisien]. All were classified as White. Charles worked as a sailor. Ten years later, Charles and Eliza Devernia were residents of Elbridge, Oceana County. Charles was a farmer, and both were Indian.

Their daughter Louisa on March 29, 1868 in Oceana County had married Louis Genereaux II. Charles passed away in Grand Haven in 1880. Eliza died in Petoskey on February 28, 1902.

Chid Duvernay [1851-1892]

See William Martin “Chid” Duvernay.

Eli David Duvernay [1835-1871]

In the 1860 Federal Census, Eli Duvernay was one of the few remaining residents of Ottawa Township [now Grand Haven Township] with Indian ancestry. Eli, the son of Pierre and Julia Minedemoeyah Duvernay was born in Grand Haven in 1835. He enlisted as private in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry on September 3, 1862 and was mustered out on June 6, 1865. Charles Peter Dushane was in the same unit. Eli’s wife, Julia, was born in Michigan about 1834. They had at least one daughter, Dixie.

Eli received $31.70 in the 1868 Annuity Roll of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians of Michigan. He was a member of Chief Penayse’s Band. Two years later his annuity amounted to $30.60. By the time of the Federal Census of 1870 Eli had moved to the City of Grand Haven and was working as a sailor. With him was his wife, Julia, his mother, also named Julia, his sister Mary Duvernay, 27 years old, Mary’s husband, William Vanderberg, their daughter Nellie, and another sister, Julia Larraway, who was 32.

Eli died of pneumonia in Elbridge Township, Oceana County, on December 1, 1871 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Isaac Duvernay [1831-1865]

Isaac was one of three Duvernays from Grand Haven to serve in the Civil War. Isaac traveled to Grand Rapids on August 22, 1862 to enlist in Company I of the 3rd Michigan Infantry. On June 20, 1864 he was transferred to Company I of the 5th Michigan Infantry. A year later he was wounded at the Battle of Boydton Plank Road in Virginia, taken prisoner, and sent to Salisbury Prison in Salisbury, North Carolina. He died in that prison on February 18, 1865. Isaac was born at Lac du Flambeau, Wisconsin, in 1831 [1833], the son of Pierre and Julia Minedemohey Duvernay. Like the other Duvernays, he had lived in Grand Haven since the family arrived there with Rev. William Ferry and his family in November 1834. Isaac was included in the 1836 Mixed Blood Census at the age of three and a half as one-half Chippewa, and his name appeared in the 1861 Annuity Roll, when he was awarded $4.62. At that time Isaac was a member of Chief Payshawsegay’s Band of Ottawa Indians.

John Henry Duvernay [Kedgnal, Kedgnoll, Kedgnot, Kadgnal] [1844-1926]

According to Raymond Herek, John Kedgnal [cited as Kedgnot in his book] was the half-brother of William “Chid” Duvernay of Grand Haven, although it’s more likely they were cousins. [These Men Have Seen Hard Service, 21.] John was 18 years old when he enlisted as private on December 1, 1862 in the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters and was assigned to Company B. Chid Duvernay was in the same unit. John was Indian and was a resident of Grand Haven at the time of his enlistment. He deserted his unit in May 1863, was found and returned to duty the following January. On August 26, 1864 he was captured at the Second Battle of Reams Station, Virginia, and sent to a Confederate prison in Salisbury, North Carolina, where he remained for the duration of the war. He was mustered out on May 31, 1865. On February 28, 1880, under the name John Kedgnal, he filed for an invalid’s Civil War pension.

John was born in Grand Haven on April 18, 1844 [1842]. He appeared in the 1860 census for Grand Haven as the 14-year old son of Charles Duvernay, age 40, and his wife, Eliza, age 38. In the household also was a Duvernay daughter, Louisa, born on September 1, 1847. John, the Duvernays’ son, possibly adopted, used his assumed name, John Kedgnal, during his military service. If he was their son, he and Chid were cousins.

John reverted to Duvernay after the war, and appeared in the Federal Census of 1870 for Elbridge Township, Oceana County, under the name John Devernia. He separated from his first wife, Angeline, the daughter of John Wahbuscum, who was a member of a Traverse Band of Ottawas. She married Simon Peter Pesney [Peters] in Emmet County on October 30, 1882.

Living with John in 1870 were his second wife Lucy, born in Petoskey about 1859, and their daughter Eliza, six months old. Lucy, also known as Rosina, was the daughter of John Baptiste Trottocho [Trotchoaud, Trochaud, Trocho, Frosho], chief of a Traverse Band of Ottawa Indians. Charles was listed as a farmer, and the three members of the family were classified as Indian. Joseph and Eunice Elliott, also Indian, lived nearby. Listed under the name Duverney, John was included in the 1870 Annuity Roll as a member of Chief Maishcaw’s Band of Grand River Ottawa Indians and received $45.90.

The 1908 Durant Roll listed John and Lucy and three of their children: John, age 22, Ida, 18, and James, 11. The family resided in Petoskey. John was a member of a Grand River Band of Indians. They had another daughter, Rose, who was born about 1877, married James Tolly [Tolley], a White man, and moved to Pawnsuska, Oklahoma, where she was living at the time of the 1908 Durant Roll. The couple had a daughter, Stella May 4 years old.

John and Lucy Duvernay appeared in the 1910 Indian Census as Chippewas [Ojibwas] residing in Petoskey. With them were two grandsons, John Elmer Duvernay, age 24, and James, age 11. Lucy was mistakenly listed as John’s sister-in-law. John Elmer was shown to be a graduate of Mt. Pleasant Indian Industrial Boarding School. Living nearby was Louisa Duvernay Generaux, age 64, the widow of Louis Genereaux III. Ten years later John and his family remained in Petoskey and still classified as Indian. At that time John was a commercial fisherman. John and Lucy lived on the same street as Levi and Elizabeth McClellan, also Indian.

John died in Petoskey on April 2, 1926, four years after his wife, Lucy, had died on July 14, 1922. His and Lucy’s son, John Elmer Duvernay, lived from April 18, 1886 [1884] to August 27, 1955. John the father was buried at Greenwood Cemetery in Petoskey, as was John Elmer.

Loiza [Louesa, Louisa, Louise] Maria Duvernay [1824-1855]

On May 15, 1844, Loiza [Louisa], the daughter of Pierre Duvernay and his Indian wife, Julia Minedemoeyah, married Martin Ryerson, a White man, in Grand Haven. In 1850 the couple was living in Muskegon, and the census taker that year classified Loiza as White. She was born on July 14, 1824, died on March 14, 1855, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Martin had been married previously to a full-blooded Ojibwa, who died giving birth, but the child, named Mary, apparently survived.

Born to a farming family in Paterson, New Jersey on January 6, 1818, Martin Ryerson became a wealthy lumberman in Grand Haven and Muskegon. He came to Detroit in 1834, worked in the fur trade, and moved, along with Richard Godfroy, to Grand Rapids. There he worked for Godfroy until May 1836, when he moved to Muskegon and worked for three years with Joseph Troutier, an early settler in that community. In 1845 Martin, in partnership with J. H. Knickerbocker, bought a sawmill from Theodore Newell in Muskegon, where he had worked as a paid employee since 1841. The next year he cut a road to Ravenna from Muskegon to connect with Grand Rapids. In 1848 he became a permanent resident of Chicago.

In 1855, the year Loiza died, Martin was married again, this time to Mary Ann Campau in Grand Rapids. Mary Ann, the daughter of Antoine Campau and the niece of Louis Campau of Grand Rapids, was born about 1822 in Michigan. She died on January 8, 1907 in Los Angeles, California. They had a son, Martin Antoine, who was born in Grand Rapids on October 26, 1856. In the 1860 Federal Census, Martin, his wife, and their children were residents of Chicago. There he was classified as a lumberman, and merchant. He died in Chicago on September 6, 1887.

In 1901 the younger Martin, who had become a successful Chicago attorney, donated $150,000 to Grand Rapids for the construction of a new library building, to be named for his family. The library remains in use today. He also was one of the founding trustees of the Art Institute of Chicago and a benefactor of the Muskegon Art Museum, among other legacies. Martin II married Caroline “Carrie” Hutchinson in Chicago on October 26, 1881. She was born in Gloversville, New York on June 19, 1859. Martin II died on August 10, 1932 and was buried at Graceland Cemetery in Chicago. Carrie passed away on September 5, 1937 and was buried with her husband. [Tribune, July 31, 1904.]

Pierre Crevier Duvernay [Duverney, Deverney, Diverney] [1800-1873]

The daughter of an Ojibwa chief and an unidentified Indian woman, Julia Minedemoeyah was born at Lac Du Flambeau [Torch Lake], Wisconsin in 1800 [1799]. On July 23, 1830 [August 25, 1826], in Michilimackinac, she married Pierre Crevier Duvernay, a French-Canadian voyageur and fur trapper, born near Montreal, Canada on July 6, 1790. He was included in the 1825 census for Michilimackinac under the name Pierre Deverna. On August 1 that year, he received his license to trade furs in the Chippewa River region of Vilas County, Wisconsin. Pierre was listed in the 1830 and 1834 censuses for Pokagon Township, Michilimackinac County, under the name Duvernay. His license was continued the next year for the same area.

In 1834 Pierre accompanied Rev. Ferry on a long canoe trip across Michigan’s Lower Peninsula from Detroit to Grand Haven, a few months before Ferry’s troupe of family and friends, including the Duvernays, landed at the mouth of Grand River on November 2, 1834 and settled there. Pierre also worked as Rix Robinson’s clerk. Julia and Peter and their family were charter members of the Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven.

In 1835 the Duvernays built a house on Lot 55 on the south side of Franklin Street [30 Franklin], midway between Harbor and First Streets, where, starting in 1837, Pierre sold Indian blankets, fabric, salt, whitefish, cranberries, and maple syrup products.

Two Duvernay children were named in the 1836 Mixed Blood Census as members of a Grand River Band: Isaac, 3½ years old and one-half Chippewa [Ojibwa], whose claim was rejected because he was “of Lac du Flambeau [Torch Lake, Wisconsin] origin;” and David, 2 years old and one-half Ottawa, who received $1812.50 as the “child of his [Pierre Duverney] and an Ottawa woman.”

Four other Duvernays were included in the 1836 Roll, but none of them seemed to be related to the Grand Haven family: Joseph, 25 years old and one-half Pawnee; Mary, his wife, one-half Ottawa and 20 years old; and their children: Francis, 4 years old and one-fourth Ottawa, and Louis, 2 years old and one-quarter Ottawa. Joseph’s claim was rejected because was “descended from Lac du Flambeau Indians,” and Mary received no money because she was Joseph’s wife. The two children, classified as members of the Grand River Bands of Ottawa Indians, each received $95.14. Mary was the sister of Louis Boureseau, also included in the 1836 Roll, 24 years old, one-half Ottawa, a member of one of the Mackinac Bands of Ottawa Indians, and the son of Louis Boureseau I.

Pierre and Julia had 14 children. Among them were Antoine [Antwine], who was born in 1819; Charles, born in 1820; Francis, who was born in 1822 and died in 1838; Peter [Pierre II], born in 1825 [1823]; Isaac, who was born in 1831; David, who was born about 1834; Eli David, who was born in Grand Haven in 1835; Nathan, who was born in Grand Haven in 1838; Julia, who was born in Grand Haven on November 6, 1841 and married Wallace Larraway of Grand Haven; Mary Sophia, who was born about 1843 [1839, 1850] and married William Vandenberg [Vanderberg] of Grand Haven; and William B. [William Martin] “Chid,” who lived from 1850 [1849] to 1893. Another daughter, Louise [Loiza] Maria, was born in 1824 and became the first wife of Martin Ryerson of Muskegon.

Listed under the name Diverney, the family was included in the 1840 Federal Census for Ottawa Township [now Grand Haven Township], with Peter [Pierre] as the head. Listed with him were his wife, eight sons, and two daughters. [The 1840 census did not list the names of family members other than the head.]

Pierre, Julia, and eight of their children appeared in the 1850 Federal Census for Ottawa Township, which included the future city of Grand Haven. Shown as Peter Du Varnay, Pierre, 60 years old, was listed as [fur] trader. Julia was 50, Antoni, 30, Jozeph, 21, Izaak, 18, Ely 14, Julia the daughter, 9, Sophia, 7, Edward, 4, and John, 1. Julia and the children were classified as R, Red. Listed as John Baptist, Jean Baptiste Parrisien lived nearby.

The family was included the next federal census, still residing in Ottawa Township. Peter, an “Indian Trader,” was 70; Julia, 60; Julia [their daughter], 20; Mary, 16; and William, 10. Also in the household was the younger Julia’s husband, Wallace Laraway [Larraway], 21, a sailor.

Antoine and other Duvernays, such as his brothers Charles and Pierre II, attended church services at Old Wing Mission near Holland, and occasionally Antoine served as interpreter at the services.
In the 1861 Annuity Roll, Julia received a payment of $18.48 as one of Chief Payshawsegay’s band members. She received $47.55 in the 1868 Annuity Roll. She and Eli were members of Chief Penayse’s Grand River Band of Ottawas.

In the Federal Census of 1870, five Duvernays were enumerated as residents of Grand Haven: Julia, the mother, age 72; Eli, 34; Julia, 30; Mary, 27; and William, 21. Also in the household were Julia Larraway, age 32, William Vandenberg, 34, and Nellie Vandenberg, 4. Mary could have been listed as a Vandenberg, since she and William were married in Grand Haven on November 30, 1865. Nellie was their daughter. Eli was working as a sailor at the time of the census. All household members were categorized as Indian, except for William Vandenberg.

Pierre I died on August 22, 1862 in Grand Haven. Julia passed away on August 7, 1873. She and Pierre were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [“Memorial Discourse for Mrs. Duvernay,” by Rev. Henry T. Rose, August 10, 1873.]

Three of the Duvernays’ sons served in the military during the Civil War: Eli, who enlisted as private in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry on September 3, 1862 and was mustered out on June 6, 1865; Isaac, who served with Company I of the 5th Michigan Infantry and Company I of the 3rd Michigan Infantry and lost his life in Salisbury, North Carolina on February 18, 1865; and William B. “Chid,” who enlisted in Company B of the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters on December 4, 1862 as a drummer boy, and was mustered out on July 28, 1865. On May 4, 1865, Julia applied for a Civil War pension, based on Isaac’s service.

Pierre [Peter] Duvernay II [@1823- 1857]

Peter was born about 1823 [1825] on the Chippewa River, Vilas County, Wisconsin. He moved to Grand Haven with his parents, Pierre and Julia Minedemoeyah Duvernay in November 1834. Peter Duveny [Duvernay] married Josette [Jozetta] “Josephine” Derosier [De Rosier, Rocier, Recier] in Grand Haven on December 24, 1847, when he was 21 and she was 18. Other sources indicated Josette was born in 1819 at Lac du Flambeau, Vilas County. Jean Baptiste Parrisien of Grand Haven was her brother. They arrived in Grand Haven in 1835 with their mother.

In the 1850 Federal Census, Peter and Josette were living with Martin and Loiza Ryerson in Muskegon. Loiza was Peter’s sister. At that time they had a daughter, Sophia [Swaney], who was two years old. A son, Frank, was born in 1851. According to a family tree, Frank remained single and died in 1877.

Peter was reported to have frozen to death sometime between Frank’s birth and Josette’s marriage to David M. Moon [Moan] on May 22, 1858 in Grand Haven. [A Duvernay family tree put his death year at 1857.]

Sophia married Eli Parr of Elbridge Township.

For more on Josette, see Josette Derosier Duvernay Moon Robinson.

William Duvernay [1858-1917]

See William Parrisien.

William Martin “Chid” Duvernay [1851-1893]

William B. [William Martin] “Chid” was born in Grand Haven in 1851 [1849, 1850] to French voyageur Pierre Duvernay and his wife, Julia Minedemoeyah Duvernay, an Ojibwa. Claiming to be 13 years old, Chid enlisted in Company B of the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters on December 4, 1862. Julia signed a “Consent in Case of a Minor” on the day of Chid’s enlistment. [The minimum age for enlistment was 14, but it’s evident that the rule was bent from time to time.] At the time of enlistment Chid was 4’ 10½” tall. He was “Detailed as Musician” and eventually became a drummer boy. Toward the end of July 1864, Chid’s commanding officer, Colonel DeLand, assigned him to duty as a hospital attendant. Known as “Grand Haven’s Drummer Boy,” Chid was mustered out on July 28, 1865.

In March 1869 Chid injured the second and third fingers of his left hand while working in a water well. The 1870 census showed him living in Grand Haven with his mother, Julia, and other family members, all listed as Indian. He apparently was unemployed at that time. Ten years later Chid was a farm laborer, living in Hart, Oceana County. The census of that year listed him as White. In 1882 he was admitted to Northwestern National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. On July 10, 1890 he applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. He died at the home on August 25, 1893. At Chid’s request his body was returned to Michigan and he was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [His military service records cited Greenwood Cemetery in Petoskey as his burial place.] [Tribune obituaries, August 9, 1899 and August 10, 1899.]

Elmer Charles. Dvorak [1910-1986]

Elmer C. Dvorak, N. M. Carndell, and John H. Dabelstein started Sterling Manufacturing in August 1954. The company was gone from the area by 1969. Located at 206 South Jackson in Spring Lake, Sterling manufactured lighting accessories for fluorescent fixtures. Elmer and his wife, Thelma B., resided at 116 West Tolford in Spring Lake. Born in Ohio, Elmer lived from July 1, 1910 to April 24, 1986 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Thelma was born May 10, 1914 and died in Spring Lake on September 9, 1984.

Albert Olferts Dykema [Dykman] [1849-1931]

Albert, the son of Olvert and Trientje Dykema, was born in Groningen, The Netherlands in 1849. On March 1, 1873 in Grand Haven, he married Hielte “Jennie” Kruizinga. They had eleven children, including Etta, born in 1874; Grace, born in 1876; Alfred born in 1877; Gerrit, born in 1878; Charles born in 1879; and twins Cleveland, who lived from November 9, 1884 to February 9, 1885, and Hendricks, who was born on November 9, 1884 and died on February 7, 1895. Etta married John A. Vyn in Grand Haven on April 2, 1896. In the 1880 census Albert was listed as Raftsman. The Dykema family resided at 201 South Fourth Street, in a home built by Olvert Dykema in 1853. Albert was an employee of Story & Clark for many years. Jenny, a native of Groningen, The Netherlands, lived from August 3, 1852 to September 1, 1905. Albert died in 1931 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Olvert Dykema [Dykman] [1824-1916]

Olvert Dykema was born in The Netherlands about January 17, 1824. His wife, Tytje Dykema, also born in The Netherlands, lived from June 7, 1826 to October 16, 1877. They had six children, including Albert, born in 1849. After Tytje’s death, Olvert married Tryntje Huizenga, who was born in 1836 and died in 1901. Olvert built a house at 201 South Fourth Street in Grand Haven, later occupied by his son Albert. Olvert died March 26, 1916 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Tytje, Tryntje, and other family members.

Teunis “Tony” Dykema [1844-1916]

On December 4, 1868 Tony Dykema married Saartje “Sarah” Huizenga in Spring Lake. She was born in The Netherlands on December 4, 1848 and died March 18, 1920. Jacob Hayes Easterly [1831-1903]

The son of John and Delila Hayes Easterly and a native of Herkimer County, New York, where he was born on May 7 1831, Jacob moved to Jefferson County in that state when he was seven and then came to Crockery Township in 1865 and settled on approximately 20 acres in Section 21. He married Louisa Taylor of Jefferson County in 1854. She was born on September 6, 1829 in New York State and died on August 8, 1861 in Jefferson County. They had at least one daughter, Gusta, born in New York in October 1854. After Louisa’s death, Jacob married Sarah Ann Williams, a native of St. Lawrence County, New York, on January 1, 1862. Sarah was born on June 12, 1837. Her sister, Julia, married Medad Spencer of Crockery Township. Jacob’s and Sarah’s first two children were born in Jefferson County: Martin James on October 13, 1862 and Samuel McClave on October 2, 1864. Both boys settled in Crockery Township with their parents. Jacob and Sarah Ann had another son, William Riley, who was born in Ottawa County on March 6, 1866. He was followed by a third son, Green, who was born on December 9, 1867. A daughter, Phoebe Delmitia “Della,” was born December 26, 1869 in Crockery. They also had two adopted children, Elizabeth, born in 1881, and Ora, born in 1892.

Jacob’s father, John, was born in Herkimer, New York, on May 9, 1801 and died November 22, 1884. Jacob’s mother, Adelia Clotilda “Delila,” was born on August 5, 1809 in Herkimer and died on November 1, 1872. Both John and Delila were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Sarah Ann passed away on August 5, 1900 and Jacob on March 21, 1913. Jacob, Sarah, and other family members were buried at Nunica Cemetery.

Martin James Easterly [1863-1943]

Born in Pillar Point, Jefferson County, New York on October 13, 1863, Martin moved to Michigan with his parents, Jacob and Sarah Ann Williams Easterly. By 1912 Martin owned at least three large parcels in Sections 21, 28 and 29 of Crockery Township, totaling 260 acres. He married Deaette Martin in Nunica on June 20, 1888. She was born in Spring Lake on July 18, 1869 and died in Nunica on December 1, 1952.
Martin died in Nunica on December 16, 1943 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. The Easterlys had 12 children, all born in Crockery Township.

Samuel McCleave Easterly [1864-1939]

Samuel was born in Bruno, Jefferson County, New York, on October 2, 1864, the son of Jacob and Sarah Williams Easterly. He moved with his parents to Crockery Township when he was six-months old. On January 9, 1895 Samuel married Augusta Polsen in Nunica. They owned a 60-acre farm in Section 28 of Crockery. Samuel was treasurer of Spoonville School for 26 years. Augusta was born in Germany on October 15, 1856 and died August 7, 1937 in Crockery. Samuel died on July 27, 1939. Both were buried at Nunica Cemetery with other family members. A son, Forest [Forrest], was born in May 1899.

William R. Easterly [1866-1924]

Born on March 6, 1866 in Crockery Township, William Easterly owned 80 acres in Section 24. The son of Jacob and Sarah Ann Williams Easterly, he married Cora [Cornelia] Clay on October 23, 1894 in Nunica. Cora was born in Michigan in April 1873. William died on July 24, 1924 and was buried at Coopersville Cemetery.

Galen Eastman [1829–1899]

Galen was the son of Dr. Timothy and Mary Jane Barker [Parker] Eastman. He was born in Canaan, Maine on July 8, 1829 [1828]. Dr. Eastman and his family settled in Grand Haven in 1835, where he held the seat of county judge for a long time. Galen had two brothers, George and Mason. Galen was a man of influence and was at the head of several large lumbering and mercantile institutions in Ottawa County for several years. He owned a sawmill in Grand Haven and was the originator of what afterwards became the Michigan Barge Company, whose boats carried off a large share of the lumber from the once extensive tracts of timbered land. Galen was credited for building in 1850 in Eastmanville a steam-driven boat called New Era. It was used to tow barges to Chicago. During his later years he was in the hardware business in San Francisco.

In 1855 Galen and his brother Mason, with their father’s help, platted the Village of Eastmanville. In December 1856 Galen bought the Grand River Times from brothers James and James Barnes and brought it to Eastmanville from Grand Haven, with the idea that his community would become the county seat. When that expectation failed, publication ceased the same year it began and the Barnes brothers repurchased the paper from Galen, returned it to Grand Haven, and changed its name to the Grand Haven News, publishing the first issue on December 22, 1858. In 1860 Galen was in the lumbering business at Eastmanville. He owned land in the Grand Haven area, and in 1872 sold a large section to the City of Grand Haven for $1,000 as a site for Lake Forest Cemetery. Galen was a surveyor, judge, and representative to the legislature in 1850, and he was postmaster of Eastmanville from October 20, 1864 to April 7, 1868.

On December 14, 1858 in Grand Haven, Galen married Mary Lucina Ferry, twin of Edward P. Ferry and youngest daughter of Rev. William Ferry. The couple had a son, Edward, who was born in Grand Haven on January 15, 1863. Another son, Timothy, was born in Grand Haven on October 20, 1865 and died the next year on August 9. Edward moved west as a young man and remained there. The Eastmans’ daughter, Mary Amanda, became principal of Michigan Seminary. About 1877 the family moved to the “Four Corners” in the West, where Galen was appointed agent at the Navajo Indian Reservation for the Bureau of Indian Affairs. On April 12, 1883, Mary Amanda married a P. B. Johnson against her parents’ wishes and moved to Texas. The Johnsons had a child, Kate White Johnson. Six months later the father and daughter died. Mary Amanda remarried, this time to a Mr. Fairchild, and rejoined her parents, who in 1885 moved to San Francisco, where Galen opened a hardware store on Mission Street. Galen died on January 18, 1899 in San Francisco and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Mary, who was born on April 16, 1832 [1837/1838], died June 2, 1903 and also was buried at Lake Forest. She was credited with organizing the first infants’ Sunday School at the First Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven and was secretary of the Women’s Social Society. Mary Amanda, who was born on March 9, 1860, died in 1929. [Tribune obituary, January 19, 1899 and Tribune articles, January 23 and 27, 1899.]
George Eastman I [1828-1896]

George, the son of Timothy and May Jane Barker Eastman, was born in Maine on May 29, 1828 [1825]. On April 25, 1850 in Polkton Township he married Aphia Parry, born in New York State in 1824. In the 1850s they resided in Niagara County, New York. The family moved to Michigan, where they owned land in Polkton Township and purchased 160 acres in Section 22 of Allendale Township. George owned a steam-powered sawmill near Eastmanville. George and his family moved to Robinson Township, where he farmed as much as 800 acres. George died on June 6, 1896 and his wife died December 22, 1895. Both were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Their daughter Nellie, born in Niagara County on January 3, 1855, married William C. Harper of Robinson Township. Their other children, all born in Michigan, were George II, born on August 20, 1857; Etta, born in 1859; and Jennie, born in 1865. Two other daughters died in infancy.

Mason Eastman I [1826-1860]

In 1855 Mason Eastman and his brother Galen, sons of Dr. Timothy Eastman, platted the Village of Eastmanville. Mason was born in Canaan, Maine on August 2, 1826. He was a surveyor and drew the plat map for Mill Point in April 1849. His wife was Emily Amelia Kent, who was born in Dorset, Vermont on March 19, 1831. They were married in Chicago on August 30, 1852 and had a son, Mason II, who was born in Eastmanville on December 18, 1859 and died the following July. Mason died in the town bearing his family name on March 7, 1860. Their children were twins, who were born on October 14, 1854 and died the same day; Walter born on July 14, 1855; and Frederic, born on April 29, 1857.

Timothy Eastman II [1798-1868]

Born in East Kingston, New Hampshire on January 17, 1798, Timothy Eastman in 1835 moved with his wife and children from Maine to Grand Haven, coming via the Erie Canal, lake boat, stagecoach, and canoe. Timothy’s parents were Timothy and Abigail Gale Eastman of East Kingston, New Hampshire. In Grand Haven Timothy built a house on Lot 89 [southeast corner of Elliott and First Streets], and a frame building about halfway between First and Water [Harbor] Streets on the south side of Washington. Trained in medicine in Boston, he was the county’s first physician, with an office on Water Street [Harbor Drive] near Franklin Street. In 1848 Timothy sold to the city a house on Lot 70 [121 South First] in Grand Haven. The residence was remodeled and used as a school between 1851 and 1860, replacing the frame building on Second Street [Lot 186], which continued to be used for other purposes. Between 1837 and 1854 Timothy purchased hundreds of acres in six surrounding townships: Polkton, Crockery, Grand Haven, Robinson, and Allendale. The land undoubtedly contained significant stands of pine.

In 1842 Timothy relocated to the village of Scranton, where Dr. George Scranton had arrived as the first permanent settler in 1835 and was its postmaster from 1838 to 1842. In 1845 Timothy organized the town of Polkton, named for President James K. Polk, and was appointed the new town’s postmaster on May 28, 1846. Timothy held that position for a bit more than a year. He and his sons, Galen and Mason, surveyed and platted the Village of Polkton on November 4, 1855, and renamed it Eastmanville. The next year the Polkton Post Office started using the name Eastmanville. Timothy’s residence in Eastmanville was built by Nathan Throop of Grand Haven.

In 1838 Timothy was elected county clerk, and he was an associate judge at the first session of the Circuit Court, held on May 28, 1839. In 1845 he became township supervisor. Timothy was a representative to the State Constitutional Convention in 1850, and he was elected to the County Board of supervisors in 1852. In 1856 Timothy became a charter member and secretary of the Ottawa County Agricultural Society. He owned a sawmill at Eastmanville and later lived in Robinson Township.

On October 18, 1825, Timothy married May [Mary] Jane Barker, who was born on July 8, 1809. Timothy died in Chicago on February 28, 1868. The Eastmans had nine children, including Mason born on August 2, 1826; George, born May 29, 1828; Galen, born on July 8, 1829; Sarah Jane [May], who was born on February 22, 1831, married Walter Lull of Chicago, and died in 1858; Abbie, who was born on September 29, 1833 and married Jesse B. Thomas of Chicago; Newton, born on October 22, 1842; Mary Sophia, born on April 28, 1844; Octavia Elizabeth, born on February 2, 1846; and Timothy, born on September 9, 1848. May passed away in 1858. [Grand River Packet, April May and June 1986.]

Egbert Charles Eastway [1843-1912]

Egbert, the son of James and Patty Dale Eastway, was born February 22, 1843 in Erie County, New York. James and Patty owned a farm in Olive Township. On September 29, 1864, while a resident of Robinson Township, Egbert enlisted as private in Company G of the 14th Michigan Infantry. He was mustered out on July 18, 1865. He married Angeline Esiabel Rogers. By 1910 Egbert and Angeline were living in Muskegon. He died in Grand Rapids on July 5, 1912. On September 22, 1912 Angeline applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. She was born about 1850 in Michigan. Egbert’s and Angeline’s children were Edgar, born about 1867; Emma, born in 1870; and Herbert, born on March 14, 1875 in Olive Township.

James Bates Eastway [1793-1886]

James was born in England in 1793, the son of Elias [born in 1755] and Mary Bates Eastway. James married Patty Dale, who was born in 1802 and died in 1871 in Olive Township. Their first son, Elias, was born on the Isle of Guernsey, England, in 1829. These three, plus a daughter, Margaret C., born in London on March 30, 1826, immigrated to Erie County, New York about 1833, where James was an engineer. Around 1851 James and Patty and their growing family, moved to Hillsdale County, where several of their children married and remained. The rest of the family moved on to Olive Township, where they settled in 1856. The next year James became one of the first Justices in the township and he also was among the first officers elected when Olive Township was formed in 1857. By 1860 the Eastways resided in the southeast one-quarter [160 acres] of Section 35 in Robinson Township, where a son later farmed. James died in 1886 and was buried with his wife at Olive Cemetery.

The Eastways’ daughter Margaret married Joel Fellows of Olive Township. Their eldest son, Elias, married Rowena “Rena” Tubbs, died on March 11, 1911, and was buried at Olive Township Cemetery. Another daughter, Martha, born in 1832, married Samuel Purchase of Olive Township. A third daughter, Ellen [Hellen], was born on August 28, 1840 and married Ozius Tubbs, also of Olive Township. Egbert, another son, was born on February 22, 1843 in Erie County, New York and served in the Civil War.

Charles W. Eaton [1840–1902]

One of the early pioneer residents of Grand Rapids and an early printer West Michigan, Charles Eaton learned type-setting in 1852 after school in the office of the Grand River Times, the first newspaper published in Grand Haven. Charles composed a column of “funagraphs” for that paper each week. The son of Harry and Cynthia Eaton, Charles was born on April 14,1840. On August 8, 1862 he enlisted as private in Company B of the 21st Michigan Infantry. He was promoted to seregeant in December that year, then to quartermaster, to lieutenant, and finally to captain on August 26, 1864. He was mustered out on June 8 the following year. Charles, who lived in Grand Rapids most of his life, died on March 21, 1902. He and his parents were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. [Tribune obituary, March 22, 1902.]

In 1930 the family resided at 630 Fulton and later they were located at 421 Leggat.

Barton Warren Elliott [Elliot] [1877-1965]

In the summer of 1913 Barton Elliott arrived in Grand Haven from Chicago to buy out Perry Benjamin’s share of the Peerless Glove Company. Before long he and his brother, Arthur Elliott, owned the entire business. In 1922 the firm moved into a newly constructed three-story building on the corner of Seventh and Elliott Streets. They sold the business to Pioneer Rubber Company of Willard, Ohio in June 1945. The company closed permanently in 1952. Barton served as mayor of Grand Haven in 1922 and 1923. He also served as chair of the Board of Appeals, as a director of the Chamber of Commerce, and he was an active volunteer with the Boy Scouts. Barton belonged to the Spring Lake County Club, Elks, and Knights Templar. He married Mabel Brothers of Cincinnati on September 23, 1908. He and Mabel resided at 316 South Fifth Street, and then before 1930 moved to 621 Lafayette Street, where they remained until their deaths. After the Grand Haven Congregational Church closed, he and Mable joined the Presbyterian Church. Mabel was born in Ohio around 1884 and died in Grand Haven in 1952. After her death Barton married Rose Lauderman, a lifelong friend from his hometown of New Castle. Barton was born on a farm near New Castle, Henry County, Indiana on September 4, 1877. He passed away in Grand Haven around July 31, 1965 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, 1965.]

Henry [Harris] “Harry” Elliot [Elliot, Eliot, Ellicott] [@1806-1884]

Harris “Harry” [Henry/Harvey] Ellicot [Elliot/Elliot] and his family joined the growing number of Blacks who settled in the Spring Lake area before 1850. Harry, a laborer, was born in Maysville, Kentucky [Missouri] about 1806 [1810]. He and his wife, Jozet [Josett], had one child, Elie, born in Michigan about September 1849. Jozet, born in Michigan about 1810 [1820], was classified as Indian. Another household member in the 1850 census was Sophia Tillis, born in 1843, enumerated as Black and a Michigan native. By 1860 Harry and Jozet were living in Grand Haven. On December 28, 1863, in Grand Haven, Harry enlisted and served with Company H of the 102nd U.S. Colored Infantry. He was discharged on January 18, 1866 with a disability. Harry was not located in the 1870 census, but in 1880 he was residing on Madison Street in Grand Haven. In the same household in 1880 were John H. Elliot, born in Michigan about 1873, Catharine Hendricks, a White woman, born about 1840 in Ireland, and John Dewyer, also White, born in Canada around 1850. Harry and John Dewyer were classified as dock workers. The 1880 census showed that John Elliot’s mother was born in Ireland, so Catharine may be Harry’s wife and the children’s’ mother. However, in the census she was listed as housekeeper and boarder, and their relationship was not specified. The Grand Haven Tribune, long after the incident, reported this anecdote about Harry: “Few of us remember Henry Elliott, but we all remember him as Nigger Harry. Amid the booming of cannon and the Grand Haven band playing patriotic airs, Nigger Harry led the large Democratic procession, astride a mule, with a large banner inscribed on both sides, ‘I dun got de mule, war’s de forty acres.’” The article reported that the Republican Party had promised voters “40 acres of land and a mule” if Ulysses Grant were elected in 1868. The Civil War hero did defeat his Democratic opponent, but the transfer of land did not occur. Apparently Harry’s display in the parade upset some people, “the opposition party, especially . . . the colored people,” the article continued. Later that night “[Harry’s] hut was surrounded, he was taken to the river and thrown in. His friends came to the rescue, and after a copious draft of Kentucky mountain dew, he was escorted home richer by ten dollars. After that, Nigger Harry considered himself a hero.” [Tribune article, “Reminiscences of Early Settlers,” March 30, 1899.] Harry was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery on April 3, 1884.

Edmund K. Ellis [1899-1992], Kathleen Hatton Ellis [1901-1947], and Betty Hatch Ellis [1900-1998]

In 1940 Edmund Ellis and Julian Hatton I started the Hatton Leather Company at 743 Park Street, and two years later they bought Eagle Ottawa and combined operations. Edmund became a sales executive with Eagle Ottawa after the two businesses were combined. He was a colonel in the Army during WWII. In 1964 he represented Michigan at the Republican National Convention.

On December 29, 1928 Edmund married Kathleen, daughter of William and Elizabeth Hatton. Born in Bay Shore, Long Island, New York on July 27, 1901, Kathleen graduated from Akeley Hall and in 1923 from the University of Michigan. Kathleen was seriously injured in July 1927, when she fell into a manhole opening on Howard Street, left open by a city employee. She was a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority. She attended St. John’s Episcopal Church, and was a member of the Girl Scout Council, Grand Haven Women’s Club, St. Elizabeth’s Guild, Tuesday Musicales, D.A.R., Red Cross, Central Parent Teachers Association, and Women’s Golf Association at the Spring Lake Country Club. The Ellises’ children were Julia, who was born about October 1929, and Kathleen Virginia. The family lived at 420 Howard Street. Kathleen died unexpectedly at her home on August 17, 1947 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

In 1948 Ellis married Elizabeth “Betty” B. Hatch, former wife of Clarence Hatch II. Elizabeth and Clarence had two sons, Terry and John Hatch. Terry, who was born on April 16, 1929, relocated to Grand Haven. John resided in Minneapolis. Betty was an artist. She studied costume design and illustration at Columbia University. In 1962 she designed the layout and figures for the nativity scene that is displayed at the Musical Fountain each Christmas season. Beverly Mills Dornbos lent Betty some hand-carved camels from Egypt to use as models. The Ellises continued to reside at the home on Howard Street. Edmund was born in Washington, D.C. on September 29, 1899 and died in Grand Haven on June 29, 1992. Betty lived from March 19, 1900 to July 10, 1998. Ellis and Kathleen were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, August 18, 1947 and July 13, 1998.]

Norman Tanner Ellis [1900-1983]

Born September 27, 1900 in Grand Rapids, Norman Ellis worked with the Tropical Paint & Oil Company in Cleveland, Ohio. He went to night school and was promoted to chemist. In 1923 he was employed at the Grand Rapids Filtration plant until he came to Grand Haven. He was a graduate of Michigan State University and the University of Michigan. Norman was the City Chemist for Grand Haven and tested the water for 9,400 days, from May 18, 1929 to October 1, 1965. He was a member of the Methodist Church of the Dunes and belonged to the Rotary Club, Masons, the Low 12 Club, and Command of Muskegon.

On June 1, 1929 Norman married Lois Frye, and they resided at 632 Clinton. Lois passed away on December 19, 1968, and Ellis died on February 19, 1983. They had a son Ralph and a daughter Lois, who married John Henderson of Spring Lake. Another daughter, Marian, was born about 1930. [Tribune article, “Norman T. Ellis Tests City Water,” October 12, 1965, and Tribune obituary, February 19, 1983.]

Edward S. Emert [Emmert] [1859-1922]

Listed in the 1912 Atlas as a “Farmer and Stockraiser,” Edward Emert owned a 40-acre farm in Section 11 of Blendon Township. Born in Indiana in 1859, he came to the area in 1886. He married Mary Schlich in Grand Rapids on April 23, 1907. Edward passed away in 1922 and was buried at Blendon Township Cemetery. She was born in Michigan on January 10, 1870. According to the 1930 Federal Census, Edward and Mary were divorced. In 1930, Mary continued to operate the family farm in Blendon Township. Three children living with her were Coletta, 21 years old; Louis, 19; and Frank, 14. Mary passed away on November 17, 1937 and was buried at Blendon Township Cemetery.

Ello Elwin Emery I [1856-1944]

In the 1880 census Ello Emery was classified as a landscape artist. He was born in Manchester, New Hampshire on November 27, 1856. On March 12, 1890 in Ann Arbor, he married Christine [Tennie] McLillian. She was born in Canada and lived from April 29, 1867 to January 14, 1943. Ello died a few months later, around April 20, 1944. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ello Emery II, their son, was born on November 10, 1895, and Iola, a daughter, was born around 1898 and died on June 9, 1976. She, too, was buried at Lake Forest. The Emerys’ children were born in Illinois. The family resided at 1423 Washington in 1910, 1203 Washington in 1920, 1014 Sheldon Road around 1930 and again at 1203 Washington in the early 1940s.

Ello Elwin Emery II [1895-1983]

Born in Chicago on November 10, 1895, Ello Emery II graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1915 and served with the Engineering Corps in France during WWI. He was the son of Ello and Christine Emery I. Ello II attended the University of Michigan and was superintendent of Construction for the City of Grand Haven for 26 years. Prior to that he was a partner with Hartger Jonker in the Jonker & Emery Construction Company, which specialized in masonry and concrete. He was a member of the Second Reformed Church, United Church of Sun City, Oakmont Lawn Bowling Club, Fairway Lawn Bowling Club, Square Club of Sun City, WWI Barracks, and the Masons.

Born in Bedfordshire, England, on January 25, 1832, James Emery came to America in 1859, living for a short time in Cincinnati, where his uncle, Thomas Emery, owned some valuable property, including the Emery and Palace Hotels. James soon moved to Milwaukee, and in 1870 settled in Spring Lake. Originally a house painter, he later entered the insurance business. His advertisement in the 1893 Directory asked, “What Will Our Friends Say When We Are Gone: Will Not Their First Inquiry Be . . . WAS HE WELL INSURED?” In England, James married Lucy Adams, who was born in 1831 and died on September 3, 1893. The Emerys attended the Baptist Church of Spring Lake. In 1890 James built a house at 114 East Savidge in Spring Lake. It was destroyed in the 1893 fire, and he then rebuilt on the same site. The couple had four children: Annie, who was born in England about 1855 and married George Perry of Spring Lake;
Eva, who was born about 1857 in Wisconsin, married Orlin O. Fletcher, and moved to South Carolina and New York; Florence, who was born in Wisconsin around 1859 and married Hiram Potts, originally of Grand Haven and later of Detroit; and Joseph Emery, who was born about 1860 and later moved to Detroit. After Lucy’s death, James married Ellen McLean [McLain] of Fruitport, who died April 10, 1899. James died January 1 [2], 1899 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Lucy. [Tribune obituaries, September 4, 1893, January 3, 1899, and April 11, 1899.]

William Jershoran Emery [1855-1934]

A farmer, William Emery in 1918 owned 133 acres in Section 30 of Robinson Township. He was born in Adrian, Lenawee County, on February 2, 1855 and arrived in the Grand Haven area in 1879. He was listed in the 1912 Atlas as “Stockraiser.” In the early 1890s he was located in Section 10 of Olive Township. He married Catherine Jane Goodwin in Olive Township on March 13, 1881. She was born in Fenwick, Canada and died in Nunic on July 29, 1955. William passed away at his home in Robinson Township on May 26, 1934. Their children were Roseanna E. who was born on January 26, 1882, married Edward Smalley, and died on January 10, 1968; Bertha M., who was born on August 31, 1883, married Adelbert [Burton] Crary, and died on October 10, 1974; Etta J., who was born on January 10, 1885, married John Hill, and died on January 30, 1966; Amy Lydia, who was born on September 28, 1886, married Jay Burton Smalley, and died on February 25, 1968; Ethel, William’s twin, who was born on February 28, 1890; and was buried at Grand Haven Historic Cemetery; William J. II, Ethel’s twin, who was born on February 28, 1890 and died the same day; Chester W., who was born October 4, 1891, married Birdie Mae Tuttle, died October 11, 1966, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; and Nina Lowika, who was born on June 27, 1901 married Rubel Barnett, and died on January 13, 1989. All except Roseanna were born in Olive Township.

Andrew Jackson Emlaw [1829-1914]

Born in Alburgh Springs, Vermont on February 5, 1829, Andrew was the son of Michael and Wealthy Maxfield Emlaw, both natives of New York. Wealthy lived from 1794 to 1873 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her son and his family. Wealthy was the daughter of Isaac Maxfield of Scottish origin. Michael, born at Lake Champlain in 1800, was a cooper by trade. Michael and Wealthy had eight children, Andrew being number six. In 1849 Andrew came to Grand Haven, working as a millwright and in the construction of sawmills. By 1863 he owned a sawmill in Muskegon. Five years after he formed a partnership with Carlton L. Storrs & Company of Grand Haven in 1866, Andrew changed the company name to Reynolds & Emlaw. The sawmill, erected in 1867 north of the South Channel on the Grand River, burned down eight years later. About 1880 the Grand Haven Lumber Company was organized with Charles Boyden as president and Andrew as vice president. Andrew teamed up with George W. Miller in 1891 to provide the area’s first source of electricity, operating from a building on the southwest corner of Water Street [Harbor Drive] and Clinton. The 1893 Compendium listed Andrew as a “Gas Manufacturer” and as president of the Grand Haven Gas Light Company. He was a Republican.

On October 31, 1872 in Grand Rapids. Andrew married Louisa Bentham of Grand Haven. They had two children, including Harlan Stigand Emlaw, who was born on August 8, 1873 in Grand Haven and Martha Louise, who was born March 12, 1879. Martha graduated from Akeley Institute in 1897 and entered the University of Michigan as a special student. After graduation in 1902, Martha taught in Spring Lake schools, but had to resign because of ill health. She died September 19, 1903. In the 1908 City Directory Andrew was listed as “retired” and living at 404 Franklin with his wife. He suffered his third major stroke and died on June 16, 1914. Louisa, who was born in England in November 1837, came to the United States in 1858. She died one year after her husband and was buried with him and other Emlaw family members at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, p. 132, and Tribune obituary, September 19, 1903.]

Harlan Stigand Emlaw [1873-1953]
Harlan, the son of Andrew and Louisa Bentham Emlaw, was born on August 8, 1873 in Grand Haven and died on February 5, 1953 in York, South Carolina. On June 26, 1901 in Spring Lake, he married Alice, the daughter of Aloys and Mary Alice Thompson Bilz of Spring Lake, who was born in 1877. Harlan and his wife and their daughter resided in the family home at 404 Franklin in 1920, before moving to Massachusetts, where Harlan was a mining engineer. Alice died about January 3, 1943. She and Harlan were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Isaac [Isaak, Izaak] Emlaw [1825-1913]
Born in Vermont [Franklin County, New York] in 1825, Isaac Emlaw came to Grand Haven in 1844 and worked in the lumber mills. Three years later, on March 25, 1847, he married Sarah Jane Baxter, who was born around 1824 in New York. They became residents of Spring Lake Township. On October 2, 1863 he enlisted as private in Company C of the 10th Michigan Cavalry. He was mustered out on March 16, 1865 with the rank of corporal. On November 24, 1871 Isaac applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. Beginning in 1877 he was associated with Andrew Emlaw’s sawmill at Grand Haven. By 1880 Isaac and Sarah were residing in Tallmadge Township. They had at least two children: George M., who was born in Michigan about 1849, and Clara L., who was born about 1857 and died on August 5, 1873 in Grand Haven. George became a lumber inspector in Muskegon. On September 7, 1894, in Ionia County, Isaac married Calista Murray Cusser. He moved to Montgomery County, Ohio, where he was included in the 1910 census as a resident at the National Military Home. At that time he was a widower. He died on February 28, 1913 and was buried at Dayton National Cemetery in Ohio.

Born in New York in July 1838 [1842], Miner Emlaw was enumerated in the 1860 census as a resident of Spring Lake Township. He served in two outfits during the Civil War. On October 2, 1863 he enlisted in Company H of the 3rd Michigan Infantry and on July 23, 1863 he transferred to the 137th Company, 2nd Battalion, Veteran Reserve Corps. He was wounded and lost an arm at the Battle of Fair Oaks, Virginia, on May 31, 1862 and was discharged for wounds on June 8, 1865. Miner was listed as a lumber scaler in the 1880 census, as lumber inspector in the 1889-1890 Muskegon Directory, and as “tallyman” in the 1893 Compendium.

Miner married Elizabeth “Lizzie” Van Uithoven in Ottawa County about 1886. She was born in The Netherlands on September 16, 1863 and came to Grand Haven when she was three years old. Miner passed away on May 20, 1922 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On June 4, 1910 she applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. The Emlaws lived in Spring Lake Township. They had two children: Frank J., who was born in March 1884 and moved to Muskegon, and Jane [Jennie] L., who was born on March 30, 1885 and married George Swart of Grand Haven. When Elizabeth died about September 12, 1951, she resided at 111 Eighth Street. She was buried at Lake Forest.

Nels Engberg [1884-1966]
Nels Engberg was the last person to serve as lighthouse keeper in Grand Haven. He took over from Charles Bavry in 1926 and served until 1939. Living with him in the keeper’s apartment at 900 South Harbor was his wife, Anna M., who was a native of Michigan, where she was born August 6, 1894. The Engbergs had three sons, all born in Michigan: Myron, who was born August 21, 1915 and died in Palos Heights, Illinois on June 10, 2002; Floyd J., who was born on December 13, 1917 and died in San Leandro, California on July 10, 1995; and Millard, born about 1922. Nels was born in Sweden on August 9, 1884 and died in Rapid River, Delta County, in May 1966. Anna passed away in Belding, Ionia County, on November 26, 1992.

Michael Engelmann [Engelman, Engleman] [1832-@1886]
Around 1869 Michael [Nathaniel] Engelmann bought the Detroit & Milwaukee Railroad and organized Engelmann Transportation Company, with headquarters in Milwaukee. His ships, including Ironsides, sailed Lake Michigan, primarily between Milwaukee, Manistee, and Grand Haven. Around 1871 George Stickney was the company's agent in Grand Haven. By 1873 the Grand Haven office was headed by Seymour Humphrey. In 1875 Michael sold his business to Northwestern Transportation, also of Milwaukee. [Northwestern was absorbed by Goodrich Transportation Company in 1881.] In 1876 he owned 81 acres along the shores of Spring Lake, just east of the Village, where Spring Lake Beach later was located. Michael was born in Bavaria [Germany] in 1832. He later entered the lumbering business in Manistee, where he, his wife, Sophia, and their children resided in 1880. Michael’s will was dated January 27, 1886. Sophia died two years later, on January 29. Both died in Manistee.

Jan “John” Ennenga

John Ennenga on December 16, 1950, married Anna Stickney Buhl in Grand Haven. Anna’s first husband, Clarence Buhl, had died on January 25, 1926. John worked at Challenge Machinery Company. He and his first wife, Jennie, resided at 529 Columbus. Jennie lived from August 15, 1874 to December 26, 1948. Anna was born in Plainfield, Wisconsin in 1877. She died on January 8, 1960 under the name Ennenga and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. John lived from June 6, 1872 to August 25, 1952. He and Jennie also were buried at Lake Forest.

Alfred [Albert] W. Enouy [1860-1945]

Alfred Enouy and his wife Lena Luss operated an establishment at the “Foot of Washington Street” that offered “Boats, Fishing, Tackle, Minnows, and Restaurant.” By 1908 Alfred was foreman at the Crosby Dock. Alfred was born in Canada in February and came to Grand Haven from Stratford, Ontario in 1884. He died in 1945. The Enouys’ home was at 212 Water [Harbor]. Lena evidently inherited the restaurant and boat livery from her first husband, Henry Luss of Grand Haven, who died in 1883. Lena, the daughter of Frederick Johannes and Dorothea Behm, was born in Germany in May 1855 and died in 1920. The Enouys’ son, George F., was born on January 2, 1891 and died in 1919. Mother and son were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Frederick Ensing [1858-1935]

Frederick Ensing, who was born in The Netherlands and lived from November 1858 [1859] to 1935, owned a Harness & Shoe Store at 212 West Savidge in Spring Lake in the early part of the 20th century. He also offered repair work. He arrived in the United States in 1871. Before moving to Spring Lake, Frederick sold shoes and boots from his home on Plainfield Avenue in Grand Rapids as early as 1890. His wife, Anna, was born in The Netherlands in March 1861, came to the United States in 1868, and died in 1932. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had a daughter, Anna, born in March 1884, and a son, John H., born in August 1886. Both were born in Michigan. The family residence was in Section 1 of Spring Lake Township, near the Fruitport Township line.

Alyce Rudeen Erickson [1906-1999]

Alyce was born in Minot, North Dakota on October 26, 1906, the daughter of Alfred and Eugenia Rudeen. She graduated from Gustavus Adolphus College in St. Peter, Minnesota in 1929 with a degree in mathematics and physics. She was appointed to the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics at Langley, Virginia, to be a research mathematician. Alyce was with the organization ten years and met such people as Orville Wright, Charles Lindbergh, and other noted pioneers in aviation. In 1940 she married E. Vincent “Vyn” Erickson. Their children included Martha A. Erickson of Boston and John V. of San Francisco. The Ericksons resided at 345 Woodlawn in Grand Haven. Vyn died on February 13, 1985 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Alyce died January 24, 1999. [Tribune obituaries, February 14, 1985 and January 25, 1999.]

Carl F. Erickson I [1905-1975]

Carl “Swede” Erickson started the Tri-City Oil Company in 1936, in partnership with Gerald Tinholt, who owned a Conoco Service Station at the junction of Pine and Ridge Streets in Ferrysburg. The station initially offered D-X gasoline [now Sunoco], but before long the owners changed to Cities Service [now Citgo] gasoline. Erickson delivered the company’s petroleum products with a pickup truck, carrying 315 gallons at a time and delivering gas or fuel oil to customers in five-gallon cans. Carl II came into his father’s business in 1959 and eventually took it over. In 1999 the company continued to operate the service station in Ferrysburg, and also owned a Citgo outlet at 5 North Beacon in Grand Haven. Jerry Swiftney bought that business and leased the property, starting in October 1981. Young Carl’s wife, Mary, and their son Brian ran another Citgo, at 411 Savidge in Spring Lake, which closed around 2009. A second son, Jeff, also entered the business. In 1988 the owners constructed an office building at 524 Third Street in Ferrysburg.

Carl I, who was born on February 20, 1905, on August 18, 1928 in Grand Haven married Albertha H. Bouwman. She lived from January 31, 1908 to February 13, 1989. Carl died in Grand Haven on March 30, 1980. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Ellworth Vincent “Vyn” Erickson [1906-1985]

Born in Muskegon on January 5, 1906, Vyn was the son of John and Ida Erickson. In 1929 he graduated from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, New York as a mechanical engineer and taught in the engineering department for a year. He was manager of the New York export office of Carrier Corp. from 1935 to 1939, when he moved to Grand Haven and joined Keller Tool Company in 1940. He was president of Keller Tool from 1952 to 1955. When the company merged, he became director and senior vice president of Gardner-Denver Company until his retirement in 1961. He was a member of the Grand Haven Planning Commission, First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven, Rotary, Spring Lake Country Club, Detroit Economic Club, Otsego Ski Club, Peninsula Club of Grand Rapids, Grand Haven Area Community Foundation, and Grand Haven School Board from 1945 to 1952. Vyn also was on the Committee for Economic Development and served as Trustee of Alma College from 1954 to 1975. He was director the Michigan Highway Department from 1971 to 1975, a founding director of JSJ Corporation, director of Security First Bank & Trust Company [Old Kent Bank], chairman of Wolverine World Wide, Inc. of Rockford from 1967 to 1970, director of Walworth Company, AGM Industries, Besser Company, and Michigan Plastic Products Company, and advisor and trustee of the Loutit Foundation from 1955 to 1977. In 1962 he was granted an honorary Doctor of Law degree from Grand Valley State College.

In 1940 Vyn married Alyce Rudeen of Minot, North Dakota. Their children included Martha A. Erickson of Boston, and John V. of San Francisco. The Ericksons resided at 345 Woodlawn in Grand Haven. Vyn died on February 13, 1985 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Alyce died January 24, 1999 and was buried with her husband at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituaries, February 14, 1985 and January 25, 1999.]

Born in Boyne Falls, Charlevoix County, on March 9, 1902, Martin was the son of Andrew and Maria Erickson. He came to Grand Haven in 1924 but worked at least briefly in Grand Rapids for an unspecified grocery store chain, probably A&P [Atlantic and Pacific Grocery Stores]. He was manager for A&P stores in Grand Haven and Muskegon. He later owned and operated Erickson’s Super Market, formerly Sheffield Brothers, at 416 Franklin Street. His grand opening ad for Saturday, July 7, 1934 said in part, “We would like to have a chance to earn your confidence and patronage by a trial order on opening day.” He retired from the grocery business in 1972. Martin was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, the Grand Haven Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club, and the Grand Haven Stag Club. Martin also was on the Board of Directors for Spartan stores and he was a board member of the Grand Haven Board of Light and Power.

On September 15, 1924 Martin married Zeta A. Emerson in Muskegon. She was born on June 25, 1902 and died on June 7, 1983, just short of 81. Their children included Kenneth, who was born about 1928 and moved to Perrysburg, Ohio; Shirley, who married Donald Swiftney of Grand Haven; and Robert of Lansing. The Ericksons resided at 1400 Sheldon, Grand Haven, and later at 1822 Pine Court. Martin died November 8, 1986 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituary, November 9, 1986.]

Born in Ferry, Oceana County on July 30, 1905 to Phillip and Lettie Ernst, Aubrey moved to Grand Haven in 1924 to work for the Thieleman Auto Company at 33 Franklin. In 1926 the dealership moved to 12-16 North Third Street. He became manager of Thieleman’s in 1940. He and Arnold Redecker purchased the business in 1952, when Gust Thieleman retired. Aubrey sold the business to Arnie Redecker in 1966. Moses Everett was school inspector for Grand Haven Union High School in 1862. He was included in the Grand Haven census of 1860, where he was listed as a grocer. Moses was born in Worthington, Massachusetts on June 14, 1818. His parents were Andrew and Betsey Everett. Moses had two wives: Eunice Birdsall, whom he married on August 15, 1839 in Newburgh, New York, and Hannah Birdsall, whom he married in November 1852, also in Newburgh, New York. Hannah was born in New York about 1828.
Moses’s children were Julia, born around 1845 in New York, Harriet, born about 1848, also in New York,
Herbert, born around 1856 in Massachusetts; Irving, born about 1860 in Michigan; and Alma, born about 1863, also in Michigan. In 1860 Moses was a grocer in Grand Haven, where he resided with his family. By 1870 Moses and his family were living in Grand Rapids, where he was a store clerk. Ten years later he owned a farm in Plainfield, Kent County, and by 1900 he was back in Grand Rapids. Moses and Phineas Everett were brothers. Moses died in Grand Rapids on February 27, 1902.

Phineas Franklin Everett [1812-1894]

For six months in 1852 Franklin Everett and his wife were in charge of the school on First Street that the city had purchased from Timothy Eastman the previous year. The school opened in 1851 and was supervised that year by Mary A. White. Phineas Franklin Everett was born in Worthington, Massachusetts on January 26, 1812. His parents were Andrew and Betsey Everett. A graduate of Colby College in Maine in 1838, Franklin moved to Grand Rapids in 1846, where he became principal of the Grand River Academy, a post he held for the next 28 years, except for an occasional interval, such as his brief stay in Grand Haven.
Franklin was the author of Memorials of the Grand River Valley. He married Thirza Cudworth on May 23, 1839. She was born September 21, 1816 in Chesterfield, Massachusetts, and preceded Franklin in death by seven years, dying on July 3, 1887. Her parents were Joe Clapp and Chloe Curtis Cudworth. The Everetts had three children: Cadette, who was born in Vermont on February 17, 1840 and died on January 12, 1927;
Delle E., who was born on January 12, 1853 and died on March 4, 1881; and Linden W., who lived from June 12, 1860 to March 10, 1861 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery, as was Delle. Franklin died blind and in poor health, on February 1, 1894 in Grand Rapids. Franklin and Thirza were buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids Township. Phineas and Moses Everett were brothers.

Edward William Ewald [1886-1938]

Edward Ewald of Muskegon in late December 1926 purchased Van I. Witt’s Drug Store at 216 Washington.
Edward sold the business to Amo and Arthur Wheeler in 1946. On May 23, 1923 he married Maude Swanson, who was born in Michigan about 1895. The couple resided at 515 Woodlawn. Edward was born near Ludington on December 24, 1886 [1882]. He was the son of Gottlieb and Minnie Smith Ewald of Grand Haven and later of Ludington. Edward died in Grand Haven on November 18, 1938 and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon.

Wilhelmina “Minnie” Elsie C. A. Smith Ewald [1848-1925]

When the forerunner of Rosy Mound School opened in 1861 at the corner of Ferris Street and Lakeshore Drive in Section 9 of Grand Haven Township, Minnie Smith was the first teacher. She would have been only slightly older than her students. Minnie was paid $56 her first year. She married Gottlieb Heinrick F. Ewald in Grand Haven on December 1, 1868 and subsequently moved to Ludington. He served with Company D of the 29th Michigan Infantry from August 17, 1864 to September 6, 1865. He applied for a soldier’s pension on May 4, 1889 and again on August 8, 1894. Minnie died on April 7, 1925. Gottlieb was born in 1845 and passed away on November 25, 1903. Both were buried at Lakeview Cemetery in Mason County. Arnold and Edward Smith of Grand Haven were Minnie’s brothers.

Adlai [Adley] Thomas Ewing [1846-1920]

Hailing from Chicago, Adlai T. Ewing, an attorney, purchased property in Sections 2 and 3 of Spring Lake Township, areas later known as Belle Point and Windy Point. Around 1894 he built a summer home that he called Chestnut Hill, located at or near 18600 West Spring Lake Road, later the site of St. Lazare Retreat, in the Belle Point neighborhood on the northwest corner of Spring Lake, between Cornelius and Stahl Bayous.
Approximately 10 years later Adlai sold that property and built another summer place he named Glenewing.
The poet Edgar Lee Masters was among the guests who visited the cottage. On September 4, 1896, Adlai’s cousin, Adlai Ewing Stevenson [1835-1914], Adlai Stevenson’s wife, Letitia Green, and their daughter arrived for a visit. Adlai Stevenson, an attorney, was then vice president of the United States. The group boarded the Fanny M. Rose, under the command of Rushton Cobb, and was taken for a boat trip on Spring Lake, down the Grand, and into Lake Michigan.

Adlai was an early director on the board of the Spring Lake Country Club. On December 4, 1879 he married Kate [Hattie] Hyde, who was born on January 11, 1851 in Buffalo, New York and died about May 12, 1899. They had at least three daughters, all born in Illinois: Annette, born on November 3, 1882, Marjorie, born around 1883 and Lucy, born around 1885. Annette and Lucy were residing with their widowed father in Chicago in 1910, and Lucy was still with him in 1920. Annette married Jervis R. Harbeck, who owned a summer home near Belle Point. Adlai, who was born in Bloomington, Illinois on February 5, 1846, passed away in Chicago on November 2, 1920. [Tribune obituary, May 12, 1899.]

Albert O. Ewing [@1843-@1889]

Albert Ewing, who was born in Wisconsin about 1843, served as private in Company A of the 10th Wisconsin Infantry from September 13, 1861 to November 3, 1864. He and his wife were settled in the Grand Haven area by the time of the 1870 Federal Census. He planted peach trees and had a vineyard in Peach Plains on his 82-acre farm in Sections 27 and 34 of northern Grand Haven Township. He married Anna [Annabel] Stoner, who was born in Washington, Pennsylvania about 1846 [1844]. One son, Frank, was born in Grand Haven on August 18, 1870, and another son, Frederick, was born on April 26, 1874. Both were born locally. After Albert's death, Ann on September 24, 1889 in Grand Haven, married Wilson Gebhartz. She sold her Grand Haven property to Walter R. Phillips and moved with Wilson to Hart, Oceana County.

Burke McKendree Ewing I [1894-1974]

Over his lifetime, Burke Ewing spent summers in the Grand Haven area and made his home in the area from time to time. The son of Alvin E. and Carlotta Walkley Bailey Ewing, Burke was born in Grand Rapids on July 30, 1894. After serving as Radioman with the Navy during WWI, he married Marjorie Elizabeth Kelley on June 14, 1919 in Windham, Connecticut. Marjorie was born on March 19, 1897 in New Haven, Connecticut to Halsey W. and Myra Johnson Kelley. Burke worked for Leonard Refrigerator in Spring Lake around 1920, and subsequently was employed as a draftsman and architectural engineer at the Sheldon Corporation in Muskegon and Brunswick Corporation in Muskegon, Chicago, and Marion, Virginia. He retired from Brunswick in 1959. In 1946 Marjorie and Burke purchased a farmhouse on 64 acres at 17217 Lincoln Street. The acreage abutted Burke’s mother’s property that extended west to the lakeshore. Burke and Marjorie sold the house and land over a period of years. In the year of his retirement, Burke constructed a one-bedroom summer home at the southeast corner [17007 Lincoln] of their original purchase. In the 1960s he and his brother, Walkley, and sister, Doris, subdivided a part of the Ewing land along Lakeshore Drive and Lincoln Street, and a new street running east from Lakeshore called Burkshire. The developers named the subdivision Ewingwood, and it became the site of several dozen residences.

After Marjorie’s death in Florida on February 1, 1964, Burke married Beatrice Bowman, a long-time family friend, in Leland, Leelanau County on October 7 the same year. Bea was born in Chapin, Saginaw County on December 25, 1901 and died in Grand Haven on January 8, 1992. Burke passed away in Grand Haven on June 22, 1974. Marjorie, Bea, and Burke were buried in the family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Burke and Marjorie had four children: Ann Elizabeth Ewing, who was born in Grand Rapids on March 11, 1921 and died on July 24, 2010 in Washington D.C.; Nancy Hank Ewing, who was born in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma on July 9, 1922 and died in Del Mar, California on November 10, 1987; Burke McKendree Ewing II, who was born in Chicago, Illinois, on May 29, 1925 and passed away in Los Angeles, California on June 3, 2017; and Wallace Kelley Ewing, born in Grand Rapids on September 11, 1932. Ann, Nancy, and Burke II attended Rosy Mound School during the 1931-1932 school year. Wallace attended schools in Grand Haven and Ferrysburg, and in 1983 moved into his parents’ home at 17007 Lincoln with his wife, Nancy. After Nancy’s death on June 8, 2005, Wallace on August 26 the next year married Betty Jane Pickel Livingston.
formerly of Norton Shores. Jane was a graduate of Muskegon High School, Western Michigan University, and Wright State University, where she received a master degree in art therapy. Wally and Jane moved in 2013 to 29 Sherman Avenue, site of the Sandpiper Condominiums.

Carlotta Parthenia Walkley Bailey Ewing [1870-1971] and Alvin Enoch “AE” Ewing [1864-1945]

Carlotta was born on November 11, 1870 in Muskegon County, the daughter of Wyllys S. Walkley. He graduated from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1879 and became assistant marine surgeon and physician with offices in Spring Lake and Grand Haven from 1879 to his death in Grand Haven in 1917. Carlotta was born on November 11, 1870 in Bailey, Muskegon County. She was the daughter of Wyllys S. Walkley, who was a graduate of the University of Michigan in 1879, and later a physician with offices in Spring Lake and Grand Haven from 1879 to his death in Grand Haven in 1917. Carlotta, whose mother died when she was two years old, was raised by Freeborn F. Bailey of East Paris, near Grand Rapids. She attended Hillsdale Academy, and in 1886 she was the first woman to receive the Dickerson Medal for gymnastics ability. Carlotta graduated valedictorian from Hillsdale College in 1892. After marriage, she earned some fame as an elocutionist and reader of dramatic and humorous literature, including such novels as Les Miserables and Tillie, The Mennonite Maid. Carlotta earned a master degree from the University of Michigan in 1916 and subsequently worked for Child and Family Services, traveling the state to visit children in their foster or adopted homes.

On April 5, 1893 in Grand Rapids she married Alvin Enoch “AE” Ewing. He was born in Jackson, Ohio on November 10, 1864, studied at Hillsdale College, and was elected to the Michigan House of Representatives for the 1892 to 1893 term. AE later received his law degree from the University of Michigan and practiced his profession in Grand Rapids. The Ewings had three children, all born in Grand Rapids: Burke McKendree I, who was born on July 30, 1894; Doris, who was born on April 28, 1898, served with the Red Cross in India during WWII, retired in 1963 as recreation director at Biggs Air Force Base in Texas, and passed away in Grand Haven on March 8, 1998; and Walkley Bailey, who was born on June 14, 1901, married Harriet Elizabeth Edwards in Grand Haven on July 31, 1920, and died on September 4, 1993. Walkley was founder and president of the Sunscreen Company in Fajardo, Puerto Rico, where he manufactured “Sunscreen,” a specially designed screening he invented that blocked the sun’s heat but let in light. It was used extensively on commercial buildings before central air became common.

In 1910 Carlotta and AE bought 30 acres of lakefront just south of Rosy Mound, where they built a cottage. Ten years later they sold a portion of the Rosy Mound property and bought 199 acres about two miles south of that spot, an area they called the “Wilderness.” The natural wooded beauty of the dunes and the expansive beach made the Wilderness attractive to others, and it became a second home to many Grand Rapids residents. Alvin retired in 1940 and died on January 18, 1945 in Grand Haven. A few years later Carlotta moved to El Paso, Texas with her daughter until Doris retired in 1963. They then returned to Grand Haven, eventually buying a house at 1408 Sheldon Road. Carlotta died March 18, 1971, a few months after her 100th birthday, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Doris passed away on March 6, 1998, a few weeks short of her 100th birthday. [Tribune article, “Celebrates 100th,” November 9, 1970, and Tribune obituary, March 18, 1971.]

Edgar G. Ewing [1879- ?]

In the early 1930s Edgar Ewing was inspector of boilers with the U. S. Steamboat Inspection Service in Grand Haven. Edgar was born in Springfield, Tennessee on October 7, 1879. On July 18, 1918 in El Paso County, Texas, he married Florence Chambers. She was born in Saginaw in 1880. In Grand Haven the couple resided at 518 Washington and 205 South Fifth Streets. Between 1930 and 1940 the couple moved to Marquette.

Frederick Ewing [@1859- ?]

In the 1920s Frederick Ewing owned a shoe shop in Spring Lake. He was born about 1859 in The Netherlands. His wife, Anna, was born approximately two years later.
Frederick Orman Ewing [1874-1935]

Fred Ewing was born on April 26, 1874 and died on October 2, 1935. He married Cora Mae Reed in Saginaw on July 31, 1897. In 1918 Fred and Cora were living in Saginaw, where he was employed as a millwright. Fred was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery in the same plot as William H. Ewing, who lived from 1886 to about April 30, 1931, and may have been Fred’s brother. Fred’s parents were Albert and Anna Stoner Ewing of Grand Haven. Fred and Cora had a son, Harry Melvin Ewing, who was born in Saginaw on May 2, 1900, died in Lewiston, Montmorency County on February 12, 1963, and was buried at Albert Township Cemetery. Harry was corporal in the U.S. Army during WWI.

Harry S. Ewing [1883-1964]

Harry Ewing’s mobile popcorn stand was a feature for many years in downtown Grand Haven. For another source of income, in the 1920s he worked at the Piano Factory. In 1930 he was listed as proprietor of a lunch counter, probably a reference to his popcorn stand. Harry was born on December 15, 1883. He married Carrie Graves in Chicago on March 28, 1907. Carrie was born in June 1886. Both were natives of Michigan. Carrie was the daughter of George M. and Amelia Graves, who lived in Muskegon in 1900. Harry, the nephew of Frances Sanford, wife of George D. Sanford of Grand Haven, was residing with the Sanford family at 620 Washington in 1900, and he was still living there in 1920 with his wife and son, Douglas. Douglas was born in Illinois in 1909 and died in 1976. Harry, Carrie, and Carrie’s parents were residing at 424 Slayton in 1930, but a few years later the two Ewings were in a home near Potawatomie Bayou. By 1940 the couple was residing in Adrian, Lenawee County. Carrie passed away in Painesville, Ohio on April 23, 1955. Harry died nine years later in Florida.

Elihu Burritt Fairfield [@1847- ?]

In 1870 Elihu Fairfield was a student at Michigan Agricultural College [MSU]. By 1880 he was superintendent of Schools in Howell, Livingston County, and a few years later he became superintendent of Grand Haven Public Schools. Elihu was born in New Hampshire about 1847. On January 1, 1872 in Lansing, he married Mary L. Jones. Mary was born about 1851 in Michigan. They had son, Herbert, who was born about 1876 and died in 1965, and another son, Arthur Malcom Fairfield, who was born in Grand Haven on April 4, 1882. By 1901 Mary was a widow and living in Los Angeles, California. Nine year later she was residing in Cook County, Illinois, with her son, Herbert.

Andrew Falls [1861-1913]

Born in Ireland in November 1861, Andrew Falls immigrated with his parents to Canada and then on to the United States. Samuel Falls was his brother. After working out west for a time, Andrew arrived in Spring Lake in 1878. In 1880 he was an employee at one of the local sawmills. Andrew had two Spring Lake grocery stores at different times and delivered groceries to his customers by boat and by wagon. The first store was situated on the southwest corner of Jackson and Savidge Streets, where Eshelfman’s Drug Store later stood [200 West Savidge], which he sold to Fred J. Bertschy. In association with Charles Wilde, Andrew also operated a livery stable on the northwest corner of Division and Savidge Streets, which he sold to Henry Sprick in 1915. Andrew ran an advertisement in 1912, which read, “Flour, Feed, Hay and Grain. Crockery and Glassware. Coal and Wood.” He also offered, “Livery, Team Work, Draying and Moving. Agent for Grand Rapids, Grand Haven and Milwaukee Railway.” His brother Samuel worked with him until opening his own business in 1898.

On January 10, 1885 Andrew married Mary Clark, who was born in Ireland in February 1861 and died December 17, 1903. Their children, all born locally, included Margaret, who was born about September 1887 and married Stewart T., the son of Bert and Anna Hauley Stone of Spring Lake; Frances, born in August 1888; William A., who was born in November 1891 and lived in Detroit with his wife, Ethel; Hazel, born in December 1894; Clark, born in November 1898; and Bernice, born in April 1899. After Mary’s death, Andrew married her sister, Julia Clark, on February 28, 1911, who was born in Michigan in November.
Andrew died at his home in Spring Lake on October 20, 1913. He and his first wife were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, December 18, 1903 and October 23, 1913.]

Samuel Falls [1872-1943]

Born in Canada in March 1872 [1869], Samuel Falls came to Spring Lake in 1883. His first job was with the Cutler & Savidge Lumber Company, and then he became an employee of Sisson & Lilley at their mill in White Cloud. Two years later he returned to Spring Lake and worked with his brother Andrew in the livery and grocery businesses. In 1898 he started a dry goods and shoe store in partnership with Barbara Brongersma of Spring Lake, and three years later he bought out her share. Samuel ran the business himself until his retirement in 1931. His store was first located at 206 West Savidge. He then erected a new structure [Falls Block] near the southeast corner of Savidge and Jackson [120 West Savidge]. The post office was moved to the site just east of the new store. Samuel was postmaster of Spring Lake from 1901 to 1911, and he was in the real estate business, as well. Samuel developed Long View Resort with Chauncey Blakeslee and William M. Connelly. On October 23, 1901 he married Ada Henderson in Ontario, Canada. Ada was born in Armada, Macomb County in 1877, died on August 18, 1945, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Samuel died in 1943 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had no children.

Benjamin Fanner [@1828-1899]

Sometime prior to 1866 Benjamin Fanner was auctioned off to the lowest bidder at a public meeting. Homeless and estranged from his family, Ben was unable to support himself. His mind was never clear, but Ben was nonetheless capable and trusted to do countless small jobs. To provide for his room and board, the city auctioned Ben to the lowest bidder willing to meet his basic physical needs. The city would pay the bidder for Ben’s care, and Ben worked for his keep. That changed when on January 22, 1867 Ben Fanner was one of the first to be admitted to the newly established Ottawa County Poor farm with the ledger notation “foolish and here for life.” Born about 1828 in Michigan, Ben died on the farm in 1899 and was buried at the cemetery there. During the restoration of the cemetery in 2010, his burial site was given a plaque bearing his name. [Written by Marjorie Viveen.]

Burt [B ert] Fant [1887-1940]

In the early 1900s Burt Fant was a machine operator at Kilbourn’s kit factory, but by the mid-1920s he operated a barbershop at 200 Washington. He married Ella Bretschnieder in Grand Haven on July 16, 1909. They resided at 110 Williams Street in Grand Haven. The Fants had a daughter, June born locally about 1915. The son of John T. and Cornelia Lievense Fant, Burt was born on October 18, 1887 and died about December 30, 1939. Ella died around September 10, 1958. Burt and Ella were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William Fant was his brother.

Howard Wesley Fant [1911-1993]

Born in Grand Haven on May 24, 1911 to William and Theresa Norcross Fant, Howard attended Western Michigan and the University of Michigan, where he earned his law degree in 1934. He returned to Grand Haven to work for Attorney Leo C. Lillie and in 1941 began his own general practice. He formed a partnership, called Scholten and Fant, with Harvey L. Scholten on August 1, 1957. Howard retired in 1974, following a triple heart bypass operation the year before. He served as Grand Haven city attorney from 1937 to 1940 and again from 1954 to 1972. Howard acted as legal counsel to several area townships. He served on the County Board of supervisors from 1937 to 1940 and again from 1954 to 1968. From 1941 to 1948 he was County Prosecutor, except during his service in the U.S. Navy from 1943 to 1945, where he rose to lieutenant senior grade. His law office was at 228½ Washington. He was active in the State Bar of Michigan, American Bar Association, First Presbyterian Church, Rotary Club, Spring Lake Country Club, Kiwanis Club, and Chamber of Commerce, and he had been a partner in the Tom Johnston Gravel Company.

On October 10, 1937 Howard married Jean Aileen Johnston. Jean, the daughter of Thomas J. and Grace R. Henning Johnston, lived from March 3, 1911 to September 1, 1996. The Fants’ home was at 100 Sherman in Grand Haven. Their children included Mary E., who married Mike Sebastian of Grand Rapids; Martha A., who married Larry Schneider of Rockford; and Nick of Grand Haven, whose wife’s name was Cindy. Howard died in Grand Haven on July 19, 1993 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, July 19, 1993.]

John T. Fant [1853-1915]

In the 1893 Compendium John Fant was listed as a “hostler,” someone who tends to guests’ horses at inns and hotels. John was born in England and lived from April 1853 [1855] to 1915. His wife, Cornelia, born in Holland, Michigan, was the daughter of William and Gertrude Brewer Lievense. She lived from June 1856 [1858] to 1927. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William, who was born in September 1882 [1883], and Burt [Burtus], born in October 1887 [1888], were their sons. Both sons were born locally. The Fants also had two daughters: Gertrude, who first married Egbert Westerhof of Grand Haven and then, after his death, married Joseph Correll, also of Grand Haven. The second daughter, Lida, was born on June 18, 1880 and married Hans Dykhuis of Grand Haven. The Fant family resided at 812 Elliott Street.

William Fant [1882-1955]

Born in Grand Haven, September 7, 1882, William was the son of John T. and Cornelia Lievense Fant. Burt Fant was William’s brother. The 1908 City Directory listed William Fant and Stuart [Stewart/Steward] Stone as proprietors of the Ideal Poolroom at 102 Washington. In 1909 William took over the Grand Haven Monument Works, located on the northeast corner of Third and Fulton Streets in Grand Haven, and renamed it William Fant Monument Works. He built several of the mausoleums in Lake Forest Cemetery, using Rock of Ages granite from Vermont. He was chairman of the Cemetery Board and member of the Spring Lake Country Club, Grand Haven Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, Eagles, Odd Fellows, Chamber of Commerce, and Citizens Historical Association.

On February 5, 1908 William married Theresa Etheline Norcross, who was born in Grand Haven on October 12, 1886. She was the daughter of Silas and Ida Dunbar Norcross of Grand Haven. Theresa died about May 24, 1965 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Fants, who lived first at 520 Pennoyer and later at 634 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven, had two sons, Howard Wesley, born on May 24, 1911, and William John, born on March 31, 1915. William worked in the research department of the Bendix Corp. in South Bend, Indiana. He died about August 22, 1955 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Citizens Historical Association, October 11, 1941, and Tribune obituary, September 3, 1996.]

Following WWII, James Farley purchased from Harold Warm several cabins of the Cabana Colony Club complex, moved them from the North Shore to Fruitport Road on the east shore of Spring Lake and started business under the name Spring Lake Cabanas [17500 Fruitport Road]. Jim was born on June 13, 1913. He and Yvonne were married on June 30, 1956. He was also known as James Fazekas. His father, Joseph Fazekas, was born in Hungary on March 21, 1879, died on October 11, 1973, and was buried at St. Patrick’s Cemetery in Danville, Illinois. James’s mother, Thresa Steger Fazekas, passed away in 1959. Jim died on August 17, 1993 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Yvonne lived from September 9, 1924 to June 18, 2011 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 12, 1973.]

John Truman Farnham [1855-1930]

On December 19 [18], 1883 John Farnham married Catherine A. Furlong at St. Patrick’s Church in Grand Haven. She was born in Grand Haven on November 21, 1861, the daughter of John Furlong. John started sailing out of Grand Haven in 1870, and over the years was engineer on such vessels as St. Mary, Shepard, Jerome, Claude, Minnie Sutton, Centennial, and Pentland, all out of Grand Haven. In 1880 John was classified as a steamboat engineer. In 1895 he moved to Chicago to work as chief engineer with Armour Elevator, but he and Catherine continued to visit Grand Haven in the summers. Their daughter Rose, born in Grand Haven on October 25, 1891, married John Epp on September 122, 1917. Other children, all born in Grand Haven, were Mary Delia, born on April 2, 1885; John, born in 1889; and W. Vincent, born in 1893. John, who was born in Fulton, Oswego County, New York in 1855, was the son of Byron and Bodelia Hunt Farnham, who later moved to Grand Haven. John died November 9, 1930, and Catherine died ten years later, on November 30, 1940. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with John’s parents.

L. Byron Farnham [1834-1919]

About 1869 Byron Farnham moved to Grand Haven with his wife, Bodelia “Delia” Hunt Farnham, and their son, John T., who was born on December 19 [18], 1855, in Fulton, Oswego County, New York. A daughter, Mattie [Matie], was born in Grand Haven about 1874 and married William D. Bakker of that city. Byron worked on a dredge in Grand Haven, and eventually owned his own tug. He was born in New York in 1834, and Delia was born in Ireland in 1838 and passed away in Grand Haven on February 7, 1884. On July 3, 1886 in Grand Haven, Byron married Anna “Annie” Van Dot, who was born in The Netherlands about 1861. In 1900 Byron, Anna, and a son, Ralph Louis, resided at 442 Slayton. Ralph was born on December 22, 1887. Byron died about January 18, 1919. Both he and Delia were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members.

Ralph Louis Farnham [1887-1945]

Ralph, the son of L. Byron and Delia Farnham, was born in Grand Haven on December 22, 1887. He married Susan Balgooyen, who was born in Michigan on May 29, 1886. She died on December 2, 1956 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Ralph and Sue had a daughter, Lois A., who was born on May 19, 1915 and married George Seymour Verduin. The family resided at 442 Slayton, which was Ralph’s family home. Ralph was sales manager at Fountain Specialty. Ralph died in Grand Haven on June 25, 1945.

George Alexander Farr I [1842-1914]

Born on July 27, 1842 in Tonawanda, New York, George Farr moved to Monroe, Monroe County with his parents in 1851. On May 1, 1861, in Lenawee County, he enlisted as private in Company K of the 1st Michigan Infantry. He was mustered out the following August 7. George graduated from Michigan Agricultural College [Michigan State University] in 1870, and in 1873 was admitted to the bar and joined the office of Healy C. Akeley. In 1876 he opened his own law office in Grand Haven. He was city attorney; member of the Board of Education; trustee of the Northern Michigan Insane Asylum; state senator from 1879 to 1882; vice president of the National Bank of Grand Haven; regent of the University of Michigan; collector of customs for the Port of Grand Haven for nine years; and agent for the American Surety Company. He was Republican in politics and in 1880 he represented his party at the Republican National Convention. George also belonged to the Blue Lodge, F. & A. M., and Knights Templar.

On September 24, 1879 George married Susan Cornelia Slayton, who was principal at Grand Haven High School in the 1870s. Susan, the daughter of Thomas Orlando and Susan Harris Slayton, was born August 3, 1853 in Stowe, Vermont. The Farris lived at 420 Howard in Grand Haven. Their children were Frances I, who was born on October 9, 1880 and in Grand Haven on June 2, 1903 married Daniel F. The Fellowses owned a 180-acre farm in Sections 2 and 11. In 1908 Edwin was drain commissioner for Ottawa County.

Eugene D. Fellows I [1853-1932]

A son of Joel and Maria Fellows, Eugene was born on June 3, 1853. After his first wife, Mary, died, Eugene married Sarah Vanderbeck on July 4, 1874 in a double ceremony with his brother Edwin. Sarah was born in New York State on February 8, 1853. Eugene was a carpenter and joiner in Olive Township, and he owned 72 acres in Olive and 80 acres in Section 35 of Robinson Townships. They had six children, all born in Michigan: Ina Belle, who was born April 15, 1876, married James W. Nichols [1865-1945], and died April 2, 1898; Esther, born about 1877; Maria, born in October 1878; James, born April 28, 1881; Eugene II, born about October 1883, and Laura, born January 14, 1892 and died February 25, 1897. Sarah died on October 30, 1909 and was buried at Olive Township Cemetery. Eugene died on November 28, 1932 and was buried with his wife.

Born in Onondaga County, New York, on December 27, 1827, Joel Fellows settled in Hillsdale County in 1853. Two years later he moved to Olive Township, where he worked at farming and shoemaking. He was Olive Township’s first clerk, justice of the peace, treasurer, and postmaster at Ottawa Station. On August 15, 1847 he married Margaret [Maria] C., the daughter of James and Patty Dale Eastway. Margaret was born in London, England, on March 30, 1826. She died about July 20, 1900 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Fellows owned a 38-acre farm in Section 2 of Olive Township. Among their children were Emma, who was born in October 1848 and married Hiram B. Knowlton of Allendale Township; Edwin D., born in New York on August 26, 1850; Lillie, who was born around 1860 and married Frank A. Chapel of Allendale Township; and Levi, who was born in Olive Township in December 1861. Joel died on April 28, 1909 and was buried at Olive Township Cemetery.

Levi J. Fellows [1861-1941]

Levi was born in Olive Township in December 1861, the son of Joel M. and Margaret Ann Eastway Fellows. Listed as a “Farmer and Stockraiser” in the 1912 Atlas, Levi owned a total of 180 acres in Section 2 of Olive Township and Section 34 of Robinson. On October 7, 1890, Levi married H. Elnora “Nora” Pratt at St. Luke’s Church in Muskegon. Nora was born in Saranac, Ionia County, on February 25, 1859. A daughter, Bessie, was born in November 1892 and a son, Leon, was born in 1895. Levi died on September 5, 1941. Nora died two years later, on February 23.

Katie Feringa [Ferenga] [1894-1960]

Grand Haven resident Katie Feringa was one of two beneficiaries of the Edward and Elizabeth Hofma Trust. Some time before 1920 the Hofmas brought Katie into their home and raised her like a daughter. The other beneficiary was Mary Dowllyn, Elizabeth Hofma’s stepsister and a semi-invalid. Born on March 3, 1894 in Michigan, Katie died in Grand Haven on January 23, 1960. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Her mother, Aaltje “Alice” Vastin Feringa, a Grand Rapids resident, lived from 1868 to August 18, 1955. Katie had five sisters and six brothers. Her father, Johannes “John” Feringa, was born on April 10, 1864 and died on June 29, 1910. Alice and John, native of The Netherlands, were married in Grand Rapids on September 3, 1889. They, along with some of their children, were buried at Fairplains Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

William Paul Ferm [1917-1979]

William P. Ferm was one of the founders of Supreme Machined Products, started in Spring Lake in 1948. Other founders were Wallace H. Olson, George V. Yedinak, and Michael and Bruno Grzyb. William had retired by 1979. He married Mary Louise Casler in Houghton, Keweenaw County on February 23, 1939. The couple resided at 17879 168th Avenue in Ferrysburg. William was born on October 17, 1917 and died in Indian River, Florida on December 1, 1979. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Mary was born March 5, 1918 in Lima, Ohio, and passed away in Muskegon on August 14, 2007.

Jacob Ferris [1822-1889] and Anna Simons York Ferris [1840-1914]

Born in Glens Falls, New York on February 10, 1822 [1821], Jacob Ferris arrived in Michigan in 1857. While living in Ionia County, he enlisted as captain in Company D of the Michigan 21st Infantry on July 26, 1862 and was discharged with a disability on April 15, 1863. He applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension on August 20 the next year. Jacob, an attorney with an office in Grand Rapids, was named representative to the Michigan Constitutional Convention of 1867. Around 1840 he married Lovica [Lovisa, Louisa] Tripp, born about 1846 in New York, who married Melvin Smith in Greenville, Montcalm County on October 12, 1888. In 1850 Jacob, Lovica, and their children were still in Wayne County, New York, where he had a law practice. Five years later, Jacob, Lovica, and their six children were living in Buffalo, New York. Jacob still worked as a lawyer.

At the time of the 1860 Federal Census, Jacob, still a lawyer, was living in Sidney, Montcalm County. The census-taker entered Lovica’s name as Louisa. With them were eight children. Their youngest child, Zachariah, was born in Michigan in 1859. The others were born in New York, Connecticut, and Ohio.

On January 20, 1865 in Grand Rapids Jacob married Anna [Ann] R. Bigelow, who was born in New York about 1824. Living with them in Grand Rapids at the time of the 1870 Federal Census was Isadora Bigelow, who was born about 1852 in New York and was Anna’s daughter from her marriage to James Bigelow. He was born in New York about 1822 and died on July 31, 1863 at the Battle of Elk River, Tennessee during the Civil War. Ten years later, still in Grand Rapids, an adopted daughter named Annetta B. was in the Ferris household. Born in Grand Rapids on October 27, 1867, Annetta married William P. Cook, who was born in Michigan around 1866. Annetta was residing in Chicago in 1930 and was listed as a widow. She died on May 25, 1938 in Chicago.

On December 24, 1874 in Grand Rapids, Jacob married Anna M. Sumison [Simons] York. She was born in 1840 in Pennsylvania.

Jacob passed away in Spring Lake on June 23, 1889 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. On the following November 19 Anna applied for a widow’s Civil War pension and listed an Ann R. Ferris as a surviving minor child. Anna applied for a widow’s Civil War pension again on November 22, 1897. In 1887 Jacob and Anna opened the Willows Resort on a 64-acre fruit farm they purchased from Edward and Julia Craw. The resort was located in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township [18635 Fruitport Road].

Anna died on January 4, 1914. Robert J. Ferris, born on November 28, 1861, was Anna’s son by a previous marriage. Robert, Robert’s wife Emma, and Anna continued to run the Willows after Jacob’s death. After his mother’s death, Robert managed the resort until 1926, when he sold the property to Albert and Edna Bertch. Anna were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as was her son, Robert, and his wife.

Robert J. Ferris [1861-1930]

Robert, Anna Ferris’s son by an earlier marriage, adopted his stepfather’s surname. Robert was born in Canada on November 28, 1861. In 1900 he, his wife, and his mother were Spring Lake residents, and Robert was listed as proprietor of a “summer hotel,” undoubtedly the Willows, a Spring Lake resort at 18635 Fruitport Road [Section 2, Spring Lake Township]. When his mother died in 1914, Robert took over ownership of the Willows, which he sold in 1926 to Samuel Falls and Albert Bertch. [In the 1900 census Robert’s mother was listed as Emma M. Ferris, born in October 1829 in Canada.] Robert in the late 1880s and early 1890s resided in Grand Rapids, where he was a “traveling agent” for the Universal Tripod Company. In early 1930 he resided on Lake Avenue in Spring Lake and was still working as a salesman on the road. He died on June 22, 1930 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with his parents. In 1884 he married Emilda [Emma] Whipple, who was born in Michigan in August 1860 and died on November 22, 1942. Emilda was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Jacob and Anna Ferris.

Amanda Harwood Ferry [1828-1917]

The daughter of William and Amanda White Ferry, Amanda was born on Mackinac Island on September 20, 1828. She wrote in her memoirs, “I came to my grandparents’ grandparents [in Ashfield, Massachusetts] when I was 2½ years old, returning with my aunt Hannah White, after her visit to Mackinac—and until my nineteenth year, when they both died [1848] when she moved to Grand Haven.” Amanda returned to Ashfield some years later. She married Henry Clay Hall [1828-1873] in New York on June 20, 1855. Amanda died in 1917. [Letter in ‘Ferry File’ at Loutit District Library, written by Elizabeth von Oettingen.]

Edward Payson Ferry [1837-1917]

Born in Grand Haven on April 16, 1837, Edward was the son of William Montague and Amanda White Ferry and was Mary’s twin brother. He engaged in lumbering, acquiring timberlands, and operating sawmills. For a time he and his brother Noah were associates. Edward was among the charter members of the Grand Haven Lodge F. and A.M., started locally in 1863. With one brother in Congress and two in the military, Edward was the only son in Grand Haven to be able to assist his father during the Civil War. Upon his father’s death in 1867, he was named executor of the estate. Edward helped establish the First National Bank of Grand Haven, which was organized in 1870 to take over the banking business of Ferry & Son, and he was the first president of the new bank.

Edward married Clara Virginia White, a second cousin, on June 1, 1870, and they acquired the home located at 514 Lafayette in Grand Haven. Clara, the daughter of Nathan and Sarah Brittain White, who was born about 1845, served as a tutor at the White home on Franklin Street. Edward’s and Clara’s four surviving children, all born in Grand Haven, were twins William Montague and Edward Stewart, who were born on March 12, 1871; Miriam, who was born in Grand Haven around 1875, and Edith, who was born in Park City on August 22, 1880 and married Dana True Merrill [October 15, 1876-August 3, 1957] in Grand Haven on October 21, 1903. Miriam on February 12, 1896 in Grand Haven married Maurice, son of Captain Thomas and Mary Ellen O’Brien Kirby of Grand Haven. Maurice died in 1925, and Miriam later married a Mr. Reynolds. Dana Merrill achieved the rank of brigadier general in the U.S. Army. He was born in Auburn, Maine, where he and Edith were buried [Mt. Auburn Cemetery].

In 1878 Edward joined a group that included Muskegon attorneys David C. McLaughlin and Frederick A. Nims and another area man, J. W. Mason. The group purchased a silver mine in Flagstaff, Utah, naming their business the Marsac Silver Mining Company. Edward’s brother, William Ferry, later joined the group, known locally as the “Michigan Bunch.” Edward’s family moved to Park City, Utah in 1878, never to return to Grand Haven. Although the first mine was not especially productive, the name Ferry became prominent in the silver mining business in and around Salt Lake City. Edward died in Los Angeles on March 11, 1917. He had become mentally incompetent. Clara died in an accident in Utah about August 27, 1888. She and Edward were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Edward Stewart Ferry [1871-1913]

Born in Grand Haven on March 12, 1871, Edward was the son of Edward Payson and Clara Ferry and twin brother of William Montague Ferry III. He graduated from the University of Michigan Law School in 1896, moved to Salt Lake City, and became part of the law firm of Richards, Richards, Ferry & Hamer, representing the Utah Savings and Trust Company. On October 19, 1898 he married Mabel, daughter of Dr. Eddy of Grand Rapids. On July 10, 1913, Edward committed suicide by a gunshot to the temple, at his home at 737 East South Temple Street in Salt Lake City. He reportedly had been suffering from insomnia for about six months but chose not to take any medication to ease the problem. He represented his father in litigation regarding the estate of Reverend Ferry, who had died on December 30, 1867. It is reported that he had worried greatly over a family lawsuit in which, after a ten-year case, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled against the interests of Edward’s father and in favor of the contesting siblings. The estate of William M. Ferry was to be administered by Edward P. Ferry, who later was determined to be mentally incompetent. Consequently, the management of the estate went to Edward P.’s sons, Montague and Edward S. The mining ventures in which the estate had interest were successful, and the family was well rewarded. Litigation began when the other heirs demanded an accounting. [Obituary in the Salt Lake City News, June 11, 1913.]

Hannah Elizabeth Ferry [1834-1913]

Born on Mackinac Island on April 16, 1834 to Rev. William M. and Amanda White Ferry, Hannah was brought to Grand Haven on the schooner Supply on November 2, 1834, at the age of six months. She was educated at Grand Haven and at Rockford Female Seminary, Rockford, Illinois, “the Mt. Holyoke of the West,” under the care of her aunt, Mary A. White. Hannah taught first grade in Grand Haven for awhile, and she was active in the Presbyterian Church. In the winter of 1872, she married Rev. Henry W. Jones of Ipswich, Massachusetts. Jones was in charge of the Congregational Church at Swampscott, Massachusetts.
Three years later he was called to St. Johnsbury, Vermont and from there he and Hannah moved to Southern California, where he began work at Pomona College in Claremont, California. Henry died in 1904. In her decaying years, Hannah was cared for by her niece, Mary Amanda Eastman Fairchild, daughter of Galen and Mary Lucinda Ferry Eastman, and Mary Amanda’s daughters. Hannah died at Claremont, on July 4, 1913 and was buried there. [Tribune obituary, July 1913.]

James H. Ferry [@1823-1859]

James H. Ferry was one of the first officers to serve the Grand Haven Lodge of the International Order of Odd Fellows [IOOF], formed in 1850. That also was the year he was enumerated in the census for Ottawa County and was classified as a clerk. He was born around 1823 in New York. His wife, Mary E., was born in the same state and year. James died in Chicago of typhoid fever in November 1859.

Mary Lucina [Lucinda] Ferry [1837-1903]

Mary Lucina, born on April 16, 1837, was William and Amanda Ferry’s youngest daughter and Edward Payson Ferry’s twin. She became a teacher in 1857 when the Grand Haven school moved from the small frame building on Second Street to the remodeled building on First Street. Mary married Galen Eastman at the Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven on December 14, 1858. He father officiated. Mary and Galen had daughter, Mary Amanda, who was born in Grand Haven on March 9, 1860. About 1877 the family moved to the “Four Corners” in the West, were Galen was appointed agent at the Navajo Indian Reservation for the Bureau of Indian Affairs. On April 12, 1883, Mary Amanda married a P. B. Johnson against her parents’ wishes and the couple moved to Texas. They had a child, Kate White Johnson. Six months later the father and daughter died. Mary rejoined her parents, now in San Francisco, where Galen had opened a hardware store on Mission Street. On January 17, 1889, Mary Amanda remarried, this time to Willard C. Fairchild.
She died June 2, 1903.

Noah Henry Ferry [1831-1863]

Born on Mackinac Island on April 30, 1831, the fourth child of Rev. William and Amanda Ferry, Noah arrived in Grand Haven in 1834 with the rest of his family. He attended Bell’s Commercial College in Chicago and taught at the school for a time after graduating. He and his brother, Edward Payson Ferry, went into business at White River. Noah dredged White Lake for the shipment of pine logs by boat, and he laid out the village of Montague, named after his father. His business became successful and then the Civil War broke out. As captain, Noah in August 1862 recruited a company of men in White River Township, Muskegon County, called the “White River Guard.” He soon was promoted to major in Company F of the Fifth Michigan Cavalry. Noah was killed at the Battle of Gettysburg on July 3, 1863. Buried in Grand Haven on July 17, 1863, he received full military honors, and on March 22, 1865 a monument was erected in his memory. Ferry Memorial Church of Montague, at the corner of Old Channel Trail and Knudsen, was built in 1874 by Edward P. Ferry as a memorial to his brother. It was called First Presbyterian Church of Montague until 1942 when it became a Reformed Church. [Tribune articles, “A Portrait of Noah Ferry,” May 26, 1930, and “100 Years Celebrated,” June 1, 1974.]

Thomas White Ferry [1826-1896]

Born June 1, 1826 on Mackinac Island, the third child of Rev. William and Amanda Whitre Ferry, Thomas was eight years old when he arrived in Grand Haven with his parents in 1834. For most of his life he went by the name “White Ferry.” He spoke Ottawa, Chippewa [Ojibwa], and French. He and his brother William platted the Village of Ferrysburg on January 26, 1857. At the age of 21 he was elected clerk of Ottawa County. Three years later he was elected to the legislature, where he served from 1851 to 1852. In 1852 he was appointed deputy collector of customs for the Port of Grand Haven, and in 1856 he was elected state senator, serving from 1857 to 1858 and again from 1865 to 1883. In 1862 Thomas became a director of the new Grand Haven Union High School and was superintendent for ten years. He went into the lumbering business with his brother, Edward Payson Ferry. Before the Civil War he served on the Republican State Central Committee for eight years and was delegate-at-large and one of the vice presidents of the national convention that nominated Abraham Lincoln. In 1864 he was elected to the 39th Congress and first and forty-second assemblies. Upon President Lincoln’s death, he was appointed by the U.S. Senate to a committee that accompanied Lincoln’s body to Springfield. In January 1871 he was elected by the Michigan Legislature to the U.S. Senate [the legal procedure at that time] and was elected president of the Senate pro tempore during the Hayes-Tilden electoral count dispute of 1876-77. That conflict was settled on March 2 by a Congressionally appointed committee, which eventually gave the Electoral College vote to Hayes by a majority of one, even though Tilden had the larger number of popular votes. When Vice President Henry Wilson died in November the senator became acting vice president. Because Hayes’s inauguration would have fallen on a Sunday in 1877, it was delayed a day, allowing Thomas, as acting vice president, to carry the weight of the office between Grant’s term expiring on Saturday and Hayes’s swearing-in on Monday. For that reason, Thomas was called “President for a day” [Sunday, March 4, 1877]. Hayes was sworn in publicly on Monday, March 5. Another theory claimed that since Thomas was never sworn in, he couldn’t have been president, and yet a third view was that Hayes was sworn in secretly right after the favorable vote on Saturday, and that his inauguration on Monday was a mere formality. In 1883 Thomas was defeated for a third term as senator by Thomas W. Palmer of Detroit. Governor Rich, of Michigan, appointed him president of the Mackinac Park Commission and it was through Thomas’s endeavors that the beauties of the island were preserved.

Thomas never married, but for many years he shared his home with his aunt, Mary Amanda White. Thomas died of “cerebral apoplexy” on October 14, 1896 at his home on the corner of First and Columbus Streets [Lot 96], which had been built in 1859 for his uncle, Thomas S. White. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His epitaph read, “I have done what I could to extend our commerce over the world for the security of life and property along our seacoast, upon our great inland seas. T.W.F. The Sailors’ and Soldiers’ Friend. For 62 years a citizen of Grand Haven, Mich.” [Biographical Directory of the American Congress, 1774-1949, page 1143, Encyclopedia of American Biography of the Nineteenth Century, page 357, Twentieth Century Biographical Dictionary of Notable Americans: Vol. IV, page 72, Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, Tribune obituary, October 14, 1896, and Muskegon Chronicle article “GH Honors Memory of Thomas Ferry,” June 22, 1929.]

William Montague Ferry I [1796-1867] and Amanda White Ferry [1797–1870]

Born on September 8, 1796 in Granby, Massachusetts, son of Noah and Hannah Montague Ferry, William was the farming couple’s eighth or ninth child in a family of ten. William graduated from Union College in Brunswick, New Jersey in 1821, and he was ordained as a minister of the Presbyterian Church in 1822. On June 11, 1823 in Ashfield, he married Amanda White. The eldest daughter of Thomas and Hannah Harwood White of Ashfield, Massachusetts, Amanda was born on August 20, 1797. A few months after their wedding, William and Amanda moved to Mackinac Island. The United Foreign Mission Society of New York sponsored William, newly licensed and ordained, to establish a school for Indians. The Ferrys lived on the Island and carried out their work there for nearly a dozen years.

Rev. Ferry visited the mouth of Grand River in the summer of 1832, the same year he journeyed to Ashfield, where he encouraged citizens to make the long trip to Michigan and settle in the Grand River Valley. In the summer of 1834, he and Pierre Duvernay reached the mouth of Grand River by paddling across the peninsula from Detroit and going westward down the Grand. With the financial backing of Robert Stuart, an agent for John Jacob Astor’s American Fur Company, William came to Grand Haven to seek his fortune in lumbering. He drew a plat of the City of Grand Haven, showing Fourth Street as the eastern boundary, hoping to name the community Stuart in honor of his financial supporter. Rix Robinson preceded him, however, and gave Grand Haven its name. Rev. Ferry’s original plat was placed in the archives of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum. The Indians named William “Makadaquanea” [Black Coated Man], and Amanda was called “Makadaquaneasqua” [Black Coated Man’s Wife].

When the Ferrys arrived in Grand Haven aboard the schooner Supply on Sunday, November 2, 1834, they had a family of four, including a daughter, Amanda Harwood, who was born on Mackinac Island on September 30, 1828, but at the age of two and a half returned to Ashfield, Massachusetts to reside with her grandparents. Other Ferry children born on Mackinac Island were William Montague Ferry II, born July 8, 1824; Thomas White Ferry, born June 1, 1826; Noah Henry Ferry, born April 30, 1831; and Hannah Elizabeth, born April 16, 1834. In Grand Haven William and Amanda had two more children, twins Mary Lucina [Lucinda] and Edward Payson, both born on April 16, 1837. Mary was said to be the first white girl born in Grand Haven. Ferry had the Supply built on Mackinac Island, replacing an earlier vessel named Aurora.

Rev. Ferry established the area’s first church and built the first permanent home, a log cabin on the southeast corner of Washington Street and Harbor Avenue, where Kirby Grill later was located. This cabin burned down in a disastrous fire of 1866. William engaged in the lumber business at Grand Haven and became a wealthy man. In 1841 he was a member of the commission that laid out the road between Muskegon and Grand Haven. He was appointed postmaster of Stuart, the name he wished to give to the community, on May 2, 1835. On August 12 that year he officially became postmaster of Grand Haven. He held the post until 1853. He retired as minister of the Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven in April 1857.

In August 1839 Rev. Ferry met another Indian missionary, Peter Dougherty. Dougherty established two missions in northern Michigan. After the two men met, the visiting missionary wrote that Ferry had “lost the tenets of his faith and thereby took more interest in amassing profits,” and that he was “almost entirely engrossed in the pursuits of secular business of making money.” [Holmes, p. 4.]

Ferry was considered the Father of Grand Haven as well as its spiritual and moral leader for nearly 35 years. The Michigan cities of Ferrysburg, Ferry, Whitehall and Montague were named for him or members of his family. He died December 30, 1867, leaving an estate of $120,000. He was buried in the Ferry Lot in Lake Forest Cemetery. The inscription on his headstone read, “First toil, then rest; First grace, then glory.” Ferry Street and Ferry School are named in his family’s honor. Amanda died on December 30, 1870. [American Biographical Notes, p. 138, Encyclopedia of American Biography of the Nineteenth Century, p. 357, and Twentieth Century Biographical Dictionary of Notable Americans, Vol. IV, p. 72.]

William Montague Ferry II [1824-1905]

Born on Mackinac Island on July 8, 1824, William was the first child of William and Amanda Ferry. He was credited, along with his brother, Thomas White Ferry, with platting Ferrysburg. The plat was recorded on January 26, 1857. He said, “The lumbering business was my principal employment, but eventually I acquired the machinist and engineer’s trade in Grand Rapids. In 1850 I built the Ottawa Iron Works at Ferrysburg and engaged in the manufacture of stationary and marine steam engines and sawmill machinery, which was my principal occupation until 1861.” In addition to being elected to the Michigan legislature in 1857, William was supervisor in Spring Lake in 1849, again from 1854 to 1859, and finally from 1860 to 1861. William was a charter member and director of the Ottawa County Agricultural Society and regent of the University of Michigan in 1856, and school inspector for the Mill Point educational system in 1859. On November 24, 1861, he enlisted as first lieutenant in the quartermaster of Department of Company B of the 14th Michigan Infantry Regiment in Ypsilanti. William became captain on June 30, 1862, as well as “Commissary of Subsistence,” and was brevetted major and lieutenant colonel on March 13, 1865. He was mustered out on April 24, 1865. In 1872 he was a candidate for governor of Michigan and secretary of the Democratic National Convention at Louisville. In 1873 he became a member of the Constitutional Convention, and he was elected mayor of Grand Haven in 1876. He was referred to as “Colonel.”

In 1851, in Ferrysburg, William married Jeannette A. Hollister. The daughter of John Bentley Hollister, Jeanette was born in Romeo, Macomb County, on August 31, 1828. John Hollister died in 1856 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery in the Ferry plot. Jeanette was well educated. she taught French, understood German, and read the New Testament in the original Greek. In 1878 William joined his brother, Edward Payson Ferry, in the silver mining business in Park City, Utah. William and Jeanette resided at 525 West Highland Avenue in Park City.

William and Jeanette had six children, two of whom survived: Mary Montague Ferry, who was born in Ferrysburg on February 27, 1853, married Eugene C. Allen on October 1, 1879 in Grand Haven, moved to Redlands, California, died in 1933, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; and Kate Harwood Ferry, who married George R. Hancock of Salt Lake City on August 21, 1882 and died in March 1900. Kate was born in Ferrysburg on July 11, 1856, and George Hancock was born around 1857 in Ludington. William II died in Park City on January 2, 1905 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He gave 22 acres of land in Salt Lake City for the site of Westminster College, and his wife provided funds for a girl’s dormitory named “Ferry Hall.” She died in Redlands, California in November 1917 and was brought to Grand Haven for burial at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituaries, March 27, 1900, January 4, 6, 7 and 9, 1905 and November 4, 1917, and Tribune article “Makers of Michigan History,” September 2, 1937.]

William Montague “Mont” Ferry III [1871-1938]

Born in Grand Haven on March 12, 1871, the son of Edward Payson and Clara V. White Ferry, Mont graduated from Olivet College in 1891, and he joined his father in the silver mining business in Park City, Utah two years later. He was elected mayor of Salt Lake City and state senator. He was managing director of the Silver King Coalition Mine, and also president of the American Silver Producers’ Association. He returned to Michigan to marry Ednah Truman on June 3, 1896 in Nashville. They had twin sons, William Montague IV and Sanford Truman, born on October 4, 1898 in Salt Lake City. Sanford, whose wife was Irene Afton Knowlton, died on November 19, 1949. Mont died of heart disease in Park City on January 11, 1938, and Ednah died on May 24, 1964 at the age of 90 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Aaron D. Fessenden [1810 -1876]

Aaron and Benjamin Fessenden moved the B. & A. D. [Anson Darwin] Fessenden Company from Townsend, Massachusetts to Grand Haven in 1881, when they bought out the Glover & Tate Tub Factory. Aaron was born in Groton, Massachusetts on October 8, 1810 and later moved to Townsend. Benjamin, evidently Aaron’s brother, was born around 1806, also in Townsend. In 1882 Silas Kilbourn bought out the Fessendens, who then returned to Townsend. Aaron died on May 8, 1876 in Townsend.

Gustave A. Fett [Fette] [1884-1939]

He died in Flint on October 1, 1920 and was buried at Gracelawn Cemetery with Elizabeth, who died two years earlier on April 13.

Louis Fortino [1878-1957]
Louis Fortino was born in Saint Ippolito, Italy, on March 28, 1878. In 1899 he married Chiara “Clara Mary” Quinterri, who was from the same village. Unable to obtain the necessary papers to enter the United States, in 1900 Louis went alone to Buenos Aires, Argentina, where he worked as a cowboy. Three years later Joseph Fabiano, a friend who had immigrated to Holland, Michigan and started a fruit business, was able to find work for Louis, allowing him to enter the United States. He started with the Veneklasen Brick Yard in Zeeland and then from 1903 to 1907 he was employed by Donnelly & Kelly Glassworks [Donnelly Corporation] in Holland.

In 1907 Louis bought a small fruit and cigar shop in Muskegon for $25. By 1911 he had saved enough money to send for Clara Mary and their son, Frank, who was born in Italy in 1900. At the same time, Louis sold his business in Muskegon and bought Charlie Spadafore’s fruit and vegetable store at 126 Washington in Grand Haven. [The Muskegon City Directory for 1912 listed Louis as a confectioner, located at 187 West Western, and at 145 West Western the next year.] Louis named his shop Grand Haven Fruit Company and sold both retail and wholesale. In 1923 Louis had a new building erected at 114 Washington. He rented the commercial space and resided with his family in an apartment upstairs. When the building at 126 Washington was destroyed by fire in 1930, Louis moved his business to the new building, where it remains today. Eventually offering groceries, deli items, candy, and beverages, Fortino’s store became the oldest retail business in Grand Haven to be owned by the same family throughout its existence.
Mary died around June 12, 1943. Louis passed away on November 29, 14 years later, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. Their son Frank on November 25, 1915 enlisted with the Grand Haven-based 126th Infantry and was wounded at the Battle of Chateau Thierry on August 1, 1918. By 1930 he was living in Portland, Oregon with his wife, Rose and their son, Louis. Ten years later he was still living in Portland but had begun work with the United States Post Office. He died on April 28, 1974. Another son, Paul Francis, was born on April 16, 1913 and took over management of the store. A third son, Mike, was born on August 16, 1916 and passed away in Grand Haven on January 18, 2006. A daughter, Mary, married Tony P. Pontarelli; and a fourth son, Alphonso, died in 1937 at the age of 17 from an injury sustained while playing football for Grand Haven High School. Paul Francis Fortino [1913-1999]

Paul, born in Grand Haven on April 16, 1913, was the first child of Louis and Chiara Fortino to be born in America. As a boy Paul raised rabbits behind the family store at 114 Washington, and he worked for Al Miller at Miller’s Sanitary Dairy on Fulton Street. Paul graduated cum laude with a degree in Chemical Engineering from the University of Notre Dame.

Paul went to work for Seagram’s Distillery in Lawrenceburg, Indiana, where he met and married Mary Jane Knue on April 23, 1941. Jane was born in Lawrenceburg, Indiana to Joseph and Elizabeth Powell Knue on August 31, 1916. Later in 1941 Paul and Mary relocated to Grand Haven, where they purchased the family business begun by Paul’s father in 1907, first in Muskegon and then at 114 Washington Street. During World War II Paul served for five years with the Army Corps of Engineers. While he was away Jane ran the store with the help of her father-in-law. Not long after the war ended Paul and Jane decided to change from a wholesale and retail outlet to a “gourmet” store. It turned out to be a wise move. In 1977 they sold the store to their daughter and her husband, Margaret and Ken Michlitsch, who continued to operate the business into the 21st century. Jane also ran the Gift Shop at 116 Washington.

Paul was a board member of the North Ottawa Community Hospital, the Harbor Commission, and the Highway Commission. He was president of the Chamber of Commerce and director of Security First/Pacesetter Bank [Old Kent/Fifth Third]. He was a charter member of the Elks, Eagles, and Knights of Columbus, and he was a parishioner at St. Patrick’s Catholic Church. Jane retired from the store in 1979.

On November 24, 1918 in Grand Haven, he married Philipena [Phyllis] Capitini. She lived from December 1, 1898 to April 15, 1981. Their sons, Gus and Tom, in 1949 borrowed money from Uncle Cosimo Fricano to purchase Ottawa Tavern at 1400 Fulton. It became known as Fricano’s Pizza Tavern. Cosimo, Ignazio, and Mariano Fricano were Antonino’s brothers. Antonino’s and Philipena’s children were Joseph, born about 190; Genevieve, born about 1922; Cosimo “Gus,” born in Chicago on September 12, 1925; Thomas, born about 1928; and Pauline, born about 1931. The Fricano family resided at 1426 Columbus. Antonino was a finisher at Eagle Ottawa Leather Company, where Philipena also worked before she and Antonino were married. Antonino and Philipena were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Cosimo Fricano [1895-1969]

Cosimo Fricano, who was in Sicily born January 25, 1895, died in Chicago about April 27, 1969 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He married Vicepina Gentils. Cosimo in 1949 loaned $2,800 to his nephews Gus and Tom Fricano to buy Ottawa Tavern at 1400 Fulton Street, which became known as Fricano’s Pizza Tavern. Ignazio and Antonino Fricano were his brothers. Cosimo served with the American Army during WWI and was wounded. Cosimo resided in Grand Haven Township.

Cosimo “Gus” Fricano [1925-1984]

Gus, the son of Antonino and Philipena Fricano, was born in Chicago on September 12, 1925. He married Alex Zack in Grand Haven on February 6, 1954. They had seven children: Marie, who married Bill Laning of Grand Haven; Jeanne, who married John Meyer of Grand Haven; Carol, who married Scott Hunt of Spring Lake; Linda; Philip, who moved to Kalamazoo; and Douglas and Ted, both of whom remained in Grand Haven. The Fricanos lived at 15081 168th Street in Grand Haven Township.

Gus and his brother Tom Fricano owned and managed Fricano’s Pizza Tavern at 1400 Fulton Street in Grand Haven, with branches at the time of his death in Holland and Kalamazoo. He served with the armed forces during WWII, was a member of St. Patrick’s Catholic Church in Grand Haven, the Knights of Columbus, Elks Club, Eagles, the local VFW, and the American Legion. Gus died in Grand Haven on August 11, 1984 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, August 13, 1984.]
Ignazio Fricano [1903-1973]

Born March 9, 1903 in Bagheria, Sicily, Ignazio Fricano came to Grand Haven in 1922. His brothers Cosimo and Antonino preceded him in death. His other siblings were Mariano of Grand Haven, and Michael, Rose, and Sam, all of Sicily. Ignazio was a veteran of the U.S. Army during WWII. He was a shoemaker by trade but retired from Story & Clark in 1965. He was a member of St. Patrick’s Catholic Church, the American Legion, Eagles, and Knights of Columbus. Ignazio died January 4, 1973 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 5, 1973.]

Joseph Fricano [1929-1930]

Joseph Fricano, who was born on May 20, 1929, died on December 17, 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He was the son of Mariano and Vincenza Arnone Fricano.

Mariano Fricano [1900-1976]

Born in Bagheria, Sicily on May 15, 1900 Mariano was the brother of Antonino, Ignazio, and Cosimo Fricano. He retired as a leather finisher from Eagle Ottawa Leather Company. He was a member of St. Patrick’s Catholic Church. On September 13, 1925 he married Jennie Arnone, who was born on November 13, 1905 and died on March 29, 1985. They lived at 1414 Franklin. Their children included Vinci, who married Joseph Domanchuk of Fruitport, and Joseph, of Rolling Meadows, Illinois. Mariano died on December 28, 1976 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 29, 1976.]

Albert Fridrich [Frydrich, Friedrich] [@1844-1915]

Albert Fridrich and his wife, Lena, in 1901 purchased from James Jocelyn 200 acres in Section 14 and an abutting 20 acres in Section 11 in Olive Township. The property later was given the address 10030 152nd Avenue. They constructed a 21-room hotel and a two-story house and opened a small zoo as part of a resort they named Fridrich’s [Frydrich’s] Point Hotel. Albert was born about 1844 in Germany and immigrated to the United States in 1850. Lena, also from Germany, was born about 1876 and came to America in 1892. The couple was married about 1900. In 1910 the Fridriches were residing in Waukegan, Illinois, where Albert owned and managed Hotel Fridrich. In 1920, five years after her husband’s death, Lena sold the Olive Township property to William and Lena Styx. In 1998 Ottawa County purchased the site and later converted the house and land to a park called Pine Bend.

Fred W. Frietchen [1868-1949]

Fred Frietchen, a farmer and stockman with 80 acres in Section 13 of Robinson Township, settled in the area in 1908 and was still there in 1930. His wife, Mina [Elmina/Myna] Fast, was born in Ohio in 1878, died on March 26, 1937, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Fred, also a native of the Buckeye state, was born in Kent, Ohio on May 19, 1868, died on August 19, 1949, and was buried with his wife. They were married around 1897 and had at least two children: William, who was born in Ohio on August 9, 1895, and John D., who was born locally on May 3, 1906.

John D. Frietchen [Fritchen] [1906-1986]

The son of Fred and Mina Fast Frietchen, John was born in Michigan on May 3, 1906 and died on March 17, 1986. On August 7, 1925 in Grand Haven, he married Margaret H. Clausen, a native of Wisconsin. Margaret lived from November 11, 1902 to September 1993. In 1930 the couple was residing on Exchange Street in Spring Lake. John was a grainer at Eagle Ottawa Leather Company.

William Frederick Frietchen I [Fritchen] [1895-1952]

Spring Lake resident William Frietchen was born in Ohio on August 9, 1895. He was the son of Red and Mina Fast Frietchen. In 1920 William was a riveter at Johnston Boiler. On April 8, 1918 he married Elsie Makin, who was then 16 years old. That marriage ended in divorce. William and Elsie had one son. On November 19, 1921 William married Catherine Margaret Albright in Grand Haven. After William’s death on December 4, 1952, Catherine continued to live at 233 Meridian in Spring Lake Village, a home that remained in the family into the 21st century. On June 4, 1959 she married Gustav Barbrick, who lived from November 20, 1891 to December 1969. Gustav was the son of Karl and Christina Barbrick. Catherine was born on May 22, 1905 and died on August 20, 1987.

William Frederick Frietchen II [1918-1993]

Born on May 18, 1918, William II the son of William Frietchen, was a resident of Spring Lake. He was employed at Eagle Ottawa as a boiler maintenance man. He died on March 19, 1993 in the Village and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. He and his wife, Ruth Rae Swanson, resided at 739 Fall Street in Spring Lake. A son, Larry William., who was born on November 20, 1953, died from accidental injuries on May 14, 2002 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. On June 14, 1985 Larry married Lynn Corder in Spring Lake. [Tribune obituary, May 15, 2002.]

Eli De Lancey Frink [1833-1899]

By 1880 Eli Frink owned a fruit farm in Section 22 of Spring Lake Township. Eli was born in Solon, New York on March 16, 1833. He married Lois [Louise], Norton, who came from Ohio, where she was born in 1845. Eli and Lois had at least one surviving child, Edith L., who was born locally in 1882. Four other children died in infancy. Eli died on December 28, 1899, four years after Lois. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Stanley K. Frisbie [1909-1984]

For a short time in the late 1920s Stanley Frisbie managed Federal Dry Cleaning at 17 Washington. Born on June 6, 1909 in Cleveland, Ohio, Stanley moved to Fruitport as a boy and died there on May 9, 1984.

David Lee Fritz I [1927-2010]

David Fritz was born on November 9, 1927. His parents were William and Marie Albers Fritz of Grand Haven. On May 26, 1948 David married Joyce Ver Berkmoes in Grand Haven. The daughter of Krein and Marie Nichols Ver Berkmoes, Joyce was born on May 2, 1930 and passed away on July 23, 2010. David died on August 26, 2010. Their surviving children were Cynthia, who moved to Battle Creek; William; Michael; David II; Craig; Teresa, who married Kevin Swaitoski and moved to Kalamazoo; and Teresa. Michael and David remained in Grand Haven as co-owners of Fritz Auto Body at 1320 Kooiman.

Herman Fritz [1862-1931]

Herman, the son of Johann and Katie Seeman Fritz, was born in Germany in September 1862 and came to the United States in 1881. On November 19, 1891, in Grand Haven, he married Hulda Greger [Grager]. She also was born in Germany, approximately ten years later than her husband, and immigrated to America in 1889. Their children were William, born on January 12, 1893; Edward, born in January 1899; Louis [Lewis], born about 1901; Helen, born about 1904; and Ella, born about 1907. The family resided at 312 Elliott in the early 1900s and had relocated to 204 Columbus by 1920. Herman, classified as a day laborer, died about February 24, 1931. Hulda passed away around March 6, 1954 and was buried with her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Johann “John” Gottfried Fritz [1819-1897]

Johann Fritz was born in Potrzymowo, Posen, Prussia [Germany] on November 9, 1819. On April 23, 1843 in Posen he married “Katie” Charlotte Wilhelmina Seeman, who was born in Gnesen, Posen on November 8, 1822. She died in Posen on November 4, 1873. John and his son Gottlieb and Gottlieb’s wife-to-be, Caroline Braun, immigrated to the United States on December 19, 1882. They settled on 400 acres in Section 18 of Robinson Township. Their home at 13924 Lincoln previously was owned by Sidney Clark. John resided there with his son and daughter-in-law and their 12 children until his death on June 8, 1897. He was removing stumps on his farm at the time and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. His iron grave marker is one of the most unusual in the cemetery. It was designed and made by Bethke and Fritz family members who were working at Goddard & Goddard Tool Company in Detroit.
John and Katie had 18 children, all born in Potryznowo, Posen, Germany. Seven of their children immigrated to the United States at different times and settled in the Grand Haven area. The children who immigrated were Johann William “Bill,” who was born on April 16, 1844, Ottlie, who was born on April 25, 1845 and married Johann Friedrich Bethke of Robinson Township; Heinrich “Henry,” born on December 15, 1847, immigrated to the United States with his older brother Bill in 1869, married Mina “Minnie” Mueller [October 7, 1853-December 23, 1939], in Peru, Indiana on February 20, 1873, moved to the Grand Haven area around 1881, died on August 27, 1923, and was buried at Lake Forest with his wife; Gottlieb Emil, who was born on May 1, 1852; immigrated to the United States in 1882 with his father and fiancée, Caroline Braun [November 14, 1862-April 19, 1944], married Caroline, passed away on December 2, 1918, and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery with Caroline; Emil H., who was born on September 23, 1853, immigrated to the United States in 1872, on October 22, 1877 in Grand Haven married Alvina “Lena” Caroline Kalska [born about 1858 in Germany], died on April 3, 1911 in Grand Haven, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Natalie, born in 1858; and Albert Herman, who was born on September 19, 1862, came to the United States in 1881, married Hulda Grager [September 14, 1872-February 28, 1954] in Grand Haven on November 19, 1891, died on February 22, 1931, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Hulda.

Johann William “Bill” Fritz [1844-1915]

Johann William “Bill” Fritz, who was born on April 16, 1844, served in the German Army during the Franco-Prussian War, immigrated to the United States with his younger brother Henry on May 26, 1869 aboard the Everhard Deliu. He married Johanna Christine Kastorff in Milwaukee on January 15, 1872, who had immigrated from Germany in 1872. She lived from December 12, 1853 to January 24, 1940. Bill was listed in 1877 business directory for Grand Haven as the owner of a restaurant on Washington Street. By 1880 he was a baker at Star Bakery in Grand Haven and later joined Grand Haven Bakery. Bill and Johanna had at least eight children, all born locally: Amelia, born about 1863; Emma, born about 1865; Clara, born about 1867; Henry, born in February 1880; John, born in October 1882; Sophia, born in October 1887; William, born in February 1890; Ester, born in January, 1895; and Walter, born in August 1897. He died on June 26, 1915, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Johanna.

William H. Fritz [1893-1972]

On June 21, 1916 in Grand Haven William Fritz married Marie A., the daughter of Frederick and Adrianna Van Toll Albers. William, the son of Herman and Hulda Greger Fritz, was born on January 12, 1893, died in Grand Haven on April 6, 1972, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Marie, who lived from July 21, 1891 to April 5, 1983, was buried with her husband. Their children were Charles, who was born about 1926 and moved to Muncie, Indiana; David, who was born on November 9, 1927 and remained in Grand Haven; and Betty, who was born about 1927 and married Earl Lutke of Grand Haven. In 1930 William worked as a mechanic at a local factory.

John Fuite I [1816-1906]

By 1864 John Fuite was a lumber inspector and also treasurer of Grand Haven Township. He was included in the 1860 census for Ottawa County and had a 77-acre farm in Section 28. John was born in The Netherlands in January 1816 [1815], came to the United States in 1848 and died about February 2, 1906. He married Antje Vos, sister of Frederick Vos of Grand Haven. Antje lived from 1836 to about February 18, 1913. Their children included Nicolus [Nicholas], who was born about 1869 and died around August 12, 1949; John II, born about 1871; Bonna, born in 1872; Henry, who was born in August 1874 and died around May 15, 1939; Anna, born about 1876; James, born in January 1877; and Henrietta, born about 1879. James’s wife, Isabella, was born in 1882. The children were born locally. John, Antje, Nicolus, and Henry were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Lester Fuite [1908-1986]

Lester Fuite purchased Pigeon Creek School from the Grand Haven School Board in 1961, the year the school closed, and moved it to another location on Pierce Street. Lester, who was born on October 25, 1908, died in April 1986. His wife, Helen, lived from September 14, 1911 to September 25, 2001. They resided at 16916 Pierce in Port Sheldon Township.

Edna Lucille Fullager [Fulliger] [1909-1923]

The daughter of Glenn James and Rose [Rosa/Rosie] Smith Rhineberger, Edna was born in Olena, Ohio on February 25, 1909. Rose and Glenn were divorced on April 28, 1908 in Ohio. Although Edna was born after the divorce, she was considered Glenn’s child. On September 24, 1914, Rose married Arthur Wilbur Fullager in Richland County, Ohio. Edna and her sister, Elizabeth Rhineberger, assumed the Fullager family name. Edna died on October 30, 1923 in an automobile accident in which Harry B. Proctor, a Grand Haven Realtor, also lost his life. At the time of the accident Edna and her mother resided at 831 Pennoyer. Rose was born about 1891 in Ohio. Arthur was born in England on February 4, 1871 and passed away in Huron County, Ohio on October 23, 1971. Apparently Arthur never resided in Grand Haven. Rose married Frank Mattis Mattison on December 24, 1923, two weeks after her daughter’s body was raised from the Grand River. Frank grew up in Holland, Michigan, but as an adult he also lived in Colorado. In 1926 Frank married Rhodanna Brower of Holland and evidently at that time Rose resumed use of her Fullager name and returned to Ohio where she later married George Shultz on April 25, 1925 and then Glenn Stahl. Edna reportedly was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, but her cemetery records were not found. Rose, who was born in Huron County, Ohio on November 15, 1887, died on October 23, 1971 in her birth county.

Edwin L. Fuller [1819–1866]

Edwin Fuller, a lumberman born in Middlesex County, New Jersey on May 16, 1819, was a resident of Ottawa County by the mid-1850s. In the 1856 Michigan Gazeteer he listed as being a dealer in lumber and staves. In addition to his lumbering interest, Edwin had a banking and exchange business located halfway between Franklin and Clinton Streets on the west side of Water Street [Harbor Drive]. He died on August 1, 1866 and originally was interred at the Washington Street Cemetery [Central Park], before the burial ground was moved to Lake Forest. His body was moved to the new cemetery in 1899 and placed in a vault of Gothic design. The vault was vandalized in 1948, and the bodies then were reburied nearby.

Jason P. Fuller [1890-1985]

Born in Sand Lake, Kent County on September 25, 1890 to Oscar and Emma Fuller, Jason came to the area in 1937 and retired from Bastian Blessing as a cabinetmaker. On July 5, 1913 in Hancock County, Ohio, he married Eva G. Beltz. Eva lived from May 11, 1895 to February 7, 1983. Their children included Doris, who married Ralph Scott; Rose, who married Harry Clark of Grand Rapids; Roy; and Donna, who married Robert Kane of Grand Haven. Jason died from myocardial infarction on July 19, 1985 at his home, 1221 Pennoyer, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Eva. [Tribune obituary, July 20, 1985.]

Robert A. Fuller [1916-1986]

Born on November 2, 1916 in Whitehall, Robert Fuller in 1956 founded Star Industries [Star Machine] and was its president until he sold the company to Herman Miller, Inc., in 1976. Herman Miller renamed it Integrated Metals Technology. Robert was a member of the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church, Spring Lake Rotary, Chamber of Commerce, Spring Lake Yacht Club, and Spring Lake Country Club. He served in the U.S. Coast Guard during WWII. On April 12, 1944 he married Gertrude H. Bolema in Muskegon. They resided at 17754 West Spring Lake Road. Their children were Timothy and Susan of Spring Lake and Sally, who married Dr. Steven Fuller of Southfield. Robert died in March 1986 in Naples, Florida and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 24, 1986.]

John Furlong I [Furling] [@1834–1883]

Originally from Ireland, where he was born about 1834, John Furlong came to Grand Haven in 1859 by way of Chicago. He was a ship’s captain, became a partner with Captain Thomas Kirby, and owned a large fleet of lumbering vessels. The two of them started Kirby-Furlong Barge Company, forerunner of Michigan Barge Company. On May 19, 1859 John married Mary Walsh. Born around 1837, she was the daughter of David and Alice Darmody Walsh, who came from Kilkenny, Ireland to Chicago in 1842. Shortly after the marriage, Mary and her husband moved to Grand Haven. They lived first at 30 South First Street, then at 225 Franklin, and in 1883 they moved into the Ferry house at 514 Lafayette Street. They had seven children, including Mary, born in Michigan about 1860; Kriddy, born in Michigan about 1862; John II, born about 1864 in Illinois; Vincent, who was born in Michigan about 1865, died around April 1, 1883 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Edward, born about 1866 in Michigan; George, who was born in Michigan about 1868 and died in Chicago on February 24, 1910; and Catherine, who married John Farnham in 1883. John I died in September 1883 and his wife died on July 25, 1895. [Tribune obituary, February 26, 1910.]

Albert “Bert” Edward Gale I [1884-1974]

Born in Grand Haven on October 25, 1884, the son of Daniel and Minnie Weston Gale, Albert was an employee of the Grand Haven State Bank. He worked as a clerk in his father’s grocery and chinaware store at 214 Washington. Albert began his banking career in 1910 as teller with the Peoples Savings Bank of Grand Haven. He accepted employment with Eagle Ottawa Leather in October 1917 and then went back to banking. Albert became vice president of Grand Haven State Bank on January 1, 1922, following his resignation from the Michigan State Banking Department. He retired in 1956 as vice president and cashier of the Grand Haven State Bank. He had been with the bank for 34 years. After retirement he worked part time as vice president and trust officer until November 1957. He was a member of the Spring Lake Country Club, the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, Elks, and Masons, and he was president of the Michigan Bank Examiners Association.

On February 8, 1915, Albert married Willette Meyer, born in Grand Haven on October 8, 1894 to Henry and Nettie Meyer. The Gales had a son Albert E. “Jack” Gale II, who lived from January 14, 1916 to December 30, 1994, and was employed many years by Bastian Blessing. The Gales lived at 401 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven. During WWII Willette supervised the local USO. Albert died in May 1974, and Willette died on December 24, 1983. [Tribune obituaries, December 26, 1983 and January 2, 1995, and Tribune articles, August 1948 and “AE Gale Concluding 36 Years,” November 15, 1957.]

Born in Brookfield, Vermont on May 23, 1848, Daniel was the son of Presson R. and Lucy Mary [Maria] Adams Gale. Lucy was born in Vermont in February 1817 and died in Grand Haven on June 16, 1900. Daniel’s brother, Sawin, lived in Grand Haven and his two sisters married Pfaff brothers: Emma to John A. Pfaff and Clara to Frederick Pfaff. Daniel came to Grand Haven in 1866. He attended a business college in Grand Rapids and in 1872 entered into partnership with his brother-in-law, John Pfaff, at 114 Washington in Grand Haven. The store offered groceries and “Queen’s Ware,” a brand of glass and earthenware made in England. About 1884 Daniel bought out his partner and later dropped the grocery line in order to concentrate on crockery until the store closed in 1921. He was City treasurer for eight years, beginning in 1892, a Mason for over 40 years, and he was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. Daniel also was the first clerk of the Cutler House that opened in downtown Grand Haven in 1872.
On October 18, 1876 Daniel married Minnie A. Weston in Grand Rapids. Minnie was born in Massachusetts October 1857. Her brother, Will Weston, was born in Grand Rapids and moved to Grand Haven. Daniel and Minnie lived at 418 Lafayette Street. They had four children, all born locally: Charles Martin, born on March 8, 1878; Millie May who was born on May 1, 1882 and married James T. Pett; Albert E. I, who was born in October 1884 and became vice president of Grand Haven State Bank; Daniel II, born on September 11, 1887; Grace A., born on August 7, 1890; and Wilmer, who was born January 22, 1896, married Cecile Murphy in Lansing on November 20, 1920, and died in Lansing on November 14, 1975. Daniel died February 16, 1934 at his home on Lafayette Street and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Minnie died about July 2, 1942. [Tribune obituary, February 17, 1934.]

Sawin [Solomon] Gale [1842-1887]

Born in Brookfield, Vermont on December 25, 1842, Sawin was the son of Presson R. and Lucy Mary Adams Gale and the brother of Daniel. Lucy was born in Vermont in February 1817 and died in Grand Haven on June 16, 1900. Sawin was a charter member of the Grand Haven Concert Band, organized in 1868. In 1870 Sawin was a druggist in Grand Haven. In 1871 and 1872 he was treasurer for the City of Grand Haven. He and his wife, Hatty [Eddie], had at least two children: Rose, born in Grand Haven on July 31, 1867, and Florence, born in Grand Haven about 1869. Hatty was born in Canada about 1842. By 1880 Sawin was still married but living alone in Minneapolis, Minnesota, employed as a traveling salesman. He died there on December 23, 1887.

Owen Domonic Gallagher [ @1873-1959]

Born in Charlevoix on April 8, 1842, Captain Owen Gallagher in 1921 moved to Grand Haven from Ludington, where he worked for the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad. In Grand Haven he piloted the Grand Haven, a railroad-car ferry of the Grand Trunk Railroad. On June 7, 1905 in Charlevoix County, he married Sarah J. Gibson, who was born on September 4, 1885. A daughter, Virginia Frances, married Clyde Peel of Grand Haven. The family resided at 807 Washington Street. Owen died on May 31, 1959 and Sarah passed away on September 18, 1967. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Christian Gallmeyer [1850-1932]

Born in 1850 in Adams County, Indiana, Christian Gallmeyer came to Grand Haven in 1878 to work at the Ottawa Iron Works. His brother, Conrad G., worked with him. The next year Christian joined Bryce & Bloecker, and in May 1881 he became a partner. At that time the name of the firm was changed to Bryce, Bloecker, & Gallmeyer. They owned the Grand Haven Iron Works. From 1885 to 1888 Christian was a Grand Haven City alderman. In 1889 he moved to Grand Rapids to continue in the foundry business. Later he became part of the Gallmeyer & Livingston Company. Christian was elected alderman and during World War I mayor of Grand Rapids. He married Lisette Hilsman of Fort Wayne, Indiana, in 1879. Lisette was born in Indiana around 1855. They had five children: Charles, born in Grand Haven on February 20, 1880; William, also a Grand Haven native, born on June 30, 1883; Arthur, who was born in Grand Haven in 1887; Louella [Luella], born about 1893; and Evelyn. Christian’s descendants remained in the Grand Rapids area, but purchased a summer home in the Wilderness, a lakefront resort south of Grand Haven, which they continued to own into the 21st century.

Jesse Gano [Gano] [1819-1888]

With a Mr. Parks as his partner, Jesse Gano of Grand Rapids as early as 1855 operated several steamboats on Lake Michigan and on the Grand River between Grand Haven and Grand Rapids, including the L. G. Mason, Daniel Ball, Truesdell, Ottawa, and W. H. Barrett. By 1874 Mr Parks was gone and Jesse and his son were owners of the Grand River Transportation Company, also called J. Gano & Son. Jesse was born in Broome County, New York on January 5, 1819, and his wife, Beulah Parks, was born in the same state two years earlier and died in 1900. They were married in Grand Rapids in January 1845. Jesse died on April 2, 1888 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids, as was Beulah. Their son, William H. Gano, lived from 1852 to 1888 and was buried in the family plot at Oakhill. Jesse and Beulah also had a daughter, Lucy Ganoe, who married Harrison [Horace] Barrett on February 25, 1873 in Grand Rapids. She lived from 1847 [1840] to 1929 and he from 1840 to 1922. Lucy and Harrison were buried at Casnovia Cemetery in Muskegon County.

Carl [Charles] Ludwig Gottlieb Garbrecht II [1843-1920]
The son of Carl and Henrietta Betthoff Garbrecht, Carl II was born on September 8, 1843. He married Augusta Louise Marie Wille. They settled on 200 acres in Sections 11 and 12 of Olive Township. Augusta was born on September 5, 1845 in Germany and died in West Olive on September 14, 1938. Her husband passed away on February 18, 1920. Both were buried at West Olive Cemetery with other family members. A son, William, was born about 1877, and a daughter, Maria, was born three years later.

Frank G. Garbrecht [1882-1963]
Frank Garbrecht owned 40 acres in Section 12 of Port Sheldon Township, adjacent to his parents’ land. The West Ottawa Soil Conservation District was set up on Garbrecht’s property in 1939, and he supervised it for more than 20 years. The son of Carl [Charles] and Augusta Garbrecht of Olive Township, Frank was born April 1, 1882 and died on November 18, 1963 in Holland. On December 17, 1905 in Chicago, he married Christine Meierdirk. She was born in Illinois on December 19, 1882 and died April 28, 1958. Her father was Dietrich Meierdirk. The Garbrechts were buried at West Olive Cemetery with other family members. Julius, Ernest, August and Carl were their sons. They also had four daughters: Clara Lyons, Christine Stone, Louise Van Kampen and Frances Dykman. [Whispering Sands, p. 25]

Julius C. Garbrecht [1908-2002]
Julius was the son of Frank and Christine Meierdirk Garbrecht. He was born in West Olive on July 14, 1908. Julius was listed as a farm laborer in the 1930 census. In 1935 he married Helen Veldhuis, who died in 1957. On September 27, 1958 in Grand Haven he married Thelma Grant Van Bemelen [Van Bemlen/Van Bemmelen], the widow of Clyde Van Bemelen. Julius retired from Grand Haven Brass in 1968. He was a member of St. John’s Lutheran Church and Harlem Reformed Church. Julius died at his home in West Olive on June 11, 2002. [Tribune obituary, June 12, 2002.]

Eugene Gardner [1844-1926]
Born in Steuben County, New York, on May 4, 1844, Eugene Gardner was only 18 when he volunteered for military service during the Civil War. He served in two Wisconsin regiments. On January 1, 1862 he enlisted in Company K of the 1st Wisconsin Cavalry and was discharged on October 6 the next year. Then, on February 3, 1865, he joined Company C of the 37th Wisconsin Infantry and served until July 27 that year. After the war he settled near Grand Haven and became River Boss for the Ottawa County Booming Company at the height of the logging era. His wife made it a family affair by cooking for the workers. Gardner was on the job during the horrific log jam of 1883. Heavy summer rains had created a huge accumulation of logs stacked behind railway and road bridges in Grand Rapids and created a nightmare of confused timbers seven miles long and thirty feet high. The Grand River was flooded and furious. When the bridges gave way, the logs were propelled down river like torpedoes, ready to destroy whatever was in their way. The stalwart work of John Walsh, a one-armed pile driver, and his aide, Clark Deremo, worked with Gardner and others in diverting the avalanche of logs at the last minute, saving jobs and profit. Boom Road was so named because of the log boom that was located there during the lumbering era.

Eugene’s wife was Jennie Isabelle Lane, whom he married in Spring Lake on August 10, 1868. Jennie was born on May 28, 1850 in Hamilton Center, New York, and died in Spring Lake on March 9, 1926. Eugene died on January 6 of the same year. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The Gardners lived on a 70-acre farm in Section 25 of Spring Lake Township. Howard Gardner, born in Spring Lake on February 26, 1877, was their son. They also had two daughters, both born in Michigan: Mabel, born about 1870, and Eva, born in Spring Lake on February 10, 1874.

Howard Addison Gardner [1877-1940]
The son of Eugene and Jennie Isabelle Lane Gardner, Howard was born in Spring Lake on February 26, 1877. On March 2, 1898 in Spring Lake he married Emma Rachel, the daughter of Rev. David and Elizabeth Frink Spencer of Spring Lake. Emma was born in Canada in February 1875 and came to the United States in 1879. A daughter, Marian, was born in Michigan in January 1899. Howard was a farmer and a mason. The couple resided on a 70-acre farm in Spring Lake Township, located at the confluence of Deremo Bayou the Grand River. The farm once belonged to Howard’s father, Eugene Gardner, and had been his boyhood home. Howard died in 1940.

John W. Gardner [1840-@1890]
Born in Pomfret, New York, on December 27, 1840, John Gardner on August 5, 1862 enlisted as private with Company B of the 112th New York Infantry, part of the 24th Army Corps under General Alfred H. Terry. He was mustered out on June 13, 1865 and two years later came to Muskegon. Before moving to Grand Haven in 1881, he and his family lived in Montague and Holton, where they were located in the 1880 census. At that time he was employed at a Holton sawmill. In Grand Haven he worked for the Fessenden Barrel Company as foreman. He married Emeline Kingsley in St. Clair County on March 28, 1868. Emeline was born in Canada around 1853. They had at least one daughter, Gertrude, born in Michigan about 1876. Emeline had returned to Muskegon by 1890, where she was listed as a widow. She applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on June 21.

Edith Garlick [1890-1917]
See Edith Garlick Lehman.

Daniel Green Garnsey [1838-1896]
Daniel Garnsey was Teller at the Ferry & Son Bank on Water Street [Harbor Drive] in the 1860s. At that time he owned acreage along the Lake Michigan shoreline in Sections 20 and 21 of Grand Haven Township. A pier was added along the waterfront, probably for shipping to Chicago fruit and other produce grown on nearby farms. In 1877 Daniel and Charles R. Wyman had an insurance office in the Cutler House in downtown Grand Haven. Daniel registered for the Civil War draft in 1863, while a resident of Grand Haven. There is no record that he served in the military.

Daniel, the son of Charles Alexander and Laura Kimball Garnsey, was born in Rock Island, Illinois on May 25, 1838. On October 16, 1861 in Chicago, he married Emeline [Emma] Brooks. Emeline was born in Mayville, New York in August 1841. A son, Daniel Brooks Garnsey, was born in Grand Haven on September 21, 1860 and died in Rutland, Massachusetts of tuberculosis on February 2, 1917. In 1889 and 1890 the elder Daniel was listed in the Grand Rapids City Directory as an “Expert Accountant and Adjuster.” Emeline Garnsey, possibly a daughter, was listed in the Grand Rapids City Directory as a music teacher and resided at the same address as Daniel, as did Laura and Charles. Another daughter, Sarah, was born in Ottawa County on April 27, 1874. On December 21, 1892 Daniel married Amelia W. Barnard in Chicago. She was born in Ohio in May 1837 [1838]. Emeline passed away in Grand Rapids on August 29, 1885 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Daniel died on August 6, 1896 in Muskegon. He also was buried at Lake Forest.

Edward Grant Garnsey I [1869-1917] and Mary Vesta Doan Garnsey [1874-1967]
Born in Union City, Branch County on September 17, 1869, Edward was the son of Judson and Olive Loucks Garnsey. By 1890 Judson and his family were living in Grand Rapids, where he worked as a carpenter and Edward was a clerk at the H. Leonard & Sons Company, a crockery and glassware wholesale business that later became known for its refrigerators. After working for Burley & Company in Chicago, Edward in 1895 became buyer and head of the Interior Decorating Department at Marshall Field & Company on Wabash Avenue in Chicago. By 1906 he had copyrighted the name “japana” for a line of china that Marshall Field handled and owned Japana Specialty Company. His daughter thought the name japana might have been suggested to him by his travels in Japan and his desire to emulate the way the Japanese arranged flowers. He also conceived an idea for a flower holder, today called a “frog,” and patented it about 1908, listing Spring Lake as his residence. [Edward, however, was not the inventor of the glass frog.] He contracted with a glass company in Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania to make the frogs.

On April 3, 1893, Edward married Mary Doan in Grand Rapids. Mary Vesta Doan was born in Parsons, Kansas [Sand Lake (Kent County), La Grange, Illinois] on December 10, 1874. Her marriage registration listed her as the daughter of Samuel and Elvira Edson Doan of Grand Rapids, but they were not located in any census. Mary before her marriage lived with an aunt and uncle in Grand Rapids, so both her parents may have died. At the time of the 1910 Federal Census Edward and Mary were living in La Grange, Illinois with their four surviving children. Edward was classified as a salesman of “wholesale dry goods.” On August 15, 1913 she sailed out of Southampton, England, aboard the President Lincoln and arrived in New York City ten days later. She was traveling alone. The next year Mary and Edward took title to approximately 27 acres of farmland five miles south of Grand Haven [Sections 20 and 21, Grand Haven Township], the same land Daniel G. Garnsey had owned since the mid-1860s. The purchase included a five-bedroom farmhouse on Lakeshore Drive. They moved the house by horse a bit west to the shoreline and used it as a summer residence. The house was later given the address 11837 Lakeshore Drive. Shortly after Edward’s death, Mary, Maria, and Gwendolyn resided on East Savidge Street in Spring Lake. By 1935 Mary was living in Ventura, California, where she remained until at least 1940.

Around 1920 Mary was a “glass jobber,” that is she sold glassware wholesale. A year or two later, she opened a “Japana Gift Shop” on the southwest corner of First and Washington Streets, before the Grand Theater was built a few doors to the west. Japana included such items as molded glass vases, flower holders, and statuettes, probably bought from her husband’s factory. Working with others, she organized the Lake Shore Improvement Association, with the intent of fostering the improvement of roads and utilities along Lakeshore Drive [then known as Sheldon Road] and maintaining the natural beauty of Rosy Mound. Se was one of the first women to join the local Chamber of Commerce, and she was instrumental in organizing the Triangle Business and Professional Women’s Association. Mary was a member of Tuesday Musicale and Woman’s Club. She left Grand Haven in 1924.

Mary had a lifelong interest in literature and writing. She reached her literary peak in 1941, when she was made an honorary member of the Mark Twain Society. The Eugene Field Society also honored her for her “contribution to literature.” In 1962 she published a book of poems, Gods in Modeling Clay. She was the first woman member of the local Chamber of Commerce, and she was active in the Woman’s Club and the Tuesday Musicale Club. She organized the Professional and Businesswomen’s Club. All of the Garnseys were Theosophists, including Gwendolyn.

The Garnsey’s children were Sergia Gertrude, who died in 1901 at age seven; Marie Adolphia [Adolphia Maria], who was born on January 22, 1896, married Charles Ettinger of Grand Haven, and died on February 21, 1990 in Grand Haven; Edward Grant II, who was born in May 1897; and Gwendolyn Doan, who was born on July 22, 1906 and died in Ojai, Ventura County, California in December 1986. Gwendolyn also lived in Seattle, Washington. In 1920 Mary, Adolphia, and Gwendolyn were living on Savidge Street in Spring Lake. Edward died on August 30, 1917 in Chicago, and Mary passed away 50 years later, on October 29, 1967. [Tribune articles, “Life of Service—Passing on Gift of Poetry,” April 5, 1962, and “Local Woman Writer Dies at Age 92,” October 30, 1967.]

Edward Grant Garnsey II [1897-1918]

Edward, the son of Edward and Mary Vesta Doan Garnsey, entered the military in May 1917, near the start of America’s involvement in World War I, and was commissioned first lieutenant in the Signal Air Corps. He was a member of Eddie Rickenbacker’s Squadron and was credited with shooting down two German planes, before he was shot down by German Fokker fighter planes while flying over Exermont, France at 4,000 feet altitude. [An alternate source noted that Edward was accidentally brought down by Allied antia aircraft guns.] He was buried near Exermont, France on October 29, 1918, the day he was killed and two weeks before the Armistice was signed. He was born in Chicago on October 20, 1897.

William S. Garrow [1907-1979]

Born on December 14, 1907, William Garrow passed away on December 26, 1979. He and his wife, Hazel M., were members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Grand Haven. In 1955 they donated land for a new church school on M-104 in Spring Lake Township. Their home was located at 13428 Cleveland in Nunica. Later they moved to Grand Haven and resided at 1320 Franklin. Hazel lived from August 18, 1907 to April 1, 1998.

Samuel Sufferin Garvin [@1870-1941]

An Irish immigrant who came to America in 1884, Sam Garvin founded Garvin Industries in Chicago in 1899. In 1925 he opened a metal stamping operation in Grand Haven, a business that endured until 2002. Samuel was born in Northern Ireland around 1870. On January 28, 1896 in Milwaukee, he married Mary A. M. "Minnie" Gibson. She was born about 1867. They had two children, both born in Illinois: George A., born around 1897, and Marguerite [Margaret], born about 1900. In 1940 the family resided at 2 Howard Street. Samuel died in Maywood, Illinois, on February 13, 1941.

Susan Swanson Gaskins [@1858-1911] and Robert Gaskins [@1851-?]

In the early 1900s the Grand Haven Tribune related this story on page one: “A few weeks ago, while Jesse Williams was unloading a car at the Grand Trunk yards in this city, he found a few cotton seeds. He gave them to Mrs. Susan Gaskins on Seventh Street and she planted them in her garden. They came up in due time and she says it looks as wells as the cotton would in the fields in Tennessee where she used to work years ago. Mrs. Gaskins was a slave on a Tennessee plantation, but the war brought her freedom when a young girl.” Susan Swanson married Robert Gaskins in Chicago on August 12, 1901. In Grand Haven they resided at 411 North Seventh Street. He worked as a laborer at the loading docks. Susan was born about 1858 in Tennessee, and Robert came from Virginia, where he was born about 1851. By 1910 the couple was living in Muskegon. They were married about 1901. Susan died in Muskegon on February 21, 1911 and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery. [Tribune, June 27, 1907.]

Edward James Gatfield I [1823-1901]

In 1864 Edward Gatfield and his wife, Anne Poole, moved to Grand Haven from Racine, Wisconsin, where they were living by 1850. Anne was born in England around 1828. They were married at the First Presbyterian Church in Albany, New York, on March 2, 1857. They were Methodists and started a “Colony” by meeting in their home with other members of the same denomination. Edward was born in London, England on September 25, 1823 and died in Grand Haven on May 3, 1901. In 1880 he worked at a sawmill, and by then he and Anne were divorced. The Gatfields had four children, including a daughter, Emma, born in Wisconsin about 1861, who moved to Ludington, and two sons, Edward II, born in 1862 in Racine, who also relocated to Ludington, and John, who was born in July 1867 and remained in Grand Haven. In Ludington, Edward II married Anglina Shappee on August 31, 1910.

John Edward Gatfield [1867-1946]

John, the son of Edward and Anne Poole Gatfield of Grand Haven, was born on July 14, 1867. His wife, Mary, was born in Iowa in December 1869. John and Mary, who resided on Lafayette Street, had at least two children: Genevieve, born in February 1890, and Floyd, born in March 1891. John was manager of the Western Union office in Grand Haven at 122 Washington. He and his family by 1908 were located at 128 Columbus. By 1920 they were living in Detroit. John died in Los Angeles, California on November 1, 1946.

Emil O. Gaul [1895-1982]

With Paul A. Johnson I, Bernath P. Sherwood I, Alvin E. Jacobson I, and Abram [Abraham] T. Kieft as partners, Emil Gaul took over the Bolling Manufacturing Company at 201 South Harbor in 1927 and renamed it Grand Haven Stamped Products. Emil was Plant superintendent. He married Alvina Achenbach, who was born on July 12, 1895 in Michigan. They were married on March 21, 1918. Their daughter, Luella Mae, was born on February 1, 1932 [October 4, 1931], married Peter James Bouwman in Grand Haven on September 13, 1952, and died on December 9, 1964. By 1930 the Gauls were residing at 1326 Pownoyer, where they remained until at least the mid-1950s. Emil, who was born on July 3, 1895, later resided at 2020 Jane Court in Grand Haven. He died on March 17, 1982. Alvina passed away on October 16, 1968. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Luella Bouwman.

Marcus C. Gazan [1890-1978]

In 1948 Marcus Gazan and his son-in-law, Carroll Bos, started the Tri-City Dairy, which lasted eight years. Marcus was born in The Netherlands on April 12, 1890 and passed away in Spring Lake on March 19, 1978. On June 11, 1914 in Grand Rapids, he married Edna Cornell. She was born in Grand Rapids in 1893. His second wife, Louise, lived from November 8, 1894 to April 23, 1893. They resided at 217 Barber in the 1950s and later at 209 Williams.

Robert Henry Gebott [1855-1919]

By 1882 Gebott was saw filer at the White, Friant, & Company Sawmill. He was born in Caistor, Canada in 1855. He married Orvilla Horn on January 17, 1881, and they moved to Grand Haven from Ludington that year. Orvilla, also from Caistor, was born on September 15, 1854. By 1900 they were again residing in Mason County. Robert died in Clatsop, Oregon on November 10, 1919, and Orvilla passed away in Warrenton, Oregon on November 21, 1926.

Hendrik “Henry” Geertman [1856-1924]

A farmer, Henry Geertman also raised livestock on 140 acres in Section 11 of Olive Township. He was born in The Netherlands on October 6, 1856 and he and his wife arrived in the area in 1882. On August 5, 1882 in Holland, he married Johanna Dunin “Dena” Boorman. She was born in The Netherlands in March 1861. Their children, all born in Michigan, included Marinus, born in June 1885; Aaltje, born in February 1887; Effie, born in May 1890; Hendrick, born on November 12, 1892; and Albert, born in August 1895. Albert’s wife, Margaret M. was also a native of Michigan, where she was born about 1900. Henry passed away on November 10, 1924. Listed as a widow in the Federal Census of 1930, Dena was living with Albert and his wife in Olive Township.

Bernard James Gellick [1875-1945]

Bernard Gellick was born in Laforgeville, New York on January 10, 1875, and on September 15, 1897 in Charlevoix he married Alma Augusta Hinkley. In 1910 the couple resided in Manistee. Eight years later they resided in Grand Rapids, where he was employed by the Crosby Transportation Company as a boat pilot. In 1920 he was inspector of hulls with the Grand Haven office of the U. S. Steamboat Inspection Service, a post he held until at least 1932. Bernard and Alma had at least two children, both born in Charlevoix: Robert Bernard, born on March 12, 1901, and Isabel, on April 26, 1908. Alma was born in Evart, Osceola County, on May 10, 1875 and died on February 27, 1927 in El Paso, Texas. Bernard and his family resided at 21 North Sixth Street and later at 216 South Fifth. George Fulmer Getz [@1865-1938]

On September 9, 1929 the freighter Andaste sank with the loss of all lives. Wreckage began to drift ashore along the Lake Michigan beaches from Grand Haven to Castle Park, south of Holland. George Getz, owner of the 230-acre Getz Farm and Zoo in Park Township, north of Holland, discovered an oar and other items from the wreck. The first body was recovered at Castle Park. Other bodies washed ashore as far north as Grand Haven. The Getz farm became the first County park in 1929 and was named Tunnel Park. George, who resided in Chicago, was born on December 26, 1863 in Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania and died on February 11, 1938 in Henderson, Kentucky. He married Susan Rankin, who was born in Henderson and lived from 1877 to 1910. George made his fortune as a coal merchant.

Herschel F. Giant [1911-1987]

Around the mid-1940s Herschel F. and Moneth Giant bought the house at 216 Elliott Street in Grand Haven for $8,000. When they moved to Florida in 1985 their granddaughter, Barbara Carlson, purchased the property. Herschel was born as Hurchell Giant in Allen County, Indiana, on May 9, 1911 and died in Lake County, Florida on December 26, 1987. Moneth, who lived from October 8, 1913 to February 4, 1993, died in Dade County, Florida.

Charles Tomlinson Gibbs [1815-1889]

Charles T. Gibbs, who was born in Connecticut on June 19, 1815, moved with his family to New York City in 1820, headed west in a covered wagon in 1836, and arrived in Grand Haven the next year. He purchased his first farm in Polkton Township in 1841 and settled in Crockery Township in 1844. The next year he, Richard Mason, and Richard Hathaway were elected first highway commissioners for the township. During their tenure a road was opened from Spring Lake, through Nunica, to the eastern boundary of Crockery Township.

Charles was the son of Robert and Eleanor Huff Gibbs, originally of England. As a youngster in New York State, Charles drove horses that pulled the barges on the Erie Canal. Everett recorded that in Ottawa County, Charles cut firewood near the Grand River, hauled it to the riverbank, loaded it on a raft, poled his way to Grand Haven, and sold it for a dollar a cord. [Memorials, page 510]. By 1865 he owned 40 acres in Section 18 of Polkton Township, which later passed to his son-in-law, Basnett Dell.

Charles married Hannah Walsh [Welsh/Welch] on January 31, 1839 in Muskegon, with Dr. Timothy Eastman performing the ceremony. Hannah, who was born in County Limerick, Ireland, lived from December 17, 1824 to October 22, 1884 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Her father had died when she was a child, and she and her mother immigrated to Canada and then settled in Chicago before arriving in the Grand Haven area about a year before her marriage to Charles. The Gibbess’ daughter, Margaret Sarah, born on November 16, 1841, was the first wife of Richard J. Connell of Grand Haven. Another daughter, Eleanor, lived from 1840 to 1857 and married Nelson L. Deremo. The Gibses other children, all born in Michigan, were Robert, who was born on March 14, 1844, died on May 26, 1862, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; Mary, who was born in 1846 and married Frank Jones of Coopersville; Thomas W., born in 1848; Joseph L., born in 1851; Anna, who was born in 1853 and married Samuel Dell of Crockery Township; Jeremiah, who was born on June 20, 1855 [1856], died on May 25, 1862, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; William E., who was born on May 7, 1857, died of smallpox on May 9, 1872, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; James Alexander, who was born on September 24, 1859 and died on October 4, 1936 in Albion; Emily Jane, who was born September 29, 1861, married Basnett Dell, died on April 12, 1893, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; and Stephen Monroe, who was born on April 29, 1865, died of smallpox on May 9, 1872, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

The outbreak of smallpox on the Gibbs property during the spring of 1872 caused the Spring Lake Village Council to ban any member of the family from entering the town until the danger was over. [Kitchel, page 75.]

A year after Hannah’s death on October 22, 1884, Charles married Martha Kearse. Two years later, on December 14, he was wed to Martha Jones in Ottawa County. She was born about 1815 in New York State. Charles died on September 16, 1889. Both Charles and Hannah were buried in the family plot at Spring Lake Cemetery. Charles’s younger brother, Alexander H. Gibbs, died in Spring Lake on January 26, 1859 at the age of 38 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Joseph, of Crockery Township, was another brother.

Edward P. Gibbs [1846–1896]

Born in Athol, Massachusetts in 1846 [1845], Edward Gibbs came to Grand Haven in the 1880s to assume the pastorate of the Unitarian Church. He was county treasurer from the fall of 1886 to 1893, when he was appointed to the Auditor General’s office in Lansing and moved there. Edward enlisted on May 13, 1864 as private in Company L of the 3rd Massachusetts Heavy Artillery and held the rank of sergeant when he was mustered out on September 18, 1865. On July 14, 1879 he applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. Edward was a member of the Masons, Maccabees, and Highland Tent. He was a Republican and noted orator. Edward died on June 11, 1896 in Lansing but was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Jennie L., applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on the following July 10. Jennie next married Cornelius Pond of Lansing. Jennie was born in Massachusetts in May 1850, passed away in 1930, and was buried with her first husband. One of their children, Wilfred S., was born in Massachusetts about 1870 and graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1889. Albert went became a lawyer in Detroit. [Tribune obituary, June 12, 1896.]

Joseph Gibbs [1826-1909]

Joseph, born on May 31, 1826 in New York State, was the son of Robert and Eleanor Huff Gibbs, originally of England. On September 6, 1855 in New York, Joseph married Mary Pennoyer, who was born in New York in 1836 and passed away on September 26, 1925. By the mid-1860s Joseph owned 200 acres of farmland in Section 12 of Crockery and Section 18 of Polkton Townships. Joseph died on February 24, 1909. He and Mary were buried at Nunica Cemetery. Their children were Eugene, born in 1855 in New York; Alice, born in 1859 in New York; Hannah, born in 1861 in New York; Rebecca, born in 1863 in New York; Margaret, born in Michigan about 1865; Gershom, who was born in Michigan in 1868, and married Sarah Hamilton on July 14, 1891 in Grand Haven; George, born in 1872 in Michigan; and Orange, born in 1874 in Michigan.

Townsend E. Gidley [1805–1888]

A native of Poughkeepsie, New York, where he was born on July 8, 1805 and ran a mercantile business, Townsend Gidley settled on 1500 acres in Jackson County in 1833. He planted 300 acres of wheat. On October 1, 1835 he purchased 80 acres in Section 32 of Sandstone Township in Jackson County. There he became a successful and prosperous fruit grower and farmer. He was elected a member of the convention to form a state constitution in 1834, and he was elected a member of the first legislature, where he held seats in both houses for a number of years. He once ran for governor. In the spring of 1868, he purchased and settled on about one-third of Robert Stuart’s estate, a total of approximately 2,000 acres, in Grand Haven Township. Townsend paid about $15 per acre. Because of the fruit it produced, the area came to be known as Peach Plains. He eventually cultivated 70 acres of orchard with 10,000 trees, mostly peach, with apple, plum, and cherry, as well.

In the fourth quarter of the 1800s “driving parks” became popular places for people to gather and witness trotting races. One such park was built on land in Section 35 of Grand Haven Township. Access from Grand Haven was by way of River Road [Mercury Drive], but spectators could come from Grand Rapids and other places by boat or train. The one-mile track was laid on a flat, marl surface that provided firm and fast racing. The park opened on August 14, 1874 and continued operation into the 1890s.

Townsend’s first wife, Emily Power, was born in New York about 1807, died on February 25, 1856, and was buried at Parma Cemetery in Jackson County. Their only son, Sands, was born in New York about 1831 and died on November 3, 1892 in Saginaw. Sands and his wife, Josephine, were married in Jackson County on January 23, 1862. Townsend and Emily also had two daughters, both born in New York: Sarah, born about 1831, and Isabella, born about 1832. Isabella married Horatio G. Snyder on November 1, 1855 and remained in Jackson County. Horatio lived from 1831 to 1887. She married Joseph Gunn in Jackson County on December 15, 1864. He lived from 1826 to 1909. Sands, Josephine, Isabella, and Joseph also were buried at Parma Cemetery.

Townsend married Mary Blanche Henderson in Grand Haven on January 23, 1879. She was born in Dayton, Ohio and lived from 1845 to 1925. Mary previously had been married to a W. W. [W. R.] Roberts. Townsend passed away on October 8, 1888 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Mary. [Tribune article, November 16, 1892.]

Esther I. Gier [1902-1981]

With her husband Earl as partner, Esther Gier owned and operated Keefer’s Restaurant at 15 Washington. They purchased the restaurant from Peter A. and Edith Keefer, sometime after 1938, keeping its original name. The Giers lived above the restaurant. Esther was born in Michigan on September 9, 1902 and died in Grand Haven on September 2, 1981. Earl was born in Central Lake, Antrim County on January 21, 1902 and passed away in Alma on May 2, 1992. They were married in Grand Rapids on November 11, 1922.

Born in Greenfield, Massachusetts on May 25, 1818, the son of General Thomas D. and Harriet A. Ames Gilbert of Greenfield, Francis arrived in Grand Haven in 1837, two years after his brother, Thomas. He moved between Grand Rapids and Grand Haven several times and was president of the Grand Rapids Gas Light Company for more than 25 years. On October 7, 1850 he married Caroline Elizabeth Throop in Grand Haven. She was the daughter of early Grand Haven settlers Nathan and Mary Mushaw Throop. Francis and Caroline had five surviving children, all born in Grand Rapids: William D. Gilbert [1853-1890]; Mary Elizabeth Gilbert [1855-1872]; Edward Ashley Gilbert [1857-1925]; Henrietta Isabella Gilbert [1858-1890], who married Philo Fuller [1857-1931]; and Kate Huntington Gilbert [1860-1949], who married John Holt [1856-1942]. Caroline was born in Canada in 1831 and died on June 29, 1869. Francis died in Grand Rapids on May 25, 1885. Both were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Thomas Dwight Gilbert was Francis’s brother.

Thomas Dwight Gilbert II [1815-1894]

Born on December 13, 1815 in Greenfield, Massachusetts, the son of General Thomas D. and Harriet A. Ames Gilbert of Greenfield, Thomas arrived in Grand Haven on June 10, 1835, with his friend, Mary A. White, and her three brothers. With Rix Robinson and others, Thomas was one of the founders and clerk of the second Grand Haven Company [Robinson, White & Williams], a business which included a warehouse, a shipbuilding enterprise, and land development. His brother, Francis Baker [Backus] Gilbert, was secretary. Later Thomas and Francis started their own mercantile and warehousing business in Grand Haven. After that they reentered the lumbering trade and developed a lake shipping operation, as well. Thomas was sheriff of Ottawa County from 1841 to 1843. In 1850 he was appointed to a commission to lay out plank roads and buildings between Grand Haven and Holland.

In 1853 Thomas and his brother sold their warehouse to Henry Martin of Grand Rapids, who hired Dwight Cutler to manage it. Thomas was able to retire after that sale and traveled for two years in Europe before he and his brother moved to Grand Rapids in 1855. In 1860 he served in the State Legislature, and he was regent of the University of Michigan for twelve years. In 1865 he was president of the City National Bank of Grand Rapids. In November 1871 Thomas married Angeline, the daughter of Rev. Abel Bingham, a missionary at Sault Ste. Marie. Angie was born in Michigan on March 21, 1830 and died in Grand Rapids on November 8, 1910. She was reputed to be fluent in Chippewa and spoke with Jean Baptiste Parrisien in that language. Thomas died in Grand Rapids on November 18, 1894. Thomas and Angie were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. [Tribune obituary, November 19, 1894.]

Henry Gildner [1849-1927]

Henry Gildner was born in Germany in May 1849 and emigrated from Canada to this area with his wife, Eva, in 1895. It was that year he bought and remodeled the Kirby Hotel at 2 Washington. Henry changed the establishment’s name to the Gildner Hotel. He and Eva remained residents of Grand Rapids, where Henry died about February 25, 1927. Eva was born in Canada in April 1852. They had at least two children, both born in Canada: George, born in February 1872, and Minetta, born in July 1884.

Edward Gillen [Gillan] [1865-1935]

Walter, who lived from December 31, 1907 to October 28, 1991, passed away in San Mateo, California. The Glerums also had a son Neele, who died about February 16, 1923. Will was a shoe repairman and later became a builder. He constructed the house at 226 Howard for his daughter Anne and her husband. Mabel passed away about April 2, 1947, and Will died on February 3, 1975. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was their son, Neele. At the time of his death, Will was residing at 538 Leggat Street.

Samuel C. Glover [1841-1910]

Born in Ohio on September 11, 1841, Samuel Glover enlisted as sergeant in Company A of the 39th Ohio Infantry on July 16, 1861. Three years later, on February 24, he was transferred to Company D. He was discharged for promotion on April 19, 1864, and then entered Company I of the Ohio 73rd Infantry as first lieutenant. The same year, on July 28, he was given the rank of captain. The date of his discharge was not recorded. On September 5, 1866 in Butler, Ohio, Samuel married Fanny Howell. She was born in Ohio around 1846. Samuel came to Grand Haven in 1870 [1871] to join the White, Glover, & Company lumber firm, with John White as his partner. A fire on July 4, 1877 destroyed the mill, located in Ferrysburg on the banks of Spring Lake. Samuel then leased a neighboring mill and was immediately back in the lumber business. He served as postmaster of Grand Haven from 1885 to 1889. On January 7, 1891 he deeded to the City a portion of the land that became the north end of Lake Forest Cemetery. He died at his home, 6538 Stewart Avenue in Chicago in 1910 and was buried at Oxford, Ohio. Fanny applied in Illinois for a widow’s Civil War pension on the following November 10. Samuel and Fanny’s children were Ellie H., born about 1869 in Ohio; Mary Raymond, born in 1872 in Grand Haven; and Benjamin Howell, born in 1874, also in Grand Haven. [Tribune obituary, September 24, 1910.]

Otto G. Glueck [1872-1934]

In 1916 Otto Glueck bought the abandoned Beech Tree School and moved it a short distance to 1514 Pennoyer to be used as his residence. Prior to that he owned a 56-acre farm in Grand Haven Township, between Mercury Drive and the Grand River. He retained 10 acres of land at that site after his move to Pennoyer. In 1920 he was working at a foundry, but by 1930 he was the owner of Glueck’s Market at 21 South Beechtree. Otto married Emma Blies in Grand Haven on June 2, 1897. Emma was born in Illinois in 1875. Otto was born in Germany in April 1872, came to the United States in 1885, and died about September 1, 1934. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery in the Blies family plot. The Gluecks’ children, all natives of Michigan, were Frederick, born in March 1899; Walter O., who was born on July 3, 1908 and died in November 1971; and Elsie E., born about 1915. On December 28, 1863, while living in Grand Haven, George Godfrey, an African American, enlisted with Company H of the 102nd U.S. Colored Infantry. Born in Scott City, Missouri, George was 25 at the time of his enlistment. His occupation then was seaman. His military papers noted that George, formerly a slave, had been freed on or before April 19, 1861.

Joseph Godhardt [Godhart] [1846-1920]

Born in Bohemia [Hungary] in December 1846, Joseph Godhardt was the son of a shoemaker who came to Canada in 1853 and to the United States the following year. Joseph’s father died, and as a boy of seven he was left to care for his mother and five-year old brother. “A cold settled in his eyes” and he became blind. A few years later he came to Michigan and attended the School for the Blind in Flint, leaving there in 1862.

In late 1864 in partnership with Herrick Kamhout, also blind, he started a broom factory in Grand Haven. An advertisement dated January 4, 1865 that appeared in the Grand Haven News read: “BROOMS! BROOMS! We, the undersigned, have just established a Broom Manufactory in Grand Haven, on Third street, near Dr. McNett’s residence. We are unfortunately BLIND, and desirous of earning at least a living by honest, patient industry. Therefore we earnestly solicit the patronage and kind regard of our mercantile dealers and citizens generally. Our Brooms are made in a neat, substantial manner and of the best materials.
Prices low-- singly, by the dozen or wholesale. Remember the unfortunate.” High prices for raw materials made it an unprofitable adventure and they gave it up.

Joseph later became prosperous in the junk business in the Grand Haven area. He married Matilda Gertrude Fryer in 1878. Gertrude, as she was called, was born in Michigan in September 1858. The Godhardts had several children, all born locally, including Hattie, who was born in May 1879, married Harm Koenes of Grand Haven, and died in 1937; Frank, who was born in March 1881 and whose wife's name was Myrtie; Leena, born in August 1883; Edith Bell “Mattie,” who was born in August 1885, married John Bell, and died in 1931; Gertrude, born in August 1890; Helen, who was born in 1893, married William G. Vick, and died in 1937; and Clarence J., born in March 1894. Joseph died at his home, 211 Fulton Street, on August 10, 1920. Gertrude passed away in 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her three daughters, Hattie, Edith, and Helen. [Tribune obituary, August 10, 1920.]

Franklin Paul Goettman [1920-1994]

In the 1960s Franklin Goettman was general manager of the Standard Sand Company, which mined sand from Rosy Mound. Franklin married Monica M. Williams. They lived at 1722 Gladys in Grand Haven, but at the time of his death Franklin resided in Spring Lake. He was born on March 31, 1920 in Pottsville, Pennsylvania, died on September 25, 1994, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Monica was born on January 24, 1918 and died in Roanoke, North Carolina on January 31, 2014. She, too, was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Gustav “Gust” Anton Goldbach [1872-1958]

Gustav Goldbach was born on December 28, 1872. In 1906 he settled on an 80-acre farm in Section 27 of Grand Haven Township. Gustave married Marie Sophie Louise Reinhard on October 9, 1898 in Bensenville, Illinois. She was born on October 11, 1880 and died in Du Page County, Illinois, on March 17, 1904. They had four children, all born in Illinois. Gustav next married Anna Berg, who lived from 1875 to 1958. She previously had been married to Martin Kartheus [1870-1913] of Agnew. Gustav died about February 24, 1958.

Harry F. Goldberg [1897-1964]

Harry, the son of John and Musa Gardner Goldberg, was born in Grand Haven Township on August 3, 1897. On August 6, 1920 in Grand Haven, Harry married Jobena C. Geber. They resided at 1004 Griffin in Grand Haven in the 1950s. Harry worked at Fountain Specialty [Bastian Blessing]. The family resided at 719 Wallace Street. A daughter, Josephine [Joan] Goldberg, was born in October 1928. Jobena lived from October 20, 1903 to January 28, 1975. Harry died around December 16, 1964. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Johannes Goldberg [Gouberg] [1820-1890]

Around 1860 Johannes Goldberg owned a 40-acre farm in Section 26 of northern Grand Haven Township [Peach Plains], not far from the Grand River. Both he and his wife were born in The Netherlands, Johannes on August 6, 1820 and Catharine [Catryna] on May 20, 1820. They had three daughters, Janna Goldberg, born about 1855; Anna Goldberg, born about 1856; and Cornelia Goldberg, born about 1861. The first two were born in The Netherlands, and Cornelia was born locally. The Goldberg property was sold to Cornelius Van Zanten on November 5, 1891 for $1,200. Johannes died on July 19, 1890. Catharine passed away on January 3, 1893 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Johannes Goldberg [Goudberg] [1828-1903]

A native of The Netherlands, where he was born on June 19, 1828, Johannes Goudberg came to Grand Haven in 1853. He worked for a short time at White & Norton’s lumber mill, and in 1854 settled on approximately 40 acres in Section 27 of Grand Haven Township [Peach Plains] to raise fruit. His name appeared as Goldberg in the 1860 census for Ottawa County. He died on November 7, 1903 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1853 Johannes married Elizabeth “Betty” Kemble, also from The Netherlands. They had two children, including John Goldberg, born about 1875, and Mary Goldberg, born in July 1886. Elizabeth died on February 13, 1897.

John D. Goldberg [1874-1937]

John Goldberg, the son of Johannes and Elizabeth Kemble Goudberg, owned 40 acres in Section 26 of Grand Haven Township, where he manufactured concrete blocks in the early 1900s. John was a truck farmer before starting his manufacturing firm. He married Musa D. Gardner in Ottawa County in 1896. She was the daughter of Frank and Emma Martin Gardner and was born on April 18, 1874. The Goldbergs’ son, Harry Goldberg, was born in Grand Haven Township on August 3, 1897. Their other children were Belle E. Goldberg, born in May 1899; Rose E. Goldberg, born about 1901; Charlie J. Goldberg, born about 1902; Maria, born about 1905; William F. Goldberg, born about 1908; Frederich D. Goldberg, born about January 1909; and John R. Goldberg, born around 1913. All the children were born in Michigan. John, the father, was born in April 1874 in Michigan and died in Grand Haven about April 4, 1937. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles Emery Gomery [1923-1987]

Gomery Motor Sales, owned by Charles Gomery, offered De Sotos and Plymouths at 220 South Beechtree Street from the mid-1950s to the late 1960s. Charles lived at 407 Ohio. He was born in Muskegon on September 24, 1923. On April 17, 1948, Charles married Evelyn Waltz in Muskegon. A year later, he and his wife, then using the name Beverly Gomery, were residing in Muskegon, where he worked at the Occidental Hotel as assistant manager of the cocktail bar. By 1954 Charles had established a business of his own, Gomery’s Home Development Service, still in Muskegon. During their time in Grand Haven, the couple resided at 407 Ohio Street. Charles died in Lansing on June 5, 1987 and was buried at Mona View Cemetery in Muskegon Heights. Beverly, also a native of Muskegon, lived from March 16, 1924 to April 16, 2010 and was buried with her husband.

Albert Edgar Goodrich [1826-1885]

Albert Edgar Goodrich founded the Goodrich Steamboat Line in 1856 at the age of 30. He had worked for the Ward Line and became a ship’s captain. In 1856 he and his friend, George C. Drew, formed a partnership and leased from the Ward Line the side-wheel steamboat Huron and started carrying passengers between Chicago, Grand Haven, and Muskegon. The Huron was 165 feet long and used cordwood as fuel. Knowledge of the ship captain’s reliability spread, and business continued to grow. Goodrich bought out his partner in 1861 and became sole owner. On November 30, 1864, in Milwaukee, Goodrich married Rosamond Franc Whaling, who was born about 1840. They had a son, Albert W., who was born on November 24, 1868 in Chicago. The elder Goodrich was born New Buffalo, Berrien County, on February 11, 1826 and died in 1885. Albert W. continued the business until 1920, when he sold the line for $1,000,000 dollars to H. W. Thorp. The Goodriches did not reside in the Grand Haven area.

John Van Buren Goodrich [Goodrick] [1839-1906]

Born in Dryden, New York on October 10, 1839, John Goodrich was educated at Homer Academy in his home state. In 1859 he came to Michigan and was admitted to the bar, living first in Hillsdale County. On September 17, 1861, while living in Hudson, Lenawee County, he enlisted as private in Company A of the 4th Michigan Infantry. On July 1, 1862 he was badly wounded at the Battle of Malvern Hill, near Richmond, Virginia, and took a year to recuperate. On July 2, 1864 he was attached to Company F of the 1st Michigan Infantry, and then on June 6, 1865, transferred back to the 4th Michigan as part of Company K. John was discharged for disability on July 21, 1865.

After living in California for awhile, where he worked as a carpenter, John returned to Michigan ten years after the end of the Civil War and made his home in Coopersville. He was a member of the state legislature for two terms, the second term as chair of the Judiciary Committee. John was in the lumber business in Coopersville with his son, Byron O., under the name Goodrich & Son.
John was mayor of Coopersville, and in 1892 he was elected Judge of probate for Ottawa County, a post he held until his retirement in 1901, when Edward Percival Kirby replaced him. In 1897 John was elected mayor of Grand Haven. John was a member of the committee that helped beautify Central Park, which formally opened on July 17, 1901. He returned permanently to California on December 8 that year. John died on February 25, 1906 in San Pedro, California.

John was married three times, first to Caroline “Carrie” M. Thatcher [Britton/Britten], whom he married in Grand Haven on July 7, 1869. John, Carrie, and four of their children were living in Coopersville in 1880. John, at that time an attorney, also had lumber interests. He was born about 1838 in Michigan and died on December 19, 1881. John next married Alice B. Houston Cloud on June 29, 1882 in Grand Rapids. She died on August 24, 1884 at the age of 36. On April 28, 1885 in Dexter, Lenawee County, John married Anna “Annie” Phelps, who was born in Michigan in December 1855. At the time of the Federal Census of 1900, John and Anna were living on Franklin Street in Grand Haven. On February 11, 1907 she applied for a widow’s Civil War pension.

In 1897 John was elected mayor of Grand Haven. John was a member of the committee that helped beautify Central Park, which formally opened on July 17, 1901.

Willard E. Gordon [Gorden] [1852-1919]

In 1881 Willard Gordon, a tinsmith by trade, purchased a hardware business in Nunica from John J. Wiseman. Willard sold a half interest in his business to Arza E. Landon in 1882 and in January of the next year, he sold his remaining interest to Landon. Willard, the son of Oliver and Cornelia Breau Gordon of Tallmadge Township and later Crocker Township, was born in Clinton County, New York in 1852. On September 25, 1878 in Kalamazoo, he married Mary A. Lawrence. She was born in Michigan around 1857. By 1900 they were residing in Muskegon, where Willard was superintendent of the County Poor Farm. Willard and Mary had at least one son, Lawrence, who was born in Michigan about 1881. By 1937 Mary was widowed, still living in Muskegon. Willard was born in Clinton County, New York, on May 20, 1852. He passed away in Muskegon on August 20, 1919.

George W. Gorham [1836-1899]

George Gorham, who was born on October 1 [20], 1836 in Albany, New York, came to Grand Haven about 1885. In 1867 he married Arlintha [Arlinda] A. Shepard, born near Buffalo, New York, on December 20, 1843. They had a son, Lewis A. Gorham, born in Canada in May 1879. George died on August 17, 1899, and his wife died from a paralytic stroke at her home at 726 Franklin on June 1, 1921. She was buried in Northville, Wayne County, where she had lived as a child. [Tribune obituary, June 1, 1921.]

Lewis A. Gorham [1879-1971]

Lewis was born on May 13, 1879 and arrived in Grand Haven with his parents, George and Arlinthia Shepard Gorham, when he was six. He graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1897. Lewis was on the first high school baseball and football teams when they were formed in 1895. He and his wife, Edith, lived at 726 Franklin Street, formerly his parents’ home. Their daughter, Eda Arlintha, was born on May 13, 1910, graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1927, married Louis Frickman, and died in Grand Haven on January 23, 1997. Lewis owned a grocery at 1322 Washington in the early 1900s. He died on January 6, 1971. Edith lived from August 7, 1880 to March 21, 1982. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was their daughter.

Robert Charles Gould [1921-2004]

Robert Gould served with the Coast Guard from 1942 to 1945 and received his basic training at the Grand Haven camp. He was awarded several campaign ribbons as Senior Signalman on the vessel Eastwind. His ship commandeered a German vessel, the Externsteine, and towed it to Boston. He also was part of a group that captured German soldiers and their base on Little Koldeway Island, Greenland.

Robert was born in Flint on July 22, 1921, the son of Leslie and Thelma Spees Gould. He was working at the AC Sparkplug company in his hometown when WWII began. After the war he returned to Grand Haven with his wife, Alice Elaine Lee, whom he had married on March 25, 1944. Alice, the daughter of James Wesley and Hilma E. Swanty of Grand Haven, was born on August 28, 1919 and passed away in Spring Lake on November 29, 1981. After the war, Robert joined Challenge Machinery, which the Lee family had founded and continued to operate. In 1951 Robert was made director of the company, in 1958 he was named vice president, and four years later he became president of the firm, a position he retained until the early 1970s. Robert was active with the United Fund [United Way], and was a member of the American Legion and Grand Haven Rotary, and he was on the board of the West Shore Symphony. He also was a delegate-at-large for the Grand Valley Boy Scout Council. He also was a Division chairman for the Y.M.C.A. Building Fund.

The Goulds resided at 630 Pennoyer. Their six children were James of Elgin, Illinois; Robb, of Spring Lake; John, of Bath, New York; Sara, who married Rick Surpin and resided in Brooklyn, New York; Liz, who married Carol Matthews and moved to Madison, Wisconsin; and Criss, who married Dan Marshall of Saratoga, California.

On July 31, 1976, Robert married Shirley Mansfield, who had three children by a previous marriage: Jeff Mansfield, of Portland, Oregon; Steve Mansfield, who lived in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; and Caryl, who married Bob Altman and resided in Tucson, Arizona. Robert died on November 20, 2004 in Tucson and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, November 23, 2004.

Frederick “Doc” Graves [Greaves] I [1835-1921]

Frederick Graves was born into slavery in Orange County, Virginia on October 16, 1835 [1840]. On December 25, 1857, when they were slaves on the same plantation in adjacent Madison County, Fred and Isabella Washington were married. She was born in March 1840 [1834]. Fred escaped his bondage and made his way north, where in 1862 “he allied himself with the Union Forces” during the Civil War, after working as a servant in a Confederate army unit. Apparently Fred did not enlist, but he stated that he was at the first Battle of Bull Run on the Confederate side and joined the Union side in time to witness the second Battle of Bull Run. He also was with General Burnside at Fredericksburg and with Sheridan in the Shenandoah Valley. Fred, Isabella, and their one child came to Spring Lake in December 1866, not long after his return to Virginia at the end of the war. The one child, Lena, was born in Virginia in May 1866. Their other children were Edward F., who was born in Spring Lake on June 13, 1869 and died on March 6, 1881; Frederick II, born in Spring Lake on January 13, 1872 [1866/1870/1871]; Hannah Hector, who was born in Spring Lake on August 15, 1873 and died a month later; William Jackson, who was born in Spring Lake on August 14, 1874, died two months later, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Robert, born in Spring Lake on October 9, 1875; Eva, who was born in Spring Lake on December 18, 1879; Edwin, born in Spring Lake on February 1, 1880; Etta, who was born about 1880, died in 1881, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Charles, who was born about 1882, died in 1883, and was buried at Lake Forest; and Ruford B., born in Spring Lake on June 30, 1882. Lena married Jessie [Jesse] Williams, also African American, in Grand Haven on November 30, 1899. Jessie, born in January 1868 in Virginia, was from Chicago, where he had been a wagon maker. After their marriage, the couple relocated to Chicago and Jessie worked as a “day laborer.” On October 12, 1903 Jessie was a witness to the marriage in Grand Haven of his sister-in-law, Eva Graves, to William H. Pulley. William, also African American, was born in New York about 1882. There is no evidence that William and Eva remained in Ottawa County.

The Frederick Graves family was not located in the census of 1870, but the next year they were still residing in Spring Lake. The 1880 census listed Fred as a resident of Spring Lake and working as a laborer. Sometime after that census he and Isabella moved to Grand Haven and both worked at the Sheldon Mineral Springs [233 Washington Street], giving massages and helping guests with mineral baths. Fred also was reported to be a gardener, or yardman, at the resort. His work at the resort earned him the nickname Doc. Living with the Graveses in 1880 was Frederick’s mother, Frances, who was born in Virginia about 1780, according to the census. However, when she died on January 9, 1885 her age was reported as 112, although Ottawa County death records cited it as 105.

Frederick and his family lived at 627 Madison Street in Grand Haven between 1890 and 1930. In 1910 Frederick’s niece, Rebecca Thomas, was living in the family home on Madison Street. Rebecca was born in Pennsylvania about 1891 and had no occupation at the time of the census. Residing in the same household in 1920 were Frederick, Isabella, Frederick II, and William McKinley Graves, the Graves’s grandson. Frederick I died on June 29, 1921. Isabella, her son Frederick, and a woman named Alice Burns were living in the family homestead in 1930. Alice was born in Tennessee about 1868 and worked for a Grand Haven family as a servant. Isabella said that her mother and four children, including Isabella, became the slaves of Tom Aler, who owned a plantation in Virginia. Her father, Lawson Washington, was said to be a slave on George Washington’s Virginia plantation. Isabella’s family were taken from their home on the Island of Madagascar.

Isabella, who was said to enjoy smoking a corn cob pipe, passed away in Muskegon at the home of a daughter, Mrs. L. Thompson, on April 30, 1932. Alice, Fred, Frances, Hannah, William, Etta, and Charles were buried in Potter’s Field at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, June 29 and June 30, 1921 and May 2, 1932; Tribune article “Fifty Years Ago in Old Virginia,” December 24, 1907.]

Fred was known as something of an orator. In January 1898, as the main speaker at a meeting of the Women’s Club in Grand Haven, Fred narrated the story of his life as a slave and freeman. He recounted an occasion when 500 slaves were advertised for sale. Chained to one another, they were taken to a slave market where Fred and his mother were sold for $1,200. It was then, undoubtedly, when he was taken to the plantation in Madison County. He escaped from his owner in 1860, when he was about 25, but was found and returned. Two years later he and several companions escaped again, this time by hiding in a haystack for five days. He eventually joined the federal forces at Warrenton Junction, Virginia. There he was attached to the commissary department of the 1st Rhode Island Cavalry. Later he became a bodyguard for General Phillip Sheridan in the Shenandoah Valley. At war’s end he returned home to find two of his children had died. He and Isabella lived in Washington, D.C. before relocating to Grand Haven. [Tribune article, January 11, 1898.]

Frederick R. [William] Graves II [1870-1940]

Frederick R. Graves II on February 27, 1896 in Grand Haven married Cora N. Williams. In the Ottawa County Marriage Registry, she was listed as both Cora N. Williams and Cora N. Burrell [Burrell/Berrell, and she also went by the name Nellie. Cora was born about 1868 in Springfield, Ohio, but had moved to Kalamazoo by the time she married John Williams, her first husband, on August 15, 1888. Her father’s name James or Robert Burrell, and her mother was Mary Grayson, according to the 1896 marriage license. [Apparently Mary’s mother had remarried.] John was born in Chillicothe, Ohio about 1850 [1853] and worked as a cook at the Cutler House in downtown Grand Haven. At a meeting at his house in Grand Haven, John Williams was one of several local Blacks elected as delegates to the Equal Rights convention held in Grand Rapids in 1894. He died of pneumonia on August 31 that year, leaving Cora with an 18-month old child. James and Robert Burrell were the same person.

At the time Fred Graves II and Cora were married in 1896, he was a farmer in Grand Haven Township. Cora’s name at that time was given as Nellie Thompson. Fred had a son, Fred [William] McKinley, who was born in Grand Haven on October 26, 1896. Presumably, Cora was the mother. In 1908 Fred II was living with his parents at 627 Madison Street, apparently without Cora, and working as a laborer at the Nat Robbins warehouse and dock at the foot of Washington Street. Fred in the 1910 census was divorced and still a laborer, but in the Federal Census of 1920 he was said to be widowed and working at Eagle Ottawa. He remained with his mother and father in the family home on Madison Street until at least 1930, when he was working as a servant for a Grand Haven family. The Grand Haven Tribune reported that Frederick William Graves passed away on April 15, 1940. The article said that for nearly 50 years, Fred W. Graves worked for the Savidge and Robbins families in Spring Lake and Grand Haven, which conflicts with the occupations cited for him in various censuses. Fred W., the obituary continued, was born in Spring Lake on January 13, 1870 and moved to Grand Haven with his family eleven years later. Fred II died at his home in Muskegon, the article continued, and had no surviving children. At the time of the 1920 Federal Census, Nellie was married to Richard Thompson, living in Muskegon, and working as a “nurse baby,” possibly a wet nurse. On McKinley Graves’s birth registration, the mother was listed as unknown. Fred was the son of Frederick and Isabella Graves I. He was buried at Lakeside Cemetery in Muskegon.

Robert R. B. H. Graves [1875-1921]

Robert, the son of Frederick and Isabella Graves I, in early 1900 was working as a servant for and living with the Lester Tripp family in Spring Lake Township. Around 1905 he became an employee of the Dake Engine Company, where he was employed for the last fifteen years of his life. On December 25, 1900 in Grand Haven, he married Fanny Molson. Fanny, the daughter of Ephraim and Adelia Molson, was born in Grandville in 1881. Robert and Fanny resided at 411 North Seventh Street in Grand Haven. In the summer of 1907 Robert was convicted of simple assault and battery, committed against Alvirda Ragland. Alvirda was employed as a domestic for a St. Louis couple by the name of Marks, who owned a cottage in Highland Park. Three years later Robert was working at a Grand Haven foundry. Living with him and Fanny on Seventh Street that year were John and Mable Swanson, both Mulattoes. John Swanson, who also worked at the foundry, was born in Tennessee about 1889. Mable was born in Michigan about 1881. The Swansons do not reappear in any Ottawa County censuses. In the 1920 census Fanny’s husband’s name was given as Frederick, but that may have been an alternate name Robert used. He died of tuberculosis on December 12, 1921 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 12, 1921; Tribune articles July 15, July 20, August 15, and August 16, 1907.]

William McKinley “Doc” Graves [Greaves] [1896-1935]

William Graves, usually known by his middle name McKinley, was the son of Frederick and [probably] Cora Graves of Grand Haven. His name at birth was Fred McKinley Graves. His name at birth was Frederick Graves. It is likely that “Fred” was changed to “William” and the “McKinley” added when President William McKinley was assassinated in September 1901. Born in Grand Haven on October 26, 1896, McKinley was the sole African American attending Grand Haven High School when he graduated in 1917. McKinley played on the high school football team from 1913 to 1915. He also took part in the 1915 junior play and was elected mayor of the Student Council. McKinley went by the nickname “Doc,” as did his grandfather, Frederick Graves I. In 1910 and 1920 McKinley was living with his grandparents at 627 Madison Street. In 1918 he was working for the Pere Marquette Railroad in Grand Rapids but residing with his parents in Grand Haven. Two years later he was still working for the railroad and living with his parents. On December 25, 1921 in Grand Rapids, McKinley married Helena J. Ebba. Helena, an African American, was born in Lansing in 1904. Her parents were Emory and Ella Robison Ebba. In Grand Rapids, at the time of his wedding, McKinley was working for an insurance company. McKinley died in Muskegon on April 26, 1935 and was buried at Lakeside Cemetery in that city. [Tribune obituary, December 12, 1921.]

Almira J. Gray [1830-1919]

A native of Connecticut, Almira Gray arrived in Grand Haven in 1872. She taught Sunday School at the Presbyterian Church until her retirement in 1906. She was born in 1830, died in 1919, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Curtis W. Gray [Grey] [1802-1893]

Born near Brookfield, Connecticut on December 15, 1802, Curtis Gray at the age of 16 learned the tanner’s trade. He was listed in the 1840 Federal Census for Calhoun County. In 1850 he and his family were residing in Grand Rapids. They came to Grand Haven in 1852, when Curtis went to work at Clark B. Albee’s tannery for the next three years. From 1855 to 1863 he was county sheriff and later deputy United States Marshall.
By 1870 he was once again a tanner. Curtis also was county coroner for more than 20 years. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church and the Pioneer Association of the Grand River Valley. Living with him in Grand Rapids in 1850 were Emily Gray, who was born in Massachusetts about 1820; Edgar L. Gray, who was born about 1832 and became a prominent attorney in Newaygo; and Jane Esther Gray, who was born in October 1834 and married William Wallace of Grand Haven. Edgar and Jane were born in New York. On January 4, 1860, in Kent County, Curtis married Louisa Mary Girard Raymond, a widow and native of Montreal, Canada [New York]. Louisa lived from 1815 to November 19, 1894. In 1880 she was a milliner and dress maker in Grand Haven. Louisa had several children by an earlier marriage: Euphemia Raymond, who was born on October 8, 1835, married Lewis Bon of Grand Haven, and died in 1919; Mary Raymond, who was born about 1837 and married Edward Lesperance [1828-1911] of Muskegon; Mrs. Roberts of Denver; and Benjamin F. Raymond, who was born about 1846 and lived in Grand Rapids. Curtis died in Grand Haven on March 8, 1893 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Louisa.

In 1860, Jedidiah Gray was lighthouse keeper at Grand Haven. He was born in Sandgate, Vermont on May 7, 1801. On January 22, 1825, he married Patience Shepard, who was born on April 9, 1805 and died in December 1845. They had nine children. After Patience’s death, Jedidiah married Rhoda Shepard. By 1860 Jedidiah had a third wife, Mary Barber, who was born in New York in 1822. Jedidiah died in Grand Rapids on February 5, 1876. [Obituary, Grand Rapids Eagle, June 16, 1876.]

William Richard Gray [1879-1945]

One of ten children of Matthew Nelson and Phebe Ann Jubb Gray, William was born in Crockery Township February 26, 1879. His parents were married in Quincy, Branch County in 1864. William’s first marriage was to Emma Rollenhagen on July 16, 1906 in Nunica. Following her death sometime after 1918, he married Anna E. Wintermeyer of Chicago. William’s brother Mark died in the Grand Haven Infirmary in 1897. William, who worked as a butcher in Nunica, died in 1945 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery with Anna.

Archibald Veryl Green [1922-1973]

In the early 1950 Archie and Mildred Green resided at 1139 Slayton. Archie was employed by Eagle Ottawa Leather Company. He was born in Texas on February 2, 1922 and married Mildred Neitring in Grand Haven on November 15, 1941. Mildred, the daughter of Albert John and Angie Roossien Neitring II, was born in Grand Haven on November 6, 1922. After their divorce in the mid-1950s, Archie married Viola Grace Matzke, who had previously been married to Marvin Frederick Guy [1919-2002]. She lived from September 22, 1928 to August 12, 1975. In the mid-1960s Archie bought the Beechtree Inn from Paul Lampe, who had operated it since the early 1940s. Archie changed its name to the East Side Tavern. It was located at 207 South Beechtree. John Jerovsek was a later owner. Archie died in Grand Rapids on April 14, 1973, and Mildred passed away on July 22, 1991. Archie and Viola were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Mildred was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Arthur F. Green [1899-1981]

Arthur Green owned acreage at 1316 Beechtree in Grand Haven Township. He was born on February 4, 1899 and died in Grand Haven on October 12, 1981. He married Mildred M. Pittman in Holland, Michigan on October 25, 1919. Mildred was born March 13, 1897 and died in Grand Haven March 31, 1976. Both were natives of Michigan. Arthur was a draftsman at Dake’s. Their children, all born locally, were Raymond, born in 1921; Dorothea, born about 1923; and Loretta, born about 1922.

Francis M. Green [1836-1914]

Born in Ohio on September 28, 1836, Francis Green on February 22, 1865 enlisted as private in Company D of the 195th Ohio Infantry. He was mustered out on December 15 the same year. He applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension on January 17, 1887. Francis was a resident of Crockery Township. He died between 1910 and 1920 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery, where a monument was erected with his name, but no dates. Francis’s wife Elizabeth died on March 20, 1900. Their children, all born in Ohio except the last one, included Earl C., born about 1865; Ulysses G. who was born about 1868, died in 1910, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery; Elizabeth Ella, born in July 1874; Vernon P., who was born in July 1876, died in 1911, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery; and Amy B., born in Michigan in January 1881. On September 24, 1901 in Nunica, Francis married Helen Smith Cathcart. He died in Nunica on October 28, 1914 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery.

George Allen Green [1854-1934]

George Allen owned and operated a 40-acre potato farm in Section 6 of Polkton Township. His property and residence abutted the Crockery Township line. He was born on April 16, 1854 in Lake County, Indiana. He married Hannah Gibbs, who was born on November 10, 1860 in Batavia, New York. Her parents were Joseph and Mary Pennoyer Gibbs of Crockery and Polkton Townships. George died on September 10, 1934, and Hannah passed away in Ravenna on January 29, 1941. As late as 1940, she was still living on the family property in Polkton Township. She and George were buried at Coopersville Cemetery. They had one child, Max Green, who lived from 1897 to 1949.

Joseph Green [1824-1869]

Born on July 19, 1824 in Ohio, Joseph Green died in Crockery Township on July 11, 1869. On April 4, 1853, he married Hannah Elvira Maxwell, who was born in New York on April 13, 1837. Joseph and Hannah had at least one child, James Wilson Green, who was born in Hobart, Indiana on February 10, 1860 and died in Grand Rapids on February 11, 1942. Joseph died in Crockery Township on July 11, 1869. After his death, Hannah on May 6, 1883 married Perley Lawton, a widower. Hannah was born on August 17, 1828.

Loveless [Loveliest] Green [1820-1881]

Frederick “Loveless [Loveliest]” Green was born about 1820 [1824/1834] in Virginia. In Grand Haven in 1870 he was a servant in Galen Eastman’s home on Franklin Street. Loveless’s wife at that time, Jennie, was born in Virginia about 1825 and, like her husband, was African American. In the 1880 census Loveless was listed as 46 years old, which would put his birth year at 1834. In that census his wife’s name was listed as Elizabeth. Born about 1839 [1834] in New York, Elizabeth was White. Loveless and Elizabeth resided on Franklin Street in Grand Haven. They were murdered on August 15, 1881 and buried in Potter’s Field, Lake Forest Cemetery. John Alguire, Elizabeth’s son by a previous marriage, confessed he killed his stepfather, but, he claimed, he did it after Loveless had murdered his mother. A jury acquitted John of the murder, letting him go “Scott free,” as the Tribune phrased it. At the time of the murder, Loveless and Elizabeth were residing in a house on Beechtree Street. That house was destroyed by fire in late March 1893. [Tribune, February 10, 1893 and March 28, 1893.]

Hial Hazen Grey [Gray] [1824-1905]

Hial Grey was born in Barton, Vermont in 1824 and was enumerated in the 1860 Ottawa County census as a resident of Crockery Township. In 1874 he purchased the machinery of the Weston, Dudley, and Soule brickworks on the south side of Cornelius Bayou, along the northwest shore of Spring Lake. Hial moved the machinery to the east shore of nearby Stahl’s Bayou, just over the Muskegon County line, and opened his works in 1874. He married Charlotte Sheffield, who lived from 1826 to 1901. One of their children, Clara, died on January 27, 1865, not quite six, and was buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery. They had two other daughters and a son. The Muskegon County Directory for 1887, 1888, 1889, and 1890 listed Grey as a resident of Fruitport Township. In 1880 he was residing in Spring Lake. Hial died in Snohomish County, Washington in 1905. He was buried at the American Legion Cemetery in Snohomish County, as was Charlotte.

Curtis W. Grey [Gray] [1802-1893]

See Curtis W. Gray.

Morris Griep [1912-1976]
Morris Griep, born on August 19, 1912, was responsible for the tennis courts in Highland Park, promoting their care and scheduling tournaments during the 1950s. It was during this period that a 16-year old Bobby Riggs played a warm-up tournament on the already historic courts prior to participating in the Junior Davis Cup in Kalamazoo. On October 1, 1938 Morris married Beryl Ann Albers in East Overisel, Allegan County, was born on November 14, 1913 in Chicago. They owned the cottage at 100 Poplar Ridge. The 1960s saw the courts fall into disrepair after Morris’s death and were neglected for many years. He died on April 27, 1976 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Beryl died on November 10, 1997, more than twenty years after Morris.

Elizabeth Olivia Griffin [1833-1930]

Born in Grimsby, Ontario, Canada on December 14, 1833 [1834], the daughter of Henry and Rachel Griffin, Elizabeth moved with her parents to Eastmanville in 1838 [1840] and in 1844 to Grand Haven. She lived the remainder of her life in the Griffin home at 301 Franklin, except for the years spent at Misses Hill’s School in Buffalo. As a child she helped Mary A. White in the first Grand Haven school. She was closely affiliated with the Presbyterian Church and was among the Grand Haven women who worked with the Women’s Aid Society during the Civil War, and she was a member of the Kings Daughters. She and her sister, Eleanor McNett, executive secretary of the local Red Cross, shared the family homestead during their later years. Elizabeth died at the family home March 26, 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 26, 1930 and Tribune articles, “Miss Griffin Ninety-Four Wednesday,” December 16, 1927, “Pioneer Paid Last Tribute, Dr. De Kraker,” March 31, 1930, and “In Memory of Elizabeth Griffin, a Tribute,” April 4, 1930.]

Henry Griffin [1807-1891]

Born in Smithville, Canada on December 30, 1807, 30-year old Henry Griffin left Ontario and arrived in Ottawa County on the steamboat Governor Mason on her first trip down the Grand River. In 1838 he settled in Scranton [Eastmanville]. He moved to Grand Haven as the county’s second sheriff from 1844 to 1850. His jurisdiction covered the area along Lake Michigan all the way to Mackinaw. He was credited with planting the first fruit trees in Ottawa County, many of them along Franklin Street in Grand Haven. In 1849 he went into merchandising, building the first store building in the Grand Haven, located on the northwest corner of Washington and First Streets, where the Grand River Times was printed upstairs. In 1847, at the request of Dr. Van Raalte, Henry walked the 22 miles to Holland to hear the minister’s sermon and to swear in the new Dutch citizens. He was chosen Grand Haven’s first superintendent of Schools in 1851. In 1862 Henry became school inspector for the new Grand Haven Union High School, in 1852 he was named treasurer of Ottawa County, and in 1871 he was elected mayor of Grand Haven and representative to the State Legislature. Griffin Street and Griffin Elementary Schools are named in his honor. In 1852 Griffin owned the schooner Pioneer, built in Spring Lake and commanded by Captain Chaloner. Henry attended the Presbyterian Church.

On May 30, 1830, Henry married Rachel Eastman, born December 10, 1810. She was the daughter of Rev. Daniel Ward Eastman, a Presbyterian minister of Canada, and Elizabeth Hopkins Eastman. The Griffin residence was located at 301 Franklin Street. Among the Griffins’ children was a son, Hannibal, who died young around October 10, 1838 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Rachel died on July 30, 1868 and was buried with her son. The Griffins had at least two surviving children, including Eleanor, who was born in Grand Haven in 1850 and married De Forrest McNett. Another child, Elizabeth Olivia, was born in Ontario, Canada on December 14, 1833 and died on March 26, 1930. She was listed in the 1908 City Directory as Henry’s widow. Elizabeth Olivia was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. [Tribune obituary and article, July 16 and 18, 1891, and Memorial Report of Ottawa County, pp. 221-223.]

Richard Frederick Griffin [@1848- ?]
R. Frederick Griffin was born about 1848 in Canada, moved to New York State, and came to Michigan in 1869. In 1876 he became a saw filer at the Sisson & Lilley Mill. The 1893 Compendium listed him as Frederick Griffin, still a saw filer, living in Spring Lake Village. His wife, Almira, was also a native of Canada, where she was born around 1848.

Ferdinand Griffith [1851–1887]

Ferdinand Griffith was born in Ontario County, New York in 1851. He moved to Canada when he was seven, came to Michigan about 1867, and went into business for himself five years later. He was a manufacturer of harnesses at a shop located on Washington Street. On November 15, 1877 he married Dell [Adell] Page in Ionia. Dell was born in Michigan around 1858. They had one daughter, Mertie A., born in Michigan around 1879. Ferdinand died in Eaton County on August 10, 1887.

T. Griffith [? - ?]

Griffith was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886.

Dick G. Gringhuis [1907-1963] and Alice Vink Gringhuis [1911-1999]

Alice, one of nine children, was born on October 10, 1911 in Spring Lake, the daughter of Jennie [Jantje] Werkman and Claus [Klaas] Vink. As a teenager Alice walked from her home on Buchanan Street in Spring Lake to attend high school in Grand Haven. She graduated from Davenport College in Grand Rapids. On June 30, 1934, she married Dick G. Gringhuis at the First Reformed Church [Christ Community] in Spring Lake. They resided at 416 Buena Vista in Spring Lake. She was active in the Grand Haven Woman’s Club, the Spring Lake Country Club, the Free Bed Guild of North Ottawa Community Hospital, the Girl Scouts, and the Red Cross blood program. The Gringhuis had two daughters, Marcia and Wanda, both of Spring Lake. Wanda married Len Anderson and Marcia became the wife of Arnie Dreher. Dick Gringhuis, who was born on December 24, 1907 and died on September 28, 1963. Alice passed away on November 27, 1999 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Geert [Gerrit] Gringhuis [1850-1915]

Born in Buffalo, New York [The Netherlands] on April 17, 1850, Geert Gringhuis moved to Grand Haven when he was still an infant. He and his mother, Trientje [Catherine], were listed in the Federal Census of 1860 under the name Greenhouse as residents of Grand Haven. Catherine was born in The Netherlands about 1824. Also in the house was Harmon Benhart [Bejmholt], the same age as Catherine, and presumably her husband, and Henry Benhart, apparently Catherine’s brother. [There is evidence that Harm and Catherine were married in Groningen, The Netherlands, on June 19, 1847. The 1860 census taker may have confused names.] Harm and Catherine moved to Lancaster County, Nebraska under the name Gringhuis, but Geert remained in Michigan. He married Cornelia “Kate” Visser [Fisher] on April 27, 1876 in Grand Haven. She was the daughter of Leonard and Wilhelmina De Vlicker Visser. Geert and Cornelia had a daughter, Teresa, who was born in Grand Haven on October 23, 1876. Geert attended Grand Rapids Commercial College and was a clerk in Grand Haven at the Mieras & Brothers Grocery Store. The family of three was residing on Franklin Street in Grand Haven in 1880. Living with them was Cornelia’s brother, Martin Visser, born about 1859. In 1881 Geert and his family moved to Lamont, where he opened a store. The 1882 History of Ottawa County gives Geert as much credit for being an artist as a reputable merchant: “Mr. Gringhuis is a natural artist, having had but three lessons in portrait painting from Orchison, the artist of Chicago, and one week's instruction in landscape painting from Selzer of Grand Rapids.” [110] “Orchison” may refer to William Orchardson, a portrait painter, who lived in Spring Lake and Chicago. Their son, Leonard John Gringhuis, was born on January 28, 1890 in Grand Rapids and died there on March 8, 1956. In 1893, still in Grand Rapids Geert was working in a bakery. Ten years later he was listed as being in the “cooking business” in Grand Rapids. He died on May 26, 1915 in Grand Rapids. Cornelia, who lived from September 13, 1855 to March 2, 1920, was buried with her husband at Greenwood Cemetery in Grand Rapids. She was born in The Netherlands.
Gerrit “Dick” Gringhuis II [Geert Gringhus] [1831-1902]

Born in The Netherlands on November 17, 1831, Gerrit Gringhuis in 1853 sailed for the United States on board the South Carolina, went to Chicago, and set sail on the schooner Pioneer, bound for Grand Haven. Anthony Bottje sailed with him. Gerrit was the son of Gerrit and Annie Juistema Gringhuis. Annie lived from January 1, 1792 to January 31, 1874 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Dick’s sister, Henrietta, married Anthony Bottje of Grand Haven.

Gerrit II was in the clothing business in Grand Haven for many years. He owned the G. Gerrit Gringhuis Clothing Store at [approximately] 15 South First Street and another one in Holland. He married Janna “Jennie”/“Jane,” the daughter of Albert and Annie Northuis [Northuis/Nordhuis]. Jennie was born in The Netherlands on July 11, 1838 and died in Grand Haven on August 30, 1907. The Gringhuises’ children included Martje “Martha,” who was born in 1858 in Grand Haven, married Jan Raak in 1877, and died in 1914; Gerrit III, who was born in 1867, married Eliza Little [born about 1884], and moved to Muskegon; Alderit “Albert,” who was born in November 1870, married Dena Lamer [Dina Lamar, born about 1871, died before 1920], worked at Story & Clark, and died in 1955; Arend, born about 1872; Hendrika “Reka,” who was born in April 1875 and married Dick Cleveringa of Grand Haven; Peter, who lived from May 1876 to March 30, 1880; Derk “Dick,” who was born November 20, 1878; Nellie, who was born in Grand Haven on June 20, 1880, died in Seattle, Washington on December 13, 1912, and who was married twice, first to Harry Koopman of Grand Haven and then to Martin Vyn, also of Grand Haven; and Ann, who was born about 1882 and married Klaas Borgman of Holland. The Gringhuis family resided on Fulton Street, but eventually retired to a 56-acre fruit farm near Holcomb Hills. The land later was sold to Nellie Terry and became known as Terry Trails. Gerrit II died on December 18, 1902 from injuries suffered while he was cutting down dead peach trees in the orchard. The axe he was wielding slipped and the handle struck him on his side, causing severe internal injuries. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. [Tribune obituaries, December 18 and 19, 1902.]

Gerrit “Dick” Gringhuis III [1878-1907]

The son of Gerrit and Janna Northuis Gringhuis, Gerrit III was born in Grand Haven on March 20, 1878. On March 6, 1907 in Grand Haven he married Margje “Marge” Van Doorne, who was born on February 8, 1882 in The Netherlands. Among their 14 children was Apollos, who was born on September 4, 1882 in Elizabethtown and settled in Ottawa County on or before 1850. Apollos died on October 18, 1843 [1845] in Kent County. Eleanor live from December 22, 1792 to December 17, 1848.

Amos Griswold [1788-1843]

Born on March 12, 1788 in Hartford, Connecticut, Amos Griswold married Eleanor Staat [Stott] in Elizabethtown, Ontario on August 12, 1811. Among their 14 children was Apollos, who was born on September 4, 1818 in Elizabethtown and settled in Ottawa County on or before 1850. Amos died on October 18, 1843 in Kent County. Eleanor lived from December 22, 1792 to December 17, 1848.

Apollos Griswold, a lumberman, was settled in Spring Lake Township by 1850 and in Robinson Township ten years later. He was born in Elizabethtown, Canada on September 4, 1818 and died on December 3, 1872. He married Sarah Cole, who was born in England on March 5, 1825 and passed away on February 15, 1899. Both Apollos and Sarah were buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery. Their children, all born in Ottawa County, included Mary, who was born on November 23, 1844 and died, apparently in what is now Ravenna, Muskegon County, on December 11, 1853; Francis, who was born on August 29, 1847; Asher W., born on April 5, 1853; Edgar W., born on May 1, 1855; Nathan William, born on April 23, 1857; Peter, born about 1859; Sarah, born on June 11, 1867; Fred Raney, born on February 1, 1871; and Mortimer, born about 1872.

[The 1882 History of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties noted that the first birth in Ravenna, then in Ottawa
County, was the child of Apollus Griswold; the baby died in infancy.] Nathan and his wife, Isabel [Isabella], had a son Appolos, who died on January 7, 1883, three months before his 27th birthday. Isabel was born in Crockery Township on April 9, 1865. By 1870 the Griswold family was farming approximately 160 acres in Section 36 of Crockery Township.

Apolis Griswold [1874-1936]

Apolis Griswold owned and operated a trucking business in Crockery Township. He was the son of Francis and Margaret Griswold. On June 7, 1917 in Muskegon, Apolis married Florence E. Withey. She was born in Michigan on January 8, 1922 and died in Spring Lake on January 26, 1986; Percival James, born on April 27, 1924; Margaret F., born about June 1926; and Lisa A., born about March 1929. Apolis, born in Michigan in 1874, passed away in 1936.

Francis Griswold I [1847-1920]

The son of Apollos and Sarah Griswold, Frank was born in Michigan on August 29, 1847. After briefly living in Robinson Township with his parents, he moved with them to Section 36 of Crockery Township. By 1900, as residents of Grand Rapids, he and his wife, Margaret, had a son, Apolis, who was born in February 1874. Another son, Francis II, was born in Crockery Township on December 18, 1877. Still residents of Grand Rapids at the time of the 1910 Federal Census, Francis and Margaret had another son, Arthur, living with them. Arthur was born about 1876. He and his wife, Ida, and their two children, Harold and Frances, were living with his parents. Francis I was a laborer. Margaret was born in Canada in June 1852. Francis I died on June 3, 1920 and was buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery.

Frank Lee Groat [1900-1988]

Born in Croswell, Sanilac County on April 19, 1900, Frank Groat in 1930 was a teacher at a junior high school in Detroit. On June 26, 1926, he married Florence Johanna Klockow, who lived from May 11, 1903 to March 7, 1987. They had a son, Gerald Lee Groat, who was born in Detroit on August 12, 1933 and died on February 2, 2008 in Lake Havasu, Arizona. The Groats were residents of Detroit in 1940, when Frank was listed as “Head of Department” at a public school. He worked one year at Providence Hospital in Detroit, and then served with the Army for two years during WWII. Frank, who was raised in East Lansing, graduated from Michigan State College [MSU] and in 1945 from Wayne State University of Medicine.

Frank came in 1948 to Grand Haven as a general practitioner in an office with Dr. John Kitchel. Frank became chief of staff at North Ottawa Community College. In 1950, while studying at Wayne State, he met and married Virginia “Ginny” Barber. Frank and Virginia had five daughters: Nancy Groat, who resided in Grand Rapids; Barbara Groat, also of Grand Rapids; Elizabeth “Beth,” who married Bill Maschewskie and lived in West Olive; Kathy, who married Ken Herman of Suttons Bay; and Virginia “Ginger,” who married Rick Toomey and moved to Pecatonica, Illinois. The family resided at 631 Franklin and later at 1624 Gladys. The Groats remodeled the house on Franklin Street, hiring Kris Grants as the architect. Frank’s medical office was on the west side of the structure. The family attended the First Presbyterian Church, and Frank was a member of the Grand Haven Rotary Club. He closed his office in Grand Haven on March 15, 1981 and moved to Toccoa, Georgia. Frank died in Lake Havasu, Arizona on July 31, 1988. Virginia was born on September 12, 1922 and passed away on May 24, 2015 in Grand Rapids. She was notable for being a teacher, pilot, radio broadcaster, reporter, and giving lectures overseas and at home. [Tribune articles, “Dr. F. L. Groat to Practice Here,” July 19, 1948, “Dr. Groat moving practice to Georgia,” February 9, 1981, “Focus on People,” September 2, 2009, and Grand Rapids Press obituary, March 29, 2015.

Tys Groenendal [1833-1911]
In 1892 Tys Groenendal went into partnership with Folgert Van Zanten and started a coal and wood yard at 520 Elliott Street in Grand Haven, which they named Groenendal & Van Zanten. A little later Tys sold out to Van Zanten. Tys and his wife, Clara, who was a milliner, lived at 521 Elliott. Their daughter, Etta, a dressmaker, resided at the same address in the early 1900s. She married Gerrit Balgooyen in Grand Haven on June 22, 1912. Another daughter Della [Dora] was born on September 21, 1870 and married Louis Ver Duin of Grand Haven. Tys was one of the founders of the Second Christian Reformed Church in Grand Haven. Clara lived from April 1840 [1839] to 1913, and Tys, who was born in January 1833, died in 1911. Both were natives of The Netherlands, and both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Derk [Derek] Groenevelt I [Groeneveld, Groenvelt] [1828-1911]

Derk Groenevelt was born in The Netherlands on May 5, 1828. He married Swantje [Zwaantje] Hoffman, who also was a native of The Netherlands, where she was born on January 24, 1827. Derk was a carpenter. Among their children, all born locally, were Lucy, who was born on April 27, 1853 and married Klass [Claus] Leninga; Gerrit, who was born on December 21, 1856 and died on July 23, 1878; Jane, born about 1856; Frederick, born in June 1860; Jantje, born about 1860; Dirk, born about 1862; and Ida, born about 1866. Swantje passed away on January 29, 1885 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Derk died in Grand Haven on May 9, 1911 and was buried at Grand Haven Township Historic Cemetery.

Derk [Derek] Groenevelt II [Groenvelt] [1860-1930]

Born in The Netherlands in August 1860 [1854], Derk Groenevelt came to the United States in 1880 and lived in both Grand Haven and Ferrysburg. He was listed in the 1893 Compendium as “drayman” in Grand Haven, but by 1908 he owned an eight-acre farm in Spring Lake Township. Derk’s wife, Sarina, also a native of The Netherlands, was born in May 1852 and died on April 7, 1903. Their children, all born locally, were Enno, born in March 1883; Derk II, born in 1888; and John, born in June 1896. The elder Groenevelt was an active member and leader of the First Christian Reformed Church of Grand Haven. He died in 1930.

Derk “Dick” Groenevelt III [1888-1986]

Dick was born on March 15, 1888, the son of Derk and Sarina Groenevelt. On October 27, 1908 Dick married Jennie Ruiter in Ferrysburg. Where they made their home and where one of their children, Richard, was born. Jennie, the daughter of Ralph [Roelof] and Jane [Jennie] Borgman Ruiter of Ferrysburg, lived from March 1890 to 1918 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The Groenevelts had a daughter, Janet, who was born in Ferrysburg on July 15, 1913, married Maurice Rosema on June 12, 1935, and passed away on December 6, 2003. As a young man, Dick owned a two and a half-acre farm in Spring Lake Township. He lived at 226 South Street in Spring Lake when he died on October 15, 1986 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Fred Groenevelt I [Gronevelt] [1860-1945]

Fred Groenevelt was a Grand Haven building contractor. Born in Michigan in June 1860, he appeared in the 1893 Compendium as a carpenter. In 1896 the firm of Van Dongen & Groenevelt was awarded a contract to build Grand Haven’s first electric power building. In the early 1900s Fred married Sena Jonker in Grand Haven on August 28, 1886. The couple lived at 1402 Columbus. He and his son, Fred II, worked together. Fred II was born in July 1891. The Groenevelts also had a daughter Elizabeth, who was a stenographer. Sena was born in The Netherlands on September 1867 [1868], died in 1922, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On April 8, 1872, Timothy Hall became the third president of Spring Lake Village and served a one-year term. Prior to that he was a trustee of the Spring Lake School District. Timothy was born in New Hampshire [Wisconsin] in 1813 in Sullivan, Tennessee. On August 28, 1836, he married Polly Dake. She was born on November 4, 1809 in Windsor, Vermont. Timothy raised fruit in Spring Lake Township. Polly died on April 1, 1882, and Timothy passed away on March 23, 1883. They were living in Hartford, Wisconsin at the time of their deaths. They moved there shortly after the Federal Census of 1880.

Winfield Scott Hall [1861-1942]

Winfield, the son of Albert Nelson and Sarah Adelia Foote Hall, was born in Batavia, Illinois, on January 5, 1861. He received his Doctor of Medicine degree a year after graduating from Northwestern University in 1887. He then attended Leipzig University, where he earned a Doctor of Philosophy degree. He taught at Haverford College in Pennsylvania from 1889 to 1893, returned to Leipzig, and then became Professor of Physiology at Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois, where he remained for the rest of his professional life. Winfield authored numerous books on such subjects as physiology, anatomy, sex education, and marriage. On October 11, 1888, in Juniata, Nebraska he married Jeanette [Janette] Winter. Their children were Ethel, born in 1893; Albert Winter, born in Switzerland in 1895; Raymond Ludwig, born in 1897; and Muriel, born in 1903. The Halls resided in Berwyn, Illinois, but in 1900 purchased acreage on the south side of Stearns Bayou in Section 6 of Robinson Township. By 1912 they owned over 132 acres in the area in three separate parcels. On this Bayou property they built Wynnewood [13715 Johnson] as a place to spend their summers. After Winfield’s death in 1942, son Albert and his wife, Reba, took over the property. When Dr. Albert Hall died in 1991 his son Winfield and his wife, Carol, assumed ownership of the property and constructed a new home at 13711 Johnson. A daughter, Jeanette, who married Herbert Garber, occupied the original cottage.

Winfield S. Hall [1934-2005]
Born on October 17, 1934, Winfield was the son of Albert Hall. He and his wife, Carol Vokral, came to Grand Haven in 1997 and built a home on property that had been in the Hall family since 1901. They were married in Berwyn, Illinois on July 8, 1972. Winfield died on February 18, 2005. Carol, who was born in Chicago on January 1, 1933, worked as a dietician for 38 years in VA medical centers in Los Angeles, New York, and Chicago. For 22 years she was associated with the VA Hospital in Maywood, Illinois, where she was director of Nutrition and Food Services. She died in Grand Haven on September 8, 2014. [Tribune obituary, September 11, 1932.]

Howard Lee Halverson [1926-2003]

Howard was born in Chicago, Illinois, on January 14, 1926, the son of Etta and Harry Halverson. After receiving a Bachelor of Science degree from Roosevelt College in Chicago, Howard joined the Naval Air Corps in 1943 and was trained as a pilot. After the war he married Norma Veenstra on October 1, 1948. Their children were Kathy, Mark, and Krag. Howard worked for the Morton Salt Company in Chicago and the Marathon Paper Company of Menasha, Wisconsin, before moving to Grand Haven, where he was Purchasing Agent for Bastian Blessing. From about 1971 to 1988 he ran his own excavating and septic system company in Grand Haven. His company, called Spinners Septic Tank Service, later became Kendall Septic Service and was located at 12841 Lincoln in Grand Haven Township. He also was manager of Christian Haven Home. The Halverson family resided at 1909 Pine Court and attended the Second Reformed Church in Grand Haven. Howard was active with the local boy scouts and organized Troop 28. The Halversons retired to the Upper Peninsula in 1989. Howard died on November 24, 2003. [Tribune obituary, November 26, 2003.]

Jens Jergen Halvorsen [1852-1907]

Jens Halvorsen became a member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Norway. His wife, Amalia [Amelia] Bjorgufsen [Borgenson], was raised as a Lutheran, but she, too, joined the Adventist Church. They immigrated to Chicago in July 1887 and moved to Robinson Township. There they helped form a Seventh-day Adventist Church in May 1907, and Jens was named an Elder. The Halvorsens owned a 100-acre farm in Section 6 of Robinson Township. Jens, who was born in Norway on December 3, 1852, died on June 29, 1907, several days after falling from a scaffold and breaking his back while on a job in Saugatuck. He was buried at Robinson Cemetery. Amalia was born in Kroger, Norway on September 8 or 9, 1859. They were married in Norway on November 8, 1881. Their children were Martin, born in Norway on June 9, 1886; Thallie K., a daughter, born in Chicago, Illinois on November 7, 1888; Harturg [Hartwig] Johannes, who was born in Chicago on November 24, 1890 and died in 1982; George, born in Chicago on September 19, 1893; and Daniel, born locally on February 26, 1897. After Jens’s death, Amalia moved her family to Berrien Springs, Berrien County.

Caslin [Carlin] Hamilton [@1838-1881]

Born in Quebec, Canada about 1838, Caslin Hamilton arrived in Crockery Township in 1862. On November 3, 1868 he married Mary Dickinson in Wright Township. Mary was born in January 1843 in New York. Their son, George, was born in Michigan around December 1869, and a daughter, Carrie M., was born in June 1872. Carrie became a nurse and in the early 1900s resided at 319 South Fifth Street in Grand Haven. Two other Hamilton children were Helen “Nellie,” born in June 1873, and Charles N., born about 1876. In 1870 and 1880 Caslin was listed as a carpenter living in Nunica with his wife and son George. He later became an agent for the Detroit and Muskegon Railroad Company. Prior to that, on February 27, 1865 he went to Grand Rapids to enlist in Company G of the Michigan 10th Cavalry as private. He was mustered out on November 11 the same year. They moved to Potawatomie, Iowa, where Caslin died about 1881. Mary applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on September 8, 1890.

George Hamilton [@1838- ?]

George Hamilton, an African American, enlisted in the 102nd United States Colored Infantry in Grand Haven on December 28, 1863. He was born in New Orleans, Louisiana about 1838. George’s military records noted that he deserted from Camp Ward [probably Fort Ward in Virginia] on March 26, 1864. A George Hamilton of the right age was living in Louisiana at the time of the 1880 census, but there is no proof the two are the same person.

Frank T. Hammond [1883–1936]
The son of Thomas and Cora Hammond, Frank was born in Spring Lake in March 1883. He was a mail carrier in rural Spring Lake for 30 years. He married a widow, Grace Bunker Anderson, in 1934. He played the alto horn for the Grand Haven band on the riverboat that went to Lamont on weekends. He died in 1936 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. His first wife, Julia, lived from 1880 to 1935 and was buried with her husband.

George H. Hammond [1844-1920]
George Hammond rented boats and fishing tackle in Spring Lake. Born on July 1, 1844 in Spring Lake, George was the son of William and Lucy Houghton Hammond of Spring Lake. George’s wife, Caroline Hammond, the daughter of William Shirley Hammond, was born in Michigan on October 1, 1846. They were married in Spring Lake on November 1, 1868. Their children, all born locally, were: William S., who was born on May 13, 1870, married Lulu Swartz on May 20, 1891, died on May 10, 1946, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; George E., who was born on April 29, 1874 and served with Company F in the Spanish-American War; Charles E., born about 1876; Luella M., born about 1878; John, born in June 1885; and a daughter, Carrie, born in June 1887. George the son married Dora Christopher in Grand Haven on October 30, 1895. Dora was born in Denmark in 1877. John married Elsie, the daughter of Henry and Henrietta Stap Abbinga of Grand Haven. George died on March 6, 1920, and Caroline passed away in Spring Lake on February 23, 1924.

Shirley Hammond [1822-1872]
See William Shirley Hammond.

Thomas Hammond [1851-1928]
Born in Canada in March 1851, Thomas Hammond came to Spring Lake in 1878 and worked in the mills. Although he lived in the Village, he had a fruit farm on 144th Street in Spring Lake Township. Thomas was highway commissioner in the early 1900s and village president in 1916 and 1917. He led the group of men who tore up the Interurban tracks one night in order to hurry the paving of Savidge. Thomas served as a substitute rural mail carrier; was on the Board of Education and the Village Council and he was truant officer.

On July 5, 1880 in Grand Rapids, Thomas married Cora Chittenden. Born in 1861 in Spoonville, she was, the daughter of Benjamin and Abigail Chittenden. They had two sons, Frank T., born in March 1883, and William Albert, born on November 28, 1889, and a daughter, May A., born in November 1884. Cora died in Spring Lake on July 3, 1895. Thomas married Frances Bangle in Muskegon on October 7, 1899. A resident of Grand Rapids, Frances was born in Michigan and lived from September 1873 [1869] to 1954. She had two children from her first marriage to a Mr. Erhart: Iva, born in June 1887, and Ethel, born in September 1889. Iva and Ethel resided with their mother and stepfather in Spring Lake in 1900. Frances and Thomas had one daughter, Maude, who was born April 12, 1904. Maude married a Mr. Hessmer and later resided in the family home at 210 East Exchange in Spring Lake, a structure that was built prior to 1900. Maude died in Spring Lake on July 5, 1980 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. At one time Thomas owned part of the Spring Lake Country Club property, and he donated the land for Spring Lake Cemetery. Thomas died in 1928. [Tribune article, “Wm. Hammond Is postmaster,” August 4, 1939.]

William Albert Hammond [1889-1953]
Born in Spring Lake on November 28, 1889, William was the son of Thomas and Cora Hammond. William was a bricklayer and a veteran of World War I. He served as councilman for five years prior to becoming village president from 1933 to 1938. During his terms a new Village Hall was erected, a sewage disposal plant was built, many unpaved streets were blacktopped, Savidge Street was repaved, and lights were installed along Savidge Street in the downtown area. Like his father, who was a substitute rural mail carrier for 14 years, William worked for the post office and became Spring Lake postmaster in March 1940, a post he held for 13 years. William, who died in 1953, resided in the family home at 210 East Exchange. [Tribune article, “Wm. Hammond Is postmaster,” August 4, 1939.]

William Shirley Hammond [1822-1872]

Shirley Hammond and his wife, Lucy Houghton, settled on a farm in Section 14 of Spring Lake Township as early as 1840. Lucy lived for awhile in Grand Rapids and then with the Kanouse family at Battle Point prior to her marriage to Shirley on July 26, 1840. They were married at the residence of Captain Harry Miller in Section 10 of Polkton Township [7851 Leonard Road]. By 1870 Shirley, a hotel keeper, had moved to the Village of Spring Lake. Born in England on August 15, 1822, Shirley was killed by a locomotive on August 18, 1872 and buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Lucy ran the business after her husband’s death. Lucy was born in Pennsylvania in 1822 and died in Spring Lake on October 21, 1896. Among their children, all natives of Michigan, were George, born in November 1842; Charles, born about 1844; William, born about 1846; Caroline, who was born on October 26, 1846 and married George Hammond of Spring Lake; and Harriet, who was born in August 1863 and married William Welch of Spring Lake. Charles advertised himself as a paper hanger and decorator. Hammond Street was named for this family, and Petty’s Bayou was at one time called Hammond’s Bayou.

George W. Hance [1874-1944]

Around 1900 George Hance owned a photography studio in Grand Haven. He was born in Michigan in May 1874. On November 1, 1899 in Olivet, Eaton County, he married Lillian [Lila/Leila] May Ives [Iver]. Also a native of Michigan, she was born in April 1871. They had a son, Kenneth G., who was born in California around 1904, and a daughter, Mary E., who was born in the same state about 1907. In 1910 the family lived in Detroit, where they remained until at least 1930. George died in Olivet, Eaton County in 1944 and was buried at Olivet City Cemetery. Lila had passed away in 1930 and was buried at the same cemetery.

Betsy [Betsey] Jenison Hanchett [1825-1901]

The sister of Lucius and Luman Jenison, Betsy was the last member of the well-known Jenison family, pioneers of Ottawa County, where she settled in 1835. Her husband, Benjamin Samuel Hanchett, lived from 1822 to 1903, and was listed in the 1870 census for Kent County and in the 1863 Business Directory as a tailor and merchant in Grandville. Their son, Benjamin Sawtell Hanchett, was noted as the young “electric road man” of Grand Rapids. Young Benjamin was born in Grand Rapids on October 1, 1869 and died on February 2, 1933 in his hometown. He was the first president of the Grand Rapids, Holland, and Lake Michigan Interurban, formed in 1901. Benjamin the father was buried with Betsy at Oakhill Cemetery in Kent County. Betsy, who was born in Connecticut in 1825, died in Grand Rapids on March 11, 1901. [Tribune obituary, March 12, 1901.]

John Palmer Hanchett [1820-1907]

On November 8, 1870 John Hanchett was named the first postmaster of West Olive, the same year the town was platted. He took office on November 1 that year. Born in Oswego, New York on June 18, 1820, he married Lucy Cole on December 24, 1868 in Allegan. She was born in New York in June 1838. By 1880 they had moved to Sacramento, California, where John passed away on January 17, 1907 and Lucy died on January 2, 1916. They were buried at Union Cemetery in Roseville, California. Their daughter, Edith, was born in California on May 3, 1878.

James G. Hancock [1859-1941]

James, the son of George and Joan Howard Hancock, was born in New York State in October 1856 and moved to Spring Lake with his parents around 1865. He worked at George Hancock & Son Wholesale Florists, owned by his father. For three years he was vice president of the Society of American Florists and a charter member of the American Carnation Society. James married Minnie L. [Belle] Franks, sister of James Franks. Minnie was born in Michigan in January 1859. The Hancocks’ children included Frances B., born in August 1888; Fannie B. H., born in July 1890; and Miriam, born in February 1893. James Hancock was listed in the 1893 Compendium as “gardener, florist.” James died in Dade County, Florida 19 1941. Minnie died ten years later. Both were buried at Miami City Cemetery.

John B. Hancock [1849-1881]

Born in England on April 5, 1849, John moved with his parents, George and Joan Howard Hancock, to Corning, New York. In about 1865 his parents came to Spring Lake, where his father had an interest in the Hopkins Sawmill. John worked in the mill, attended high school in Grand Rapids, and spent one year at the Michigan Agricultural College [MSU]. He took classes at Grand Rapids Business College, returned to Spring Lake, and was employed by Aloys Bilz as a bookkeeper and manager of the hardware store. He worked for the sawmill at Nortonville, which became White & Friant’s, and then worked for Haire, Savidge, & Cutler as bookkeeper and foreman of the shipping department. When Robert Haire sold his interest to Savidge and Cutler, John became a partner in the business. In 1876 he was named secretary of the company. He was a Republican and a member of the Royal Arcanum. He attended the Baptist Church.

On October 20, 1875 John married Ruth M., daughter of Rev. Hiram and Hannah Beckwith of Spring Lake. Ruth was born about 1850 in New Hampshire. The Hancocks’ son, Theodore, died at Gladstone, Delta County on January 9, 1900. A daughter, Elizabeth B., was born about 1879 in Grand Haven. John died on March 19, 1881 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1890 Ruth married Thomas A. Parish of Ferrysburg. [Tribune article, January 9, 1900.]

Frederick Melza Hannum [Hannen] [1843-1919]

At his funeral on June 4, 1919 Fred M. Hannum was remembered by many friends as a “good old citizen, whose obliging ways endeared him to all.” Fred was born in Southampton, Massachusetts on March 16, 1843. On September 3, 1862 he enlisted as private in Company D of the Massachusetts 37th Infantry. He was mustered out on June 21, 1865. After the war he moved west where he met and married Sarah Elizabeth Mason in Chicago on August 8, 1872. In 1902 the couple established themselves at Clarks Corners in Robinson Township, where 144th Avenue intersects Green Street. Fred carried the Rural Route 3 mail, and Sarah Elizabeth ran the small family owned Hannum General Store and owned 43 acres in Section 7. When his wife died in 1912 at the age of 58, Fred assumed duties at the shop. They were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. [From an article by Marjorie Viveen.]

Isaac N. Hannum [Hannon, Hannan, Harmon] [1832-1897]

Born in Ashland County, Ohio, on May 24, 1832, Isaac Hannum moved to Ditney Hill, Indiana, where he enlisted in Company K of the 143rd Indiana Infantry as private on February 7, 1865. He was mustered out on June 12 the same year. He then located on a 40-acre farm in Section 2 of Robinson Township. He died in the Township on August 14, 1897. Isaac never married.

David Hanrahan [1846-1911]

In the 1893 Compendium David Hanrahan was listed as an engineer, working with a railroad company. Earlier he was a fireman with the same company. He was born in May 1846 [1848] in Ireland and died in 1911. His wife, Catherine [Katherine] Shay, also a native of Ireland, was born on April 16, 1844 [1846/1850] and died in Grand Haven on February 7, 1935. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Michael, born in 1871; William A., who was born in 1873; Annie, born in May 1875 [1876]; John; David, who lived from 1878 to 1907; and Nellie, who was born in 1893. Michael, David, and John moved to Grand Rapids. In 1880 the Hanrahans resided on Howard Street, but by the early 1900s they had moved to 309 North Second.

William Albert Hanrahan [1873-1933]

Born in Grand Haven on July 15, 1873, William was the son of David and Catherine Shay Hanrahan. William Hanrahan was a delegate to the State Constitutional Convention when the state repudiated the 18th amendment [Prohibition]. He was a member of the Harbor Commission and the Duncan Park Board, and he was one of the organizers and secretary and treasurer of the Lorraine Manufacturing & Importing Company in Grand Haven, founded in 1915. He sailed for 17 years as Purser with the Crosby transportation line and was on the Naomi when it was destroyed by fire in mid-lake on May 21, 1907. William represented Grand Rapids Brewing Company, and he bought Edward Smith’s Saloon, located at 7 Washington, which he ran for seven years as the Silver Foam Beer Warehouse. He was a Democrat, a member of the Elks, and active in the Temple.

William married Marjorie Lisco on June 26, 1907 in Muskegon. They lived at 403 Howard Street in Grand Haven. Marjorie, who was born in 1886, was the daughter of Charles Henry and Mary Lisco. William and Marjorie were divorced in 1910. At the divorce proceedings, William announced the cause was “too much mother-in-law.” [Tribune article, November 8, 1910.] About 1915 William married Eleanor “Nellie” Fons, who died April 10, 1977 at age 83. He and his second wife had no children. William died at his home on Sherman Street on May 14, 1933 from angina pectoris and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, January 9, 1911, May 15, 1933, and February 8, 1935.]

Detleff Hendiech Hansen [1838-1910]

Born in Germany on April 30, 1838, Detleff Hansen came to Grand Haven about 1870 and was associated with James Barnes in the furniture and undertaking business for about 19 years. Later he went into business for himself, and for a number of years he operated a furniture and undertaking establishment in his building at the corner of Third and Columbus Streets. He and his wife, Johanna, had several children, including Julius, Emil H., Adele, and Albert C., all of Grand Haven. Johanna lived from 1843 to 1918. Detleff died at his home, 103 Third Street, on April 9, 1910. They both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, April 9, 1910.]

Emil H. Hansen [1869-1944]

Emil Hansen owned a barbershop at 28-32 Washington, although in the 1893 Compendium he was listed as a tinsmith. He called his place “Gossip Hall.” He continued as a barber into the 1930s. In the early 1900s he lived at 312 Clinton with his wife, Catherine, who was born in Michigan in June 1875. Their children were Marian A., born in Grand Haven in March 1899; Frances, born about 1906; Catherine, who was born in 1908; Dorothy, born about 1910; and Detleff, born about 1912. By 1930 the family resided at 408 Lafayette. Emil was born in Prussia in June 1869 and came to the United States when he was two. He died about February 11, 1944 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Catherine passed away about December 17, 1957 and was buried with her husband at Lake Forest.

Harold T. “Gus” Hansen [1904-1985]

Harold Hansen was born in Manistee on February 12, 1904. His parents were Anders and Ann Larson Hansen. On June 29, 1926, Harold married Florence Katherine Demmon in Grand Rapids. Born on April 2, 1905, she was the daughter of Elwood and Blanche Voorhees Demmon. After retirement, Harold and Florence resided at 122 Prospect Street in Grand Haven and owned a cottage nearby at 9 Grandview Avenue that they named Gutty-Sark. Florence’s parents owned a cottage at 6 Grandview named Bonheur, later owned by her aunt, Olivia Demmon Bryant. Harold died on December 14, 1985 in Grand Haven, and Florence passed away on January 26 the following year. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had a son, David, who resided in Ohio, but retained ownership of Gutty-Sark. David more recently lived at 15502 Coleman in Grand Haven Township.

Burton Sorenburg Hanson I [1883-1983]

Born in Chicago on August 17, 1883, Burton was the son of Hans Olaf and Marie Asserson Hanson. Hans was born in Trondheim, Norway in 1847 and came to Chicago as a cabinetmaker. He died March 27, 1924. Marie was born in Stavanger, Norway in 1847 and immigrated to New York to assist her uncle, Admiral Arthur Asserson. She died December 23, 1940. Burton was the third of four children. He joined Challenge Machinery Company in 1898 as an office and errand boy and moved with the company when it relocated to Grand Haven in 1903. Burton retired in 1951 after 50 years of service with the company, ending as director and secretary of the firm. He began subscribing to the Grand Haven Tribune in 1904 and continued it the rest of his life, including having the paper mailed to him in St. Petersburg, Florida in 1953 and to Garden Grove, California in 1963. He was the longest continuous Tribune subscriber at the time. Burton was noted for hitting a hole-in-one on the eighth hole at Spring Lake Country Club on August 18, 1935. He was a life member of the Shriners, Elks, Modern Woodman, Masons, Order of Eastern Star, Rotary International, Spring Lake Yacht Club, Exchange Club, Community Club, National Association of Printing Machinery Manufacturers, and War Production Board’s Industry Advisory Committee.

On October 14, 1903, in Spring Lake, Burton married Ruth Mae, daughter of Phillip Emanuel and Fannie Ott Watkins, formerly of Chicago. Phillip Emanuel also was employed at Challenge Machinery and had relocated from Chicago to Grand Haven. The Hansons lived at 1214 Franklin in the early 1900s. They had five children, all born in Michigan: Fanny Marie, who was born June 1, 1904 and married Louis Ellingson of Grand Haven; Ruby Eleanor, who was born about 1906, became assistant superintendent at the Shriners’ Hospital for Crippled Children in St. Louis and married Russell Chadwick of Spokane, Washington; Burton II, who was born about 1908, graduated from the Naval Academy in Annapolis in 1930, married Mary Margaret Gillen, had a daughter, Fair Elizabeth, and held the rank of Rear Admiral when he died in 1959; Dorothy Mae, who was born May 2, 1910 and married John C. Zuidema of Spring Lake; and Lester Olaf, who was born about 1914 and moved to Pasadena, California with his wife, Bettina, and their three children. Ruth Hanson died in 1963, and her husband died at Pacific Haven Convalescent Home in Garden Grove, California on September 19, 1983. [Tribune obituary, September 19, 1983 and biographical sketch, Citizens Historical Association, September 13, 1941.]

Benjamin Franklin “Frank” Harbeck [1870-1941]

Frank was born in Grand Haven, November 28, 1870, the son of Casper and Maria Harbeck. Frank graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1888 and after completing a course at a business college in Chicago, he went to work for the Challenge Refrigerator Company on Seventh Street [Beacon Boulevard]. During WWI he served with the Y.M.C.A. in France. He was secretary and treasurer at Challenge until his retirement in 1928. At the time of his death he was Director of the Grand Haven State Bank and a member and patron of the Tuesday Musicale, Spring Lake Country Club, and St. John’s Episcopal Church. Frank was organist at St John’s for many years. He was considered artistic and with his keen sense of interior decorating was asked to oversee the decorating of the Masonic Temple and to assist with decorating the City Hall, Elks Club, and Spring Lake Country Club. He never married, and lived many years with his sister, Minnie, at the family homestead at 520 Lafayette Street in Grand Haven. Frank died from a heart attack on June 9, 1941 at his home and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, December 21, 1906, February 4, 1935, and June 9, 1941.]

Casper Harbeck [1822-1877]

Casper Harbeck was born in Germany on June 1 [July 3], 1822 and died in Grand Haven on July 4, 1877. His parents were Hans and Catherina Harbeck. Casper was an early settler in Northwest Ottawa County. He married Maria “Mary” Mueller, who was born in Prussia in June 1827 and died on December 21, 1906. They left their native Bramstedt, Germany and came to the United States in 1851, settling first in Milwaukee and then becoming residents of Muir, the railroad town at the foot of Dewey Hill. It was there that their oldest son, Herman, was born on November 28, 1857. Their other children were Minnie, born in 1853; William Ferdinand, who was born in 1867 and on June 1, 1897 married Mary Isabelle Orr in Grand Haven; and B. Franklin, born on May 26, 1870. Casper was enumerated in the 1860 census as a resident of Spring Lake Township. The Harbecks were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Note: A passport application cited Denmark as Casper’s country of birth.]

Eugene Orr Harbeck I [1899-1986]
Born January 12, 1899 in Grand Haven, the son of William and Mary Harbeck, Eugene attended Lehigh University in Pennsylvania and received his bachelor’s degree from the University of Michigan. He worked at Challenge Stamping and Porcelain Company and later was Purchasing Agent for Eagle Ottawa Leather from 1929 until his retirement in 1962. He was a member of St. John’s Episcopal Church, Grand Haven Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, Spring Lake Country Club, Masons, and Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

On September 10, 1924 Eugene married Olive Hatton in Grand Haven. Olive, the daughter of William and Elizabeth Seaman Hatton, was born in Bayshore, Long Island, New York on June 22, 1900. Olive received her bachelor degree from Wellesley College in Massachusetts. She was a member of St. John’s Episcopal Church, served on the Grand Haven Public Library Board, was active in the Grand Haven Woman’s Club and had served as its president, and was a major contributor to the refurbishing of Hatton Park.

The Harbecks resided at 547 Slayton. Their children included Mary Elizabeth, who was born about June 1929 and married Richard Swain of St. Charles, Illinois; Eugene II, who was born on February 14, 1927; and Richard Hatton Harbeck, who was born on November 29, 1932 and moved to Birmingham, Oakland County. Eugene I died at a local nursing home on August 2, 1986 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Olive passed away in Grand Haven on April 21, 1997. Herman F. Harbeck [1857-1930]

Born on November 28, 1857 in the town of Muir, across the river from the foot of Washington Street, Herman was the son of Casper and Maria Mueller Harbeck. At the age of 18 Herman began teaching at Rosy Mound School and shortly thereafter started to work for the Cutler & Savidge Lumber Company, becoming secretary in 1881 after James Hancock’s premature death. In 1898, when the lumber business ceased to thrive, Herman went to work for Challenge Corn Planter Company in Grand Haven, which later became
In the early 1900s Herman was named president of that company. Herman served as president of Spring Lake Village in 1886 and he was elected mayor of Grand Haven in 1904 and 1905. He was a member of the Board of Trade and later director of the Chamber of Commerce; director of the Grand Haven State Bank and Spring Lake State Bank; and director and secretary of the Grand Rapids Varnish Company. Herman was a Republican and a delegate to the Republican National Committee that nominated Theodore Roosevelt for the presidency. He became captain of the Yates Light Infantry [Company F], when Captain Mower resigned. He was a member of the Masons, the Peninsular Club of Grand Rapids, the Voyagers of Detroit, and the Spring Lake Country Club.

On February 8, 1882 in Grand Haven, Herman married Mabel, the daughter of William Ruel and Mary Pratt Boynton of Grand Haven. Mary was born in December 1858. The Harbecks lived at 603 [608] Lafayette. They had a daughter Bernice, who was born in August 1887 and later moved to Spring Lake, and two adopted daughters: Abigail Weldon, who was born in Chicago on October 6, 1883 and married Martin [Mortimer] Bos of Grand Haven, and Ruth Weldon, who was born in Chicago in July 1887 and married Maurice C. Shannon of Gadsden, Alabama. Abigail’s and Ruth’s father, William Weldon, a medical doctor died about 1891. Herman passed away on October 17, 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Mabel died two years later on July 2 and was buried in the Boynton plot at the same cemetery. Bernice passed away about February 16, 1943 and also was buried at Lake Forest. Jervis [Jarvis] Ralph Harbeck [1878-1939]

Jervis, the son of Eugene and Emma Gray Wattles Harbeck, was born in Battle Creek, Calhoun County on March 26, 1878. His parents both were born in New York about 1850. Emma died in 1954 at the age of 105. Jervis attended the University of Chicago, where he studied architecture. He married Marjorie Ewing in Chicago on June 29, 1903. Marjorie was born in Illinois about 1882. She was the daughter of Adlai and Kate Ewing, also of Illinois, who maintained a summer home on Spring Lake called Glenewing. It was located in the Belle Point area at the northwest corner of Spring Lake, just north of Cornelius Bayou, not far from Jervis’s property. Jervis started his career in the mining business in Colorado. By 1903 he was Mechanical superintendent and treasurer of the Kemiweld Can Company in Detroit. Two years later he was general manager of Kemiweld. He also was director and treasurer of the Cresson Consolidated Mining and Milling Company in Cripple Creek, Colorado, a member of the Chicago Architectural Club, and the Detroit Boat Club. Jervis patented the “American Adding Machine” on August 27, 1912 in Chicago. In 1917 he was president of the Loew-Victor Engine Company in Chicago, and a year after that he was residing in New York City as president of American Can Company.

In the early 1900s Jervis hired Louis Sullivan [1856-1924] to design a summer home, which he built on the western shore of Spring Lake [3123 Judson Road]. Frank Lloyd Wright was one of Sullivan’s more famous students. An avid speedboat racer, Jervis around 1916 suffered a boating accident on Spring Lake in which a passenger was killed. Jervis and Marjorie had at least three children, all born in New York. The eldest was Catherine E., who was born in Michigan on November 18, 1905 and married Marion Moore. Marion was born in Nebraska in 1903. Catherine and Marion resided at 538 Lafayette in Grand Haven, where she died on December 28, 1973. A son, Adlai Ewing Harbeck, was born in New York on May 1, 1908, became a book illustrator, and died in Far Rockaway, New York in June 1981. A second daughter, Janeth [Janet/Annette], was born about 1916. Marjorie died on April 16, 1911. By 1918 Jervis was living in New York City with his second wife, Dorothy D. Living with them were his children from his first marriage. Dorothy was born in New York around 1892 and had been married previously. In 1930 Jervis was in the banking business. He died in 1939 in New York City.

Minnie Harbeck [1853-1935]

Minnie was born in Detroit, July 19, 1853 and came to Grand Haven in 1856 with her parents, Casper and Maria Harbeck. In her adult life, Minnie resided with her brother, Frank, at 520 Lafayette in Grand Haven. She died February 2, 1935 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.
William Ferdinand Harbeck [1867-1940]

William, the son of Casper and Maria Harbeck, was one of three brothers who helped make Challenge Refrigerator a major industry in Northwest Ottawa County. The other two were Herman F. and B. Franklin. Before joining Challenge, William was a traveling salesman. He married Mary Isabelle [Elizabeth] Orr in West Bloomfield, Oakland County on June 2, 1897. She was the daughter of James W. and Isabelle Spence Orr who lived, among other places, in Grand Haven. The Harbecks resided at 538 Lafayette Street in Grand Haven. William and Mary had a daughter, Mary Eleanor, who was born in Grand Haven on December 15, 1902. William lived from 1867 to 1940 and his wife from 1870 to 1934. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

William Harper [1842-1934]

Born in Great Oakley, Essex, England on November 21, 1842, William Harper served an apprenticeship in cabinet making, and then as a youth he joined the British navy and sailed the high seas for years. He came to Grand Haven in 1865 and was a carpenter at the Clark B. Albee Tannery, after which he started in business for himself as a builder. However, most of his life was spent as a book agent, traveling over 40 years from Maine to California. He reportedly called at the White House in Washington, D.C. wearing his customary flower in his lapel. The press mistook him for a preacher. William was one of the organizers of St. John’s Church in Grand Haven and was a great lover of nature. He was in charge of the gardens at the Eagle Ottawa Leather Company and was an annual exhibitor at the Grand Haven Garden Show. He was a member of the Masons [F. & A. M.], and Elks.

On June 8, 1869 in Grand Haven, William married Frances [Fannie] Lannigan, a dressmaker from Rochester, New York. They lived at 303 South Second Street in a home they called “Auld Lang Syne.” The decoration of the house and the yard in red, white, and blue attracted much attention. They had no children. Fanny was born in 1842 and died in 1919. William suffered a stroke and died July 8, 1934 in Grand Haven. At the time, he was writing the last lines of a poem entitled “With Banners,” which told of his philosophy in meeting death. It read, “Though I am beaten nobody shall know, I’ll wear defeat so proudly I shall go about my business as I did before. Only when I have safely closed the door against you and the rest shall I be free to bow my head—When there is none to see. Tonight I’ll shed my tears, tomorrow when I talk with you I will be gay again. Though I am beaten nobody shall guess for I will walk as though I know success.” He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituary, July 9, 1934 and Chronicle article, “William Harper, of GH, Man of Sunshine,” May 2, 1931.]

Raymond Harz II [1915-1996]

In 1938 Ray and Lorraine Harz of Chicago visited Grand Haven in search of a business. On August 1, 1938 they purchased the Hitching Post at 500 North Beechtree for $400 and opened it as the Highway [Hiway] Inn. After selling the restaurant to Merle Lass, the Harzes in 1960 opened Ray’s Drive In at 20 North Beacon. In January 2002, the family sold the drive-in to Steve and Rodney Vink. The new owners maintained the familiar look of the city’s oldest continuing drive-in. On October 16, 1937 Ray married Lorraine Kunstler in Chicago. She was born in Chicago on June 17, 1913 and passed away in Grand Haven on January 17, 2012. Ray was born on May 6, 1915, died in Grand Haven on August 19, 1996, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The couple resided at 15008 Lakeshore Drive and attended St. Patrick’s Catholic Church. Their children were Raymond Harz III of Grand Haven, Patricia Bodell of Portland, Oregon, James Harz of Pellkie, Baraga County, Joanne Stack of Grand Haven, David Harz of Grand Haven, Daniel Harz of Grand Rapids, Thomas Harz of Grand Haven, and Michael Harz, also of Grand Haven.
Joseph Hass [1893-1977]

Born in Poland on March 19, 1893, Joseph Hass married Mary Szlenk. Also a native of Poland, she lived from March 15, 1897 to December 23, 1997. They immigrated to the United States in 1913 and were married in Muskegon on February 6, 1917. Joseph and Mary had at least three children: Andrew, born about 1918; Josephine, who was born on March 19, 1922, married William Seibel, and died in Grand Rapids on June 30, 1977; Mary, who married Charles Grubham and moved to Grand Rapids; and Stella, who married Steven Humy and remained in Grand Haven. Among Andrew’s children were Al, born about 1951, and Steve, born about 1953. Joseph was a machinist, but he also worked at Eagle Ottawa Leather Company. The family resided at 2 North Beechtree Street. Joseph and Mary were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Burton Phillip Hatch [1868-1935]

Burton Hatch, who was born in South Boston, Massachusetts on January 8, 1868, moved with his parents to Lamont in Ottawa County at the age of five. By the early 1890s he was farming in Section 6 of Tallmadge Township. Burton was elected supervisor of Tallmadge Township, beginning in 1903, and was county commissioner from 1913 to 1914. In 1914 he took a position with the State Tax Commission, which he held until moving to Muskegon. On December 24, 1891, he married Sarah Adeline “Addie” Walkley, daughter of Dr. Wyllys Walkley, a Grand Haven physician, and sister of Carlotta Bailey Walkley Ewing of Grand Rapids and Grand Haven. In 1924 the Hatches moved to Muskegon, where Burton was named City Assessor. He died at his home in Muskegon on November 13, 1935. Among their children were Bernice, wife of Maurice Buck, County Surveyor, and Olive, wife of Gregg Maxfield, who was employed by the Brunswick Corporation in Muskegon. Adeline was born in Muskegon County on May 9, 1869 and died there on January 18, 1955.

Milo O. Hatch II [1836-1915]

Born in Plattsburgh New York in 1836, Milo was the son of Milo and Malinda Field Hatch. The older Milo was included in the 1850 census for Polkton Township. On August 11, 1862 Milo II went to Grand Haven to enlist as private in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry. He was discharged on November 14, 1865. He married Matilda Martin in Detroit on August 3, 1863. They purchased a farm in Section 22 of Robinson Township. Matilda died in December 1898. Milo passed away on January 8, 1915 and was buried at the Soldiers’ Home Cemetery in Kent County.

Dorothy Hatfield [1930-2001]

Dorothy Hatfield was proprietor of Papaw’s Patch, a restaurant located at 930 Robbins Road. The business closed and the building was razed to make room for the new Meijer Store, which opened in May 1999. Dorothy resided at 1430 Fulton Street. She lived from February 24, 1930 to November 22, 2001. Her husband, Herbert Hatfield, lived from June 30, 1930 to October 21, 2006. He died in South Lyon, Ionia County.

Bert Andrew Hathaway I [1878-1925]

As early as 1910 Bert Hathaway owned a 32-acre parcel in Section 1 of Spring Lake Township [approximately 18891 Fruitport Road]. The land included frontage on Spring Lake. Bert was born in Michigan on September 16, 1878 and lived in Grand Rapids as a youth. He married Mary Jane Wiseman, who was born on June 17, 1878 in Indiana. Bert, who became general manager of the John Widdicomb Furniture Company in Grand Rapids, died in Grand Rapids on December 14, 1925. They had two children: Bert A. II, born in 1912, and Mary F., born about 1915. Mary Jane died in Beverly Hills, California on March 14, 1954. Both were buried at Graceland Memorial Park and Mausoleum, and was their son, Bert II, who died in 1973.

Charles W. Hathaway [1825-1891]

Charles was the son of Nehemiah and Lucretia Ranney Hathaway. He was born in Ashfield, Massachusetts on April 15, 1825, and came west with his parents in the early 1830s. He lived for about four years in Spring Lake, where he was employed at the Hopkins Mill, and he also offered blacksmithing services: “All kinds of work in my line done with neatness and dispatch at my shop. Mill Point, Michigan.” [Grand River Times, December 14, 1853.] He left Ottawa County and moved to Grand Rapids, where he became known for production of cutting tools used in the lumbering industry. In 1856 he and a partner, Daniel Alcumbrack, purchased from William Gunn an edge-tool-making factory in Grand Rapids. Two years later he sold his interest in the Hathaway & Alcumbrack ax factory to Frederick T. Ranney, but by 1864 Charles was again a principal shareholder at the same plant and Ranney was gone. Six years later the company was turning out 240 axes per week, and about 1873 Charles again sold his interest in the company, this time to James B. Granger. In November 1846 Charles married Mary T., daughter of Addison Tracy of Grand Rapids. She was born about 1826 in Ohio. They had at least one child, Charles S., who was born locally about 1848. Charles died at Detroit February 22, 1891, where he had moved around 1873.

Flavius [Josephus] Hathaway [1815- ?]

Born December 5, 1815 in Charlemont, Franklin County, Massachusetts, Flavius [Josephus] was the son of William and Sela Briggs Hathaway [Harthowey], the brother of William II, and cousin of Nehemiah Hathaway, early arrivals in Ottawa County. Josephus settled in Crockery Township in 1839 and was included in the Ottawa County censuses for 1850 and 1860. His wife, Electa, was born in 1829 in Massachusetts. They were married in Montague, Massachusetts on November 3, 1845. Her family name also was Hathaway. Flavius and Electa had at least four children: Caroline, born in December 1849; Emma, born about 1853; William, born about 1856, and Frank, born in January 1860. At some point the family moved to Norton Township in Muskegon County, where Electa died on June 11, 1913. Flavius died before 1900.

Hiram R. Hathaway [Hatherway] [? - ?]

On October 24, 1835 Hiram Hathaway bought 160 acres in Section 5 of Robinson Township and 160 acres in Section 6. Three years later, on September 1, 1838, he purchased approximately 234 acres in Sections 6 and 17 of Robinson Township. William Butts and William Hathaway II also were involved in the purchase. On May 1, 1839 Hiram bought an additional 86 acres in Section 6 of Robinson and 160 acres in Section 33 of Crockery Township, and on February 12, 1856 he purchased another 85.8 acres in Section 6. No other reference was found in Michigan to Hiram Hathaway. Despite his substantial land purchases in Michigan, he may never have lived in the state.

Nehemiah Hathaway [1794-1844]

Born April 10, 1794 in Ashfield, Franklin County, Massachusetts, Nehemiah was the son of Josiah and Tryphena Newhall Hathaway [Harthowey] and cousin of William II and Josephus Hathaway. In 1832 Rev. Ferry visited his hometown of Ashfield and convinced Nehemiah, among other citizens, to make the five-month trip from Ashfield, through Canada and on to the Grand River Valley and Grand Haven. Nehemiah heeded the advice, and he and his family arrived at the mouth of Grand River on October 15, 1836. Nehemiah built his residence on Lot 133, the northeast corner of Second and Fulton Streets, and went to work as agent for the Grand Haven Company, founded by Rev. Ferry. Later he built a sawmill and bought acreage in Crockery and Spring Lake Townships. His business failed in 1840 and he moved his family to Wyoming Township in Kent County. [Everett cited his arrival in Wyoming as 1837-38.] Hathaway often was addressed as “colonel.”

On April 29, 1821 in Franklin County, Nehemiah married Lucretia Ranney at her parents’ home. She was born on June 17, 1796, the daughter of Samuel and Polly Stewart Ranney [Rauney] and brother of Frederick Ranney, an early Ottawa County settler. Stewart, who was born January 9, 1747, settled in Ashfield, Massachusetts with his wife, Polly Stewart. Polly was the daughter of Captain Robert and Mary Adams Stewart of Branford, Connecticut. In Grand Haven the Hathaways were charter members of the Grand Haven Presbyterian Church. Their daughter Caroline Lucretia Hathaway, who was born in Ashfield on March 10, 1822, married Clark Albee of Grand Haven. Their other children were Mary Stewart Hathaway [1823-1894], Charles William Hathaway [1825-1891], and Emily Agnes Hathaway [1827-1906].
Nehemiah died on September 11, 1844 in Grand Rapids, and Lucretia passed away in 1881 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Freeman, in Schoolcraft, Kalamazoo County. Lucretia was buried beside her husband at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Charles was their son. [Handwritten biographical sketch in the files of Loutit District Library.]

William Hathaway II [1806-1874]

William, who was born in Charlemont, Franklin County, Massachusetts, on November 18, 1806, was the son of William and Sela Briggs Hathaway [Harthowey]. William II and his wife Sarah arrived in Grand Haven in 1836 from Canada, accompanied by his cousin, Nehemiah. A brother, Josephus, arrived a few years later. William and Sarah moved from Grand Haven to the mouth of Crockery Creek in November 1839, where he farmed and did some lumbering. He went into partnership with William Butts to build the first sawmill in Grand Haven at the foot of Columbus Street. On September 1, 1838 Butts and Hathaway purchased approximately 234 acres in Sections 6 and 17 of Robinson Township. Hiram A. Hathaway also was part of the transaction. In addition, William owned about 360 acres in Sections 14, 15, 16, 22, and 27 of Crockery. William was elected to the first County Board of supervisors in 1838. The inaugural meeting of the county commissioners, as it came to be called, was held at William’s house on December 6, 1838, when he filled the role of secretary. The next year he moved to the town of Norton [Nortonville], in southeast Spring Lake Township [Section 23]. Between 1839 and 1845 he farmed, cut timber, and made shingles. William also was known for planting fruit trees in Crockery Township as early as 1849. In 1848 he was named postmaster of the Crockery Creek Post Office. A year later he became the township’s first supervisor, and in 1852 he was elected a county supervisor and judge of probate, a post he held for 12 years. He often was addressed by the title “Judge.” In 1860 he was a “Hotel Keeper” in Crockery.

William married Sarah S. Scott in Franklin County, Massachusetts, on November 1, 1828. In Ottawa County they lived at 11352 Leonard Road in a home occupied by the Roger Holmes family in more recent years. Roger Holmes was a descendant of William and Sarah. Sarah was born on June 22, 1804 and died on May 21, 1893, nearly 20 years after her husband’s death on September 21, 1874 [1871]. They both were buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery in Crockery Township. William III of Crockery Township was their son. By 1854 William II was judge of probate for the county.

Julian Burroughs Hatton I [1898-1952]

Born on December 16, 1898 in East Orange, New Jersey, the son of William and Elizabeth Hatton, Julian graduated from Harvard in 1920 and began work at Eagle Ottawa Leather Company on January 10, 1910. He became the company’s president, taking over when his father retired in January 1936. In 1939 he resigned his presidency to go into the finishing of leather with his brother-in-law, Edmund Ellis. They started the Hatton Leather Company in Grand Haven and erected a new building at 743 Park Avenue. Three years later Julian bought out Eagle Ottawa and combined operations. He also had interests in the American Hair & Felt Company, Clinton Carpet, and Dry Zero, all of Chicago. He was director of the Tanner’s Council; director of the Michigan Manufacturing Association as Grand Haven’s industrial representative; member of NRA code committee of the National Association of Manufacturers; and president of the Hatton Hospital board, spending much of his time in promoting the municipal hospital. Julian was a promoter of recreation for employees and created Hatton Recreation Hall, a $25,000 building for the Eagle Ottawa Athletic Association in Grand Haven and one in Whitehall, where the company had another tannery. Hatton was a supporter of St. John’s Episcopal Church.

On January 2, 1924 Julian married Grand Rapids resident Charline [Charlene] Stansbury Leonard, who lived from April 12, 1903 to October 22, 1987 and died in Grand Haven. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Charline was the daughter of Harry Carr Leonard of the Leonard Refrigerator Company family in Grand Rapids. Julian and Charline had three sons: William L. of Wellesley, Massachusetts, who was born locally on December 16, 1924 and died in Newton, Massachusetts on February 5, 1999; Julian B. II, who was born in 1927 and became president of Eagle Ottawa Leather; and Harry Leonard, who was born on August 2, 1931 and passed away on July 15, 2011 in Mequon, Wisconsin. In 1927 the Hattons built and resided in the

Julian Burroughs Hatton II [1927-2013]

The son of Julian B. and Charline Leonard Hatton, Julian II was born in Grand Rapids on June 6, 1927 but raised in Grand Haven. Julian did not anticipate a career in music, but apparently he had some latent talent. During the years of World War II qualified musicians were often difficult to locate, and at one point the West Shore Symphony Orchestra [West Michigan Symphony] lacked an oboist. Mrs. Hatton recruited Julian when he was in his mid-teens to fill the gap. That summer he attended Interlochen Arts Camp and spent six weeks learning the instrument so he could play during the ensuing season. Many years later Julian commented that he simultaneously had to learn French, because his oboe teacher was a native speaker of that language and knew little English. That experience engendered a life-long love of French food and culture. Julian played oboe during the 1941-42 season, and he was still playing with the symphony as late as 1955-56. During his years at Harvard, he played for Boston Pops and the Boston Symphony.

Julian graduated from Cranbrook Academy and served with the Navy in the post-WWII years. He attended Harvard University, where actor Jack Lemmon was his classmate. He graduated with a bachelor degree in history and later earned an MBA at the same institution. His father, Julian I, died in an automobile accident on August 3, 1952. Young Julian, at the age of 25, then took over leadership of Eagle Ottawa. Although the company was sold in 1961, Julian continued as president for another six years. At that point he co-founded a manufactured housing company named Stiles-Hatton. Later he purchased and operated Systel, a telephone equipment company based in Grand Rapids. Julian’s interests and commitments were varied, ranging from support of the Republican Party, to the Western Michigan Opera Association, St. John’s Episcopal Church, Elks, and Spring Lake Country Club.

On December 27, 1952, Julian married Beverly Joyce Verplank of Spring Lake. Joyce, the daughter of Vernon and Lydia Secory Verplank, was born in 1932. They lived at 1821 Doris Avenue in Grand Haven. Their marriage ended in divorce. On February 11, 1978 Julian married 48-year old Nancy Ellyn Grigware in Hennepin, Minnesota. At the time of his death on September 5, 2013, he left Nancy, who was born on February 3, 1930, a daughter Lydia, sons Mike, Fritz, Julian III, and Brett, and two stepdaughters, Tracey and Jamie Grigware. [Tribune obituary, September 7, 2013.]

William Hatton II [1864-1944]

One of eight children, William Hatton was born on a 60-acre farm near Dublin, Ireland, on October 4, 1864. His parents were William and Mary Jane Burroughs Hatton. In 1886 young William immigrated to New York City to be with his uncle, L. Z. Hatton. The one-way passage cost $24. His first job was as sales agent for the Brewster Carriage Company, and William then became a sales agent for the P. T. Howell Company. About 1910 [1911, 1912] William moved from Long Island, New York, to Grand Haven, to become general manager of the Eagle Leather Company. In 1916, under his leadership, the Grand Haven and Whitehall tanneries were combined under the name of Eagle Ottawa Leather Company. In 1913 William sold 87,000 hides to Ford Motor Company, but when the auto industry switched to cloth interiors in 1920, William turned to the manufacture of shoe leather, which brought a better price. William remained president of the company until he retired in January 1936. Upon his retirement, William filled the role of chairman of the Board of Directors and turned over the company’s leadership to his son Julian. In 1924 William was an alternate delegate to the Republican National Convention.

William was one of the organizers of the Community Chest, forerunner of United Way. He was named honorary president of the Ottawa Boy Scout Council. He was active in the Republican Party locally and statewide, and he chaired the Ottawa County Republicans for more than 16 years. He was a member of St. John’s Episcopal Church, where he was a vestryman for many years.
William and his first wife, Elizabeth Seaman, were married on June 5, 1895. They had several children, including Julian B., born in New Jersey on December 16, 1898; Olive, who was born in New York on June 22, 1900 and married Eugene Harbeck of Grand Haven; Kathleen, who was born in Bay Shore, New York on July 17, 1901 and married Edmund Ellis of Grand Haven; and Kathleen’s twin sister, Genevieve, who died about 1903. The Hattons’ residence was located for a short time at 614 Lafayette and later at 482 Sheldon Terrace, which they purchased from William’s uncle, Nelson Howlett. After Elizabeth’s death, William underwrote the cost of converting the former Loutit residence at 114 South Fifth Street to the Elizabeth Hatton Memorial Hospital. In 1923 he married Frances Whiting, who was born in Michigan around 1889 and graduated from Vassar in 1910. She taught in Grand Haven schools from 1910 to 1919, when she joined the faculty of Northwestern High School in Detroit. She returned to Grand Haven to marry William. Frances was chairman of the Ottawa County American Red Cross for 28 years and a member of the Hospital board from 1939 to 1946 and again from 1951 to 1958. William died on December 11, 1944 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Alvin G. Hayward [Haywood] [1846-1908]

On February 8, 1864 Alvin Hayward enlisted in Company F of the 2nd U.S. Sharpshooters as private. He was wounded at the Battle of Boydton Plank Road on October 27, 1864, during the Siege of Petersburg. On January 30, 1865 he transferred into Company H of the 5th New Hampshire Infantry. Alvin was discharged for disability on June 16, 1865. After the war he started farming 80 acres in Section 9 of Crockery Township. He was born in Concord, New Hampshire on July 4, 1846, died on March 3, 1908, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. On April 24, 1908 his wife Julia A. Hayward applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. Julia was born in Massachusetts around 1846; their surviving children were Ella, born in New Hampshire around 1868; Alta A., born around 1875; Delbert [Adelbert], born in 1877; Bertha R., born in July 1879; and Charles J., born in November 1883. The last four children were born locally.

Cecil Robison Heap [1882-1933]

The son of William and Sarah Jane Hanley Heap, Cecil was born in England on October 7, 1882. In the early 1900s he worked at his father’s business, William Heap & Sons, first located in Muskegon and later in Grand Haven. During WWI Cecil served with the medical corps in France. He married Mary Louise Bugat. By 1930 they and their three daughters resided on Liberty Street in Spring Lake. At that time, Cecil was a salesman for Heap & Sons, which went out of business two years later. He died in Daytona, Florida on March 4, 1933 and was buried at Oak Lawn Cemetery in Lake City, Florida.

William Heap [@1851-1929]

Heap & Sons Company, which manufactured plumbing supplies, opened in Grand Haven at the corner of Fulton and Hopkins Streets in 1907. William Heap was owner and general manager of the company, which produced plumbing supplies. About the same time, William was president of the Heap-O’Brien Mining Company with “Lead and Zinc Properties Located at Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory.” The reservation was located in Oklahoma.

William was born in England about 1851, and married Sarah Jane Hanley in Dublin, Ireland on February 12, 1875. She was born in Dublin in 1850 [1853]. The Heaps first made their home in England, before moving to Canada, and then to Muskegon around 1885. Their son, W. Lionel, served as mayor of Grand Haven in the mid-1930s. Sarah Jane died about August 7, 1918 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Buried with her were a son, Robert Reginald I, who was born in Ontario, Canada on September 15, 1884 and died in 1925; a grandson, Robert Reginald II, who lived from 1915 to 1937; and her mother, Emma Hall Hanley, who lived from 1819 to 1912. The Heaps other children were Kathleen, who was born in England on February 15, 1876; John Hall, who was born in England in 1877 and died two years later; Cecil Robison, [Tribune articles, “William Hatton Arrived in This Community 25 Years Ago Today,” January 10, 1935, “Mrs. Hatton Resigns from Local Board,” December 2, 1958, and “Resigns After 28 Years,” June 27, 1968.]
born in England on October 7, 1882; and Muriel Vera, who was born in Ontario, Canada on March 26, 1886. William and Sarah resided in Spring Lake. He died about July 27, 1929, while in France. [Chronicle obituary, August 9, 1918.]

William Lionel Heap [1880–1953]

In the early 1900s, Lionel Heap worked for his father as Business manager at the William Heap & Sons Company, manufacturer of plumbers' woodwork, which first was located in Muskegon and later in Grand Haven. On June 28, 1904 in Detroit Lionel married Mary Altha Robinson [Robison], who was born in Muskegon on April 7, 1908, and a daughter, Jane Eleanor, born in Muskegon on July 29 the next year. Lionel was mayor of Grand Haven from 1933 to 1934 and gave his approval to Chuck Bugielski’s enthusiastic request for $150 to fund a birthday party for the Coast Guard in 1934, the first of the annual Festivals. Lionel, who was born in Liverpool, England on July 23, 1880, died in Detroit on November 24, 1953 while visiting family. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Leroy Dewitt Clinton Heath [1829-1923]

Born in Oswego County, New York in July 1829, Leroy Heath came to Michigan in 1849, settling first in Battle Creek and Kalamazoo, and then in Rockford, where he lived with his aunt. The aunt’s husband, a Mr. Wetmore, was in the lumber business, and Leroy worked with him, learning the trade. Leroy came to Grand Haven in 1850 and worked for Gilbert & Company for six years. He was foreman at the Bell Sawmill in Spring Lake, then business manager of the Grand Haven Lumber Company, which was dissolved in 1886. He spent the rest of his working life tending to his real estate holdings in central Michigan. Leroy was Spring Lake postmaster from 1897 to 1901, when the office was situated in John B. Perham’s store. Leroy assisted in the formation of the Spring Lake State Bank and was one of its directors at the time of his death in 1923.

Leroy married Susanna Gross of Rockford in 1856. They lived in Illinois and Middleville [Lamont], Ottawa County, and moved back to Spring Lake in 1865. Their daughter, [May] Agnes, was born in Spring Lake on May 8, 1877. On January 14, 1896 she married William Trotter, also of Spring Lake. After Agnes and William died when quite young, the Heaths raised their grandson, Clinton Trotter. The Heaths resided at 312 East Savidge. Susanna became treasurer of Spring Lake Baptist Church. During the extensive fire of 1893 Susanna put all the church records in a covered pail and buried it in her vegetable garden to protect the historic papers from the flames. Susanna, who was born in Pennsylvania in March 1837 [1836], passed away in 1925 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Leroy, who died in 1923.

Thomas Hefferan [Hefferman] [1831-1915]

Born in Washington County, New York on July 28, 1831, Thomas Hefferan came to Michigan in 1842 [1840] and continued on to Eastmanville in 1848. His parents were Patrick and Mary Grogan Hefferan. Thomas was employed by Dr. Timothy Eastman for three years, then by Galen Eastman as clerk and manager of his timber business in Chicago. Later Thomas returned to Eastmanville and remained an employee of the Eastmans until he went into business for himself as a manufacturer and dealer in various kinds of lumber and farm wagons. In 1868 he sold land to be used as a site for a new Eastmanville school and purchased for $75 the land and building where the old school had stood. On January 1, 1865 in Lamont, he married Emily Amelia Kent Eastman, the widow of Mason Eastman. They had three children, including George, who was born in Eastmanville on April 19, 1866 and died on February 9, 1916; Mary, born on June 24, 1873, also in Eastmanville; and Thomas W., born in Polkton Township on July 22, 1876. Emily was born in Vermont on March 19, 1831 and passed away on October 28, 1910. In October 1889, Thomas moved to Grand Rapids, where he became president of Peoples Savings Bank. He died on January 31, 1915. Thomas, Emily, and George were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Ernest Hein was born in Germany on April 24, 1842 and immigrated to the United States when he was 16. At the time of the Civil War, he was living in Massachusetts. On August 24, 1861, he enlisted as private in Company H of the 18th Massachusetts Infantry. He was discharged honorably with a disability on September 7, 1863. On February 22, 1898 he married a widow, Maria [Mary] Drescher [Drischer/Treasher], who was born in Austria about 1858 and arrived in the United States in 1890. She brought two children to the marriage: Annie Drescher, born in August 1891, and Franklin Drescher, born in March 1892. In 1900 Ernest and his family were living in Grand Haven Township, where they had a farm. Annie died in 1901 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. At the time of his marriage to Maria, Ernest was earning his living as a tailor. Ernest died on May 21, 1902 and was buried at Lake Forest.

Irene Marie Ruster Heinritz [1935-2016]

On December 30, 1983 in Grand Haven, Irene married John Heinritz. John founded H & H Enterprises in Grand Haven in 1983 and served as president. Robert Lee House, vice president, was co-founder of the company, located at 16828 Hayes Street in Grand Haven Township. The company specialized in gymnasium bleachers and fluorescent lighting. Irene and John resided at 15937 O’Brien Court in the township before moving to 17183 Burkshire, also in the township. Irene, who was born on October 4, 1935, worked for Gardner Denver in Grand Haven until it closed permanently in 1982. Her mother, Irene Johnson Ruster, died from childbirth complications on October 4 at Mercy Hospital in Muskegon. Irene’s father, Maurice Ruster, married Pearl Nielsen. Irene died on March 23, 2016 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Irene had three children: Gayle and Bradley of Grand Haven and Christopher of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

In the 1920s Carl bought one of Witt’s drugstores, this one located at 1125 Washington. He sold the business in 1952 to Clifford Pfaff, who changed the name to Pfaff’s Pharmacy. On May 5, 1911 in Grand Haven, Carl married Anna Clara Ott, who was born on August 16, 1891, graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1909, and died in Grand Haven on October 21, 1974. In 1930 the Hetzels resided at 509 South Seventh, but later moved to 15127 Lakeshore Drive. Their children were Flora, born about 1912, and Vivian, born about 1918. Carl died on July 7, 1960. He and Anna were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Hugh Heward [? -1803]

In the late 18th century, Hugh Heward paddled a canoe across most of the State of Michigan, primarily on the Grand River and into Lake Michigan. His well-documented journey started in Detroit and headed west across the lower peninsula in his canoe and portaging where necessary. Eventually he found the Grand River and paddled downstream. At that time of his trip he was clerk and bookkeeper for William and David Robertson in Detroit. Toward “Sun Set” on April 27, 1790 he beached his canoe near the mouth of the Grand River. As Hugh recorded in his journal:

“Tuesday Ap1 27th 1790 Embarked after getting some Sturgeon & passed a plain to the East in about an Hour where it appears to be a wintering place the River still larger & a good smooth Current but a North Wind strong against us the Course West & the River larger & larger to the Mouth & surrounded with Pine on all Sides with Meadows & small Lakes & very wide at the Entrance of the Lake where we arrived at Sun Set & found Mr. Langlade who appear’d to be very friendly & promised to get me some Gum. Encamped on the other [north] Side there being many Indians with him. Wednesday Ap1 28th 1790. Got from Mr. Langlade Gum for 20/ [shillings] & gave him an Order on G. Meldrum Exchanged with him two Bushels of unhull’d for hull’d Corn & setoff the Wind North & by West under Sail but before Mid Day the Wind forced so as to oblige us to put into the River a [at] Barbu [Pigeon Creek or Black River] & with Difficulty got in & got some Sprays of the Swells & we there camped & unloaded to [the] Gum the Cannots [canoes]. Mr. Langlade says he has 15 Men & we saw several Cannots as he was prepairing to set off for Michl [Michilimackinac] . . .”
Fur trader Charles Langlade had a post near the foot of present-day Washington Street. Hugh needed the “gum” to patch his canoe, and he bartered with the fur trader for other supplies. He left his campsite at the mouth of the Grand River the next day to complete his journey to the south tip of Lake Michigan.

Hugh died in June 1803. [“Hugh Heward’s Journal from Detroit to the Illinois: 1790,” part of the John Askin papers on file at the Detroit Public Library.]

Bruce A. Hewitt [Hewett] [1871-1918]

In 1900 Bruce Hewitt ran a saloon that bore his name at 1 Washington Street. The establishment was owned by the Muskegon Brewing Company. Bruce, who lived from 1871 to about April 2, 1918, was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He married Nellie May Ross in Holland on December 9, 1913.

George W. Hewitt [Hewett] [@1847- ?]

Born in New York about 1847, George Hewitt was working in a Benzie County sawmill as early as 1870. He joined Boyden & Akeley’s Shingle Mill in Grand Haven in 1879 and became a saw filer in 1881. His first wife, Charity, was born in New York about 1846. They had a daughter Hattie, also a native of New York, where she was born around 1868. George’s second wife, Jennie Gould, was born around 1855 in Wisconsin, and was listed with George in the 1880 Federal Census as a resident of Grand Haven. They lived in a boarding house on Third Street, operated by Herbert and Ellen Ballgoyen. A son Charles was born in Benzie County on April 28, 1873 and died on November 21 the same year. The Hewitts’ daughter Gracie was born in Grand Haven on September 1, 1880. She married George F. Seek in Kalispel, Montana on December 15, 1898.

Maynard Heyboer I [1910-1990]

The Grand Transformers Company in Grand Haven was established in 1948 by Maynard Heyboer I, Kenneth C. Retzlaff, and O. C. Retzlaff. The first plant was located at 232-234 Washington, but later was moved to 1500 Marion. Maynard was born April 14, 1910 and died September 15, 1990. He married Anna Lydia Weigl in Grand Haven on July 20, 1933. Anna lived from February 3, 1910 to July 1995. She and Maynard were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their home was at 14230 Lakeshore Drive. They had a son, Maynard II “Bud” Heyboer.

Frank Heyer [1864-1935]

Frank Heyer was born in Buffalo, New York [Ohio] on July 1, 1864. On October 18, 1892, he married Cora Webb [Peck] in Lucas, Ohio. She was born in Pennsylvania in May 1872. Frank and Cora had a daughter Alice, who was born in Ohio in July 1896 and married a Mr. E. Pepper. While living in Toledo, Ohio around 1900, Frank worked as a printer. Ten years later he was listed as a widower and osteopath with an office in Muskegon. On March 4, 1909 in Clearfield, Pennsylvania he married Dora Steele. He and Dora moved to Spring Lake sometime after 1920. Dora had been married previously and had a son, Robert Steel, who was born in Pennsylvania about 1894. Frank died on November 11, 1935. Dora passed away before 1920. [Tribune obituary, November 12, 1935.]

Betty Kathryn Olsen Hickey [1918-2005]

The daughter of George L. and Kathryn Dickinson Olsen, Betty was born in Grand Haven on March 7, 1918. Her first husband, Donald James Misner, was born on November 5, 1917, died on December 1, 1940, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Donald and Betty had a son, Charles D. Misner, who resided in Grand Haven. Betty married Fredric Ernest Hickey in Grand Haven on December 3, 1948. He was born on October 23, 1915 and died on May 31, 2001. Betty graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1935 and attended Michigan State University. She was librarian at Central Elementary School and Children’s Librarian at Loutit District Library. She was a member of St. John’s Episcopal Church, where she taught Sunday School and was active with the Altar Guild. She was a member and president of the American Legion Charles Conklin Post Auxiliary. The Hickeys had four children: Ann E Hickey of Muskegon, born about 1950; Mary E., who married Charles Gren and moved to Fruitport; Fredric E. Hickey II, born about 1951; and Nora F.
Hickey, who was born about 1952 and remained in the Grand Haven area. The Hickeys resided at 14451 160th Street in Grand Haven Township. Betty passed away in Grand Haven on January 15, 2005. The Hickeys were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 19, 2005.]

John V. Hickmott [Hicknott] [1820-1900]

John Hickmott was the first pastor of the new Congregational Church in Grand Haven, built at the northwest corner of Sixth and Washington Streets, later the site of the Grand Haven Fire Department [525 Washington]. It was dedicated on May 12, 1874. The first church, located at 134 Washington, burned down in 1868. Rev. Hickmott was born July 8, 1820 and died May 14, 1900. A son, William J., graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1877.

Albert “Finny” Hicks [1851-1882]

On May 11, 1871 in Grand Haven, Albert “Finny” Hicks married Helen J., daughter of Virgil and Celeste Bennett. Albert was born in Rawford, South Carolina in 1851. The 1870 census listed a Finny Hexin, who was born in Kentucky about 1854, another domestic in the Leggat homestead. Although their relationship was not stated, Finny and John probably were brothers. John does not appear in later records for Ottawa County, but Finny does. By 1880 Finny was an engineer and worked for such local lumbering companies as Squier & White and White & Friant. Finny and his family were residing on Franklin Street at the time of the 1880 census. On October 26, 1882 he fell off the passenger boat on which he was engineer and drowned near Pentwater. [Another report said he drowned in White Lake.] His wife, Helen, was born in Delhi, New York [Delaware] on July 1845 [1847]. She was the daughter of Alfred and Louisa Bennett, who moved to Grand Haven sometime in 1845. Finny and Helen had at least three surviving children, all born in Grand Haven: James Edward, born on April 18, 1872; Bertha, James’s twin, died on April 27, 1890, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Emerson, born on March 6, 1876; and Blanche Nellie, who was born on January 30, 1879, married Isaac H. Coats [Coates] of St. Louis, an African American, in Grand Haven on April 28, 1915. She later married a Mr. McNeal of Muskegon Heights. Isaac, who worked as a teamster, was born about 1881 in Missouri. On September 10, 1884 Helen married Hezekiah Smith in Grand Haven. Apparently they were divorced, because on September 8, 1894, Hezekiah married another woman and Helen resumed use of the Hicks name. She died on December 1, 1921 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Albert.

Edward O. Hicks [1872-1905]

See James Edward Hicks.

Emerson [Emmerson] Hicks [1876-1936]

In the early 1900s Emerson, the son of Albert and Helen Bennett Hicks, was a teamster at Henry Sprick’s livery stable in Grand Haven. Later he was employed at Eagle Ottawa, where he suffered a permanent arm injury on one of the machines. He became a truck driver at Eagle Ottawa and worked there for a total of 25 years. He lived at 1208 Franklin with his mother and sister, Blanche Coats, and remained in the house until at least 1930, although by 1918 Helen had moved to Muskegon. By 1930 he was living in the house alone. Emerson died in Muskegon Heights on March 13, 1936 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He had recently moved to the Heights with his sister, Blanche. Emerson never married. [Tribune obituary, March 14, 1936.]

The son of Albert and Helen Bennett Hicks, James Edward married Olie [Wyatie] A. Watts [Wats] in Grand Haven on July 3, 1901. Olie, born about 1878, was from Byron Center. Her father’s name was John Watts. After James’s father died when he was about 10, he lived with Dr. John N. Reynolds of Grand Haven for many years. James was a local representative to an Equal Rights convention that met in Grand Rapids on April 10 and 11, 1894. He started work for Grand Haven Leather Company [Eagle Ottawa] about 1895 and was promoted to Engineer, a position he held at the time of his death. The Hicks family home was on Fulton Street at the time of James’s death. He was elected Constable of his Ward several times, according to the Tribune. James died of pneumonia on June 5, 1905. James was survived by his wife and a son, Kennets [Kenneth] Albert Hicks, who was born on June 27, 1902. No definite information was uncovered of James’s widow and son, although a Kenneth Hicks, born in Michigan about 1903, was living in an orphan’s home in Chicago in 1910. Ten years later he was still residing in Chicago, this time in a household with Viola McGhee listed as his mother and John A. Watts listed as Viola’s father. Viola was born in Michigan about 1879 and would seem to be the woman James Edward Hicks married in 1901. The three were noted as being Mulatto. [Tribune obituaries, June 5 and June 7, 1905.]

Andrew Uitermarkt Hieftje [1895-1969]

Born in Grand Haven on August 11, 1895 [1896], Andrew was the son of Louis [Lewis] and Jennie Hieftje. Louis died about February 28, 1921 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Andrew opened a meat shop at 7 North Seventh Street and then moved to 15 North Seventh, where he operated the Central Food Market. Andrew married Lillian V. Saunders in Grand Haven on January 16, 1909. She was born about 1892. By 1928 Andrews resided at 725 Columbus, where his mother also lived after her husband’s death. She died around April 21, 1947 and also was buried at Lake Forest, as was Andrew, who died about March 26, 1969.

Jacob Hieftje [1863-1941]

Jacob Hieftje, a Grand Haven builder and contractor, lived at and ran his business from 15 North Sixth Street and in the early 1900s from 434 North Seventh. In the 1893 Compendium he was listed as “Carpenter.” Jacob married Elizabeth [Elisabeth] Verberkmoes in Grand Haven on April 23, 1884. She was born in Goes, The Netherlands on October 10, 1863 and passed away in Grand Rapids on January 31, 1932. Her parents were Adriaan and Dirkje Schippers Ver Berkmoes. Jacob was born in Zeeland Township, Ottawa County, on September 10, 1863 and died in Grand Haven on March 30, 1941. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children were Gertrude, born in October 1885; Andrew, who was born in November 1889 and eventually moved to Detroit; Daisy E., born in July 1892; and John Frederick [Frederick John], born on June 29, 1896.

John Frederick [Frederick John] Hieftje [1896-1964]

Fred Hieftje opened the 12-unit Grand Motel in 1951 at the corner of Hayes Street and Lakeshore Drive. He advertised it as “Western Michigan’s Finest Ultra Modern Motel.” Fred, the son of Jacob and Elizabeth Verbergmoes Hieftje, was born in Grand Haven on June 29, 1896 On October 10, 1915 in Lansing, he married Nellie Richardson. Born on January 4, 1894 in Robinson Township, she was the daughter of William and Elva McMillan Richardson. In 1940 John was a life insurance salesman. He, Nellie, and their four children resided at 633 Franklin Street. The children were Frederic Garth Hieftje, 17 years old; Marion R., 15; Carol E., 12; and Nellie J., 8. Also in the household in 1940 was James Richardson, 24 years old, Nellie’s son. Nellie died on May 31, 1951 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. John died on October 9, 1964 and was buried at Lake Forest.

Martin Hiemstra [1900-1949]

Martin Hiemstra was born in The Netherlands on September 2, 1900 and came to the United States in 1912. A woodworker, he settled in Grandville and opened a business called Hiemstra Wood Products. He married Hattie Ratterink in Georgetown on November 9, 1916. She also was born in 1900. On June 5, 1949 Martin was killed in an accident in Spring Lake but was buried at Grandville Cemetery.

Arthur “Roy” Hierholzer [1911-1995]

Arthur Roy, the son of John Joseph and Susanna Shuey Hierholzer, was born in Grand Haven on February 8, 1911. On October 6, 1934 he married Pearl Landon, who was born in Manistee on September 23, 1912 and died in Grand Haven on October 26, 1997. Roy was Grand Haven postmaster and a supporter of the Democratic Party. Roy passed away on May 16, 1995. He and Pearl were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Edward was born in Vriesland, near Zeeland on April 12, 1859. He was the son of Simon R. and Maria Ullberg Hofma and brother of Martin, Betje, Lawrence, Sybella, Agnes, Effie, and Clara. Simon and his family lived on a 60-acre farm in Zeeland on the southeast corner of Perry and 64th avenue. Edward attended Holland Academy [Hope College] from 1878 to 1881 and graduated from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1884. He practiced in Spring Lake and Grand Haven. He took a special course of study with Dr. Robert Koch [1843-1910] at Berlin in 1892 and visited hospitals in Vienna, Heidelberg, and Leyden. He was granted his request to join Walter Wellman’s expedition to the North Pole in 1898 with Dr. Robert Koch [1843-1910] at Berlin in 1892 and visited hospitals in Vienna, Heidelberg, and Leyden. He was granted his request to join Walter Wellman’s expedition to the North Pole in 1898-99 as the group’s physician. The expedition fell 565 miles short of its goal. In 1899 Edward again studied in Paris and London. He was one of the original members of the Duncan Park Board of Trustees and worked at conservation, being one of the first to plant trees on Dewey Hill. In 1907, he was on the Board of Education and served as its president from 1913 to 1914. From 1914 to 1916 he was a state senator. Edward was one of the founders of Peoples Savings Bank, and he was president of the bank from its start in 1910 until his death. Edward was one of the founders of the Ottawa County Medical Society, and he was elected by his fellow physicians as the first doctor to serve on the Board of Trustees of the new Elizabeth Hatton Memorial Hospital, organized in 1919.

On June 30, 1886, Edward Hofma married Elizabeth Pruim of Spring Lake. Edward and Elizabeth had no children but raised Katie Feringa as a daughter and for many years cared for Isaac Dowlyn, Elizabeth’s stepbrother, and Mary Dowlyn, her stepsister. Elizabeth was born in Spring Lake [then Mill Point] on November 17, 1859, the daughter of Peter and Maria Regina Louis Pruim. Peter was an early immigrant who worked as a day laborer. He died when she was two years old, and her mother married a widower, Abraham Dowlyn, who had two sons. Maria and Abraham had seven more children, including Isaac and Mary. The Dowlyns lived in a rented house near Summit and River Streets in Spring Lake. Elizabeth graduated from Spring Lake High School, was certified to be an elementary teacher in 1882, and joined the Spring Lake School system. In 1891, five years after marrying her physician husband, she graduated from Northwestern University Medical School. After working as assistant to the chair of Gynecology at Northwestern, she returned to Grand Haven in 1893 and became the area’s first female doctor.

The Hofmas, especially Elizabeth, were active in civic affairs and contributed to community improvement, urging development of parks, tree lined streets, pure water, and sewerage systems. She was instrumental in establishing a local library, served on the library board from 1913 to 1933, and supported the construction of the Carnegie Library building on Third Street, which opened in 1914. In 1917 she served as the first director of the newly chartered Ottawa County Chapter of the American Red Cross.
On May 26, 1934, the Hofmas deeded 40 acres on Ferris Street to Grand Haven Township, which was named Hofma Park. Dr. Hofma died on December 15, 1936, and his wife died at her home on Washington Street, two years later, on July 2, 1938. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Hofmas provided sufficient funds to establish an endowed chair of Biology at Hope College. The Hofma Trust was set up in 1936 to care for the remaining family members and after the death of Katie in 1960, the trust was to be dispersed over a 20- to 25-year period to “causes that would likely have interested the Hofmas.” Over the years the grants ranged from a few hundred dollars to many thousands. Many were one-time grants, while others became annual affairs. With the exception of help given to various Michigan colleges, the money largely stayed in the Tri-Cities area. The final money was dispersed in 1985. [Tribune obituaries, July 2, 1938, July 6, 1938 and December 16, 1936, and Tribune article, “Hofma Heritage Told in Book,” July 30, 1984, and The Hofmas, Edward and Elizabeth, 1859-1938.”]

Richard Hofman [@1873- ?]

Born in Joliet, Illinois on April 16, 1841, Harry was the son of Louis M. and Elector Edmunds Holcomb. The Holcomb family resided in Wisconsin before moving to the Grand Haven area. Harry enlisted on June 17, 1861 in Company E of the 7th Wisconsin Infantry as a Wagoner. He was wounded at the Battle of Gainesville, Virginia, on August 28, 1862 and was discharged for disability on July 6, 1865 with the rank of corporal. Harry and his family were in the Grand Haven area by 1880. He died of Bright’s Disease at his father’s home near Rosy Mound on February 20, 1900. He married Anna [Maria] M. Cook in Hancock, Wisconsin on October 31, 1866. On March 5, 1900 she applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. Anna was born in Vermont about 1845. Harry was a farmer in Grand Haven Township. Their children were Bertha, born about 1868; William, born around 1870; Frank, born around 1874; Harry, born about 1876; Anna, born around 1878. Frank was born in Michigan; the other children all were born in Wisconsin. [Tribune obituary, February 21, 1900.]

Locksley E. Holcomb [1857-1905]

The son of Calvin and Geneva Sophia Perkins Holcomb, Locksley was born in Michigan on August 26, 1857. He married Lavina Becket of Canada on May 17, 1879. Locksley, who was a railroad station agent, died April 9, 1905 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Lavina, who was born on March 22, 1857, died on September 28, 1919 and was buried with her husband.

Louis M. Holcomb I [1814-1904]

Born in New York on March 4, 1814, the brother of Charles Holcomb of Connecticut, Louis moved to Illinois as a newly married man. He was a stonecutter by profession and followed the trade at quarries near Joliet, Illinois. He became a partner and friend of Eben [Ebenezer] F. Mansfield, who in 1870 was residing in Grand Haven. The pair entered various enterprises, including participation in construction of an Illinois canal. Eben Mansfield was the father of Frederick A. Mansfield of Grand Haven. Louis then went to Wisconsin and became a timber locator employed by Senator Philetus Sawyer [1816-1900]. Louis was a close friend of Alexander Juneau, the French trader whose name was linked with Wisconsin history. Louis ran a hotel and gristmill in Hancock, Wisconsin. In the 1870s he came to Grand Haven Township, where he settled on 45 acres in Section 32, stretched along the Lake Michigan shoreline, and raised fruit.

On February 4, 1838 Louis married Elector [Electha] Edmunds, who was born in New York in April 1817 and died about October 18, 1912. Their children included Emma E., who was born in New York in December 1838 and died about August 5, 1919; Henry “Harry” E., born in Illinois on April 16, 1841; William L., who was born in Wisconsin about 1845; and Louis II, who died at Gettysburg [not verified by service records]. Louis I died on November 18, 1904 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Holcomb Hills, south of Grand Haven, was named for this family. [Tribune obituary, November 18, 1904.]

He died in 1909 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Kent County with his wife, Martha C., who lived from 1833 to December 25, 1901.

Friedrich “Fred” Wilhelm [Willelm] Holman [Hollman, Hoellmann, Hallman] [1859-1897]
Fred Holman was born in 1859 in Germany. He married Amelia Cards, who was ten years younger, and the couple immigrated from Germany in 1883. They settled in Grand Haven, where Fred’s cousin, Charles Holman, resided. Fred worked as a farm hand and a sailor. He and Amelia were members of St. Paul’s German Lutheran Church. They had a daughter, Minnie, who was born on April 11, 1883 and died on August 31, 1886. Amelia died on November 12, 1887 during childbirth. She and the stillborn baby were buried next to Minnie. Fred left Grand Haven to move in with a brother named Julian Holman in Ripon, Wisconsin. Fred married Augusta “Gusta” Pauline Rohde in Grand Haven on August 9, 1888. Gusta was born in Germany on November 27, 1868. The couple settled in Princeton in Green Lake County. On June 3, 1889 the couple had a daughter, whom they named Minnie Augusta after Fred’s first daughter. On July 16, 1891, their second child was born, a son named Herman August Holman. In 1892 Fred left his second wife and two children. In early 1897 he was arrested and convicted of the murder of Wiebke Geddes, the wife of Fred Geddes, and was a suspect in several other murders. Fred was executed on May 14, 1897 at the Ford County jail house in Paxton, Illinois. Following his execution, this hand-written poem was found in his cell:

My name is Frederick Hoellmann,
I come from a far off country,
Which follows the river Rhine,
To America I journeyed
In honest to toil,
And now they gonna hang me,
And raise a great turmoil.
On 14 day of May
When flowers are in bloom,
Between sunrise and sunset,
I must meet my final doom.
They said I did a murder,
but that I will deny . . . .

On February 5, 1903 in Princeton, Wisconsin Gusta married Herman Boetcher. In the marriage papers her name was given as Auguste Hallman Rode. She died in Ripon, Wisconsin on January 3, 1945 and was buried at Woodlawn Cemetery in Ripon. [Thanks to Kevin Collier for much of Fred’s biography.]

Mary Agnes was born in Grand Haven on July 3, 1873 and died on January 24, 1962 in Detroit. The Honners had three children: George Edward, who was born on December 8, 1896 in Essex, Ontario and died in California on July 28, 1972; Winifred, who was born in Milwaukee on July 6, 1899; and William McKinley, who was born in Grand Haven on September 6, 1901 and died on February 9, 1974 in Detroit. The Honners returned to Grand Haven about 1911. George was a Great Lakes ship’s captain.

Thomas Honner I [Honor, Honnor] [1845-1905]

Thomas, born in Coburg, Ontario, Canada on March 2, 1845, was the son of Edward and Maria Howard Honner. Edward was born in Ireland on August 28, 1798 and Maria was born in the same country in 1811. After settling for awhile in Utica, New York, the Honner family moved to Canada. In 1862 Thomas started his career as a sailor aboard the schooner Narragansett and followed that profession for the rest of his life on the Atlantic and the Great Lakes. He became captain of the Wisconsin, owned by the Detroit & Milwaukee Railroad until it was sold in 1896 to the Crosby Transportation Company. In April 1898, Thomas was named a United States inspector of hulls, with an office in Grand Haven. He married Elizabeth Duffy of Milwaukee. She was born there in November 1868 and died in Grand Haven after her husband’s death. They resided on Columbus Street and had at least five children: Isabelle [Belle], born in Milwaukee in October 1887; Thomas II, born in Michigan in June 1896; Doris, born in Grand Haven in March 1898; William M. “Bennie,” born in Grand Haven in 1900; and Elizabeth. Thomas lost his life when the Owen sunk in Lake Superior on November 28, 1905. His nephew, George William Honner, married Mary Agnes Maher of Grand Haven.

Peter Hook [1873-1944]

Peter Hook’s farm was located in Section 18 of Allendale Township, where he settled in 1886. He was born in The Netherlands in 1873. On February 18, 1913 in Grand Haven, he married Marie Cornelia Schult. Marie [Mary], was from Canada, where she was born about 1884. She died in 1968 and was buried at Allendale Township Cemetery with Peter.

Eric R. Hoover [1893-1963]

Born in Hamilton, Canada on February 28, 1893, Eric was the third of four children of Byron and Florence Roop Hoover. His father, Byron, was associated with a street railway company in Canada and died in 1922. His mother, Florence, who was born in Ontario, Canada moved to Cleveland, Ohio. Eric attended business college and was variously employed until 1912 when he became associated with Otis Steel Company of Cleveland. In 1914 he became purchasing agent for the Oldsmobile Motor Works of Lansing. From February 15, 1921 to August 1, 1927 he served as Associated Purchasing Agent for the Pontiac Motor Company, and then Purchasing Agent for the Franklin Motor Company until 1931. Eric next became a sales agent in the Detroit office of the Otis Steel. In November 1936 he was assistant general manager at the Oldberg Manufacturing Company in Detroit. In June 1937 the company was moved to Grand Haven, and in February 1938 Eric was named vice president and general manager of Oldberg. He was an independent in politics and a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Spring Lake Country Club, and Citizens Historical Association. Eric retired from Oldberg in 1958.

On January 24, 1916 in Lansing, Eric married Eva, born on September 14, 1892 at Smith’s Falls, Canada. She was the daughter of Edward and Annie Drouchen. The Hoovers’ children included Eric Joseph, who served as assistant chief inspector of Oldberg Manufacturing. Eric Joseph was born October 18, 1916 and died November 29, 1980 in Muskegon. Another son, Edward, was born April 29, 1918 and graduated from the University of Notre Dame. The Hoovers also had a daughter, Helena Catherine, who was born April 30, 1922, and a third son, Richard Charles, born January 18, 1927. Eric died in July 1963 of a heart attack while resting in his garden and was pronounced dead upon arrival at a Pontiac hospital. Eva died in Brevard, North Carolina, in February 1986. Jan “John” Hop II [1863-1944]

John Hop II owned a 140-acre farm in Section 29 of Olive Township. He was born in The Netherlands on November 8, 1863. Her married Geertje “Gertie” Vander Zwang in Holland on May 7, 1885. Gertie was born in Michigan in August 1867. John’s father, John [Jan] I, had an 80-acre farm across the road in Section 29 of Olive Township, where he also raised livestock. John’s and Gertie’s children, all born locally, were John III, born in March 1886; Renie, born in May 1888; Rekie, born in June 1891; Grasie, born in November 1893; Bertie, born in August 1898, Margaret, born about 1906, and Wilma, born about 1912. John died in Olive Township on November 11, 1944 and was buried at North Holland Cemetery. The Hop family came to the area in 1877.

Hope [? –1913]

The Grand Haven Daily Tribune carried this sad story on Monday, July 14, 1913: “Hope, one of the handsome Third Ward fire horses, died this morning at about eleven o’clock of inflammation of the bowels. The horse was taken sick Friday night, and little hope had been held for his recovery since. Dr. Nye, the Coopersville veterinary, was called, but he held out no hope for the handsome animal. The death of the horse breaks up the handsome team of grays which had been used for some time at the Third Ward [fire] house.”

Benjamin Hopkins [1782-1847]

Born in Tompkins County New York on February 20, 1782 and a veteran of the War of 1812, in which he served as captain, Benjamin Hopkins moved from Tompkins County to Canada in 1831. Following the unsuccessful Canadian Rebellion of 1837, he arrived in Eastmanville, then called Scranton. By 1846 he was one of four farmers who had erected barns, and he also planted one of the first fruit orchards in the county. Benjamin was elected to the first Board of county commissioners in 1842, which in the same year elected him chairman. Benjamin was elected supervisor and school inspector. Between 1846 and 1849 he moved to Mill Point [Spring Lake]. There he built and ran a general store and mill that became known as Hopkins Mill, which later was sold to the Spring Lake Salt Company as the site for the Spring Lake Hotel.

In 1807 Benjamin married Catherine, daughter of Cornelius and Catherine McKinney Lowe. Catherine the daughter was born in New York on March 11, 1784. Her sister, Agnes Bodine Lowe, married Captain Hannibal M. Allen at Smithville, Canada, and later lived in Eastmanville. Catherine’s and Benjamin’s children, all born in New York, included five sons, and three daughters: Mary [Marcia], who was born about 1812 and became the first teacher at Eastmanville; Cornelia, who was born about 1816 and married Rev. William C. Comfort of Eastmanville; Silas, born in 1817; Bridget Ann, who was born in 1818 and married Le Moyne Smith of Grand Haven and Spring Lake; John Vincent, born in 1819; Hannibal A., born in 1821 and named for his uncle Hannibal Allen; Franklin, born about 1825; and Mordecai, born in 1827 and named for his uncle, Mordecai Lowe. Benjamin died on February 11, 1847, and Catherine passed away five years later. Hopkins Street in Grand Haven was named for the Hopkins family. Henning, dated November 15, 1965, from Coopersville, History of Ottawa County, p. 115, and Michigan Pioneer Collections, vol. 9, pp. 264-265.]

Claude C. Hopkins [1867-1932]

Born at Hillsdale, Hillsdale County on April 24, 1867, Claude Hopkins graduated from Ludington High School. After trying teaching and picking fruit on his uncle’s farm in Spring Lake, he entered Swensburg’s Business College in Grand Rapids. He became a bookkeeper for Grand Rapids Felt Boot Company and later head bookkeeper for the Bissell Company, where eventually he was put in charge of sales and advertising. Mr. Bissell encouraged him to leave Grand Rapids and take advantage of his talents elsewhere. In Chicago he worked for Swift & Company. When he was 41, Albert Lasker of Lord & Thomas, an advertising agency, asked him to write copy for Van Camp Packing. Claude created advertisements for such automobiles as Reo, Cadillac, Overland, Hudson, and Studebaker, and he wrote for Miller and Goodyear Tire Companies. He became president of Lord & Thomas and later chairman of the Board. Claude was closely connected to Pepsodent and Edna Wallace Hopper Cosmetics, later becoming president. He coined such slogans as “So Pure It Floats” [Ivory Soap], “Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion” [Palmolive Soap], and “It Chases Dirt” [Old Dutch Cleanser]. After retirement he ran an advertisement agency from his home. He wrote an autobiography, My Life in Advertising and another one titled The Sport of Kings. Another book, Scientific Advertising, was largely autobiographical. In 1927 he published another autobiographical book titled My Life in Advertising. He was a director of the Volunteers of America and Hope House in Chicago, a home for prisoners released on parole. His annual salary at Lord & Thomas exceeded $185,000 prior to 1920.

Claude’s first wife, Clara, was born in Michigan about 1868. Claude and Clara had a daughter, Addie, who was born in Kentucky about 1885. While married to Clara, Claude built Pineycrest [7437 South Walker Road, Fruitport] in 1909 [1912] at a cost of $50,000, the most expensive home on the lake at that time. After divorcing Clara, Claude married the widow Harriet Bentley Moon on July 14, 1914. She was born November 29, 1870 in Prairie City, Illinois. She attended the Jacksonville Female Academy of Music and studied music in Illinois. Harriet was an avid gardener, and also wrote such stories as “My Symphonic Garden” and several articles for House and Garden magazine related to her garden. She attended a luncheon at the White House in 1934 given by Eleanor Roosevelt, where she was honored for helping to federate many garden clubs in Michigan. Each spring she hosted a spring festival on her estate for Tuesday Musicale, to which she would bring outstanding artists for concerts. About the time of his marriage to Harriet, Claude adopted her 15-year-old daughter, Helen B. Claude died of apoplexy at his home, Pineycrest, on Spring Lake on September 21, 1932 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Helen, who lived from December 26, 1898 to June 29 1986, married Conrad Thornquist after Claude’s death. Helen and Conrad lived at Pineycrest. Harriet Moon Hopkins died at Sylvan Nursing Home in Grand Haven on April 2, 1975 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, September 22, 1932, and Spring Lake Clipper obituary, September 22, 1932.]

David Sprague Hopkins [1834-1918]

Born in Fort Edward, New York on September 5, 1834, David Hopkins moved to Grand Rapids in 1864, where he became an architect of note. In the late 1890s he designed and built Highland Castle at 27 Crescent Hill Drive in Highland Park, where he and his wife spent several summers. David drew the plans for the Hackley and Hume homes in Muskegon, now historical sites, but he was best known for originating a mail order system for selling house plans to homeowners throughout the United States and Canada. David married Mary Patterson in Kalamazoo on December 9, 1858. He died on April 21, 1918. Mary was born in 1836 and died in Grand Rapids on December 1, 1922. She and David were buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon. They had three sons: George, who lived from 1859 to 1933; Irving, who lived from 1861 to 1919; and Charles, who lived from 1865 to 1928.

[Benjamin] Franklin Hopkins [1824-1855]

Franklin, the son of Benjamin and Catherine Lowe Hopkins, was born on October 10, 1824 in New York and came to Eastmanville in 1837 with the family. By 1850 he and his brothers, all sharing living quarters, were listed as lumbermen in Spring Lake Township. Living with Franklin in Spring Lake Township in 1850, were Mary, born about 1812; Silas C., born about 1817; Hannibal, born on September 5, 1821; John Vincent, born in June 1819; and their mother, Catherine, born in 1784. Their father had died three years previously. All household members were born in New York State. Franklin died in Eastmanville on May 13, 1855 and was buried in the family plot at Eastmanville Cemetery. [History of Ottawa County, 1882, p. 115, and Michigan Pioneer Collections, Vol. 9, pp. 264-265.]

Hannibal Allen Hopkins [1821-1871]

Born in Ulysses, New York on September 5, 1821, Hannibal was the son of Benjamin and Catherine Lowe Hopkins. He was involved in lumbering and also agricultural pursuits, probably fruit growing, which by 1874, took up half of the improved land of the village. In 1848 Hannibal was elected Ottawa County sheriff. When the Village of Spring Lake was incorporated in 1869, Hannibal was elected its first village president and held that position until his death. In 1870 he was present at the first borings of the Spring Lake Salt Company at the Hopkins Mill site, and when the drillers struck water at 200 feet, he identified it as magnetic. waters, and the Magnetic Mineral Springs tourist boom was inaugurated. An 1882 history of Ottawa County noted he served as representative to the State Legislature. Aside from lumbering operations, Hopkins also engaged in fruit growing.

In 1851 Hannibal married Emma C., the sister of Reverend William Comfort of Eastmanville. Emma was born in New York 1825. Benjamin and Emma had five children. One of their children, Frances H., became a teacher and in 1882 she was teaching 63 students in the primary department of Spring Lake School. Fannie, who married Fred Brown of Spring Lake, lived from 1860 to 1899. The other children, all born in Michigan, were Frank, who was born about 1857; Louisa, born about 1859; Emma H., who lived from 1862 to 1889 and was the wife of Wilber Smith; and William C., who lived from 1866 to 1871. Hannibal died on July 1, 1871. His widow was living in Spring Lake in 1882 and died of pneumonia in Lansing on May 16, 1891. Hannibal and Emma were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with their three youngest children. [History of Ottawa County, 1882, p. 115, Michigan Pioneer Collections, Vol. 9, pp. 264-265, and Tribune obituary, May 21, 1891.]

John Vincent Hopkins [1819-1868]

Born in Ulysses, New York, in June 1819, the son of Benjamin Catherine Lowe Hopkins, John immigrated with his family to Canada in 1831 and left there in 1837, after the disastrous rebellion. In 1848, with two of his brothers, he built a sawmill at Spring Lake, where he moved after his father’s death. John was elected clerk for the organizational meeting of electors of Mill Point [Spring Lake] in 1849. John was put in office as supervisor in 1851 and then from 1858 to 1866. In 1857 John married Sarah Gillette of Ionia County. They had four children. Just prior to his death on September 1, 1868, he and his wife moved to Detroit. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [History of Ottawa County, 1882, p. 115, and Michigan Pioneer Collections, Vol. 9, pp. 264-265.]

John W. Hopkins I [1814-1883]

Born near Providence, Rhode Island in 1814 John Hopkins came to Grand Haven in 1836. He was elected alderman of the Second Ward of Grand Haven’s first City Council in 1867 and again in 1868. With George Friant, John operated a lumber and shingle company in Grand Haven during the 1850s and into the 1870s. John was reputed to be “an extensive dealer in lumber and shingles.” In October 1860 he married Harriet M. Eldred, who was born in Hector, New York, on December 14, 1834, and educated at the Wesleyan Seminary at Lima, New York. She died on February 18, 1904. John and Harriet had four children: Charles, who died in infancy; Hattie, who was born in March 1862 and married George Jenner of Grand Haven; John W. II, who was born about 1864 and moved to Chicago; and Laura, who was born in April 1872, married John Harvey of Grand Haven, and died in May 1902. John Harvey was born in Canada in February 1867. Prior to 1864, John the father built a home on Third Street, just south of Washington Street [15 South Third]. After John’s death, the house was sold to Stephen L. Munroe. John Hopkins I died on February 11, 1883 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, February 19, 1904.]

Mordecai [Mordica, Mordicai] Lowe Hopkins [1827-1894]

Mordecai, the son of Benjamin and Catherine Lowe Hopkins, was born in New York in 1827 and arrived in Eastmanville in 1837 with the family. He worked as a clerk in a Grand Haven store, and then joined his brothers at their sawmill in Spring Lake. On April 2, 1849 he was elected clerk when Mill Point electors met to organize the village. Mordecai was reelected and later became County Judge. He represented the district in both the House and the Senate of the Michigan legislature in 1855 and 1856. He enlisted in the 3rd Michigan Cavalry as Quartermaster on September 7, 1861 and was discharged the following year on June 1. [Hopkins was listed as “Mortimer L. Hopkins” in his service record.] During the remainder of the war he was Senior editor of the Chicago Times, under editor Storey. He returned to Michigan in 1871 and engaged in law business.

Mordecai married Sarah Frances Rathbome [Rathbun], then 18, on September 21, 1857, in Grand Rapids. Sarah was the daughter of Alfred Day Rathbone, an early attorney of that city. Mordecai and Sarah had at least two daughters: Emma, born in Michigan about 1859, and Anna, also a Michigan native, born around 1861. Mordecai died in Grand Rapids on May 19, 1894, the last member of Benjamin’s family. At the time of his death, he owned some acreage along the shore of Spring Lake, part of which became the site for the Spring Lake Yacht Club. [History of Ottawa County, 1882, p. 115, Michigan Pioneer Collections, Vol. 9, pp. 264-265, “The Voice of the River,” by Mrs. John Ball, and Tribune obituary, May 21, 1894.]

Moses Barreth Hopkins I [1820–1869]

Born in Huron County, Ohio on June 16, 1820, Moses Hopkins studied law in Geneva, Illinois, where he became a member of the bar in 1849 and came to Grand Haven in September 1851. He was justice of the peace, circuit court commissioner, prosecuting attorney for Ottawa County, and circuit court judge. A staunch Republican, Moses was elected to the Michigan State Legislature for the 1867-68 term. On February 13, 1840, in Milan, Ohio, he married Lamira Cockran, born March 2, 1823 in Cambridge, Vermont, one of 16 children. In 1834 Lamira had moved with her parents to Milan. Moses and Lamira had four children: Amanda, Augusta, Harry, and Moses Barreth II. Amanda, who was born in 1843 in Ohio, married Henry Bigelow of Grand Haven. Moses and Lamira resided on Third Street. After Moses died in Grand Haven on October 24, 1869, Lamira married William Irons. She died on December 3, 1891. [Tribune obituary, December 4, 1891.]

Silas C. Hopkins [1817-1855]

Silas, the son of Benjamin and Catherine Lowe Hopkins, was born in New York on May 8, 1817 and came to Eastmanville in 1837 with the family. With Thomas W. White, Silas platted the Village of Mill Point [Spring Lake] on December 10, 1849. On April 2, 1849 Silas was elected supervisor when Mill Point electors met to organize the Village. He died on November 17, 1855 and was buried at Eastmanville Cemetery. [History of Ottawa County, 1882, p. 115, and Michigan Pioneer Collections, Vol. 9, pp. 264-265.]

Duane K. Hoppe [1929-1975]

Hoppe Pharmacal Corporation produced vitamins, antacids, and fluoride tablets. The business was located at 1634 Marion in Grand Haven. The company’s founder, Duane Hoppe, formerly of Grand Rapids, died of accidental causes in Indian Rocks Beach, Florida in July 1975. He was born on December 2, 1929. His wife, Norma A., was vice president-secretary and ran the business with George Tilton, president, after Duane died. The Hoppes resided in Muskegon.

Mildred lived from August 13, 1903 to July 7, 1996, and their home on Sheldon was sold the next year. Paul and Mildred were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Carol died on July 8, 2012 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 16, 2012.]

Frank Leonardo Hough [1858-1938]

Frank Hough owned a 29-acre fruit farm in Section 10 of Spring Lake Township. In the 1880 census he was listed as a “Horticulturist.” By 1912 he had sold 18 of his westernmost acreage to Olaf Dahlman, who owned an adjacent farm. Frank retained 11 acres with frontage on Spring Lake. Frank was born in Lenawee County on July 6, 1858. In 1880 he married Zoe McLain. On January 11, 1893 in Ft. Wayne, Indiana, he married Eugenia Anna Heinlen. Frank died in Ypsilanti on December 21, 1938.

M. H. Houghton [? - ?]

The Unitarian Church in Grand Haven was organized in April 1875, when Rev. Houghton arrived as pastor. Prior to his arrival the church had a series of temporary clergymen. When Houghton left Grand Haven about eight months later, he was replaced by Rev. George W. Cook.

Henry [Howard, Horace] H. Howe [@1840- ?]

Henry Howe, born in New York about 1840, enlisted in Company K of the 13th New York Infantry on August 22, 1862. He transferred to Company I of the 140th New York Infantry on June 23 the next year. On the following July 13 Henry was listed as a deserter. After the war he became a saw filer in this area but began operating heavy equipment in 1875. In 1876 he became engineer at the Bell Sawmill in Spring Lake. Henry was born about 1840. He was listed in the 1893 Compendium as a resident of Spring Lake Township.

Nelson Robert Howlett [1840-1920]

Born in Grandville on March 29, 1840, Nelson was the son of Robert and Elizabeth Thompson Howlett. Nelson had an active interest in the Munroe, Boyce & Company Sawmill, in which Stephen L. Munroe and Sherman H. Boyce were partners. In 1876 he was elected secretary of the Ottawa County Booming Company. Nelson was president of the National Bank of Grand Haven in the early 1900s. It was Nelson who owned the toll bridge between Spring Lake and Grand Haven, the subject of substantial controversy in 1902. He was a Mason.

On May 1, 1867 in Grand Haven, Nelson married Sarah Cordelia, daughter of Leonard and Amarilla Wheeler Munroe. Sarah was born on March 16, 1841. Dr. Stephen Munroe of Grand Haven and later Albion was her uncle. The Howletts had two daughters, both born in Grand Haven: Orpha Howlett who was born on August 16, 1868, and Marian Cordelia Howlett, who was born on September 27, 1870. Following their divorce in 1872, Sarah and the two children moved to Albion, where she lived for a year with her uncle Stephen Munroe, who later provided her and his grandnieces with a home in that city.

Orpha married Dr. Herman Frederick Ratte [1864-1938] of Los Angeles, California, where she died on April 17, 1947. Marian on April 25, 1895 married David Albertson Garfield I [1866-1949] in Chicago. She passed away on January 10, 1940 in Jackson, Michigan. Sarah, who made Albion her home for the rest of her life, died on January 9, 1913 while visiting Orpha in Los Angeles and was buried at Riverside Cemetery in Albion.

On November 14, 1893, in Spring Lake, Nelson married Frederika Mathilde [Mathilda] Schneider Baker, the widow of William Chapman Baker III. Frederika and William had a son Looe, who was born in Detroit on January 18, 1884. Looe spent his youth in Spring Lake, and opened a medical practice in Minneapolis, where he resided with his wife and children. Mathilde was born in St. Paul, Minnesota on January 11, 1861 [1855]. She died on June 19, 1913 at Yonkers, New York, following a stroke that left her paralyzed while on a trip to New York City. Nelson and Mathilde spent summers at a 45-acre estate in Sections 15 and 10 of Spring Lake Township [17600 West Spring Lake Road, just east of today’s Spring Lake Yacht Club], owned by William Chapman Baker II. The Howletts’ primary residence was 482 Sheldon Terrace in Grand Haven. Nelson sold the Sheldon Terrace home to his nephew William Hatton and moved to 17 North Fourth Street, where he died on March 28, 1920 and was interred in the Howlett-Loutit Mausoleum at Lake Forest Cemetery. Interred with him were his wife Mathilde and her son Looe, who died on July 16, 1954. [Tribune obituaries, June 19, 1913 and March 29, 1920.]

Robert Howlett I [1805-1896]

Born in River Trent, England on June 10, 1805, Robert Howlett in 1830 immigrated to Geneva, New York, then to Plymouth, Wayne County, and finally to Grand Rapids, where he arrived in 1832 with 30 head of cattle. That year he purchased 293 acres in Wyoming, Kent County. The next year he married Elizabeth Thompson of Plymouth, Michigan. She was born in Carlton, England on May 24, 1810 and died in Grand Haven on April 17, 1887. George Thompson of Grand Haven was her brother.

In 1854 Robert sold his Kent County farm and settled in Grand Haven. On March 1, 1856 he bought 27 acres in Section 22 of Spring Lake Township. In Grand Haven he purchased the schooner Heligoland. William R. Loutit, became the ship’s captain. In 1862 William married the Howletts’ daughter, Ann Elizabeth, who was born in Grandville on March 12, 1838. Robert Howlett bought the tug Mary Bell in Buffalo, New York, and for eight years operated it out of Grand Haven, acting as captain. It was the first tug brought to Grand Haven harbor. He also owned at various times the schooners Japan, Little Bell, and Minerva. Later he purchased the Pentland, which carried ore to the blast furnaces in Fruitport, again with himself as master. Robert also was secretary of the Ottawa County Booming Company when it was organized in 1865, a post his son would later hold. Robert constructed the building at 201-203 Washington in 1872, which was known for decades as the Howlett Block.

Robert and Elizabeth lived at 704 Pennoyer. He died on October 24, 1896, honored with a Mason’s funeral, and interred in the Howlett-Loutit Mausoleum at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. They had several children in addition to Ann Elizabeth. Their first born, Robert Howlett, lived from 1832 to 1903; John Howlett, another son, lived from March 10, 1834 to January 26, 1903; and Nelson Howlett, a third son, was born in Grandville on March 29, 1840.

Birney G. Hoyt [1885-1916]

Birney, the son of Charles and Esther Hoyt of Grand Haven, was born in 1885 and graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1905. He entered the insurance field in the early 1900s, sharing an office with his father on the second floor of 208 Washington and later at 100 Washington in downtown Grand Haven. He also was a member of the bar and had a law office in Grand Rapids in the late 1880s. In Grand Haven, he and his parents lived at 528 Lake Avenue. Birney died around May 13, 1916.

Charles K. Hoyt [1859-1918]

Born in Jackson on June 18, 1859, Charles was next to the youngest child in a family of six. His father was Nelson Hoyt, born January 16, 1820 in Manlius, New York, and his mother, Elizabeth, was the daughter of Peter Barber. Elizabeth died August 4, 1863. Charles taught school in Jackson, Hanley, and Hudsonville, and then left teaching to start a general store in Hudsonville, which he operated until 1893. He served as postmaster for four years. In 1893 he represented Ottawa County in the State Legislature. From 1895 to 1901 he was Ottawa County clerk, in 1902 and 1903 he was mayor of Grand Haven, and in 1904 he became justice of the peace and chief deputy game warden of Michigan. In 1904 he opened a general insurance office in Grand Haven, which included real estate and collections. He was a Republican and member of the Congregational Church.

On November 18, 1880 Charles married Esther M., born March 19, 1863, the daughter of William H. and Anna Barber of New York. The Hoyts had eight children, all born locally: Birney J., who was born in January 1885; Ralph, born in July 1888; Harold, born in May 1891; Marjorie [Madge/Maggie], born in August 1893; Victor H., born in May 1896; Esther, born in December 1899; Mary, who lived from 1900 to April 26, 1989; and Nelson Charles, who was born in 1902 and relocated to Detroit. Esther, the mother, who had taught at the Belle Schoolhouse, died of congestive heart failure on June 15, 1906 at the family home at 528 Lake Avenue. Charles died about July 30, 1918 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 15, 1906 and Tribune article, April 1907.]

Alonzo Hubbard [@1810-@1860] and Elvira Poole Hubbard [1812-1894]

Alonzo Hubbard married Elvira Poole on March 13, 1832. She was born in Goshen, Massachusetts in 1812 and moved to Grand Haven not long after Alonzo died in 1860. In Grand Haven, she worked as a dressmaker. Alonzo and Elvira had a son, George E. Hubbard, who was born in Hamilton, New York on May 13, 1833, and two daughters, Henrietta “Nettie” Hubbard, who was born in 1839 in Cleveland, Ohio, married Walter Talbot [1844-1919] in Grand Haven on January 23, 1872, moved to Phoenix, Arizona, and died there on December 18, 1922, and Ellen “Nellie” Hubbard, who was born in December 1850, also in Ohio, and married Heber Squier II of Grand Haven. In 1870 Alvira and her daughters continued to reside in Grand Haven, although Nettie also was listed simultaneously in the 1870 census as a teacher in Chicago. Ten years later, in the Federal Census of 1880, Elvira and Nettie were living in Chicago. Elvira died on February 17, 1894 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In March 1863, Nettie had a part in the “Tableaux,” organized and directed by Mary Ann Hubbard. It was a tribute to the soldiers in blue who fought for the north in the early years of the Civil War. While living in Phoenix, Nettie served as second regent for the State of Arizona from 1902 to 1911.

George Edward Hubbard [1833-1891]

Born May 13, 1833 in Hamilton, New York, George was the son of Alonzo and Elvira Poole Hubbard and brother of Henrietta Hubbard, wife of Walter Talbot of Phoenix, Arizona, and Nellie [Ellen] Hubbard, who married Heber Squier of Grand Haven. After George’s birth, the family moved to Detroit. From there George went to Cleveland to live with his grandparents and attend school. By 1847 George’s parents were in Cleveland, and he finished high school there. After a successful start in the hardware business in Cleveland, George went to Chicago in 1854, where he pursued the same line of work for two years before coming to Grand Haven in 1856. A tinsmith himself, he opened the first tin and hardware store in Grand Haven at the northeast corner of Washington and First Streets, specializing in stoves, hand-wrought tin, copper, and iron products. In 1859 the American Express Company opened an office in Grand Haven and appointed George its first agent, the first to serve west of Grand Rapids. An 1863 business directory listed George as express and insurance agent, as well as hardware and cutlery dealer. In the 1870 census George was listed as a hardware merchant, and in 1871 he completed construction of the first three-story brick building in Grand Haven to house his tin and hardware business. George was elected mayor of Grand Haven in 1872, in 1873, and again in 1880. He served as city alderman of the First Ward in 1883. In 1882 he was vice president of the Herald Publishing Company. Two years later he was in the wholesale and retail tobacco trade and a producer of cigars with James C. Avery. He was a charter member of the Masons, and he was part of the Grand Haven Concert Band when it was formed in 1868.

On March 16, 1856, in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, George married Christiana, daughter of John Landreth. She was born at Clayton, New York on August 16, 1836 and died in Grand Haven on August 2, 1920. Her family came to Dexter, Washtenaw County, then moved to Cleveland. The Hubbards had three children: George, who was born in 1858 and moved to Chicago; Mamie [Marion] F. “May” who was born in 1861 and married Edward P. Dake of Grand Haven; and Henrietta “Nettie,” who was born on December 25, 1867 and married Will [William] Weston of Grand Haven. The Hubbards resided at 220 Columbus Street and 114 South Fourth. George died in Phoenix, Arizona on July 25, 1891. Both Hubbards were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. [Tribune obituaries, July 27, 1891, March 12, 1894 and August 25, 1920.]

Gurdon Saltonstall Hubbard [1802-1886]
In spring 1819, a team of fur traders traveled from Chicago along the eastern shore of Lake Michigan, arriving at the mouth of the Grand River in early May that year. Gurdon Hubbaard was a member of the party, which was led by Antoine Deschamps. Gurdon, the son of Elizur and Abigail Sage Hubbard, was born in Windsor, Vermont on August 22, 1802. At the time of his voyage out of Chicago, he was in the second year of his five-year indenture with the American Fur Company. He and the others wanted to witness the Indian “Feast of the Dead,” which would start on the day of the full moon in early May and last eight to ten days. Toward the close of the annual event, the fur traders witnessed the execution of an Indian. The Indian had slain another Indian and was unable to atone for his misdeed. Gurdon quoted the doomed Indian as saying, “I fled to the marshes at the head of the Muskegon hoping that the Great Spirit would favor me in the hunt, so I could repay you for your lost son. I was not successful. Here is the knife with which I killed your son, by it I wish to die. Save my wife and children. I am done.” The chief took the knife, handed it to his oldest son, and said, “Kill him.” The knife went into the victim’s heart. Gurdon concluded his story, “... and the tragedy was ended.”

Gurdon settled permanently in Chicago in 1834 and was credited with building that city’s first stockyard. In Chicago he bought a cabin near Lake Michigan from Billy Caldwell [Sauganash], who may have had ties to the Grand Haven area. [Edmunds located Gurdon in Danville in south central Illinois in 1834.] Gurdon married Elaner Berry. Gurdon died in Chicago on September 14, 1886. [For a detailed account of the execution, see Lillie, pages 94-97.]

William Henry Hubbard [1831-1861]

On February 17, 1858 in Grand Rapids, Mary Ann Mixter Cutler married William Hubbard. The couple in 1860 was living in Grand Haven, where William worked as a forwarding agent. He was born in Leverett, Massachusetts in 1831 and died in San Francisco of consumption on November 6, 1861. He had gone to California for his health. His body was returned to Grand Rapids for burial the next summer. He and Mary Ann had one child, a daughter Kate, who died on June 6, 1861, three weeks before her first birthday. In 1870 Mary Ann was living in Grand Haven with Isaac Hunting and his family. Isaac had married Mary Ann’s older sister, Nancy Hastings Cutler, but she relocated to Grand Rapids for the remainder of her life.

Mary Ann, the daughter of Robert [1807-1890] and Julia Leonard [1809-1975] Cutler, was born in Amherst, Massachusetts on October 8, 1833 but relocated to Grand Rapids with her parents in 1856. She died after a fall from the front porch of her home at 114 Madison Street on February 8, 1912 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids with William and their daughter. Dwight Cutler, Grand Haven mayor and businessman, was Mary Ann’s uncle.

Herald L. Hubbell [1894-1984]

The family of Herald L. and Mabelle N. Hubbell owned the cottage at 90 Poplar Ridge in Highland Park for 50 years before selling it to William and Julie Beaton. Herald was born on September 28, 1894 and died in Zeeland on June 19, 1984. Mabelle lived from June 7, 1896 to October 24, 1982. Norwood Hubbel, born on September 4, 1918, was their son.

Norwood E. Hubbell [1918-1973]

In 1946 Norwood Hubbell and Henry T. Parker formed Harbor Industries for the manufacture of “point of purchase” advertising equipment. In June five years later Norwood, Henry, William Wendell Vivian, and John Wierenga started Fleetwood Furniture Company. Located at 8 North Seventh Street, the company specialized in the manufacture of juvenile “Swing-Line” furniture. The son of Herald and Mabelle Hubbell, Norwood was born on September 4, 1918 and passed away in Holland on August 27, 1973. Norwood resided in Zeeland with his wife, Helen.

Gustave “Gus” Hubert [1846-1911]

Born in Germany in November 1846, Gus was the son of August Hubert, who was born in Breslan, Germany on January 18, 1822 and died in Grand Haven on March 5, 1900. Gus’s mother, Emelia, was born about 1825 and died in Grand Haven on March 21, 1921. Gus’s siblings included Carl of Blendon; Herman; Anna Barhe of Lisbon; and Matilda “Tillie,” who married Lachman Kolberg of Grand Haven. Hubert was known for his skill in mechanics and his many inventions. About 1868 he came to Grand Haven, and in 1872 he established the Grand Haven Wagon Works at the corner of Third and Elliott Streets [255 Third Street]. His father, August sometimes helped him, and he also hired Mr. Hoffmeistert to do the woodwork and Mr. Teunis for the ironwork. By 1892 the name of the business had been changed to Grand Haven Manufacturing Company. That year he patented the celery plow, used successfully in Michigan.

On April 9, 1874, in Grand Haven, Gus married Augusta Hubert. She was born in New York in July 1856. Their children, all born in Michigan, included Matilda, who was born about 1875 and married Lawrence Breitels; Bertha M., who was born in October 1877 and married Richard Huizenga; Henry G., who was born in April 1880; Anna “Annie,” who was born in November 1882 and married Henry Van Dongen of Grand Haven; and Frederick William, who was born on December 14, 1889. Henry became superintendent of the John F. Corl Piano Company in Grand Haven. Henry and his wife, Jennie, lived at 1103 Washington. The Hubert children all lived in Grand Haven. Gustave died of “kidney trouble” at his home at 212 North Third Street on March 19, 1911 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Augusta lived from 1856 to 1935 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituaries, March 6, 1900, March 20, 1911, and March 24, 1912.]

J. P. Hughes [? - ?] and William Cass [1827-1905]

J. P. Hughes opened a photography studio in Grand Haven in January 1865. William Cass may have been co-owner or an employee, but the two men shared the photography business in some manner. [In an advertisement that appeared in the Grand Haven News in March 1865, Hughes was listed as the sole owner.] See also William Cass.

Henry Huisman [1905-1962]

Born in Grand Rapids on August 9, 1905, Henry was the son of Klaas and Gertrude Brandt Huisman. Klaas died about March 26, 1963. Henry became a registered civil engineer in 1939 and was city surveyor for over 20 years, as well as surveyor for Ottawa County. His employment included work on the Memorial Bridge, the harbor survey for the Corps of Engineers, the Sewage Disposal Plant, and the Colfax-Sheldon sewer line. He was a partner in T & H Associates [Terrill & Huisman], a private engineering firm. He was a member of the First Christian Reformed Church and Grand Haven Christian School Board. Henry was scoutmaster for the Boy Scout troop and was interested in youth activities. On October 2, 1934 he married Jennie Hoebeke. They had three sons, James of Saginaw, Gary, and Donald. Henry died at his home, 1875 Doris, on July 21, 1962. Jennie passed away on July 5, 2001 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, July 21, 1962.]

John Huisman [1911-1977]

The son of Klaas and Gertrude Brandt Huisman, John, in 1953 started Haven Harness at 234 Washington. His company produced wiring for home appliances and other items. He sold to Electrical Assemblies in 1956. John resided at 830 Slayton. He was born on September 24, 1911 and died in Grand Haven on October 22, 1977. He married Dorothy Schoonbeck in Muskegon on October 1, 1936. Born on April 1, 1915, she continued to reside at the home on Slayton after John’s death. She was a lunchroom worker with the Grand Haven Public Schools. Dorothy passed away on November 22, 2004 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Klaas Huisman [1878-1963]

A native of The Netherlands, where he was born on June 13, 1878, Klaas Huisman and his wife, Gertrude, immigrated to the United States in 1901 and eventually settled in Grand Haven. In 1930 the Huismans resided at 529 Madison Street. Klaas worked as Grounds keeper at Spring Lake County Club. He died on March 25, 1963 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife, who was born in The Netherlands in 1880 and died in 1937. Among their children were: Henry, who was born in Grand Rapids on August 9, 1905; Margaret, who was born in Holland on February 21, 1910, married Clarence J. Ruiter [1905-1977], and died on August 13, 1991, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; and John, who was born on September 24, 1911.

Harm Huizenga [1849-1921]

Harm Huizenga and his wife, Bertha, had a small farm at 1245 Washington. Harm, a native of The Netherlands, lived from April 1849 [1848] to 1921 and his wife from March 1846 to 1925. She also was born in The Netherlands. They had two sons: Richard, born in The Netherlands in May 1877, and Cobert, born in Michigan in April 1883. Harm and Bertha were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Brothers Edward and John Huls owned Huls Garage at 122 North Ferry at least as early as 1940. Their father, John Huls I, also participated in the business. Edward lived from June 21, 1917 to April 1980 and John from July 11, 1926 to April 20, 1994. Edward and his wife, Alice J., resided at 15213 160th Avenue in Grand Haven Township. John and Helen Huls lived at 1210 South Griffin. By the late 1940s the brothers’ garage was located at 321 North Seventh and then at 1441 Slayton. Jessie, the wife of John I, was born in The Netherlands on October 1, 1895 and passed away on March 27, 1977. Her husband, John Huls I, was born in Illinois about 1894. In 1920 the family resided in Crockery Township, but by 1930 it was located in Spring Lake. In the mid-1920s, John I was a mechanic with the Vyn Transportation Company. They were then living at 133 Elliott Street. John and Jessie next moved to 529 Madison. John I passed away about April 23, 1955. He, Jessie, John II, and Edward were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Alexander H. Hume [1871-1962]

A native of Canada, where he was born in 1871, Alexander Hume moved to Grand Haven and worked for the Grand Trunk Railroad and later was employed as traffic manager at Challenge Machinery. Alexander was a lifetime member of the Masons and a charter member of the Grand Haven Stag Club. He married Minnie Waters in Grand Haven on July 21, 1898. The resided at 1304 Pennoyer. Minnie was born in England in 1875 and died about March 7, 1955. Alexander died around May 11, 1962 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife.

Seymour [Seymor] B. Humphrey [1848-1911]

Seymour was born in Oconomowoc, Wisconsin on May 31, 1848. His parents were Samuel B. and Annie M. White Humphrey. Seymour worked at his father’s flour mill after completing his formal education in Milwaukee when he was 17. In 1871 he left the flour-mill business to work as bookkeeper for the Engelman Transportation Company in Milwaukee. Two years later the company transferred him to Grand Haven. In 1875 Engelman Transportation was purchased by Northwestern Transportation Company of Milwaukee. Seymour was secretary and treasurer of the Grand Haven and Spring Lake Rowing Company. On July 13, 1881 in Milwaukee, Seymour married Alice A. Yates. Seymour died on October 8, 1911. Alice, a year younger than Seymour, was born in Michigan.

Henry Harrison Hungerford II [1857-1945]

In 1877 Henry Hungerford and Charles Alton Pearson started the Pearson & Hungerford Hardware and Cutlery business in Spring Lake. They advertised that they were “Dealers in Heavy & Shelf Hardware, Paints and oils. Plumbing and Steam Fitting a Specialty. Jobbers in Tin, Copper, and Sheet Iron.” It apparently closed not long after 1880. On October 11, 1882 in Spring Lake Henry married Eveline [Evaline/Evelyn] Gee. She was born in Palmyra, Ohio on February 5, 1861. She passed away in Saugatuck on August 15, 1936 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Henry, who lived from September 22, 1857 to October 1945, also worked as a tinsmith. He died in Saugatuck and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Horace Harrison and Rosina Miller Hungerford I were his parents.

Horace Harrison Hungerford I [1804-1857]
Horace was born on October 23, 1804 in Frankfort, Herkimer County, New York, the son of Amos and China Harrison Hungerford. He moved to Nortonville in 1845 and then to Spring Lake, where he became a tinsmith. On November 8, 1843 he married his second wife, Rosina [Rosanna] Miller, who was born in France [Germany], lived from December 25, 1826 to March 7, 1895 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. In 1880 Rosina was a servant in the Hunter Savidge home. Horace was one of the charter members and officers of the Grand Haven Lodge of the International Order of Odd Fellows in 1850. Horace evidently had a son from his first marriage, Horace II, who died in Spring Lake on January 18, 1855 at the age of 19 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Horace and Rosina had a daughter Mary, who was born locally about 1844, and a son John T., who was born locally about 1846. Another son, Henry Harrison Hungerford, was born on September 22, 1857. Rosina and Horace’s other children were Mary Elizabeth, born about 1844; Jenny, born about 1846; and Frederick John, whose birth date was unknown, but was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Grant Hunter [1834-1906]

Grant Hunter was born in New York on August 19, 1834. He married Sarah Gesaw, who was born in Canada in September 1833 and immigrated to the United States in 1856. By 1880 Grant and Sarah were settled in Ferrysburg, where Grant was first a laborer and later a farmer. Their son, Robert, was born in Ontario, Canada on June 3, 1856, and a daughter Catherine was born in Ottawa County in November 1871 [1868] and married James B. Johnston of Ferrysburg. Catherine was widowed in 1896 and by 1900 was living with her parents. Grant and Sarah had another daughter, Kate, who was born in 1869. Grant passed away on June 27, 1906 in Spring Lake.

Robert Grant Hunter [1856-1935]

Robert was born in Callander, Ontario, Canada on June 3, 1856, the son of Grant and Sarah Gesaw Hunter. Robert first married Alice L. Larraway in Grand Haven on January 18, 1879. Alice, the daughter of Wallace and Julia Larraway, was born in 1860. Robert and Alice had one child, Jessie, who was born in Grand Haven in 1879. Then, on February 15, 1883, in Grand Haven, Robert married Mary Christina Lang, who was born in Canada in April 1859. Robert and Mary lived in Ferrysburg and had a son, William L., who was born in May 1884, married Mary E. Penn [1894-1967], and died on July 19, 1955 in Silver Lake, Indiana; a daughter, Mary Loutit, who was born on June 12, 1889 in Ferrysburg, married Howard W. Kaar [1887-1977], and died in Louisiana in 1981; and a second son, Arthur Leroy, born in Ferrysburg on May 10, 1889, married Maudie May Sickafus [August 3, 1907-March 18, 1995], and died in 1952 in Indiana. Robert G. died on October 21, 1935 in Winona Lake, Indiana, and his wife, Mary, died on September 30, 1940 in Gary, Indiana. The Hunters were buried at Warsaw. Robert had a sister, Kate, who married James B. Johnston of Ferrysburg. Alice’s second marriage was to Rudolph C. Schriber [Schriffer/Schneider].

Theron F. Hunter [1815-1892]

A native of Brownsville, New York, where he was born on July 25, 1815, Theron Hunter moved to Marshall, Calhoun County in 1856 and came to Crockery Township the next year, where he established a 160-acre farm in Section 25. On January 13, 1842, he married Priscilla Becker, who was born in Onondaga County, New York. Theron died on November 13, 1892 and was buried with his wife at Ottawa Center Cemetery in Crockery Township. Priscilla [Percilla] lived from August 3, 1823 to August 7, 1882.

David Dyer Hunting I [1892-1992]

The son of Edgar and Emma Grace “Daisy” Dyer Hunting, David was born in Grand Rapids on August 26, 1892. In 1870 Edgar, who was born in Grand Haven, his parents [Isaac and Nancy Hunting], and his brother, Robert [1867-1868], were living in Grand Haven, where they had been since 1856. By 1880 the family had moved to Grand Rapids. David served overseas as first lieutenant with the 85th Division during WWI. He returned to Grand Rapids after the war and found employment with Metal Office Furniture Company, later known as Steelcase. David was with the company for 77 years, retiring as vice chairman in 1991. On May 25, 1925 David married Mary Virginia Ives in Ann Arbor. In 1936, David and other investors bought Stow
& Davis Furniture Company in Grand Rapids. The company’s business had declined during the Great Depression. David and Mary had at least one child, David II, who was born on July 8, 1926 and died in Grand Rapids July 10, 2007.

David and his parents were regular summer visitors to Highland Park. David died in East Grand Rapids on April 19, 1992. Mary lived from 1900 to 2002. She was buried at Woodlawn Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Edgar White Hunting I [1862-1944]

The son of Isaac and Nancy Hastings Cutler Hunting, Edgar was born in Grand Haven on August 7, 1862. On June 4, 1891 in St. Louis, Edgar married Emma Grace “Daisy” Dyer Hunting. Dwight Cutler was best man. The Dyers, a prominent St. Louis family, were frequent summer visitors in Grand Haven. Edgar and Daisy met on one such occasion. Among their children was David Dyer Hunting, who was born in Grand Rapids on August 26, 1892, but, with his parents, regularly visited Grand Haven, where they were joined by members of the Dyer family from St. Louis. The combined families rented a cottage at Highland Park each summer. Edgar and Daisy had three children in addition to David: Robert, born in 1893, and Edgar II, born in 1894. Daisy lived from May 23, 1868 to June 7, 1939. Edgar died in Grand Rapids on June 14, 1944 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery with Daisy.

Isaac Gurnsey [Guernsey, Garnsey] Hunting [Hunting] [1825-1910]

A native of Chatham, New York, where he was born November 17, 1825, Isaac Hunting on June 28, 1856 married Nancy Cutler, in Amherst, Massachusetts. Nan, the daughter of Robert and Julia Narcissa White Cutler, was born in Amherst on January 31, 1832 [1831]. Robert Cutler was Dwight Cutler’s oldest brother. Isaac and Nan had lived in Grand Haven since at least 1860, when the Federal Census of that year placed them there. Isaac was listed as “Lumberman.” On June 15, 1854, Isaac bought 80 acres in Section 32 of Polkton Township and the next year, on December 15, bought an additional 40 acres. Within ten years, Galen Eastman owned most of the land in that section and in others that surrounded Eastmanville. By 1864 Isaac owned 160 acres in Section 34 [North] of Grand Haven Township and an additional 80 acres in adjacent Section 27 [North].

During the Civil War, Isaac held the rank of major with Company F of the 21st Michigan Infantry. He enlisted on August 21, 1862 and was discharged on January 23, 1863 for disability. For the rest of his life, Isaac suffered from chronic liver disease, as a result of his military service. He and Nan were divorced around 1883. Isaac returned to his birth town of Pine Plains, New York in 1876 and on January 15, 1889 married Anna Maria Lockwood in Monroe County. She was born about 1825 in New York State. They were residents of Pine Plains, Dutchess County, in 1900, where they apparently settled shortly after marriage. Isaac was known as a local historian and genealogist, and he had studied the language of Michigan’s Indians while living in that state. Anna died in 1902. Isaac passed away in Abbott, Florida on October 23, 1910. A few months before he died, Isaac purchased 10 acres in Abbott and had moved there. Isaac was buried at Evergreen Cemetery in Dutchess County, New York, as was Anna.

The Hunttings’ children were Neddy Hunting, who was born in January 1857 and died in Grand Haven on July 25 that year; William E. Hunting, who lived from about 1859 to January 11, 1887; Edgar White Hunting, who was born in Grand Haven on August 7, 1862 and died in Grand Rapids on June 14, 1944; Helen Hunting who was born in 1865 and died the next year on October 5; and Robert Hunting, who was born about 1867 and died in 1888. Neddy, William, Edgar, and Robert were buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Nan died in Grand Rapids of chronic myocarditis on May 31, 1923 and also was buried at Oakhill.

Nan’s sister, Mary Ann Mixter Cutler, born on October 8, 1833, married William Hubbard, who died young. In 1870 Mary Ann, a widow, was living with Isaac and Nan in Grand Haven. After that date she spent most of her remaining years in Grand Rapids. Another sister, Helen Cutler, resided with Isaac and Nan in Ottawa Township [Grand Haven Township] in 1860.

Born in West Wadsborough, Vermont in 1851, Frances came to the Grand Haven area about 1867 with her parents, William S. and Hannah D. White. She was a member of the Methodist Church. On December 6, 1869 she and David Fletcher Hunton were married in Grand Haven. David’s first wife was Eliza Kelley, whom he married on May 28, 1854. David was born on February 2, 1829 in Sullivan County, New Hampshire and came to Grand Haven in 1866, where he remained a prominent lawyer until shortly before his death. David and Frances Hunton resided in a large home at 231 Howard Street, part of an eight-and-a-half-acre estate. Their children, all born in Michigan, included Bertha Angela, who was born in 1870, married Reuben C. Graves, and died December 24, 1894; Frances C., who was born in 1873, died on March 9, 1893, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Clara F., who was born about 1874; Meilitta [Miletta] E., born in 1875; and Rothie [Rothsus] F., born in 1886. After Frances’s death on March 2, 1893 David married Ida J. Flagle on January 1, 1895 in Grand Haven. Ida was the daughter of James Richardson of Robinson Township. On December 21, 1902 in Grand Haven David married Helen Mary Braday [Braddy], his fourth wife. Helen, a widow, was born in Indiana in April 1832 and moved to Grand Haven from Pontiac, Illinois shortly after 1900. David still was practicing law in Grand Haven in 1908. He also was known locally as a poet and wrote in excess of 500 poems, some of which were published. He passed away on December 5, 1915 at the Ottawa County Poor Farm [Infirmary] in Eastmanville. [Tribune obituaries, March 9, 1893 and December 6, 1915.]

Martin O. Hurless [Hurliss] [1843 -1929]

In 1864 Martin Hurless served for 100 days as private with Company A of the 140th Illinois Infantry during the Civil War. While living in Spring Lake, he held various offices with Weatherwax Post #75 of the Grand Army of the Republic between 1921 and 1927. On October 25, 1866 in Whiteside County, Illinois Martin married Minerva Jane Nance. Martin was born in Ohio in September 1843. Minerva was born in Indiana around 1841. They were living in Fenton, Illinois in 1880. Martin was then a merchant. At that time Martin and Minerva had five children. Twenty years later they were in Chicago with eight children, three born after 1880. On July 24, 1909 in Chicago he married Maria [Marie/Mariah] Stephens Piper. They were still in Chicago in 1910 and 1920. She was born in Louisville, Kentucky about 1854 and was married to a Mr. Piper before she married Martin. He died on October 22, 1919 in Chicago. Maria died in Spring Lake on June 15, 1924. A son, Elmer C. Hurless, also lived in Spring Lake from at least 1920 into the 1930s. Born in Illinois about 1875, he married Myrl Bache in Muskegon on March 19, 1916. Myrl was born in Coopersville on March 16, 1893 and died in Spring Lake on April 6, 1956. Elmer and Myrl had remained in the family home at 215 East Savidge until her death. [Tribune obituaries, June 16, 1924 and April 7, 1956.]

Wilbur “Ted” Hustred [1914-2013]

Born in Benton Harbor on December 6, 1914, Ted was the son of Truman [1883-1958] and Jenny Harrell [d. 1955] Hustred. Ted’s brother, Everett, was born about 1912. By 1920 the family was residing in Muskegon and ten years later they were in Grand Haven, living at 406 Howard Street. Ted graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1933, and went on to earn a bachelor degree at Western Michigan College [WMU] and later a master degree from Colorado State University. He married Elizabeth Jane Adams in Grand Haven on August 18, 1940. Born on August 2, 1918, Jane became a teacher at Rosy Mound School.

After teaching Industrial Arts in Camden, Hillsdale County, Onekema, and Three Rivers between 1939 and 1945, Ted joined Grand Haven Schools, where he remained until his retirement in 1977. He also coached junior high school football and basketball, assistant principal and principal at the junior high from 1960 to 1977. He was a member of the United Methodist Church of the Dunes, Grand Haven Jaycees, Kiwanis Club, which awarded him the Distinguished Service Award. In addition Ted was scoutmaster and district commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America. He was given the Silver Beaver Medal, the Scout’s highest honor for adult volunteers.

Ted and Jane had three children: Carol, who married a Mr. Finke and remained in Grand Haven; David, of Plant City, Florida; and a son who died when an infant. Ted passed away on October 6, 2013. Jane died in Grand Haven on December 30, 2013. [Tribune obituaries, October 11, 2013 and January 2, 2014.]

Born in Ontario, Canada in October 1860, Fred was the son of Peter and Margaret Gray Hutty. Fred was postmaster of the Grand Haven office from 1898 to 1915. He married Birdie Miranda Squier about 1886. The daughter of Heber I and Miranda Rose Squier, she was born in August 1867 in Grand Haven and died on January 15, 1920 in Lansing. Birdie’s sister, Susan, married Fred’s brother, Joseph W. Hutty. Fred and Birdie lived at 215 Franklin. The Hutties’ children included Clarence Bernard, who was born on July 17, 1888 in Michigan, served with the U.S. Coast Guard in Whitehall during WWI, and died on March 1, 1954 in Santa Clara County, California; Margaret Gray, who was born in Grand Haven on October 17, 1889, did not marry, and died on September 14, 1973 in East Lansing; and Helen and Fred A. Hutty II, who were born January 20, 1901. Helen married William J. Trickey of East Lansing, where she died in April 1985. Fred married Orpha Exner on April 25, 1925 in New York City and lived in Lansing before moving to Wayne County, where he died on June 19, 1978. The elder Hutty died in Grand Haven on June 17, 1917, and he and his wife were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 16, 1920.]

Joseph Warren Hutty [1840-1893]

Born in Toronto, Canada in 1840, Joseph was the son of Peter and Margaret Gray Hutty and brother of Fred A. Hutty of Grand Haven. Joseph went to Yonkers, New York when he was 26 to learn the telegraph and railway business. He was employed by the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad and the Chicago & West Michigan Railway for about nine years. Around 1876 he opened a drug and stationery store at 135 Washington in Grand Haven. Otis Dickinson was his partner for a few years, at least. Frederick was a member of the I.O.O.F. [International Order of Odd Fellows] and was Past Grand of Ottawa Lodge, No. 45, the Royal Arcanum, A.O.U.W., Knights of Honor, Chosen Friends, and Fraternal Protectors. He and his family moved to Leavenworth, Kansas about 1885. His wife, Susan, was born in New York around 1848. She was the daughter of Heber and Miranda Rose Squier and sister of Fred Hutty’s wife, Birdie. Joseph and Susan had a daughter, Alice M., who was born about 1870; another daughter, Jesse, born about 1873; a son, Alfred Heber, who was born September 16, 1878 in Grand Haven and died in 1954; and a second son, Roland, who was born in May 1880. Joseph died of Bright’s Disease in Leavenworth on June 9, 1893 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 10, 1893.]

Charles Hyde [1842-1921]

Born in Ontario, Canada in March 16, 1842, Charles Hyde came to the Spring Lake area in the 1880s. He first married Margary Wills in Canada. They had five children, all born in Canada: George, who was born in August 1866 and resided in Spring Lake;; Mary, who was born on May 6, 1869, married D. W. Jones, and died in Los Angeles on April 29, 1940; Adelaide [Addie], who was born in Canada on April 5, 1873 and married James D. Proudlove of Spring Lake and later of Los Angeles; Anna [Annie], who was born about 1876, married Frank Rylander, and moved to Chicago; and Caroline [Carrie], who was born about 1879 and married Earl K. Gardner in Chicago on July 14, 1903. On May 18, 1889 in Chicago, George, who worked as an engineer at Story & Clark Piano Company, married Sabina E. Flower. She was born in London, England on January 28, 1870 and died in Bradenton, Florida on December 23, 1958. George had died on February 1, 1952, also in Bradenton. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Addie’s husband, James Proudlove, was born in Trenton, New Jersey on February 28, 1874 [1875], died in Spring Lake on September 4, 1930, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Addie died in Los Angeles, California on January 4, 1948. The family moved to Spring Lake in 1879, where Charles worked in a sawmill. Margary ran the Nortonville Boarding House for the sawmill employees. She died on January 7, 1882 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Charles built several cottages along North Lake Avenue in Spring Lake, which he rented out. In the 1893 Directory, he was listed as a carpenter with property in Section 15 of Spring Lake Township, which would be west of Lake Street and north of State [Savidge] Street. According to his descendants, Charles grew apples, peaches, and pears, which he sold to Andy Fall’s grocery store in Spring Lake.

On April 7, 1882, Charles married Eliza “Liza” Ann Wills in Grand Rapids. Eliza and Margery may have been cousins. Charles died at his home in Spring Lake on December 18, 1921. Eliza, born in Canada in November 1850 [1851], died in 1926. The couple was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 19, 1921.]

John F. Hyde [1921-1990]

John Hyde and Edward Schewe started Ottawa Laboratories on Taylor Street in Grand Haven to produce DDT-based insecticides. The business closed two years later. John lived at 310½ Franklin at the time. John was born on May 4, 1921 and died in Grand Haven on February 18, 1990. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Daniel James Hyland [1880-1948]

Father Daniel Hyland served as pastor at St. Patrick’s Catholic Church in Grand Haven from September 15, 1911 until his death on September 25, 1948. He was born in Wyoming, Kent County on April 27, 1880 and ordained on June 26, 1907. His father, Michael, was born in Ireland about 1845 and his mother, Sophia, was born in Pennsylvania around 1849. Rev. Hyland resided at the Catholic manse at 812 Fulton.

Burton Imig [1917-1983]

In the 1960s Burton Imig and Arnold Redeker took over the Ford dealership at 12-16 North Third in Grand Haven and named it Imig & Redeker. When Burton sold his interest, his name was dropped. Burton was born on May 6, 1917 and died in Grand Haven on July 3, 1983. He and his wife, Gladys A., resided at 15765 Ronny Road in Grand Haven Township. Gladys lived from September 9, 1920 to January 24, 1986.

Charles W. Ingraham [1834-1897]

Born in Dutchess, New York in October 1834 [1835], Charles Ingraham came to Michigan in 1838 and to Ottawa County in 1863. He owned a 28-acre farm in Section 6 of Allendale Township, on the banks of the Grand River. Charles was supervisor of Allendale Township, town clerk, school inspector, and justice of the peace, and in 1891 he was elected county register of deeds. For 15 years he was country schoolmaster. He was a Republican and later a member of the People’s Party, and he also was a Spiritualist for 30 years. On March 23, 1864, in Jackson, Charles married Adel [Adelia/Delia] Harper, who was born in March 1845 in Michigan and died around March 17, 1918. They had three daughters: Edith [Ednah], who was born in 1865 and on June 18, 1890 in Jamestown Township married William H. Ralya of Allendale; Lulu [Lou], who was born in August 1868 [1869] and became a teacher in Grand Haven; and Rose W., who was born in November 1881 [1882]. The Ingrahams owned a farm on Bass River but moved to 406 Howard Street in 1891. In 1893 the Tribune reported that he was “running a restaurant at the Highland Park Hotel for the benefit of guests at the beach” [July 9, 1893]. Charles died January 24, 1897. He and Adele were buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, January 25, 1897.]

Lulu “Lou” Ingraham [1868–1959]

Born in Ottawa County in August 1868 [1869], Lou was the daughter of Charles W. and Adele Harper Ingraham. Lou started teaching in 1886 in a one-room schoolhouse in Allendale Township. She became a teacher at the Columbus Street School in 1896. She was principal until the school closed upon the opening of a new building in 1913, later known as Ferry School. Lou then began teaching at Central School. She was active in the Red Cross and the Free Bed Guild. She lived with her widowed mother at 406 Howard and 540 Lake Avenue. Lou died on October 14, 1959 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her parents. [Tribune obituary, October 15, 1959.]

Robert S. Innes [Innis] [@1834- ?]

Robert Innes was born about 1834 in New York. He was located in Grand Rapids by 1860, living with his brother, William Power Innes. On September 12, 1861 he enlisted as quartermaster [first lieutenant] in the 1st Michigan Engineers and Mechanics but resigned on December 6 the next year. Like his brother William, Robert was a Civil Engineer and returned to Grand Rapids after the Civil War. His only known connection with Northwest Ottawa County was through his brother.

William Power Innes [Innis] [1826–1893]

William Innes, born in Albany, New York in 1826, arrived in Grand Haven in the spring of 1853 to supervise a railroad survey between Ada and Grand Haven for the Oakland & Ottawa Railway, as it was called then. In 1860 he was residing in Grand Rapids, but he purchased acreage in Sections 16 and 21 of Crockery Township prior to 1864. He was credited with building the first store in Nunica in 1859 and running a general merchandise outlet with his brother, Robert S. Innes. On September 12, 1861 William enlisted in Company S of the 1st Michigan Engineers as colonel. He was promoted to brevet brigadier general and was mustered out on October 26, 1864. After the war William returned to Grand Rapids, where he was listed in 1870 and 1880 as an insurance and real estate agent. William died on August 2, 1893 and was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. He married Adrianna [Arianna, Ariana] Tinkham, who was born in New York about 1831 and died in Grand Rapids on July 3, 1881. She also was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery. William and Adrianna had at least four children, including Eliza, born about 1857 in Michigan, and William, born about 1859, also in Michigan.

James Edward Ireland [1920-1998]

James was born on December 22, 1920 in Spring Lake to Madison and Lucy Ames Ireland. He married Phyllis Henry in Fruitport on December 30, 1966, his second marriage. James was Caretaker at the Spring Lake Cemetery, where he retired in 1982. He served with the Army Air Corps during WWII. Children by his first wife included Roger of Muskegon and Michael of Nunica. His two stepdaughters were Helen Haring of Grant, Oceana County, and Bonnie Hudson of Spring Lake. James died on December 4, 1998 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Frank Henry Irish [1862-1919]

The son of Henry D. and Abba J. Nash Irish, Frank was titled the “junior” proprietor of the new Cutler House in 1897. Starting in about 1861 he and his father worked together managing various hotels throughout West Michigan, including the “New Livingston” Hotel and Sweet’s in Grand Rapids, the Spring Lake House in the early 1890s, and the Wright House in Alma. Frank was born on March 3, 1862 and died on September 6, 1919. He and his father returned to run the rebuilt Cutler House in the middle 1890s. Frank married Harriette “Hattie” Smallman in Grand Haven on April 5, 1864. Hattie, the daughter of Joshua and Agnes Smallman of Grand Haven, was born in Laport, Indiana in 1868. Apparently she and Frank were divorced in the early 1890s, and on February 29, 1892 she married Arthur Burland in Grand Haven. Frank married Lillie May Cook on September 27, 1892 in Grand Rapids. Lillie lived from May 9, 1863 to May 9, 1921. She and Frank were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Henry D. Irish [1834-1914]

Henry Irish was manager of the Cutler House as early as 1884 until it burned down in 1889. He next managed the Spring Lake House and then the Wright House in Alma for short periods. In the early 1890s he managed the “New Livingston Hotel” in Grand Rapids for three years. Before returning to the rebuilt Cutler House, Henry spent a year at Sweet’s, also in Grand Rapids. He was still at the Cutler House as late as 1897. Evidently he and his son Frank worked together in the hotel business from about 1881 on. Henry was born in Vermont on January 17, 1834 and moved to Michigan with his parents when he was a boy. His father, David, was born in 1810 and his mother, Leonora Lion, was born in Shelburne, Vermont in 1812 and died on January 24, 1899. Henry married Abba J. Nash on February 14, 1854. Abba was born on May 26, 1829 and died on October 6, 1912. Henry died on April 21, 1914.

Maude A. Isherwood [1872-1923]

Born in Michigan in June 1872, Maude Isherwood was a member of the Grand Haven High School faculty. In May 1905 she was appointed principal of the high school. She taught German and Latin. Maude also taught at the Ottawa County Normal School in Grand Haven. She lived at 312 South Fifth Street with Margaret Lewis. Maude died August 31, 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, September 1, 1923.]

Andrew Jackson Itsell [@1837-@1920]

Andrew Itsell was born in Michigan about 1837. On July 27, 1863 he went to Howell, Livingston County to enlist in Company K of the 10th Michigan Cavalry and was given the rank of captain. He was mustered out on October 24, 1865. Andrew was superintendent of Grand Haven Schools from 1867 to 1869. Prior to 1880 he and his wife, Agnes “Aggie,” moved to San Francisco, California, where he was a teacher. She was born about 1849 in Pennsylvania. In 1892 Andrew applied for an invalid’s pension. Twenty-eight years later, on April 13, while living in California, Aggie applied for a widow’s pension, indicating that Andrew had recently died. The Itsells had two daughters and a son: Ida May William F., and Aggie Maud.

Chauncy [Chancy] Ives [1837-1918]

Born in July 1937 in New York, Chauncy Ives owned a wholesale and retail butcher business in Coopersville. He came to the Ottawa County area in 1863. In 1870 he provided a “testimonial” to the “curative properties” of the magnetic waters at the Spring Lake Hotel. His wife, Mary, also a native of New York, was born in 1841. Chauncy and Mary had two sons and one daughter, including Cleora Olive, who was born about 1869 and first married Amos Walling and then Ferdinand “Fred” Behm. In 1900 they still resided in Coopersville. Chauncey died on June 21, 1918.

Humphrey Jackman [1879-1900]

Bert Tibbetts was accused and convicted of slaying Humphrey Jackman of Grand Haven on December 31 [21], 1900. Bert was sentenced to life imprisonment. Humphrey was born in Michigan on October 12, 1879.

George Alan Jackoboice I [1941-1999]

George Jackoboice graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1963 and later served in the U.S. Army Reserve Medical Unit. In 1963 he joined the family hydraulics manufacturing business in Grand Rapids and was put in charge of finance and general administration. In 1985 he was named president of the company, which had been founded in 1856. Under Jackoboice’s leadership, Monarch Hydraulics became a world leader in the mobile hydraulics business. He was joined by brothers John Stephen and Thomas Joseph and a cousin, Edward James.

George and his wife, Sherry Ann Flanagan, lived at 18051 Fruitport Road in Spring Lake Township. Their children included a son, George Alan II, who remained in Spring Lake, and daughters Julia Anne Miller of Zurich, Switzerland, and Janna Kathleen of Spring Lake. The Jackoboices were members of St. Mary’s Catholic Church in Spring Lake, and George belonged to the Peninsular Club in Grand Rapids, the Spring Lake Country Club, the Rotary Club, and the Charles A. Conklin American Legion Post in Grand Haven. In 1998 he received the Notre Dame Club of Grand Rapids Award of the Year and was a Paul Harris Fellow of the Rotary Club. George, who was born on December 20, 1941, died on November 26, 1999, while vacationing in Salzburg, Austria. [Tribune obituary, December 1, 1999.]

Born in Wayne County, New York in 1844, Joseph Jackson on May 22, 1861 enlisted in Company B of the 33rd New York Infantry. He was mustered out on June 2, 1863, and then on March 2, 1865 he entered Company F of the 2nd Ohio Cavalry. He was mustered out of that unit on September 11, 1865. Joseph, a carpenter, came to Grand Haven about 1876, but moved to Nortonville in 1880. He worked for the White, Friant, & Company sawmill in Nortonville in 1882, but was listed in the 1893 Compendium as “ship carpenter.”

On June 3, 1867 in Grand Haven, Joseph married Caroline Andres. Caroline was a year younger than her husband. They had three sons and three daughters, including Henry, who attended theological college, spent his life as a missionary and preacher, and died of consumption at the age of 27 in Fresno, California on September 21, 1897. Another child, Julia, also died in California. Their other children were Charles Laman, Mathilda, Alvin, Walter, who died in Grand Haven on July 17, 1883, only four days old, and Viola. Joseph applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension on March 8, 1883. At the time of the 1910 Federal Census, Joseph was living as a widower in Seattle, Washington with two of his children, Charles and Viola. Joseph died in Seattle on June 25, 1912. [Tribune obituary, September 22, 1897.]

Alvin Emmanuel Jacobson I [1892-1976]

On February 22, 1917, Al married Edna Victoria Nelson Johnson, who was born in Michigan on March 14, 1892. They had six children, all born locally: Charles, who was born on April 1, 1918 and died in 1977; Alvin E. II, born on May 30, 1922; Edna Mary, born in 1924; David J. who was born January 21, 1926 and died in Grand Haven on December 11, 1974; Marylu, born in 1928; and Muriel R., who was born in 1929 and married Robert B. Mersereau of Grand Haven. The family lived at 618 Lafayette. Al, who was born in Grand Haven on February 7, 1892, died on August 1, 1976 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Edna died in June 1984 and was buried with her husband. [Tribune obituary, July 2, 1984.]

Alvin Emmanuel Jacobson II [1922-2008]

The son of Alvin E. and Edna Johnson Jacobson, Al II was born in Grand Haven on May 30, 1922. He was an Eagle Scout and graduated from Grand Haven High School, where he was captain of the football and basketball teams. While attending the University of Michigan he joined the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps and in 1943 was commissioned as Ensign. The next year he graduated from Submarine School in New London, Connecticut and served aboard the submarine Flier. Al was one of eight crewmen that survived when their submarine hit a mine in the Philippine Islands on August 13, 1944. Three months later he boarded the USS Ling and was en route to the Pacific when the war ended. He returned to the University of Michigan and received his bachelor degree in 1947. After a year working in Chicago he returned to his hometown and started work at the Grand Haven Brass Foundry with his father, where he remained until his retirement. He served 13 years as its president. He was a founding director of the JSJ Corp. and served as chair from 1989 to 1992. He was director of several financial organizations, including Old Kent Bank [Fifth Third], and he served the community by being a founder, member, or president of many enterprises, such as the Committee for Economic Development for Grand Haven, the United Way, the Y.M.C.A., and the Great Lakes Naval Memorial Museum. He also was active in a wide array of civic organizations, such as Rotary and Spring Lake Yacht Club.

On July 9, 1955, Al married Mary Eileen Chace. They had three children: Christine Marie, Nelson Chace, and Steven Grant. The family attended the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven. Al passed away on October 16, 2008 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles N. Jacobson [1918-1977]
Born April 1, 1918, Charles was the son of Alvin E. and Edna Johnson Jacobson. He graduated from the University of Michigan School of Engineering and was employed by Ingersoll-Rand. Charles served in the Navy during WWII. After the war, Charles took over management of Dake Engine Company with Paul Johnson II in 1946 and was its president from 1972 to the time of his death in 1977. In 1970 the JSJ Corporation was organized. It combined the enterprises of the Jacobson, Sherwood, and Johnson families in such a way that the individual companies could maintain their own identities. Charles's wife died of a “CVA” on June 29, 1984. The couple resided in the Jacobson family home at 618 Lafayette before moving to 18769 Fruitport Road. Charles died in Spring Lake on July 4, 1977 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Dake, The First One Hundred Years, 1887-1987.]

Richard Albert Jager I [1905-1987]
Rev. Richard Jager started Sylvan Dell Nursing Home at 1615 South De Spelder in Grand Haven. His son, Richard II, was president-treasurer, and Richard II's wife, Marilyn R., was vice president-secretary. The home eventually was taken over by North Ottawa Community Hospital and renamed North Ottawa Care Center. Rev. Jager was born in Chicago on June 5, 1905 and died in Grand Haven on March 31, 1987. He attended North Iowa Community College in Mason City, and he served as pastor at the First Reformed Church in Byron Center from 1944 to 1950. On October 23, 1931, Richard married Marie Estelle Clark in Holland. She was born in Holland on February 12, 1909. In Grand Haven, Richard and Marie resided at 1005 Ohio Street. Marie died in Grand Haven on July 18, 2001 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Jake [? -1900]
Jake was a white bulldog known for boarding the Dummy line from downtown Grand Haven to the lakeshore at one o’clock most afternoons of the summer. He rode to Captain Walker’s pavilion, today’s Noto Restaurant. There he waited for somebody, anybody, to throw a stick into the lake. He retrieved it and waited for someone else to throw the stick, a trick he could perform all afternoon. When the last car for Grand Haven left the pavilion in the evening, Jake jumped back on and returned to the home of his owner, Marinus Kamhout. The first article in the Tribune about Jake appeared on August 26, 1895. Jake died on November 5, 1900. The notice of Jake’s death appeared in the November 5, 1900 edition of the Tribune.

Dale Edward Janke [1942-2012]
Born in Benton Harbor on May 16, 1942, Dale was the son of Edward and Lillian Stelter Janke. Their children, both natives of Michigan, were Elora V., born about 1915, and Agnes G., born about 1923.

Nels Johnson [1838-1915]

The clock on the First Reformed Church on the corner of Washington and Third Streets has been a familiar landmark in downtown Grand Haven for more than a century. After the church burned down for the second time, the remains of the old timepiece were sold and clockmaker Nels Johnson was approached to rebuild the structure and install a new clock, which he completed in 1908. Johnson was also hired at $50 a year to maintain the clock. After a third fire in 1913, Johnson returned to again rebuild the tower clock. He also installed the chimes.
Nels Johnson was born on the island of Zeeland, Denmark, on November 26, 1838. He was the oldest child of a poor family and had five siblings. When Nels was seven years old, he left home since his parents could no longer support a large family. He supported himself by working for farmers and caring for sheep, geese, and cattle. Nels came to America with a group of 100 immigrants who were on their way to America in the 1850s. It is likely that Johnson’s first clock work began around 1865 in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, but his most serious timepiece construction began after he moved to Manistee in 1871. His first order for a large tower clock was for a business block in downtown Manistee about 1888. His reputation for quality tower clocks spread and he soon was receiving new orders, including one from the First Reformed Church in Grand Haven in 1907. Nels returned to Grand Haven one more time to adjust the clock for the church dedication on September 18, 1914. It was his final visit to the city. He died on January 13, 1915, four months after the dedication. Two days after his death the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven tolled at 2:30 p.m. to mark the time of the last rites for Johnson. He was buried at Oak Grove Cemetery in Manistee. [Adapted from an article by Kevin Collier.]

Paul Aaron Johnson I [1892-1956]

Robert A. Johnson [1920-1995]

The son of Walter and Katherine Van Loo Johnson, Robert was born in Grand Haven on February 25, 1920. Katherine was the daughter of Josiah and Minnie Fisher Van Loo of Grand Haven. Robert’s parents were divorced before 1930. Robert married Mamie Jewel Lovelady, who was born on December 28, 1917 and died in Grand Haven on June 30, 1985. After Mamie’s death, he married Margaret Curry. Robert was self-employed as a painter and attended the Christian Fellowship Church. He died in Grand Haven on September 1, 1995 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, September 2, 1995.]

Stewart L. Johnson [1892-1976]

Born on October 9, 1892, Stewart was the son of Gustave Johnson, who worked eight years helping build the Grand Haven piers. Later he was also employed by the U.S. Corps of Engineers as a bucket dredge operator. Stewart built rowboats and oars and constructed burial vaults for most of the funeral homes in the area. He built over 100 houses in the Grand Haven area from 1921 to 1959, the first of which was for George B. Johnson at 1035 Pennoyer, across from Ferry School. Stewart enjoyed building brick homes and the block of fine homes on the west side of Sheldon Street, south of Woodlawn, represented some of his craftsmanship. Stewart married Santa Groenevelt, daughter of Dick and Dena Groenevelt of Grand Haven. Santie was born in July 1892 and died in June 1962. Stewart and Santa had three sons: Howard, who died about June 26, 1985; George, who worked for Continental Motors in Muskegon for 35 years; and Jack, who was maintenance man for Russ Baltz at the Bil-Mar Hotel in Treasure Island, Florida. Stewart died on May 17, 1976 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, October 9, 1975.]

David K. Johnston [1919-1996]

David Johnston was one of the last family members to maintain ownership and management control of the Johnston Boiler Works in Ferrysburg. The son of James H. and Elizabeth Johnston, David was born on August 23, 1919 and died in Spring Lake on February 9, 1996. He resided at 18809 Fruitport Road in Spring Lake Township. [Tribune article, “Area’s oldest industry,” November 2, 1984.]
Hamilton Watt Johnston I [1821-1898]

A member of the Johnston family of Ferrysburg, Hamilton was born in Scotland on July 8, 1821. He died on March 9, 1898 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Janet Speir, was born in 1822 and died on April 14, 1900. She, too, was buried at Lake Forest. John Watt Johnston was Hamilton’s brother.

James B. Johnston [1864-1896]

The son of John Watt and Ann Baud Johnston, James was born in Detroit around 1864 and died in Ottawa County on May 9, 1896. His wife, Catherine “Kate,” the daughter of Grant and Sarah Gesaw Hunter of Ferrysburg, was born in Michigan in November 1871. She lived with her parents after James’s death. The Johnstons had a son, Robert G. Johnston, who was born in November 1889. James joined the family business with his brother, Thomas, in 1880, the same year his father retired, and the name of the family business was changed to Johnston Brothers Boiler Works. In 1897 James went to Chicago to manage the Johnston Brothers Boiler Works of Chicago. [Tribune article, “Area’s Oldest Industry,” November 2, 1984.]

James H. Johnston [1890–1967]

James Johnston joined the Ferrysburg boiler works firm in 1911 to serve as executive vice president and treasurer of Johnston Brothers. He represented the third generation of Johnstons to manage the business. He was president of Dake from 1936 to 1940. James was born in Ferrysburg on April 30, 1890, died on April 26, 1967, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On October 6, 1915 in Grand Haven, married Josephine, daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Kirkland of Grand Haven. Their children included Marshall E., born on December 28, 1917, and David K., born on August 23, 1919. James was a member of the Masons, Elks, Spring Lake Country Club, Spring Lake Yacht Club, and the Grand Haven Stag Club. He also served as president of the Board of Light and Power. [Industrial Hi-Lites, January 1955 and Dake, The First One Hundred Years, 1887-1987.]

John “Jay” Franklin Johnston I [1878-1964]

The son of Thomas B. and Sonora Eames Johnston, Jay joined the family firm in 1897 as president of Johnston Brothers and he also was treasurer of the Dake Engine Company. He belonged to the Masons, Grand Haven Rotary, Spring Lake Yacht Club, Spring Lake Country Club, and was a charter member of the Grand Haven Stag Club. He married Marie E. Howe on June 22, 1904. She was born in Illinois around 1880 and died about May 12, 1960. They resided at 504 Sheldon Road and 900 Sheldon. Jay, who was born in Ferrysburg, lived from May 12, 1878 to July 1964. Their children were John II, who was born on June 6, 1905, and Edith “Boots,” who was born on December 30, 1917 and married Arend Vyn II of Grand Haven. Jay and Marie were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Industrial Hi-Lites, January 1955 and Tribune article, “Area’s Oldest Industry,” November 2, 1984.]

John Franklin Johnston II [1905-1991]

Like his father, John F. Johnston I, John II became president of Johnston Brothers in Ferrysburg. He was born on June 6, 1905. On September 24, 1935 he married Margaret A. Hume in Grand Haven. Born on September 10, 1908, she was the daughter of George and Anne Hume of Muskegon. The Johnstons resided in Spring Lake Township. John died in Grand Haven on December 31, 1991, and Margaret passed away on March 1, 2005 in Fruitport.

John Watt Johnston I [1814-1895]

Born about 1814 in Scotland, John Johnston was a direct descendant of James Watt [1736-1819], inventor of the rotary steam engine. John was brother of Hamilton W., James B., and Robert. In the 1840s John was engaged on the first steamship put in service by the Cunard line, the steamer Britannia. His job was to repair the boilers that were in danger of causing injury due to the use of saltwater to feed them. He came to America about 1844. In 1864 John bought out the Thomas Turnbull Boiler Works, which had operated between 1859 and 1862. Located in Ferrysburg, the business became known as Johnston Boiler Works. John left the business in 1880, and his two sons, Thomas and James, took over.

John’s wife, Ann Baud [Bauld], was a native of Edinburgh, Scotland. She lived from about 1817 to May 24, 1897. Their children included Thomas B., born in Detroit in November 1851; James B., born around 1856 in Michigan and later a resident of Chicago; Jennie [Jane], born in Michigan about 1858; Isabelle, who was born in Canada on August 27, 1862 and married Henry Baar of Grand Haven; and John Watt II, born about 1873 in Canada. Jennie married Dr. Cyril Brown on June 11, 1901, after the physician’s first wife died in 1898. John died on February 4, 1895 at his home in Ferrysburg. The family residence was located on the northwest corner of Third and Pine Streets. [Tribune obituaries, February 5 and 27, 1895, May 25, 1897, April 15, 1900, and Tribune article, “Area’s Oldest Industry,” November 2, 1984.]

Opal Johnston [1918-1978]

Opal Correll was born on August 5, 1918 and lived in Lamotte, Illinois as a child. She married Marshall E., son of James and Elizabeth Johnston of Ferrysburg. Marshall was born on December 28, 1917. He graduated from Principia Junior College in Elsah, Illinois, and Babson Institute [College] in Boston. After serving four years with the Air Force during WWII, Marshall returned to Grand Haven and became secretary/treasurer of Johnston Bros. in Ferrysburg. Marshall became president of the corporation in 1972. He was active with the Boy Scouts and belonged to the First Church of Christ Scientist. Opal and Marshall had two children and resided at 426 Buena Vista in Spring Lake. Opal died in Spring Lake on August 30, 1978 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Robert G. Johnston [1889-1955]

Robert, the son of James B. and Catherine Hunter Johnston of Ferrysburg, was born in November, 1889. On September 2, 1912 he married Grace May Baxter, who was born in Montague on October 12, 1886. Robert was a marine engineer on a Lake Michigan steamboat. He died on June 25, 1955, and Grace passed away on February 20, 1964. She was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had at least two children, Maryellen, who was born about 1919, and James Baxter, who was born on April 22, 1926, died on May 12, 1997, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Robert W. Johnston [1834–1880]

Robert, born in Scotland on January 14, 1834, was John Watt Johnston’s brother. In the 1880s, Robert was an engineer and master builder. His wife, Belle [Isabelle], was born in England about 1841 and died on September 21, 1891. Their home was in Ferrysburg. They had a daughter and three sons: John H., born in Michigan about 1862, James G., born in Michigan about 1864; Thomas W., born about 1865 in Illinois; and Anne A., born about 1871 in Michigan. Robert died on October 16, 1880 when the ship Alpena, on which he was engineer, went down. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. His wife for a time was postmaster of Ferrysburg. [Tribune obituary, September 21, 1891.]

Thomas B. Johnston [1851–1924]

The son of John Watt and Ann Baud Johnston, by 1870 Thomas was working at the Ferrysburg firm of Johnston Brothers as a boiler maker. He was made full partner by 1875, when the company name was changed to John W. Johnston & Sons. In 1876 Thomas bought out his brother James’s interest and became sole owner of the boiler company. The all-steel C. J. Bos fishing tug, built by Johnstons, was launched in 1898 and they added dredges, floating cranes, scows, towing tugs, and gold mining dredges to the Johnston line. Between 1884 and 1891 the company operated a branch business in Muskegon, under the name Muskegon Boiler Works, and in 1892 the Johnston Boiler Works of Chicago started production. The Ferrysburg plant suffered a serious fire on June 6, 1917 but was quickly rebuilt. Thomas also was president of Dake Engine Company from 1905 to 1924, and he was vice president of the Spring Lake State Bank when it was organized in 1914. He also owned stock in Grand Haven Leather Company [Eagle Ottawa].
Thomas married Sonora “Nora” B. Eames in 1876. Nora, the daughter of Benjamin F. Eames of Ferrysburg, was born in Michigan, lived from June 1856 to 1927, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The family lived at 209 Franklin in Grand Haven. Thomas was born in Detroit in November 1851 and died in 1924. Their children, all born locally, included John “Jay” Franklin, born in May 1878; Nellie V., who was born in November 1885 and married Ford Barnett; James “Jay” H., born in April 1889 [1890]; and Robert E., who died about February 1, 1945. Thomas was a Republican, and a member of the several social organizations, including the International Order of Odd Fellows.

Thomas James Johnston I [1873-1948]

Tom Johnston was born in Michigan on August 7, 1873. In 1921 Tom and Captain Duncan McDonald formed a partnership and founded the Tom Johnston Gravel Company on Pine Street in Ferrysburg. Other names associated with the business were Henning, Henning, and Donahue. The “Hennings” referred to were Tom’s in-laws, and the third party possibly was Grand Haven resident Edward Donahue, born about 1906 and listed as a sailor in the 1930 census; eventually he earned the title Captain. Duncan McDonald died about 1938 and in 1947 Tom took in his son, Tom II, as his partner. A year later the father died, and his son became sole owner. Tom II died on August 5, 1957 of a heart attack.

Around 1908 Tom married Grace R. Henning. Their children, both born in Michigan, were Grace, born about 1916, and Thomas J. II, born about 1921. Another daughter, Jean Aileen, who was born in 1911, married Howard Fant of Grand Haven. The Johnston family resided at 114 Lafayette. Grace Henning was born in 1880, died around October 4, 1936, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Lambert Joldersma [1848-1921]

Lambert Joldersma, a farmer, was born in 1848 [May 1850]. He married Geertje [Gertrude] “Gertie” Mulder, who lived from 1848 [December 1845] to 1925. Both were natives of The Netherlands. Among their children were Ralph, born in 1872; Nellie, born in August 1873; Anna, born in March 1876; Hattie, born in January 1880; Jennie, born in February 1883; Leonard, born in May 1884; and Gertrude, born on September 15, 1885. Only Leonard and Gertrude were born locally, the others in The Netherlands. The family immigrated to the United States in 1883 and resided at 415 Monroe Street. They were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Lambert and Gertie were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Lloyd Bascum Jolly [1900-1994]

Lloyd Jolly was born in Bloomfield, Missouri on April 29, 1900 and died in Bradenton, Florida on April 28, 1994. He married Ethel Earl on May 30, 1930 in Detroit. She was born July 22, 1897 in Watertown, New York, and died in Palmetto, Florida on December 16, 1977. The Jollys were members of St. John’s Episcopal Church. Lloyd was employed by Story & Clark as a woodworker. He also belonged to the Grand Haven Masonic Lodge 139, and she was a member of the Eastern Star Chapter No. 245. They resided at 945 Washington Street in Grand Haven. Lloyd and Ethel were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Benjamin Jones [@1821-1913]

Benjamin Jones was born a slave in Elkhorn, Tennessee [Kentucky/Virginia] on August 15, 1822 [1821]. He enlisted in the 102nd U.S. Colored Infantry in Detroit on December 1, 1863 as private. [Other records noted that he enlisted in Grand Haven on that date.] His hometown was given as Grand Haven, where he had come in the early years of the war to work for Reverend William Ferry. He apparently was not assigned initially to a specific company but wound up in Company B. Benjamin was discharged in Charleston, South Carolina on September 30, 1865 and returned to Grand Haven. By 1870 Benjamin, listed as single, was working as a domestic servant at Amanda Ferry’s home in Grand Haven. Amanda’s husband, Rev. William Ferry, Grand Haven’s founder, had died three years earlier. Also living in Mary’s house were other members of the Ferry family. In the 1880 census, Benjamin was classified as a farmer residing on Pennoyer Street.

Benjamin Jones was enumerated in a 1902 census for the U.S. National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers located in the City of Milwaukee. This Benjamin Jones was only 49 years old at the time of the census, but nevertheless was listed as a veteran of the 102nd U.S. Colored Infantry. His health problems included a hernia and incontinence. He was receiving a Civil War pension of $20 a month. He was admitted to the Home on July 1, 1902 and was released on October 25, 1907. In a 1905 census taken by the State of Wisconsin, he was living as an inmate in a Soldier’s Home in Wauwatosa, Milwaukee County. The Home’s records gave his age as 81. He was listed as a widower, but no other records indicate he ever was married. Despite the age discrepancy, the two Benjamin Joneses undoubtedly are the same person. On March 9, 1912 Benjamin Jones was admitted to the Ottawa County Poor Farm, located a few miles east of Grand Haven, as a private charge, not charity. He had the distinction of being the first Black ever admitted to the Farm. Benjamin died there on April 30, 1913 and was buried in the G.A.R. plot at Lake Forest Cemetery “with the honors accorded to the Grand Army dead.” His obituary in the Tribune put his age at the time of death as 92. [Tribune obituary, May 1, 1913 and article, “Ottawa Colored Soldiers,” May 2, 1913.]

Frank Jones [1840-1928]

Frank Jones of Coopersville on August 2, 1861 enlisted in Company F of the 1st Michigan Infantry. A battle wound in his right shoulder led to his discharge on December 30, 1862. On August 9, 1863 he married Mary Gibbs, the daughter of Charles and Hannah Gibbs of Crockery Township. Mary was born on May 26, 1846. She and Frank had one daughter, Macy, who was born on June 12, 1864, married Edward Wilbur Ives, [1863-1948] and died on February 12, 1934. In 1883 Frank was given a Civil War pension of $6.00 a month. He worked as a carpenter. Mary died on March 20, 1913. Two years later, on June 12, Charles married Sarah Allan Low in Kent County. Sarah was born in Ann Arbor on July 22, 1853 and died in Grand Rapids on May 13, 1943. The couple continued to reside in Polkton Township. Frank was born on June 8, 1840 in Oakland County, died in Stanton, Montcalm County on January 28, 1928 and was buried at Coopersville Cemetery with Mary and Macy.

Hamilton Jones [1807-1888]

Hamilton Jones, who lived from 1807 to November 1, 1888, built a steam mill at Grand Haven, featuring a large circular saw and siding mill. The mill was located on the Grand River, near the west end of Fulton Street. Hamilton was appointed to serve as Grand Haven’s third postmaster, a position he held from April 9, 1861 to September 14, 1866. His wife, Jerusha Roberts, lived from 1814 to 1883. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their daughter Melissa was born in New York on April 17, 1841 and married Benjamin Safford of Grand Haven.

J. A. Jones [? - ?]

A native of New York State, Jones came to Spring Lake in 1868 as a millwright. In 1872 he built the Sisson & Lilley sawmill and was employed by the owners as a millwright.

Jonker

See also Yonker.

Alvin Jonker [1894-1918]

The son of Fred and Anna Verhoeks Jonker, Alvin was born in Grand Haven on May 17, 1894. On September 3, 1917, he enlisted in Company F of Grand Haven, which merged with Company L of the 126th Infantry during WWI. Alvin held the rank of supply sergeant. He was killed during the Battle of the Argonne on October 9, 1918.

Fred H. Jonker [1866-1948]

Born June 1, 1866 in The Netherlands, Fred was the son of Hartger and Elizabeth Henrietta Jonker. At the age of 11, Fred began working in the Boyden Shingle Mill and at 13 joined his father as contractors, primarily masonry and concrete, under the name Jonker & Son. They helped construct the Story & Clark building, the Congregational Church on the northwest corner of Washington and Sixth Streets, Cutler House, Akeley Institute, part of Challenge Refrigerator, Dake Engine, and Eagle Ottawa. Fred was a Democrat and member of Second Reformed Church. He retired from the contracting business in 1927.

On December 30, 1891, Fred married Grand Haven resident Anna V., the daughter of Solomon and Mary Verhoeks of Grand Haven. Anna lived from November 19, 1866 to approximately March 19, 1955. They had five children: Alvin, who was born on May 17, 1894 and lost his life in France during WWI; Marie, who was born about 1897 and married Ello Emery II of Grand Haven; Hartger S. [named for his grandfather], born in 1899; a daughter who married William A. Patterson; and a son who died young. The Jonker family lived at 1112 Columbus and later at 514 Columbus in Grand Haven. Fred died October 10, 1948 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, March 1, 1923, October 12, 1948, and March 17, 1955.]

Hartger Jonker I [1837-1923]

Hartger Jonker was born in The Netherlands on January 17, 1837 and came to America about 1872. He married Elizabeth Henrietta Albers, who was born in the same country in June 1836 and died about June 17, 1919. Their children were: Minnie, who was born about 1869 in The Netherlands, and married Abraham Borgman, who died in 1914; Marie A., who was born in August 1876, married Egbert Winter, and moved to Holland; and a daughter who married John Tietz of Goshen, Indiana. Hartger started a concrete and masonry business in Grand Haven with Ello Emery, which they named Jonker & Emery Construction Company. When his son Hartger II joined him about 1880, they changed the business name to Jonker & Son. Hartger I died on February 27, 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Hartger Sylvester Jonker [1899-1947]

The son of Fred and Anna Ver Hoeks Jonker, Hartger was born in Grand Haven in 1899 and named for his grandfather. In 1920 Hartger worked at Eagle Ottawa. In the mid-1920s Hartger and Ello Emery formed the firm of Jonker and Emery, Building Contractors, operating from the Jonker family home at 513 Columbus. Later, with Peter Robinson as his partner, Jonker purchased the Boomgaard Hardware Store. The new owners moved the business from 335 Fulton to 212 Washington and then in the early 1960s to 208 Washington. Hartger’s son, Al, started working in the store in the early 1940s and took over in 1947, operating it with his wife, Phyllis until they sold it in the 1990s to Godwin Hardware. Hartger died on April 13, 1947. He married Irene Webster on October 16, 1920. Their children were Alvin Leroy, who was born about 1925, Nancy Lou, born about 1930, and Kenneth Webster, born about 1938. The family attended the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven, and Hartger belonged to the American Legion, V.F.W., Masons, Elks, Spring Lake Country Club, and Grand Haven Stag Club. He also served on the Grand Haven Board of Light and Power, the Hospital Board, and the Memorial Airport Commission. They resided at 534 Clinton. Irene lived from June 19, 1899 to October 17, 1990. She died in Grand Haven and was buried with her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Hendrikus “Henry” F. Jonker [1854-1928]

Henry Jonker was born in The Netherlands in June 1854 and came to the United States in 1869. He married Berdena [Berendina] Langland [Langeland], who was born January 20, 1854 in Spring Lake. His sister Lena married Fred Krause of Grand Haven. Henry owned 10 acres in Spring Lake Township and worked as a carpenter. The Jonkers’ ten children, all born locally, were Katie, born in April 1881; Jeanette [Jantje], who was born in December 1882 and married Jay Vander Wall of Grand Rapids; H. Phillip, who was born in December 1884 and served as pastor at a church in Paterson, New Jersey; Minnie, who was born in December 1886 and remained in Spring Lake; L. John, born in August 1888; William, who was born on October 13, 1890, lived for a time in Chicago, and passed away in Spring Lake in April 1973; G. Elizabeth, who was born on December 12, 1892, married Charles [James] Frontjes, and passed away in Grand Rapids on May 9, 1981; Ella Martha, who was born in December 1895 [1894] and relocated to Grand Rapids; Bernice, born in June 1898; and John S. of Grand Haven. The Jonkers were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Henry died on November 17, 1928. [Tribune obituary, August 20, 1930.]

Jack Jordan was a dentist in Grand Haven, with an office at 223 Washington. Joining him at the office were dentists William and Ken Creason. Jordan bought Barrett’s Boat Works in Spring Lake and was its president/treasurer. He also was instrumental in helping organize the Ski Bowl in Mulligan’s Hollow in 1960. The Jordans resided at 1818 Doris. After Jack passed away on January 11, 1979 in Orange County, Florida, he was replaced by Walt Weber at the dental office. Jack was born on April 15, 1925. After his death, his children, Jeff and Mitch, donated the former Barber School building to the Village. The structure had been part of Barrett’s Boat Works.

Jorgen “John” C. Jorgenson [Jorgensen] [1870-1952]

Born in Denmark in June 1870, John Jorgenson came to the United States in 1880, settling first in Chicago. By 1903 he was in Grand Haven. That year he opened Grand Haven Realty Company, located in the Cutler [Witherell] Building at 232-234 Washington. John offered building lots for $1.00 down and 50 cents a week payment. He owned Grand Haven Realty, and as early as 1908 he operated Jorgensen’s Auto and Cycle Service Station at 105 Washington. After World War I John installed the area’s firsthand-operated gasoline pump. On March 1, 1894 in Chicago, he married Katherine Jacobsen. She was born in May 1874 in Denmark and immigrated to the United States in 1881. Their children were Benjamin A., born in Chicago on December 4, 1896; Robert Carter, born in Illinois on December 13, 1897; Henry, born in Illinois in October 1899; Edwin, who was born on March 11, 1902 and died in Muskegon in January 1978; Irene, born about 1906; and George H., born about 1915. The three youngest children were born locally. The family resided at 532 Lake Avenue around 1920. Prior to that they resided at 500 Wallace. By 1930 the family had relocated to Middleville, Barry County and were still there in 1940. Jorgen died in Middleville on July 18, 11952.

George Washington Joscelyn [Jocelyn] [1820-1898]

On April 1, 1861, George Joscelyn purchased 160 acres in Section 34 of Olive Township. Six years later, on June 25, he bought another 166 acres in Section 3 of Holland Township [now Park Township], just to the south. George owned a general store in Ventura, a small community near the boundary between Holland and Olive Townships. George was born in New York in 1820 and died on January 21, 1898. He was buried at Lakeshore Cemetery in Park Township. His wife, Maria, was born about 1825 in New York, died on December 16, 1911, and was buried with her husband. Marquis Joscelyn, born in New York in 1845, was their son. They also had a daughter, Anne M., born in Michigan about 1872.

Marquis [Marzius] Lafayette “Feyt” Joscelyn [1845-1917]

In the 1912 Atlas Marquis Joscelyn was listed as a farmer and owner of 160 acres and a cider mill in Section 34 on the west side of Olive Township. His parents, George W. and Maria Joscelyn, bought the land in 1861 and later farmed 166 acres in Park Township, just to the south. Marquis was born in January 1845 in New York. On November 24, 1889 in Holland, he married Nellie R. Eaton Condus. She was born in Maryland on September 17, 1845, died in Holland Township on September 19, 1901, and was buried at Ventura Cemetery. Marquis passed away on December 17, 1917 and was buried at Lakeshore Cemetery in Holland.

Asa Wood Joy [1859-1915]

Asa Joy owned an 85-acre fruit farm in Section 3 of Spring Lake Township. He was born in Plymouth, Wayne County on October 6, 1839. In June 8, 1862 in Plymouth he enlisted as sergeant in Company C of the 20th Michigan Infantry. He lost a leg at the Battle of Gettysburg in July 1863 and received a $30 per month pension for his injury. He was mustered out on October 16, 1863. From 1881 to 1886 he lived in Kansas, before moving to Spring Lake. About 1863 he married Helen E. Safford. They had three surviving children: Eva, who married G. B. Atkinson, Mary, who married Walter Brown in Spring Lake on May 4, 1892, and Maggie. Asa was a member of the Presbyterian Church. He and his wife returned to Wayne County, where Asa died on October 13, 1915. His wife at that time, named Elizabeth, applied for a widow’s pension.

John Joyce [1832 -1897]

He was born on September 7, 1921. He died in Walker, Kent County on February 13, 2011, not quite 90 years old. He and Angeline were buried at River Bend Cemetery in Walker.

William Wallace Kanouse [@1810- 1895]

Although he was accustomed to traveling on water, Captain William Kanouse came from Toledo to Grand Rapids by foot, after the steamer Don Quixote he was on, bound for West Michigan, was wrecked in Thunder Bay, Ontario. Upon his arrival in Grand Rapids in 1837, he was made second in command of the steamboat Governor Mason, under Captain William Stoddard, the year that service was inaugurated. Built by James Short for Richard Godfrey, the steamer ran the river between Grand Haven and Grand Rapids. William became the second captain to pilot the boat, and he was followed by Captain Willard Sibley.

William was born about 1810 in Newfoundland, New Jersey. He and his family were in the 1840 census for Norton Township, which was then part of Ottawa County. According to Franklin Everett, William moved to Grand Haven around 1841. On June 2, 1834 in Wayne County, he married Delia Cullinan, who was born in Ireland around 1814. Among their children were Helen, who was born in Ohio about September 1836; George Montague, who was born in Grand Haven on November 27, 1842 and died in Salt Lake City, Utah, on January 13, 1881; Edward, born about 1844; and John B., born in February 1849.

Delia was a widow by 1860 and twenty years later she was residing in Saginaw with her son John and his family and listed as widowed.

However, it was a fist fight with James Collins that gave William his local fame, and it is one of several local legends that explain the name Battle Point. [Everett cited Henry Dusenbury as Kanouse’s opponent.] The fight arose over a dispute regarding the boundaries of their preemptions in Section 31 of Crockery Township and had nothing to do with Indians. Only a few log houses had been erected in the dense forest along the banks of the Grand River near Grand Haven. One particular spot on the river looked more attractive to Captain Kanouse than any other on which to build his cabin. Since the government had not completed surveying the land north of the river, a person wishing to own part of it could do so by obtaining a preemption title. Later in 1839 the government put the land up for sale and the person holding the preemption had the first chance at buying that particular piece of land. Therefore William availed himself of the opportunity. Some other people also had their eye on the same spot, including James Collins. A desperate fight with words and fists ensued, after which the place was called Battle Point. Since Captain Kanouse’s name was the first entry in the abstract of the property, it appears that he wasn’t the loser. The abstract read: “United States to William W. Kanouse, August 5, 1837. Patent issued on August 1, 1841.” The land in dispute consisted of 59 acres. William did, however, sell the land to Pierre C. Andre on October 29, 1839, before he had absolute title to it. Andre then transferred the land to four Indians, including Magobie.

William died on December 24, 1895. He and Delia may have been divorced around 1860.

Joseph Karafa [1871-1935]

Like his brother Steven, Joseph Karafa was a farmer in Section 12 of Crockery Township. He was the son of Alexander Karafa and was born in Szarfold, Hungary November 28, 1871. Presumably he settled in Crockery Township the same time as his brother, 1907, but by 1930 he was located in Detroit with his wife, Brigitta Nemeth, and their children. She also was from Szarfold, where she was born September 12, 1874.
Her parents were John and Elizabeth Komlasi [Komlosi] Nemeth. Joseph and Brigitta had at least one daughter, Anna. Joseph died in Detroit on May 23, 1935.

See John Duvernay.

Andrew Stewart Kedzie [1814-1899]
Born on August 23, 1814 in Stamford, New York, Andrew came with his father, William Kedzie, to Monroe County in May 1826. His brother, Robert C. Kedzie, joined the faculty at Michigan Agricultural College in East Lansing [MSU] as Professor of Chemistry. In 1839 Andrew obtained his first degree from Western Reserve College at Hudson, Ohio, which later moved to Cleveland under the name Adelbert College. In 1842 he received a master degree in the ministry. He pastored Congregational churches in Kalamazoo, Union City, Clinton, Somerset, Dexter, and Dowagiac. He was on the Board of Directors of Chicago Theological Seminary. Andrew served on the Christian Commission during the Civil War. [His brother Robert served in the military during the same conflict.] In May 1880, while living in Berrien County, Andrew and his son Donald formed the firm Kedzie & Kedzie. Andrew came to Grand Haven in March 1881, where he was appointed pastor of the Congregational Church. At the same time he purchased the Grand Haven Herald from Marvin H. Creager. Donald worked with him. Marvin had operated the newspaper in behalf of the Benham estate from October 1880 to the time of Adam’s purchase. [Lillie wrote that Kedzie & Kedzie bought the Herald from Guy Weber and Horace Nichols, who had purchased it from the Benham estate in early 1881.] and bought the Spring Lake Republican, which they merged with the Herald. The older Kedzie was author of several books and articles, district oil inspector for several years, and a Republican.

Adam’s wife, Henrietta G., was born in Michigan on December 11, 1833. She was the daughter of Daniel Hixson. Their children were Donald, who was born in Michigan about 1857, later moved to Lordsburg, New Mexico for health reasons and published a newspaper there; Katherina [Katherine] J., who was born in 1864 in Somerset, Hillsdale County, married a Forrest E. Born in 1879, Lt. Commander Kelly died on November 11, 1933, just before the landing and park area was completed. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John S. Kelly [@1830-1910]

Born in Ireland about 1830, John Kelly arrived in America at age 11 with his parents, eventually becoming a mechanical engineer for the New York & Erie Railroad. In 1853 he moved to Grand Rapids and three years later settled in Ferrysburg. At the outbreak of the Civil War he reportedly organized a company of sharpshooters and was given a commission as captain, although his service records could not be located. In 1865 he made his home at Port Sheldon and had charge of three sawmills, one at Ferrysburg, another at Johnsville [Agnew], and the third at Dennison, near Coopersville. By 1880 he and his family had returned to Ferrysburg, and a year later they were in Muskegon. A blacksmith by trade, he invented appliances for use in sawmills. He was designated by the federal government to go to Panama when the plan for the canal was first conceived as an American enterprise [unverified].

His wife, Mary, was born in Ireland around 1830. Their children, all born in Michigan, included John T., who was born about 1857 and moved to Lowell; Mary, born about 1855; Frances “Fannie,” born in December 1860; Alice G., born around 1863; Edward and Willie, born about 1866; Margaret A., born about 1868; and Joseph, born about 1870. Frances married J. D. Sheridan and moved to Muskegon, as did her sisters, Alice and Margaret. Their father, John, died in Muskegon on December 13, 1910. He was a widower at the time of his death. His second wife, Gertrude Klamar, whom William married on October 11, 1920, was born in The Netherlands on April 29, 1885. William and Gertrude had two children, William A. II, born on November 10, 1923, and Katherine G., who was born on May 13, 1926 and married Clyde Arkema of Grand Haven on May 1, 1946. William I was born in Grand Haven on March 10, 1877 and died there on April 13, 1954. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Gertrude passed away on November 20, 1941.

William Adam Kieft II [1923-1993]

Born in Grand Haven on November 10, 1923 to William and Gertrude Kieft, young William was active in governmental affairs, having served on the Grand Haven Township Board and several terms on the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners. He was Building and Zoning Administrator for Grand Haven Township when he retired in 1988. On March 26, 1942 he married Ruth Briegel in Grand Haven. Their children included Dennis Lee and Jane of Nunica, William A. III, who died about April 15, 1954, and Charlene, who married Wayne Merz. Both William III and Charlene lived in Grand Haven. William died on November 30, 1993 at his home and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 1, 1993.]

William James Kieft [1909-1982]

The son of Frederick and Della Beekman Kieft, William was born on August 25, 1909. In 1930 he was employed as a grinder in a local print shop. He married Anna Bramer on June 22, 1933. Anna, the daughter of Frederick and Elsie Bosch [Bush] Bramer, was born on April 1, 1911 in Spring Lake and died there on November 24, 2000. The Kiefs resided at 17599 North Shore Drive in Spring Lake Township. William died on March 8, 1982.

Albert Kiel [1841-1930]

Born in The Netherlands on November 8, 1841, Albert Kiel came to Grand Haven about 1861. Within a short time, he established a furniture and undertaking business that he conducted until his death in 1930. The business was located at 123-125 Washington. For many years he was one of the best-known businessmen in the state.

On September 16, 1872 in Grand Haven he married the widow Lucy De Keep [De Kiep]. The daughter of Louis and Sarah vanden Berg, Lucy was born in The Netherlands about 1844 and came to Grand Haven with her parents in 1847. Lucy died April 26, 1908 at her home. She and Albert had at least five children: Jennie, who was born in May 1869; Thomas John, who was born in Grand Haven on September 13, 1875; Sarah Henrietta, who was born in January 1879 and at age 55 became J. Edgar Lee’s second wife and lived in Grand Haven; and Eleanor, who married Louis Bissonette of Durand, Shiawassee County, and died in 198 Following his father’s death. Thomas took over management of the furniture store and retired shortly afterward. Albert was a member of the City Council from 1895 to 1898. He was one of the earliest advocates of the city electric lighting plant, and it was largely through his efforts that the municipal power plant was established and kept in operation in Grand Haven.

The Kiels resided at 315 Columbus Street. Living with Albert and Lucy at that address in 1880 were Lucy’s brother, Henry, and her mother, Sarah, the widow of Louis vanden Berg of Grand Haven. Also residing with Albert and Lucy in 1880 were Lucy’s children by her earlier marriage: Margaret De Keep, born in Michigan about 1865; Louis De Keep, who was born in Michigan in 1867, died in 1881, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; and Jane De Keep, born in Michigan about 1869. Albert died June 6, 1930 at his home and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituaries, April 27, 1908 and June 7, 1930.]

Thomas John Kiel [1875-1946]

Born in Grand Haven September 13, 1875, Thomas was the son of Albert and Lucy Kiel. Thomas worked at his father’s store, the Kiel Furniture and Undertaking Store at 123-125 Washington Street in Grand Haven and took over management when his father died in 1930. Thomas retired that year and closed the business. He attended St. John’s Episcopal Church and was a member of the Grand Haven Stag Club, Masons, Elks, Foresters, and Eastern Star.

On June 6, 1901 in Grand Haven Thomas married Eleanor “Nellie” J. Kermode, who was born in 1874. Nellie came alone from her home on the Isle of Man [England] at the age of 12 to live in Grand Haven with her uncle, John W. Callister, at his home at 626 Clinton Street. About the time they were married, Eleanor and Thomas built the house at 535 Clinton. They had two children: a daughter, Bertha, who was born on May 19, 1903, graduated from the University of Michigan, taught at South Bend, Indiana, retired in 1968 after 43 years, and died at South Bend on January 27, 1996, and Eleanor, who was born around 1905, became a teacher in Dearborn and married Elgin Wright. Thomas was a charter member of the Grand Haven Stag Club. Nellie died in August 1928. Thomas died on April 29, 1946 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituary, April 30, 1946.]

Silas Kilbourn [Kilbourne] [1848–1919]

Silas Kilbourn, born in Massachusetts in September 1848, bought out the A. and A. D. Fessenden Company in 1882 and expanded operations along the South Channel of the Grand River, north of Adams Street, between the today’s U.S. 31 and the Chesapeake & Ohio train depot. His son, Benjamin, worked with him. The firm employed 125 men. The company manufactured fish pails, kits, pickle and cider barrels, and kegs. In addition, the firm operated a large sawmill with a capacity of several million feet. Silas owned three freight cars that he used to ship his wares to market. Sometimes the spring floods would partially flood the Kilbourn yards. Silas recalled one year when men were forced to use a rowboat to take feed to the barn where the plant’s three teams of horses were kept.

On April 21, 1878 Silas married Amanda M. Jones in Bay City. In Grand Haven, they lived at the corner of Franklin and Sixth Streets. Amanda was born in October 1854 in Dorchester, Canada and died on May 30, 1907. Their children included a son, Clare W., born in March 1883; Arthur Cornelius, the youngest son, who was born August 30, 1884, joined Company G. of the National Guard, and died from appendicitis on June 10, 1903; and Grace L., who died about January 30, 1907. Silas died about August 17, 1919 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituaries, May 31, 1907 and June 10, 1903.]

Joseph Kilgore [1868-1920]

Joseph Kilgore replaced Frank Fraga as lighthouse keeper. Joseph served from 1911 to 1920, the year he died. He was born in Wisconsin in 1868. His wife, Alice M., was born in Michigan about 1874. They had three children, all born in Wisconsin: Gladys, born about 1901; Lester, born about 1902; and Charles, born about 1906. Like all keepers, Joseph and his family resided in the residence provided for them at 900 South Harbor. Joseph died on February 11, 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. By 1930 Alice and her children were residing in Milwaukee.

Cornelius “Con” Killean [1850-1915]

Cornelius Killean married Catharine [Katherine] Kelley in Grand Haven on July 22, 1885. They resided at 14 North Sixth Street in Grand Haven. Catharine’s sister Mary married Charles A. Lyman of Spring Lake. Con’s and Catharine’s children were Arthur J., born in August 1887; May C., born in June 1886; and William, born in April 1890. Cornelius was born in May 1850 [1853] and died in 1915. He worked as section foreman for a railroad company. Catharine lived from July 1852 [1854] to 1917. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Edward Killean [Killen] [1838-1896]

Born in Hamburg, New York on December 19, 1838, Ed was the son of John and Mary Killean, who settled in Grand Rapids. Ed came to Grand Haven as a young man, and in 1860 he was hired by Ernest Andres to manage the Milwaukee House, also called Western Hotel, in Muir, a fledgling, short-lived village at the foot of Dewey Hill. After the Milwaukee House was destroyed by fire in 1861, Killean continued to work for Andres, who built another hotel with the same name, this one in Grand Haven. After Ferry’s original residence on the southeast corner of Washington and Harbor Streets [2 Washington] burned down in 1866, the lot remained vacant until 1873 when Ed and Captain Kirby began construction of the Kirby House at a cost of $50,000. In 1877 Ed was proprietor of City Hotel at 114 Washington. In 1880 he took over the Rasch House at the corner of Bridge and Canal Streets in Grand Rapids and renamed it the Clarendon Hotel. Ed managed the Clarendon until he went to Manistee in 1892 to take charge of the Dunham House.

Ed married Margaret Sullivan, who was born in 1839. Margaret’s sister Mary married Myron Scott of Grand Haven. In the 1890s, Margaret Killean was proprietor of the Central House in Spring Lake. Charging $1.00 per day, the hotel was located on the northeast corner of Savidge and Division Streets. Following Ed’s death, Margaret and a son, John E. Killean, took over the Hotel Bucklen at Elkhart, Indiana. Margaret died on January 17, 1910 at the home of her daughter, Nettie Seymour, who lived at 51 Lake Avenue in Grand Rapids. She was buried at the Fulton Street Cemetery. Nettie, who married Edward B. Seymour, was the last of the family and died on January 11, 1942. Son John was born in 1860, died on November 1, 1906, and was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery. Ed died of cancer of the tongue at the Dunham House in Manistee on May 6, 1896 and was buried at Grand Rapids. [Tribune obituaries, May 6 and 7, 1896 and January 11, 1922.]

Everett Earl Kimball I [1881-1929]

Everett Kimball I was born in Montague on August 12, 1881 and on April 24, 1909 in Grand Haven married Uarda [Euarda/Widia] Melissa Conant. In 1918 they resided at 1321 Franklin with Everett II and their five other children. Everett II was born in Grand Haven on September 12, 1912. Everett I worked at Dake Engine Company as a fireman. Everett I passed away in Robinson Township on November 11, 1929 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. Everett Earl Kimball II [1912-1965]

Born in Grand Haven on September 5, 1912, Everett was the son of Everett and Uarda Mosher Kimball. Everett II left Grand Haven in 1941 when he entered the ministry, first serving the Church of the Nazarene in Potterville, Eaton County. On May 6, 1930, he married Irene Lyons of Grand Haven, who was born in Michigan around 1913. He died in Charlotte, Eaton County, on April 12, 1965 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Samuel M. Kimball [1869-1943]

Samuel Kimball was born in Grand Haven on September 20, 1869. In the summers of 1897 and 1899 Sam worked as a marine engineer [Fireman] aboard the steamer Hancock. According to the 1900 Federal Census,
Sam was a marine engineer and living with his wife Mary on Elliott Street. Living with them was an “adopted son” Harry Baggott. Harry, the son of Samuel and Elida Baggott, lived from, 1891 to 1955. Both his parents died in December 1896. On December 1, 1903 in Muskegon, Sam married Margaret F. Allison. Born about 1875, Margaret died on April 29, 1909. On February 11, 1911 Sam married Mary L. Seacott in Muskegon. They were divorced in Grand Haven on December 26, 1918. On February 18, 1919, Sam married Katherine “Kit” C. B. Leindecker in Muskegon. Previously married, she was the daughter of Alexander McKenzie and born about 1875. The Kimball family lived at 534 Fulton Street, which had been Kit’s parents’ home. Jane and Katherine were living in the Fulton Street house at the time of the 1920 Federal Census. Sam was not included, and Katherine’s family name was listed as McKenzie. Sam died at the Infirmary in Eastmanville on December 7, 1943 of cardiac disease. At the time of the 1880 Federal Census, Sam was working in a shingle mill in Grand Haven and claimed he was 19 years old, which would push his birth to 1861.

Frederick Joseph King I [1878-1945]

Fred, the son of Joseph and Ellen [Helen] Bailey King, was born on November 14, 1878 in Olive Township. He took over the family farm in Section 3 of Olive Township [later Port Sheldon Township]. His brother, John, was co-owner. The farm grew to 200 acres by 1918. Fred married Fannie [Fanny] Correll in Grand Haven on October 4, 1905. They had eight children, all born in Michigan, including Clarence, who was born about 1906; Frances, who was born in 1907 and married William K. Hierholzer of Grand Haven; and Frederick II, who was born about 1909, passed away on April 14, 1975, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Fannie was born in Indiana about 1886. She and Fred were married about 1903. Fred continued farming after his brother moved to Grand Haven. Fred died on August 16, 1945.

John Edward King [1881-1919]

John, the son of Joseph and Ellen [Helen] Bailey King, was born on September 13, 1881 in Olive Township. He and his brother Fred took over the family farm in Section 3 of Olive Township. In 1913 John was living at 1200 Pennoyer, and five years later he was a truck driver, residing with his wife, Henrietta Neitring, at 531 Madison. Edward and his wife lived at 920 Fulton and later at 923 Washington. Jane died on September 9, 1930 after surgery at Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids. Edward then married Lena, the daughter of Gomer and Jane Vette of Grand Haven. Lena lived from 1871 to 1935. Edward died at his home on Washington on January 5, 1946 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as were Jane and Lena. [Tribune obituaries, September 9, 1930 and January 7, 1946.]

James Kinney I [1855-1909]

Born in Ireland in 1855, James Kinney came to Grand Haven about 1864 and later was employed by the Grand Trunk Railroad and Crosby Steamship Lines. In 1881 he married Hattie, who lived from 1857 to 1927. Their children, all of Grand Haven, included James II, who died about July 11, 1959; May; Edward; and Margaret. James died at his home on Elliot and First Streets on February 24, 1909 and was buried at Lake Forest, where his wife also was interred. [Tribune obituary, February 24, 1909.]

Edward Percival Kirby I [1875-1935]

Born in Grand Haven on March 28, 1875, Edward was the son of Captain Thomas W. and Mary Ellen O’Brien Kirby. Captain Kirby was founder of Kirby Shipyards and among the best-known pioneer residents in Grand Haven, Edward graduated from the University of Michigan Law College with honors. He had a law office in Grand Haven with Paul Cunningham. He was residing in Minneapolis in December 1901, when he was appointed probate judge to succeed John Goodrich of Coopersville, who had resigned. He held the office until 1917 and then went to Detroit and engaged in the real estate business. Kirby was a Republican.

Edward’s first wife, Loyola A., was born in Illinois about 1889. His second wife, Katherine C., died about February 5, 1965. Edward and Loyola had four children, all born in Michigan: William G., born about 1917; Edward P. II, born about 1922; Elizabeth J., born about 1925; and Alice L., born about 1927. The family lived in the Kirby family home at 514 Washington. After moving to Detroit, the Kirbys returned to Grand Haven to summer in Highland Park where the family established Indian Village, a group of cottages that marked the enlarging of the resort south of Highland Park. Edward died in Detroit on May 8, 1935 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, “Judge E. Percival Kirby,” October 10, 1902 and Tribune obituary, May 9, 1935.]

Early in his career he lived with other family members at 514 Washington. Later he and his wife, Katherine, resided at 522 Washington. They owned a cottage at Indian Village, on Lake Michigan slightly south of Highland Park. John was killed in an auto accident near Lansing on June 28, 1926. [Tribune obituary, June 28, 1920.]

Joseph H. Kirby [1880-1934]

Joseph, another son of Captain Thomas and Mary Ellen O’Brien Kirby, was born in Grand Haven in June 1880. The family business office was located at 220 Washington and he lived in the family home at 514 Washington. Joseph died in 1934 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Maurice S. Kirby [1871-1925]

Maurice, the son of Captain Thomas and Mary Ellen O’Brien Kirby, was born in Grand Haven in August 1871. In February 12, 1896 in Grand Haven he married Miriam, the daughter of Edward and Clara White Ferry. She was born in Grand Haven on August 17, 1874. In 1900 Maurice was living alone in Chicago, where he worked as a chemist. By 1910 he was still living alone, listed as single, and working as an accountant. He died in 1925. By 1910 Miriam had married Charles C. Reynolds and moved to Los Angeles, California. By 1930 they were divorced. Miriam died in Los Angeles on December 18, 1955. Apparently she was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery three years later. Her children were Katherine, born in Illinois in November 1896, Virginia, who born in Illinois on September 25, 1898, married Karl B. Schurz, and died in Los Angeles on August 25, 1985; and Charles “Ferry,” who was born in California on June 8, 1906, and passed away in Los Angeles on February 7, 1955. The children are listed with the name Reynolds, although only Ferry was Charles Reynold’s natural child and Maurice was the father of the two girls.

Thomas Edward Kirby [1868-1940]

Born in Grand Haven on August 1, 1868, Thomas was the son of Captain Thomas W. and Mary Ellen O’Brien Kirby. Thomas attended business college in Grand Rapids, and in 1890 he graduated from the University of Michigan Pharmacy Department. He practiced law in Detroit for four years, and then returned to Grand Haven to take charge of “The Fisheries,” which included a fleet of fishing boats operated by his father. When Captain Kirby died, Thomas and his three brothers, John, Edward, and Joseph organized the Kirby Coal and Insurance Company in the building later occupied by the Kieft Brothers Clothing Store at 220 Washington. Thomas was city clerk from 1898 to 1899. He resided at 520 Washington. He died about April 6, 1940 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Thomas W. Kirby [1832-1896]

Born on his father’s sailing ship in the China Sea in 1832, Thomas Kirby had an Irish heritage. After his father drowned, Kirby went to sea at the age of nine and served in all the positions on shipboard until he finally became a shipmaster. In 1857 he came to America, where he sailed the Great Lakes. In the early years of lumbering in Grand Haven he met with an accident that cost him the use of his left arm. It happened at Spoonville, when a tree being felled struck him and rendered his arm useless. He had charge of the Kirby-Furlong Barge Company, later the Michigan Barge Company. In 1867 Captain Kirby, John W. Callister, and John Neil organized Mechanics Dry Dock and Shipyard and built the tugs J. G. Campbell, H. W. Warner, Centennial, Blanche, Deer, Elk, Callister, and Sprite. They were built near Government Basin on Harbor Avenue. He also was partner with Healy C. Akeley and owned the Kirby & Akeley shipyard. Thomas manufactured such vessels as major Pickands, Samuel Marshall, and the 230’ H. C. Akeley, which was built in 1881 at a cost of $110,000. In 1872 Captain Kirby donated funds to build the first Roman Catholic Church [St. Patrick’s] in Grand Haven on the south side of Fulton Street, about one block east of Seventh. Thomas joined with Ed Killean in building the Kirby House in 1873 at the southeast corner of Washington and Harbor Streets. Thomas was mayor of Grand Haven in 1887 and 1889 and 1892. He was chairman of the board of Public Works.

In 1867 Thomas married Mary Ellen O’Brien of Chicago. They resided at 514 Washington and later at 520 Washington. Mary was born in New York in November 1841 [1845] and died about October 17, 1927. Harry Pilkington Kirk [1885-1948]

Born on November 25, 1885 in Leeds, England, Harry Kirk was called the “father of dushzneing” in Ottawa County because he organized the first troop at St. John’s Episcopal Church in 1914, the year he arrived in Grand Haven from Canada. Harry started the first Boy Scout camp in the county, a 30-acre site known in the 1920s as Camp Shawondoossee and later as Camp McCarthy. The 30 acres was carved out of a 399-acre farm owned by Patrick McCarthy in Section 33 of Grand Haven Township. In 1944 the name of the camp was changed to Camp Kirk in Harry’s honor. Harry held the highest adult rank, silver beaver, and was an Eagle Scout. He held continuous membership in scouting from 1914 to his death. He also was a high-ranking Mason. In 1930 he was shaver at Eagle Ottawa. Later he became foreman of the Splitting Department at the leather company. On August 23, 1919 he married Mabel Cunstead, who, was born on February 28, 1896 and died about June 1, 1970 in Miamisburg, Ohio. They resided at 1223 Washington Street and at 501 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven. Harry died on August 21, 1948 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Mabel. Their daughter, Stella P., was born in Grand Haven on November 8, 1921 and died on July 5, 1996. John H. Kitchel [1910-1975]

Born June 14, 1910 in Deer Creek, Indiana, John Kitchel graduated from Ball State University and Indiana University School of Medicine in 1940. He came to Grand Haven in 1941 and, with his physician wife Dr. Mary Kitchel, opened an office at 320 Washington in Grand Haven and later moved to 414 Franklin Street. He was a member of the Ottawa County Medical Society, North Ottawa Rod and Gun Club, Michigan United Conservation Clubs, the Water Resources Commission, the American Academy of General Practice, and Grand Haven School Board from 1956 to 1962.

In 1935 John married Mary Spurgeon in Terre Haute, Indiana. They had six children: Carolyn, who married Richard Titus of Las Vegas, Nevada; Jane, who married D. Mac West of Berkeley, California; Charles S. of Grand Rapids; Elaine, who married William De Vries III of Walker, Kent County; Daniel S. of Lansing; and Kim of Ferrysburg. John’s wife, known as Dr. Mary, after WWII concentrated primarily on anesthesiology. John died of an apparent heart attack on December 20, 1975 in Lansing. The John H. Kitchel Dune Preserve, named in his honor, consisted of 52 acres of North Shore duneland and was set aside by his wife to be a land preserve and nature study area. The Preserve later was combined with an adjacent parcel to form the Kitchel-Lundquist Dunes Preserve. [Tribune obituary, December 22, 1975, and Tribune article, “Duneland Name Honors Kitchel,” May 26, 1976.]

Mary Spurgeon Kitchel [1912-2002]

Mary Spurgeon was born in Noblesville, Indiana on January 18, 1912. She and her parents moved to Springfield, Missouri, and then to Terre Haute, Indiana. Mary graduated from Indiana State Teachers College [Indiana State University] and, in 1939, from Indiana University School of Medicine. She and John Kitchel met at Indiana University and were married in 1935 in Terre Haute. After having two of her six children, Mary attended Medical School at Indiana University, where she graduated in 1939. She and her husband, also a physician, opened their medical practice in Grand Haven in 1941 at 320 Washington before moving to a building they erected at 414 Franklin Street. Following WWII Mary specialized in anesthesiology. She was deeply interested in local history and supported the work of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum. In 1969 she authored the book Spring Lake Community Centennial—1869-1969. Dr. Mary retired from her practice in 1980 but took on the responsibility of medical director at North Ottawa Care Center in 1983, a position she held for 13 years. She served in a similar capacity for Glenwood Christian Nursing Home until 1991, and she also was State Nursing Home Inspector for Ottawa and Muskegon Counties. In 1969 Dr. Mary was named “Tri-Cities Career Woman of the Year” and in 1987 the Rotary Club honored her as a “Paul Harris Fellow.” In 1990 she was the first recipient of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum “Historian of the Year” award. Dr. Mary died in Grand Haven on March 10, 2002. The Kitchels had six children: Carolyn, who married Richard Titus of Las Vegas, Nevada; Jane, who married D. Mac West of Berkeley, California; Charles S. of Grand Rapids; Elaine, who married William De Vries III of Walker, Kent County; Daniel S. of Lansing; and Kim of Ferrysburg. Peter, the son of Arie and Alida Boone Klaassen, was born in Grand Rapids on September 5, 1918. Peter married Jane Lois Casemier in Grand Haven on August 4, 1940. She was the daughter of Henry and Nan Boomgaard Casemier. David Jay Klaassen, their son, was born in Grand Haven on July 22, 1941. Peter died on April 22, 2006. Jane lived from September 19, 1919 to December 10, 2010. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Cecil Klages [1919-2003]

Rev. Cecil Klages was installed as pastor of St. John’s Lutheran Church in Grand Haven on May 12, 1957 and served there until his retirement in 1987. Rev. Klages was born in Marmion, Ontario, Canada on March 9, 1919. His parents were Theodore and Clara Schwartz Klages. The Reverend married Clara Esslinger on March 10, 1945 in St. Louis, Missouri. On September 29, 1964 he became a U.S. citizen. He earned a master degree in counseling from Western Michigan University in 1981, and he served on the Michigan District Mission Board and Missouri Synod Adjudication Board. He also was Chaplain to the Armed Services Commission. In the Grand Haven area, the pastor served on the boards of North Ottawa County Council on Aging and the Tri-Cities Y.M.C.A. After retirement, he served as Chaplain at Hackley Hospital. He and Clara had five children: Kenneth Klages, Ronald Klages, Lois Eich, Carol Spoelma, and Ross Klages. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, August 20, 2003.]

Arend Jan “John” Klaver [1856-@ 1900]

A native of Grand Haven, John was born October 14, 1856 while his parents, Gerrit Jan and Jennike Bolt Klaver, lived at 326 Franklin in Grand Haven. John and Peter Klaver were brothers. John, a painter by trade, was elected city marshal in 1892 and 1893, and he was court officer as well. In 1892 he became the first Grand Haven policeman to wear a uniform. Toward the end of his life he was an Ottawa County deputy sheriff. At one time he owned a half interest in “Turk,” a trotter with a good record. The other half interest belonged to Edward Vaupell, sheriff of Ottawa County. On November 1, 1897 John married Augusta Grumbante in Grand Haven. A native of Germany, she lived from August 1859 [1860] to 1928. John died after June 1900. Both were buried in the family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their daughter, Jennie R., was born on January 4, 1885.

Gerrit Jan Klaver, born in The Netherlands about 1824, first settled in Holland, Michigan, and then, sometime before 1850, moved to Grand Haven with his brother Pieter. In the 1850 census Gerrit was classified as a turner [someone who works on a wood lathe], and six years later he was listed as a carriage maker in the Michigan Gazetteer. Gerrit became a U.S. citizen in 1854. Gerrit and his wife, Jennike [Jenneken] Bolt, whom he married in Ottawa County in 1852, lived for awhile at 326 Franklin and then purchased a one-acre site on Beechtree near Washington Street, where they built a home and raised their family. Their children were John, born October 14, 1856; Margaret, born about 1858; and Peter, born on December 21, 1861. Both Peter and John were house painters in 1880. Gerrit died in 1872.

Peter Klaver [1861-1918]

Born in Grand Haven on December 21, 1861, the son of Gerrit and Jennike Bolt Klaver, Peter was a painter by trade and was in business for seventeen years, making a specialty of everything in the decorating line. Shortly after his father’s death in 1872, Peter dropped out of the sixth grade and began work in a local shingle mill. Peter later became Constable for one term and served as City alderman in 1896 and 1897, and also was on the Board of Education. Peter owned a grocery and meat market, originally at 101 North Third and then across the street at 106. His son, John, later ran the grocery.

On October 20, 1891 Peter married Egberdena “Dena” Boer, a Grand Haven teacher, who was born in Grand Haven in December 1866. Dena was the daughter of Jan and Lammigye Van Dam Boer and the sister of John J. Boer. The Klavers had two sons, John B., born in April 1893, and Eugene G., born in November 1896. About 1905, the Klavers built their residence of many years at 618 Lafayette Street in Grand Haven. Peter died about July 3, 1918. Dena was born on September 10, 1865 and died on December 6, 1935. Both were buried in the family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Joseph Klepac [1878–1959]
Born in Bohemia on December 3, 1878, Joseph Klepac at an early age served four years as an apprentice in a piano factory. He became a student in the Berlin Technical School for Piano Builders, and later was associated with Bechstein, who along, with Steinway, was known as one of the world’s finest piano builders. He received training as a journeyman in every factory of importance on the continent and in England. After working for Bechstein in Berlin for seven years, he was superintendent and acoustical engineer for the British Piano Factory of Sir Herbert Marshall and Sons. When World War I broke out in 1914 he came to the United States and on August 7, 1921 became a naturalized citizen. By 1918 he was associated with Kohler Brambach Piano Company, New York City, and for 15 years was acoustical engineer and factory manager for that firm. He became acoustical adviser to the American Steel Wire Company in Chicago, manufacturers of steel strings for most of the American and Canadian piano factories. Soon after 1930, piano builders became conscious of the need for the smaller piano. Joseph was credited with conceiving the idea of the small piano of today, called spinets, consoles, or other names, for use in residences. In 1935 he came to Grand Haven and for eight years was superintendent and acoustical engineer for Story & Clark Piano Company. He then joined the Laughead Piano Company in Grand Haven. Joseph was hailed by many as the “father of the small piano in America.” In 1939 Fortune magazine credited him with being responsible for the positive evolution of the industry. His work as a paid consultant required him to go to cities in the East, and his latest design was a small, five-octave spinet piano with an aluminum plate. Joseph also maintained an acoustic laboratory in Grand Haven.

In 1918 Joseph’s wife’s name was Kristiana. She died about September 27, 1937 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Joseph then married Cora Voshel [Voshol], who was born on January 24, 1891 and died in Grand Haven on July 6, 1971. Cora’s parents, who resided in Grand Haven at 101 South Ferry, were Cornelius, born in The Netherlands about 1863, and Nellie, born in Michigan around 1865. Many factories tried to induce Joseph to move East, but he and his wife loved West Michigan with its lakes and sand dunes, and they remained in Grand Haven. Joseph carried out experimental work for his own pleasure and for several large piano firms in the basement of his home at 111 Franklin Street. The couple attended the Second Christian Reformed Church. He died on May 25, 1959. He and Cora were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Chronicle, March 3, 1949.]

Leslie E. Kline [1897-1987]
In the mid-1930s Leslie Kline, a graduate of the Palmer School of Chiropractic, had an office at 700 Washington in Grand Haven. He continued working from that address until the late 1960s. Leslie was born on December 10, 1897 and died in Fruitport on June 30, 1987. He resided at 180 North Third in Fruitport.

Philip J. Klingman [1864-1914]
Philip Klingman founded Klingman Furniture in Grand Rapids in 1886. He was born in Portsmouth, Ohio in May 1864 [1863]. He married Josephine Dunsing in Hamilton, Ohio on April 21, 1887. By 1910 Philip and his wife Josephine owned and resided in a waterfront residence located on 66 acres in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township, possibly part of the property later designated as 15735 Littlefield Lane. The house cost a reported $100,000 to build. Philip passed away at the age of 50. Josephine was born in Ohio in March 1867. In 1930 she was living in the Pantlind Hotel in Grand Rapids. She died in Grand Rapids on January 4, 1953 and was buried at Greenlawn Cemetery in Portsmouth, Ohio.

Ann Jerovsek Klintworth [1918-2003]

Adrian Klop I [1875-1954]

Arthur Edward Kromer [1861-1931]

Born in 1861 in Michigan, Arthur Kromer, a tinsmith, was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. He and his wife, Margaret, were residents of Grand Rapids. His parents, Napoleon and Hannah Kromer, and his sister, Sarah, in the summer of 1883 or earlier, camped in Highland Park, pitching a tent on the wooded ridge where Beech Holme was built. Arthur was a frequent visitor to Grand Haven. An item in the Tribune on April 12, 1894 read, “Art Kromer has made his best run so far this year. He rode to Grand Haven Monday over rough roads, covering thirty-six miles in four hours’ actually [sic] riding time.” Arthur and his wife, Margaret Manby, resided in Grand Rapids. Margaret, a native of Canada, was five years younger than her husband. By 1930 the couple was residing in Tarpon Springs, Florida. Arthur passed away in Pinellas County, Florida on July 29, 1931. Margaret died in the same county in 1952.

Max C. Krueger [1870-1950]

Born in Berlin, Germany on August 6, 1870, Max Krueger was an electrician with an office at 112 Washington in Grand Haven. He married Molly Kappes in Chicago, Illinois on January 12, 1897. She was born on March 10, 1874 in Chicago. They were married on January 12, 1897 and had three surviving daughters: Marguerite [Margaret], who was born on November 10, 1901 and died on April 27, 1918; Marie, born about 1906, and Ruth, born about 1912. The family had moved from Chicago to 40 acres on what is now Krueger Street in Spring Lake Township in 1904.

Max graduated from the University of Berlin with a degree in electrical engineering. His first job was with the Siemens Company in the London office. He traveled to Chicago in 1893 to take charge of the Siemens exhibition at the Columbian Exposition. While in the Windy City, he met Molly. After moving to Spring Lake, Max did electrical contracting and sold Hurley and Thor appliances and lighting. Max founded Ottawa Electric in 1907 at 112 Washington in downtown Grand Haven. In 1935 he sold the business to Emery Holzinger.

Max and Molly were members of the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church, the Spring Lake Masonic Lodge, and the North Ottawa Rod and Gun Club. Max served for 22 years as justice of the peace in Spring Lake Township.

Molly passed away on August 24, 1948, and Max died on June 19, 1950. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with their daughter Marguerite.

Henry Kuyers [1867-1935]

A farmer and stock raiser, Henry Kuyers owned 80 acres in Section 34 of Robinson Township. He settled in the area in 1910. His wife’s name was Katie. One of their seven children died as an infant on September 13, 1914 and was buried at Olive Township Cemetery with other Kuyers. Henry was born in Michigan in October 1867. By 1900 Henry and Katie were residing in Iowa. He died in 1935. Katie lived from 1879 to 1946. Both were buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery in Holland.

Peter La Belle [Labelle, Labell] [1810-1894]

Born in Canada in 1810, Peter La Belle settled in Alpine Township [Kent County] as early as 1837. There he and two other men of French descent put up a mill, but all three were gone within two or three years. Peter appeared in the 1850 census for Ottawa Township [Grand Haven Township]. Two years later he was licensed to provide the first ferry service between Spring Lake and Grand Haven by crossing the Grand River at the end of Sawdust Road to the site where the Holiday Inn later was located. The fare was three cents in 1856, when he successfully petitioned to raise it to a nickel, with tickets for fifteen fares or more available at three cents each. Teams of horses were taken over the river on scows and pedestrians were transported in Peter operated his ferry until approximately 1867, when the first bridge was built. He married Mary [Maria] Gerard on November 20, 1849 in Grand Haven. She was born around 1828 in Canada. They had eight children. Peter passed away in Mason County on September 18, 1894 and was buried at Pere Marquette Cemetery.

Burrel Wilford Ladd [1897-1975] and Charles Archibald Ladd [1870-1925]

Charles Ladd and his son Burrel Ladd owned Ladd & Son photography studio at 22 South Second Street from at least 1908 to 1915, and perhaps longer. They were residents of Muskegon, where Burrel was born on August 26, 1897. He died in Muskegon on June 17, 1975 and was buried at St. Mary’s Cemetery. His father Charles lived from July 6, 1870 to June 24, 1925. Born in Herkimer, New York, Charles was buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon.

Charles “Carl” F. Ladewig [1839-1917]

Charles was born in Gruenberg, Prussia, on September 25, 1839 to Carl F. and Maria Christina Dobbert Ladewig. With his parents, brothers August F. and William F., and sister Charlotte, Charles sailed from Hamburg and arrived at Castle Garden, New York, on January 20, 1857, aboard the ship Johan Gutenberg. The family first settled in Lockport, New York before moving to Grand Haven Township in 1863. Charles married Wilhelmenia Behm at her home in Grand Haven Township on February 12, 1863. Wilhelmenia was born at Johannesburg, New York on January 13, 1844. Following their marriage, the couple purchased a 160-acre farm in Section 15 of Grand Haven Township. Charles was Deacon at the newly founded German Lutheran Emanuel Church, which he helped organize in 1870. The Ladewigs’ children, all born locally, were Anna, who was born December 4, 1863 and married William Tietz; Sarah, who was born about 1860 and married Max Glazat; Adolph, born about 1868; Carl H., born about 1870; Paul [Paulus] J., born about 1876; John [Johannes] F., born about 1879; Alfred H.; Henry W.; and Hattie. The family later moved to a farm in Georgetown Township. Wilhelmenia died on January 18, 1892 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Her husband died on January 19, 1917 in Grand Rapids, where he was buried.

Michael Laffin [1841-1913]

Although a blacksmith by trade, Michael Laffin in 1877 managed the National Hotel, owned by Phillip Rosback, on the southeast corner of Columbus and Harbor. Born in New York in May 1841, Michael enlisted in Company A of the 23rd Michigan Infantry on July 19, 1862. He was mustered in with the rank of sergeant, was wounded at the Battle of Franklin, Tennessee on November 30, 1864, promoted to lieutenant in December. He was mustered out on June 28, 1865. He filed for a disability pension on March 12, 1880. He married Mary Brodrick, who was born in Canada on October 12, 1847. Michael died on February 15, 1913 in Valparaiso, Indiana. He and Mary had been in Indiana since at least 1900. Michael by then was a “keeper of rooming house,” as recorded in the 1900 Federal Census for Central, Indiana. In 1870 and 1880, the couple lived in Spring Lake, where Michael worked as a blacksmith. In 1922, Mary was residing in Minot, North Dakota. She died there on June 27, 1926, and was buried with her husband at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had one daughter, Catherine, who was born in Michigan about 1868.

They had two children, Earl II and Arthur. Before marrying Earl, Diana was the wife of Fay Parsons. They had three children: David, Gerri Lynn, and James. Fay lived from September 27, 1920 to December 4, 1983. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as were Earl and Diana.

Joseph La Framboise [1765-1809] and Magdalene [Madeline] Marcotte “Madame” La Framboise [1780-1846]
Madame La Framboise, as Magdalene Marcotte came to be known, was born in February 1780 [1779] at Fort St. Joseph, Berrien County. Her father, a French fur trader, was Jean Baptiste Marcotte, of French, German, and Scot heritage. Her mother was Marie Neskech [Nekesh/Timothee], the daughter of a French woman and Kewinaquout, “Returning Cloud,” an Ottawa chief, who were from a village near the mouth of Grand River. Magdalené’s father died when she was three years old, and she was raised in an Ottawa village on Crockery Creek near Nunica, not far from Fort Village. On July 4, 1796 [July 11, 1804], she married Joseph La Framboise at Eglise Catholique Paroisse de Saint Ignace in Michilimackinac. [Another source says they were married at Ste. Anne’s Church on Mackinac Island.] He was a successful and wealthy fur trader in charge of the Indian trade in western Michigan, working first for the British Fur Company and later for the American Fur Company. Joseph was born in Trois Rivières, Quebec on April 16, 1765. Magdalené’s Indian name was Shawwenoqua. [Battle for the Soul, Keith R. Widder, 1999, 50.]

Joseph started making annual fur trading trips to the Grand River as early as the summer of 1783 but made Michilimackinac his winter home. Among other posts in the Grand River Valley, he established one at Crockery Creek. In the fall of 1809, he started a trip to his usual wintering place. About half-way between Muskegon and Grand Haven the party pulled ashore to camp for the night. Nequat, a young Indian, was angry that Joseph refused to provide him with liquor. He stabbed [shot] and killed the fur trader, allegedly while Joseph was at prayer in his tent. Other Indians later captured the assassin and asked Magdalené to decide his fate. Her malice, she said, had passed and she forgave him. Nevertheless the assassin’s body subsequently was found with his own dagger protruding from his chest. Magdalené carried her husband’s body to the mouth of the Grand River and buried him somewhere in the vicinity.

After her husband’s death Madame La Framboise continued eastward along the Grand River to her deceased husband’s fur trading post at Ada. She assumed supervision of the 20 or more West Michigan trading posts that Joseph had managed, including one in Crockery Township. Like her husband, Madame La Framboise worked for John Jacob Astor’s American Fur Company and “at her own risk,” meaning she could sell pelts to other companies, as well.

Madame La Framboise adhered to her Catholic faith, but always dressed in full Indian costume. She was described as being “of commanding form, agreeable manners and excellent deportment; and highly esteemed by both whites and Indians.” She had a constant companion, her servant Angelique, who was with her at the time of Joseph’s murder and remained with her until Magdalené’s death. Robert Stuart, who was manager of the American Fur Company Mackinac at the time of his retirement, invited Rix Robinson to take charge of the Company’s posts on the Grand, Kalamazoo, and Muskegon Rivers. Rix Robinson took over her trading posts in 1821, but he and Madame La Framboise worked together that year.

She retired to Mackinac Island, self-educated, acute in business affairs, and wealthy. Juliette Kinzie, a visitor to Mackinac Island in 1830, remembered Madam La Framboise as being tall and having a commanding appearance. According to Mrs. Kinzie, Joseph taught his wife to read and write. She could speak Ottawa, Ojibway, French, and English fluently. The retired fur trader took the time to teach local students basic subjects and religion. [Mackinac Island, p. 20.]

Joseph’s and Magdalené’s daughter, “Josette [Josephine], was born on Mackinac Island on September 24, 1795. On April 2, 1816, she married Captain Benjamin Kendrick Pierce [@1790-August 1, 1850], Commandant of Fort Mackinac and the brother of President Franklin Pierce. She died on Mackinac Island on November 24, 1820, leaving two children, Harriet [1818-1854] and Daniel [1819-1866]. She passed away after giving birth to her third child, Benjamin Langdon, who also died.

The La Framboises also had a son, Joseph Pierre La Framboise, who was born on Mackinac Island in 1805, educated in Montreal, and became a fur trader. He died in 1854 [1856] in West Newton, Minnesota. Magdalené died on April 4, 1846. Her home, which she bequeathed to Ste. Anne’s Church, and the crypt beneath the altar, where she and her daughter were buried, can be seen on Mackinac Island. [In 2013 her remains and those of her daughter and grandchild were moved to a crypt in the church’s museum.] When the Michigan Women’s Hall of Fame was founded in Lansing in 1984, Madame Magdalene La Framboise was one of the first to be inducted. [Famous American Homes, “Island Home of Michigan’s Great Woman Pioneer,” Wisconsin Historical Collections, “Early Days on Mackinac Island, 1809,” and Tribune article, “Woman Indian Trader Here in Early Days.”]

Peter Laidal [Laitel] [1866-1940]

A farmer with 80 acres in Section 11 of Crockery Township, Peter Laidal also raised livestock. Peter, who came to the area in 1910, lived from 1866 to 1940. His wife, Elizabeth, was born in 1871 and died in 1941. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, along with a son, Andrew, who died as an infant in 1895.

Arend Klaas Laman I [1833-1891]

Born in T’Zandt, The Netherlands, on January 10, 1833, Arend Klaas Laman in 1856 married Hendritje Ruiter in their hometown. Hendritje, the daughter of Imke [Emma] Jans Lanting and Tonnis Bartolds Ruiter, was born on October 10, 1831. With eight of their ten children, ranging in age from two to 25, the couple emigrated in steerage class from Rotterdam to New York and then traveled by oxcart to Grand Haven in 1878. They spent the next year building their home at 527 Monroe while living with nearby friends. Their two oldest sons joined them in Grand Haven in 1882. The Lamans completed the purchase of their homestead in 1887 for a total of $150. Their children were Emke, who lived from 1853 to 1941 and married Jacob Bronsema; Klaas, who was born in 1857, married Anna Uihorn, and died in 1933; Tonnis [Teunis], who lived from 1860 to 1944; John, who was born in 1862 and married Sadie Greer; Eda [Ida/Ada], who was born in 1866 and died in 1963; Arend II, who was born in 1869 and married Mattie Swarts in Grand Haven; Hendrika [Reka], who lived from 1871 to 1931; and Pieter, who lived from 1873 to 1956 and was first married to Dena Biereme and then Jessie Hyma Zaagman; and Bartold, who was born in 1876 and died in 1891. Arend I died of kidney disease on December 10, 1891, and Hendritje died many years later, on January 19, 1923.

Leonard L. Lamb [1927-1997]

Leonard Lamb was born on August 3, 1927. Before starting an estate appraisal business, he was manager of the Collections Department for Security First Bank [Old Kent/Fifth Third]. He and his wife, Jerry, moved from 820 Lake Avenue to 309 South Second Street, where Jerry continued to live after her husband’s death. He died January 16, 1997 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Johan “John” Lampe [@1880-1957]

Johan “John” Lampe I was born in Yugoslavia about 1880, passed away on June 22, 1957 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife Mary was born in the same country in approximately 1884, died about June 7, 1950, and also was buried at Lake Forest. They and their three children immigrated to the United States in 1912. Before moving to Grand Haven around 1921, John was a copper miner in the Upper Peninsula. In 1922 John and Mary opened Lampe’s Grocery at 1452 Pennoyer. Mary ran the store, while John worked at Eagle Ottawa Leather.

A son, John Lampe II, was born in Yugoslavia on October 16, 1906. His wife, Edna Laura, was born on February 29, 1908 in Missouri and passed away in Grand Haven on April 21, 1994. John II died in Grand Haven on July 23, 1990. A second son, Paul Joseph Lampe I, was born in Yugoslavia on June 29, 1910. John’s and Mary’s two other sons were [Fred] R. Lampe, who was born in Michigan on May 15, 1913, passed away on June 20, 2003 in Grand Haven, and was buried at Lake Forest; and Mirko [Mirk] M., who was born in Michigan in 1916 and served in the Army during WWII. The family resided in Grand Haven Township. A daughter, Mary A. Lampe, who was born in Michigan about 1919, owned a small grocery store at 1452 Pennoyer Avenue in the early 1940s and into the 1950s.

Paul Joseph Lampe I [1910-1966]

Paul Lampe assumed management of Lampe’s Grocery at 1452 Pennoyer around 1935, and he operated Lampe’s Beechtree Inn next door at 207 South Beechtree Street from the early 1940s to December 1962. The inn later became known as the East End Tavern, owned by Archie Green. Paul ran the grocery store and Conoco gasoline station at or near the same address until 1965. His parents were Johan “John” and Mary
On May 1, 1937, in Spring Lake, Paul married Gladys, the daughter of Harry and Gertrude Eckelcamp Bolton of Spring Lake. Paul and Gladys had two sons, Paul II; a contractor of Grand Haven, and Ken, an attorney, who resided in Spring Lake. Paul I was born in Yugoslavia on June 29, 1910, passed away on October 25, 1966, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Gladys died on June 12, 2007. [Tribune obituary, June 13, 2007.]

Alfred E. Landon [Landen] [1834-1905]

Alfred Landon was an early resident of Crockery Township, where he settled on 80 acres in Section 26 and owned another 80 acres in Section 35 before 1860. However, by 1893 he was “watchman” in the City of Grand Haven. The son of Benjamin and Mary Caroline Deerdorff Landon, Alfred was born in August 1834 in Canada and died on February 12, 1905.

Leon Jay Langeland [1930-1999]

On January 1, 1965 Spring Lake Village appointed Leon Langeland to head up its new Police Department. Leon had served in various capacities with the Grand Haven Police Department and the Ottawa County sheriff Department from 1957 until he became chief of the Spring Lake Police Department. He stepped down as chief of police of the Spring Lake and Ferrysburg Police Department on July 10, 1993, after serving for 28 years. He and his wife, Joyce, had four children. The family resided at 904 East Savidge and then at 15962 Beach Drive in Spring Lake Township. Born on July 10, 1930, Leon died in Spring Lake on May 7, 1999 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. His parents were John and Jennie Stroven Langeland. On May 7, 2002, a baseball field at Spring Lake’s Central Park was named Langeland Field in his memory.
Charles-Michel Mouet de Langlade [1729-1802]

Charles Langlade was born in May 1729 and baptized on the ninth of that month at Michilimackinac. His mother, an Ottawa Indian, was the sister of Chief Nissawakwat of L’Arbre Croche. [Our People, Our Journey, p. 7.] Charles became a fur trader and military officer. He was headquartered at Michilimackinac, a word of French origin, referring to a broad area spanning the Mackinac Straits and including both Mackinac Island and a northern portion of the mainland. Langlade recruited Ottawas, Chippewas [Ojibiways], and Potawatomis, and led them to Fort Duquesne [Pittsburgh] in 1755 to help the French defeat the British army under General Braddock and George Washington, during the French and Indian War. Langlade told the Indians, “Brothers, the red coats threaten your lives and lands. The chief beyond the ocean has sent them to prepare for colonists. They will build roads, towns, and farms. They will frighten away the game and drive out the Indians. You will perish. The French do not want your lands, only your furs. We only want to trade with you. Come with me, help fight the red coats. There will be many scalps and prisoners for those who help the French.”

In return for his success, Charles in 1755 was given rights to trade for furs at “Gabagouache” [the mouth of Grand River] and elsewhere in Michigan. One of his posts was on the south bank of the Grand River near the north end of today’s Beechtree Street. In the Dictionary of Canadian Biography, Grand Haven historian Paul Trap wrote, “In October 1755 [Langlade] had been ordered by the commandant at Michilimackinac to establish a trading post at the mouth of the Grand River (Grand Haven, Mich.) and to use it to help maintain control of the Ottawas and Potawatomis along the western shore of Lake Michigan. Charles continued to do his winter trading at this site through 1790, having as many as 15 men working for him.” When the French surrendered to the English at the conclusion of the French and Indian War, Charles was instructed to ask all Indians in the Grand River Valley to report to Mackinac in person in order to take an oath of allegiance. The Ottawa Indians loaded their canoes and slipped down the river past Dewey Hill, resolute and sober faced, wrapped in their blankets. They paddled out of the mouth of the Grand River into Lake Michigan and headed north for Mackinac Island.”

Charles had two wives: Charlotte Ambrosien Bourassa, a French woman whom he married in Montreal on August 12, 1754 and who lived from about 1738 to 1818, and Nonnongana, whom Charles married about 1773, and who lived from about 1750 to 1835. Charles and Charlotte arrived at his post on the Grand River in the fall of 1755. Their daughter Charlotte was born at the Grand Haven trading post and baptized by Father Le Franc on January 29, 1756. Charles died in January 1802 in Green Bay, Wisconsin. [Dictionary of Canadian Biography, Vol. IV, p. 564.]

Edward Milton [Melton] Langrell [1863-1936]

Edward M. Langrell and his wife, Malvina, managed the Highland Park Hotel, which they bought in 1921. On June 2, 1947, 11 years after her husband died, Malvina sold the hotel to Mell Wright, who owned Wright’s Grill on Washington Street. Edward was born in Canada in December 1863 [1862], came to the United States in 1880 [1883]. On December 3, 1885, in Milwaukee, Edward married Mary Sprague. By 1900 they were residing in Buffalo, New York, where for 18 years he was chief purser for Goodrich Transit Company. Mary was born in Wisconsin in September 1861 and died on November 26, 1909. Their daughter Gertrude was born in Wisconsin in June 1892. On February 15, 1912, Edward married 49-year old Maud Y. Grass, who had been married previously. Maud died in Chicago on March 20, 1915. Edward in 1922 married Malvina Steiner, who was born in Missouri in May 1892 and had married Ward Clifton on May 20, 1912 in Clayton, Missouri. She died on August 29, 1957 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Edward, who had died on July 25, 1936. Malvina’s mother, Lena, was born in Missouri in September 1863. Her father, Henry, was born in Missouri in June 1862 and died after 1900.

Born in Sweden in 1851, Andrew Larson worked as a sailor before coming to Spring Lake in 1881, where he was employed in the sawmills. He married Louise Urbom, also born in Sweden, who lived from 1857 to 1889. They had two sons, Oscar and August A., and in the 1880s lived in a house built for mill workers on the corner of Park and Mason Streets that later was moved to 206 North Buchanan. Their son August who lived from 1885 to 1909, was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. After Louise died, Andrew married Augusta Johansson, also a native of Sweden, who lived from 1862 to 1945. They bought a farm on 144th Avenue in Section 12 of Spring Lake Township, where they raised crops and livestock and also reared their six children. Andrew died in 1925.

Charles Larson and his wife, Christina, owned the Log Cabin Club on Potawatomie Bayou. While residents of Chicago, they purchased the five-acre plot in Grand Haven Township for $500 in 1908, a site that later was given the address 15197 Lake Avenue. In 1910 Charles built a cabin on the site, and a year later he added to it, creating the first summer resort business on Potawatomie. It was called Lakeside Resort. Their specialty was chicken dinners, but they also catered and offered fishing, boat rentals, and picnic grounds. Charles was born in Sweden on January 5, 1869 and immigrated to the United States when he was 17. His future wife, Christina Lundquist [Ericson], was born in Sweden around 1867 and arrived in the United States in 1888. They were married in Chicago on January 6, 1890. In 1910 Charles was a farmer residing in Grand Haven Township, and in the early 1920s he was listed as a carpenter. A son, William “Will,” in 1916 organized the first Marathon race in the area. It was a success, but WWI kept Will from repeating the contest. Will was born in Chicago on June 11, 1892. The Larsons also had a daughter, Ruth, born in Escanaba on March 30, 1900. Charles died on October 2, 1922 of chronic nephritis. Less than a year later, Christina sold the Grand Haven property to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wahlberg of Chicago. Will died in Chicago on July 21, 1941. Louise [Louisa] “Lisette” Constant Lasley [1812-1907]

Franklin Everett quoted a sketch by Rev. Ferry stating that the first fur trader in the area was Frenchman Pierre Constant, who in 1810 established a trading post for the British Fur Company on the south side of the Grand River, about two miles west of Lamont, another a short distance from the mouth of the Grand River, and a third on Muskegon Lake. After Pierre’s death in 1828 the business was taken over by his oldest child, Lisette [Louise], who was born in Muskegon on August 15, 1812 and who had been acting as his clerk since she was 12. Her mother, an Indian, was named Popamansaukeoue. Lisette carried on her father’s fur trading business for six more years but switched from British Fur to the American Fur Company, owned by John Jacob Astor and headquartered at Mackinac Island. She worked at least for a while with Rix Robinson and is on his 1830 Roster of Aliens. Lisette married William Lasley of Muskegon, whose mother was an Ojibway. William, who was born about 1800, established a trading post in 1846 at the east end of Muskegon Lake. Their son, Henry Lasley [Samuel Henry Lasley], born in Muskegon on November 21, 1840, became a prominent merchant in Muskegon, whose mother was an Ojibway. William, who was born about 1800, established a trading post in 1846 at the east end of Muskegon Lake. Their son, Henry Lasley [Samuel Henry Lasley], born in Muskegon on November 21, 1840, became a prominent merchant in Muskegon, and died there on March 1, 1921. Their other children, as listed in the Federal Census of 1860 for Mackinac County, were Rachel, born about 1843, George, born on May 10, 1846, and Louisa, born about 1852. Lisette’s occupation, according to the census, was “merchandizing.” By 1869, Lisette was a widow and living with her son in Oshkosh, Wisconsin. She passed away there on September 13, 1907 and was buried at St. Thomas Aquinas Cemetery in Poygan, Wisconsin. Her son George had died the previous year on March 19 in Poygon. [Memorials of the Grand River Valley, p. 525.]

Leach received a Master of Business Administration degree from Stanford University in 1968. He was born in Akron, Ohio on May 10, 1940, the son of John T. and Eleanor A. Horice Leach. He married Margaret A. Fulwider on July 28, 1962 in Columbus, Ohio. While residing in Grand Haven, Frank belonged to the First Presbyterian Church, Grand Haven Sailing Club, Muskegon Museum of Art, and Grand Haven Rotary. He and Peggy had two children: Susan E., who married Robert Negen of Spring Lake, and Richard A., Ph.D., of Gaithersburg, Maryland. Frank died in Grand Haven on November 28, 2001.

Vernon A. Leatherman [1920-2003]
Raised in Muskegon Heights, Vernon Leatherman was born on July 21, 1920. He owned and operated Leatherman’s Used Cars at 5 South Beechtree Street. Vernon also was a notary public. He and his wife, Phyllis, resided at 305 Sherman in Grand Haven. Vernon passed away on October 7, 2003. A graduate of Muskegon High School, Vernon served with the U.S. Army during WWII. He died in Grand Haven on October 7, 2003.

Walter L. Le Boeuf [1892-1964]
The son of Eugene and Dora Le Boeuf, Walter was born in Muskegon on November 8, 1892. For a short time in the late 1920s he managed a clothing business called Liquidating Sales Company at 102 Washington. On June 2, 1922 in Marquette, Marquette County he married Rosamond [Rose] Lorraine Senical. At that time they resided at 639 Pennoyer. Rosamond was born in 1896. Walter died in April 1964.

James Ledinsky [1902-1975]
Born in St. Kiral, Hungary on November 9, 1902, James Ledinsky came to this country in 1908 with his parents, a brother, and four sisters, first settling in Passaic, New Jersey. His father, Steven, was born in 1860 and his mother, Mary, was born in 1863. About 1906 the family moved to Section 5 of Robinson Township, where his father cleared a 40-acre farm and built a house. James played baseball with the Robinson Independents. He worked for seven years as a cabinetmaker, and from 1928 to 1929 he was employed at the Keller Tool Company, where he played baseball on the company team. After briefly operating a Roosevelt Auto Sales Company in Grand Haven in 1929, James moved to Chicago after the stock market crash that year. There he sold real estate and insurance. Upon returning to Grand Haven James went to work for Grand Haven Motor Company, which he bought from Jacob Kisosondi in 1937. During World War II he moved to Detroit, where he was production manager at a defense plant, but he returned to Grand Haven after the war and again opened a Packard dealership. In 1949 James built the structure on the southwest corner of Ferry and Fulton Streets [1050 Fulton], and he was recognized in 1952 for leading the country in Packard sales. He operated the dealership until 1957, when Packard stopped production.

James was elected alderman on February 19, 1951 and served two terms. As a member of the City Charter Commission in 1956 and 1957, he helped defeat the proposed City Charter on the grounds that it put too much authority in the hands of the new City manager form of government. In 1955 and 1956 he was president of Spring Lake Country Club. He worked for Don Rosso Olds-Buick in 1959 and for Redeker Ford from 1962 to 1975. James was elected to the Grand Haven Board of Power and Light from 1958 to 1962 and helped plan the new Sims plant. He was elected president of the Board in 1963 and served until his death. He also was a director of the local Chapter of the American Red Cross.

James married Clara alderman on May 4, 1930. Clara was born in Manton, Wexford County on October 14, 1912 to Frank and Cora Edith Weston Aldereman. James and Clara made their home at 1133 Columbus with two sons, Dale and James, and two daughters, Mrs. Howard Behm and Mrs. Stephen Roberts. Dale was born May 21, 1946, married Janice Lynn Bowmaster in Muskegon on June 22, 1974, and passed away on June 25, 2006. Clara also participated in many community activities, including the Grand Haven Woman’s Club, where she was president in 1955 and named its Woman of the Year in 1989. Clara was a volunteer, board member, and vice president with the Ottawa County Chapter of the American Red Cross. She also served as a member of the Board of Deacons of the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven, the Tri-Cities Girl Scout Council, and the Tri-Cities Drug Abuse Council, and she spent many years as a legal guardian for local elderly. James died on March 21, 1975. Clara passed away in Grand Haven on February 5, 2007 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Floyd H. Lee [1879-1939]
Spring Lake resident Floyd Lee was born in 1879. He was employed in advertising. On June 30, 1903, he married Ida, daughter of Richard and Elize Trotter of Spring Lake. Ida was born in January 1878, graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1896, and became a teacher in the Spring Lake schools. After their marriage, the Lees resided in New Jersey, but vacationed locally for fifty years before returning to stay. A daughter, Elizabeth, married Cornelius Brongersma of Spring Lake. Floyd died in 1939. Ida lived from 1879 to 1981 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with her husband.

James Edgar Lee [1866-1958]
Born in Chicago on January 7 1866, James was the son of James Longbottom and Sarah S. E. Gadsden Lee.
James was a pioneer Midwest printer and founder of Schniedewend & Lee of Chicago, which manufactured paper cutters, printing industry equipment, and precision equipment for the machinery trade. At the age of 18, J. Edgar, as he came to be known, was associated with his father in business. He stopped in Grand Haven on October 3, 1902, on his way to look at a plant site in Muskegon. Instead, members of the Grand Haven Board of Trade convinced him that Grand Haven offered unbeatable features, such as easy access to rail and ship lines. On December 18 that year, he signed a contract to bring the Challenge Machinery Company to Grand Haven from Chicago. Schniedewend & Lee, which was destroyed by fire in 1887, was rebuilt, but the depression of 1893 brought further setback. On June 29, 1903 the owners opened a new factory at Fulton and Beechtree, later designated Plant No. 2 of the firm. The company at one time had three plants in the city and employed more than 200 people. On September 15, 1917 J. Edgar became its president and served as such for 41 years. He was City alderman in 1906 and 1907, president of the Board of Trade from 1906 to 1916, and president of the Chamber of Commerce from 1933 to 1935. He was active in the crippled children’s program of the Rotary Club, and he was a director of the Grand Haven State Bank and a member of Blue Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, the Rotary Club Community Service Committee, Spring Lake Country Club, Masons, Shriners, and Presbyterian Church. J. Edgar was editor of the Printers’ Album, a well-known house magazine published by Challenge Machinery. He completed a history of industries in the Tri Cities area up to 1900.

J. Edgar married Ida Estelle McKee, who lived from 1875 to 1929. They had two children, the youngest being a son, James Wesley, born on November 30, 1892 in Chicago. The other, Sara, was born in Chicago in September 1888. Ida passed away, and on May 5, 1934, J. Edgar married Sarah Henrietta Kiel, who was 55 at the time. The daughter of Albert and Lucy Kiel, she had attended Muskegon Business College and was a secretary at Challenge. The Lees lived at 321 Washington. Sarah died on April 3, 1958, just 17 days before her husband. He left a considerable amount of his estate to many local organizations, such as the Ottawa County Chapter of the American Red Cross, which he had helped get underway in 1917. J. Edgar and Sarah were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Citizens Historical Association, September 13, 1941, Tribune articles
March 1, 1932 and April 1958, and Tribune obituary, 1958.]

James Longbottom Lee [1839-1917]
Born July 19, 1839 in Yorkshire, England, James Lee in 1853 reached Le Claire, Iowa. His training was in printing, but the town had no printing shop, so he worked in a boat yard. In 1855 he worked for the Daily
Iowa State Democrat in Davenport, Iowa. In 1856 he became publisher of The Express. He worked in St.
Louis, Memphis, and, in 1860, in Denver, at the Denver Mountaineer. In 1862 he joined his father-in-law in the packing business at Dyersville, Iowa, but the firm failed. James continued in various printing positions.
On November 1, 1870, he was in partnership with Paul Schniedewend. The firm, Schniedewend & Lee, an electrotyping business, was destroyed in the Chicago Fire of 1871. In October 1893 Paul Schniedewend withdrew from the firm and James, his son, James Edgar Lee, and James’s son-in-law, Charles R. Shupe, organized the Challenge Machinery Company. The company re-located to Grand Haven in 1903.

On June 1 1861, James married Sarah S. E., daughter of Richard Gadsden of England and later of Dyersville, Iowa. Sarah was born in England in 1839. The Lees had five children: Fannie G., who was born in Illinois around 1863; James Edgar, who was born in Chicago on January 7, 1866; Lizzie A., who was born in Illinois about September 1869 and married Charles Shupe of Grand Haven; Laura Ann; and Ruth M., born in Illinois about 1872. In 1880 James and his family were residing in Jefferson, Cook County, Illinois, where he was classified as an engineer. By 1900 James moved with his wife to Pasadena, California. By 1910 his wife’s name was Ann Eliza. Ann Eliza was born in Michigan about 1851. James died on September 10, 1917. He and Sarah were buried at Mountain View Cemetery in Pasadena. [Citizens Historical Association, September 13, 1941.]

James Wesley Lee [1892-1966]

Born November 30, 1892 in Chicago, James was the son of James Edgar and Ida Estelle McKee Lee. He studied mechanical engineering at the Lewis Institute in Chicago, and then became associated with the Challenge Machinery Company as vice president and general manager. His inventions helped bring improvements to the company. James was a director of Peoples Bank & Trust. He was a Republican, a member of Blue Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, Kiwanis Club, Y.M.C.A., Grand Haven Stag Club, Citizens Historical Association, Spring Lake Country Club, and the Presbyterian Church.

On July 15, 1916, James married Hilma E. of Allegan, the daughter of Anna Nelson and John Swanty, a farmer. She lived from September 23, 1893 to September 10, 1990. She served on the Grand Haven Board of Education from 1929 to 1945, including a one-year term as the Board’s first woman president, and she was vice president of the Board from 1935 to 1945.

The couple had three children, including James Lawrence, who was born September 28, 1917 and graduated from the Carnegie Institute of Technology. James, a bomber pilot during WWII, was killed in action in January 1943. Lee Memorial Chapel at the entrance to Lake Forest Cemetery was built in his memory. Their daughter, Alice Elaine Lee, who was born August 26, 1919, married Robert C. Gould. Robert joined Challenge Machinery at the end of WWII. Another daughter was Sarah Gadsden Lee, born August 28, 1920. James died about August 6, 1966 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, where Hilma also was interred. [Citizens Historical Association, September 13, 1941.]

John G. Lee [1831-1912]

John Lee was born in England in 1831. He immigrated to Grand Rapids, where he put out the Labor Union from 1868 to 1869. That year he came to Spring Lake and, with the assistance of Aloys Bilz, established the Spring Lake Independent, a newspaper based in Spring Lake, from 1869 to 1876. He then moved to Grand Haven and published the Grand Haven Journal, which adhered to the policies of the Democratic Party. In May of that year he became a partner with Mr. Hitchcock and bought the Grand Haven News and started the News-Journal. In 1877 John bought Hitchcock’s share, and in July 1881 he leased the business to Horrace Nichols and Whitman Benham, who changed the name of the paper to the Republican. A few months later, in October John took back the newspaper and reverted to the name News-Journal. In 1880 John and his wife resided on Second Street in Grand Haven. They moved to Grand Rapids and prior to 1890 John founded the West Side News. At the same time he operated a job printing office at Front and Bridge Streets. In the spring of 1897, the Lees moved to Chicago.

John married Sophronia Lake. Born in Illinois about 1854, she died at home, 877 Jackson Boulevard in Chicago, on August 28, 1897. John died in Grand Rapids on December 20, 1912 and was buried at Garfield Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, August 29, 1897 and December 21, 1912.]

Roswell H. Lee [1826-1915]

A native of Ohio, Roswell Lee moved to Wisconsin where, on May 7, 1864, he enlisted as private in Company C of the 41st Wisconsin Infantry, was promoted to first lieutenant on June 9, 1864, and was discharged on September 23 of the same year. On the following April 16 he enlisted as captain with Company B of the 52nd Wisconsin Infantry. He was mustered out on July 28, 1865 and arrived in Spring Lake in 1866. Roswell owned a jewelry store in Spring Lake as early as 1869 before opening one on the northeast corner of Washington and Second Streets. He advertised in the Spring Lake Independent: “All work done in this line Done with neatness and dispatch and warranted.” In Spring Lake, his shop was located in Messinger’s
Robert Leggat was born in 1832 in Wigtownshire, Scotland on November 30. He moved to Connecticut, then to Grand Haven, Michigan in 1856. John Leggat lived first in Connecticut, then came to Grand Haven in 1856. He was a miner and owned a quartz mining operation in Butte, Montana. The mine extended under the city, causing extensive litigation. In 1875 he and Sarah built a 10-room home at 520 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven, but by the time of the 1880 Federal Census John and his brother Robert were living in Butte. Both were listed as miners. John was still in Butte at the time of 1900 census and still in the mining business. He was then a widower.

Apparently Sarah died and John in 1876 married Claribel, daughter of Winfield and Emily Ament. She was born in Owosso on February 7, 1850. John’s and Claribel’s son, Alexander, was born in Owosso on December 22, 1876 and died in 1971. The couple must have returned to Grand Haven, because after their marriage Claribel became a teacher in the Grand Haven Public Schools. The Leggats also had a daughter Claribel, who was born in Butte on August 23, 1881. On September 3, 1881 Claribel the mother died of blood poisoning in Butte and was buried at Mount Moriah Cemetery in that city. The young Claribel on January 6, 1910 married Maclane Couse in Butte. [Owosso Times, September 16, 1881.]

John’s wife Sarah was born about 1839 in Connecticut. Their children, both born in Grand Haven, were Jennie M., born on April 1, 1862 and Fannie Elizabeth, born on February 16, 1864. By 1871 John owned a quartz mining operation in Butte, Montana. The mine extended under the city, causing extensive litigation. In 1875 he and Sarah built a 10-room home at 520 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven, but by the time of the 1880 Federal Census John and his brother Robert were living in Butte. Both were listed as miners. John was still in Butte at the time of 1900 census and still in the mining business. He was then a widower.

John Leggatt [Leggatt] [1835-1906]

The brother of John Leggat, Robert was born March 16, 1835 in New York and eventually moved to Grand Haven. On April 14, 1861 in Grand Haven, he married Ellen Cornelia Avery, who was born in New York on August 2, 1841 and relocated to Grand Haven around 1846 with her parents, Edward Jones and Eleanor Jane Murray Avery. The Leggats had two children, both born in Michigan: Jennie M., born in 1862, and Fannie E., born about 1864. Ellen died in Grand Haven on October 1, 1869 and was buried in Lake Forest Cemetery. After her death, Robert joined his brother, John, in Butte, Montana and entered the quartz mining business. Robert died in 1906 in Wyoming. His parents were William and Margaret Main Leggat. Margaret was born in Wigtownshire, Scotland on June 9, 1812, died in St. Louis on January 6, 1882, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Her husband died some years earlier.

Edith Garlick Lehman [1890-1917]

Edith, born on March 22, 1890, was the daughter of Daniel and Emma Garlick of Grand Haven. Edith married Walter Lehman I on August 12, 1908 in Grand Haven. The son of Louis and Alice Van Bemmelen Lehman, he was born in Grand Haven on July 28, 1886. The 1908 Durant Roll listed Edith as a member of the Grand River Bands of Indians, as were other members of her family. She resided at 221 Lafayette Street in Grand Haven with her mother, Emma Garlick.

Edith and Walter had two children: Kenneth Walter Garlick, who was born in Grand Haven on April 10, 1909, and Dorothy Louise, who was born in Grand Haven on January 21, 1917. The Lehman family resided at 729 Columbus Street in Grand Haven. Edith died on January 26, 1917 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

On May 23, 1919 in Grand Haven, Walter I married Edna M. Van Pelt, who was born in 1899. They were divorced on April 22, 1921. Walter I died on July 3, 1964. Walter II on February 12, 1927 married Frances Vander Noot in Grand Haven. Frances, born on August 7, 1893, was the daughter of Cornelius and Nellie Vander Noot of Grand Haven. Walter and Frances resided at 312 North Seventh Street. Walter worked as a tinsmith at a hardware store. Frances passed away on September 26, 1928, and Walter died on July 3, 1964 in Grand Haven. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Dorothy married Joseph Michael Crane [July 18, 1913-September 25, 1990]. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Dorothy passed away on December 28, 1996 in Elkhorn, Wisconsin and was buried with her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery in Grand Haven.

Joshua “Josh” Clark Lehman [1869-1948]

Born in Markham, Ontario on December 10, 1869, Josh was the son of Jacob K. and Sarah Clarke Lehman. Jacob lived from 1830 to 1906, and Sarah was born in England in 1835 and died in 1920. Josh arrived in Grand Haven when he was 16 years old to learn the barber trade from his brother Louis at their shop located at 12 Washington. Two years later they established Lehman Barber Shop in the basement of the Cutler House, located on the southwest corner of Washington and Third Streets. Their shop, which included “The Only Bath Rooms in the City,” became one of the finest in the area. When the building was remodeled Josh moved to 209 Washington, where he was active until 1945. He sold his business to his nephew, Joseph Lehman, who operated a shop at 132 Washington.

An ardent believer in temperance, Josh was made an honorable member of the Woman’s Christian Temperance Union. A man who loved children and youth, he brought speakers to the area, and gained the support of civic organizations in establishing the first playground system in Grand Haven about 1925. As a youth Josh excelled in fancy skating and many youngsters thrilled to his antics and learned tricks from him. For ten years he was a parole officer and there were some in this vicinity who owed their rehabilitation to his guidance and his example of fine citizenship and moral living. He served with the Salvation Army. A man of modest means all his life, he believed that the best in life was gained from service to others. For 53 years he was superintendent of the First Methodist Church Sunday school. He was a member of the official board of the church for a number of years and gave generously to its financial support, and he belonged to the Men’s Brotherhood.

On September 25, 1887 in Grand Haven, Josh married Minnie Frances Thompson. She was born in Grand Haven in December 1868 and died about May 1, 1934. The Lehmans resided at 112 North Second Street and 207 North Second before moving to 112 Franklin. At the latter address, the couple opened a guest house around 1920 that they called The Frances. Later, Josh and his daughter Ethel in the 1930s changed the name to Rock Garden Inn, and later they dropped the name and just offered “furnished rooms.”

Josh and Minnie had two daughters, Ethel Sarah [Sara], who was born on September 14, 1888, and married Rev. Frank Day, and Marian. Marian was born in December 1889, and on August 16, 1912 in Grand Rapids married Ralph Ketchum of Lansing. The Ketchums moved to Miami, Florida. The Lehmans also had a son, Chester C., who was born in September 1894, died around July 17, 1905, and was buried at Lake Forest. In 1930 Josh, Minnie, and young Frank were residing at 112 Franklin Street, with other family members. Josh and Minnie were divorced on September 30, 1925. In 1930 Minnie was still running The Frances at 112 Franklin, while Joshua had moved to 227 Howard Street and was living with other family members. He moved back to 112 Franklin Street after Minnie’s death.

Josh died on October 6, 1948 at is home on Franklin Street and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Chronicle article “Days of Shaving Mugs Recalled,” September 2, 1948, and Tribune obituary, October 7, 1948.]

Louis C. Lehman I [1856-1897]

Born July 4, 1856 in Altona, Ontario, Louis was the son of Jacob K. and Sarah Clarke Lehman. Jacob lived from 1830 to 1906, and Sarah was born in England in 1835 and died in 1920. Louis came to Grand Haven in 1881, went into barbering, and eventually was joined by his brother Josh, who arrived a few years later. Louis was a member of the Maccabees and the Ideal Club. His active connection with the local baseball team made him known all over the state. On February 5, 1884 in Grand Haven, he married Alice, the daughter of John W. and Jacoba Van Bemlen [Van Bemmelen]. The Lehmans’ children included Frank, who lived from 1884 to 1966; Walter, who was born on July 28, 1886; Joseph J., who was born in 1891 and died in 1976; Louis II, who lived from August 31, 1896 to November 1978; Cora; and another daughter. Louis died at his home on Eighth Street near Washington on January 12, 1897. Alice then married Stephen Senn of Grand Haven. She was born in 1865, died in 1940, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Stephen. [Tribune obituary, January 12, 1897.]

Walter Lehman I [1886-1936]

Walter, the son of Louis and Alice Van Bemmelen Lehman, was born in Grand Haven on July 28, 1886. On August 12, 1908 in Grand Haven, Walter married Edith, the daughter of Daniel and Emma Speidel Garlick. Edith was born in 1890, died about January 29, 1917, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their son, Walter II [Walter K., Kenneth Walter], was born in Grand Haven in 1909. On May 23, 1919 Walter I married Edna M. Van Pelt in Grand Haven. In 1927, he married Frances Vander Noot in Grand Haven on February 12. Frances, born August 7, 1893, was the daughter of Cornelius and Nellie Vander Noot of Grand Haven. The Lehmans also had a daughter, Dorothy L.

Walter died on September 6, 1936. Nellie passed away on September 26, 1938 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Walter was a sheet metal worker at a hardware store. The Lehmans resided at 729 Columbus.

Simon Liefers [1857-1936]

Simon Liefers was keeper of the bridge built over the Grand River at Eastmanville in 1917. He illuminated every night with a lantern. By 1900 he owned a general store in Eastmanville, where he and his family also resided. Simon was born in The Netherlands on December 5, 1857, immigrated to the United States at the age of seven, and became a naturalized citizen in 1890. His wife, Jennie, was a Michigan native, born about 1869. They were married in 1886. Their children, all born locally, included Gracie, born about 1886; Josephine, born on September 20, 1887; Harry, born about 1900; Peter, born about 1893; Eunice, born about 1895; Kate, born about 1898; Ruby, born about 1901; William, born about 1904; Jewel, born about 1907; Margarette, born about 1908; Clara, born about 1909; and Raymond, born about 1914. Ruby was a teacher in one of the district schools. By 1930 Simon, Jennie, and four of their children had moved to Grand Rapids. Simon passed away in Grand Rapids on February 13, 1836.

George Spence Leland [1816-1885]

George Spencer Leland, born in Role Valley, New York on April 3, 1816, was married twice. With his first wife Jane M., born in 1821 in New York, they had two children, George born in 1854 and Mary born in 1858. In 1870 George was a farmer in Oakland County, but by 1880 he had opened a physician’s office in Grand Haven. He was married a second time to Harriet Elizabeth Perkins on March 3, 1874 in Rockwood, Wayne County. Harriet was born in 1843 in New York to Miner G. and Sallie B. Perkins of Grand Haven. They had a son, Ora Miner Leland, born in Grand Haven, on June 28, 1876. Ora became a civil engineer and a member of the faculty at Cornell University. He was a representative for the U.S. Government responsible for surveying the demarcation of the international boundary between Alaska and Canada in 1904-1911. Ora died on March 30, 1962 and was buried at Fort Snelling National Cemetery in Minneapolis, Minnesota. George died on February 27, 1885 and was buried at Brookins Cemetery in Oakland County. Aloysius Stanislaus [Stanley] Lemanski [1917-1998]

Al Lemanski was with the U.S. Army during the Battle of the Bulge in February 1945, where enemy fire caused him to lose his right leg. Prior to that he earned the Combat Infantry Badge and three bronze battle stars for his part in campaigns in Northern France, Rhineland and Ardennes. He achieved the rank of sergeant. Al was fitted for a prosthesis, which allowed him to become a golf pro at Spring Lake Country Club, a position he held until his retirement at age 64, 28 years later. Born on October 17, 1917, Al passed away in Grand Rapids on April 18, 1998 and was buried at Holy Cross Cemetery in his birth town.

Carl Lemke [Lempke] [1840-1930]

Carl Lemke owned a 20-acre dairy farm in Section 28 of Grand Haven Township, near the northwest corner of Robbins Road and Beechtree. Carl was born in Prussia in August 1840. On February 20, 1870, in Grand Haven, he married Wilhelmina “Minna” [Mina], Ellmann. Also from Prussia, Minna was born in April 1848. They came to the United States about the time of their marriage. Their children, all born locally, were Amanda, born about 1873; Gustave, born on November 4, 1875; Anna, born about 1877; Minna, born about 1879; William Albert, born on July 24, 1880; Charles, born on May 16, 1882; Edward, born in March 1884; John, born on October 21, 1889; and Frank W., born on May 4, 1891. The family resided at 1202 Columbus. Carl died around April 3, 1930, and Minna passed away about January 22, 1934. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Gustave Lemke [1875-1953]

The son of Carl and Minna Ellmann Lemke, Gustave was born locally on November 4, 1875. On April 28, 1904 he married Millie Keuken in Grand Haven. Millie was born in Michigan about 1874. On April 27, 1919, again in Grand Haven, Gustave married Alline Hepner Petzold. Among Carl’s and Alline’s children was Raymond A., who was born on October 31, 1924 and died on December 22, 2006 in Grand Haven, Ray and his wife, Loretta, moved into 608 Clinton about 1957. The Lemkes also had two daughters, Francis, born about 1906, and Margaret, born about 1907. Gustave, who was a packer at Story & Clark, passed away about June 2, 1953 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Frank Lemke [1891-1985]

Frank W. was born in Grand Haven Township on May 4, 1891 to Carl and Minna Lemke. He married Augusta Petzold in Grand Rapids on June 14, 1919. Born in Russia about 1899, Augusta died around June 21, 1933 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Frank eventually took over the family dairy farm near the northwest corner of Robbins Road and Beechtree, before selling it and moving to 1229 Franklin with his second wife, Jessie Irene. Jessie lived from February 12, 1898 to July 1, 1990. Frank passed away on May 16, 1985. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John E. Lemon [1857-1925]

John Lemon owned a barbershop at 211 North Seventh Street from at least 1914 into the 1920s. He and his wife, Elizabeth, resided at 720 Washington. Born in Canada in 1857, John died in 1925 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Elizabeth was born in Kentucky about 1861.

Klass [Klaas, Klaus, Claus] Leninga [Lenninga, Lennenga, Laninga, Luininga, Luinenga, Lanning] [1849-1941]
Klass Leninga, a Grand Haven mason, was born in Groningen, The Netherlands on October 1, 1849 and immigrated to the United States when he was 17. On August 19, 1876 in Grand Haven, he married Lucy, the daughter of Derek and Swantje Groenevelt [Groeneveld] of Grand Haven. She was born in Grand Haven Township on April 27, 1853, died on January 19, 1920, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Leningas resided at 216 Elliott Street. Klass was an engineer, although his obituary reported he owned and operated a retail meat business in Grand Haven. At the time of 1920 Federal Census, taken in early January that year, Lucy still occupied the house on Elliott Street, but Klaas was not included. Living with her at that time were her daughter, Ida, and Ida’s husband, William Boomgaard [1892-1971], a Grand Haven jeweler and watch maker. Ida and William were divorced on September 30, 1938. Ida, who was born about 1888, married to Thomas Johnston in Grand Haven on August 30, 1941. Another daughter, Angie, who was born about 1892, married Robert J. Johnston of Grand Haven, and died about May 18, 1944. Klass and Lucy had another daughter, Ethel, who was born in 1885 and married Fred Schwonteck [1885-1953] of Grand Haven and died about April 13, 1968. Henry Walker, whose deceased wife, Anna, was Lucy’s sister, boarded at the Elliott Street house. Lucy, who was born April 27, 1853 in Grand Haven, died on January 19, 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On February 10, 1920 in Grand Haven, Klass married Grietje “Katie” Ammaal Kamphuis, the widow of Gerrit Kamphuis [1844-1913]. Katie passed away two years after the wedding and was buried at Lake Forest. Klass died on January 7, 1941 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 8, 1941.]

Willard [William] H. Le Roy [@1864-?]

Willard Le Roy was born in March 1864. He started business at 123 Washington in Grand Haven in June 1906 and advertised himself as a “Dealer in Pianos.” He also offered “Organs, Talking Machines and Records. A complete line of MUSICAL MERCHANDISE.” Willard provided a piano tuning service and musical instrument repair. He married Jennie Malby in Defiance, Ohio on December 14, 1899. In Grand Haven, they lived at the same address as his business. Jennie was born in New York in December 1864. Willard came from Garrett, Indiana, where he had 15 years experience in pianos. In 1900 he was a piano salesman residing with his wife and children in 1900. By 1910 Willard, still in piano business, was located in Benton Harbor, married but living in a rooming house by himself.

August Lessien [Lissien] [1833-1899]

Born in Prussia on April 29, 1833, August Lessien immigrated to the United States in 1857. He married Christine Bahre, who was born in Germany in 1840 and died in Grand Haven Township on February 15, 1923. They owned a 200-acre farm in Section 12 of Grand Haven Township. Among their children was Louisa [Louise], who was born in 1864 and married Martin Melcher of Grand Haven Township. Another daughter, Rosina, was born in 1867 and married Rudolph Moll of Grand Haven. A son, Theodore, was born on August 29, 1869, and another son, David, lived from 1871 to 1910. Christina Lessien who was born in 1881, married Phillip Fahling in Grand Haven on November 30, 1905, moved to Conklin Township, and died in 1963. By 1912 Theodore and his wife, Lena, were farming 120 acres in Section 18 of Robinson Township. Theodore died in 1954. August passed away on November 12, 1899. He and Theodore were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.

Albert Roy Lett [1881-1970]

Albert Lett was born on May 26, 1881, worked as a furniture polisher at the Piano Factory in Grand Haven. His father’s name was Elijah. On May 7, 1901 Albert married Jethro Henderson Weaver in Belding, Ionia County. She was born on August 19, 1879 in Greenville, Montcalm County. All family members were born in Michigan. Their children were Howard, born around 1903; Clancy, born about 1905; Leta, born about 1907; Harold [Harrold/Herold] A., who was born on April 6 [5], 1908; Merton, born in late 1909; and Arvin [Arven] M., born about 1911.

In 1910 the Lett family resided in Greenville and the family members then were listed as Mulatto. On his draft registration card, dated September 12, 1918, Albert listed himself as White. He was residing with his wife in a house at the corner of Albee and Slayton Streets in Grand Haven. He stated that he had lost the lower part of his left leg in an unexplained way. In the 1920 census the family was classified as Black and was residing at 1170 Slayton Street. Ten years later they were located at 1321 Franklin Street and listed as Indian. Jethro and her son Arvin continued to reside at the Franklin Street address in 1940, but Albert was not part of the household. In the 1940 census, mother and son were noted as being Negro. Jethro passed away in Chicago on December 16, 1946. Albert died on July 25, 1970 in Chicago, where he had been living since at least 1942. [Other Letts in West Michigan were clearly African American. It appears that Albert’s father, Elijah Lett, was first cousin of Samuel Lett, an African American who served in the 102nd Michigan Colored Infantry during the Civil War. See Slaves Soldiers Citizens, pp. 267-28 for more information on the African American Letts.]

Harold [Harrold] A. Lett [1908-1990]

Harold, the son of Albert and Jethro Henderson Weaver Lett, was born in Grand Haven on April 6 [5], 1908. He moved with the rest of the family to Greenville, Montcalm County when he was two. In the 1910 census he and the rest of his family were listed as Mulatto, in 1920 they were Black, and in 1930 they were considered Indian. By the mid-1930s Harrold had moved to Chicago, where he worked in a steel mill. The Federal Census of 1940 listed him as White. Harrold, noted as being a “Professional Boxer,” participated in Golden Gloves competition, and was the heavyweight champion of Michigan. Harold also boxed under the name of Ray Vegas and his nickname, Big Lett. His first match was against Ward Archer at the Muskegon Armory on April 20, 1928, and his final round was with Jack Kranz in Chicago on March 12, 1934. Over the six years of his professional career, his record was 12 wins and 9 losses. Harold cited Grand Haven as his hometown. He served in the Army as military policeman and retired from the Chicago Fire Department. Harold died in Chicago on December 23, 1989. His obituary noted that he was “survived by his companion, Cora Beal and her children of Chicago.” [Tribune obituary, June 6, 1990.]

Samuel Lett [@1838-1903]

Samuel Lett enlisted as private in Company G of the 102nd U.S. Colored Infantry in Grand Rapids on August 31, 1864. He was mustered out on September 30, 1865 in Charleston, South Carolina. Samuel, an African American, was born in Morgan County, Ohio about 1838 or 1839. He moved with his parents and siblings to Berrien County, where he was living in 1860. On April 2, 1863 in Kalamazoo, Samuel married Henrietta Taylor, who was born in Ohio about 1846 and died in 1932. At the time of his enlistment, he was living in Tallmadge Township in Ottawa County, but by 1880 he had moved his wife and children to Bloomer in Montcalm County, where he was a farmer. The Letts’ children, all born in Michigan, were Rosanna, born about 1864; Bertrum, born about 1867; Fred, born about 1870; Alice, born about 1874; Lurinda, born about 1876; and Ira, born about 1882. Samuel died and was buried in Bloomer in 1903. He had a brother, Joseph, who enlisted in Kalamazoo in Company H of the 102nd on January 14, 1864 and, like his brother, mustered out in Charleston, South Carolina on September 30, 1865. Joseph, who was born about 1847, also settled in Bloomer. [Another Samuel Lett enlisted in Company I of the 102nd Regiment in Berlin [Marne], Ottawa County on October 5, 1864. However, no additional information was uncovered about a second Samuel Lett old enough to serve during the Civil War. The two entries may pertain to the same person, despite the discrepancy in their ages and dates of enlistment. In all, ten men with the last name Lett and two with the name Letts served in the 102nd.]

James Lewis [1832-1897]

In 1871 James Lewis, Otto Gronberg, and John Bryce purchased the Iron Works from F. Spence and Archibald Brown. It was located on the northwest corner of First and Elliott Streets [Lot 85]. James was born in New York on December 20, 1832 and died on December 27, 1897. His wife, Julia, was born about 1838 in Michigan and died around July 30, 1893. James and Julia were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Milton M. Lewis [? - ?]
Milton Lewis was publisher of the Weekly Herald in Grand Haven in 1872. It evidently was not a part of Crinis H. Du Bois’s Grand Haven Daily Herald, published at the same time. Milton also was noted as owner of the Spring Lake Independent, another local newspaper, published in that period, but John G. Lee also was listed as owner of the Independent between 1869 and 1876.

Richard Lewis [1824-1902]

In the 1890s Richard Lewis was pastor of the Grand Haven Congregational Church. He and his wife, Margaret, lived at 312 South Fifth. Richard was born in Scotland on November 25, 1824, came with his family to the United States in 1872, and died on July 22, 1902. Margaret, also from Scotland, lived from August 1821 to about June 26, 1907 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Their two daughters, both born in Canada, were Jannie K., born in 1862, and Marguerite “Maggie” A., born in September 1865 [1864].

Carol Lietzke [1941-1985]

Carol Lietzke, a Realtor, started with the J. L. Bolthouse Real Estate office and later joined the Re-Max organization. Her husband, Gerald P., worked for the City of Grand Haven. They resided at 1100 South Harbor Drive. Carol was born on July 9, 1941, died on December 16, 1985, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles Henry Lilley [Lillie] [1865-1952]

Charles, the son of Henry and Frances Williams Lilley, was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin in December 1865. He married Ella Belle Finley on August 11, 1891 in Grand Haven. Born in Buffalo, New York in 1870, she was the daughter of Mary Finley, who in 1878 married Thomas Scott of Grand Haven. Charles took his father’s place at the American Express office in Grand Haven in 1887. Ella was born in New York on November 13, 1869 and died in Kalamazoo in February 1967. She and Charles moved to Grand Rapids before 1900, where he continued working as an express agent. Charles passed away around September 18, 1952 and Ella died about February 13, 1967. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Charles and George Lilley were brothers.

Francis E. Lilley [1844-1923]

Born in Essex County, England on June 23, 1844, Francis was the son of Samuel Lilley, who lived from 1803 to December 15, 1891. At the age of 11 Francis came to America with his parents, who left behind one son and two daughters. The family lived for awhile in Milwaukee, then settled in Spring Lake in 1867, where Francis worked in the lumbering business. When the Village of Spring Lake was incorporated in 1869, Francis was elected Marshal. In February 1874 he purchased Thomas Seymour’s interest in a sawmill on the Grand River and the firm of Sisson & Lilley was formed. As the timber disappeared from the area, Lilley purchased mills on railroad lines so that the lumber could be hauled directly to the consumers.

Francis married Elizabeth Ballinger in Toronto, Canada in 1866. She was born in Canada in 1842. Their children included Helen [Hellen] R., who was born in Wisconsin about 1867, married William J. Shanks, and resided in Muskegon, and Maude M., born locally about 1869. Francis built and lived in the house at 319 East Savidge, and he also built the home at 325 East Savidge. Francis later moved to Grand Rapids, and in 1891 he lived at 430 Cherry Street. His wife died there in 1904 and was buried at Valley City Cemetery [Oakhill]. Francis died in Muskegon at the home of his daughter Helen on March 13, 1923 and was buried with his wife at Valley City Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, December 16, 1891, January 8 and 10, 1897, and March 14, 1923.]

George W. Lilley [1869-1948]

George Lilley attended the Peoria School of Optics and the Chicago Optical College before opening an optician’s office in Grand Haven around 1900. Born on January 29, 1869, he was the son of Henry and Frances Williams Lilley of Grand Haven. On June 15, 1905, in Grand Haven, he married Ada P. Cairns. The daughter of Averille Thomas and Flora Darling Cairns of Grand Haven, Ada was born in Grand Haven about 1871. By 1910 the Lilleys resided in St. Joseph, Berrien County, where George worked as an express agent. George died in Alma, Gratiot County on April 18, 1948. He and Charles Lilley were brothers.

Henry Lilley [Lillie] [1839-1897]

Born in Essex County, England, March 20, 1839, Henry was the son of Samuel Lilley, who lived from 1803 to December 15, 1891, and the brother of Francis Lilley. Henry came to Montreal, Quebec, Canada when 15, then moved to Milwaukee, where he was employed as purchasing agent by the Northern Transportation Company, which operated a number of fine passenger and freight boats between Chicago and Ogdensburg, New York. Later Henry became the company’s chief steward. In 1860 he went to Detroit and worked for the American Express Company’s office there and in Grand Haven, a job he held for 27 years until he was incapacitated by rheumatism. In Grand Haven, Henry operated an office at the rear of Vanderveen’s Drug Store as agent for the American Express Company from 1872 to 1887, when he lost the use of his legs. He married Frances G. “Fanny” Williams, who was born in New York and lived from February 22, 1847 to September 14, 1884. Their children included Charles E., who was born about 1866. Henry and Frances had another son, George W., who was born in Michigan in 1869 and resided in Grand Haven. Henry, a Republican, in his later years resided at the City Hotel until January 8, 1897, when he died in his sleep. He and Frances were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 8, 1897.]

Samuel Lilley [1803-1891]

Samuel Lilley, who was born in England, lived from 1803 to December 16, 1891. He was an employee of the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee Railway for 16 years. Henry Lilley was his brother. Around 1855 Samuel and his family immigrated to America, leaving behind one son and two daughters. He became a naturalized citizen in 1865. The family lived for awhile in Milwaukee, then settled in Spring Lake in 1867. Francis Lilley of Spring Lake was his son. Samuel married Helen Lucking in Essex, England on August 17, 1827. She was born in England about 1806 and died in 1878.

Colon Columbus Lillie [1859-1942]

Colon C. Lillie was president of the Co-Operative Creamery in Coopersville. His farm was located in Section 5 of Tallmadge Township, probably the same place his parents had owned. In 1908 Colon claimed a total of 206 acres in Tallmadge and Wright Townships. From 1907 to 1908 Colon was a delegate to the Michigan Constitutional Convention for the 23rd District. The son of Joel B. and Sarah C. Augur Lillie, Colon was born in Tallmadge Township on January 6, 1859 and died in Muskegon on November 30, 1942. He married Julia A. Lawton in Coopersville on June 24, 1890. Julia was born in Michigan about 1861. She was the daughter of Albert and Mary L. Lawton. Walter Irving Lillie was Colon’s brother.

Harold Irving Lillie [1888-1957]

Born in Grand Haven on May 6, 1888, Walter and Ella Lillie’s oldest child, Harold started the ear-nose-throat department and was chief of staff at the famous Mayo Brothers Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota. A graduate of Grand Haven High School in 1906, he was a member of the football team called the Grand Haven Independents. Harold was one of four sons of Walter I. Lillie, a Grand Haven attorney. The family lived at 200 Franklin. Prior to graduating from the University of Michigan in 1910, Lillie was a substitute Surfman at the U.S. Life Saving Station in Grand Haven. He was given credit for rescuing a young woman from the Channel who nearly drowned. After graduating with a Bachelor of Arts, Harold continued at the University of Michigan and was awarded a Doctor of Medicine degree in 1912. Like his brother Leo, Harold served in World War I as lieutenant.

Hugh Edward Lillie [1893-1967]

Born in Grand Haven on October 1, 1893, the youngest child of Walter E. and Ella Lillie, Hugh was the brother of Leo C. Lillie. Like Leo and his other brothers, Hugh graduated from Grand Haven High School and the University of Michigan. He was a World War I veteran. He moved to Kansas City, and later was named Senior United States Attorney for the Interstate Commerce Commission in Columbus, Ohio. On May 2, 1916, he married Florence Carpenter, who was born in March 1898 and died about February 1, 1967. Hugh died on August 15, 1967 in Florida and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children were Walter I., born about 1918; Owen Patrick, born about 1920; Maryellen, born about 1924; and Sybil, born about 1933.

Joel B. Lillie [1823-1893]

Around 1853 Joel B. and Sarah C. Augur Lillie moved from St. Lawrence, New York to a 40-acre farm in Section 5 of Tallmadge Township. Sarah was a sister of General Christopher Columbus Augur [1891-1898]. One of the Lillies’ son, Walter Irving Lillie, was born in Tallmadge Township on October 9, 1856. Another son, Colon Columbus Lillie, was born in Tallmadge Township on January 6, 1859. The Lillies also had three daughters: Edith, born about 1854; Emma, born about 1862; and Anna, born about 1864. Joel was born in New York on May 16, 1825 and died in Coopersville on September 19, 1893. Sarah, also a New York native, lived from November 24, 1822 to November 5, 1879. Both Joel and Sarah were buried at Marne Cemetery.

Leo Cecil Lillie [1889-1949]

Born in Grand Haven on November 18, 1889, the son of Walter I. and Ella Lillie, Leo graduated from the University of Michigan in 1911. In 1914 he shared law offices at 218½ Washington Street with his father and brother Hugh. He was Grand Haven city attorney from 1915 to 1922. A life-long resident of Grand Haven, Leo was best known for his 1931 book Historic Grand Haven and Ottawa County, covering the early history of this area. He served in World War I as lieutenant and was active in the organization of the Charles Conklin Post of the American Legion. From 1937 to 1938 he presided over the Grand Haven Rotary Club. On December 31, 1914, he married Sybil E. Coughlin from Big Rapids. She died at age 92 on July 11, 1980 and was buried in Lake Forest Cemetery. Walter Irving Lillie [1856-1921]

Born on a farm in Tallmadge Township on October 9, 1856, Walter was the son of Joel B. and Sarah C. Augur Lillie. Walter graduated from Michigan Agricultural College [MSU] in 1881, studied law under George A. Farr of Grand Haven, and was admitted to practice in 1884 by Judge Daniel J. Arnold. In 1884 he was elected circuit court commissioner, in 1886 and 1888 he was elected prosecuting attorney, and he was city attorney at various times. He opened his law office on the second floor of 218 Washington, where his sons, Leo and Hugh, joined him. In 1901 Walter was appointed to the post of assistant U.S. District Attorney, and from 1906 to 1913 he served as the last collector of customs for the Port of Grand Haven. He was a Republican and was affiliated with the United Workmen, the Maccabees, and the Elks. In the mid-1880s he was part owner of the Grand Haven Broom Company.

On September 28, 1886, Walter married Ella M. McGrath, who was born on May 26, 1861. The couple resided at 200 Franklin in Grand Haven. They had four sons, all born in Grand Haven: Harold I., born on May 6, 1888; Leo C., born on November 18, 1889; Walter Ivan, born in 1891; and Hugh E., born on October 1, 1893. Harold and Walter became well-known medical doctors, and Leo and Hugh became attorneys. The elder Lillie died in Grand Haven on May 20, 1921, and his wife died six years later on October 27, 1927. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries September 20, 1893 and May 20, 1921, and Tribune article, “Early GH Residents,” November 2, 1984.]

Walter Ivan Lillie [1891-1963]
Born in Grand Haven in 1891, Walter was the son of Ella McGrath and Walter I. Lillie. He graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1909 and in 1915 received his medical degree from the University of Michigan. Walter became a successful eye specialist at Mayo Clinic and in 1933 was appointed Head of the Department of Ophthalmology at Temple University in Philadelphia. Like his brothers Harold and Leo, he served in World War I and became a lieutenant in the Medical Reserve Corps. He married Opal Jones on August 30, 1916 in St. Johns, Clinton County. Opal was born in Michigan in 1891. Walter died about May 27, 1963 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 11, 1949.]

Robert Harry Lillyblad [1910-1970]

Russell Camfield started Camfield Manufacturing in Grand Haven about 1938. On the management team with him were Robert Lillyblad and Lawrence Meyering. Robert was born in Minnesota on December 29, 1910. He died in Redwing, Minnesota on June 4, 1970 and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery. He married Lucretia Bennett, also from Minnesota. They lived in Spring Lake Township.

Harry L. Limbach [1904-1983]

In the mid-1940s Harry Limbach and his wife, Laura, opened a small resort and fishing business called Oak Grove, located at approximately 14873 Mercury Drive in Grand Haven Township. Prior to opening the resort, Harry in 1938 was a sheet metal worker at Bastian Blessing. He and Laura then resided at 112 Elliott Street. Harry was born on March 3, 1904 and died in Grand Haven on December 4, 1983. Laura passed away about September 3, 1957. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Carl A. Lindgren [1894-1935]

Carl Lindgren and Charles Schroeder owned the Schroeder-Lindgren Auto Company at 100 North Seventh Street during the mid- and late 1920s. They carried Pontiac automobiles. Born in Muskegon on November 5, 1894, Carl served during WWI in Company L of the 126th Infantry. He and his wife, Minnie, resided at 436 North Seventh. Carl died about December 24, 1935 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles E. Lindh [1921-1986]

Charles Lindh and his wife, Mildred M., owned Pine Ridge Cemetery at 17200 Lincoln Street in Grand Haven Township until they sold it to Larry Walburg in the mid-1980s. The Lindhs converted the chapel to living space and resided there during the time of their ownership. Charles was born on September 2, 1921 and died in Montmorency County on July 21, 1986. Mildred was born on December 22, 1923 and passed away in Spring Lake on August 14, 1998.

See Gerald E. and Constance Lindquist.

Phillip Livingston Linebaugh [1914-1999] and Margaret Liggitt Linebaugh [1921-2019]

Born on January 12, 1914 in Detroit, Phillip Linebaugh married Margaret Liggitt in York, Pennsylvania on December 10, 1943. Phil served with the United States Army during WWII. At the conclusion of the war, he and Margaret moved to Detroit. They retired to Grand Haven in 1977 and lived at 309 Terrill Street. Phillip died on April 10, 1999. Margaret was active with the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven, serving as deacon, the Grand Haven Woman’s Club, and Tri-Cities Historical Museum. Margaret, who was born on April 23, 1921 in York, passed away in Grand Haven on July 17, 2019. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

The Linebaughs had four children: Michael of Spring Lake; Stephen of Lake Worth, Florida; Donald of Stewartstown, Pennsylvania; and Richard of South Orange, New Jersey.

After moving to the Spring Lake area from Illinois, John Linn bought Francis Hall’s 92-acre fruit farm about 1900. The farm was located in Section 11 of Spring Lake Township, bordering Hammond’s [Petty’s] Bayou, on the east side of Spring Lake. John was born in Sweden in 1865 and came to the United States in 1882. He married Louise Brunsell, who was born in Sweden in May 1855. Their daughter Ruth married Benjamin H. Soule of Spring Lake. They also had three sons: Andrew V., born in Sweden on September 25, 1887, died about July 10, 1963, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; Karl Julius, who was born in Sweden on December 24, 1890, died in Mears, Oceana County in September 1967, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; and John A. Linn, born in Chicago on September 27, 1893. All the sons settled in the Spring Lake area. At the time of the 1930 census Karl was living with his mother. John, the father, died in 1935 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John Alfred Linn [1893-1957]

The son of John Linn of Spring Lake, John A. was born in Chicago on September 27, 1893 and died in Solano, California on June 15, 1957. He married Sigrid M., who was born in Illinois on September 16, 1889 and died in Solano, California on September 27, 1989. She and John were living on the family property in Section 11 of Spring Lake Township in 1930 with their two children, John H., born about 1920, and Marie L., born about 1922. John was an electrician. His father resided next door.

Gerald Lindquist and his wife Constance combined with Harold Hartger to donate 60 acres of duneland on the North Shore of Grand Haven to the Nature Conservancy. The Lindquists resided at 19239 North Shore Drive. The large sandy tract the Lindquists and Mr Hartger donated became known as the Kitchel/Lindquist/Harter Dunes Preserve. Harold [1915-1986], a resident of Grand Rapids, had a summer home at 19627 North Shore Road. Drs. John and Mary Kitchel owned 52 acres, which later became part of the preserve. Gerald was a life member of the Nature Conservancy, the second chairman of the Lake Michigan Federation, and a chairman of the Michigan Shorelands Advisory Council. Gerald and Constance had two daughters, Nancy, who married Eugene Liedel, and Susan Lindquist. In the late 1970s Constance owned The Travel Place, located at 205 West Savidge in Spring Lake. Connie was born on April 17, 1929 and was killed while crossing Savidge Street in Spring Lake on March 20, 1980. After her death, Gerald ran the travel business until he sold it in the early 1980s to Karla Constantine, an employee of the company. Around this time, Gerald married Patsy Williamson, the mother of two children: Cynthia, who married Donald Brown, and Paul Williamson.

Gerald was a graduate of Ottawa Hills High School. He attended Kenyon College and graduated from the University of Michigan with a major in actuarial mathematics. Over the years he was employed as Actuary of the Michigan Insurance Department; Actuary and Benefits manager for United Airlines; executive vice president of a life insurance company; and senior consultant for three national benefits firms. He passed away in Grand Rapids on April 10, 2017. [Obituary, Grand Rapids Press, April 16, 2017, and Tribune article, “Kitchel-Lindquist Dunes Preserve -co-founder dies,” April 24, 2017.]

She was born in Pennsylvania in May 1873. By 1910 they were in St. Louis, Missouri. Around 1915 they purchased 40 acres in Section 1 of Grand Haven Township, but there is no record they resided on the land. Louis was a tool maker. They sold the land to Jacob and Ida Prucha about 1930. At that time they resided in Chicago, where Louis passed away on May 17, 1931.

William “Willie” Howlett Loutit [1866-1948]

Born December 18, 1866 in Grand Haven, William was the son of Captain William and Ann Howlett Loutit. Willie graduated from Grand Haven High School and went on to graduate from the Swensburg Business College in Grand Rapids. His first job was as an operator of the Grand Haven Gas Light Works in 1885, which he and Stephen L. Munroe later purchased. In 1891 William joined Aloys Bilz, J. Bradstetter, and George P. Savidge to form the Ottawa Fish and Game Association. From 1916 to 1920 William was mayor of Grand Haven, and he chaired the Centennial Committee, which organized the city’s sesquicentennial in 1934. He also served on the Michigan State Conservation Committee from 1927 to 1941 and on the Highway Advisory Board from 1919 to 1933. He was a member of the Pike Association, a local group working to bring U.S. 31 through Grand Haven. For 30 years William was a director of Grand Haven State Bank [Old Kent/Fifth Third]. Working with other community leaders, William helped bring Keller Pneumatic Tool Company to Grand Haven in 1916. He was one of the original members of the Duncan Park Board of Trustees.

On September 28, 1886 William married Maude, daughter of Enno and Dettje Bakker Kraai. Maude was born on July 12, 1867. They had three children: Robert Clyde, who was born on May 24, 1887 and died on April 4, 1908 from strep throat while attending school in Boston; Blanche, who was born July 10, 1892 and died September 5, 1894, from dysentery; and William R. Loutit, born on July 12, 1895. Maude was a charter member of the Grand Haven Woman’s Club and one of the founders of the Tuesday Musicale. She also served as treasurer of the first Ottawa County Chapter of the American Red Cross, organized in Grand Haven in the fall of 1909. The Loutits’ various residences were located at 110 Seventh Street, 521 Clinton, 114 South Fifth, and 333 Washington. William died on June 25, 1948 and Maude died May 3, 1952. They were interred in the Howlett-Loutit Mausoleum at Lake Forest Cemetery. [The Loutit Legacy, 1979.]

William Robertson Loutit [1825-1921]

Born in Scotland on October 21, 1825 at South Ronaldsay, one of the Orkney Islands, William was the son of James and Christina McKay Loutit. He immigrated to Grand Haven and became a citizen of the country in 1854. His first job in America was as captain of the schooner Heligoland, owned by Robert Howlett of Grand Haven. In 1871 Captain Loutit organized a crew of volunteer lifesavers that was led by Richard Connell. Their efforts saved some of the crew of the Ironsides when it went down on September 15, 1873, among many others. Captain Loutit was named superintendent of the 11th District [renumbered the 10th Coast Guard District in 1915] of the United States Life Saving Service when the Grand Haven station formally opened on May 1, 1877, and served as in that capacity until 1882, when Captain Nat Robbins IV took over. Captain Loutit was City alderman in 1896 and 1897.

Having succeeded in the lumber business, William in 1894 had the Duncan Robertson Company build a new propeller ship, the Pentland, named for the firth near William’s boyhood home. The ship transported iron ore from the Upper Peninsula to the Spring Lake Iron Works.

In December 1862 William married Captain Robert Howlett’s daughter, Ann Elizabeth, who was born in Grandville on March 12, 1838 and died on October 18, 1909. The Loutits had a son, William Howlett, called “Willie.” In 1915 Loutit married Anna Elizabeth Hinkey, a widow and friend of Mrs. Derek Bakker [Baker] back in The Netherlands. Loutits’ son was living in the large house, so they built a smaller home next to it and called their new residence Scot’s Cottage [325 Washington]. The Loutits were members of the Presbyterian Church until 1907, when they moved their membership to the Congregational Church. William died in Grand Haven at age 95 on July 9, 1921. Anna, who was born in 1854, died in 1926 at age 72. William and Ann were interred in the Howlett-Loutit Mausoleum at Lake Forest Cemetery. [The Loutit Legacy, 1979, and Tribune article “Honor GH Coast Guard Pioneers,” August 3, 1938.]

Born on July 12, 1895 in Grand Haven, William was the son of William H. Loutit. He studied literature at the University of Michigan, and he served as sergeant with the ambulance corps in France during WWI. In 1927 William was married briefly to Josephine Lange, who was born in 1907. After their divorce he moved to Chicago where he entered the banking business and by 1942 was a partner with Edward Carlson in the Carlson-Loutit Ford automobile dealership.

On August 17, 1945, William married Catherine Luce Middleton. Born on February 17, 1902 in Grand Rapids, she was the daughter of Morton and Julia Luce, who later relocated to Spring Lake. Catherine had previously been married to Lamar Middleton [1901-1969], but they were divorced in Levy, Florida in 1936.
William and Catherine moved to Grand Haven after William’s father died in 1948 and settled into the family home at 333 Washington. He assumed his father’s place on the Board of Directors of the Keller Tool Company and took over the care of his mother. He spent much time carrying out his parents’ wishes related to their estate. He served on the Grand Haven Planning Commission until December 1949, when he moved to Spring Lake to what had been the Savidge Estate at 303 North Park. In 1957 William established the Loutit Foundation, with Paul A. Johnson, E. Vincent Erickson, Harvey L. Scholten, and John H. Uhl as trustees. The Foundation’s interest was “in providing financial assistance to organizations engaged in charitable health, educational religious and community welfare projects” and to “act as a stimulator and impetus to programs.” By 1984 the Foundation had distributed grants in the amount of $6.9 million and had plans to distribute the remainder of the principle and income by 2007. The Loutit District Library was named for the Loutit family, as was the Loutit Science Hall at Grand Valley State University. William was a member of St. John’s Episcopal Church, Spring Lake Country Club, Spring Lake Yacht Club, and Peninsular and University Clubs of Grand Rapids. William died of cancer on November 29, 1961 and Catherine passed away on June 15, 1962. William was interred in the Howlett-Loutit Mausoleum at Lake Forest Cemetery, where Catherine also was interred. They had no children. Catherine’s nephew, Sandy Luce, inherited the estate. George Grant Lovell I [1813-1901]

George Lovell and his wife, Susan, settled in Mill Point [Spring Lake] in 1846. He was in the lumbering business, and he was among the first to plant fruit trees on a forty-acre tract in Section 14 of Spring Lake Township, stretching along the east side of Lake Avenue from Savidge to Lloyd’s Bayou. His residence, since moved, was at 601 East Savidge. Along with Lemoyne M. S. Smith, Anna A. Smith, Lydia Norton, and Harriet J. Franklin, George helped organize the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church in 1853. He worked in the lumber business, and in 1860 leased one of the Hopkins Brothers’ mills in Spring Lake. He was a justice of the peace and was elected supervisor of Mill Point in 1855-56.

George was born in Windham County, Vermont on October 6, 1813, the son of Donald 1784-1839] and Mary Shafter Lovell [1792-1855]. George moved from Vermont to Kalamazoo in 1832. From there he went to Ionia County where he was in the milling business for eight years, and then moved to Spring Lake. He and his wife, Susan A., had five children: Mary Ellen, who was born about 1843 and married John Thomson of Spring Lake; Charles J., who lived from November 20, 1848 to September 7, 1873 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; Charles, born about 1850; Lewis S., born about 1852; George Donald; and Abby W. Susan was born in 1822, died in 1854, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. In 1866 George married Ellen W. Turner, the widow of Noah Perkins, whom she had married in 1853. Noah died while in the service during the Civil War. Ellen was born on March 3, 1827 and died August 23, 1897. She had at least two daughters from her marriage to Noah: Ella, who was born on October 13, 1853 and died on June 17, 1912, and May born about 1859. Both were raised in the Lovell household. Ellen and George had three children, all born in Michigan: George II, who was born on October 19, 1869 and died September 25, 1889; Edgar; and Ida May. George I died on April 17, 1901 and both he and his wife were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as was his first wife, Susan.

On October 5, 1854 George bought a 38-acre parcel in Section 15 of Crockery Township and another parcel in Section 7 of Spring Lake Township. On November 1 the next year he purchased 55 acres in Section 12 of Spring Lake Township. Before 1864 George and a partner by the name of Lyman Hall bought large tracts of land in Spring Lake Township, including approximately 370 acres in Section 10, for the purpose of raising fruit.

John Wesley Luscomb [1824-1889]

On December 5, 1849 John Luscomb went into business with Benjamin Eames in the manufacture of woodenware. They met in Milwaukee and set up a factory in Grand Rapids. On April 10, 1850 they moved the factory to Ottawa Point [Ferrysburg]. John withdrew from the business around 1855, and Benjamin then constructed a new mill that utilized steam power. John, who was born in Taunton, Massachusetts about 1825, had relocated to Whitehall in 1870 to work as an apprentice in a sawmill, and he was in Montcalm County by 1880, where he turned to farming. He married Elizabeth McNutt [McNitt/Bailey], who was born in Newburgh, New York in 1827. Their children were: F.H., who was born in Wisconsin about 1854; Eller, a female, who was born in Wisconsin about 1856; Eugene, who was born in Wisconsin in 1861 and died in 1941; Olive Amanda, who was born in in Michigan on October 20, 1863 and died in Arizona on August 17, 1931; Elizabeth, who was born about 1867 in Michigan; Cora E., who was born in Michigan in 1869; and Lucy J., who was born about 1875, married Clarence Beardslee in Stanton, Montcalm County on March 18, 1897; and died in 1959. In 1900 Elizabeth and her daughter Cora were raising poultry on a farm in Homer, South Dakota, where they had been living since 1884. Elizabeth was widowed. She died in Langford, South Dakota, in 1911. John had died in 1889. They were buried at Hillside Cemetery in Langford.

Heinrich “Henry” Luss I [1852-1883]

In the 1870s Henry Luss operated a fish and tackle business at the southwest corner of Washington and Harbor Streets. In the early years this was the site of Eastman’s Land Office, and in later years it became the location of Nat Robbins’s office. In more recent times the office of the Association of Commerce and Industry was located on this spot. Henry was born about May 18, 1852, died on July 7, 1883, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He married Caroline “Lena” Christian Behm in Grand Rapids on February 5, 1872. After Henry’s death, she married Alfred Enouy and took over the restaurant and boat livery business. Located at the “Foot of Washington Street,” it offered “Boats, Fishing, Tackle, Minnows, and Restaurant.” Lena, born in Prussia on May 17, 1855, was the daughter of Frederich Johannes “John” and Dorothea “Dora” Behm of Grand Haven Township. The Lusses’ five children were Johnnie, who died on July 25, 1880 at the age of five; Frank W. who was born in 1877 and died on January 27, 1897; Henry, who was born in January 1880 and died in 1938; Clara who lived from January 4, 1882 to October 24, 1903; and Emma, who died on December 12, 1889 at the age of 16. Henry II was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife, Edith M., who lived from 1883 to 1937.

Earl A. Lutke [1921-1990]

Earl Lutke and his wife, Betty, daughter of William and Marie Albers Fritz, lived at 419 Monroe Street in Grand Haven in the 1950s and later moved to 219 Jackson [Madison]. Earl, who was an equipment operator for the City of Grand Haven, lived from December 14, 1921 to June 29, 1990 and Betty from July 15, 1919 to October 9, 1986. Both died in Grand Haven and were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles Albert Lyman [1852-1918]

Charles Albert, the son of Lucius and Mary Burgess Lyman, was born in Carthage, New York on October 1, 1852. Charles moved with his parents to Spring Lake in 1867. Charles became a tugboat captain and resided on Howard Street in Grand Haven with his wife, Mary “Mollie” Kelly, and their children. They were married in Spring Lake on October 8, 1875. Mollie was from Guelph, Ontario, Canada, where she was born about 1855. Charles and Mollie had twins, Herbert Lucius and Howard Charles, who were born in Grand Haven on September 12, 1877. The Lymans had another son, William, who was born locally about 1876 and died the next year. Charles and Mollie resided in Milwaukee around 1910, but Charles, who died in 1918, was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with other Lymans. Mary passed away about March 27, 1914 and was buried at Lake Forest with her son, William.

Herbert Lucius Lyman [1877-1953] and Howard Charles Lyman [1877-1923]

Twins Herbert and Howard Lyman formed a comedy team in the late 1890s and performed vaudeville acts for 15 years. Born in Grand Haven, they were the sons of Charles and Mary Kelley Lyman and the grandsons of Lucius Lyman. Charles and Mary were married in Spring Lake on October 8, 1875. Mary was born in Guelph, Ontario about 1854, and Charles was born in Carthage, New York around 1851. Mary’s sister, Catherine, married Cornelius Killean of Grand Haven. The twins first performed professionally in 1897 touring with the Holden Comedy Company, then headlined their debut musical comedy as writers and performers in 1898 in the play Money to Burn. The brothers wrote and performed six more original musical comedies nationwide before retiring from theater in early 1912. Both moved to Orlando, Florida and purchased two orange groves in Tampa in 1913 and worked as sales agents for the Armour Fertilizer Company, headquartered in Jacksonville. Howard had moved to Pinellas County and resided in Tampa at the time of his death but died in a diving accident on July 7, 1923 while vacationing with his wife and children in St. Petersburg. Howard and his first wife, Ethel, were divorced. Ethel was born in Illinois about 1884. On December 11, 1914 in Orange County, Florida, he married Emma Abbott. Emma was born in Waukesha, Wisconsin on July 19, 1882. In 1943 she died in a car accident in Florida. [Another Emma Abbott was born in Chicago in 1850 and became a famous stage actress. Apparently the two Emma Abbotts were occasionally confused. The actress died in 1891.]

On May 23, 1904 in Chicago, Herbert Lyman married Pattie [Patti] Louise Scott. She was born in 1884 and became an actress. In 1910 Herbert and Louise, as she was called, were living in Spring Lake with Mercy Buckingham, a widow who was born in England about 1855. Mercy and the four Lymans were listed as actors. Living next door were Howard and Emma. Later censuses found the Lymans in Florida. Pattie Louise died in 1952. The year after her death Herbert married Bertha King. Herbert continued in the business he established with his late brother as sales agents for Armour Fertilizer Company and, in 1939, for Trueman Fertilizer Company. Herbert died at Daytona Beach, Florida on July 3, 1953. Bertha died in Orlando on December 15, 1995.

Born in Windsor County, Vermont on August 5, 1821, Lucius Lyman was of English descent and a millwright by trade. He erected numerous machine works, and around 1845 built the first printing machinery used in Manchester, New Hampshire. Soon afterward he was employed at the Ames Manufacturing Company in Cabotsville, Massachusetts for three years. About 1849 Lucius moved to Jefferson County, New York, where he constructed a great variety of milling machinery. On September 20, 1861, in Watertown, New York, he enlisted as quartermaster sergeant with Company H of the 2nd New York Heavy Artillery. He was discharged from the army in May 10, 1862 due to disability. He remained in New York until 1867, when he came to Spring Lake. He built more mills than any other man in the state. One project, which took two years, was the erection of a large plant for the Diamond Match Company in the Upper Peninsula. He was a Republican and of anti-slavery conviction. Lucius was associated with Grand Army of the Republic [G.A.R.] of Spring Lake. He served on the Village Council in 1891 and 1892, and in 1893 he was elected village president in 1893.

On April 13, 1843, in Chelsea, Vermont, Lucius married Mary Burgess, a native of New York who lived from June 1826 to January 12, 1903. They had at least ten children, all born in New York. Two of them died in Spring Lake in 1870 of scarlet fever, but seven of them were living with their parents that year in Spring Lake: Charles Albert, a Great Lakes captain, who was born in New York State on October 1, 1852 and died in Spring Lake in 1918; Caroline Elizabeth, who was born on September 19, 1854 and died in Spring Lake... on July 1, 1871; William Henry, born on November 28, 1856; Eliza Ann, who was born April 2, 1858 and married John H. Ghent, a prosperous druggist from Muskegon; Harriet “Hattie” Amelia, born April 12, 1860; and twins Clarence D. and Alonzo, born September 1, 1865. Another of their children, Malfort G., was born in New York on October 29, 1846, worked as an engineer in Rock Island, Illinois in the 1880s, and then settled in Tacoma, Washington, where in 1889 he owned a livery. In 1880 Lucius continued to live in Spring Lake with his wife and their daughter Eliza [Elizabeth], where he was still employed as a millwright. Lucius died on June 23, 1902. On July 26 that year Mary applied for a widow’s Civil War pension and died about January 12 the next year. Lucius and Mary were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with six of their children: Charles, Caroline, William, Harriet, Clarence, and Alonzo. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, p. 391, and Tribune obituary, January 12, 1903.]

Elbert S. Lynn [1854-1933]

Elbert, the son of Walter and Anna Maria Sumner Lynn, was born in Lamont on March 24, 1854 and was raised in Tallmadge Township. In 1900 he was County treasurer and later Township supervisor. He joined Grand Haven State Bank [Old Kent/Fifth Third] upon its organization in 1902 and became its vice president in 1908. On May 12, 1880 in Lamont, he married Adelia “Delia” Cilley. Delia, the daughter of James and Marian Monroe Cilley of Coopersville, was born in Michigan on October 13, 1857. The Lysaghts’ daughter Emna was born on March 10, 1892 and married John H. Reichardt of Grand Haven. Elbert and Delia lived at 518 Sheldon. Elbert was one of the original members of the Duncan Park Board of Trustees, established in 1913. He died on July 14, 1933 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Delia passed away on October 14, 1947 and was also buried at Lake Forest.

Walter Lynn [1824-1909]

Born in Orange County, Vermont, Walter Lynn came to Michigan with his parents not long after he was born in 1824. The family settled near Lamont, and Walter became a farmer in Tallmadge Township. Walter was 40 years old when he joined Company C of the 10th Michigan Cavalry during the Civil War. He moved to Grand Haven about 1904 to be with his son Elbert. His other children included Edwin, who was born about 1859 and moved to Oregon, and Mabel, who was born about 1862 and married Benona A. Blakeney of Grand Haven. On February 24, 1909 Walter died at the home of his son Elbert at 518 Sheldon and was buried near the family home in Lamont. [Tribune obituaries, February 24 and 25, 1909.]

John R. Lysaght [Lysaught] [1854-1910]

John was born in St. Joseph, Berrien County on January 7, 1854, the son of Captain Richard and Catherine Yore Lysaght. In 1880 John was living with his widowed mother in Berrien County, Catherine, who was born about 1820 in Ireland. Richard earned his title during service in the Civil War. He died in August 1872. John first went to sea in 1872 and served aboard a number of ships. In 1877 he went to the Black Hills [South Dakota] to try his hand at mining, but five years later he returned to the sea as mate aboard the scow Libbie Carter. In 1883 he joined the life saving crew at Muskegon as Surfman and transferred the next year to Big Point Sauble. In March 1885 he was promoted to keeper of the station. A year later he became keeper of the Racine Harbor Life Saving Station, and on July 19, 1888 he succeeded Captain Beauvais as commander of the Grand Haven Life Saving Station. He and his crew participated in a number of dramatic rescues. In the early 1900s John was vice president of the Grand Haven Basket Factory on Sixth Street, and about the same time he operated a cigar store at 129 Washington.

On April 6, 1885 John married Mary, the daughter of Ezekiah and Elizabeth Hammond Haney of Ludington. Mary was born in October 1862 [1866]. The Lysaghts’ children, all born locally, included Agnes Clare, who lived from February 4, 1886 to October 15, 1979 and died in Oakland County; Alice Elizabeth, who was born in September 1888 and married Albert J. Theiler of Grand Haven; John Paul., who was born in September 1890; Kathleen Mary [Mary Cataline], who was born August 1, 1894 and passed away in Grand Rapids on January 1, 1977; Jane Margaret, who was born on December 6, 1896 and died in Detroit on March 12, 1978; Morris [Maurice], born in January 1900; Harold, who was born on January 3, 1902 and died in Fond du Lac, Wisconsin in August 1974; Louise, born about 1906; and Joseph, who was born on November 27, 1906 and died in Los Angeles, California, on August 16, 1963. John died at the age of 56 at the station from “heart trouble” on May 16, 1910, only 12 days after resigning his post, but before anyone could be assigned to replace him. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Shortly after his death Mary and her dependent children moved to Detroit. [Tribune obituary, May 16, 1910.]

Wilbur Lemay Lyttle [1871-1953] and Miriam “Nellie” Russell Wetmore Lyttle [1876-1952]

Miriam Wetmore Lyttle and her husband, Wilbur, managed the Ferrysburg Hotel for more than 30 years. They owned a large boathouse across the road from the hotel, near the foot of the wooden bridge that at one time provided access to the Village of Spring Lake and later became the site of Ferrysburg Park. The Lyttles also owned summer rental properties around Smith’s Bayou. Miriam was born in Cincinnati, Ohio on November 25, 1876. On September 5, 1900 Miriam and Wilbur were married in Ferrysburg. He was born in Ferrysburg in July 1871, worked for Johnston Boiler, and died in 1953 in Grand Haven. They had five children. Their address in Ferrysburg was 201 Pine Street, formerly the site of Ferrysburg Hotel, which they managed for a number of years and now is the address for Pizza Hut. Miriam was born in Hillsboro, Ohio on November 25, 1876 and died in East Grand Rapids on September 11, 1953.

Helen Lucretia Brayton Macalister [1839-1898] and James Macallister [1840-1913]

On May 30, 1866, Helen Brayton married James Macalister in Grand Haven. Helen, born in 1839 in Aztalon, Wisconsin, was the daughter of James Colgrove and Julia Ann Barnard Brayton and James Pease Brayton’s sister. By 1868 Helen and James had moved to Milwaukee, where James became superintendent of Schools. He was born in Glasgow, Scotland on April 26, 1840. In 1883 the family left Wisconsin for Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where James was named the first superintendent of that city’s schools. After Helen’s death in 1898, James remained in Philadelphia, living with his four daughters: Mary, Janet, Agnes, and Julia. He died on December 17, 1913 and was buried with Helen at West Laurel Hill Cemetery in Merion, Pennsylvania.

Charles MacDonald [1907-1980]

Charles McDonald was born on September 15, 1907 and died in Grand Haven on September 20, 1980. He married Ruby Triplett in Jackson, Mississippi in 1941. After the African American couple moved to Grand Haven in 1951, Ruby was employed by Royal Dry Cleaners at 104 Washington Street, and Charles worked as a furnace tender at Grand Haven Brass Foundry. Ruby was a member of St. John’s Episcopal Church. The MacDonalds resided at various times at 315 Madison, 406 North Third, and 309 Madison Streets. Their son, Charles II, drowned in the Grand River on July 11, 1957. The youngster, who contracted polio as a child, was born in Jackson, Mississippi on May 27, 1943. Another son, Jon [John] F., born on June 28, 1946, graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1965. Jon became a nationally recognized artist and Professor of Art at Kendall School of Art & Design in Grand Rapids. A daughter, Annie K., graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1963, married William Jacobs, and became provost of Wayne County Community College in Detroit. The MacDonalds had a second daughter, Cora Lee, who married a Mr. Rhodes and moved to Grand Rapids. Ruby, who was born in Kosciusko, Mississippi on December 12, 1906, continued to live in the family home on Madison Street after her husband’s death, but she died in Detroit on July 30, 1996 and was interred at Spring Lake Cemetery [Tribune obituary, July 12, 1957].

Norman was born in Pontiac on January 26, 1923. He was the son of Andrew N. and Mae MacDonald. On October 10, 1945 Norman enlisted in the Army Air Corps. After the war and into the early 1950s, he managed Norman-Ross Music Store at 17 Washington and later at 201 Washington. He married Christa Helena Freund. They resided in Fruitport and had at least three children: a son, born October 10, 1945, and two daughters, one born on April 1, 1947 and the other on September 23, 1949.
John Macfie [McFie] [1836-1920]

John, the son of Alexander and Ann Tough Macfie, was born on a farm in Clarenceville, Quebec on April 14, 1836. On May 29, 1861 he married Anne [Anna/Annie] Townsend, who was born on May 20, 1840 in Canada. John and Anne lived at 526 Lafayette in Grand Haven. Residing at the same address in the early 1900s were their son and daughter-in-law, Robert and Maud Macfie. John and Robert were in the lumber business together in Grand Haven under the name Macfie & Son in the 1890s. Robert was born on April 8, 1862. John moved to California around 1905. In 1916 Robert and Maud and their three children joined John in California. John’s and Anne’s other children were Gresham, born in Canada about 1861; Mary Agnes, born on September 28, 1863 and Helen, born on August 14, 1865. Helen died the next day. John passed away in Alhambra, Los Angeles County, California, on April 26, 1920. Anne also died in Alhambra in early fall, 1921. John and Anne were members of St. John’s Episcopal Church in Grand Haven. In 1890 John built the cottage named Tangle Top in Highland Park. The cottage was inherited by Robert Macfie.

Robert Graham Macfie [1862-1946]

Robert and his father, John Macfie, were in the lumber business together in Grand Haven under the name Macfie & Son in the 1890s. Robert was born on April 8, 1862. He married Maud Boyden on August 3, 1892. Maud, born in Pennsylvania on August 19, 1868, was the daughter of Charles and Jerusha Mitchell Boyden of Grand Haven. Robert inherited Tangle Top, a cottage in Highland Park that his father built in 1890. In 1916 Robert and Maud moved to California with their three children and joined John Macfie, who had moved there around 1905. Their children were Boyden, born in Grand Haven on June 12, 1893; Elizabeth Anne, born in Grand Haven on August 25, 1895; and John Graham, born on February 23, 1898 in Missouri. They also had a son David, who was born in Grand Haven on August 2, 1899 and died the next day. In Grand Haven the Macfies lived with Robert’s parents, John and Anne Townsend Macfie, at 526 Lafayette. Maud owned Tangle Top cottage at 68 Beechwood Lane in Highland Park. Robert died in Santa Clara, California on September 18, 1946. Maud passed away, also in Santa Clara, on June 12, 1955.

Bernice Davis Maciejewski [1922-1995]

Bernice Davis Maciejewski, a resident of Robinson Township, was born on February 14, 1922 and died on December 15, 1995. She started writing a history of the township, which was carried on by historian and fellow resident Olive Cleave and published in 1999 as Robinson Remembrances. On January 4, 1941 Bernice married Vincent, the son of John and Mary Miedzianowski Maciejewski of Robinson Township. Vincent was born in Evanston, Illinois on May 18, 1919. Vincent worked at Oldberg Manufacturing for 40 years and was a member of St. Anthony’s Catholic Church in Robinson Township. He and Bernice resided at 13703 Green. Their children were Vincent J. of Tampa, Florida; John of Eugene, Oregon; Charles of Whitehall; Mary Jo, who married a Mr. Vokal and resided in Maple Grove, Minnesota; Elizabeth, who married Rick Wilson and lived in Spring Lake; Marie, who married Eric Johnson and moved to Cape Coral, Florida; and Christine, who married Michael McCarthy of Grand Haven. Bernice and Vincent were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, February 23, 2006.]

John Maciejewski [Mackczewski] [1873-1950]

John and Mary Maciejewski were married in Poland in 1897. John immigrated to America in 1905 and his wife and a daughter followed three years later. After living in Chicago for a number of years, the family in 1923 moved to Robinson Township, where they purchased from Gus Metzler 120 acres in Sections 5 and 31, near the Grand River. One of their children, Vincent, was born about 1919 and married Bernice Davis. Their other children were Adam, born in Poland in 1902; Boleslaus, born in 1912; and Mary, born in 1917. Vincent, Boyle, and Mary were born in Illinois. John lived from 1873 to 1950 and Mary from 1877 to 1965.

William T. Mackay I [1918-2004]

William Mackay was appointed Civil Defense director for the City of Grand Haven in 1963, a position he held until 1988. He served on the Coast Guard Festival Board of Directors from 1968 to 1996. William was born in Linesville, Pennsylvania on February 23, 1918. He was the son of Byron and Mabel Beers Mackay. William married Helen Pritko on January 14, 1939 in Cleveland, Ohio. He served with the Michigan State Troops from 1942 to 1946 and was captain and company commander of local Company F of the 32nd Infantry Regiment. In 1982 he retired from Cooper Industries after 29 years of service in quality control. The Mackay children were William T. Mackay II and Janice S., who married Thomas Helms of St. Johns, Clinton County. William I died in Grand Haven on April 7, 2004 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, April 8, 2004.]

Donald S. Mackenzie [1924-2002]

The son of William and Marion Mackenzie, Donald was born in Evanston, Illinois on January 23, 1924. He grew up in Lake Forest, Illinois and attended Bradley University in Peoria. During WWII he served with the 109th Medical Battalion of the U.S. Army. For 25 years following the war, Donald worked for the American Meat Institute in Chicago as director of Plant Operations. He moved to Grand Haven in 1974 and founded Econaway Abrasives Company, located at 747 Grant Street. He and his wife, Patricia L., resided at 17345 West Spring Lake Road. Donald retired from Econaway in 1996, died in Grand Haven on November 3, 2002, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, November 5, 2002.]

Edward H. Macy [@1801-1840]

Edward Macy landed in New York City on October 9, 1828, newly arrived from Buenos Aires. On the ship’s manifest he was listed as “ship master” and 27 years old. Franklin Everett mentioned Edward Macy twice in his book Memorials of the Grand River Valley. In 1838, at the first meeting of the Ottawa County Board of supervisors, Edward was granted permission to operate a ferry across Black Lake [Lake Macatawa] for two years. About the same year, Edward owned approximately a half-section in Olive Township, on the south side of Pigeon Lake, an area another group, the Port Sheldon Land Company, was developing. A year or two earlier, Edward was part of the Black Lake Company, a group of investors who planned to develop the area around that body of water. Their project included setting up the town of Tuscarrora, later changed to Superior. The plat, recorded on July 2, 1835, was situated on the north side of Black Lake. Plans showed 122 waterfront lots and 465 back lots. Edward, a ship’s captain, was an investor and manager. A post office opened with the name Tuscarrora on August 1, 1839 with Captain Macy as postmaster. Sand bars blocked the harbor and the post office closed on July 24, 1840, about the time Captain Macy was killed in Kalamazoo, according to Everett. The project failed after his death.

Brice D. Maddox [1914-1997]

Brice Maddox was born in Marion, Indiana on April 11, 1914. He graduated from Purdue University with a Bachelor Degree in Civil Engineering, and then earned a Master of Business Administration degree from the University of Chicago. Brice arrived in Grand Haven in 1951 to join Keller Tool Company and became vice president and general manager after the company was taken over by Gardner Denver. He and his wife, Janice B., had three children. Janice was born about 1914. They lived at 521 Lafayette and 10 Woodlawn Court.

Brice was president of the Grand Haven Chamber of Commerce and a member of Rotary and Stag Club. He was on the Grand Haven Charter Study Commission, the Grand Haven Board of Light and Power, and Ottawa County Chapter of the American Red Cross. Brice chaired the Hospital Planning Committee. He and Jan retired to Maricopa, Arizona, where he died on October 7, 1997.

Walter H. Madsen [1920-2001]

Walter, the son of August Peter and Caroline Johnson Madsen, was born in Fergus Falls, Minnesota on August 23, 1920. The family moved to Chicago when Walter was 12. He graduated from Senn High School in that city. During WWII he served four years with the Army in the South Pacific Theater and was discharged with the rank of captain. He continued his service with the U.S. Army Reserves. After the war, Walter attended Chicago Teachers College for four years, and then spent one year at Superior State College in Wisconsin. He came to Grand Haven, where he was employed at Oldberg Manufacturing.

On September 29, 1956 Walter married Genevieve Wessel Nauta, who was born about 1918. Genevieve, the daughter of Abram and Lillian Wessel of Grand Haven, had previously been married to a Nauta. Eleven years after their marriage Walter completed his bachelor degree requirements and received a Michigan Teacher’s Certificate. He then started teaching fifth and sixth grades at Nunica Elementary School, and two years later he began teaching math and science at Spring Lake Junior High School until his retirement in 1982. Walter was an active volunteer with the local Salvation Army, and Genevieve was office secretary for the organization.

Genevieve’s children were James Nauta, who was born about 1944 and became a captain with the Salvation Army in Elmhurst, Illinois; Mary Nauta, who was born about 1947, married James Hoskin, and moved to Sioux Falls, South Dakota, where she held the rank of major with the Salvation Army; Thomas R. Nauta, who was born about 1948 and remained in Grand Haven; Kenneth J. Nauta, who was born about 1950 and also remained in Grand Haven; Judith A. Nauta, who was born about 1951, married Louis Davidson, and moved to Nashville, Tennessee; and Steven, who relocated to Fort Worth, Texas. Walter died on August 14, 2001 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Maggiore [1902-1973]

John Maggiore was born in Italy on February 5, 1902 and immigrated to the United States when he was 17. His wife, Mary, also a native of Italy, was born about 1905 and came to America in 1911. They were married about 1923. John worked as a molder at a local factory before he and Mary opened Sunnyside Grocery around 1953. The store, located at 17176 West Spring Lake in Spring Lake Road, closed around 1977. John passed away in Palm Desert, California on July 1, 1973. Among their children were Albert, born in Indiana about 1925; Joseph C., who was born in Michigan on February 9, 1926 and died in Los Angeles, California on December 17, 1972; Ann, who born about 1930, married Vincent Cobb, and moved to South Haven; and Frank, born in Grand Haven on November 21, 1932. The Maggiore family resided at 333 Elliott around 1930, and then moved to 1143 Washington. Frank served with the Navy from 1951 to 1959 as an aerial photographer, and then was a general contractor for the next 25 years. Frank and his wife, Valerie, had four children: Deborah, John, Theresa, and Frank. Frank I died in Rancho Mirage, California on May 1, 2005. [Tribune obituary, May 4, 2005.]

Michael Maher [Mahar, Mahur] [1844-1904]

Born in Ireland in 1844, Michael Maher settled in Grand Haven and married Ellen Collins. Ellen was born in Waverly, New York, on August 4, 1852. In the 1893 Directory, Michael was listed as “engineer.” They raised their family at 209 Clinton, where Ellen [Helen/Helema] continued to reside after her husband’s death on December 12, 1904. On November 29, 1915 in Grand Haven, she married John Richardson. Michael’s and Ellen’s children, all born in Grand Haven, were Mary Agnes, who was born on July 3, 1873 and married George William Honner in Grand Haven on January 8, 1896; William, who was born on June 11, 1875 and died in Detroit on March 9, 1965; Nellie, who was born November 4, 1876, married Jesse Albert Waterman in Grand Haven on October 26, 1905, and moved to Chicago; John, who was born about April 1879 and died on March 15, 1880; Henry, who was born January 30, 1881, became foreman at a chair factory, and died in Chicago on March 17, 1965; Margaret, who was born on March 6, 1885 and died in California on February 3, 1966; Thomas, who was born on June 2, 1891 and moved to Chicago; and Winifred K., who lived from February 14, 1883 to March 6, 1901. Michael was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Ellen, who died on November 27, 1932.

Thomas Mahan [Mahon] [1872-1969]

Tom, the son of John and Catherine Hart Mahon, started work on the Grand River by operating a pile driver owned by John Walsh. It was the only one of its kind in Grand Haven. Tiring of that job, he went to the Chicago waterfront, where he earned 75 cents for ten hours of work. While in Chicago, Tom drove pilings... at the 1893 Columbian Exposition for the first Ferris Wheel ever erected. Tom returned to Grand Haven, where he became a member of Company F during the Spanish-American War. He was listed as a diver in the 1908 Directory, a pursuit he followed during World War I, as did his father in the British Navy. Tom was certified by the United States secretary of the Navy to dive anywhere in the United States. He worked for the Corps of Engineers and received his pilot and engineering license in 1908. In 1921 Tom built the Ramona with his partner, Charles Possion. After being moved from its construction site in sections, the boat was put together and sailed on Reeds Lake in Grand Rapids. Captain Mahon helped construct the first big bridge to cross the Grand River and also did test borings at Port Sheldon for the Consumers Power Plant. At age 82 he helped lay cable in the Holland harbor for the City of Holland, after an original contractor did not finish the job.

Tom was accused and convicted of “mutilating” Fred Turk Allison II of Nunica on April 14, 1914. The attack occurred when Tom found 19-year old Fred with his wife, Leora. Tom was sentenced to one to ten years in Ionia Prison. At the time of the trial, the Mahans resided on Fourth Street in Grand Haven.

Tom, who was born on August 23, 1872 in New York City, died about July 1, 1969. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On September 25, 1899, he married Leora [Leo] Boot in Grand Haven. Leora was born in Michigan about 1881. They lived at 108 Elliott and later at 407 Fulton Street. They had a daughter, Grita [Juta/Zerta], who was born locally about 1905 and married David Atkinson of Amboy, Illinois; a son, John Thomas, [Thomas J.] who was born locally in 1900; and another son, Leo, who was born locally about 1908. Tom’s father, John, was born in Ireland in June 1856 and died about January 10, 1942, and his mother, Catherine, was born in England in May 1857 and died about November 25, 1915. They also were buried at Lake Forest.

George Matthew Maierhauser I [Mairhauser] [1892-1951]
George Maierhauser owned an 80-acre farm in Section 11 of Grand Haven Township in the early 1900s. In 1930 George was working at a service station in Grand Haven. He was born in Wisconsin on January 10, 1892. On July 16, 1921 in Grand Haven he married Ethel Engel, who was born in that city on March 3, 1899 and died in 1986. They had three children: Theresa, born about 1920; Mary A., born about 1923; George M. II, who was born on April 27, 1926 and died on May 17, 2015; and Phyllis J., who was born September 29, 1933 and passed away in Grand Haven on June 25, 2000. George died on August 22, 1951 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Ethel. [Tribune obituary, May19, 2015.]

John Majerus [1871-1962]
Born on December 28, 1871 in Luxembourg, John Majerus was a resident of Grand Haven Township. In the early 1900s he bought from Peter Northouse [Nordhuis] 70 acres in Section 4, near Rosy Mound. In 1911 he and his wife, Margareth, donated three-quarters of an acre of the land for a new Rosy Mound School in Section 4 of Grand Haven Township, a move north from the school’s former location in Section 9 at the southeast corner of Ferris and Lakeshore Drive. The earlier school had burned down in 1900. Their home was across Lakeshore Drive from the new school. John owned another 20 acres nearby. By 1930 he had sold the remainder of the larger piece to Albert Ohelmacher but retained ownership of the 20-acre parcel. The Majeruses were divorced before 1930. John moved to Alhambra, California, where he died on September 25, 1962.

Davis Nelson Mallery [@1876- ?]
In the early 1900s Davis Mallery was part owner of the Mallery and Hite Boat Livery [Marina] on Beach Road in Spring Lake Village. He was born about 1876 in Illinois. By 1920 he was a traveling salesman for a Grand Haven machinery company. Davis married Frances Hoffman in Jackson, Missouri on October 16, 1915. Frances was born in Howard County, Iowa on January 9, 1886. She died in Grand Haven on March 10, 1922 and was buried at Union Cemetery in Livermore, Iowa.

Frederick A. Mansfield [1847-1916]

In 1887 the name of the military company headquartered at the Armory on Second Street was changed to “The Grand Haven Guards.” It became known as Company F. Frederick Mansfield, one of the company’s organizers, was elected captain and later major of the Second Michigan Infantry. He worked as an inspector for the Tax Department of the State of Michigan, but also was a civil engineer.

Frederick’s father, Eben [Ebin/Ebenezer] Fessenden Mansfield, was born on May 8, 1809 in Oxford County, Maine and died in Grand Haven on December 19, 1869. His mother, Achsah [Axey/Aahsal], was born in Vermont about 1817. Eben and Achsah Smith were married in Will, Illinois on August 24, 1843. By 1850 Ebenezer, Achsah, Frederick, and another son, John, were living in Metomen, Wisconsin. John was two years younger than Frederick. At the time of the 1870 Federal Census, Frederick was living in Grand Haven. Living with him were his widowed mother and two younger brothers, both born in Wisconsin: Ebbin, who was born in 1854 and died in Grand Haven about December 19, 1869, and Charles, born in 1857. Achsah died in Grand Haven on November 24, 1870 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Eben.

In the 1880 Federal Census, Frederick was sharing his home on Pennoyer Street with Mary K. Mansfield and Herbert Mansfield, both listed as his cousins, and with his brother, Charles, who was working as a sailor. Mary, the daughter of David [1813-1876] and Abigail Kimball Mansfield [1815-1859], was shown as divorced in the census. Her first husband was John L. Mansfield [1847-1937]. Whatever their relationship, Frederick Mansfield and Mary K. Mansfield were married on August 20, 1881, in Grand Haven. Mary was born in Lovell, Maine on June 6, 1850, died in Grand Haven on September 30, 1923, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Mary and her sister, Martha “Mattie” Rice, were the first managers of the Highland Park Hotel. Frederick and Mary resided at 107 South Second Street. Their daughter Martha J. “Mattie” Mansfield was born in Grand Haven on May 10, 1883 and married Richard L. Cook of that city. In 1900 Mary and her daughter Mattie were living 107 South Street, while Frederick was listed in the Federal Census of that year as residing at 221 Washington Street, in the home of Willard Sheldon. Fred was then employed as a clerk with the State of Michigan Tax Commission. Ten years later the Mansfields were living together at the house on Second Street. Mattie and her husband Richard were living with them. After her husband’s death, Mary continued to reside at 107 South Second.

Frederick was born in Fairwater, Wisconsin [Maine/Vermont] on November 8, 1847. He died in Grand Haven on May 10, 1916 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Herbert Mansfield, probably her son by her first marriage. Mary was a Unitarian, but later became a Christian Scientist.

Hubert “Bert” C. Mansfield [1867-1921]

Bert Mansfield, a watchmaker and jeweler, owned one of the largest jewelry stores in Ottawa County. In 1888 he purchased the store from Roswell H. Lee, who had been in business in Grand Haven since 1872. Bert named his shop, located at 132 Washington, B. C. Mansfield & Company. He specialized in watch repair. The son of Mary K. Mansfield and the stepson of Frederick Mansfield, Bert was born in Wisconsin in September 1867 and died in 1921. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other Mansfields. On January 3, 1891 in Milwaukee, Bert married Clara Edna Bell. She was born in Wisconsin in October 1871. The daughter of Edwin and Louisa Buttrick Bell, she graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1888. After Bert’s death, she moved to Grand Rapids with their son, Herbert, who was born locally about 1907. Another son, Carlisle Edwin, was born on September 29, 1892 and died in September 1963 in Michigan. Carlisle married Mary A. Dickinson in Grand Rapids on February 8, 1911.

Bert was reported to have “the finest collection of Indian arrow heads and other relics in the city.” [Tribune, July 28, 1900.]

Meinardus “Maynard” Manting [Mantingh] I (1896-1956)

In 1946 Maynard Manting started the Manting Equipment Company at 119 South Fourth Street in Grand Haven as a distributor of Bastian Blessing store display fixtures. Prior to that, he had been an employee of Bastian Blessing. His sister, Sarah, married Louis Northouse of Grand Haven. Maynard, the son of Albert and Marie Lokker Manting, was born in Holland, Michigan on November 26, 1896. He married Katherine Van Lopik on July 26, 1928. The daughter of Peter and Cornelia Byl Van Lopik, she was born May 18, 1895 [1896] and died March 10, 1943. The Manting family lived at 508 South Seventh Street. Their sons, Peter G. and Maynard Manting II, continued the business after their father’s death on September 3, 1956. Katherine and Maynard were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Nathan Marble (1789-1868)

Nathan Marble may never have lived in Ottawa County, but on March 1, 1856 he purchased the southwest quarter-section [160 acres] of Section 9 of Grand Haven Township from Henry Pennoyer. On March 23, 1861, while living in New York State, he sold to the Township a one-acre parcel on the southeast corner of Ferris and Lakeshore Drive. After the school at this site burned down in 1900 a new one was constructed a mile or so north and named Rosy Mound School. The remainder of Nathan’s quarter-section was in Henry Saul’s name before 1876. As early as 1839 Nathan purchased 160 acres in southern Michigan. He was born in 1789 and died April 22, 1868. His wife, Adeline Worden, lived from 1802 to January 31, 1874.

Jerry Maring [1915-1998]

On May 1, 1956 Jerry Maring formed a partnership with Henry J. Freeze to purchase the building and equipment of Fred King’s business, Metal Stamping Products, located at 530 Elm Street in Ferrysburg. Jerry was president and Henry was secretary-treasurer of the firm. Jerry and his wife, Mildred, resided in Muskegon. He was born on May 19, 1915 and died in Muskegon on October 31, 1998.

Paul F. Markoff [Markhoff] (1863-1955)

Paul Markoff was on the Board of Directors of the Spring State Bank when it first opened in 1914 and became its president. In the 1918 Directory he was listed as a furniture manufacturer in Spring Lake. He and Ida Cornelia Umstead were married in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, on May 8, 1884. Paul was born in Germany in September 1863, and Ida was born in Brighton, Pennsylvania on May 9, 1864. In 1900 they were residents of Grand Rapids. By 1910 they owned a 30-acre estate on the north end of Spring Lake [18881 Fruitport Road, Section 1, Spring Lake Township]. They called their property “Idalia.” The estate was in the name of Josephine M. Markoff as late as 1971. The Markoffs had two sons: Paul Berton “Bert,” born on June 19, 1885 in Ohio, and Clarence Paul, who was born in Ohio on June 24, 1887. Both sons became residents of Grand Rapids. On December 1, 1915 in Grand Haven, Paul Berton married Josephine Margaret, the daughter of Richard and Margaret Powell Bolt. Josephine was born on August 5, 1893 and passed away in Grand Rapids on February 24, 1975. Clarence married Elizabeth Kooiman in Grand Haven on February 9, 1920. Elizabeth, the daughter of John and Elizabeth Leenhouts Kooiman of Grand Haven, was born on June 24, 1895, died on June 24, 1965, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Clarence passed away about January 24, 1947. Paul died in 1955 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Ida, who had died ten years earlier.

Moses Marod [1910-1977]

Moses Marod was born in Madison County, Indiana on June [May] 12, 1910. His father, Asa Marod, was born in Syria about 1882, and his mother, Mary Albert, was born in the same country in 1884. Their children, beside Moses, were Edward A., born about 1912; Sophia A., who lived from August 14, 1913 to January 1982; Nicholas A., who lived from April 1, 1915 to April 11, 1993; and Rosie A, who was born about 1917. Asa ran a grocery store at 6-8 South Beechtree in the 1920s and lived at the same address. Moses worked as a grainer at Eagle Ottawa in 1930. He resided at 1309 Grant Street and passed away in Grand Haven on July 25, 1977 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his parents and other family members.
Ernest P. Mars [1890- ?]
Ernest Mars opened Superior Products Company at 335 Fulton Street in Grand Haven in 1928. He was born in Germany on October 1, 1890 and immigrated to Chicago in 1909. Arriving with him was his wife, Ella, born in Germany around 1900, and their daughter, Elizabeth, who was born in their native country just prior to immigrating to the United States. The family continued to reside in Chicago.

Albert “Bert” Martin [1883-1941]
Born in the Peach Plains area in December 1883, Bert Martin died at Middle Point, Ohio, around December 24, 1941 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Kittie, had died the year before. She was born about 1882. They had two sons: Walter of Spring Lake and Donald of Nunica. Bert spent most of his life in Grand Haven and in 1908 worked at a livery stable. He moved in 1933 to become foreman of the Maumee Asphalt Company in Bloomville, Ohio. [Tribune obituary, December 24, 1941.]

Benjamin Martin [1828-1889]
The son of John C. and Ann Moffatt Martin, Benjamin was born in Pennsylvania in 1828. Before 1864 he settled on a 47½ acre farm in Section 31 of Crockery Township, right on the north bank of the Grand River. Hiram Martin of Spring Lake Township was his brother. Benjamin died in 1889 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. His wife, Arvila [Arvilla] G., was born in New York State in 1838 and died in 1912. She also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The Martins had seven children: Emma, born in 1854; Anna, born in 1855; Hiram, born in 1858; Wallace, born in 1860; Gilbert, who was born in 1863 and drowned in 1874; F. D., born in 1866; and Eber, born on February 17, 1870. On January 23, 1920 in Coopersville, Eber married Minnie L Green. She was born in 1880.

Charles Martin [Marten] [1802-1858]
Charles Martin worked as a boatman for Rix Robinson, according to the “Descriptive List of Aliens” the fur trader completed in 1830. Charles was noted as being a “Half-Breed.” He was born on August 10, 1802 on Mackinac Island and died in St. Ignace on July 1, 1858. His baptismal record, dated June 30, 1804 in Michilimackinac, gave his father’s name as Antoine Martin and his mother as being a “Sauteux woman,” a reference to the Saulteux tribe of the Chippewa nation. Charles married Mary Ann, [last name unknown], an Indian, on July 6, 1830 in Michilimackinac. The 1850 census for Michilimackinac showed Charles working as a fisherman. With him were four children, all born in Michigan: La Rose, born about 1834; Mary Ann, born about 1836; Gabel [female], born about 1838; and Delia, born about 1845. Charles’s wife was not included in the census and may have died.

Edward Martin [1872-1961]
Born on Beaver Island of pioneer parents, Edward Martin went to work shortly after his father drowned and then he continued in night school to advance himself in his chosen profession. He came to Grand Haven in 1908 on the ship Manistitique, which was renamed the Milwaukee and sank in a storm on Lake Michigan in 1929. Captain Martin was master for the Grand Trunk Ferry Lines and was serving on the Madison before his retirement in 1938. He moved to Grand Haven from Milwaukee, and on December 17, 1918 in Grand Haven, he married Sarah Beverly Wynne. The next year they purchased the house at 215 Lafayette. Sarah died about December 18, 1947 and Edward, who was born on October 2, 1872, died around August 11, 1962. The couple was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. At the time of Edward’s death, he was living with his daughter Alice and her husband, Gunnard Oslund, who had obtained title to the house on Lafayette. Subsequently the home was occupied by a granddaughter of the Martins, Beverly MacLeod, and Beverly’s husband, Kenneth.

George Martin [Marlin] [@1849- ?]
George Martin, an African American, was born in Mississippi [Michigan] about 1849. He became a barber in Grand Haven. On February 24, 1875 in Grand Haven, he married Sarah Miller. Sarah was born in Tennessee about 1854. They had a son, William, who was born about 1877 in Michigan. In 1880 the family resided on Madison Street. Sarah was a laundry lady. They do not reappear in later censuses for Ottawa County.

Henry Martin [? - ?]

Henry Martin was captain of the steamer Empire in 1851, which normally operated between Grand Rapids and Grand Haven. On July 4 of that year Henry picked up passengers at Ottawa Point [Ferrysburg] and Mill Point [Spring Lake] and took them for a cruise up to Fruitport and back for a “subscription” of twenty-five cents or less. The money raised was used to purchase books for the school library in Grand Haven [Lilie, p. 241]. In 1853 he bought the Gilbert brothers’ warehouse on Water Street [Harbor Drive] in Grand Haven and put Dwight Cutler in charge. In 1856 Henry purchased an 80-acre fruit farm in Section 25 of Spring Lake Township. Captain Martin was born in Ohio, as was his wife.

Henry Martin [@1817- ?]

Henry Martin, an African American, resided on a farm in Section 10 of Spring Lake Township as early as 1850. Classified that year as a laborer, Henry was born in Kentucky around 1817. Living in 1850 with Henry and his wife, Catherine [Catharine], were Isaak Smith, also a laborer, born in New Jersey about 1822; Sabrine Smith, born in Indiana about 1822; Tommas Smith, born in Illinois about 1844; Amanda Smith, born in Michigan about 1848; and Dugglas Smith, born in Michigan about October 1849. The relationship among the Smiths was not specified in the early census. The Martins were neighbors of Hezekiah Smith, as were so many of the Black residents. Catherine, listed as Mulatto in the 1860 census, was born in Pennsylvania about 1832, although her death records put her birth year at 1826. The 1860 census showed the Martins had three children living with them: Lucinda J., born in Virginia about 1854; Frederick D.F., born locally about 1857; and Jefferson B., who was born locally on June 17, 1858 and died in Ferrysburg on April 19, 1875. By 1870 Catherine was widowed and still living in Spring Lake Township with her children Lucinda, Edward [probably the child referred to as Frederick in the previous census], and Jefferson. Also part of the household in 1870 were four more children, all born locally since the last census: Mary, born about 1863; Martha, born about 1866; and Jane, born about 1868; and a son, Henry, born about 1869. In 1880 Catherine was living in Ferrysburg and sharing her home with her son Frederick, and two children that weren’t included in previous censuses: Fredrika, born about 1863, and Bertie, born about 1866. Both were born locally. Frederick was working in a sawmill at that time. Catherine died in Spring Lake Township on December 11, 1880. None of the Smiths living with the Martins in 1850 and none of Henry’s children appear in Ottawa County censuses after 1880.

Hiram Martin [1836-1920]

Born on May 17, 1836 in Canton, Ohio, Hiram was the son of John C. and Ann Moffatt Martin. Hiram took over 40 acres of the family 80-acre farm in Section 25 of Spring Lake Township. The remaining 40 acres were sold to other parties. On May 14, 1873 Hiram married Emily [Emma] Deremo in Ottawa County. Emily, a native of De Kalb, New York and the daughter of Earl and Permilia Curtis Deremo, lived from September 12, 1851 to January 5, 1935. She was listed as a musician in the 1918 Directory. The Martin home was at the corner of Boom Road and 144th Avenue. Hiram died on April 9, 1920 and was buried with his wife at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their children, all born in Spring Lake, were Elmer, who was born September 22, 1873 and died in 1892; Arthur, who lived from April 7, 1878 to 1956; Stewart, who was born on November 27, 1879 and died on April 25, 1927; Idella “Della” M., who was born on March 18, 1883, married William Merz of Crockery Township, and died September 21, 1931; Lila, who was born November 13, 1886 and died April 29, 1968; and Emma, who was born on September 12, 1889, married Arthur Llewellyn Chittenden, and died February 20, 1970. Hiram’s brother Benjamin, born in 1828 in Pennsylvania, settled in Section 31 of Crockery Township. Benjamin died in 1889.

Reuben Martin [1834-1908]
Reuben Martin owned a 30-acre farm in Section 24 of Spring Lake Township, where he settled in 1854. He was born July 24, 1834 and died on December 18, 1908. His wife, Nancy, was born on December 29, 1843 and died on May 22, 1920. Husband and wife were both born in Ohio and buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Stewart Martin [1879-1927]

Born on November 29, 1879 in Spring Lake Township, Stewart Martin was a farmer with 40 acres in Section 25. His parents were Hiram and Emily Deremo Martin. Stewart died on April 25, 1927 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Bertha Hilton Mason [1875-1945]

In 1928 Bertha and Clyde Mason paid Alvin and Carlotta Ewing $2,250 for a wooded lot in an area of second homes called the Wilderness, a few miles south of Grand Haven. In the mid-1930s Bertha built a large, two-story frame cottage on the site. The cottage has the address 12745 Lakeshore Drive. Born on February 19, 1875 in Branch County, Bertha married Clyde Shelton Mason in Coldwater on October 28, 1900. He was born on October 23, 1873 and worked as an inspector for the “Bureau of Air Craft Production,” as he wrote on his WWI draft registration. He died on April 3, 1929 and was buried at Oak Grove Cemetery in Owosso, Shiawassee County. Bertha, a teacher, resumed her career in education after his death, becoming principal at several Grand Rapids schools. She retired in 1941, died in December 1945, and was buried at Rosedale Memorial Park in Tallmadge Township.

Frank Edgar Mason [1891-1958]

Frank Mason managed the Central States Gas Utilities office, located at 134 Washington, during the 1920s and 1930s. Prior to that he had worked for gas companies in Fort Madison, Iowa and Lake, Illinois. He and his wife, Ida, resided at 513 Woodlawn. On October 3, 1917 he married Ida Domke. She was born in 1893 in Indiana and died on April 11, 1987. Their children were Mary, born about 1923, and Donald, born about 1927. Frank was born in Libertyville, Illinois on April 21, 1891. Frank passed away around December 20, 1958. He and Ida were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

J. W. Mason [? - ?]

In 1873 Mason joined Edward P. Ferry and others to form the “Michigan Bunch” in Utah and enter the silver mining business.

Richard Mason [? - ?]

Richard Mason arrived in Spring Lake subsequent to the 1837 rebellion in Canada. With Jabez Barber he helped Colonel Norton complete a sawmill at Nortonville. In 1844 he and Barber built a sawmill at Mill Point, which burned down in 1859. Richard purchased 160 acres in Section 1 of Spring Lake Township on June 8, 1848, which was one of several acquisitions he made throughout Michigan. His wife, Ellen, died on September 30, 1816 at the age of 30.

John Mastenbroek [Mastenbrook, Mastenbrock] [1828-1907]

Born in February 1828 in The Netherlands, John Mastenbroek on December 22, 1863 enlisted as private in Company K of the 1st Michigan Engineers. He was mustered out on September 22, 1865. John, who arrived in Grand Haven Township in 1853, raised fruit. He served as township supervisor from 1876 to 1879. His wife, Minnie, was born in The Netherlands about 1824. Their daughter Katherine was born in Michigan on February 10, 1867 and died on August 2, 1887. After Minnie died, John married Louise, who was born in Illinois in December 1861. They had a daughter, Cecilia, who was born in June 1896. John died in 1907 and was buried at Merrill Township Cemetery in Newaygo County.

Abraham Mastenbroek [Mastenbroek] [1833-1904]

Born and schooled in The Netherlands, Abraham Mastenbroek arrived in Philadelphia in May 1853. After six months he moved to Eastmanville. An experienced horticulturist, he worked on a 90-acre fruit farm in Section 12, eight miles southeast of Grand Haven. At the age of 30 he enlisted as private in Company K of the 1st Michigan Engineers and Mechanics. Although his complete service record was not located, his unit was under Sherman’s command and participated in the famous March to the Sea, and in the battles of Atlanta, Chattanooga, Columbia, and Savannah. Abraham, a Democrat, was highway commissioner for the county and member of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Congregational Church at Eastmanville, and Champlain Post, No. 29 at Grand Rapids.

In 1861 Abraham married Ellie [Nell/Nellie] Vandermade. They had ten children, including Paul Mastenbrook, born in Eastmanville on October 26, 1863. Ellie was born in The Netherlands in September 1836, came to the United States in 1850, and died on February 27, 1903. Abraham lived from October 1883 to March 15, 1904. [Portrait & Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties, p. 573.]

Edward “Frank” Mastenbrook [1895-1983]

The son of Paul and Caroline Moll Mastenbrook, Frank was born on May 20, 1895 in Grand Haven. On April 21, 1917 he enlisted in Company F of Grand Haven, which merged with Company L of the 126th Infantry during WWI. Frank was wounded in the Allied Oise-Aisne offensive in France on August 28, 1918. On August 26, 1922, he married Florence Isabella Kieft in Grand Haven. Florence was born about 1903. They lived at 1351 Waverly and later at 708 South Friant Street. With his brother Fred, he owned the Mastenbrook Brothers Service Station at the northwest corner of Beechtree and Waverly [495 South Beechtree]. Frank died in Grand Haven on July 8, 1983. Florence was born May 11, 1902 and died in Grand Haven on October 29, 1990. They had three sons: Arlan, Warren, and Jack. Jack, who was born in Grand Haven on February 10, 1927, married Demaris “Dee” Fuller in Muskegon in 1953 and died in Petoskey on April 27, 2014.

Fredrich “Fred” Paul Mastenbrook [1900-1989]

Fred, the son of Paul and Caroline Moll Mastenbrook was born on July 23, 1900 in Grand Haven. With his brother Fred, he owned the Mastenbrook Brothers Service Station at the northwest corner of Beechtree and Waverly [495 South Beechtree]. He married Mildred Anna Grubham in Grand Haven on December 5, 1925. She was born in Ohio about 1905, died about May 7, 1928, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On October 31, 1936, Fred married Fern Kamphuis. Fern, born on February 6, 1912, was the daughter of Gerrit and Louis Wuennecke Kamphuis of Grand Haven. Fred and Fern resided at 1909 Grant. Fern was born in February 1912. Fred died in Grand Haven on January 3, 1989 and was buried at Lake Forest. Fern passed away on March 6, 2017 and was buried with her husband. [Tribune obituary, March 11, 2017.]

Paul H. Mastenbrook I [Mastenbrock, Mastenbroek] [1863-1940]

On July 25, 1894, Paul Mastenbrook married Caroline H. Moll in Grand Haven. Paul and his wife owned a 110-acre farm in Section 12 of Grand Haven Township. He was born in Eastmanville on October 20, 1863, the son of Abraham and Ellie Vandermade Mastenbrook, and died on December 5, 1940. One of their children, Paul H. II, was born on August 15, 1893 and died in Grand Haven on September 17, 1974. Other children were Edward, who lived from May 20, 1895 to July 8, 1983; Arthur L., who was born about 1905; and Harold M., born around 1916.

Edgar Lee Masters [1868-1950]

After visiting the Grand Haven area for several years, world-famous poet Edgar Lee Masters in the summer of 1916 rented a cottage on Belle Point in Spring Lake, adjacent to the Pines Resort. Edgar, who had a law practice in Chicago, the next year bought a twelve-acre farm on Spring Lake, about a half-mile from Arbutus Banks [18067 Fruitport Road]. The farm included a fruit tree orchard. He stayed at Arbutus Banks, a summer hotel, during the updating of his farm. The poet sold his summer home in 1920. He wrote several poems about the Grand River, Grand Haven, and the lumbering industry, including “Toward the Gulf,” “Sweet Clover,” “In the Garden at the Dawn Hour,” and “Lost Orchard.” These poems were written while the author sat on a bench near the shore of Spring Lake. Another poem, “Grand River Marshes,” contained this verse:
But all is quiet on the river now
As when the snow lay windless in the wood,
And the last Indian stood
And looked to find the broken bough
That told the path under the snow.
All is as silent as the spiral lights
Of purple and of gold that from the marshes rise
Like the wings of swarming dragon flies
Far up toward Eastmanville, where the enclosing skies
Quiver with heat; as silent as the flights
Of the crow like smoke from shops against the glare
Of dunes and purple air,
There where Grand Haven against the sand hill lies.

Reportedly, Masters’ original manuscript of Spoon River Anthology was given to Connie Thornquist, a daughter of Claude Hopkins, who also had a summer home on Spring Lake.

On June 21, 1898 Edgar married Helen Mary Jenkins in Chicago. She was born in Chicago on August 5, 1874. They had three children. After their divorce, he married Ellen Coyne in 1926. She lived from May 18, 1899 to April 8, 1997 and was buried at Oakland Cemetery. Edgar was born in Garnett, Kansas, on August 3, 1868 and died on March 5, 1950 in Rydal, Pennsylvania. He, too, was buried at Oakland Cemetery in Petersburg, Illinois.

Stillman H. Matthews [1863-1908]

Coming to Grand Haven from Maine in 1868, Thomas A. Matthews worked as a ship’s carpenter and millwright. Born about 1837 in Maine, he was employed by the Robinson & Company Shipyard in Grand Haven. His wife, Margaret, was born about 1841 in Nova Scotia. Their son, Stillman H., who was born in September 1863 in Maine, died in Grand Haven on September 9, 1908 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On April 10, 1889 in Grand Haven, Stillman married Agnes May Friant. By 1900 they were residing in Muskegon, where Stillman had been located since at least 1887, working as a traveling salesman. The daughter of George and Cynthia Pease Friant, Agnes was born in Grand Haven, lived from April 1860 to August 1925, and was buried with Stillman.

Wallace Bruce Matthews I [1904-2000]

Born on May 29, 1904, Bruce Matthews was raised on the family farm near Hastings, Barry County. Over the period of his long and productive life, Bruce designed and renovated more than 100 golf courses. He earned both national and state recognition for developing challenging but playable courses. He was quoted as saying, “The easiest thing to do is build a tough hole. To build a course people enjoy is another story.” Bruce graduated in 1925 from Michigan Agricultural College [MSU] with a degree in landscape architecture. He started his golf career in Florida, but was unable to find a suitable, permanent position. He returned to Michigan and was hired in 1930 as Grounds superintendent at the Green Ridge Country Club. He remained at the Club in various management positions for the duration of the depression, relying partly on income from slot machines [legal at that time] to balance the books.

After leaving Green Ridge, Bruce became a full-time golf course architect. Among his other course designs in West Michigan were Kaufman Golf Club in Grand Rapids and West Ottawa Golf Club near Holland. W. Bruce Matthews & Son was formed in 1961 and remained operative until 1979. That year Bruce and his son Jerry formed Matthews & Associates P.C. The firm had remodeled and designed more than 200 courses by 1993, the same year Bruce was inducted into the Michigan Golf Hall of Fame.

Bruce purchased from Gerald Arkema of Grand Haven a 235-acre site in Grand Haven Township. Using 175 of the available acres, in 1964 he opened the 18-hole Grand Haven Golf Club. He also platted and sold building sites along Timberdunes Drive, which divides the golf course. His son, Wally, took over the management two years later and continued in that capacity until the family sold the course to John Rooney of Stillwater, Oklahoma in 1998. Among his other activities, Bruce established the Turfgrass Foundation at Michigan State University and he helped launch a golf shop management curriculum at Ferris State.

Bruce married Doris Sprague of Woodland, Barry County in 1928. In addition to Jerry, Bruce and Doris, had another son, Wallace “Wally” Bruce II, who was born on March 23, 1929, a daughter, Kathryn, who married Raymond McDermid, a Canadian; Marilyn, who married Charles Magee; and Gerald, who married Gail Kidnee. Doris was born on April 2, 1903 and died on March 15, 1998. Bruce died on September 28, 2000 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. [Personal correspondence with W. Bruce Matthews III.]

Wallace Bruce Matthews II [1929-2010]

The son of Wallace and Doris Matthews, Wally was born on March 23, 1929 and raised in Comstock Park, Kent County. Like his father, Wally became interested in golfing and golf courses. After earning a bachelor degree in restaurant management, he worked in the banking industry, in various restaurants, and as manager of Spring Meadows Country Club in Linden, Genesee County. He left that position in 1965 to become manager for the newly opened Grand Haven Golf Club in Lincoln Street in Grand Haven Township. The older Matthews designed and eventually purchased the Grand Haven Golf Club.

Betty Mattson [1942-2004]

Born on December 13, 1942 in Black River Falls, Wisconsin, Betty was the daughter of Audley and Virginia Grutsch Mattson. She graduated from Grand Valley State University in 1976 with a Bachelor Degree in Environmental Science. She went on to earn a master of education degree from the same institution in 1990. Betty, who was deeply concerned about the environment and animal rights, was a frequent contributor to the Grand Haven Tribune’s opinion page. She passed away in Grand Haven on October 11, 2004. She was buried at Oak Grove Cemetery in Tomah, Wisconsin. [Tribune obituary, October 12, 2004.]

Charles Sebastian Maurer I [1852-1928]

Charles Maurer started Maurer Glove Company in Grand Haven in December 1907. The factory was located at 1003 Fulton in Grand Haven, and he and his wife, Mary, resided at 532 Washington. They had a son, Charles Maurer II, who was born on September 14, 1890. Charles I was born in Reading, Pennsylvania on May 24, 1852 and died in Grand Haven on December 26, 1928. Mary passed away about November 10, 1945. She and Charles were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles Sebastian Maurer II [1890-1982]

Charles Maurer II, born in Grand Haven on September 14, 1890, was associated with his father’s glove business, Maurer Glove Company. His parents were Charles and Mary Maurer I. On September 3, 1919, Charles II married Louise Harrison, who went by the name “Smiley.” They lived at 707 Columbus. By the mid-1950s Charles II lived on Emmet Street. Charles and Smiley had a son, Charles Maurer III, who lived from January 8, 1928 to May 15, 1998. Charles II died on January 29, 1982. Smiley lived from October 16, 1896 to August 21, 1985. She and her husband were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Orren [Orin] Gregg Maxfield [1843-1929]
On June 11, 1870, Orren Maxfield married Elzora Rudd of Eastmanville. For more than 30 years, the couple operated hotels in Grand Rapids, Eastmanville, and Coopersville, where they were living in 1880 and remained for the remainder of their lives. Their lodging establishment in Coopersville was called Maxfield House. Orren was born in Clinton County, New York on June 3, 1843. Between August 27, 1862 and June 20, 1865, he served as private with Company B of the 5th Michigan Calvary. The Maxfields had three children, all born locally: Warren Albert Maxfield, who was born on November 10, 1871 and died on July 31, 1917 in Hudsonville; Hattie E. Maxfield, who was born on October 28, 1873; and Gertie C. Maxfield, who was born about 1877, married Frank Comstock on February 15, 1900, divorced him on August 19, 1908, and passed away in 1967. Elzora lived from March 30, 1849 to May 1, 1933. They were buried at Maplewood Cemetery in Lamont.

Frederick H. May [1826-1908]

Fred May was manager of the Grand Haven Railway Company from its inception in 1878 into the 1880s. He resided in Allegan with his wife, Rachel M. He was born on March 22, 1826 on the Isle of Man, England, and she was born in Illinois around 1840. Fred immigrated to the United States in 1841. He passed away in New Jersey on May 19, 1908. They had four children.

Duncan McAlpine [1868-1914]

Born in Dundee, Scotland on February 4, 1868, Duncan McAlpine immigrated to Toronto, Canada with his parents the next year. He was schooled there and received his medical education at the University of Toronto and the University of Edinburgh in Dublin. Duncan arrived in Grand Haven about 12 years after beginning his practice in Lake City, Missaukee County in 1894. He became one of the most expert physicians and surgeons in the state. Many thought he should relocate to a larger city, but he replied, “Grand Haven suits me.”

Duncan married Grace Bahr of Chicago on September 1, 1899. Grace was born in Indiana in July 1875. They resided at 109 South Fifth and his office was on the second floor of 222 Washington. Duncan was a member of the Masons, Elks, Modern Woodman, Maccabees of the World, German Arbeiters, Eagles, Ben Hur, Foresters, and Modern Samaritans. He passed away on January 3, 1914 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Donald “Sandy” McBeath [1938-1994]

Born on March 3, 1938, Sandy McBeath died on April 25, 1994. An employee of the Michigan Parks Service, he also was active with the Tri-Cities Historical Museum and served as its president. His wife, Mary Jane, was a volunteer with the Museum.

George W. McBride [1845-1929]

Born in Coshocton, Coshocton County, Ohio in September 1845, George McBride spent his boyhood in Deerfield, Lenawee County. It was there on March 4, 1862 that he enlisted as private in Company H of the 15th Michigan Infantry, which was involved in the battles of Shiloh and Corinth and Sherman’s March to the Sea. George was promoted to first sergeant and then second lieutenant on November 1, 1864. He was discharged on August 14, 1865. After the war he resumed his education to become a lawyer.

In 1873 George married Martha “Mattie” Eunice [Ella] Hendry of Angola, Indiana, where she was born on February 22, 1850. She was the daughter of Alonson W. and Louisa Gale Hendry. In the same year as his marriage, George was admitted to the bar. The couple came to Grand Haven where George opened a law office, working first with Healy C. Akeley and later with Peter Danhof. George was mayor of Grand Haven in 1869, and he was collector of customs from 1889 to 1893. In 1876 he was elected prosecuting attorney and held that position for ten years, during which time he cleaned up some of the worst criminal gangs in Michigan. In 1879 George was made first lieutenant of Company F, which later met at the Armory on Second Street, and in 1888 he was on the first Board of Trustees of Akeley Institute, which opened that year.
George came to realize that the lumbering interests in the area were dying, so he, Dudley O. Watson, and other community leaders used their own financial resources to travel around the region with the goal of attracting manufacturing concerns to Grand Haven and to boost the development of local industry. They called the organization the Grand Haven Board of Trade, and the first company they brought here was the Story & Clark Piano Company, which soon employed over 600 men and became a major industry in Grand Haven. Challenge Machinery Company and Fountain Specialty [Bastian Blessing] followed and made Grand Haven a thriving industrial city. In 1888 the McBrides built one of the earliest cottages in Highland Park [52 Beechwood Lane], and from 1896 to 1906 they managed Highland Park Hotel. After becoming blind, George continued to participate in local activities and was one of the first in the area to own a radio. The McBrides resided at 332 Franklin Street, next to the Sherman Boyce home at 326. George had moved the large, two-story frame home from 107 South Fourth. He died early in 1929 and was buried at Circle Hill Cemetery in Angola, Indiana. On March 25 that year his wife, Martha, applied for a widow’s Civil War pension.

Thomas McBride [1856-?]
Thomas McBride married Mary Fallen. For a time, they resided in Grand Haven with their children: Margaret, born about 1875; James Cairn, born in Grand Haven on March 8, 1876 [1875]; Bessie, born about 1880; Mary, born in Grand Haven on January 25, 1884; and Elizabeth, who born in Muskegon on November 18, 1889 and died the same day. Thomas, a sailor, was born in Minnesota about 1856, and Mary was born about the same year in Michigan. Thomas and Mary had moved from Grand Haven by 1900. Later in life, their son James changed his name to J. C. “Bud” Mars and became a stunt pilot. In 1910 he was the first man to pilot a plane over Hawaii, and the next year he gave Hirohito, the future emperor of Japan, his first airplane ride. Bud died on July 25, 1944 in Los Angeles. [Tribune article, “GH native gives Hirohito first plane ride,” October 29, 2014.]

George E. McCabe [1878-1952]
George McCabe, a printer, lived at 15 North Ferry in Grand Haven in 1908. He was still a resident of Grand Haven when he sailed from Liverpool to New York in 1918. He was born on January 19, 1878 in Iowa [Minnesota]. His wife's name was Echo [Ecks/Ethel], who was born in Iowa on July 15, 1881. They had three children, the first two born in Iowa: Clarence, born in May 1900, Quelton, born about 1903, and Echo, born in Michigan about 1918. In 1900 the couple was living in Charles City, Iowa, where George worked in the printing business. In 1910 George was still a printer living in Grand Haven at 1312 Columbus with his wife and two sons. By 1920 the family was living in Chicago. At that time George was in advertising. In 1930 he, Echo the wife, and Echo the daughter were in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; he was still in advertising. George passed away in Napa, California on May 26, 1952. Echo died on June 4, 1963 in Alameda, California.

Almon Watson McCall [1905-1970]
Born January 29, 1905 in Ithaca, Gratiot County, Almon McCall came to Grand Haven after his father, Ernest James McCall, in 1927 purchased the Grand Haven Tribune with a partner, Felix M. Church. The younger McCall graduated from school in Mt. Pleasant and went to Central Michigan University. He got his journalism degree from Northwestern University. On November 28, 1944 in Crystal Falls, he married Jean Trahair. They had two daughters. They lived at 17735 Oakwood Drive in Spring Lake. The circulation of the Tribune tripled during the McCall family ownership. Almon died in January 1970, in Spring Lake. Jean was born on April 17, 1920 and died in Spring Lake on September 7, 1983.

Ernest James McCall [1873-1950]
Ernest McCall moved to Grand Haven in 1927 after purchasing the Grand Haven Daily Tribune and became its manager and publisher. Ernest was born in Nelson, Ohio on August 30, 1873. On August 4, 1898 he married Luella M. Watson in Breckinridge, Newaygo County. Almon Watson McCall, born in Ithaca on January 29, 1905, was their son. In 1918 Ernest was editor of the Isabella Printing Company in Mt. Pleasant, Isabella County. The family resided in Spring Lake when Ernest owned the Tribune. Ernest died in 1950.
Jonathan Watson “Wattie” McCall [1898-1984]

Born on September 28, 1898 in Ithaca, Gratiot County, Watson McCall served in the Navy during WWI. After the war he attended Albion College before transferring to the University of Michigan, where he graduated in 1923. On December 26, 1924, he married Ada Lafern Nohl in Saginaw. Wattie managed the advertising department at the Mt. Pleasant Times from 1923 to 1928, and then was named Business manager of the Greenville News from 1928 to 1929. In 1927 Felix M. Church and Wattie’s uncle, Ernest J. McCall, purchased the Grand Haven Tribune. The next year Wattie and his cousin, Almon McCall, bought Church’s share and the three became co-publishers. E. J. McCall died in 1950 and Wattie and Almon sold their shares in 1969. Wattie was a director of the Board of Commerce and he belonged to Kiwanis and the Grand Haven Stag Club. He died on August 1, 1984.

Ada lived from October 28, 1898 to June 26, 1980. She was a resident of Grand Haven when she passed away. Wattie and Ada had at least two daughters: Harriet, who was born on February 8, 1929 and died on June 9, 2000; and Barbara, who was born on February 4, 1931 and died on December 31, 1973. The sisters were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1940 the family resided at 507 South Seventh Street. [Tribune obituary, August 1, 1984.]

Thomas McCambridge I [1855-1931]

Thomas McCambridge was born in December 21, 1855 in Ireland [Illinois] and came to Grand Haven as a boy. His first work experience was on board early lumber carriers, and his first command was the Charles A. Street. He served as mate and master on many of the steamers that sailed Lake Michigan, but his longest command was the steamer Pentland, an ore carrier. He was the first captain of the steamer, which was launched from the Johnston Bros. Shipyard in the fall of 1893. Many Grand Haven youths began life afloat under his tutelage. On December 1, 1906 in Grand Haven, he married Matilda “Mamie” Kamhout, the daughter of Marinus and Mary Jane Tourville Kamhout. Mamie was born in Grand Haven on February 11, 1886. The McCambridges lived at 306 South Second Street in Grand Haven. Their children were Joseph S., born in June 1889, and Thomas A., born in September 1899. In 1880 Thomas’s widowed mother, Catherine, was living with the family in Grand Haven. Catherine was born in Ireland about 1827. Thomas’s sister, Catherine, married Joseph W. Kibbler of Grand Haven. He also had a brother, William, born in Illinois in 1864. Thomas and Mary had at least one son, Joseph, who also was a sailor. Thomas died in 1931. Mary was born in July 1866 and came to the United States in 1881.

Charles J. McCarthy [1857-1923]

Charles McCarthy and his wife, Mary A., owned a 35-acre farm in Grand Haven Township. Charles was born in 1857 and died on October 15, 1923. Mary lived from 1857 to 1941. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Charles also worked in a local factory as a molder.

Patrick McCarthy [McCarty] [@1850-1930]

Patrick McCarthy had a 349-acre farm in Sections 33 and 34 of Grand Haven Township, where he and his father Timothy settled in 1864, as well as 49 acres in Section 4 of Olive Township. Some of their land included an Indian burial site along the Lake Michigan shoreline, which became the site of a Boy Scout camp and later part of Kirk Park. Patrick was born in Canada on March 12, 1850 [1844/1830]. He married Bella Gordon, who was born in Scotland about 1870 and immigrated to the United States in 1892. Their one child was named Boyd, who was born in Michigan about 1907. In 1900 Patrick and his father, Timothy McCarthy [McCarty] were living in the same house. Timothy was born in Ireland in January 1812. Bella’s father, Boyd Gordon, was born in Scotland about 1840. He was residing with his daughter and son-in-law in 1930. He died in Grand Haven on May 25 that year and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Paul M. McCaul [1841- ?]

See Paul M. McColl.

William McCausland [? - ?]
In 1847 William McCausland replaced Nehemiah Merritt as lighthouse keeper when the beacon was at the foot of the bluff near 900 Harbor. Nehemiah was the first person to be appointed to the position. William left the post in 1849 when George Torrey took over.

Asa [Asahel, Assa] Robert McCoy [Mcoy] [1862-1943]

A native of Canada, Asa McCoy was born on August 23, 1862 and moved to Grand Haven in 1887. He owned a harness shop on Washington Street in Grand Haven and specialized in manufacturing trunks and valises, but he also advertised rubber stamps, gasoline lamps, and New Home sewing machines. On August 14, 1894, he married Bessie Christmas in Grand Haven. The daughter of Charles and Caroline Searle Christmas of Grand Haven, Bessie was born on March 30, 1874. Asa continued to operate his harness shop as late as 1900. He and Bessie moved to Detroit before 1910. Asa at that time worked in an automobile factory as trimmer. He and Bessie were divorced on March 25, 1911. In 1920 Asa was living in Detroit with his second wife, Jennie, who was born in Canada about 1870 and immigrated to the United States when she was 25. Asa continued to work as a trimmer in an automobile factory. He died in Detroit on February 6, 1943. His wife at the time of his death was Fanny, who lived from 1882 to 1947. Both were buried at Parkview Memorial Cemetery in Livonia.

Zenas Winsor McCay [McKay] [1871-1934]

Born on September 26, 1871 [1869] in Spring Lake [Canada], Winsor McCay was named after Zenas [Zenos] G. Winsor, an early Grand Haven settler who owned a storage, forwarding, and commission business. Winsor’s parents, Robert and Janet [Jeanette] Murray McKay were from Ontario, Canada, and in 1866 settled in Spring Lake, where Robert was employed by Zenas. Winsor eventually dropped the name Zenas and went solely by his middle name, Winsor. He also changed the “k” in his last name to “c.” He was best known for his comic strips, especially “Little Nemo in Slumberland,” which first appeared once a week in the New York Herald in 1905, ran for the next nine years, was syndicated throughout the U.S. and Europe, and then had a short revival between 1924 and 1926. He was considered one of the finest draftsmen who ever worked in comic art. The strip was the first to be honored with an exhibition at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York. He also was a circus poster painter, billboard painter, vaudeville performer, and editorial cartoonist. One of his finest achievements, created in 1913, was “Gertie the Dinosaur,” which was the first animated cartoon to give life to its subject. He took his creation to the vaudeville stage and appeared with W. C. Fields and Houdini.

While living and working in Cincinnati, Ohio, Winsor married Maude Lenore [Leonore] Dufour in Campbell County, Kentucky on August 26, 1891. Maude was born in Ohio about 1873. They had at least two children, both born in Ohio: Robert W., born in June 1896 and Marion E., born in August 1897. Winsor died on July 26, 1934 and was buried at the Cemetery of the Evergreens in Brooklyn, New York.

Robert McCleary I [1900-1981]

Robert McCleary owned the Photo Shop at 115 Washington from about 1918 into the 1930s. He was born in Scotland on March 7, 1900 and died in Zephyr Hills, Florida on July 14, 1981. His wife, Annabelle, was born in Michigan, also about 1900. Their son, Robert II, was born around 1923. In the late 1920s the family resided above their business at 115 Washington and later at 107½ South First Street.

Jay McCluer [McClure] [1832-1908]

Born in Cattaraugus County, New York on February 19, 1832, Jay McCluer came to Grand Haven in 1836 with his parents, lived in Grand Rapids for many years, and returned to Grand Haven in 1872. His father was Orange McClure, a native of Vermont, who died in Marne, Ottawa County, on December 26, 1868 at the age of 80. Jay married Nancy Ludlow Marsh on May 16, 1852, in Cattaraugus County. The daughter of William and Harriet Marsh, she was born in Pennsylvania on February 16, 1833. Nancy died on February 19, 1885 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. On September 17 of the same year, Jay married Genevieve Perkins, who was born in Canandaigua, New York, in March 1831.
On August 22, 1862 Jay enlisted as private in Company H of the 6th Michigan Cavalry as a substitute for Hunter Savidge, but was discharged for disability on April 6 the next year. In return for his service, McCluer received from Savidge a house and five lots of lake front property on Barber Street, two of the lots west of Division and three east of Division. The house originally had been the Savidge home but was moved to 305 Barber. The McCluers lived in it until Jay built a new home for his family at 301 Barber. That home was occupied by one of his descendants, Betty Moore, until her death in the fall of 1997. Jay also owned the former W. H. Bell & Company mill at this site.

Jay and Nancy had four children: Melvin, who was born around 1852 in New York State; Flora A., who was born in New York on April 4, 1856, married George McMaster in 1876, and lived in Spring Lake; Marshall H., born on April 28, 1859; and Mary M., who was born about 1862. Another daughter, also named Flora, died as an infant in 1856 in Spring Lake.

Jay built the steam yacht Maude Lillie, and in 1881 he constructed another one to operate on the Grand River. He and his sons built and operated the Lizzie Walsh, a passenger boat which serviced cottages and resorts on Spring Lake. Jay had a grist mill on the northeast corner of Barber and Division Streets. McCluer and Nancy lived at 301 Barber Street in Spring Lake and owned several other parcels in the Village. Jay died in Spring Lake in 1908.

Marshall Henry McCluer [1859-1928]

Born in Ada on April 28, 1859, Marshall arrived in Spring Lake with his parents, Jay and Nancy McCluer, in 1872. Both a ship captain and an engineer, he was employed for many years by area sawmills and on local boats. For a number of years, he ran the Lizzie Walsh, a small steamer he built, which sailed between Spring Lake, Grand Haven, and Fruitport. The steamer ceased operation when the interurban became popular. In 1891 he built a “horseless carriage.” A 1912 advertisement read, “M. H. McCluer is now to be found at Klaus Katt’s shop Ferrysburg prepared to do all kinds of automobile and gasoline boat repairs and rebuilds.”

Marshall’s first wife was Emma [Anna] Finch, whom he married in Spring Lake on November 12, 1881. Emma was born in Spring Lake in 1865 and died there on March 19, 1887. The next year, on December 3, Marshall married Catherine “Kitty” Mundell [Mundelle] in Spring Lake. She was born on January 18, 1864 in Gault, Canada and lived until February 8, 1936. Marshall and Emma had two daughters. One was Essie, who was born in November 1882 and married Kenneth Perry. The second daughter, Lilly, who was born on December 1, 1884 and married William Pellegrom of Grand Haven. Marshall and Kitty had one daughter, Jessamine, who was born in June 1896 and married William Weavers of Spring Lake. Marshall and Kitty lived at 305 Barber Street. Marshall died on July 1, 1928 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as were Kitty and other family members.

Orange McCluer [McClure] [1836-1919]

Orange McCluer was born on February 25, 1836 in New York. On May 13, 1861 he went to Grand Rapids to enlist as private in Company K of the 3rd Michigan Infantry and Company F of the 5th Michigan Infantry. He was mustered out on July 5, 1865. Orange, who was a wagon maker, died on May 8, 1919 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. His wife, Delia A., was born around 1840 in Vermont. They had a daughter, Lucy, who was born about 1868. The three McCluers were living in Greenville, Montcalm County in 1880.

Paul McColl [McCaul] [1841-?]

Born in Dunbarton, Scotland in 1841, Paul McColl came to Grand Haven in 1867 to work for the Robertson & Company Shipyard. He was a woodworker and ironworker. A single man, he remained in the area until at least 1880, working as a ship’s carpenter.

Frank [Francis] G. McCoe [McCooey, McCarey] [@1830-1895]

Frank McCoe was listed in the 1860 and 1880 Federal Censuses and in an 1873 business directory as a blacksmith residing in Ferrysburg. Later he had a boat-building business in Ferrysburg. His wife, Harriet, was born in New York about 1831. Frank was born in New York around 1830 and died on May 21, 1895.
He and Harriet had at least one child, a daughter Harriet, who on September 4, 1886 married Charles Edgar Price in Ferrysburg. Charles, 40 years old, was from Georgetown, District of Columbia. Jessie was born in Albany, New York about 1847. She previously had been married to a Mr Woodley.

Peter McCourt [@1847-1883]

Born in Scotland about 1847, Peter McCourt came to Grand Haven from Appleton, Wisconsin and worked for the Stearns Manufacturing Company. He was made foreman in 1881. McCourt was the inventor of a noiseless pulley, and he owned a patent on it with George L. Stearns, owner of the company bearing his name. Peter evidently returned to Appleton, where he died on May 14, 1883.

Isaac McCoy [1784-1846]

Reverend Isaac McCoy was credited with establishing the first government mission for the Ottawa Indians on the Grand River in 1826, near the site soon to be known as Grand Rapids and close to trading posts run by Rix Robinson and Louis Campau. Noonday was chief of the Ottawas at the time the mission was started. In December 1822 Isaac had opened the Carey Mission, serving Potawatomis along the St. Joseph River near Niles, and prior to that, in 1820, he started a mission in Fort Wayne. The Treaty of Chicago in 1821 provided the Indians with a section of land on Grand River in the future Grand Rapids and another section on the St. Joseph River for an Indian mission. The treaty also provided government payment of $1,000 per year for 15 years to finance the missions. The school on the St. Joseph, called the Carey Mission, ultimately was located a mile from the St. Joseph River and near the town of Niles. After Rev. McCoy retired, Leonard Slater ran the Grand Rapids Mission. As enrollment in the Carey Mission declined, Isaac came to favor removal of the Potawatomis to Kansas.

Isaac was born in Fayette County, Pennsylvania on June 13, 1784, married Christiana Polls in 1803, and was ordained a Baptist minister in 1810. Christiana lived from November 12, 1787 to August 12, 1850. She died in Kansas City, Missouri. Isaac’s first assignment was with the Miami Indians in Indiana, and for the next 20 years he lived with various tribes. He died in Louisville, Kentucky on June 21, 1846.

John James McCracken [1879-1968]

Born in Northern Ireland on December 31, 1879, John McCracken became a cooper at the Kilbourn Barrel factory in Grand Haven. He also worked forty years for the Grand Trunk Railroad. A John McCracken was listed in the 1908 Directory as an employee of the Dake Engine Company. He and his wife, Anna, resided at 220 Columbus. John passed away around January 2, 1968. Anna was born about 1884 and died on April 23, 1979. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Ruby A. McCracken [1907-1993]

Ruby McCracken worked with Frank “Bernie” Reghel in the F. B. Reghel & Company Real Estate and Insurance office from its inception in 1927 to 1961. Ruby was born on February 24, 1907 and passed away on October 17, 1993 in Grand Haven. She lived at 520 Taylor Street. Elizabeth M. McCracken resided at the same address. Elizabeth lived from December 22, 1908 to January 10, 1992. Both Ruby and Elizabeth graduated from Grand Haven High School.

Frederick Cleveland McCrea [1892-1959]

Born on November 14, 1892 in Hesperia, Oceana/Newaygo County, Fred McCrea attended Muskegon schools and became a reporter for the Muskegon Chronicle. After attending normal school, he coached football at Mount Vernon High School in Ohio. In 1921 William Loutit and Nat Robbins encouraged him to come to Grand Haven as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and three years later Fred started working in real estate. He was instrumental in transforming East Highland Park from sand dunes into a wooded residential area that took 25 years to become a reality. Fred developed the first sub-division on Grand Avenue in the late 1920s. One of the streets in that area was named Gladys, in honor of his wife. Similarly, in the same area, Doris Avenue was named for a daughter, Jane Court for another daughter, and McCrea Court for the entire family. Doris, who was born in 1918, married George H. Schember. Jane married Paul Parks of Grand Haven. It was Fred’s idea to build a movie theater at 28 Washington, but financial difficulties during the Great Depression caused him to sell his interest to the Harry L. Sanford Syndicate of Grand Rapids. In the 1920s Fred’s real estate office was located at 100 Washington. At that time, he and Gladys resided in Spring Lake. By 1932 Fred’s home and office were located at 322 Grand Avenue. He continued in the real estate business up to his death, which occurred following surgery at Grand Haven Municipal Hospital on April 6, 1959. Gladys was born on November 23, 1892 and died in Grand Haven on July 31, 1983. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Harlow Eugene McCune [1854-1907]

Harlow McCune died in Spring Lake on November 6 [26], 1907. He had lived there since 1903, when he bought a fruit farm just after his wife, Jennie Frances Duell, died in Chicago. Harlow, born in Ohio in December 1854, was the son of Jason and Harriet Post McCune. Harlow and Jennie were married in Johnson County, Iowa, on September 22, 1875. Jennie was born December 15, 1856, in Wilmington, Ohio, and died on December 6, 1903. Their daughter, Myrtle May and her husband, Louis Milton Duke, moved to Spring Lake to care for Harlow. Myrtle May was born on May 6, 1878. Louis and Myrtle had four children: Milton Eugene, who was born January 13, 1902 and died February 28, 1970; Vernon Harlow, born in Spring Lake on March 7, 1907; Alyce Pearl, born about 1910; and Walter Aker, who died December 6, 1916.

Charles McDonald I [1907-1980]

Charles McDonald was born on September 15, 1907 and died in Grand Haven on September 20, 1980. He married Ruby Triplett in Jackson, Mississippi in 1941. After the African American couple moved to Grand Haven in 1951, Ruby was employed by Royal Dry Cleaners at 104 Washington Street, and Charles worked as a furnace tender at Grand Haven Brass Foundry. Ruby was a member of St. John’s Episcopal Church. The McDonalds resided at various times at 315 Madison, 406 North Third, and 309 Madison Streets. Their son, Charles II, drowned in the Grand River on July 11, 1957. The youngster, who contracted polio as a child, was born in Jackson, Mississippi on May 27, 1943. Another son, Jon [John] F., born on June 28, 1946, graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1965. Jon became a nationally recognized artist and Professor of Art at Kendall School of Art & Design in Grand Rapids. A daughter, Annie K., graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1963, married William Jacobs, and became provost of Wayne County Community College in Detroit. The McDonalds had a second daughter, Cora Lee, who married a Mr. Rhodes and moved to Grand Rapids. Ruby, who was born in Kosciusko, Mississippi on December 12, 1906, continued to live in the family home on Madison Street after her husband’s death, but she died in Detroit on July 30, 1996 and was interred at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, July 12, 1957.]

He became purchasing agent for the Detroit & Milwaukee Railroad, was one of the founders of the Michigan Car Company in 1863, was the president of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railroad and one of its organizers and had an interest in shipbuilding and lake transportation. James was a member of the Republican State Central Committee in 1876 and became its chairman, a position he held also in 1886 and 1890. For three years he was president of the Detroit Board of Park Commissioners and for four years a member of the Detroit Board of Estimates. In 1889 he was elected to the United States Senate on the Republican ticket and was reelected in 1895 and 1901. He served until his death. James was buried at Elmwood Cemetery in Detroit. [Tribune obituary, August 11, 1902.]

Born in Ireland in August 1845, Neil McMillan came to Grand Haven from Picton, Ontario as an employee of the Grand Trunk Railway. In 1870 he was working as railroad brakeman in Cleveland, Ohio. Ten years later he was dock foreman in Grand Haven, where he resided with his family. His wife, Mary Chambers Johnston, also a native of Ireland, lived from February 1847 to about August 7, 1903 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Three years later, on May 2, Neil married Elizabeth Gridley in Chicago. She was born about 1858 in Massachusetts. Neil served as a member of the Grand Haven School Board and as its president, but in 1907 resigned before the end of his term. About 1900, in partnership with Herman Nyland, he purchased a confectionery from David Wright and added ice cream products. One of the McMillans’ daughters, Mate [Martha], was made proprietor of the new McMillan & Nyland Ice Cream Parlor at 101 Washington Street. Neil and his family resided at 215 Howard as early as 1880 and as late as 1910, when he was working as a freight handler for the railroad. A daughter, Elizabeth J., was born in March 1868 in Massachusetts. Neil was buried at Elmwood Cemetery in Detroit. [Tribune obituaries, August 7 and August 8, 1903.]

Eleanor Griffin McNett [1850-1935] and De Forrest McNett [1826-1916]
Eleanor was born in Grand Haven on September 8, 1850, the daughter of Henry and Rachel Eastman Griffin. She lived in the family home at 301 Franklin Street, which was erected in 1844, and attended the first school in Grand Haven, when Mary A. White was the teacher. She graduated from Elmira College in New York and taught in Grand Rapids and Milwaukee schools, and at a school for Native Americans in Arizona. Eleanor was known as a good speaker and some of her articles were published in magazines.

Eleanor married De Forrest McNett on February 24, 1892 in Grand Haven. The son of Samuel F. and Sally Hutchins McNett and the brother of Dr. Jacob McNett, one of the earliest physicians in Grand Haven, De Forrest was from Sodus Point, New York. His father, Samuel was a native of Massachusetts and served as captain in the war of 1812. De Forrest, first a carpenter and later a boat builder, was born in 1826 and died in 1916. He had been previously married. Eleanor and De Forrest resided in Sodus until at least 1910. They moved to Grand Haven before 1915, the year Eleanor started her two-year term as president of the Grand Haven Woman’s Club. She was a charter member of the Grand Haven Women’s Club, which was founded in 1891.

Eleanor was the first Executive secretary of the Ottawa County Chapter of the American Red Cross. She served in that capacity from 1917 until she suffered a nervous breakdown about 1933 and retired. She was completely blind the last year of her life. Some of her scrapbooks were donated to the archives of Loutit District Library. In her will, she stipulated that her house at 315 Franklin Street and four adjoining lots were to be used for a museum. The legacy room, as specified in the will, was to contain antiques and pictures from the Griffin Family. The building was occupied by the Girl Scouts in 1941 and named the Griffin-McNett House. Eleanor died on December 3, 1935 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. [Tribune obituary, December 3, 1935.]

Jacob Brown McNett [1816-1899]

Born in Jefferson County, New York on February 25 [January 20], 1816, Jacob was the son of Samuel F. and Sally Hutchins McNett. Samuel was a native of Massachusetts and served as captain in the war of 1812. Jacob was the oldest of ten children. He graduated in 1845 from Geneva College, studied medicine with two prominent New York physicians, and began to practice in New York. He arrived at Nortonville on the steamer Pontiac in 1857 and continued on to Grand Haven that December. Jacob came as a replacement for Dr. Stephen Munroe, who, although only 44 years old, wished to retire. Jacob served the area from Muskegon to Port Sheldon and east to Nunica at a time when there were no railroads, no bridges, and poor roads or no roads at all. On January 1, 1863 he enlisted as assistant surgeon in the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters, commanded by Colonel DeLand in the Army of the Potomac. Later Jacob took charge of the Fort Wayne hospital. He resigned from the service on April 9, 1864.

After the war Jacob was appointed surgeon of the Navajo Indian agency in Arizona where he remained nine months. In 1883 Michigan Governor Josiah Begole appointed him Physician of the State Prison at Ionia, where he remained for two years. He served as city physician for several terms and was a pension examiner in the Grand Haven District for about eight years. Jacob retired in 1892. He was a member of the Masons and the Democratic party. He married Louise E. Hunter of Huron, New York in 1846. They had two sons, William and Frank, who moved west, and two other sons who died young.

The McNetts resided at 300 Franklin Street in a house built in 1858. Louise was born on December 7, 1838 and died on July 12, 1870. In August 1894, Jacob married Eva Caroline Swarts in Grand Haven. They had two sons: Jacob, born in 1901, and William, born in 1903. Jacob died in Muskegon on February 10, 1899 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Louise and their two sons. On March 8, 1899 and on October 16, 1916, Eva applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. Born in Michigan about 1871, she passed away in Minnesota on June 15, 1941. [Tribune obituary, February 2, 1899.]

Charles McVicar [@1826- ?]

Born in New York about 1826, Charles McVicar was appointed manager of the Spring Lake House beginning in 1878. In 1874 in Ludington he married Elizabeth Crandall, also from New York, where she was born there 1839. They remained in Spring Lake until at least 1880. Elizabeth died in 1889.

Lewis Stephen Mead [1901-1992]

Born in Homer, Calhoun County on December 11, 1901 to Lewis and Lillian Mead, Stephen graduated from high school in his hometown and from Western Michigan College [WMU] in Kalamazoo. He received his master degree from the University of Michigan in 1938 and did some graduate work at Michigan State University and Northwestern University. He married Delia “Dee” McAllister on June 25, 1924. They had a daughter, Marilyn J., and a son, John Lewis “Jack,” a pilot who was born in 1929 and lost his life on September 5, 1950 during the Korean War. Marilyn was born on April 22, 1925, graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1943, and died in Muskegon on June 15, 1999.
After becoming a teacher of industrial arts for the Grand Haven School system in 1924, Stephen was appointed junior high principal in 1928. He received his pilot’s license in 1946.

In 1953 a new high school was built on Cutler Street in Grand Haven, seventh and eighth grades moved into the old high school on Seventh Street, and ninth grade was added. Stephen continued as principal of the junior high and in 1959 was appointed assistant superintendent of the Grand Haven Schools. He organized the Haven Foundation, was secretary-treasurer of Michigan Elementary principals Association, president of Michigan Secondary School principal Association, the Michigan Education Association for 42 years, the National Education Association, West Michigan Children’s Center, West Michigan Mental Health Clinic, Kiwanis Club, Grand Haven Airport Board, United Methodist Church of the Dunes, where he was a church school teacher and lay leader. Steve retired from the school system in 1966.

Stephen and Dee lived for many years at 427 Grant in Grand Haven. In his youth, Stephen learned how to repair watches and use them as a medium of exchange for other goods. In retirement he was able to renew his fascination with timepieces and began building mantel clocks and grandfather clocks to sell and to be used as gifts for relatives. In 1968 the City of Grand Haven gave him permission to cut up a fallen cherry tree. He used the 700 board feet of lumber for his clocks and other woodworking projects. Stephen died on August 12, 1992 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, where his son Jack also had been buried on June 21, 1951. Dee was born in Michigan on June 20, 1905 and passed away in Holland, Michigan on July 22, 2006. [Tribune obituary, August 21, 1992.]

William H. Mead [1872-1930]

William Mead was born in New York on July 15, 1872 and died on July 31, 1930. He married Dean Van Den Berg in Grand Haven on September 28, 1897. The daughter of Robert G. and Johanna Hoffman Van Den Berg, she was born on September 6, 1874 [1876], passed away on June 29, 1946, and was buried with William at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1900 William and Dean were living in Chicago, but by 1908 he was operating Mead’s Electrical Supply Establishment at 22 Washington Street in space he shared with Lou Northouse. He and Dean resided at 423 Howard Street at that time, but by 1915 they had moved to Waterford, New York, and in 1930 he was superintendent of an electrical contracting business in Wilmington, Delaware. After her husband’s death, Dean moved back to Grand Haven and lived at 526 Slayton. They had a son, Edward F. Mead, who was born about 1899.

Russell David Meengs [1939-2016]

In December 1982 and Lynn and Russ Meengs bought the building and business at 120-122 Washington Street, and in June 1983, renamed it the Office Supply Center. Bill and Carol Williams were the previous owners of the business, which they named Williams Office Supply. In 2001 the Meengs closed the and sold the property to Great Harvest Bread Company. Russ’s slogan was, “We don’t sell broccoli.”

Russ was born in Grand Rapids on June 21, 1939 to John and Ruth Meengs. He and Lynn were married in late 1963. Russ’s first career was in the banking business, both in Grand Rapids and Grand Haven. Russ died of esophageal cancer on July 16, 2015. [Tribune obituary, July 20, 2015.]

Ernest T. Meerman [1913-2002]

A lifetime resident of Coopersville, Ernest Meerman was born on November 1, 1913 on a farm he later owned. He married Nellie Frances Gunneman, also of Coopersville, on June 16, 1936. The couple was deeply involved with the Coopersville Reformed Church [founded in 1854] and its overseas and domestic missions. Ernie, a carpenter and contractor, built three houses on the family’s 220-acre farm. Living in one of them was their son Stephen, who married Sue Hovingh. Stephen lived from June 9, 1950 to July 21, 2007. Nellie was a teacher before her marriage to Ernest. The fall’s tall, blue silos, just south of I-96 exit at Eastmanville, continue were landmarks well into the 21st century. Nellie died on May 7, 2000, and Ernie passed away on January 24, 2007. They and their son are buried at Coopersville-Polkton Cemetery.

Albert M. Meerzo [1892-1959]
Albert Meerzo and his wife resided at 609 Washington Street in 1928. Albert owned the Oriental Sweet Shop at the same address. Within a year or two he moved his shop to 12 Washington Street, where he also offered sandwiches, meals, and refreshments. On September 26, 1927 Al married Flora Ballantine in Grand Haven. By 1936 they were living in Muskegon with their son, also named Albert. The elder Albert was born in Arabia in 1892, died in Muskegon on May 28, 1959, and was buried at Mona View Cemetery in Muskegon. Flora was born in Little Rock, Arkansas on August 18, 1905 and died in Dunedin, Florida on October 5, 1994. She, too, was buried at Mona View Cemetery. The younger Albert was born about 1929. Albert and Flora also had a daughter, Faycell [Faisal], who was born on December 4, 1932.

William A. Meier [1915-2005]

William Meier owned and operated Meier’s Floor Coverings at 201-203 Washington. When he opened in the mid-1950s, he expanded the business to occupy the entire main floor. William closed the business in 1968. He was born on May 8, 1915 in Wyandotte, Wayne County, the son of Henry and Johanna Lange Meier. He graduated from Michigan State College [MSU] with a degree in business administration. During WWII he served with the Sixth Cavalry Mechanized Reconnaissance Squadron as headquarters commander with the rank of captain.

William came to Grand Haven in 1946. In 1968 he joined North Ottawa Community Hospital as purchasing agent. He retired from that position in 1982. He was a member of St. John’s Lutheran Church, and served on that organization’s Boy Scout Committee, School Board, Board of Trustees, and Building Committee. He was a member of the American Legion since 1948 and acted as captain of the local National Guard during its reorganization and activation in 1946 to 1947. He was a member of the Chamber of Commerce and served on its Board of Directors from 1961 to 1964. He was appointed to the Ottawa County Selective Service Board in 1966 and chaired it until 1976, the year the Board was de-activated. He also served on the Board of the Ottawa County Red Cross. From 1981 to 1993 he was a Hospice volunteer.

William married Elizabeth “Betty” Vyn, the daughter of Clarence and Barbara Baker Vyn of Grand Haven. William’s and Elizabeth’s children were William Vyn Meier of Carlsbad, California, and Mark “Nick” Meier of Plainwell, Allegan County. Betty and William resided at 1809 Gladys. William died in Plainwell on January 9, 2005. Born on July 4, 1919, Betty was the first child delivered at Elizabeth Hatton Hospital [114 South Fifth Street]. Raised in Detroit, she graduated from Michigan State University. She served as an nurse’s aide with the American Red Cross during WWII. She moved to Grand Haven after the war and became a physical therapist at the North Ottawa Community Hospital, a post she held for 23 years. Betty died on September 1, 2007. [Tribune obituaries, January 11, 2005 and September 14, 2007.]

Joseph Thomas Meilinger I [1861-1940]

Joseph Thomas Meilinger, who was born in Germany on December 21, 1861, married Martina Metz in Chicago on July 21, 1887. Martina lived from 1866 to 1926. Joseph established a chain of highly successful meat outlets [Meilinger Meat Markets] in the Chicago area, and he was part owner of the Tiffin, a movie theater on Chicago’s North Avenue. Like many movie houses of that day, the Tiffin boasted a Wurlitzer organ.

On September 28, 1908 Joseph acquired 18 acres of lakefront property in Section 8, a few miles south of Grand Haven, adjacent to an area known as the Wilderness. Their land was given the name Meilinger’s Gap because of the open, relatively flat sandy dunes that once provided access for nearby fruit growers to load their produce on boats. The Meilingers enjoyed a rustic, red summer house that was built on a flat area east of the dunes, surrounded by raspberry bushes and other growth natural to the woods. The structure fell into decay and had to be razed. Wilderness Trail required an easement over the southeast corner of the Meilinger lot to complete its path from Lakeshore Drive to the cottages. In 1956 three Grand Rapids families by the name of Whittier, Tuthill, and Gillett purchased a portion of the land from Meilinger’s estate. Joseph passed away in Chicago on October 20, 1940.
The Meilingers’ eldest child, John Francis Meilinger, was born in Chicago on February 12, 1899 and married Kathryn Reget. She was born on July 10, 1894. John was a meat cutter and by 1940 owned a butcher shop in Grand Haven on Seventh Street. He and Kathryn resided at 111½ Seventh. Kathryn died in Muskegon in November 1985, and John I passed away, also in Muskegon, on October 20, 1990.

John’s and Kathryn’s first child, John Francis Meilinger II, married Lenore Helen Niemaszyk in Pinal County, Arizona on January 20, 1945. He was with the Army Air Force at the time. Lenore lived from January 19, 1925 to March 5, 2002. She died in Chicago on March 25, 2002. John II became a meat cutter in Muskegon and later manager of Meat Department of Treasure Island Foods in Chicago.

A second son, Herman Joseph Meilinger I, was born in Chicago on December 23, 1924, married Betty Jane Maurer in Grand Haven on July 16, 1947, worked as a machinist at Miller Industries, retired from Cooper Industries, and died on September 13, 2012 in Grand Haven. They resided at 1025 Park Avenue. Their son, Herman J. Meilinger II, graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1966 and opened his own company, H. J. Meilinger Associates, in Grand Rapids. Another son, Christopher, attained the rank of major as a medical officer with the U.S. Army and was stationed at Fort Sam Houston in Texas.

John and Kathryn also had a daughter, Marilyn, who was born on August 16, 1928 and married Ransom Willis Everett II in Grand Haven on August 26, 1950. Ransom, who served with the U.S. Army during WWII, lived from February 12, 1923 to October 8, 2005 and was buried at Holy Cross Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Marilyn died on May 11, 2003 and also was buried at Holy Cross.

Arno “Andrew” Meinel [1885-1971]

Arno “Andrew,” the son of Reinhardt Wilhelm and Karolina Emma Schneidenbach Meinel, was born in Austin, Texas on March 20, 1885. Not long after his birth the family moved to Robinson Township. Andrew on November 10, 1909 married Eliza “Anna” Aimer Thayer of Spring Lake. Anna, the daughter of William and Ella Wills Aimer, was born in Delta, Ontario, Canada on May 28, 1885. She migrated to Spring Lake in 1903 to live with her aunt and uncle, Eliza and Charles Hyde. For awhile she was housekeeper for one of the area’s early physicians, Dr. Cyril Brown. She had divorced her first husband, Lester Thayer, on November 9, 1909.

Andrew and Anna had several children, including Elizabeth Verona, who died a month after her birth on May 3, 1910. Andrew, Anna, and Elizabeth were included in the 1910 Federal Census as residents of Tallmadge Township. The Meinels’ other children were Gerald Andrew, who was born on February 16, 1912 and died in Grand Haven on September 4, 1996; Arnold Floyd, who was born on February 20, 1913, married Clara Snyder, and died February 27, 2001 in Muskegon; Richard Wayne, who was born on June 11, 1915; Alberta Marie, who was born in Ferrysburg on January 25, 1918; Herbert, who was born in Ferrysburg on January 19, 1920; Myrtle Irene., who was born in Crockery Township on December 16, 1923; and Raymond Henry, who was born in Nunica on June 1, 1926 and lived 13 months. Gerald, Arnold, and Richard were born in Honor, Benzie County, where Andrew earned his living as a farmer. After a deep freeze in the spring of 1916, Andrew and his family moved into a house at the corner of Slayton and Albee Streets in Grand Haven. He worked at various places, including the William Ferry Hotel in downtown Grand Haven and the Eagle Ottawa Leather Company.

Just before his ninth birthday, Herbert was killed in an automobile accident on December 22, 1928, while his father was driving. Shortly afterward, Andrew left home permanently, and Anna subsequently divorced him. Andrew and Anna were counted in the household count for the 1930 Federal Census as residents of Crockery Township, two months after Andrew was charged with desertion. After Andrew’s departure, Anna supported her large family by running a boarding house in Nunica for workers at the pickle factory. Unable to pay her real estate taxes that were in arrears, Anna was evicted from the house in Nunica and moved to Grand Haven, where again she operated a boarding house, this one at 101 North Seventh Street. She next lived at 615 North Seventh, again as the matron of a boarding house, even while she worked at a variety of other jobs. She lived in Grand Haven at 533½ Jackson in the mid-1950s and then moved to 504 Elliott.
Andrew and Anna were divorced on April 22, 1944. A few weeks later, on May 6, Andrew married Idalene Dinehart Snow in Hart, Oceana County.

Anna died in Grand Haven on January 27, 1974 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. Andrew passed away, also in Grand Haven, on January 9, 1971. He was buried at a cemetery in Hesperia.

Otto Meinel [1886-1967]

Otto, who was born on May 26, 1886 in Texas, was the son of Reinhardt Wilhelm and Karolina Schneidenbach Meinel, later of Crockery. On March 20, 1913 Otto married Emma Marie Brown, who was born in Michigan and lived from 1884 to 1960. Otto and Emma lived on the family farm at 12763 West Cone Street [Sections 20 and 21 of Crockery Township], but Otto died in Kalamazoo County on October 3, 1967. The Meinels had three daughters: Dorothea, born on January 12, 1914, Aleonore Marie, born on January 3, 1915, and Roslyn Erna, born on April 14, 1925 in Grand Haven.

Reinhardt Wilhelm “William” Meinel [Minel] [1853-1910]

A native of UnterSachsenberg, Sachsen [now Germany], where he was born on August 27, 1853 [1851/1858], Reinhardt Wilhelm Meinel married Karolina Emma Schneidenbach in Sachsen on June 29, 1878. Karolina, often referred to as Emma, was born in Leipzig, Sachsen, on August 25, 1853. Reinhardt generally went by the name of William. The Meinels immigrated to the United States in 1884, going first to Texas, then settling for a few years in Section 33 of Robinson Township, and finally moving to an 80-acre farm in Sections 20 and 21 of Crockery Township.

The Meinels had six children: Emma Ida, who was born in Sachsen on October 4, 1878; Alfred Reinhart, who was born in Sachsen on January 20, 1882, about 1909 married Georgia Anna Miller [1890-1945], and died in Hillsboro, Oregon, on February 11, 1951; Arno Andrew, who was born in Austin, Texas on March 20, 1885 and married Anna Thayer of Spring Lake; Otto, who was born on May 26, 1886 in Texas and married Emma Marie Brown; Libbie [Lizzie], who was born in Robinson Township on February 18, 1889, married Frank R. Merkins about 1916, and died in Tallmadge Township on October 24, 1958; and Wilhelm “William” II, who was born in Robinson Township on February 9, 1891 and died in Grand Haven on March 18, 1958. William II, who served with the military during WWI, was buried at Nunica Cemetery. He married Permelie B. Douck, who was born in September 1892 and died on September 28, 1970. William I died on June 29, 1910. Emma died in Crockery Township on October 9, 1926. She and Reinhardt were buried at Nunica Cemetery.

Emma Ida’s first husband was Adrian Ver Berkmoes of Grand Haven, followed by Howard Bailey, also of Grand Haven.

Ernest Melcher had an 80-acre farm in Section 2 of Grand Haven Township by 1880 and into the 1900s. Ernest, the son of Fred and Augusta Melcher, was born in New York on June 1, 1850 and died in Grand Haven Township on January 25, 1920. He married Augusta [Auguste] Strahsburg [Strassburg], also a native of New York. She lived from 1854 to November 30, 1911. Both were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Their children, all born locally, were Mary, who was born in 1879, on December 28, 1905 in Grand Haven married John Topp II, and died in 1963; Wilhelm [William] Edward, who was born on July 4 [21], 1881; Anna, who was born on September 8, 1885; Emma, born about 1888; Alice, born about 1888; and John Ernest, born on March 11, 1899.

Johann Friedrich “Fred” Melcher [1825-1903]

By 1880 Friedrich and Augusta Bahr Melcher were owners of a 40-acre farm in Section 2 of Grand Haven Township. Fred was born in Prussia [Germany] on May 2, 1825 and came to the United States in 1843. On August 10, 1847 in Tonawanda, New York, he married Augusta Glasenapp. She was born in Prussia about 1825. A son, Ernest J., was born in New York on June 1, 1850. Another son, Martin Friedrich, was born about 1861, also in New York, and Friedrich passed away in Ionia on August 15, 1903. Augusta died in Ottawa County on May 17, 1898.

Martin Friedrich Melcher [1860-1928]
The son of Friedrich and Augusta Glasenapp Melcher, Martin was born in New York State about 1861. He married Louisa A. Lessien [Lissien] in Grand Haven on February 2, 1888. Louisa [Louise] was the daughter of August and Christina Bahre Lessien. In 1900 Martin and Louisa were residing in Ionia with their five children, and Martin was employed as a pattern maker. By 1910 the couple and their children were living in Grand Rapids, where Martin continued to work as a pattern maker. He also worked in Muskegon for the Chicago and West Michigan Railway as a pattern maker but apparently never lived there. Martin died in Grand Rapids in 1928 and was buried at Greenwood Cemetery. Louisa passed away in 1946 and was buried at the same cemetery.

William Melcher owned an auto repair shop at 201 Columbus in the late 1920s and into the 1930s. Prior to that he was working as a machinist at the Panhard Motor Company, located at 1301 Fulton Street. He and his wife, Gertrude, had several children, all born locally, including Angeline, born about 1912; William, born about 1914; Marie, born about November 1916; and Gertrude, who was born around December 1918 and married Russell J. Burghorn of Grand Haven. The son of Ernest and Augusta Strahsburg Melcher, William was born on July 4 [21], 1881, died around March 19, 1951, and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Eight years later they resided at 301 North De Spelder, and by 1930 their home was in Grand Haven Township.

A. M. Mendelsohn [Mendelson] [? - ?]
In 1897 Mendelsohn, was general manager in America for the Plate Glass Company and Atlas Works of Amsterdam, The Netherlands. The company had a warehouse on Water Street [Harbor Drive], near Government Pond, adjacent to American Brass Novelty Company. The warehouse was listed with the name American Mirror and Glass Beveling Company in the 1897 Ogle Atlas. Mendelsohn had offices in Grand Haven and Grand Rapids. Mendelsohn’s wife, Ida, died on July 28, 1904 at the age of 58. There is no evidence that the Mendelsohns ever lived in Grand Haven, and there is scant indication that the Plate Glass Company actually opened here.

Carl Alexander Mercer [1833-1915]
Born in Vienna, Canada on July 5, 1833, Carl Mercer was working as a sailor and ship’s joiner in Grand Rapids in 1874. By 1880 he was living in Grand Haven, still working as a ship’s carpenter. He married Ellen Springstein of Hamilton, Canada in 1856. She was born in Canada in March 1835. They had two sons, including Walter Fitzroy Mercer, who was born on March 31, 1856 in Canada, married Mary J. Danhof, and died in Grand Rapids on May 12, 1925. In 1904 Carl was residing in Traverse City and working as a carpenter. A year later a second son, Angus Ross Mercer [1858-1935], was living with him. A third son, Robert Lincoln Mercer, was born in 1868 and died in infancy. Helen died in Traverse City on April 14, 1908. Carl the father passed away on September 15, 1915 in Coos County, Oregon.

Alexander A. Mergener [1915-1983]
Born on August 14, 1915, Alexander Mergener owned the Tri-County Realty Office, located at 221 North Third Street in Grand Haven. He was a resident of Crockery Township when he died on November 17, 1983. Prior to that he resided at the same address as his business.

Nicholas P. Mergener [1868-1961]
A native of Heidelberg, Germany, where he was born on October 19, 1868, Nicholas Mergener came to America when he was 12. His first job was with the Spring Lake Iron Company in Fruitport. In a ceremony held on April 12, 1899 at the German Church in Grand Haven [St. Paul’s United Church of Christ] he married Mary Louise Klintworth of Crockery, who was born on May 16, 1878. The couple lived out of state for a few years, then returned to the area and settled in Section 2 of Crockery Township. Nicholas delivered milk, and then drove a lumber delivery cart for the Christman Lumber Company for many years. Later he was employed by the Anderson-Bolling Company in Spring Lake, where he retired at age 80. He and his wife lived for several years in the early 1900s in a cottage east of the Spring Lake Hotel, where Nicholas was overseer. She ran a lunchroom and ice cream parlor at 224 West Savidge Street during the summers from 1909 to 1913. In 1912 the couple built a home at 207 Prospect. The Mergeners had a daughter named Adeline, who was born in Illinois about 1901 and married Frederick Koats of Grand Haven. Nicholas died on March 16, 1961, and Mary passed away on July 16, 1965. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

[Nicolaus] Joseph Mergener [1827-1898]
Joseph Mergener farmed and raised stock on his 20 acres in Section 4 of Crockery Township. He and his wife, Mary, and their children came to Ottawa County in 1881. Joseph was born in Prussia on November 10, 1827, died in Spring Lake on March 19, 1898, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Mary was born in Germany in March 1834, died in 1915, and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had a son, Bernard P., who was born in May 1865, died in 1922, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; a daughter, Barbara, born in October 1870; a second son, John, born about 1871; a third son, Mathias, who was born on January 5, 1875, died in 1936, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; and a fourth son, Nicholas, who was born in 1876, died six years later, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The children were born in Germany. [Note: Ottawa County Death Records list Joseph as N. Mergener].

Thomas Merrill [1824-1886]
Thomas Merrill was born in Vermont in 1824. His parents moved to Washtenaw County in 1835, and Thomas relocated to Grand Rapids when he was 20. By 1849 he was foreman of William Ferry’s sawmill in Ferrysburg, a position he held for ten years. In November 1859 he became proprietor of the Ferrysburg Hotel, replacing a Mr. Hill. In 1865 Thomas took over the mail, express, and stage route between Ferrysburg and Muskegon. The first improved road between Muskegon and Ferrysburg was cleared in 1858 but wasn’t used extensively until 1860. The stage line consisted of 60 horses and five to ten three-seated, spring-cushioned, open wagons called buckboards that could carry up to five passengers and a driver. When the railroad line covering the same route was completed in 1880, the stage line ceased operation.

In 1846 Thomas married Jane Teeple, sister of Aletta Teeple, the second wife of Henry Pennoyer. The daughter of Peter and Sarah Losey Teeple, who had moved from Plymouth to Cascade Township in Kent County in late 1836, Jane was born on January 30, 1826. Thomas and Jane first settled in Grand Haven, but by 1859 had moved to Ferrysburg. In 1870 they were still in Ferrysburg, where Thomas now operated a livery stable and the stagecoach line and William Flanders managed the Ferrysburg Hotel. William was married to Harriet “Hattie” Merrill, Thomas’s and Jane’s daughter. By 1880 William was working for his father-in-law at the Muskegon livery; he and Hattie were living in Muskegon. John Pennoyer took over management of the hotel in Ferrysburg.

Jane died in Ferrysburg on August 8, 1872. In the 1880 Federal Census, Thomas’s age was given as 45 rather than 56. He had married Esther Emily Waldron, who was born in New York about 1840. Thomas continued as owner of a livery stable in Muskegon at that time. Both Jane and Esther had had children with Thomas. He died in Muskegon on December 29, 1886 and was buried at Evergreen Cemetery. Esther assumed management of the livery. She passed away in 1924 and also was buried at Evergreen.

Mason Russell Merritt [1830-1908]
Born in Monroe County, New York, on May 7, 1830, Mason moved to Girard, Branch County, with his parents, David and Epha [Eva] Cast Merritt. Mason then settled in Olive Township in 1864, where he was a farmer and a blacksmith. On August 7, 1862 he enlisted as private in Company H, 19th Michigan Infantry. He was wounded at the Battle of Fort Donaldson and Spring Hill, and, after he was taken prisoner at Brentwood, Tennessee, he was sent to Libby Prison in Richmond, Virginia. Although his wounds and status as prisoner were not verified in his service records, Mason was discharged for disability on June 22, 1863. In Olive Township, Wood served as justice of the peace, constable, and deputy sheriff. On April 5, 1854 he married Elizabeth H. Harvey, who was born in New York on October 20, 1835. They had three sons and three daughters. The Merritts bought a 40-acre farm in Section 12 of Olive Township on December 3, 1878. Mason was a member of the A. C. Van Raalte Post of the G.A.R. in Holland. He died on December 28, 1908 and was buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery in Holland. On January 13, 1909 Elizabeth applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. Forty years earlier Mason had applied for a disability pension. Elizabeth died in 1914 and also was buried at Pilgrim Home.

Nehemiah Merritt [@1804-1858]

Nehemiah Merritt was the first lighthouse keeper assigned to Grand Haven. He served from 1839 to 1847, when the beacon was at the foot of the bluff [900 Harbor]. He was replaced by William Hauckland as lighthouse keeper. Nehemiah arrived in Grand Haven in June 1836 and appears in the 1840 census for “Ottaway,” Oceana County. He was born about 1804 and died in Oshkosh, Wisconsin on December 11, 1858. His wife’s name was Eliza. [Grand Haven News obituary, December 22, 1858.]

Lloyd, the son of William and Della Martin Merz of Crockery Township, opened Lloyd’s Welding at 901 West Savidge in 1962. He specialized in production welding. On October 29, 1938 he married Viola Mae Watson in Spring Lake. She lived from February 16, 1920 to January 9, 1940 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Carl married Geraldine Pierce in Spring Lake on August 29, 1941. Carl was born on August 8, 1912 and died in Spring Lake on July 23, 1986. Geraldine lived from 1913 to 1976. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Wilfred J. Merz [1915-1985]

Wilfred was born in Crockery Township on October 12, 1915, the son of William and Della Merz, who owned a farm on the banks of the Grand River. Wilfred married Ruth M. Chittenden on August 10, 1937 in Spring Lake. Wilfred retired from his job as equipment operator at AP Parts in 1973. He served on the Spring Lake School Board for nine years ending in 1968, and he served as president of the Ottawa Trailblazers Chapter 45. He also belonged to the Nortonville Gospel Chapel. He and Ruth had three sons: Roger, who lived in Boca Raton, Florida; and Wayne and Bruce, both of whom lived in Grand Haven. Wilfred died in Grand Haven on January 7, 1985 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Ruth lived from September 15, 1918 to January 22, 2005. [Tribune obituary, January 9, 1985.]

William Merz [1882-1952]

William, the son of Johannes and Caroline Henley Merz, was born in Crockery Township on April 1, 1882. On March 21, 1906, in Grand Haven, he married Idella “Della,” the daughter of Hiram and Emma Deremo Martin. Della was born on March 18, 1883 in Spring Lake. She and William owned a 53-acre farm in Sections 30 and 31 of Crockery Township, bordering the north banks of the Grand River. Della passed away on September 21, 1931, and William died in June 1952. They had six children, including Lloyd, who was born on August 8, 1912, and Wilfred, who was born on October 12, 1915.

Merritt C. Messinger [1834-1904]

A native of Vermont, where he was born on September 19, 1834, Merritt Messinger came to Spring Lake in 1855 to work in the sawmills. From 1869 on he was a saw filer, and he was employed by the Monroe, Boyce, & Company Mill in Spring Lake in 1873. His wife, Jennie, was born in Ohio around 1844. Their children, all natives of Michigan, were May M., born about 1861; George, born about 1862; and Hattie, born about 1865. Merritt died on January 31, 1904.

Ormond W. Messinger [1838-1898]

A native of Hartland, Vermont, where he was born on August 18, 1838, Ormond Messinger arrived in Spring Lake in 1854. He worked for a short time in Natchez, Mississippi in 1870, but otherwise spent his adult life in Spring Lake, first working in the sawmills and then, in 1868, working in a drug store as a silent partner with Henry W. Cleveland at 107 South Division Street, later the site of the Bilz home. Eventually Ormond bought out Cleveland’s share, moved the business to a building on Savidge, and took on William Hummer as a partner. In 1875 he sold out to his partner and opened a furniture store at the corner of State and Jackson Streets. Two years later he sold his furniture inventory to Henry Cliff and the building to Stephan Bingham, and at the same time, with the help of a Mr. Jones, he bought out William Hummer and moved the business to 208 West Savidge Street, where he operated a stationery and drug store business. Jones died, leaving Ormond as sole owner and operator of the business.

Ormond married Cynthia F. Reed on April 1, 1862. She died three years later, leaving him with one child. The next year Ormond married Julia R. Reed, Cynthia’s sister. Julia was born in Ohio in April 1847. Ormond had nine children. One of his daughters, Edith, was born in 1865 and married Charles Wilde of Spring Lake; Cynthia was her mother. Julia was the mother of his other children. Ormond served on the Village Council for several terms. He died on July 16, 1898. Following his death, Ormond’s two sons, Garry and Clifford, ran the drug store for a few years before selling to Felix Perl in 1905. Garry was born in January 1875 and Clifford in September 1883.

Garry Mesler [1938-2019]

Born in Saginaw on March 3, 1938, Garry Mesler earned a Master Degree in Industrial Engineering before being commissioned as second lieutenant in the United States Army. After his discharge from the Army in 1969, he taught Industrial Engineering at Central Michigan University for 33 years. He married Jean Fisher in Mt. Pleasant on November 22, 1972. The daughter of Nelson and Anne Fisher Glerum, she was born in Grand Haven on October 9, 1939, graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1957, and worked as a media assistant in the Grand Haven Public Schools. Their children were Kimberly, who married Richard Foote; Kevin; William, John, and Elizabeth, who married Paul Sidaway. Garry and Jean lived at 13333 Ravine Drive in Grand Haven.

After receiving his bachelor degree from Western Michigan College [WMU] in 1935 he earned a master degree from the University of Michigan. He began teaching at Grand Haven Junior High School in 1936. In 1955 he was awarded a Fellowship from the Ford Foundation and from 1955 to 1972 he worked for Representative Gerald R. Ford in Washington, D.C. He served as alderman on the Grand Haven City Council from 1943 to 1946. Frank and his wife, Bertha, resided at 501 South Seventh Street. He died on August 5, 1972 in Grand Rapids and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Bertha lived from November 23, 1912 to December 17, 1998. She passed away while residing in Jenison. Their children were Tom, who moved to Colorado; James, who relocated to Arizona; and Barbara, who married Mr. Hartgerink and moved to Elmhurst, Illinois.

Harold Oden Meyer I [1918-2004]

Harold Meyer was born in North Freedom, Wisconsin on October 5, 1918. His mother died when he was three years old. Harold then lived with his father in Fort Wayne, Indiana for awhile before residing in an orphanage for eight years. He finished high school in Wisconsin while living with relatives. During a visit to Muskegon to visit his father, who worked at the Occidental Hotel, Harold was convinced to remain and found work at the Shaw Box Crane Company, where he was employed for the next two years. He attended Muskegon School of Business, and in 1940 purchased a half interest in General Supply Company, a plumbing, glass, and paint store in Muskegon. On August 14 the same year he married Evelyn Gertrude Grosa, who had graduated from Kalamazoo College in 1937 and taught school in Muskegon. In 1942 Harold bought out his partner and changed the business name to General Plumbing Supply Company. His older son, Harold II, eventually took over that business. Harold resided in Fruitport with his wife, Sherrill. In 1970 Harold and Evelyn invested in the Bil-Mar Supper Club in Grand Haven. He soon took over management of the business, bought out his partner, and purchased the real estate. Their younger son, Howard, bought Bil-Mar in 1979 and continued to operate it into the 21st century. Howard and his wife, Sharron, were residents of Grand Haven, where Howard was mayor from 1990 to 1993. Harold was active in many civic and social organizations in Muskegon and Grand Haven, including the Chambers of Commerce in each community. Evelyn, the daughter of Joseph and Gertrude Grosa, was born in Adams Basin, New York on June 16, 1916. She died on February 17, 2004, and Harold passed away in Grand Haven on August 8, 2004. Henry Middlemist [Middlemast] [1811-1873]
Following the unsuccessful Mackenzie Rebellion in Canada, Henry Middlemist in 1838 came to Grand Haven by way of Buffalo, New York, with his wife, Dorothy Dods and their daughter Agnes. Both of them were born in Berwickshire, Scotland, he on October 22, 1811 and she two years later. Shortly after their arrival, Jabez Barber hired Henry to manage the Barber Boarding House on the northeast corner of Barber and Cutler Streets in Spring Lake, which provided housing and meals for mill workers. In the early 1850s Henry purchased the Washington House at 12 Washington in Grand Haven from Chase Edgerly and Charles Osgood. After he sold the hotel the next year to Clark Albee, Henry bought the Barber Boarding House and renamed it the MiddleMist Hotel. In Grand Haven the Middlemists’ home was on Franklin Street. The Middlemists also raised fruit. Henry continued to run the hotel until at least December 1865, but he died in Detroit on June 5, 1873. Dorothy passed away in Port Huron on November 23, 1910. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Agnes, who was born in 1838, and Sarah, who was born in Spring Lake on July 4, Francis died on July 1, 1909 and was buried at Olive Cemetery. Two weeks later, on July 16, his widow, Emergene Hayward Miles, applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. Emergene was born around 1847 in Michigan. Ira Miles, born on April 15, 1869, was their son. A daughter, Ada, was born in Jackson County on September 7, 1872 and died in Olive Township at the age of five years and nine months. Their other children, all native of Michigan, were Francis A., born in 1872; Lewis W., born in 1874; and Elizabeth J., born in 1877.

Frederick T. Miles I [1877-1975]
Fred Miles was a circuit court judge in Ottawa County. His parents, born between 1844 and 1848, were Michigan natives who settled in the Port Sheldon area. After some family hardships, Fred was able to finish his school at age 21 and receive a teaching certificate. His first class was in Allendale, where he taught in 1898 at a salary of $20 a month. Two years later he began teaching at Smith School, at the corner of Van Buren Street and Butternut Drive, where he had attended school as a youngster. While teaching, Fred studied law and, after passing his bar examination, was able to open his practice in 1905.
On November 26, 1908, Fred married Dena D. Alverson. They had two sons, Frederick II, born on February 7, 1911, and Wendell Alverson, who was born in 1916 and became U.S. district judge for West Michigan. Dena was born on May 24, 1881 and died in Holland on March 25, 1974. Fred was born in Ottawa County on April 8, 1877. He died about December 29, 1975. He and Dena were buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery in Holland.

Frederick T. Miles II [1911-1989]

Frederick Miles II was born in Holland, Michigan, to Fred T. and Dena Alverson Miles on February 7, 1911. He married Marie Ann Robinson on May 20, 1932 in Kalamazoo. She was born in Holly, Oakland County on March 29, 1913 and died on September 7, 1983. She was a teacher in the Grand Haven school system. Frederick came to Grand Haven from Coopersville in 1948 and maintained a private law practice with offices in Saugatuck and Coopersville. The year before he had been named Ottawa County probate court judge, a post he held for 28 years. The Mileses had four sons: Frederick W. of Pentwater; Duane L. of Grand Haven; Wendell J. of Rockford; and Stephen R. of Middletown, California. Frederick also served on the first Y.M.C.A. Board of Directors, organized in 1963. He died in Grand Haven on August 23, 1989 and was buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery in Holland, as was Marie Ann.

Ira J. Miles [1869-1912]

The son of Francis and Emergene Miles, Ira was born in Olive Township on April 5, 1869. He married Georgia Albert Baker, who was born on August 8, 1875 in Indiana. Her parents were Alfred and Rebecca Bowers Baker. The Mileses’ children were Alva Hyacinth, who lived from December 3, 1900 to May 6, 1959; Francis Irwin, who was born on September 10 [August 1], 1910 and died four years later on July 6; and Hazel Rebecca, who was born on May 4, 1912. The family lived on a 20-acre farm in Section 4, not far from Ira’s father’s place. Ira died on May 28, 1912, and his wife passed away on November 13, 1930. Both were buried at West Olive Cemetery with their children.

William Henry Millard [1838-1909]

Born in England in September 1838, W. Henry Millard spent some time in Canada before coming to Spring Lake in 1863. In 1865 he purchased the Perkins building at 215 West Exchange Street and opened a meat market. In 1877 he went into partnership with Evert De Vries and the business continued under the name of DeVries & Company. Henry married Sarah Dennison [Denison], sister of lumberman Thomas D. Dennison, in 1867. She lived from February 1844 to 1919. The couple was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their daughter Millie was born in February 1869 and married John B. Pruim of Spring Lake.

Albert Matthew Miller [1891-1973]

Born in Grand Rapids on December 11, 1891 [1889], the son of John and Catherine Betts Miller, Albert attended public schools in that area and in 1905 established a dairy known as “The Square Deal Milk Company.” After selling his business and moving to Grand Haven, in 1929 he purchased the Grand Haven Sanitary Dairy from Thomas Ryder. The dairy sold milk, ice cream, and cottage cheese, both retail and wholesale. The dairy was located at 420 Fulton Street, north of the Community Center, and later moved to 623 Washington. It also was known as Miller’s Dairy. About 1913 Albert married Agnes Alkema of Grand Haven, who was born in Michigan around 1890. In 1930 Albert and Agnes were living with Agnes’s brother, Norman Alkema, at 406 South Fourth Street. In the 1950s and into the 1970s Albert and his wife lived at 224 [221] Dixie in Spring Lake, where Albert died on August 30, 1973. At that time, Albert’s wife was Ella, who was born on May 2, 1902 and passed away in Spring Lake on August 27, 1981, still residing on Dixie.

Charles Miller [1858-?]

In 1880 Charles Miller was a farmer in Spring Lake Township. Born in Tennessee about 1858 [1856], Charles was the son of Jerry and Kate Miller of Grand Haven. Charles’s wife, Mary A., was born in Michigan about 1861. Charles was classified as Black in the 1880 census and Mary as Mulatto. They were not found in the area after 1880.
Charles Edwin Miller [1908-1996]

In the 1940s Charles Miller managed the Grand Haven Farm Bureau, located where the Bookman later did business [715 Washington], and sold a complete line of grain, seed, and farm equipment. In the mid-1960s he renamed the business Miller’s Mart. It closed a few years later. Charles was born on April 25, 1908 and died in Grand Haven on June 4, 1996. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. He and his wife Ernestine resided at 507 River in Spring Lake in the late 1940s and at 336 De Witt in their later years.

Daniel F. Miller [1843-1902]

The son of Captain Henry “Harry” and Elizabeth Realy Miller, Daniel was born in Eastmanville in November 1843 and became captain of a Great Lakes schooner. He also operated the tow barge Mary Boice. On November 13, 1883, the steam barge H. C. Akeley foundered off the shores of Saugatuck, carrying a load of grain from Chicago. Daniel was mate and his brother David was master of the schooner Driver. With the help of Pat Daley, the brothers were able to save all but six of the crew on the Akeley. For their heroic actions, David received a silver medal for “distinguished service in saving lives,” and Daniel and Daley were given gold medals for the same service. The Akeley carried iron ore for the smelting factories on Spring Lake.

On May 14, 1872 Daniel married Martha “Patty” J. Kirkland, who was born in October 1850 in England. She was the daughter of George F. and Elizabeth Kirkland of Grand Haven. The couple resided on Second Street in Grand Haven in 1880. Daniel was born died in Grand Haven in 1902. George Miller of Grand Haven was another of Daniel’s brothers.

David F. Miller [@1845-1902]

Born in Michigan about 1845, David Miller became 1st assistant when the Grand Haven Volunteer Fire Department was inaugurated in 1863. His wife’s name was Helen, and they resided at 122 Franklin. David died August 27, 1902. His father, John, who lived from 1816 to 1901, and his mother, Laura, who was born in 1822 and died in 1901, were both buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

David G. Miller [1837-1890]

David Miller was born in Detroit on March 1, 1837, the son of Captain Henry “Harry” and Elizabeth Realy Miller. Around 1840 the family moved to Eastmanville and a few years later to Spring Lake. David started sailing with his father in 1850. He had three brothers: Captain Daniel, who operated the tow barge Mary Boice; George, a Grand Haven hardware merchant; and John, who moved to Montague. David spent most of his life in Grand Haven, except for nine years in Oregon. Apparently he also lived in California for awhile. On September 30, 1861, while in Volcano, California, David enlisted in Company D of the Fourth California Cavalry. He married Jennie Apsey of Grand Haven on June 6, 1874. She was born in England about 1850. Their only child died young.

On November 13, 1883, the steam barge H.C. Akeley foundered off the shores of Saugatuck, carrying a load of grain from Chicago. David was master of the schooner Driver and his brother Daniel was mate. With the help of Pat Daley, the brothers were able to save all but six of the crew on the Akeley. For their heroic actions, David received a silver medal for “distinguished service in saving lives,” and Daniel and Pat Daley were given gold medals for the same service. The Akeley carried iron ore for the smelting factories on Spring Lake. David died on September 23, 1890 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Edith M. Miller [1854-1928]

Born in Ontario, Canada on December 22, 1854, Edith Miller was in charge of the public school in Nortonville, about three miles up the Grand River from Spring Lake. In 1882 she had 65 children in her classes. She immigrated to the United States in 1867. In 1870 Edith was residing in Chester Township with her parents, Henry and Mary Miller, along with a brother, Monroe, and a sister, Martha. After becoming blind, Edith continued to participate in local activities and was one of the first in the area to own a radio. On March 29, 1884 she married George Wesley Truax I, who was born in 1853, also in Ontario, and died in Illinois in 1900. By 1900 Edith was living in Harvey, Illinois as a widow. Residing with her was a son, George Wesley II, who was born in Spring Lake on September 5, 1888. Edith was residing with George II and his wife in Harvey, Illinois in 1920. She died there on September 25, 1928 and was buried at Washington Memory Gardens in Homewood, Illinois with her husband.

Elmer L. Miller [1915-1990]
A Grand Haven native, Elmer Miller was born on July 7, 1915. By 1948 he owned Miller’s Friendly Nie Service Station at 1452 Washington. Later he worked as a stringer at Story & Clark. Elmer died in Grand Haven on December 26, 1990. He and his wife, Marie O., resided at 1533 Pennoyer. Marie was deputy treasurer for Ottawa County. She lived from November 30, 1918 to April 30, 2004 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

George W. Miller [1844-1909]
Born in Eastmanville in December 1844 [1845], George was the son of Captain Henry “Harry” and Elizabeth Realy Miller. David Miller, also a captain, was George’s brother. For three years, beginning in 1866, George was a partner with George E. Hubbard, a pioneer Grand Haven hardware merchant. In 1869, George and his brother-in-law, John Stark, opened a hardware store on Washington Street [approximately 200-202]. Among the products he carried were wood-burning stoves, notably the Crown Jewel brand, and ship supplies. George raised celery and was a leader in the Presbyterian Church. In 1891 George formed a partnership with Andrew J. Emlaw and operated the area’s first electric light plant in a building on the southwest corner of Water Street [Harbor Drive] and Clinton. George’s wife, Ellen “Nellie” Morse, was the sister of Sarah Morse, who married John Stark. In the 1908 Directory, George was listed as a farmer and a resident of 520 Franklin Street, where he and Ellen had lived for many years. He died on May 28, 1909. Ellen lived from March 1847 [1848] to 1912 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Henry “Harry” Miller [Muller] I [1811-1876]
Born in 1811 [1806] in Lubeck, Germany [Ireland], Harry Miller was known for selling “Osgood’s Chologogue,” a bottled remedy for the ague. Its contents were not recorded, but it was reported to be effective and worth the $1.50 it cost. From 1818 to 1832 he sailed the ocean. While in Detroit in the mid-1830s he married Elizabeth Realy. By 1837 they were living in Eastmanville. That was the year he and his brother-in-law Daniel Realy obtained through preemption from the federal government 175 acres on the Grand River. Transfer of title actually took place on November 10, 1841. [Realy later sold this acreage and more to Ottawa County for $6,000. The county used the land for a poor farm/infirmary]. The 1893 Conger and Potts Compendium related that William Shirley Hammond and Lucy Houghton were married at the Miller home on July 26, 1840. By 1850 Harry and his wife, Elizabeth, had moved from Eastmanville to Spring Lake. He was employed by Barber & Mason Sawmill as a partner with George E. Hubbard, a pioneer Grand Haven hardware merchant. In 1869, George and his brother, John Stark, opened a hardware store on Washington Street [approximately 200-202]. Among the products he carried were wood-burning stoves, notably the Crown Jewel brand, and ship supplies. George raised celery and was a leader in the Presbyterian Church. In 1891 George formed a partnership with Andrew J. Emlaw and operated the area’s first electric light plant in a building on the southwest corner of Water Street [Harbor Drive] and Clinton. George’s wife, Ellen “Nellie” Morse, was the sister of Sarah Morse, who married John Stark. In the 1908 Directory, George was listed as a farmer and a resident of 520 Franklin Street, where he and Ellen had lived for many years. He died on May 28, 1909. Ellen lived from March 1847 [1848] to 1912 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.
John Miller became a marine engineer. On September 24, 1867 in Grand Rapids, he married Mary “Molly” Isabelle, the daughter of George and Mary Shanessy Dixon of Spring Lake. Molly was born in Illinois [Cleveland, Ohio] about 1848. She and John settled in Montague, Muskegon County, where John worked as an engineer. John, the son of Captain Harry and Elizabeth Miller [Muller] was born locally in 1848. During the Civil War he served with Battery C of the First Michigan Light Artillery from 1861 to June 21, 1865. John and Molly had four daughters, Lulu Frances, who was born on July 10, 1872, became a librarian at Hackley Library in Muskegon, and died in Chicago on September 25, 1945; Daisy, born about 1870, Frances, born about 1876, and Mary, born about 1878. In 1880 the family was residing in Montague. Daisy became teacher in the Muskegon schools. John, who was born in 1845, died in 1905 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Molly died in 1931 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.
John C. Miller II [1914-1998]

John was born in Chicago on January 2, 1914, the son of John and Anna Detloff Miller. Young John married Freida Johnson of Grand Haven on August 16, 1941. They lived at 16685 De Witt Lane in Spring Lake. John owned and operated the Miller-Smith Corp. at 601 West Savidge in Spring Lake, which started in 1946. George Smith was his partner. Miller was a member of the United Methodist Church of the Dunes in Grand Haven, charter member and president of Spring Lake Rotary and first recipient of the Paul Harris award given by that club, member of the Spring Lake County Club, member of the Elks Lodge, president of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, and president and commodore of the Spring Lake Yacht Club. John also was the first male president of the Spring Lake Schools Parent Teacher Association, and he was chairman of Spring Lake’s Centennial observation in 1969. He and his wife had three sons: Jack, David, and Dan.

Robert A. and Ruth Fagan Miller founded R. A. Miller Industries in 1950. Originally located on West Savidge in Spring Lake, the firm moved to 1525 Marion in Grand Haven in 1956 and then, twenty years later, into a new building at 14500 168th Avenue in Grand Haven Township. The daughter of James and Florence Kline Fagan, Ruth was born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania on December 4, 1915. She and Robert were married in Muskegon on November 26, 1936. She was a member of Spring Lake Country Club, Muskegon Century Club, and St. Petersburg Yacht Club in Florida. Ruth died on July 4, 2002.

Robert, the son of Victor and Libbe Piche Miller, was born in Lake Linden, Houghton County, on November 10, 1914. He moved to Muskegon, where he graduated from high school in 1934. After WWII Robert and Ruth moved to Grand Haven, where Robert was employed by the Camfield Manufacturing Company. The Millers were members of St. Patrick’s Catholic Church. Their children were Judie Cook of Vero Beach, Florida; Janet, who married John Rohrs and moved to Norton Shores; Mary, who married James of Dolan of Grand Haven; and Rochelle Engel of Grand Haven. Robert died on January 17, 2005 in Grand Haven. He and Ruth were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, July 6, 2002 and January 18, 2005.]

Thomas “Kahgee” Miller [1844-1864]

Thomas Miller, whose Indian name was Kahgee, enlisted in Company K of the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters in Northport, Leelanau County, on June 13, 1863. He carried the rank of sergeant. Thomas was reported by his unit as a deserter on June 6, 1865, but in fact he had died in his hometown of Omena, Leelanau County, on October 15 the previous year. Before his first battle, the young soldier had become seriously ill with lung disease. He was sent home on convalescent leave. Due to the confusion of war and inadequate communication, neither his hospital in Philadelphia nor his unit knew of his demise. [Czopek.] He was buried at Omena Presbyterian Church Cemetery. An unspecified time, he reportedly visited Grand Rapids to find his parents, who were said to have lived on Grand River.

Edwin Milliman was born in New York State on October 9, 1833. On March 23, 1864 he enlisted as private in the Company E of the 96th New York Infantry. He was discharged on February 18, 1865. He applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension on September 1, 1894. Edwin married Anna Coughlin, who was born on May 11, 1846, also in New York. Anna, applied for a widow’s pension on July 27, 1914. Edwin and Anna and their 11-year old daughter, Sarell [Emma Cyrelle], resided in Van Buren, New York in 1875, but by 1880 the family had moved to Grand Haven. Edwin, who worked as an engineer, died in Grand Haven on July 16, 1914 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Anna died in Grand Rapids on February 16, 1915. In the 1880 Federal Census for Grand Haven, their daughter’s name was listed as Emma. She died in Grand Haven on May 7, 1881 of diphtheria and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Herbert G. Milliman [1864-1937]

Herbert Milliman owned and was president of the Milliman Manufacturing Company, located at the corner of Howard and Water [Harbor] in Grand Haven, in the same building as American Brass Novelty. His company, which started manufacturing in March 1907, produced doors, moldings, and cabinets, and did general millwork. Herbert, the son of Elisha and Mary Ann Barker Milliman, was born in August 1864 on a farm in Sheldon, Illinois. Prior to coming to Grand Haven in the early 1900s, Herbert spent 15 years in business in Chicago. On August 7, 1885 he married Belle E. Miller, who was born in Danville, Illinois in January 1864. They had at least two sons, Herman Elisha, who was born in Columbus, Nebraska on December 8, 1886 and died in Chicago on October 18, 1934, and Raymond P., who was born in Crete, Illinois on February 5, 1893 and died in 1963. All four were living in the family residence at 122 Franklin in 1908 and were still in the area two years later. By 1930 Herbert and Belle had moved to Grand Rapids. Herbert passed away in La Grange, Illinois on December 2, 1937. Belle died on August 30, 1955 in Grand Rapids. [Tribune obituary, November 22, 1963.]

Herman Elisha Milliman [1886-1934]

The son of Herbert and Belle Miller Milliman, originally of Illinois and later of Grand Haven, Herman was born on December 8, 1886 in Columbus, Nebraska, passed away in Chicago on October 18, 1934, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Arie [Ira] Moll [Mull] [1856-1932]

The son of Arie and Adrianna Moll, Arie in 1900 was living in Grand Rapids and working as a “Tea and Coffee Agent.” On August 8, 1878 Arie married Mary De Looff in Grand Haven. She was born in August 1857, died in 1927, and was buried at Fairplains Cemetery in Grand Rapids. They had at least two sons: James Arie, born on January 22, 1888, and William B., born in 1891 in Grand Rapids. William died on February 9, 1947 in Grand Rapids, and James passed away in East Grand Rapids on April 21, 1923. Before Arie and his family moved to Grand Rapids, he and his brother Hubertus owned the Mull Brothers Meat Market at 230 Washington Street. The devastating fire of October 1, 1889 was reported to have started in their store. Arie was born on October 17, 1856 in The Netherlands and died on October 23, 1932.

Bernard [Bernhard] Moll [Mull] [1836-1914]

A carpenter by trade, Bernard Mull was born in The Netherlands on August 20, 1836. He was the son of Arie and Adrianna Mull. Bernard’s wife, Louise, was born on August 17, 1839. When they resided at 502 Madison in the early 1900s, Bernard worked at the “bean factory.” Among their seven children were Bernard, who was born in New York in 1861; John, who was born in New York in 1863 and on January 15, 1890 in Grand Haven married Rosina, the daughter of August and Christine Bahre Lessien of Grand Haven Township; Edward, who was born in New York in 1865; and a daughter Lydia, who was born in Michigan in 1876. Bernard died on November 30, 1914 and Louise passed away on December 12, 1911.

Daniel J. Moll [Moll] [1843-1885]

Daniel Moll died on June 29, 1885 following an accident at John Spoon’s sawmill in Fruitport Township. In 1880 he was a bookkeeper at a sawmill, possibly the same one. The son of Arie and Adrianna Moll, Daniel was born in The Netherlands in 1843. His wife Dora was born in New York around 1851. A son Edwin was born about 1871, and a daughter, Olivia, was born around 1874. Daniel’s brother Ira [Arie] in 1870 was working as a clerk in a dry goods store, where Daniel also was employed or possibly owned the business. The Molls resided in Spoonville, Crockery Township.

Edward W. F. Moll [1864-1946]

Edward, the son of Bernard and Eliza Moll, was born in Tonawanda, New York in 1865 and came to Grand Haven when he was three. Both parents were born in Germany. Edward’s first job was packing fishnets. Later he was associated with Joseph Godhardt, a blind Grand Haven junk dealer, in gathering rags and junk in exchange for small household wares. Edward was also employed at the Kilbourn Barrel Factory for 19 years. He then purchased a shoe store at 109 Seventh Street, and became associated with the People’s Mercantile Company, owned by Tony and William Baker. Edward was treasurer of the Mercantile Company. The shoe store was in operation for more than 40 years. Edward’s sons were associated in the business with him. He was instrumental in getting Gustave “Gus” Cohrs to come to Grand Haven as athletic director of Grand Haven High School. Edward was a member of the Board of Education for 35 years and president in 1917. He also served on the City Council and the Local Welfare Board, and he was Trustee of Hatton Hospital. On October 23, 1889 in Grand Haven he married Francina [Fransena] “Sena” Fisher, the daughter of Abraham and Johanna Fisher. The Molls lived at 314 North Fifth Street. Edward died in 1946 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife, who lived from 1865 to about July 26, 1921.

Hubertus Moll [Mull] [1853-1915]

The son of Arie and Adrianna Moll, Hubertus in 1890 owned a meat market in Grand Rapids and three years later he was a confectioner in that city. In 1900 he was still living in Grand Rapids with his wife Lizabeth and working at that time as a “Tea and Coffee Agent.” Lizabeth was born in 1857 and died in 1917. Before Hubertus and his family moved to Grand Rapids, he and his brother Arie owned the Mull Brothers Meat Market at 230 Washington Street. The devastating fire of October 1, 1889 was reported to have started in their store. Hubertus was born in 1853 in The Netherlands, died in 1927, and was buried at Fairplains Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Pieter [Peter] Moll [Mull] [1842-1922]

The son of Arie and Adrianna Moll, Peter in 1900 was living in Grand Rapids with his wife, Mary, and working as a butcher. Mary was born in August 1857 and died in 1927. Peter and Mary had a son, Arie, born in Grand Haven on July 5, 1877. Peter may have been in business with his brothers Arie and Hubertus Mull when they operated the Mull Brothers Meat Market at 230 Washington Street before it was destroyed by the great fire of October 1, 1889. In 1863 he worked as a sawyer in one of the local lumber mills. Peter was born in The Netherlands on March 12, 1842 and died in Grand Haven on February 19, 1922.

Charles Clarence Molson [Moulson] I [1893-1952]

Born in Spring Lake on February 4, 1893, Charles was the son of Ephraim and Adelia Molson of Spring Lake. The African American family moved to Madison Street in Grand Haven in the early years of the twentieth century. Charles conducted services for the Israel Baptist Church from his home. Charles married Ella Leona Patterson in Grand Rapids on December 16, 1909. Leona, as she preferred to be called, was born around 1890 in Michigan. Among their children was Edith Juanita Molson, who was born in Grand Haven on January 3, 1923, married Clarence Gilbert Smith, and died in Grand Rapids on December 30, 1971. Other children were Clarence, born about 1911; Ida, born about 1912; Louise, born about 1914; Leona, born about 1915; Charles II, born about 1917; and Adelbert, born about 1919. The children were all born locally. At various times Charles was a barber, a cook for the Grand Trunk Railway section hands, a truck driver for a local coal yard, and watchman for Nathaniel Robbins. In 1910 he was working as a dock worker and residing at 408 Elliott Street with Leona. Grant and Mary Ann Gardner, another African American family, lived next door at 410 Elliott. Grant Gardner, born in Virginia about 1875, and Mary Ann Gardner, born in Michigan about 1868, were married around 1903. Grant worked at Challenge Machinery. Also in the house was Caroline Taylor, Mary Ann’s mother, who was born in New York about 1835. Caroline was Black and widowed. The Gardners do not appear in subsequent censuses for Ottawa County.

By 1918 Charles and Leona had moved to 415 North Seventh Street. In 1928 Charles was a truck driver for Nat Robbins’s coal business, and he and Leona were still living in the house on North Seventh. They were divorced in Ottawa County on November 30. On May 9, 1929 Charles married Linda Abner of Grand haven. Linda was born in Alabama on December 24, 1895. The couple resided at 415 North Seventh. By the late 1930s Charles and Linda were living in Chicago, where Charles was caretaker for Phi Sigma Delta fraternity and Linda was cook. Charles died in Muskegon on August 21, 1952 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Linda died in Chicago in May 1980.

Ephraim [Ephriam, Ephram] Molson [Molsen, Moulson, Molston] [1832-1923]

As early as 1891 Ephraim Molson operated a barbershop in Spring Lake. His first wife, Victoria, was born in Pennsylvania about 1835. Around 1875 he married Adelia [Delia] E. Conner, who was born in Canada on May 2, 1853, came to the United States in 1854, and was raised in South Haven. Ephraim, who was born in Columbia, Pennsylvania in January 1832, had previously owned barbershops in Chicago and Clyde, Oakland County before opening his shop in Spring Lake. Ephraim’s and Adelia’s children were Emma V., who was born in [Watervliet], Berrien County, on August 7, 1877 and married Richard Thompson in Spring Lake; William B., who was born in Clyde on July 3, 1879 [1877/1878], Fanny, who was born in Grandville in 1881, married Robert Graves of Grand Haven, and later married a Mr. Stevens of Ferrysburg; Harry [Henry] who was born in Richland, Kalamazoo County, in 1886; Nellie, who was born in Grand Haven in 1891 and died on June 1, 1891 at the age of two months and three days; and Charles Clarence, who was born in Spring Lake on February 4, 1893. Richard Thompson, Emma’s husband and the son of Leonard and Mary Bennett Thompson, was born in 1874. Ephraim was one of several local representatives to an Equal Rights convention that met in Grand Rapids on April 10 and 11, 1894. By 1900 he was working as a barber in Hubbard, Ohio and living alone. In 1910 he, Adelia, and their son Harry were living at 621 Monroe Street in Grand Haven. Ephraim continued barbering. Harry died of tuberculosis at his parents’ home on April 28, 1910, one day after the census enumerator had visited them. Ten years later Ephraim was retired, and he and Adelia were still residing at 621 Monroe Street. Adelia continued living there after Ephraim’s death on February 24, 1923. Ephraim’s burial records could not be located. On November 7, 1863 Ephraim enlisted in the 31st U.S. Colored Infantry [also cited as the 31st New York Regiment]. He served with Companies B and E. He had the rank of corporal when he was mustered out. On December 7, 1894 Ephraim filed for a Civil War disability pension, and on June 15, 1923 Adelia filed for a widow’s pension. She married Henry Dickerson in 1933 and died on January 14, 1949. [Tribune obituaries, February 26, 1923 and January 15, 1949.]

was Mary Elizabeth Upton, who was born in Michigan about 1877 and died before 1940. On January 3, 1945 in Detroit Edwin married Vera B. Casson [Hathaway]. Edwin passed away in Spring Lake on November 19, 1972. He was buried at Garfield Park Cemetery in Grand Rapid.

Milford A. Morse [1925-1993]

When Grand Haven Plastics was organized in 1951, Milford Morse was named vice president and general manager. Born on February 9, 1925, he resided with his wife Diane at 522 Grandview in Spring Lake and later at 703 Winter Street. From his home on Winter Street, he operated a business called Glass Fibers, which specialized in building materials. Milford died in Lowell, Kent County, on December 7, 1993 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Thomas William Morse [1879-1947]

Thomas and Elsie Morse owned a bait shop at 315 South Harbor from the 1930s into the 1950s. Among the bait they sold were crickets. They also sold ice cream and other refreshments. Thomas was born in Muskegon on August 7, 1879. Elsie E. Curtiss was born in Lawrence, Van Buren County, on December 18, 1887, died in Grand Haven on May 19, 1974, and was buried at Fruitport Cemetery. They were married in Fruitport on June 30, 1909. In 1930 the couple resided in Muskegon, where Thomas worked with a construction company. He died in Grand Haven on April 9, 1947.

Charles Morton [1853-1912]

In 1898 Captain Charles Morton succeeded Captain Nathaniel Robbins IV as head of the 11th Life Saving District and served until 1911. Born in Ireland on July 12, 1853, Charles died on July 7, 1912 and his wife, Louise, died on December 7, 1944. Louise, born in St. Joseph, Berrien County, on April 6, 1864, had come to Grand Haven in 1889 with her husband. They resided at 536 Clinton for many years. Their children were Mabel, born in February 1887; E. Louise, who was born in July 1889 and married Jay Vyn of Grand Haven; Charles, born in November 1890; and Grover, born in November 1893. The children were all natives of Michigan.

William Irving Mosher [1896-1950]

William Mosher was a long-time Grand Haven photographer. Born on May 31, 1896 in Ionia, in 1917 he was a private stationed with the Army Medical Department at the Disciplinary Barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. At that time, he listed photography as his occupation. Bill opened his first Grand Haven studio in the early 1920s on the second floor of the Vander Zalm Building [208 Washington], then moved to ground-level space at 107 Washington. In 1950 Walter Kirkland “Kirk” Bloeser, who worked for Bill, bought the business and renamed it Kirk’s Camera Supply. Harold Bretschneider, who later opened his own studio, studied under Mosher. On January 24, 1923 in Muskegon, Bill married Florence H. Skow. In 1930 William, Florence, and their daughter, Alice Irene, resided in Muskegon. By 1932 they were living at 524 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven. Later they resided in Spring Lake Township. Florence was born in Michigan about 1895, and Alice was born around 1925. The Mosher also had a son, William, who was born about 1931. William the father died in Grand Haven on September 5, 1950.

Samuel Mountford [Montford] [1837-1911]

Born in Burslem, England on August 23, 1837, Samuel Montford immigrated to the United States in 1848 and settled with his parents in La Grange, Wisconsin. On August 18, 1861 he enlisted as private in the 5th Wisconsin Light Artillery, was wounded at the Battle of Stone’s River [Tennessee], and was mustered out on November 14, 1864. In 1868 he moved to Georgetown Township and became a farmer, and nine years later he relocated to an 80-acre farm in Section 5 of Olive Township. He was elected justice of the peace in 1887 and again in 1891, and in the early 1890s he became postmaster in the town of West Olive, where he had moved in 1891. He also owned a grocery store in West Olive. On April 6, 1858 he married Sarah A. Westbury, who was born in Rochester, New York and passed away in West Olive on September 15, 1872. Two of their three sons moved to Chicago and the third to North Dakota. They were all born in Wisconsin.

On March 22, 1877 Samuel married Eliza Brown Brooks, the widow of Charles C. Brooks. Eliza was born in Michigan on February 21, 1836 and died in Chicago on December 28, 1897. Apparently Samuel married again, this time to Gertrude Roll of Ottawa County. Samuel was a member of the William Thirkettle Post No. 388, G.A.R., in Allendale. He died about June 12, 1911 at the Soldier’s Home in Grand Rapids and was buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery in Holland. [Tribune obituary, December 30, 1897.]

Samuel Curtis Mower [1842-1885]

Samuel Mower was born in Boston, Massachusetts on March 29, 1842. He enlisted as sergeant in Company K of the 4th Wisconsin Cavalry on May 17, 1861 while living in Chilton, Wisconsin. He was promoted to second lieutenant on December 26, 1862, to first lieutenant on March 2, 1864, and to captain on September 24, 1864. He was transferred to Company F about ten months before being mustered out on May 28, 1866.

In Grand Haven Samuel was made captain of Company F, 126th Michigan Infantry, in 1880 and served for four years in that capacity. He married Clara Mae Burton [Benton] in Milwaukee on June 1, 1870. She was born in Illinois in 1850, the daughter of William M. and Charlotte Burton. Samuel died in Milwaukee on April 10, 1885. Clara applied for a Civil War widow’s pension on July 12, 1890. Their sons, both born in Michigan, were Harrison C., born about 1875, and Samuel W., born in August 1876. Clara married George Angel [Angell] of Grand Haven on January 19, 1891. By 1910 she was widowed again and living in Detroit.

Erhard Mueller [Muller] [1877-1957]

Around 1930 Erhard and Lena [Leni, Lina] Muller owned a 40-acre farm in Section 5 of Robinson Township. They called their place Waldheim [Woods Home] and resided on the land in a one-story frame home. Both were natives of Germany, where Erhard was born on May 13, 1877 and Lena on May 25, 1873. They were married in 1899, came to the United States five years later, and became naturalized citizens in 1911. By 1920 they were residing in Chicago, where Erhard worked as custodian in an apartment building. Ten years later they were in Robinson Township. Lena died on June 10, 1954 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Erhard passed away on May 18, 1957 and was buried with Lena.

Teunis William Muilenberg [1864-1941]

From 1898 to 1908 Teunis Muilenberg was pastor at the First Reformed Church in Grand Haven. He married Sena Powell Van Zanten in Grand Rapids on February 6, 1907. Sena, the daughter of John and Kate Vett Powell, was born in 1874 and previously had been married to Charles Van Zanten I, who had died of smallpox on January 20, 1903. One of their children Alice, was born in Grand Haven on May 10, 1899. In 1935 in Holland, she married Henry Veld. The Muilenbergs moved to Holland, where Teunis continued his career as pastor. He was born in Pella, Iowa on June 15, 1864 and passed away in Holland on October 28, 1941. Sena died in Holland on February 18, 1958. [Tribune article, “Focus on People,” May 3, 1999.]

John Muir [1830-1916]

After William Ganoe’s death in 1888, Captain John Muir purchased and piloted the steamer W. H. Barrett, the last boat to ply the river between Grand Haven and Grand Rapids. The Barrett was built by William’s father, Jesse Ganoe & Son of Grand Rapids, and launched in June 1875. The sidewheeler, measuring 37’ long and 24’ wide, was destroyed by fire while docked in her home city in November 1894. It was sparks from the Barrett that started a sawdust fire, leading to the destruction of much of Spring Lake on May 11, 1893. John was born in 1830 and arrived in Grand Rapids with his parents in 1852. He died on December 8, 1916. He married Jean Davidson on September 19, 1853. She was born in Canada in November 1830 and died in 1911. They were residents of Kent County as early as 1860. Both were buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Kent County.

Anne [1834-1883] and Derkje Mulder [1834-1905]
Anne Mulder and his wife, Derkje Dyk, were married in The Netherlands in 1858, where they both were born in 1834. They immigrated to Holland, Michigan in 1867 and arrived in Spring Lake two years later. Their children born in The Netherlands were Kate, who lived from 1858 to 1925; John, born about 1861; George J., born on February 24, 1864; and Allie [Ella], born about 1866. Their locally born children were Cora, who lived from 1867 to 1942; Mary, born about 1871; and Cornelius, born around 1874. Ella, Cora, and Mary apparently did not marry and shared a home on Savidge Street. Kate and Cora were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. After working in the sawmills, Anne, a carpenter, became a merchant in 1875. After his death in 1883 his wife and two sons, John and George, ran the business with their mother as Mrs. Anne Mulder & Sons. Their grocery, dry goods, and feed store was lost in the fire of 1893, but they rebuilt on the same site, at 104 West Savidge. The Mulders were charter members of the First Dutch Reformed Church in Spring Lake. In the 1940s Jacob Braak, who ran a bakery, bought the building, raised the roof, and added apartments upstairs. [Tribune “Years Events for 1899.”]

Anson George Mulder [1899-1964]

The son of Spring Lake natives George and Adriana Mulder, Anson was born on July 30, 1899. Anson and his father operated a grocery store at 108 West Savidge called Mulder Bros. & Sons. In 1930 Anson was unmarried and residing with his parents on Savidge Street. He married Ruth E. Westerhouse in Flint on June 21, 1933. They resided at 311 East Exchange. Anson died in Spring Lake on January 1, 1964.

Cornelius D. Mulder [1874-1939]

Born in Spring Lake on February 22, 1874, Cornelius was the son of Anne and Derkje Dyk Mulder. He had four older sisters, Mary, Ella, Kate, and Cora, and two older brothers, George and John. Educated in Spring Lake Schools, Cornelius graduated from Hope College in 1899 and later from the University of Michigan Medical School. He began his practice in New Era, Oceana County, and returned to Spring Lake where he practiced medicine for the next 36 years. He was the only physician in the village and surrounding area at a time when there were few automobiles. During the terrible influenza epidemic following WWI, he hired a chauffeur so he could nap between calls.

Cornelius was a member of Hatton Hospital [North Ottawa Community Hospital] from its beginning, a member of the Michigan Homeopathic Society, director and original stockholder of the Spring Lake State Bank for eight years, member of the Ottawa County Medical Association, on the staff of Hackley Hospital in Muskegon; Trustee of Hope College and Western Theological Seminary, and member of the Spring Lake School Board for 22 years and at one time its president. He continued to practice even after stricken with a deadly malady. His residence was located at 223 East Savidge, once the home of Dr. Cyril Brown. Cornelius died on June 9, 1939 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. His wife, Harriet, was born in Nottinghamshire, England, on May 16, 1880 and died in Spring Lake on February 16, 1961. They were married on August 8, 1905. Harriet was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Cornelius.

George J. Mulder [1864-1939]

Born in The Netherlands on February 24, 1864, George was the son of Anne and Derkje Dyk Mulder. He had four older sisters, Mary, Ella, Kate, and Cora, and two brothers, Cornelius and John. His family immigrated to the United States in 1867. About 1890 George married Adriana [Jennie] Oggel, who was born in Michigan on August 4, 1865. Their children, all born locally, included Cornelius, born in March 1893; Della, who was born October 8, 1894 and died in June 1981; Adrian, born in November 1896; Anson [Algernon], born on July 30, 1899; Elizabeth Gertrude, who was born on August 17, 1901 and died on January 26, 1934; and Kathryn, who was born June 13, 1904 and married Richard Kruizenga of Spring Lake. George and his brother John ran a business started by their father. After the father’s death in 1883 John and George operated the business as Mrs. Anne Mulder & Sons. Their grocery and feed store was lost in the fire of 1893, but they rebuilt on the same site, at 104 West Savidge. Derkje Mulder died on April 15, 1905 and was buried with her husband at Spring Lake Cemetery. In the 1920s the store name was moved to 108 West Savidge as Mulder Bros. & Sons Hardware. Adrianna passed away on January 2, 1934. George died March 22, 1939 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with his wife and other family members.

John Mulder [1860-1942]

Born in The Netherlands on September 3, 1860 [1861], John was the son of Anne and Derkje Dyk Mulder. He had four older sisters, Mary, Ella, Kate, and Cora, and two brothers, Cornelius and George. John and his brother George ran a business started by their father. After the father’s death in 1883 John and George operated the business as Mrs. Anne Mulder & Sons. Their grocery and feed store was lost in the fire of 1893, but they rebuilt on the same site, at 104 West Savidge. In the 1920s the store name was moved to 108 West Savidge as Mulder Bros. & Sons Hardware. John married Margaret “Maggie” Dobb in Spring Lake on June 30, 1892. They resided on Savidge Street. Margaret was born in Spring Lake on October 25, 1868 and married John around 1892. Their daughter Gertrude was born about 1903 and Esther about 1909. John died on November 18, 1942 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Margaret died on February 6, 1948 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John J. Mulder [1893-1961]

Born in Holland, Michigan on January 3, 1893, John Mulder started clerking in a drugstore at age 17. He received his pharmacist’s license from Ferris Institute [Ferris State University] and came to Grand Haven in 1916 as a partner with Doede J. Du Saar in the Square Drug Store at Seventh and Fulton [635 Fulton]. Doede was from Port Huron. On January 11, 1917 in Zeeland, he married Fanny Tien in Zeeland. Also in 1917 he bought out his partner and purchased the Thieleman Drug Store. After operating both drugstores for ten years, he sold the “Squares” to John Voss. In 1918 he bought the drug store on the southwest corner of Washington and Second [136 Washington] from Jacob Vander Veen and his son, Claude. John, Fannie, and a son lived at 610 Sheldon around 1920. By 1930 the family was residing at 619 Lake Avenue. Their children, all born locally, were John, born about 1928; Marjory M., born about 1921; and Charlotte, born about 1925. John, the father, retired in 1952 after 35 years in the drugstore business, which he sold to Robert Steiner. John was on the Board of Education for 11 years and a charter member of Board of Public Works. In 1921 and 1922 he served as alderman on the Grand Haven City Council. John died in 1961. Fannie was born on October 20, 1893 and died in Grand Haven on December 10, 1992. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Klaas Mulder [Moulder] [1847-1928]

In the early 1900s Klaas Mulder and his family resided on a farm at 540 Colfax Street in Grand Haven. They raised livestock and crops. He had worked as a farmer in Groningen, The Netherlands, where he was born on November 2, 1847, but was classified as Laborer in the 1910 census. His wife, Nellie, also a native of Groningen, was born about 1862. They immigrated to Grand Haven with their eight children aboard the S.S. Rotterdam on September 19, 1901. The children were all born in Groningen: Harm, about 1885; Anje [Anna], about 1888; Helen, about 1899; Grace, about 1890; Alex, about 1895; Albert, about 1891; and George and Jennie. Klaas died in East Grand Rapids on December 26, 1928 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery.

Lambertus Mulder was born in The Netherlands on June 17, 1852. He married Elizabeth Van Woerven, who was born in 1854, also in The Netherlands. The couple immigrated to the United States in 1872 and lived at 612 Columbus in Grand Haven. Lambertus, a tailor by trade, owned a shop at 19-25 North Third, just north of Carnegie Library, where he also offered dry cleaning and pressing. Their children were John G., who was born in The Netherlands around 1872 and joined his father in the tailoring business; Alice [Ella], who was born on January 17, 1874 and married Wilford W. Duke of Grand Haven; Richard, who was born about 1877 and operated and inspected mechanical cranes; and Henry, who was born about 1879 and went into the commercial fishing business. The three younger children were born locally. Lambertus was an elder at the Second Reformed Church. He died in Grand Haven on July 2, 1938, a year after Elizabeth passed away. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Sophia Smith Mulder [1871-1961]

Sophia Smith Mulder, who was born in Bradford, Pennsylvania on March 17, 1871 and died on July 2, 1961, was known as the “lady who stopped the train.” She came to Grand Haven when she was 5 years old and married John G. Mulder in Grand Haven on June 25, 1896. John, the son of Lambertus and Elizabeth Van Woerven, was born in The Netherlands around 1872. He worked with his father in the tailoring and drycleaning business at 19-25 North Third. Sophia and John lived at 622 Columbus in Grand Haven. For 65 years she waved to trainmen from her home at the Columbus Street crossing. On her 80th birthday the train stopped and one of the trainmen jumped out to present Sophia with a large hydrangea plant as a thank you. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. John died on January 2, 1943 and also was buried at Lake Forest. Gerrit John Muller [1877-?]

Gerrit Muller was proprietor of a tobacco store at 113 North Seventh in Grand Haven in the early 1900s, where he also manufactured cigars. On March 1, 1899 he married Jarma “Jennie” B. Kammeraad in Grand Haven. They lived at 1110 [1108] Franklin. Jennie was born about 1877 and Gerrit on June 15, 1877 in one of the Antilles Islands, a possession of The Netherlands.

Hugh P. Mulligan [1877-1964]

Hugh, the son of John and Julia Mulligan, was born in Grand Haven on October 7, 1876. He married Anna Stroub in Grand Haven on September 6, 1904. Anna was born in Michigan in 1877. The Mulligans had a daughter, Virginia, who was born in Michigan November 1, 1905 and died in Florida on February 13, 1976. In the early 1900s the family lived on Pennoyer near Sheldon Road. By the 1930s Hugh and his family resided at 535 Slayton. He was inspector of boilers with the U. S. Steamboat Inspection Office in Grand Haven in 1932, and he served on the Board of Public Works from 1935 to 1957. Hugh, who retired as lieutenant commander in the Coast Guard, died in March 1964 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Anna passed away around August 6, 1958 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

John Mulligan I [1843-1911]

In the 1893 Compendium John Mulligan was listed as a sailor. By the late 1800s he and his wife had settled on a parcel of land east of the dune known as Five Mile Hill, where they lived in a farmhouse. John, an Irish Catholic, was a tugboat owner. He was described as a “very Irish, very tall man with a big nose,” who wore a Prince Edward coat to church on Sundays. He married Julia Court [McCourt]. They had several children, including Annie, who was born in England about 1870; John II, born about 1874; James L., born about 1875; Hugh P., born on October 7, 1876; Mary I., born about 1878; Owen, born in November 1883; Henry J., born in July 1885; Lizzie, born in December 1887; and Julia W., who was born in December 1889 and married Joseph A. De May in Grand Haven on April 22, 1919. All the children except Annie were born in Michigan. Most of them eventually moved from the area. One son, Hugh, remained in Grand Haven. After the death of both Mulligan parents, the house was sold and the two-story portion of it was moved to a lot on the west side of Leggat, the third house from Sherman [417 Leggat]. In 1908 the City of Grand Haven purchased from the Mulligans for $100.65 a piece of land 229’ by 165’, which subsequently became known as Mulligan’s Hollow. A native of Ireland, John was born in June 1843 and died around February 16, 1911.
Julia, also from Ireland, lived from May 1850 to about April 2, 1917. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Chronicle article “Family History Clears Up Mystery,” June 26, 1984.]

Dexter I. Munro [1896-1971]

Dexter and Wilma Munro owned and managed Lakeview Court, offering tourist accommodations at 501 Pine Street in Ferrysburg starting in the mid- to late 1930s. They were still in the business as late as 1954. The Lakeview Motel was still advertising its rooms in 1971. Dexter had been a car salesman in Port Huron before opening the motel. Dexter and Wilma Ter Haar were married in Detroit on June 4, 1947. Wilma taught nursing at Grand Haven High School in 1951. In 1956 she was working as a nurse at Grand Haven Municipal Hospital. Two years later she had the same job but had moved to Fruitport. By 1970 they were retired and living in Pompano Beach, Florida. Dexter was born in Michigan on May 26, 1896. His first wife, Beatrice [Beatrice] May Gardner, died in Port Huron on February 23, 1941 at the age of 42. Dexter passed away at Pompano Beach on September 24, 1971. Wilma was born in Jamestown, Ottawa County, on April 30, 1915 and died in Florida on December 20, 2008. Both were buried at Forest Lawn Memorial Gardens North in Pompano Beach.

Stephen Munroe [Monroe] II [1813-1890]

Stephen Munroe, who was born in Parma, Monroe County, New York on June 28, 1813, moved to Jackson in 1834, went on to Albion in 1840, and then to Grand Haven in 1850. His parents were Stephen [1781-1869] and Susan Hicks Munroe [1783-1823]. Around 1843 Stephen started to study medicine, and within a few years he received a medical degree from Bellevue Hospital Medical School in New York City. By 1850 he had opened an office in Griffin’s Drug Store in Grand Haven [29 Washington]. He later purchased an adjacent house at 21 Washington as his residence and another building at 23 Washington for his office. Michigan Medical History noted: “Dr. Monroe was the pioneer in the practice of medicine in Ottawa County. He traveled up and down the lake shore on foot, on horseback, or in a canoe suffering hunger and fatigue in his long tedious trips. A shrewd energetic man, he has been successful, such as he will be.” Although a busy physician, Stephen also was an entrepreneur and built a sawmill in Mill Point [Spring Lake] at the foot of Jackson Street in 1867. It later was known as the Munroe, Boyce & Company Mill. Between 1849 and 1855 he purchased nearly 200 acres of land in Spring Lake Township. In 1864 he bought from Chief Payquotuch acreage at Battle Point in Crockery Township. Fort Village, an Indian settlement, was located on Battle Point. In 1871 Stephen was named director of the First National Bank of Grand Haven.

Stephen married Orpha Raymond Cobb on December 20, 1855 in Grand Haven. When he retired from the medical profession two years later, he and Orpha moved to Albion, Calhoun County. Stephen wanted to devote more time to his lumbering and other business enterprises. Dr. Jacob McNett arrived in Grand Haven near the end of 1857 to take Stephen’s place. Also, Stephen wanted to be with Orpha, who was an invalid. A native of Stowe, Vermont, she was born on January 2, 1828 [1829], the daughter of Seth and Abigail Cobb. After the death of her mother in 1839, Orpha lived with Nathan and Aurelia Thomas in Stowe. Twins John and James Barnes of Grand Haven were Orpha’s cousins. How Orpha found her way to Grand Haven remains a mystery, although her Barnes cousins may have played a part. She did not seem to be related to the Cobb or Raymond families that lived in the Grand Haven area. She passed away on July 21, 1858. Around 1882 Stephen moved West, died of “Bright’s Disease” in Los Angeles, California on December 28, 1890 and was buried at Riverside Cemetery in Albion, as was Orpha. Stephen Leonard Munroe was his nephew.

Stephen Leonard Munroe [Monroe] [1847-1919]

Stephen was the son of Leonard [1814-1901] and Amarilla Wheeler [1818-1904] Munroe and the nephew of Dr. Stephen Munroe. In 1880 Stephen was a lumberman living in Spring Lake, but he soon moved to Grand Haven. A house located on the corner of Franklin and Third Streets [15 South Third] was built before 1864 by John W. Hopkins. After John’s death on February 1, 1883, Dr. Munroe bought the property. After the doctor moved to California, young Stephen took possession and was living there when the house was partially damaged in the fire of October 1, 1889. He repaired the home and was still living there as late as 1908 In the mid-1920s new owners moved the house to 301 Sherman Street. In 1915, Stephen was renting a room at 134 Washington.

Stephen was one of the founders of the Grand Haven Street Railway Company on April 30, 1895. Other organizers were George W. Jenner, Sherman H. Boyce, Andrew J. Emlaw, and George B. Parks. He and William H. Loutit purchased the Grand Haven Gas Works at 129 Washington sometime after 1885. Stephen owned more than 35 acres on the south side of the Grand River near its mouth. The City of Grand Haven purchased the majority of this property for $1,000 on October 14, 1920, and then on December 20 the city sold the 22 acres to the State of Michigan to be used as a state park. Stephen also had lumbering interests and was associated with Israel Harris. Stephen’s sister, Sarah Cordelia Munroe, was Nelson Howlett’s first wife. Born on February 11, 1847 in New York State, Stephen died of a cerebral hemorrhage in Grand Haven on October 21, 1919. He was buried at Riverside Cemetery in Albion, Calhoun County.

Thomas F. Murphy [? - ?]

Born in Ireland, Thomas Murphy arrived in this country as a young boy. He learned the ship’s carpenter trade, which he entered in 1854. Nelson [Nels] Neels [Niels] [1842-1910]

In the 1893 Compendium, Nelson Niels [Neels] was shown as living on a 40-acre farm in Section 3 of Olive Township, where he settled, according to his obituary, around 1880, although he doesn’t appear in the Federal Census of that year for any location. [A Nelson Neale, born about 1843 in Alabama, was living in Milam, Texas at the time of the 1870 Federal Census; he was living with an African American family and working as a farm laborer.] During the Civil War, he served with Company F of the 2nd Kansas Infantry from 1861 to 1865. [His unit was renamed the 83rd Colored Infantry (New) on December 13, 1864.] Nelson was born in Kentucky [Arkansas/Alabama] about August 1842 [1844, 1846, 1848]. According to the censuses of 1900 and 1910, Nelson remained on his farm in Olive Township, continuing to work as a farmer. An article that appeared in the Tribune the day after Nelson’s death noted that he was sometimes known as Nelson Cooper. Nelson Cooper appeared in the 1880 Federal Census for West Olive as a 34-year old single man who worked as a farmer. In any event, Nelson died at Hackley Hospital in Muskegon on August 24, 1910. His obituary stated his only relative was a sister who lived in New Orleans. He was buried in the G.A.R. plot at Lake Forest Cemetery under the name Neels with other Civil War veterans; his gravestone was undated. [Tribune obituaries, August 24, 1910, August 25, 1910, and August 28, 1910.]

Jane Alice Neil [1875-1932]

Born in Grand Haven on October 17, 1875, Jane Alice Neil was the daughter of John and Bridget Neil. She attended local schools and was a member of St. John’s Episcopal Church. She graduated with Grand Haven High School class of 1893 and went on to the University of Michigan, where she graduated with a degree in education in 1896. By 1910 she was a teacher in the Chicago public schools. She joined the faculty of the Jesse Spaulding School for Crippled Children and in Chicago in 1914 was named principal of the school. She ultimately became superintendent of the School District. During her 34 years as Spaulding, she helped further public awareness of the physically handicapped. An article in a 1921 issue of Illinois voter applauded her efforts: “. . . [U]nder the direction of Miss Jane Neil’s sympathetic imagination and energy, [the school] continued to meet the needs of Chicago’s handicapped children.” Jane died on October 29, 1932 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery under the name Neil with other family members. Jane A. Neil Elementary School in Chicago was named in her honor. Another article [The Michigan Alumnus, Vol 39] said, “Miss Neil was an excellent speaker and her eloquence in the interests of under-privileged children has been the means of bringing about valuable legislation in the many states in which she has spoken. She and President Franklin D. Roosevelt became friends through their common interest in infantile paralysis and were given honorary offices in Rotary International. She told Rotarians, “You can accomplish anything if you care not who gets the credit.” More than twenty years after her death, Jane A. Neil Elementary School in Chicago was named in her honor. Spaulding School closed permanently in 2004.

John W. Neil [Neal, O’Neil, O’Neal] I [1835-1910]

Born in Ontario, Canada in 1835, John Neil came to Detroit in 1859 to learn the ship building business. He arrived in Grand Haven in 1867 with a group of Welsh and Scottish shipbuilders. He, Thomas Kirby, and John Callister established Mechanics’ Dry Dock and Shipyard in Grand Haven. Mechanics’ Dry Dock produced many of the great steamers manufactured in local shipyards. John was listed as a ship’s carpenter in the 1892 Business Compendium. During the Civil War, John served with the Navy in the ship building yards. On May 18, 1857 in Berlin [Marne] he married Bridget Alice Walsh [Roche] of Grand Haven. She was born in Ireland in 1841 and immigrated to the United States when she was six. At the time of their marriage, Bridget was listed as 24 years old and John as 25; both gave Walker, Kent County as their home. By the time of the 1900 Federal Census, John was living in Wyoming, Kent County, working as a ship’s carpenter. Bridget was not with him at the time. They had two daughters: Mary, who was born about 1873, and Jane Alice, who was born on October 17, 1875, and two sons, including John W. II, who lived from October 31, 1878 to about November 3, 1934.

John II at the time of 1900 Federal Census was living with the John and Catherine Farnham family in Chicago. The Farnhams had been residents of Grand Haven until 1895, when they moved to Chicago. The younger John Neil was working as a clerk. At the time of the 1910 Federal Census, Bridget, Jane, Mary, and John II were living in Chicago, where Jane was a teacher. John I died on April 26, 1910 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The census, taken a few days before John I died, listed Bridget as married, but her husband was not included in the count. At that time, John II owned a millinery store. Also living with Bridget in 1910 was 23-year old Henry W. Buswell II of Grand Haven. Henry was employed as a foreman for an electric company. Bridget died in Chicago on April 30, 1927 and was buried at Lake Forest with her husband. John II also was buried in the family plot.

Gertrude passed away on January 3, 1996 in Muskegon and Paul, who was born on May 256, 1916, died on August 2, 2005. A third daughter, Dorothy Ruth, was born on September 13, 1918. On April 21, 1937 she married Charles Irvin Blackmer who was born in Nunica on September 21, 1918 and died on October 15, 1965. Dorothy passed away on December 27, 1944 in Grand Haven. Another daughter, Bernice Lillian, who was born on August 12, 1920 in Spring Lake, died on April 9, 2005 in Grand Haven. She married Joseph Michael on September 5, 1936. Joseph, who was born on February 15, 1918, died on March 26, 1987. A fifth daughter, Mildred Angie, was born on November 6, 1922 and married Archie Veryl Green. Their sixth and last daughter, Arlene Mae, was born on May 2, 1927 and married Ralph “Hank” De Young of Grand Haven. A son, Albert Jay, was born on July 27, 1931. All the children except Bernice were born in Grand Haven. Angie passed away in Spring Lake on February 14, 1962.

Albert Jay Neitring II [1931-1998]

The son of Albert and Angie Roossien Neitring I, Albert was born in Grand Haven on July 27, 1931. Albert II operated heavy equipment for the City of Grand Haven, and before that he spent 17 years with Neitring’s Coal Dock. Albert II married Lorraine Lyons on March 10, 1951. Albert II died in Grand Haven on August 18, 1998.

Cornelius Van Raalte Neitring [Neitering, Nieiterink] [1819-1899]

Cornelius Neitring was known for his travels in life and in death. He was born in Drenthe, The Netherlands on August 31, 1819. At age 28 he departed his homeland for the United States and began earning a living as a fisherman on the Fox Islands near Beaver Island. On November 10, 1857 he married Aaltje Westrink Aldering in Holland. [Aaltje’s maiden name was Westrink, so apparently she had been married previously to a Mr. Aldering] Three years later the couple settled in Grand Haven, where they raised their four children: Gerrit, born about 1858; Henry, born about 1861; Albert, born about 1868; and Marie [Mary], who was born in 1882, married Karl Podein of Grand Haven, and died in 1962. After Aaltje’s death at the age of 60 on August 31, 1886 and in failing health himself, Cornelius was unable to live independently. In 1894 he was admitted to the Ottawa County Poor Farm. He died there of diabetes on New Year’s Day in 1899 at age 78 and was interred at the farm. When the weather improved, members of Cornelius’s family had his body exhumed, transported to Grand Haven, and buried in the cemetery on land that now is known as Central Park. Cornelius would not rest for long. Fearing health problems and general discomfort with the proximity of the cemetery to town, the City Council in 1900 ordered friends and family of the deceased to take personal responsibility in removing all loved ones to the new Lake Forest Cemetery. Gerrit, Henry, Albert, and Mary dutifully disinterred their father for yet a third burial. [Tribune article “Focus on People,” August 3, 1998 and anecdote by Marjorie Viveen in Our People Their Stories, 2014.]

Henry Gerrit Neitring I [1863-1900]

Henry Neitring I was treasurer of Grand Haven Township when he died of bronchitis on April 14, 1900. Born in 1863 to Cornelius and Aaltje Aaldering Neitering, he married Henrietta Regelin in Grand Haven on October 3, 1883. She was the daughter of John and Maria Regelin of Grand Haven Township. The Neitrings had eight children, including Albert John, who was born in Grand Haven Township on August 6, 1887, and Henry II, who was born in Grand Haven Township on March 15, 1888. The family farm was located in Section 15 of Grand Haven Township. The barn remained visible at the northeast corner of U.S. 31 and Buchanan into the 21st century. In 1908 Henrietta resided at 526 Lafayette. Later she married Silas Harvey of Grand Haven. Henry was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Henrietta was born “on the sea” on April 4, 1865 and died on January 24, 1949.

Henry Gerrit Neitring [Neitering] II [1889-1951]

Born in Grand Haven Township on March 15, 1889, Henry was the son of Henry and Henrietta Regelin Neitring. About 1925 Henry II established one of the largest coal yards on the east shore of Lake Michigan. Named Neitring’s Coal Dock, it started at 205 Fulton, where he and his family also resided. The yards were moved to City Island [Harbor Island], with the address 1125 North Third. Henry started out making deliveries with a horse and wagon. He also established a coal yard in Holland, which he sold about 1945. Henry was associated with John Kuiper of Ferrysburg as owner of the NK Cartage Company of Muskegon, one of the largest freight companies in West Michigan. In 1945 he turned over the operation of the coal dock to his son Henry III and a son-in-law, Leo J. Ebel, and retired from active management of the Cartage Company. Leo had been managing the Holland office.

On March 25, 1908 Henry married Magdelena “Maggie” Rue [Rugh] of Grand Haven Township. She was born in Michigan in November 1889. The Neitrings resided at 205 Fulton and later at 420 North First Street. Henry and Maggie had several children, including Harriet, born about 1909; Dorothy, who was born about 1911 and married Leo J. Ebel [June 7, 1907-March 1980]; Henry III, born on September 12, 1912; and Dolores, born about 1927. On March 8, 1915, Henry enlisted in Company F of Grand Haven, which merged with Company L of the 126th Infantry during WWI. He held the rank of sergeant. He was wounded in action on July 31, 1918. After the war Henry returned to Grand Haven and started his coal business. He became a member of the Harbor Commission, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Gideons. Henry was one of the founders of Gospel Hall, he aided the Youth for Christ movement, and he gave financial support to numerous church organizations. Henry died of a heart attack on April 4, 1951 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, July 8, 1952.]

Henry H. Neitring [Neitering] III [1912-1978]

Born in Grand Haven on September 12, 1912, to Henry and Maggie Rue Neitring, young Henry attended the local high school and Howell Business School in Muskegon. After graduation he joined his father’s business, and in 1945 he took over its management. Henry was a member of Kiwanis, the Spring Lake Country Club, Eagles, and Elks. In 1964 he entered into a partnership with W. Bruce Matthews, Leo Ebel, and James Bussard to start the Grand Haven Golf Club. Henry married Dorothy Roberts. The Neitrings had a daughter Diana. The family lived at 205 Fulton Street. Henry died on July 1, 1978 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune “Kiwanis Biography,” April 8, 1954.]
Joseph Ahmad Nejem [1885-1970]
Born in Aitha, Syria, on March 2, 1888 [1885], Joe Nejem moved to Grand Haven in 1901. Twenty-four years later, he became a naturalized citizen. Joe owned the J. A. Nejem Candy and Tobacco Store at 12-14 Washington in downtown Grand Haven and operated the Airdome Theater from 1912 to 1915 at the same address. He lived alone a few doors west, above what was at one time Thieleman’s Saloon [6 Washington]. He died in Grand Haven on June 1, 1970. His body was returned to Beirut, Lebanon for burial.

Charles B. Nelson [1928-2012]
Chuck Nelson was born on July 25, 1928 in Grand Haven. He was the son of Carl and Kathryn Martin Nelson. After serving with the Army during the Korean War, Chuck married Marie Leona Potter in Muskegon on April 28, 1962. Chuck on May 30, 1947 started the Pronto Pup business with his uncle, John Montgomery, a Spring Lake doctor. Chuck, then 19 years old and a recent graduate of Grand Haven High School, ran the stand until his uncle left the area a few years later, and he then took over complete ownership and management, opening each summer season thereafter. Chuck had a son, Carl, and two stepchildren: Sindee, who married Joe Maxwell, and James Starnes of Palm Desert, California. Chuck died in Grand Haven on March 11, 2012.

Olaf Nelson [1865-1941]
Olaf Nelson came to Grand Haven with the Story & Clark Piano Company when it moved here from Chicago, and he was Sounding-Board Department foreman when the company was making three to four pianos a day. At the same time Olaf was a fireman. He was elected to City Council in 1925 and served four years as Elder of the Presbyterian Church. Olaf lived from October 1, 1865 to April 4, 1941 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Melvina “Nina,” was born in Sweden about 1870. From the early 1900s to at least 1940 they resided at 500 Lake Avenue.

Sherrill Perrine Nelson [1898-1964]
Born in Oil City, Pennsylvania on January 29, 1898, Sherrill Nelson married Mabel Lundberg in Grand Rapids on July 2, 1923. She lived from December 17, 1898 to May 14, 1952 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Sherrill then married Jane Pellegron on August 28, 1954. Not long after the wedding, the couple opened Sherrill House, a resort hotel, at 1026 South Harbor Drive. Prior to that enterprise, Sherrill had worked as a sanitary engineer in Grand Haven. He and Mabel resided at 526 Lafayette Street. Sherrill died in Grand Haven on October 3, 1964 and was buried at Lake Forest.

Theodore J. Nelson [1854-1933]
Theodore Nelson was a farmer and raised fruit on 20 acres in Section 24 of Spring Lake Township. He settled in the area in 1907. His wife’s name, George Ella, was listed in the 1918 Directory as Geo-ella. Theodore was born in Illinois around 1854, and his wife was born in New Hampshire two years later. She passed away in 1918, and Theodore died in Spring Lake in 1933. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

William R. Nelson [@1840-1865?]
A Grand Haven Tribune article of May 2, 1913 listed 13 Black Civil War veterans who had enlisted for the service while residing in Ottawa County. William R. Nelson was among those cited, although William R. Nelson was listed on page 126 of the 1882 History of Ottawa County as having lost his life in the war at Orangeburg, South Carolina on June 30, 1865. Twenty-three years old when he enlisted in Detroit on November 2, 1863, William’s military records show he was assigned to Company D of the 1st Michigan Colored Infantry [later called 102nd Michigan Colored Infantry] and mustered out in Orangeburg, South Carolina on June 30, 1865.

John N. Nelthorp [Nelthorpe] [1828-1900]
John Nelthorp, born in England on May 9, 1828, settled in Section 14 of Crockery Township in 1879, where he opened a restaurant, poolroom, and confectionery. He also was a mason. John served as private with Company K of the 3rd Michigan Infantry from August 6, 1862 to September 19, 1863, when he was discharged for disability. John died of cancer on March 19, 1900 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. On April 2, 1900 his wife, Jane B., applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. She was born in Scotland in 1823 and died on November 10, 1905. She, too, was buried at Nunica Cemetery. They had four children, all born in Michigan: Ida, Frank, Hattie, and Fred, who was born in March 1869.

Stephen Karl Nemeth [Nameth] [1882-1947]

Stephen Nemeth was born in Pressburg, Hungary [Austria] on September 15, 1882. He operated the Gildner Hotel [2 Washington Street] from 1900 to 1947 but changed the name to the William M. Ferry Hotel in 1934, in honor of the city’s 100th anniversary. On February 14, 1929, Stephen married Selma Bahr Melnotte, who had a daughter, Evelyn Melnotte Carlson, born in Michigan about 1916. Selma, the daughter of Charles and Lena Bahr of Grand Haven, was born in Michigan in February 1892. In 1930 Evelyn was residing in Grand Haven with her uncle and aunt, Fred and Catherine Fink. Stephen passed away in 1947.

Jacob Nemire [1839-1913]

In the 1893 Compendium Jacob Nemire was listed as a dealer in marl [rich soil], but by 1908 he worked in a meat market. Jacob, who was born in The Netherlands in August 1839, had several wives. His first wife, Clara, died in Grand Haven on May 10, 1868, not quite 25 years old. Next he married Sarah Gosling, who died November 30, 1882 at the age of 40. Jacob and Sarah had a daughter, Alice Maud, who was born in Grand Haven on August 23, 1881. Alice became a teacher and married Edward Houston. On December 24, 1883 in Grand Haven, Jacob married for the third time. His bride, Julia A. Morehouse, was born in Grandville, Kent County on November 24, 1835 and died in Grand Haven on August 11, 1885. Margaret [Marguerite], his fourth wife, was born in Kentucky in May 1846 and passed around August 16, 1935. Margaret and Jacob lived at 627 Washington. Jacob died about March 15, 1913 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his four wives and other family members.

Henry Ludwig Nessen [1866-1943]

In 1920, Henry Nessen was a salesman at a general store in Empire, Leelanau County. By the mid-1920s he owned a clothing and shoe store at 1119 Washington Street. He and his wife, Louise, resided at 1407 Columbus with their two children, Marion, who was born about 1907, and Ward, who was born about 1910 in Empire. By 1930 the Nessens had moved to Durham, South Carolina. Henry died in Grand Traverse County on March 21, 1943. He was born in Sweden in 1866 and came to the United States the next year.

Otto Christian Jacob Neuchterlein [Nuechterlein] [1875-1946]

In the mid-1920s, Otto Neuchterlein and his wife, Lena, purchased Khardomah Lodge from the sisters Mary and Susan Yerkes. The Neuchterleins continued to run it as a lodge for visitors. Unfortunately, the depression and falling revenues led to foreclosure of the property, and in 1937 the bank sold it to Jennie Smith and her husband. In 1910 Otto was a “collector” for a Grand Rapids brewery, in 1918 he worked as a watchman at a Grand Rapids bank, in 1921 he was a clerk at a department store. He married Lena Royers [Rogers] in Grand Rapids on June 8, 1921. Born on January 18, 1875 in Frankenmuth, Otto died on January 5, 1946 and was buried at Rosedale Memorial Park in Tallmadge Township. Lena lived from 1877 to 1937 and also was buried at Rosedale.

Gordon D. Neuman [1936-2006]

Gordon Neuman was born on June 29, 1936. He and his wife Susan purchased the real estate at 18 Washington about 2000. They tore down the existing building and constructed a new one to house their Pavilion Wharf and Grill, which opened a few years later. The owners lived in an upstairs apartment. Gordon Neuman died on November 23, 2006, but his wife continued to operate the business and to reside in the upstairs apartment.

Fleda Augusta Nevins [1900-1989]
Born in Kalamazoo on June 19, 1900, Fleda Nevins graduated from Kalamazoo High School in 1919, attended Hillsdale College from 1925 to 1926. After teaching two years of junior high school science courses at Croswell, Sanilac County, Fleda graduated from Western Michigan University in 1927 and moved to Grand Haven to teach general science at Central School for the next 38 years. In 1953 she was appointed director of Educational Measurements, and she developed educational tools for student testing during her final 12 years of teaching. From 1943 to 1945 she was president of the Grand Haven Teacher’s Club, and from 1953 to 1954 she was chairwoman of the Public Relations Committee of the Michigan Department of Classroom Teachers. She earned a master degree from the University of Michigan in 1942.

Fleda retired from the Grand Haven Area Public Schools on June 11, 1965. The next year she wrote an unpublished history of Ottawa County Normal School, which trained teachers between 1906 and 1919. She was active in the Red Cross blood bank, Tuesday Musicale, Grand Haven Woman’s Club, First Presbyterian Church Women’s Circle, Board of Deacons from 1967 to 1970, and chaired the Community Council Committee. Fleda also was a member of Pi Lambda Theta and editor of its newsletter from 1961 to 1968. She was a Girl Scout leader from 1927 to 1934. In addition, she was a member of the Triangle Business and Professional Women’s Club from 1934 to 1941 and served as president for two years. She died in Grand Haven on December 9, 1989. John Henry Newcomb [1811-1892]

John was born on May 29, 1811, in Westford, New York, the son of James Smith and Jane C. Van Vleck Newcomb. James lived from 1773 to 1848, while Jane was born in Bronx, New York, on March 5, 1783, and died in Spring Lake on January 26, 1862. As a young man John moved to western New York, and in 1837 made his way to Muskegon. He sustained a serious injury at a sawmill he had built. He left the area for a short time, and on June 1, 1841 came to Spring Lake, where he built the first mill, this one for Barber & Mason, which he operated for the owners until 1842. He was among the first early settlers to plant fruit trees.

John also was credited with building the first permanent home in Spring Lake in 1841 on the southeast corner of Park and Barber Streets [310-312 North Park Street]. He spent the years 1842 to 1848 selling lumber for Barber & Mason in Chicago, earning a $1.50 a day.

John was married in Chicago on March 16 1848 to Frances Sinclair of that city, and they arrived in Spring Lake not long afterward. Frances was born in New York on September 23, 1824 and died on April 10, 1896. In January 1859 John opened a general store, which he operated until 1868. After that he worked in real estate and insurance. He was collector of Internal Revenue for a time, and also served as a justice of the peace. He was a Spring Lake School Board director in the 1860s. John was a trustee of the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church from June 5, 1861 until his death on March 23, 1892 and was church treasurer during much of that period. The Newcombs had one child, Lydia, born in 1850. Frances was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with other family members, including her husband’s mother, Jane and possibly a sister-in-law, Catherine J., who died on March 24, 1873 at the age of 63. [Tribune obituary, March 23, 1892.]

Lydia Jane Newcomb [Comings] [1849-1946]

The only surviving child of John and Frances Newcomb, Lydia Newcomb was born in Spring Lake on July 25, 1850 and went into the field of education. Following graduation from Lucinda Hinsdale Stone’s Seminary in Kalamazoo, she taught at Ravenswood Public School in Chicago between 1876 and 1885. From 1895 to 1898 Lydia held the rank of Professor at the Moravian Seminary and College for Young Women at Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. She returned to Spring Lake where, in January 1886, she was one of the organizers of the Young Women’s Christian Temperance Union in the Village and lectured on the subject throughout the country. After 1899 she gave talks on physical culture [physical education] and similar subjects, but in 1900 she was teaching in Grand Rapids. Lydia was co-founder of the Organic School of Organic Education in Fairhope, Alabama and president of its Board of Trustees. She was founder and president of the Baldwin County, Alabama, Historical Society.
Lydia was the author of several books, including Muscular Exercises for Health and Grace, 1893; Industrial and Vocational Education, 1915; and, Brief History of Baldwin County, the story of the Utopian community of Fairhope, Alabama, 1928. She was included in Women’s Who’s Who of America, for 1914-15.

On August 27, 1902, Lydia married Samuel Huntington Comings, a widower, who lived from August 4, 1839 to December 24, 1907. It was her first and his third marriage. He was the author of several books, two of them published posthumously, one of which was edited by Lydia. In 1900 Samuel was a blueberry grower in St. Joseph, Berrien County. He was born in Greensboro, Vermont and died in Fairhope. Lydia passed away in 1946.

Orlando W. Newell [1833-1899]

Spring Lake physician Orlando Newell was born in Pennsylvania on May 30, 1833, the son of Jacob and Betsy Newell. Jacob was born in New Hampshire in 1807 and Betsy was from New York, where she was born in 1810. Orlando was living in Henry County, Illinois in 1880, but his medical practice was well established in Spring Lake by the early 1890s. His residence, featured in the 1893 Directory and called “Bay View Home,” was located at 319 East Savidge. His wife Rebecca was born around 1837 in New York. They had a child, Grant, born in Illinois in 1864. They were still living in Illinois in 1870, where Orlando maintained a physician’s office. Orlando died on July 23, 1899.

William H. Newhall [1848-1929]

William Newhall, who was born in Michigan on September 19, 1849, arrived in Spring Lake in 1880 and became saw filer at the Cutler & Savidge Lumber Company. His wife Esther was born in New York about 1851. The Newhalls had a son, Jerome, who was born on April 25, 1878 in Georgetown Township. By 1920 the Newhalls were living in Osceola County. William died in Grand Rapids on December 8, 1929 and was buried at Fairplains Cemetery.

George Washington Newton [1822-1885]

George Newton was a resident of Burr Oak, St. Joseph County when he enlisted as private in Company A of the 15th Michigan Infantry on March 1, 1862. His service records noted that he was “dropped from the rolls” on September 11, 1862. After the war he and his wife, Martha, settled in Section 12 of Robinson Township. Martha was born in New York around 1825. George was born on May 9, 1822 in Pennsylvania and died on March 9, 1885. He was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. Martha applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on August 14 of that year. Their daughter, Mallissa, was born around 1855 in Pennsylvania, and a son, George W. II, was born in Illinois two years later.

Horrace G. Nichols [1850–1932]

In 1881 Horrace Nichols formed a partnership with Guy Weber and bought the Grand Haven Daily Herald from the estate of Willard S. Benham, who had lost his life the previous October when the Alpena sank in Lake Michigan. Nichols and Weber sold out in a few months to Kedzie and Kedzie. Horrace purchased the Grand Haven Tribune in 1891 for $1,500 and was its publisher and editor for many years. During his ownership the Tribune building on Washington Street was constructed in 1902. In 1881 Horrace served as alderman of Grand Haven’s Fourth Ward. Horrace retired in 1915 and sold the newspaper to his son Horace “Harry” G. Nichols II and Kingsbury Scott. For the next three years Horrace and his wife lived on a farm in Donners Grove, Illinois. About 1919 they returned to Grand Haven and resided at 600 Lake Avenue.

On June [July] 6, 1872 in Grand Haven, Horrace married Sophia F. Smith, the daughter of John and Christina Smith, early Grand Haven settlers. They were members of the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven. Horrace and Sophie first lived on the second floor of 120 Washington, above the newspaper’s office. Horrace, who was born in Allegan in October 1850 [1851], died November 23, 1832. His uncle, Henry S. Clubb, published the Ottawa Clarion, which first appeared in 1857. Another uncle, Don C. Henderson, publisher of the Allegan Journal, hired Horrace to work with him. Sophia, who was born in Mecklenburg, Germany, lived from August 23, 1855 [1856] to December 30, 1932. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. A son, also named Horace, was born on September 13, 1873. He altered his father’s first name and spelled it with one “r.” He was referred to as “Harry.” Horrace and Sophie also had a daughter, Maud Myrtle, who was born in October 1875, married Samuel Chambers of Grand Haven, and moved to Seattle, Washington and then to Los Angeles, California.

Horace “Harry” Stevens Nichols [1873-1939]

In 1915 Horace II took over management of the Grand Haven Daily Tribune from his father, Horrace Nichols. Kingsbury Scott was young Horace’s partner. Harry married Julia, the daughter of Adrian and Johanna Bentley Van Tol. Julia lived from 1875 to 1916. Nichols and Scott sold the newspaper to E. J. McCall and Felix Church in February 1927. Harry was born in Michigan on September 13, 1873 and died on March 16, 1939. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members.

John E. Nichols [Nicol] [1828-1904]

On August 24, 1861 in Coldwater, St. Joseph County, John Nichols enlisted as private in Company H of the 11th Michigan Infantry. He was mustered out on August 9, 1862. John was born on April 16, 1828 and died in Robinson Township on March 4, 1904. His wife, Augusta, lived from January 26, 1834 to February 23, 1914. Both were born in New York and both were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. They owned an 80-acre farm in Section 13 of Robinson Township. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Watson B., born in 1854; Marcia, born in 1857; Addie, born in 1862; Iona W., born in 1864; Harry, born in 1867; Ernest, born in 1871; and Ethel, born in 1878.

William W. Nichols [1885-1950]

William Nichols purchased Silas Harvey’s floral business and real estate in the mid-1920s. William was born in Michigan on February 12, 1885. On September 16, 1919 in Grand Haven, he married Dorothy Middage. She was born in the same state around 1891. They had a daughter, Ruth Marie, also a native of Michigan, who was born about 1923. The family resided at 906 Franklin. Before buying the floral shop, William worked at the brass factory in Grand Haven. He died on June 6, 1950.

Jean Niccollet [Nicolet] [1598-1642]

Jean Niccollet, a French explorer, was the first European to set foot on the territory that became the State of Michigan, although Etienne Brûlé may have preceded him by five years. Jean lived from 1598 to 1642.

Nelson Niels [1842-1910]

See Nelson Neels.

Abel J. Nienhuis [1861-1939]

Born in September 1861 in Michigan, Abel Nienhuis owned a 40-acre farm in Section 27 of Olive Township. He also raised livestock. Abel arrived in the area in 1861. He married Janetje “Jennie/Jane” Rooks, who was born in Michigan in September 1865 and passed away in 1959. Their children, all born locally, were Magdalena “Maggie,” who was born on June 26, 1888 and died on July 21, 1957; Albert, born on June 17, 1890; John, born on June 24, 1894; and Reendert, born in December 1897. Eildert K. Nienhuis purchased an 80-acre farm in Section 34 of Olive Township on September 1, 1860 and was enumerated in the census for that year. He married Grace [Rachel] Riksen on April 16, 1878. A son, John lived from 1877 to 1965; another son, Richard, was born in Olive Township on April 9, 1881; and a third son, Barney, on September 4, 1884. Eildert lived from December 17, 1848 to February 13, 1923. He immigrated to the United States in 1855. Grace was born in 1858.

Eildert [Eldert] M. Nienhuis [1849-1921]
In the early 1890s, Eildert M. Nienhuis II, who was born in The Netherlands on December 17, 1849, farmed 60 acres and raised livestock in Sections 28 and 35. He was born in Groningen, The Netherlands, on December 12, 1849. Eildert married Ebertje “Emma” Workman, who was born in The Netherlands in 1853. Among their children, all born in Michigan, were Elly, born in 1875; William, born in 1876; Martines, who lived from 1878 to June 10, 1943; Harm E., born on February 9, 1880; Dora, born in 1882; Harry, born in 1884; Gertie, born on May 26, 1886; and Abel, who was born on March 26, 1892 and passed away in October 1971. The Nienhuises also owned land jointly with Lubber Hop in Section 21 of the Township. Eildert died on March 23, 1921 and was buried at North Holland Cemetery. Emma passed away in 1941.

Frederick Nienhuis [Nienhouse] [1899-1929]

A resident of Ferrysburg, Fred Nienhuis was a crane operator aboard the Andaste when it sank in Lake Michigan on September 9, 1929. His body was found about a week later not far from his birthplace and buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The ship, owned by Construction Aggregates, was on its way from Grand Haven to Chicago with a load of gravel. All 25 aboard were lost. Fred, the son of Louis and Etta Nienhuis, was born on October 13, 1899.

Harm John Nienhuis [1877-1946]

Harm Nienhuis owned two 40-acre parcels, where he farmed and raised livestock in Section 29 of Olive Township. Harm was born in Michigan on June 10, 1877. He married Anna Brat, who was born on April 16, 1881 and died in Holland in June 1968. Harm passed away in Holland on June 26, 1946.

Louis Nienhuis [Nienhouse, Neinhouse] [1854-1934]

Born in The Netherlands in April 1854, Louis Nienhuis became a farmer on 60 acres in Section 4 of Spring Lake Township. He and his wife, Egbertje “Etta,” were residents of the area by 1893. Louis died in 1934. Etta, also a native of The Netherlands, lived from October 1859 to 1942 and was buried with her husband and other family members at Spring Lake Cemetery. Louis immigrated to the United States in 1872 and Etta the next year. Their children, all born locally, were Jenny, born in January 1882; John, born in April 1884; Harry, born in July 1885; Maggie, born in September 1887; Henry, who was born in August 1889, served in WWI as private in 28th Infantry, First Division, and died October 10, 1918, just before the war’s end; Saba Louis, a son, born on March 1892; Anna, born in December 1893; Derk, born in December 1895; Tracey, born in December 1897; and Frederick, who was born in October 1899.

Martnie E. Nienhuis [1820-1890]

Born in The Netherlands on May 29, 1820, Martnie Nienhuis owned a farm in Section 21 of Olive Township. He also raised livestock on his 60 acres. Martnie settled in the area in 1879. He married Attje “Nellie” Pieters Beukema, who was born on March 26, 1819 and died on September 11, 1870. Martine passed away on August 26, 1890 and was buried at North Holland Cemetery with Nellie. In 1880 the Nienhuises son, Abel, was living with his father on the farm. Abel was born in The Netherlands on November 26, 1855 and died in Olive Township on May 22, 1891. Also living in the home was Abel’s wife, Effie, who was born in The Netherlands about 1860. Abel and Effie had a daughter, Ellie, born in Michigan around 1878.

Peter M. Nienhuis [1852-1933]

Peter, the son of Eildert and Ebertje Workman Nienhuis, was born in The Netherlands on November 1, 1852. He owned an 80-acre farm in Section 28 of Olive Township. He also raised livestock and offered butchering services. Peter came to the area in 1856, and he was listed in the 1908 Directory as owner of 100 acres. His wife, Ebertje “Elizabeth,” was born in Michigan in 1852 and died in 1913. Their children were: Martinus, who was born on September 7, 1873; Frances, in 1877; Alli, in 1878; Jennie, born on May 16, 1877; Jan, born on December 24, 1883; Herman, on January 16, 1884; John, born on May 19, 1885; and Abel, who was born on June 27, 1890 and died in January 1969. All the children were born in Olive Township. Peter died on March 20, 1933 and was buried at North Holland Cemetery with Elizabeth.

William Nienhuis owned a farm in Section 21 of Olive Township. He also raised livestock on his 40 acres. William, the son of Eildert and Emma Nienhuis of Olive Township, was born on August 16, 1876. He married Maggie Brouwer, who was born in Michigan on June 13, 1879, passed away on June 5, 1925, and was buried at North Holland Cemetery. William died on September 20, 1948 and was buried at North Holland Cemetery.

Edward G. Nieuwenhuis [1942-2013]

Ed immigrated to the United States with his parents, Evert and Wilhelmina Nieuwenhuis, when he was five. He was born in Appledore, The Netherlands, on August 13, 1942. On October 25, 1963 he married Sandy, the daughter of Jay and Janet Sternberg of Muskegon. Ed died of a heart attack on October 19, 2013, six days before their 50th wedding anniversary.

Ed served with the Navy before starting work with the Meijer, Inc. He worked for the retail company for 30 years before retiring. In 1983 he and Sandy moved from Grand Rapids to Grand Haven, winterizing and improving a cottage they had purchased a few years before at 36 Lovers Lane. They had three children: Michelle Sheneman, Jason, and Luke. The family attended Covenant Life Church in Grand Haven, and Ed played a large part in its development. Ed served as Grand Haven City Councilman for many years, and he was a member of the City Planning Commission. At the time of his death, he also was on the Board of the West Michigan Food Bank. Ed was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Frederick Augustine Nims [1839-1921]

Frederick was born June 15 [18], 1839 in Lenawee County, the son of Dr. Dwight Boyden and Anna Abigail White Nims. Anna lived from 1818 to March 20, 1911 and was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Frederick graduated from Hobart College in Geneva, New York in 1857 and then began to study law in Grand Rapids, where he worked with the firm of Withey & Gray. He was admitted to the Michigan Bar in 1860. Frederick enlisted in Company C of the 5th Michigan Cavalry on August 22, 1862 as private. He was promoted to second lieutenant and was aide-de-camp for General Custer from July 1864 to the following September 30. He was promoted to first lieutenant on March 7. He also served in Companies F and B prior to mustering out on August 22, 1865.

After the war Frederick returned briefly to Grand Rapids, but within a short time he was in Muskegon. Two years later he formed a partnership with Francis Smith, and in 1869 a third attorney added his name to the door and the firm became Smith, Nims, & Erwin [later the name was changed to Smith, Nims, Hoyt, and Erwin]. Frederick specialized in railway law and assisted in the organization of the Michigan Lake Shore Railroad Company and later was named attorney for the Chicago and Michigan Lake Shore Railroad. Frederick was elected to the Muskegon School Board in 1876. Two years later Frederick joined Edward P. Ferry and others to form the “Michigan Bunch” in Utah and entered the silver mining business. On February 20, 1862, in Grand Rapids he married Elizabeth Mary McReynolds, daughter of Colonel Andrew Thomas McReynolds of that city. The colonel lived from 1808 to 1898 and was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. The year following Mary’s death in 1872, Frederick married her sister Ellen. Ellen was born in Michigan in September 1848. Frederick and Ellen had several children: Elizabeth M., born in August 1874; Frederick D., born in March 1877; Frank M., born in April 1879; Charles B., born in July 1881; Lesley W., born in May 1883; David E., born in June 1887; and Louis M., born in July 1889. The family continued to reside in Muskegon. Frederick died on October 2, 1921.

Elden [Edward] Hammond Nixon I [1874-1965]

E. Hammond Nixon was born in Canada on August 16, 1874 while his parents, natives of Ireland, were preparing to enter the United States. The family arrived in Coopersville when Hammond was six. He learned the butcher’s trade while growing up on the family farm. For approximately two years he worked as Motorman for the Grand Rapids Street Railway, and then about 1900 he purchased a meat market in Coopersville. In 1912, Hammond [Elden] bought John Vos’s meat market, which a year earlier had been purchased by Jacob Vander Wagon and Charles Schroeder. Neither of them was a butcher, and they gladly gave up the enterprise. Hammond ran the Spring Lake store at 116 West Savidge, his old store in Coopersville, and another one in Grand Haven. He married Bertha Smith in 1912. The daughter of Christopher and Minnie Smith, Bertha was born in Grand Haven on June 19, 1879 and passed away on June 4, 1967. The Nixons had a son, Elden Hammond II, who was born on July 22, 1901 and took over the business in 1936. Another son, Ellis C, was born in Coopersville on October 20, 1902, died on November 12, 1977, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Ellis married Anna E. Dykema on September 18, 1924. Hammond I and his family lived at 122 Maple Terrace in Spring Lake. Hammond died on November 3, 1965. Hammond and Bertha were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Elden Hammond Nixon II [1901-1976]

The son of E. Hammond Nixon, Elden II was born in Spring Lake on July 22, 1901. He worked with his father in the retail meat business and took over management of stores in Coopersville, in Spring Lake at 116 West Savidge, and in Grand Haven at 124 Washington, but eventually he concentrated solely on the operation in Spring Lake. On November 18, 1936 he married Elna [Ellen] A. Boyle, a widow, in Muskegon. She was born in Jackson County, Iowa on March 23, 1904, died on July 11, 1979, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Hammond II who lived at 708 East River in Spring Lake, died on April 10, 1976 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John Eliot Noon [1891-1980]

Around 1920 John Noon purchased twenty acres on the north side of Potawatomie Bayou in Section 35 of Grand Haven Township [approximately 15600 Comstock]. In the summer of 1920, he opened Camp Cheboygan for boys and operated it until at least 1937. John was born in Cambridge, Massachusetts on January 27, 1891. His wife, Leila, was a native of Illinois, where she was born around 1891. They were married about 1916. John graduated from the University of Illinois in 1914 and continued his education in physical and coaching at Boston University. He was employed by the St. Louis [Missouri] Board of Education as “Physical Director and Coach at Grover Cleveland High School.” John died in Winter Park, Florida on April 23, 1980 and was buried at Central Cemetary in Dunstable, Massachusetts. John’s brother, Raymond Wesley Noon, was born in 1888.

Raymond Wesley Noon [1888-1964]

Raymond, the brother of John Noon, managed Camp Cheboygan on Potawatomie Bayou in Grand Haven Township, starting about 1918 on property his brother had purchased. He also worked as a clergyman and teacher. In September 1921 Raymond leased from Charles and Christine Larson the Log Cabin Inn, also known as Lakeside Resort. Raymond was born in Little Rock, Arkansas on November 23, 1888. He served with the U.S. Navy during WWI. Raymond passed away in Fort Lyon, Colorado on July 17, 1964. He was buried at Fort Lyon National Cemetery.

George Washington Norcross [1816-1910]

George Washington Norcross was born in New Jersey on October 21, 1816. His parents were John and Mittie Wilbur Norcross. By 1876 George and his wife had moved from Walworth County, Wisconsin to settle on a 75-acre farm in Section 34 of north Grand Haven Township, where he raised fruit. He also owned 20 acres in Section 35. On July 4, 1845 he married, Jane [Jael] Taylor, who was born in 1824 in Yorkshire, England and died on November 19, 1896 in Grand Haven. Among their children, all born in Wisconsin, were Ellery G., who was born in 1846 and died on September 13, 1893; George E., who was born about 1847, died around September 15, 1893, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Ruth L., who was born about 1848; Almeda [Media], who was born about 1850 and married Oran Tracy in Ottawa County; Louisa R., who was born in 1851 and married John Lockie of Grand Haven; Silas E., who was born in August 1854; Orrin E., who was born about 1855; John who was born around 1858 and drowned near Grand Haven about June 6, 1874; and Florence, who was born around May 1860 and married George F. Orcutt in Ottawa County. Ellery was married at least twice, once to Mary Morrell and then to Addie C. Conger. George died in Walworth County, Wisconsin on July 14, 1910 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Jane.
Silas Elmore Norcross [1854-1917]

A machinist and woodworker in Grand Haven, Silas was born in Whitewater, Wisconsin in August 1854. He was the son of George and Jane [Jael] Taylor Norcross. George married Ida S, Dunbar on June 1, 1882 in Grand Haven. They lived at 1246 Pennoyer. Their children were Daisy, born in January 1884; Theresa E., who was born in Grand Haven on October 12, 1886, became a nurse, and married William Fant of that city; George Stanley, who was born in June 1889 and worked in the car service department of a Grand Rapids railroad; Laura, who was born in March 1892 and entered nurses’ training; Esther, who was born in February 1894 and became a dental assistant; Isabelle [Bella], who was born in April 1899 and became a stenographer in a railroad office; and Clifford, born in Grand Haven on August 24, 1903. Silas died around October 11, 1917 and Ida, who was born in New York in August 1861, died about January 26, 1933. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Warner Norcross was Silas’s cousin.

Warner A. Norcross [1848-1918]

Born in Wisconsin in April 1848, Warner Norcross moved to the Grand Haven area where he followed his trade of carpentry. On April 22, 1874 in Grand Haven, he married Ella C., the daughter of James and Carolina Knight of Robinson Township. Ella was born in Walworth County, Wisconsin in January 1853. By 1880 the Norcrosses were located on Elliott Street in Grand Haven. Twenty years later their residence was 1241 Pennoyer. A daughter, Carrie K., was born about 1876. Silas Norcross was Warner’s cousin. Warner passed away around July 12, 1918 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ella died around December 4, 1933 and was buried with Warner.

Cornelis [Cornelius] A. Nordhuis [Noordhuis] [1816-1882]

See Cornelius Northouse.

Harold Richard Noren [1919-1997]

Harold Noren and his brothers George and Herbert started Noren Pattern & Manufacturing Company on Apple Drive in Fruitport in 1946. Harold, a Fruitport resident, was born in Chicago on April 15, 1919 and died in Muskegon on April 24, 1997. He was married in Detroit on June 7, 1946 to Kathryn Elaine Dove.

Herbert Woodrow Noren [1916-1996]

Herbert Noren and his brothers Harold and George started Noren Pattern & Manufacturing Company on Apple Drive in Fruitport in 1946. Herbert, a Fruitport resident, was born on September 9, 1916 and died in Fruitport on January 9, 1996. He first married Betsy Ann Hanyan in Spring Lake on October 9, 1939. They were divorced in Muskegon on September 13, 1948. His second wife, Virginia, lived from June 22, 1920 to July 15, 2011. She was buried at Sunrise Memorial Gardens in Muskegon. Harold, who served in the military during WWII, was buried at Fort Custer National Cemetery in Augusta, Kalamazoo County.

In the 1920s Ed and Mae Norris lived in a boarding house at Bass River. Ed worked as dredgeman at the nearby gravel pits. Construction Materials Company in Ferrysburg owned the gravel pits and the boarding house. Mae managed the boarding house and cooked and cleaned for twenty to thirty boarders who also worked at the gravel dig. Mae later took a job as cook at Yellow Jacket on M-45, a place owned by Myrtle Littrell, Ed’s sister. In 1931 the Norrises purchased a farm on M-45. In the same decade they traded the farm for Schmedtgan’s Roadhouse in Section 1 of Grand Haven Township. The Roadhouse, then owned by Molenkamps, was located near Potawatomie Bayou in Grand Haven Township [14990 Mercury Drive]. They changed the name to Potawatomie Tavern. After fire destroyed the tavern in 1937, the Norrises rebuilt and operated the tavern until 1947, when they renamed their business Holiday Inn Restaurant. Mae learned the cooking business at the Bass River boarding house and furthered her culinary skills in the kitchen of Hotel Gildner in Grand Haven, where she worked for nine years. She also had experience at the Fiesta Café [625 Washington] and Charlie’s Lunch [515 North Seventh]. In 1969 the Norrises sold the business to Vernon and Charlotte Austin of Ravenna.
Mae Farley was a native of Springfield, Missouri, where she was born on May 18, 1902. There she met her husband, Edward Norris, and they were married in Springfield on July 12, 1920. They came to the Grand Haven area the next year and took up residency at the boarding house. Mae died in Grand Haven on July 3, 1984. Ed lived from November 18, 1891 [1893] to September 7, 1978. Myrtle Littrell [Bronkhorst] was credited with starting the Yellow Jacket Inn on Lake Michigan Drive [M-45] in the mid-1930s. Ed and Mae had two adopted children, Budd of Kalamazoo and Maureen, who married Fred Leach of Coopersville. Ed served with the Marines during WWI, and he played baseball with a Grand Haven semi-professional team. [Tribune article, “Mr. and Mrs. Norris honored Sunday,” July 10, 1970 and Tribune obituary, July 5, 1984.]

James H. Norris [1830-1900]

Born in Washtenaw County in 1830, John Norris lived in Kent County before moving to Grand Haven in 1869. He worked for the Friant & Hall Sawmill as engineer for seven years. He was also tugboat engineer for several years. On April 6, 1853 he married Carolina A. Friant. Carolina was born in Wayne County, New York, on April 7, 1835, the daughter of Cornelius V. and Hulda Hatch Morrison Friant and the sister of George W. and Thomas Friant, early Ottawa County pioneers. Cornelius and Hulda were married in Wayne County in 1827 and were settled in Kent County by 1837. James and Carolina had one child, Lydia Estelle, who survived childhood. Lydia was born about 1854 in Michigan. James died on October 5, 1900. Carolina died in Grand Rapids on June 5, 1928.

Henrietta S. North [1855-1937]

Henrietta North owned a 40-acre farm in Section 14 of Spring Lake Township, where she raised fruit in addition to small crops. She arrived in the Spring Lake area in 1898 but was gone by the mid-1910s and in 1930 she was residing with her son-in-law and daughter, Marcus A. and Winifred B. Coykendall, in Grand Rapids. Winifred was born about 1883 in Michigan. Her mother, Henrietta, was born in Michigan on September 25, 1855. Her husband, Therman, was born in The Netherlands in April 1852. A farmer, Therman came to the United States in 1872. Henrietta passed away on April 28, 1937 in Grand Rapids.

John Dubois North [@1844-1909]

According to Pioneer Collections, Dr. John North was James and John Barnes’s uncle. He arrived in the area in 1858, when he treated cases of meningitis in the “Rosamound” [Rosy Mound] area. He didn’t stay long because “the climate did not agree with his health,” he wrote. On January 4, 1864 he enlisted as an unassigned private with the 1st Michigan Light Artillery, but there was no further record of his military experience. After the Civil War he opened a medical practice in Jackson County, where he resided with his wife, Ada, and their two children. John was born about 1844 in New York or Ada about 1838. On April 5, 1875 he married Emily Antoinette Lombard in Jackson. She was born on August 8, 1837 in Washtenaw County and died in Jackson on June 29, 1904. She was buried at Woodland Cemetery in Jackson. John died in Jackson on April 30, 1909 and was buried at Lodi Cemetery in Saline, Washtenaw County.

Albert Cornelius Northouse [1853-1908]

Born in Grand Haven Township in January 1853, Albert was the son of Cornelis and Effie Vanmaren Northouse [Noordhuis]. On August 21, 1883 in Grand Haven, Albert married Ella Jane Wilcox. She was born in 1858 and died on May 28, 1897. They had two children, Alfred Albert Northouse, born on December 27, 1886, and Pearl May Northouse. Pearl was born in Grand Haven on July 31, 1891, married William H. Zeitow in Grand Haven on December 17, 1910, divorced him ten years later, and died under the name Pearl Parker in Holland on January 10, 1983.

Albert and his brother Peter owned 55 acres of lake front property in Section 5, and Albert had another 30 acres across Lakeshore Drive in Section 4, originally part of his brother’s holdings. Albert, a well-known horticulturist, raised honeybees. The Grand Haven Tribune of July 3, 1900 noted that “Albert Northouse, the veteran bee man of Rosy Mound, says there will be an unprecedented amount of honey this year. The bees have been fairly in clover all spring.” On another occasion a newspaper article noted he was looking into starting a skunk farm in Spring Lake Township with an unnamed partner [Jackson Citizen, October 17, 1899]. Albert was clerk of inspectors for the Grand Haven Township School Board, County Inspector in 1881, and township clerk from 1887 to 1895. He was director of School District #2 for Rosy Mound from 1898 until his death, and for about ten years he held the post of justice of the peace. He died on April 15, 1908.

Alfred Arthur Northouse [1886-1957]

Alfred, the son of Albert and Ella Wilcox Northouse, was born in Grand Haven on December 27, 1886. In 1906 or earlier, Alfred started a skunk farm, or possibly he assumed responsibility for the skunk business his father and an unnamed partner owned in Spring Lake Township. In 1910, Alfred was doing odd jobs as a farm laborer in Washtenaw County. On March 12, 1912, he married Maud Dauhof [Dayhuff] in Steuben County, Indiana. She was born on April 9, 1888 in Steuben. By 1920 Alfred and Maude were living in Angola, Steuben County, with their three children. Maud passed away on June 22, 1938 in Garrett, Indiana. Alfred died in Jacksonville, Florida on October 9, 1957.

Cornelis [Cornelius] A. Northouse [Nordhuis, Noordhuis] [1816-1882]

Born in The Netherlands on December 11, 1816, Cornelis Nordhuis settled on 120 acres in Section 4 of Grand Haven Township. He also owned 66 acres in Section 5. Cornelis came to America aboard the Katherine Jackson, which arrived in New York on May 17, 1848, after a 41-day journey. Passengers then took a steamboat to Albany, a canal boat to Buffalo, a steamboat to Chicago, and then a sailboat to Holland, where Cornelis evidently spent some time. On April 1, 1850, he bought 40 acres in Allegan County. Cornelis married Altje “Effie” Vanmaren in Grand Haven on June 13, 1852. She was born in The Netherlands about 1825 and passed away in 1879. On their 120-acre plot in Section 4 of Grand Haven Township the Nordhuises cultivated sugar maples, with about 50 to 75 large trees near the south base of Rosy Mound. Around 1876 Cornelis built a two-story, frame home across the road from today’s Rosy Mound School, which later became the home of the Steele family. Eventually the house was razed. A son, Albert, was born around 1853 in Michigan and became a fruit grower. Another son, Peter, was born in 1855. Albert remained in the family home after his parents’ deaths, and Peter lived nearby. Cornelis was an active member of the First Christian Reformed Church of Grand Haven. He died on August 17, 1882 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Between 1880 and 1900, the Nordhuis surname was changed to Northouse.

Harm Northouse [Noordhuis, Nordhuis] [1827-1899]

Harm Northouse was born in The Netherlands on November 2, 1827 and died in Grand Haven on July 2, 1899. After his death, his widow, Luiktje “Lucy,” remained in the family home at 401 Lafayette, which she shared with her son, Louis. Lou, a plumber, had an office at 22 Washington in the early 1900s. Lucy, a native of The Netherlands, lived from November 6, 1832 to June 14, 1914. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Harm and Lucy had six other children beside Lou, including Ylko, who lived from May 30, 1856 to February 21, 1886, and Jantje, who was born on December 25, 1868 and died on November 29, 1879. Ylko and Jantje were buried at Lake Forest, too.

John Nordhouse [Noordhuis, Nordhuis] [1870-1961]

John Nordhouse worked as personal secretary to three different members of the president’s cabinet during the administrations of Grover Cleveland, William McKinley, and Theodore Roosevelt. John, the son of Harm and Luiktje Nordhouse, was born in Grand Haven in February 1870 [1871]. He died in Nyack, New Jersey on July 21, 1961. John left Grand Haven at age 19 and worked and resided in the eastern United States the majority of his life. He married Hannah Loella Skinner in Washington, D.C. on March 25, 1895. They had at least one son, Sterling Morton, who was born in Washington, D.C. on November 4, 1897 and died in Nyack on December 22, 1985. Hannah was born in Canada in November 1875 and died in Clarkstown, New York on October 20, 1937. [Tribune, “GH native worked in 3 U.S. president’s Cabinets,” Kevin Collier, March 3, 2014.]
Louis Northouse [Nordhouse] [1876-1956]

In the early 1900s Lou Northouse had a heating and plumbing business at 22 Washington Street. He resided at 401 Lafayette with his mother, Lucy, the widow of Harm Northouse. On February 2, 1911, in Holland, Michigan, Lou married Sara, daughter of Albert and Marie Loker Manting [Mantingh]. Sara was born on February 2, 1886 in Allegan County and died at her home at 410 Wallace on May 10, 1940. Maynard Manting of Grand Haven was her brother. Lou and Sara had a son, George Louis Nordhouse, who married Rebecca Shane and resided in Spring Lake. The family resided at 410 Wallace and attended the Second Reformed Church. Lou was born on September 14, 1876 and passed away around July 2, 1956. He was buried at Lake Forests Cemetery. His parents were Harm and Lucy Northouse.

Peter C. Northouse [Nordhuis] [1855-1920]

By 1900 or earlier, the spelling of Nordhuis had changed to Northouse. Peter, the son of Cornelis and Effie Nordhuis, was born in Grand Haven Township in September 1855 [1857]. He inherited 90 of the original 120 acres owned by his mother and father in Section 4. There he planted 50 to 75 sugar maple trees near the base of the south side of Rosy Mound. In the early 1900s he sold the 90 acres to John Majerus. Majerus, in turn, in 1911 donated three-quarters of an acre of the land as the site for a new school called Rosy Mound. In addition, Peter and his brother Albert owned 55 acres of lake front property in Section 5. Peter became an insurance agent and a notary public, and he also dealt in real estate. His office, called Western Michigan Realty Company, was at 9 Washington, and he lived at 424 Slayton with his wife, Jessie. In 1912 he advertised “Resort Property a Specialty.” Potawatomi Lake Resort, a subdivision dating to at least 1897 that was intended to attract buyers interested in hunting, fishing, and bathing [swimming]. [Potawatomi was then called a lake.] Peter and Jamies Bignell advertised building sites on Potawatomi Lake Resort. The lots ranged from 66-feet by 200-feet on Millhouse to 100-feet by 200-feet on Potawatomi. Prices varied from $75 a lot to $350 for five-acre parcels. They claimed the five and ten acre lots would make “fine poultry and fruit farms.”

Peter was township clerk from 1887 to 1895 and also clerk of the Board of school inspectors. Around 1900 he was a director of Rosy Mound School. Peter and his brother Albert owned jointly the acreage that had belonged to Cornelis and he owned an additional 20 acres across Lakeshore Drive in Section 4.

On June 2, 1880 in Muskegon, Peter married Jessie Danhof. died on December 23, 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Jessie, who lived from September 23, 1862 [1864] to February 12, 1924. The Northouses’ children, all born locally, included Cora, born about 1881; Tracy, born on March 3, 1883; Agnes, born in August 1887; and Alberta, born in March 1893. Jessie was born in The Netherlands and immigrated to the United States in 1873.

Edward Northrup [? - ?]

In 1885 Edward Northrup bought a newspaper business in Grand Haven and published his first issue in spring that year under the name Evening Venture. As early as 1876 Edward was publisher of the Coopersville Courier. His brothers were in the newspaper business with him. They sold their business to Charles R. Esler in 1887. The name of the local paper eventually was changed to The Evening Tribune and then to The Grand Haven Daily Tribune.

Amos “Colonel” Norton [1789–1861]

Amos, the son of David Norton, was born in Hampshire City, Massachusetts on September 15, 1789. Amos settled in Spring Lake Township subsequent to the 1837 rebellion in Canada, where he had moved from Sangerfield, New York. In association with Jabez Barber, he built a sawmill at what later became known as Nortonville, four miles up Grand River from Grand Haven. In 1844 he planted a fruit orchard there. A post office was authorized for the small town on January 5, 1846, and Amos was named postmaster. The office closed on March 22, 1859. Norton’s mill burned down in 1854 and was rebuilt the next year. Norton Township, then a part of Ottawa County, was named for him. In 1852 he was elected County supervisor. Amos chaired the organizational meeting of the Ottawa County Agricultural Society, held at Steele’s Landing [Lamont] in 1856. Amos’s wife, Lydia Barton, was born in Hampshire City, Massachusetts, on April 24, 1793. She died in Nortonville on April 5, 1866. Amos also died in Nortonville on November 19, 1861, about five months after his son, George.

George L. Norton [1813–1861]

Born in 1813 in Sangerfield, New York, George Norton died July 11, 1861. He was the son of Amos and Lydia Barton Norton. Together the father and son formed the A. & G. L. Norton Sawmill in Nortonville. The mill burned down, but the father and son had it rebuilt. George was sheriff of Ottawa County in 1851. He first married Caroline Ferrier in Toronto, Canada in 1837. She was born in England about December 20, 1818 and died on March 7 [17], 1853 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had at least five children, all born locally: Clarise, born about 1841; Mortimer, born about 1842; Lucy H., born about 1846; Almira, born about 1848; and Walter, born about May 1850. George and his second wife, Maryette, had at least two children. Maryette was from Ohio, where she was born in 1835.

Jelmer Nuismers [1862-1947]

A native of Ontinwedde, The Netherlands, where he was born on February 2, 1862, Jelmer Nuismer arrived in Spring Lake in the early 1880s. He married Elizabeth Boelens, also a native of Ontinwedde. Elizabeth, who lived from 1859 to 1936, arrived in Spring Lake about the same time as Jelmer. Their home was located at 306 Visser Street. Jelmer owned and farmed an island in the Grand River, which he also used as pasture for cows and horses. He got to the island on his personal ferryboat. The Nuismers had six children. One of them, Anna, was born on September 10, 1889 and married Henry Zuidema of Spring Lake. Another was Joseph, who was born in Spring Lake on January 12, 1895. Jelmer died on May 10, 1947 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as was Elizabeth.

Joseph J. Nuismer [1895-1966]

The son of Jelmer and Elizabeth Boelens Nuismer, Joseph was born in Spring Lake on January 12, 1895 [1893]. In 1930 he was employed as a blacksmith at Johnston Boiler. On April 19 [10], 1917 he married Henrietta Tona Pippel, the daughter of Anthony Pippel I of Grand Haven. Henrietta was born in Grand Haven on May 8, 1894 and died on May 4, 1974. Their children were Joseph Anthony, who was born on March 2, 1918 in Spring Lake, married Ruth Louise Olsen, and died in Petoskey on January 20, 1995; Cornelia Elizabeth; Vivian Tona, who was born in Grand Haven on October 24, 1921 and became deputy county clerk of Ottawa County; and Norman Jack. The Nuismer family resided at 902 Elliott. Joseph died in Grand Haven on April 27, 1977 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Henrietta.

Glen Vernon Nygren [1922-2005]

Glen, the son of Harold Henning and Maude Peterson Nygren, was born in Pontiac on October 27, 1922. After their father’s death in 1945, Glen and his brother Henning Leigh Nygren ran the family business, Ottawa Steel. They were co-owners of the business. Glen served with the Army Air Corps during WWII, and in 1948 graduated from Purdue University. His first wife, Mary E., was born on October 29, 1925.
passed away in West Olive on November 18, 2002 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He married Mary K. Van Slooten on November 27, 1976. Glen belonged to the Grand Haven Presbyterian Church, and was a member of the Spring Lake Country Club, Elks Club, and American Legion Post 28 in Grand Haven. His children included Karin Poret of Mesa, Arizona; Kim, who married Mike Montgomery of Norton Shores; Erik of Grand Haven; and Matt of Ada. Glen also had a stepdaughter, Carol King of Holland, Michigan, and two stepsons, Jeffrey and Jerry King, both of Fennville. Glen died on March 4, 2005. [Tribune obituary, March 5, 2005.]

Henning Harold Nygren [1890-1944]

Henning Harold Nygren was born in Askesta, Sweden on May 24, 1890, the son of Erik and Sofia Larson Nygren. He was educated in the public schools of Sweden and became an apprentice in the pattern and tool trade. At the suggestion of Henning’s father, Henning came to America from Bergen, Norway, landing in New York on November 17, 1911. On September 30, 1916 in Muskegon he married Maude Peterson, who was born in Michigan about 1892. A son, Henning [Harold] Leigh Nygren, was born in Michigan on October 14, 1917, and Glen Vernon Nygren was born in Pontiac on October 22, 1922. In 1918 Henning was working in Muskegon as a toolmaker.

Henning and his family settled in Grand Rapids, where he was employed by Grand Rapids Showcase and other companies. In 1922 he established the Detroit Piston Ring Manufacturing Company and moved the business to Grand Haven in June 1928, when he changed the company name to Ottawa Steel Products. About the same time the Nygrens bought a residence at 519 South Seventh Street. Henning returned to Sweden, but when World War II started, he came back to America and again was employed by numerous factories as a tool and die craftsman. Located at 745 Woodlawn, the company during World War II manufactured parts for hydraulic wing controls for heavy airplane bombers, navy guns, and Army trucks. Henning was an avid hunter, a member of the Elks, Masons, Spring Lake Country Club, Peninsula Club, and Grand Haven Stag Club. H. Leigh Nygren ran Ottawa Steel from the time of his father’s death about May 16, 1944 until his retirement in April 1962. H. Leigh Nygren and his brother Glen became co-owners of Ottawa Steel and ran the business after their father’s death. Henning was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Henning Leigh Nygren [1917-1995]

H. Leigh Nygren was born on October 14, 1917. He was the son of Henry H. and Maude Peterson Nygren. The young Nygren served in the Air Force in the Supply Department from 1942 to 1945. With his brother, Glen, H. Leigh ran the family business, Ottawa Steel, from the time of their father’s death in 1945 until H. Leigh’s retirement in April 1962, when he moved to Arizona. He and his wife, Vivian, were married about 1944 and lived at 1710 Hillcrest in Grand Haven. Their children were Steven and Susan, who married Robert Velsin. Leigh died in Arizona on December 19, 1995. Vivian passed away in Tucson on January 29, 2007 at the age of 89. Henning was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Arend John Nyland [Nylon] I [1828-1898]

Born on October 9, 1828 and schooled in Eibergen, The Netherlands, Arend Nyland came to America at the age of 18, landing in Baltimore, Maryland and proceeding by stage and canal to Buffalo where an older brother, Henry, was working in a tannery. Arend served a seven-year apprenticeship there. Leather he had tanned took the gold medal at the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition in 1876. He worked for a number of tanneries throughout Michigan, including Kalamazoo, Breedsville, the Wallin Tannery at Saugatuck, and in 1863 he was foreman at the Albee Tannery at Grand Haven. After the Albee Tannery was destroyed by fire in 1865, Arend went into the tannery business in Grand Rapids with two partners. When the uninsured business was destroyed by fire, he returned to Albee’s employ and soon after accepted a position as superintendent for the Herman Zohrlaut Leather Company at Milwaukee. Seven years later he moved to Holland, Michigan, where he was superintendent of the Cappon and Bertsch Leather Company for fourteen years. Upon settling in the Grand Haven area, he and his oldest son, Cornelius, purchased the interest of Frederick Metz in the Metz Leather Company. During that year they changed the name to Grand Haven
Leather Company with an authorized capital of $100,000 and Arend was made president. The company tanned sole, harness and saddlery leather, and eventually added shoe leather. The plant was closed down within a year and sold to Eagle Tanning Company of Whitehall and Chicago. It reopened under the name of Ottawa Leather Company. Arend also served on the Grand Haven City Council in 1895 and 1896.

On June 22, 1851, in Buffalo, New York, Arend married Dena Schouwenaar, who was born at Kruningen, Netherlands on August 2, 1831, the daughter of a Dutch engineer and dike contractor. Dena died of a paralytic stroke at her home 1208 Washington Street on January 22, 1908 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Of their seven children, all except Herman were born in Michigan, including Jennie, who was born in January 1858 and died June 16, 1934; Cornelius, born on April 23, 1860; Arend John II, born on January 17, 1866; Herman, born in Milwaukee in February 1872; and Minnie, who died July 1, 1929. Arend died in Grand Haven on November 21, 1898 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, January 24, 1908.]

Arend John Nyland II [1866-1940]

The son of Arend and Dena Schouwenaar Nyland, Arend II was born in Grand Haven on January 17, 1866. He was educated in area schools and eventually became the superintendent of the Grand Haven School System. Both Cornelius and Arend John II served their apprenticeship under their father while he was in Holland, Michigan. Like his father, Arend II was alderman for the City of Grand Haven, serving in 1897 and 1898, and he was elected mayor in 1908. Arend II died on August 8, 1940. His wife, Minnie, lived from February 18, 1868 to June 28, 1929. Their children were Arend John III, born in July 1886; Daisy M., who was born in January 1887 and married Cornelius “Case” J. Ver Brugge of Grand Haven; Dena N. who was born on November 29, 1888 and died on September 10, 1929; Jennie D., born in May 1890; Albert, born in December 1891; Ruth Cornelia, who was born about 1892 and died on September 21, 1904; Minnie E., who was born in November 1894; Edward J., born in September 1896; and Madeline M., born in May 1899. Arend died August 8, 1940 and buried in the family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery, where his wife also was interred.

Cornelius Nyland [1860-1923]

Cornelius Nyland was born in Holland Township on April 23, 1860. In March 1887 Cornelius and his father, Arend John Nyland I, purchased the interest of Frederick Metz in the Metz Leather Company, reorganizing it under the name to Grand Haven Leather Company with an authorized capital of $100,000. Arend I was president and manager, and Cornelius was foreman of the currier and finishing department. They were well-established in harness and saddlery leather and in the 1890s added shoe leather. Cornelius succeeded his father as president and manager after the older Nyland’s death in 1898. Because of the cost of changing over equipment for shoe leather production, the panicky times of the 1890s, the slump in the market, and tightening of financial conditions all over; a meeting of the stockholders was held. At that meeting, Nelson R. Howlett was elected president and placed in charge of fiscal affairs for the purpose of liquidating the company. The plant was closed down within a year and was sold to Eagle Tanning Company of Whitehall and Chicago, which reopened it under the name of Ottawa Leather Company. Arend J. Nyland II was placed in charge as superintendent. Cornelius was interested in lumbering and also took up fox farming.

He married Maria Van Patten in Holland on October 13, 1882. Mary lived from May 9, 1862 to November 29, 1913. The family resided at 1200 Washington. Among their children were Dena, who died November 28, 1887, about three months beyond her fifth birthday; Jannetje “Jennie” W., who was born on August 5, 1884 and married George T. vanden Berg of Grand Haven; Mary Martha, who was born on January 17, 1888 and married John J. Gleason; Arthur J., born on February 5, 1890; Dorothy, who married Nelson Van Tol and moved to Birmingham, Alabama; Ruth C., who lived from September 1, 1892 to September 21, 1904, and Dorothy Lenora, who was born on December 11, 1902. Cornelius died on January 11, 1923. The Nylands were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. [Tribune obituary, January 11, 1923.]

Esther Dean Nyland [1899-1997]
Born on January 1, 1899 to Herman Z. and Elizabeth McMillan Nyland, Esther Dean graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1916, and went on to earn a bachelor degree and in 1922 a master degree from the University of Michigan. After receiving her master degree, she did post-graduate work at Columbia University. Before coming to Grand Haven in 1947, she taught school at the Old Hickory Powder Plant near Nashville, Tennessee toward the end of World War I, at Mount Clemens, Macomb County, and at Paw Paw, Van Buren County. She was a long-time English teacher in the Grand Haven school system, and she was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Gamma Phi Beta. Later she did post-graduate work at Columbia University. Esther Dean organized history clubs in Grand Haven Junior High School, and she gave an “Old Timer’s” coffee each year to commemorate Grand Haven’s birthday on November 2. Old Timers also was the name of a radio program she hosted, interviewing prominent citizens to hear about their earliest memories. She was one of the founders of the Tri-Cities Area Historical Society, and she also belonged to the Free Bed Guild and the League of Women Voters. She retired from teaching in 1964. She was baptized in the First Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven and remained a member all her life. In 1936 Esther Dean wrote a book titled 100 Years, combining a century of church activities with early Grand Haven history. She died in Grand Haven on November 21, 1997 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Herman Z. Nyland I [1871-1943]

Born in Milwaukee on February 14, 1871, Herman was the son of Arend and Dena Schouwenaar Nyland. Herman became road agent for the Grand Haven Leather Company after it was incorporated in 1885. In 1887, he was in charge of Dake Engine Company, which was located on the corner of Seventh and Monroe Streets. On February 20, 1888 he enlisted as corporal in Company F, 2nd Michigan Regiment, and he enlisted for another three-year term in 1891. He left the outfit with the rank of sergeant, under Captain Baltus Pellegrom, in February 1894. On October 6, 1895 Herman married Elizabeth McMillan in Grand Haven. She was born in Canada in March 1868. She was the daughter of Neil [Neal] McMillan. The Nylands lived at 121 Lafayette in Grand Haven. Around 1900 Herman went into partnership with Neal McMillan and opened the McMillan & Nyland Ice Cream and Confectionery Store at 100 Washington with McMillans’ daughter, Mate, in charge. Esther Dean, born on January 1, 1899, was the Nylands’ daughter and a son, Herman Z. II, was born in Grand Haven on December 19, 1906 and died in Contra Costa, California on April 23, 1996. Other children were Neal McMillan Nyland, who was born in Milwaukee on August 30, 1896 and moved to Detroit, and William Aaron, who was born about 1905 and relocated to New York City. Elizabeth and Herman I were members of the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven, where she taught Sunday School for 27 years, served on the Executive Committee of the Ladies Social Society, and was president of the Missionary Society. Elizabeth taught at an elementary school located at 513 Jackson Street, and she served on the Grand Haven School Board in the mid-1910s. Herman I died on July 26, 1943 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Elizabeth passed away about December 11, 1950 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, May 1, 1996.]

Cornelius [Cornelis] Adrianus Nysson [Nijssen, Nyssen] I [1835-1896]

Cornelius Nysson was born in The Netherlands on February 13, 1835 and arrived in Grand Haven in 1848. On August 3, 1867 in Grand Haven, he married Anje de Bruin. Born in Gronigen, The Netherlands, on January 14, 1850, she gave birth to Jan Cornelis Nyssen on May 15, 1869 and died on the following October 2, several weeks after the new-born son had passed away. Not long after Anje’s death, Cornelius married Marthe [Martha] Meyer, who was born in The Netherlands in 1845. He and Martha had eight children, all born locally, including William I, who was born in August 1860; Cornelius II, who was born in 1862 and died on September 18, 1884; and Jennie, born in February 1879. After Martha’s death on December 21, 1885, Cornelius married Cornelia Van Hall on November 3, 1886 in Grand Haven. They resided at 606 Fulton. Cornelia was born in The Netherlands in November 1840 and passed away around August 2, 1916. Cornelius, a carpenter, was listed in the 1893 Compendium as a “millwright.” He and Cornelia continued living at 606 Fulton, where she remained after her husband’s death. Cornelius’s father, Adriannus Nyson, a
Grand Haven lumberman, lived from 1805 to January 6, 1896. Cornelius’s mother, Wilmina, was born about 1814 in The Netherlands. Cornelius died on November 4, 1896 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Cornelia. [Tribune obituary, November 4, 1896.]

William M. Nyson [Nyssen] I [1860-1949]

William Nyson, the son of Cornelius and Martha Meyer Nyson, was born in Grand Haven in August 1860. He operated a laundry in Muskegon for two years and was proprietor of the Kempf House in the same city for two more years. William opened the Grand Haven Steam Laundry in 1893 at 12 Washington, the first steam laundry in the city. He offered pickup and delivery with his horse and cart. By 1908 he was working for the Challenge Machinery Company. He and his wife Barbara lived on Elliott Street around 1900 and later moved to 221 North Third. They were married in 1887. Their son, William II, who also worked at Challenge, was born November 5, 1889 and died in January 1963. William I died in Muskegon Heights on February 4, 1949, and Barbara, who was born in Michigan in May 1868, passed away on January 17, 1950. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was their son William II.

Dustin C. Oakes [1853-1903]

A native of St. Joseph, Berrien County, where he was born on June 19, 1853, Dustin was the son of David and Mary S. Oakes II. He graduated from Michigan Agricultural College [MSU] in East Lansing. At the time of his death, Dustin was cashier at the National Bank of Grand Haven, forerunner of Grand Haven State Bank [Fifth Third], a position he had held for about three years. Prior to coming to Grand Haven, Dustin was in the banking business in Coopersville for about 10 years, and before that he was in Shelby, Oceana County. Dustin married Lenora “Nora” Kelly in Ionia on December 27, 1876. She was born in Michigan about 1860. They were still residing in Lyons, Ionia County, in 1880. They had a daughter, Ruth, who was born around 1929. In 1930 Edwin was living in Kalamazoo and had a job as salesman of school supplies. Edwin died in Berea, Kentucky on July 17, 1974. Helen died in the same place on April 14, 1984.

Harry J. Oakes I [1860-1919]

In the 1893 Compendium Harry Oakes was listed as a “Marl Dealer.” Marl was a form of fertilizer, or rich soil. A few years later he joined Dake Engine Company. By 1908 he was listed as a mechanic and deputy oil inspector. In a 1912 newspaper he advertised that he was a “Buyer and dealer in Copper, brass And Old rubber. ALSO Inside and Outside Auto Tires. Highest Prices Paid.” A few years later he was an insurance agent for the Prudential Company. Harry was born in Manchester, England in September 1860 and died on March 31, 1919. He came to the United States in 1879. His mother’s name was Harriet. On November 15, 1883, in Grand Haven, Harry married Jane Luikens of Grand Haven, who lived from June 16, 1863 to March 3, 1937. They moved into a home at 121 Howard Street in 1907 and ten years later were at 417 Leggat. Prior to that they lived in a house across the street. Harry and Jane also had lived previously at 304 Columbus [approximate number], which was lost in the fire of 1889. By the 1920s Jane Oakes and a son, Edwin Charles Oakes, born on July 22, 1899, had moved to 219 Columbus. Other sons were James W., born on October 21, 1884, and Harry II, born on October 17, 1890. Harry I and Jane also had a daughter Louise, who died young, and another daughter, Sarah L., who was born on September 23, 1887. Harry and Jane were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Elizabeth Kirkland of Grand Haven was his aunt.
James William Oakes [1884–1954]

James was born in Grand Haven on October 21, 1884, the son of Harry J. and Jane Oakes. James started a real estate and insurance business in 1903 with James E. Scott as his partner. In January 1907 he went into partnership with Henry J. Boer to form the Grand Haven Realty Company. In 1927 James bought the Studebaker dealership, located at 9-11 South Second Street, from the Charles E. Soule family. In April 1933 he merged with Beers Motor Company, and the combined operation offered Dodge, Plymouth, Packard, and Rockne automobiles, as well as Studebakers. He also owned Auto Fill, a Standard Oil service station at 20 North Third Street, with John Van Schelven as the attendant. James retired from the automobile business to devote his full time to real estate and insurance. Originally located at 228 Washington in downtown Grand Haven, the Oakes office moved to 234 Washington in 1974, one year after the property was vacated by the McLellan store. After James retired in 1954, John Van Schelven managed the real estate office until 1978. Oakes’s nephew, Jim Oakes, also was associated with the business.

James married Mary M. “Mate” McMillan in Grand Haven on October 21, 1909. Mate, the daughter of Neal [Niel] and Elizabeth McMillan, was born on March 11, 1873. When a young woman, Mate worked as an operator for the fledgling telephone company, and later she worked at her father’s ice cream store at 101 Washington. Later she was an active member of the Grand Haven Woman’s Club and served as its president from 1920 to 1930. James and Mate were residing at 314 Second Street as early as 1920 and sometime after 1930 they moved to 803 Lake Avenue. He was a director of the Chamber of Commerce and active on the Board of Commerce and Industry that helped bring new industries to Grand Haven. James also served as secretary of the Spring Lake Country Club, and he and Mate were members of the First Presbyterian Church. Jim owned several downtown buildings. In partnership with Bruno Peter, he also owned much of the unimproved residential property along Sheldon Road, south of Taylor Street. Jim and Mate had a daughter, Inez. Jim died on August 12, 1954 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery on August 14. Mary died on February 24, 1965 in Grand Haven and was buried with her husband.

James, nephew of James W. Oakes, was born in Grand Haven on December 9, 1914. After graduating from Grand Haven High School in 1932 he attended the University of Michigan and then worked with his uncle in the insurance and real estate business. During WWII he was a major in the Air Corps. Between 1959 and 1962 James was elected to four consecutive terms as president of Spring Lake Village. Jim was a charter member of the Coast Guard Auxiliary, treasurer of the Spring Lake Yacht Club, Exalted Ruler of the Grand Haven Elks’ Club, and member of the American Legion. He attended St. Mary’s Catholic Church. On September 9, 1942 in San Antonio he married Margaret, the daughter of William and Elsie Johnson Buckley of Spring Lake. Jim and Margaret in 1953 bought a home at 217 North Buchanan. Margaret in 1977 retired from her job as a buyer for Country House in Grand Haven. She was born on June 2, 1918 and passed away on August 16, 1997 in Florida. The Oakeses had a daughter Miki [Mary], who married Larry Carter and moved to California, and a son Michael Timothy, who resided in Marco Island, Florida. James died on June 14, 1997 at Marco Island. Julia Beaulieu Oakes [Oaks] [1813-1910]

One-half Ojibwa, Julia Oakes was counted in the 1836 Census of Ottawa and Ojibwa Indians. Enumerated with her were three children: Sophia, age 12; Eliza, 11; and David, 7. They were members of the Grand River Bands of Indians. Julia, the daughter of Bazil [Bazile] Budon Beaulieu, was born at Lac du Flambeau, Wisconsin in 1813. Bazil, a French-Canadian who lived from 1783 to 1838, was a trader for the North West Company at Lac du Flambeau, Wisconsin, and later became a trader and then a clerk for the American Fur Company, still at Lac du Flambeau. Julia’s mother, Ogenawgeeshegoquay “Respected Sky Woman,” was the daughter of an Ojibwa chief named Wabishgaughage “White Crow [Raven].” Bazil sent five of his children, including Julia, to William Ferry’s Mission School on Mackinac Island. Julia married Charles Henry Oakes on July 29, 1831 in Michilimackinac. He had received a license to trade furs in the vicinity of Lac du Flambeau [Torch Lake], Wisconsin on August 1, 1825 and remained in the area for at least four years as a fur trader. On May 1, 1839 Charles took title to 160 acres in Section 13 and another 160 acres in Section 19 of Blendon Township, probably for fur trapping purposes. [Battle for the Soul, Keith R. Widder, 1999, 6.]

Charles previously had married an Ojibwa woman, Teegaushau, in 1822; Sophia and Eliza were their daughters. David was Julia’s and Charles’s son. Julia and Charles by the late 1830s had a home in Grandville, and they appeared in the 1850 Federal Census as residents of La Pointe, Wisconsin. With them were three children: David, now 20 years old; Jane, 9 years old; and Charles W., 4. Charles the father was working for the American Fur Company in La Pointe. Julia and Charles in 1860 resided in St. Paul, where Charles worked in the banking business. In the household were George H. Oakes, born in Wisconsin about 1834; Jane, shown as the same age in the census but actually much younger; and Charles, born about 1846. The three children were born in Wisconsin, but by 1870 they were residing in Sauk Rapids, Minnesota. Charles was noted as being a retired banker. In 1870 they were living with Julia’s daughter Sophia, Sophia’s husband, Jeremiah Russell, and their four children. In the census Julia was classified as a combination of White and Indian, as were Sophia and her children. The 1895 state census classified Julia as White. A native of Vermont, Charles lived from July 17, 1803 to 1879 and was buried Oakland Cemetery in St. Paul, Minnesota. Julia passed away in Davidson, Tennessee on May 25, 1910, where she had been living with her daughter, Jane, and her son-in-law, Edward. Jane who was born on January 24, 1841 in La Pointe, Wisconsin, died on December 2, 1931 in Evanston, Illinois under the name Jane Bazett-Jones. She was buried at Oakland Cemetery in St. Paul, Minnesota. Her husband was Rev. Edward A. Bazett-Jones.

Stanley B. Oakes [1888-1976]

Stanley Oakes was a conductor on the “dummy” line that provided transportation from downtown to Highland Park. He was the son of Dustin and Lenora Oakes and was born in Grand Haven on June 6, 1888. On September 2, 1916 in Grand Haven, he married Helen A., the daughter of Daniel and Anna Angel Andrews. Helen was born in Grand Haven about 1881. Stanley and his family were residing there by 1930. Stanley sold life insurance at that time. They had a son Daniel, and two daughters, Julia and Cynthia. Stanley died in St. Louis, Missouri, in August 1976.

Mildred Marion Oatley [1900-1981]

Born in Mesick, Wexford County, on July 2, 1900, Mildred Oatley graduated from Albion College in 1924 and was a teacher at Grand Haven Junior High School by 1940. In 1940, she was lodging at 20 South Fifth Street. She died in Mesick on May 3, 1981 and was buried at Antioch Cemetery.

Adrian O’Beck was born on a farm in The Netherlands in May 1846 [1845] and came to Grand Haven in 1849. He was the son of Adrian and Cornelia Mieras O’Beck. His first job was selling fish, and eventually he had his own commercial fishing business. Other members of the O’Beck family who were part of the business were his sons: Adrian, Martin [Martine], and Roy. Adrian II was born about 1846 and began fishing from a sailboat when he was 17. With Henry Fase, John Ball, and Cornelis Van Zanten, Adrian operated a commercial fishing business out of Grand Haven called O’Beck & Company. One of their fishing tugs was the Peer and another was the C. A. Meister. The O’Becks were reputed to be the first local fishermen to install a gasoline motor in a fishing boat. Adrian retired in 1905 and died on March 20, 1932.

On January 18, 1867 Adrian married Johanna De Glopper in Buffalo, New York. The sister of Martinus De Glopper, she was born in The Netherlands on November 19, 1842 and died in Grand Haven on March 20, 1909. Adrian and Johanna arrived in America with their parents in 1849 and not long afterward settled in Buffalo and later in Grand Haven. The O’Becks lived at 421 Clinton. Their children were Cornelia, who lived from April 1868 to 1938, married Christopher Fetz, and had a second husband, Alexander Kaatz, whom she married on April 3, 1920 in Grand Haven; Jacob, born in May 1870 and died in 1922; Anna, who lived from September 5, 1872 [1874] to 1960; Adrian III, who was born in August 1875 [1873] and died in 1941, leaving his widow, Eleanor May; Roy Lawrence, who was born on March 23, 1878 and died in 1949, and whose wife, Marie, was born in Michigan around 1885; an infant son, John, who was born and died in 1880;
Jeanette “Nettie,” who lived from November 1881 to 1942 and married James W. Cheesman about June 30, 1906; James, who was born on October 5, 1883 and worked as a machinist at Keller Tool; Martin, who was born on June 27, 1884; and Marie Lucille, who was born May 23, 1888 and died in May 1879. Johanna, her husband, and their children were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Anna O’Beck [1872-1960]

While teaching at Rosy Mound School, Anna O’Beck, recalled that she walked the four miles to and from school from her home in Grand Haven each class day. The daughter of Adrian and Johanna De Glopper O’Beck, Anna was born on September 5, 1872 [1874]. In 1940, she was living at the family home at 421 Clinton Street with her brother Roy and sister Marie. Anna died on January 3, 1960 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Jacob O’Beck [1870-1922]

Like his father Adrian, Jacob O’Beck was captain of a fishing tug in Grand Haven. He was born in Grand Haven in 1870 and died in a Muskegon Hospital on May 25, 1922. Jacob also served as mate on the Crosby Transportation Company steamer the E.G. Crosby. In the years prior to his death he worked with his brothers, Roy and Martin, in operating the fishing tug Johanna, named for their mother. [Tribune obituary, May 26, 1922.]

Martin O’Beck [1884-1951]

Martin was the son of Captain Adrian and Johanna O’Beck. He was born in Grand Haven on June 27, 1884, died on May 4, 1951 in Grand Rapids, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He had a brother, Roy, who was born about 1878, and two sisters, Anna and Marie, all of Grand Haven. About 1910 Martin and Roy, built the tug Marie, and in 1914 they built one of the first steel tugboats in the area, the 42-foot Johanna. In 1971 the tug became the last commercial vessel to fish out of Grand Haven.

Martin married Evalina Zimmer on November 20, 1905. They lived first at 521 Grant Street and later at 312 South Fourth Street. Evalina, who was born in Spring Lake on July 28, 1881, died in Ferrysburg on April 7, 1954. She was the daughter of Matthias and Katharina Spinner Zimmer. The O’Becks had one son and one daughter, Marjorie Louise, who lived her entire life, from June 21, 1911 to October 24, 1999, in Grand Haven. She married George A. Barnard of Grand Haven, who died in 1979. Their son, Adrian, born on December 17, 1922 moved to California, where he died on April 10, 1997. Young Adrian married Jeanne Fochtman on April 2, 1942. Marjorie Louise was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Hugh O’Brien [O’Brian] [Hugh “Bud” Krampe] [1925-2016]

In 1942 Hugh John Krampe, his wife Edith Lillian, and their sons resided at Arbutus Banks in Spring Lake, next at 115 Barber Court, and finally at 316 South Fifth in Grand Haven, before moving away permanently. One of their sons, Hugh Charles Krampe, worked at Camfield’s one summer and helped make wooden trays. He also caddied at Spring Lake Country Club and worked at a local gas station. The other Krampe son, Donald, attended school in Grand Haven. Young Hugh moved to California, where he became known as Hugh O’Brien, best known for playing the role of Wyatt Earp in the television series of that name that ran from 1955 to 1961. He was born in Rochester, New York, on April 19, 1925 [1923], served with the U.S. Marines during WWII, and died in California on September 5, 2016.

Hugh John Krampe was born in Ohio on June 4, 1890 and died in Alameda, California on June 30, 1958, and Edith lived from June 18, 1895 to December 26, 1949. Like her husband, she died in California.

Jeremiah “Jerry” O’Brien [1854-1905]

Born in Wisconsin on August 29, 1854, Jeremiah O’Brien resided at 127 Clinton with his wife Anna “Annie.” Their children were Elizabeth “Lizzie,” a nurse, who was born in January 1885; William, who was born in Grand Haven in February 1887 and worked at the glove factory; and Mamie, who was born in November 1888 and worked at a “bean factory.” Jeremiah, a sailor, died on July 19, 1905, but his family continued to live at 127 Clinton. Anna was born in Ireland in May 1862.

Joseph W. O’Brien [1860-1926]

Born in Chicago on October 11, 1860, Joseph was the son of John O’Brien. His mother’s family name was Donovan. Joseph came to Grand Haven in 1871, presumably with his parents, and later joined the law firm of Healy C. Akeley at the corner of Washington and Second Streets. In 1886 he became state agent and adjuster for the Phenix Insurance Company of Brooklyn, New York. Seven years later he was an agent for the Home Insurance Company, and in the early 1900s he was named president of Grand Haven State Bank. About that time he had a financial interest in the Heap-O’Brien Mining Company, with William Heap as his partner. Joseph served as mayor in 1886, 1900, and 1901, and he was chairman of the first Ottawa County Red Cross Chapter, organized in Grand Haven in the fall of 1909. His wife, Mary Gillen, was born in Racine, Wisconsin on September 18, 1862. They were married on November 26, 1884 in Grand Haven. In the early 1900s the O’Briens resided at 534 Clinton, but in 1915 they purchased the Boyden House at Fifth and Lafayette Streets. Their children, all born locally, were Joseph P., born in May 1886; Eugene G., born in December 1887; and Margaret [Marguerite], born in July 1889. Margaret served overseas as an army Y.M.C.A. worker during WWI. About 13 years after Joseph’s death on May 4, 1926, Mary moved to Grand Rapids. She died around May 24, 1945 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

George W. O’Brien [1860-1926]

A native of Chicago, George O’Brien was born in 1860 and for a number of years operated a mercantile business in Grand Haven. In 1908 Joseph was an agent for Home Insurance Company and he was president of Grand Haven State Bank, then located at 218 Washington. He and his wife, Mary, resided at 534 Clinton. Joseph passed away around May 7, 1926, and Mary died around May 24, 1945. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

In the 1920s Dick O’Brien operated a sign painting business at 19 South Third Street, where he also resided with his widowed mother, Jenny. By 1930 Dick was managing a jewelry store in Grand Haven. Jenny was born in Michigan on November 9, 1889 and died in Grand Haven on May 8, 1982. Dick was born on December 5, 1910 and died in Ferrysburg on October 11, 1981.

Daniel O’Connell [1826-1891]

See Daniel O. Connell.

James O’Connell [1842-1932]

James O’Connell was born in West Meath, Ireland on May 22, 1842 and settled with his family in Wisconsin when he was three [seven]. He dealt in brass and ironware, wrought iron pipe, pumps, rubber goods, and other items at a store located at the corner of First and Franklin Streets [29 Franklin], where he and his wife, Kate, also lived. James was still in business in 1908. He was working in Whitehall when the Civil War began and on August 21, 1862 enlisted as private in Company F of the 5th Michigan Cavalry, raised by Noah Ferry. He later served under Phillip Sheridan and George A. Custer until the end of the Civil War. James was close to Ferry at Gettysburg when the latter was killed by Confederate shots. He was mustered out on June 22, 1865. After the war, during a stopover in Grand Haven, he literally bumped into Heber Squier, who offered him a job as engineer on one of his tugboats. James eventually earned his engineer’s license and served on several vessels, including Snoek and New Era.

The Muskegon Chronicle provided a story about James’s decision to settle in Grand Haven after the Civil War: “Mr. O’Connell was visiting at the farm of his brother Bernard O’Connell in Montague Township [Muskegon County]. He decided to go to Chicago to look for work and took the train to Grand Haven, intending to cross the lake. While awaiting the sailing of his boat that night, he set out on a stroll up the main street of the town, then unlighted. He had not gone far when he bumped smack into a portly citizen, who demanded to know, in not too pleasant a humor, ‘Why don’t you look where you’re going?’ ‘Why don’t you blow a whistle?’ was Mr. O’Connell’s retort. ‘Well, where are you going?’ the man asked. ‘I’m going to Chicago to look for a job,’ said Mr. O’Connell. ‘I’ll give you a job,’ his new acquaintance replied; and Mr. O’Connell went to work for Capt. Heber Squires, then a prominent figure in the business life of Grand Haven.”

James married Kate [Catherine] Kearnan in 1869. Kate was born in Ireland in March 1853. Their children, both born in Michigan, were Susan, born in August 1871; William, who was born in December 1875 and moved to Detroit; and Chester A., who was born on February 22, 1883. James was the area’s last surviving Civil War veteran when he died on March 14, 1932 and had been an early member of the Weatherwax G.A.R. Post. He also belonged to the Odd Fellows and Elks. James was a member of the Unitarian Church until its dissolution. Kate lived from 1849 to 1922. She and her husband were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Chronicle obituary, 1932.]

Charles Orchardson [1836-1918] and Lurissa Orchardson [1841-1917]

Born on June 10, 1836 in Edinburgh, Scotland, Charles Orchardson, married Lurissa Jane Norton on March 2, 1861 in Lake County, Ohio. She was born in Madison, Ohio in May 1841. Their daughter, Louise Bernice Orchardson, was born in Scotland on June 12, 1864 and married David Lorimer. She and her parents immigrated to the United States two years later. By 1870 the Orchardsons owned and lived on one of two non-contiguous parcels of land in Section 13 of Spring Lake Township, one 30 acres, the other 63 acres. The smaller parcel became known as the Krueger Place. Louise’s sister, Mabel, was born on September 16, 1872 in Spring Lake and married Len Patterson of Spring Lake. Mabel and Len resided on the Lorimer Resort property.

Charles Orchardson worked as a fruit grower and as a portrait painter. His brother, William Quiller Orchardson, became well known as an artist. Charles also liked to be known as a clairvoyant. In 1889 he ran on the Socialist ticket for mayor of Chicago but lost badly. Lurissa divorced him not long after the election. In 1897 she was the owner of record of the 93-acre fruit farm in Spring Lake Township. She was residing as a widow in Spokane, Washington in 1905, but she died in Spring Lake on February 16, 1917 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Charles died in Los Angeles, California, on July 15, 1918. His will specified that Flora and Louise should receive $5.00 each upon his death; the remainder of his estate went to Josephine Pollock of Los Angeles. The will was submitted to Probate Court in Los Angeles in July 1918.

James Wilson Orr I [1840-1912]

James Orr and his family resided in Pontiac in 1880, but they had moved to Grand Haven by 1890. James in 1892 was secretary of American Mirror and Glass Beveling Company, located near the intersection of Water [Harbor Drive] and Howard Streets. The next year he was an agent for the Detroit & Milwaukee Railway, or possibly he held both positions simultaneously. He was born in Scotland on July 19, 1840 and died in Pontiac on April 19, 1912. During the Civil War, James served from July 1861 to December 1863 as a private in the 36th Illinois Infantry under the name John Wilson. He re-enlisted in the same unit in January 1864 and served until October, 1865, still under his alias. James married Isabelle [Isabella] Spence, also a native of Scotland, where she was born about 1842. They had at least two children: Mary Elizabeth Orr, who was born about 1871 and married William F. Harbeck of Grand Haven, and John Wilson Orr II, who was born on September 24, 1875. On August 4, 1890 in Detroit, James married Eleanor J. Christian, who was born about 1846 in New York State and died in Pontiac on January 19, 1915.

James Wilson Orr II [1875-1935]

In 1900 he was living in Grand Rapids, where he worked as a bookkeeper. By 1910 he was back in Grand Haven, working for Nathaniel Robbins as an accountant and residing with his sister, Mary, the wife of William F. Harbeck family, who resided at 538 Lafayette. James married Gertrude Baker in Muskegon on July 7, 1921. They resided at 539 Pennoyer. She was born in Michigan around 1880, died about November 1, 1941, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. James, who was born in Pontiac, lived from September 24, 1875 to December 3, 1935.

George Henry Osgood [1829-1871]

Born in November 1829 in Rockingham County, New Hampshire, George was the son of Hiram and Eliza Edgerly Osgood. His father, an attorney, died on November 29, 1840, and his mother lived from April 6, 1803 to September 14, 1857. They both died in Grandville and were buried there. Another early arrival in the area was Chase Edgerly, Eliza’s brother, who was born in Rockingham, New Hampshire on December 18, 1811. Chase Edgerly and George Osgood were the “Edgerly & Osgood” Lillie referred to as proprietors of the Washington House in Grand Haven [12 Washington], which they were operating by 1850. George was listed as Barkeeper in the 1850 census and, like his partner, was residing at the hotel. Also residing there at that time was his mother, Eliza Osgood, and his wife’s sister, Mary Brown. In 1852 Chase and George sold the business to Clark Albee. Chase returned to the Grand Rapids area, where he died on December 9, 1854.

By 1858 George was proprietor of Mill Point Hall in Spring Lake. On November 24, 1861, not long after the start of the Civil War, he became quartermaster sergeant of the 3rd Michigan Cavalry. George was promoted to first lieutenant and quartermaster on December 13, 1862 and was mustered out on October 31, 1864. George was listed as a grocer in Spring Lake in the 1860 Federal Census and a saloon keeper in Grand Haven in the 1870 census.

George married Mary D. Miller. Mary, the daughter of Captain Harry and Elizabeth Miller, was born in Detroit on May 14, 1836 [1835], died in 1916 [1915], and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with her parents. George died November 3, 1871 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His widow, three years later, on September 30, married Isaac Hull Sanford of Grand Haven. About June 21, 1911 Mary applied for a widow’s Civil War pension, citing George Osgood’s service. George and Mary had a daughter Eliza “Lizzie,” who married John Wiles of Grand Haven. Lizzie was born in April 1858.

J. S. Osgood [? - ?]

Osgood was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886.

George Osipoff [1923-1991]

Born on July 14, 1923 in Detroit, George Osipoff founded Grand Haven Pattern at 1555 Marion Street in October 1955, which he sold to Carl Fred Kleist in June three years later. George then became District superintendent for the Grand Haven Board of Light and Power. His home was at 14896 Bignell in Grand Haven Township. George married Gloria Dorothy Prahin in Grand Haven on August 24, 1946. She was born in Muskegon Heights about 1926. George died in Grand Haven on December 3, 1991 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

William Osner I [1859-1942]

Born on May 2, 1859 in Ethenheim, Germany, William Osner immigrated to Chicago, where he manufactured shoes. He arrived in the Grand Haven area in 1904 and soon bought property on the south side of Stearns Bayou in Section 6 of Robinson Township. By 1915 he owned 40 acres, and within the next 15 years acquired an additional 45 acres from Dr. Winfield Hall, his neighbor to the west. Phoebe, William’s wife, was born in New York State in 1864 and died in Robinson Township on December 1, 1930. The Osners moved to Grand Haven around 1909. Among their children was Sophia, born about 1898. Her salary as a sixth grade teacher at Central School in 1919 was set by the School Board at $800 a year. She died in 1925. Other children were William II, who was born on April 14, 1901, and a daughter, Pauline, who died about the same time as her mother. William passed away in Grand Haven about February 15, 1942 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. Osner Drive, along the south side of Stearns Bayou, was named for the family.
William Osner II [1901-1977]
The son of William and Phoebe Osner, young William was born in Chicago on April 14, 1901 and moved to the Grand Haven area with his parents in 1904. He was employed by the Ottawa County Road Commission for 35 years and was manager when he died on October 3, 1977 while on a hunting trip with his family in Wyoming. William’s wife, Suzanne Kosch, was born on June 18, 1919 in Chicago. Suzanne was the daughter of Andrew and Anna Potucek Kosch of Robinson Township. Suzanne and William were married in Grand Haven on March 6 [4], 1937. Suzanne, who ran a Christmas tree farm after her husband’s death, died on October 6, 1985. They had two daughters, Phoebe Shutler, who lived in New York, and Susan Larson, who remained in Grand Haven. One son, William Osner III, moved to New Jersey.

Hessel D. Osterhoff [Osterhof] [1827-1904]
Working as a laborer, Hessel Osterhoff resided in Spring Lake Village. On January 1, 1864 he enlisted as private in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry. On June 9, 1865 he transferred into Company G of the 14th Michigan Infantry. He was mustered out on July 18, 1865. On November 25, 1904 his wife, Willemtje [Willhelmina] “Minnie” Zwiers Osterhoff, applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. Minnie was born in The Netherlands about 1841. The Osterhoffs had a daughter, Jantje “Jane,” who was born on November 4, 1868. Another daughter, Minnie, married Andrew Vanden Bosch, also of Spring Lake. They had two more children besides these two. Hessel, a native of The Netherlands, lived from February 14, 1827 to October 7, 1904. Willemtje was born in The Netherlands on March 14, 1841 and died on July 15, 1915. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Roelof “Ralph” Osterhoff [Osterhof] [1830-1902]
Born in The Netherlands on July 2, 1830, Roeloff Osterhoff immigrated to Ferrysburg in 1855, working first as a carpenter on the Ferry residence. He then worked seventeen years in the pattern shop at Ottawa Iron Works, also in Ferrysburg, and in 1874 he opened a mercantile business. He married Jane Griede in 1857. She was born in 1836 and died on October 28, 1874, leaving her husband and eight children, including Jane, who lived from 1859 to 1925; Delia, 1861 to 1925; Hannah, 1863 to 1885; Martha, who was born on July 21, 1869; Raleigh, 1872 to 1915; and John, 1874 to 1928. Roeloff died on June 27, 1902. He and his wife were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Louis [Lewis] H. Osterhouse [Oosterhouse] [1881-1954]
By 1908 Louis Osterhouse had opened a law office at 232 Washington in Grand Haven. Later he had an office on the second floor of 118 Washington. He was Ottawa County prosecuting attorney in 1912 and city attorney in 1914 and again from 1920 to 1926. On December 14, 1910 in Chicago, Louis married Adeline J. Rosenberg. They lived at 820 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven from the 1910s into the 1960s. Louis was born in Michigan on December 7, 1881, and Adeline, a native of Illinois, was born around 1884. They had two children, Marian and Louis John, who was born about 1916. Lewis passed away about November 26, 1954 and she around October 19, 1959. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Gertrude Otley [1898-1998]

See Gertrude Otley Mersbach.

Benjamin F. Otley [1871-1934]

Born in Buffalo, New York on April 9, 1871, Benjamin was the son of Samuel and Matilda Otley, who in the mid-1870s lived in Grand Haven. Benjamin apparently was the first member of the family to be attracted to Highland Park, but his younger brother Thomas wasn’t far behind. He married Clara Buth in Milwaukee on December 29, 1897. She was born in Milwaukee on December 4, 1874 and died in Wilmette, Illinois on November 25, 1941, seven years after her husband’s death on April 5, 1934. Benjamin and Clara had a daughter they named Gertrude Clarese. The Otleys owned the cottage on Lot 40, Lovers Lane in Highland Park in the early 1900s, where Gertrude enjoyed many summers. After she and Clarence Mersbach were married, they bought the cottage and named it The Gertrude. Thomas Otley was Benjamin’s brother.

Samuel Otley [1844-1907]

Samuel and Matilda Cox Otley were residents of Grand Haven long enough for two of their children to be born there in the mid-1870s: James, who was born on 1874 and died 7 days later, and Matilda, also known as Lizzie, who was born on October 24, 1875 and died the following September 24. The family relocated to Chicago, but returned to Grand Haven sometime after 1900, where Samuel Otley died in 1907. Among the Otleys surviving children were Benjamin and Thomas. Benjamin, born on April 9, 1871 in Buffalo, New York. Thomas was born on August 7, 1880 on a Lake Michigan steamer as the boat was entering Grand Haven Harbor. Samuel was born in England on August 17, 1844 and died in Grand Haven on August 26, 1907. Matilda, also a native of England, was born on October 16, 1844 and died in Chicago on February 22, 1927.

Thomas Fryer Otley I [1880–1938]

Thomas F. Otley was born on August 7, 1880 on a Lake Michigan steamer as the boat came into Grand Haven harbor from Chicago. His parents, Samuel and Matilda Cox Otley, had been residents of Grand Haven, long enough for two of their children to be born in the mid-1870s, relocated to Chicago, and moved back to the port city after 1900, where Samuel died on August 26, 1907. Thomas, who became a salesman for a paint company and by 1920 owned a paint manufacturing business, lived in Chicago. He visited Highland Park every summer and formed the Highland Park Tennis Association in 1920, because he loved the game and the youth that played it. Leon Harburger and Eldred G. Bentley assisted in organizing the club. The organization functioned for 32 years under Thomas’s leadership. Eldred, also a Chicago resident, was born about 1875. The Highland Park Cottage Association added the Highland Park Tennis Club in 1922, nesting the two courts between dunes. Highland Park Junior tournaments were played here starting in 1926 and lasting to 1937. The tournaments drew top players from the United States and were played according to rules of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association, which sanctioned the tournaments. Each year Thomas donated the coveted Otley Cup to the tourney champion. A paint manufacturer, he married Freda [Frieda] B. Miller of Grand Rapids on September 17, 1909. Thomas F. Otley II, born on August 19, 1916, was their son, and they had a daughter, Virginia, who was born in Chicago on January 28, 1914, married a Mr Lundberg, and died in Grand Haven on March 21, 1996. Thomas died January 27, 1938 at his home in Chicago. Freda was born about 1886 and resided at 407 Lake Avenue after her husband’s death. Benjamin Otley was Thomas’s brother.

Thomas Fryer Otley II [1916-2000]
Thomas F. Otley, a one-time resident of Grand Haven, died in Palm Coast, Florida on September 15, 2000. He was born on August 19, 1916, the son of Thomas and Freda Miller Otley I. The Otley cottage was located at 1407 Lake Avenue in Highland Park. Not long before his death Thomas had been honored by the Highland Park Tennis Association, which inaugurated the Otley Memorial Tennis Tournament. Thomas Otley I was one of the founders of the Highland Park Tennis Club. Thomas II was a member of the Elks and Masonic Lodges. He and his wife, Darlene, had two sons: James, who lived in Brighton, Livingston County, and Thomas F. Otley III, who was born on June 27, 1938.

Thomas Fryer Otley III [1938-1990]

Born on June 27, 1938 in Chicago, Thomas F. Otley graduated from Grand Haven High School and then received his bachelor degree at Western Michigan University. He was the son of Thomas and Darlene Otley. On February 8, 1960, Consumers Power Company made him Lakeshore District manager and responsible for planning, directing, and controlling five county districts. He married Pat Schuett on July 23, 1960 and they had two daughters, Erin and Caroline, and one son, Thomas IV. The Otleys lived in Spring Lake. Otley was a member of the Muskegon Economic Growth Alliance Board, the Employers Association Board, and the Muskegon County Community Energy Advisory Committee, and he was vice president of the Muskegon Chamber of Commerce Foundation, chair of the Muskegon Civic Theatre, chair of the Muskegon Rotary Club Classifications Committee, and co-chair of two United Way Campaigns. Thomas died on February 22, 1990 while playing tennis and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, February 23, 1990.]

Gene married Julia Warner on October 22, 1955. She was born July 2, 1937 and passed away on April 20, 2000. Gene was employed as an electrician for Whittaker Electric and Grand Haven Board of Light & Power. While working for the Board, Gene designed the Christmas Star, which is still displayed during the Holidays. Gene served with the Air Force during the Korean War and was a member of the local American Legion. He attended St. John’s Lutheran Church. Gene and Julia had two daughters, Sandra, who married Kurt Myers of Freesoil, Mason County, and Karen, who married Bruce Marshall of West Olive. They also had a son, Steven, who was born on June 19, 1958 and died on July 25, 1998, and another son, Richard, who moved to Canby, Oregon. Gene died on February 23, 2008 in Marquette, Marquette County. [Tribune obituary, February 27, 2008.]

Frank Ott [1898-1973]

Frank, the son of Julius and Magdalena Ott, was born on October 23, 1898. Julius lived from 1859 to 1920, and Magdalena from 1862-1931. Both were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Frank married Caecilia [Cecelia] Otilie Wacker on August 29, 1921. The daughter of Johanna and Anna Zacher Wacker, Caecilia was born in Chicago on May 15, 1904. The Otts resided at 1642 Waverly. Their children, all born in Michigan, were a daughter Ruth, who was born about 1922 and passed away in 2001; Raymond C., who was born around 1923 and died in 1962; and Howard, born about 1926. Frank, who was a metal worker at a foundry, died on March 8, 1973 and his wife died on March 26, 2002 in Grand Haven. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Rudolph Ottenstraer [1886-1968]

Born in Illinois on August 28, 1886, Rudolph Ottenstraer became a machinist in Grand Haven. He married Helen Wencek in Chicago on November 26, 1913. She was born on May 7, 1888 and died in Grand Haven on May 26, 1977. Rudolph died, also in Grand Haven, in February 1968. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had a daughter, Marie, who was born in Michigan about 1921. The family resided at 828 Washington.
Abel Outman [Oudman] [1851-1910]
Abel and Boutje “Bessie” Snyder Outman, natives of The Netherlands, arrived in the United States in 1880 and settled in Grand Haven at 621 North Fifth Street. Abel was born in The Netherlands on July 28, 1851 and Bessie in 1846. Among their children were Walter, born in October 1874, Effie, born in January 1877, and Merino “Menno,” in May 1881, just before the family left for America. Their other children, born locally, were Henrietta “Hattie,” born in 1887, Menno, born on April 19, 1888, and Elizabeth, born on October 16, 1893. Abel was listed as a teamster in the 1900 census. Menno was employed at the Higman Basket Factory. Walter died about May 5, 1911, Bessie passed away about August 12, 1929, and Menno died about February 6, 1963. All were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Abel died on January 14, 1910 in Grand Haven.

John Owens [Owens] [1847-1922]
The John Ovens farm was located in Section 14 of Olive Township. John, who arrived in the area in 1866, also raised livestock. He owned a total of about 200 acres. John was born in Canada on May 13, 1847 and died in Olive Township on July 29, 1922. He was reputed to have participated in Fenian’s Raid, an invasion of Canada by a small American group in June 1866. His wife, Caroline Eding, was born in Michigan and lived from March 1855 to 1921. They had a son, Freddie, who died on September 6, 1882, about three and half years old. Freddie and his parents were buried at Olive Cemetery. Another son, William, was born on August 18, 1887. They also had two daughters: Mamie, born in June 1884, and Maude, born in August 1892. All the children were born locally.

William J. Ovens [1887-1968]
Born on August 18, 1887, William, the son of John and Caroline Ovens, apparently inherited his father’s 250 acres, which was still in the family in 1930. On December 17, 1913 in Grand Haven, William married Maggie, daughter of John and Ida Zeerip Vander Meulen. Maggie was born on November 19, 1889 and died in Ottawa County on August 24, 1981. William died in Holland, Michigan on September 15, 1968. Both were buried at Olive Cemetery.

On February 16, 1865 in Grand Rapids, William enlisted in Company E of the 102nd U.S. Colored Infantry. He filed a pension application on December 14, 1888 and again in June 1891. He also resided in Ottawa County and Manistee after his discharge. William was born about 1833 [1827] in Louisiana. He died on February 14, 1899 and was buried at the Soldier’s Home in Grand Rapids.

Arthur William Page [1890-1975]
Born in Muskegon on July 3, 1890, Arthur Page and his wife, Lavinia, lived in Grand Haven before moving into a home at 102 Ann Street in Spring Lake around 1917. They resided there most of their married lives. John used his boat to deliver groceries along the shore of Spring Lake for Andy Falls. He also worked in the automobile industry. John died on April 6, 1975. Lavinia was born on July 8, 1895 in Michigan and passed away in Spring Lake in February 1979. Their children were Catherine B., born about July 1916, and Pauline M., born about July 1917.

Charles T. Pagelsen [Pagelson] [1830-1904]
Born July 1, 1830 on the Island of Sylt, Denmark, where his father was minister of the Lutheran Church, Charles Pagelsen was schooled in Denmark and when a young man twice sailed around the world on schooners and clippers. He journeyed up the Orinoco River in Venezuela in the early 1850s and visited other exotic places, nearly dying of Yellow Fever in the West Indies. In 1848, on a trip up the Mississippi River, Charles sailed Lake Michigan and came upon Grand Haven. He liked the area and gave up his sailing career but continued his interest in sailing by owning such ships as the brig Sebastopol, partly owned and piloted.
by Captain Harry Smith, who eventually settled in Grand Haven. By 1860 Charles was a resident of the area. He was admitted to the bar in 1866 and in 1867 he became Grand Haven’s first City Recorder, an office he held on and off until 1885. He also was circuit court commissioner for two terms, and he was justice of the peace until his death in 1904. In 1871 King Charles XV of Sweden appointed Charles Vice Consul of the State of Michigan for Sweden and Norway and a Knight of Wass. Charles was a firm believer in higher education, and all his children graduated from the University of Michigan. He was one of several Grand Haven residents to help organize St. John’s Lutheran Church in 1866. He was a member and secretary of the Masonic Lodge #189 and helped with its organization, the German Workingmen’s Society.

Charles married Ernestine [Earnestene] Kent of Grand Haven on December 8, 1858. She was born in Germany in January 1838 and came to the United States in 1857. They had several children, including Emily, who was born on October 15, 1859 and was one of the first women to graduate from the University of Michigan Medical School. Other children were Louise, who was born in 1877 and became one of the first women to graduate from the University of Michigan Dental School; Ed, an attorney, who was born November 3, 1866 and died in Panama City, Florida in July 1969; Otto, born about 1871; Henriette, who was born in Grand Haven on November 14, 1875; and Daniel F., who was born in Grand Haven on September 26, 1873. The family lived at 415 Lake Avenue. Charles died on March 6, 1904. His wife lived from 1838 to 1933. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 7, 1904.]

Daniel F. Pagelsen [1873-1939]

Born in Grand Haven on September 26, 1873, Daniel was the son of Charles T. and Ernestine Kent Pagelsen. He attended local schools, graduated from Concordia College in Milwaukee, graduated from Michigan Agricultural College [MSU], and studied law at the University of Michigan, where he graduated in 1898. He had the distinction of being the first man from Grand Haven to make the University of Michigan football team. Daniel returned to Grand Haven, joined the law office of Walter I. Lillie, and studied law under him for two years. He was Ottawa County circuit court commissioner. Daniel was credited with saving a young Louisville woman from drowning in Spring Lake. Upon his father’s death in 1904, Daniel became Vice Consul of Michigan for Sweden. He was agent for the U.S. Fidelity & Guarantee Company of Baltimore. He and his wife, Nancy, lived at 411 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven. Daniel died January 31, 1939.

A daughter of Charles T. and Ernestine Kent Pagelsen, Louise distinguished herself by being one of the first women to graduate from the University of Michigan School of Dentistry. She set up practice in Detroit. Louise was born in 1877 and graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1894. She died about January 19, 1966 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Margaret “Emily” F. Pagelsen [1859-1944]

Born on October 15, 1859 in Grand Haven, Emily was a daughter of Charles T. and Ernestine Kent Pagelsen. She was a member of the first class to graduate from Grand Haven High School in 1876, and she was one of the first women to graduate from the University of Michigan School of Medicine. She opened a successful practice in Boston, where she married Herbert B. Howard on October 1, 1886. He also was a physician. He and his brother Adelbert opened a retail business in Nunica under the name Parkhurst Brothers. William also worked for John B. Perham. He died in Nunica in 1915. He married Olive E. Cole in Spring Lake on January 3, 1875. She lived from June 1845 to 1916. Their children included Florence, born in December 1882, and Ola, born in June 1885. William and Olive both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

George B. Parks I [1817-1880]

Born in Cayuga County, New York on October 17, 1817, George was the eighth child of Robert and Polly Smith Parks. Robert lived from February 12, 1776 to June 29, 1863 and Polly died on June 30, 1844. The family moved to the Detroit area, where they arrived on May 23, 1823. George moved on to Grand Haven with his wife in August 1844. In 1852 he erected a two-story commercial building two doors west of the Washington House, near the site of the later Grand Theater. In 1855 he erected another building in the neighborhood of the Washington House, which became the offices of the Grand River Times, county clerk, register of deeds, county treasurer, and the post office. Captain Parks was County supervisor and owned the schooner Michigan, which made its trial trip down the Grand River on May 17, 1853. The Michigan operated as a passenger boat between Grand Rapids and Grand Haven. He was elected treasurer of Ottawa County in 1854 and served several terms. He also was justice of the peace. His office was located in his home. George was charter member of the Ottawa County Agricultural Society. In 1862 he became a Trustee of the new Grand Haven Union High School. Working with Ebenezer W. Barnes, he went into the freight forwarding business in 1864, and was affiliated with Captain Jesse Ganoe in the Grand Haven & Grand Rapids steamboat line. Also in 1864 he was elected judge of probate. On April 1, 1867 the new City Council of Grand Haven met for the first time and George was elected mayor. About the same time, George and his son Byron W. built the first steam-powered planing mill in Grand Haven for the production of shingles, blinds, doors, and window sashes. It was a short-lived business. Byron became a bookkeeper.

George married Permelia Wattles in Troy, Oakland County on January 14, 1840. Born in New York State on December 15, 1819, she was the daughter of Alexander and Mercia Bennett Wattles. Reynolds of Grand Haven. The family lived at 225 Franklin Street. George passed away on November 27, 1880 and his wife died on December 29, 1891. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery in the family plot.

George B. “Burt” Parks II [1852-1907]

Born in Grand Haven on November 13, 1852, George was the son of George and Permelia Wattles Parks. Known as Burt, young Parks was educated in the Grand Haven school system and started in the railroad business when he was 20. He was cashier for the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee Railroad Company. Being in poor health and needing a warmer climate, he spent some early years as a cowboy between Nebraska and Utah. Upon returning to Grand Haven, he became Purser for the Goodrich Lines and the steamer Michigan. On March 19, 1885, this steamer became imprisoned in the ice many miles offshore from South Haven. The crew made its way to shore by walking over the ice flows. The Michigan went to the bottom before it could be saved.

On October 15, 1879, Burt married Frances “Frankie” Boyce of Lowell, Kent County. She was born April 17, 1854. He served at different times as assistant collector of customs for the Port of Grand Haven; was one of the original organizers of the Grand Haven Street Railway Company in 1895; and had an interest in the Spring Lake Boat Line, which operated the Fanny M. Rose and the Hazel. Burt died May 18, 1907, and Frances passed away on April 23, 1929. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other members of the Parks family. [Tribune article, May 18, 1907.]

Paul H. Parks I [1919-2003]
Born in Chicago, Illinois on March 8, 1919, Paul was the son of Burritt A. and Helen Parks. The family spent summers at a cottage they purchased about 1900 in Highland Park in Grand Haven. By 1930 the family was living in Grand Rapids but continued to use the cottage. It was while visiting Highland Park that he met his future wife, Jane McCrea, the daughter of Fred and Gladys McCrea. Paul and Jane were married in 1943 at St. John’s Episcopal Church. During WWII Paul worked for Pratt & Whitney Engine Company in Hartford, Connecticut, helping maintain armed forces aircraft. He and Jane made the family cottage at 111 Poplar Trail their permanent home in 1945. The cottage was winterized and remodeled to make it suitable for year-round living. Paul worked as a mechanical engineer for Eagle Ottawa in Grand Haven, Wolverine World Wide in Rockford, and Whitehall Leather Company in Whitehall, where he retired in 1978. He also was Plant Engineer for the Genesco Corporation.

Paul was an ardent environmentalist, particularly regarding the Great Lakes. He fought against offshore drilling for oil and gas beneath the Great Lake. He was an avid sailor and boater and was commander of the Grand Rapids Power Squadron. He also volunteered for the Ottawa Shores Humane Society.

Ida Parpart [1907-2001]
A few years after the Spring Lake Village Hall was constructed in 1937 the library was given a room there. After Avis Stults retired in 1964, she was replaced by Ida Parpart. Ida, who worked at the library for more than eight years, retired in 1972. She was born on December 19, 1907 and died in Spring Lake on July 15, 2001. She and her husband, Herbert, resided at 211 South Lake Street. Herbert passed away around April 1, 1957. He and Ida were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Charles Parrisien [Duverney] [@1881-1947]
Charles Diverney, the son of William and Lucy Aiken [Aken] Duverney, was listed in the 1908 Durant Roll with his wife, Gertrude Shagonaby, who was the same age as her husband and was separated from her first husband, Louis Louis. Charles and Gertie were married in Honor, Benzie County, on March 16, 1907. The daughter of Francis and Mary Shagonaby [Shagonabe, Schagondy], she was born about 1880 and died in 1963. She and Louis had one child, Maggie, and possibly two more [the names of the children were ambiguous in the Durant Roll]; George, born about 1903, and Lucy, born about 1905. Charles died in 1947 and was buried at St Anthony Catholic Cemetery in Mancelona, Antrim County. Jean Baptiste Parrisien was cited as Charles’s grandfather.

Jean Baptiste Parrisien [Perissien, Parisione, Parrissien and other spellings] [1812-1912]
Jean Baptiste Parrisien, a Chippewa Indian and voyageur, in 1835 canoed from Mackinac Island to Grand Haven with his mother and stepsister, Josette Derosier. The year after his arrival, Jean Baptiste became the first mail carrier between Grand Rapids and Grand Haven. He followed Indian trails, starting at a little frame building that stood near the southeast corner of Washington and Second Streets, then proceeded in a southerly direction to Rosy Mound, roughly following today’s Lakeshore Drive, thence southeasterly to Allendale, Georgetown, and Jenison. Between 1836 and 1841 Jean carried the mail twice a week along that route on foot. He later entered the service of Nathan White, carrying mail between the Grand Haven Company and sawmills in Grandville. On one occasion, around 1838, he carried $6,000 cash for Clark Albee from Grand Haven to St. Joseph. Wrapped in a blanket and strapped to his back, the cash was equivalent to about $154,000 in today’s money. He delivered it without mishap.

Jean was born in Lac du Flambeau [Torch Lake], Vilas County, Wisconsin, on December 22, 1812. His father was of French heritage and his mother was Ojibway. He was brought up on an Indian reservation in northern Wisconsin until he was six or eight, when he moved with his mother to Sault Ste. Marie. When he was 16, they moved to Mackinac Island, where he again lived among the Indians and eventually married Madeline Magoligau McGulpin there. A member of the Grand River Bands of Ottawa Indians, she lived from 1825 to April 10, 1908. By 1850 Jean and his family were living in Ottawa Township [now Grand Haven Township], where they owned a farm, adjacent to the Charles Dushane property. Ten years later, still living on the farm, Madeline was noted as being Indian while the “Color” column for Jean and the children was left blank, signifying that they were considered White.

A daughter, Josephine, was born to Jean and Madeline in Hart on January 8, 1872. She married Charles Rumsey [Runsey/Ramsey] in Grand Haven on January 3, 1900. Other children were Charles, who lived from 1840 to 1844; John, who lived from 1850 to 1909; Patrick, who was born in 1851 and died in 1922; William, born in August 1858 [1855], was living with Charles and Eliza Duvernay in 1860 and died in 1917; Julia, who was born in 1857; Victoria, who lived from 1859 to 1861; Charles, who was born about April 1860 and lived until 1909; Mary, who was born about 1863 in Grand Haven, apparently was adopted by the Parrisiens and married William Vandenberg of Grand Haven; and Isaac, who was born in 1873.

Jean was listed in the 1859 Annuity Roll for Grand River Ottawas as a member of Chief Payshawsegay’s Band. Under the name Jn. B. Perissa, he was given $9.59 in that Roll. Appearing as John B. Pennisa as one of Payshawsegay’s Band he was given $17.10. In the 1865 Roll his name was cited as J. B. Penissaw. He remained a member of Payshawsegay’s Band and received $24.50. Jean was included in the 1870 Indian Census and Annuity Roll, and as a member of Chief Payshawsegay’s Band of Ottawas he received $122.40. In the 1908 Durant Roll he was again noted as being a member of the Grand River Bands. At that time Jean lived with his daughter, Mary Vandenberg, at 619 Monroe Street in Grand Haven. In the Durant Roll the family names was spelled Perrissien. In 1908 in Grand Haven, Jean received about $21.18 as his share of the Indian annuity allotted that year. Jean was among those who purchased land set aside for Indians and sold it to White settlers.

Son John at the time of the 1908 Durant Roll was living in Honor, Benzie County. His wife was deceased. He was a member of the Grand River Bands of Ottawa Indians.

Another son, Patrick, appeared in the 1908 Durant Roll as well, 57 years old. He resided in Hart, Oceana County, with his wife, who was White, and two of their three children: Roy, 15 years old, and William, 10 years old. The third child, Pearl, resided in Elbridge Township. Like his older brother, John, Patrick was a member of the Grand River Ottawas.

A note in the 1908 Roll said of a third son, Isaac, that he “has not been heard from.”

Two years before he died, Jean sang “a Chippewa cradle song” for Albert Gale. Albert Gale of Albion was said to be “an authority on Indian music.” While Jean sang, Albert wrote down the music and called it “a beauty, far ahead of my expectations.” The music was played at the Unitarian Church in Grand Haven on Friday night, February 4, 1910. [Tribune article, “Written Indian Song,” February 2, 1910.]
In 1999 a descendant of Jean’s lived as far away as Arizona. By then the spelling of the family name had changed to Perysian. Jean died on September 8, 1912 at his home in Grand Haven. [Tribune obituaries, April 10, 1908 and September 9, 1912.]

At the time of Jean’s death, Mayor Charles W. Cotton of Grand Haven issued this statement: “By the death of Jean Baptiste Parrisien, the city of Grand Haven has lost one of its most valued citizens. Not only was he the oldest living inhabitant of our city, but he alone was the connecting link between the Present and the Past—our present civilization and the day of the pioneer.

“For generations he has been pointed out to us and to our children as an example of honesty and integrity, and now that he has gone it is proper and fitting that the citizens of the city should show that respect due one whose life has been of such great benefit.

“Therefore I would recommend that all the flags of in the city be at half mast during the funeral and as many as possible accompany the remains to the last resting place.”

The Parrisien and Duvernay families of Grand Haven had a close relationship, and occasionally the distinction between the two was blurred. See William Parrisien [Duvernay] as an example.

William Parrisien [Duvernay] [1858-1917]

William Duvernay’s entry in the 1908 Durant Roll noted that he also was known as William Parrisien [Perissieu]. It is probable that the individual listed was the son of Jean Baptiste and Madeline McGulpin Parrisien of Grand Haven, and thus was part Chippewa. Appearing in the Roll with William was his wife, Angeline Wahbuscum [Wambuscum], age 50, and their children: Levi, 16 years old; Josephine, 13; John 12; William, 9; Moses, 4, and Frank, 2. William’s first wife, Lucy Aken [Aikin] was deceased. The family resided in Honor, Benzie County. Angeline was a member of the Traverse Bands of Indians, while William belonged to the Grand Rivers Bands. They had a son, Charles, who was born in 1881 and went by the name Duvernay. In 1900 William and his family lived in Almira, Benzie County. William, who worked as a laborer, was born in August 1858. With him were Angeline, born in June 1871; Levi, born in Suttons Bay on March 7, 1893; Josephine, born in May 1895; and John, born in May 1898.

Levi was born in Suttons Bay on March 7, 1893. In 1917 he was working as a “woodsman” in Phelps, Wisconsin. At the time of the 1930 Federal Census he was an inmate at a state prison in Waupun, Wisconsin.

James Manley Patchin [Patchen] [1803-1883]

Born in New York [Vermont] in 1803, J. Manley Patchin was an early settler in Crockery Township, arriving there from Grandville in 1836. With one of his brothers, Manley worked for Ringuette & Boland Sawmill. He was credited with floating the first pine logs down Crockery Creek to the Grand River in 1836. On August 1, 1837 he bought 40 acres in Section 24 of Georgetown Township and he purchased another 40 acres on November 2 the same year. On June 1, 1848 he purchased 80 acres in Section 3 of Crockery Township. Manley later added property in Sections 19, 20, 29, and 30 in Crockery, and he also owned acreage bordering the bayou that originally carried his name but was renamed Lloyd’s Bayou. Manley farmed his land, and he was in the lumber business. His wife, Julia, was born in Ireland around 1826. They had five children living at home in 1880, all born in Michigan: James, born about 1851; Edward, born about 1853; Julia, born about 1860; George, born about 1856; and Harry, born about 1869. Other children, also born in Michigan, were Lyman, born abut 1854, and Richard, born about 1856. Carrie Patchin, a Grand Haven school teacher born in 1857, probably was another daughter, and Dr. D. W. Patchin of Spring Lake may have been yet another relative. Manley died on June 9, 1883 in Grand Rapids and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Kent County.

Sarah Caroline Patten [1832-1921]

See Sarah C. Savidge.

Frank Raymond Patrick [1878-1961]
Around 1938 Frank Patrick purchased Haven Laundry at 401-403 Fulton. A year or two later he moved the business to 208 Columbus. Frank was born in Vandalia, Cass County on September 6, 1878. On June 18, 1902 he married Maud Ella Buyce in Allegan. Maud, also a native of Michigan was born on August 1, 1878 in Allegan. In 1930 the couple resided in Niles, where Frank was listed as a “laundry man.” When he registered for the WWII draft, he gave his address as 729 Washington Street in Grand Haven and his business as Haven Laundry, then located at 201 Columbus Street. Maud’s name was not cited. She died in Grand Haven on August 27, 1945. Frank passed away on October 28, 1961. They were buried at Mona View Cemetery in Muskegon Heights.

Isabelle [Isabella] “Belle” B. Patterson [1847-1930]

Born in Scotland on December 25, 1847, Belle Patterson immigrated to the United States in 1851. In the 1880s she took over Louisa Bentham’s millinery shop at 213 West Savidge Street in Spring Lake. By 1900 she was operating a millinery shop and residing in the first Washington Street in Grand Haven. Eight years later she was still in the millinery business and living at 113 First Street. Belle, the daughter of Scott and Catherine Patterson of Spring Lake, died on March 17, 1930 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. She lived with her mother after Scott’s death in 1877, and then moved in with her sister Catherine and Catherine’s husband, William Barrett, after their mother died in 1880. By 1920 she was in her own home on Park Street.

Len R. Patterson [1866-1940]

Shortly after moving with his mother, Julia Haskins Patterson, from Grand Rapids to the Spring Lake area, Len Patterson started a fruit farm on nearly 12 acres in Section 11 of Spring Lake Township [approximately 17901 Fruitport Road, formerly the site of the Lorimer Hotel]. Len’s wife’s sister, Louise Orchardson Lorimer, had operated the resort from 1911 to 1919, the year the hotel was destroyed by fire. Len also had a successful career as a building contractor. He built two cottages on Lloyd’s Bayou in 1903 and the Presbyterian Manse at 205 East Savidge three years later. In 1911 his bid to build Ferrysburg School was accepted. Len was a charter member of the Spring Lake Yacht Club. On January 8, 1898 in Spring Lake, Len married Flora “Mabel” Orchardson. Len was born in Sterling, New York on December 24, 1866 and died on October 31, 1940, while Mabel, a Spring Lake native, lived from September 16, 1872 to April 29, 1937. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Mabel and Louise Orchardson Lorimer were sisters.

Marvin R. Patterson [1917-2002]

Marvin, the son of Jerome and Myrtle Brooks Patterson, was born in Muskegon on May 11, 1917. He and Pearl Elizabeth Powers were married in that city on May 29, 1942. Pearl was born about 1922. After graduating from Muskegon Heights High School and the Mergenthaler School of Printing, Marvin attended John Hopkins University, where he earned a business degree. He saved enough money selling newspapers to start Patterson Press in Muskegon in 1930. Thirteen years later, prior to joining the 80th Division of the Army during WWII, he sold the business. While in the service, Marvin earned a Bronze Star. He moved to Grand Haven in 1947 and purchased a partnership in the JR Pippel Printing Company Four years later the business name was changed to Pippel Patterson. Eventually Marvin bought John R. Pippel’s and Jack Reichardt’s interests in the firm and became sole owner. Marvin was a Rotarian and earned the Paul Harris Fellow Award. He also was involved in scouting, and he served as president of the Chamber of Commerce and the Grand Haven School Board, was chair of the Grand Haven Parks & Recreation Board, and Trustee of Adrian College. He was commissioned as a Stephens Minister. Marvin served on the Grand Haven Area Community Foundation and on the Y.M.C.A. and United Methodist Church of the Dunes Building Committees. He and Pearl resided at 1213 South Beechtree. Marvin passed away on August 17, 2002. Their children were Phyllis Dickmann, Diane Lehman, Tom Patterson, and Doug Patterson. [Tribune obituary, August 22, 2002.]

Scott Patterson [Pattersen] [1800-1877]

Scott Patterson was born on December 8, 1800 in Scotland, relocated to Spring Lake in 1860, and died in the Village on March 2, 1877. His wife, Catherine, also a native of Scotland, was born on December 16, 1811, and died on October 22, 1880. Scott was the first station master of the Detroit & Milwaukee Railway Depot in Spring Lake. The Pattersons’ daughter, Catherine, was born in Canada on December 11, 1856, came to Spring Lake with her parents, and married William Barrett, also of Spring Lake. Another daughter, Isabella, was born on December 25, 1847 and became a milliner in Spring Lake and Grand Haven. After Scott’s death, Catherine and Isabella resided together. Scott and Catherine were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

A daughter, Castella R., was born in 1902 and married Clinton H, Kitto in Grand Haven on June 6, 1925. Clinton, born in 1902, lived in Flint. Thomas was a laborer at a local stamping factory. He and Elizabeth were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

James William Payne [1882-1929]
James, the son of Joseph and Eliza Ann Deremo Payne, was born in Fruitport on May 2, 1882. On October 28, 1902, in Ottawa County, he married Letty [Letta] Adello, the daughter of John Quincy and Isabella Sarah Hale Deremo. Letty and James were cousins. Letty was born in Crockery Township on November 3, 1884. She and James lived on a 20-acre farm in Grand Haven Township, which grew to 30 acres by 1918. Of their six children, only one remained in Ottawa County: Floyd James Payne, who was born at Grays Harbor, Washington on February 28, 1909 and died in November 1987 in Grand Haven. James Payne died on August 8, 1929 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Letty then married John Goldberg in 1931 and moved to Florida. Nine years later she married Lewis McCune, who was born about 1880. Letty died in Michigan in 1986.

Frederick Forest Peabody [1858-1927]
The son of Elve Chamberlain and Susa Lucretia Brown Peabody, Frederick was born on July 4, 1858 in Northfield, Vermont. As a young man he entered into a partnership with the Cluett family and formed Cluett, Peabody & Company, Inc. The firm manufactured Arrow detachable cuffs and collars for men’s shirts and later produced Arrow shirts. In 1915 Frederick hired Joseph C. Leyendecker [1874-1951], a noted American illustrator, and launched a nationwide advertising campaign. Leyendecker’s work established the “Arrow Collar Man,” and soon Arrow shirts became a household name throughout the country. In 1904 Frederick built a summer home in the northeast corner of Spring Lake [18777 Fruitport Road, Section 2]. The home was destroyed by fire in the winter of 2003. In 1909 Frederick and Jacob Dornbos helped start Peoples Savings Bank in Grand Haven. He and his wife, Sarah Blanche Griffith had seven children. They resided in Chicago and Evanston, Illinois. By the time Frederick died in Santa Barbara, California on February 23, 1927, he was known for his philanthropy.

Alton C. [C. Alton] Pearson [Pearsons] [1855-1928]

Alton, the son of Harrison C. and Mary M. Pearson, was born in New York in 1855. Alton helped start the Spring Lake Clinker Boat Manufacturing Company and was its first vice president. He and his wife Helene moved to Duluth, Minnesota, were he died on January 11, 1928 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. His wife Helene lived from 1858 to 1948 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Harrison C. Pearson [Pierson] [1819-1898]

Ship builder Harrison Pearson left Ogdensburg, St. Lawrence County, New York in 1866 and started a shipyard in Ferrysburg. He had so many orders that he often employed 100 ships’ carpenters at a time. The first year Harrison built the tug Hunter Savidge for William M. Ferry II and Captain Heber Squier and the tug E.P. Ferry for the man whose name she bore, Edward Payson Ferry. Ottawa Iron Works built the engine and Johnston Brothers of Ferrysburg provided the boilers. Later Harrison built the brig F. M. Knapp for a man by that name in Racine, Wisconsin, and in 1867 another brig, the major Noah H. Ferry, named for Edward P. Ferry’s brother. Harrison invented a solar attachment to the surveyor’s transit and improvements to the propeller wheel, along with other creations. The shipyard closed in 1872. For the next 12 years he served as U.S. inspector of hulls.

Harrison was born on January 25, 1819 and died on March 19, 1898. His wife, Mary M., also a native of New York, died on April 7, 1897 at the age of 75. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. C. Alton Pearson, born in New York in 1858, was their son. Other children were Eva, who was born in New York around 1859 and became a music teacher, and Harry, born in New York about 1866. The family resided in Ferrysburg.

C. H. Peck [? - ?]

As early as January 1856, Peck was proprietor of the Mill Point Drug Store in Spring Lake. Approximately two years later Dr. James Singer, who had been the pharmacist, took over the business.

Emmet H. Peck [1858-1922]

Born March 17, 1858 on a farm one mile from Coopersville, Emmet Peck attended classes in the Old Brown Schoolhouse near his home. When he was 16 years old, he and some other boys cut 100 cords of wood and earned 35 cents a cord. With that money, he purchased a book on North American Birds. At age 21, Emmet was stricken with spinal meningitis and then seriously injured by a runaway horse. During his convalescence he busied himself by stuffing as many varieties of birds as he could secure and mounting them in cases. His work resulted in one of the best private collections of birds in this part of Michigan. At age 23, he and his brother, Albert V., engineered and constructed 56 miles of railroad from Goshen, Indiana to Benton Harbor, Berrien County. Albert lived from 1842 to 1912. Emmet continued working for numerous railroads in various positions and in 1888 was elected County Surveyor of Ottawa County and held that position for 34 years. He surveyed most of Holland, Zeeland, Grand Haven, and Spring Lake. Emmet lived with his widowed mother, Julia Peck. Julia was born in New York around 1818. She had six children, beside Emmet.

On July 17, 1897 in Grand Rapids, Emmet married Mary Clark. They lived on the Scott farm, which he later purchased. After Mary’s death in 1911 at the age of 36 he married Flora Burke, who came from Indiana, where she was born in 1868. Emmet was president of Coopersville Bank for eight years and also served on the School Board. He died on April 18, 1922 and was buried at Coopersville Cemetery. Flora died in 1944 and also was buried at Coopersville Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, April 18, 1922.]

Baltus [Baldus, Boltus] Pellegrom [Pilgrim] [1858-1946]

Born in Michigan September 1858, Baltus Pellegrom was the son of Mathias and Jane Pellegrom of Grand Haven. Baltus worked on the railroad before becoming a ship’s carpenter and then a building contractor. He was hired in the late 1890s to construct the Nat Robbins mansion at the northeast corner of Franklin and Fifth Streets. In 1887 Baltus was chosen first lieutenant of Company F of the Grand Haven Guards. By 1894 he was captain of the company, which then was part of the Second Infantry. He served on the Grand Haven City Council from 1910 to 1913 and again from 1929 to 1932.

Baltus was married twice. He married Sarah Jane Busby in Grand Haven on April 19, 1882. She was born in Canada in 1859 and died on January 28, 1883, less than a year after their wedding. Their one child, an unnamed daughter, died on January 24, 1883 at the age of two months. On September 19, 1888, Baltus married Mary Jane, the daughter of Joseph and Fanny Anne Cook Palmer of Grand Haven. Mary Jane lived from November 1859 to 1930. The Pellegroms had a son Howard, born on January 9, 1893; another son, Nelson, born on December 30, 1894; and a daughter Ruth, born on November 1, 1901. The Pellegroms made their home at 421 Columbus, later the site of the Community Center. Baltus died around September 15, 1946 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as were his two wives.

Gerrit Pellegrom I [1850-1903]

In 1874 Gerrit Pellegrom immigrated to Grand Haven from his native Netherlands, where he was born in September 1850. As early as 1876 he purchased small parcels of land in the City of Grand Haven, and by 1889 he owned a 128-acre farm in Section 3 of Grand Haven Township, at the west end of Potawatomi Bayou, but by 1910 had sold 28 acres to William Van Drezer. Gerrit died in Grand Haven on December 24, 1903 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On October 27, 1875 in Grand Haven, he married Maggie Sleutel, a Michigan native, who lived from April 1858 to 1916. She was buried in the same plot as her husband. Among their children, all born in Michigan, were Phillip, born about 1876; Minnie, born on September 29, 1877; Peter, who was born in August 1880 and on September 7, 1905 married Dena Van Burg in Grand Haven; William, who was born on September 13, 1883 and on May 30, 1906 married Minnie Singerling; Gerrit II, commonly known as Harry, born on December 31, 1884; John Henry, who was born on July 24, 1886; Margaret, born in February 1889; Marian, born in March 1893; Addo, a son, born in August 1895; Edward, born on May 24, 1897; and Leon, who was born in Grand Haven in 1901 and married Angie Bonema in Grand Haven on March 30, 1921. Marian married Grand Haven resident Nicholas Vyn, whose wife had died six years earlier. After Maggie’s death, her son Harry took title to the land in Section 3 of Grand Haven Township.

Gerrit “Harry” Pellegrom II [1884-1968]

On April 10, 1935 in Grand Haven, Gerrit “Harry” Pellegrom married Iva Odren Badge. Harry, the son of Gerrit and Maggie Sleutel Pellegrom, was born in Grand Haven on December 31, 1884. He passed away on November 9, 1968. After the death of his parents, Harry took title to the land in Section 3 of Grand Haven Township. Iva, who had been married previously, lived from 1903 to 1990. The couple was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Hendrik “Henry” Pellegrom I [1853-1917]

Born in February 1853 in The Netherlands, Henry was the son of Mathias and Jantje Van Weelden Pellegrom of Grand Haven. Henry became general superintendent of the Milwaukee Elevator Company. He married Hester [Esther] O. Vande Meiden, who was born in The Netherlands in 1853. The Pelligroms resided at 215 Lafayette in Grand Haven. Among Henry’s and Hester’s children, all born in Michigan, were Jennie, who...

Howard H. Pellegrom [1893-1938]

The son of Baltus and Mary Jane Pellegrom, Howard was born in Grand Haven on June 9, 1893. He served as first lieutenant with Company F of the 126th Infantry during WWI and afterward. According to cemetery records he was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. His wife, Jo, the daughter of Leonard and Tan Fisher of Grand Haven, was born about 1895 in Michigan. By the mid-1920s Howard was president of the Addison, Pellegrom, & Colson Furniture and Undertaking Company, located at 304-306 Washington. Edward D. Kinkema later joined the furniture store as partner. Howard died in 1938 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Johannes “John” Pellegrom [Pellegram, Pilgrim] [1870-1917]

John Pellegrom married Sena [Stijntje] Beekman in 1889. The daughter of Elbert and Aartje “Alice” Van Den Hoek Beekman, Sena was born in Gelderland, The Netherlands, on October 1, 1870, immigrated to the United States with her parents when she was two, and died in Grand Haven in 1957. John, also a native of The Netherlands, was born in May 1870 and arrived in the United States in 1884. The Pellegroms owned a 35-acre farm in Section 33 of Grand Haven Township. Their children were Bertha, born in January 1891, Molly [Nellie], born on November 21, 1896; and Aartge, born on November 15, 1902. John died about December 31, 1917 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Henry Pellegrom [1886-1964]

John Henry Pellegrom, who was born on July 24, 1886 in Grand Haven, on September 4, 1913 married Marie Strahsburg, the daughter of William and Maria Leiscert Strahsburg of Grand Haven Township. John was the son of Gerrit and Maggie Sleutel Pellegrom of Grand Haven. John worked as a polisher at Grand Haven Brass Foundry. He and Marie resided at 1215 Pennoyer Street. They had six children, including Edwin, who lived from 1914 to 2007. John died on January 25, 1964 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Marie lived from 1885 to 1953 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Mathias [Matthew] J. Pellegrom [1823-1907]

In 1868 a new Ottawa House was built on the northeast corner of First and Fulton Streets [Lot 92, 105 Fulton], replacing the one located at 1 Washington Street that had burned down in 1860. Mathias Pellegrom was proprietor until at least 1892. Born in The Netherlands in February 1823, Mathias left Rotterdam for the Port of New York and arrived in Grand Haven around June 1855. He married Jantje [Jentje] “Janey” [Jeanette] Van Weelden in 1849. She lived from February 1826 to approximately September 25, 1907. They had 11 children, all born in Michigan, except Hendrick, who was born in The Netherlands in February 1853. The others were Baltus, who was born in September 1858; Katherine, who was born on August 26, 1862 and, on February 22, 1911, married Edward Vaupell in Grand Haven; Minnie [Hermina], who was born on August 26, 1862 and married Albert Ryisdorp, a Grand Haven dentist; Ella, born in July 1866; and Gertrude [Geertje], who was born about 1870 and married James J. Danhof, a Grand Haven attorney. Mathias died about May 2, 1907 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife.

Nelson Pellegrom [1894-1957]

Nelson, the son of Baltus and Mary Jane Palmer Pellegrom, was born in Grand Haven on December 30, 1894. He and his wife, Margaret, resided at 302 Sherman. They were married about 1928. Among their children were Rodger, born about July 1929, and Nelson II “Sandy,” who was born on September 26, 1933 and passed away in Spring Lake on February 13, 2004. Nelson, a tanner, was employed at Eagle Ottawa.
Margaret lived from March 6, 1906 to August 21, 1987. She also died in Spring Lake. Nelson died about December 14, 1957. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Ruth Pellegrom [1901-1977]

The daughter of Baltus and Mary Jane Palmer Pellegrom, Ruth was a music teacher in Grand Haven for half a century. She graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1919 and obtained a degree from Hope College four years later. Ruth, a native of Grand Haven, lived from November 1, 1901 to November 29, 1977.

William H. Pellegrom [1878-1962]

William, the son of Henry and Hester Pellegrom, was born in Grand Haven on January 1, 1878. He married Lilly, the daughter of Marshall and Emma Finch McCluer. Lilly was born on December 1, 1884 and died on July 3, 1953. William, who was Cashier at Peoples Bank, died on April 21, 1962. The Pellegroms resided at 319 East Savidge in Spring Lake. A son, Marshall H., was born on January 2, 1910 and died in Spring Lake on January 21, 1982. William, Lilly, and Marshall were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Aldridge Wells Pelton [1847-1917]

Listed as a “Farmer and Stockraiser” in the 1912 Atlas, Aldridge Pelton’s 80 acres was located in Section 33 of Robinson Township. He was born in March 1848 in Ohio and arrived in the Ottawa County area in 1865. On July 5, 1870, in Robinson Township, Aldridge married Maria Ann, the daughter of Alonzo and Dorliska Prentice of Robinson Township. Maria was born in New York in March 1850. Their six children included Elmer Nathan [Nathan Elmer], who was born on September 10, 1871 in Ottawa County, served as private in Company F, 32nd Michigan Infantry, during the Spanish American War, married Ada Ball in Grand Haven on April 3, 1902, died in Grand Rapids on June 2, 1942, and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery; Jason, who was born on January 1, 1874; Ada, August 1876 to 1942; Otis, February 16, 1880 to 1928; Arminta, January 1, 1885 to September 2, 1979; and Cort, July 7, 1889 to August 1962. Arminta married Hugo Kuhlman on November 19, 1904 in Chicago, and Cort married Nettie Freh in 1918. Nettie was born on December 31, 1900 and died in Robinson Township on August 17, 1980.

Fred O. Pelton [1908-1987]

In the late 1940s Fred Pelton and his wife, Alice S., resided at 318 Wallace, which became 318 South Beacon Boulevard in the mid-1950s. Around 1940 Fred owned and operated Fred Pelton’s Super Service gas station at 200 North Seventh Street. The business also was called Pelton’s Deluxe Service Station and Fred’s Super Service. He was still at the Seventh Street address in 1957. By 1969 he was running a lawnmower repair shop with his son at 1318 Fulton. Fred was born on January 7, 1908 and died in Robinson Township on October 8, 1987. Alice lived from December 27, 1909 to May 24, 1990. Fred was the son of Jason and Nellie Stearns Pelton of Robinson Township.

Jason Aldrige Pelton [1874-1918]

The son of Aldridge and Maria Ann Prentice Pelton, Jason was born in Robinson Township on January 1, 1874. He served with Company F of the 32nd Michigan Infantry during the Spanish American War. On January 1, 1900 he married Nellie, the daughter of Charles and Maria Elizabeth Stearns. Jason and Nellie settled on an acre of land in Robinson Township. They opened a grocery store in the front of their home in the early 1900s. The first telephone switchboard in the Robinson Township area was installed in their home as well, with Nellie as the operator. She lived from 1878 to 1967. Jason died in 1918.

William N. Penn [Penne] [@1810-?]

Closely associated with Hezekiah Lucinda Smith and living nearby on Smith’s Bayou were William and Hester Penn. William Penn was born in Virginia [Ohio] about 1810 [1815]. Hester was born in Virginia in 1807 [1820] and died on February 12, 1892 in Grand Rapids of a brain tumor. She was buried at Valley City Cemetery in Grand Rapids [now part of Oakhill Cemetery]. On August 1, 1853, the same day that Hezekiah bought 40 acres in Section 10 of Spring Lake Township, William purchased Lot 5 in the same section.
William then was working for Henry Pennoyer as a cook at the Washington House in downtown Grand Haven [12 Washington Street]. In her journal, Lettie Teeple wrote of him, “He was a great grumbler which caused either merriment or discontent among the help.” [“Between Hope and Fear,” Michigan History, Fall and Winter 1974 issues.] Henry operated the hotel between 1852 and 1856. In 1860 William was still a cook, and Hester worked as a servant. An undated newspaper article said of her, “[She] had been reared in a wealthy Southern family and was one of the most agreeable colored women that has ever come under the writer’s observation.” [Kitchel, p. 185.]

In the 1860 census the Penns were living on 80 acres in Section 10 of Spring Lake Township, just north of Hezekiah. William, Benjamin Campbell, and eight White worshipers established the First Baptist Church in Spring Lake on December 7, 1867. Three years later William and Hester were living with Hezekiah and Lucinda Smith. William was classified as a farmer and Hester as housekeeper. The couple was still located in Section 10 in 1880, although by 1876 William’s land holdings were reduced to less than 40 acres. The 1880 census listed him as a Milk Peddler. Living in 1880 with William and Hester was Phillip Smith, who was born in Canada about 1864. There is no indication Phillip was related to the Penns’ neighbors, Hezekiah and Lucinda Smith.

Hester died about February 18, 1892 of a brain tumor. Her obituary said she had lived in Grand Haven for 35 years. She was 85 years old. [Tribune obituary, February 19, 1892.]

Augustus Pennoyer [Penoyer] [1810-1841]

See O. Augustus Pennoyer.

Edwin T. Pennoyer [1870–1914]

Born on March 15, 1870 in Grand Haven, Edwin was the grandson of Henry Pennoyer and the son of John Pennoyer, who were known for the roles they played in the early history of the area. Edwin at the age of 23 was a bank clerk. Later he became manager of numerous hotels in the Shelby and Muskegon areas, but returned to Grand Haven and managed the Cutler House.

On July 12, 1893 Edwin married Pietermella “Nellie” De Glopper. Nellie, the daughter of Martinus and Maria De Glopper, was born February 18, 1870. She died April 14, 1920 in Ann Arbor, but was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Nellie taught in the Grand Haven Public Schools until her marriage. Edwin was a member of Company F and an official of the Grand Haven Athletic Club for 20 years. The Pennoyers had one son, Clarence Theodore, who was born on October 30, 1896, graduated from the University of Michigan, worked for the U.S. War Department in Detroit, and died in 1950. The Pennoyers lived at 209 Washington. After Edwin passed away on March 26, 1914, Nellie moved to 122 Franklin. Edwin, too, was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituaries, March 26, 1914 and April 14, 1920.]

Henry Pennoyer I [Penoyer] [1809-1886]

Born in Norwalk, Fairfield County, Connecticut on February 8, 1809, Henry moved with his parents, John and Sarah “Sally” Fox Pennoyer, to Cayuga County, New York when he was ten. John who was born about 1783, in 1837 settled in Cook County, near Chicago, with two of his sons, Stephen, who was born about 1812, and James, born about 1819. A daughter Susan also settled there with the family. Henry preceded them by three years. In 1834 he and his wife, Harriet, went to Chicago, where they remained for two years before settling in the Muskegon area. In Muskegon Henry and his brother Augustus built a sawmill in 1836. Henry later moved to Grand Haven, where in 1843 he became proprietor of the first Ottawa House Hotel, situated on the northeast corner of Water Street [Harbor Drive] and Washington Streets [1 Washington] in Grand Haven. Henry was operating the Ottawa House as late as 1851. Also that year, Henry leased Clark Albee’s Washington House [approximately 12 Washington], which he passed on to John and Robert Leggat on July 12, 1856. The hotel, which burned down on November 13, 1860, also functioned as a stop for the Grand Rapids stagecoach.
On January 3, 1838 Henry was named postmaster of Muskegon. The same year he was appointed to a commission charged with building a state road along the south side of the Muskegon River, and in the same year he was elected Ottawa County’s first sheriff. In 1850 he was commissioner of the Grand Haven and Black River Plank Road Company, and in 1851 he was part of a commission charged with laying out a plank road between Grand Haven and Holland. In 1853 Henry replaced Thomas Ferry as deputy collector of customs for Grand Haven. He was treasurer for Grand Haven before it became a city. He served in the State House in 1849 and ten years later in the State Senate. In the early 1850s Henry was editor of the Grand River Times, and in 1856 he helped found and became a charter member of the Ottawa County Agricultural Society. In 1857 he was president of the Grand Haven Lyceum, which presented public discussions of the time’s important topics. Because of his size 14 shoes, the Indians and voyageurs nicknamed him “Big Foot.”

Henry’s first marriage was to Harriet Kells of Mentz, New York. The couple moved from Chicago to the Muskegon area in 1836. They had four children: John, born in Muskegon on September 20, 1839; Sarah M., who was born in Muskegon on April 29, 1841 and married Peter Ross of Crockery Township; Mary Arms, born in Grand Haven on September 30, 1839; and Clara, born in Grand Haven on April 8, 1852. Harriet died on May 4, 1852, and the next year, on April 14, Henry married Aletta “Lettie” Teeple Rellingston, who was born on November 20, 1829 in Plymouth, Wayne County. Her parents were Peter and Sarah Losey Teeple, who had moved to Cascade Township in Kent County in late 1836. Lettie moved to Ferrysburg in 1849 to be with her sister and brother-in-law, Jane and Thomas Merrill. Jane, born on January 30, 1826, was about three years older than Lettie. The Merrills were married in 1846, and later moved to Ferrysburg. Lettie tended to Henry’s children after Harriet’s death and also worked for him at the Washington House. Lettie and Henry had five children: Lettie May born October 25, 1856; Henry II, born January 24, 1860; Susan Amanda, who was born on August 18, 1861 and died in March 1863; Perry, born on January 15, 1864; and Frederick Anson, born on February 8, 1866. Also a member of the household was Lettie’s girl, Sarah Jane, from her short-lived marriage to 20-year old William Rellingston. Lettie and William were married in Grand Haven on Christmas Day, 1849, and by July 12 the next year he was gone forever. Lettie later filed for divorce. In August 1858 the Pennoyer family moved from Grand Haven to Crockery Township, where Henry tried his hand at farming the 600 acres he bought in Sections 13 and 24. Henry died on April 25, 1886 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Lettie left Michigan for Oregon a few years after his death and died in Seattle, Washington in 1911. Pennoyer Street in Grand Haven was named after Henry. [“Between Hope and Fear: the Life of Lettie Teeple,” Part I, Michigan History, Fall 1974, and Part II, Michigan History, Winter 1974.]

Henry Pennoyer II [1860-1930]

Born in Crockery Township on January 24, 1860, Henry was the son of Henry and Aletta Teeple Pennoyer. He inherited the family farm after his father’s death in 1886 but sold it to Joseph Gibbs five years later and headed west. He spent a few years in Washington State, then went on to Alaska and the Klondike, where he searched for gold. In 1899 he lost several of his toes to frostbite. Henry died about June 27, 1930 on board a ship bound from Fairbanks to Sitka, Alaska.

John Pennoyer [1839-1893]

John, the son of Henry and Harriet Kells Pennoyer, was born in Muskegon on September 30, 1839. Like his father, and later his son, Edwin T. Pennoyer, John developed an interest in the hotel business and was proprietor of the Ferrysburg Hotel by 1864, after working briefly the previous year at the Rice House in Grand Haven. The Rice House was located on the northwest corner of Water [Harbor] and Washington Streets, near the train depot, and was owned by Thomas Merrill of Ferrysburg. In 1870 he, his wife, and their son were living in Grand Haven where John worked as a clerk at an unnamed hotel. Ten years later John and his family were residing on Washington Street in Grand Haven, where he worked as a store clerk. John married Mariette Stone in August 1863. She was born in Ohio on January 2, 1844 and died on February 11, 1892. John died on October 19, 1893 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. Edwin, their son, was born in Grand Haven on March 15, 1870. A daughter, Stella, also a native of Michigan, was born. about 1876. She married John W. Hamm and moved to Jackson. A second son, Charles Leonard, was born on October 21, 1880. He worked as a chef on a car ferry out of Grand Haven. On August 17, 1911 in Grand Haven, Charles married Alice Breamer, who was born in Michigan in 1888.

O. Augustus Penoyer [Penoyer] [1810-1841]
Augustus was Henry Penoyer’s brother and the son of John and Sarah “Sally” Fox Penoyer. About 1836 Augustus and Henry built a sawmill near Penoyer Creek and the Muskegon River in Newaygo County, and he was included in the 1840 census for Oceana County. Late in 1836 Augustus partnered with Alexander Fulton to form the Muskegon Lumber Company. In 1841 Augustus purchased approximately 160 acres in Muskegon County. He was born on May 15, 1810 and died on October 22, 1841 while en route from Chicago to Muskegon on the boat Post-boy, loaded with supplies for a sawmill.

Edwin Percival [1878-1941]
Edwin Percival, uncle of film star Norma Shearer, spent six summers in Highland Park before moving to Grand Haven. In 1917 Edwin’s and Norma’s mothers were sisters. Percival’s cottage, called Baldpate Inn, was located at 20 Crescent Hill. The name of the cottage was derived from Seven Keys to Baldpate, a popular Broadway drama in 1913-14. Norma visited the Highland Park cottage on several occasions. In 1904, Edwin married Gertrude Ritchie Beville in the State of Washington, although they were Chicago residents at the time. Gertrude, a native of Chicago and five years younger than Edwin, was an actress. Edwin was listed on the marriage registration as Edwin Percival Fisher. His mother was Emily Cooper Fisher, and his father was Edwin Chisholm Fisher. Edwin may have adopted the last name Percival as stage name and never gave it up. Norma visited him at the Highland Park cottage on several occasions. Her brother, Douglas Shearer, worked in the film industry and was on the leading edge of transforming silent movies to “talkies” in 1928. Another sibling, Athole Shearer, was an actress in the silent film era.

In 1917 Edwin started work as chief clerk with the Grand Trunk Railway, a job he held for the next 12 years. His year-round residence was located at 526 Penoyer in 1918. Living with him then was Gertrude Percival. She was not listed in a household member when Edwin resided at 312 South Fifth in 1920, but his 75-year old mother, Emily, was living with him. She had come to Grand Haven from Canada the previous year. Edwin later moved to 321 Columbus, and then to 300 Franklin, where he resided in 1928. That year Edwin was listed as Cashier for the railway. In Grand Haven, Edwin was a member of the local Christian Science Church and Masonic lodge. He and was instrumental in starting a DeMolay, an international fraternal organization for young people.

When Edwin and Gertrude were granted a divorce in Grand Haven on August 16, 1926 on grounds of desertion, their marriage date was cited as October 15, 1903. Three years after the divorce, Percival sold Baldpate to Charles Everest, left Grand Haven, and married Ruth Hille Kibbe on April 23 that year. The couple moved to San Antonio, Texas, Ruth’s home state. In the Federal Census of 1940, they were living in Santa Barbara, California. Ruth, a teacher, was born on October 30, 1892 and died in Santa Barbara on January 18, 1976. Edwin was born on November 25, 1878 in Staymer, Ontario, Canada and died in Santa Barbara on March 9, 1941. He and Ruth were buried at Santa Barbara Cemetery. Edwin’s first wife, Gertrude, died in Chicago on July 21, 1984. At the end of his life, Edwin was known for his published poems and articles.

John Thomas Percival I [1839-1925]
A native of Scotland, where he was born March 27, 1839, John Percival came to America in 1865 and continued to Grand Haven from Lyons in Ionia County in 1871. He was agent for the Detroit, Grand Haven, & Milwaukee Railroad from the time of his arrival to 1875, when he opened a flour and feed store. John was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. He attended the Presbyterian Church. His booklet, “Railroads of Ottawa County,” published in 1884, summarized the early years of the railways in this area. He married Emily [Emmeline] Melvina Hoyt in Muir, Ionia County, on December 21, 1870. They had two daughters, both born in Muir, Ionia County: Emily, who was born on December 5, 1873. and died in 1946, and Margaret, who was born on February 1, 1875 and died in 1948. Their son, John II, was born in Grand Haven on September 10, 1880, married Effie Goodale on September 11, 1916 in Spokane, Washington, and died in 1930. Emily, the mother, was from Cayuga, New York, where she was born on April 20, 1850; she died in Spokane on October 27, 1908. John passed away in Spokane on November 9, 1925. They were buried at Greenwood Memorial Terrace in that city.

John B. Perham [1836-1896]

John B. Perham was born in Mayfield, New York in October 1836. At the age of 17 he was a government surveyor, working in Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin. He taught school in Grundy County, Illinois for three years, and in 1860 moved to Spring Lake to be a teacher. After three years of teaching in Spring Lake, he opened a grocery and dry goods store at 213 West Savidge in Spring Lake with Judge Allan C. Adsit of Ottawa and Kent Counties as his partner. John bought out his partner eight years later. John Koster, who settled in Spring Lake in 1869, worked for John Perham at the store and in 1894 purchased the business.

John married Catherine “Cassie” Gross in Rockford on November 4, 1867. Cassie was born in 1840 in Portage County, Ohio and came to Spring Lake in 1846, where she died 52 years later. Prominent in business and politics in the Village of Spring Lake, John twice represented the local district in the State Legislature and was considered a staunch Republican.

When only 17 years old John joined the Good Templars and later raised enough money to build the first Temperance Red Ribbon Hall in Michigan and was its president for many years. In addition to being a member of the Liquor Committee, John was township clerk and supervisor, member of the Spring Lake School Board for 15 years and was director in the 1870s. He was elected to the State Legislature in 1880 and served from 1881 to 1884. He was chairman of the Fifth District of Michigan, president of the Ottawa County Sunday School Association, and dealt in real estate in Ottawa County. John died on November 13, 1896 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Loren Perham, his brother, was a Spring Lake druggist, and a sister, Phebe, married Henry W. Cleveland of Spring Lake and Nunica. [Tribune, November 13, 1896.]

Loren O. Perham [1833-1920]

Loren Perham, who was born in Mayfield, New York in February 1833 [1835], came to Spring Lake in the early years of its development. In 1852 he built a three-story brick building at 213 West State Street [Savidge], where he had a grocery and drug store. He was elected the first treasurer of Spring Lake Village when it was incorporated in 1869. He served as postmaster of Mill Point from 1861 until the Village was renamed Spring Lake on March 28, 1867, and he continued serving in that position until 1885. The post office was located in the rear of his drug store at 222 Savidge. On May 3, 1877 in Spring Lake, he married Hester Ann Rose. She was born in Canada in February 1842. They had a daughter, Leila [Leilla], who was born in Spring Lake on March 20, 1878 and married Miner Lawton. There is some evidence that the family resided at 120 West Exchange. Loren passed away on February 19, 1920 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. He and John Perham were brothers. [Tribune obituary, February 19, 1920.]

Louis Waite Perkins [1894-1983]

Lieutenant Commander Perkins was the first commanding officer of the first Escanaba. He was born in Waltham, Massachusetts on March 9, 1894 and graduated from the U.S. Coast Guard Academy in New London, Connecticut in 1918. He worked his way through the ranks to lieutenant commander by 1925. Louis from 1932 to 1935 commanded the U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Escanaba when it was based in Grand Haven. He was promoted to Rear Admiral before his death on May 13, 1983 in St. Louis, Missouri. Louis’s wife’s name was Gertrude. They were married on June 6, 1926 and had two daughters, Patricia Ann, born about 1929, and Sue Denise, born about 1931. He was buried at Arlington National Cemetery in Washington, D.C. [Tribune obituary May 18, 1983.]

Born in Herkimer, New York on November 4, 1816, Miner Perkins and his wife, Sallie [Sarah] Morse, came to Grand Haven in March 1874. They had been married, presumably in New York, on March 31, 1841. Miner was a carpenter. He and Sallie were instrumental in establishing the Methodist Church in Grand Haven and were called the father and mother of the church by the congregation. Their daughter, Harriet E., was born in Herkimer in 1843 and died in 1917. She married George S. Leland [Lealand], who practiced medicine in Grand Haven around 1880. Harriet was a milliner. George, also from New York, was born about 1816. Miner died at his daughter’s home at 15 North Fourth Street in Grand Haven on November 9 [11], 1910. After his death Harriet continued to reside at the family home on Fourth Street, which had been converted to a four-unit apartment complex. Sallie was born in Fulton County, New York on March 16, 1824 and died on March 7, 1911. Miner and Sally were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, November 9, 1910.]

Guy Tracy Perkins [1880- ?]

Guy Perkins owned a photography studio at 22 South Second Street in 1910. On March 4, 1903 he married Alma Hill in Chicago. They were divorced in Kalamazoo on November 20, 1907. On November 24, 1909 he married Rosa [Rose] Paine in Kalamazoo. In Grand Haven they resided at 17 Franklin. They were divorced in Kalamazoo on October 16, 1911, remarried in Ann Arbor on September 9, 1914, and divorced for the second time in Ann Arbor on May 6, 1918. On September 9, 1919 Guy married Vera Hovey Plummer in St. Joseph County. In 1920 Guy and Vera were living in Milwaukee, where Guy worked as a toolmaker. [Presumably they were divorced, because on August 6, 1925 he married Katie Luella Bogart in Berrien County. Five years later they were living in Three Rivers, St. Joseph County, where Guy was unemployed, and on January 31, 1932 they were divorced in Cass County. Guy was born in Kalamazoo on April 27, 1880, the son of Atwood and Clarry Perkins.

Noah Perkins [@1822-1862]

In 1853 in Adrian, Lenawee County, Noah Perkins married Ellen W. Turner. Ellen was born in Seneca, New York, on March 3, 1827 and died in Spring Lake on August 23, 1897. Noah and Ellen moved to Spring Lake shortly after they were married. In the late 1850s Noah built a grocery store at 215 West Savidge in Spring Lake. On September 17, 1861, at the age of 39, Noah enlisted as sergeant in Company D of the 1st Michigan Engineers and died of disease [chronic diarrhea] in the hospital at Louisville, Kentucky, on March 14, 1862. The G.A.R. [Grand Army of the Republic] was organized in Spring Lake in 1884 and named Noah Perkins Post #279. The post was disbanded by 1912. On January 7, 1867 Ellen applied for a widow’s Civil War pension, with George Lovell signing as her guardian. W. Henry Millard, a native of England, bought the building on Savidge from Perkins’s widow in 1865 and opened a meat market. Noah and Ellen had at least three children, all born locally: James Edgar [Edgar J.], born March 3, 1847; Ella, who was born on October 13, 1853 and died on June 17, 1912, and May [Ida May], born on May 1, 1859. According to his cemetery records, Edgar lost his life on May 6, 1863 at the Battle of Chancellorsville. He enlisted as private in Company A of the Third Michigan Infantry on May 13, 1861. Edgar gave his age as 18 at the time of enlistment. The Perkins family was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Ellen in 1866 became George Lovell’s second wife.

Felix M. F. Perl [Pearl] [1854-1934]

In 1905 Garry Messinger and his brother Clifford sold their pharmacy in Spring Lake to Felix Perl. Three years later Felix sold the business to an employee, Leon Campbell. Felix also worked as manager for Edward and Anna Selbmann, who operated Lott Hannah Resort from 1904 to 1907. Felix was born in Germany [Saxony] on November 30, 1854 and immigrated to the United States on October 12, 1882. On October 20, 1884 in Medford, Wisconsin, he married Victoria M. E. Ihne. By 1900 Felix was a widower and living in Chicago. In 1920 he was a laborer at a Grand Haven factory, and by 1930 he was residing in Jacksonville, Florida with his widowed daughter, Dolores Walker. He died in Jacksonville on July 26 four years later and was buried at Evergreen Cemetery.
Mary Perlee [Per Lee] [1816-1850] and William T. Perlee [1813-1878]

Mary Cuyler Perlee and her husband, both natives of New York State, stopped for a short time in Grand Haven in 1844 before proceeding upriver to their new home in Lamont. In a short piece she wrote about her visit, she described her impressions of two Indians who were in town at the same time as she: “Here we saw the Potawatomi tribe of Indians with their chief and his son. Many of [the Indians] were handsomely dressed in the finest broadcloth embroidered as usual with beads and porcupine quills of various colors. The old chief had a plate of silver on his breast as large as a breakfast plate, with the figure of a wolf engraved upon it. They were a deal of silver about their persons. Some dangle the plates tied to their hair between the shoulders, others had their coat capes ornamented with pieces as large as a dollar sewed together on the edge. The chief’s son has a natural talent for music and played for us upon an instrument constructed by himself a tune of his own composition.” [“Rosy Mound Indian Tales,” Esther Henning, p. 43.]

Mary Perlee’s letters revealed the hardships of those early days: “On August third, 1845,” Mary wrote that her husband “suffered terribly from ague that spares hardly a household.” She named Chologo [chologogue] as a reliable remedy for the disease and added, “I have the greatest possible horror of quinine. I believe Abraham was killing himself with it as fast as he could.”

Mary’s father, a lieutenant in the war of 1812, had been given the land they had come to, as a bounty. Mary wrote of the settlement at Grand Haven where they landed as “having three stores and a steam mill, everything so wild and new as to be startling but rather pleasant otherwise.” She and her husband arrived in Grand Haven and from there they boarded the steamer Paragon, which took them to Grandville, the landing closest to their future home in Lamont.

Mary was born in 1816. She and her husband William had five children: Maria, who was born in 1839, married Eugene Washington Alexander [1841-1910], and died in 1915; Jane, who lived from 1844 to 1883; Eliza, who was born about 1846; Abraham, who was born about 1847, and Helen, who was born about June 1850. In 1850 the Perlees lived on an 80-acre farm in Section 35 of Tallmadge Township, just east of the Stephen Lowing homestead. Mary’s brother lived with them. William also was postmaster at Lamont and earned $200 a year for his duties.

Mary died on September 23, 1850 and was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. William was born in New York on December 31, 1813. He died in Lamont on August 8, 1878 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

James J. Perry [@1889-1956]

In 1915, James Perry owned the Dandy Ice Cream Parlor at 100 Washington Street. He and Clara Schellas were married in Muskegon on January 20, 1914. In Grand Haven, the couple resided at 428 Clinton Street. By 1920 James and Clara were living in Muskegon, where he worked in the engineering department of an automobile motor company. Born about 1889, he died in Muskegon on October 24, 1956 and was buried at St. Mary’s Cemetery in Muskegon. Clara lived from 1893 to July 13, 1970 and also was buried at St. Mary’s.

Bruno Emil Peter [1882-1950]

A native of Saxony, Germany, where he was born on February 25, 1882, Bruno Peter came to Grand Haven to work for the Eagle Ottawa Leather Company. He served as alderman from 1920 to 1922 and as mayor of Grand Haven in 1929 and again in 1930. In partnership with James W. Oakes, Bruno helped develop much of the residential property along Sheldon Road, south of Taylor Street. Peter was a member of the Masons, Grand Haven Rotary Club, Spring Lake County Club, and the Grand Haven Stag Club. He married Clara Conrad on June 27, 1906. They had a daughter, June who was born about 1915. The family resided at 519 Sheldon and 416 Ottawa Street. Bruno died in 1950. Clara, who was born on December 21, 1893, died in St. Petersburg, Florida in December 1972.

After leasing it for a year, Ed Peters purchased Highland Park Pavilion from August Boseker in 1909. He sold the property to Russ and Mary Baltz of Grand Haven in 1947. Included in the sale to the Baltzes was Hyland Gardens dance and rollerskating pavilion, which Ed bought from Boseker in 1919. Ed, who was born in Grosse Pointe, Wayne County [Phelps, New York], on October 18, 1873 married Jane Van Herwyn [Herwynen] in Grand Haven on October 18, 1923. Jane was owner of the Herwyn Inn at 58 Highland Drive. The Inn started as a boarding house and was converted to a cottage. Ed died on October 28, 1968. Jane, the daughter of Govert and Areka Van Der Meijden Van Herwynen, was born on November 20, 1884 and died in Grand Haven on August 26, 1977. She and Edward were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Andrew Peterson [1900-1985]

Born on April 15, 1900, Andrew was the son of Onne and Katerina Peterson of Grand Haven. Andrew and his wife, Helen, resided at 116 North Park in Spring Lake. Helen was born in Kalamazoo on December 31, 1901, the daughter of John and Anna Huizenga Vander Zwaag. The Petersons were married in Spring Lake on June 28, 1922. Helen belonged to the Spring Lake Christian Reformed Church. Their children were Owen, who was born in 1925; Fred, who was born in 1928; Helen, who was born on May 16, 1930, married Wesley C. De Witt of Spring Lake, and passed away on September 8, 2001; and John. By 1918 Andrew was employed as an accountant at Johnston Boiler Works in Ferrysburg. He died on February 14, 1985 in Spring Lake, and Helen passed away on February 12, 1997. She was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Lambert Vander Zwaag of Spring Lake was her brother. [Tribune obituary, February 13, 1997.]

Carl Uno Peterson [1906-1943]

Carl Peterson was born in Lynn, Massachusetts on November 12, 1906. His parents were Axel [1874-1918] and Elvira [1880-1909] Peterson. After Elvira’s death, Alex married Alma Lund in Lynnon November 23, 1912. They had one child, Esther, Carl’s half-sister. When Axel died, his widow in the summer of 1920 returned to Sweden with Esther, while Carl stayed with Peterson relatives, finished high school, and went on to the Coast Guard Academy in New London, Connecticut. He married Esther May Conant in Brookline, Massachusetts on August 27, 1932. She was born in Littleton, Massachusetts on August 11, 1907. Carl assumed command of the Coast Guard Cutter Escanaba on March 19, 1942 and earned the rank of lieutenant commander. He was commanding officer of the cutter when it went down in the North Atlantic Ocean on June 13, 1943. He previously had been Executive Officer of the ship. Commander Peterson was posthumously awarded the Legion of Merit. A monument was erected at Battery Park in New York City to honor the 101 crewmen who lost their lives, including Commander Peterson. Esther passed away in Fall City, Washington on October 23, 1997. They had a son, Harvey Conant Peterson, who was born in 1936.

Charles [Carl] W. Peterson [1864-1947]

Charles Peterson was born in Sweden in November 1864 and immigrated to the United States in 1880. By 1900 he was Surfman with the United States Lifesaving Service in Grand Haven. He held to that career until sometime after 1910. By 1920 Charles was listed as a sailor, and by 1930 was a bridge tender. His wife, Annette, also a native of Sweden, was born in March 1865 and arrived in the United States in 1891. The Petersons had at least four children: Agda V., who lived from March 1894 to 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Carl Arnold, born in August 1896; Louis E., who was born in October 1897; and George Spencer, born on June 29, 1900. All the children were born locally. The family resided at 343 Fulton, then 1243 Fulton, and finally at 625 Franklin. Charles passed away about June 2, 1947 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Annette died about December 11, 1950 and was buried with her husband.

Frederick J. Peterson [1928-2016]

The Phillipses resided at 1502 Hillcrest in Grand Haven. Al died on October 11, 2005. [Tribune obituary, October 24, 2005.]

Walter R. Phillips [1833-1907]

Walter Phillips, who was born in Ohio on October 17, 1833, raised grapes on about 20 acres of land near Townsend Gidley’s extensive holdings in Section 27 of Grand Haven Township. The land was owned previously by Albert O. Ewing. Walter died on March 24, 1907 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Mary Jane, a native of New York, lived from August 1838 [1839] to 1917 and also was buried at Lake Forest. They had four children, all born in Michigan: Edward W., born about 1864; Charles H., born about 1866; John F., born about 1868; and Jenny, born about 1871. Walter, president of the West Michigan Fruit Growers’ Society, authored an article sketching the history of “Fruit Culture in Ottawa County.” The article appeared in Volume IX of the Michigan Historical Society Records.

William Levi Phillips [1875-1955]

From 1906 to 1913 William Phillips was special deputy collector of customs, working under Walter I. Lillie. After all five customs collection districts in Michigan were consolidated in 1913, Lillie gave up his post and William continued as deputy collector. He also was the resident manager and treasurer of the New Era Association, which offered life insurance. His office was in the new post office building, built in 1905 at the northwest corner of Washington and Third Streets. William was a member of the Masons and the Grand Haven Stag Club.

On October 6, 1903 in Grand Haven, William married Frances Finley. Frances, who was born in Buffalo, New York on November 28, 1876. She was the daughter of William and Mary Ann Nial Finley. William died in 1878, and by 1880 she resided with her sister, Ella Finley, at the residence of Thomas and Mary Ann Nial Finley Scott at 227 Elliott Street. In the Federal Census of that year Frances and Ella were listed as daughters-in-law, but the census taker meant stepdaughters. Frances graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1894 and taught beginning reading at Jackson Street School [606 Elliott Street]. The Phillips resided at 14 South Third and 301 South Fifth. William was born in Lamont on May 25, 1875, died in Grand Haven about April 1, 1955, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Frances passed away around December 28, 1961 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

John D. Pickett I [1824-1898]

John Pickett was born in White River, Vermont, on January 13, 1824, but moved to Wapello County, Iowa. On October 24, 1844 he married Eleanor Griswold. She was born in Ontario, Canada, on November 5, 1826 and died in Crockery Township on February 20, 1897. On September 3, 1861 John joined Company K of the 3rd Iowa Cavalry as first sergeant. On July 1, 1862 he was promoted to quartermaster sergeant. John was discharged for disability on September 29, 1862 and settled on 80 acres in Section 15 of Crockery Township the next year. The Picketts had 11 children, four of whom survived, including John II, who was born on December 15, 1861, and a daughter, Hannah, who was born about 1868 and married Abe Arnold on December 28, 1888 in Nunica. John I died on November 17, 1898 in Crockery Township, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery.

John D. Pickett II [1861-1931]

John Pickett II was born in Iowa on December 15, 1861 and died February 23, 1931. He came to Nunica with his parents, John and Eleanor Griswold Pickett, when he was two years old. In the 1890s he owned a grocery store in Nunica offering “Fancy Groceries, Provisions, Flour and Feed,” and he also was postmaster from 1891 to 1895. He married Clara Mines in 1888. The daughter of William and Phoebe Mines, Clara was born in Michigan in March 1865 and passed away in 1950. They had one son, William, born on April 13, 1890. John was justice of the peace and Crockery Township treasurer, as well as a member of the I.O.O.F., No. 54, and the Maccabees. He and Clara were buried at Nunica Cemetery.

William H. Pickett [1890-1964]

William, the son of John and Clara Mines Pickett II, took over his father’s business in Nunica, the Pickett Farm Equipment Company. William was born on April 13, 1890 and served in the military during WWI. His first wife, Charlotte, died in 1969. He then married Laura Smith on December 14, 1963. Laura, who lived from January 5, 1910 to October 15, 1999, died in Muskegon. William died at home on May 5, 1964 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery.

Mary E. Pierce [1842-1895]

Around 1896 May Pierce of Grand Haven, then 13, was found guilty of choking her mother to death on July 8, 1895. The mother, Mary Pierce, was born in New York in 1842 and resided near Berlin [Marne] in Tallmadge Township with her husband Levi at the time of her death. An accomplice, eighteen-year-old George Cheseboro [Cheeseboro], had earlier been found guilty and was sentenced to life imprisonment. Levi, a farmer, was born in New York in October 1839. Levi and Mary had at least two other children.

Abram [Abraham] Ward Pike [1813-1906]

Abram Pike was hired as clerk of the Port Sheldon Land Company when that development started in 1836. When the project failed a year or two later, Pike stayed on as sole occupant and agent. He lived there for several years and in 1850 sold the hotel and thirty lots [15 acres] to William J. Bakker of Saugatuck for $600, less than the cost of the paint and glass used in constructing the buildings. Abram, his wife, and children around 1844 moved to Grand Rapids, where he built a residence at 290 East Fulton Street that included four of the columns from the front of the Ottawa House Hotel at Port Sheldon. Four years after his death in 1906, the house on Fulton Street became home to the first Grand Rapids Art Gallery [Museum]. From 1847 to 1848 he served as Grand Rapids city marshall.

Born in Cincinnati on October 5, 1813, Abram arrived in Michigan in 1827 and worked for a short time as assistant at the Indian Mission School in Niles. On September 30, 1841 he married Elinora Louise Prior. She died on October 5, 1853 at the age of 29. Two years later he married Eliza Jane Roberts. Born in New York, Eliza lived from October 13, 1833 to October 9, 1914. Abram died in Grand Rapids on October 15, 1906. They were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Walter David Pike [1868-1910]

Walter Pike was a telegraph operator at the Pere Marquette station in Grand Haven and later represented the North American Union Insurance Company for the Tri-Cities area. On June 4, 1892 he married Bertha Fuller in Kalamazoo. In 1900 he and Bertha were living in Benton Harbor, where Walter worked as a telegraph operator. In 1910 he and Bertha lived in Oklahoma, where Walter owned a hotel. Living with them was their son Leo, born in Michigan about 1895. Walter was born in Kalamazoo on May 26, 1868, died on December 20, 1910, and was buried at Riverside Cemetery in his hometown. On April 13, 1917, Bertha married William Canfield in Grand Haven. Bertha was born about 1871 in Belmont, New York. William, a salesman, was 49 at the time of the marriage and resided in Syracuse, New York. Bertha passed away in Wellsville, New York, on November 29, 1960. William had died in 1926. Both were buried at Forest Hills Cemetery in Belmont, New York.

Erwin Pikulik [1912-1929] and Rudolph Pikulik [1908-1929]

Brothers Rudolph and Erwin Pikulik were among ten people who drowned at Grand Haven State Park on July 4, 1929. Rudolph, who was born in Czechoslovakia on February 14, 1908, was 22 and Erwin, born in Chicago on July 1, 1912, was 17. They were sons of Joseph and Aurelia [Amelie] Pikulik of Robinson Township and were visiting from Detroit for the holiday. Both were employed at the Ford Motor Company. Joseph was born on September 18, 1881 and died on November 18, 1954. Aurelia was born in 1885 and passed away on March 24, 1933. Joseph and Aurelia were born in Bohemia [Czechoslovakia] and immigrated to the United States, Joseph in 1911 and Aurelia the next year. On December 18, 1937 in Grand Haven, Joseph married Mary Rohacek, who lived from 1903 to 1947. By 1948 Joseph had moved to Grand Haven and resided at 2 Elliott Street. The brothers and their parents were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Mary.

Warren Clark Pilling I [1925-1990] and Marcia Travis Pilling [1926-2011]

Born in Toronto, Canada on April 19, 1925, Warren Pilling came to the United States in 1930 and became a medical doctor. He married Marcia Travis. The daughter of Charles Clinton and Rose Travis, Marcia was born in Grand Rapids on May 23, 1926. She was active in a variety of roles in Grand Rapids, and in Grand Haven she opened Mailboxes, Etc. at 101 Washington Sreet, was the first president of the Board of the Central Business District in 2000 and was a docent at the Tri-Cities Historical Museum. Their retirement home was in the Wilderness at 12779 Lakeshore Drive. Originally a cottage built in the mid-1920s by the Travises, Warren and Marcia substantially remodeled it, adding a full basement, garage, new bedrooms, and a library. They were able to enjoy the remodeled home for the first time around the Thanksgiving Holiday in 1983. The Pillings had four children: Warren II, Cathy, Susan, and Amy. Warren died in Grand Haven on November 5, 1990. Marcia passed away, also in Grand Haven, on April 11, 2011. [Tribune obituary, April 16, 2011.]

John Pinto [@1897- ?]

John and Luella Pinto resided at 1329 Franklin Street in Grand Haven in 1930. Living with them was Luella’s daughter Esther, Esther’s husband Eugene, and the Wolfes’s two children, Charlene and Tyrie [Terry]. John Pinto, who was born in Portugal on March 5, 1889 and immigrated to the United States in 1909, was a laborer in a machine shop. He and Luella were married about 1922. Luella was born in Arkansas about 1892 and had been married previously. Esther, born about 1912, was her daughter by the earlier marriage. Also living with the Pintos in 1930 was Albert Rouse, who was born in Illinois about 1896. Like the other members of the household, Albert was African American, unmarried, and did odd jobs to make a living. Apparently Albert, the Pintos, and the Wolfes arrived in Grand Haven around 1930. By 1960 Luella was a widow residing in Muskegon. The Wolfes remained in Grand Haven.

James Perry Piper [1942-2017]

In the late 1970s, attorneys James Piper and William R. Dickey maintained a law office at 220½ Washington Street. By 1986, James and Kenneth R. Lampe were law partners with an office at 509 Franklin Street in Grand Haven. James was born in Ames, Iowa on January 9, 1942. He earned his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Iowa and his master degree from Michigan State University. James served with the United States Army and was stationed in Korea during the Vietnam War. After his honorable discharge, James received his Juris Prudence degree from Wayne State University in 1971. He then moved to Muskegon to become assistant prosecuting attorney for the county, and later moved to the Tri-Cities area. James resided in Spring Lake at 17714 North Shore Estates Road. James and his wife Judy had two sons, Greg Piper, who moved to Arvada, Colorado, and Ted Piper, who relocated to Dillon, Colorado. James died at Meijer Heart Center in Grand Rapids on February 11, 2017. Judy was born on July 4, 1943.

Anthony Pippel I [1851-1914]

Grand Haven cabinet maker Anthony Pippel I was born in The Netherlands on September 25, 1851 and arrived in Ottawa County with two brothers, Cornelius and Engelbert, in 1867. Anthony, his wife, Cornelia, and their children resided at 446 Slayton Street in Grand Haven. Among the children were Anthony II, born on May 28, 1880; Cornelius “Neal,” born in August 1884; and Henrietta [Hendrika] Tona, who was born on May 8, 1894 and married Joseph Nuism. Cornelia was born in The Netherlands in May 1853 and died on June 2, 1909. Anthony I died in Grand Haven on July 13, 1914. Husband and wife were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Anthony Pippel II [1880–1933]

The Common Council [City Council] appointed Anthony Pippel as chief of the Grand Haven Fire Department and Police Department in 1913. Born on May 28, 1880, he was the son of Anthony Pippel. Anthony II died on June 19, 1933, three years before the new building on North Fifth Street was dedicated. Under his leadership, the Police Department purchased its first motorized vehicle, a converted touring car. Six years later the first motor driven pumper truck was added to the Fire Department’s vehicles. It had a four-speed transmission and could speed off to a fire at 45 miles per hour. When the two departments were separated in 1919, Anthony stayed on as police chief, a post he held until 1931, when he retired for health reasons. Anthony was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Cornelius Pippel [Peppel] [1845-1920]

Three Pippel brothers, Cornelius, Anthony, and Engelbert, came to Ottawa County from The Netherlands in 1867. Cornelius, who was born in April 1845, settled in Robinson Township, where he and his wife, Johanna, maintained a 120-acre farm. Their residence and 40 acres were located in Section 10, with the remaining acreage in nearby Section 9. Johanna was born in The Netherlands in February 1848. They had ten children, all born in Michigan, including Henrietta, born about 1869; John H., born in July 1872; Cornelius J., born about 1875; Anna, born about 1876; Teunis, born about 1879; Nellie, born in September 1880; Engelbert, born in May 1883; and Jans, born in May 1885. Cornelius died in 1920.

Cornelius “Neal” Pippel [1884-1955]

The son of Anthony and Cornelia “Kate” Hobek Peppel I, Neal was born in August 1884. He worked at the Piano Factory for awhile and became a fire fighter for Grand Haven. On September 3, 1907 in Grand Haven, Neal married Nellie Vanden Bosch, who lived from October 27, 1885 to June 22, 1982, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The couple lived at 716 Elliott Street and 633 Slayton. Nellie was the daughter of Tamme and Cornelia Duiser Vanden Bosch of Grand Haven. At the time of her death she resided at 704 Pennoyer. Neal passed away about September 24, 1955. He and Nellie were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Englebert Pippel I [1851-1909]

Englebert was one of three Pippel brothers that immigrated to Ottawa County from The Netherlands in 1867. Englebert was born in September 1851 and worked in a local sawmill. By 1900 he was working as a carpenter. His wife, Adriana, was born in The Netherlands in December 1852 and arrived in the United States in 1869. Their children, all born in Michigan, included Cornelius, born in March 1873; Gommet, born about 1874; Henrietta, born about 1876; Edward, born in September 1879; Cora, born in February 1882; Matilda, born in July 1884; Katharine, born in August 1886; Henry, born in October 1888; John, born in October 1889; Antony H., born on December 13, 1892; and Englebert II, who was born in June 1896 and drowned in the Grand River on June 14, 1909. Englebert I died about June 15, 1909. Adriana passed away around December 11, 1942 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

John Robert Pippel [1890-1963]
John, the son of Englebert and Adirana Pippel of Grand Haven, was born near Big Rapids on April 20, 1890. After working eight years at the Grand Haven Tribune in the printing department, John went to work for the Coopersville Observer. He next attended a graphics art school in Brooklyn, New York, followed by employment at Corson Publishing and two Buffalo, New York newspapers. In 1916 he was hired again by the Tribune, this time as Plant superintendent of Printing. He left the Grand Haven paper in 1930 and the next year started a printing business of his own on Seventh Street. Marvin Patterson joined him later as a partner. John and Claude and Fern Ver Duin began operating a printing business from the Ver Duin home and published a weekly newspaper, the Grand Haven Searchlight. John retired from the printing business in 1953, died on April 3, 1963, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On October 20, 1915 he married Eileen “Nellie” Bevins on October 20, 1915. She was born on October 27, 1885, died June 22, 1982 while residing at Christian Haven Home, and also was buried at Lake Forest. The Pippels had one son, Robert, who was born about 1920. The family resided at 612 Lake Avenue and later at 17288 West Spring Lake Road.

Cornelius D. Plaggemars [1895-1970]
Cornelius Plaggemars was born in Olive Township on September 19, 1895. His parents were George and Maggie Plaggemars. Cornelius married Elizabeth “Bessie” Weener in Grand Haven on November 9, 1916. They lived at 727 Franklin Street in Grand Haven and raised one son, Virgil, who moved to Central Lake, Antrim County. Cornelius worked as a maintenance man at Central School. Ill health forced his retirement in 1943 and he died on March 20, 1970. Elizabeth was born in Michigan on March 28, 1900 and died in Grand Haven on March 11, 1989. They were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles E. Plant [1845-1864]
Charles was born in Oswego County, New York, in 1845, the son of Henry and Charlotte Matee Plant I. The Plant family arrived in Crockery Township in 1854, settling first on 40 acres in Section 28, deeded to him by his father. Eventually Charles deeded 40 acres to each of six children. On December 28, 1863, Charles Plant traveled to Grand Rapids to enlist as private in Company I of the 2nd Michigan Cavalry. There was no further military record of him after being reported as ill in Detroit, but he evidently was wounded since he applied for a Civil War invalid’s pension on July 22, 1863. By that time, he had returned to Crockery Township, where he died on July 10, 1864 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. By 1893 his wife, Margaret, was the head of the household in Section 15 of Crockery Township. She died sometime before 1908 at the age of 79 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Ernest Lloyd Plant [1883-1959]
Ernest Lloyd, the son of Henry and Jennie Plant, was born on September 8, 1883. He operated an 80-acre farm in Section 28 of Crockery Township that he inherited from his parents. During WWII he worked at Continental Motors in Muskegon. In 1925 Ernest was hired by the Spoonville School Board to drive Ottawa County’s first school bus, a Nash automobile, enlarged and fitted with bench seats. The few students were transported to the Nunica school. Ernest died on October 31, 1959 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. His wife, Inez, lived from 1892 to 1971 and was buried with her husband.

Francis James Plant I [1821-1896]
Francis was born in New York on December 13, 1821, the son of Henry and Charlotte Matee Plant. He came to Crockery from Oswego County, New York around 1855 and appeared in the 1860 census as a resident of Crockery Township. He soon owned a 40-acre farm in Section 21, deeded to him by his father. Francis was mustered as corporal into Company F of the 14th Michigan Infantry on November 1, 1861 and mustered out as private. He may have been wounded, since he applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. On April 22, 1896 Francis’s wife, Margaret Schultts, born in New York in April 1828, applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. Like Charles Plant, Francis had a monument at Nunica Cemetery, where his wife also was buried. In 1913 Margaret moved to Grand Rapids to live with her daughter, Mrs. Vanderburg. Margaret died on July 29, 1916. The Plants’ children included Alfred, born in New York about 1848; Frances E., born in New York about 1849; Loretta and Alvin, twins who were born in New York about 1851; Rosella, born in Michigan about 1856; Galen, who was born in Crockery Township on December 13, 1857 and eventually moved to Minnesota and Iowa; Stephen, who was born in Michigan in December 1861 and married Henrietta, born in England in January 1870; Peter, who was born in Michigan about 1866, resided in Nunica, died in 1951, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery; and Francis II, who was born in Michigan, in August 1873. Francis I died on February 18, 1896. Francis was a member of Bartholomew G.A.R. [Grand Army of the Republic] Post #136 of Nunica.

Francis James Plant II [1873-1944]

The son of Francis and Margaret Plant I of Crockery Township, James II was born locally in August 1873. He married Alta Hayward in Grand Haven on July 12, 1896, died on April 15, 1944, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. In 1918 Francis II and Alta, were listed as owners of the Plant farmstead in Section 21 of Crockery Township. Called Golden Glo, the farm was located on 77 acres in Section 28 of Crockery Township [southwest corner of 120th Avenue and Leonard Road].

The Plants’ children, all born locally, were Edward Lewis, who was born on March 16, 1897 and married Mabel Argetsinger in Coopersville on January 19, 1924; Ella, who was born about 1899 and on August 25, 1923 in Nunica married Arie Molenydk; Julia, who was born about 1902 and married Edward Barnett in Grand Haven on February 28, 1920; Bertha, born about 1906; and Alfred J., born about July 1918. Alta was born in Michigan on January 23, 1875, died on November 18, 1948, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery with Francis.

Henry Ebenezer Plant II [1841-1925]

Henry was born in Oswego County, New York, on October 11, 1841, the son of Henry and Charlotte Matee Plant. Eventually Henry I deeded 40 acres to each of his six children. Henry I had homesteaded four 40-acre parcels in Section 28 of Crockery Township, and he acquired additional acreage in Section 21. On February 13, 1862 Henry II enlisted in Company F of the 14th Michigan Infantry as private. On March 19, 1865, at the Battle of Bentonville, North Carolina, Henry rescued the colors from the midst of the enemy after the designated bearer had fallen. For that action, he was awarded the Medal of Honor, although it was not issued until April 27, 1896. He was the first resident of Ottawa County to receive the award. Henry was mustered out on July 18, 1865 as sergeant. He died in Crockery on April 16, 1925, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery with his wife, Jennie S, also a native of New York, who lived from October 1844 to 1921. Jennie's sister, Leah, married George Van Etten of Crockery Township.

The Plants had seven children, all born in Michigan, including Carrie M., who was born about 1869 and married Walter D. Rosie of Muskegon; Emma Myrtle, who was born about 1870 and resided in Chicago, Portales and Albuquerque, New Mexico; Lewis C., who was born about 1871 and taught at Michigan Agricultural College [MSU] in East Lansing; Pearl [Perl], who was born on November 26, 1872, married Ward Mills in Nunica on August 25, 1898, died on December 30, 1903 in a fire at the Iroquois Theater in Chicago, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery; Bessie Charlotte, who was born on March 30, 1880, married Adelbert Parkhurst of Muskegon, and moved to Albuquerque, New Mexico; Jessie, who was born on February 17, 1881, died of scalding, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery; and Ernest Lloyd, who was born on September 8, 1883.

William Plant [@1842-1864]

William was born in Oswego County, New York, around 1842, the son of Henry and Charlotte Matee Plant I. The Plant family moved to Crockery Township in 1854, settling first on 40 acres in Section 28, deeded to William by his father. Like other members of the Plant family in Crockery Township, William enlisted in the army during the Civil War. On April 11, 1863 he was mustered into Company M of the 7th Michigan Cavalry. He was captured near Richmond, Virginia on March 1, 1864 and died at Andersonville Prison in Georgia on September 16 the same year. He was buried at the National Cemetery in Andersonville.
Henry C. “Hank” Plantenga [1927-2003]

Stephen A. Platt I [1903-1998]
Stephen was born June 25, 1903 in Rock Island, Illinois, the son of Alfred and Fay Burk Platt. He married Vernet B. Anderson on April 24, 1926 in Decatur, Illinois. In 1930 Stephen was chief engineer for a pump company in Macon, Illinois. He was an inventor, and many of the wire heating coils in modern household conveniences were made by Stephen Platt Company, a family business founded in 1953 in Grand Haven. Vernet, was secretary-treasurer of the company. The Platts’ children were Gwendolyn, who was born in Illinois about 1927 and married a Mr. Burns of Greenfield, Indiana; Jeanine, who married Walter G. Wolff of Grand Haven; and Steve of Spring Lake. Stephen died on December 14, 1998. Vernet, who was born about 1905 in Illinois, passed away on November 21, 2000. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Julius P. Pleines [1875-1953]
Julius Pleines was born in Shrewsbury, Pennsylvania on March 11, 1875. He rose to the rank of captain in the Army. He retired to Grand Haven about 1924 and was seriously wounded during the robbery attempt at Peoples Bank on August 18, 1933. Julius married Ethel G. Terry in New Orleans, Louisiana on January 4, 1918. She was born in 1879 in Oregon, died about April 19, 1927, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Julius passed away around June 25, 1953 and was buried with his wife.

In 1930 Charles Plowman was stationed at the Coast Guard Station in Grand Haven as a crew member. Two years earlier he had married Edna, the daughter of August and Henrietta Podein Boseker. Edna was born in Grand Haven on February 4, 1904. In 1930 she was living with her mother at 1308 Lake. By the mid-1950s Charles and Edna were residing at 1318 Lake Avenue and later at 1319 Lake. Charles passed away on October 13, 1992, and Edna died on February 5, 1993. A son, Jack C., was born on January 2, 1929 and died in Spring Lake on July 20, 1993. Jack married Marjorie “Dollie” Liesen on October 7, 1950. A native of Chicago, she lived from May 19, 1928 to September 11, 2017. Jack and Dollie had eight children. [Tribune obituary, September 13, 2017.]

He was mustered out of this unit on November 16, 1865 and joined Company I of the 1st Michigan Cavalry. He left that regiment on March 10, 1866 in Salt Lake City, Utah. His parents were Alousa and Alesker Prentice, both born about 1820. In 1870 the Prentices, including George, were living in Crockery Township. On January 10, 1875 George married Lizzie Ryma in Grand Haven. She was 16 years old. George died on August 9, 1876 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery; there were no dates on his headstone.

Raymond G. Presley [1893-1983]

Born on February 8, 1893, Raymond Presley owned and operated Presley Drug Store, located on the southeast corner of Seventh and Washington [700 Washington], from 1919 to 1961, when he sold his business to pharmacist Jay Casemier. Raymond earlier owned the Square Drug Store on the corner of Seventh and Fulton Streets with a Mr. Hendricks. Raymond was the son of William and Amelia Moler Presley. William, a physician, opened a medical office in Grand Haven in 1909. Raymond married Sara Streng in 1917. She was born on June 18, 1893 and died in Grand Haven on May 20, 1981. They were members of St. John’s Episcopal Church and resided at 1021 Sheldon Road. Raymond died on May 10, 1983 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 11, 1983.]
William J. Presley [1867-1950]

William Presley was born in Montgomery County, New York, on October 20, 1867. Two years later he moved with his parents to a farm near Jackson. William became an Allendale resident in 1900 and arrived in Grand Haven nine years later. A graduate of the Grand Rapids Medical School, William had an office in his residence at 315 Washington in Grand Haven. He delivered more than 3,000 babies during his career. In 1919 William constructed a building on the southeast corner of Seventh and Washington Streets that became the site of his son’s drug store. The doctor moved his office to the second floor of the new building in 1923. William and his first wife had two sons, Ernest William Presley, who was born in Grand Rapids on December 29, 1889, and Raymond, who was born on February 8, 1893. Ernest lived in Grand Haven Township but worked in Grand Rapids, and Raymond operated the drug store. After his first wife died, the elder Presley married Amelia J. Moler on December 27, 1899. Amelia, who taught school in Kent County, was born in Illinois on April 11, 1879. They had one daughter, Gladys, born in 1903, and two sons: Elwood E., who was born on May 25, 1912 and died in Grand Haven on October 27, 1976, and Randolph J. who was born on November 2, 1913 and died in Grand Haven on July 26, 1980. William died in Grand Haven on April 2, 1950. Amelia died in Grand Haven in August 1969.

William E. Preston [@1876-1968]

In late September 1930, outside of Muskegon, Boatswain William Preston led the Coast Guard rescue of two men from the storm-damaged barge Salvor, which was hauling stone. One of the men rescued was Lyman Nedeau. Captain Preston entered the Coast Guard in Chicago in 1904 and retired on February 1, 1939, after 34 years of service. He was born in Norway about 1876 and arrived in the United States when he was six years old. In 1916 was assigned to the Beaver Island Station. He went from there to Louisville, Kentucky in 1918. After service in New York during WWI, he was sent to Michigan City, Indiana, and from there to Grand Haven, where he was keeper of the Grand Haven Lifeboat Station from 1922 to 1939. William passed away on December 18, 1868 and was buried at Pilgrim’s Rest Cemetery in Milwaukee.

Richard Prins [1910-1986]

Richard and Arthur “Arie” Prins opened Prins Heating Company at 104 North Third Street in 1939. Members of the Prins family had been in the heating business in Holland since 1908 and later in Muskegon. Two years later the brothers purchased the Crescent movie theatre building [1101-1103 Washington] and used it as their office. He and his wife once resided at 946 Franklin, but later relocated to 12898 Lakeshore Drive in Grand Haven Township. On May 20, 1935 in Saugatuck, he married Julia Postma, who was born in Holland, Michigan on May 21, 1913 and died on December 5, 1974. Richard was born in Holland on September 15, 1910 and passed away in Grand Haven on September 6, 1986. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His son, Richard II, continued to operate the family business, which was renamed Wolverine Heating & Cooling, and moved it to 13750 172nd Avenue. Arie, who moved to Georgetown Township, lived from May 21, 1917 to May 28, 1992.

Harry B. Proctor [1892-1923]

Harry Proctor was born in Tacoma, Washington in May 1892. On November 20, 1912 he married Ethel May Viges in De Witt, Clinton County. By 1921 he and Ethel were residing at 312 Franklin Street in Grand Haven. At that time Harry owned and managed Proctor Farm and Home Company, a real estate office located at 17 Washington. Two years later the Proctors had moved to Prospect Street in Spring Lake. Harry disappeared the night of October 30, 1923. With him was Edna Fullager, the 14-year old daughter of Rose Fullager, who resided at 831 Pennoyer Street. Rose had a house built on land Harry had sold her, and Howard had gone there to collect a payment, stayed for dinner, then left with Edna. Apparently, Rose was divorced from Arthur Fullager, Edna’s father. Nearly six weeks after their disappearance, Harry’s automobile was found in the Grand River at the end of Park Street. Near the automobile were Harry’s and Edna’s bodies. Because Harry had been drinking heavily on the night of his disappearance, he had asked Edna to drive him home. In the Village of Spring Lake, she had taken a wrong turn on a street that ended on the banks of the river. When Edna shifted into first gear instead of reverse, the car moved forward and catapulted into the water.

Harry was buried at Pleasant Hill Cemetery, near Lansing. He and Ethel had three children, all born in Michigan: Earl, born about 1915; Esther May who was born in 1916 and died in 1921; and Ralph, who lived from 1920 to 1939. Ethel was born in Michigan in 1896 and died in 1959. She, Esther May and Ralph also were buried at Pleasant Hill. [Tribune article “River gives up Bodies of Girl and Proctor,” December 10, 1923.]

Jacob Prucha [1871-1926]

In the mid-1920s, Jacob and Freda Prucha purchased 60 acres in Section 12 of Grand Haven Township for purposes of general farming. By 1930 they had purchased an additional 40 acres from Louis H. and Ida Losney. Born in 1871, Jacob died in 1926 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. His wife, Freda, who was from Czechoslovakia, lived from 1876 to 1931 and was buried with her husband. Fred, one of their children, was born in Wisconsin and lived from February 26, 1896 to January 14, 1972. Fred and his wife, Ruth, took ownership of the land after Jacob’s death. Ruth, who lived from July 11, 1904 to March 26, 1987, was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery with her husband. Jacob and Freda had another son, Charles, who was born in Illinois on September 30, 1903. A sheet metal worker at Bastian Blessing, Charles in 1930 was residing in Section 9 of Crockery Township with his widowed grandmother, Albina Tocenne [Tocaner]. He passed away in Muskegon on November 17, 1982. Jacob and his family resided in Cicero, Illinois as late as 1920.

Ed Pruim [@1875-1935]

See Evert J. Pruim.

Enno J. Pruim [1843-1929]

Enno Pruim was born in The Netherlands in January 1843 and came to Spring Lake with his parents as a child. He worked in the local mills. On August 4, 1862 he enlisted in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry and participated in the Battle of Missionary Ridge and was with General Sherman in the March to the Sea. He was mustered out with the rank of sergeant on June 8, 1865. On February 18, 1876 Enno applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. For over 30 years Pruim was a millwright for the Cutler & Savidge Mill, and he then worked at William Buckley’s hardware and undertaking business at 214 West Savidge. Later Enno and his son, John, opened their own hardware store, “Pruim & Son.” In 1919 John sold the business to Cornelius Ringold and his son Gerard A., who started the Ringold Hardware & Furniture Company and Funeral Home.

In 1867 Enno married Jane, the daughter of Thomas and Mary Finch. The Pruims lived at 217 West Mason. He was township supervisor for 19 years, and he also at various times filled the posts of township treasurer, highway commissioner, street commissioner, and justice of the peace. Pruin Street in Spring Lake is named after him, but with an obvious misspelling. Among the Pruims’ children was a son, John B., born about 1871, and a daughter, Maud [Maude] M., who was born in October 1873 [1874] and married George Schwab II of Spring Lake. Maud and George divorced not long afterward, and she returned to her parents’ home and resumed use of the Pruim name. Apparently Maud never remarried. Enno donated a cup and chain to the fountain at the corner of Savidge and Jackson Streets. The fountain was sponsored by the Women’s Christian Temperance Union [WCTU] to provide drinks of water to thirsty passersby. After Enno died in 1929 Jane applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. She was born in April 1848 and died in 1934. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Evert J. “Ed” Pruim [1871-1934]

On June 23, 1899 Ed Pruim married Alyda B. Everhard in Zeeland. They resided with their daughter, Iola G., at 350 East Central Avenue in Zeeland. In the 1920s Ed opened the Ed J. Pruim Music House at 135 Washington in Grand Haven, while continuing to operate an outlet in Zeeland. He also had a shop at 18
Monroe Avenue in Grand Rapids. In the early 1930s he moved his Grand Haven store to 201-203 Washington. Ed was born in Spring Lake on April 12, 1871, and Alyda was born in Holland on January 14 three years later. Isla [Ila] Gladys was born in Zeeland on November 11, 1902, on August 16, 1928 in Zeeland, married Gordon Van Eenenaam [1902-1960], and passed away on August 1, 2009. The Van Eenenaams had a son, John, who opened a law office in Grand Haven. Ed died on November 30, 1934 in Muskegon and was buried at Zeeland Cemetery. Alyda passed away in Muskegon on November 13, 1939 and was buried with her husband.

Hiram [Hyrum] Pruim I [1852-1924]

Born in The Netherlands on February 15, 1852, Hiram Pruim was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. On April 20, 1878 in Grand Haven, he married Katie. The daughter of Jan and Tryntje Meyers Kieft of Grand Haven, she was born on July 4, 1859. They were married in Grand Haven on April 20, 1878. By 1880 the Pruims were living in Spring Lake, where Hiram was a bridge tender. Hiram II was born on November 15, 1884 in Grand Haven. After his birth, the Pruims moved to Chicago. There Hiram the father worked as a watchman and electrician. He died in Chicago on February 7, 1924. Kate died on April 17, 1942, also in Chicago.

John B. Pruim [1870-1936]

John and his father, Enno Pruim, started an undertaking and hardware business in Spring Lake. Eventually young Pruim took over the business, which he sold to Gerard Ringold in 1919. John was born in Spring Lake on December 12, 1870 [1871]. On June 21, 1894 in Spring Lake, he married Mildred, the daughter of William and Sarah Dennison Millard. Millie was born in Michigan in February 1869. By 1924 John was working as an embalmer at a Muskegon funeral home. He died on February 6, 1936 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, but his headstone bears only his birth year. Mildred had died on May 18, 1935 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Klaas [Klaus] Pruim [Pruin] [1841-1913]

Born in The Netherlands January 4, 1841, Klaas Pruim came to Grand Haven in June 1853. On August 19, 1871 in Spring Lake he married Alberdina “Delia” Huizenga, who was born in The Netherlands in March 1851 and died on July 9, 1907. Their children were John K., who was born in May 1872 and died in 1929; Henrietta “Ettie,” who born in 1873 and married Clarence D. White of Spring Lake; Reka, born around 1876; Sarah, who was born in September 1878 and married Edward De Vries of Spring Lake; Jane, born in December 1880; and Celia, born in November 1888. Klaas was a member of the Masons. He was found dead in a boat on the Grand River near Spring Lake on October 21, 1913, probably the result of a continuing heart problem. He and his wife were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Pieter Pruim [1827-@1862]

Pieter Pruim, a native of The Netherlands, on October 1, 1856 married Maria “Mary” Regina Louis in Grand Haven. He was born in The Netherlands on September 26, 1827. They had at least two children: John Pruim, born about 1857, and Elizabeth “Betsy” Pruim, born on November 17, 1859. Maria, also a native of The Netherlands, was born on October 25, 1835. After Pieter’s death in the early 1860s, Maria married Abraham Dowlyn of Spring Lake, who recently had become a widower. John and Betsy became part of the Dowlyn family.

Godfrey E. Pufal [1894-1993]

Godfrey Pufal was in charge of operations at Oxford Varnish until the plant moved out of the building at 1401 Fulton in January 1949. The company started business in 1943. Godfrey and his wife, Florence B., resided at 320 South Griffin Street. Ronald Pufal, a son, lived with them. Ronald was born on October 12, 1919 and died in Grand Haven on June 26, 1989. He worked for Michigan Plastic Products. Godfrey was born on January 9, 1894 and died in Grand Haven on May 21, 1993. Florence lived from October 12, 1900 to December 26, 1983. Godfrey, Ronald, and Florence were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.
Samuel Purchase II [1825-1894]

Samuel Purchase was born December 26, 1825 in Canada and died in West Olive on August 20, 1894. His parents were Samuel and Huldah Parshall Purchase, who settled in Hillsdale County. Samuel II on April 18, 1852, married Martha, daughter of James and Patty Dale Eastway, also of Hillsdale County. Martha was born in 1832 and died on June 1, 1905. The Purchases had a 64-acre farm in Section 2 of Olive Township. They had three children: James Edwin, who was born in Hillsdale County on April 29, 1853, married Sarah Elizabeth Misner [Mizener] [born June 8, 1861 in Canada] in Grandville on December 21, 1887, had six children, and died in 1942; Laban T., who was born September 23, 1857 in Olive, first married Mary Lick [September 1860-December 10, 1901] on August 29, 1878 in Olive and then Alice Parker, had a total of three children, and died on March 10, 1907; and Milo Delos, who was born October 7, 1864, also in Olive Township, on September 19, 1888. He married Lillian Nevins [born 1868] and then Clara Albine Conger [March 20, 1873-October 9, 1955], had three children, and died in Grand Rapids on April 30, 1929. The Purchases also had an adopted daughter, Emma Kirkland, who was born in Greenville, Montcalm County in 1869 and married Milo Tubbs of Olive Township on April 1, 1883. Samuel and Martha were buried at Olive Cemetery with other family members.

Gerald “Gomer” Pyle [1936-2001]

The son of Albert and Metta Kemme Pyle, Gerald “Gomer” was born in Zeeland, Ottawa County, on August 4, 1936. About 1966 he married Mary Jane Bredehoft, daughter of Harold Bredehoft, who owned a 40-acre farm on the northwest corner of Lincoln and 168th Streets in Grand Haven Township [16865 Lincoln Street]. Mary Jane was Gomer’s second wife. Gomer served in the National Guard for 12 years and was employed by the Grand Haven Police Department for 22 years, Michigan Bell Telephone for 12 years, and Fricke Marina. He moved to the Grand Haven area in 1955. With his first wife, he had three sons: Michael of Holland; Thomas of Longwood, Florida; and Steven of Kalamazoo. He and Mary Jane had a son, David, who moved to Howard City. Around 1990 Gomer contracted Multiple Sclerosis and eventually became a resident of the North Ottawa Care Center in Grand Haven, where he spent the last seven years of his life. He died there on January 5, 2001. [Tribune obituary, January 6, 2001.]

Andrew [Anderere] Pytlinske [1844-1912]

Andrew Pytlinske, born in Germany in 1844, married Anastasia Klemke, who lived from 1856 to 1943. They immigrated to the United States in 1884 and purchased a 60-acre farm in Section 13 of Grand Haven Township. One of their children, Felix I, was born on September 23, 1892 and lived in Chicago and Grand Haven Township. Another son, Leo, lived from March 17, 1886 to February 2, 1983. Their other children were Hattie, born on October 6, 1887; Elizabeth, born in July 1889; Bruno, born in December 1890; and Josephine, born in February 1896. Andrew died in 1912.

Felix Bernard Pytlinske I [1892-1972]

Felix, the son of Andrew and Anastasia Pytlinske, was born on September 23, 1892 in Grand Haven Township. He married Elfrida [Elfrieda] Clara Simon [Schultz] on June 28, 1923 in Genesee County. She was born on June 28, 1902 and immigrated to the United States in 1914. The couple lived in Chicago before returning to the Grand Haven area in 1929. At that time they purchased the ten-acre Friedrich “Fritz” Quade property on the northwest corner of Green Street and Stearns Bayou [Section 6 of Robinson Township, 14023 Green Street and 14145 138th Avenue], where they ran a small store, restaurant, and dance hall and rented boats. The previous owners operated the Quade Resort, where Felix and Elfrida had been summer guests. At the end of Grand Haven’s Centennial Celebration in August 1934, Felix purchased the log cabin that had been used in the parade as a replica of the first Ferry home. He moved it to his property on Stearn’s Bayou and remodeled it into a tourist cabin. Eventually Felix and Elfrida’s son, Felix II, took over the business located at the corner of Stearns Bayou and Grand River, and the remaining property in Section 6 was sold. Felix and Elfrida also had a daughter, Louise Virginia Pytlinske, who was born in Chicago on

Palmer Percy Quackenbush [1908-1987]

Palmer Quackenbush, a violinist, was director of orchestra and choirs for the Grand Haven schools, beginning in the fall of 1938. Before that he was concert master of the 90-piece Grand Rapids Symphony, starting in 1932. In 1935 he taught music in Fremont schools, where he also organized and directed the 35-piece Newaygo County Little Symphony. On November 28, 1939 Palmer conducted 50 musicians in the first performance of what became West Shore Symphony, later called West Michigan Symphony Orchestra. The Grand Haven Community Chorus was on the program as well. The inaugural performance was held at Muskegon High School. The next night, Wednesday, November 29, the ensemble repeated the program, this time in the auditorium at Grand Haven High School, then on Seventh Street. Albert. Maywood Courtright, a music teacher in the Muskegon schools, was a co-founder of the symphony and also played in the initial performances. Palmer raised most of the needed funds himself, at a time when the effects of the Depression still had an impact. The Symphony was incorporated the same year. Palmer also conducted the choir and glee club at the high school, and he organized a swing orchestra that played for student events. He moved from Grand Haven in the late 1940s, and in 1949 he gave up his position as conductor of the West Shore Symphony and was named associate conductor.

Born in Grand Rapids on September 8, 1908, Palmer died in Salem, Virginia on February 24, 1987. As a boy, he learned to play the violin. He graduated from the Grand Rapids Conservatory of Music and then became a member of its faculty. He joined the Grand Rapids Symphony Orchestra and became its concertmaster, a position he held until his entry into public education. On August 25, 1932, Palmer married Mary Elmore Pearson in Newaygo. Known also as Eleanor, she was born in Michigan about 1912. They had at least one child, Catherine [Kahtryn Ann], who was born in Fremont on July 12, 1936. In Grand Haven, the family resided at 105 Franklin Street. On October 2, 1958, Palmer and Eleanor were divorced in North Carolina. Palmer was divorced from his second wife, Judy, on October 3, 1972, again in North Carolina. [Muskegon Chronicle, November 27, 1939.]

Friedrich “Fritz” William Quade [1874-?] and Dirkje Adrianna Quade Reed [1876-1959]

Friedrich “Fritz” and Adrianna Quade 35-acre owned and ran Quade Resort from 1914 into the late 1920s. Their property, on the northwest corner of Green Street in Robinson Township, bordered Stearn’s Bayou. The two-story frame home often accommodated as many as 40 people at a time. Adrianna, well-known for her cooking skills, prepared two meals a day for her guests. Prior to opening the resort, the Quades raised chickens on a farm in Robinson Township. Fritz was born in Germany on April 28, 1874 and Adrianna was born in Rotterdam, The Netherlands on April 4, 1876. In 1936 and 1940 Dirkje was a widow living in Robinson Township, listed as Mrs. D. C. Quade. By 1945 she had moved to 414 Franklin Street in Grand Haven. She died on December 24, 1959 under the name Mrs Dirkje Quade Reed. Her obituary noted she was a furrier, and that in addition to her local addresses, she had lived in Denver, Colorado. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Musician Bob Warnaar of Grand Haven was her nephew.

John J. Quayle [Quail, Quale] [1856-1882]

John Quayle, a sailor, died in Chicago of pneumonia on May 8, 1882. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery under a large concrete monument adorned with nautical symbols and the word “Mizpah,” an apparent reference to several places of that name in Israel and meaning “watchtower.” The monument, like the other two in Block 16, was manufactured by the F. O. Gross Company at 341 Wabash Avenue, Chicago. John’s parents were Thomas and Mary Quayle of Grand Haven. He was born in 1856 in New York State but moved to Grand Haven with his parents before 1863.

Minott [Mynott] William Quayle [1860-1881]
Minott, the son of Thomas and Mary Quayle of Grand Haven, was born in New York State on June 16, 1860. He died of consumption in Grand Haven on December 10, 1881. Although he died young, he lived long enough to call himself a Grand Haven “Artist” and to produce at least one stereographic view of Grand Haven, taken from Dewey Hill. Minott was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members.

Thomas Quayle [Quail, Quaile] I [@1831-1896]

Thomas Quayle, a sailor, was born on the Isle of Man [England] about 1831. On July 22, 1863 he registered for the Civil War draft while living in Grand Haven. He was married, 29 years old, and working as a sailor. There are no records certifying that he served in the military during the Civil War. On the 1870 Federal Census for Grand Haven, he was listed with his wife Mary and their six children: John, Maria, Minott, Frank, Mary, and Nellie. Their ages in the Federal Census of that year were listed as 13, 12, 10, 8, 7, and 2, respectively. The first three were born in New York, the next three in Michigan. Living in the same household were twins Lizzie and Thomas, 20 years old, both born on the Isle of Man. It’s probable that Thomas and Mary were the twins’ parents. However, Thomas and Mary had another son they named Thomas II, who was born in Grand Haven August 7, 1873. He died the next year on July 7. A daughter, Lotta [Letta] was born in Grand Haven on December 7, 1875 and died on February 10, 1876. In 1877 Mary gave birth again, this time to a boy they named Leroy. Thomas and Mary had at least one other child, Edith, who died in Grand Haven on June 27, 1887 a month short of her 17th birthday. The infant died on January 14, 1879. Mary was born on November 15, 1839 on the Isle of Man. She died in Grand Haven on January 17, 1879. On January 4, 1881 in Grand Haven, Thomas Quayle married Amanda J. Burch. Amanda, 20 years younger than Thomas, was born in Wisconsin about 1851. Thomas and Amanda moved to California, where he died on May 31, 1896 and was buried at Evergreen Cemetery in Los Angeles. On November 20, 1901 in Los Angeles, Amanda married Henry B. Thomas. Mary, the elder Thomas’s wife, John, Minott, Edith, Letta, and several other Quayles were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Amanda died on May 14, 1914 in Los Angeles.

Isaac John Quick [1850-1926]

Born in London, Ontario on July 11, 1850, Isaac Quick opened a general store in Allendale. In 1894 he sold the store to John Wolbrink and John’s cousin, Charles E. Wolbrink. In the 1890s Isaac was Allendale’s postmaster. On November 23, 1877 in Allendale, he married Mary B. Purdy. She was born in Canandaigua, New York. Isaac died in Marquette, Marquette County on April 11, 1926. See also Charles Edward Wolbrink [1875-1946], John Wolbrink [1842-1899], and John J. Wolbrink [1878-1955].

Anthony Quinton [1853-1932]

Anthony Quinton and his wife, Mary [May], daughter of Thomas and Bridget Brady, owned a 40-acre farm in Section 24 of Spring Lake Township. Anthony settled there as early as 1892. He and Mary were married in Grand Haven on October 24, 1895. Anthony was born in New York in June 1853 and died in 1932. Mary, a Michigan native, lived wife from October 15, 1866 [1867] to May 1, 1933. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their children were George, born on September 2, 1897, and Margaret Mary, born on January 10, 1900.

George Quinton [Quintin] [1835-1918]

On August 14, 1862, George Quinton enlisted in Company I of the 22nd Wisconsin Infantry as private. He was wounded at the Battle of Kennesaw Mountain, Georgia, on June 27, 1864, and was listed again as wounded and missing on June 12, 1865. At the time of his enlistment, George was a resident of Beloit, Wisconsin, but he moved to Spring Lake Township after the war, where he took up farming and was active until his death at age 83. George also was attached to the 17th Veteran Reserve Corps. He was born in Ireland on March 2, 1832. His mother Bridget was born in the same country about 1820 [1810] and was widowed before 1870. She died on September 22, 1903 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with George and other Quintons. George died in Spring Lake on November 9, 1918. George and William Quinton were brothers.
William Quinton [Quiten, Quintan] [@1838-1873]
During the Civil War, William Quinton was wounded at a battle near Atlanta, Georgia on August 7, 1864. He had enlisted in Company F of the 14th Michigan Infantry on October 11, 1861 as private. There was no further record of his service after the injury. Born about 1838 in Ireland, William was a resident of Crockery Township at the time he enlisted. On September 15, 1876, Bridget Quinton, listed as his mother, applied for a Civil War pension. Bridget was born in Ireland about 1820 [1810] and was a widow by 1870. She died on September 22, 1903 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with William and other Quintons. William, a farmer, applied for an invalid’s pension on August 9, 1865, died in March 1873, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. He and George Quinton were brothers.

John C. Quintus [Quintes, Quintis] [1852-1912]
Born in The Netherlands on April 2, 1852, John Quintus settled in Grand Haven area. In 1880 he worked at George Miller’s Hardware Store [approximately 200-202 Washington] in downtown Grand Haven and resided with the Miller family. He also worked as a painter until he sold his stock to Otto Albert Zautner [1884-1968] of Wisconsin. John then entered the furniture and undertaking business. He was justice of the peace for many years, served as clerk of the School Board for several terms, and was town clerk for two terms. John was a member of Emmanuel Congregational Church, where he performed janitor’s duties without pay from the time it was organized. On May 25, 1885 he married Elizabeth Saunders in Grand Haven. She was born in Wisconsin on December 17, 1856. By 1905 the couple was residing in Waukesha, Wisconsin. John passed away on October 14, 1912. Elizabeth died in Waukesha on November 2, 1936. She and John were buried at Jerusalem Cemetery in that city. [Tribune obituary, October 14, 1912.]

Albert Raak [1819-1907]
Born in Overijsssel, The Netherlands on August 7, 1819, Albert Raak married Klaasje Kisterman in their native country on February 28, 1845. They immigrated to America in 1865. Albert’s parents were Geert Harms and Marje Alberts Prinz Raak. Klaasje also was born in Overijsssel on December 18, 1825 and died on March 22, 1910 in Olive Township. The Raaks settled on 60 acres in Section 35 of Olive Township. Albert’s and Klaasje’s children were Gerrit, who was born about 1847; Arend, who lived from July 24, 1848 to February 25, 1921; Lambert, who was born about 1863; Klass “Charley,” who was born in July 1869; Jan “John;” and Geerling. Gerrit and his wife Lucy maintained a 30-acre farm in Olive Township. Arend and Lambert moved to Holland Township. Albert died on March 26, 1907. Charley took over the family farm in Section 35, which grew to 110 acres by 1918.

Albert Raak [1890-1961]
Albert, born on February 25, 1890, was the grandson of Albert Raak, who settled in Olive Township, and the son of Arend and Roeltje Brower Raak, who were married in Ottawa County on February 25 [28], 1876. The young Albert married Reka Hop, who was born in Olive Township on January 10, 1891. After moving to Grand Haven, the couple resided at 211 Madison in the early 1900s. Living with them was Martha, widow of John Raak, Albert’s brother. Martha, the daughter of Gerrit and Jennie “Jane” Nordhuis Gringhuis, lived from 1858 to 1914 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Albert worked with the Grand Haven Fire Department, but by 1918 also leased 80-acres in Olive Township, part of his grandfather’s original farm in Section 35. By 1930 Albert’s brother Charley was farming the land. Reka died on October 9, 1960 and her husband passed away on February 14 the next year.

Donald E. Rabidoux [1921-1990]
Donald E. Rabidoux owned 30 acres on Spring Lake at 18522 Fruitport Road as early as the mid-1950s [Section 2 of Spring Lake Township]. Donald was born on October 23, 1921 and died in Florida on September 1, 1990. He served with the Army from March 31, 1943 to March 31, 1945 and was buried at Florida National Cemetery. When he passed away, he was living in Bushnell, Florida.

Robert W. Radeke I [1857-1916]
According to the 1880 census, Robert Radeke was a saloon keeper. In the 1893 Compendium Robert was listed as “government clerk,” but the nature of his affiliation was not noted. By the early 1900s he was a tobacco merchant at 24 Washington in downtown Grand Haven. The building was one of several torn down in 1927 to make room for the Grand movie theater. He married Cornelia De Vlieger in Grand Haven on February 20, 1879. They lived at the corner of Second and Fulton Streets [206 Fulton]. Cornelia lived from August 1858 to about December 9, 1933 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. One of their children, Julia C., was born on October 22, 1882, graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1902, became a teacher in the local school system, and married a Ver Hoef. Another daughter was Cora L. [Anna], who was born on November 23, 1887 and died in Grand Haven in December 1968. They also had a son, Robert W. II, who was born in December 1898, died about April 6, 1960, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Robert I was born in Michigan in February 1857, died about December 7, 1916, and was buried at Lake Forest.

Harold P. C. Radikopf [1914-1993]

Born on March 7, 1914 in Chicago, Harold Radikopf was chief of the Grand Haven Township Fire Department around the time of its founding in 1946. Harold died on December 31, 1993. On October 9, 1937, in Grand Haven Township, he married Marie M. Ott. Born on May 21, 1917 in Grand Rapids, Marie was the daughter of John R. and Rose Hancq Ott. Harold and Marie had five children: Judith Essenyi of West Olive; Cherryl, who married James Potter and relocated to Grand Rapids; Ronald, who was born in 1940; Mark, who remained in Grand Haven; and Brian of West Olive. Harold and Marie resided at 14912 160th Avenue. Marie passed away in Grand Haven Township on July 30, 2005 and was buried at Grand Haven Township Historic Cemetery. Harold’s mother, Ida, was born September 2, 1896 and died in Grand Haven on September 7, 1986. [Tribune obituary, August 1, 2005.]

Ronald Leroy Radikopf [1940- ?]

In 1972 Ronald Radikopf won $487,900 in the Irish Sweepstakes. Up to that time, only two Americans had ever won the “super sweepstakes.” Three years later Lewis Miller of Grand Haven sued Radikopf for failing to follow through on their oral agreement to split the prize. Lotteries in 1972 were illegal in the State of Michigan. Both men were employed at Gardner-Denver Company.

Ronald, the son of Harold and Marie Ott Radikopf, was born in Grand Haven on October 31, 1940 and graduated from Grand Haven High School 17 years later. He married Marilyn Ann Buitenwert of Grand Haven. She was born on February 25, 1944. They resided at 1025 Colfax Street. The couple moved to Florida.

Albert Radspieler I [1916-2005]

The son of John and Julia Silverhorn Radspieler, Albert was born in Grand Haven on July 27, 1916. He married Antoinette [Ann] Agnes Wapienik in Grand Haven on February 14, 1940. She was born on June 18, 1921 and passed away in Grandville on July 30, 1993. Their children included Phyllis, who married David Jones of Allegan, and Albert II, who moved to Arkansas. Albert served with the National Guard in the late 1930s. At one time was employed at Bastian Blessing in Grand Haven and Continental Motors in Muskegon. He owned and managed Anchor Motel, and also was a real estate broker. He and Ann moved to Grandville, where he died on February 1, 2005. [Tribune obituary, February 3, 2005.]

John Radspieler [1874-1949]

John Radspieler was born in Austria on July 28, 1874. He married Julia Silverhorn, who was born in Czechoslovakia on December 27, 1879. They settled on an 80-acre farm in Sections 15 and 22 of Grand Haven Township. Their children were John Philip Radspieler, who was born on February 12, 1913 and died in Ferrysburg on April 5, 1993; Rudolph, born on October 30, 1914; Albert, born on July 27 1916; Ernest [Barnett], born in 1919; and Martha born in 1921. Another son, Anthony, was born about 1927 and appointed American Consul in Frankfurt, Germany in the mid-1960s. John passed away on September 23, 1949, and Julia died on August 25, 1966. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.
John Ernest Radspieler [1913-1993]

Like his brothers, John Radspieler attended Stone School, located at the southeast corner of 168th Avenue and Ferris in Grand Haven Township. John, the son of John and Julia Silverhorn Radspieler, was born February 12, 1913 and died in Ferrysburg on April 5, 1993. He and his wife, Olive, lived at and operated Grade A Cabins at 17501 Ridge in Ferrysburg. Olive was born on April 15, 1909 and died, also in Ferrysburg, in June 1983.

Rudolph Radspieler [1914-1971]

Rudolph Radspieler attended Stone School, located at the southeast corner of 168th Avenue and Ferris in Grand Haven Township. From the 1940s to the time of his death he resided at 1310 Waverly. Rudolph, the son of John and Julia Silverhorn Radspieler, was born on October 30, 1914 and died in Grand Haven on January 11, 1971. A brother, Anthony, born about 1927, was appointed by President John F. Kennedy as American Consul in Frankfurt, Germany. Rudolph had two other brothers: John, who lived in Ferrysburg, and Albert, who moved to Grandville. In 1938 Rudy earned $4.20 for cutting firewood for Carlotta Ewing, who had a summer home at the nearby Wilderness.

James Rae [1837-1919]

James Rae was born in York County, Ontario, Canada on June 10, 1837 [1836]. He immigrated to America in 1865 and moved to Michigan the next year. He was a farmer in Crockery Township as early as 1880. He married Elizabeth Miller Lidelle in Nunicia on February 17, 1891. Elizabeth was born in Hillsdale County on April 30, 1846 [1847]. She may previously have been married to a Lidelle, although no record was found of the marriage. In 1893 James was farming 30 acres in Section 14 of Crockery Township. At the time of the 1900 and 1910 Federal Censuses, the couple was still on the farm. Elizabeth was a correspondent for the Tribune in 1909 and 1910, and possibly longer, covering Nunicia, Dennis and Crockery. James sold some of his farmland, and by 1918 he had 18 acres remaining. He died on September 11, 1919 in London, Canada. Elizabeth, listed in the 1920 census as a resident at the Clarke Memorial Home in Grand Rapids, died on February 24, 1935.

Charles W. Ralya [1844-1915]

Charles Ralya, born in February 1844, owned a 40-acre farm in Section 13 of Robinson Township. His wife, Celia E., lived from February 1854 to 1922. Charles died in 1915. He and his wife and other family members were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. Leonard Ralya, who was born in 1872 and died in 1960, was their son. Another son, George W., lived from April 14, 1881 to 1965. They also had a daughter, Maud, who was born in 1874, married John Conant, and died in 1946. John was born in 1869. The Conants had two children. A second Ralya daughter, Hazel P., who was born on May 9, 1891, married Robert H. Scott.

Leonard Foster Ralya [1872-1960]

Leonard, the son of Charles W. and Celia E. Ralya of Robinson Township, was born in June 1872 [1873]. He married Mary Amanda, the daughter of Luman and Alwilda Smith Van Drezer of Grand Haven. Mary, also a Michigan native, lived from February 1870 to 1936 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. Mary may have been previously married. Living in the Ralya household in 1900 was her daughter, Georgia Sheldon, born in May 1890. The Ralyas owned an 80-acre farm in Section 23 of Robinson Township. Mary lived from 1870 to 1936 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. Leonard and Mary had five children: Lawrence Rolland, born on December 30, 1897 and died in Spring Lake on April 1, 1979; Iris, born September 6, 1904 and died thirteen months later; Harold L., who lived from October 13, 1907 to November 27, 1989; and Lillian Evelyn, who was born on August 13, 1909, on February 25, 1927 married Hugh Spencer Rowell [April 14, 1905-February 25, 1981], and died in Holland on May 8, 1993. Leonard died in 1960 and was buried with other family members at Robinson Township Cemetery. Mary had been married previously to George Sheldon, who was born on October 2, 1863 and died May 26, 1890.

Robert L. Ralya [1931-2005]
Grand Haven native Robert Ralya was born on June 3, 1931. He served in the Navy during the Korean conflict, belonged to the Second Christian Reformed Church in Grand Haven, and was president and chaplain of the Gideons. In July 1959 Bob opened a two-chair barbershop in a new building at 1000 Robbins Road, and appropriately named his business Bob’s Barber Shop. He sold to his partner, Art Schout of Coopersville, who had filled the extra chair since 1960. After selling his business, Bob worked for Screw Machine Specialties for a number of years, but eventually rejoined Art Schout at the barbershop. Bob retired in 1996. Bob and his wife, Edith M., had several children, including David, of Orlando, Florida; Kathy, who married David Newhof of Zeeland; Tom, who moved to Jamestown; Daniel, who moved to Hamilton in Allegan County; and Mary, who relocated to Indiana. The family resided at 1120 Taylor before moving to 17242 Berkshire in Grand Haven Township. Bob died in Zeeland on January 28, 2005 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 31, 2005.]

Josephine Parrisien Ramsey [@1869-1941]

See Joseph Parrisien Rumsey.

Dexter Ranney [1808-1850]

Dexter Ranney, who was born on June 5, 1808 in Ashfield, Franklin County, Massachusetts, settled in Robinson Township before 1839. In the mid-1830s Dexter was hired by the Grand Haven Company to handle logs at the juncture of Crockery Creek and Grand River. Dexter’s wife, Laura Robinson, was born in New York about 1820. His parents were Samuel Hall and Polly Stewart Ranney, and his sister, Lucretia, married Nehemiah Hathaway, another early Ottawa County settler. George Ranney, another member of the family from Ashfield, worked with Dexter for the Grand Haven Company. George, evidently a cousin, lived from 1828 to 1911 and was buried at Cannon Township Cemetery in Kent County with his wife, Cornelia, who was born in 1830 and died in 1921. Dexter purchased 40 acres in Polkton Township on February 1, 1848 and another 40 acres on the following June 1. He died on August 22, 1850. Frederick Ranney was Dexter’s brother.

Frederick Thomas Ranney [1820-1885]

Frederick Ranney about 1858 succeeded Charles Hathaway as part owner of the Grand Rapids Ax Factory, which produced tools for the lumbering industry. The other principal was Daniel Alcumbrack [1820-1859]. Six years later Frederick sold his interest back to Hathaway. Around 1860 Ranney became owner of Colonel Norton’s sawmill in Nortonville. He sold his interest in the mill to George Cole of Blendon Township in 1867. Frederick was among the first Justices in Robinson Township when it was formed in 1865.

Around 1843 Frederick married Elizabeth [Eliza, Aliza] Garrison, who was born in New York in 1818, died on August 16, 1856, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Frederick and Elizabeth had at least two children, Samuel Hall Ranney, who lived from 1844 to 1915, and Mary H. Ranney, born in Michigan about 1846. After his wife’s death Frederick married Frances “Fannie” Antill Bates in Grand Rapids on November 3, 1857. Fannie was born in Hopeville, New York on December 26, 1839. Frederick’s sister-in-law, Lucy Bates was hired to teach at Ottawa Center School in 1859. She and Frederick had five children, Frederick Tappen Ranney [1859-1934]; Florence Ranney [1862-1933]; Lewis Jay Ranney [1872-1933]; Elizabeth Ranney [1875-1937]; and Frances Ranney [1878-1927].

While living in Spring Lake, Frederick helped organize the First Presbyterian Church in 1861, along with Hunter Savidge, John Newcomb, and Aloys Bilz. Frederick was born March 12, 1820 in Ashfield, Franklin County, Massachusetts and died on December 19, 1885. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members, including his mother, Polly, who died on November 26, 1850 at the age of 74. His sister Lucretia married Nehemiah Hathaway, another early Ottawa County settler. Fannie passed away in Los Angeles, California on November 13, 1925. Dexter Ranney, who settled in Robinson Township before 1839, was his brother.

William Rawlinson [1876-1959]
William Rawlinson was born in either Connecticut or New York on April 26, 1876. His father, John Winthrop Rawlinson, was pastor at a Spring Lake Church for an unspecified time. William married Nora Belle Berden in Ottawa, Kansas on September 19, 1908. Nora was three years old when her mother died. Her father remarried, but Nora sensed that her stepmother did not like her, so she started visiting her grandmother whenever possible. Nora learned to play piano at her father’s house. When she was 16, her father took her to Ferris College in a horse-drawn wagon. At Ferris she earned a “Normal Professional” [teaching] degree. Nora enrolled in a one-year teacher certification program at the college, took a certification test, and began teaching school when she was 17. She was charged with cleaning the one-room schoolhouse and building a fire to warm the students before she could start the day’s educational activities.

William passed away on May 3, 1959 in Spring Lake. Nora was born in Custer, Mason County on December 8, 1884 and died on August 15, 1982 in Leesburg, Florida. Among their seven children was a son, John, who was born on September 7, 1912, became a Methodist minister, and married Ruth Kinney. Ruth lived from 1915 to 1976. John and Ruth were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William died on April 26, 1999 in Decatur, Indiana. William’s and Nora’s daughter, Mary, married William Creason in 1945 and eventually moved to Grand Haven.

Cyrus B. Raymond [@1820- ?]

Cyrus Raymond, born in New York State about 1820, was residing in Spring Lake Township by 1870, where he worked as a “Sawyer” in a sawmill. On May 1, 1858, in Ottawa County, he married Mary E. Read in Ottawa County. Mary was born about 1837 in New York. Cyrus’s and Mary’s children, all born in Michigan, were Mary, born about 1859; Hiram, born about 1862; Mira, born about 1866, and George, born on June 28, 1873. Cyrus helped organize the Baptist Church in Spring Lake. By 1880 he was a widower living with the Jay McClure family in Spring Lake and classified as a laborer. Living with him was his son George, born in Spring Lake on June 28, 1873.

Nelson W. Read [Reed, Reid] [1829-1925]

A sailor by trade, Nelson Read was born in Jefferson County, New York, in 1829. On March 20 [26], 1853, in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, he married Adeline M. Calhoun [Cahoon] of East Cleveland. The couple came to Grand Haven in 1862. They had four sons and four daughters. Adeline died between 1873 and 1880. Nelson died in 1925.

Daniel F. Realy [Realey, Really] [1819-1893]

In 1837 Daniel and his brother-in-law Captain Henry “Harry” Miller obtained through pre-emption from the federal government 175 acres on the Grand River. The south line of the property was bordered by the Grand River, where Daniel had a landing. Previously, he had resided in Ann Arbor, where he moved in 1832. In 1838 Daniel sowed and harvested the first crop of wheat in Ottawa County, grown on about three acres of the land. Captain James Dalton of Chicago helped him bring in the crop. Daniel threshed the wheat with a flail and transported it to market by canoeing up the Grand River to Grandville, a 22-mile trip. By 1840 Captain Miller and his wife, Elizabeth, were living on the site. In 1842 they built a permanent home, which also served as an inn for people traveling by coach between Grand Rapids and Grand Haven. It was called the Mid-Way House. On May 1, 1851 Daniel bought 40 acres in Section 33 of Polkton Township, and by 1864 he owned substantial acreage in Section 4 [south] of Polkton. In 1865 he sold his Polkton Township acreage to the County for $6,000. The County built a Poor Farm [Infirmary] on the 175 acres. Elizabeth Miller was Daniel’s sister.

After Daniel sold his farm, he bought land from Timothy Eastman and by 1876 he owned two 37-acre parcels in Section 3 of Polkton Township. Daniel built the foundation for a new Eastmanville School in 1868 for $115, and he built his home directly across the road from the school. He served as highway commissioner for the Township. Daniel was born in Germany on July 18, 1819 and died on March 28, 1893. His wife, Lucinda, a native of New York, lived from August 18, 1826 to February 27, 1876. Both were buried at Eastmanville Cemetery. They married in 1843. [The Tribune in its March 25, 1893 obituary noting Daniel’s passing reported that he married “Mrs. Sarah Hatch in 1843.”] Five Realy children died in infancy or childhood and are buried with their parents at Eastmanville Cemetery. A daughter, Mary, was born in Michigan about 1853 and married Nathaniel Garrison. Two other surviving children were Carrie, who was born about 1864 and on September 2 [21], 1883 married John Woodcock in Eastmanville, and Artie Belle, who was born in 1868, and on August 14, 1891 married Walter Edwin Miller in Grand Rapids. [Tribune obituary, March 28, 1893.]

Arnold Redeker [1917-2016]

Long associated with the Ford automobile sales and service in Grand Haven, Arnie Redeker was a native of Woodworth, Illinois, where he was born on May 20, 1917. The son of Henry and Sophia Redeker, Arnie was the youngest of four children. Arnie had a limited education, mostly in a German-speaking Lutheran grade school in his hometown.

In 1946 Gust Thieleman moved his Ford dealership to a newly-constructed showroom and service garage at 12-16 North Third Street. Thieleman retired in 1952 and sold the business to Aubrey Ernst and Arnold Redeker. From 1966 to 1973 Arnold Redeker and Burton Imig ran the dealership under the name Imig & Redeker. Imig sold his interest to Arnie and his name was dropped. Redeker Ford moved to 1401 South Beacon Boulevard in 1980. Arnie married Anne Kothai in 1939. Born on February 7, 1915, she died in Grand Haven on August 6, 2006. They had two sons, Bill and Jack, and a daughter, Ruthann, who married Tom Butterworth. After Anne’s death, Arnie married Louise Laughlin on July 11, 2009. Louise had two daughters from her earlier marriage: Vicky, who married Douglas Koster, and Lori, who married Craig Johnson.

Arnie received his airplane pilot’s license in 1944 and continued to fly for the next 62 years. He was a long-time member and elder of St. John’s Lutheran Church in Grand Haven. Arnie died May 15, 2016. [Tribune obituary, May 17, 2016.]

The Reenders were the parents of Klaas, who was born in Spring Lake on September [November] 10, 1874; Jennie, who was born in March 1877 and married Jacob Braak, founder of Braak’s Bakery; and Cornelius “Neil,” born in September 1879. Reender was born in The Netherlands on October 28, 1839, came to the United States in 1859, and died in 1920, while Martje, a native of Michigan, lived from July 1855 to 1915. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. His parents were Klaas and Martha Eilderts Nienhuis Reenders, who immigrated from The Netherlands to Grand Haven Township, making Martin Reenders and Reender Reenders brothers.

Nathaniel Reese I [1835-?]

Nathaniel Reese, a ship’s carpenter, built at least two ships in the Grand Haven area: Spray, a 40-ton scow built in 1870, and Augustus, an 80-ton scow, built at Spoonville in 1883. Nathaniel was owner as well as builder of both vessels. He was born in Wales in November 1835. His wife, Sarah Goole, was born in Canada around 1843. Their children were Augustus, born in Ohio about 1856; Henry, born about 1858; Mary A., born about 1859; and Nathaniel II, who was born on July 7, 1866 and died of consumption in Crockery Township on November 14, 1889. The three younger children were born in Michigan. In Grand Haven, the family resided on Fourth Street. Sarah died after 1880. On August 26, 1893 in Grand Haven, Nathaniel married Clara Blom Johnson in Ottawa County. She was born in Michigan in May 1868. Nat and Clara were residents of Crockery Township by 1900.

John Regelin [1859-1909]

John Regelin was born in Germany about 1857 and came to the United States with his parents when he was about 11 years old. John and his wife, Mary, lived at 414 Monroe Street in Grand Haven. He worked as a molder at Grand Haven Basket Factory on Madison Street. John died about February 3, 1909 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His parents were Louis and Maria Regelin. Edward Regelin, who lived from 1894 to 1945, was John’s and Mary’s son.

Louis [Lewis, Luis] Regelin [Roegelien, Regalain] [1824-1910]

Louis Regelin was born in Germany in 1824. His wife, Mary [Maria] Elizabeth Shultz, was born in the same country six years later. By 1868 they lived on a farm in Grand Haven Township with their children: Friedrich, born about 1851 in Germany; Johann [John], born about 1857; Ludwig, born about 1862; and Augusta, born on July 10, 1868. The boys were born in Germany, but Augusta was born locally. Another daughter, Christina, was born in Hamburg, Germany on June 24, 1857 and married William Koats, and one more daughter, Henrietta, was born “at sea” on April 4, 1865 and married Henry Neitring of Grand Haven Township. Mary died in 1887 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Louis died in 1910 and was buried with his wife.

William Regelin [1915-1990]

William Regelin, born in 1915, married Elizabeth Klumpel in Grand Haven on July 1, 1939. William’s parents were Edward and May Hancock Regelin. Elizabeth [Bettye] Helen Klumpel was the daughter of William and Edith Wacker Klumpel of Grand Haven, who lived at 425 Slayton Street. Edith lived from 1918 to September 19, 2001 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William died on September 26, 1990. He and Elizabeth lived at 15775 Lincoln Street in Grand Haven Township.

William H. Regelin [@1820-?]

In 1860 William Regelin was proprietor of the Ottawa House located at 1 Washington Street in Grand Haven. The hotel was destroyed by fire on November 13 that year. William was born in New Jersey about 1820. His wife, Esther, was born in New York around 1822, and their son Charles was born in the same state about 1849. There is no evidence this William Regelin was related to other Regelins in the Grand Haven area.

Charles H. Reghel [1864-1935]

Charles Reghel was born in Corunna, Shiawassee County on August 18, 1864. On September 22, 1892, shortly after arriving in Grand Haven, Charles married Bertha, the daughter of John and Sarah vanden Berg Luikens of Grand Haven. Bertha was born on December 1, 1871 and graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1890. Charles was employed by the Cutler House for three years, before moving to Grand Rapids, where he remained for the next eight years and became known as “Reddy the Oyster King.” About 1902 he returned to Grand Haven and purchased the building at the southeast corner of First and Washington Streets [204 Washington], where he operated a saloon. He and his wife also resided there, but later purchased the house on the southwest corner of Franklin and First Streets [32 Franklin]. Charles bought the River View Hotel at 10 Franklin, which he subsequently sold to Herbert Hillman. In 1932 Charles and his widowed sister-in-law, Lucy Callister, bought the KarmelKorn store at 110 Washington. Charles died on January 14, 1935 while working at his KarmelKorn business. The Regehls had two sons: Frank, who was born on July 3, 1893, and Lewis, who was born on January 14, 1905. Bertha passed away on November 4, 1941 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. [Tribune obituary, November 5, 1941.]

Frank Bernard “Bernie” Reghel [1893-1964]

On September 6, 1917 Bernie Reghel married Florence Perl Knapp in Grayling, Crawford County. A veteran of WWI, he went to work for the James W. Oakes Insurance Company in 1919, and in 1927 began his own insurance and real estate business, F. B. Reghel & Company, in Grand Haven, with an office located first on Seventh Street, then at 210½ Washington Street, and later at 222½ Washington. Ruby McCracken worked with him in the business for 34 years. In 1926 Bernie and Florence purchased and managed the new 14-unit Oval Inn, located on Harbor Drive [1030 Harbor], across the street from the State Park in Grand Haven. The Inn had been owned by William Blakeslee, a building contractor from Spring Lake. Later they added the “Grand Haven Apartments” next door and the “Miami Apartments” across the street [then 27 Prospect, now 20 Prospect], for a total of 40 rooms and four apartments. They piped in music by telephone from Grand Rapids and served food from 9:00 a.m. to midnight. They resided in one of the Miami Apartments. The Regehls sold their interest in the property in 1955, and in 1961 Frank sold his insurance business to R. K. Mitchell of Muskegon. Frank was a Mason, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, and president of the Area Resort Committee. In 1933 he was Exalted Ruler of the Elks Lodge. The son of Charles and Bertha Luikens Reghel, Frank was born in Grand Haven on July 3, 1893 and died on March 5, 1964. Florence lived from June 30, 1893 to June 1983. [Tribune obituary, March 5, 1964.]

Lewis [Louis] W. Reghel [1905-1960]
The son of Charles and Bertha Luikens Reghel, Lewis was born on January 14, 1905. He became proprietor of the Franklin Hotel, located on the southwest corner of Franklin and First Streets in Grand Haven. He also worked for the Ottawa County Road Commission, and by the mid-1940s he was working at People’s Bank and Trust. Ten years later he was vice president of the bank, the position he held at the time of his death. He and his wife at that time resided at 514 Grand Avenue. On May 29, 1932 in Crown Point, Indiana, Lewis married Martha, the daughter of Emil and Johanna Meschke. Martha was born in Grand Haven on March 15, 1905. She served on the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army in Grand Haven and was a member of the Hofma Trust at its inception in 1938. She also was employed as an interior decorator at Daugherty Furniture in downtown Grand Haven. Martha died in Grand Haven on March 26, 1988, 28 years after her husband, who passed away in Cleveland, Ohio on June 20, 1960. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Henry Reichardt [1884-1961]

Born in Troy Grove, Illinois on January 9, 1884, John Reichardt graduated from Northern State Normal College [Northern Illinois University] in DeKalb. After teaching four years, he worked for Butler Bros. and A. C. McClurg & Co. in Chicago, selling stationery, office supplies, and gifts. A newspaper ad offering Charles Boyden’s Book Store in Grand Haven caught John’s eye. In 1908 he borrowed $1,200 from his mother, Sarah Reichardt [Reichard] and, using $113 of his own money, he bought Charles Boyden’s bookstore business at 222 Washington. In 1914 he purchased the building. On July 19, 1913 he married Erma Joyce, the daughter of Elbert and Delia Lynn of Grand Haven. Erma was born in Lamont on March 10, 1892. She attended the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts at the University of Michigan from 1911 to 1913, but a health problem prevented her from completing the requirements for a bachelor degree. The newlyweds spent their honeymoon in the Canadian Rockies. From about 1920 to the early 1930s the family resided at 523 Slayton in Grand Haven. In 1931 John and Erma purchased and occupied a home at 308 North Buchanan in Spring Lake. Their children were Margaret Lynn, born about 1915, and John “Jack” Lynn, who was born on April 13, 1917 and joined his father in the business. Erma, who graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1911, passed away in 1955. Two years later, on April 22, 1957, John married Mildred Henry Merrill of New York City.

In 1917 John and Carl Daniels established Daniel’s Office Supply Store in Muskegon. John sold his interest in that business and opened The Abigail, an exclusive woman’s dress shop named for Abigail Bos. Abigail was buyer and manager of the shop for a year and a half before joining the Grand Haven Tribune as reporter and, later, as fashion editor. Reichardt also established a wholesale magazine sales business, later known as Hostetter’s, and was a partner in the Pippel-Patterson Printery Company. His first buying trip abroad in 1928 made the two Reichardts stores an unusual gift shop and clothing store and their prestige grew throughout the state. He purchased The Style Shop building and business at 204 Washington from John and Esther Grubinger. The new acquisition allowed him to broaden the price range of women’s fashions. Eleven years later he opened a men's store and an office supply company below the Gift Shop. John also was an organizer and director of the Chamber of Commerce and director of Security First Bank & Trust [Old Kent/Fifth Third] for 33 years. He was a member of the Spring Lake Country Club, Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven, Spring Lake Yacht Club, Peninsular Club in Grand Rapids, Grand F. & A.M. Lodge, and the Elks. He died about June 2, 1961 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 2, 1961.]

Jack, the son of John H. and Erma Joyce Lynn Reichardt, was born in Grand Haven on April 13, 1917. He attended Dartmouth College and enlisted in the Navy at the beginning of WWII. On November 14, 1942, while stationed in Dallas, Texas, he married Elizabeth “Libby” Field Watterworth. Libby was born in Dallas on February 6, 1920. She was the daughter of Earle J. and Augusta “Gussie” Field Watterworth. After the war, Jack and Libby moved to the Tri-Cities. Working together, they assumed ownership of the businesses founded by Jack’s father, John Henry Reichardt: The Abigail, a woman’s dress shop and “Beauty Studio” at 218 Washington and Reichardt Office Supply, the Gift Shop, Savile Row Tailor Shop, the Men’s Shop, and The Style Shop. Later they opened Ad Lib at 222 Washington. From 1945 until his retirement in 1974 Jack ran several businesses: The Gift Shop, The Abigail, Reichardt Office Supply, Savile Row, the Style Shop, The Men’s Shop, and Topside, a gift shop in Whitehall. In 1962 he introduced tartan plaid slacks for men, a fashion trend that spread across the country. He also was remembered for developing and promoting Downtown Unlimited and, in 1958, supporting the conversion of downtown Grand Haven between First and Third Streets to a pedestrian mall, the first in the country. Jack retired in 1974 and passed away on January 19, 2008.

Libby was on the staff of the North Dallas High School yearbook, Compass, and she was president or vice president of several student organizations. In Grand Haven, Libby was a member of St. John’s Episcopal Church, a charter member and trustee of Kandu Industries, a founding member of Counterpart, a hospital volunteer during WWII, a volunteer at the Art Institute of Chicago, a member of the Community Lecture Series, and she served on the selection committee for the Muskegon Museum of Art. In the mid-198s she opened Ad Lib, a gift shop located at 218 Washington Street.

She and Jack had three children: Tempe Lynn, who married Reiner Van Heusden and moved to The Netherlands, Reiner’s native land; John Field, who remained in Spring Lake; and Shelton Sumner of Silverthorne, Colorado. Libby died in Spring Lake on June 9, 2004. [Tribune obituaries, June 10, 2004 and January 21, 2008, and M-Live article “Grand Haven man was prolific business owner,” January 21, 2008.]

Clayton Rettinhouse [1927-2001]

Born on November 30, 1927 in Ada to Clarence and Mary Corl Rettinhouse, Clayton was a rural mail carrier for the Spring Lake Post Office from 1967 to 1989, when he retired. Prior to that he had been employed by Gardner-Denver and Construction Aggregates. He married Connie J. Hull on May 18, 1951 in Angola, Indiana. Clayton served with the Army during the Korean War. He was a member of the local American Legion, V.F.W., Eagles, Am-Vets, and the North Ottawa Rod and Gun Club. His children were Kay of Grand Haven and Tony of Spring Lake. The Rettinhouses resided at 15419 148th Avenue in Spring Lake Township.

Henry W. Retzlaff [Retzloff] [1887-1951]

Henry Retzlaff was born in Ottawa County on July 26, 1887 and his wife, Mabel, in Illinois about 1897. They resided on an 80-acre farm in Section 14 of Grand Haven Township. Their children were Russell, born in Indiana about 1920, and Howard, born in Michigan on November 9, 1923. Henry’s father, Frederich Retzlaff, was residing with the family in 1930. Frederich was born in Germany about 1846. Henry’s mother, Amelia, lived from 1849 to 1924 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Henry passed away around June 29, 1951 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Howard H. Retzlaff [1923-1991]

Howard, the son of Henry and Mabel Retzlaff, was born November 9, 1923 and married Helen A. Yettaw in Denver, Colorado on November 25, 1944. Returning to Grand Haven, the newly-weds lived at 12320 152nd Avenue in Olive Township. Helen, the daughter of Almond and Lena Alexander Yettaw, was born in Charlevoix on January 31, 1925. The Retzlaffs had seven children: Beverly, who married Jerry Warner of Spring Lake; Arlene, who married Bernie Bennett of Holland; Charyn, who married Roger Conant of Phoenix, Arizona; Jerry, who lived in Katy, Texas with his wife, Nancy; Roger of Grand Haven; and Gary, who remained in Grand Haven with his wife. Another son, Scott, died earlier. Howard died on December 7, 1991, and Helen passed away on June 12, 2001 in Grand Haven. They were buried at Pine Ridge Cemetery in Grand Haven Township. Sven Bertijl “Bert” Reuterdaal [1913-2006]

Bert Reuterdaal worked as a tool and die designer for Bastian Blessing and then for Anderson-Bolling in Spring Lake. At Anderson-Bolling he became assistant superintendent and later master mechanic. In 1954 he started his own company, B-R Metal Products, located at 410 South Water Street [Harbor Drive] and later moved to 144th Street in Spring Lake Township. He was president of the company and his wife, Minnie, vice president. The couple lived at 107 Church Street in Spring Lake. They were married in Los Angeles on September 24, 1940. Born in Karlstad, Sweden on April 13 [20], 1913, Bert died in Ada on July 26, 2006. Minnie, who was born Hermina Van Eden in Grand Rapids, lived from October 11, 1915 to May 14, 2008. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. A son, Carl J. Reuterdal, was born in Grand Haven on July 17, 1942, died in Spring Lake on May 13, 1993, and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They also had a daughter, Linnea, who was born on May 16, 1946, remained single, and moved to Grand Rapids. Bert and his parents immigrated to the United States from Sweden in 1914.

Torsten [Thorsten] Lennart Reuterdaal [1917-2009]

In 1959, Torsten Reuterdaal and his wife Genevieve moved from 232 East Exchange Street to 216 North Buchanan Street, occupying a home they purchased from Dr. Frederick and Ella De Young. Six years later the Reuterdaals sold the home to George and Charlene Thomas. Thorsten worked as an engineer for the Anderson-Bolling Company in Spring Lake. Born in Karlstad, Sweden on March 13, 1917, Torsten came to the United States with his mother in 1929. He married Genevieve Wilna Cook in Los Angeles on October 24, 1942. Genevieve lived from July 30, 1922 to May 8, 2000 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Torsten died on March 11, 2009 and was buried at the same cemetery. They had a child, Quinn, who was born and died on the same day in 1956. He, too, was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their other children were Kenneth, Quinn, and Lars, and a daughter, Sandra, who married Wallace Morey and moved to East Lansing. Torsten’s parents were Nils August [November 27, 1877 to January 12, 1920] and Gurli Alexandra Bolling [March 27, 1882 to May 30, 1959] Reuterdaal. Nils died in Sweden and was buried there. Gurli was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Rex [? -1927]

On February 23, 1927, the Grand Haven Tribune ran this obituary: “Rex, the big black city fire truck horse, is dead and no more will respond when the siren screams. He died this morning and will be buried on city property with all the respect and pomp any horse could wish.” See “Hope” for an earlier similar obituary.

Asa Reynolds [1830-1892]

Born in Essex County, New York on January 12, 1830, Asa Reynold and his family lived in several places before settling in Grand Haven in 1865. When he first arrived, he was involved in the brick business. His office initially was located in Senator Ferry’s office on First Street. Later he moved to the Odd Fellows Block [136 Washington] and then he worked from his home. He was a member of the Grand Haven Fire Department and was assistant fire chief for a time. From May 19, 1877 to October 21, 1881, Asa was postmaster of Grand Haven. In 1880 he was elected city marshal, and he was on the Republican ticket for the office of city recorder, a position he held in 1889. On March 6, 1862 he married Frances Drusilla Chaffee, who was born June 27, 1836. Her parents were Jonathan Skinner and Mary W. Russell Chaffee. At least two of their four children, all born in Grand Haven, died in infancy. One surviving child, Frederick M., was born in Grand Haven on December 20, 1867, and another, Ernest R., was born on March 10, 1875. Asa passed away on March 14, 1892 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1900 Frances and Ernest were living on Washington Street. Ernest was listed as physician and surgeon. Frances died in 1925 and was buried with her husband. [Tribune obituary, March 15, 1892.]

Charles Reynolds [1827-1890]

Charles Reynolds, a lumberman, was born on November 19, 1827 and died in Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin, on October 23, 1890. On December 5, 1848 in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, he married Eliza Storrs. She was born in Connecticut [New York] on November 6, 1827. By 1860 the couple was living in Blendon Township with two sons and Eliza’s parents. The sons, Frank and Eddie, were 5 years old and 1 year old, respectively. Eliza and Charles had at least one other son, William, who was born in Grand Haven on February 6, 1869 and married Rose Gutner in Menominee, Menominee County on February 2, 1925, and and a daughter, Mattie Maria, born in Grand Haven on March 25, 1871. At the age of 15, Eliza started teaching African Americans in the South. She was active in her church, and from 1873 to 1874 she was one of a group of women who were concerned about the menace of intemperance. They visited various drinking establishments and knelt before the bar, amid the dirt and joking, to pray that God would lead the misguided men away from alcohol. She was the first president in Grand Haven of the Woman’s Christian Temperance Union, formed in 1877. [However, see Frederick C. Stratton.] She died in Sturgeon Bay on October 22, 1890. [Woman’s Christian Temperance Union.]

John Nelson Reynolds [1844-1924]

John Reynolds was born in Porter County, Indiana on August 24, 1844. When he was about eight his parents moved to Ingersoll, Canada. At the age of 20 he studied medicine for one year under Dr. Springer, a prominent homeopathic physician of Ingersoll. He subsequently entered the Cleveland Homeopathic College for six months, and then returned to study under Dr. Springer for another year. John graduated from the Missouri Homeopathic College in St. Louis in 1867. After opening his practice in Baltimore, Barry County, he moved to St. Clair six months later, where he went into partnership with Dr. G. Palmer.

On September 14, 1868, in Wayne County, John married Emma Florence [Frances], oldest daughter of Captain S. C. Keeler, of Detroit. The next year the couple moved to Grand Haven. John was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. His medical office was at 116 Washington, and he and Frances lived at 408 Franklin with their two daughters, both born in Grand Haven: Anna [Annie] L., born in January 1873 [1875], and Jessie M., born on November 18, 1877. They also had two sons, Roland, born August 18, 1869, and Arthur J., born in June 1880. Frances was from New York, where she was born in August 1849. She was still living at 408 Franklin in 1930. The Reynolds family attended the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven, where Frances served for 32 years as an officer of the Ladies Social Society and was one of the first two deaconesses. John died in 1924 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Lucy Rice Reynolds [1859-1937]

Lucy Vincent Rice was born in Michigan on December 31, 1859 and married Edward Reynolds in Grand Haven on October 31, 1882. Edward was born in Blendon Township on October 19, 1858. By 1910 Lucy and Edward were living in Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin, where Lucy died on August 5, 1937. Her parents were James and Margaret Vincent Rice of Grand Haven. Edward died in Sturgeon Bay on May 19, 1919.

Enoch L. Rhoades [Rhodes] [1832-1902]
Enoch Rhoades was born in Dutchess County, New York, on September 20, 1832 [1842]. When he was two, his father, Benjamin Rhodes, moved to Montcalm County. While in Newaygo County, on November 2, 1863 Enoch enlisted as private in Company K, 4th Michigan Cavalry and served until his discharge on August 15, 1865. He reportedly participated in the capture of Jefferson Davis. On February 7, 1870 he married Jennie L. Connor [Conner], who was born in Ionia County on January 16, 1848. Enoch and Jennie had one child, Carrie Mabeth, who was born on March 13, 1872 in Newaygo County, married Hiram J. Fletcher [January 3, 1865-November 4, 1932], and died October 26, 1908. The Rhoades family lived at Ottawa Station in Olive Township, where Enoch was a blacksmith. He died on April 18, 1902 and was buried at Olive Cemetery, where his wife, daughter, and son-in-law also were interred. His wife’s name was listed as Susan J. in the 1900 census. She died November 3, 1903 at the age of 55.

Martin Ribbink [1896-1988]

Martin Ribbink was born in Grand Haven on October 1, 1896. He had two sisters and a brother. While in the seventh grade he started work in the tannery, and then learned the machinist’s trade at Dake Engine Company. From there he went to Keller, back to Dake, then to Peerless Novelty, and retired from American Brass. Martin died on December 21, 1988 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

David Derial Rice [@1816-1868]

A native of Pelham, Canada, where he was born about 1816, David Rice moved to Crockery Township in 1855. In Canada in 1841, he married Sarah J. Burke, who was born in New York about 1821. They had 10 children, seven of whom were born in Canada: Arvilla Victoria Adoma Ann, who lived from 1841 to 1883; J. Harrison, who lived from 1842 to 1919; William S., who was born on May 3, 1843; Arminda C, who was born in 1846; Rosannah, who lived from 1848 to 1937; Sarah M., who lived from 1853 to 1939; and David, who was born in 1854. The three children born locally were Derial Riley, who lived from 1858 to 1938; Albert, who lived from 1859 to 1870; and Martha J., who lived from 1860 to 1940. The Rices purchased a 40-acre farm in Section 36 of Crockery Township shortly after their arrival from Canada. David died in Polkton Township on November 13, 1868.

Eber Rice [1842-1910]

Born in Pelham, Ontario on April 6, 1842, Eber Rice came West when he was 14 years, learned the printing trade and settled in Crockery Township. On September 3, 1862 he enlisted as private in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry. He was a member of the Color Guard in March 1865 and was mustered out as Chaplain the following June. After the war, Eber worked at the Grand Haven Herald until 1872, when he moved to Grand Rapids and purchased the M. A. True Printing Company, later named the West Michigan Printing Company, which specialized in book binding. Eber died on December 19, 1910 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids Township. He married Margaret Louisa Pixley in 1878. She was born in Michigan in 1845, died in 1932, and was buried in the same plot. Margaret applied for a widow’s pension on February 13, 1911. Their children, were Charles, born in Grand Haven in 1869; Birdie Y., born in New York in 1870; and William E., born in Grand Haven in 1871.

James Alexander Rice [1824-1878]

James was born in Riceburg, Canada on October 12, 1824, the son of Martin and Lucy Wheeler Rice. Martin was born on March 8, 1781 and died in June 1852, while Lucy was born around 1782. Martin and Lucy were married in Massachusetts on January 10, 1804. In 1859 James opened the Rice House, a hotel on the northeast corner of Washington and Harbor Streets [Lot 22]. In later pages of his history, Leo Lillie wrote that the hotel opened in 1862, but it clearly was in business by the time of the July 31, 1860 census, when James was listed as proprietor. In 1862 James became trustee of the new Grand Haven Union High School, and in 1867 he was alderman for the First Ward on Grand Haven’s first City Council.
James died on January 2, 1878 in Kalamazoo. His wife Margaret, the daughter of Michael and Hannah Mitchell Vincent of Grand Haven, was born in Vermont on August 10, 1828 and died in Kalamazoo on May 28, 1889. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Two of Margaret’s sisters married James Rice’s brothers: Permillia to Martin Rice and Maria to Charles Rice; both of these families remained in Quebec. One of James’s and Margaret’s daughters, Mary K. Rice, was born on June 6, 1850 and married Frederick Mansfield of Grand Haven. Another, Lucy Vincent Rice, was born in Michigan on December 31, 1859 and married Edward Reynolds. A third daughter, Martha Jane “Mattie” Rice, was born on September 2, 1862 and married Otis Dickinson. Mary and her sister Martha “Mattie” Mansfield Rice were the first managers of Highland Park Hotel, which opened on July 4, 1890.

Martha Jane “Mattie” Mansfield Rice [1858-1940]

Martha Jane Mansfield was born in Lovell, Maine on January 22, 1858. She and her sister Mary Mansfield Rice were the first managers of the Highland Park Hotel when it opened on July 4, 1890. Mattie married Oscar A. Rice in Milwaukee on December 28, 1882. On April 8, 1876 in Vermont, he had married Florence Meigs. She died on November 1, 1881 at the age of 25 and was buried at Church Street Cemetery in Swanton, Vermont. Their daughter Kelley “Kittie” Rice, who was born in Swanton, Vermont on October 14, 1876, died in Grand Haven on September 18, 1896, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery under her mother’s name, Florence Rice.

In Milwaukee Mattie worked for the Singer Sewing Machine Company for 15 years and later opened and managed the Juneau Café in that city. Oscar manufactured men’s shirts. By 1900 Martha was living alone in Milwaukee, and twenty years later she was residing at 226 Franklin Street in Grand Haven, where she remained the rest of her life. She, along with John Worsfold, appeared in several Coast Guard Festival Parades as Grand Haven’s oldest citizens. She died of cardio-vascular disease in Grand Haven on May 8, 1940 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Oscar died in 1931 and was buried at Rice Hill Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, November 20, 1896 and article, “Death Claims Mrs. Martha Rice Today,” May 8, 1940.]

William S. Rice [1843-1936]

William, the son of David Derial and Sarah Burke Rice, was born in Canada on May 3, 1843. He moved with his parents to Crockery Township in 1855. On December 13, 1868 he married Florence Potts in Polkton Township, where they established a 104-acre farm in Section 8. Florence was born in the township on February 10, 1855. William was legally blind, but carried out his responsibilities as a farmer nevertheless. He and Florence had at least three children: Ernest L., who was born on December 14, 1869 and died on November 20, 1953, Dora, who lived from 1876 to 1947 and married Lester Timmerman [1865-1957], and Belle. William passed away on December 31, 1936, and Florence died in Grand Rapids on November 2, 1943. Both were buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery, as were Ernest and Dora.

Gabriel Richard [Richards] [1767-1832]

Among the early priests that ministered to the Grand River Indians was Father Gabriel Richard, who arrived in Detroit in 1798. In 1809 he published Michigan’s first newspaper, in 1817 he helped found the University of Michigan, and in 1823 he was elected as a non-voting member to the House of Representatives from the Michigan Territory in 1823, the first Catholic priest to be elected to that body. He served one term, but during that term was able to secure an appropriation to build a road between Detroit and Chicago. Father Gabriel was born in France on October 15, 1767 and died of cholera on September 13, 1832 in Detroit. [Wikipedia.]

John Richards [@1838-1916]
John Richards was born in The Netherlands about 1838. He was listed in 1860 as a servant in Clark Albee’s home and in 1880 as a lumberman. Richard’s wife Kate was born in The Netherlands about 1841. John and Kate Richards were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, he in 1916, she in 1918.

John S. Richards [@1821-1897]

Although never a resident of Grand Haven, Captain John Richards was well known by local mariners as captain of the steamship Milwaukee in the early 1860s. He is reputed to have made his first voyage into Grand Haven harbor in 1850. Among his local acquaintances were Captain Heber Squier, Captain McBride, and Captain John Stark, who was chief engineer on the Milwaukee. Captain Richards was born in Pennsylvania about 1821, resided in Erie, Pennsylvania, and died in Chicago on April 24, 1897. [Tribune obituary, April 28, 1897.]

Benjamin Franklin Richardson [1832-1906]

A native of Maine, where he was born in August 1832, Benjamin Richardson worked in the lumber industry in Traverse City and relocated to Spring Lake in the 1860s. From 1873 to 1879 and again beginning in June 1881 he was employed at the Batchelor & Thomas Mill in Ferrysburg as saw filer. The 1882 history of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties claimed that Benjamin was “the oldest saw filer in the State of Michigan” and that he settled in Spring Lake in 1838. He was still listed as saw filer in the 1893 Compendium. His wife, Eveline, was born in July 1840 in New York. Their daughter, Harriet “Hattie,” was born in November 1859 and married William Buckley of Spring Lake. Harriet, a teacher, began her career in a rural Spring Lake school when she was 14. The Richardsons had six other children, all born in Michigan, including Martha, who was born in March 1872 and married a Mr. Thomas. Martha’s husband died before 1900, leaving her with a son, Donald R. Thomas, born in December 1894. Benjamin died about March 14, 1906.

James Richardson [1831-1902]

Born in Ohio in June 1831, James Richardson and his wife, Ruth, settled in Robinson Township. Ruth was a native of Indiana, where she was born in November 1829. James’s Civil War monument at Robinson Township Cemetery cited his service with Company A of the 44th Indiana Infantry, but the veterans’ record of 1890 for Ottawa County noted that he served with company E of the 9th Indiana Infantry and later in the 134th Indiana Infantry. A daughter, Lucinda Wheat, was born in Indiana in May 1858. In the census for 1900 James, Ruth, Lucinda, and three of the Richardson’s grandchildren were living on an 80-acre farm in Robinson Township. Lucinda’s husband was not included in the household. James died on May 18, 1902.

Ephraim Stiles Richmond [1820-1896]

Ephraim Richmond was born in Deerfield, Pennsylvania on December 2, 1820. He married Susannah [Susan] Readfield, of Leroy, New York, on October 19, 1843. She lived from September 30, 1824 to 1916. The couple moved to De Kalb County, Illinois in 1860 and six years later came to Nunica to enter the hotel business. Ephraim died on July 16, 1896. Husband and wife were buried at Nunica Cemetery. Their children, all born in New York, were Mervin, born about 1847; Emery, born about 1851; and Viola, born about 1855.

Karl “Charles” Richter I [@1835 -1904]

Grand Haven resident Charles Richter, a tanner by trade, started the Richter Tannery in 1889. It was located at the east end of Fulton Street near the Grand Haven Leather Company [Eagle Ottawa]. In 1898 he sold to Grand Haven Leather. Charles was born about 1835 in Germany and died on July 21, 1904. His widow, Fredericka [Freeka] Haase Richter, lived at 901 Fulton. She also was a native of Germany, where she was born about 1838. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Fredrike, born about 1867; Anna, born in 1869; Karl “Charles” II, born on April 18, 1871; Mary, born about 1872; and William, born about 1877.

Karl “Charles” A. Richter II [1871-1932]

Charles Richter was Captain of the Corps of Engineers’ dredge General Meade. His nephew, Les Brinkert, served as a deckhand under him. Charles, the son of Charles and Fredericka Haas Richter I, was born in Grand Haven on April 18, 1871. He and his wife, Martha, lived at 214 North Second Street. Martha, the daughter of Johannes and Caroline Hartman Behm of Grand Haven Township, was born in Michigan in April 1877. Their children, all born locally, were Martha, born in June 1898; Arthur C., born on May 6, 1900; Vera A., born about 1903; Harold C., born about 1905; Anna C., born about 1908; and Carl, born about November 1909. Sylvester Sylvanus Rideout [1845-1922]

On December 9, 1861 in Castle Hill, Maine, Sylvester Rideout joined Company C of the 15th Maine Infantry as private. He was mustered out on January 19, 1865 and came to Grand Haven in 1868. He moved two years later to Spring Lake. Sylvester purchased the Sinclair House from John Dixon [Dickson] in March 1879 and renamed it the Rideout. With accommodations for about 30 guests, the hotel was located on the northeast corner of Division and Exchange Streets in Spring Lake [Lot 4, Block 14, Bryant’s Addition]. Sylvester was Village postmaster from July 27, 1889 until May 23, 1893. From 1887 to 1892 he was in the drugstore business with Peter De Witt. On November 24, 1870 in Grand Haven, Sylvester married Charlotte L. Johnson, who was born in New York in September 1846. Sylvester was born in New Brunswick, Canada on December 23, 1845, died on February 27, 1922, and was buried at Rosedale Cemetery in Los Angeles, California. His parents were Jacob and Mary N. Kearney Rideout.

Frank J. Riemer [Reimer] [1892-1946] and Helena Klumpel [Klempel] Riemer [1891-1971]

Frank Riemer was born in Austria in 1892. On April 23, 1918 he married Elsa Hentschel in Grand Rapids. In 1921 he opened a jewelry store at 28 Washington and moved to 128 Washington about six years later when the Grand Theater was built on his original site. In the 1930 census Frank was residing with August Klumpel and August’s daughter, Helena Klumpel. Helena was born in Grand Haven Township on March 20, 1891, and reportedly married Frank on October 1, 1920. However, in the 1930 census she was listed as a single woman using her maiden name, and Frank was listed as a widower. By the mid-1930s Frank and Helena were listed as husband and wife. They resided at 215 Columbus Street. Helena ran the jewelry store for a short time after Frank passed away in 1946. She was a member of St. Paul’s United Church of Christ, where she taught Sunday School. She also belonged to Downtown Unlimited. Helena, who continued to live at 215 Columbus, passed away on September 21, 1971. She and Frank were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, September 21, 1971.]

Born on April 5, 1875 in Spring Lake, Bert Riemsma became the owner of a 160-acre farm in Section 21 of Olive Township, and he owned an additional 40 acres in Section 26. He continued to occupy the family property into the 1930s. Bert also raised livestock. On May 21, 1898 in West Olive, he married Minnie Lamers, who was born in Port Sheldon Township on September 24, 1880. They had ten children, including Richard, born in Michigan in December 1898. Bert died in Holland on May 15, 1945 and was buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery. Minnie passed away on February 7, 1946 and was buried with her husband at Pilgrim Home.

Jacob Riemsma [@1846-1937]

The Jacob Riemsma 40-acre farm was located in Section 26 of Olive Township. Jacob, who was born in The Netherlands about 1846, settled in the township in 1874 and was still on the property in 1918. Like others in the area, he also raised livestock. He and Mary [Maria] Bareman [Baarman] were married in 1877 in Ottawa County. She was born around 1858 in Wisconsin. Among their children were Christian, who was born about 1878; Joldert “Joe,” who was born May 17, 1880 and died May 21, 1943; Jacob M., who lived from October 2, 1889 to March 20, 1963 and died in Florida; and John, who died on June 3, 1898 at the age of 12. The three sons were buried at Olive Cemetery. He died at the Ottawa County Poor Farm on December 2, 1937.
Gerrit Riepma [1916–1997]

Born on January 13, 1916, Gerrit Riepma immigrated to Grand Rapids with his parents in 1927. Twenty-five years later he found work in Muskegon but lived in Grand Haven at 1351 Waverly. He and his wife, Emilia, had three sons: Martin, John, and Robert. Martin and his wife, Anne, who was the daughter of Ed and Kathleen Dahlstrom of Grand Haven, moved to Florida. The other two sons remained in the Grand Haven area. Emilia, who was born on May 3, 1914, died in May 1969. At the time Gerrit died, on June 28, 1997, he was living in Grand Rapids. He and Emilia were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Daniel E. Riley [1857-1931]

In the early 1900s Dan Riley operated a livery and boarding stable at 20 North Third Street in Grand Haven. Called the Cutler House Barn, the structure was destroyed in the fire of 1889, but was rebuilt. Daniel married Emma Wynne in Allegan on September 25, 1889. They lived at 325 Franklin in Grand Haven. Dan was born in Canada in August 1857 and came to the United States when he was three. Emma was born in Allegan on February 11, 1865. By 1920 they were living in Muskegon, where Dan worked as a watchman in a livery stable. Dan passed away in Kalamazoo on April 23, 1931, and Emma died in Alma on January 23, 1937. Both were buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Allegan.

Daniel W. Riley [1879-1929]

Dan was born on November 8, 1878 in Illinois and died on November 21, 1929 in Grand Haven. His wife, Rena, was born in Michigan on November 7, 1873. They were married on August 31, 1913 and moved to Grand Haven from Chicago after 1920. They resided at 700 Sheldon Road. In the early 1920s Dan and his partner, Ralph Van Toll, purchased from Edward C. Smith the Washington Garage at 11 Washington, Grand Haven. Dan was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery as was Rena, who passed away on October 27, 1963.

Frank Kittridge Riley [1931-2017]

Frank Ewing, the son of William H. and Frances Ewing Riley, was born in Grand Rapids on December 18, 1933. He graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1952, and continued his education at Western Michigan University, where he earned a master degree in education. He and Susan Christensen were married on June 10, 1956; she taught elementary school. They had two daughters, Anne Riley and Kathleen, who married Steve Robbins of Norton Shores. William died in Spring Lake on June 21, 1999.

James F. Riley [1861-1898]

James Riley ran the “omnibus line,” a horse-drawn bus, in the 1890s. His primary route was from the ship landings and train depots to Highland Park. On September 17, 1887 in Berlin [Ottawa County], he married Catherine, the daughter of “Captain” Jack Walker of Grand Haven. She was born in Michigan in May 1861. They had two children: Joseph, born in July 1888, and a daughter, born in August 1893. The Riley residence was at 313 South Second Street in Grand Haven. James, who was born on February 28, 1861, died on December 2, 1898 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

William Ewing Riley [1929-1999]

William Ewing, the son of William H. and Frances Ewing Riley, was born in Grand Rapids on January 17, 1929. He moved to the Tri-Cities area in 1960, where he joined the Presbyterian Church of Spring Lake, sang in the choir, and was hired as its custodian. He and his wife, Nancy, had two children: Cynthia Nanette, who was born on May 23, 1953 in Ottawa County and drowned in Lake Michigan in Grand Haven on June 27, 1961 at the age of 12, and William Harm, who was born in Grand Haven on November 17, 1961. Other sons were Peter and Michael. William died in Spring Lake on June 21, 1999.

Adrian Henry Ringelberg [1890-1969]

Adrian, born in Grand Haven on June 1, 1890, was the son of Henry and Gertrude Fondse Ringelberg. At age 16 he began working at the Challenge Refrigerator Company, eventually becoming purchasing agent. When that business was discontinued in 1929, he and others started Challenge Stamping & Porcelain Company to manufacture porcelain products and refrigerated display cases. In 1940 Adrian worked with Andrew Johnson in bringing the Puffer Hubbard Company to Grand Haven and began the production of beverage coolers and meat counters.

On May 8, 1917 Adrian married Dora Smith in Grand Haven, where she was born in Grand Haven on September 10, 1893. They had four children, all born in Michigan: Ruth D., born in 1918; Harold A. “Buss,” born on December 9, 1919; Mildred L., who was born in 1928 and married a Mr. Pierce; and Glenn S., born in 1929. Around 1930 the family resided at 422 North Sixth Street and later at 215 Grand. Adrian died in April 1969 and Dora passed away in September 1977. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Harold A. “Buss” Ringelberg [1919-2004] and Eleanor Shaw Ringelberg [1919-2002]

After WWII Harold Ringelberg was named vice president and elected to the Board of Challenge Porcelain, and in 1955 he was elected president of the firm. The Puffer Hubbard Company was a division of Challenge. Buss was born on December 9, 1919. In 1941 he married Eleanor, the daughter of Robert L. and Annie Smith Shaw. Eleanor was born in Detroit on August 24, 1919. After graduating from Michigan State College [MSU] in 1941, she taught school in Dearborn, where her parents had moved. Following the war, the couple made their home in Grand Haven. Eleanor was active with the First Christian Reformed Church in Grand Haven. In 2000 she was awarded a silver medal by the Eli Lilly Company for being an insulin-dependent survivor for more than 50 years. They resided at 16095 Harborview Drive in Ferrysburg and were active members of the First Christian Reformed Church. Buss was on the boards of Grand Haven Christian School and Western Michigan Christian High School. He also served as a board member and chairman of North Ottawa Community Hospital during the expansion of 1967 to 1971. He was a director of Pacesetter Bank [Fifth Third], president of the Committee for Economic Development, president of Grand Haven Chamber of Commerce, president of the Porcelain Enamel Institute, and was named Young Man of the Year in 1955. In addition, Buss was a director of the Michigan Colleges Foundation. Their two children were Carole Dvorak and Thomas Ringelberg. Eleanor passed away on March 25, 2002 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Buss passed away on January 18, 2004 while wintering in Arizona and was buried with his wife at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituaries, March 26, 2002 and January 20, 2004.]

Hendrik “Henry” Ringelberg [1839-1909]

Hendrik Ringelberg was born in Kerkwerve, The Netherlands, on December 23, 1839. He married Gertrude Fondse in their native country before coming to Grand Haven. Hendrik was a truck gardener, who grew and sold the produce he raised. He died on April 17, 1909 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Gertrude lived from May 28, 1850 to November 19, 1918 and was buried with her husband. Their eleven children, most born locally, included John, who lived from 1867 to 1964; Annie, who lived from 1876 to 1949; Nellie, who lived from 1877 to 1837; Nickolas, who lived from 1878 to 1957; Josie, who lived from 1881 to 1973; Minnie, who lived from 1882 to 1916; Mattie, who lived from July 1883 to 1941; Henry, born in November 1884; Lena, who lived from June 1887 to 1975; Adrian, born on June 1, 1890; and Martin Henry, who lived from July 1, 1894 to 1986. The family resided at 611 Columbus.

Henry Ringelberg [1884-1955]

Born in Grand Haven on November 24, 1884, Henry was the son of Henry and Gertrude Fondse Ringelberg. He owned a meat market at 708 Washington Street and in the early 1900s lived with his parents at 611 Columbus. On April 4, 1911 he married Anna [Hanna] Koster in Grand Haven. She was born in August 1887, the daughter of John and Gertrude Ekster Koster of Spring Lake. The Ringelbergs had five children and resided at 630 Columbus, where by 1930 Henry had opened a real estate office. Among the children was Harriett A., who was born in Grand Haven on September 2, 1917, became a teacher in the Grand Haven schools, and passed away in Grand Haven on June 6, 2006. Anna died around January 20, 1943. Henry died about June 15, 1955. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, July 1, 2006.]

Gerard Abraham Ringold [1888-1985]
Born in Grand Rapids on November 12, 1888 [1889], Gerard, was the son of Cornelius and Sarah Soutjesdyk Ringold. Cornelius was born in The Netherlands about 1859, and Sarah, a native of Michigan, was born about a year later. Cornelius and Sarah moved to Spring Lake and resided on West Savidge near Jackson. Gerard attended schools in Grand Rapids. He was employed for 15 years by Berton A. Spring, who was a funeral director and became a licensed embalmer. In 1919, Gerard and his father purchased from John Pruim a hardware and undertaking business located at 114 West Savidge Street in Spring Lake and in 1930 erected a building at that address that still bears the Ringold name. His father, Cornelius, worked for him at the hardware store. Gerard owned ambulances and funeral cars and answered ambulance calls. On June 26, 1912 in Montcalm County Michigan, he married Emma Hazel Rindfleisch. She was born in Michigan about 1888 and died in Spring Lake about March 25, 1952. Their son, Howard C., was born locally in 1923 and died in Shanghai, China, on December 26, 1946. Gerard then married Dora, the daughter of Lily Van Anrooy. The Ringolds resided at 231 East Savidge. Gerard passed away on June 15, 1985. Howard, Emma, and Gerard were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Klass Cornelius Rink [1888-1976]

Cornelius Rink married Ida Van Dongen in Grand Haven on July 17, 1920. He was born on February 26, 1888, and Ida was born in Grand Haven about 1883. She was the daughter of Johannes “John” and Ida Van Dongen of Grand Haven. Ida had been married previously to Earl Herbert Fulcher. Cornelius, a commercial fisherman, died on June 28, 1976 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ida passed away around October 28, 1950 and also was buried at Lake Forest. The Rinks resided at 425 North Seventh Street.

The daughter of John and Agnes Miles Brown, Lois was born in Grand Haven on July 25, 1928. She married Gerald E. Risher on August 22, 1947 in Ferrysburg. Lois worked as secretary for Construction Aggregates in Ferrysburg, and also as an accountant for Taylor and Associates in Grand Haven. She and Gerald owned the Idle Hour Lanes and Dairy Delite at 213 West Savidge in Spring Lake. They also were partners in the Century Bowling Lanes in Holland. The Rishers resided at 318 Maple in Ferrysburg. Lois graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1945 and was a member of the American Legion Post 28 Auxiliary. The Rishers’ children were Beverly Taylor, Belinda Wright, Bruce Risher, and Brad Risher. Gerald lived from June 29, 1926 to January 27, 1990. Lois passed away on August 31, 2002 at her home and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, September 3, 2002.]

Hunter Savidge Robbins I [1892-1969]

Born in Grand Haven on June 23, 1892, Hunter was the son of Nathaniel and Esther Savidge Robbins V and a graduate of Grand Haven High School. He graduated in 1917 from the University of Michigan and served as first lieutenant with the Signal Corps at Selfridge Field in Mt. Clemens, Macomb County during WWI. On July 29, 1918 he and major Boots made the three-and-a-half-hour trip from Selfridge Field and landed a large Army airplane at Spring Lake Country Club to the delight—and awe—of hundreds of spectators, who were not accustomed to such a sight. The two men took off without incident the next morning. Hunter was married in 1919 in Las Vegas. He and his wife Margaret R. Fuller had three sons and a daughter: Hunter Savidge Robbins II, born on April 27, 1920; Jack Kinkelin Robbins of Pasadena, California, who was born May 28, 1921, married Margaret Miller on November 11, 1944, and became a physician; William Savidge Robbins of Spring Lake, who was born October 19, 1923 and married Millie Randall on May 6, 1948; and Virginia Marie Robbins, who was born February 9, 1929, married Fred Boyd Hansen, whom she divorced in 1959, and on April 2, 1960 married Kenneth Robinson, also of Oakland. In the winter the family lived in Pasadena, California and in the summer they resided at 221 North Cutler [400 West Liberty] in a home built by Hunter’s parents and presented to him and his first wife as a wedding gift. Margaret was born about 1898 in Michigan. In 1947 Hunter married Clara Belle Sullivan. Hunter died in September 1969.

Hunter Savidge Robbins II [1920-1994]
Hunter Robbins was born April 27, 1920 in Grand Haven, the son of Hunter Savidge and Margaret R. Fuller Robbins I. Not long after his birth, the Robbins family returned to California. Hunter II enrolled at the University of California in Berkeley in 1938 and was graduated early because of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. As a member of the Naval Reserve Office Training Corps, Hunter was commissioned Ensign and saw service in the South Pacific. He was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for helping save the badly damaged destroyer Anderson. Next Lieutenant Robbins was assigned as Communications Officer aboard the destroyer Hugh W. Hadley [DD774]. The Hadley was credited with shooting down more enemy planes than any other ship in the Navy during a single engagement. For his valiant effort, Hunter was given his second Bronze Star.

Not long after the war’s end, Hunter married Barbara Woglum on February 10, 1946 and started working for the Berkeley Gazette. Three years later he obtained a realtor’s license and in 1956 opened his own office, Robbins Realty. Hunter II died on July 14, 1994 in Alameda, California. Barbara was born in California in 1921. She and Hunter II had two daughters, Donna and Laurel.

James E. Robbins [1897-1986]

James E. Robbins owned Robbins Modern Dry Cleaning at 217 West Savidge. In 1961 he sold the business to Henry Plantenga. James was born on April 7, 1897 and died in Spring Lake on April 13, 1986. In 1947 he and his wife, Esther V., bought the house at 326 South Street. After 1961 they moved to 212 North Park Street. In the house on South Street James is said to have invented the coin-operated drycleaning machine. Esther lived from June 7, 1897 to August 29, 1991.

Nathaniel Robbins IV [1829-1898]

Born on September 5, 1829, Captain Nathaniel Robbins came to Michigan from Cape Cod, Massachusetts [Barnstable County] in 1882. He was the son of Nathaniel and Cynthia Kelley Robbins III. At 19 years of age Nathaniel IV sailed to the West Indies as master of a full-rigged ship. In 1856 he purchased a Gloucester schooner called the Thomas Bradley, the first saltwater schooner in the Great Lakes, and started up the Atlantic coast for the mouth of the St. Lawrence River carrying everything he needed, including a complete flourmill, to start life in Benton Harbor. His ship hit a sandbar outside Benton Harbor, and he lost everything he owned. He started life anew in Benton Harbor, and by 1863 he was piloting the passenger steamer Barber between St. Joseph and Chicago. [Nathaniel was listed as a grocer in the 1870 census.] During 1870, he was agent for the Goodrich Line in Benton Harbor. When the office was transferred to Grand Haven, he moved his family to the area. He succeeded Captain William R. Loutit and served as the second superintendent of the 11th U.S. Life Saving District from 1882 to 1898.

On April 14, 1848 Nathaniel married Hannah Doane Nickerson. She was born in Harwich, Massachusetts on December 24, 1829. Nathaniel built three steamers and named them for their daughters: Cynthia, Addie, and Ora. Cynthia was born at Cape Cod, Massachusetts in 1850. She married Henry H. Coats in Benton Harbor on October 18, 1871. On February 22, 1877 she married Charles B. Winslow, who had ties to Grand Haven. Addie was born in Michigan about 1861 and Ora, also in Michigan, about 1864. Nathaniel and Hannah also had a son, Nathaniel V, who was born in Benton Harbor on September 29, 1866 and spent most of his life in Grand Haven. The older Robbins owned a fleet of sailing boats that hauled lumber out of Grand Haven to the Benton Harbor sawmills. His office was located on Water Street [Harbor Drive] at the foot of Franklin Street. Nathaniel died on August 2, 1898 at Bailey’s Harbor, Wisconsin, while on duty inspecting ports of call. He was buried at St. Joseph City Cemetery. Nathaniel V erected a memorial wharf in Benton Harbor in honor of his father. Nathaniel was the tenth in his family line to bear that name, but tradition has given him number “IV.” Cynthia married Charles B. Winslow, who owned the C. B. Winslow Company in Grand Haven that was later purchased by his brother-in-law, Nathaniel Robbins V.

Nathaniel “Nat” Robbins V [1866-1940] and Esther Savidge Robbins [1866-1920]

Born on September 29, 1866 in Benton Harbor, Nathaniel was the son of Captain Nathaniel and Hannah Nickerson Robbins IV and Addie Downey. He was the eleventh member of the seafaring Robbins family of Cape Cod, Massachusetts to bear the name Nathaniel. He sailed with his father before the age of 10 and at age six cooked meals for a crew. When he was 13 he took full-time employment as a clerk in a peanut stand for $1.50 a week. Before coming to Grand Haven, he successfully drove a delivery rig, worked in a tobacco store and had other jobs in Minneapolis. He came to Grand Haven on June 24, 1884 to join the firm of H. L. Chamberlain & Company, later renamed C. B. Winslow & Company, which dealt in cement and coal. The same year he became agent for the Goodrich Steamship line, with an office located at Washington and Harbor Streets and soon purchased the Winslow Company. He also dealt in hair, firebrick, and clay, and handled anthracite, smiting, bituminous, and cannel coal.

Nat was elected mayor of Grand Haven in 1914. He was a member of the Red Cross and was one of the founders and promoters of the Ottawa County Chapter, which began local operations in 1909. In 1925 he became a director of the Goodrich, Graham, and Morton Steamship Line. He owned three hundred feet of wharf near the foot of Washington Avenue and leased it to the Goodrich Transportation Company. All railroads entering the city had tracks leading to those wharfs, which were known as “Robbins Docks.” He also owned a large warehouse, located on the site of Rix Robinson’s fur trading post, which he used for his commercial fishing operation. The warehouse was later used as “The Barn,” managed by Mom and Pop Davis and used for roller skating and bowling [215 Harbor]. The warehouse was destroyed by fire in 1946. In 1933, Nat operated the steamer Grand Rapids of the Goodrich Line and transported passengers to Chicago and Milwaukee during the World’s Fair that year and the next. He also had a 60’ commercial steam fishing tug called Robbins III, captained by U.S. Cornell. During the early 1930s, Nat was instrumental in landing a contract to ship new automobiles to Milwaukee on steamers, after the cars arrived in Grand Haven by truck. On July 15, 1935, “Robbins Day” was celebrated when the steamer Missouri resumed cross-lake passenger service to Chicago. Nat was a member of the Elks; director of Grand Haven National Bank; treasurer of the old Board & Trade; director of the Chamber of Commerce; and a major stockholder in the Vyn Trucking Company, where he became president in 1927. He also had an interest in the Keller Tool Company. He was helpful in establishing the Grand Haven Coal & Dock Company, owned by Louis H. Breitels.

On September 3, 1891, Nat married Esther Savidge, daughter of, Hunter and Sarah Savidge. Born in Spring Lake on May 17, 1866, Esther attended Spring Lake schools and high school in Grand Rapids. She graduated from Vassar College in 1887. In 1899 the couple purchased the Reuben Vander Hoef property at 20 South Fifth Street, tore down the existing red-brick house, hired local-contractor Baldus Pellgrom to build a large home, and about a year later were able to move in. They had two sons, Hunter I, who was born June 23, 1892, and Nathaniel VI, who was born on February 1896. A daughter, Dorothy, was born on December 20, 1898 and died on December 4, 1915.

Esther was a charter member of the Grand Haven Woman’s Club and was president from 1900 to 1901. In 1916 Esther provided the Village of Spring Lake with funds to pave State Street for the first time. It was renamed Savidge Street in memory of her brother William, who died in 1916. Esther died on June 28, 1920 after surgery at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota. The widower was remarried in 1923 to Alice Hood, who was born about 1872 and died in 1936. They had one son. Nat died on June 6, 1940 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Esther and their daughter Dorothy. A street south of Grand Haven was named in his memory and a city playground, now gone, between Madison and Elliott, was named Robbins Field. [Tribune obituary, June 28, 1920.]

Nathaniel Robbins VI [1896-1952]

Born in Grand Haven on February 25, 1896 and educated in local schools, Nathaniel Robbins inherited the fortune left when his father died in 1940. In his third year at the University of Michigan during World War I, he enlisted with the 339th Ambulance Company and was stationed at Brest, France. He also served as an interpreter. On June 20, 1919 he married Helene De Pree of Holland. For a while after his marriage, Robbins was associated with the DePree Chemical Company, of Holland. Later he moved to California and made his home in Beverly Hills. In 1940 his daughter, Joan, was queen of the Coast Guard festival. Nathaniel took his own life in February 1952, leaving his wife, his daughter, Joan, who was born around 1924 and married William Barkan of San Francisco, a son Nathaniel VII, who was born about 1924 and resided in Minneapolis, and a brother, Hunter Savidge Robbins, of California and Spring Lake.

Brothers Sherman and Marshall Robbins purchased a photography business from Charles Rudershausen after WWII and named it Robbins Studio. Located first at 5 North Seventh Street, Sherman moved the business to his home at 15175 Boom Road in Spring Lake after he became the sole owner. Sherman was born on September 1, 1922 and Marshall on May 11, 1915. Their father, Samuel, was from Kentucky where he was born about 1883, and their mother, Elizabeth, also a native of Kentucky, was born about 1887. Samuel and his family, which included five other children, resided at 1308 Washington. Sherman died in Grand Haven on April 17, 1994 and Marshall passed away in Cocoa Beach in May 1997.

Richard Roberts [1811-1875]

A native of Wales, Richard Roberts was born on November 22, 1811. He arrived in Ottawa County in 1842. Richard married Rebecca, from another Roberts family, when he returned to Wales in the next year. In June 1843 he returned with his wife and a “hired man.” He and Rebecca became the first permanent settlers in Allendale when they took ownership of 160 acres and built a home with logs donated by Clark Albee and Nathan Throop. Richard’s property was in Section 11, but he purchased additional land in several other sections. Joining Richard in Allendale were his brother-in-law Thomas Jones, who arrived in 1844 with John Hanna and Ephraim Pierson, and Robert Scott, who brought his mother and brother, Alexander, and James. Roberts and his wife operated a rustic inn for travelers called the “Half-Way House,” since it was midway between Grand Haven and Grandville. Richard built a sawmill, opened a store, ran a blacksmith shop, and constructed a mill to craft spokes for horse-drawn vehicles. Their house also functioned as the post office. He and Rebecca had seven children, four of whom survived. Richard moved his mill to Beech Tree Landing near Grand Haven in 1873 and died on July 25 two years later at the age of 63. Rebecca lived from 1813 to March 4, 1903. Both were buried at Allendale Cemetery on land they had donated.

Duncan Robertson [1838-1913]

Builder and designer of one hundred ships, schooners, steamers, and tugs of the Great Lakes, Duncan Robertson’s shipyard was famous for the vessels that were launched in the South Channel, including the David Macey, Charles E. Wyman, Willie Loutit, and the Hunter Savidge. Later Duncan was joined in his business by Paul McCoil, Peter Sinclair, and Captain John Budge, all originally from Scotland. Many of the city’s best ship builders acquired their knowledge of the craft from Duncan. Among their ships were the 136’ City of Grand Rapids and the 160’ H. C. Hall. Duncan was born in Sterling, Scotland, on March 24, 1838. He worked in the shipyards of Clyde, Scotland, before coming to Detroit in 1866 and to Grand Haven the next year. The first ship he built was for Thomas Hefferan of Eastmanville. In later years he also designed the steel boats built at Johnston Brothers in Ferrysburg. He married Elizabeth Bloomfield in the 1870s, and they lived in the Spring Lake area. She was born in 1845 and died in 1876. Duncan was born in Sterling, Scotland on March 24, 1838, passed away on October 9, 1913, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Elizabeth and other family members, including his sister, Mary Raddock, who lived from June 1835 [1840] to 1915. [Tribune obituary, October 9, 1913.]

George Robertson I [1848-1933]

Born in the Orkney Islands, Scotland in March 1848 [1849], George Robertson sailed as a seaman to ports in Europe, North Africa, and Northern Russia and completed his apprenticeship for salt-water navigation on British Ships. He settled in the United States in 1866 and came to Grand Haven seven years later to command vessels such as Willie Loutit, Sidney O’Neill, Lou A. Cummings and Alice M. Gill. Two of the ships he captained were built in the shipyards at Grand Haven. He was also instrumental in influencing many young seafaring men from this area. In 1877 he went to Scotland to marry Mary Mainland, who was born in October 1857, and then returned with his new wife to Grand Haven. They owned a home at 515 Lafayette Street near the Ferry home, where they raised a son, John Mainland. Mainland Robertson, who was born in October 1895, served at Camp Custer in Battle Creek during WWI. Other children were Lydia, born in May 1878; Margaret; who was born on May 11, 1883 and died on September 6, 1976 in Grand Haven; and George II, born in September 1885. Margaret married Thomas Swan, who was a Realtor in Highland Park, near Detroit. George I died in 1933.

George Wallace Robertson [1914- 1999]

Born in Wisconsin on May 28, 1914, G. Wallace Robertson served as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven from 1952 to September 1, 1960. His residence was at 515 Park Street. During his term the congregation approved construction of a new sanctuary, which was dedicated in December 1955. He died in Grand Ledge, Eaton County on August 19, 1999.

Lois E. Boyink Robertson [1932-2002]

Lois Robertson retired from the Grand Haven Tribune in 1998, after 21 years of employment. She previously had worked at Security First Bank [Fifth Third] and the Trophy House. Lois was born on October 13, 1932 in Grand Haven, the daughter of Albert and Dora Jansen Boyink. Lois won the first Miss Coast Guard Festival contest in 1950. She belonged to Christ Community Church, was a Stephens minister, worked with “Kids Hope,” and served on the Ferrysburg Recreation Board. She had a daughter, Linda Cramblet, and two sons, Scott Roberson and Hugh Robertson. Lois died in Holland, Michigan, on December 6, 2002. [Tribune obituary, December 9, 2002.]

Samuel Robertson [1747-1797]

Samuel Robertson, a Scot, was captain of the one-masted, 45-ton British vessel Felicity that moored briefly in Grand Haven harbor on October 31, 1779. The boat with her crew of eight was patrolling Lake Michigan and entered Muskegon and Grand Haven harbors looking for supplies. Samuel was born in Scotland in 1747 and died on July 20, 1797. He was buried at Nathan Hale Cemetery in Coventry, Connecticut.

Alfred Robinson I [1823-1888]

Alfred Robinson owned a 157-acre farm in Section 2 and an additional 80 acres in Section 3 of Robinson Township. He built a two-story frame house in Section 2, that by 1912 was owned by August Kamenske and became known as Robinson Farm Resort.

Born in Cayuga County, New York in 1823, Alfred was the son of John and Eliza Fowler Robinson who settled in Robinson Township. Alfred died on March 31, 1888. His wife, Julia Ann [Juliane] King, also was a native of New York, where she was born in 1829. She died on April 19, 1888, less than a month after her husband. Following the deaths of Alfred and Julia Ann, part of their land in Section 2 was deed to the township for use as a cemetery. Both Alfred and Julia Ann were buried there. They had a daughter, Louiza, who was born in Michigan about October 1849, a son, Alfred II, who was born in Robinson Township in 1854, and a second daughter, Emma, who was born in March 1858 and married William Foster of Robinson Township. Alfred II married Alice Hosford, also born in 1854.

Benjamin Franklin “Frank” L. Robinson [1842-1901]

Frank, the son of John and Eliza Fowler Robinson, was born in Robinson Township on March 15, 1842. On April 20, 1863 he enlisted as private in Company M of the 7th Michigan Cavalry. He was admitted to Harper Hospital in Detroit on September 18, 1865 and was mustered out three days later. He subsequently settled on a farm in Section 32 of Robinson Township, where he died on March 5, 1901. He married Adelaide [Ada] “Addie” Griswold. She applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on April 15, 1901. Addie was born in Vermont and lived from May 1847 [1848] to 1930. Their children, all born in Robinson Township, were Dora, who was born in 1868 and married Gerrit Ball of Grand Haven; Julia, who was born around 1870 and married Charles L. Cutler, also of Grand Haven; Irving, who lived from 1879 to 1882; Bertha, born in August 1880; Ira A., who lived from about 1882 to 1904; Charles, born on July 27, 1882; and Garnsie, born in February 1891. The Frank Robinson family was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery with other Robinsons.

Dennis Robinson [1793-1849]

On June 12, 1849 Lucius and Fanny Boltwood I conveyed to Dennis Robinson substantial acres of land in Ottawa County. Dennis was Rix Robinson's brother, but did not reside in Ottawa County. On June 19, 1852, as stipulated in his will, Dennis granted to his wife, Maria [Mariah], as “sole legatee,” the right “to dispose of all property as she may ‘think meet [appropriate].’” Dennis was born in Richmond Township, Berkshire County, Massachusetts, on February 6, 1793. He died in Cayuga County, New York, on August 20, 1849. Maria was born about 1798 in New York and died in Cayuga County, New York in May 1853. The month before her death she deeded to Rix Robinson all her holdings.

Edward G. Robinson [@1824-1886]

In 1850 Edward Robinson and his wife Maria [Marie] were residents of that part of Ottawa Township [now Grand Haven Township] that became Robinson Township. Edward worked as a laborer. Nine years later Edward was given the right to run a ferryboat from a spot near his home in Robinson Township across the Grand River to Crockery Township. He also provided timber for the Ferry & Sons Sawmill, at the foot of Columbus Street in Grand Haven. Lillie reported that Robinson killed a sizeable black bear at Battle Point on September 29, 1862. Edward’s wife, Marie, was born about 1832 in New York. Edward was born in the same state about 1823, died in Schoolcraft, Kalamazoo County in 1886, and was buried at Schoolcraft Township Cemetery.

Hiram Robinson [1833-1905]

Hiram, born in New York in September 1833, was the son of Rodney Robinson, one of Rix Robinson’s brothers. Rodney Robinson settled in Kent County, but Hiram continued west and settled in Robinson Township in 1860, where he farmed and timbered. He married Elizabeth A. Boggs, who was born in Indiana in October 1838 [1839]. They had six children: Edwin F., who lived from 1857 to 1865; Mary F., who was born in October 1860 and became a teacher in Robinson; Frank L., who lived from 1862 to 1910 and whose wife’s name was Hattie; Frederick, who married Frances Kalaska; Ida M., who was born in 1838, married Charles Phillips, and died in 1952; and Lucinda “Lulu” L., who lived from 1875 to 1877. Hiram’s land holdings in Section 32, on the south side of the Grand River, consisted of approximately 150 acres and included Robinson Bayou. He died on May 24, 1905. [Tribune obituaries May 25 and 26, 1905.]

Ira Robinson I [1808-1891]

Ira, born in 1808, was one of two of Rix Robinson’s brothers to settle in Robinson Township, where he arrived from Orange County, New York in 1835. That year, on July 1, he purchased more than 136 acres in Section 1. Franklin Everett relates that during his first winter there, Ira cut 996 logs with an ax, on a promise that the Grand Haven Company would buy them at 50 cents each. The company did not follow through, and finally, after the logs had lay on the riverbank for several years, Ira sold them all for a barrel of pork and two barrels of flour. [Franklin Everett, Memorials of the Grand River Valley, 494-495.]

On April 7, 1856 the township was organized at Ira’s home, located at 104th Avenue and North Cedar Street. Ira and Phebe Cortwright were married in New York. She lived from 1810 to 1886. They had at least five children: Ransom, who was born in New York in 1833; Ira Earl II, who was born in 1839, married Emma Marian Julian [Julene] [1849-1878], and died in 1910; Abbie, who was born about 1844, married Judd Dickson, and moved to Sault Ste. Marie; and Jennie, who lived from 1868 to 1885. Ira died on March 25, 1891.

James Robinson [@1855-@1915]

James Robinson came to the area in 1903 and settled in Section 26 of Crockery Township, where he farmed 86 acres and raised livestock. His wife, Laura, was born in New York about 1862. James was born in Missouri about 1855 and died before 1915. Laura remained in Ottawa County.
John Robinson [1798-1857]

John, born in 1798, was another of two of Rix Robinson’s brothers who settled permanently in Robinson Township, where John arrived from New York State in 1835. That year he bought almost a quarter section [159 acres] in Section 2 of Robinson Township. He married Eliza Fowler, who died in 1849. They had five children: Alfred, who was born in Cayuga County, New York in 1823; Erastus, who was born in Cayuga County, New York on June 6, 1826 and married Maryette Wheelock, who lived from 1832 to 1881; Benjamin Franklin, who was born on March 15; James, who was born in 1847; and Analiza, who was born in 1848. John died in 1857.

John Rix Robinson [1826-1897]

John, the son of Rix Robinson and Flying Cloud, was born in a cabin at Duck Lake, Muskegon County, on March 5, 1826. The cabin was said to have been built by fur trader Joseph La Framboise along the trail between Muskegon and Whitehall.

John was among those who purchased land set aside for Indians and sold it to White settlers. In 1851 he used his rights as a Native American to secure a United States patent for 4,500 acres of wooded land, which he agreed to sell to Ransom Wood of Grand Rapids. Area residents opposed the transfer of title, and John was able to reverse the sale and retain the property. John became a Methodist minister and worked as a missionary among the Ottawa and Chippewa Indians of Michigan, particularly around the Mt. Pleasant area. He married Lucy Withey, who was born in Vermont about 1831 and died in Isabella County on August 4, 1883. In 1860 John was residing in Ada in a house close to his father’s. Living with John was his 29-year old wife, Lucy, and their two children: Harriet, born in Michigan about 1849, and J. Buchanan, born in Michigan around April 1860.

John was included in the 1859 Annuity Roll, Grand River Ottawa of Michigan, as a member of Chief Paybawme’s Band. He received $4.11. The next year he received $14.70 as a member of the same Band, in 1864 his share amounted to $10.26, and in 1868 he was given $47.55. [In this instance, the Band’s chief’s name was spelled Pawbawme.] In 1870 he received $61.20, still a member of Paybawme’s Band.

In April 1897 John visited friends at the Bass River Indian village. An article in the Grand Haven newspaper reported, “Mr. Robinson has devoted the best part of his life in the interest of Indian missions and has had great success . . . . By nature he is a born orator, and with the advantages of a good Christian education he speaks with fluency and power.” At the time of the article, he still lived near Mt. Pleasant. [Tribune, April 7, 1897.] John died on April 23, 1897 in Isabella County.

A brother of Rix Robinson, Lucas was born on April 2, 1804. On July 1, 1835 he bought in excess of 80 acres in Section 1 of Robinson Township. The next year he settled in Allegan Township. Lucas died in Kent County on February 14, 1876. His wife, Delia Shaw, was born about 1808.

Ransom H. Robinson [1833-1920]

The son of Ira and Phebe Cortwright Robinson, Ransom was born in New York State in 1833. He married Rethe [Ruthe] Blaksley, who was born in 1854 and passed away in 1935. On August 13, 1862, Ransom enlisted as sergeant with Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry. He was mustered out with a disability on February 5, 1863. Like his father, Ransom became a farmer in Robinson Township, settling in Section 35. Ransom and Rethe had a daughter, Maud P., born locally about 1874, and a son, Sheldon R., born around 1878. Ransom died in 1920. He and Rethe were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery.

Rix Robinson [1789-1875]

Rix Robinson was born in Richmond, Massachusetts on August 28, 1789, the third of thirteen children. His parents were Edward and Eunice Rix Robinson. Edward was born on June 17, 1763 and died in 1836, while Eunice lived from July 3, 1765 to August 24, 1835. In 1812 young Rix abandoned his nearly completed law study and came to the Michigan Territory in order to avoid the war with England that his father opposed. Four brothers, John, Ira, Luke, and Rodney, later settled in nearby locations. After two years as Sutler to U.S. troops in Detroit, Rix began to trade supplies with the Indians, and in 1821 he assumed proprietorship of all John Jacob Astor’s American Fur Trading Posts when Madam La Framboise retired. His territory included the Grand, Kalamazoo, and Muskegon Rivers. Mackinac was the main depot. In 1821 he helped form a treaty between the U.S. Government and the Potawatomi Indians.

Another treaty in 1836 ceded all land north of Grand River to the U.S. Government. Rix played an important role at different stages of the treaty-making process. First, he was instrumental in raising the necessary number of Ottawas and Ojibways chiefs to accompany him to Washington, D.C. to review the agreement. Second, his opinions assisted both sides of the treaty to create an acceptable agreement. Three, his positive reputation among the Indians was instrumental in persuading them to sign it. Fourth, he helped judge the validity of claims, leading to a settlement of those accounts. [Dunham, p. 387.] Among the claims against the Indians was one of Rix’s in the amount of $48,000. The Indians agreed that his claim was “right and just,” as did the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. [Dunham, p. 376.] Rix also judged claims of other individuals, including one of Francis Bailey in the amount of $673.21 plus reimbursement, for tending to the needs of four orphaned Indian children. With Rix’s support, Francis’s claims were paid.

As the fur business waned, Rix shifted his interests to mercantile and agricultural enterprises in Kent and Ottawa Counties. When Michigan achieved statehood in 1837, Rix was appointed member of the Board of Commissioners for Internal Improvements, and he served four years as a state senator. Later he became a representative to the Constitutional Convention of 1850.

Respected by both Native Americans and Whites for his fairness, intelligence, and knowledge of the wilderness, Rix was credited with founding Grand Haven. It was said that “he could speak Indian better than the Indians.” In 1821 he married Pemissquotoquay, “Flying-Cloud Woman,” the daughter of a chief of the Pere Marquette Indians [Chief Hazy Cloud], followed Indian rites, in September 1821. Flying Cloud was born in 1800 and passed away in Ottawa County in 1848. [Another theory is that Rix and Pemissquotoquay separated after “100 moons,” about 101 months.] She gave birth to Rix’s only child, John Rix Robinson, who was born on March 5, 1826. In 1850 he married his second wife, Sebequay [Sippi Quay], “River-Woman,” also reputed to be a daughter from the same chief; her nickname was Sippy. She lived from 1829 to April 3, 1876 and was buried at Ada.

Rix established a trading post at the mouth of the Grand River, which he visited once a year between 1821 and 1834. The area was surveyed in 1832, and in 1833 the U.S. Government gave Rix title to all of the local land. He named the area Grand Haven, and it was recorded as such on April 14, 1835. Rix, who had studied law, gained fame as a state senator from 1847 to 1849 and later turned down the nomination to become Michigan’s governor. He was a representative to the State Constitutional Convention in 1850. Rix died on January 12, 1875. A large monument overlooking the Grand River marked his gravesite in Ada. His family gave Robinson Township and its elementary school their names.

Rodney Robinson [1800-1875]

A brother of Rix Robinson, Rodney on July 1, 1835 purchased 80 acres in Section 1 of Robinson Township. He was born March 29, 1800, probably in Massachusetts, and died December 11, 1875. His wife, Mary Shaw, was born about 1806. One of their children, Lucas, was born in Robinson Township between 1835 and 1837. Rodney eventually settled in Allendale Township.

Living with Anna and Theodore Tripp at 613 Monroe Street in 1920 was Anna’s nephew Walter [Walther] Robinson, born on November 30, 1895. The son of Frank and Anna Valincourt Robinson of Grand Haven Township, Walter was of Ottawa descent. In 1910 he was working on the John and Mary Smith farm in Casnovia, Muskegon County, as a “hired boy.” Walter’s father According to his WWI draft registration, he worked for the Dake Corporation. William O. Robinson [1894-1977]

William, the son of Frank and Anna Robinson, was born in Michigan on June 21, 1894. He married Grace Klomparens in Grand Haven on July 10, 1919. The next year on August 2 he was granted a divorce. The year after that, on February 21, in Grand Haven, he married Selma Burkhart in Grand Haven. Born on May 14, 1903, she was White and a native of Illinois. Their children were Billye M. [Marian], who was born in 1921 and died in 1976; Betty Jane, who was born in 1923 and died in 2001; Jack H., born in March 1930; and Bruce Wendell Robinson, who lived from March 11, 1936 to November 7, 2003.

An employee of Eagle Ottawa Leather Company, William Robinson, his wife, and their three children in 1930 resided at 1200½ Washington Street. William and the children were classified as Indian, while Selma was White. In 1940 the family resided at 1426½ Columbus Street. William still was employed at the Eagle Ottawa Leather Company, working as a leather finisher, as he had been in 1930. Selma and Marian also worked at the leather company. The children were all born locally, and each family member was considered White. William passed away in Grand Rapids on July 7, 1977, and Selma died in Grand Haven on August 15, 1993. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

George W. Rogers [1846-1920]

George was born in Michigan on November 10, 1846, the son of William and Margaret Bowles Rogers. George married Elizabeth Terpenning. In Grand Rapids on December 22, 1863 he signed up as private in Company E of the 1st Michigan Engineers and was mustered out on September 22, 1865. He and his wife, Elizabeth, were married about 1874. They owned two 40-acre parcels, one in Section 2 and the other in Section 3 of Robinson Township. In 1870 George was commissioned to build a bridge across Stearns Bayou at the mid-point of his property. At that time 136th Avenue extended to the south side of Stearns Bayou and continued on the north side. His bridge connected the two. Remnants of the bridge could be seen as late as 2012. By 1900 the couple was residing in Albion, Calhoun County, where he worked as an agricultural agent. On November 5, 1875 daughter Effie was born in Calhoun County. Another daughter, Olive, was born in April 1878, also in Calhoun County. Elizabeth was born in New York in 1842 and died in Calhoun County in 1917, and George passed away on June 6 1920. Thomas R. Ruiter [1893-1994]
Born in Ferrysburg on August 27, 1893, Tom was one of twelve children born to Roelf “Ralph” and Jennie Borgman Ruiter. On June 3, 1913 he married Jennie Voshel. They resided at 935 Franklin in 1926 and had two sons, Leon and Kenneth. Tom was employed by Keller Tool Company as the first resident to work for the new company after its move to Grand Haven from Milwaukee. Later he worked in the meat department at Fred Strahsburg’s Meat Market at 1322 Washington Street. In 1924 Tom paid $3,500 to Charles Salisbury for a grocery store located at 1120 Washington, later the site of Cook’s Hardware Store. He also operated a store at 21 South Beechtree. His sons joined him in the business and in 1958 took over management of the business, when their father retired. They sold the business in May 1968. Jennie passed away on March 9 that year and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Tom was a member of the Grand Haven Gospel Chapel and a charter member of the Gideons, which was formed in 1936 with his guidance. Tom handed out over 4,400 Bibles to local servicemen during WWII and the Korean War. His home in Grand Haven was at 935 Franklin, but on November 13, 1969 he moved to Rest Haven Home in Grand Rapids. Tom died on August 16, 1994 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, August 16, 1994.]

Ralson [Ralston] M. Russell [? - ?]
Ralson M. Russell is mentioned only in History of Ottawa County [1882] as Grand Haven’s first barber, which would have made him an early settler. Nothing was found to confirm his presence in the area at any time.

Charles T. Rust [? - ?]
Charles Rust was secretary and manager of the Milliman Manufacturing Company, which opened in March 1907 and was located at the corner of Howard and Harbor in Grand Haven. Like Herbert G. Milliman, the owner and president of the company, Charles came from Chicago, where he had been in the lumber and milling business for 20 years. Charles and his wife Mary lived at 603 Franklin. A school-age daughter, Marguerite, lived with them.

Monroe Rutty [1860-1971]
On February 25, 1907 a scantily clothed man was found wandering near Lamont, close to hypothermia. He had no identification, was penniless, and could not account for himself. The stranger was taken to the Ottawa County Poor Farm. He believed he was 44 years old. He had worked briefly in the lumbering camp at nearby Steel’s Landing. He remembered two oxen named “Duke” and “Dime.” Not knowing what to call him, the Poor Farm keeper dubbed the amnesiac “Joe”, and because he had worked at Steel’s Landing, the surname “Steel” stuck. Joe Steel was recorded as “insane” in the old infirmary ledger and admitted.
By 1965 Joe had been at the infirmary for 58 years. That year a journalist from the Holland Sentinel was doing a feature story on the institution. The reporter wondered, “Who was the oldest resident?” Nobody knew Joe’s age, but all were sure he should be credited. Joe’s strange story unfolded on the front page of the May 13, 1965 edition. Days later Saugatuck resident Monroe Eaton called. As a child he had frequently heard his mother, Polly Olmsted Rutty, lament the disappearance of her brother, in whose memory Monroe had been named. His missing uncle sought employment in the north woods in 1882 and was never heard from again. Joe and Monroe soon met. Eaton asked, “Who were ‘Dime’ and ‘Duke’?” “Oxen,” exclaimed Joe. “‘Did ‘Little Money’ ring a bell?” Yes, it was his mother’s affectionate nickname for her little boy. There was scant doubt that Joe Steel was Monroe Rutty. A notation in the family Bible confirmed Monroe Rutty was born on March 31, 1860, making him 105 years old at the time of the Sentinel article. When Joe turned 110 in 1970, he received greetings from Governor William Milliken and President Richard Nixon. NBC news anchor David Brinkley even kept tabs on Joe. When Monroe Rutty/Joe Steel died at the age of 111 on May 30, 1971, he was said to be the oldest man in Michigan. He was interred at Riverside Cemetery in Saugatuck next to his mother, Polly, who was born in 1828 and died the year before her son’s disappearance.

Charles Rycenga I [1893-1941]

The son of Jakob and Emma Wiersema Rycenga, Charles was born on the family farm in Spring Lake Township on May 13, 1893 and attended the one-room De Witt School through the sixth grade. He died in an accident in Muskegon County on September 3, 1941, while driving a truck loaded with oak slabs. Chuck married Sena Tysman of Grand Haven on October 15, 1913. Sena, the daughter of Louis Tysman of Grand Haven, was born on December 5, 1890 and died on March 7, 1983. She and Chuck were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Sena was the daughter of Louis Tysman, who lived from 1862 to 1944, and Angie Lenninga, who lived from 1855 to 1936. The Tysman family lived in the area called “Pigtail Alley” in Grand Haven, in the neighborhood of Madison and De Spelder Streets. Chuck worked at Dake Engineering as a machinist and at Challenge Machinery, where he learned how to assemble printing presses and was promoted to foreman. Chuck and Sena had several children, all born locally: Emma, who was born on November 20, 1914 and on July 24, 1941 married Roy F. Correll [October 3, 1914-February 11, 1959] of Grand Haven; Louis E., who was born June 18, 1917; Chuck II, who was born on May 25, 1921; and Betty A., who was born on March 1, 1930 and on June 10, 1980 married Alfred Rodrigues [born September 6, 1932] of Grand Haven.

In 1925 the Rycengas bought a seven-acre farm at 720 South Griffin Street in Grand Haven. During the Depression Chuck sold firewood for $1.75 a cord. Eventually his sons, Louis and Charles II, helped with a two-man crosscut saw. Chuck increased his wood production by building a sawmill in Grand Haven Township, using a Model T Ford engine, with a direct connection from the drive shaft to a rotating saw blade. This rig also allowed Chuck and his sons to mill railroad ties, which they sold for 65 to 95 cents apiece. The two Rycenga sons went on to found the Rycenga Lumber Company in Grand Haven.

Charles Rycenga II [1921-2016]

Charles Rycenga II, the son of Charles and Sena Tysman Rycenga, was born on May 25, 1921. On January 15, 1942 the younger Chuck married Eleanor Doris “Non” Kieft. The daughter of George and Mary Kieft, Non was born in Grand Rapids on August 4, 1921. Shortly after his marriage, Chuck enlisted in the U.S. Navy and saw active service during WWII. He and Non had three children: Nona, who married David Boer of Spring Lake; Mary Beth Rosema; and Chuck III.

Chuck and his brother Louis founded Rycenga Lumber Company at 1053 Jackson Street in the mid-1940s. Chuck was instrumental in the establishment of International Aid, located on Hickory Street in Spring Lake Township on land that once was his grandfather Jacob Rycenga’s farm. Non passed away on October 14, 2015. Chuck died in Grand Haven on July 31, 2016. The couple was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, September 2, 2015 and August 2, 2016.]

Edward Rycenga [1894-1976]

Edward, the son of Jakob and Emma Wiersema Rycenga, was born on July 7, 1894. He married Deborah Valom, who lived from September 13, 1892 to November 10, 1972. She was the daughter of Klass and Jane Valom of Grand Haven. Ed worked with the Zeeland Police Department and was under sheriff in Ottawa County. He also had an interest in his brother, Peter’s insurance business. Ed died on November 18, 1976. He and Deborah were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They resided at 1022 Washington.

Jakob [Jacob] Rycenga [1854-1928]

The first local Rycenga to immigrate to America from The Netherlands was Jakob, who came with his parents. Born on February 15, 1854, Jakob came to West Michigan when he was 18, settling first in Muskegon. He married Emika [Emma] Wiersema on July 17, 1875. She was a native of The Netherlands, where she was born in March 1855 and immigrated to the United States in 1873. About 1887 Jakob bought 80 acres of farmland in Spring Lake Township. Fifteen years later Jakob, Emma, and their children moved to a newly constructed home at 426 Seventh Street, in the same block that the Van Zylem Lumber Company and later the Meijer store would be located. Jakob managed rental properties in Muskegon and worked for the Van Zylem Lumber Company in Grand Haven. Emma, a year younger than her husband, died in 1923, and Jakob died on April 11, 1928. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Jakob and Emma had eight children including Martha, who was born in 1876. Next was Peter, who was born on March 2, 1880, and on November 4, 1903 married Henrietta Roossien. She was born December 4, 1883 and died on November 27, 1948. On September 5, 1951 Peter married Anna Musk, who lived from July 7, 1887 to October 2, 1979. Peter died on March 27, 1970. Martin [Marten] Ryerson I [1818-1887]

Born to a farming family in Paterson, New Jersey on January 6, 1818, Martin Ryerson was a pioneer lumberman in Grand Haven and Muskegon. He came to Detroit in 1834, worked in the fur trade, and moved, along with Richard Godfroy, to Grand Rapids. There he worked for Godfroy until May 1836, when he moved to Muskegon and worked for three years with Joseph Troutier, an early settler in that community. In 1845 Martin, in partnership with J. H. Knickerbocker, bought a sawmill from Theodore Newell in Muskegon, where he had worked as a paid employee since 1841. The next year he cut a road to Ravenna from Muskegon to connect with Grand Rapids. In 1848 he became a permanent resident of Chicago.

Martin was married at least twice and maybe three times. His first wife may have been a full-blooded Indian, who in 1843 died in childbirth, but the child, named Mary, survived and married Charles R. Butts in Chicago on November 29, 1866. Mary died in Chicago on in 1888 and was buried at Graceland Cemetery. On May 15, 1844 in Grand Haven Martin married Loiza [Louise] Duvernay, the daughter of Pierre and his Indian wife, Julia. Loiza died in childbirth on March 14, 1855, at the age of 30. In 1855 Martin was married again, this time to Mary Campau in Grand Rapids. Mary Ann, the daughter of Antoine Campau and the niece of Louis Campau, was born about 1822 in Michigan. She died on January 8, 1907 in Los Angeles, California. They had a son, Martin Antoine, who was born in Grand Rapids on October 26, 1856. By 1860 Martin I resided in Chicago with his wife and children. There he was classified as a lumberman, and merchant. He died there on September 6, 1887. In 1901 the younger Martin, who had become a successful Chicago attorney, donated $150,000 to Grand Rapids for the construction of a new library building, to be named for his family. He also was one of the founding trustees of the Art Institute of Chicago and a benefactor of the Muskegon Art Museum. Martin II married Carrie Hutchinson in Chicago on October 26, 1881. She was born in Gloversville, New York on June 19, 1859.

Floyd Stanley Eames Rymal [1930-1998]

Born in Jackson on February 6, 1930, the son of Edward and Alma Ferris Eames [1915-1947], Floyd was adopted by Milton Rymal. A sister, Dolores, was born in 1934 and also was adopted by Rymal. Floyd served in the Air Force during the Korean War. He worked for Atco Rubber Company and later opened his own business, Rycut Tool & Design. He retired in 1987. He and his wife, Mary, were divorced. They had five sons: Randy and Russ, both of Grand Haven, Richard of Coopersville, Ronald of Nunica, and Robert of Spring Lake. Floyd passed away on September 16, 1998 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Darius Harden Sampson “Sam” Rymer [1887-1976]

Darius Harden Sampson “Sam” Rymer was born in Fruitport on June 15, 1887. His parents were John and Sarah Bigelow Rymer. On December 26, 1914 he married Jessie Eckhoff, who was born in the same state on May 12, 1888. She was the daughter of John and Margrette Sims Eckhoff of Crockery Township. In the 1930 census Sam’s name was given as Harden S. Rymer. Living with them in 1930 was Almon Rymer, an adopted son. Sam was a farmer on 116 acres in Spring Lake Township, just north of Battle Point. He had a reputation for knowing about the Indians who once inhabited the area and spoke of seeing relics from the Indian burial ground at Battle Point. Jessie passed away in February 1974, and Sam died in May 1976 in Spring Lake.
Frank Rymer [1850-1937]
Frank Rymer owned an 80-acre farm in Section 23 of Grand Haven Township, where he arrived in 1906. He lived from 1850 to 1937 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery with his wife Bertha, who lived from 1870 to 1934. Bertha was the daughter of Henry and Sophia Smith Bierman.

John Rymer [1852-1960]
John Rymer on July 5, 1884 married Sarah Bigelow in Newaygo County. John, the son of Sampson and Barbara Lovie Rymer, was born in 1852. Sarah was born in New York in 1862 [1863]. Their children were Dana Clyde “Clydie” Rymer, who was born on June 18, 1885 and relocated to New York, where he died in December 1964; Darius Harden Sampson Rymer, who was born in Fruitport on June 15, 1887; and Versie [Versa] Rymer, who was born on December 3, 1889, married Charles Mallahan [1887 to 1951] in Nortonville on December 23, 1912, and died in Texas on February 20, 1979. After John passed away on March 29, 1900, Sarah married James A. Cross.

Sampson Robert Rymer I [1822-1900]
Born in Canada on September 4, 1822 [1823], Sampson Rymer brought his family to Fruitport in 1865, where seven years later, on September 2, he purchased an 80-acres of farmland. In 1847 he married Barbara E. Lovie [Lovey], who was born in Scotland on May 13, 1824. Their children included William, who was born about 1848 and moved to Detroit; Sampson II, who was born about 1850; John, who was born in 1852 and died on March 30, 1900; Isabel [Isabella], who was born in 1854, married James Loosemore, and relocated to Los Angeles; Cora, who was born in 1856 and married George Loosemore; Mary, who was born in 1863, married Edward Hovey [1837-1917], and moved to Fenton, Genesee County; and Squire, who lived from 1862 to 1875 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Barbara passed away on March 19, 1911. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, April 20, 1900.]

Albert Rysdorp [Rysdorpt] [1862-1959]
Albert Rysdorp, a prominent dental surgeon, was born in Grand Haven on April 11, 1862, the son of Henry and Aberdina Rysdorp I. Bert graduated from the University of Michigan School of Dentistry in 1886 and started his practice in Grand Haven on August 12 that year. His office was on the second floor of 136 Washington, where he remained for 25 years before moving to 223 Washington. He was a member of the Grand Haven School Board, and he was its president in 1901 when the old Central School burned down and its replacement built. His daughter, Clare, was also a dentist and they shared an office at 136 Washington.

On October 20, 1886 in Grand Haven, Bert married Minnie [Hermina] Pellegrom. Born on August 26, 1862, she was the daughter of Mathias [Matthew] and Janey Van Weelden Pellegrom. She and Bert were married in Grand Haven on October 20, 1886. In the early 1900s they resided at 803 Washington, but they lived most of their married lives at 320 Washington, where Bert also maintained a dental office after moving from 223 Washington. They attended the Second Reformed Church. The Rysdorps had six daughters, including: Clarissa [Clarisa/Clara] who was born in Grand Haven on August 15, 1887; Ella Louise, who lived from November 1890 to 1913 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Ardene, who was born in January 1893, married a Mr. Prisener, and moved to Clyde, Ohio; Jeanette, who was born in February 1895, married a Mr. Hines, and resided in Detroit; Gertrude M., who was born in July 1899, married M. J. Barnes, and moved to Mayfield Heights, Ohio; and Alberta W., who was born on October 20, 1900, married Clarence J. Poppen, moved to Hillsdale, Hillsdale County, and died in Lee County, Florida on September 2, 1990. Minnie died October 17, 1938 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. After her death, Bert moved his home and office to 325 East Savidge. He died about February 11, 1959 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Clare [Clarissa, Clara] A. Rysdorp [1887-1971]
In the 1908 Directory Clare [Clarissa/Clara] Rysdorp was listed as a dentist working with her father, Albert Rysdorp, in his dental office at 136 Washington. The family resided at 803 Washington. Clare graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1905, married George Everett Haggas on September 3, 1913 in Spring Lake and moved to Portland, Maine. George died in Portland on November 3, 1964 at the age of 78. At the time Clare appeared in the 1920 and 1930 censuses, she was not working as a dentist. Clare died in 1971 and was buried with her husband at Pine Grove Cemetery in Falmouth, Maine.

Henry Rysdorp I [@1831-1913]

Born in Appledouren, The Netherlands about 1831, Henry Rysdorp came to Holland, Michigan, with Rev. Van Raalte in 1847 and moved to Grand Haven seven years later. He learned the trade of millwright and also worked as a carpenter. In 1863 he formed a partnership with Harmon Bosch, John Sprick, and Johannes Vos, and built a sawmill at the east end of Fulton Avenue. Soon they were operating a sawmill, a shingle mill, and a stave factory. The mill burned down in 1877 and the business was liquidated. Henry, in partnership with Healy C. Akeley, purchased the Friant mill and continued business as the Grand Haven Lumber Company, and Henry managed the company’s Beech Tree Mill. When the lumbering business began to diminish, he sold his interest to Charles Boyden. Henry went to Grand Rapids and then retired to a farm in Coral, Montcalm County.

In Grand Haven, Henry was a staunch Republican and member of the Common Council. He worked on the first structure that housed the congregation of the First Reformed Church. His wife, Alberdina, was born in The Netherlands about 1837. Their children, all born in Grand Haven, included John H., who was born in 1856; Herman, born in April 1858 and died on July 2, 1871; Henry II, born in 1859; Albert, born on April 11, 1862; George, who was born on March 1, 1870 and died a year later on March 7; Mary C., who was born in 1877, married Nelson Lovett, moved to Coral, died in 1954, and was buried at Coral Cemetery; and James Martin, who was born on April 16, 1879, died on December 29, 1940, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Herman, George, and James all resided in Grand Rapids. Henry I died in Coral on October 26, 1913 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife died at the age of 65 on May 22, 1902. [Tribune obituary, October 28, 1913.]

Henry Rysdorp II [1859-1913]

Born in Grand Haven in 1859, the son of Henry and Aberdina Rysdorp I, young Henry joined the Grand Haven Lumber Company, and became bookkeeper at the Beech Tree [Fourth Ward] Mill, where his father was manager. Henry II passed away around October 28, 1913 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 28, 1913.]

John [Jan] Henry Rysdorp [1856-1939]

Born in May 1856 in Grand Haven, the son of Henry and Aberdina Rysdorp I, John became a saw filer by trade and worked at the Beech Tree [Fourth Ward] Mill, operated by the Grand Haven Lumber Company and managed by his father. On January 1, 1879 in Grand Haven, he married Jan “Jennie,” daughter of John and Lucy Boer. Jennie was born in Drenthe, Ottawa County, about 1858. In 1889 John and Jane moved to Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin. While working in a sawmill in Sturgeon Bay, John lost his right hand when he tried to save other workers from being injured. He was able to continue work, however, and provide support for his wife and eight daughters. Their daughters were Albertha B., born on February 23, 1880; James, born August 10, 1881; Jenna G., born on August 5, 1882; Henrietta, born on March 2, 1883; Lucy, born in 1885; Marion C., who was born on September 28, 1889 and died in Sturgeon Bay on May 11, 1995; Ruth, born in 1892; Helen, born on September 25, 1893; and Dorothy, who was born in 1895. The last three children were born in Sturgeon Bay, the others in Grand Haven. John died in 1939. Jane passed away in 1928. [Tribune obituary, October 28, 1913.]

Benjamin Delop Safford [1837-1920]
Benjamin was born in Wayne County on April 23, 1837, the son of James and Eveline Adams Safford and the brother of Joseph. James was born about 1803. He and Eveline were married in Windham, Connecticut on August 29, 1829. The family lived on a farm the Saffords had purchased from the government. Eveline was a grandniece of President John Adams, and both parents were school teachers in Norwich, Connecticut in the 1820s. Around 1830, James and his family moved to Wayne County, where on January 1, 1831 he purchased a quarter-section [160 acres] in Canton Township and resumed farming. Benjamin and his four brothers and two sisters lived with their parents on the family farm. On August 15, 1862 Benjamin enlisted as sergeant in Company E of the 17th Michigan Infantry. On May 12, 1864 he was captured by the Confederates at the Battle of Spottsylvania but escaped by cutting a hole in the side of the train car carrying him to prison. At the close of the war, Benjamin was discharged on June 3, 1865, just a month after being assigned to the staff of General Wilcox, First Division, Ninth Army Corps. Locally he was noted for achieving the rank of major, a promotion not substantiated by his service record. He did, however, act as provost marshal of the First Division, beginning in November 1863.

After the war, Benjamin settled in Grand Haven. He was elected alderman of the First Ward in 1867. For a three-year period around 1869 he was principal of Grand Haven High School. He formed a partnership with Nazarie I. Beaudry and entered the dry goods business in 1871 at 224 Washington, but in 1879 went into business for himself. In 1878 Benjamin was elected mayor of Grand Haven and reelected in 1879 and 1881. He moved to Lansing in 1891 and 15 years later moved to Detroit.

On July 5, 1868 Benjamin married Melissa [Melisa] in Grand Haven. The daughter of Hamilton and Jerusha Jones of Grand Haven, Melissa was born in New York on April 17, 1841, died in Grand Haven on March 21, 1874, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. She and Benjamin had one son, James Hamilton Safford, who was born on April 24, 1869. About the time of his birth, James and his parents were living with the Joneses in Grand Haven.

Four years after Melissa’s death, Benjamin on September 1, 1878 in Grand Haven married Mary Belle Duncan, who was born in Michigan about 1853 and had been a teacher in Grand Haven. Belle’s sister, Lucy Duncan, married James Albee of Grand Haven. The Saffords continued to reside with Hamilton and Jerusha into the 1880s. Benjamin and Belle Safford had four children, all born at the Jones residence on Fifth Street: Louis A., who was born around 1879 and moved to St. Louis; Mary, who was born around 1881, married Peter E. Ruppe of Calumet, Houghton County and died before 1920; Robert D., who was born about 1885 and moved to Detroit; and Lucy, who was born about 1887 and married Dr. Stewart T. Hamilton of Detroit. Benjamin died in Detroit on June 27, 1920 and was buried at Elmwood Cemetery there. [Tribune obituary, June 29, 1920.]

James Hamilton Safford [1869-1937]

Benjamin and Melissa Jones Safford of Grand Haven had one son, James Hamilton Safford, who was born on April 24, 1869 and died on January 8, 1937. On September 3, 1919 in Detroit, James married Cora E. Cairns, the daughter of Averille [Thomas] and Florence Cairns of Grand Haven. Cora moved back to Grand Haven after James’s death. She was born on May 1, 1869, died on September 6, 1949, and was buried at Lake Forest with her husband. In 1920 and 1930 the Saffords were residing in Detroit, where James was a proofreader for a newspaper.

Joseph Adams Safford [1841-1894]

Joseph was born in Wayne County on May 21, 1841, the son of James and Eveline Adams Safford and the brother of Benjamin. James was born about 1803. He and Eveline were married in Windham, Connecticut on August 29, 1829. The family lived on a farm the Saffords had purchased from the government. Eveline was a grandniece of President Adams, and both parents were schoolteachers in Norwich, Connecticut in the 1820s. Joseph’s parents moved to Wayne County, where on January 1, 1831 James purchased a quarter-section [160 acres] in Canton Township and resumed farming. On August 13, 1862, Joseph enlisted as private in Company C of the Michigan 24th Infantry. On March 15, 1864 he transferred to Company F of the Veteran Reserve Corps. He was discharged on August 15, 1865 and settled in the Grand Haven area. Joseph and his wife owned acreage south of Cornelius Bayou in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township, part of which he sold to Hial Gray in 1874. The parcel was rich in clay that Gray used for his brick-making business. Joseph died on May 28, 1894. His wife, Phebe E., a native of Michigan, lived from October 1846 to 1911. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Daniel Sanders [? -1880]
Daniel Sanders, a sailor aboard the schooner Rosabelle, was crushed to death when he was caught in a small boat between the schooner and the dock during the loading process. He died the same day as the accident, November 8, 1880.

See John J. Saunders.

Warren Sanders [1847-1916]
Warren Sanders was born in New York State in June 1847. On March 13, 1870, in Crockery Township, he married Agnes S., the daughter of Benjamin and Abigail Chittenden. Agnes was born in New York State in 1853. Their farm was in Section 29 of Crockery. Warren died in Crockery in 1916, and Agnes died there on September 30, 1890. Both were buried at Nunicia Cemetery. They had at least two daughters, both born in Michigan: Bertha, born in November 1873, and Maud, born in August 1883.

Charles Albert Sands [1862-1932]
Charles Sands was born in Manistee in May 1862. His father, Louis Sands, was a well-known lumberman who owned the Louis Sands Salt & Lumber Company in Manistee. Louis was born in Sweden on July 2, 1826 and died in Manistee on August 24, 1905. Louis’s wife, Caroline Richards, lived from 1836 to 1863. Both were buried at Oak Grove Cemetery in Manistee. On December 15, 1887 in Chicago, Charles married Mary Barr, who lived from 1862 to 1922. They had at least three children: Louis, who was born in Illinois in September 1888; Lorri, who was born about 1889; and Charles, who was born in Lake City and lived from September 1892 to 1936. In 1910 Charles and his family were living in Grand Rapids, where he had a furniture-manufacturing business. He also owned a large, three-story summer home in Spring Lake. Charles died in Alameda County, California on May 29, 1932 and was buried at Mountain View Cemetery and Mausoleum in that county.

David Platt Sanford [1844-@1901]
David, the son of Isaac and Mary Royall Sanford, was born in Ohio on December 18, 1844. On February 6, 1863 he enlisted as corporal in Company B of the Michigan 1st Sharpshooters. He was mustered out on July 28, 1865 as sergeant. He married Anna “Annie” B. Dykhuis on September 10, 1870. Annie was the daughter of Jurrien and Johanna Zuidema Dykhuis of Grand Haven. The Sanfords lived in Spring Lake. Anna, who was born on January 17, 1849 and died on January 8, 1915, applied for a Civil War pension on May 20, 1901. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband and other family members. David died after 1910.

George Davis Sanford [1842-1909]
Born in Kent, Ohio on Jan 7, 1842 [1843], George was the son of Isaac Platt and Mary Royall Sanford. George attended schools in Kent until 1859, when he moved with his parents to Grand Haven. In 1860, he started in business for himself, buying out the newsstand of George D. Harvey for $50.00. During the Civil War years, when his supply of newspapers was exhausted, he would mount a store box and read the news to the assembled crowd. In 1865 he entered the political arena as candidate for clerk of Grand Haven Township and won over Henry Brouwer, who had never before been defeated. By the1890s he had a real estate, insurance, and loan office in the post office building at 100 Washington. George was on the Board of supervisors of Ottawa County for ten terms; served as a member and president of the Board of Education for George married Frances Stoner in Grand Haven on May 1, 1873. Frances was born in Ripley, New York, on June 24, 1852. The Sanfords made their home at 427 Columbus, which was lost in the fire of 1889. They then moved to 620 Washington Street, where George also transacted his insurance business. Harry Ewing, Frances’s nephew, was living with the Sanfords in 1900. Their children, all born in Grand Haven, were Grace Royall Sanford, who was born November 22, 1874, died January 31, 1876, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Lillian Webb Sanford, who was born July 7, 1876, and on July 28, 1903 married Charles A. Colwell [born @1872]; George Deroy Sanford, born February 29, 1880; Mary Frances Sanford, who was born on November 26, 1881 and married Will Fletcher; Charles Guy Sanford Sanford, who was born June 26, 1883 and died February 20 the next year; and Francis Stoner Sanford, born on October 22, 1890. Grace Royall was buried in the family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery. George Deroy, the son of George Davis and Frances Stoner Sanford, was born in Grand Haven on February 29, 1880. On November 16, 1903 in Milwaukee he married Anna Cavanaugh, who was born about 1884 in Iowa, died about January 12, 1915, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Her mother, Catherine Cavanaugh, was born in Wisconsin around 1850. In 1920 and 1930 the Sanfords were residing in Milwaukee, where George was foreman at a cement company. They had four children. George died in Milwaukee on January 16, 1942 and was buried at Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

Henry Carlton Sanford I [1846-1932]

Born in Akron, Ohio on June 14, 1846, Henry arrived in Grand Haven in 1859 with his parents, Isaac Platt and Mary Jennings Royall Sanford. He clerked for Colonel Ferry until 1868. While driving a well for Wyman & Buswell, he struck the first mineral water in the area at 180 feet. Henry was an engineer with the Grand Haven Fire Department, where his brother Isaac also volunteered. He married Eugenia Beckwith in Grand Haven on February 14, 1870. Eugenia was born in April 1850 in Racine, Wisconsin. Their children, all born in Grand Haven, were Isaac Hull, born November 8, 1870; Carlton Wheeler, who was born on August 21 1872 and died on July 24 the next year; Henry Carlton II, born November 18, 1875 [1876]; Eugene, born March 12, 1881; Eugenia Beckwith, born on March 12, 1882; and James Brayton, born on September 9, 1883. He died in March 1921. It ‘s likely he was named for James Brayton, who married Henry’s sister, Emma, in early 1884.

Richard [Dick] Sanford [@1846–1911]
As a boy Dick Sanford followed the printer’s trade. He later learned the art of tinning and worked in many of the largest tin shops. He became known for his fine quality of tinsmithing throughout the area. Dick, who was born in Ohio about 1846, died on March 4, 1911. His wife, Ann, a native of The Netherlands, lived from 1849 to January 8, 1915.

Samuel R. Sanford [1822-1899]
Lumberman Samuel Sanford arrived in Grand Haven in 1856 and was elected sheriff two years later. He was born in New York in 1822 and died on September 7, 1899. Samuel’s wife, Ambrosia P., was born in New York about 1835. Their children, both born in Michigan, were Nellie S., born around 1861, and Arthur H., born about 1865. The family was residing in Muskegon by 1880. [Tribune obituary September 8, 1899.]

Eli Hovis Sankey [1867-1931]
Eli Sankey was born in Pleasantville, Pennsylvania on March 6, 1867, the son of Patterson and Amelia Hovis Sankey. On September 15, 1888 in Grand Haven, Eli married Fannie, daughter of Rinder and Marta Van Ess Vander Molen. Fannie was born in Grand Rapids on September 12, 1869 and died in Olive Township on June 11, 1921. Eli passed away on September 10, 1931. Both were buried at West Olive Cemetery. The Sankeys farmed 120 acres in Section 1 of Olive Township, where they had settled in 1892. A son, William John, was born in Olive Township on February 15, 1893 and died there in March 1970. The Sankeys also had a daughter, Gracie, born in January 1890.

Patterson Sankey [1838-1920]

Patterson Sankey was born in Pennsylvania about March 4, 1838. On January 1, 1864 he enlisted as Wagoner in Company K of the 4th Pennsylvania Cavalry. After the war he settled on 37 acres in Section 1 in Olive Township, where he continued to live until at least 1900. His wife, Amelia P. Hovis, was born in Pennsylvania in March 1836 and died on March 24, 1913. Patterson died in Isabella County on May 31, 1920 but was buried with his wife at Olive Township Cemetery. A son, William J., was born in Pennsylvania about 1860. Eli, born on March 6, 1867, was another of their four children. Patterson and William Sankey were brothers.

William Henry Sankey [1831-1895]

While residing in Young America, Illinois, William Sankey enlisted on July 17, 1861 as private in Company B of the 59th Illinois Infantry. He was mustered out as corporal on December 8, 1865. Some years after the war he came to Olive Township, where he owned a farm in Section 2. He was born on September 10, 1831 in Mercer County Pennsylvania, died on September 30, 1895, and was buried at Olive Township Cemetery. On August 4, 1860 in Pennsylvania, he married Caroline Hovis Monjar [Monzar]. After her husband’s death Caroline applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. She was born on May 2, 1845, died on January 16, 1926, and also was buried at Olive Cemetery. Their children were Mary Elizabeth; Robert S., who was born in Pennsylvania about 1870, married Melissa Tuttle in Holland, Michigan on October 10, 1891, died on June 14, 1944, and was buried at Olive Township Cemetery; Loretta “Retta” A., who was born in Pennsylvania in 1873 married Thomas Cole in Grand Haven Township on December 18, 1892, and died in 1953; Anna Belle, who was born in Pennsylvania about 1875 and married Albert Lafayette in Grand Rapids on September 30, 1896; and Sara “Sadie” Ellen, who married George W. Smith in Grand Rapids on June 21, 1898. William and Patterson Sankey were brothers.

William John Sankey [1893-1970]

William was born in Olive Township on February 15, 1893, the son of Eli and Fannie Vander Molken Sankey. On December 14, 1914 in Holland, he married Ruth Eliza Hugger, who was born in Oakland County on March 8, 1892. Her parents were John and Maude L. Smith Hugger. William and Ruth owned a 40-acre farm in Section 1 of Port Sheldon Township [originally part of Olive Township]. William died March 1, 1970 and was buried at West Olive Cemetery. Ruth died January 18, 1989.

Thomas William Sargeant [1911-1995]

In 1954 Thomas Sargeant was a clerk with the Eagle Ottawa Leather Company. His wife, Marylou, was employed by the Addison-Baltz Department Store at 200 Washington Street. Thomas and Marylou Ann Wilkinson were married in Grand Rapids on June 8, 1940. Thomas was born in Fremont, Newaygo County on June 18, 1911, and Marylou was born in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania on September 21, 1914. They resided at 418 Ottawa Street in Grand Haven. Thomas owned the Ottawa Electrical Contracting Company when it moved from 110 Washington Street to 217 Beechtree around 1967. He died in Florida on May 12, 1995. Marylou died in Grand Haven on September 1, 2003 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Heinrich [Henry] Leonard Saul [1834-1918]

Henry, the son of Nicholas and Elisabeth Charlotte Koning Saul, was born in Hofgarten, Germany on February 7, 1834 and arrived in Grand Haven Township with his father and brothers in 1854. He owned a considerable quantity of land [400 acres in 1918] in Grand Haven Township. He was one of the first 23 members of the German Immanuel Church and one of its original elders when the church was organized in 1870. The church was located on the northeast corner of Warner and 168th Streets. The pupils of Saul School, forerunner of Rosy Mound, used the church’s schoolhouse when their school burned down in 1900. Saul’s granddaughter, Myrtle Kieft, recalled that he built the school and hired and boarded the teacher so his ten children and their neighbors’ children could get an eighth grade education. The church was moved to Agnew in 1952, and then to its present location on M-45 when U.S. 31 was expanded to four lanes in the mid-1950s.

In 1866 Henry became one of the trustees of the new Evangelical Lutheran-St. John’s Church in Grand Haven. He was supervisor of Grand Haven Township from 1880-81, clerk of the Grand Haven Township School Board in 1899, chairman of school inspectors in 1906, and in 1908 he was treasurer of the Rosy Mound School District. At one time he owned the land surrounding the school at the southeast corner of Ferry and Lakeshore stood, so it was referred to as the Saul School for awhile. On June 4, 1858 he married Mary, the daughter of Louis and Margrieta Ehlers Bredehoft, from Hannover, Germany. Mary, a native of Germany, lived from June 1837 to December 20, 1921. She immigrated to the United States in 1856. Henry died in Grand Haven Township on May 20, 1918. Both Henry and Mary were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.

Henry Saul II (1871-1923)

The son of Heinrich Saul and Mary Bredehoft, Henry II, was born on April 19, 1871, died on June 6, 1923 in Grand Haven, and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. On November 14, 1900 Henry II married Martha Maria Helene Berg, who was born on April 26, 1876 in Grand Haven Township and died on May 17, 1907 after giving birth to her third child, Edward. Wilhelm and Frederick died earlier as infants. Her parents were Frederick and Wilhelmina Krull Berg, who came to the area in 1872 from Germany. Edward Walter, born on April 7, 1907, married Fern Luella Hammond [born August 2, 1913 in Boyne City, Charlevoix County], and died in Muskegon on July 28, 1977. Henry on July 5, 1913 in Grand Haven Township married Augusta Fisher [Fischer], and they had two sons: Arnold, who was born on January 20, 1915, and Henry III, who was born on May 13, 1917 and died September 20 three years later when run over by a threshing machine. Augusta was born about 1883. After Henry’s death, August married Herman Zimmerman, also of Grand Haven Township.

Johann Nicolaus “Nicholas” Saul (1803-1891)

A native of a Hofgarten, Germany, Nicholas Saul was born on February 28, 1803. He was a carpenter and was one of seven organizers and original member of a village Lutheran Church built in 1834 in Hofgarten. He married Elisabeth Charlotte Koning, who lived from September 17, 1807 to December 16, 1850. Four years after her death Nicholas settled in Grand Haven Township with his four sons: Heinrich, age 20; Wilhelm, 18; Theodor, 15; and Friedrich Martin, five. The family farm was on Lakeshore Drive in Section 16, where the Christian Conference Grounds later were located. The four boys were Friedrich, who was born May 28, 1849 and died in Muskegon on December 9, 1912, also had a farm along Lakeshore Drive in Section 9 of Grand Haven Township. Nicholas died of “old age” on May 29, 1891 at the age of 88. He was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. [Tribune obituary June 1, 1891.]

John J. Saunders [Sanders], an African American, was born in Virginia [Maryland] about 1836 and settled in Grand Haven before 1860. He worked as a blacksmith. On November 24, 1863 in Detroit, he enlisted with Company E of the 1st Michigan Infantry, which later was designated the 102nd U.S. Colored Infantry. He was mustered out on September 30, 1865. His birth year at the time of enlistment was estimated at 1821, his burial record gave his birth year as 1810, the 1860 census put it at 1836, and the 1870 census at 1805. Although it is difficult to reconcile these wide variations in birth years, the mid-1830s seems the more likely.
John continued as a blacksmith when he and his wife, Elizabeth [Elisabeth], returned to Grand Haven after the war. Elizabeth was born in Delaware [North Carolina] on September 23, 1826. [The 1860 and 1870 censuses place her birth year at about 1837.] Their children, all born in Michigan, were Susan, born about 1856; John H., born about 1858; and Mary Y., born about 1860. Military records reveal that two of John’s children died in Grand Haven while he was in the military. Living with the family in 1860 were Penn White, born in Michigan about 1840, and Penn’s wife Sophia, who was born in New York about 1842. Penn and Sophia were early arrivals in the county. John died in Grand Haven on November 2 [3], 1871 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery in the G.A.R. plot. By 1880 Elizabeth was a laundry lady living on Madison Street with her daughter Susan, who had married a Mr. Brigg. Also living in the house on Madison was Jessie E. Brigg, Susan’s son, who was born about 1877. Elizabeth died in Grand Haven on August 4, 1885 and was buried in Potter’s Field at Lake Forest Cemetery. Her parents were William and Rebecca Murray. In 1910 son John and his sister Susan were living at 621 North Sixth Street. At that time John was widowed and Susan was divorced. John worked at the Eagle Ottawa leather plant in Grand Haven. In 1920 Susan was still residing in the family house, but John was gone. Living with Susan were two boarders, Eulyses Fordham, born in Michigan about 1875, and Charles Brown, born in Michigan about 1885. Eulyses was working as a laborer, but Charles was unemployed. Neither was African American.

In the fall of 1925 Susan was admitted to the Ottawa County Poor Farm. She died there on June 30, 1926.

Sarah Benedict Rhines Saunders [Sanders] [1837-1898]

Sarah Benedict Rhines Saunders and her husband William G. Saunders in late spring 1887 built the first cottage in Highland Park. They named it Loch Hame, a Gaelic phrase meaning Lake Home. Located at the west end of Lake Avenue, the Saunders built the cottage around an aged oak tree, rather than cut it down. Sarah was born in Michigan in June 3, 1837. On January 29, 1876, Sarah and William Saunders were married in Albion. Born on September 22, 1827 in New York, he was justice of the peace in Grand Rapids at the time of the 1880 Federal Census, and he also was a medical doctor. On September 28, 1856 in Jackson, Sarah married Levant Rhines, who was born in 1831, served as major during the Civil War, and died at the Siege of Petersburg, Virginia, on June 17, 1864. Sarah and Levant had one child, Julia, who was born on August 16, 1863 in Spring Arbor, married Joseph Patrick McCarthy, and died in Massachusetts in 1934. William had three children by a previous marriage: Anna, born about 1866; Belle, born about 1870; and Travis, born about 1878. Mary, William’s first wife, died in 1873 at the age of 41. The four children, given the last name Rhines by the enumerator, all born in Michigan, were living with her and William in Grand Rapids in 1880. Sarah died in Grand Rapids on May 23, 1898 and was buried at Chapel Cemetery in Jackson County. William died in Grand Rapids on November 26, 1903

William John H. Saunders [1832-1904]

Born in London, England on September 24, 1832, William Saunders began his career with British railroads. He came to Grand Haven by way of Canada in the early 1860s. William was employed by the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad as Cashier when the office was located on the north side of Grand River. He later joined and then retired from the National Bank of Grand Haven as Bookkeeper. William was a member of Blue Lodge, Knights of Templar, the Mystic Shrine, and Knights of Pythias. He died on August 25, 1904 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On June 6, 1871 in Grand Haven, he married Jennie Maria Kirkland, a native of England. The daughter of George and Elizabeth Kirkland of Grand Haven, she lived from 1850 to about September 17, 1915 and was buried with her husband.

Esther [Ester] Savidge [1866-1920]

See Nat Robbins.

George Patten Savidge I [1871-1913]

Born in Spring Lake on November 9, 1871, the younger son of Hunter and Sarah Patten Savidge, George became a leader in the Spring Lake Yacht Club and was its secretary and treasurer. He and his brother, William, sailed a 55-foot schooner call the Sallie, which was built in Spring Lake. George was Village president in 1897. On October 26, 1904 he married Maybelle [Mabelle/Mabel] Louise Moore of New York City. They had a son, George P. II, born in 1905. George I died on July 4, 1913, when only 41, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. His widow married Clarkson Rollins and moved to Minneapolis for awhile. By 1920 Maybelle and Clarkson were residing at 614 Clinton in Grand Haven and were in Spring Lake in 1930. Clarkson was born in Missouri on November 8, 1882. Maybelle lived from 1881 to 1957.

George Patten Savidge II [1905-1963]

Born in 1905 Spring Lake, George was the son of George and Maybelle Louise Moore Savidge. He graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1923, then studied art at the University of Chicago under Walter Sargent, head of the Art Department. After graduation, he went to Paris and specialized in architectural design, portraits, and flower designing. Later he went to Hollywood and was associated with one of the major studios. In 1934 he wrote a ten-episode pageant for the four-day Centennial Celebration featuring early life in the City of Grand Haven. George donated the funds needed to put lights along four blocks of Savidge Street in Spring Lake. The lights were dedicated on June 21, 1935. George moved to California, where he died in 1963.

Hunter Savidge [1828-1881]

Born in Columbia County, Pennsylvania, Hunter’s parents moved to Turbotville, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania when he was about six years old. Born on April 6, 1828, Hunter was the fifth son of thirteen children of Benjamin and Esther Hunter Savidge. In his hometown Hunter attended school in the wintertime and worked in construction during summer at a rate of $10 per month. In 1850 he moved to Rockford, Illinois to teach, but soon was back in the contracting and building business. In 1856 he came to Spring Lake to purchase lumber for his business. He liked the area and the next year returned to manufacture lumber. He formed an association with men by the name of Young and Montague and opened the Young, Savidge & Montague Sawmill, formerly known as the Hopkins Sawmill. The enterprise was short lived. A financial panic of 1857 forced the enterprise out of business. Between 1858 and 1861 Hunter became a partner with Dwight Cutler of Grand Haven another lumbering business. Their firm began to thrive as one of the most extensive and best-known lumber firms in the Midwest. Hunter and Dwight did not formalize their partnership, however, until August 31, 1863.

Dwight and Hunter bought the Hopkins Mill, located on the shore of Spring Lake west of the north end of Main Street [Cutler Street]. They then built a new mill to the west of the Hopkins Mills, on land later known as the Savidge Estate. In August 1870, the partners bought a controlling interest in the Haire & Tolford Sawmill on Spring Lake, a lumbering business once known as Hopkins Mill The officers were Hunter Savidge, President; Dwight Cutler, treasurer; Hiram W. Pearson, secretary; and John B. Hancock. They prospered from the beginning, and Hunter became owner of a large amount of valuable real estate. The discovery in 1870 of mineral waters on the site of the old sawmill led to the construction of the Spring Lake House, one of the most popular summer resorts in West Michigan. On January 1, 1874 he sold his interest in the hotel to others. By 1874 the lumbering business had half a million dollars in capital and was processing 5,000,000 board feet per year. It was large enough that a stock company was organized. The Cutler & Savidge yard stretched from the shore of Spring Lake, where the mill itself was located, to the foot of Division Street and west to the bridge. Much of the ground in that area was composed of sawdust and cuttings. Hunter and Dwight also owned considerable acreage in Sections 12 and 13 of Spring Lake Township, and Hunter was sole owner of additional acres in Sections 8 and 9 of Crockery Township. Other holdings were in Muskegon County and probably elsewhere. Presumably the land was purchased for its trees. Cutler & Savidge became one of the largest lumbering businesses in West Michigan.

When Hunter died in 1881, Dwight became president of the business, and his two sons, along with Hunter’s sons, George and William, operated the business. A diminishing supply of lumber forced it in 1899 to close the Spring Lake operation and move it to other sites, first in Leroy, Osceola County and then Cutler, Ontario.
In 1871 Hunter was named director of the First National Bank of Grand Haven. Also that year he loaned Aloys Bilz $10,000 to help him restart his business after a devastating fire. In 1873 Hunter constructed the Odd Fellows Building at 136 Washington in Grand Haven. He was a long-time member of the organization. Hunter organized a fire department to protect his sawmill. He was elected supervisor of Spring Lake in 1876, was president of Greenville Lumber Company, became president of Ottawa Booming Company, served twenty years on the Spring Lake School Board, and was a Democrat, but never ran for public office. He gave this advice to a man who found himself in a financial emergency: “Cut down your expenses and keep cool.”

Sarah Caroline Patten was born in West Winfield, New York, on March 19, 1832. She came by prairie schooner with her family in 1845 to the small frontier hamlet called Grand Rapids, on the edge of Michigan’s great pine forest. She became a teacher in Grand Rapids Public Schools under the direction of Jeanette Hollister, who married William M. Ferry II in 1851. In the early 1850s, Sarah went by steamboat down Grand River to Grand Haven and then on to Chicago on a sailing vessel. There she saw her first railway train before continuing to Rockford, Illinois, probably to visit Rockford Female Seminary [now Rockford University]. She met Hunter Savidge in Rockford, Illinois and married him in Grand Rapids on February 12, 1857. Their honeymoon included a stagecoach trip on the south side of the Grand River from Grand Rapids to Grand Haven. They arrived the evening of February 22 in time for a George Washington birthday party at the Washington House, an early Grand Haven inn. In spite of their fatigue, they joined the festivities and made lifelong friendships. The next morning they followed the Sawdust Trail, took the ferry across the Grand River, and settled in their temporary abode in Mill Point [Spring Lake]. Before long Hunter had constructed a more permanent home on Mason Street. After living in that modest home for ten or twelve years, the Savidges in the early 1870s built a large, two-story home near the lake [303 North Park Street] Hunter gave the house on Mason Street to Jay McCluer, along with five lots on Barber Street, where Jay moved the house. Jay was a substitute for Hunter during the Civil War, when buying a replacement for military service was not uncommon.

Hunter and Sarah had three children, all born in the Village. William, the oldest, was born on September 30, 1863. He was followed by Esther, who was born on May 17, 1866 and married Nat Robbins V of Grand Haven. George, the youngest, was born on November 9, 1871.

After failing to improve his health by visiting California, Hunter and Sarah returned to Spring Lake, where he died on April 11, 1881 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. After Hunter’s death Sarah lived alone in the house on North Park until her death on September 17, 1921. She was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Hunter and other family members. She was an active member of the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church and other organizations and a charter member of the Grand Haven Women’s Club. [Tribune obituary, September 17, 1921.]

Thomas Savidge [1839-1907]

A native of Pennsylvania, where he was born in January 1839, Thomas was the son of Benjamin and Esther Hunter Savidge and Hunter Savidge’s brother. Thomas arrived in Mill Point [Spring Lake] in 1866, but almost immediately left the area for two years. He returned in 1868 to join the Cutler & Savidge Lumber Company, where his brother, Hunter Savidge, was president. Thomas owned and operated the Floral Stock Farm, breeding some of the fastest horses in the state. His advertisement in the 1893 Directory noted that his farm was “The Home of Michigan’s Champion 3-Year-Old, Geo. St. Clair.” The farm was located on the south side of Leonard Road, opposite the end of 148th Street. The farm’s office was moved to 117 South Lake Street and converted to a home, which still stands today. Thomas followed in his brother’s footsteps and was president of the Village for eleven terms: 1879, 1880, 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884, 1885, 1887, 1888, 1895, and 1896. He ran the Savidge Livery and Sale Stable at 109 Washington Street in Grand Haven but lived at 303 East Savidge in Spring Lake. Thomas was credited with planting the trees west of the 500 block of Savidge Street, which led to its nickname “Willow Drive.”

Thomas’s first wife, Mary, was born on August 3, 1841 and died May 10, 1877. Thomas and Mary had three children, all born locally: Benjamin R., born about 1870; Hunter, born about 1874; and Herbert Jasper, born on February 4, 1875. On February 18, 1879 in Spring Lake, Thomas married Armetta “Nettie” Moore [Hunt]. She was born in Toledo, Ohio in March 1854. Nettie was a charter member of the Grand Haven Woman’s Club, formed in 1891. Thomas died in 1907 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Nettie, who died the same year. Nettie’s mother, Louise S. Moore, lived from 1852 to 1928 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, where Mary also was buried.

William Savidge [1863-1916]

Born in Spring Lake on September 30, 1863, William Savidge was the older son of Hunter and Sarah Patten Savidge. He attended high school in Grand Rapids, graduated from the University of Michigan in 1884, and then attended Harvard Law School from 1886 to 1887. William was a Republican, and in 1896 served as state senator from the Ottawa-Muskegon District. After his father’s death in 1881, he took charge of the Savidge interests and also served on the Board of Directors for the Challenge Corn Planter Company. When the local lumbering business died out, the Savidge mill closed in 1889. At that time the company bought the White & Friant Mill at Leroy, Osceola County, which produced lumber until 1893. The business then moved to Ontario, Canada, where it closed for good five years later. William was the largest stockholder of the Challenge Refrigerator Company and was active in the Grand Haven State Bank. He was one of the founders of the Spring Lake Yacht Club and the Spring Lake Country Club. He helped to negotiate the purchase of the Country Club acreage from Fred Soule.

William, who remained unmarried, died on May 9, 1916 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Spring Lake’s main thoroughfare was named Savidge Street in his memory.

George Henry Saxton [1838-1936]

George Saxton was born in Deerfield, Massachusetts on May 21, 1838. On November 1, 1862 in Grand Haven, he enlisted in Company B of the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters as first sergeant. He was promoted to quartermaster sergeant and then to first lieutenant before being mustered out on July 25, 1865.

George married Mary Francis Sanford in Grand Haven on December 23, 1868. She was the daughter of Isaac and Mary Jennings Royall Sanford, who settled in Grand Haven in 1859. George and Mary had three children, apparently all born in Grand Haven: Isaac Ashley, born on July 27, 1870; Edmond [Edward] Luke, born on July 22, 1872; and Mary Emma, born on September 23, 1874. George and Mary appeared in the 1870 Federal Census as residents of Grand Haven, but by 1880 had moved to Lansing, where George died on July 15, 1936. He was buried at Mt. Hope Cemetery in Lansing. Mary had died on April 29, 1916 and was buried at the same cemetery. Mary was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

There is some evidence that the Saxtons lived at 436 Slayton Street in Grand Haven and may have built the house at that site.

James Daniel Sawyer [@1829-?]

Farmer, surveyor, and teacher, James Sawyer owned approximately 100 acres in Section 13 of Polkton Township as early as 1860. He was born in New York about 1829 and had settled in Eastmanville by 1857. On November 14, 1859 in Kane County, Illinois, he married Ansta [Austa] Leonora Lester, who was born around 1841 in Illinois. Their son, Robert, was born about 1863 in Michigan. The Sawyers moved to Coopersville, where they remained until at least 1870. By the early 1900s Ansta was widowed and living in Battle Creek. She died on March 1, 1925 in Richland, Washington.

Randy A. Sawyer [1952-2008]

Randy Sawyer owned and operated the Sawyer Family of Homes, which included Sandpiper, Seville, Simarron, Sorrell, and Sierra Adult Foster Care Homes. Randy was born in Grand Rapids on May 2, 1952, the son of Carl and Frances Barrett Sawyer. In 1980 he left the real estate business in Grand Rapids to purchase Sandpiper, an adult foster care home in Nunica. A few years later he opened homes in Grand Haven, including one for Alzheimer patients. Randy married Sandra C. Frank on August 27, 1994. Randy was a member of Covenant Life Church in Grand Haven and was president of Ottawa/Allegan Alzheimer’s Association. Randy and Sandy had three children: Erin Elisabeth, Cameron Carl, and Ethan Mark. Randy died on February 20, 2008 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, February 22, 2008.]

William Wade Scagel [1875-1963]

Photographs of William Wade Scagel are hard to find. He seldom allowed one to be taken. One time a child pretended to snap his picture with a toy camera. Bill “snapped” back at her in no uncertain terms. William was a reclusive, sullen, ultra-right winged Republican, who was beholden to no one. He could be argumentative, cantankerous, fiercely independent, and was a self-proclaimed atheist. In equal dose he was a perfectionist, creative, generous man who, during the polio epidemic in the 1930s, made ornate braces to mobilize and encourage these stricken kids. No pay was accepted. Bill Scagel was an artist and genius who would never fully realize the fame and regard he had achieved. He is remembered fondly by the few who truly knew him.

Bill was born in Canada about 1875 and immigrated to the United States in 1900. Ten years later he became a naturalized citizen. Bill began his career as a bridge builder and wrought iron craftsman. After two failed marriages, he headed for the relative isolation of northern lumber camps, where in 1910 he began making knives. Later Bill honed his skills in a small shop established in Muskegon and eventually relocated to north end of Spring Lake Township. By 1920 Scagel had emerged as an uncommonly good bladesmith. He sold camp and sport knives, fighting knives, pocketknives, and related hardware to Abercrombie and Fitch in New York and other upscale dealers. His sharpware was used on Smithsonian expeditions. He is regarded as “The Father of 20th Century Cutlery,” and as one who has profoundly influenced the cutlery trade for over a century, Bill is a member of the Blade Cutlery Hall of Fame. A number of factors make Scagel knives the standard by which all others are measured. First, after having heated words with the local power company, Bill pulled the plug at his “Dogwood Nub” home and shop. His knives were then made with power he squeezed out of an old windmill, submarine batteries, and a gas engine connected to a system of pulleys and belts. Bill selected only the strongest steel and other fine materials for his knives. The artistry in his stag and leather grips was unmatched; the grip itself was contoured to the human hand before anyone had heard the word ergonomic. There were few, if any, straight edges in Scagel knife design, only subtle curves melting into the hand. Single Scagel knives have exceeded $20,000 in value and are sought after worldwide. A legend in the cutlery trade, Bill Scagel died a poor man in 1963. [Adapted from an article by Marjorie Viveen.]

Andrew Schaafsma [1875-1966]

Born in The Netherlands on October 18, 1875, Andrew Schaafsma owned a harness store at 11 North Second around 1900. His residence at that time was nearby on Second Street, but sometime before 1916 he moved his family to 410 Howard. On August 31, 1905 in Grand Haven, he married Jennie Wierenga. Jennie lived from June 27, 1881 to December 23, 1973 and died in Grand Haven. The Schaafsmas had six children, including Ida Mae, who was born in the house on Howard Street on May 31, 1916. She and her sister, Catherine Lake, continued to reside in the Howard Street home until June 2001, when they sold it to Steve and Carol Loftis. Catherine was born about 1914. The Schaafsmas’ son, Herman, was born on August 22, 1910 and died in September 1971. Herman and his wife resided at 501 Leggat. Andrew’s and Jennie’s other daughters were Jeanette, who was born about 1907, and Julia, who was born around 1918 and lived in Washington, D.C. Andrew passed away around January 12, 1966 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ida Mae, who worked for Michigan Title Company for 32 years, died on October 13, 2012 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 16, 2012.]

Leonard C. Schaden [1880-1968]

Born in New York City on August 21, 1880, Leonard Schaden at the age of fourteen started in the shoe business with Pingree Shoe Company as a pattern boy. He lived for many years in Dearborn next door to Henry Ford. He married Mary Jo Erlacher on May 16, 1905. Leonard formed a partnership with Roy & Everett Pingree, but later sold the company and moved to Whitehall in 1922 to join Carl E. Schmidt’s organization as sales technician for drying calfskins and processing into shoes. In 1932 William Hatton of Eagle Ottawa Leather Company persuaded him to come to Grand Haven as Sales manager of the Shoe Leather Division. Leonard retired from that position in 1954. His hobby was photography. He and his wife resided at 436 Ottawa Street. Leonard died about October 18, 1968, and Mary passed away ten years later on July 13. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John A. Schaub [1882-1933]

Born in a log house on September 15, 1882 in Missouri, John Schaub came to Michigan in 1899. He attended school and was salutatorian of his graduating class at Coopersville High. He taught school for seven years, four of those in the Ferrysburg School as principal and then became director for eleven years. He was stricken with a malady of the spine, which left him unable to use his legs and underwent extensive treatments and operations during 1910. A fellow teacher suggested that he start a subscription magazine agency. After a slow start, he became known far and wide as “Michigan’s Wheel Chair Magazine Man” through articles written in several state newspapers. John developed a very large magazine and insurance business, which extended into every state. He survived the destruction of his house by fire in 1928, and with the help of friends and neighbors he built his dream home in Spring Lake. About the same time John became interested in many hobbies, including horticulture. He sent a number of arrangements to the Grand Haven Flower Show for judging. John was treasurer of Spring Lake Township for 17 years. He died May 29, 1933 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. At that time his home was on Park Street.

Albert died on March 3, 1911 and Hendrika on April 8, 1905. Both were buried at Olive Township Cemetery.

Levi [Levy] Schofield [Scofield] [1826-1903]
Born in New York State in 1826, Levi Schofield came to Grand Haven from Wisconsin and around 1870 worked as superintendent for the Wait Manufacturing Company. Wait was the forerunner of the Challenge Corn Planter Company. Levi was responsible for many inventions that helped the company succeed, including improvements to the corn planter, a check rower, and a refrigerator, patented in 1890, that became known as the Challenge Refrigerator. Levi was listed as superintendent of Challenge in the 1893 Compendium. In 1847, he married Mary Brown, who was born about 1827. The Schofields had at least two daughters, both born in Wisconsin: Hattie, born about 1858, and Daisy Blanche, born about 1872. Levi died on August 27, 1903 in Jonesboro, Arkansas. They had a daughter, Daisy Blanche, who was born in Grand Haven [Wisconsin] in 1872 and married Frederick Chase in Marne on September 19, 1925. Another daughter, Hattie, was born in Wisconsin about 1858. Daisy passed away in Grand Rapids on October 2, 1931. [Tribune obituary, August 31, 1903.]

Frank Scholten [1882–1953]

Frank Scholten, who was born in Michigan on January 26, 1882, attended local schools and was employed in area lumber mills until age 19. He then worked for H. J. Heinz Pickle Company in New Era, Oceana County and had a retail business in that city. He spent two years in the U.S. Custom Service, was manager of Consumers Power of Spring Lake for 29 years, served on the Debt Adjustment Board of Farm Security Administration, and was secretary of the Community Chest. When Spring Lake State Bank moved to new quarters at 210 West Savidge in Spring Lake, Frank joined it as cashier and vice president. He was elected president of Spring Lake Village in 1923 and 1924. The family resided at 124 South Eighth Street. He was a ship’s carpenter in local shipyards, and he owned a wooden schooner named Ellen Stevenson. For the last ten years of his life, he was employed by Story & Clark. Isaac died in 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Jean, a native of England, lived from September 1861 to 1940 and was buried with her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 15, 1923.]

James B. Scott I [1911-1989]

James was born in Chicago, Illinois on March 10, 1911 to William and Lillian Scott. At ten years of age he was orphaned and wandered from farm to farm looking for work and food, eventually moving to the Nunica area, where he was raised by his aunts. At age 19 he went back to Chicago and became acquainted with Louise Schuett. They were married in Chicago in 1936. The couple settled in Grand Haven and had six children, including a daughter, Joan Gray. James worked for Bastian Blessing as a welder and in 1942 formed Welded Products with Duane Brady in the Spring Lake area. They soon outgrew that building and built a new factory at 335 North Griffin Street in Grand Haven, which became Technology, Inc. [Spectra Products] in 1969.

James was on the steering committee for the building of St. Patrick’s and St. Mary’s churches, of which he was a member, and also was president of the local C.E.D and Rotary Club. He was a member of Knights of Columbus, the Elks, and Spring Lake Country Club. He was a director of Peoples Bank and Trust, and Ermanco Roll Form & Design. James enlisted as Battery Quartermaster of the 2nd Michigan Cavalry on September 2, 1861. He was promoted to first lieutenant and regimental quartermaster on August 1 the next year. James was mustered out on November 30, 1864. He was born about 1814 in New York. On January 4, 1898, James’s son William H. Scott “et al” applied for a minor’s Civil War pension in Illinois.

John Scott I [1849-1923]

Born in Buffalo, New York on October 4, 1849, John Scott settled in Grand Haven around 1879 as a ship’s carpenter and helped build many of the wooden ships for which Grand Haven was known. He sailed with his brother Isaac, who owned the lumber schooner Ellen Stevenson. His wife, Anna [Annie], was born in

706
Ohio on December 15, 1849 and passed away on September 19, 1905. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children, all born locally, were Robert, born in February 1872; Charles, born in May 1875; Edward, born in October 1877; Mabel A., born in April 1880; James, born in January 1883; and John II, born in September 1888. John I was a member of the Presbyterian Church and Modern Woodman Lodge. He died about January 17, 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, September 20, 1905.]

Leonard Scott [1894-1918]

The son of Isaac and Jean Wareham Scott, Leonard spent most of his life in Grand Haven. He died of pneumonia in 1918, when he was serving during WWI with Company F, 310th Engineers, 85th Division. Leonard was born in May 1894.

Myron Scott I [1845-1894]

Born in West Dresden, New York on March 3, 1845, Myron Scott worked aboard small steamers in the east when still young. On May 1, 1861 he enlisted as private in Company H of the 33rd New York Infantry. A report that he was captured and held in Libby Prison in Richmond, Virginia for some time was not verified by his service record. Myron was mustered out on June 2, 1863, the same year he came to Grand Haven, and was employed by White, Friant & Tempest. Myron sailed on every Great Lake and was appointed Steamboat inspector of boilers and Hulls for Ottawa County. Myron was a member of Grand Haven Lodge #139, Masons, and Knights Templar, and he was a charter member of several marine engineers’ lodges. On December 16, 1867 in Grand Haven, Myron married Mary E. Sullivan. Mary, a native of New York, was born in 1849. She managed the Milwaukee House in Grand Haven in the early 1870s. Her sister Margaret married Ed Killean of Grand Haven. Augustus Eugene Scott, born on September 2, 1868, was their first-born child. [Birth records cite Eugene as the son of Hiram and Maria Scott, but no other record was found of Hiram in the Grand Haven area.] A. Arthur, born about 1871, was their second, and Myron Kingsbury Scott II, born on August 13, 1882, was their third. Myron passed away on June 15, 1894. Mary applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on the following July 16. She died on September 24, 1918 at the home of her son, Arthur, in the State of Washington. Both Myron and Mary were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 16, 1894.]

Myron Kingsbury “Scotty” Scott II [1882-1943]

Born in Grand Haven on August 13, 1882, Myron “Scotty” was the son of Myron and Mary Sullivan Scott. He graduated from Grand Haven High School. In 1900, after two years at the University of Michigan, he started his journalism career, working first for the Milwaukee Journal. He then returned to Grand Haven in 1912 to become editor of the Grand Haven Tribune. In 1915 he and Horace Nichols became part-owners and co-publishers of the newspaper. Scotty sold his interest in 1929 but continued with the Tribune as editor-in-chief until he joined the staff of the Detroit Free Press in 1932. He left the Press four years later. In June 1929, the magazine Argosy printed Scotty’s novel, Paradise Island. It was a story of “intrigue and action among the islands of northern Lake Michigan.” [Tribune, June 21, 1929].

During his newspaper career, Scotty became widely known in national publications throughout the U.S. as a writer of lake and sea stories. Being from a sea-faring family, he urged the establishment of a Harbor Commission and through his writings Scott constantly drew attention to the harbor that he thought was Grand Haven’s greatest asset. After leaving Grand Haven, he became Public Relations Officer of the State Liquor Control Commission, had a position with the State Labor Mediation Board and was Press secretary for Michigan Governor Luren Dickinson and also served the Michigan Press Association in 1942. He was head of the press section for the Office of Civil Defense.

On September 25, 1907 in Grand Haven Kingsbury married Jessie Elizabeth Olsen, who was born in Michigan on August 13, 1881. Jessie’s parents were Jens A. and May [Mary] Consins Olsen. The Scotts’ children included Eugenia, who was born about 1909 and married Carl Christianson, and Myron Kingsbury Scott III, who was born on April 5, 1913 and passed away in Laingsburg, Shiawassee County in August 1978. In Grand Haven the Scott home was located at 426 Franklin and later at 533 Pennoyer Avenue. By 1930 they had moved to 803 Lake Avenue. Scotty died in Lansing on April 27, 1943 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Jessie passed away around June 12, 1971 and was buried with her husband and other members of the Scott family.

Robert Hiram Scott [1885-1977]

Robert Hiram Scott worked on the Grand River for several years with the U. S. Corps of Engineers for $50 a month. The crew of six put in temporary wing dams to divert the river, wherever a shoal was located. Wing dams were interwoven tree limbs and sticks that the men made as a temporary measure. It took three weeks to survey the Grand from Grand Haven to Grand Rapids. The men camped on the river, were billeted on a scow, and had a cook. There were regular steamship runs on the Grand, between Grand Haven and Grand Rapids. The small vessels would stop at the landings along the way to pick up fruit, vegetables, and passengers. It took a full day for the run of the Barrett [a steam-powered side wheeler], the Grand, the Rapids and the Mae Graham. A river boat would make the return trip the following day.

Bob on June 25, 1919 in Allendale married Hazel, the daughter of Charles and Cecilia Ralya. They remained lifetime residents of the area. Bob, who was born on October 5, 1885, passed away in Grand Haven on September 20, 1977. Hazel was born on May 9, 1891 and died on September 19, 1965 in Robinson Township. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article “Focus on People,” October 1, 1975.]

Sid Scott I [1866-1931]

Sid Scott owned a farm next to his parents, Horace and Artemissa M. Scott, in Section 22 of Crockery Township. Sid was born in Crockery in February 1866. He married Minnie Westover in Crockery Township on December 26, 1894. They had two sons, Harold, born in February 1896, and Sid II, born in April 1898. Sid I died in August 1931 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. Minnie, was born in Nunica in November 1866, passed away in 1938, and was buried with her husband.

Thomas J. Scott [1833-1903]

Born on June 23, 1833 in New York State, where he spent most of his boyhood, Thomas Scott sailed on steamships early in his life and became an engineer and machinist. He sailed the lakes for thirty years and made over 3,000 crossings on Lake Michigan. He was selected to place all the machinery on the Detroit and became her chief engineer. He was a proud crew member of the “Black Boats.” He served eight years as Boiler Inspector for the Grand Haven District. He served for two years after retiring as clerk in the Inspector’s office. Thomas was a member and trustee of the First Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven for many years. On June 3, 1878 he married Mary Ann Nial Finley, who was born in Canada [Ireland] in August 1848. In the Federal Census of 1880 Frances Finley and Ella Belle Finley were residing with the Scotts at 227 Elliott Street. Frances and Ella were listed as daughters-in-law, but the census taker probably meant stepdaughters, since they were 5 and 10 years old, respectively. Their father, William Finley, was born in Ireland about 1840 and died in Buffalo on July 22, 1876. Also living in the Scott home in 1880 were Thomas’s and Mary’s three sons: Charles, 15; James, 12; and Edwin, 11 months. Ella, who was born in Buffalo, New York on February 13, 1869, married Charles Henry Lilley of Grand Haven. Frances was born in Buffalo on November 28, 1876. She married William Levi Phillips of Grand Haven. Thomas died on May 9, 1903 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Mary passed away on May 10, 1914 in Grand Rapids and was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, May 9, 1903.]

George W. Scranton II [1786-1859]

George, the son of George and Edee Baker Scranton, was one of the first settlers in the area later known as Eastmanville, arriving there in 1835. He gave the town its original name of Scranton. In 1836, George became the first physician at the short-lived Port Sheldon resort development. On July 11, 1838 he was appointed postmaster of Scranton. He was born on September 2, 1786 in Washington County, New York, died on November 9, 1859, and was buried at Marshall Cemetery in Kent County. His wife, Polly, who lived from August 24, 1794 to October 7, 1852, also was buried at Marshall. In 1855 Galen and Mason Eastman and their father, Timothy Eastman, who had arrived in 1836, platted the village and changed its name to Eastmanville.

Mandel, who was born in Russia on April 27, 1865, became president of the firm in 1911. Mandel and his family immigrated to the United States in 1903. His son, Jacob Rofel Sensibar, born in Russia on April 15, 1890, became president upon Mandel’s death. When Jacob died another son, Ezra, filled the position. Ezra, who was born in Indiana, lived from July 2, 1905 to August 16, 1988. Jacob married Beatrice Mersin [Musik] in Chicago on November 28, 1918. He died in Chicago on October 20, 1968. The Sensibar family resided primarily in Gary, Indiana, but Mandel died at a sanitarium in Battle Creek on August 12, 1931. His body was returned to Gary. According to his death certificate, Mandel was born on May 15, 1869. His wife, Hinda, died in Chicago on October 7, 1944. She was born about 1866 in Poland.

Job Smith Sessions [1812-1888]

Born in Onondaga County, New York in 1812, Job was the son of Amasa and Phoebe Robbins Smith Sessions. Job came with his brother Alonzo to Detroit in October 1833 and then walked along Indian paths to Ionia County. Being hard pressed for money, Alonzo went to Dayton, Ohio to teach while Job remained in Michigan to farm. In June two years later, the brothers were in Berlin [Marne], where Job cleared two farms and put them in working condition. Job held the post of treasurer of Berlin for several years, but eventually sold his property and moved to Spring Lake. Job was a farmer by trade, but also manufactured fruit packaging for the growers. His brother, Alonzo, was lieutenant governor of Michigan from 1876 to 1880. Another brother, Amasa, settled in Ionia County in 1836. Job married Phoebe Palmer on August 25, 1840, presumably in Onondaga County, New York. Their son, Frederick W., was born in Michigan around 1817, died on March 20, 1886. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Allyn Rodney Seymour [1819-1888]

Born in 1819 in Oswego County, New York, Allyn Seymour married Isabel Murray on March 8, 1852 in Oneida County, New York. Three years later the Seymours moved to Crockery, where Allyn started farming. Isabel, who was born on January 3, 1820, died on December 17, 1865. Allyn and Isabel had a son, Lester, born around 1864. Allyn then married Margaret Ginkerson in February 1869. She died two years later on June 19, and Allyn then married his third wife, Jane Mudge. Jane was born in New York around 1828. Allyn died on December 5, 1888 and was buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery with Isabel and other family members.

Thomas Seymour [@1828-?]

Born in England around 1828, Thomas Seymour joined George Sisson to form a sawmill business in Spring Lake in 1872. Two years later he sold his interest in the sawmill to Francis Lilley. In 1860 Thomas was listed as a resident of Georgetown Township, where he was an engineer. His wife at that time was Elbie, born in England about 1831. Their children were Lucy Ann, who was born in New York in 1859 and died on October 23, 1911 in Barry County; John A., born about 1854; Ellen [Elner], born about 1857; Lawrence, born about 1864, and Frederick, born about 1866. The four younger children were born locally. In 1870 Thomas was employed at a Spring Lake sawmill, where he lived with his second wife, Bridget. Bridget was born in Ireland around 1834. Living with them in Spring Lake were all of Thomas’s children except John. Bridget died in May 1873 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery under the name Mrs. Seymour. In the 1880 Federal Census Thomas was listed as a single man, living in Ferrysburg and still employed at a local sawmill. Ellen, Lawrence, and Frederick had moved to Paris, Portage County, Ohio and were living with Hattie Seymour, who was born about 1832 in New York.

Elmer Joseph Shabart [1909-2005] and Louise Stankiewicz Shabart [1912-2005]

Louise, born on May 10, 1912 in Illinois, was the daughter of Louis S. and Frances Stankiewicz. Louis was a Chicago realtor. Sometime around the mid-1920s the Stankiewicz family purchased an 80-acre farm in Section 22 of Grand Haven Township [11250 168th Avenue], but continued to reside in Chicago, while using the farm for vacations. Louise married Elmer Shabart, who was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin in 1909. Elmer became a general and thoracic surgeon. He was in the Philippine Islands at the start of WWII and participated in the infamous “Bataan Death March” in 1942. He then was sent to Manchuria as a prisoner of the Japanese until the war’s end in 1945. In 1996 he wrote a book about his experience, titled Memoirs of a Barbed Wire Surgeon. In 1950 he published a paper showing a link between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. He was the first physician to establish the connection. Elmer and Louise had at least one child, Craig Richard Shabart, who was born in Chicago on October 17, 1946 and died in Placer, California on June 1, 1992. Louise passed away in Berkeley, California on January 22, 2005. Louise’s mother, Frances, resided on the farm after Lewis’s death, but later she moved to Berkeley, California to be with her daughter and son-in-law. Frances died there in October 1982. She was born in Poland on November 28, 1888. Louis, also a native of Poland, lived from June 30, 1887 to June 1969. Elmer passed away on March 13, 2005.

Born in Paris, New York [Michigan] on September 25, 1865, Egbert was the son of Harvey H. and Laura Ann Miner Sheffield. Egbert married Emma J. Rossin of Allendale on October 24, 1885. She died on June 27, 1895, a few months short of her 30th birthday. She was buried at Allendale Township Cemetery. Egbert then married Nancy Cummings on September 21, 1896 in Grand Haven. Nancy was born on June 7, 1878, died November 27, 1942, and was buried at Allendale Township Cemetery. Egbert started the Sheffield Brothers Food Shop at 6 North Seventh Street in the 1920s. Later, the store was called Sheffield Brothers Fruit and Grocery Store [Sheffield Brothers Fruit & Vegetables], which was operated by Egbert Sheffield’s sons, Ralph, Orin, and Donald. The brothers moved their business to 415 Franklin before 1932. Ralph later owned Sheffield’s Cash Market in Spring Lake, and Donald, became a meat cutter and owned a butcher shop at 937 Robbins Road. In the early 1890s Egbert had a farm in Section 20 of Allendale Township. Later he and his brother ran a grocery store called the Food Shop at 416 Franklin Street in Grand Haven, which they sold to Martin Erickson in 1934. Egbert passed away in 1957 and also was buried at Allendale Township Cemetery.

Harvey H. Sheffield [1826-1899]
Harvey Sheffield, born in Ontario County, New York, lived from December 28, 1826 to January 30, 1899, when he died on his farm in Section 20 of Allendale Township. His wife, Laura Ann Miner, also was a native of New York State. Egbert Sheffield was their son. Harvey was buried at Allendale Township Cemetery.

Orin A. Sheffield [1905-1978]
Like his brothers Donald and Ralph, Orin Sheffield became a grocer. In the 1920s and early 1930s he was part owner of Sheffield Brothers Fruit and Grocery Store at 6 North Seventh and later at 416 Franklin. Later he worked for Henry Casemier’s grocery store. The son of Egbert and Nancy Cummings Sheffield, Orin was born in Allendale on May 5, 1905, passed away on July 23, 1978, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He married Katie Deephouse on May 4, 1929 in Grand Haven. She was born on May 28, 1900 and passed away in Grand Haven on December 16, 1988. She, too, was buried at Lake Forest. Orin and Katie resided at 312 Davis.

Ralph E. Sheffield [1900-1980]
Just after the end of WWII, Ralph Sheffield opened a meat store at 226 West Savidge in Spring Lake called Sheffield’s Cash Market. The son of Egbert and Nancy Cummings Sheffield, Ralph was born on July 21, 1900 and died in Grand Haven on January 25, 1980. He married Catherine [Katherine] F. Beekman in Grand Haven on May 6, 1922. Born in Grand Haven on May 28, 1900, she was the daughter of Reijer and Elsie Hoeksema Beekman. Around 1930 the Sheffields lived at 104 North Griffin in Grand Haven, but by the 1950s they were residing at 102 Ann Street in Spring Lake, which at the same time was the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Page. After Catherine’s death in Miami, Florida on February 19, 1963 [1964], Ralph moved to 107 South Park and then to 1230 Waverly in Grand Haven. Ralph and Catherine were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.
Horace L. Sheldon [1812-1894]

Horace Sheldon built his residence on Lot 171, near the southwest corner of Elliott and Second Streets, and in 1838 constructed a tannery across the street on Lot 174. His undertaking was considered the first manufacturing industry established in Grand Haven, since previous businesses had been in merchandising and lumbering. Clark Albee took over the tannery in 1854. [This may be the Horace Sheldon who owned a shoe store in Blissfield, Lenawee County, and from 1850 through at least 1880 resided there. This Horace was born in New York on October 23, 1812. On April 3, 1837 he married Mary Bailey, who was born in New York on October 23, 1819. They both died in Blissfield, he on July 23, 1894 and she on November 16, 1885. They were buried at Pleasant View Cemetery in Blissfield. Among their children was a daughter, Florence, born about 1858 in Michigan, who was living with them at the time of 1880 Federal Census.]

Willard Carpenter Sheldon I [1839-1917]

A manufacturer of corn planters, Willard Sheldon in 1871 discovered at a depth of 161 feet the magnetic mineral springs that gave Grand Haven the name “Saratoga of the West.” His two-story, palatial resort and hotel on the northwest corner of Washington and Third Streets attracted visitors for many years, offering them croquet, archery, lawn bowling, and other leisure activities, including bathing in the mineral water for its therapeutic value. Willard also built and lived in a large, lovely home with carriage house at 321 Washington. When the Challenge Corn Planter Company incorporated in 1882, Willard was named president. His son, Willard II, was the company’s bookkeeper in 1893. Sheldon Road was named in honor of this family’s contributions to Grand Haven.

Willard I was born in Essex, Middlesex County, Vermont, on June 1, 1839. On May 26, 1863, in Williston, Vermont, he married Mary Malvina Slayton. Born in Stowe, Vermont, on December 16, 1841, she was the daughter of Samuel Stowe and Malvina Carver Slayton and the sister of Nathaniel and Thomas Orlando Slayton, both of whom moved to Grand Haven. Willard and Malvina arrived in Grand Haven in 1864. The Sheldons’ son, Willard II, was born in Grand Haven on March 4, 1865 and died in San Diego, California on July 4, 1956. Other children were Frances Slayton, born on August 22, 1869; and Dwight Cutler, named for one of Grand Haven’s leading citizens, who was born May 9, 1873, married Dora D. Chase on June 14, 1893 in Smyrna, Ionia County, and opened a law office in Ionia. Dwight died on May 25, 1912. Dora was born about 1877 in Smyrna and died in Ionia County on November 6, 1926. Frances married Willard H. Edwards in Grand Haven on June 6, 1893. He was born about 1865. Malvina Sheldon died in Ionia County on November 22, 1912 and was buried with Dwight and Dora in that county at Highland Park Cemetery. Willard I passed away in Santa Ana, California, at the home of his son, Willard II, in May 1917. He was buried with Malvina and other family members. [Tribune obituary, May 19, 1917.]

Elva May Slayton [1860-1895]

Born in Stowe, Vermont, on September 21, 1860, Elva was the daughter of Reuben Decatur and Elizabeth Gale Slayton. Reuben was Nathaniel and Thomas Slaytons’ brother, both of whom moved to Grand Haven. Elva graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1880 and married Franklin V. Smith in Stowe on July 25 the next year. Their six children, Harry, Bessie, Dwight, John, Minnie, and Mildred, all were born in Stowe, where Elva died on October 23, 1895.

Nathaniel Volney Slayton [1838-1889]

Born in Stowe, Vermont on September 15, 1838, Nathaniel was the son of Samuel Stowe [1803-1881] Slayton and Millison Carver Randall [1802-1874] Slayton. In 1858 he visited Michigan, liked what he saw, and returned to settle in Grand Haven. He was employed as a clerk at Dwight Cutler’s store beginning January 28, 1862. With Willard Sheldon as partner, Nathaniel opened a dry goods store. Bad health forced him to close that business. In September 1873, he opened a grocery store in the Cutler House block. Nathaniel was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. In 1877 he was elected on the Republican ticket as City treasurer. Slayton Street was named for this early Grand Haven settler.

Nathaniel married Martha “Mattie” Florence, the daughter of George and Sarah Batchellor Shippey, on December 17, 1874 in Grand Haven. She was born in New York on July 3, 1851 and died in Grand Haven on July 12, 1928. The Slaytons had one child, Florence, who was born in Grand Haven on February 10, 1877. Martha, who married a man by the name of Berger some years after Nathaniel’s death, died in Grand Haven on August 14, 1930. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Nathaniel’s sister Mary Malvina Slayton married Willard Sheldon of Grand Haven. Caroline Fidelia Slayton, another of Nathaniel’s sisters, married Vermont native Ebenezer Winslow Barnes, onetime postmaster of Grand Haven. A third sister, Frances Eliza Slayton, who lived from October 12, 1831 to March 2, 1892, came to this area as well, and married Dwight Cutler. Another brother, Osman Ogilvie Slayton, was born on September 18, 1829, moved to Grand Haven, and died on September 20, 1900. After the death of Nathaniel’s brother Thomas in Vermont, his widow, Susan Harris, joined the Slayton family in Grand Haven. Finally, to round out the Slayton family’s Grand Haven contingent, Nathaniel’s mother, Millison, came here to be with her sons and daughters. Nathaniel died June 29, 1889, and was buried with Florence, Frances, Osman, and Millison at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Slayton home at 314 Washington, then occupied by his widow, was destroyed in the fire of 1889, a few months after Nathaniel died. Apparently his widow then moved to 410 Howard, where she remained until about 1916. [Tribune obituaries March 2 and 4, 1892, and September 28, 1900.]

He enjoyed organizing neighborhood football and baseball teams, and he snuck through the coal bin window of the Armory to watch the basketball games. Finally he was hired to take tickets and do odd jobs. He played prep sports as a fifteen-year-old freshman with basketball coach Gus V. Cohrs. Steve was captain of the 1927 championship team as a senior. He attended Michigan State College [MSU], graduated from the University of Illinois in 1933, and earned his master degree in 1938 from the University of Michigan. He began teaching at Hemlock High School in 1939 and went to Morencin in 1942. He then went into the service during WWII, served in combat, was wounded, and received the Purple Heart. Steve returned to Grand Haven in 1945 and spent twenty-eight years in the capacity of teacher, coach, and athletic director of Grand Haven High School. He was instrumental in developing the baseball field on Beechtree Street on the east side of Grand Haven, which the city named after him in 1961. Steve also served on the first Y.M.C.A. Board of Directors, organized in 1963.

Steve, a life member of Michigan High School Coaches Association, was named to that group’s Hall of Fame in 1963. He was commissioner of Officials for Lake Michigan Athletic Conference, honored with the Charles E. Forsythe award for outstanding service to the state high school interscholastic program by the Michigan High School Athletic Association in 1981, and named to the West Michigan Sports Hall of Fame. Steve retired from the school system in 1978 and died on May 6, 1995. Steve’s wife, Beatrice, lived from June 30, 1906 to April 6, 1991. [Tribune obituary, May 8, 1995.]

Agnes Little Smallman [1849-1912] and Joshua F. Smallman [1834-1893]

After Grand Haven’s destructive fire of 1889, the Sheldon’s Magnetic Mineral Springs resort was renamed The Norris Hotel. Although the structure was not damaged by the fire, the destruction of the Cutler House across the street made the downtown less attractive to resorters. Agnes Smallman was manager of The Norris Hotel and owned and in 1895 managed the newly opened Pines Resort in Spring Lake. On January 5, 1867 in Chicago, she married Joshua Smallman. A Civil War veteran and a boat captain, Joshua worked out of Grand Haven and helped as host at the Norris. They were settled in Grand Haven by 1870, although at the time of the 1880 Federal Census the Smallman family was living in Norton, near Muskegon, where they were boarders in the Julius Antisdale home. After Joshua’s death, Agnes applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on June 7, 1895. Born in New Brunswick, Canada in 1849, Agnes died on January 1, 1912 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Their daughter Harriette “Hattie” married Frank H. Irish in Grand Haven on April 5, 1864. Harriette was born in La Porte, Indiana in 1868. They also had a son, George, who was born in 1877, served with the U.S. Navy. [Tribune obituary, January 2, 1912.]

Joshua Smallman was born on Prince Edward Island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence on August 15, 1834 [1837]. He took to the ocean at age 15 and became one of the youngest captains on saltwater. As a member of the Navy during the Civil War, he commanded General Foster’s staff boat. Pension records show he also served with Company I of the 20th Connecticut Infantry. He applied for an invalid’s pension on December 5, 1863. After the war, he bought the Goodrich steamer Muskegon, and for many years was its captain. During the halcyon lumber day, when the Pomona House was in operation at Fruitport, the Muskegon made frequent excursions from there to Grand Haven. He married Agnes Little, and by 1870 they were residents of Grand Haven. In 1881 Joshua commanded the City of Milwaukee, the same year he had Robertson Ship Yards build the propeller-driven vessel George P. Savidge. Joshua was known as one of the safest captains on the lake, since not one man was killed or lost on his ships, and he always arrived in port on schedule. Joshua lived in Grand Haven for 25 years. He brought the tug T. D. Dole to Grand Haven from Erie, and he owned the schooner Gertrude. Joshua died on October 10 [12], 1893 of heart disease. He and Agnes were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Gerrit [George] Smant [Smank] [1861-1948]
Gerrit Smant’s 50-acre farm was in Section 8 of Crockery Township. He also raised livestock. Gerrit married Finigjie “Fannie” Teunis in Spring Lake on June 13, 1884, two years after they both had immigrated to the United States. Gerrit was born in The Netherlands on December 7, 1861, and Fannie was born in the same country in July 1862. They were still residing in Crockery in 1930. Their children, all born locally, were Jennie, born in January 1890; Elsie, born in June 1892; Henrietta, born in January 1896; and William, born in May 1898. Gerrit passed away in Grand Rapids on November 26, 1948 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Ralph Smant I [1865-1948]
Ralph was born on September 25, 1865 in The Netherlands, the son of Henry [Henrich] and Jennie Kirk Smant. On September 18, 1891 Ralph married Johanna Bowman [Bouman] in Crockery Township, where they owned a 52-acre farm in Section 8. In August 1892 the Smants had a daughter Jennie. Jennie married Homer Powers, who was born about 1888. On March 3, 1896 a son John was born to the Smants, and another son, Henry, was born on January 29, 1899 and died January 17, 1965. A daughter, Dora, was born in 1901 and married Arthur Bradley, also a native of Crockery Township, where he was born about 1897. On November 24, 1905, the Smants had two sons, Gerald J., who was born on November 25, 1904, married Connie Kamp [1913-2003], died in Spring Lake on October 24, 1985, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; and, Ralph II, who was born on September 9, 1907 and passed away in Florida on October 16, 1998. Ralph I died September 15, 1948 in Crockery. Johanna, who was born in The Netherlands on March 9, 1866 to John and Doro Schmidt Bowman, died on December 13, 1944.

Roger Lee Smant [1939-2019]
Roger, the son of Gerald and Connie Kamp Smant, was born in Grand Haven on December 25, 1939. He married Gail DeBoer in Spring Lake on September 7, 1963. Rog served 33 years as elementary school principal in Grand Haven Area Public Schools. When he graduated from Hope College in 1964, he was awarded the Egbert Winter Prize for the male most likely to succeed in the field of education. He was the first recipient of the Excellence in Service Award for his work as an administrator, given by the Grand Haven Public Schools. Rog served on numerous community boards, such as Young Life and Tri-Cities Ministerial Counseling, and he helped a a volunteer to build the first Imagination Station on the YMCA campus. He and Gail had two daughters: Jodie, who married Jeff Harkness and moved to Minneapolis, and Amy Smant, who remained in Grand Haven. Rog died on January 9, 2019. [Tribune obituary, January 11, 2019.]

Alexander Smith [1844-?]
Alexander Smith was born on November 5, 1844, in Scotland’s Orkney Islands. After learning the blacksmith’s trade early in life, he turned to navigation. At about the age of 21 Alexander moved to Canada and the next year to Chicago, where he began a lifetime career sailing the Great Lakes. Soon he was master of the schooner Ottawa, and then he took the helm of the Charles E. Wyman, one of the fastest sailing ships on the lakes. Later Alexander became master of the Mosher.
On December 13, 1875, in Chicago, Alexander married Jean Garrioch of Grand Haven. A few years later they moved to Grand Haven. In 1883, Jean returned to the Orkneys to bring back the six orphaned children of her deceased sister and brother-in-law, Mary and John Watters. John Watters had died at sea on March 17 1881 at the age of 44, and his wife succumbed to pneumonia the next year on May 11. The Smiths wrote that they were willing to take Margaret Anne Watters, then four years old and the youngest of the children, and perhaps one other. John Watters, 16 and the oldest of the children, replied that they did not want to be separated. Captain Smith put an addition on the house and sent for the whole family, a substantial increase in their childless household. The other children’s names were Janeabell, Mary Tait, William, and James Edward. The Smiths raised the children in Grand Haven until all of them were through with their schooling. John, the oldest, married Margaret C. Harper, and they had two daughters: Edith Margaret and May Isabella. Edith Margaret and Arthur E. Brown were married, and their two sons were named Richard Harper and Gordon. Richard Brown married Anne R. Brown, and one of their four daughters was Nancy, who married Robert Earnest and moved to Grand Haven, not knowing her ancestors had lived in the area a hundred years earlier.

In 1895 the Smiths returned to Chicago, and at about the same time Captain Smith retired from sailing and became a member of the tailoring firm of his nephew, John Harper. Alexander was a charter member of the Orkney and Shetland Society of Chicago and was a Mason. In August 1908, the Smiths moved back to the Orkneys, where Alexander died some years later near his birthplace.

Arnold Edward Smith [1898-1971]

In January 1950 Arnold Smith purchased Grand Haven Novelty and changed the company name to Wolverine Table. He ran the company until the plant burned down in 1955. Arnold, the son of William and Anna Kliintworth Smith, was born on July 11, 1898 and died in Spring Lake on April 13, 1971. As a youth, he and his brother Harold operated an ice cream parlor on the corner of Washington and First Streets, and he served in Company F of the 126th Infantry during WW I. Arnold married Grace Eleanore, the daughter of Oscar and Grace Schumann of Grayling, Crawford County. The Smiths had an adopted daughter, Grace Ann. The family resided at 17754 West Spring Lake Road, then at 18028 North Shore Estates Road. Grace, the mother, passed away in California in 2003.

Benjamin Smith [@1818- ?]

Benjamin Smith was an early settler in Crockery Township, where he purchased acreage in Section 36 on November 10, 1841 and built a steam-powered sawmill. He bought additional acreage in Tallmadge Township on the same date. In 1847 he set up another sawmill, this one in Ravenna in Muskegon County. On November 16, 1854 he and his wife, Sarah, deeded two acres of the Crockery Township parcel to the Board of Health of Crockery Township for a sum of $20. The two acres became the site of Ottawa Center Cemetery. Benjamin was born in Pine Plains, New York about 1818, and Sarah was born in Cayuga County, New York [Ohio] about 1822. On August 26, 1861 in Grand Rapids, Benjamin enlisted as private in Company C of the 2nd Michigan Cavalry. He was promoted to captain on October 2 that year and to Lt. colonel on September 13, 1863. He was mustered out on March 6, 1865. Benjamin and Sarah had at least one child, James W., who was born in 1848 in Ravenna, at that time part of Ottawa County. James died in Minneapolis, Minnesota on October 22, 1896.

Charles Washington Smith I [1870-1950]

Charles Washington Smith was born on January 16, 1870. Sometime before 1917 he married Elsie Kraii Kieft, who had been married to Henry Kieft. Elsie, born on October 6, 1884, was the daughter of John and Marta Anne Rienks Kraai. Elsie and Charles had three children, including Lemuel Clifford, who was born in Los Angeles on January 19, 1917 and died there six years later, and Charles W. II, who was born in the same city on July 21, 1921 and died in 1989. Charles I died in Los Angeles on January 9, 1950 and was buried at Odd Fellows Cemetery. Elsie died on November 6, 1960 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Ed Smith [? - ?]
Ed Smith started the Times newspaper in Coopersville in the spring of 1880. It lasted barely a month.

Edmon Smith [1830-1903]

Edmon [Edmund/Edward] “Ned” Smith was born into slavery in March 1830 [1826] in Lexington, Kentucky. During the Civil War he worked in various Union camps and was with General Grant during the siege of Vicksburg, Mississippi. He was brought to Grand Haven towards the end of the Civil War by Rev. William Ferry. In 1893 Ned was working as a laborer in Grand Haven. Edmon’s wife, Sarah, was born in Virginia in July 1840 [1838]. They were married about 1870 and had five children, all born locally: Bernice, who was born about 1873 and married Robert D. Wilson of Grand Rapids; Edward “Ned,” [“Ed”] who was born on October 7, 1874 and was blind; May C., born about 1875; Ida May who was born on April 7, 1878; married Miles Woods of Grand Rapids, and Frank, who was born on April 10, 1880, died by drowning on July 22, 1893 in Grand Haven, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Miles Woods, also Black, was born in Mississippi about 1875. The Smith family was classified as Mulatto in the 1880 and 1910 censuses and as Black in 1900. The family resided at 1115 Washington Street. Edmon died in Grand Haven on March 26, 1903 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Sarah passed away in Grand Rapids at the home of her daughter Bernice on December 24, 1923. She, too, was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune article, “Frank Smith Drowned,” July 22, 1893, and Tribune obituary, December 24, 1923.]

Edward “Ed” [“Ned”] Smith [1874-?]

Edward, the son of Edmon and Sarah Smith, was born in Grand Haven on October 7, 1874. His visual disability earned him the nickname Blind Ed. Edward became a Grand Haven newsboy or news dealer, as he was sometimes called. Reported to be “despondent and blue,” in 1908 he tried to commit suicide, not for the first time, by laying his body in front of an oncoming Pere Marquette train. Alerted to the situation by some of the blind boy’s friends, two deputy sheriffs hurried toward the Rosy Mound area and took Ed to the sheriff’s office. Ed promised to make no more attempts on his life, but, he added, the “next time he decided to do it, he would not tell anyone. . . .” Two years later the Tribune reported that Ed had lost two dollars between his home at 1115 Washington Street and Eighth Street. “The finder of the money would confer a great favor by returning to Ned as he can ill afford to lose the money,” the newspaper pled in his behalf. [Tribune, September 28, 1910.]

In 1920 Ed resided with his mother at the family home on Washington Street. Ed’s father died in 1903, and Sarah passed away 20 years later, apparently leaving Blind Ed with no place to live. Another Tribune item, appearing on August 21, 1923, reported that Ed was sleeping at the Pere Marquette Depot on Jackson Street when lightning struck between two and three in the morning. “Ed,” the paper said, “and an unknown ‘bo’ [hobo] were the two occupants. Both were startled by the lightning.” The two men were shaken, but neither was hurt. Ed at least once walked to Grand Rapids, probably to visit his widowed sister, Bernice Smith Wilson. He was living in her house by 1930 and was still living there in 1940. Ed continued to sell newspapers and magazines while living in Grand Rapids. [Tribune articles, “Wanted to Take His Own Life,” October 19, 1908, “Grand Haven Blind Man Makes Trip Afoot over Roads to Grand Rapids,” May 14, 1921, and “Lightning Bolt Strikes P.M. Station,” August 21, 1923.]

Born in Grand Haven on February 1, 1868, Edward was the son of John and Christina Smith. Edward started working at the age of 13 for the Grand Haven Lumber Company and stayed with that firm for six years. He became proprietor of a saloon at 9-13 Washington Street in Grand Haven, and agent for the Grand Rapids Brewing Company at the same address. He erected the two-story, brick building at that site about 1897. In early 1909 Edward opened an automobile showroom for the Reo at this site, and also offered gasoline, Brunswick tires, and car repairs. The business was called the Washington Garage with an address of 9-11 Washington. He sold the business in 1926 to Dan Riley and Ralph Van Toll. This address became the site of Carl Berg’s Pontiac showroom. Edward was president and major stockholder of the Gildner Hotel Corporation. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, the Knights of Pythias, Arbeiter Verein, and the Royal Arcanum. He purchased his sister Minnie Ewald’s farm near Ludington and raised livestock. On April 27, 1891 in Muskegon, he married Eva Yeager. Edward and Eva moved to the farm. Edward died on December 17, 1927 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Eva was born in Germany in March 1869, died in 1950, and was buried Lake Forest. Ed and William Smith were brothers.

George C. Smith [1917-1999]
George Smith and his partner John Miller I in 1946 started Miller-Smith Manufacturing Company at 601 West Savidge. George served as president of Spring Lake Village in 1954 and 1955. He lived at 17819 Oakwood Drive. George was born on September 12, 1917 and died in Spring Lake on February 20, 1999.

George N. [1807-1881] and Arvilla Powers Smith [1808-1895]
Old Wing Indian Mission was opened in Section 3, Fillmore Township, Allegan County in 1846 by Rev. George Smith, a Vermont native, who served as Christian missionary to the local Ottawa Indians. The mission was funded by the Presbyterian Church of Michigan through an Allegan-based Indian mission society. The building was added to the National Register of Historic Places in 1986. The oldest surviving house in the township, it is located at 4298 East 40th Avenue in Holland.

The main portion of the building was the residence of George N. Smith, a Congregational missionary to the Indians in this area and at Wakazoo’s Village on nearby Black Lake [Lake Macatawa]. Old Wing Mission was named for Joseph’s deceased older brother, Chief Ningweegon “Wing,” a Potawatomi who had converted to Catholicism and died on March 10, 1839. Ningweegon was an active supporter of the Americans during the War of 1812.

The mission house was built in 1844 and 1845 by Isaac Fairbanks, government agricultural agent to the Indians. Nearby were a church and a school and some Indian dwellings. The first Dutch settlers lodged here and in the Fairbank’s cabin on the knoll to the southeast. As the Dutch settlement grew, George and the Indians moved away and established a new village on the Leelanau Peninsula.

Arvilla Almira Powers was born on November 27, 1808 in St. Albans, Franklin County, Vermont. She and George were married in St. Albans on July 4, 1830. George, also a native of Vermont, was born on October 25, 1807. They had one son, George N. Smith II, who was born in Vermont in 1832 and died in 1897, and three daughters: Mary, born about 1836; Arvilla, born about 1838; and Esther, born about 1846, and several other children who did not survive infancy. The three daughters were born in Michigan.

In 1833 George and Arvilla left Vermont for the Michigan Territory. They settled in Gull Prairie, Kalamazoo County, where George did odd jobs, taught, distributed Bibles, and preached when he could. He was ordained Michigan’s first Congregational minister on April 7, 1837. In addition to ministering to inhabitants in the Gull Prairie area, George preached in Otsego, Plainwell, and Gun Plains. News of his hard work and strong faith spread throughout the west coast of Michigan. The Ottawa and Chippewa Indians carried the news of his work as they migrated north. At Middle Village [now Harbor Springs], two Ottawa chiefs, Chief Shinekosche and Chief Wakazoo [Waukazoo] conferred. They had been converted by the Jesuits but were dissatisfied with the Catholic faith. They headed south to visit the young minister.

When Chiefs Shinekosche and Wakazoo reached Allegan, they invited George to attend a meeting with local Indians. They impressed the pastor with their desire to learn about the Christian faith. George embraced the task of ministering to the Indians. He became their preacher, teacher, lawyer, friend, and physician, the latter made possible by a short course in medicine he had taken in Canada in 1829.

In January 1838, a group of Michigan Congregationalists and Presbyterians, both clerics and laymen, founded the Western Michigan Society to Benefit the Indians, an Allegan-based organization under the auspices of the American Home Missionary Society, to sponsor Smith as Indian missionary to instruct the Ottawas in Christianity, reading, writing, and arithmetic, farming, and American government. The Presbyterian Classis of Michigan agreed to provide minimal financial support until the federal government would hire Smith as teacher. In November the Society’s board appointed George to direct the mission, and within a month he began a school in Allegan for the children of Wakazoo’s band.

George moved his family near Allegan, where there was a small settlement of Indians and on December 28, 1838, preached his first sermon to them using an interpreter, James Pickett, a half-breed. George slowly learned the Indian language, but for the first several years he needed interpreters. He opened a school that occasionally attracted as few as two or three pupils, but on occasion as many as 30 scholars showed up, many of them older people who wanted to learn English. Arvilla taught at the school and also taught the girls and women to cook and sew.

By spring, the mission colony’s original population of 30 Indian families had turned into a village of 300. A larger site was needed. Eventually the Indians selected a location near the Black River about four miles east of the present-day city of Holland, and the colony moved there during the summer. The following winter was harsh. Provisions had to be brought from Allegan either by a forest trail or by a longer canoe trip. Bad weather made the trip impossible. George’s cabin had no doors or windows and cloth covered the window openings and a bed quilt hung over the door. The quilt kept out much cold, but they were apprehensive when wolves came prowling nearby. Eventually, the home was made as comfortable and secure as conditions of their situation allowed.

Friction developed between the local Indians and the Hollanders who arrived at Old Wing Mission on February 12, 1847 and settled close by. As the Whites impinged on the Indians’ land, George and the Indians decided it was would be to their advantage to move. The missionary and Chief Wakazoo found a site on Leelanau Peninsula in Leelanau County. The Indians’ migration began in early June 1849, the Whites taking the schooner Hiram Merrill, the Indians paddling their canoes along side, while the livestock, four cattle, three horses and three calves, was driven along the shoreline. The party arrived at its destination on June 12. A temporary shelter was made from logs and the earth floor was covered with hemlock boughs. The settlers called their new home Waukazooville, later changed to Northport. Here, the Smiths continued to raise their four children and opened a mission for the Indians. On July 1, George purchased 40 acres in Section 28 at the northern tip of Leelanau Peninsula.

At the time of the 1850 Federal Census, the Smith family were residents of Northport in Michilimackinac County, where George was a Congregational minister. Their children, George II, Mary, Arvilla, and Esther were with them. Ten years later they were still in Northport. Living in the house with George, Arvilla, Esther, and Arvilla, was John Leva, a 50-year old Indian born in Canada. [The census taker noted that daughter Arvilla was one-quarter Indian. No one else in the family had such a classification.] One of their neighbors was Payson Wolf, grandson of Joseph Wakazoo II. Payson joined Company K of the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters during the Civil War. At the time of the 1870 Federal Census, George was continuing his work as a Congregational minister. Daughters Esther and Arvilla remained at home. By 1880 George I was a farmer in Leelanau. Their four children were gone but living with the couple was a 15-year old grandson, Ulysses Voice. He was the son of the Smiths’ daughter Arvilla, who had married Joseph H. Voice.

George died in Northport on April 5, 1881. Arvilla, his wife, died in the same community on April 15, 1895.

George Washington Ashley Smith [1832-1906]

Born in Unity, New Hampshire in September 1832 to a family of 12 children, George Smith left home at an early age and crisscrossed the country doing various jobs from gold mining to lumbering. He settled near White Lake and established the Smith & Fields lumber business. George lived in Grand Haven after the lumber era ended and became involved in the real estate business. As secretary of the Board of Trade, which was formed in 1900, George was instrumental in bringing some of the more important industries to this area. His wife, Sarah Fields of Rome, New York, was born in September 1839. In Grand Haven the Smith family lived at 414 [416] Franklin Street. Their only daughter, Jennie M., who was born in Rome, New York in September 1864, died on March 10, 1923. She worked for the Grand Haven Tribune for 15 years as society editor, she was local correspondent for the Grand Rapids Press and for Detroit newspapers, and she was freelance writer, as well. George passed away on February 19, 1906 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Sarah died on September 23, 1922. [Tribune obituaries, March 1, 1906 and March 12, 1923.]

Henry “Harry” [Harry John] Smith [1823-1894]

Born in Denmark in 1823 on the island of Feron, Harry Smith had a desire to go to sea at an early age. When he was 13, he stowed away on an English ship bound for India. From then on he was aboard ships that carried slaves, traded palm oil along the African Coast, smuggled opium from China to India, and went into the innermost heart of Africa. In 1836, only 13 years old, he served as a marine in the Seminole War in Florida and aboard American merchant ships. Harry met his wife on a voyage from Le Havre to New York. After marriage he began to sail the Great Lakes and captained such ships as the Michigan Belle, Three Sisters, Storm, Spartan, Sea Gull, Gladiator, and Sebastopol, which he and Charles Pagelsen owned. After leaving the sea, he was lighthouse keeper in Grand Haven from 1875 to 1883, at a time when the beacon stood on the bluff overlooking the Oval. He also was bridge tender of the South Channel Bridge. On October 9, 1852 he married Lena Schippers, born in The Netherlands about 1824. Lena’s brothers, Henry and Kryn Schippers, immigrated to Grand Haven around 1856. Captain Smith died on January 27, 1894 and Lena passed away three years later. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Nellie and Chris, born about 1861, Jennie, born about 1864, and Margareta, born about 1870. In 1880 Chris was assistant Lighthouse keeper. The family resided on Third Street. [Tribune obituary, January 29, 1894.]

Hezekiah G. Smith [1816-1896]

It was Hezekiah Smith who laid the path to Spring Lake that many other African Americans followed. By one account he was born in Steubenville, Ohio in 1816 [1815], but another says he was born into slavery in Kentucky, then freed by his owner. In 1842 he married Lucinda [Luvonda] J. Sisco, the daughter of Ephraim [Ephram] Sisco. The couple settled in Spring Lake Township in 1847. Hezekiah worked two years for Jabez Barber at Barber’s sawmill in Spring Lake. He was included in the 1850 census for Spring Lake, and Dr. Mary Kitchel notes in her book that he had a blacksmith shop in Grand Haven in 1852 [Spring Lake Community Centennial, 1969, p. 116]. About that time he may have left the area with his wife and children, possibly under duress, but if so, he quickly returned. On August 1, 1853 he purchased 40 acres in Section 10 of Spring Lake Township. On the same day, his friend, William Penn, also bought land in Section 10. Hezekiah continued to buy or homestead substantial acreage in Section 10 of Spring Lake Township: 80 acres in 1853, 40 acres in 1854, and 120 acres in 1856, finally owning more than 240 acres bordering a body of water that still is known as Smith’s Bayou. He raised fruit for commercial and retail sale, especially apples and peaches, as well as truck crops for his own use. In the 1864 Map of the Counties of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties, he was listed as a horticulturist. By 1876 his holdings were reduced to 100 acres, still in Section 10. Hezekiah was one of several local representatives to an Equal Rights convention that met in Grand Rapids in 1894.

In the 1850 census as residents of Spring Lake Township, Hezekiah was listed as a blacksmith. Living with him and Lucinda at that time were Charles H. Smith, born about 1829 in Canada; William H. Smith, born about 1838 in Canada; and John W. Smith, born about 1843 in New York. The relationship, if any, among the Smiths was not revealed in the census, and Charles, William, and John do not again appear in Ottawa County records. There were nearly three dozen other Black families living nearby, including Jordan and Victoria [Victoire] Turpin [Turpen/Turpan]. Five years after the census Jordan was convicted of murder.

Hezekiah and Lucinda also were enumerated in the censuses of 1860, 1870, and 1880 as residents of Section 10. In the 1850 census, Hezekiah was listed as H.G. Smith, in the 1860 census his name was given as Hendrick Smith, and ten years later it was recorded as Richard Smith. The Smiths had at least two children: Jane [Louise], born about 1857 in Virginia [Michigan], and Annabel [Anabel/Anna], who was born in Ohio around 1863 [1865]. In the 1880 census Annabel was listed as adopted. Lucinda died on March 6, 1884 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. On her Ottawa County death certificate, Lucinda’s age was given as 50 years and one month, making her birth date February 1834, but her record at Spring Lake Cemetery cites that she was born in Cleveland, Ohio in 1825. The earlier year seems more likely, or she would have been only eight at the time of her marriage to Hezekiah. As with Hezekiah, her birth state was cited as Virginia in the 1870 census. It is best to say her place and date of birth are uncertain. On September 10, 1884, about six months after Lucinda’s death, Hezekiah married Helen Bennett Hicks in Grand Haven. Helen’s first husband, Albert Hicks, had died in 1882. Helen passed away on December 1, 1921 but was buried as Mrs. Helen Hicks with other members of the Hicks family. Apparently Hezekiah and Helen were divorced, because on July 28, 1894 Hezekiah obtained a license to marry 20-year old Sarah Henderson. The young woman had second thoughts and the wedding never took place. On September 8, 1894 in Ferrysburg he married Sarah Henderson Miller, young Sarah’s mother. Sarah the mother was born in 1825 in New York. On December 19, 1895 the Tribune reported Hezekiah was very ill. He died on January 7, 1896. After his death, Hezekiah’s widow and her daughter Sarah moved to Grand Rapids. Hezekiah’s place of burial is unknown. [Tribune, September 23, 1894, and Tribune article, “Wouldn’t Leave Until Scared Out,” February 15, 1915.]

Jeremiah [Jaramiah] Smith I [1839-1873]

Jeremiah Smith, born in 1839 in Scotland, had the distinction of being the first recorded burial in the newly opened Lake Forest Cemetery. He was a sailor who lost his life on September 15, 1873 when the steamer Ironsides sank in Lake Michigan, just off Highland Park. A Grand Haven cigar maker, Jeremiah was returning from Milwaukee on a business trip. Sometime before 1864 he married Ellen Leonard, who was born in 1842 in England and died of cancer on June 6, 1886 in Ottawa County. They had six children: Susan, who was born December 15, 1864 in Oswego, New York, married James Richard Connell, the son of Richard and Margaret Gibbs Connell, and died in Milwaukee on August 15, 1902; Robert, born in 1866 in Illinois; John, born in 1868 in Wisconsin; Walter, born in 1870 in Michigan; William, born in Michigan on November 12, 1871 and died the next day; and Jeremiah II, who was born in Michigan in 1873.

John Smith [Schmidt] [1822-1904]

John Smith was born in Rostock, Germany in 1822. In his native land, he married Christina [Christena] Otto, who was born in Mecklenburg, Germany on April 18, 1823 [1824]. The couple came to the United States and settled in Grand Haven in 1857. Traveling with them were two daughters, Wilhelmina “Minnie” Elsie C. A., who was born in Mecklenburg on June 24, 1848, and Sophia [Sophie], who was born in Mecklenburg in August 1855 [1856]. On December 1, 1868 Minnie married Gottlieb Heinrick F. Ewald and moved to Ludington [see Wilhelmina “Minnie” Smith Ewald, 1848-1925]. Sophie married Horrace G. Nichols of Grand Haven. A son William was born on February 1, 1863, and five years later Edward C. was born. Christina passed away on April 22, 1892 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. John died about July 20, 1904.

John H. Smith [1849-1896]

Captain John Smith was for years a well-known marine man in the Grand Haven area. He lived from 1849 to September 26, 1896. His wife, Bridget, was born around 1856 in Grand Haven and died on June 3, 1921. Their children included James, David R. of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Charles Mosher of Detroit. The family resided at 832 Fulton Avenue. John was first mate on the steamer City of Milwaukee and a close friend of Captain Joshua Smallman. He also sailed on other Goodrich Steamers from the port of Grand Haven. He was a member of Highland Tent, Maccabees, and Free Masons. Captain Smith died on September 26, 1896 in Milwaukee. [Tribune obituary, June 4, 1921.]

Le Moyne [Lemoyne] Seth Smith [1808-1894]
Born in Tompkins County, New York, on February 8, 1808, Le Moyne Smith arrived in Ionia County as a Presbyterian minister in 1837 and reportedly came to Ottawa County ten years later. However, he married Bridget Ann Hopkins in Ottawa County on November 18, 1838. Bridget, born in New York in 1818, was the daughter of Benjamin and Catherine Lowe Hopkins. On April 2, 1849 Le Moyne was elected Moderator and treasurer at the first meeting of electors for the organization of Mill Point, where he had lived for two years while running the Mill Point Cheap Cash Store on the northeast corner of Park and Barber Streets. He was first postmaster of Spring Lake, from May 1, 1851 until his resignation in 1857, at a salary of $75 per year. Le Moyne planted a small orchard of apple and peach trees in Spring Lake in 1852. He helped in the formation of the Presbyterian Society of Mill Point in 1853. On December 1, 1855 he bought 36.64 acres in Section 18 of Crockery Township. The next year he was on a committee of the Ottawa County Agriculture Society.

Evidently something happened to Bridget, because in 1859 Le Moyne married Phebe L. Parmelee of Lyons, Ionia County [Kitchel, page 120], where Le Moyne was known to have preached. Phebe was a native of New York, where she was born around 1821. Le Moyne and his new wife settled in Grand Haven in 1862, and the next year he became publisher and editor of the Grand Haven Union. Healy C. Akeley was a silent partner until Le Moyne bought out his share. Republican in its leanings, the paper was sold to Nathan Church in June 1872, who ran it as an organ of the Democratic Party until after the 1872 election, when it ceased publication. Le Moyne was appointed by President Hayes to be postmaster in Grand Haven, a position he held from 1881 to 1885. For a period of time, Le Moyne was also assistant Revenue Assessor. He lived on the corner of Fourth and Washington. A great lover of nature, he wrote a number of poems for many occasions and conducted Sunday School at his home. Le Moyne died on January 23, 1894 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 23, 1894.]

Lora Avery Smith [@1853- ?]

Born in New York about 1853, Lora Smith began teaching at Grand Haven High School in 1877 and became principal two years later, a position she held into the early 1900s. In the 1880 census she was listed under the name Laura Smith as a single woman and teacher residing with Healy C. Akeley and his family. In 1911 she started a fund to finance the purchase of a set of Shakespeare’s works as an award to be given to the winner of a “declamation” contest at Grand Haven High School.

Peter Smith [1835- ?]

Born in 1835 in Holstein, Germany, near Denmark, Peter Smith came to this country in 1854, settling first in New Orleans, where he was a steamboat pilot. In 1873 he arrived in Grand Haven Township to raise fruit. He married Anna Katie Ahrens in 1855. Anna, also from Holstein, Germany, was born in 1832. They had one daughter, Ida Emma, born in 1865. Anna tended to the fruit farm while Peter continued to work as a river pilot out of New Orleans. In 1882 their fruit farm was for sale.

Raymond L. Smith [1907-1983]

Raymond Smith was judge for the 20th Judicial Court of Ottawa and Allegan Counties for twenty-five years, at that time the longest tenure in the history of the district. Born in Holland on January 27, 1907 and schooled in Holland, Raymond received his law degree from Harvard in 1931 and returned to Holland to enter into a law partnership with Nelson A. Miles. Judge Smith replaced four Justices of the Peace when he was appointed Holland’s first municipal judge in 1940 and held that appointment for eight years. He died on January 25, 1983 in Blue Lake, Kalkaska County.

Robert A. Smith [@1872-1949]

Born in Illinois around 1872, Robert Smith by 1920 owned and operated a grocery store at 1320 Washington. He resided at 1314 Washington with his wife, Laura, who was born in Michigan around 1873. Their children were Robert J., who was born on February 14, 1911 and passed away in Grand Haven on November 3, 1990, and Isabel M., born about 1914. By 1932 the family lived at 1221 Washington. Robert died about January 26, 1949 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Laura passed away around August 17, 1954 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Theodore D. Smith [1853-1927]
Theodore Smith had a painting business in Spring Lake, under the name T. D. Smith. In the 1893 Compendium, he advertised “House and Carriage Painting, Paper Hanging, Decorating, Etc.” Theodore, the son of William and Myrty Norton Smith, was born in New York in July 1853. His first wife, Louisa, was born in the same state about 1857. They had two daughters, Maud, born about 1878, and Ada, born about 1879. In 1891 he married Jenny [Jane] Marsh, who was born in Canada in 1858, passed away in 1939, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. By 1920 Theodore and Jenny were residing with their daughter Mildred in Muskegon. Theodore died in Muskegon in 1927.

Thomas G. Smith [1856-1923]
Born in Albion, Illinois on July 3, 1856, Thomas Smith attended the Wabash and McCormick Theological Seminaries. He became an ordained minister in Cairo, Illinois. He was pastor of the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church from 1915 to 1921 and passed away on May 26, 1923 in Mt. Plier, Ohio.

William “Colonel” Smith [1863-1924]
In William Smith’s youth he worked at the Emlaw Sawmill in the Grand Haven area. He was a member of Company F, which mustered at the Grand Haven Armory on Second Street. On March 15, 1893, William Smith married Catherine, the daughter of Menke and Henrietta [Henretta] Van Zanten Dykhouse [Dykhuis]. Catherine died the following January 10 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. A daughter, Grace Kathryn Christine, had been born December 25, 1893. Grace married George Rosso of Grand Haven. After his first wife’s death, William married Anna Klintworth, who was born in Michigan in March 1871. Anna was the daughter of Barthold and Anna Dammann Klintworth, who had emigrated from Germany and settled on a farm in Section 29 of Crockery Township. Anna and William resided at 529 Columbus and later at 603 Franklin. Arnold Edward. Smith, born on July 11, 1898, was their son, as was Harold Heinrick, who was born in September 1896 and later resided in Muskegon, where he owned a Schlitz Beer Distributorship. The son of John and Christina Otto Smith, immigrants from Germany, William was born in Grand Haven on March 7, 1863 and died in his hometown on December 4, 1924. He was a teamster and a fire fighter. Ed and William Smith were brothers.

William M. Smith II [1796-1877]
The son of William and Cordelia Smith, young William was born in Connecticut on December 25, 1796. His wife’s name was Hannah. Among their children were Doncarlius, Sarah Ann, Hannah Emilene, Mary Olivia, and Harriet Corning. The family lived in Onondaga County, New York. Hannah died in 1835, and the next year, in Oswego County, New York, William married Myrty [Myrta] Norton, who was born in 1814 in that state. In 1855 William and his second family moved to Spring Lake, where they were active in the Presbyterian Church. Their children, all born in New York, were Nathan, who was born about 1837 and in 1870 offered house painting services in Spring Lake; Frances, born about 1840; Helen “Nellie,” born in 1843; James, who was born about 1847 and was a painter; Theodore, who was born about 1854 and also had a painting business; Clarence, who was born about 1855 and joined his brothers in the painting business; Martha; and Gerrit. Nathan’s wife, Celestia, was born in New York about 1841; they had a son, Vernon, born in Michigan around 1867 and by 1880 had moved to Shiawassee County. Nellie married William Fernando Robbins in Spring Lake on November 3, 1869. Fernando, who was born in Maine around 1840, managed a Spring Lake hotel. Frances married George Wilmot, who owned a harness shop in Spring Lake. In 1870 William was listed as a gardener. He died on October 26, 1877 in Spring Lake. Myrty died in 1892.

John Smoes [1905-1990]
John Smoes of Coopersville was born on November 6 [5], 1905 and died on April 2, 1990. In 1930 he was a laborer in Polkton Township. John married Ruth, the daughter of Art and Alice Vander Meiden Kammeraad of Grand Haven. Ruth, a practical nurse, married John in the parlor of her family’s residence near Lake Forest Cemetery. She was born on March 3, 1916 and died in July 1969, in Coopersville. Their children were Paul Ernest Smoes, born on July 22, 1935; Glenn Arthur Smoes, born on January 9, 1940; and Leon Smoes, who was born on September 17, 1944, married Sharon Lenz on December 4, 1965 in Wayland, and died in Grand Rapids on August 31, 1995. [Tribune obituary, September 2, 1995.]

Harriet Snay [@1822-1872]

Harriet, the daughter of one of the lesser chiefs of the Ottawa Indians, was born about 1822. She married Febian “February” Snay [Senet] who traveled with Louis Campau and his family from Detroit to West Michigan in 1830. The two were employed by the Hudson Bay Company. They established a fur trading post in the area later known as Grand Rapids. February was born in L’Anse Creuse, Macomb County, on February 23, 1810. He is on record as serving as private in Joseph Marsac’s Company between May 22 and May 28, 1832, during the Black Hawk War.

February left the Hudson Bay Company and by the time of the 1850 census was living in Spring Lake Township, where he built a home for his family. Only Harriet was noted as being “Red” [Indian]. [Contrary to the Federal Census of 1850, their son Joseph Snay’s obituary stated that the family moved to Pigeon Creek about 1848 and remained there eleven years.] February and Harriet had at least eight children, all born in Michigan: Mary, born about 1838; Cicilia, born about 1840; Magdalena/Magdalena/Madeline, born about 1842; Magaretta/Margareth/Margaret, who was born on January 1, 1849 [1843] in Grand Haven and married Joseph Shashauguay; Joseph, who was born in on October 12 [22], 1844 and died in 1925; another daughter named Mary, who was born on November 28, 1848 and married John Paul Shashauguay; Therdia/Theresia/Theresa, born about 1850; and John, born in November 1854. Therdia and John were born in Spring Lake. On September 8, 1860 in Grand Haven, Magdalena married Louis [Lewis] Phillip Dushane of Grand Haven Township. The son of Charles and Cornelia Dushane, he was born about 1840. In 1850 the Snays were neighbors of the Robert Darby family, and ten years later they were neighbors to Jean Baptiste Parrisien in Grand Haven.

February was counted again as a resident of Ottawa Township in the Federal Census of 1860. He was recorded as being 48 years old. With him were Harriet, 35; Mary, 22; Madelaide, 16; Margaret, 14; Joseph 12; John, 8; Sarah, 10; and Eliza, 6. Paul Chestowa, a 26-year old Indian, was living with them. February was a farmer.

Three of the Snays’ children, Joseph, Theresa, and John, were included in the 1908 Durant Roll, with “Mrs. Soot Snay” [Harriet] listed as their ancestor. Mrs. Snay appeared in the 1870 Census and Annuity Roll as a member of Chief Penayse’s Band of Ottawa Indians. She received $61.20. Soot may have been another name for February. In the Roll, February’s daughter Theresa was listed as a single woman, 59 years old and residing in Grand Rapids. “Mrs. Sol Snay,” still referring to Harriet, was in the 1868 Census of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians, as a member of Chief Penaye’s Band; and received $63.40. In the 1865 Annuity Roll, the entry “Mrs. Sot. Snay’s Chn. [children] appeared; they received an annuity in the amount of $19.60. In 1864, a similar listing for her children showed an award of $13.68; they at that time were members of Chief Payshawsegay’s Band.

Harriet died of diphtheria on November 12, 1872 in Saugatuck and was buried at Douglas Cemetery in Douglas, Allegan County. February died on April 14, 1876 and was buried with his wife.

A descendant of the Snay family offered this information: “Febian Snay was my 2nd great grandfather. He was born in 1812 in what was then the territory of Michigan. He was alleged to have assisted one of the founding father’s [sic] of Grand Rapids, MI set up an Indian fur trading post on the banks of the Grand River in 1826. . . . He later married a Native American and fished the waters in and around Lake Michigan. His sons also lived off fishing and navigating western Michigan waterways. My great grandfather, Joseph Fabian Snay, also served in the Civil War.

“The above facts I have verified. Family folklore asserts that the Snay’s [sic], some of French Canadian heritage, also helped Jesuit missionary Father Marquette explore the upper Midwest in the late seventeenth century. This link has not been verified. Shannon Richards Date February 12, 1999.” [findagrave.com]

John Snay [Snai] [1848-1942]

John Snay, the son of February [Febian] and Harriet Snay, was born at Little Pigeon Creek, south of Grand Haven, on October 28, 1848 [November 1854], the seventh of their eight children. He left the Grand Haven area at age 12 to go on his own as a fisherman in northern Michigan. Three years later he returned to his hometown and found work as a ship’s carpenter. Eventually he earned the title of captain. In 1903 he commanded the steamer Ottawa, and in 1917 he was commander of the tug Ida M. Stevens, which went ashore halfway between Grand Haven and Muskegon, and the tug Trio. He also piloted the May Graham. By 1920 he was working as a carpenter.

John married Mary Haller in Macomb County on September 21, 1880. She was born in Allegan County on March 20, 1859. Mary also was known as Mary Jane Marks. Their daughter, Jennie [Mary Jane], was born in Saugatuck on January 7, 1878. The three of them resided at 211 Madison and later at 321 Second Street in Grand Haven. John, who was part Ottawa through his mother, was listed in the 1893 Business Compendium as a Grand Haven resident, but he was not included in the 1908 City Directory. John, Jennie, and another daughter, Fannie, were included in the August 5, 1895 Census of Potawatomis of Indiana and Michigan as residents of Grand Haven. John’s age was given as 48, Jennie’s as 24, and Fanny’s as 21. Jennie graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1898, under the name Mary Jane Snay. In 1900 John, Mary, and Jennie lived at 165 Columbus Street and were classified as White. John’s name also appeared in the 1904 Taggart Roll of Potawatomi Indians in Michigan. Listed with him were his daughter Jennie, age 24, and Fannie, age 21.

John and Jennie were listed in the 1908 Durant Roll as members of the Grand River Bands of Ottawa Indians. His ancestor was “Mrs. Soot Snay,” who was included in the 1870 Census and Annuity Roll as the recipient of $61.20. She was a member of Chief Penayse’s Band of Ottawas. Jennie married John Washburn and died in Detroit on February 4, 1940. She was buried at Forest Lawn Cemetery in that city.

In 1920 the Snays resided at 211 Madison Street; again, John and Mary were listed as White. Mary died while visiting her daughter in Grand Rapids on October 1, 1924. John moved to Grand Rapids shortly after his wife’s death, passed away there on September 28, 1942, and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon with Mary. [Tribune articles, “The First Citizen,” August 17, 1910, and “Modern Youth Weak, Flabby, Oldest Grand Haven Man Says,” undated, but about 1933, and Tribune obituaries, October 2, 1924 and September 29, 1942.]

Joseph Febian Snay I [1844-1925]

The son of Febian and Harriet Snay, Joseph was born at Campau’s trading post in Grand Rapids on October 12, 1844. About 1848 the family moved to Pigeon Creek in Ottawa County and remained there for eleven years. [See also Harriet Snay.] Joseph started sailing when he was 15 years old and remained a sailor the rest of his life. His obituary gave him the title captain. He also served in the Army during the Civil War. [This Joseph Snay may be confused with another Joseph Snay, who at the age of 24 on September 24, 1861 enlisted in Grand Rapids in Company C of the 1st Michigan Engineers and was mustered out on August 4, 1863; he resided in Blendon Township and his wife’s name was Abigail.]

On November 3, 1885 Joseph married Mary Ann Spoors in Grand Haven. [Their marriage also was listed as taking place on October 25, 1894 in Grand Haven.] Mary Ann, the daughter of John and Ellen Kibby [Kibbs] Spoors, was born in Grand Haven on June 4, 1864. John Spoors was born in Canada and Ellen in Ireland. Shortly after their 1885 marriage Joseph and Mary Ann moved to Saugatuck, where they remained for the rest of their lives. One child, Maynard J., was born in Saugatuck on September 17 [27], 1907, died in Grand Rapids on March 21, 1971, and was buried at Washington Park Memorial Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Their other children were Laura, born about 1889; Joseph II, who was born in 1893, served as corporal in the Army during WWI, died on April 8, 1937, and was buried at Riverside Cemetery in Saugatuck; Minnie, born on November 2, 1895; George, born about 1899; John, born about 1905; and Robert E., who was born on October 29, 1910, died on June 11, 1951, and was buried at Riverside Cemetery.

Joseph I, Laura, Joseph II, and George W. were included in the August 5, 1895 Census of Potawatomis of Indiana and Michigan as residents of Saugatuck, and they were listed also in the 1904 Taggart Roll of Potawatomi Indians, still in Saugatuck. In the 1908 Roll, Joseph [Joe] lived in Saugatuck with his wife, who was White, and their children: Laura, age 20; Joseph II, 16; and George, 10. His mother, listed as “Mrs. Soot Snay,” was included in the 1870 Census and Annuity Roll and earlier as a member of the Grand River Bands of Ottawas.

Mary Ann died on March 24, 1939 in Saugatuck and was buried at Riverside Cemetery in that city. Joseph passed away on January 6, 1925, and also was buried at Riverside Cemetery. [Undated obituary, Commercial Record, Saugatuck.]

Robert Ronald Snow [1883-1963]

In 1910 Robert Snow was foreman at American Brass Foundry at 500 Water Street [now South Harbor Drive]. He and his family resided at 410 Howard Street before moving to 520 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven. Robert married Emily Crosdale in Clyde, Illinois on October 29, 1903. They were divorced in Wayne County on April 12, 1922. They had three children. On November 18, 1922 Robert married Frances Campbell in St. Clair County. On January 29, 1931 he married Ann Marie Elizabeth Ranger in Flint. Robert was born in Lanark, Illinois on August 3, 1883 and died in February 1963.

James Howard Snyder [1909-1983]

James Snyder was born on July 11, 1909 and passed away in Spring Lake on April 15, 1983. On October 26, 1940 he married Hallie Elizabeth Ellis in Tallmadge Township. The daughter of Fred S. and Ruth E. Buck Ellis, Hallie was born in Grand Rapids on February 26, 1919. She received an associate degree from Grand Rapids Junior College and retired from Spring Lake schools, where she was an executive secretary. Hallie was a member of Spring Lake Presbyterian Church, and she was active with the Grand Haven and Coopersville historical museums. James’s and Hallie’s children were Phyllis, who married Dennis Simonis of Grand Haven, and James Richard, who was born on October 15, 1945, relocated to West Olive, died on November 24, 2008 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. James and Hallie resided at 306 North Lake Avenue in Spring Lake. Hallie passed away in Grand Haven on December 15, 2005 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, December 16, 2005 and November 26, 2008.]

William A. Snyder [1839 - ?]

Born in 1839 in Columbia County, Ohio, William Snyder spent most of his working life on steamboats. From 1861 to 1864 he was in the U.S. Navy, and during most of that time he was in charge of freight transportation on the Mississippi River. He came to Grand Haven in 1869. The next year he was classified as a steamboat engineer, and ten years later he owned his own tugboat. Captain Snyder ran the first winter boat on the east shore of Lake Michigan. He was collector and superintendent of the Grand Haven Tug Association. In 1874 he was Captain of the steamer City of Duluth, and he owned several boats. During 1879 and 1880 he built the tug Lizzie Frank. He retired from sailing the Great Lakes in 1875. He also built the first low-pressure walking beam engine to ply the Ohio River. William’s wife, Alice, was born about 1858 in Germany. They had at least four children: Charles, born about 1860; Elizabeth, born about 1869; George, born in 1874; and Frank, born about 1878. The two older children were born Illinois, and the two younger ones were born in Michigan. In 1880 the family resided on Second Street.

George C. Sole [1829-1901]
Born in Sacketts Harbor, New York in January 1829 [1830], George Sole settled first in Eastmanville and then in Grand Haven, where he became a ship’s carpenter. In his later years he was widely known as the best fisherman and guide in the area for summer tourists. His wife, Mary J., was a New York native, where she was born in June 1837. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Mary L., born about 1864; Jennetta, born about 1867; and George H., born in April 1870. George the elder died on May 10, 1901.

Henry William Solms I [1815-1892]

Henry Solms, a native of Germany, lived from March 18, 1815 to March 7, 1892, and his wife, Elizabeth, also from Germany, lived from July 23, 1813 to November 15, 1882. Henry II was their son.

Henry William Solms II [1836-1910]

Henry Solms and his wife, Henrietta Oosterhouse, lived at 619 Washington in Grand Haven. Henry was the son of Henry and Elizabeth Solms I. He and Henrietta were married in New York City on October 2, 1859 and were in Grand Haven by the mid-1870s. Henry worked in a local sawmill in the 1880s. He was listed as a “laborer” in the 1893 Compendium. Their first two children, born in New York City, were Henry III, who was born on June 14, 1860 and died on April 27, 1862; and Matilda Elizabeth who was born on March 16, 1862 and died in 1930. Next was William Julius, who was born in Brooklyn, New York on July 5, 1864 and resided in Jersey City, New Jersey. The next two children were born in Brooklyn, New York: John Frederick “Fred,” who was born on October 8, 1866 and died on May 23, 1913; and Henry Nicklous, born on November 15, 1868. The remaining children were born in Grand Haven: Clara Francis, born on December 19, 1871; John Martin, who was born on May 21, 1875 and died on June 28, 1882; George Arthur, who was born on August 15, 1880, became a teamster, and died on August 22, 1928; and Matilda, who was born on May 9, 1883 and became a cornice maker. Henry II was born in New York on October 2, 1836 and died in Grand Haven on February 12, 1910. Henrietta lived from March 28, 1842 to July 17, 1916. They were buried with several of their children, George, John, and Matilda, at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Thomas Somerset [Sommerset] [1841-1900]

Thomas Somerset owned a 337-acre farm in Sections 30 and 31 of Crockery Township. His land, bordering the Grand River, was frequented by the Fort Village band of Ottawa Indians that once inhabited the area called Battle Point. Cobmoosa was their chief. In 1878 Ottawa Indians Anroine Comoosa, Mesuebequa Cobmoosa, and Wasaya deeded property they owned at Fort Village to the Somersets. The Somerset farm was on part of the Indians’ burial grounds. Thomas traveled to Grand Rapids, where on May 13, 1861 he enlisted as private in Company I of the 3rd Michigan Infantry. He was wounded on May 12, 1864 at the Battle of Spottsylvania Court House and discharged the following June 20. Thomas, who was born on August 16, 1841, died on February 2, 1900. His wife, Katherine [Catherine], was born in New York around 1845 and died about February 10, 1893. Their children were Louisa, who was born in Robinson Township on August 3, 1868; Allace [Alice], born about 1870; Ada [Addioe], who was born on March 5, 1872 in Crockery Township; Georgia, who was born in Crockery on October 7, 1874; and an unnamed infant, who was born in the summer of 1880.

Jack Somerville [Summerville, Sommerville] [@1816-1865]

A Grand Haven Tribune article on May 2, 1913 listed 13 Black Civil War soldiers who had volunteered for service while residing in Ottawa County. Jack Somerville was among those cited. On February 18, 1864, Jack enlisted as private in Company E of the 1st Infantry Colored Regiment, later known as the 102nd United States Colored Infantry. He was buried on July 28, 1865 at Beaufort National Cemetery, South Carolina. [The date of his death was April 30, 1862, according to the 1882 History of Ottawa and Muskegon Counties.] Jack was included in the 1860 Federal Census as a “farm hand” living in Saint Mary’s, Maryland.

Frederick F. Sommers [1842-1912]

741
Born in Germany in 1842, Frederick Sommers arrived in Detroit at the age of two. Upon settling in Grand Haven, he owned and operated the Grand Haven Match Factory in 1884 and another match factory in Oshkosh, Wisconsin. In 1889 the Diamond Match Company bought his business and in 1893 he moved to the Saginaw area and formed the Sommers Match Company. He left three sons and four daughters when he passed away in Saginaw on May 9, 1912. [Tribune obituary, May 9, 1912.]

Francis R. Sonrel I [1869-1948]

Francis Sonrel owned a 90-acre dairy farm in Sections 4 and 5 of Grand Haven Township [14371 Lakeshore Drive]. The dairy farm, south of Comstock Road, was split by Lakeshore Drive. Francis was born in 1869 in Switzerland and his wife, Rosa Zwygart, was born in the same country in 1877. They immigrated to the United States in 1890, settling first in Milwaukee and coming to Grand Haven about 1903, the year their home was constructed. Frank Sonrel and Rosa had a son, Francis II, born in Wisconsin on August 24, 1905. They also had a daughter, Rosa, who was born in Grand Haven on August 18, 1907 and married Lewis Clark of Grand Haven Township. Another son, Robert, was born on September 4, 1913. Other children were Elizabeth; Julien, who was born in Wisconsin in 1900 and died in 1967; Clara, who was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin on October 4, 1901, married Robert C. Dunn, moved to Muskegon, and died in 1997; and Martha, who was born locally on March 27, 1909, married C.D. Blanchard, moved to Lansing, and died in Grand Haven on November 18, 1995. Francis died in 1948 and Rosa in 1931. Both were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.

Francis R. Sonrel II [1905-1986]

Francis was born in Wisconsin on August 24, 1905 and died in Grand Haven on September 24, 1986. His wife, Georgie, was born in Washington on September 21, 1900 and died in Grand Haven on January 17, 1982. Both were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Francis and his brother Robert owned and operated the Washington Garage at 11 Washington in the late 1920s and into the 1930s.

Robert R. Sonrel [1913-1996]

Robert Sonrel and his wife, Camilla N., lived at 14371 Lakeshore Drive. Robert, the son of Francis Sonrel I, was born on September 4, 1913 and died in Grand Haven on February 24, 1996. He and his brother Francis owned and operated the Washington Garage at 11 Washington in the late 1920s and into the 1930s. Camilla lived from August 18, 1916 to October 24, 1977. Their children attended Rosy Mound School, as had Robert.

Josephene A. Schippers Sorensen [1905-1994]

Born on September 26, 1905 to Dan and Anna Volkema Schippers, Josephene graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1923. She married Milo Sorensen on August 11, 1939. For 35 years she worked as legal secretary for the Misner & Ponstein Law Firm, located on the corner of Third and Washington Streets. After retiring from that job, she worked for Grand Haven Jewelry for ten years. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church. She died on November 30, 1994 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 1, 1994.]

Ambrose Latten Soule I [1801-1857]

Ambrose L. Soule I was a native of Dutchess County, New York, and lived from June 26, 1801 to June 24, 1857. On March 10, 1824 Ambrose married Ruth Paddock Brown, a widow, in New York State. Ruth lived from 1804 to 1851. She and Rhoda Paddock, wife of Benjamin Soule, were sisters. Their sons were Ambrose II, born in Onandaga County, New York in 1838; Charles Edward I, born in Geauga County, Ohio on September 20, 1842; James Benjamin, born in Geauga County, Ohio on April 2, 1843; and Carlos, born in Ohio about 1848. Their daughters, all born in New York, were Annetta, born about 1832; Sarah J., born about 1834; Julia, who was born in Dutchess County, New York on October 16, 1836 and married Edward L. Craw of Spring Lake and Grand Rapids; and Julius M., born about 1839. After Ruth’s death, Ambrose I married Sophia Everest in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, on September 9, 1851. Ambrose I was credited with establishing the town of Muir, Ionia County, in 1854.
Ambrose Latten Soule II [1838-1905]

In 1860 Ambrose Soule II was a resident of Ionia County, where his parents resided. On September 17, 1862 he went to Grand Rapids to enlist in Company E of the Michigan 6th Cavalry as second lieutenant. On October 23, 1863 he transferred to Company G of the 10th Michigan Cavalry, and on September 2, 1865 he was promoted to captain. He was mustered out on November 11, 1865. Ambrose owned considerable acreage throughout Michigan. In 1860 he was residing in Lyons, Ionia County, in 1870 he was a horticulturalist in Spring Lake, and he remained in that area into the 1880s. By 1890 he was living in Minnesota. A monument was erected in his name at Spring Lake Township Cemetery.

Born in Onondaga County, New York, Ambrose lived from 1838 to January 13, 1905. The wife of Ambrose II was named Margaret. She was born about 1845 in New York. Ambrose and Margaret had at least two children, George and Anna.

Benjamin Birdsall Soule [1810-1900]

In 1860 Benjamin Soule was a lumberman and attorney in Ionia County. Five years later he purchased 90 acres in Section 14 of Spring Lake Township, land previously owned by William and Shirley Hammond. Benjamin married his first wife, Matilda Miller in 1832. Not long after Matilda’s death the next year, Benjamin married Rhoda Paddock. She lived from 1810 to 1882, moved from Muir, Ionia County to the Spring Lake farm in the 1870s. Benjamin operated a dairy farm there and raised fruit. Born in Dutchess County, New York on May 20, 1810, he died in Spring Lake on January 27, 1900. Ten years after his death the Spring Lake Country Club purchased 140 acres of his land for $6,000 and for 15 years or so used the farmhouse as its clubhouse. A native of New York State like her husband, Rhoda lived from April 20, 1810 to August 10, 1882. Benjamin was the uncle of Charles Soule, also an attorney.

Benjamin Harrison Soule [1888-1967]

Benjamin Harrison Soule was born in Spring Lake in 1888 and died in 1967. He was the son of Frederick and Cassie Soule. In 1930 he was a die maker. He married Ruth L., the daughter of John and Louise Brunsell Linn of Spring Lake. The Soules had three children, including Virginia Soule Nichols, who moved to Fredonia, New York. Ruth, who was born in Illinois on November 5, 1896, died in Spring Lake on April 25, 1979. She and Benjamin were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Charles Edward Soule I [1842–1925]

A nephew of Benjamin Soule, Charles was born in Geauga County, Ohio, on September 20, 1842, the son of Ambrose Latten I and Ruth Paddock Soule. Young Soule moved with his parents to Ionia County in 1855, when he was 13. He studied at Hillsdale College, graduated from the University of Michigan Law School in 1866, and was admitted to law practice the same year. Charles became judge of probate for Ottawa County, a post he held between 1885 and 1893, and he was circuit court commissioner for three terms. From 1876 to 1883 he had a partnership with William N. Angel and in 1893 and 1894 he was associated with George A. Farr. On July 6, 1863 Charles enlisted as first lieutenant in the 10th Michigan Cavalry and was discharged for disability on December 21, 1864, almost nine months after he had transferred from Field and Staff to Company K of the same regiment. After the war, he was a prominent figure in the Grand Army of the Republic statewide and locally, including the local Weatherwax Post #75, which he helped organize. Charles continued his law practice, but in 1868 he bought a 40-acre farm in Section 11 of Spring Lake Township where he grew peaches. The area later was known as Stuart Point. On June 29, 1872 he attended a meeting of the Michigan State Pomological Society in Benton Harbor and delivered a paper on “The Best Peach.” His wife went with him, as well as his brothers Ambrose and James. Charles also maintained a dairy farm.

On September 16 [20], 1867 in Grand Haven [Milwaukee], Charles married Lucinda [Lennie] Saxton Hall, who was born in Shelburne, Vermont, on July 12, 1843 and had come to Ionia with her parents, Lyman and Lucinda Hall. The newly-weds moved to Spring Lake the year following their marriage, and then onto Grand Haven five years after that, following a fire that destroyed their Spring Lake home. With William Angel,
Charles purchased a large piece of lake frontage in Section 19, which became known as North Shore. A portion of this land was bought by the U.S. Government on January 22, 1922 as the site for the new Coast Guard Station. About 1881 Charles contracted to have the family residence built at 527 Lafayette in Grand Haven. He and his wife had five surviving children: Mary Laura Soule, born on May 7, 1869; Charles Edward Soule, born on January 27, 1871; Fayette Fletcher Soule, born on January 25, 1877; Julia Soule, born on March 4, 1873; and Leila Ruth Soule, who was born on September 13, 1881 and married George L. Bitting. Mary Laura, Julia, and Leila Ruth all became teachers. Mary became the first president of the Tuesday Musicale in Grand Haven. Charles and Lucinda also owned a cottage on the North Shore. Named Greystone Manor, the structure was built in 1892 and was inherited by Soule’s daughter, Julia. When Julia died in 1945, the North Shore property [20053 North Shore Drive] went to Soule “Bill” Tryon Bitting, son of George Leila Ruth Bitting and grandson of Judge Soule. Thirty-one years later, in 1976, it was inherited by Bitting’s widow, Peggy, who was still the owner of record in 1999. Charles died on January 3, 1925 and Lucinda died May 31 the next year. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 5, 1925.]

Charles Edward Soule II [1871-1951]
The son of Charles and Lucinda Hall Soule, Edward was born on January 27, 1871 on the family’s peach farm in Spring Lake. His formative years were spent at 527 Lafayette Street in Grand Haven, and he graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1889. Edward, as he was known, became an attorney and moved to Cleveland and then to Los Angeles, California. Edward at one time was Assessor for the City of Grand Haven. Ruth Walley was one of his children. Edward died in Orange County, California on January 23, 1951. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Eva Jane Soule [1884-1968]
Eva was born in Spring Lake on November 10, 1884, the daughter of Frederick and Cassie Soule of Spring Lake. On October 26, 1912 in Chicago, she married Peter J. Vander Meiden of Grand Haven. Eva worked in Chicago as a secretary. When Peter retired from the Chicago Police Department, the couple moved to Holland, Michigan. Eva passed away about December 4, 1968 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. He died about September 27, 1955.

Fayette Fletcher Soule [1877-1946]
The son of Charles and Lucinda Hall Soule, Fayette was born in Grand Haven on January 25, 1877. On October 19, 1901 he married Isabel Atkinson in Chicago. She was born on July 16, 1880 in Chicago and died in Pensacola, Florida on March 9, 1964. Fayette died in the same city on March 28, 1946. Their three children were all born in Illinois. In 1910 Fayette was living in Chicago, and by 1930 he was a bridge engineer in Escambia, Florida.

Frederick A. Soule [1852-1903]
Frederick Soule was born in New York in January 1852. He and his wife, Cassie, raised four children on a 263-acre dairy farm in Section 14 of Spring Lake Township: Virginia; Rhoda Mae, born on November 21, 1883; Eva, born in November 1884; and Benjamin Harrison, born in December 1887. Carl A. Soule, who was born in Sweden on February 8, 1880 and died in Spring Lake on July 2, 1973, was half-brother to the others. Cassie, a native of Sweden, lived from May 1855 [1856] to 1934 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with her husband, who died on November 30, 1903. [Tribune obituaries, November 30 and December 1, 1903.]

James Benjamin Soule [1843-1928]
On August 28, 1863 James Soule enlisted at Muir, Ionia County, in Company G of the 10th Michigan Cavalry, the same unit as his brother Charles, with the rank of private. He was promoted to sergeant on October 6, 1863 and was mustered out on November 11, 1865. James was born in Geauga County, Ohio, on April 2, 1843. His parents were Ambrose L. and Ruth Paddock Soule. James died on June 5, 1928 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Julia Annette Soule [1873-1945]

Julia Soule was born in Spring Lake on March 4, 1873, the daughter of Charles and Lucinda Hall Soule. She moved to Grand Haven when the family home burned down around 1881, and for 64 years lived at 527 Lafayette. After graduating from Grand Haven High School in 1891, she attended Hillsdale College and the University of Michigan. She received a lifetime teaching certificate from Central Michigan in 1918. Julia taught in Grand Haven High School from 1895 to 1904, taught in Evanston, Illinois for two years, and then returned to be principal of the Ottawa County Normal School, located in Grand Haven, between 1908 and 1917, years when Dr. Lawrence vanden Berg was superintendent of Grand Haven schools. In 1918 she taught under Dr. vanden Berg at Oswego, New York, then taught in Cleveland until 1921, when she returned once more to Grand Haven and taught American history at the Junior High School until her retirement in 1938. She was active in the Red Cross and the Woman’s Club, and she was a founding member of the Grand Haven Christian Science Church, officially organized in 1910.

Julia’s sister Leila Ruth was born about 1882 and on June 21, 1913 in Grand Haven married George L. Bitting I, who was born in Illinois around 1882. Their children were George L. II, born about 1914; Soule T., born about 1916; and James T., born about 1917. Leila passed away around June 24, 1931 and George died about October 4, 1949; they were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Soules her sister Mary, raised the Bittings’ children. See Soule Bitting for more detail.

In 1927 Julia bought Windydune, a two-story, cinder block cottage on the North Shore, when there were only two other cottages on that side of the river, one belonging to George and Cora Christmas of Grand Haven. The Lifeguard Station also was nearby. At that time, the only direct access to the cottage from Grand Haven was by rowboat. Three cottages fronted the lake: Windydune, built in 1916 by Louise Andrews of Elsah, Illinois; Greystone Manor; and The Surf. Shortly after Julia died at her home on Lafayette Street on May 31, 1945, the cottage was sold to Henrietta Van Dyk. Julia was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 31, 1945.]

Mary Laura Soule [1869-1948]

Mary Laura Soule, the daughter of Charles and Lucinda Soule, was born on May 7, 1869. She taught music in the Grand Haven Public Schools for many years. Mary attended St. John’s Episcopal Church and was its organist. She and her sister Julia shared the house at 527 Lafayette Street, where Mary continued to live after Julia’s death in 1945. She died on October 7, 1948 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. See Julia Soule for more detail.

Rhoda Mae Soule [1883-1969]

Born in Spring Lake on November 21, 1883, Rhoda Soule was the daughter of Frederick and Cassie Soule. In 1930 she was a stenographer for a lumber company in Grand Rapids. Rhoda died on February 25, 1969 and was buried at Spring Lake Township. She resided at 17347 Fruitport Road in Spring Lake Township.

Robert F. Soule [1922–1987]

A county commissioner for Spring Lake Township, Robert Soule was active in the Tri-Cities Historical Society and served as its president. On January 18, 1946 he married Elizabeth Ann Carrithers, who was born December 17, 1912 and died in Spring Lake on March 5, 1979. Robert was born on November 6, 1922 and died on May 1, 1987 in Spring Lake. The Soules resided at 202 East Savidge. Husband and wife were buried at Spring Lake Township Cemetery.

Milo Douglas Sovis I [1909-1992]

A native of Cicero, Illinois, where he was born on September 4, 1909, Milo Sovis became a resident of Grand Haven. He married Jennie Helmers of Grand Haven in 1929. The next year the couple lived at 1044
Washington for a short time before moving to 1026 Washington. They resided in several other houses prior to relocating to 119 South Third in June 1937. Jennie was born in Michigan on October 19, 1909 and passed away in Grand Haven on March 27, 1995. In 1930 Milo worked at the Brass Foundry. By the late 1940s he was foreman at the Oldberg Company. The family belonged to the First Reformed Church. The Sovises had five children, all born in Grand Haven: Elaine, who was born on August 4, 1930 and married Jim Griswold; Robert, who was born on November 10, 1931 and retired to Jupiter, Florida; Beverly, who was born on May 24, 1939 and married Robert Avery of Grand Haven; Milo Douglas II, born on February 8, 1942; and Kenneth Charles, born on October 11, 1944. Milo died on July 2, 1992. He and Jennie were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles J. Spadafore [Spatifore] [1881-1957]

Born in Italy in 1881, Charlie Spadafore owned a fruit and confectionary store at 126 Washington. He and his wife, Rose, resided at the same address. She was born in Italy the same year as her husband. Their children, all born in Michigan, were William, born about 1904, Virginia, born about 1906, and Louis, born about 1908. Charlie bought the business around 1908 from Hepple Spagnolo and sold it in 1911 to Louis Fortino. Charlie then opened another fruit outlet at 104 Washington. Rose lived from 1881 to 1959, Charles died in 1957. Both were buried at Mount Hope Cemetery in Pontiac.

Hepple [Hipple] Spagnolo [@ 1875- ?]

In 1908 Hepple Spagnolo sold his fruit and candy store at 126 Washington to Charlie Spadafore. Hepple and Amelia Spagnolo lived on the second floor at the same address. Hepple was born in Italy about 1875 and immigrated to the United States when he was 13. Amelia was born in the same country about 1892. By 1910 Hepple and Amelia were sharing the upstairs apartment with Charlie and Rose Spadafore and were listed in the 1910 census as Charlie’s in-laws. A cousin, also named Hepple Spagnolo, was living at the same address.

Johann “John” N. Spangler [1850-1930]

Born in Bavaria, Germany on May 25, 1850, John Spangler arrived in the United States soon after. He held the office of school director and pathmaster in Robinson Township for nine years. He was the father of Jack Spangler, who was deputy sheriff of Ottawa County. His wife was Augusta Janke, whom he married in Milwaukee. They lived on a 100-acre farm in Robinson Township. John died on January 28, 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Spanglers’ son, Johann Joseph Spangler, was born in Grand Haven on May 30, 1901.

Henry G. Spear [1854-1924]

Around 1900 Henry Spear and Clemens Bement owned Spear & Bement, “Manufacturers of Fish, Syrup and Pickle Packages, Flour, Fruit, and all kinds of slack barrels.” The company was located in Grand Haven. Henry was born in Maine on August 12, 1854. He was a cooper by trade. He married Ida Williams, who, was a native of Nova Scotia, where she was born in September 1857. She immigrated to the United States in 1880. Henry and Ida had six children: Ora M., born in Wisconsin in December 1884; Grace, born in Minnesota in August 1887; Henry, born in Grand Haven in July 1890; Mabel, born in Michigan in December 1891; Marian, born in Michigan February 1894; and Marvin, born in Michigan in July 1899. Henry died on December 19, 1924 in Kalamazoo and was buried at Riverside Cemetery. Ida passed away in 1930 and was buried with her husband.

Jacob John Speidel [1834-1915]

Isadore Noantay [Naughty] and his wife Josets [Josette/Josetha] had a daughter Jessica [Teresa], who was born in Michigan about 1844. She married Jacob John Speidel, who generally went by his middle name. Isadore was of French and Indian descent. According to the 1860 census, John, Jessica, and their daughter, Julia [Julia Ann/ Jenien], born about April 1860, resided with Isadore and Josets in Grand Haven Township. John, who was born in Germany about 1834, immigrated to the United States in 1852. By 1904 he was a widower and living in Ludington. Living with him in 1910 were his two sons, John and Charles. Three years later the widower was residing with his son Charles and his family in Ludington. John the elder died on February 8, 1915 in Hesperia, Oceana County and was buried at Lakeview Cemetery. He apparently had a second wife, Emma [Anna], who was born in Germany in 1842, died on November 24, 1891 in Ludington, and also was buried at Lakeview Cemetery. When son Charles was born in Ludington on March 6, 1881, his mother’s name was listed as Ann.

Under the name Mrs. Jac [Jacob] Spider, Jessica in the 1864 Roll received $19.60 as a member of Chief Penayse’s Band. She appeared under the same name in the Annuity Roll of 1868 and received $63.40 as a continuing member of Penayse’s Band. The next year her annuity amounted to $19.60. In the 1870 Indian census, Jessica [with her last name again spelled Spider] received $45.90, still with Chief Penayse’s Band of Grand River Ottawas.

The Speidels also had a son, Louis, born on October 22, 1862 in Grand Haven, and another son, George, born in Ludington on September 6, 1886. Daughter Julia married Solomon J. Bailey in Grand Haven on June 1, 1875. John Speidel died in Ludington on February 8, 1915 and was buried at Lakeview Cemetery.

Louis Speidel [Speidle, Spidal, Spidell] I (1862-1937)

Among those counted in the 1908 Durant Roll were Louis Speidel I and his children: Grace, born on February 17, 1888; Louis Edward II, born on December 30, 1889; Marion [Marian] Agnes, born on August 30, 1891; and Margaret, born on September 27, 1902. Because of Louis’s Indian heritage, he and his four children were included as members of the Grand River Bands of Ottawas in the 1908 Durant Roll. Louis and the children resided in Grand Haven at the time of the Roll. In 1908 in Grand Haven, Louis received about $21.18 as his share of the Indian annuity allotted that year.

Louis married Margaret Johnson [Johnston] in Robinson Township on July 4, 1887. Margaret, born about 1869, was White. She died in 1938 and was buried at Crystal Springs Cemetery in Benton Harbor. Louis was born on October 22, 1862 in Grand Haven, died on February 6, 1937 in St. Joseph, and was buried at Crystal Springs. Louis’s death certificate cited his father as George Speidel and his mother as Tressa Nowanta, probably alternate names for Jacob and Jessica Noantay. Louis and his wife, named Agnes on the birth registration, Agnes had a son named Louis, who was born in Grand Haven on August 19, 1891. All of Louis’s family members were born in Michigan.

In the 1900 Federal Census Louis I, Margaret, Grace, Louis II, and Marian were listed as White and living at 212 Water Street [Harbor Drive] in Grand Haven. The elder Louis worked in an unnamed fertilizer factory. In the 1908 City Directory, the parents and their three children were shown as residing at 114 Lafayette Street in Grand Haven, and Louis was then working with the Globe Fertilizer Company. In the 1910 census the family continued to be listed as White residents of Grand Haven. On April 21, 1915, Grace married Ralph Hoyt in Grand Haven. She died in Benton Harbor on November 3, 1955. Louis II married Lucille Furber in Detroit on February 5, 1919, and in 1920 the couple was residing in St. Joseph. Louis II died in that city on January 22, 1977. Marion died in the same city on February 20, 1937.

Frank Spence [Spencer] [@1835- ?]

A native of Glasgow, Scotland, Frank Spence was born about 1835 and became a machinist. He and Archibald Brown in 1867 started a machine shop called Iron Works, located on the northwest corner of First and Elliott Streets in Grand Haven. Spence and Brown sold their business to James Lewis, Otto Gronberg, and John Bryce in 1871. Frank married Annie [Ann/Anna] Driscoll in Grand Rapids on August 30, 1867. She was born in New York [Massachusetts] about 1843. They had at least three children: Isabelle, who was born in 1859; Rose Maria, who was born in Ottawa County on August 8, 1874, and another daughter, Mansta, who was born locally on November 7, 1885 and died in Chicago on August 20, 1926.

David Spencer I (1837- 1927)

Spring Lake resident David Spencer was born in England [Canada] in November 1837. He married Elizabeth Manley, who was born in England in November 1845. After living for awhile in Canada, David and Elizabeth immigrated to Spring Lake and lived at 804 East Savidge Street. David I was a minister. Of their seven children, six were born in Canada, including David II, born about 1877. The other children were Emma R., who was born in February 1875 and married Howard Gardner of Spring Lake; Agnes, born in July 1885; Margaret; James Manley, who was born in May 1888; Gertrude, born in May 1890; Ruth; Agnes; William; John; and Mary, who was born in Canada in 1867 and married Chauncey Blakeslee of Spring Lake. David, Emma, and Agnes were born in England, and the remainder were born locally. James Manley Spencer, a mason and building contractor, worked with his brother-in-law, Chauncey. They constructed many buildings in the area, such as the Armory, Grand Theater, and former Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven. James also was president of Spring Lake Boat Company, founded in 1931. David died in 1927 and Elizabeth in 1934; both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had seven children in addition to David II.

David Spencer II [1877-1963]

In 1898 David Spencer II won the first race ever sponsored by the Spring Lake Yacht Club. The winning boat was owned by his brother-in-law, Chauncey Blakeslee. David’s parents were David and Elizabeth Manley Spence. On December 7, 1903 in Newaygo, David married Edith Frink. He died on July 25, 1963. Edith lived from 1882 to about June 1,1950. She and David were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John W. Spencer [1867-1938]

John, the son of Medad and Julia Williams Spencer, was born in Crockery Township in 1867. He was classified as “laborer” in the 1893 Compendium and held the post of justice of the peace in Coopersville as late as 1912, where he remained a resident into the 1930s. John passed away in 1938 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery.

Medad [Meadad, Medford] Spencer [1837-1919]

Medad Spencer was born in New York on August 26, 1836. He registered for the draft in July 1863, but apparently wasn’t called up. On February 14, 1865 he enlisted as Seaman in the U.S. Navy for a two-year tour. He was said to be in charge of the lighthouse at Grand Haven for a time after the war, but no evidence was uncovered to support the claim. Perhaps he held the post of assistant keeper, since he was at Point Betsie Lighthouse from 1894 to 1906. Medad’s 120-acre farm was situated in Sections 21 and 28 of Crockery Township. By 1870 he owned a general store in Nunica, but ten years later he was classified as a farmer. Medad died in Crockery on October 25, 1919 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. Medad’s wife, Julia Williams, lived from 1844 to 1922 and was buried near her husband. Julia was Sarah Ann Easterly’s sister. Their children were Emma, born in Michigan in 1864; John W., born in New York in 1867; Ned B., born in Michigan in 1872; and Leonard, born in Michigan in 1876.

William D. Spencer [1869-1945]

Born in Eastmanville on September 9, 1869, William Spencer became an engineer on the steamer William H. Barrett, which operated on the Grand River. In 1898 he went to work for the Spring Lake Basket Factory, which burned down that year. He then put in two years as a secret service agent, returned to Spring Lake and worked for the Story & Clark Piano Company until 1915, when he opened the S & S Grocery with John Slingerland, the two of them having bought Fred Bertschy’s grocery at 200 West Savidge Streets. Eventually the owner, Julia Falls, Andrew’s widow, sold the building to Leon Campbell for his drug store. In 1923 Spencer bought out B. Klwou & Son Grocery and Feed Store and moved into their building at 212 West Savidge. In 1935 William & Sons moved to 206 West Savidge, where Jacob Whitcomb had had a dry goods and grocery store. They enlarged their store and changed the name to Spencer’s Super Market. William was township clerk for 20 years, and he also served on the Board of Trade and was president of the Spring Lake School Board. He married Frances S., the daughter of Charles and Elizabeth Scott Kay of Spring Lake, who lived at 403 East Savidge. Frances was born in Illinois about 1863. William died on October 24, 1945 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Frederick Wilhelm Spindler [1822-1895]
In 1871 Frederick W. Spindler, a German, followed Rev. John Daib as pastor of St. John’s Evangelical Lutheran Church, located at 531 Franklin Street. Frederick had been a clergyman at a Lutheran Church in Bay City. He was born in Germany about 1822. Frederick committed suicide in Shakopee, Minnesota on October 30, 1895.

Joseph Howard Spires [1853-1913]

Joseph Spires followed Willis Sherman as manager of the Cutler House, owned by Dwight Cutler. Joseph was a well-known hotel man in Michigan. He was injured when the gas plant at the Cutler House exploded on September 16, 1881, resulting in the death of the Dwight’s brother, Charles Cutler. On August 12, 1886, he was appointed postmaster at Ottawa Beach, near Holland. He gave up the post two months later and moved to Grand Rapids to enter the lumber business. Soon afterward, he left West Michigan, where he was located by 1895. Born in Ohio in 1853, Joseph died in Los Angeles on January 4, 1913. His wife, Mamie, was born in Michigan about 1858. [Tribune obituary, January 4, 1913.]

John Spoelma [1884-1923]

Born in Crockery Township on January 20, 1884, John was the son of Peter and Hattie Spoelma, both natives of The Netherlands. John was employed at the Piano Factory and later at Dake Engine Company. He and his wife, Fannie, had several children, including Peter, Anna, Harriet, and Marian. Marian was born on November 24, 1912 and was married twice, first in 1936 to Ralph Ruiter, and then to Ross M. Knight after Ralph’s death in 1980. John died of pneumonia following a severe attack of grippe at his home, 829 Grant Street, on February 22, 1923. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, February 23, 1923 and December 16, 2003.]

Peter Spoelma [1853-1914]

Both Peter Spoelma married Henryetta “Hattie” Helder. They were born in The Netherlands, he in April 1853 and she in January 1847. They immigrated to the United States in 1881 with a son, Ralph, who was born in December 1878, and settled on a farm in Section 7 of Crockery Township. Their other children, all born in Michigan, were John, born on January 20, 1884; Herman, who was born in July 1886 and settled in Grand Haven; and Katherine, who married John Klunder. Peter died in 1914 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Daniel Spoon [1824-1904]

Daniel Spoon was born on a farm in Seneca County, New York, on March 12, 1824, four years after his brother John. Daniel arrived in Spoonville a few months earlier than John and worked at the Spoon & Becker Mill. Daniel married Helen [Helene] Lautenschlager on April 14, 1859. She lived from August 28, 1833 to September 22, 1886. Their six children were all born in Michigan, including Mary, born in 1860. Daniel died on March 12, 1904, and both he and his wife were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John Spoon [1820-1892]

Born on a farm in Seneca County, New York, in 1820, John Spoon learned the carpenter’s trade. In 1856 [1857] he settled in what came to be called Spoonville, and eventually he owned a thousand acres of tillable land on the north branch of the Grand River in Crockery Township. He built a sawmill there, and also constructed a permanent residence for himself on 848 acres, the largest farm in Ottawa County at the time. His barn measured 100 feet by 40 feet, with 24 posts and measured 60 feet to the top of cupola. It cost $2,000 to build. The sawmill had a large, circular saw, a gang edger, and a lath and picket machine. It was capable of milling 40,000 board feet per day, and in 1881 produced 7,500,000 feet. He also owned land in Muskegon and Illinois. John married Annie Margaret Bennett in Janesville, Wisconsin, in 1850. Among their children were Emma, born in New York in 1858, and Arthur J., born in Michigan in 1869. Annie was born in Janesville on September 2, 1828 and died April 21, 1914. John died on April 26, 1892 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. Daniel Spoon was his brother.

Francis M. Sprague [1838-1916] and Marietta “Mattie” Hutson Sprague [1848-1931]

In the 1890s Marietta Sprague advertised herself as a “Fashionable Milliner and Dealer in Fancy Goods” at her store, located at the “Foot of Washington St.” in Grand Haven. She also was a dress maker. On October 30, 1881 in Grand Haven, she married Frank Sprague. Frank, a native of New York [Italy], arrived in the United States in 1848 and lived from April 2, 1838 [1837] to January 18, 1916. He died while living in Grand Rapids. In Grand Haven, he worked as a tallyman for a lumber company. By 1913 Mattie had opened a millinery shop on Monroe Street in Grand Rapids. Three years later she was working in the furniture city as a furrier and continued in that field until at least 1930. Born in Illinois in September 1848 [1849], Mattie died around November 23, 1931 and was buried with her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery. While in Grand Haven, they resided on Columbus Street.

Henry [John] Sprick [Sprik] I [1837-1918]

Henry Sprick, born in The Netherlands in March 1837 [1838], settled in Grand Haven in 1856 and opened the town’s first livery in 1862 with a buckboard and one horse. By 1882 he had 36 horses and 12 single and four double buggies. He offered bus service between Grand Haven and Lake Michigan. He also bought and sold horses. The livery was located on Second Street near Washington, not far from Grand Haven’s first school [approximately 16 South Second], and later at 216 Fulton. In 1915 Henry purchased from Charles Wilde and Andrew Falls a livery stable on the northwest corner of Division and Savidge Streets in Spring Lake.

Henry’s wife, Johanna, lived from 1836 to October 28, 1856. Henry and his second wife, Martha [Wilhelmina] Rysdorp, lived at 218 Fulton. Martha, a native of The Netherlands, lived from February 20, 1839 to January 22, 1917. Henry and both his wives were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He and Martha had at least four children, all born in Michigan: Henry II, who was born March 4, 1865 and died on April 7, 1899; Gertrude, who was born in February 1869 and married George Van Schelven of Grand Haven; Minnie, who was born in April 1871 and married William Van Schelven of Grand Haven; and Martin, who lived from 1876 to 1928. Both sons were buried in the family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Martin Sprick [1877-1928]

On April 20, 1927 Martin, the son of Henry and Martha Sprick, married Alice Mulder Dake, the widow of Wilford Dake, who had died on June 5, 1913. Martin’s first wife, Anna, the daughter of John and Trientje Meyer De Young, lived from 1871 to 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They were married in Grand Haven on March 11, 1903. Martin and Anna lived at 425 Fulton. Martin, who was a machinist, lived from September 20, 1877 to April 20, 1928. He died in Rochester, Minnesota and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Alice passed away on September 26, 1944 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

James T. Sprott [1900-1989]

James Sprott was born on February 28, 1900. On July 22, 1922 he married Christian Watt in Detroit. They had three children: Chriss Gunn of Alpena; Jean Erdenberger of Dallas, Texas; and James A. Sprott of Grand Rapids. The Sprotts moved to Grand Haven in May 1937, where James taught industrial-vocational subjects for 20 years in the evening adult classes in Grand Haven. He retired from Gardner-Denver as chief draftsman after 22 years. He also was Sunday School superintendent at the First Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven. James was a Mason, and his wife was a member of the Eastern Star, and she was active with the local Girl Scouts for many years. Their home was at 1624 Hillcrest. James died on June 15, 1989. Christian lived from January 5, 1901 to April 12, 1998 and died in Grand Haven. She and James were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Anna M. MacDonal Squier [1858-1934]

Anna Mcdonald was born in Hillsburg, Ontario, on February 11, 1858. She moved to Grand Haven when she was 14 and did custom sewing for many of the local families, including Mary A. White, the Ferrys, and the Eastmans. On May 23, 1888 in Grand Rapids she married William L. Squier. They lived in Plainwell. Anna returned to Grand Haven after her husband’s death, but in 1900, before her return, she was boarding... at a home in Grand Rapids. She was listed as single at that time. By the time of the 1910 census she was listed as a widow, living in Grand Haven and running a boarding house at 215 Columbus. Her 19-year old daughter, Elsie, was living with her. [Elsie was residing with her uncle in Whitehall in 1900.] Anna died in Grand Haven on August 1, 1934 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, August 1, 1934.]

Heber Vincent Squier I [Squiers, Squires] [@1822-1883]
Heber Squier was born in Erie County, New York, on March 23, 1823. He came to Grand Haven in 1859 as the first agent for the Detroit & Milwaukee Railroad when the terminal was in Muir, at the foot of Dewey Hill. Heber became Grand Haven’s first harbor master in 1867. In 1867 he and Thomas White were tugboat owners and partners in a ship building enterprise named Squier & White. They also advertised their company as “Wreckers & Contractors.” In 1844, in Buffalo, New York, Heber married Miranda Rose. She was born July 12, 1825 in Penfield, New York and died in Grand Haven on February 12, 1902. Their children were Anna, who was born about 1845 and married Volkert Wright Seeley of Milwaukee; Susan, who was born about 1847 in New York State and married Joseph Hutty of Grand Haven; Heber II, born about 1850; and Birdie Miranda, who was born about 1864 in Grand Haven and married Fred Hutty of Grand Haven. Heber I died on November 10, 1883 in Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania.

Heber Vincent Squier II [@1850-1880]
Heber, the son of Heber and Miranda Rose Squier, was born in Dunkirk, New York about 1850. On August 11, 1870 he married Nellie G. Hubbard in Grand Haven. Nellie, the daughter of Alonzo and Elvira Poole Hubbard and the sister of George Hubbard of Grand Haven, was born in Cleveland, Ohio in December 1850. Heber was a steamboat captain. He and Nellie had three children, all born in Michigan: Maude E., who was born in December 1871 and married a Mr. Alexander; Nellie A., who was born about 1875 and married Ora Gale in Grand Haven on April 27, 1897; and Gertrude M., who was born in October 1876 and married William N. McMillan, the son of Neil and Mary McMillan of Grand Haven. After Heber’s death in the wreck of the Alpena on October 16, 1880, Nellie resided at or near 215 Washington at the time of the 1889 fire that destroyed much of Grand Haven. Later she lived at 400 Howard. She died March 20, 1924 in Glendale, California, where she had moved in 1913 to be with the family of her daughter Gertrude McMillan. Nellie was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Elvira, Nellie’s mother, lived from April 27, 1812 to March 11, 1894 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Amanzo Stafford [1870-1948]
Born April 7, 1870 in Kalamazoo, Amanzo Stafford was proprietor of the Riverside Laundry, which operated at 205 South Harbor in Kalamazoo in the early 1900s. He also had a drop-off/pick-up station at Katt’s General Store in Ferrysburg. Amanzo married May Williams in Kalamazoo on January 29, 1896. She was born in Michigan about 1874. In Grand Haven the couple, lived at 113 Washington and later at 109 North Second Street, where they were residing in 1910. By 1930 they were back in Kalamazoo. Amanzo died there on November 9, 1948.

Joseph E. Stalec I [1915-1987]
Joseph Stalec, one of the founders of Stan’s Bar at 208 West Savidge in Spring Lake, in 1977 became full owner. Born on December 6, 1915, Joseph died in Maricopa County, Arizona on May 19, 1987. He married Mary Kramer and resided in Grand Rapids before moving to Spring Lake. The Stalecs’ son, Joseph II, who was born on July 18, 1947, eventually took over management of the bar. Another son, Mike, resided in Greenville, Montcalm County. The Stalecs had two other children, a daughter Pat and a son Bob.

Joseph E. Stalec II [1947-2007]
Joseph, the son of Joseph and Mary Kramer Stalec, was born in Grand Rapids on July 18, 1947. Joseph II and his wife, Susan, resided at 206 Sidney Court in Spring Lake before moving to Nunica. Susan was the daughter of Anthony “Gus” and Dorothy Ringgold Carowitz of the Spring Lake area. Joseph I was one of the founders of Stan’s Bar at 218 West Savidge in Spring Lake, a business that Joseph II eventually owned and managed after moving to Spring Lake in 1973. Joseph II served with the Marines during the Vietnam War. He was a member of St. Mary’s Catholic Church in Spring Lake, VFW Post 2326 in Grand Haven, and American Legion Post 28, also in Grand Haven. Rufus Kingborn Stallings [1860-1899]

Born in Bullitt County, Kentucky on November 6, 1860, Rufus Stallings received his education at East Cedar Hills Institute, graduating in 1878. He was living in Kentucky with his parents around 1880, and on October 24, 1888 he married Nannie W. Briggs in Jefferson, Kentucky. By 1887 he was secretary at the Louisville [Kentucky] Silvering & Beveling Company. Rufus in October 1892 established the American Mirror and Glass Beveling Company with a capital of $50,000, and the next month arrived in Grand Haven to start production. The plant was constructed near today’s intersection of Howard Street and Harbor Drive. With Rufus as president and James W. Orr as secretary-treasurer, American Mirror claimed to be one of the largest institutions of its kind in the country. The building on Howard and Harbor was destroyed by strong winds in 1896, but apparently was rebuilt. It continues to show up in the atlases of 1897 and 1912. Rufus was also head of the large glass plant in Louisville, the company’s headquarters. In 1896 he was elected mayor of Grand Haven, running on the Democratic ticket and served one year. He died of “organic heart disease” in Grand Haven on September 29, 1899 and was buried at Cave Hill Cemetery in Louisville. Nannie was born in Kentucky on January 7, 1867 and died in Jefferson, Kentucky on February 10, 1946. [Tribune obituary, September 29,1899.]

Walter Dean Stanard [Stanard] [1839-1930]

While living in Jackson County, Walter Stanard on August 29, 1862 enlisted in Company F of the 20th Michigan Infantry. He was discharged for disability on June 19 the next year, and then on March 10, 1865 he enlisted as assistant Surgeon in Company S of the 2nd Michigan Cavalry. He was transferred to the 137th U.S. Colored Infantry, but there was “no further record” of his service after that. Walter applied for a Civil War invalid’s pension on July 3, 1879. Apparently he settled for a brief time in Grand Haven after the war. By 1870 he was a physician in Chagrin Falls, Ohio. Walter was born in Kirtland, Geauga County, Ohio on October 21, 1839, the son of Henry and Margaret Hoffman Stanard. On August 26, 1862 in Jackson he married Narcena [Macena] Elizabeth Hunt. She was born in Michigan on March 30, 1843 and died on March 29, 1899. Their son Henry was born about 1865 in Michigan. After Narcena’s death, Walter married Marian Burnell Payne, who was born in Michigan on September 14, 1858. Walter was residing in Elkhorn, San Joaquin County, California in 1910. He died in Alameda, California, on June 28, 1930 and was buried at Lodi Cemetery in California.

Warren Hastings Stansberry I [1871-1949]

Warren Stansberry moved to Grand Haven from Muskegon around 1907 and purchased Kamhout’s Saloon at 133 Washington Street. He renamed it The Bank. He married Henrietta “Lidia” Dykema on December 4, 1912. They resided in an apartment above the saloon. Warren also was agent for the Miller Brewing Company. By 1915 he and two partners were manufacturing crochet needles, knitting needles, and button hooks at 133 Washington. Around the time of WWI they moved next door to 129 Washington and on January 1, 1917 officially opened as Peerless Novelty. When that building burned down in 1920, the company moved to 105 Fulton. Warren was a member of the Elks, Pensinsular Club, Spring Lake Country Club, and Grand Haven Stag Club. His son, Warren H. Stansberry II, was born on March 13, 1916 and remained a lifetime resident of Grand Haven. Warren I was born in Fayette, Iowa on September 28, 1871 and died in 1949.

Born in Grand Haven on March 13, 1916, Warren II was the son of Warren and Lidia Stansberry. He attended local schools and graduated from Babson College and Michigan State University. He married Natalie Stromsta on July 25, 1942 and they had two daughters, Dianne and Linda, and a son, Warren III. Their home
Robert Neal Stanton [1936-1996]

Grand Haven attorney Neal Stanton was 59 when he died on February 2, 1996. He was a member of the Scholten & Fant law firm, starting there in 1963. He acted as assistant city attorney under Howard Fant in the early 1960s and from 1971 to November 1972 he was the city attorney. Neal was recognized throughout Michigan for his expertise in municipal annexation law. Neal was born August 14, 1936. He and his wife, Grace., resided at 1856 Far Hills Court in Grand Haven. Neal was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Anne [Anna] Temmen Stap [1852-1933]

Anne Stap and his wife, Swaantje “Sadie,” lived at 520 North Sixth Street in Grand Haven. Around 1905 Anne bought a feed store at the corner of Fulton and Third Streets [309 Fulton] from Enne Kraai, who had retired. Anne came to Ottawa County from his native Netherlands in 1880 and first found employment at a flourmill [probably Forrest Brothers on Second Street]. He worked there for seven years, then rented the mill for the next two years, when he purchased Cornelius Bos’s flour and feed business. He stayed with that for eight years, then bought a farm in Crockery Township. After five years as a farmer he returned to Grand Haven and resumed residency in his house on Sixth Street. At that time Anne bought the feed store on Fulton and Third but continued to live at 520 North Sixth. Anne was born in The Netherlands in February 1852 and died in Grand Haven about June 14, 1933. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Sadie, also a native of The Netherlands, was born in February 1850 and passed away in Grand Haven about June 12, 1937. She, too, was buried at Lake Forest. Among their children, all born locally, were Dora, born in February 1885; Gertrude, who born on March 20, 1888 and married John Yonker of Grand Haven; and Etta, born in October 1889.

Martin Stap was born in January 1863 [1864] on the Antilles Islands, a possession of The Netherlands, and immigrated to America when he was 19. He owned and operated a flour and feed store at 705 Washington in Grand Haven during the early 1900s but had left the business by 1920. He married Jacoba Pals in Grand Haven on May 4, 1887. Jacoba was born in The Netherlands in June 1866. Their children were Katie, born in February 1888; Tieman “Tim,” born in February 1890; John, born in February 1897; Martha, born in 1901; Maria J., born about 1904; and Anna Margaret, born about 1912. The family resided at 820 Franklin. The Staps were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Martin died in 1935 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Staples [Staple] [1848-?]

Born in The Netherlands in October 1848, John Staples was a farmer and fruit grower with 36 acres in Section 13 of Spring Lake Township. He came to the area in 1870. Prior to his arrival, he was a teamster in his native land. His wife, Mary A., was born in May 1845 in Ireland [Canada]. She died January 7, 1903 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Agnes Stark [1864-1931]

See Agnes Stark Koster.

Bernardus [Byron] Stark [1825-1898]
Bernardus Stark, who lived from 1825 to July 29, 1898, was listed as “laborer” in the 1893 Compendium. However, he and his wife, Grietje [Gracie] Kusta, lived on a farm in Crockery Township in 1870, but by 1880 had moved to Spring Lake, where Bernardus was employed in a sawmill. The Starks had a son, John, who was born in The Netherlands in 1855, and another son, William, who was born locally around 1859 and married Anna Workman in Spring Lake on March 20, 1889. Their daughter, Peterka [Anna], who was born in Crockery Township in April 1862, married Peter De Witt of Spring Lake. Grietje was born in 1825 and died in 1891. She and Bernardus, both natives of The Netherlands, were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with other family members.

Henry Stark [@1853-1927]

Henry Stark, born about 1853, was a farmer and stockman with 100 acres in Section 11 of Crockery Township. He moved there from Green Valley, Wisconsin in 1910 and became well known for the ducks and geese he raised. His wife, Tryphena, was born in Indiana about 1854. Their children, all born in Wisconsin, were Flora, who was born about 1878 and settled in Green Valley, Wisconsin; Carmelle, born about 1879; Walter, who was born about 1881 and moved to Muskegon; Ellen, who was born in 1882 and married a Mr. Capelle, of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin; Josephine, who was born on March 6, 1886 and married John Klass Holtrup of Nunica; Myron, who was born in 1889 and moved to Muskegon; Rufus; and Meta. Henry died on January 13, 1927, at his home in Nunica.

John Stark [1822-1903]

John, who was born on December 7, 1822 in Montreal, was the son of Alexander Stark. Alexander, a native of Glasgow, Scotland, lived from 1791 to 1873. John came to Grand Haven in 1869 and became one of the best-known marine men of his era and was at one time chief engineer of the famous Detroit & Milwaukee steamer Detroit, known, with her sister ship Milwaukee, as one of the “black boats.” Later he served as U.S. inspector of boilers of this district and acted as clerk of the local Steamboat Inspection Board. John and his brother-in-law, George W. Miller, opened a hardware store, Miller & Company Hardware, at 202-204 Washington in 1869.

In February 1856, in Canada, John married Sarah Morse, who was born in October 1828 in Chippewa, Canada. Her sister Nellie married George W. Miller of Grand Haven. She had another sister, Jane, who married Isaac Breckon of Chautauqua County New York, and a brother, Hiram Morse. Sarah was an early member of the Grand Haven Woman’s Club and the Presbyterian Church. The Starks’ children included Agnes Y., who was born in Detroit on October 3, 1864 and married Louis F. Koster, and Margaret. Margaret, born on May 3, 1859, was the first librarian of record in Grand Haven. The family home was at 232 Franklin Street. Sarah died on November 16, 1909, and John died on May 9, 1903. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, November 17, 1909.]

John B. Stark [1855-1923]

John, the son of Bernardus and Grietje Stark, was born in Laanda, The Netherlands in 1855 and lived in the Spring Lake area most of his life. He was associated with the White & Friant Lumber Company. He passed away July 3, 1923 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. He married Elizabeth Ricke in Spring Lake on March 26, 1884. She lived from 1860 to 1913 and was buried with her husband and other family members.

Margaret A. Stark [1859-1924]

Margaret, the daughter of John and Sarah Morse Stark, was the first librarian of record in the Grand Haven area, dating back to 1882. She worked for the Grand Haven Library Association, a subscription library with membership fees of 50 cents and books costing 10 cents a week. Edward P. Ferry was president, William H. Brown, secretary, and Emma Alford was a member of record. Margaret, who was born on May 3, 1859 in Detroit, except for teaching assignments outside the Grand Haven area, lived in her childhood home at 232 Franklin until her death. Margaret graduated from Ypsilianti State Normal College [Eastern Michigan University] and taught in public schools and as a private tutor in Grand Haven, Muskegon Heights, Gaylord, and Royal Oak, as well as in the states of Nevada, California, and Arizona. She was a charter member of the Grand Haven Woman’s Club. Margaret died at Mercy Hospital in Muskegon on March 23, 1924 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. She had been living with her sister and brother-in-law, Agnes and Louis Koster, at 514 Franklin Street. [Tribune obituary, March 24, 1924.]

Benjamin Franklin Starr [1826-1905]

Born in New York State in 1826, Benjamin Starr settled in Ottawa County. He opened the Pomona Hotel in Fruitport on Spring Lake in 1871, which was the first summer resort hotel in the vicinity. In 1871 he came to Grand Haven and managed the Cutler Hotel when it opened. Owned by Dwight Cutler, it was considered to be the finest hotel in the state. He married Isa J. Quigley on September 16, 1884 in Jackson. According to the 1880 census, the Starrs were then residing in Allegan. Known coast to coast as a premier hotelier, Benjamin died in Denver, Colorado on January 20, 1905.

Hilbrant [Hildebrandt] Start [1841-1915]

Hilbrant Start, born in 1841 in The Netherlands, ran a boarding house in Spring Lake during the late 1880s. It was located at 410 River Street. On July 18, 1866 in Grand Haven, Hilbrant married Anje “Anna” Dobb. She was born in The Netherlands on January 24, 1841 and died in Spring Lake on May 24, 1935. Their daughter, Frances, married Albert Kruizenga. Hilbrant died on March 24, 1915. The other children were Jacob, who was born November 20, 1868; Urouwke, who lived from November 3, 1870 to August 17 the next year; Clara, who was born March 30, 1874; Hippe, who was born on March 24, 1879; Hipe, who was born on March 24, 1879, married Gertrude Geldersma [March 26, 1888-February 14, 1991], and died on May 29, 1862; and Neal, who married Jennie Bolthouse [April 9, 1905-February 22, 1985]. Hilbrant and Anna were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Martin Start I [1889-1936]

Born on January 19, 1889 Martin Start I died in 1936 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Martin and John Brongersma founded the Brongersma & Start Coal Company around 1912. Martin married Elize Bookhoudt in Crockery Township on May 15, 1912. Their son, Martin II, was born on June 30, 1922 and died, in Grand Haven on September 12, 1996. The Martin residence in Spring Lake was at 214 East Exchange.

Charles E. Stearns I [1840-1910]

Charles Stearns was born on October 5, 1840. His 100-acre farm was located in Section 8 of Robinson Township. Charles served as township supervisor from 1893 to 1901. In 1899 he was hired to build a permanent bridge over Stearns Bayou, which he accomplished by staking the existing float bridge with logs until they were nine feet above the water line and then covering them with sand. He died on October 4, 1910 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery with his wife, Maria E. Fairbanks, who lived from 1846 to 1909. A son, Clinton R., who lived from August 12, 1874 to December 9, 1911, also was buried there. Another son, Charles II, was born in Grand Haven in 1883 and married Cora Seifert in Grand Haven on August 23, 1907. May married Richard Berg in Grand Haven on October 8, 1905. Richard was the son of Frederich and Minnie Krull Berg of Grand Haven Township. A daughter Nellie, born in 1878, on January 1, 1900 married Jason A. Pelton of Robinson Township. Two years later, on October 30, Nellie married Elwin G. Blakely, also of Robinson Township.

George Le Grande Stearns [1832-1911]

George Stearns came to Grand Haven from Iowa in 1873 and joined Mr. Chaffee in forming the Chaffee, Stearn windmill manufacturing business. The next year he bought out Chaffee, and continued to produce regulator windmills, pumps, cylinders, windmill derricks, and tanks. By 1877 George had been joined by his brother Lawton, and the name of the business was changed first to Stearns Brothers and then to Stearns Manufacturing Company. It produced sashes, doors, and blinds. Apparently the factory, located on the corner of Seventh and Elliott Streets, was destroyed by fire in 1883. George was born on January 22, 1832 [1835] in Amsterdam, Montgomery County, New York and moved in 1856 to Wisconsin. He was the son of Asa and Anna Paddock Stearns. On March 20, 1859 in Eagle, Wisconsin, he married Marietta [Mary] E. Snyder, who was born on May 15, 1835 in New York State. They had five children, none born in Michigan. While living in Rockford, Illinois, George enlisted as corporal in the 67th Illinois Infantry on June 13, 1862 and was mustered out the following September 27. He moved to Cedar Falls, Iowa, where he married Angeline, a sister of Marietta, who had died in Wisconsin on October 26, 1865. Angeline was born in New York in July 1827. George and Angeline were residing in Los Angeles, California by 1900. George died in Amsterdam, New York, in 1911. Angeline had died in 1907. Both were buried at Hollywood, California.

John Fisk Stearns [1813-?]

John F. Stearns was born in Chesterfield, New Hampshire on May 22, 1813. He built a warehouse on the northwest corner of Washington and Water [Harbor] in the early years of Grand Haven’s settlement. Clark Albee later purchased the building. In 1833 John was living in Chippewa County. On September 10, 1838 he purchased 320 acres in Sections 6 and 7 in Robinson Township and additional acreage in Allegan County and elsewhere throughout Michigan, undoubtedly for lumbering purposes. His land in Robinson surrounded the inlet that was named for him, Stearns Bayou. On February 22, 1841 he was named postmaster of Port Sheldon. In the 1840s he was active in the lumber business in Newaygo County and on December 28, 1847 he was named postmaster of Stearn’s Mills, which in 1850 he changed to Croton. He continued to hold the position of postmaster. On May 20, 1852 in Kalamazoo, John married Cordelia Bonney, who was born about 1831, apparently in Newaygo County. There is no record that John ever lived in Ottawa County.

Lawton Benson Stearns [1836-1911]

Born on March 11, 1836 [1837] in Amsterdam, Montgomery County, New York, Lawton was the son of Asa and Anna Paddock Stearns. Lawton started out as a harness maker. In 1855 he went to Wisconsin, and on August 14, 1862 he enlisted Company A of the Wisconsin 1st Heavy Artillery. He was mustered out on June 26, 1865, with the rank of sergeant. He came to Grand Haven before 1877 to join his brother, George L., in the manufacture of wood products, such as windmills and tanks. Lawton married Frances Caroline Payne of Wisconsin on March 23, 1864. She was born in Wisconsin around 1841. Their children included James, who was born in Whitewater, Wisconsin on June 24, 1867; Edward, who was born in Wisconsin about 1868; and twins Frances Clara and Carrie May who were born in Grand Haven on February 19, 1878. On August 22, 1890, while living in Oregon, Lawton applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. Frances died in Oregon on February 22, 1901. Lawton died in the same state on March 10, 1911.

Joe Steel [1860-1971]

See Monroe Rutty.

Gertrude Burmeister Steele [1899-1988]

Born on February 8, 1899 in Shelby, Oceana County, Gertrude was the daughter of Christ and Hattie Burmeister, both natives of Germany. Gertrude and her mother were residents of Grand Haven as early as 1910; apparently her father had died by then. On January 23, 1924 Gertrude married Samuel Terry Steele in Grand Haven. By 1930 the Steeles were living in a farmhouse in Section 4 of Grand Haven Township, slightly south of Rosy Mound dune. The property formerly was the home of John Majerus and his family. Living with the Steeles was their son, Robert, who was born in Ann Arbor on March 4, 1922, and Gertrude’s mother, Hattie, born about 1862. Sam in 1930 worked as a cutter at the Eagle Ottawa Leather Company in Grand Haven, but ten years later was doing “odd jobs.” Gertrude was a self-employed housekeeper. She was a member of St. John’s Lutheran Church. Samuel was born on June 3, 1887 in Douglas, Montcalm County. died on March 21, 1956 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Sam served as a private with the Army during WWI, and he worked as a “hired hand” in the home of Henry and Flora Ingraham in Douglass in 1920. Gertrude, who moved to 222 Clinton, died on December 18, 1988. Robert passed away in Spring Lake on July 9, 2007.
Henry “Harry” Steele [@1804-1858], Zina Steele [@1807- ?], and George Steele [Steel, Stiles] [@1820- ?]

In 1841, a year after coming to Tallmadge Township from New York, Henry Steele planted a fruit orchard near what is now Lamont, one of the first in the county. On November 1, 1841 Henry and his brother Zina Steele combined to buy 140 acres in Section 7 of Tallmadge Township from A. D. Yeomans. Henry was born about 1804 in New York, Zina was born in Oswego County, New York, around about 1807, and George, another brother who settled in Ottawa County, was born in New York about 1820. On April 1, 1850 Henry bought 40 acres in Section 1 of Allendale Township. Henry and Zina Steele platted the Village of Lamont in 1856, which was known first as Middleville, then Steele’s Landing, and finally as Lamont. On January 1, 1867 Zina bought 80 acres in Section 26 of Robinson Township. Henry’s wife, Rebecca, was born in New York in 1805 and passed away in 1895. All three brothers were farmers, but Zina also owned a store and grist mill. Harry was killed by a bursting millstone. Henry died on December 28, 1858 and was buried at Maplewood Cemetery, as was Rebecca. Henry and Rebecca had a daughter, Jane Harriet, who married Peter Weatherwax [1814-1910]. Jane lived from November 27, 1820 to September 28, 1899. She, too, was buried at Maplewood.

Albert Stegeman [Stegman] [@1829-1901]

Born in The Netherlands about 1829, Albert Stegeman settled in Holland, Michigan in 1847 with his parents. He moved to Grand Haven six years later, where by 1860 he was a merchant. In August 1863, he bought Clark Albee’s commission business and continued it in the same building on the northwest corner of Washington and Harbor Streets, later the site of the Grand Trunk Depot [Tri-Cities Historical Museum]. Albert also had a store in Allegan that carried $60,000 worth of merchandise. He later moved to California and raised lemons and oranges. He died in National City, California on December 13, 1901. His wife, Isabella [Poubella], was born about 1835 in New York and died on September 1, 1865. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 3, 1901.]

Ale Popke Stegenga [1842-1867]

A native of The Netherlands, where he was born on June 28, 1842, Ale Stegenga settled in Holland with his family in August 1847. Two years later he became a farmer and settled on Section 8 of Olive Township. He became justice of the peace, notary public, school commissioner, town Clerk for five years, and served at least seven terms as supervisor. On December 12, 1868 Ale married Martje “Martha” Diekema, who was born on November 1, 1846. They had five children. Residing with them was Ale’s father, Popke, who was born on September 6, 1801 in The Netherlands. On April 23, 1828, Popke married Johantje Blijstra, who was born on January 27, 1801. The older Stegengas celebrated 54 years of marriage in 1882.

Foeke “Frank” S. Stegenga [1872-1943]

Frank Stegenga, the son of Siebolt P. and Eke Douma Stegenga, was born in Grand Haven on December 6, 1872 and died there on April 12, 1943. On April 5, 1899 in Grand Haven he married Marie Van Doorne, who was born in Holland, Michigan, on July 31, 1876, died in Grand Haven on April 15, 1938, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Marie was the daughter of Martin and Elizabeth Balgooyen Van Doorne I. Frank was a building contractor. The Stegenga family lived at 1306 Columbus, where Frank also had his office. Later they lived at 932 Washington, with their daughters, Dorothy A., born in 1912, and Marian Ruth, born in 1916. A third daughter, Elizabeth Frances, who was born October 21, 1904, married George V. Steketee in Grand Haven on October 12, 1929 and died in San Diego County, California on August 4, 1980. The Stegenga family attended the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven.

Jack W. Steigenga [1942-2002]

In the 1960s and early 1970s Jack Steigenga and his wife owned and operated the Lamplighter Restaurant at 20 Washington in Grand Haven. Their slogan was, “A Touch of Dutch.” He married Hazel Bakker in Holland. Jack, the son of Jacob and Harriet De Koster Steigenga, was born in Holland, Michigan, on May 7, 1942. He served with the Navy and was a member of the Second Christian Reformed Church. Prior to opening the Lamplighter, Jack was chef for many years at one of Russ’ Restaurants in Holland. He also was employed by the Grand River Inn and Christian Haven. After the restaurant closed Jack became sales representative for United Electric and Northern Electric. Jack and Hazel resided at 221 Clinton in Grand Haven and later at 14841 State Road in Spring Lake Township. The Steigengas had three children: Kendall of Spring Lake; Kimberly, who married Dean Mesman of Riverside, California; and Kristine, who married Stephen Spaulding of Enterprise, Alabama. Jack passed away in Spring Lake on May 11, 2002. [Tribune obituary, May 15, 2002.]

Christian John Steinbach [1897-1959]

C. John Steinbach started Michigan Auto Parts in 1926. It was first located at 531 Fulton Avenue, moved to 16 North Seventh Street and in 1949 expanded to 14 North Seventh. After his death in 1959, John’s sons John and George ran the business and renamed it Lake Michigan Auto Parts. John’s widow Melissa worked in the business until her death on March 31, 1969. She was born as Melissa Louise Schott on November 23, 1900 in Eggelston Township, Muskegon County, died on May 31, 1969, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. George Stewart was a partner in Healy C. Akeley’s Grand Haven law office around 1870. George was born in Ohio in 1847, died in Grand Haven on March 22, 1885, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Carrie, also from the Buckeye state, was born about 1851.

Mary Amelia Stewart [1875-1963]

Mary was the daughter of William and Mary Nash Stewart. Her father was bookkeeper for the White, Friant, & Company Sawmill in 1882, and later agent for the Grand Trunk Railroad in Grand Haven. Mary was a graduate of Akeley Hall. For 18 years she was director of the Central School kindergarten in Grand Haven. Born in Dunnville, Canada, on August 1, 1875, she came to Grand Haven with her parents when she was a girl and lived with them at 609 Washington. William was born in April 1839 and Mary in February 1843. Mary, the daughter, died on May 23, 1963 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

William W. Stewart [1871-1906]

William Stewart was born in Niagara Falls, Ontario and married Mary A. Nash of Buffalo, New York in 1871. They had one daughter, Mary, a Grand Haven teacher. The family lived at 609 Washington. William was bookkeeper at the White, Friant & Co. Sawmill in 1882. In later years, he became the agent for the Grand Trunk Railroad and held that job for twelve years. He was also the purser for the steamer City of Milwaukee. William was instrumental in building the first permanent bridge over the Niagara River. He died March 14, 1906 and was buried at Niagara Falls Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 22, 1906.]

George Stickney [1838-1916]

When the First National Bank of Grand Haven was formed in 1871 and absorbed the business of Ferry & Son Bank, George Stickney was named Cashier. Prior to that George was Grand Haven agent for the Engelmann Transportation Company of Milwaukee. In 1881 he was named secretary-treasurer of the new Challenge Corn Planter Company, and four years later he became treasurer of the new Grand Haven Leather Company. George was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. Some time after 1900 he left Grand Haven and ten years later, he was a widower living in Boulder, Colorado and working as a banker in Boulder, Colorado.

On October 14, 1869, George married Marion Louisa Burnett in Grand Rapids. Their children, both born in Michigan, were Lorine, born about 1861, and Marion [Marian], born in October 1875. George’s mother, Martha Burnett Stickney, resided with the family in the 1880s. She died on December 30, 1888 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Marion Louisa, the mother, died on July 4, 1879 at the age of 42 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. George was born on August 25, 1838 in Cleveland, Ohio, the son of William Henry and Martha Burnett [Branch] Stickney. He died on October 17, 1916 and was buried at Lake Forest with other family members.

Leonard Stickney [1838-1917]

On August 29, 1864, Leonard Stickney enlisted in Company F of the 5th Wisconsin Infantry as private. He was mustered out on May 24 the next year. Leonard was born in Canada on January 12, 1838, settled in Plainfield, Wisconsin, and moved to Grand Haven about 1884 to take up the trade of carpentry. He owned more than 90 acres in two separate parcels south of Robbins Road and west of Sheldon [Section 32 of Grand Haven Township], including what came to be known as Stickney Ridge, and more than 80 acres in Section 4 of Spring Lake Township. On April 26, 1867 in Plainfield, Wisconsin, Leonard married Charlotte Cook, a native of New York. She lived from July 4, 1848 to February 17, 1922 and was buried in the family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Stickneys lived at 715 Sheldon. A son, William, was born in Wisconsin about 1869; another son, Willard, also from Wisconsin, was born on June 29, 1875; and Anna, a daughter, was born in Plainfield, Wisconsin in 1877. She married Clarence H. Buhl in Grand Haven on October 12, 1895. Leonard died in Grand Haven on February 3, 1917 and was buried at Lake Forest.

Willard David Stickney [1875-1936]

Born on June 29, 1875 in Wisconsin, Willard Stickney arrived in Grand Haven with his parents when he was 9 or 10 years old. He was the son of Leonard and Charlotte Stickney of Grand Haven. [Another Willard Stickney lived from 1849 to December 1899 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.] On February 1, 1873, Willard’s father bought a little more than 80 acres in Section 4 of Spring Lake Township. Willard, a carpenter and house builder like his father, was among the first to promote resort business through the development of Stickney Ridge, south of Highland Park, land also purchased by his father. Willard built a garage, store, and some cottages, doing most of the work himself, at Stickney Ridge. Willard married Tillie [Hellena/Helen] Gerow in Grand Haven on August 19, 1896. Tillie was born in September 1878 in Michigan [Canada]. In 1918 the Stickneys resided at 522 Slayton. Willard died in 1936 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members.

Heinrich “Henry” Stille [1848-1930]

Henry Stille immigrated from Germany to the United States in 1866, when he was 18 years old. About 1869 he married Emilie [Amelia] Michalis [Michaelis], who was born in Prussia in 1852. A year later the Stilles owned an 80-acre farm in Section 24 of Grand Haven Township, where they raised their children, including Otto, who lived from 1873-1919; Willi [William], who lived from 1874 to 1930; Minna, who was born in 1876 and died on March 9, 1897; Matilda, who was born about 1885 and on November 1, 1906 married Carl Berg in Grand Haven. Two more children, Martha and Herman, were born in 1889 and 1892 respectively. In the 1880 Federal Census, Emile’s parents were living on the Stilles’ farm: Johann Michalis, who was born in 1819 in Prussia and died on March 5, 1888, and Johanna [Hannah], who lived from 1819 to January 23, 1903. The Stilles’ farm had grown to 200 acres by the late 1890s. By 1928 Henry was a machinist at Grand Haven Brass Foundry, but he and Emilie continued to reside on the farm on 144th Avenue. Henry passed away in 1930, and Emilie died the next year. They and their children were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery, as were Johanna’s parents.

Edward E. Stites [1856-1932]

Edward Stites platted the Village of Johnsville on May 16, 1889. It was named for John Behm, who settled in the area in the 1860s, but the town was renamed Agnew in 1889 for an executive of the Chicago & West Michigan Railroad, which serviced the area. Edward was born in Fulton County, Ohio, on October 31, 1856. He married Sarah Nellie Stoddard on August 24, 1879 in Fairfield, Lenawee County. She was born on July 15, 1857, died on March 28, 1941, and was buried at Ottokie Cemetery in Fulton County. Edward died on January 8, 1932 and also was buried at Ottokie Cemetery. A son, Issac Curtis, was born on February 11, 1886 in Johnsville [Agnew], died on July 3, 1949, and was buried at Wauseon Union Cemetery in Fulton County. Another son, Arthur, was born in 1884 in Ottawa County, died in 1954, and was buried at Greenlawn Cemetery in Fulton County.

A. William Stittgen [1854-1916]

In the early 1900s William Stittgen was proprietor of the Gildner Hotel, at the southeast corner of Washington and Water Streets [2 Washington]. William was a native of Germany, where he was born in February 1854. He and his wife Anna made their residence in the hotel. By 1910 William was the proprietor of a saloon in Milwaukee. Anna was born in Germany around 1870 [1866]. She immigrated to America in 1875, ten years after her future husband. They were residing in Milwaukee by 1910. She may have died, because William married Anna Piplow Gill, in St. Joseph, Berrien County on October 1, 1913. Both listed their residences as Milwaukee at the time of their marriage. This Anna was born in Michigan about 1863. William died in Milwaukee on December 15, 1916 and was buried at Holy Trinity Cemetery.

Luanne Lynn Stobb [1963-1978]
Born September 23, 1963 in Grand Haven Luanne was the daughter of Wallace and Betty Stobb. Her father was principal of Grand Haven Christian School from 1957 to 1966. Luanne was sister to David, Sharon, Joy, and Judy Beth. The Stobbs resided at 1210 Oakes in Grand Haven. Luanne, an honor student, was valedictorian on June 7, 1978 of her ninth grade graduating class at Grand Haven Christian School. Two days after becoming ill with flu-like symptoms, Luanne died on October 22, 1978, of gangrene of the leg at age 15. No cause for the gangrene was found. Two paintings were commissioned by artist Rob Michmerhuizen depicting Luanne’s scholastic achievements, her love of music as a pianist, her appreciation of nature, and especially growing violet plants. The panels were hung in the main entrance to Grand Haven Christian School, the one on the left showing her everyday mortal level interests and the one on the right portraying her experience of salvation. Her mother, Betty, later married Frank Nagy of Grand Haven. [Tribune obituary, October 23, 1978, and Tribune article “Artist Brings Out Love and Eternity,” December 18, 1979.]

Robert Stobbelaar [1918-1995]

Born on January 8, 1918 in Grand Rapids, Robert Stobbelar graduated from Central High School and then attended Harvard University and the University of Illinois and graduated from Michigan Medical School. He served in the Medical Corps during WWII. Robert married Roberta Burns on December 25, 1944, and they had two children, Richard and Karen. The family lived at 78 Grand. Robert began his medical/surgical practice in Grand Haven in 1948, retired in 1976, and moved to Ft. Myers, Florida. Robert was a member and president of the Ottawa County Medical Society, chief of staff and surgery at North Ottawa Community Hospital, and a member of Spring Lake Country Club, Grand Haven Rotary, Grand Haven Stag Club, and St. John’s Episcopal Church. He died on April 7, 1995 in Ft. Myers.

Roberta was born in Grand Haven on November 20, 1920, the daughter of Robert and Elizabeth Burns. She graduated valedictorian of Grand Haven High School in 1938, continued her studies at Eastern Michigan University, and attended graduate school at the University of Michigan. She was a member of the League of Women Voters, served as president of the Women's Club, was on the Ottawa County Mental Health Board, the Community Center Board, the Grand Haven Planning Commission, and the Human Relations Commission. She also volunteered as a Child Advocate for C.A.S.A. and was appointed to Citizens for Michigan by Gov. Romney. Roberta died in Ft. Myers on May 7, 2004. Her sister, Elizabeth, married Walter J. Draeger I of Grand Haven. [Tribune obituary, April 10, 1995, and the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor Herald-Palladium, May 8, 2004.]

William Stoddard [? -1854]

William Stoddard was commander of the Governor Mason, the first steamboat to run between Grand Rapids and Grand Haven. Built in Grand Rapids by James Short for Richard Godfrey, the boat began service on July 4, 1837. William died in Barry County in 1854.

Edwin F. Stokes [1855-1946]

The son of Frederick Stokes, Edwin was born in Racine, Wisconsin on March 2, 1855 [1857]. He became a machinist in Grand Haven. He married Sarah Luikens in Grand Haven on October 2, 1880. She was the daughter of John and Sarah vanden Berg Oakes of Grand Haven. Edwin and Sarah resided on Elliott Street around 1900 and were at 114 [110] Howard by 1908. Their children, all born locally, were John Edwin, born on January 2, 1883 and passed away about March 29, 1918; Frederick L., who was born on July 15, 1886, and Edna E., who was born in June 25, 1888, married a Howard Bradley, and moved to Chicago. Fred and John were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Sarah lived from October 1861 to May 26, 1926 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1930 Edwin was residing alone in the house on Howard Street. He died in Grand Haven on January 4, 1946.

Frederick Stokes [1815-1904]
Frederick Stokes was born in England on May 24, 1815. He immigrated to the Grand Haven area, evidently by way of Wisconsin. In Grand Haven he was listed in the 1880 census as a florist and in the 1893 Compendium as “farmer.” Frederick’s wife, Harriet, was born in England about 1822. Their daughter, Emma, was born in London, England in 1847 and married Martin Reenders. After Martin died, Emma in 1891 became Orson Vander Hoef’s second wife. Frederick’s and Harriet’s other children were Edwin, who was born in Wisconsin in March 1855; Walter, who was born in 1857, married Sena Helder, died about April 13, 1926 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; and James, who was born about 1861 in Wisconsin, became a resident of Grand Haven, and married Ella Sech. In 1906 August Boseker bought the Stokeses’ farm, located at 1308 Lake Avenue. Frederick died in Grand Haven on April 27, 1904 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Frederick Louis Stokes [1886-1918]
Frederick L. Stokes, who was born on July 15, 1886, became a Grand Haven jeweler. His parents were Edwin and Sarah Luikens Stokes of Grand Haven. On June 26, 1910 he married Hattie M. Riley in Grand Haven. Hattie was born in Muskegon in 1891. Fred died on March 13, 1918 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John “Jack” Edwin Stokes [1883-1918]
Born on January 2, 1883, John was the son of Edwin and Sarah Luikens Stokes of Grand Haven. John became a marine engineer, died on October 26, 1918, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On December 6, 1910 in Grand Haven, he married Emma Walsma. For 20 years she worked as librarian at Grand Haven’s Carnegie Library. Emma died about May 17, 1974 and was buried at Lake Forest with her husband.

Enos Stone [1826-1905]
Born in Essex County, New York on August 10, 1826, Enos Stone was educated for a time in the English schools in New York until he was about 13 years of age, when both his parents died. He went to Summit County, Ohio where he worked in a sawmill and on a farm, and began dealing in horses, cattle, sheep, and real estate. On July 6, 1848 in Franklin County, Ohio, he married Mehetable “Hattie” Armstead. They had three children, including Mary J., who was born in New York about 1850 and Adelbert, born in Ohio around 1861. When Hattie died, Enos married Louisa Jane [Jennie] D. Trotter in Summit County, Ohio on October 7, 1864. Louisa was born in Ohio in October 1835. Enos and Louisa had at least two children Raymond, born in Ohio in 1872. In 1872 Enos and his wife came to Grand Haven, where he purchased an interest in the Bigelow, Stone & Company Sawmill that manufactured pine lumber. When the company went out of business in 1890, Enos took advantage of his earlier experience with horses and bought a livery business at the southeast corner of Third and Columbus Streets [20 North Third] in Grand Haven, which became quite profitable. The 1893 Compendium carried one of his advertisements, in which he offered “The Finest Horses and Carriages in the City. Hearse and Hacks for Funerals.” In 1894 he advertised in the Grand Haven Tribune that he had “on hand 400 cords of good hard and soft slab wood that formerly sold at $1.50 a cord, but which now goes at $1 per cord, cash.” Enos died on December 23, 1905. After his death, his widow resided at 211 Washington.

George W. Stone [@1830-1890]
George Stone, who was born in New York about 1830, moved to Grand Haven, and worked in one of the sawmills. His wife, Mehtable, also from New York, lived from April 1832 to August 4, 1885. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children, all born in Ohio, were Clara, born about 1864; Lillie, who was born about 1865 and married John W. Barnes II of Grand Haven; and Erastus, born about 1868. In 1880 the Stone family resided on Washington Street. George passed away about January 12, 1890 and was buried with his wife at Lake Forest.

Stewart [Steward] Stone [1886-1958]
After the post office at the corner of First and Washington Streets moved to a new building at the northwest corner of Washington and Third Streets [235 Washington] in 1905, Stewart Stone and William Fant started a billiard hall and bowling alley in the east half of the old building. They called it the Ideal Pool Room. In the early 1900s Stewart resided at 628 Fulton with his parents, Bert and Anna Hauley Stone. On June 30, 1908 in Spring Lake, Stewart married Margaret, the daughter of Andrew and Mary Clark Falls. Margaret was born locally on December 25, 1885. By 1920 and into the 1930s Stewart and Margaret were living in Detroit with their two daughters, Eileen and Jacqueline. Stewart’s father, Bert, died about October 8, 1936 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Stewart passed away in Los Angeles on July 12, 1958, and Margaret died in Alameda, California on March 14, 1951.

Carlton L. Storrs [Stores] [1824–1894]

One of the wealthiest and most influential lumbermen in Western Michigan, Carlton Storrs owned and lumbered a large portion of Blendon Township and surrounding townships under the name C. L. Storrs & Company, Lumbermen. His headquarters were located in Section 26 of Blendon. He was the moving spirit in the building of the Michigan-Ohio Railroad, which was to run from Grand Haven to Toledo, Ohio, but failed after thousands of dollars had been invested. Jerry Boynton finally succeeded in making Storrs’s dream a reality. Carlton, born in 1824, died penniless on November 21, 1894 in Grand Rapids and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Mary Jane, lived from March 2, 1832 to December 30, 1872, and also was interred at Lake Forest. In 1860 Carlton, Mary Jane, and four of their children were living in Blendon Township.

Edward Hampton Story [@1866-1939]

When the Story & Clark Piano Company opened its Grand Haven factory in 1901, Edward Story was president. He resided in Riverside, Illinois. His father, Hampton Lovegrove Story, founded the company. After Hampton’s departure, Edward worked with his brother Fuller [Frank] in running the plant. Edward was born in Vermont about 1866 and died on September 3, 1939. His mother was Marian L. Fuller.

Frank Fuller Story I [1873-1950]

The son of Hampton and Marian Fuller Story, Frank was born in Illinois in 1873. In 1908 he resided in Grand Haven with his wife, Ruth F., who was born in Illinois about 1880. They were married about 1902. In the early 1900s Fuller, as he came to be known, filled the office of vice president at the Story & Clark Piano Company in Grand Haven. By 1920 and into the 1930s the family lived in Riverside, Illinois, and Fuller was vice president and treasurer of the piano company there. Their children were Edward F., born in Illinois about 1907, and Frank II, who was born in Illinois about 1912 and died in Spring Lake on October 7, 1961 Frank II married Olive Duffield. They had two children, Frank Story III and Thomas Hampton Story. Frank passed away in Florida on January 29, 1950. [Tribune article, “Frank Story, Sr., Dies at Fla. Home.”]

Hampton Lovegrove Story [1835-1925]

Hampton, the founder of the Story & Clark Piano Company, was born in Lemoille, Vermont, on June 17, 1835, the son of Andrew and Adeline Read Story. He served as corporal with Company C of the 12th Vermont Infantry during the Civil War, and on December 19, 1904 he filed for an invalid’s Civil War pension. Hampton started producing pianos in Burlington, Vermont, in 1857 and moved operations to Chicago in 1867. After a short association with Isaac Camp, Hampton sold his interest in 1884 to the Estey Organ Company for $250,000 and then teamed up with Melville Clark and started to manufacture pianos under the name Story & Clark. The company moved its production to Grand Haven at the urging of the Grand Haven Board of Trade in 1901, where it remained until 1984, some twenty years after the Story family left the firm.
Hampton married Marian L. Fuller in Burlington, Vermont, on January 1, 1862. She was born in Vermont around 1843. Their sons were Edward H., born in Vermont about 1866; Robert, born about 1872 in Illinois; and Frank Fuller, born about 1874 in Illinois.

After divorcing Marian, Hampton married his secretary, Adella B. Ellis, in Chicago on March 20, 1876. Adella was born in New York around 1847. Her mother, Charlotte Ellis, was born in New York around 1831. Hampton and Adella had two children both born in Illinois: Adeline, born about 1877, and Ellis, born about 1879. In 1880 the Storys were residing in Du Page County, Illinois. In 1884 Hampton left the Story & Camp Piano Company in Chicago and formed Story & Clark Piano Company with his son, Edward, and Melville Clark as partner. In the mid-1880s Hampton partnered with Elisha Babcock to form the Coronado Beach Company in San Diego, California and opened the Hotel del Coronado in 1888.

Frank and Edward took over management and ownership of the family business when their father and Adella moved to Los Angeles, California no later than 1896. The couple was residing in Pasadena in 1900, 1910, and 1920. Hampton died in Los Angeles County on October 6, 1925 and was buried at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Glendale, California. Adella passed away on January 21, 1926 and was buried with her husband.

Lora Avery Smith Stuart [@1853- ?]
See Lora Avery Smith.

Robert Stuart [1785-1848]
Robert Stuart was born in Callander, Scotland on February 19, 1785. At the age of 22, at the invitation of his uncle, David Stuart, he immigrated to Montreal, Canada. Robert was fluent in French. In 1810, working for John Jacob Astor, Robert helped organize the Pacific Fur Company. In the same year he took the ship Tonquin on an expedition to the Columbia River and aided in laying the foundation of the city of Astoria, Oregon. Washington Irving chronicled this voyage in his book Astoria. Robert married Emma Elizabeth Sullivan on July 21, 1813, in New York City, who usually went by her middle name. She was born June 27, 1792, in Brooklyn, New York, and died in Detroit on September 26, 1866. Of their 12 children, none was born nor lived in Ottawa County.

In 1819 Robert went to Mackinac to manage the American Fur Company headquarters for 15 years. A contemporary, Juliette Kinzie of Chicago, who met Robert on Mackinac in 1830, praised him for his “noble bearing, his genial humor, his untiring benevolence, his upright, uncompromising adherence to principle, his ardent philanthropy, his noble disinterestedness.” [Wau-bun, 4] Rev. Ferry converted him to Christianity, and it was through Robert’s urging that Ferry in 1833 made a circuit of Lake Michigan, beginning and ending at Mackinac, but stopping at the mouth of the Grand River along the way. Robert supplied much of the capital needed for the Grand Haven settlement that followed shortly. Ferry wished to name the community “Stuart” in his honor, but Rix Robinson already had registered the name Grand Haven.

In 1834 Stuart was an equal partner with Robinson and Ferry of the Grand Haven Company for the purpose of buying pinelands, erecting mills, lumbering, etc. In 1835 Stuart became Government Indian Agent for the Northwest. In 1841 he was appointed Acting superintendent of Indian Affairs for Michigan, replacing Henry R. Schoolcraft. Robert served in that capacity until 1845. In 1846 he and his wife conveyed Block 13 of Akeley’s Addition to Ottawa County for public buildings. The county courthouse, offices, and jail were built on this site. Robert died in Chicago on October 29, 1848.

At that time he was living with his parents, Pascal and Mary Taylor, and his wife, Ann, who was born about 1849 in Ohio. He and Ann had a daughter, Carrie, who was born “In a Reserve” about February1860. In 1870 Hollis was living in Evanston, Illinois with his second wife, Lucinda, and their family. He was working as a carpenter. On December 9, 1872 he enlisted again, this time in Indianapolis. Hollis served as postmaster of Grand Haven from September 14, 1866 to May 19, 1867. He was born about 1834 in Cleveland, Ohio and died on July 11, 1873. Lucinda in August 1897 applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. She was born about 1845 in Illinois. They had at least two children: Charles, born in Texas about 1868, and Cora, born in Michigan about August 1869.

J. Rice Taylor [1818-1900]

Born in Niagara County, New York on October 3, 1818, J. Rice Taylor graduated from Kenyon College along with future U.S. President Rutherford B. Hayes. Taylor then entered the Theological Seminary in New York, graduated and was ordained in 1845. He married Henrietta Gambier on October 9 the same year, and they had five children. After his wife’s death in 1858, he moved to Saugatuck in Allegan County. Rice served as Chaplain in the 123rd U.S. Colored Infantry in Washington D.C. during the Civil War. He enlisted in Louisville, Kentucky on December 15, 1864 and was mustered out on October 16, 1865. He was said to be the first Episcopal Rector of Grand Haven, where he served until 1868, the year he was called to formally organize a church in Holland. He stayed there until 1874, when he spent a year in New York State, but then returned to Holland. He passed away on June 21, 1900. [Tribune obituaries June 21 and June 27, 1900.]

William Taylor [1856-1933]

William was born in Ireland about June 4, 1856, the son of James and Elizabeth Taylor. William settled in the area in 1904 on a 40-acre farm in Section 12 of Olive Township. He also delivered mail. His wife, Anne [Mary] Hill, was a native of Ireland, where she was born on June 29, 1842. The daughter of Gregg and Mary Melanophy Hill, she died on May 27, 1930 in Polkton Township, and William passed away on April 7, 1933. Both were buried at West Olive Cemetery.

Aletta “Lettie” Teeple [1829-1911]

Lettie Teeple was born on November 20, 1829 in Plymouth, Wayne County. Her parents, Peter and Sarah Losey Teeple, had moved from New York State in 1827 to Wayne County. In late 1836 the family moved to Cascade Township in Kent County, where the Teeple had purchased 700 acres of government land at $1.25 an acre. Peter built a small log home in Section 18 of the land he had take title to. Peter was born in New Jersey in 1797, died in Cascade Township on March 10, 1878, and was buried at Cascade Cemetery. Lettie’s mother, Sarah, lived from 1807 to 1873 and was buried at the same cemetery, as were several of their children.

It was in Cascade Township that Lettie spent the remainder of her youth. She came to the Grand Haven area in 1849 to be with her sister, Jane, and Jane’s husband, Thomas Merrill. Jane, born on January 30, 1826, was almost three years older than Lettie. The Merrills were married in 1846, and soon afterward moved to Ferrysburg.

Lettie tended to Henry Pennoyer’s children after his wife’s death in 1852 and also worked for him at the Washington House in downtown Grand Haven. On April 14, 1853, Lettie and Henry were married. At the time, Henry had four children. Lettie had previously married 20-year old William Rellingston on Christmas Day, 1849, in Grand Haven. William, a native of Germany, by July 12 the next year was gone from Lettie’s life forever. She filed for divorce and retained custody of their daughter, Sarah Jane, who was born on September 9, 1850. Because Henry had a daughter named Sarah, Lettie’s child came to be known as Jennie. Jennie on September 15, 1875 married Joseph L. Gibbs of Crockery Township. He lived from 1851 to 1906. Sarah Jane passed away in Crockery Township on September 26, 1925. She and Joseph had three children.

Five years after Henry’s death in 1886, Lettie moved to Oregon. She died in Seattle, Washington, on May 7, 1911. She was buried at Lone Fir Pine Cemetery in Multnomah County, Oregon. Portions of her extensive memoirs of life in early Grand Haven were printed in the Tri-Cities Historical Museum’s periodical Packet beginning with the Spring 2000 issue and continuing for several editions.

Abram [Abraham] Ten Hagen [1853-1929]
Abram, the son of Jan and Mary Ten Hagen, was born in Gelderland, The Netherlands on October 4, 1853 and came to the United States with his parents when he was five. Abram married Lavina Erskine, who was born in Indiana on April 3, 1858. Lavina and Abram had at four daughters, Sena, born in 1866, and Mary, born around 1879, Jennie, and Lucy, and two sons, Fred, born about 1890, and John, born about 1896. In 1893 and 1912 the family farm was in his brother John’s name, including additional acreage in Section 22 of Olive Township. By 1918 Abram was the sole owner of the 300-acre farm. Lavina died of gallbladder cancer on April 9, 1923 and was buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery. Abram died in Holland on April 8, 1929 and was buried at Pilgrim Home with his wife.

Jan [John] H. Ten Hagen [1810-1869]
Jan Ten Hagen bought a 40-acre farm in Section 26 of Olive Township on April 1, 1861, which he eventually expanded into Section 27 for a total of 540 acres. He also raised livestock. A creek flowing through his property was given the name Ten Hagen. Jan was born in Gelderland, The Netherlands, on August 1, 1810. On November 18, 1837 in The Netherlands, he married Gesina Maria “Mary” Words. Jan died in Olive Township on May 28, 1869. After Jan died, his wife Mary and their sons took over the farm. Mary was born in Gelderland, The Netherlands on August 20, 1813 and died sometime after 1900. Among their children were two sons, both born in The Netherlands: John in 1842 and Abram [Abraham] in 1853.

John Ten Hoeven [Ten Hoven] [1859-1921]
John Ten Hoeven’s 120-acre farm was in Section 34 of Olive Township. He settled there in 1894 and raised livestock. His wife, Johanna “Anna,” was born in The Netherlands in 1860. John was born in 1859 in the same country. They had at least five children, all born in Michigan: Dick, who was around 1883; Will, born about 1886; Dena, born around 1884; Jennie, born about 1897; and Hannah, born about 1891. John died in 1921 and Johanna passed away eight years later. Both were buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery in Holland.

Warren L. Tenney [1869-1942]
In 1894 Warren Tenny opened a photography studio in Grand Haven in association with Fred D. Brown. Warren was born on December 20, 1869 in Berlin [Marne], Wright Township. By 1910 he was residing in Muskegon Heights, working as an electrician. Ten years later he was a plumber. He married Alma [Alina/Alena] P. Mitchell in Muskegon on May 6, 1895. She was born in Ohio about 1874. They had a son, Dale M., who was born around 1903, and a daughter, Alice M., who was born about 1912. Both children were born in Michigan. Warren died in Muskegon on October 3, 1942 and was buried at Mona View Cemetery. Alma lived until April 1, 1971 and was buried with Warren.

Roscoe Verl Terrill [1903-1980]
Roscoe Terrill, who was born on November 9, 1903 in Hillsdale County, was City manager for Grand Haven from June 18, 1945 to December 1, 1968. A Registered Civil Engineer and Land Surveyor, Elder at the Grand Haven Presbyterian Church, and a member of MENSA, Roscoe was active for more than thirty years with the Cub and Boy Scouts. Roscoe died on August 10, 1980. On January 1, 1928, in Pittsford, Hillsdale County, he married Pauline Dorothy Ladd, who was born in Pittsford on November 24, 1902 and passed away in Largo, Florida on June 21, 1990. They had at least four children Merlin Verl, who was born about 1927, and Paul Wilson, who was born on June 4, 1930 and died in Grand Rapids on March 21, 1977 of leukemia. Merlin moved to Muskegon, where he resided with his wife, Norma. Roscoe and his family resided at 111 South Hopkins in Grand Haven in the 1940s. Roscoe and Pauline were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Nellie Sumner Terry [1875-1940]
Nellie Terry owned a summer home on 56 acres along Lake Michigan in Section 5 of Grand Haven Township. Her residence was at the south end of 178th Avenue, near Brucker. She came to the Grand Haven area in 1907. Terry Trails, the name given the family property, continued from the end of 178th into the wooded dunes and to the lake shore, was named for her family. The property was in Nellie’s name, usually listed as Mrs. N.S. Terry. By 1970 Carolyn Terry held title. Prior to the Terry family ownership, the land was in the name of Jane Gringhuis [recorded as Greenhouse], wife of Gerrit “Dick” Gringhuis.

In 1910, Nellie, her son Alfred, listed by his middle name Sumner, and John Terry, age 35, were in St. Paul, Minnesota. Nellie was noted as a singer, John [possibly Alfred Terry’s middle name] was a traveling salesman for a milk company. At the time of the 1920 Federal Census, Nellie was divorced and living in Detroit with her brother Julius Sumner and his family. Ten years later she was a resident at St. Joseph’s Retreat in Dearborn, a haven for the mentally ill. Nellie was a pianist, and on February 14, 1915 performed as a soloist at the Detroit Institute of Art. She was born as Nellie Sumner in Baraboo, Wisconsin on January 17, 1875, married Alfred J. Terry in Detroit on June 29, 1898, divorced him on January 26, 1917, charging “Cruelty & Non-Support,” died of heart disease in Wayne County on February 28, 1940, and was buried at Woodmere Cemetery in Detroit. Her death certificate listed her occupation as “Music teacher.” Nellie and Alfred had one child, Alfred Sumner Terry II, who was born in Detroit on May 16, 1899, and married Carolyn Faye Vogelsang in Grand Rapids on September 29, 1923. Carolyn was born in Indiana on September 14, 1902 and died in February 1978. She lived in Boulder, Colorado about the time of her death.

George W. Teunis [1913-2001]

George was born to William and Anna Klaver Teunis on July 2, 1913. He married Clara Tjapkes on September 24, 1936 in Muskegon. He was a rural mail carrier for the Post Office and was a licensed contractor. George rebuilt the De Witt School, restoring it to its 1880s appearance. He served on the Spring Lake Township Board for 14 years and was on several committees. The Teunises belonged to the Christian Reformed Church in Grand Haven. They had a daughter, Beverly, and three sons: Stan, Milt, and Glenn. All their children were married. The Teunises lived at 18625 West Spring Lake Road. George died at his home on May 15, 2001.

Gerrit B. Teunis [1854-1939]

Born on December 7, 1854 in The Netherlands, Gerrit Teunis came to the area in 1893 and settled on 132 acres in Section 3 of Spring Lake Township. Before 1912 he purchased from Adelaide Thorp the west 20 acres of her property in Section 10. In addition to farming, Gerrit raised livestock. In 1879 he married Klaasje “Clara” Dunnink, who was born The Netherlands on August 22, 1858. The Teunises were still in Spring Lake Township in 1920. Among their children was Albert, who was born on June 21, 1890 and by 1930 had taken title to a 20-acre parcel in Section 10 of Spring Lake Township previously owned by his parents. Albert died on November 20, 1950. Gerrit passed away on June 29, 1939, and Clara died on March 24, 1943. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Edwin M. Thayer [1840-1907]

Born in Hillsdale County on February 14 [15], 1840, Edwin Thayer came with his family to Eastmanville nine years later. He was the son of Ezra and Jane H. Shipman Thayer. The family settled on a 60-acre farm in Section 1 of Blendon Township where they remained until at least 1892. Edwin owned additional acreage in Sections 10 and 14 and about a thousand acres in Polkton Township, and he bought other farms and stands of pine forest throughout the state. In 1868 he joined Adam Wagner and Galen Eastman as general merchants in Eastmanville. He was township supervisor for a number of years, and he also was listed as a shipping agent. In the 1880 census his occupation was real estate broker. Edwin was looked upon as an agricultural authority. He was one of many local residents who delivered a talk, later printed, at Grand Haven’s semi-centennial celebration, held on December 2, 1884. Edwin’s paper was titled, appropriately, “Agriculture of Ottawa County.”

Edwin married Almira [Elmira] Cunningham in Grand Rapids on March 21, 1870. She was born in Michigan on September 2, 1847. Two of their children died as infants in the 1870s and were buried at Eastmanville Cemetery. Their other children were Ernest Noyes, who lived from 1873 to 1906; Maude H., born in April 1876; and William C., who was born in February 1882 and died in 1902. In 1900 the family was living in Grand Rapids. Edwin’s sister Eugenia married Adam Wagner of Eastmanville. Edwin died on February 24, 1907 and was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Elmira passed away on April 8, 1910 and was buried with her husband.

Elmer Leroy Thayer [1873-1926]

Elmer, born on March 19, 1873, was the son of Porter and Sarah Abigail Randall Thayer of Spring Lake. Elmer was employed at William Buckley’s hardware store in the Village [214 West Savidge]. Martin Thayer was his brother. Elmer died in 1926 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Buried with him were other members of his family.

Ezra Thayer [1816-1896]

Ezra Thayer married Jane H. Shipman in New York State on September 25, 1839. They moved to Polkton Township in 1849, where on March 1, 1852 he purchased 40 acres in Section 28. They then relocated to a farm in Section 1 of Blendon Township, where they remained until at least 1892. Jane was born on November 5, 1814 died on February 18, 1892, while Ezra, who was born on April 5, 1816, died on January 4, 1896. Edwin Thayer, one of their children, was born on February 14, 1840 in Blendon Township. A daughter, Eunice Eugenia, was born on September 6, 1843 in Blendon and married Adam Wagner. The Thayers had five children in all.

Lester [Arthur] Leroy Thayer [1881-1922]

Lester Thayer, the son of Martin and Mary Howe Thayer, was born in Michigan on August 3, 1881 [1882]. He married Eliza “Anna” M. Aimer on August 1, 1904 in St. Joseph, Berrien County. Anna, at the time of her wedding, was working at a hotel in St. Joseph. The daughter of William and Ella Wills Aimer, Anna was born in Delta, Ontario, Canada on May 28, 1885. After her father died when she was 11 years old, Anna in 1903 immigrated to Spring Lake, where she lived with her aunt and uncle, Eliza and Charles Hyde. For awhile she was housekeeper for one of the area’s early physicians, Dr. Cyril Brown of Spring Lake.

Lester and Anna had two children: Cora, who was born on May 13, 1905 and died on November 26, 1907, and Pearl, who was born on February 23, 1907 and died on September 2, 1929. The family resided at the southwest corner of Savidge and Cutler Streets [approximately 502 West Savidge].

Lester worked at a local sawmill. After an accident at the sawmill cut off Lester’s thumb and fingers, he became depressed and on November 13, 1907 he disappeared. He and Anna were divorced on August 9, 1909. At the time of the 1910 Federal Census, Lester was working at the Luce Chair Company in Big Rapids. On February 19, 1912 he married Frances Clark Geedy [Giedy] in Big Rapids. Anna married Arno “Andrew” Meinel on November 10, 1909.

When he registered for the WWI draft, Lester was still working for the chair factory in Big Rapids. The registration form noted that he had lost the thumb and fingers on his right hand. He died on January 4, 1922 in Kalamazoo under the name Arthur Leroy Thayer.

Francis C. Thompson [1856-1923]

Frank Thompson owned a barbershop at 17 Washington Street in Grand Haven as early as 1879. He learned the barbering trade from his Uncle Rutson, his mother’s brother. Frank married, Cora Banks in Grand Haven on April 15, 1879. They lived at 1227 Franklin. Cora, a White woman, was born in Ireland [Michigan] around 1856. On their marriage registration form they both were listed as White. They resided at 1227 Washington Street in Grand Haven and had at least one child, George E., who was born about 1874.

Although no record was found of Cora’s death or of a divorce, Frank married Matilda [Mathilda] Bartlett on October 6, 1885 in Montague. She was born in Sweden in December 1858 [1859]. Frank had a business in Montague around the mid-1880s, presumably a barber shop. Frank, Matilda, and their family moved to Grand Haven permanently in 1889. Frank was a member of the Negro Masonic Fraternity and Knights Templar. In Grand Haven by 1900, he and Matilda resided at 1227 Franklin, the house he earlier had occupied with Cora. Their children were Lyle E., who was born in Grand Haven on January 15, 1896, and Ethel T., who was born on June 13, 1898 and married Edward W. Nash. Lyle and Ethel were listed as White in the 1900 census, as was their mother. In the 1910 census the children were listed as Mulatto. By 1900 Frank’s wife’s name was Matilda. Matilda was born in Sweden in December 1858 [1859]. Frank and Matilda [Mathilda] resided at 1227 Washington. Their children were Lyle E., born in January 1896, and Ethel M., who was born in June 1899, married Edward W. Nash, and relocated to Chicago. Frank died in 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Matilda, who died in 1926. Frank, an African American, was born in Spring Lake on March 16, 1856. His parents were Leonard and Mary Bennett Thompson.

Francis C. Thompson [Thomson] [1856-1923]

Francis “Frank” Thompson was born in Spring Lake Township on March 16, 1856. His parents were Leonard and Mary Bennett Thompson of Spring Lake. Mary was Rutson Bennett’s sister. Frank, who owned a barbershop at 17 Washington Street in Grand Haven as early as 1879, learned the barbering trade from his Uncle Rutson. Frank married Cora Banks in Grand Haven on April 15, 1879. On their marriage registration form they both were listed as White. Cora was born in Ireland around 1856. Frank and Cora lived at 1227 Franklin. They had at least one child, George E., who, according to the 1880 census, was born about 1874. On October 6, 1885 in Montague, Frank married Matilda [Mathilda] Bartlett, who was born in Sweden in December 1858 [1859]. No record was found of Cora’s death. Frank had a business in Montague around the mid-1880s, presumably a barber shop. Frank and his family moved to Grand Haven permanently in 1889. Frank was a member of the Negro Masonic Fraternity and Knights Templar. In Grand Haven, he and Matilda resided at 1227 Washington. Their children were Lyle E., who was born in Grand Haven on January 15, 1896, and Ethel T., who was born on June 13, 1898 and married Edward W. Nash. Lyle and Ethel were listed as White in the 1900 census, as was their mother. In the 1910 census the children were listed as Mulatto. Matilda died about May 21, 1926 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Frank, who had died on October 18, 1923.

George Thompson [1804-1861]

English-born George Thompson lived from 1804 to 1861. His sister Frances married Captain Robert Howlett of Grand Haven. George, who never married, was living at the Ottawa House at 1 Washington Street in 1860. His occupation was listed as farmer. George was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Leonard Thompson [Thomson] [@1831- ?]

As early as 1850 and as late as 1864, Leonard Thompson [Tomson] was living on a 160-acre farm in Section 8 of Spring Lake Township. Also in the household in 1850 were James Alexander, a laborer who was born in Tennessee about 1826, and Jakob Goodlow, another laborer, who was born in Kentucky about 1826. All three were African Americans. Hezekiah Smith, an African American, was a neighbor. Leonard was from New York, where he was born about 1831. He married Mary J., the daughter of Alfred and Louisa Bennett, first of Spring Lake and later of Grand Haven. Mary was born in New York about 1839. Among their children were Francis C., born locally on March 16, 1856; Alfred, who was born about 1861 and drowned on September 2, 1881 [another son, named Alferd (sic) drowned on September 30, 1880 at the age of 20]; Lucy, who was born on June 29, 1869 in Spring Lake; and Richard, who was born on October 5, 1874 in Ferrysburg. In Spring Lake on April 19, 1894 Richard married Emma V., the daughter of Ephraim and Adelia Conner Molson of Spring Lake. Emma was born in Coloma, Berrien County in 1878. By 1860 Leonard and Mary were residing in Grand Haven adjacent to the Alfred Bennett family in Bennett’s Hollow, later called Mulligan’s Hollow. Leonard continued to work as a laborer. Mary died in Grand Haven on February 8, 1899 of pneumonia. On March 1, 1900 Leonard married Georgia Johnson, then 35 years old and a native of Maryland. Leonard was listed in the marriage record as 60 years old, which would make his birth year 1840. He and Georgia were classified as Mulattoes. Four months after their marriage, Leonard and Georgia were living in Fruitport, where he continued working as a farmer. In the 1900 census Leonard’s birth date was cited as August 1833 and Georgia’s as January 1865. No records were found for them after 1900.

Lyle E. Thompson [Thomson] [1896-1961]

The son of Francis and Matilda Bartlett Thompson, Lyle was born in Grand Haven on January 15, 1896. Lyle remained in Grand Haven, where he married Emma Chilcotte on January 5, 1916. Emma was born in Michigan on January 12, 1894. In 1918 Lyle was working as chauffeur for W. R. Baxter. He and Emma were living with Lyle’s sister Ethel at 18 Washington. Ten years later Lyle was working as a mechanic at Kooiman Auto Company [219 North Seventh Street]. In the 1910 census the children were listed as Mulatto. In the 1930 census Lyle was classified as Negro. He was still working as a mechanic. He and Emma then resided in Grand Haven Township. Lyle died about June 16, 1961 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Emma passed away on July 8, 1979 in Grand Haven, under the name Emma M. Chilcotte. Lyle and his sister Ethel were listed as White in the 1900 census, as was their mother.

Richard Abner Thompson [1874-1938]

The son of Leonard and Mary Bennett Thompson of Spring Lake and Grand Haven, Richard was born in Ferrysburg on October 5, 1874. The family was African American. In Spring Lake on April 19, 1894, he married Emma V., the daughter of Ephraim and Adelia Conner Molson of Spring Lake. Emma was born in Watervliet, Berrien County, on August 2, 1877 and died in Fruitport on December 17, 1898. The Moulsons also were Black. At the time of the 1900 Federal Census, Richard was living in Chicago with his wife Nellie, presumably Nellie Burrill Williams Graves. Nellie Burrill, who also went by the name Cora, had previously been married to John Williams, followed by Frederick Graves. Cora was born in Ohio about 1868. In Chicago in 1900, Richard and Nellie were employed as servants in the same household. By 1910 Richard and Cora were residing in Muskegon. She was unemployed, while Richard was a “coachman” for a family. At that time, they had a daughter, Elizabeth, born in Michigan on September 23, 1894. Berrien County She was not listed with Richard and Cora in the 1900 census, but she died in Muskegon on August 13, 1917. She was buried at Lakeside Cemetery in Muskegon. At the time of the 1920 Federal Census for Muskegon, Richard was working as a chauffeur for a private family, and Nellie Thompson was employed as a “nurse baby,” possibly a wet nurse. On March 6, 1924 in Muskegon, Cora Ann Thompson married John Traviet [Traviot]. In 1938 Richard was living alone at 525 Clinton. He died in Chicago on April 27, 1938. See Frederick Graves II for more information about Cora/Nellie.

William Thompson [1818-1888]

William Thompson, who arrived in the area in 1843, was raising fruit in Sections 23 and 24 of Crockery Township in the late 1840s. He was born in Monroe County, New York, on March 25, 1818, and moved to Crockery in 1843 with his mother and father, Henry and Desire Thompson. Desire died on November 28, 1868 at the age of 84 and her husband passed away on January 15, 1857 at the age of 73. By 1864 William owned 540 acres in Sections 14, 16, 23, and 24 in Crockery and substantial acreage in Ravenna Township, Muskegon County, just north of Crockery. In addition to farming, William was an associate of John Spoon and his lumber business. William’s wife, Emily, was born about December 3, 1825 and died on July 2, 1862. The next year he married Mary J. Tibbets, who was born about 1842 in New York. William and Mary had three children, all born locally: Emma, born about 1864; Edith, born about 1867; and Maud M., born about 1875. Mary’s father, John Tibbets, was born in New York about 1800 and resided with the Thomsons in Crockery in 1880. William died on April 2, 1888 and was buried with Emily at Ottawa Center Cemetery.

Andrew W. Thomson I [Thomsen] [1824-1902]

Andrew Thomson was born in Dennyloan Head, Scotland on October 19, 1824. He married Charlotte Arkley while still residents of their native land and where five of their children were born. Charlotte was born in Scotland in February 1830. Andrew received a liberal education and found employment with the Summerlee Iron Company in Glasgow, where he remained for more than 22 years. In 1865, at the close of the Civil War, he severed his connections with that company and brought the family to the United States. They lived in Detroit for a time before coming to Grand Haven. On February 1, 1868 he became general manager of Senator Ferry’s lumbering operations and real estate business. He also was part owner of the Ottawa Iron Works in Ferrysburg and shareholder in the American Brass Novelty Company of Grand Haven.

The Thomson family lived on the corner of Fifth and Clinton [201 South Fifth]. Andrew and Charlotte had three children: Anna [Anne], who was born in Scotland in 1863 and married Charles H. Adams of Grand Haven; Isabel [Isabella], who was born in January 1867 and became a city librarian; and Andrew W. II, born about 1870. The Thomsons were members of the Presbyterian Church, where Charlotte served as president of the Women’s Missionary Society and Ladies Social Society. Andrew was a member of the Masonic fraternity. He died on November 25, 1902. Charlotte lived from February 5, 1830 to February 23, 1910. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Anne. [Tribune obituary, November 25, 1902.]

Andrew W. Thomson II [Thompson] [1870-1954]

Born in Grand Haven on October 18, 1870, Andrew II was raised at 201 South Fifth Street, where he lived with his parents, Andrew and Charlotte Thompson. As a youth he pumped the pipe organ for each service at the Presbyterian Church. He graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1887 and attended Alma College. Andrew organized and directed a boys’ band, the first local high school ensemble that was known as the “Jackie Band.” The group played concerts and parades throughout Michigan from 1915 [1917] to 1924. He and his family moved to St. Paul, Minnesota in the 1890s, where he owned a storage business, and returned to Grand Haven about 1902 to fill the position of secretary-treasurer for the American Brass Novelty Company [Michigan Brass] for the next 50 years. On November 7, 1893, he married Helen McIlhinny. Helen became active in the Presbyterian Church and, like her mother-in-law, served as president of the Women’s Missionary Society and Ladies Social Society. Helen was born in Iowa in May 1872 and died in Grand Haven about July 21, 1945. They had a daughter, Helen A., who was born in February 1895, and another daughter, Mary C., who was born in August 1896. Both children were born in Minnesota. In Grand Haven, the Thomsons lived at 201 Fifth Street, Andrew’s childhood home. He died on May 30, 1954 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife.

Isabel [Isabelle] M. Thomson [Thompson] [1867-1952]

Born on January 23, 1867, Isabel was the daughter of Andrew and Charlotte Arkley Thomson of Grand Haven. At the age of 16 Isabel started working for the Grand Haven Library Association, which had been founded the year before. By 1891 the Library Association had merged with the Grand Haven public school library, located on the second floor of the high school on Sixth Street. When fire destroyed the Central School library in 1901, she opened a substitute library in her home at 201 South Fifth on the second floor. She also offered music lessons at her home. In 1914 she became the first head librarian of the new Carnegie Public Library at 315 North Third Street, later the site of a parking lot behind Fifth Third Bank. Isabel continued to work as both school and public librarian until 1924 when she left the public side of her profession. She was also a music teacher, and she had a master degree from Northwestern University. Her brother was Andrew.
W. Thomson II and the family home was located 201 Fifth Street. Isabel died on July 31, 1952 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Thomson [Thompson] [1837-1912]

John Thomson, an early Spring Lake lumberman, was connected with Cutler & Savidge Lumber Company. He also had an interest in the Munroe, Thomson & Company Sawmill, formed in 1868 and located in Spring Lake at the foot of Jackson Street. He sold his share to Sherman Boyce in 1872. Born in 1837, John married Mary Ellen Lovell, who was born in Grand Haven about 1843. She was the daughter of George G. Lovell, whose homestead on Spring Lake became known as Lovell Park. Born in 1840, she died at Ionia on January 16, 1922, but was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with her husband, who died in 1912. The Thomsons were married in Ottawa County on July 27, 1864. [Tribune obituary, January 16, 1922.]

Conrad E. Thornquist [1906-1989]

Born on April 12, 1906 in Grand Rapids to Otto and Charlotte Thornquist, Conrad graduated from the University of Michigan in 1928 and Harvard University in 1931. He joined the firm of Warner, Norcross & Judd of Grand Rapids as a corporate lawyer and became a full partner in 1937. A veteran of WWII, he married Helen Moon Hopkins, the adopted daughter of Claude B. Hopkins, on July 2, 1949. Conrad was a member of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Michigan. He was director emeritus of Guardsman Products, Inc., Crampton Corp., AGM Industries, and Great Lakes Oil and Chemical Corp. He was on the boards of Gerber, Inc. and JSJ Corp. He was also director and secretary of Michigan Bumper Corp., which became Gulf and Western Industries. Conrad was a member of the University Club, Peninsular Club, Kent Country Club, Chicago Club, and St. John’s Episcopal Church. He passed away on January 3, 1989 at his home on Spring Lake, called Pineycrest [7437 South Walker Road, Fruitport Township]. He was interred at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 5, 1989.]

Helen Moon Hopkins Thornquist [1898-1986]

Helen was born in Chicago on December 26, 1898 to Samuel and Harriet Moon. Upon her father’s death, her mother married Claude B. Hopkins on July 14, 1914. Hopkins adopted Helen when she was fifteen. Harriet was born November 29, 1870 in Prairie City, Illinois. Helen was a secretary for the House of Representatives in Washington, D.C. She married Conrad Thornquist on July 2, 1936 and lived in the family home [Pineycrest] on Spring Lake until her death July 1, 1986. Pineycrest was located at 7437 South Walker Road, Fruitport Township. She was a member of the St. Elizabeth Guild and St. John’s Episcopal Church, and she was president of Junior League. The King of England during World War II decorated her for assisting in the British War Relief. She was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, July 1, 1986.]

John H. Thornton [1845-1922]

In 1869 John Thornton was foreman of the “Pioneer Hook and Ladder Company” in Grand Haven. A native of Geneva, New York, where he was born in 1845, John enlisted as private with Company H of the 33rd New York Infantry on December 28, 1861. Discharged on June 2, 1863, he immediately reenlisted in the 4th New York Heavy Artillery and served until the end of the war. In 1866 he came to Grand Haven and was a carpenter and builder from 1870 on. On November 7, 1887 he applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. He married Mary [Marietta] Mink in Grand Haven on March 3, 1868. She was born in Russia and lived from 1847 to 1912. Their son, Willy, was born in Michigan around 1870. John died in 1922 and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon.

Henry B. Thorp [Thorpe] [1827-1905]

Born in Connecticut in June 1827, Henry Thorp farmed 31 acres in Section 10 of Spring Lake Township [approximately 18450 West Spring Lake Road]. Henry died about March 17, 1905. After his death, his wife, Adelaide L., ran Beechwood Resort on the eleven acres remaining after selling 20 acres to Gerrit B. Teunis, who already farmed 133 acres in Section 3, just to the north. Adelaide, also from Connecticut, was born in December 1842. Henry and Adelaide had a son, Fred E., who was born in Michigan around 1876.
Nathan Throop [Troop] [1798-1850]

Nathan Throop was born on July 1, 1798 in Barnard, Vermont [Ontario, Canada]. He and his family were early settlers in Grand Haven, arriving by canoe from Canada in 1835. A carpenter by trade, he built his house at the northwest corner of Franklin and First Streets, and he constructed Louis Campau's warehouse near Government Pond, then called the Lower Diggings. At an undetermined date, he built Timothy Eastman’s residence in Eastmanville. Nathan purchased the steam sawmill built by William Butts and William Hathaway in Grand Haven in 1836, which he subsequently sold to Francis and Thomas Gilbert. The first meeting of the County Board of supervisors was held at Nathan’s house on April 11, 1838. In 1839 Nathan became proprietor of the first public tavern in Grand Haven, located at 33 Franklin Street. On November 10, 1841, Nathan purchased almost 250 acres in Section 3 of Allendale Township. Nine years later he bought 40 acres in Muskegon County. He was included in the Federal Censuses of 1840 and 1850 as a resident of Ottawa Township [which included the town of Grand Haven and is now Grand Haven Township].

On January 20, 1830 Nathan married Mary E. Munshaw in Ontario, Canada. Nathan’s and Mary’s had at least one child, Caroline Elizabeth Throop, who was born about 1831 in Ontario. She married Francis Gilbert who, in partnership with his brother Thomas Gilbert, bought a sawmill from Nathan. Nathan died in Grand Haven on August 23, 1850. Mary, who was born in 1811, passed away on June 27, 1876. Both were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Ferdinand Thum [@1855-1920], Hugo Thum [1853-1929], Otto Thum [1865-1943], and William Thum [1861-1941]

Hugo Thum was born in Detroit on December 22, 1853. His father, Karl Wilhelm “William” Thum, was born in Württemberg, Germany on April 12, 1824 and died in Grand Rapids on March 11, 1883. William became a druggist in Grand Rapids, where he owned a drug store in association with Hugo and three other sons: Ferdinand, Otto, and William II. Their mother was Christina [Christiane] Griner [Greiner], whom William married in Grand Rapids on September 28, 1850. She was born December 28, 1825 and died in Grand Rapids on December 29, 1909. She and William were buried at Valley City Cemetery. Shortly after their marriage, the Thums moved to Detroit, where William was in the drugstore business for the next 16 years before returning to Grand Rapids. About the time of their father’s death in Grand Rapids, Ferdinand was developing an adhesive for flypaper much easier to work with and longer lasting than the typical product.

The brothers in 1885 formed the Thum Company and two years later started production of their broadly accepted innovation, which soon had world-wide distribution. In 1887 Hugo patented a holder for “Labels, Checks, and the Like,” among other inventions he patented. The four brothers sold their business in 1909 and moved to Southern California. In 1911 Hugo was elected mayor of Pasadena. Fourteen years later new owners changed the trade name to the Tanglefoot Flypaper Company [also known as the “Sticky Flypaper Co.”]. Ferdinand died in Pasadena, California in 1920 at the age of 65. Apparently he never married. By 1900 the Thums owned a 40-acre summer estate, called Exmoor, on the west shore of Spring Lake [17500 West Spring Lake Road]. At different times, Ferdinand, Hugo, and Otto were each shown as owners of Exmoor. Otto was born in Grand Rapids on January 5, 1865 and died in Los Angeles, California on November 10, 1943. William lived from December 21, 1861 to May 10, 1941 and died in Los Angeles. On May 11, 1916 the Tribune reported that Hugo had donated Exmoor to the Village of Spring Lake to be used as a park. The gift included the yacht Lorna Doone and other property along the Grand River at the south end of School Street. Overall, the gift had a value of $50,000 at that time. In 1931 the Spring Lake Yacht Club negotiated with the Village for a long-term lease on the property and soon moved there. The Yacht Club had been formed in 1897 with 23 charter members. Hugo’s wife, Louisa, was born in Ohio about 1854 and married Hugo in 1878. Hugo passed away in San Diego, California, on August 9, 1923.

Edmund Tickner [1905-1970]
In 1946 the Tickner Company moved from Grand Rapids to Grand Haven with Edmund Tickner as general manager. The firm produced radio cabinets. In 1952 he started Lakeview Manufacturing, which produced portable iceboats. Edmund resided at 16932 De Witt in Spring Lake. He lived from October 14, 1905 to November 1970.

Wilhelm “William” Tietz [1857-1933]

William was born in Grand Haven on October 10, 1857, soon after his parents, August John and Augusta Kant Tietz, arrived in the United States from Prussia. On April 28, 1884, William married Anna Ladewig in Grand Haven on April 28, 1884. She was born on December 4, 1863. Anna, the daughter of Charles “Carl” and Wilhelmina Behm Ladewig, died on November 1, 1927. The Tietzes made their home at 118 Elliott Street in Grand Haven.

William also owned a 30-acre farm in the neighborhood bounded by Orchard Street north to Taylor and Ferry Street west to Wallace [Beacon]. His granddaughter, Dorothy Elizabeth “Bette” McGill and her husband, Norman Anderson, built their home on Ferry Street on two acres of the former Tietz farm [1209 South Ferry]. William and Anna had 14 children: Emily, who was born in October 1884 and married Harry McGill and were Bette’s parents; Hannah T., born in October 1885; Mathilda, born November 1886; William, born in July 1888; Marrian, born in October 1889; Henrietta Wilhelmina, born in June 1890; Emma Louise, who born in September 1892; Elizabeth, born in December 1893; Julia, born in July 1895; Otto, born in May 1897; Martha, who was born in August 1898 and married Chester Brockway; Benjamin; Dorothy, who became the wife of Jack Bramer of Ferrysburg; and Isabel, who married Jay Poel. After his wife’s death in 1927, William built a home at 1509 Sheldon Road, where he lived with several of his daughters until he died at home on August 21, 1933.

Jack Tighe [1913-2002]

Born September 1, 1913 in Kearny, New Jersey, Jack Tighe was manager of the Detroit Tigers in 1957 and 1958. He continued to work for the Tigers until he was fired in 1990. Tighe was a minor league catcher with Charleston, West Virginia, in 1936. From 1940-41, he was a player-manager for the Muskegon Clippers of the Michigan State League. He coached other minor league teams, such as the Toledo Mud Hens. The Sporting News recognized him as minor league Coach of the Year in 1968, when the Mud Hens won the league championship. Jack was inducted into the Muskegon Area Sports Hall of Fame in 1988. In the early 1960s the Jack Tighe Hardware and Sporting Goods Store opened at 116 West Savidge in Spring Lake. Jack married Beverly Yeager in Muskegon. In 1983 they sold their home in Spring Lake and moved to Florida permanently. She lived from April 11, 1920 to March 28, 1990 and died in Pompano Beach, Florida. Jack died in Pompano Beach, Florida on August 2, 2002. Their son John continued to reside in the Grand Haven area. Another son, Bob Tighe, lived in Florida. [Chronicle article, “Former Muskegon, Detroit manager dies,” August 3, 2002.]

Thomas T. Tilden I [1930-1981]

Thomas Tilden was chief of the Grand Haven Fire Department from 1963 until his death on July 23, 1981 at the age of 51 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He was born on June 22, 1930. The Tilden home was at 124 South Eighth Street. His wife’s name was Dianne J. Tilden. Their son, Thomas T. Tilden II, died around June 19, 1972 at the age of 15 and was interred at Lake Forest.

Frank T. Tiles [1918–1998]

Frank was born on September 4, 1918 to Steven and Katie Duieks Tiles of Chicago. Frank died on August 19, 1998 at his home in West Olive [10095 128th Avenue] and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He married Wilma Peterson on November 25, 1942 in Flint. He owned and operated the Frank Tiles Excavating Company. Prior to opening that business, he worked for Continental Motors in Muskegon, and he served in the U.S. Army prior to World War II. A brother, Walter, died on May 25, 2000 at the age of 75.

Stefan “Steven” Tiles [1879-1957]
Steven Tiles was born on August 15, 1879 and died on September 14, 1957, while his wife, Katie Duieks, lived from 1879 to December 28, 1977. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The couple emigrated from Germany to Chicago, moved on to Grand Haven in 1932, first owning a farm on Beechtree Street in Section 27 of Grand Haven Township and then settling on 156 acres in Section 29 of Robinson Township [11184 136th Avenue]. Frank Tiles, born on September 4, 1918, was one of their children. Their other children were Annie, Elsie, John, Walter “Wally,” Albert, Bill, and Betty.

Roelof “Ralph” Hendricks Timmerman I [1839-1928]

Roelof Timmerman was born in Drenthe, The Netherlands, on July 1, 1839 [October 17, 1836] and arrived in this area in 1882. He was the son of Hendrick Eilerds and Henderkien Alting Timmerman. Roelof’s 100-acre farm was located in Section 12 of Olive Township. He also raised livestock. While still in The Netherlands, he married Jentjen [Jantje] “Jenny” Musche, who was born in The Netherlands on August 10, 1835. They had at least two sons: John, who was born in The Netherlands about 1874, and Roelof II, who was born in Michigan around 1897. Jenny passed away on October 8, 1925, and Ralph died on March 23, 1928 in Olive Township. Both were buried at Borculo Cemetery.

Gerald John Tinholt [1897-1958]

Gerald Tinholt owned a Conoco Service Station at the junction of Pine and Ridge Streets in Ferrysburg Carl. In 1936 he and Carl “Swede” Erickson formed a partnership and started the Tri-City Oil Company at this location. The station initially offered D-X gasoline [now Sunoco], but before long the owners changed to Cities Service [now Citgo] gasoline. Gerald was born in Graafschaap, Allegan County, on August 31, 1897 and married Johanna “Nan” Dobbin [Dobben] in Holland on June 24, 1923. She was born on February 24, 1899 and died on March 3, 1982 in Grand Haven. Gerald passed away in Ferrysburg on April 29, 1958. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had two daughters: Shirley, who was born on April 20, 1924 and married Sidney Shaver, and Mary Ella, [Ellen] who was born on May 6, 1933, married Hollis Heemstra, and died in Hudsonville on June 17, 2001; she was buried at Georgetown Township Cemetery. Gerald worked as a machinist and tool maker at a local foundry.

Denver Todd [1913-1986]

Born in Kaleva, Manistee County on February 21, 1913, Denver Todd settled in Grand Haven around 1944 and was agent operator for the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, with which his whole family was associated. He later became purchasing and job costing accountant for Grand Haven Harbor Industries. Denver was one of the founders of the Tri-Cities Historical Society and many times its president. He died December 29, 1986. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Denver and his wife, Ruth E., resided at 520 Pennoyer.

William D. Tolford [Talford] [1825-1915]

Born in New York State in 1825, William Tolford by 1850 was working as a clerk in Hudson, Lenawee County, and ten years later he was employed as a mercantile agent living in Grand Rapids. By 1870, still in Grand Rapids, he owned a candle manufacturing business and owned real estate valued at $33,000, while his personal estate amounted to $4,000. Two years after that, William was noted as the treasurer of Phoenix Furniture Company in Grand Rapids. In 1880 he was listed in the Federal Census of that year as a real estate agent. His wife, Cordelia, died in 1893, not quite 70 years old, and was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery. William, who passed away in 1915, was buried with her.

Although William never resided in the Grand Haven area, he did have business interest there. In 1871 he purchased Edward Cole’s interest in the Haire & Cole Sawmill on Grand River in Spring Lake. The mill’s name was then changed ot Haire & Tolford. The disastrous fire of 1871 destroyed the mill and much of the village. Tolford Street in Spring Lake Village was named for William, and the Haire Tolford Hancock Addition to the village similarly continued his name.

Ira Gale Tompkins [1831-1900]
In the early 1870s, Ira Tompkins had a photographer’s studio in Spring Lake, although he apparently resided in Grand Rapids, where he also worked as a photographer. He opened his studio in Grand Rapids in the spring of 1860 with his brother, J. H. Tompkins. Born in Wyoming County, New York in 1831, Ira married Desmaris C. Ide in Grand Rapids on October 25, 1861. Desmaris, a native of the Empire State, was born on July 6, 1844. She and Ira had at least five children, all born in Michigan: William S., born in 1862; Edmund Gale, born in 1864; George Ide, born about 1868; Lillian Mabel, born in 1873; and John Joseph, born in 1875. By 1880 the family was living in Wisconsin. Ira died in Chicago and March 16, 1900. Desmaris passed away in 1917.

Nathan R. Tompkins [@1825-1864]

While a resident of Spring Lake, Nathan Tompkins on February 9, 1863 enlisted as private in Company B of the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters. He was taken prisoner at the Siege of Petersburg on June 17, 1864 and died in prison the following August 24. Nathan, who was born in New York about 1825, was buried at Andersonville Prison in Andersonville, Georgia. Just prior to the war, Nathan was a resident of Spring Lake and a carpenter. His wife, Celestia, was born in New York in 1831. Their daughter, Louisa L., was born in Michigan about 1852.

Franklin Pratt [E.] Torrance [@1842-1895]

A native of New York, where he was born about 1842, Frank Torrance moved to Ottawa County before the Civil War. He enlisted as private in Company C of the 2nd Michigan Cavalry on September 7, 1861, and served until the end of the Civil War, when he was mustered out on August 17, 1865, in Georgia with the rank of Ferrier [horse shoer]. In the military he also may have been listed as Torrance Franklin. In 1867 Frank came to Grand Haven from Georgia. He was with the Cutler & Savidge Lumber Company until 1881, when he joined the Grand Haven Lumber Company as engineer at the Fourth Ward Mill. On February 3, 1872 he married Clara E. Hudson in Spring Lake. Clara was born in Grand Haven on October 4, 1854. Their son, Franklin Harvey Torrance, was born in the Village on April 30, 1873, and subsequently lived in Shiawassee, Wayne, and Macomb Counties. Franklin and Clara also had a daughter, Susan Maude, who was born on August 1, 1877 and died in Piqua, Ohio on August 22, 1943. At the time of her death, she was known as Maude Susan Smith. In 1880, Frank, Clara, Franklin, and Maude were living in Ferrysburg, where the father was an engineer. After Franklin’s death in Ely, Minnesota on September 14, 1895, Clara married Fred L. Souter on June 11, 1904 in Saginaw. Fred was a widower. Clara died on June 3, 1908 in Piqua, Ohio, where her daughter Maude lived.

August [Augustus] Torrey [1850-1902]

August Torrey died in Detroit as the result of a train accident on August 20, 1902. At the time, he was Civil Engineer for Michigan Central Railroad. He was a friend of the Dunbar family in Grand Haven and may once have lived in the city. The son of Augustus and Deborah Cox Torrey. August was born in Beverly, Massachusetts on November 21, 1850. On December 10, 1885 in Detroit, he married Charlotte A. Foote. Apparently, that was his second marriage. Charlotte was a native of Michigan, where she was born in August 1865. August and Charlotte had two children, both born in Michigan: Helen, born in August 1888, and Charlotte, born in August 1896. By his first marriage, August also had two children: Lottie [Lettie], born in June 1879, and Dana, born in August 1881. George Torrey was his uncle.

George Torry [Torry] [@1801-1854]

Captain George Torrey in 1849 was appointed the third keeper of the Grand Haven lighthouse [900 Harbor] when it was located at the bottom of the bluff. He replaced William Haucland. George tended the beacon from 1849 until it was destroyed by a storm on December 17, 1852. He was replaced the next year by Peter vanden Berg. George was born in Salem, Massachusetts in 1801. He had a son, Charles C., who was born in Massachusetts about 1828, two other sons, and a daughter. In his short life, George had a variety of careers: first as farmer, then as a dry goods merchant, editor of the Kalamazoo Telegraph, and lumbering. He died in Chicago in January 1854 of an undisclosed illness and was buried at Mountain Home Cemetery. His wife, Eunice, died in 1839 and was buried at Yorkville Cemetery in Kalamazoo County. August Torrey was his nephew.

Asher Tourison I [1916-2004]
Asher, the son of G. Bartle and Hazel Lambert Tourison, was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on September 13, 1916. He married Jane Lee Stokes in New Jersey on December 6, 1947. Asher, an inventor who held several patents, worked as mechanical engineer and manufacturing manager with various companies. In 1965 he became Plant manager at a Muskegon tool-making company. Three years later he started a charter fishing business with his son, Bruce. In 1970 Asher became director of Buildings and Grounds for North Ottawa Community Hospital. He was a member of the Grand Haven Presbyterian Church and served as president of several associations. Asher’s and Jane’s children included Joan L. Tourison of Grand Haven; Susan, who married Dan Day of East Grand Rapids; Mary, who married Jim Dana of Grand Haven; Margaret, who married Kellen Berndt of Grand Haven; Bruce S. Tourison of Grand Rapids; and Asher Tourison II of Zeeland. Asher the elder died in Grand Haven on November 20, 2004 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Jane lived from November 12, 1923 to March 17, 1997. She passed away in Grand Haven and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, November 22, 2004.]

Avis Ella Towers [1895-1981]
The daughter of Lewis [1868-1952] and Emma [1871-1963] Towers, Avis was born in Michigan on July 24, 1895. In 1920 she was living with her parents in Converse, Wyoming and teaching in the public schools there. Six years later she moved to Grand Haven and taught home economics at the high school. She resided at 514 Franklin Street, in a two-unit apartment building owned by Agnes Louise Stark, also a teacher. Agnes willed the property to the First Presbyterian Church. After retirement, Avis became lunchroom supervisor at the high school. She died in Grand Haven on April 26, 1981 and was buried at Maple Grove Cemetery in Mattawan, Van Buren County.

Alfred A. Tracey [@1828-1895]
Alfred Tracey born in Ohio about 1828, arrived in Ottawa County in 1847. He was elected county clerk of Ottawa County in 1868 and held that position for twelve years, until replaced by George D. Turner in 1881. Alfred married Orpha Emeroy Sumner in Ottawa County on March 28, 1855. Orpha, who came from Vermont, was born about 1838. Alfred and Orpha had at least two children, both born in Michigan: Anje S., born about 1861, and Williette, born around 1863. Alfred passed away in Grand Rapids on December 12, 1895 and was buried at a cemetery there.

Levi Tracey [Tracy] [1807-1882]
Levi was born in Orange County, Vermont [New London, Connecticut], on August 6, 1807, the son of Perez and Olive Flint Tracey. He studied law and became a justice of the peace. In 1852 he went to Wisconsin to work as a carpenter and wagon maker, and in 1867 he settled in Section 34 of Grand Haven Township. He served as school commissioner for awhile. In May 1840, he married Anna [Ann] Ford. She was born January 8, 1820, also in Orange County, the daughter of Elisha and Asenath Spear Ford. Levi and Anna had two children. Levi died in Grand Haven on January 15, 1882.

Hosea H. [@1823-1865] and Nathan O. Tracy [Tracey] [1845-1864]
By 1860 the Hosea Tracy family was situated on an 80-acre farm in Section 10 of Crockery Township. On May 13, 1861 Hosea and his son Nathan traveled to Grand Rapids to enlist in Company I of the 3rd Michigan Infantry. Hosea, who was born in New York about 1823 [1826], was discharged for disability on November 4, 1862 and applied for a disability pension on March 2, 1863. Nathan also was discharged for disability, but not until January 5, 1864. He applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension the following August 6. Hosea’s wife, Jane A., was born in Connecticut about 1827. Nathan O. was born in Ohio on January 9, 1845 [1840]. Another son of Hosea’s, Austin E., was born in Illinois around 1853, and a daughter, Betsy J., was born in Michigan around 1857. Nathan and Hosea died at home in Crockery Township, Nathan on December 13, 1864 and Hosea on December 17, 1865. Both men have undated monuments at Ottawa Center Cemetery.

Thomas Traill [1856-1930]

Thomas Traill was born in the Orkney Islands in Scotland on November 10, 1856 to a family with a long history of salt-water sailing. He was the son of Peter and Catherine Millar Traill. Thomas was encouraged to come to Grand Haven by a fellow Scotsman, Captain George Robertson. He arrived in Grand Haven in 1880 and married Janet Mainland in Grand Haven on December 13, 1883. Janet, also a native of the Orkney Islands, was born on October 15, 1862. They had two sons. Thomas William, born on October 16, 1884, and Hugh Maisland, born on November 11, 1886. The Traills also had one daughter, Catherine Janet, born on November 26, 1890. All three children were born in Grand Haven. Thomas William married Helen L. Waggoner in Cleveland, Ohio on December 19, 1908. Helen was born in Ohio about 1884. She and her husband lived in Northville, Wayne County in 1930. Thomas passed away in Chagrin Falls, Ohio, on April 25, 1962. Thomas and Helen had a daughter, Mary Janet, who was born in Toronto, Canada on December 27, 1909 and died on December 27, 2005 in Macedonia, Ohio. The Traills lost their daughter, Catherine Janet, to the influenza epidemic on November 18, 1918. Catherine had married William J. Martin in Grand Haven on January 27, 1917 and was living in Salvadore, Saskatchewan, Canada at the time of her death. William died the next year and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Hugh Traill died on April 11, 1919, a victim of the same epidemic. He also was buried at Lake Forest.

Captain Traill and his family initially lived in the 200 block of Lafayette Street. In 1898 Captain Thomas Traill and his wife bought part of the former Ferry property on Lafayette Street [514 Lafayette] from the heirs of John Furlong. Thomas was a sea captain, and he commanded some of the largest ships steaming out of Grand Haven harbor, including the passenger and freight steamer Naomi, a Crosby line freight and passenger steamer, the car ferries Grand Haven and Milwaukee. Those who sailed with Captain Traill considered him a “square shooter.” On May 21, 1907 the Naomi caught fire in mid-Lake, as the vessel was traveling between Grand Haven and Milwaukee, with the loss of five lives. The burned-out hulk was towed back to Grand Haven.

Thomas died on January 22, 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Janet passed away on March 10, 1941 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, January 23, 1930.]

Calla Viola Travis [1873-1954]

Born on November 3, 1873, Calla was the daughter of James and Marcia Travis of Grand Rapids. Calla began teaching dance in 1890 in people’s homes. In 1891 she furthered her dance skills by taking private lessons in Chicago. In 1893 she enrolled at the Akeley Institute for Girls in Grand Haven. Calla graduated from Akeley in 1895 but continued there as a teacher of dance. By 1896 she was back in Grand Rapids, teaching dance at the YWCA before opening her own studio. Calla wrote original dance instruction pamphlets that were popular in the United States and overseas She ended her career in 1948 after 58 years of teaching dance. Calla died on February 2, 1955 in La Jolla, California. Her brother, Charles C. Travis, also of Grand Rapids, owned a cottage at the Wilderness, a second home community a few miles south of Grand Haven, and either he or James Travis, their father, bought Braeside, a cottage in Highland Park. Calla is credited with bringing to Highland Park from China the silver dollar bushes that have spread throughout the landscape. Marcia Travis Pilling of Grand Haven was her niece.

Bastian Trimpe I [1852-1944]

Bastian Trimpe, who settled on 80 acres in Section 24 of Olive Township in 1894, also raised livestock. He was still on his farm in 1908. Bastian was a native of The Netherlands, where he was born in July 1852. His wife, Carrie, was born in The Netherlands on July 23, 1852. Their children were James, born in February 1883; Carrie, born in July 1885; Johanna J., born in February 1888; and Bastian II, born in August 1895. By 1930 Bastian was residing in Georgetown Township. Bastian was born locally. The other children immigrated with their parents to the United States from The Netherlands in 1889. Bastian died on November 3, 1944 in Grandville.

Ernest Henry Tripp [1912-1996]

Born in Grand Haven on January 12, 1913, Ernest was the son of Henry and Ida Brunsma Tripp. He married Anna Yonker at July 22, 1937 in Grand Haven. In 1940 they resided at 944 Pennoyer. Later Ernest became an inspector at Keller Tool Company, and he and Anna resided at 1028 Grant Street in a house they built. Anna was born July 24, 1916 and died in Grand Haven on November 12, 2009. Ernest had passed away on February 16, 1996 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had two sons, David and Gary.

Henry Albert Tripp [1871-1939]

The son of Samuel and Amelia Owen Tripp, Henry was born in Robinson Township on May 1, 1871. Henry served with the 32nd Michigan Infantry during the Spanish American War. He married Ida Brunsma in Grand Haven on June 14, 1906. In their early married years, the Tripps resided at 509 Madison Street and Henry worked at Story & Clark Piano Company. Later, Henry became a celery farmer and owned property at 1000 Wallace Street [Beacon Boulevard], which they sold in 1945 to Ralph De Young. Henry and Ida moved to 809 Wallace Street, where they continued to raise celery. Henry died on March 21, 1939 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. One of their children, Ernest Henry Tripp, was born on January 12, 1913.

Samuel Gilbert Tripp [1836-1912]

A native of Massachusetts, where he was born in 1836, Samuel Tripp enlisted in Company G of the New York Marine Artillery during the Civil War. In 1860 he was single and living in Kalamazoo, working as a cooper. He married Amelia Owen. By 1871 they were living in Robinson Township. Amelia was born in New York about 1840 and died in 1917, five years after her husband. They were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. Their children were Jesse G., who was born about 1866, died on September 23, 1952, and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery; Theodore, born on September 28, 1868; Henry Albert, born in Robinson Township on May 1, 1871; Myron, born about 1874; and Myrta, born about 1879. Jesse and Theodore were born in Kalamazoo, the others were born in Robinson Township. Jesse married Ida A. Cooper in Allendale on December 4, 1895, and Theodore married Anna Robinson on April 27, 1892 in Grand Haven. Anna, the daughter of George and Mary Noantay Robinson, was born on November 4, 1872. Mary’s mother was the daughter of Isadore and Joset Noantay, both of whom had Indian ancestors.

Theodore Tripp [1868-1954]

On April 27, 1892 in Grand Haven, Theodore Tripp married Anna [Susanna, Annie, Hannah] Robinson. The daughter of George and Mary Noantay Robinson, Anna was born on November 4, 1872 in Robinson Township. Anna’s mother, Mary, was part Ottawa. Theodore, the son of Samuel and Amelia Owen Tripp, was born in Kalamazoo County on September 28, 1868 and had moved to Robinson Township with his parents by 1871. He worked as a raftsman for the Basket Factory, bringing logs down the Grand River for milling.

Anna’s and Theodore’s children were Claude Owen, who was born on February 4, 1895 in Robinson Township, married Gertrude Venema in Grand Haven on April 24, 1913, and died in Grand Haven in September 1968; Laura [Anna Laura], who was born on October 4, 1906 [1905], married Walter Kahne [Kuhnke/Kohnke] of Grand Haven, and died on September 20, 1988 in Grand Haven; and Velda, who was born on May 31, 1908 and died in Kalamazoo on January 5, 1959 under the name Valda Fern Holman, the wife of Jacob Holman. Living with the Tripps at 613 Monroe Street in 1920 was Walter [Walther] Robinson, the son of Frank and Anna Valincourt Robinson of Grand Haven Township and Anna’s nephew. Also in the Tripp household in 1920 was Anna’s grandmother, Mary Robinson. All were considered White by the census taker.

Anna, Claude, and Laura were cited in the 1908 Durant Roll as members of the Grand River Bands of Ottawa Indians, and all were residents of Grand Haven. By 1930 the Tripps were residing at 305 De Spelder in Grand Haven, and Theodore was working at the Dake Machinery Company, as he had been since at least 1920. Living with them was their son Claude, his wife, Gertrude, and their two children: Marian, 14 years old, and Robert, six years old. All family members in that census were noted as being White. Ten years later, Theodore and Anna were still living on De Spelder, but Clarence and his family had moved out. Theodore was employed as a vault maker in a local funeral home. He passed away in Grand Haven on December 15, 1954, and Anna died on May 10, 1955 in Kalamazoo and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Anna attended the Seventh Day Adventist Church. [Tribune obituaries, December 15, 1954 and May 10, 1955.]

Clinton R. Trotter [1896-1991]

Clinton Trotter, born March 30, 1896, was Richard Trotter’s son and Leroy D. Heath’s grandson. The Heaths raised their grandson after both his parents died when he was a boy. After graduating from high school, Clinton moved to Chicago, where he was enumerated in the 1920 and 1930 censuses. In 1930 he worked as a clerk in an insurance office. Clinton remained in Chicago until he retired and returned to Spring Lake. He resided at 736 East Savidge, next door to the family home at 746. He was a veteran of World War I. Clinton died in Grand Rapids on March 28, 1991.

Richard Trotter I [1843-1925]

A native of Ontario, Canada, Richard Trotter came to Spring Lake in 1881, and worked at several sawmills. Richard married Eliza Balton, also from Canada, where she was born in July 1850. They built a home at 746 East Savidge, which remained in the family for decades. The Trotters’ children were Thomas, born in Canada in June 1872; William H., who was born on November 18, 1878 and died on August 13, 1897; Ida E., who was born in January 1879 and married Floyd H. Lee; Richard II, who lived from August 24, 1877 to August 20, 1897; Monford B., who was born February 15, 1881 and died July 27, 1898; and Esma, a son, born in June 1884. All the children except Thomas were born in Spring Lake. Thomas, a carpenter, built a cottage in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township [15735 Littlefield Lane] in the fall of 1897. Richard I lived from February 1843 to 1925 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with other family members.

William H. Trotter [1878-1897]

The son of Richard Trotter, William was born in Spring Lake on November 18, 1878. On January 14, 1896 in Spring Lake, he married Agnes, the daughter of Leroy and Susanna Heath of Spring Lake. Agnes was born May 8, 1877. They had one son, Clinton, who was born in 1896. After his parents’ deaths, Clinton was raised by the Heaths. William died August 13, 1897, and his wife died on April 27, 1900. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. After the deaths of his parents, Clinton was raised by the Heaths.

Thomas Henry Truscott [1826-1905]

A St. Joseph boat builder had a strong presence at the Columbian Exposition, held in Chicago in 1893. The Truscott Boat Company manufactured the gondolas and small steam launches that moved many of the Exposition’s millions of visitors between the various sights. The company in 1904 supplied thirty-foot electric boats to sail the lagoons of the St. Louis Exhibition, and the company’s boats were used at the 1933-34 World’s Fair in Chicago, as well. The Truscott Boat Company was St. Joseph’s largest employer in the early twentieth century. Seven hundred Truscott craftsmen built 600 wooden boats a year, from simple rowboats to 85-foot yachts. By the early 1900s, Truscott had offices as far apart as Chicago and China. The company was sold to Thomas Temple of Chicago, who kept it going through WW II and up to 1950.

The founder of the company, Thomas H. Truscott, was born in Falmouth, England on August 11, 1826. In England, he married Mary E. Dorkes. They had at least four children, all born in England: John, born about 1866, Harry, born in December 1867, James, born about 1869, and Edward E., who was born in 1870 and died in 1879. Apparently Mary died before Thomas and his sons immigrated to America in 1870 and by 1876 had settled in Grand Rapids, where Thomas started the Truscott Boat Company. They produced small wooden steam launches, sailboats, and rowboats. The company moved to St. Joseph in 1872. Prior to 1880 he married Elizabeth L. Smith in Ottawa County, apparently his second marriage. According to newspaper reports, they resided in Ottawa County for awhile before relocating to St. Joseph. Elizabeth was born in Wales around 1831 and died in Georgia in early January 1896. By 1900 Thomas was living with his son, Harry and Harry’s family in St. Joseph. Harry was foreman of the Truscott Boat Company. Thomas died in 1905 and was buried at City Cemetery in St. Joseph.

Milo A. Tubbs [1861-1887]

The son of Ozias and Hellen [Ellen] Eastway Tubbs of Olive Township, Milo was born on March 13, 1861. On April 1, 1883 in Olive Township, he married Emma Kirkland. Emma, born in Greenville, Montcalm County about 1868, was adopted by Samuel and Martha Purchase of Olive Township. Milo and Emma had at least one child, Wilder D., who was born in Olive Township on April 6, 1884. Milo died on October 16, 1887 and was buried at Olive Township Cemetery.

Newton Isaac Tubbs II [Tubb] [1855-1930]

The son of Newton Isaac I and Lucinda Goldsmith Tubbs, originally from New York State, Isaac was born in Charlotte, Eaton County on August 25, 1855 and was in Shiawassee County at the time of the 1880 census. He came to Grand Haven in 1893 to set up a photography business, specializing in fine photographs, view work, and flash pictures. Prior to that he was a farmer and proprietor of a grocery store. On December 2, 1879 in Shiawassee County, he married Ella M. Lewis. She also was a photographer and assisted him in his new business. She was born in Michigan in August 1853 and died on August 28, 1938. A daughter, Ruth, was born in November 1895. Newton also was justice of the peace, an elected position, but one that did not require a legal education. He and his wife lived on Third Street around 1900, but by 1910 were located at 534 Lake Avenue. His mother, Lucinda, was born about 1828 and died around August 16, 1904. Newton died of cerebral apoplexy on November 16, 1930 and was buried at Maple Grove Cemetery in Charlotte. Ella was buried in the same cemetery.

Ozias [Ozians] Tubbs [1830-1904]

Ozias Tubbs was born on November 23, 1830. On July 30, 1856 in Grand Haven he married Hellen [Ellen], the daughter of James and Patty Dale Eastway. Ozias had a 40-acre farm in Section 3 and another 80 acres in Section 10 of Olive Township. Hellen was born on August 28, 1840 and died February 15, 1904. A son, Milo, was born March 13, 1861 and died October 16, 1887. Another son, George, was born in 1864. Ozias died on June 7, 1904 and was buried with his wife and other family members at Olive Township Cemetery.

William T. Tuer [1878-1969]

In the early 1900s William Tuer and his partner Emmet L. Wightman owned the Grand Haven Boat Company. Their business was located at the “foot of Clinton” and Harbor Drive. William and his wife, Katherine, lived at 123 Columbus. One of the company’s advertisements said they were “Manufacturers of Boats and Launches and dealers in Boat and Engine Supplies, Stationary and Marine Engines, Boat Repairing and Boat Storage.” William was born in Canada on May 15, 1878. Katherine was a Michigan native, where she was born around 1881. William and Katherine were married about 1902. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Ralph, born about 1904; Raymond, born about 1909; and Margaret, born about 1918. Their home in Grand Haven was located at 528 Lake Avenue. By 1930 the family was living in East Grand Rapids. When William passed away in November 1969, he was residing in Wayne County.

William Henry Tuggle I [1910-1978]

With Charles Anderson as his partner, William Tuggle in 1962 started ATCO Rubber Products at 14261 172nd Avenue in Grand Haven Township. Later the business name was changed to Atco Flex. After William’s death on October 16, 1978 the company closed. He was born on January 12, 1910. He and his wife, Muerila [Helen], lived at 17639 Dogwood Drive in Spring Lake Township. Helen lived from February 13, 1909 to December 16, 1994 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their son, William H. Tuggle II, owned and operated Western Packaging Corporation at 14260 172nd.

Herbert H. Tullson [1877-1923]

Herbert Tullson was born in Illinois in 1877 and arrived in Grand Haven on July 1, 1918 with the title of “meteorologist.” He was in charge of the weather bureau in Grand Haven until August 28, 1922. They resided at 411 North Fourth Street. They had two sons and two daughters. He died on March 26, 1923. His wife, June [Juna], was born about 1882, also in Illinois. One of their sons, Rex, remained in Grand Haven and managed the Western Union office. He was born in South Dakota about 1908. His residence was at 308 Franklin Street. [Tribune March 26, 1923.]

Thomas Turnbull [1829-1871]

Thomas Turnbull started Turnbull’s Boiler Shop in Ferrysburg in 1859. The business failed, was abandoned in 1862, and later taken over by Johnston Boiler Works. Thomas was born in England on November 24, 1829. His wife, Jane, was born in New York in 1834 and died on March 3, 1876. They had two children. By 1870 Thomas and his family were located in Muskegon. Working with Thomas at the boiler works was his brother, Robert N. Turnbull, a blacksmith. Robert, also from England, was born about 1835 and by 1870 was living in Manistee with his wife, Julia, and their three children. Thomas died on July 24, 1871 and was buried at Evergreen Cemetery in Muskegon.

Demetrius Turner [1815–1898]

The son of Elisha Turner and a native of Essex, Connecticut, where he was born on February 25, 1815, Demetrius was in Grand Rapids by 1835 and a landowner as early as 1839. About 1836 he became an engineer in the first sawmill in Grand Haven, where he remained for two years, and he was Engineer on the vessel Owashtanong, launched in 1837. For the next ten years he was employed as an engineer on steamboats on the Grand River. Demetrius developed the first steam whistle to be used west of Detroit. In 1864, he built an engine for Captain Ganoe’s steamboat, the L. G. Mason. He returned to Grand Rapids and became chief engineer of the Grand Rapids waterworks, where he invented and built the necessary engines, for which he received a patent. He married Hannah Pickett in March 1837. Hannah was a Vermont native, where she was born around 1815. Demetrius died on June 14, 1898 in Rochester, New York. [Tribune obituary, June 14, 1898 and Chapman’s History of Grand Rapids, pages 1148-1149.]

George D. Turner [1849-1936]

Born in June 1849 in Canton, New York, George came to Michigan in 1867 with his father, John W. A. Turner. Two uncles, Eliphalet and Isaac Turner, had preceded them by more than 30 years. In 1845 Eliphalet was instrumental in building the first bridge over the Grand River in Grand Rapids [Bridge Street Bridge] and took 40 acres of land in Berlin [Marne] for payment. Isaac built some of the early sawmills in Kent County. Both Eliphalet and Isaac remained in the Grand Rapids area. John Turner owned a farm in Section 1 of Tallmadge Township, where young George lived and taught school for awhile. After taking a course at Grand Rapids Commercial College he was elected on the Republican ticket to the post of county clerk and held that position between 1881 and 1895. As early as 1892, George owned the Ottawa County Abstract Office, later known as Turner Abstract Office, with an office in the Ottawa County Court House. An advertisement in the 1892 Historical and Business Compendium claimed that Turner’s office owned the “only set of abstract books in the county.” In 1923 he sold the real estate title business to George Olsen and Orrie Sluiter. He was one of the organizers and a director of Peoples Savings Bank, formed in 1909; chairman and secretary of the Republican County Commission for four years; and deputy collector of customs until that position was abolished in 1913.

George married Lillian [Lilly] C. Marvin of Wright Township on September 14, 1873. They resided at 111 Howard and had two sons, including Marvin Walter, who was born on April 24, 1877, married Marian Stickney of Grand Haven, and died on July 4, 1935. The other son, Lynn D., was born in July 1882. George died November 13, 1936. Lillian, who was born in October 1853 [1852], passed away in 1924. George, Lillian, Marvin, and Marian were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other Turners. Marian lived from October 8, 1875 to September 5, 1919.

Jordan Turpin [Turpan/Turpen] committed one of the earliest murders on record in Ottawa County. He was born in Kentucky about 1810 [1806], and his wife, Victoria was born in the same state about 1810. They were residing in Spring Lake by 1850, where Jordan worked as a laborer, undoubtedly on a farm. [He may be the Judson Terrapin listed in the 1840 census under “Free Colored Persons.”] Two years later, he took a job as a cook on a vessel named Magic. Aboard that boat he became friends with William Vandenberg, a member of the crew. Also known as Nigger Dock [a variant of Doc], Jordan was tried for murder before Judge Flavius J. Littlejohn. Thomas B. Church was prosecuting attorney. William Vandenberg was one of those called to testify. After a four-day trial Jordan was found guilty on October 27, 1855 of killing William Haskins in Spring Lake, possibly the result of an argument between the two men over William’s wife, Sarah. According to the Grand Haven Tribune of March 14 and 15, 1894, the murder took place on the north side of Spring Lake in a log cabin owned by Turpin, across from the Monroe & Boyce sawmill, early Saturday morning, May 26, 1855. The newspaper reported that Jordan overtook Haskins and stabbed him in the back, but other witnesses said that Turpin killed Haskins by thrusting a knife into his chest. Hezekiah Smith was credited with capturing Jordan, binding him, and conveying him to Grand Haven in a canoe. According to later testimony by Grand Haven resident and lumberman Andrew Emlaw, Haskins’s widow married G.W. Fox five weeks after the murder. No record of the marriage nor the couple’s whereabouts was uncovered, however. Jordan was sentenced to life in Jackson Prison, where he died in 1868.

Frederick August Tusch [1854–1911]

Frederick August Tusch was a Grand Rapids resident who maintained a cottage on Spring Lake in an area later known as Veit’s Landing. Frederick Tusch and Jacob Veit were joint owners of the point. With his brother, Frederick started a small brewery in Grand Rapids, which later merged with the Grand Rapids Brewing Company. He held the office of secretary-treasurer when he died on October 24, 1911. He was born in Germany in 1854. His wife, Carrie, was born in Austria around 1860.

Charles Tuttle [1828-1923]

Charles Tuttle was born in Ohio on March 25, 1828. On March 31, 1864, while in Perryville, Indiana, he enlisted in Company C of the 1st Indiana Heavy Artillery as private. He was listed as a deserter on May 31, 1865. He married Lucina Sagebie, who was born in 1848 and died in 1932 in Osceola County. They had a farm in Section 8 of Olive Township. By 1918 they had moved from the farm and owned a house and lot in West Olive village. Charles died on October 15, 1923, and the next month Lucina applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. One of their sons, James, died on October 10, 1893 at the age of 18, and another son, Vern, was born November 14, 1885 and died July 12, 1941. All four were buried at Olive Township Cemetery.

James H. Tuttle [1847-1941]

Born in March 1847 in Ohio, James Tuttle by 1900 had settled on a 40-acre farm in Section 15 of Robinson Township. In addition to farming, he raised livestock. On February 8, 1871 in Ashland, Ohio, he married Delilah Fast. Also from Ohio, she was born on October 7, 1847. Their children, all born in Ohio, were Elma, born in May 1876; Elza J., born in October 1878; and Howard, born in March 1890. Delilah died on August 30, 1930 in Holland. Later in 1930 the farm was in the name of the Tuttle estate, indicating James must have died before that date.

Clarence C. Tuxbury [1851-1926]

Clarence Tuxbury of Grand Rapids owned a cottage in Highland Park. He was a partner with Edward Peters in developing Highland Park. Clarence was born in Alpine Township, Kent County in 1851, died in 1926, and was buried at Greenwood Cemetery in Sparta Township, Kent County. On October 1, 1870 he purchased a 40-acre parcel in Section 2 of Muskegon County. On December 11, 1871 in Walker, Kent County, he married Anna “Annie” C. Saur [Sor], who was born in Sweden in 1848. Anna died in 1942 and was buried at Greenwood Cemetery with her husband. Buried with them was a son, Leonard, who was born on November 22, 1882 and lived thirteen months. They had at least one daughter, Eva, who was born in Sparta, Kent County, about 1885.

Henry Tysman [1886-1987]

Henry Tysman was born in Ulrum, The Netherlands on December 20, 1886 and died in Grand Haven in March 1987. He worked at the piano factory, Kilbourn’s, and elsewhere. Later he became a painter and worked well into his 80s. He also taught Sunday School. Henry married Jeanette Van Woerkom on April 16, 1913 in Grand Haven. Their children were Margaret, who married Harold Le Tart; Gertrude, who married Albert De Haan; and Agnes Louise. Agnes, the wife of William Edward Graska, was born May 18, 1914 and died December 26, 1990. Sena, Etta, and Louis and his wife, Angie, also lived at the Tysman house on Madison. Jeanette was born in Grand Haven on May 25, 1890 and died on January 7, 1975. Sena, the daughter of Louis and Angie, married Charles Rycenga I. Born on December 5, 1890, she lived to be 92. Etta lived from 1888 to 1961.

Jacob “Jack” Tysman [1910-2000]

A Grand Haven native, Jack was born on March 18, 1910, the son of Theo and Grace Exter Tysman. He married Jennie Baker, also of Grand Haven, on September 25, 1935. Jack founded the Robbins Road Hardware in 1952 and managed it for 19 years. He also owned and operated a celery farm in the area for 20 years. Jack was a member of the First Christian Reformed Church and was a deacon and elder for several years. He served on the Board of Christian Haven Home and was its president for a time. The Tysmans had two sons, William and Edward, both of Grand Haven. Edward married Joann, daughter of Bud and Bette Oosse Karsten of Grand Haven. William was born on May 11, 1940. Jack died on December 9, 2000 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Jennie, who was born on December 18, 1910, died on February 11, 2004 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, December 11, 2000.]

Louis Tysman [Tisman] [1862-1944]

Louis Tysman and his wife, Angie [Antje/Annie], lived at 824 Madison in Grand Haven. Louis and Angie immigrated from The Netherlands to the United States in 1882. Lois made his living as a commercial fisherman, working out of Grand Haven. He also worked at Eagle Ottawa. Louis lived from September 1862 to around January 14, 1944, and Angie from June 1855 to about December 31,1936. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children, all but Henry born locally, were Henry, born in December 1887; Ettie, born in December 1889; Sena, who was born on December 5, 1890 and married Charles Rycenga I of Grand Haven; Anna, born in December 1893; Jennie, who was born on October 2, 1894 and married Giles Hiler of Grand Haven in 1941; and Albert, born in October 1897.

Born on October 20, 1896, Ollie Tysman was a veteran of World War I and fought in France. After the war he became a commercial fisherman in the Grand Haven area. He died on January 24, 1993 at the age of 97 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ollie’s wife, Henrietta Swiftney, was born December 30, 1904, died on January 27, 1997, and also was buried at Lake Forest. They were members of the First Christian Reformed Church.

William J. Tysman [1940-2015]

As a boy, Bill worked with his father in the celery fields and later at Robbins Road Hardware, which Jack Tysman had started in 1952. In 1973 Bill and Nancy took over ownership and management of the store and ran it for the next 35 years. Bill started and operated Bill Tysman Trucking and Snowplowing for 53 years. He then organized Bill Tysman Companies and added mini and mobile storage and landscaping. As a young man, he served as deputy sheriff, on the building committee for Grand Haven Christian School and other organizations, and he was a contributing member of the First Christian Reformed Church, serving as deacon and elder. Bill died on December 25, 2015 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Jasper Uitermark [Uitermarkt] [1857-1946]

Jasper Uitermark was born in Gelderland, The Netherlands, on March 29, 1857 and came to America with his parents when he was seven years old. They settled on a farm in Rockland County, New York, and two years later moved to Grand Haven. He started working for a commercial fishing firm at the age of eleven. By 1878, his last year in the fishing business, Jasper was working for Captain Adrian O’Beck, Cornelius Van Zanten, Henry Fase, and John Ball, owners of the fishing tug Pearl. From 1879 to 1883 Jasper worked in a local shingle mill, and then he shifted to similar work in Muskegon.

Jasper married Margaret Bymhold on July 14, 1866 in her hometown of Muskegon. Their two children were Mrs. W. E. Barr and Andrew B. Uitermark, both of Muskegon Heights. Andrew was born on November 27, 1892 and died in May 1965. In 1891 Jasper and his family returned to Grand Haven, where he resumed employment as a woodworker. He built a cold storage building for Henry Dornbos, which was destroyed by fire. He constructed a similar building for Ed Kinkema. The Uitermarks then moved back to Muskegon, where they remained for the rest of their lives. Jasper worked at a variety of places, including Shaw-Walker for the twenty years preceding his retirement in September 1934. In Muskegon, the family lived at 516 Allen Avenue. Jasper died on August 21, 1946, and Margaret passed away on November 16, 1940. Both were buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon. [Chronicle article, April 7, 1935.]

Emil W. Van Cura [1914-2000] and Otto Van Cura [1919-1957]

In the 1940s the Van Cura brothers owned Van Cura Motor Sales located at 300 South Beechtree. In the late 1940s the company carried Kaiser/Frazer automobiles, and in the 1950s it offered Plymouths. Van Cura Motor Sales also offered Cooper tires and Frazer tractors. Emil and Otto were the sons of Joseph and Matilda Starman Van Cura, who resided in Necedah, Wisconsin before moving to Robinson Township prior to 1930. Joseph was born in Hungary about 1876 and Matilda was from Czechoslovakia, where she was born about 1879. Emil was born on October 8, 1914 and died on October 9, 2000 in Sterling, Colorado. Otto was born March 23, 1919 in Necedah, Wisconsin, where his sister, Martha, also was born, about 1918. Otto died in January 1957.

Ernest [1921-1993] and Doris De Vries Voshel Vandam [Van Dam] [1924-2015]

Ernest was born April 17, 1921 in Grand Rapids to Dick and Fanny Buikema Vandam. He came to Grand Haven in 1973 and was owner and president of Riverside Gravel before retiring in 1985. A WWII Army veteran, Ernest was a member of Christ Community Church, Spring Lake Country Club, Hawk’s Nest Country Club, Peninsular Club of Grand Rapids, Century Club, and Greater Grand Rapids Builders Exchange.

On January 27, 1971 Ernest married Doris May De Vries Voshel in Grand Rapids. Born in Grand Rapids on January 27, 1924, she previously had married Lloyd Voshel on October 30, 1946. They were divorced in 1969.

Doris intended to become a physician, but she gave up that goal early in her career in order to raise a family with Lloyd. She did receive a degree in music, a subject she taught at Ferris State College [FSU], and she was occasional organist at Central Reformed Church in Grand Rapids. She taught mathematics, chemistry, hydraulics, and chlorination at Grand Rapids Junior College [Grand Rapids Community College]. Doris was the chief chemist and assistant superintendent at the Grand Rapids Filtration Plant and was Michigan’s only female Class A certified wastewater plant operator. She retired as superintendent [general manager] of the new Grand Haven-Spring Lake Wastewater Treatment Plant that opened in 1974. Doris and Lloyd had two children, David Voshel, who was born about 1951, and a daughter Anne, born about 1955. Anne married Jerry Nudo and resided in Chicago.

Doris and Ernest resided at 10975 Lakeshore, West Olive. Ernest died on May 24, 1993 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. When Doris passed away on June 26, 2015, she was living in Chicago. [Tribune
John R. Van Dam [Vandam] [1857-1938]

John Van Dam was born in Overisel, Allegan County, on January 30, 1857 [1856]. His father, Roelof, arrived from The Netherlands with the Holland Colony in 1847, and moved his family to Grand Haven in 1876. Roelof, who lived from 1830 to 1912, married Maartje Broekman. She lived from January 21, 1835 to 1911. Both were buried at East Drenthe Cemetery in Zeeland Township. After studying for six months at Chicago Business College, John stayed to work in that city for two years. He returned to Grand Haven in 1880, opening a dry goods business on the corner of Washington and Second Streets [probably 135 Washington]. He sold out in April the following year and became an agent for the New Home Sewing Machine.

John on March 31, 1878 married Margaret “Maggie” Vanden Bosch. She was the daughter of Koene Vanden Bosch of Grand Haven, where she was born on February 17, 1859. The Van Dams had two daughters, Caroline and Esther, and three sons, including John II, who lived from 1889 to 1922. By 1910 the family had moved to Grand Rapids, where Maggie died in 1925 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Kent County with her husband, son, and other family members. John I died May 28, 1938. He added an “e” to the family name, making it “Van Dame.”

[Tribune obituaries March 3, 1921 and August 9, 1950.]

William Van Den Berg [Van Der Berg and other variations] [1836-1904]

William Vandenberg [Vanderberg] married Mary Sophia Duvernay in Grand Haven on November 30, 1865. William and Mary had a daughter, Minnie Nellie [Nelli], born about 1867. She was considered part Ottawa. On May 5, 1883 Nellie married Robert McClellan in Grand Rapids.

William Vandenberg was born on July 26, 1836 in Zeeland, The Netherlands, and arrived in Holland, Michigan with his parents and other members of the Van Raalte colony in 1847. He married his first wife, Mary, in Grand Haven on November 30, 1865. They had a daughter, Minnie Nellie [Nelli], who was born about 1867. Two years after Mary died around 1873 in Grand Haven, William married Mary [Marie/Maria] Parrisien [Duvernay]. The daughter of Pierre and Julia Duvernay of Grand Haven, Mary was born in Grand Haven in February 1843 [1850/1858]. For unknown reason she was adopted or taken in by Jean Baptiste and Madeline McGulpin Parrisien, also of Grand Haven. Mary was one-half Indian because her mother, Julia, was the daughter of a Chippewa chief and an unknown Indian woman.

William and his second wife had a daughter, Madeline, who was born in Grand Haven on March 19, 1880. She married Henry [Harry] F. Gardner of Grand Haven. The other Vandenberg children were Louis, who was born in Grand Haven on June 1, 1878 and died on July 29, 1888, and William II, born in Grand Haven on June 11, 1888. In the 1880 census Mary was listed as Indian, but her children were noted as being White. They resided on Monroe Street. In 1900 William, Mary, and William II were living at 619 Monroe Street, and William the father was working as a painter. Mary, William, and Madeline were included in the Durant Roll of 1908, and were then residing in Grand Haven. [Madeline appeared under the name Vandenburg, the others as Vanderburg.] Mary’s age was given as 45. Also on the list was Nellie, William’s child by his first wife, shown as Nelli Vanderburgh. All five were considered members of the Grand River Bands of Ottawa Indians. William was listed in the Durant Roll as William Vanderberg and again as William McClellan. In the same Roll, a 25-year old Eva Vanderberg, born in Michigan, was listed as the wife of Edward Bieneman, of White descent. The couple resided in Kenosha, Wisconsin and had two sons: James, age 4, and Jack, age 2. An Eva Vanderberg, the daughter of Edward and Maggie Vanderberg, was born in Spring Lake on August 7, 1883. She was a member of the Grand River Bands of Ottawas.

On May 5, 1883 William’s daughter Nellie married Robert McClellan in Grand Rapids.

In 1908 in Grand Haven, Mary received about $21.18 as her share of the Indian annuity allotted that year. In the Federal Census of 1910 William II was listed as Mary Vandenberg’s foster son under the name Willie McLellen. They were residing at 619 Monroe Street, possibly in the same house cited in the 1880 census.

804
Before the Civil War, William I was a sailor on the Great Lakes. In 1863 he enlisted as private with Company K of the 1st Michigan Engineers and Mechanics, but soon was transferred to the Navy to serve as Seaman aboard Red Rover, a Confederate steamship that was captured by the Union and converted to a hospital vessel. Following discharge, William resumed his life as a sailor, this time on ocean vessels. On one occasion he was shipwrecked in the tropics, picked up by a passing ship, and carried to Haiti. In 1891 William applied for an invalid’s pension, based on his Civil War service. After his death on August 16, 1904, Mary applied for a widow’s pension. In 1908 Mary was still residing at 619 Monroe Street. With her was her son, William II. Ten years later she was at the same address, where her other son, Louis also lived. Mary passed away on May 9, 1928 and was buried with her husband at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, August 16, 1904.]

Andrew Vanden Bosch [1879-1949]

Born on November 10, 1879 in Michigan, Andrew Vanden Bosch in September 1906 [1905] married Minnie [Willimina/Wilhelmina] Osterhoff. Born on July 27, 1878 in Michigan [The Netherlands], she was the daughter of Hessel and Willemtje Osterhoff of Spring Lake. The Vanden Bosches were Spring Lake residents and lived at 213 West Mason, where they raised their children: Thomas, born on July 8, 1906; Winifred, born about 1909; and Ruth Mildred, who was born on January 12, 1916 and died on November 22, 1994. Minnie had previously been married to Jacob Le Febre of Grand Haven Township and had a son, James Le Febre, born about 1902. James resided with the Vanden Bosches in Spring Lake. Jacob lived from October 16, 1875 to April 16, 1902 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his parents. Andrew passed away on February 12, 1949, and Minnie died on January 30, 1969. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Charles H. Vanden Bosch [1877-1942]

The son of Hendrik and Johanna Smit Vanden Bosch, Charles was born in Holland, Michigan on April 7, 1877. He married Hilda [Hattie] Kieft, who lived from July 1879 to 1947. Hilda was the daughter of Fred and Anna Kieft of Grand Haven. Charles worked with other Vanden Bosches at the Vanden Bosch Store located at 100 North Third Street. He and Hilda lived on the second floor of the building at first, but later moved to 519 Slayton. Charles died about December 7, 1942 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Hilda passed away around April 1, 1947 and was buried with her husband at Lake Forest.

Gerardus “Gerrit” Vanden Bosch [1851-1911]

Born September 3, 1851 in The Netherlands, Gerrit was the son of Koene and Maijge Rook Vanden Bosch. Gerrit came to Grand Haven with his parents in 1856, and about 1875 he opened a grocery and dry goods business. The store was located at the northeast corner of Third and Columbus Streets [100 North Third] in Grand Haven. It was known as Vanden Bosch & Company and later as the Big Store. In 1884 a clothing department was added under the management of Gerrit’s brothers, Thomas and Henry. Thomas died in September 1894, and Martin retired in 1897. About that time Martin’s and Thomas’s sons, Charles, Conrad, and Bert, joined the firm, and it became known as G. Vanden Bosch & Sons. By 1908 at least six Vanden Bosches were associated with the business, and several others were part of Enterprise Clothing Company at 106-108 Washington. Gerrit also was treasurer of Grand Haven Furniture, which operated between 1890 and 1895.

Gerrit and his wife Neska “Nancy” in their early years resided above the retail establishment and later at 218 South Fifth Street. Nancy, also a native of The Netherlands, was born about 1850. Their children, all born in Grand Haven, included Mary, born in 1873; Johanna, born in 1876; Conrad, who was born in 1878 and died November 25, 1952 and whose wife, Daisy, died on January 3, 1965; Martin G. Henry, who was born on March 28, 1883 and died in Grand Rapids on May 3, 1966; Henry, who was born December 20, 1887; Geraldine, born about 1895; Hermina, who died Oct 1, 1937; Thomas; and Josephine, who married Herman
J. Schram of Mason City, Iowa. Gerrit died on April 2, 1911 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Nancy lived from 1850 to 1930, at least part of the time in Grand Rapids. [Tribune obituaries October 28, 1899 and April 5, 1911.]

Hendrik “Henry” K. Vanden Bosch [1844-1928]

Born in The Netherlands in January 1844, the son of Koene and Maijge Rook Vanden Bosch, Henry came to Holland, Michigan with his parents in 1856 aboard the ship Fairfield. Henry later engaged in farming. Arend Vander Veen [Vanderveen] [1840-1930]

Born in Amsterdam, The Netherlands on September 19, 1840, Arend was the brother of Christian, who became minister of the First Reformed Church in Grand Haven, and Jacob, who became a druggist, also in Grand Haven. In 1847 Arend and his family joined the second Van Raalte colony that settled on Black [Macatawa] Lake near Holland. Arend studied for the ministry at Van Vleck Hall [Hope College] but did not become a preacher and began instead to study medicine under the tutelage of a local physician. On September 11, 1861, just months after the Civil War broke out, at age 18 he joined Company D of the 8th Michigan Infantry, called the “Wandering Regiment,” and became known as the “boy surgeon.” He was named assistant Surgeon on February 26, 1863 and discharged in July 1865. Arend was on guard duty in Washington, D.C. after the war and was a witness to the court martial of the group that assassinated president Lincoln and the hanging of David Herold, Mary Surratt, George Atzerodt, and Lewis Payne in the Capitol Prison Courtyard.

Following his discharge, Arend attended the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York City and returned to Grand Haven in 1868 to begin his practice of medicine. He did a special study of malarial diseases at the University of Alabama where he obtained his medical degree. Arend was said to have delivered over 4,200 infants during the 60 years of his professional career, and he was called to nearby cities for consultations. He had a gold colored horse called “Ned” whom everyone loved and which he used even after the auto had been perfected. If the doctor was out on sick calls, his wife mounted the stairs to the tower in their home at 508 Washington Street, signaled him with a lantern to let him know there was an emergency call, and dispatched a man to tell the doctor where he was wanted. Arend was alderman for the First Ward; a member of the first City Council in 1867, a member of the Board of Health, and a member of the Grand Haven Concert Band.

Arend married Kate Elizabeth Howard of Holland on September 14, 1869. Kate was born in Grand Haven in December 1850 [1849] and became a physician after studying at Sacred Heart Convent in Detroit. She learned to speak Dutch so that she could understand the medical needs of her local patients, many of them born in The Netherlands.

The Vander Veens built a home on the hill at 508 Washington Street, across from the later City Hall. The couple had two daughters: Marian, who was born on July 12, 1870 and married Henry Dubee of Grand Haven; and Marguerite, who was born in August 1886, married Charles Floyd, and settled in Detroit. Dr. Vander Veen died on March 14, 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Kate applied for a widow’s Civil War pension after his death. She died January 26, 1935 and was buried with her husband at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, March 15, 1930, and Grand Rapids Press article, “Veteran Doctor of G. H. Lives Eventful Life,” June 15, 1929.]

Christian Vander Veen [1838-1896]

Jacob Vander Veen [1844-1938]

Born in January 1844 in The Netherlands, Jacob came to Holland, Michigan in 1847 with his parents as part of the Van Raalte group. The trip took 56 days to cross the Atlantic and an additional 25 days to get from New York City to Holland. His father, who was a coppersmith, died in 1849 and his mother started a hardware store in Holland at Eighth and Lake Avenue. In 1861 Jacob and his mother moved to a house in Grand Haven on the southeast corner of Fifth and Washington Streets [502 Washington], next door to the house his brother, Dr. Arend Vander Veen, later built. Jacob was a member of the first graduating class of 1861 at Hope College, where he got his degree as a registered pharmacist. He then worked in New York with several drug companies and came to Grand Haven, where he started the Vander Veen Drug Store at 136 Washington Street. He operated the store for 35 years until 1918 [1914] when he sold it to John W. Mulder. Jacob was City treasurer in 1920 and 1921 and again in 1923 and 1924. He also was chief of the Fire Department.

Around 1881 Jacob formed a company with John W. Cook and an unnamed “Grand Haven lumberman” to carry out lumbering operations in Wisconsin. The business was named Cook, Vanderveen & Company In mid-September 1881, the company purchased the Monroe, Boyce & Company saw and shingle mill at Spring Lake, which they planned to move to Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin, where they had extensive holdings in real estate and equipment. The Spring Lake mill was to be converted into a combination band and circular mill.

On February 14, 1876 in Grand Haven, Jacob married Adelaide [Adeline] Russell, Adelaide was born in Michigan January 1852. Their children included Claude F, who was born in September 1878 in Michigan; Kate R., who was born in August 1880 and married Edward Pippel; Arend, born in September 1885; and Maurice, who moved to Grand Rapids. The family attended St. John’s Episcopal Church. Jacob died on May 17, 1938 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 17, 1938 and Grand Rapids Press obituary, May 18, 1938.]

He also had a sister, Nellie, was born in Michigan in March 1870. On August 7, 1918 in Grand Haven, Dick married Maggie Van Loo. The daughter of William and Katherine Van Loo, Maggie was born in Grand Haven in 1878 and died about February 4, 1930. Dick was a varnisher at the Story & Clark Piano Company. The family resided at 437 Grant. Dick passed away on July 5, 1950 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife.

Henry [Hendryk] Van Woerkom [1863-1939]

Born in The Netherlands on February 4, 1863, Henry Van Woerkom arrived in the United States in 1870. In Grand Haven he started working at the De Spelder grocery store on Seventh Street and was later employed by Gerrit Vanden Bosch, who operated one of the first clothing stores in Grand Haven. Later Henry was hired by the Enterprise Clothing Company in downtown Grand Haven, and a few years after that he joined Peter Van Lopik, who operated one of the largest stores in the area. Van Lopik’s business was reorganized as the Central Clothing Company at 212 Washington, and Henry became a partner in the business. The company was dissolved in 1931, and Van Woerkom retired at that time, although he was associated with Van Woerkom’s Men’s Shop at 126 Washington until at least 1934.

On September 11, 1888 in Holland, Michigan, Henry married Johanna “Anna,” the daughter of Bastian Kruidenier. Anna was born in The Netherlands on February 12, 1866. The Kruidenier family settled in Holland when Anna was five. She died March 19, 1951. The Van Woerkom children included Jeanette, who was born on May 25, 1890, married Henry Tysman of Grand Haven, and died on January 7, 1975; Bastian, who was born on March 6, 1894 and ran a clothing store in Grand Haven for several years before moving to Berkley, California; Gertrude, who was born on November 9, 1896 and married Lawrence Dornbos of Grand Haven; Daniel, who was born on December 28, 1898; and Nell, who was born on February 11, 1903 and married Carroll E. Ackerman on April 14, 1934. Henry died on August 1, 1939 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife died on March 19, 1951 and also was buried at Lake Forest. Adlebert M. Van Wormer [1847-1910]
The brother of Edmond Van Wormer of Grand Haven, Adelbert was born in Auburn, New York on February 4, 1847. He moved with his family to Oxford, Oakland County in 1856. He and three of his brothers, including Edmond, enlisted in Company F of the Ninth Michigan Calvary on May 5, 1864. Adelbert was discharged on July 21, 1865. After the war, he married Mary Hybter in Oxford. She died in 1880, leaving Adelbert with three sons: Orrie, Edmond, and Bernard. Edmond was born in Oxford on April 9, 1871 and lived in Grand Haven until 1915. Edmond died in Oregon about March 30, 1931. Adelbert and his sons moved to Grand Haven in 1882. The same year, he married Louise Bollow. Of their four children, only Corabelle survived. Adelbert was an architect and millwright. He was a member of the Weatherwax Post of the G.A.R., International Order of Odd Fellows, and the Knights of Pythias. He died in Grand Haven on April 30, 1910. Louise died about June 15, 1939 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband and other family members. [Tribune obituaries, April 30, 1910 and March 31, 1933.]

Edmond Van Wormer [1841-1921]
Born in New York State on March 1, 1841, Edmond Van Wormer moved to Grand Haven. Adlebert Van Wormer was his brother. In the 1880 census for Flint he was listed as a railroad engineer. By 1900 Edmond had opened a restaurant at 18 Washington, where he also resided. He was a widower at the time of the 1900 census. Edmond was still in the restaurant business at the same address in 1908, but did not appear in the 1910 census, although he is mentioned in his brother’s obituary as being a resident of Grand Haven. He and his wife, Julia, had at least one child, William. Julia was born in Flint about 1847. Edmond appeared in a census of Civil War veterans who were living in Grand Haven in 1894. He and his three brothers served with Company F of the Ninth Michigan Cavalry, enlisting on May 5, 1864 and mustering out on July 21, 1865. He died at the Soldier’s Home in Grand Rapids on February 5, 1921 and was buried there.

Jan Van Wyk was an early member and leader of the First Christian Reformed Church in Grand Haven. He was born in The Netherlands and lived from October 1832 to 1909. He arrived in the United States in 1854. He was listed as a “retired laborer” in the 1893 Compendium. He married Tryntje Bakker in Grand Haven on October 28, 1867. Also from The Netherlands, Tryntje was born in March 1842 and died in 1912. She immigrated to the United States in 1867. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Govert Van Wynen [Van Der Wynen, Wynan] [1860-1935]
Born in The Netherlands on December 4, 1861, Govert Van Wynen owned a 120-acre farm in Section 36 of Olive Township later known as Port Sheldon Township. He came to the United States in 1893 and settled in Olive Township in 1908. He also raised livestock. His wife, Gysbertje [Gertrude/Grace J.], was born in The Netherlands about 1858. She came to the United States the year after Govert, bringing with her their sons Jacob Grover, born on February 7, 1887, and Peter Henry, born February 1, 1889. The Van Wynens had a third son, Gilbert Adrian, born September 10, 1895 in Michigan. The Van Wynens continued to own their Olive Township farm into the 1930s. Govert died on June 24, 1935 in Port Sheldon and was buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery in Holland. His wife had died three years earlier.

Charles Van Zanten I [1872-1903]

Charles, the son of Folgert and Alice Baar Van Zanten, was born in 1872. After graduating from Grand Haven High School, he married Sena Powell, daughter of John Powell of Grand Haven, on May 11, 1898. Sena was born in 1874. Charles became assistant postmaster in Grand Haven. He and Sena had a daughter, Alice, who was born in Grand Haven on May 10, 1899 and married Henry Veld, and a son, Charles II, who was born locally on July 29, 1901. Charles the father died of smallpox on January 20, 1903. Four years later Sena married Teunis W. Muilenberg, pastor of the First Reformed Church in Grand Haven.

Cornelius [Corneil] Van Zanten [1838-1920]

Cornelius Van Zanten I was born in Groningen, The Netherlands on January 27, 1838. He and his wife, Frieka [Freerkjte] “Frances” Wierenga, whom he had married in Uithuizen, The Netherlands on May 14, 1864, crossed the Atlantic aboard the Germania. Frances was born in The Netherlands on September 30, 1837 and died in Grand Haven on July 26, 1902. They left Rotterdam on June 4, spent a brief time in New York, and arrived in Grand Haven on August 11 that year. Cornelius intended to go on to Muskegon, but a delay in Ferrysburg led to the young couple staying in the Grand Haven area. He found work loading vessels with lumber and later was employed at the Albee Tannery during the winter months. In 1869, in company with John Ball, Henry Fase, and Johannes Fisher, he invested in a small fishing sailboat that they purchased from the three Van Weelden brothers. In 1872 they bought the steam tug Pearl to use in fishing, with Captain Adrian O’Beck as master. Duncan Robertson built the tug at his shipyard, Montague Ferry built the engine at the Ferrysburg shops, and the boiler was constructed at the Johnston shop, also in Ferrysburg. Cornelius secured engineer’s papers and continued to engage in fishing the rest of his life.

The Van Zantens’ children, all born locally, included Jan “Jane,” who was born on November 15, 1865 and married Edward P. Kinkema of Grand Haven; Katie, who was born about 1867 and married Albert De Jonge; Dena [Dina/Wieberdina], who was born on January 13, 1869 and married John J. Bolt of Grand Haven; Cora, who was born about 1871 and married Jacob Dykema; Jennie, who was born about 1874 and married John Lang of Coopersville; Geertje “Gertrude,” who was born in 1875, married William S. Gruys and moved to Riverside, Berrien County; Cobia [Jacob], who was born in 1878 and married Bert Vanden Bosch of Grand Haven; and Cornelia, who was born in 1880, married Bernard [Barend] K. Kuiper, and moved to Grand Rapids. The Van Zanten family attended the Christian Reformed Church of Grand Haven, which Cornelius helped organize in 1882. On November 5, 1891, Cornelius purchased the Johannes Golberg’s 40-acre farm in Section 26 of Grand Haven Township [Peach Plains] for $1,200. After Frances’s death, Cornelius married Cornelia Veltkamp in 1905. She was born in The Netherlands on August 30, 1839, died on September 26, 1914, and was buried at Lake Forest. Cornelius died on December 13, 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Frances. Folgert Van Zanten was Cornelius’s brother. [Tribune article, “Nearly Half Century in America,” August 11, 1913,” and Tribune obituaries, May 7, 1910 and December 13, 1920.]

Corneil “Neil” Van Zanten II [1879-1949]

In the early 1900s Corneil Van Zanten II was part owner of a general store at 222 North Seventh. His partner was Charles Fisher. They carried primarily groceries, but also patent medicines, fabrics, and other items. On August 26, 1909 in Grand Haven, Neil married Henrietta “Etta” Cook. Etta, who was born in Grand Haven December 30, 1882, the daughter of John M. and Maggie Cook, died May 6, 1910 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Neil built and lived in the home at 620 Lafayette. Born on May 26, 1879, he was the son of Folgert and Alice Baar Van Zanten of Grand Haven. He died in 1949 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Folgert [Folkert] Van Zanten [1849-1931]

Born in Groningen, The Netherlands on March 14, 1849, Folgert Van Zanten came to America alone at the age of 14 to join his older brother Cornelius, who was a commercial fisherman in Grand Haven. He worked in the sawmills and advanced to head sawyer. In 1892 Folgert went into partnership with Tyl Groenendal and started a coal and wood yard at 520 Elliott Street in Grand Haven, which they named Groenendal & Van Zanten. A little later Folgert bought out his partner and renamed the business Van Zanten & Son. He also bought out an ice firm and made that industry a branch of his business, which he advertised as “The Coal and Ice Men.” He was a member of the Board of Education and of the First Reformed Church.

On October 7, 1870 Folgert married Aaltje “Alice” Baar, who was born in May 1852 in The Netherlands, the daughter of Simon and Helena Yonker Baar of Grand Haven. The Van Zantens lived at 520 Elliott, the same location as the business. Their nine children, all born in Michigan, included Charles, who was born in 1872; Simon, who was born in 1877, moved to Kenosha, Wisconsin, and died on February 9, 1967; Corneil [Cornelius], who was born in May 1879; Lena, born in October 1881; Jacob, who was born in August 1884, worked at the post office for many years, and died on December 20, 1954; Helena, who was born about 1882, worked for many years at the Addison Baltz store in downtown Grand Haven, and died on October 18, 1967; Kate, who was born in November 1886, became a milliner, and married Martin Van Doorne II of Grand Haven, who died in 1921, and then Anthony Hoebeke, also of Grand Haven; Alice, who was born in November 1889, and married Myron Rose of Grand Haven; and Jennie, who was born in May 1897 and married Louis Loetz. Alice died of “a weakened condition and smallpox” on February 23, 1903, about a month after her son. In 1918 Folgert married the widow Gertrude Stevens of Grand Haven. Gertrude lived from 1864 to 1938. Folgert died at his home on Elliott Street on December 17, 1931 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, February 23, 1903 and December 17, 1931.]

Govert Van Zantwick [Van Zantwyk] I [@1836-1917]

Govert Van Zantwick and Henrietta Bartels were married in Grand Haven on July 3, 1861. They both were natives of The Netherlands, where Govert was born about 1836 and passed away around March 7, 1917. Henrietta lived from 1845 to around December 16, 1912. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had a daughter, Henrietta, who was born in Grand Haven on August 14, 1867, and two sons, Herman [Harmon], born in September 1869, and Dirk, who was born on August 23, 1873. Govert was a laborer. He and his family were residing at 625 Columbus as early as 1880, where they remained into the early 1900s. Govert Van Zantwick II was their grandson.

Govert Van Zantwick II [1893-1944]

After working at the Story & Clark Piano Company, Dake Engine Company, and John Boer & Sons, Furniture and Undertakers on Washington Street in Grand Haven, Govert Van Zantwick opened Ottawa County’s first funeral home at 208 Franklin Street in 1926. Two years later the business was located at 620 Washington, property they purchased from the George D. Sanford estate. In May 1926, Van Zantwick conducted his first funeral. The funeral home on Washington, which also served as their residence, later became known as Van Zantwick, Bartels, and Kammeraad, operating in both Grand Haven and Spring Lake. The business remained at 620 Washington into the 21st century.

On December 11, 1916 Govert married Winifred De Witt. The daughter of Johanes and Jennie De Witt of Grand Haven, Winifred was born October 25, 1893. The Van Zantwick children included Herman L., who was born on September 27, 1917. Other children were Joan Katherine, born about 1921, and Allen M., born around 1925. Govert, the grandson of Govert and Henrietta Bartels Van Zantwick, was born in Grand Haven on December 3, 1893, died on September 4, 1944, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His parents were Herman and Alice Van Zantwick. Govert’s widow, who married Jacob Cook in 1961, died on February 27, 1982.
Herman [Harmon] Van Zantwick [1869-1931]

The son of Govert and Henrietta Bartels Van Zantwick, Herman was born in Grand Haven in September 1869 [1870]. His wife, Alice “Allie,” was born in August 1873. They had a daughter, Henrietta, born in March 1892, and a son, Govert, born on December 3, 1893. Herman was a cook in the early 1890s, but later worked at Challenge. The family resided at 325 North Fifth.

Herman L. Van Zantwick [1917-1983]

Born in Grand Haven on September 27, 1917, Herman was the son of Govert and Winifred De Witt Van Zantwick. After graduating from Cincinnati College of Embalming in Cincinnati, Ohio, Herman was licensed as an embalmer in 1939. He then joined his father in the funeral home business. He served in the Navy during WWII as a hospital corpsman at Treasure Island and Fleet Receiving Hospital in California. After the war Herman assumed management of the business in place of his father, who had died two years earlier. In 1946 Charles M. Ayers joined Herman as part owner. In 1963 Herman contracted tuberculosis and was hospitalized for six months. He went into semi-retirement in May 1981. He enjoyed golf and was a caddy master and assistant pro who shot in the 70s at Spring Lake Country Club in 1937 under Denny Allen.

On April 4, 1941 Herman married Geneva Jane Palmer of Muskegon, who died in Spring Lake of congestive heart failure at the age of 70 on January 29, 1990. Their children included Kay, who married Geoffrey Bernd, became a nurse, and lived in Clinton, Lenawee County; Jane, who married Danny Miller of Spring Lake; and Dale Van Zantwick, who married Susan and took an active role in management of the funeral home. The family resided at 620 Washington, the site of the funeral home. Herman died on September 24, 1983 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Born in Groningen, The Netherlands in October 1818 [1817], Peter Van Zylen came to Grand Haven around 1865 [1877]. His wife, Wiepke, was born in The Netherlands in October 1817. They were married about 1854. Listed as Milkman in the 1880 census and as Drayman in the 1893 Business Compendium, Peter died at his home on October 22, 1894 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Wiepke died on March 20, 1904 and was buried with her husband. Their children, both born in The Netherlands, were Luther, born about 1852, and Mary, born about 1863. [Tribune obituary, October 23, 1894.]

Peter Henry Van Zylen [Van Zylin] [1877-1957]

Born in Grand Haven on June 9, 1877, Peter was the son of Heine [Henry] Pieter and Grietje Yonker Van Zylen, who both were born in The Netherlands, Cornelius. His grandparents were Peter and Wiepke Van Zylen of Grand Haven. Peter the younger went to work at the age of 14 in local industries before entering the produce business in Grand Haven in 1903. In 1904 he bought out William Thieleman I and went into the lumber business under the name of Van Zylen Lumber Company. He dealt in lumber, Pittsburgh paints and varnishes, sashes, doors roofing, cement, and coal. The company at first was located between Adams Street and the South Channel, near Sixth Street [701 North Sixth]. Later Peter moved his business to the corner of Seventh and Jackson Streets in Grand Haven [approximately 430-440 North Seventh]. For 53 years he operated lumber and coal yards at these two sites and another one on Davis Street, near Baker Lumber Company. He also erected and owned the coal sheds that serviced the Pere Marquette Railway system, located near the corner of Seventh and Jackson Streets in Grand Haven. He was a member of the Second Reformed Church, the Eagles, Grand Haven Farm Bureau, Spring Lake Country Club, Elks, Rotary Club, Retail Lumber Dealers Association of Michigan, Salvation Army, and was an officer of the Peerless Novelty Company. Peter was mayor of Grand Haven in 1915 and served as alderman in 1913 and again from 1930 to 1932. He was president of the Chamber of Commerce from 1924 to 1925.

On July 7, 1904 Peter married Dena Fase, who was born February 22, 1884 in Grand Haven. She was the daughter of Jacob Fase, a well-known local commercial fisherman. Dena’s sister Henrietta married Edward Kieft of Grand Haven. The Van Zylens lived at 442 North Seventh Street and later at 615 Washington. Dena died of a heart attack on August 6, 1940 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. She had been active in the Coast Guard Water Festival and always took care of the city banquet for the Coast Guard Festival. Their children, all born locally, included Marjorie C., who was born on April 2, 1905, married a Mr. Hektor of Muskegon, and died on February 24, 1993 in Grand Haven; James Henry, who was born on September 22, 1907; married Beryl Emeline Abbey, and died on August 22, 1988 in Santa Ana, California; and Cornelia Lena, who was born on October 18, 1910 and died in Muskegon on November 4, 1966. By 1918 Adrian had moved to Hammond, Indiana. His wife’s name at that time was Orphia [Orpha]. In 1942 he and his wife were living in Portland, Maine. Adrian died on January 3, 1955 in Oregon.

Andrew Ver Berkmoes [1887-1965]

Like his brothers Cornelius and Henry, Andrew was in the business of manufacturing cigars. His home in the early 1900s was at 320 Columbus. The brothers also trapped muskrats and raised celery on the mud flats east of the U.S. 31 bridge over the Grand River and at a site near the later Gage Motor Mall property. Andrew, the son of Cornelis and Pieternella Jacoba Botbijl [Botbyl] Ver Berkmoes, was born in Grand Haven on July 5, 1887. He was a member of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Other family members living with Andrew on Columbus Street in the early 1900s were his sisters and brothers, Della, a clerk, Joseph and Krein, both students, and Lizzie. On July 28, 1908 in Bailey, Muskegon County, Andrew married Hazel May Grindle. Hazel lived from June 23, 1889 to April 7, 1969. They had six children, all born locally: Howard A., born about 1909; Irmagene, born about 1910; Helen, born about 1912; Ruth, born about 1915; Lester, born about 1917; Merle L., born about 1919; Irmadean, born about 1920; and Marva, born about 1922. The family resided at 615 Grand Street around 1920, and then moved to 215 North Second.
Andrew died in Grand Haven on June 18, 1965 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, where Hazel also was buried.

Cornelis [Cornelius] Ver Berkmoes [1858-1931]

Born in Goes, The Netherlands on May 30, 1858, Cornelis was the son of Adriaan and Dirckje Schippers Ver Berkmoes. Cornelis settled in Grand Haven, where he married Pieterella Jacoba Botbijl [Botbyl] on October 19, 1881. Pieterella was born in Zeeland, The Netherlands, on September 16, 1862. Hendrik and Marie Paret Botbijl were her parents. Cornelis manufactured and sold cigars from his store at 110 Washington. The Ver Berkmoes children, all born in Grand Haven, were Dirckje “Della;” Selia, who was born in 1883 and died the same year; Mary, who was born about 1885 and died in September 1898; Andrew, who was born in 1887; Henry, who was born about 1888; Elizabeth; Joseph; Josie, who was born and died in 1892; Krein, who was born on October 19, 1894; and Cornelius, who was born on November 29, 1898. Cornelis passed away in Grand Haven on November 15, 1931, and Pieterella died three years later on December 22.

Cornelius “Kack” Ver Berkmoes [1898-1930]

Like his brothers Andrew and Henry, Cornelius was in the business of manufacturing cigars. The brothers also trapped muskrats and raised celery on the mud flats east of the U.S. 31 bridge over the Grand River and at a site near the later Gage Motor Mall property. Cornelius, the son of Cornelis and Pieterella Jacoba Botbijl Ver Berkmoes, was born in Grand Haven on November 29, 1898. He was a member of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. On November 21, 1921 Kack married Cora Dykstra in Muskegon. She was born about 1900. They lived at 320 Columbus Street. On November 24, 1930, Kack and his brother Henry died in the Grand River when their rowboat capsized near their property, then called Ver Berkmoes Island. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, November 25, 1930.]

George Ver Berkmoes [1902-1987]

The son of Adrian and Anna Emma Meinel Ver Berkmoes, George was born on April 27, 1902. He was married twice, first to Opal M. Cartwright and then to Katherine, who was born March 28, 1904. They lived at 1132 Franklin Street in Grand Haven, where Katherine died on December 18, 1986 and George the next August 14. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Harold Ver Berkmoes [1922-1965]

Born in Grand Haven in 1922, the son of Henry and Grace Ver Berkmoes, Harold graduated from Grand Haven High School and worked for Peerless Glove Company, Oldbergs, and Keller Tool Company. He entered Hope College but dropped out to enlist in the Air Force during World War II. After the war he resumed his education. Harold died in July 1965.

Henry Ver Berkmoes [1889-1930]

Henry, along with his brothers Cornelius and Andrew Ver Berkmoes, manufactured cigars. The brothers also trapped muskrats and raised celery on the mud flats east of the U.S. 31 bridge over the Grand River and at a site south of town near the later location of Gage Motor Mall. Henry was the son of Cornelis and Pieterella Jacoba Bothbijl Ver Berkmoes. On July 30, 1914 in Grand Haven, he married Grace Mulder. She was pregnant at the time of her husband’s death. On November 24, 1930, Henry and his brother Cornelius [“Kack”] died on the river near their property, called Ver Berkmoes Island at that time, when their rowboat capsized. Henry, who was born June 30, 1889, was 42 when he drowned. Henry and Grace had eight children, including Cornelius “Case,” who was born on March 10, 1914; Anna Marie, born about 1918; Donald, born about 1920; Harold, born about 1922; Edwin, born about 1925; Evelyn, born about 1927; Charlotte, born about 1928; and Henry, born June 1, 1931. Grace, who raised the children on her own, died April 21, 1947, at age 58. Between 1918 and 1930 the family resided at 125 Elliott. Later, their house, at 515 Grant Street, had a greenhouse in the backyard. [Tribune obituary, November 25, 1930.]

Krein Ver Berkmoes I [1894-1961]

Krein Ver Berkmoes was born in Grand Haven on October 19, 1894, the son of Cornelis and Pieternella Jacoba Botbijl [Bothyl]. Krein was a trapper and celery farmer and ran the Ver Berkmoes Feed Store in Grand Haven. He and his family moved from 809 Fulton to a celery farm on Wallace Street [Beacon Boulevard] on December 7, 1941. On September 25, 1921, in Grand Haven, Krein married Marie Nichols. Marie was born in Michigan on September 5, 1903, died in Grand Haven on April 14, 1980, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children were Krein II, who was born in Grand Haven on July 8, 1924, Mary H., born about 1927; and Joyce, who was born on May 2, 1930 and married David Fritz of Grand Haven. The family attended the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Krein I died on May 9, 1961 and also was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Krein II married Edith Ilene Plant of Coopersville, where she was born on December 18, 1929.

Cornelius “Case” J. Ver Brugge [1882-1952]

From about 1930 to 1945 Cornelius Ver Brugge and Cornelius Voshel were co-owners of Variety Woodwork Company at 317-405 Davis in Grand Haven. Prior to that, Case was a self-employed carpenter in Grand Haven. He was born in Michigan on May 18, 1882 and died around August 13, 1952. He married Daisy M. Nyland in Grand Haven on April 7, 1915. The daughter of Arend and Dena Schwouwenaar of Grand Haven, she was born in July 1887 and died around December 26, 1958. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The couple resided at 1009 Pennoyer.

Caleb Ver Duin [Verduin] [1875-1964]

Born in Grand Haven on September 19, 1875, Caleb was the son of Captain John and Geziena Ver Duin. Caleb’s brothers were Peter, Louis, and William. Captain Caleb Ver Duin became a commercial fisherman working out of Grand Haven. In 1898 Caleb had the first all-steel tug, C. J. Bos, built at Johnston Brothers Shipyard and father and three sons started their commercial fishing business the next year. The tug was named for Cornelius J. Bos, William’s father-in-law and Grand Haven businessman, who helped finance the boat. Three years later the Ver Duin family had the 72-foot fishing tug H. J. Dornbos built, also at Johnston Brothers. This one was named for Henry J. Dornbos, a principal figure in the Grand Haven fishing business with that name. Their fish houses, which were located in Muir at the base of Dewey Hill, burned down in October 1922. When the brothers sold their tugs, Caleb continued for a few years as a fisherman, using his own boat, and then went to work for Construction Aggregates running a tug to the gravel pits up the Grand River. Both Caleb and William had captain’s licenses.

Caleb married Hilda Bolthouse on October 31, 1901. They lived at 327 Clinton and later at 431 Leggat. Their surviving children included John, born January 26, 1902; Claude, born on June 19, 1908; and George S., born March 22, 1912. Hilda, who was born in Michigan around 1882, died in late December 1958. Caleb died on June 1, 1964 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Hilda. Both Caleb and William had captain’s licenses. [Tribune obituary, September 5, 1957 and personal correspondence from Robert Ver Duin.]

Claude Ver Duin [1908-1990]

Born in Grand Haven on June 19, 1908, Claude was the son of Caleb and Hilda Ver Duin. He was a commercial fisherman and later opened a fish market and lunch stand called The Fishery at 19 South Water Street [Harbor Drive], in a building he shared with John Pippel’s printing business, whose address was 25 South Water. In 1931 he published The Fisherman, a trade magazine for Great Lakes commercial fishermen that continued publication under the Ver Duin name until 1991. That year he sold the publication to the Great Lakes Fisheries Development Foundation. He and his wife, along with John Pippel, began operating a printing business from their home and also published a weekly newspaper, the Grand Haven Searchlight. Claude moved the printing business to the 100 block of North Third before relocating to 623 Washington in 1961. Claude also ran a Fire Protection Service from his home at 406 Howard and, in the 1960s, from 623 Washington.

After WWII Claude lobbied for seven years for construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway, was secretary for the Great Lakes Harbor Association, and was a member of Michigan Municipal Utilities. Claude was deputy Coordinator of Fisheries for the Great Lakes Region during WWII. He teamed up with Glenn Eaton and Chuck Bugielski to help organize and manage the Coast Guard Festival from 1946 to 1981. In 1948 he served on the Grand Haven City Council. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church; Elks; Eagles; Masons; Salvation Army board; Eastern Star; and he was active in the Boy Scouts. He served as mayor of Grand Haven from 1952 to 1956, and at the same time he was director of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce. In 1956 President Eisenhower appointed him one of the original members of the Great Lakes Fishery Commission, a post he held for 32 years.

In Grand Haven on May 23, 1934 Claude married Fern Gylleck. The daughter of Olaf T. and Dora Scheer Gylleck of Grand Haven, she was born on July 12, 1909 in Dixon, Illinois. Her father was advertising manager for the Challenge Machinery Company, and later owned Advertising Specialties, a business located at 623 Washington. Claude eventually joined his father-in-law in the business. Fern was a member of the Eastern Star for more than 70 years. Claude and Fern’s children included Robert C., whose wife’s name was Sandra. Bob ran the Fire Protection Service business for awhile and later ran the Ver Duin printing business. Ruth McMahon, an attorney in West Palm Beach and Sarasota, Florida, was their daughter. The Ver Duins resided at 311 South Fourth Street, then at 406 Howard, and finally at 111 Prospect. Claude died on November 9, 1990 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Fern passed away on December 27, 2001 and was buried with her husband at Lake Forest. [Tribune articles, “Named Local C of C secretary,” January 7, 1955, and “Advertising Specialties are Fun Business,” April 24, 1987, Tribune obituaries November 9, 1990 and December 28, 2001, and personal correspondence from Robert Ver Duin.]

George Seymour Ver Duin [Verduin] [1912-1993]

George Ver Duin was president and general manager of Modern Methods Manufacturing Company at 1410 Kooiman in Grand Haven. He married, Lois A. Farnham in Grand Haven on January 24, 1942. The daughter of Ralph and Susan Balgooyen Farnham, Lois born in Grand Haven on May 19, 1915. The couple resided at 612 Grand Avenue. He also was named vice president of North Shore Machine Works when it was founded in 1946. George, the son of Caleb and Hilda Bolthouse Ver Duin, was born in Grand Haven on March 22, 1912, died in Grand Haven on August 2, 1993, and buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Lois passed away on April 9, 2000.

Jan “John” Ver Duin [1843-1888]

Captain John Ver Duin, the son of Pieter and Elizabeth Trappenburg Ver Duin, was born in The Netherlands on September 26, 1843 and passed away in Grand Haven on July 28, 1888. His wife, Geziena “Sena,” also a native of The Netherlands, died of cancer of the liver at age 74 on April 29, 1924. They had four sons, all born in Grand Haven: Peter, born in June 1868; Louis, born about December 1869; William, born about 1872; and Caleb, born on September 19, 1875. The family resided at 322 Clinton. John was a commercial fisherman.

John Ver Duin [1902-1957]

Born in Grand Haven on January 26, 1902 to Caleb and Hilda Ver Duin, John was a commercial fisherman in Grand Haven for many years and a tug crewman for Construction Aggregates Corporation. The last two years of his life he was employed at Michigan Plastic Products. On December 21, 1928 he married Leona Law in Grand Haven. Leona was born about 1909 and died on July 2, 1952. Their children, all born in Grand Haven, included James E., who was born about 1930 and entered the Air Force; Judith, who married Ralph Bole of Grand Haven, Jack, and Russell. Around 1930 the family resided at 212 Water Street [Harbor Drive].
Leona passed away around July 5, 1952. John died on September 5, 1957 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Leona. [Tribune obituary, September 5, 1957.]

John Richard Ver Duin [1902-1983]

John R., the son of Peter and Henrietta Van Woerkom Ver Duin, was born in Grand Haven on November 11, 1902 and died on March 4, 1983 in Mendon, St. Joseph County. On April 19, 1928 in Holland he married Dorothy Eckman, who was born September 9, 1905 and died in St. Joseph, Berrien County on July 21, 1985. In Grand Haven the Ver Duins lived at 601 Fulton. John and Dorothy were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Louis A. Ver Duin [1869-1930]

Born in Grand Haven on November 3, 1869, Louis was the son of Captain John and Geziena Ver Duin. Louis worked for one of the local gravel companies. On July 7, 1892 he married Della [Dora] Groenendal in Grand Haven. Their children, all born in Grand Haven, were Jessenia, born on August 12, 1894; Theodore, born on September 20, 1901; and Della Louise, born on November 30, 1906. The family resided at 216 Howard. Della was born in Michigan on September 21, 1870, died in Grand Haven around November 25, 1950, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Louis passed away around November 24, 1930 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Pieter “Pieter” Ver Duin [1817-1900]

Peter Ver Duin, a Grand Haven merchant, was born in The Netherlands in 1817. On March 18, 1841 in The Netherlands, he married Elizabeth Trappenburg. Both were born in The Netherlands and immigrated to the United States in 1855. Among their children was Jan “John” Verduin, born in The Netherlands on September 26, 1843. Before the railroad moved to the Grand Haven side of the river, Elizabeth worked at the coffee shop at the train depot at the foot of Dewey Hill. She lived from January 19, 1818 to 1856. After Elizabeth’s death, Pieter married 21-year old Dingeena Versteeg in Ottawa County on January 25, 1857. Pieter died on September 28, 1900 in Homewood, Illinois.

Pieter “Peter” Ver Duin [1868-1953]

Peter, born in Grand Haven in November 1868, was the son of Captain John and Geziena Ver Duin. Peter’s brothers were Caleb, Louis, and William. Peter was a justice of the peace for 12 years before retiring on November 5, 1948 due to ill health. By the early 1890s he was running a grocery store at 118 North Third Street, but later he went into the commercial fishing business with two brothers. He also had a novelty store in the 1100 block of Washington Street before 1936. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

On January 17, 1894 Peter married Henrietta Van Woerkom in Grand Haven. She was born in The Netherlands in September 1868 and died in Grand Haven on January 9, 1945. They lived at 454 Grant. Their children included Aurelia, born in May 1897; Louis Arthur, who was born on December 30, 1898 and died in St. Joseph, Berrien County on December 1, 1979; John L., born in July 1899; James, who was born about 1901 and moved to Dowagiac, Cass County; John R., who was born in Grand Haven on November 11, 1902 and married Dorothy Eckman; Eleanor V., who was born on March 14, 1912, married Robert Millonzi of Buffalo, New York, and died in Buffalo on September 25, 1998; Arnold of St. Petersburg, Florida; and Mrs. William Wilson of Muskegon Heights. On August 12, 1947 Peter married Nellie Chamberlain, who died on March 21, 1962. Peter passed away on May 27, 1953 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Peter and Nellie were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, April 29, 1924, May 27, 1953, and March 7, 1983.]

William Ver Duin [1842-1891]

Captain William Ver Duin worked in the commercial fishing business. He was born in The Netherlands on September 11, 1842 and died November 24, 1891. On September 21, 1869 in Grand Haven, he married Maria Vanderhaven. She was born in Michigan around 1846. The Ver Duins’ children, all born in Michigan, were Peter, born about 1870; John, born about 1875; and Frank, born about 1877.

William, the son of Captain John and Geziena Ver Duin, was born in Grand Haven in October 1872. He and his three brothers, Louis, Caleb, and Peter, continued in the fishing business after the death of their father. Lou was the engineer and Peter worked with the shore crew. William began sailing at age 12, and at 17 he received his captain’s papers and became skipper of the sailboat Fleetwing. He and his mother went into partnership and purchased the 52-foot tug John A. Miller, a steam-powered boat. In 1898 he had a charcoal iron hull tug built at the Johnston Boiler Works in Ferrysburg and named it C. J. Bos for his father-in-law, Cornelius Bos. The C. J. Bos had an open deck with a hand-operated lifter used to pull nets in by hand. He also had a turtle deck installed over the open forward deck to protect the crew working in the lake in all kinds of weather. In 1901 he ordered the H. J. Dornbos, a 72-foot tug, and his brother Caleb was captain. The tug was sold to Caleb and Lou shortly after it was built. The government bought the boat during WWI and took it out of the Great Lakes. Captain Ver Duin installed one of the first steam lifters made at the Dake Engine factory. He was the first local fisherman to set nets on the Wisconsin side of the lake. The C. J. Bos kept the harbor open in the winter for the car ferries and also opened Grand River in the spring for the gravel tugs. William served on the City Council and was mayor of Grand Haven in 1931 and 1932.

On May 27, 1896 in Grand Haven William married Cornelia, the daughter of Cornelius and Maria Van Doorne Bos. Cornelia was born in Grand Haven in October 1874. Their children included Gezienne, who was born in December 1898 and married Adrian Kooiman of Grand Haven; Mary V., who was born on March 21, 1902, and married Evan Van Lopik of Grand Haven; John William, who was born on March 20, 1904 and became a physician with an office in Grand Haven; Willene, who was born about 1909; and Cornelius B., who was born on April 19, 1911 and died January 12, 2001 in Chagrin Falls, Ohio. The Ver Duin family resided at 928 Washington. Apparently Garrett never married.

Garrett [Gerrit] Verhoeks [1843-1925]

On August 6, 1862 in Grand Haven, Garrett Verhoeks enlisted as private in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry. He was mustered out on June 8, 1865 and returned to Grand Haven, where he was a laborer. Garrett was born in The Netherlands in April 1843 and came to the United States in 1854. He died in 1925 and was buried at Fair Plains Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Apparently Garrett never married.

Henry Verhoeks [1864-1924]

Henry, the son of Solomon and Mary Verhoeks, was born locally in July 1864. Both Henry’s parents were natives of The Netherlands, where Solomon was born about 1831 and died in Grand Haven on December 24, 1899. Mary was born in 1834. Henry became a butcher in Grand Haven, the same trade Solomon followed. Henry married Anna D. Ritsma in Grand Haven on August 27, 1884. Next he married Carrie [Clara] Boyer of Muskegon on January 29, 1892. They resided at 12 South Seventh Street. Clara was born in Muskegon in December 1868 and passed away about November 9, 1920. Henry died about June 19, 1924 and was buried with his wife at Lake Forest Cemetery. Carrie had a daughter, Pearl, born in August 1886.

James Verhoeks [1865-1946]

Born in Grand Haven in May 1865, James Verhoeks received his education in the public schools. He learned the trade of cabinetmaker and later became foreman of one of the departments of the Challenge Corn Planter Works. He was a member of the Republican County Committee and Company F. Verhoeks represented the Third Ward on the City Council from 1894 to 1898. His wife, Jennie, was born in January 1866 and died on August 2, 1949. They lived at 16 South Eighth Street. That house was advertised for sale in the May 8, 1912 edition of the Grand Haven Tribune, but there was no evidence that it sold then. James died on November 1, 1946 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Two of their children were Tillie, born in April 1887, and James J., who was born on September 27, 1894 and died in Grand Rapids on July 12, 1972.
Johannes “John” W. Verhoeks [1861-1940]

Johannes, the son of William and Teuntje Vander Zalm Verhoeks, was born in Grand Haven on July 29, 1861. In 1880 John was working at the shingle mill. Three years later, with the backing of Henry Fase, he established John W. Verhoeks & Company at 222 North Seventh Street. It offered “Dry Goods, Groceries, Family Medicines, Etc.” After more than 20 years of business, he sold out and in 1905 opened a store on Seventh Street that sold wagons, carriages, and farm machinery, including McCormick Harvesters and J. I. Case threshing machines. Also for six years he and Albert Juistema owned and operated the Juistema & Ver Hoeks Shoe Store at 222 Washington.

John married Janna “Jennie,” Henry’s Fase’s daughter, on December 28, 1882. Jennie was born in The Netherlands in January 1864 and passed away about September 7, 1945. John and Jennie had two sons, Henry J. Verhoeks, who was born on October 28, 1886, became Auditor at Grand Haven State Bank, and died in Grand Haven on May 17, 1980; and William T., who was born in October 1890 and moved his medical practice from Detroit to San Antonio, Texas. John died about June 24, 1940 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Jennie. At the time of his death, John resided at 521 Howard. The family attended the First Reformed Church.

Solomon Verhoeks [1830-1899]

Solomon Verhoeks, a native of The Netherlands, was born on July 5, 1830 and died on December 24, 1899. He married Mary Douker, a native of the same country, who was born about 1834 and died on October 8, 1903. In Grand Haven, Solomon worked as a butcher. Their children, all born locally, were Lena, born in 1859; John, born in 1861; Joanna, born in 1863; Henry, born in 1865; Anne, born in 1867; Nellie H., born in 1869; and Mary [Marie] J., who was born in 1875 and on May 13, 1903 in Ludington married Peter Madison.

William Verhoeks [1835-1924]

Born in The Netherlands on September 20, 1835, William Verhoeks came to this country aboard the South Carolina, arriving in Grand Haven on June 4, 1855. In 1859 he married Teuntje “Tillie” Vander Zalm, who was born December 29, 1841 in Gelderland, The Netherlands. She died in Grand Haven on March 15, 1884. Their children included Johannes [John] W., who was born in Grand Haven on July 29, 1861; Jacobus [James], who lived from 1865 to 1946; Neiltje, born in 1872; Sendert, born on October 12, 1876; Lyntje [Lena], who was born about 1879 and died August 28, 1915; and Minnie. All the children lived in Grand Haven. William’s second wife died on August 7, 1905. He died February 18, 1924 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Verhoeks Street in Grand Haven was named for the family. [Tribune obituary, August 8, 1905.]

John Ver Kuyl [Verkuyl, Verkuil] [1849-1918]

Born in The Netherlands in February 1849, John Ver Kuyl arrived in Grand Haven when he was 25. He learned the baker’s trade in his home country, but for ten years was steward at the Cutler House in Grand Haven. In 1895 he opened his own business with his wife, operating “the Domestic bakery and ladies’ and gentlemen’s dining parlors.” Jacob Braak worked for him in 1902, before opening his own bakery in Spring Lake. John’s first wife, Jane, was born in 1862 and died on February 23, 1892. On June 14, 1893 in Grand Haven, he married Lulu Ellen Nace Carpenter. Ellen, was born in Ohio in March 1853. Ellen had a son, William, from a previous marriage, whom John adopted. William was born in Ohio in April 1887. The family resided at 248 Fourth Street. By 1908 John was out of the bakery business and working as a timekeeper. Apparently single, he boarded at 217 Washington. John died on April 18, 1918 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his first wife.

Leroy “Lee” Vermeer [1927-1999]

Lee, the son of John and Marie Van Zee Vermeer, was born in Pella, Iowa, on April 10, 1927. He served in the Navy during WWII and married Margaret “Peggy” Holzinger of Grand Haven on October 9, 1954. Lee’s stepfather, Dr. Gerrit Menning of Hope Reformed Church, officiated. Peggy was a 1950 graduate of Grand Haven High School. The Vermeers' children included Dale Vermeer of Kailua, Hawaii, and Diana Yonker of Fremont, Newaygo County. The Vermeers resided at 13427 Lakeshore Drive in Grand Haven Township. They belonged to the Second Reformed Church in Grand Haven.

Lee worked for the Ottawa County Road Commission for 25 years, holding the posts of office manager and deputy county clerk. In the late 1970s he joined Construction Aggregates and finished his career with Carter Manufacturing. Lee was elected township treasurer in 1988 and was re-elected in 1992 and 1996. Through his leadership, the growing township established the position of financial director. On November 1, 1999 Lee died of complications following a heart-bypass operation. [Tribune obituary, November 2, 1999.]

Charles W. Ver Murlen [Ver Muelen, Ver Murlin] I [1871-1956]

Born in Grand Haven on April 13, 1871, Charles was the son of Cornelius and Catherine Ver Murlen. Charles was an engineer at the William Heap & Sons factory, but he also owned a saloon in the early 1900s at 9 North Second Street. He was a member of the Elks and St. Mary’s Church. His wife, Catherine Lauless, who was born in Ireland on August 15, 1872, died on October 21, 1938. She came to Grand Haven from Chicago and lived for 42 years at 229 Columbus Street in Grand Haven, property that was bought by the Grand Haven Tribune around 1937, along with other parcels, to make room for the newspaper’s new building on Third Street. The Ver Murlen children, all born locally, included Cornelius Thomas, who was born on February 28, 1897, married Gertrude Pierce in Grand Haven on December 9, 1921, and died in Holland, Michigan in April 1968; Sarah K., who was born in October 1898, married Glenn W. Merrefield, and lived on the North Shore; Charles W. II, who was born about 1903 and moved to Saginaw; and Jacob A., who was born on July 5, 1906 and died in Grand Haven on January 29, 1995. After his wife’s death, Charles lived with his daughter and her husband on the North Shore. Charles died of a heart attack June 5, 1956 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife and other family members. [Tribune obituary, June 5, 1956.]

Cornelius Ver Murlen [Ver Meulen] [1840-1928]

Cornelius Ver Murlen lived from May 1840 to 1928 and his wife, Catherine, from February 11, 1835 to January 12, 1902. Both were from The Netherlands and both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. A daughter, Cornelia, was born about 1857 and married Rhine Kamhout of Grand Haven. Other children, all born in Grand Haven, were Klazina “Sena” [Sina], who was born on November 30, 1869 and married Fred Addison of Grand Haven; Charles, born on April 13, 1871; Cornelius II, born in November 1874; and Jacob, born November 1878. They had another son, John W. In 1880 Cornelius worked for the United States Life Saving Service in Grand Haven. He changed the spelling of the family name from Ver Meulen to Ver Murlen in 1891, although he continued to use the old spelling in the 1900 Federal Census. At that time they were living on North First Street, but a few years later Cornelius, a widower, had relocated to a boarding house at 334 Columbus Street.

Joos Verplank [Ver Plank, Ver Planke] [1844-1943]

Born on April 2, 1844 in Biervliet, The Netherlands, Joos was one of five children of Abram Jansen Verplank who was a cobbler [shoemaker]. Joos came to this country with his parents when he was five years old. His mother died of cholera near Albany, New York, while the family was making its way to Michigan. Arriving at his destination, Abram Verplank made a home for his children with the Van Raalte colony at Holland. Joos learned the trade of shoemaking from his skilled father. Being somewhat rebellious, his dislike for being a cobbler led him to become a cook on ships that sailed Lake Michigan. On August 14, 1862 he enlisted as private with Company I of the 25th Michigan Infantry and accompanied Sherman on his famous “March to the Sea.” Joos also saw action at Tip’s Bend in Knoxville. He was mustered out on June 24, 1865. After the war he became a member of the Weatherwax Post of Civil War veterans [G.A.R.] in Grand Haven. After serving as Marshal in Holland, Michigan until 1876, he moved to Grand Haven and lived on Fourth Street. After two terms as Republican sheriff of Ottawa County, he was re-elected to the position in 1878 on the “Greenback” ticket. Joos bought a section of timberland in Crockery Township and worked it as a farm between 1881 and 1909. After retiring he moved to Spring Lake and became known as “Ottawa County’s Grand Ole’ Soldier.” He was always a figure at the Memorial Day ceremonies and looked forward to spending that day with William Hatton, his good friend. A devout Christian, he advised his sons “not to wait until you’re 55 to confess Christ.”

Joos married Grietje Brower, who was born in May 1848 in The Netherlands and died on October 16, 1923. They raised nine sons, all born in Michigan, including Abram [Abraham], born in August 1867; Gerrit, born in 1870; Teunis, who was born in 1872 and died five years later; Joseph J., who was born in 1875 and became a builder in Santa Monica, California; Tony, who was born on August 10, 1877 and operated a coal and ice company locally; Cornelius, who was born in December 1879, married a daughter of Teunis Dykema of Spring Lake, and became a masonry contractor in Chesterton, Indiana; John, who was born in October 1882 and moved to Hobart, Indiana, where he was employed by a steel company; George, who was born in May 1885 and owned Calumet Paving Corporation in Indianapolis; Grover, who was born in December 1887 and became aphysician in Gary, Indiana; and Albert, who was born in May 1890, served as sergeant with the Engineering Corps at Camp Taylor, Kentucky, during WWI, and went into business at Hobart, Indiana. Joos died on December 22, 1943 at the age of 99. He and his wife were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, “Another Pioneer To Be Honored,” August 31, 1990.]

Sherman Rodman Verplank [1921-2013]

Sherman, the son of Sherman D, and Frances Lyons Verplank, was born in Spring Lake on November 12, 1921. He served with the Marines during WWII and married Laraine Cook in Grand Haven on December 29, 1945. A mechanical engineer, Sherman was employed by B&B Engineering Company of Grand Haven. He was a member of the Second Reformed Church and American Legion, and he taught Sunday School and was Boy Scout leader. Sherm and Laraine had a daughter, Susan, and two sons, Dewey and Thomas. The family resided at 512 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven. Sherm passed away on January 9, 2013 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Teunis “Tony” Verplank [Ver Plank, Ver Planke] [1877-1951]

Born in Grand Haven on August 10, 1877, Tony was the son of Joos and Grietje Brower Verplank [Ver Plank]. He was in the ice and coal business with John Brongersma in the early 1900s. In 1908 Tony built an icehouse on Smith’s Bayou [17887] Lake Road. Four years later he bought out his partner’s interest in the business, and in the same year he bought Frank Fox’s ice and coal firm. The increased use of refrigerators eroded the ice business, but slag, limestone, coal, and salt deliveries continued to grow.

Tony married Jessie Wills in Spring Lake on January 8, 1898. The daughter of John and Jane Wills of Spring Lake, she was born in 1878 and died in 1940. Their children were Sherman D., who was born on May 16, 1897 and died on July 4, 1972; Merle “Tony,” who was born on March 17, 1900 and died in Lafayette, Indiana in November 1980; Raymond, who lived from 1903 to 1984; Russell, who was born on May 28, 1903 and died in February 1984; and Vernon J. “Tooter,” who was born on July 10, 1907 and died on July 27, 2002. Russell and Sherman joined the business in 1924. Tooter became president of the Spring Lake Coal and Dock Company and manager of Ver Plank Brothers Real Estate. By the 1950s the business was named Verplank’s Coal and Dock Company and was located in Ferrysburg on Pine Street. Tony died in 1951 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Spring Lake Rotary Bulletin, “Vernon J. Verplank, Personnel Profiles,” June 24, 1959.]

Vernon Verplank [1907-2002]

Often going by the nickname “Tooter,” Vernon was born on July 10, 1907, the son of Tony and Jessie Wills Verplank. Vernon married Lydia Secory in early 1930. Lydia was born in Mason Township, Cerro Gordo County, Iowa on March 9, 1910, the daughter of Lewis and Bessie Jirele Secory. Ralph Secory of Spring Lake was Lydia’s stepbrother. The Secory family moved from Iowa to Robinson Township in the early 1920s. Lydia graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1927. She and Vernon had three children: Midge, who was born in 1931 and in 1958 married Mary Lou Sandman [born in 1932]; Joyce, who was born in 1932, married Julian Hatton [born in 1927], and was divorced; and Gary, who was born in 1940 and in 1970 married Victoria Bruhn. Vernon became president of the Spring Lake Coal and Dock Company and manager of Verplank Brothers Real Estate. He was a member of the Spring Lake Yacht Club and the Spring Lake Country Club, Vernon was a founding member of the Spring Lake Rotary Club in 1957, and a Paul Harris Fellow of that organization. He attended the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church. He and Lydia resided at 400 Lakeview Court in Spring Lake. Vernon died on July 27, 2002. Lydia passed away on January 16, 2005 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with her husband. [Tribune obituaries, July 29, 2002 and January 17, 2005.]

Victoria Bruhn Verplank [1944-2014]

A native of Grand Haven, Victoria Bruhn was born on July 18, 1944. She was the daughter of Frederick and Ruth Casey Bruhn. On December 29, 1970 she married Gary Verplank in San Juan, Puerto Rico. They had three children: Tony of Spring Lake; Ashley, who married Jesse McLelland and moved to Seattle, Washington; and Kyle of Spring Lake. Vicki served on the Spring Lake Village Council for fourteen years, followed by five years as village president. She served on the Board of Directors of the Muskegon Museum of Art, including one year as its president. She also served on the Grand Valley State University Foundation Board. Vicki was named a Paul Harris Fellow of Rotary International, and in 1994 was named Counterpart’s Woman of the Year. She died on May 1, 2014. [Tribune obituary, May 3, 2014.]

John C. Verseput [Versput] [1887-1968] and Janet Van Tol Verseput [1891-1984]

Janet [Jeanette], born on April 17, 1891 in Grand Haven, was the daughter of Frank and Magrieta Van Tol. Her husband, John Verseput, bought the Van Tol Hardware at 10-12 North Seventh Street, where she was secretary and bookkeeper. She also was a member of the First Reformed Church. On May 5, 1914 she and John were married in Grand Haven. In the 1920s they resided at 210 South Seventh Street. Their daughter Margaret married Frank Benes of Grand Haven. William Wendell Vivian I [1917-2005]

Bill Vivian was born on December 18, 1917 in Carsonville, Sanilac County. Bill graduated from Denby High School in Detroit in 1935, and he graduated from Michigan State College [MSU] in 1940 with a bachelor degree in chemical engineering. While working as an engineer at Hill Diesel Company in Lansing, on January 6, 1941 he married Virginia Marie Smith of Lowell, Kent County. At different times, he and his family resided on Lakeshore Drive, at 403 Ohio Avenue, and at 506 Clinton Street. Their children were William Charles Vivian, John Wendell Vivian, and Linda Marie. William, who was born about 1945, married Linda Dowd of Florida. He and Linda had two children: Wendy, who married a Mr. Moatz, and Steven, who was born about 1974. The family resided in Gainesville, Florida, where Bill retired from his position as director of Institutional Research at Santa Fe Community College in that city. John W., who was born about 1949, and his wife, Kathleen, had two children, Charles and Jack. John was an accountant and lived with his family in Bethesda, Maryland.

During WWII, Bill I was commissioned Ensign in the Navy. He worked on the Manhattan Project, and later he served as the executive officer of USS LSM-341, an amphibious ship in the Pacific and was part of the initial occupation forces in Japan. After the war, Bill worked for Indian Motorcycle Company in Springfield, Massachusetts, as assistant sales manager. He served in the Naval Reserves after the war, commanding a reserve unit in Muskegon until retiring in 1969. In 1949, he brought his family to Grand Haven and became part owner and vice president of Harbor Industries. In Grand Haven Bill served with many civic organizations. He was elected to the Grand Haven School Board, was president of the Committee for Economic Development, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and was an active member of the United Methodist Church of the Dunes. In 1969, Bill left Harbor Industries and became a trust officer for the Peoples Bank until he and Virginia moved to Ormond Beach, Florida in 1973. Bill and Virginia were divorced in Volusia, Florida on April 9, 1976. Bill returned to Grand Haven a few years later and married Mary DeWitt. They were divorced soon after. In 1986, Bill moved to Raeford, North Carolina, where he married Marguerite Norris. He died on November 12, 2005 in Pinehurst, North Carolina. Fredrick D. Vos [1843-1910]

Born in Groningen, The Netherlands on November 8, 1843 to Derk J. and Bonna Vos, Fredrick was brother of Johannes D. Vos of Muskegon; Bernardus D. of Grand Rapids; John D., of Grand Haven; and Antje, who married John Fuite of Grand Haven. Fredrick came to Grand Haven in 1856 when he was 13 years old. He first went to work in a sawmill and later in mercantile houses in Grand Haven and also in Muskegon and Chicago. With John Fuite he ran a grocery store from 1866 to 1872. He then went into business for himself, opening a store at 603 Fulton Street that carried “Groceries, Provisions, and Family Supplies,” in addition to crockery, glassware, fruits, candy, and school supplies. He and his family also resided at 603 Fulton. Frederick was a member of the Grand Haven City Council from 1872 to 1875 and again in 1896.

On January 17, 1867 Fredrick married Levina Quintus, who lived from September 25, 1845 to April 25, 1912 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children, all born locally, included Richard O., who was born in 1867 and moved to Grand Rapids; Mary, who was born in February 1870, married William S. Clark of Grand Haven, and died in 1905; Frederick D. II, who was born in 1871 and also moved Grand Rapids; Nellie, who was born in March 1878 and remained in Grand Haven; and Minnie, who was born in 1885 and married Bernice H. Cornell of Fairgrove, Tuscola County. Fredrick died at his home at 603 Fulton Street on April 5, 1910 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituaries, April 5, 1910 and April 29, 1912.]

Johannes D. Vos [1833-1913]

Born in The Netherlands in 1833, Johannes Vos came to Grand Haven in 1855. After working elsewhere in the lumbering business, in 1863 he went into partnership with Rysdorp, Bosch, & Sprik, which continued until 1877 when the sawmill burned down, and the firm was dissolved. In 1879 the firm of Brouwer & Vos was established and a new mill was built on the site of the one that had burned down. Johannes served on the Grand Haven City Council in 1874 and 1875. His wife, Mary, was born around 1843 in The Netherlands and died on May 21, 1912. Johannes died on March 9, 1913 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He and Mary had six sons and one daughter.

John Vos [1852-1950]

Born in The Netherlands in 1852, John was the son of Anthony Vos. The family came to Spring Lake when John was 21 years old. His sister Reintje [Rachel], who married Henry Eckelcamp, came with him. Rachel lived from 1861 to 1951. Vos first worked at the Cutler & Savidge Lumber Company. Later he opened a meat market at the site later taken over by Elden Hammond Nixon at 116 West Savidge. He married Minnie Mildred Sheldon, who died July 15, 1910. John died on May 12, 1950 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Warner Vos [Voss] [1829-1912]

Born in The Netherlands in September 1829, Warner Vos came to America in 1853, and moved to Spring Lake in 1856 [1854]. By trade he was a mechanic and a millwright, and for 12 years he worked for Cutler & Savidge in charge of millwork. In 1868 he joined the Munroe, Thompson, & Company lumber firm. Munroe, Boyce, & Company replaced this mill, which burned down in 1872. In 1873 he built several sawmills north of Spring Lake. He later returned to Spring Lake and was employed as a millwright by Cutler & Savidge. In 1858 Warner married Annie Pruim, also a native of The Netherlands. She lived from March 1836 to 1917. He died in 1912. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their children, all born locally, were Sena M., born in March 1870; John, born in February 1873; Milligan, a son, born in March 1876; and Susie, born in March 1883.

She died in Grand Haven on August 2, 1996. Her parents were John and Elizabeth Schneider Merz of Crockery Township. Claude was Spring Lake postmaster from January 22, 1930 to April 1, 1935. In 1945 he was elected president of Spring Lake Village, and re-elected in 1946, 1947, and 1948. Claude died in March 1962.

Frank Voss [1890-1971]

Born in Spring Lake on March 25, 1890, Frank was the son of Onno and Johanna Dekkenga Voss and became a house painter. On June 20, 1917 he married Jennie, the daughter of Minnie Duursema of Grand Haven. The Vosses lived at 112 Church Street in Spring Lake. Frank died on June 7, 1971.

Frederick [Friedrick] Voss [1808-1882]

By 1864 Frederick Voss owned 160 acres in two separate parcels in Section 16 of Grand Haven Township. By the end of the century he had disposed of that land and purchased a quarter-section [160 acres] in Section 9 of Grand Haven Township [13289 Lakeshore Drive]. He lived from July 3, 1808 [1809] to January 3, 1882 and his wife, Frederika, was born in 1822 and died on September 21, 1901. Both were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Their son Robert took title to the property and operated a dairy farm called Voss’ Dairy. Robert and his wife, Dean Cadee, had a daughter, Rolina “Ronnie.” Ronnie and her husband, William Hancock, later lived in the house, which Ronnie sold to Mike Alles in 1983. Bill Hancock died on January 27, 1968. Ronnie, who was born on February 19, 1914, died in Grand Rapids on April 16, 2002. [Tribune obituary, April 24, 2002.]

Onno “Charlie” Voss [Vos] [1864-1935]

Born on March 8, 1864 in The Netherlands, Onno Voss came to America in 1883. The immigration officials could not understand the name Onno and said they would call him “Charlie,” the name that stuck with him. He worked in the sawmills and at Challenge Corn Planter Company. On May 15, 1889 in Spring Lake, he married Johanna Dekkenga. She was born near Holland, Michigan, on December 10, 1869. Johanna was the daughter of Egbert Dekkenga who was caretaker for the Savidge family and lived at 310 Visser Street. Charlie and Johanna resided in Spring Lake at 308 River. They had four sons and three daughters, including Lizzie; Frank, who was born on March 25, 1890; and Claude Edward, who was born on March 28, 1903. Charlie died on October 29, 1935 and Johanna died three years later, on September 10. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Frank I died on February 18, 1965. Mary passed away in Grand Haven on April 17, 1983. Both were buried at St. Mary’s Cemetery in Muskegon.

Frank J. Vrablic II [1919-2016]
On February 27, 1943 in Fruitport, Frank Vrablic II married Betty “Beth” Beckman. Hired as a fire fighter, Frank was captain of the Grand Haven Fire Department from 1943 to 1981. Betty lived from March 18, 1924 to June 6, 2009. Frank died on January 16, 2016.

Albert [Albertus] D. Vyn [1863-1906]
A son of Dirk and Clara Trost Vyn, Albert was born in September 1863 [1862] and died on March 25, 1906. He was a teamster in Grand Haven. He married Abigail Stuveling on May 17, 1882 in Grand Haven. The daughter of Arend and Anje Bronkema Stuveling, Abigail was born in The Netherlands in September 1862. Their children were Richard B., born in April 1883, and Agnes B., born in February 1887. Abigail’s sister, Annetje, married Nicholas D. Vyn, Albert’s brother.

Arend Vyn I [1886-1946]
The son of Nicholas and Annetje Stuveling Vyn and grandson of Dirk Vyn, Arend was born in Grand Haven on February 28, 1886. On August 17, 1911 he married Florence Seifert, who lived from June 9, 1887 to December 4, 1968. She was the daughter of Ignatz and Wilehlmina Mullemann Seifert. Her father owned a meat market at 124 Washington in Grand Haven. Florence attended Ypsilanti State Normal College taught elementary school in Spring Lake. In 1950 Florence was the first woman Elder at the First Presbyterian Church, where she served as president and vice president and was on the Executive Board of the Tuesday Musicale for 35 years. She was instrumental in reactivating the group in 1958. Florence was active in the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs; and she was recognized for 52 years of membership and service by the Grand Haven Woman’s Club. Frances Seifert Bronson was her twin sister. The Vyns’ children included Charles Robert, who died on May 23, 1921 from cerebrum-spinal meningitis at age seven months, Arend II, who moved to Grand Rapids, and Frances, who married Robert Killins and moved to Arcadia, California. Frances was born on August 18, 1922 and passed away in California on November 3, 2004, and Robert, who was born in Michigan on September 2, 1921, died on November 27, 1982. The Vyns resided at 113 South Fourth Street and later at 614 Clinton, where Florence continued to live after her husband’s death on August 19, 1946. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Florence died about December 6, 1968 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituaries, May 23, 1921, December 4, 1968, and November 16, 2004.]

Clarence Vyn [1892-1983]

Clarence was born October 25, 1892 in Grand Haven to Lambert and Johanna Vyn. He attended Columbus Street School through the fourth grade and graduated from Central High School, where he played football. Clarence received a degree from the University of Michigan School of Dentistry in 1914. He started practice in Detroit in 1916 and retired about 1958. He was a life member of the Michigan Dental Association and president of the Detroit Lions Club.

In 1913 Clarence married Barbara Adrian [Ada] Baker, who was born about 1893 in Michigan and died in Florida on April 9, 1967. She was the daughter of William and Dora Vogel Baker. The Vyns’ children included William Louis Vyn, who was born in Grand Haven on May 5, 1916, and Elizabeth “Betty” Hatton Meier, who was born on July 4, 1919, the first baby born in the new Elizabeth Hatton Memorial Hospital [114 South Fifth Street]. Both William and Betty remained in the Grand Haven area. Barbara died in April 1967 and Clarence passed away in Grand Haven on January 23, 1983. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 24, 1983.]

Clarissa Dorothy Vyn [1896-1981]

Clarissa was born October 9, 1896 and died in Grosse Pointe on December 19, 1981. She was the daughter of John Vyn and the granddaughter of Dirk Vyn. Clarissa was valedictorian of the 1914 graduating class of Grand Haven High School and graduated from the University of Michigan four years later, with a major in mathematics. She went on to teach at Detroit’s Northwestern High School, where she retired in 1961. Clarissa served on the Board of the University of Michigan Alumni Association and was the first woman elected president of the group.

Dirk [Derk] Vyn [Vijn] [1831-1911]

Dirk was born on January 15, 1831 [1830] in the small village of Twisk in north Netherlands. He was the son of Nicholas and Trijntje Spijker Vijn, Klaus’s second wife, who died three days after Dirk’s birth. The Vyns left The Netherlands and arrived in Baltimore on June 12, 1847, after a six-week crossing. They stopped first at Detroit, then settled in Drenthe, Ottawa County, in 1847. Dirk’s father drove the Grand Haven-to-Holland stagecoach, and Dirk drove a coach between Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo, before moving to Grand Haven about 1849 and working in the sawmills. He drove the mail between Grand Haven and Zeeland, making two to three round trips a week, sometimes selling butter and eggs along the way. Soon he was able to buy two tugboats, Bill Brandon and Captain Tom’s Cabin, which carted freight on the Grand. Dirk was described as a “handsome” man, over six feet tall and weighing 215 pounds.

By 1857 [1858] Dirk had saved enough money to go into business for himself. The drayage business begun by the young Vyn grew rapidly when the Chicago & South Shore Railway [Pere Marquette] came into Grand Haven and necessitated the transfer of freight to the ferry boats headed for Milwaukee and points west, a service Dirk was able to provide. The company had five drays and eight horses in the 1860s and 1870s. It then was known as D. Vyn and Sons. Dirk and his sons also owned 155 acres in Section 5 of Grand Haven Township, near Rosy Mound, for timbering purposes. In 1881 Geert Vyn, Derk’s brother, started a sawmill on the northwest side of Harbor Island. In addition to his own business, Dirk was first vice president of the Grand Haven Leather Company, which incorporated in 1885.

Dirk retired from his business in the 1880s and his five sons, Lambert, Martin, Nicholas, John, and Albert took over. Until 1910 the company was known as the “Five Brothers Express,” and in that year it became Vyn Brothers, located on the northwest corner of Third and Fulton Streets. The company bought its first motorized vehicle in 1912. Martin moved west and Albert sold out his interest. After Lambert retired in 1927, the business was incorporated for $120,000 as the Vyn Company with Nat Robbins, president; Bernath P. Sherwood II, vice president; Hugh E. Lillie, secretary, and John A. Vyn, treasurer and general manager.
On December 1, 1852 Dirk married Klaastje “Clara” Trost, the daughter of Lambert Trost of Grand Haven. Born on December 13, 1833, Clara died September 25, 1895. They had one daughter, Rosena, who was born in 1860 and married James Balhema in Grand Haven on October 4, 1882. They also had five sons: Nicholas, born on May 24, 1857; Albert, born in 1863; Lambert, born in May 1865; Martin, born in 1870; John, who was born on April 8, 1872 and married Etta Dykema of Grand Haven; and Garnie, born in December 1877. All the children were born in Grand Haven. John remarried on January 30, 1903, this time to Emma Fritz Stubman. All the children were born in Grand Haven. On November 9, 1896 in Grand Rapids, Dirk married Adriana Van Bree Souke. They resided at 221 Fulton. Dirk died at home on February 8, 1911 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

The son of John “Bud” Vyn of Grand Haven, Lambert Dirk was born on October 20, 1925. He served in WWII, spending about two years in the Army Air Corps. He later wrote that he was discharged “at the convenience of the Government” after two years as an aviation cadet, “the longest in grade aviation cadet in U.S. military history.” Dirk married Jane Hoek on September 7, 1946. Jane was born in Grand Haven in 1925, the daughter of Elmore and Cathryn Boer Hoek. Dirk and Jane moved to California, living at Palo Alto and Napa. An architect, Dirk was principal designer of a number of buildings, including the Palo Alto City Hall, the Stanford University Lutheran Church, and homes throughout that area of California as well as in Grand Haven. He worked for a time with Frank Lloyd Wright at the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation in San Francisco. Dirk served as chair of the Architectural Review Board for Palo Alto, he was planning commissioner for Napa for four years, and he was president of the Northern California Chapter of American Registered Architects. He also was active in the Salvation Army of Rotary International in Palo Alto. The Vyns had three daughters: Leslie and Cindy of Palo Alto and Faeli of Napa. Dirk died on August 19, 2001 at his home in Napa.

Geert [Gerrit] Vyn [1837-1874]

Born in The Netherlands on June 4, 1837, Geert Vyn came to America with his parents and family in 1847 and settled in Drenthe, in Zeeland Township. He was the son of Nicholas and Maartje Stammes Vyn. He joined his brother Dirk in the lumbering business in Grand Haven, and in 1881 he built a sawmill on Harbor Island for cutting hardwood. His wife, Johanna, was born about 1844 in The Netherlands. They had a son, Albert, who was born in Zeeland in 1879, and five other children.

John Alvin “Bud” Vyn [1899-1956]

The son of John and Etta Vyn and grandson of Dirk Vyn, John was born in Grand Haven on November 18, 1899. He enlisted as private in Company F of Grand Haven, which merged with Company L of the 126th Infantry during WWI. John was gassed during the Allied Chateau Thierry offensive on August 3, 1918. He also signed up for active service during the next World War, when he was commissioned major in the Transportation Corps and stationed in Liverpool, England, to prepare for the invasion of North Africa. After a few months in Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D.C., John was discharged from the military in 1945. Two of his sons, John Cameron and Lambert Dirk [Derk], also served in WWII, spending about two years in the Army Air Corps.

John married Joyce Cameron in Grand Rapids on September 20, 1921. They had a daughter, Prudence, born on May 31, 1938, and a third son, Stephen Compton, who lived from 1929 to 1978. After selling the Vyn Transfer and Storage Company, John Vyn and his family moved to Palo Alto, California, about 1946, where John managed the Hoyt Truck Division for the last two and a half years of his life. In Grand Haven, John was a member of the Elks and was president of Associated Truck Lines of Grand Rapids. He died on May 12, 1956 in San Mateo, California. Joyce lived from October 26, 1900 to May 11, 1990 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Cameron Vyn [1923-1982]
Like his brother Derk, John served two years in World War II. He was born in Grand Haven on June 17, 1923, the son of John A. Vyn, and died in Santa Clara, California on November 21, 1982.

John D. Vyn [1872-1921]

John, the son of Dirk and Clara Vyn, was born in Grand Haven on April 8, 1872. He worked with his father and brothers in the Vyn trucking business. He was killed in an accident in Spring Lake on November 30, 1921 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Riding in a Vyn Reo truck, which was crossing the railroad tracks, John jumped, hoping to avoid being hit by an approaching Grand Trunk passenger train. The driver of the truck, Chester Brockway, stepped on the gas and was able to get out of the way of the train, but John evidently became entangled and was hit by the locomotive. He married his first wife, in Grand Haven on April 2, 1896. She lived from September 13, 1873 to November 13, 1901. Among their children, all born in Grand Haven, were Clarissa, who was born on October 9, 1896; John Alvin, born on November 18, 1899; and Helen Rose, who was born in April 1898. On January 20, 1903, again in Grand Haven, John married his second wife, Emma Fritz Stubman. She was born in Michigan about 1876. John and Emma had at least two sons, Arthur R., who was born on August 17, 1903 and died in Spring Lake on October 2, 1983, and Kenneth, who was born on November 2, 1908. The Vyns in 1920 resided at 221 Fulton. Emma’s son from her first marriage, Louis, lived in Detroit.

Kenneth P. Vyn [1908-1996]

The son of John and Etta Vyn, Kenneth was born in Grand Haven on November 2, 1908. In 1930 he was a clerk at the family trucking business. He served in the army during WWII as a lieutenant. He was wounded in the Normandy invasion and later captured by the Germans. Kenneth was sent to an internment center in East Germany, where he was able to escape and get into Russia. After a series of adventures, Kenneth was sent home, but he never fully recovered from physical problems incurred during his capture and escape. However, he served two tours of duty in Korea and retired from active service in 1962 as a major. Kenneth then was employed for 12 years by Allied Van Lines in Chicago. Kenneth and his first wife, Winifred, had at least one daughter, Bonna K., who was born in January 1930. Winifred was born in Michigan about 1912. The three of them resided in the family home at 221 Fulton in 1930. Kenneth and his second wife, Viola, had four children: Jon, Michelle, Valerie, and Kay. He died on April 27, 1996 and was buried at the Post Cemetery, Fort Sheridan, Illinois.

Lambert Vyn [1865-1936]

A son of Dirk and Clara Troost Vyn, Lambert was born in Grand Haven in May 1865 and attended school there. Like his father, he was a large man, weighing nearly 200 pounds and standing over six feet tall. He married Johanna “Jennie” Dykhuis in Muskegon on December 28, 1885. Jennie, the daughter of Jurrien and Johanna Zuidema Dykhuis of Grand Haven, was born in May 1863 [1864]. The Vyns purchased a home at 16 North Second Street in Grand Haven, where they lived for the remainder of their lives. They had four sons: Derk, born on November 22, 1886; Richard, who was born on November 11, 1887 and married Esther Hollestelle in Grand Haven on August 22, 1912; Jay D., who was born on February 9, 1890, married E. Louise, the daughter of Charles and Louise Werkler Morton, in Grand Haven on November 1, 1913, and died in June 1984; and Clarence N., born on October 25, 1892. A daughter, Clara, was born on May 13, 1888, and another daughter, Florence, was born in Grand Haven on March 1, 1896 and married Max Reese in Grand Haven on June 14, 1920. Another daughter, Josie, died in infancy. After Dirk Vyn’s death in 1911, the Vyn Trucking Company continued under the ownership of Lambert and his brothers, Nicholas and John. Jennie died in 1930 and Lambert in 1936. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Martin [Maarty] Vyn [1870-1941]

Martin, the son of Derk and Klaastje Vyn, died out west on October 16, 1941 at the age of 71. On November 20, 1893 in Grand Haven, he married Orpha J. Taylor. She was born in Dennison, Ottawa County, in 1874, died in 1908, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Martin then married Nellie, the widow of Harry Koopman, who had died in an accident in 1909. Nellie, the daughter of Gerrit G. and Jennie “Jane” Nordhuis Gringhuis, was born on June 30, 1880 in Grand Haven and died on December 13, 1912 in Seattle, Washington. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Nicholas [Nicholaus, Klaus] Vyn [Vijn] [1802-1868]

Nicholas Vyn came from the small village of Twisk in north Netherlands. His second wife, Trijnte “Frankie” Spijker, lived from 1806 to 1831. Trijnte died three days after giving birth to Dirk, a future resident of Grand Haven, who was born on January 15, 1831 [1830]. Klaus’s third marriage was to Trijntje Klaver, who also soon died. He then married Maartje Stammes, who lived from 1811 to 1882. They brought their family to America on the three-master schooner Peter Floris, arriving at Baltimore on June 12, 1847, after a six-week crossing. As was so often the case, the spelling of the family name [Vijn] was changed by an immigration officer when the Vyns landed. [However, the name was spelled “Vijn” in the 1870 Federal Census.] The Vyns stopped first at Detroit, then settled in Drenthe, Ottawa County, in 1847, just after Rev. Van Raalte and his followers settled the nearby town of Holland. Nicholas was one of the original settlers of Zeeland and helped Rev Van Raalte develop Holland into a Lake Michigan port, and he drove the Grand Haven-to-Holland stagecoach. He was born on January 16, 1802 and died in Zeeland, Ottawa County, on December 28, 1868.

Nicholas D. Vyn [1857-1923]

Born on May 24, 1857 in Grand Haven, Nicholas was the son of Dirk and Clara Vyn, who had a dray and transfer business known as D. Vyn & Sons. Nicholas’s brothers included Lambert and Martin. Nicholas helped his father in this business, which later became known as the Five Brothers and later Vyn Brothers. He attended the First Reformed Church. On June 24, 1879 in Grand Haven, he married Annetje “An” [Nettie] Stuveling, who was born July 9, 1858. She was the daughter of Arend and Ann Stuveling of Grand Haven. The Vyns’ children included Clara, who was born August 1880 and married Lawrence H. vanden Berg; Arend Vyn, born on February 28, 1886; Dora, who was born on March 2, 1889 and died August 18, 1905; and Angie, who was born in Grand Haven in March 1892, married Roy Luz Dahlman on June 12, 1920, and moved to Minneapolis, Minnesota. Roy was born on April 22, 1892 and passed away in Minneapolis on May 29, 1959. Nicholas and Annetje resided at 111 South Fourth Street. After Annetje died on September 12, 1915, Nicholas married Marion Pellegrom in Grand Haven on October 25, 1921. Marian was the daughter of Gerrit and Maggie Pellegrom. Nicholas passed away on July 21, 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, July 21, 1923.]

William Louis Vyn [1916-2002]

William, the son of Clarence and Barbara Baker Vyn, was born in Grand Haven on May 5, 1916. In 1941 he married Mary Frances Smith, who was born on March 12, 1917. After her death on June 6, 1988, he married Norma C. Van Schelven Wessel on May 26 the next year. William graduated from Redford High School in Detroit and earned a Bachelor of Chemistry degree from Michigan State University. He lived and worked in Lansing before returning to Grand Haven. He was a member of the Spring Lake County Club. He had a daughter, Sally, who married Richard Savage and resided in Danville, California, and a son, Tom, of Northville, Wayne County. William died in Venice, Florida, on February 15, 2002 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his first wife, Mary, and other Vyns. [Tribune obituary, February 19, 2002.]

Daniel C. Wachs [Wacks] [1846-1932]

Born March 10, 1846 in Crestline, Ohio, Daniel Wachs moved to Grand Haven. He was a teacher at Ferrysburg, Peach Plains, and Beech Tree schools, and he organized the first night school. He served as City Recorder in 1885. In the 1890s he was proprietor of Wachs & Wachs Publishers in Grand Haven and issued the newspapers Courier and Express. In the early 1900s he became a justice of the peace for sixteen years, with an office on the second floor of 201-203 Washington. His first wife, Charlotte “Lotta S.,” was born in Ohio in October 1837 and died March 17, 1907. A daughter, Orilla [Arella] B., was born in Indiana in 1876 and died in Grand Haven on October 11, 1887 of typhoid. In Grand Haven the family lived at 519 North Seventh. On September 26, 1916 in Grand Rapids, Daniel married Mary Virginia Schuman. Daniel died on December 31, 1932 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife and daughter.

John [Johann] Wachter [1804-@1868]

Born in Hannover, Germany in 1804, blacksmith John Wachter married Dora Ronne in Hannover in 1830. They came to Spring Lake in 1864 and John died four years later. Dora married Thomas Bell of Spring Lake sometime after 1880. Dora was born in 1814 in Hannover and died in Spring Lake in 1892. A daughter, Eliza, born in Hannover in 1831, married Henry Siems and settled in Crockery Township. The Wachters also had a son, William, who was born in Hannover on September 19, 1851. [Note: Most of this information comes from the Portrait & Biographical Record of Muskegon & Ottawa Counties, Michigan, which cited John’s death year as 1868. However, he appeared in the 1870 census for Spring Lake, along with Dora and William, which makes the 1868 date questionable. By 1880 Dora was listed as a widow.]

Joseph F. Wachter [1910-1988]

Born in Crockery Township on October 27, 1910 to Louis and Catherine Wachter, Joseph was a life-long resident of the area. He owned the Mobil Gas Station and Wachter Motor Sales at 301 West Savidge in Spring Lake. He offered Fords at first and later added Mercuries and Lincolns, as well as auto repairs. He was the first Mercury dealer in the area and had a mobile mechanic service. Joseph taught adult education courses in auto maintenance and small engine repair in the Spring Lake Public Schools. Joseph was a member of the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church and Chancel Choir, president of the Optimist Club, and sponsored area bowling and baseball teams. He was an expert hunter and fisherman and an avid golfer. He married Carol J. Warber on September 28, 1933, and they had three daughters: Carol, Linda and Rita. The family resided at 15590 Pruin in Spring Lake. Joseph died on September 24, 1988. Carol lived from August 25, 1914 to January 1, 2002. She passed away in Bradenton, Florida.

Louis A. Wachter [1875-1939]

Born in the Village of Spring Lake on July 18, 1875, Louis Wachter became a farmer. He was the son of William and Clara Fiedler Wachter. At one time Louis was employed by the Interurban railway, which operated between Grand Rapids, Grand Haven, and Muskegon. Louis married Catherine N. Steinbach in Grand Haven on August 30, 1900. He died in 1939 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

William A. Wachter [1851-1930]

Born on September 19, 1851 in Hannover, Germany, William was the son of John and Dora Ronne Wachter. William was 13 when he moved with his family to Spring Lake. Although a blacksmith by trade, he also dealt in the sale of beer, liquor, and tobacco. On September 24, 1874 he married Clara, the daughter of John and Margaret Erhardt Feidler, also from Germany. Clara was born in September 1857 in Bavaria and passed away in 1928. She was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The Wachters owned 80 acres in Section 19 of Crockery Township. They had nine children, all born in Michigan, including Louis, born on July 18, 1875; Margaret “Maggie,” who was born in January 1882 and married Frank Spinner in Grand Rapids on November 10, 1910; Anna, who was born in October 1883 and on November 26, 1914 married Harley Ericksonn in Grand Haven; Augusta, born in August 1885; and George, who was born in October 1890 and on June 30, 1917 in Grand Haven Township married Dollie M. Cooke. William died in 1930.

John Wacker I [1865-1937]

John Wacker, who was born in Stuttgart, Germany on October 31, 1865, arrived in the United States in 1888. Five years later he married Anna Zacker, also a native of Germany, where she was born about 1874. Anna came to America in 1890. The Wackers owned a 50-acre farm in Section 33 of Grand Haven Township, near the township’s north boundary. Among their six children was a daughter, Edith Ann, who was born in October 1883 and on November 26, 1914 married Harley Ericksonn in Grand Haven; Augusta, born in August 1885; and George, who was born in October 1890 and on June 30, 1917 in Grand Haven Township married Dollie M. Cooke. William died in 1930.
born about 1900; Matilda [Mathilda], who was born about 1901 and married Charles Hovey; and Emily, who was born about November 1908 and married Robert Ott of Grand Haven Township. Emily was born in Michigan, and the rest of the children were born in Illinois. John died about June 8, 1937 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

In 1834 Abram Wadsworth purchased substantial amounts of land in Grand Haven, Grand Rapids, and elsewhere in Michigan. The first platted addition to the City of Grand Haven carried the Wadsworth name.

According to Lillie, the plat for Wadsworth’s Addition was filed on August 6, 1837. The plat was a triangular piece that ran about 800 feet along the south bank of the Grand River to Lake Michigan and contained 148 small building sites, twenty along the river, the rest inland, without regard to dunes or bank erosion. The plat’s south boundary included a boulevard 100 feet wide, running east and west and labeled “United States Road from Detroit to the Mouth of Grand River.” If extended over the dunes, the road would have connected with Pennoyer Avenue and River Road. The Detroit road was never laid, but another street that bisected the plat was named Water Street and followed the route of today’s Harbor Drive. Wadsworth’s Addition later was vacated by the City.

Abram purchased land on May 1, 1839 in the Port Sheldon area. This land may have been part of the resort development that took place about that time, an endeavor that soon went bankrupt. Franklin Everett stated that by 1846 Abram “bankrupted himself in developing water-power.” [Memorials of the Grand River Valley, p. 374.] However, in 1850 Abram was living in Michilimackinac [probably Traverse City] with his wife, Martha, and two children, both born in Michigan: James M., born in 1842, and Frances L., born in 1846. At that time Abram was a lumberman. In 1860 he was in Antrim County. Ten years later Abram was residing in Traverse City with Martha and a daughter, Ella. Abram and Martha Adeline Notham were married in Washtenaw County on May 20, 1835. Abram was born in Durham, Connecticut November 8, 1812, the son of Wentworth and Content Scranton Wadsworth. Martha was born in Williamstown, Massachusetts on December 17, 1817, and Ella in Michigan about 1855. Abram’s occupation in Traverse City was listed as surveyor, and in 1851 he was deputy Surveyor for the Geodetic Survey. He died in Traverse City on June 28, 1871. Martha passed away on June 9, 1896, also in Traverse City.

Cornelis Wagenaar [Wagener, Wagner] [1810-@1859]

Born in The Netherlands in 1810, Cornelis Wagenaar married Cornelia De Jong, who was born the same year as her husband. With their eight children, they left their homeland in 1853 and came to Grand Haven via New York, Buffalo, and Chicago. Cornelis was employed at a sawmill on Black [Macatawa] Lake, and he died at age 49. His widow married Cornelius Veen and moved with her children to a farm in Drenthe. A grandson of the Wagenaars, John Cooper, was a physician in Grand Haven for a short time around 1902.

Cornelia Boer Wagener [1892-1993]

Cornelia was born in Grand Haven on February 26, 1892 to John J. and Jennie Bolt Boer. She was the sister of Ruth Boer Hoek of Spring Lake. Cornelia graduated from Mrs. Wheeler’s Kindergarten Training School in Grand Rapids in 1911, and she became the first kindergarten teacher for Spring Lake Public Schools. She also owned and operated Spring Haven Farm, at the northeast corner of Fruitport Road and M-104, where she bred Tennessee Walking Horses. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven, Spring Lake Country Club, Grand Haven Woman’s Club, Garden Club, and Free Bed Guild. She married Carnot R. Wagener, who was born in Michigan on October 18, 1894 and in 1930 was a building inspector living in Cincinnati, Ohio. They were married sometime after 1930 and resided at 335 North Lake Street in Spring Lake. Cornelia died on October 4, 1993 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 7, 1993.]

Henry Wagenmaker [1914-1993]

On April 18, 1934 in Muskegon, Henry Wagenmaker married Nellie De Ruiter. He was a celery farmer in Norton Township, Muskegon County. Much later the two of them owned and operated two motels in Grand Haven. First, they purchased Tarry Ho Motel at 1617 South Beacon Boulevard from the original owners, Hank and Minnie de Young. Second, they partnered with Arnold and Barbara Brondyke in ownership and management of the Anchor Motel at 1616 South Beacon Boulevard. Henry was born in Muskegon on September 12, 1914 and died in Muskegon on January 27, 1993. Nellie lived from 1914 to March 9, 1998. Both were buried at Mona View Cemetery.

Adam Wagner [1831- ?]

Born in Prussia in 1831, Adam Wagner came to Eastmanville in 1855 and worked at Galen Eastman’s store. He ran the ferryboat and was postmaster in Eastmanville from 1868 to 1882. Also in 1868 he joined Edwin Thayer and Galen Eastman as general merchants. The name of the business was changed to Eastman Brothers & Wagner until 1871, when the Eastmans retired and John Wagner joined his brother Adam to form Wagner Bros. After 1879 Adam was the sole owner. In 1869 he married Eunice [Eugenia], Edwin Thayer’s sister. Adam and Eugenia had two daughters: Netty, who was born on June 1, 1877, and Florence, born in December 1884. They also had two sons: George, who was born on September 13, 1881, and John, who was born on March 6, 1883. The four children were born in Polkton Township.

John Wagner I [1825-1905]

Born in Prussia on June 25, 1825, John Wagner came to Allendale in 1840. He joined his brother Adam, and they formed the company Wagner Bros., a continuation of Galen Eastman’s general store. He sold out his interest to his brother and went into the wood, bark, and railroad tie business, and he also ran a planing mill. He later formed a partnership with a Mr. Wells and operated a general store. His son, John Wagner II, was born in 1854 in Allendale and was employed by Eastman Bros. & Wagner from 1871 to 1874, when he went into business for himself. The younger Wagner was the last postmaster of Eastmanville, beginning on July 1, 1893. John died on August 14, 1905. His wife, Lucinda, lived from December 11, 1824 to October 2, 1896. John and Lucinda were buried at Allendale Cemetery with an infant daughter, who died August 10, 1865 at less than two months old.

Justin B. Wait [Waite] [1822-1888]

In 1872 Justin Wait came to Grand Haven from Wisconsin, where he had bought 80 acres in Jefferson County on March 1, 1850 and operated a rake factory. In Grand Haven he assumed ownership of Cornelius De Vlieger’s planing mill. The Wait Manufacturing Company opened for business in 1873 with Justin as president and produced 30,000 hand rakes and 25 corn planters the first year. Thomas Stewart White was secretary and treasurer, and John M. Lockie was foreman and superintendent. The company became the Challenge Corn Planter Company when that business was incorporated in 1882.

Justin was born in Massachusetts about 1822. His first wife, Deanna, was born about 1824 in New York. They had three children: Ellen M., born in Ohio about 1845; Alice, born in Wisconsin about 1847, and Cassius, born in Wisconsin about 1849. Justin married Rebecca Munger Harris in Paw Paw, Van Buren County on November 20, 1873. The couple belonged to the Unitarian Church. Born in Ohio around 1833, Rebecca died in Grand Haven on March 18, 1874 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Justin moved to Buffalo County, Nebraska in 1879, where he died on September 15, 1888. His body was returned to Grand Haven and buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Rebecca. Two of their children, both born in Wisconsin, were Eva M. born about 1864, and Milton S., born about 1867. Also living with Justin and Rebecca in Nebraska was a stepdaughter, Augusta Munger, who was born in Michigan around 1862.

Minard Walcott [1908-1974]

Minard Walcott opened a feed store at 1437 Washington Street in Grand Haven in the 1920s. He sold the business to Claude Mulder in the mid- to late 1940s. Claude named it Mulder’s Feed Store. Minard was born on May 22, 1908 and died in Grand Haven on April 12, 1974. He and his wife, Mabel, resided at 516 South
Seventh Street. Mabel lived from January 6, 1910 and passed away on January 23, 1998 in Grand Haven. She was buried with her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Frederik Lafayette Walden [1821-1869]

In the mid-1840s Frederik Walden was Jail keeper in Grand Haven, and he was listed in the 1850 census for Ottawa County. On December 28, 1848 he married Frances Ann Day in Macomb County. They had two children, Martha, born about 1847, and Mary, born about 1849. Lettie Teeple, later the wife of Henry Pennoyer, kept house for the Waldens. Frederik was born in New York on January 13, 1821, and Frances came from Canada, where she born around 1827. Among their children, both born in Michigan, were Martha, born about 1847, and Harry, born about 1849. Frederik died in 1869 in Ottawa County.

John R. Walhout [1925-2003]

John served with the Army Air Corps during WWII as Flight Engineer on B-17s. He graduated from Ferris State University with a Bachelor of Science Degree. He obtained a Bachelor of Law degree from La Salle University, and he also was an accredited CPA. John became vice president of Challenge Porcelain and Stamping Company. After retirement, he was a federal bankruptcy trustee for the Western Michigan District and for the Circuit Court as Receiver, representing large corporate bankruptcies. John served on the Grand Haven City Council from 1965 to 1971, before being elected mayor. He served two six-year terms on the Ottawa County Road Commission and was the Commission’s chairman for ten years. He was president of the Grand Haven Christian School Board, the Tri-Cities United Way Board, and the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce Board. John also served on the first Y.M.C.A. Board of Directors, organized in 1963. He died on May 9, 2003 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 12, 2003.]

Henry Walker [1865-1939]

In the 1893 Compendium, Henry Walker was listed as a ship’s carpenter. He was born in Michigan in 1865, died in 1939, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In Grand Haven on August 16, 1888, he married Anna, the daughter of Derek and Swantje Groeneveld of Grand Haven. She lived from 1868 to 1904 and also was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. By the early 1900s Henry had become a tool maker. After his wife’s death, Henry resided with his sister-in-law, Lucy Leninga and her family at 216 Elliott Street.

John “Captain Jack” E. Walker [1821-1904]

Born in Hull, England in May 1821 [1811/1833], John Walker came to the United States in 1849 and to Grand Haven about 1854. As a boy he apprenticed aboard his uncle’s ships, followed the sea, and had many experiences as he sailed around the globe. After coming to the Grand Haven area, he worked for Squier & White and Kirby & Furlong as master of their vessels, although in the 1870 and 1880 censuses he was still classified as a sailor. John became known locally as “Captain Jack,” especially by the people living, as he did, in cottages in the Highland Park Resort. His home was on a large parcel of land near the Khardomah Lodge. In 1895 Captain Jack, noticing that Grand Haven was becoming a popular resort, saw a way of making money and built the first bath house and refreshment stand on the beach, later the site of the Bil-Mar Restaurant. In 1897 he was the first to ring the fog bell and operate the foghorn at Grand Haven. Upon retiring in 1901, Captain Jack sold his business to August Boseker, also a Highland Park resident.

Captain Jack’s wife, Bridget, was born near Dublin, Ireland, in 1826 [1827/1832]. They had four children: John II, born in Michigan about 1856; Kate [Katie/Catherine], born in Michigan in May 1861; Joseph, born in Michigan about 1862; and George, born in Illinois about 1864. Kate married James Riley of Grand Haven. John II became a ship’s captain himself and died at the age of 58 around the middle of November 1914, when his vessel foundered in a storm in Lake Superior. George moved to Marinette, Wisconsin, where John also lived for awhile. Joe evidently died before his father. Bridget passed away on August 30, 1886, and Captain Jack died on May 6, 1904. The Walkers were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with their son John II. [Tribune article, “John E. Walker,” February 19, 1897 and Tribune obituary, May 7, 1904.]

Walter S. Walker [1860-1922]

Walter Walker had one of the shortest professional sports careers on record. He joined the Detroit Wolverines Baseball Club, part of the National League, filling the position of catcher. He played his first game on May 8, 1884. Although he had one hit in four times at bat and scored a run, it was his only game. After this brief career he settled in Ionia as a lawyer. On November 15, 1887 he married Jennie V. Kimball in Ionia. By 1900 he was in the Eastern Michigan Asylum for the Insane in Pontiac, where he remained until his death in 1922. The son of Archibald and Mary Sinnott Walker, he was born in Berlin [Marne], Ottawa County in 1860. [Adapted from correspondence from Kevin Collier.]

William “Captain Billy” Walker [1868-1939]

Captain Billy Walker, born in Grand Haven in December 1868, began his career as a surfman at the Grand Haven Life Station under Captain Lysaght in 1889. In 1902 he was promoted to keeper at a new life saving station at Sleeping Bear Point, where he served until 1910. He then became keeper of the Grand Haven Life Saving Station, a post he held until his retirement in 1922. Captain Billy died on March 19, 1939 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His father, John Walker, a Grand Haven tinsmith, was born in Germany about 1840 and apparently died when Bill was a boy. Bill’s mother, Elizabeth, was born in Ohio in April 1842. After her husband’s death she married William Keltie of Grand Haven. As a young man, Billy resided with the Kelties.

Wyllys [Wyllis] Seamans Walkley [1846-1917]

Born in Hillsdale County on January 17, 1846, Wyllys moved with his parents, Oliver and Parthenia Smith Walkley, to Casnovia Township in Muskegon County in 1853. On February 12, 1864 he enlisted as private in Company C of the 23rd Michigan Infantry. He was transferred to Company H of the 28th Michigan Infantry on June 15, 1865 and mustered out on June 5 the next year. He was assigned to a medical unit. After the war he tried farming, but decided he preferred the medical field. He left the farm and headed for Ann Arbor. There he graduated from the University of Michigan Medical Department in March 1879.

Wyllys opened his medical practice in Spring Lake the same year, 1879, with an office was on the second floor of Perham’s Drug Store. He promised that “Calls from the County [would be] promptly attended to.” He moved to Lamont in 1883, and two years later moved to Grand Haven. He and his wife resided at 114 South Fourth Street, where he also maintained a medical office. For many years Wyllys was acting assistant Surgeon and in 1887 he was appointed Surgeon of the Marine Hospital Service. He was a member of the Michigan State Medical Society. After the war he joined the Weatherwax Veterans of the G.A.R. [Grand Army of the Republic] in Grand Haven, as well as the International Order of Odd Fellows in Spring Lake. In 1882 he was school inspector, and in the early 1900s he was Coroner for Ottawa County. He was one of the founders and original shareholders of the Highland Park Association, started in 1886.

In Muskegon, on February 16, 1864, Wyllys married 15-year old Ida Skinner, also of Casnovia Township. Two days later the groom left for Camp Nelson in Kentucky. Ida died in January 1873, about two years after giving birth to their third daughter, Carlotta. Not long after Ida's death, Wyllys asked Freeborn Bailey and his wife to be Carlotta's foster parents, a task they gladly accepted. The Baileys had a farm in Paris Township, Kent County. The Walkley's other daughters were Emile, who was born in 1867 and married Peter J. Danhof II of Grand Haven, and Sarah Adeline, who was born on May 9, 1869, married Burt Hatch, and later settled in Muskegon. On November 27, 1873 Wyllys married Olive “Ollie” E. MacDonald. Olive was born in Vermont, in April 1840 and died on April 13, 1909. On March 30, 1910 Walkley married Louise A. Lillie. Louise, the daughter of Warren and Sarah E. Lillie of Wright Township, was born on September 2, 1871. Walkley and his third wife lived at 114 South Fourth Street, where Louise continued to reside after her husband’s death. By 1930 she was located in Lansing. Walkley’s and Ida’s daughter Carlotta Walkley Bailey married Alvin Enoch Ewing, a Grand Rapids attorney. Carlotta and her husband owned and developed the lakeshore area known as the “Wilderness,” a few miles south of Grand Haven. Wyllys died on August 30, 1917 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Louise died on March 26, 1963 in Kent County. [Tribune obituary, April 18, 1909.]

Alexander Wallace [@1839-1864]

By 1860 Alexander Wallace was residing in Ferrysburg with his wife, Harriet Ross. Living with them was Harriet’s brother, Charles W. Ross, 18 years old. Harriet was born in New York about 1840. She and Alexander were married in Ottawa County on November 6, 1858. Born in Toronto, Canada around 1839, Alexander was a fisherman. On November 27 that year, Alexander and Harriet had a son, Charles Alexander Wallace. On December 2, 1862 Alexander enlisted with the Federal forces as private. On April 14, 1863 he joined Company B of the First Michigan Sharpshooters as corporal. He was wounded at the Battle of Spottsylvania on May 12, 1864 and died in Annapolis, Maryland on June 23. Alexander was buried at Annapolis National Cemetery.

Boyd Wade Wallace [1889-1977]

Boyd Wallace was born in Bay City, Saginaw County on November 22, 1889. On December 20, 1923 in Bay City, he married Pearl Brown Ormes, then 57 years old and a native of East Liverpool, Ohio. Their marriage registration listed them both as Mulatto. In the 1930 Federal Census Boyd was working as a chauffeur for Olive Handley, a White widow living in Spring Lake. He was listed as a single man in that census. Boyd passed away in Grand Rapids on October 10, 1977.

William Wallace [1829-1905]

Born in Canada, near its boundary with New York, William Wallace moved west at age 17 and settled in the Ferrysburg area in 1847. He married Jane [Jennie] Esther Gray on November 7, 1854. Jane, born in New York in October 1834, was the daughter of Curtis W. and Emily Gray of Grand Haven. The Wallaces had a son, Walter C., who was born in Michigan in March 1858 [1860], and one daughter, Mary A. “Minnie,” who was born in Michigan in April 1858 and taught piano. Minnie married George McKellys [McKillip]. The Wallace residence was at 108 South First Street, a home reportedly built and occupied by Grand Haven pioneer David Carver. Sharing the house with them was Almira Gray, who lived from 1830 to 1919 and was buried at Lake Forest.

William went to work for Colonel William M. Ferry and moved up rapidly in Ferry’s establishment. Within two years he was put in charge of the big store belonging to Ferry & Son. William learned a lot about Indian character from the men who came to receive their government money from the store. Indian paths were followed by the store to make deliveries to customers who lived in isolated settlements and to the mills. In 1854 William left for a short time to work in Chicago but returned to Grand Haven and became a full partner in the firm of Ferry & Son.

In 1856, William embarked in the wholesale and retail grocery business. He owned a warehouse on Harbor Drive, built in 1836 by Stearns and later purchased by Clark B. Albee, and a dock on the corner of Franklin and Harbor. The store’s sales extended up and down the shoreline and nearly every mill and settlement store was supplied from Wallace’s establishment. Goods were packed through the woods, transported by riverboat, and shipped by schooner to outlying districts. The store was destroyed by the fire of 1865. He didn’t rebuild on the original site, but moved his shop to 16 Washington, where his new store remained for several years.

In 1870 William worked for the Detroit & Grand Haven Railway, and in 1874 became stationmaster and express agent at the company’s office. In 1877 he owned a saloon on Washington Street.

In 1867 William was elected to represent the Second Ward in Grand Haven’s first City Council.
Born in October 1829 [1828], William passed away on February 21, 1905 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife and son continued to live at 108 South First until Jane died on May 12, 1912. Walter, who worked at Grand Haven Brass, died the next year and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his parents. [Tribune obituary February 21, 1905.]

Louis Wallenzin [Wallenzien, Wallzien] [1872-1924]

In the early 1900s Louis Wallenzin owned a creamery business in Agnew. Born in Wisconsin in 1871 or 1872, he came to the area in 1906. On December 4, 1904 in Milwaukee, he married Lillie Leininger, who was born in Pennsylvania about 1881. Louis passed away in Belvidere, Illinois on June 16, 1924.

Amos Walling [1860-1908]

On August 8, 1886 Amos Walling married Cleora [Clara] Ives in Coopersville. Amos, who was born in 1860, died in 1908 and was buried at Coopersville Cemetery. Five years, on October 13 in Coopersville, Cleora married Ferdinand “Fred” Behm of Grand Haven Township. She was born about 1869 and died on November 6, 1921. In 1880 Amos was residing in Berlin [Marne], Ottawa County.

George Louis Walsh [1929-2014]

George was born in Grand Haven on October 24, 1929, the son of Louis and Ruby Bartow Walsh. He earned a bachelor degree in accounting from Western Michigan University in 1952 and was certified as a Certified Public Accountant eight years later. He worked with such organizations as the Ottawa Area Intermediate School District, Michigan State University, and Lansing Country Club. After retirement he wrote a trilogy of Western novels and published them under the title Apache, My Son. When George died on July 18, 2014, he and his wife Patricia had been married 49 years. She was born on May 19, 1937. George was buried at East Lawn Memory Garden in Okemos, Ingham County, where he and Patricia had been living.

John Walsh I [1838-1912]

John Walsh, born in Canada on October 17, 1838, operated a steam-powered pile driver, even though he was one-armed. John was credited with breaking the logjam in the Grand River in 1883, when 150,000,000 board feet of timber were cascading from Grand Rapids toward Lake Michigan. John, a marine engineer, conceived and carried out a plan to drive pilings, which created an obstacle stopping the 37 million tons of logs and saving the timber, as well. His employers gave Captain Walsh a gold watch for his bravery and his ability to work fast and well enough to build the dam in time. By saving the timbers, he saved the company many thousands of dollars. John was a long-term employee of the White & Friant Lumber Company. He married Evaline [Evelyn] Hanna, who lived from 1851 to 1933. They resided at 315 North Sixth Street in Grand Haven. They had nine children, including John II, who was born in Grand Haven in 1873 and on January 14, 1895 married Gertrude Rienks. John died about March 8, 1912 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Martin Walsh [1828-1914]

Born in Ireland in November 1828 [1829], Martin Walsh came to America in 1849. After living for awhile in New York State, he came down Grand River to Spring Lake aboard the steamer Olive Branch in November 1856. On October 4, 1861 Martin enlisted in Company F of the 14th Michigan Infantry as private. He was promoted to quartermaster sergeant on November 1 the following year, to second lieutenant of Company I on August 8, 1863, and to second lieutenant on March 14, 1865. He was mustered out on July 18 that year. Martin then returned to Spring Lake and operated a dry goods and grocery store located on the northeast corner of Jackson and Savidge Streets, and later relocated to the middle of the block on the south side of Savidge between Jackson and Division Streets. He had extensive plantings of fruit trees and grapevines on the east side of Lake Avenue, between Savidge and Lloyd’s Bayou. He was postmaster of Spring Lake from 1893 to 1897. He assisted in framing the Village charter, was elected president of the Village in 1873, and served on the Spring Lake School Board. He retired to his farm on 148th Street.

In 1858 Martin married Elizabeth Lee, who was born in 1837 and came to Grand Rapids from Ireland with her brother, Patrick Lee, in 1854. The five Walsh children, all born in Michigan, were Winifred, born in Elizabeth died on October 31, 1885. On January 10, 1888 in Grand Haven, Martin married Josephine Dixon Donald. The daughter of George and Mary Shawnessy Dixon, Josephine was born in December 1854. Martin and Josephine had two children: Dion, born in March 1889, and Edward E., born in November 1890. Martin died on March 17, 1914. He and Elizabeth were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Mary Walsh [@1837-1895]
See John Furlong.

John Walsma [1875-1936]
Born in Michigan on October 21, 1875, the son of Tys [Thys] and Eda Pauls Walsma, John became a marine engineer. During the 1910s John and Ralph Van Tol owned the tugboat Gunderson and towed aggregate from their gravel pit eleven miles up the Grand River. In 1922 they sold the gravel pit to Construction Aggregates, which had recently located in Ottawa County. On January 16, 1901, in Grand Haven, John married Hannah De Young, who was a teacher at Rosy Mound School as early as 1895. She was the daughter of Captain John and Trientje Meyer De Young of Grand Haven. John and Hannah lived at 119 South Third in the early 1900s, and then moved across the street to 120 South Third before 1918. After John died on November 11, 1936, Hannah continued to reside at 120 South Third until at least the mid-1960s. Hannah was born on February 20, 1876 and died in Grand Rapids on February 27, 1980 from pulmonary edema. She was buried with her husband and other Walsmas at Lake Forest Cemetery. John and Hannah had a son, John II, born about 1901.

Tys Walsma, listed as “laborer” in the 1893 Compendium, was born in The Netherlands in April 1843, came to Grand Haven with his wife in 1874, and died in Grand Haven in 1927. On March 29, 1873 in Cook County, Illinois, he married Eda [Ida] H. Pauls. She was born in Germany and lived from November 1842 [1843] to 1925. In the 1900 census, Tys was listed as captain, presumably of a lake or river boat. The Walsmas’ children, all born in Michigan, were Mary, born in March 1874; John, born on October 21, 1875; Frederick, born in 1878; Edith, born on August 27, 1880; Emma, who was born on October 29, 1882 and married John Stokes, and died in Grand Haven on May 15, 1974; and Martin, born on July 20, 1885. By 1920 Tys and Eda lived at 120 South Third with their son John and his family. Tys and Eda were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members.

William Walsma [Walsama] [1875-1915]
In 1880 five-year old William Walsma arrived in Grand Haven with his stepfather, Pieter, who lived from 1845 to 1931, and his mother, Itje [Ida, Eda] Helmer Valkema. Itje lived from 1849 to 1935 and married Pieter Valkema in Grand Haven on March 13, 1880. William moved to Muskegon about 1898 where he was employed by the Campbell, Wright, and Canon Foundry. He was a member of Lodge No. 91 of the LOOM. William had three sons: Frank, William, and Robert, and three daughters, Ida, Delilah, and Ordelia. William died on July 19, 1915 in Muskegon but was buried with other members of his family at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Chronicle obituary, July 19, 1915.]

Arthur G. Walter [1880-1959]
The son of William and Orsena [Oisena/Orcena/Arsena] Walter of Grand Haven, Arthur was born on October 1, 1880. [On his WWII draft registration form Arthur cited a birth date of July 31, 1883.] He resided in the family home at 219 South Fourth Street in 1928, where he sold radios. On August 24, 1915 he received Patent #1,150,981 for a “Draining System for Cargo of Sand-Boats.” He passed away in Riverside, California on January 15, 1959. Apparently he never married. By 1930 Arthur ran a heating and ventilating business from 219 South Fourth Street and continued to live at the same address until at least 1940, when he owned a well-digging operation. In 1948 he was still drilling wells, but had moved to 412 Lake Avenue. Harry Walter was his brother.

Sometime before 1920, Harry Walter and his wife moved to 412 Lake Avenue from 121 North Second Street. Prior to that move they had resided at 1339 Washington. Harry had been a clerk at the Grand Haven Post Office since at least 1908. He was born in Pierson, Montacalm County about 1875 and he married Elizabeth “Lizzie” Minnit in Grand Haven on September 3, 1903. Elizabeth was born in Wisconsin [Chicago] approximately a year later. They remained at 412 Lake until about 1950. Elizabeth died about March 8, 1950, and Harry passed away around December 28 the next year. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Arthur G. Walter was his brother. Their parents were William and Orsena Walter.

Peter Walter [Walters] I [1826-1889]

On September 23, 1861, while living in Holland, Peter Walter enlisted in Company D of the 8th Michigan Infantry and served until May 26, 1865. By 1870 he was a commercial fisherman residing in Grand Haven. Peter, born in The Netherlands in 1826, died in 1889, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, but his monument showed no dates. On February 9, 1864 he married Maria [Mariah]: Punsele, also from The Netherlands, where she was born in November 1832. She had previously married Gerard Leopold Jacob Arnold Dijckmeester in Rotterdam, The Netherlands, on July 1, 1857. Gerard and Maria immigrated to America in 1857, and Gerard died in Grand Haven six years later. After Peter’s death, Maria applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on August 12, 1889. She resided at 206 Water Street [Harbor Drive]. Maria and Gerard Dijckmeester had at least one child: Mary, who was born on September 14, 1860 and married Peter Wilds of Grand Haven. Among Peter’s and Maria’s children were Dena, who was born on August 6, 1865 and married John J. Fisher of that city; William, born in October 1867; Jennie, born in April 1870; and Peter II, born in February 1873. All the children were born locally. Jennie married a Mr. Cooper and had three children; Harry, born in September 1895; Mary, in January 1898; and Harold, born in November 1899. Mr. Cooper does not appear in any of the censuses. Peter and Maria Walter had six children in all.

William Walter [Walters] [1835-1913]

Born in Sackett’s Harbor, New York on October 6, 1835, William Walter while living in Fremont, Indiana on August 2, 1862 enlisted in Company B of the 6th Indiana Calvary and later was transferred to Company M of the 5th Indiana Calvary. He was captured by the Confederates and spent time in Southern prisons in Charlottesville and Salisbury. He escaped from the camp at Salisbury, returned to his unit, and was discharged with the rank of first lieutenant on August 3, 1865. [His capture and escape were not mentioned in his service records.] On November 21, 1876 he applied for an invalid’s pension, and on November 25, 1913 Orsena applied for a widow’s pension. Shortly after his discharge from the service, William came to Michigan to work in the lumbering business, first with a Mr. Pierson [possibly Harrison Pearson, a Grand Haven ship builder], then going to Robinson Township, where he owned an 80-acre farm. Sometime after 1908 he moved to Grand Haven. On May 19, 1867 in Ovid, Clinton County, he married Orsena [Oisena/Orcena/Arsena] D. Runyon. A native of Michigan, she lived from 1848 to about August 3, 1925 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children included Harry [Henry] A., who was born about 1876 in Michigan and married Lizzie M. Minnit in Grand Haven on September 3, 1903, and Arthur G., who was born locally on October 1, 1880. The two sons remained in the Grand Haven area most of their lives. In the early 1900s William lived with the family of his sister-in-law, Maria, the wife of Peter Walter, at 206 Water Street [Harbor Drive]. William died at his home, 219 South Fourth Street, on November 4, 1913 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, November 4, 1913.]

Benjamin Walters [1856-1931]

Born in December 1856 in The Netherlands, Benjamin Walters was a farmer who also raised livestock on his 40-acre farm located in Section 24 of Olive Township. He came to the area from the City of Holland in 1899. By 1910 Ben had returned to the City of Holland. He married Leana [Lena] Tunring, who, died at the age of 34 on February 7, 1904. They had a daughter Margaret, who was born in 1892. Benjamin died on March 12, 1931 in Grand Rapids.
See Peter Walter I.

Robert L. Walwood [1938-2002]

Robert Walwood, who resided at 14198 128th Avenue in Robinson Township, was Plant manager for Integrated Metal Technology in Spring Lake Township. He was born in Grand Rapids on January 24, 1938, the son of James A. and Clara Vander Panne Walwood. Robert married Elizabeth Vollmer in Indiana on August 20, 1956. Their children were Debra, who married Douglas Van Oeveren; Linda; Rita, who married Steve Boomgaard; Robert M.; and Troy L. The children resided in Grand Haven. Robert died on April 22, 2002 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, April 24, 2002.]

Charles Frederich Christian Warber [Werber] [1854-1924]

Born in Germany in 1854, Charles Warber came to America in 1867. He married Caroline Dabberowsky in Grand Haven on April 5, 1872. The daughter of German immigrants Ludwig and Fredereka Dobberowsky, she was born in Grand Haven in 1847. Charles ran logs for the Old Boom Mill on Grand River, and later became a cattle farmer and raised grain at his 120-acre farm located at 15600 148th Street in Spring Lake. The Warbers were completely self-dependent, making everything they needed to sustain life except salt. Both Warbers died in 1924 and were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Frederick and George were his brothers. A daughter, Wilhelmina, was born on September 15, 1883.

Elizabeth Warber [1881-1939]

See Elizabeth Warber Schweitzer.

Emil C. Warber [1886-1980]

The son of Charles and Caroline Warber, Emil was born in Spring Lake on December 29, 1886. He married Ruth Edna Wills in Spring Lake on August 20, 1912. Born on August 16, 1894, she was the daughter of Henry and Jenet Wills. Emil remembered collecting clamshells for the Lamont Button Factory when he was a boy and even as a young man. His first job was with the Challenge Machinery Company as a machinist. However, Emil worked most of his life as a plumber and was associated for six years with Dave Cline [Klein], and then spent the next 34 years with the Lloyd Buckley Company. The Warbers lived at 426 East Exchange in Spring Lake. Emil died on November 16, 1980 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Ruth died in Spring Lake on June 19, 1987. Their son, Emil II, was born on September 9, 1916 and died in Grand Haven on February 22, 1995. Emil II operated Warbers Plumbing and Heating, located at 15751 Rannes Road in Spring Lake Township. He married Emily P. Machek of Nunica on October 24, 1938. Emily passed away on January 3, 2008. [Tribune obituary, January 4, 2008.]

Frederick Warber [Werber] [1839-1920]

Born in Germany in February 1839 [1844], Fred Warber was the brother of George of Grand Haven and Charles Warber of Spring Lake. He came to America at age 16, spending time in Kansas, Nebraska, and the Dakotas. He became a driver of supply trains across the hostile Indian country between the great trading points of St. Louis, Kansas City, and Denver. Fred became intimately acquainted with “Buffalo Bill” Cody, “Wild Bill” Hickok, General Custer, and others. After coming to this area, he was employed for years as a foreman in the Boyden Sawmills. He left the mills to start a celery and vegetable farm and later a dairy farm. On September 17, 1884 in Grand Haven, he married Wilhelmina Albrecht. She was born in Germany in November 1854 [1855], died on January 29, 1932, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. The Warbers had one son, William E., who was born in February 1886 and died on February 13, 1962. Fred died at his home at 1214 Washington on August 3, 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Wilhelmina continued to live at the home on Washington after her husband’s death. Residing with her was her widowed brother, August Albrecht. He was born in Germany about 1856. [Tribune obituary, August 4, 1920.]
George Warber I [Werber] [1846-1928]

George Warber was the brother of Charles and Fred Warber. Like them, he was a native of Germany, where he was born on February 10, 1846. George worked in a local sawmill after arriving in Grand Haven sometime before 1880. His wife, Fredrika, also from Germany, was born about 1855. Their children in 1880, all born locally, were Clara, who was born about 1876 and married John C. Van Doorne of Grand Haven; Alexander, born about 1878; and George II, born about 1879. Also living with the family in 1880 was George’s brother Charles. George died in Grand Haven on February 24, 1928 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Louis Warber [1881-1952]

A native of the Grand Haven area, where he was born on October 29, 1881, Louis Warber operated a dairy farm in Section 28 of Grand Haven Township, at the northwest corner of Beechtree and Robbins Road. His wife, Ludica, was born in Germany about 1894. They had at least one son, Paul, born about 1913. Louis was the son of George and Fredrika Warber. Louis died in Grand Haven on September 14, 1952 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Wilhelmena Warber [1883-1975]

Wilhelmena, was born on September 15, 1883 to Charles and Caroline Dabberowsky Warber of Spring Lake. She was a teacher at Robinson School, Eagle School in Blendon, French School in Crockery, and Peach Plains. She died on January 16, 1975 in Allendale and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Willimer Warber owned a large dairy farm in Section 28 of Grand Haven Township, between North Griffin and Beechtree Streets. Will’s wife, Augusta, was born in Austria around 1894. Their children, all born locally, were Wilhelmine, born about 1917; Frederick, born about 1920; Warren H., who was born on August 2, 1923 and died in Spring Lake on May 16, 1987; Margaret, born about 1926; and Helen, born about 1929. William was born on February 8, 1886 and died about February 15, 1962. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. August passed away about May 6 the next year and was buried with her husband.

Andrew Jackson Ward [1843-1914]

While living in Flint, Andrew Ward on January 14, 1864 enlisted as private in Company F of the 4th Michigan Cavalry. He was discharged on August 15 the next year. On March 6, 1895 he married Lucy E. Harrington in Holland. About the same time he was register deeds for Ottawa County, and the couple lived on South Fourth Street. A few years later he and his wife were located at 400 Lafayette, where he also sold and rented “electric cleaners.” Living with them was their daughter Dora Mathilda, who was born in 1896 and married Chauncey Clark of Grand Haven. Andrew was born in 1843 and died in 1914, but Lucy didn’t apply for a widow’s Civil War pension until 1916. She lived from 1863 to 1924 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Lemuel J. Ward [1839-1912]

As a resident of Ionia County, Lemuel Ward enlisted as private in Company E of the 3rd Michigan Infantry on May 13, 1861. He was discharged for disability on September 24, 1862 and subsequently settled in Nunica, although he was included in the Ferrysburg census for 1880 as an employee of a local sawmill. His wife, Sarah M., was born in New York in December 1847. She applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on September 23, 1912. A monument was erected in Nunica Cemetery with Lemuel’s name and outfit. Lemuel was born in New York in June 1839. Their children included William, born in August 1884, and Mabel, born in December 1888. Both children were born in Michigan.

Roger E. Ward [1946-1968]

Born in Ferrysburg on September 29, 1946, Roger was the son of the Elgin Ward, 16825 Cecilia Lane in Ferrysburg, and brother of Beverly and Dennis. Dennis, who participated in track in school and volunteered with the Salvation Army, was drafted in March 1968 and stationed at Fort Knox, Kentucky. Roger was drafted into the Army in May 1967 and left for Vietnam in October. He died on April 5, 1968 from sniper fire in Vietnam and was buried with military rites at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, April 9, 1968, and Tribune article, “Military Rites Held for Ferrysburg Soldier,” April 24, 1968.]

David R. Waters [1839-1915]

David Waters was born in Lycoming County, Pennsylvania on December 3, 1836. He moved to Henderson County, Illinois, where he studied law, and in 1858 was admitted to the Bar. He enlisted on March 1, 1862 as lieutenant in Company G of the 10th Illinois Infantry and was promoted to captain that year. David resigned on March 30, 1864. He then resumed his law practice in Aledo, Illinois, but a serious eye disease forced him to give up law and he took up the newspaper business in Aledo as editor of Mercer County Press. In the spring of 1869 David purchased 85 acres of land in Section 2, formerly owned by Edward and Julia Soule Craw, and relocated permanently to Michigan. From 1872 to 1873 David edited the Spring Lake Independent. He was elected Assessor of Spring Lake Township in 1873 and 1874, and in 1875 he was elected supervisor.

David and his family then moved to Grand Rapids, where he joined the Grand Rapids Democrat, resigning in 1876. He later became editor of the Allegan County Democrat, where he remained until February 1881. He returned to Grand Rapids as editor of the Grand Rapids Evening Leader. Around February 1, 1883, David became Warden of the State House of Correction and Reformatory in Ionia. In February 1885 he returned to the Leader and remained the editor of that paper until the spring of 1890. In the meantime he had been appointed United States Marshall for the Western District of Michigan. In 1890 David and others founded the Grand Rapids Morning Press, where he continued as editorial writer until December 1892. Upon the organization of the Grange at Spring Lake he was elected secretary of the society. In Grand Rapids, David was president of the Standard Bed Company in Grand Rapids. David and his wife were back on their fruit farm by the mid-1890s. In 1905 he wrote an article for the Supplement to The County Weekly, in which he praised the virtues of Spring Lake as a vacation spot, calling it “an unsurpassed paradise for children.” He also noted the high-quality fruit that was raised in orchards surrounding the lake. “The peaches, particularly,” he said, “are famous for their exquisite flavor and coloring because they are ripened on the trees to perfection and [are] not insipid as is the case with all peaches picked green thousands of miles away and ripened in packages, as every one knows is the case with fruit shipped from the far south or west.” The Waters farm, in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township, was called Oakmere.

On December 18, 1866 in Lycoming County, Pennsylvania, David married Alice Latcha. She lived from 1840 to 1902. David and Alice had a son Albert, who was born in Illinois on March 2, 1869 and died in 1921, six years after her husband. All three were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Elmer John Westerhof I [1902-1992]
Elmer, born in Grand Haven in 1901 [1902], was the son of Egbert and Gertie Westerhof of Grand Haven. In 1917 Elmer began working for the Grand Trunk Railway Company on June 7, 1917 and was in their employ for fifty years. The company transported boxcars across the lake on the Milwaukee and other Grand Haven car ferries. The Grand Trunk Depot was then located at One North Harbor Drive, later the site of the Tri-Cities Museum. Elmer managed the Grand Haven City baseball league teams and the Grand Haven all-stars, “The Swampies,” and also acted as umpire from time to time. Most of the home games were played at Ferry Field, located on the northwest corner of Ferry and Grant Streets. Elmer began playing baseball at the age of 14, when he was shortstop for the Challenge Machinery in the Factory League. He was still playing at the age of 62. On November 24, 1923 in Grand Haven, he married Margaret Salisbury. She was born in Michigan about 1898, died around October 3, 1957, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had two sons, Elmer II and Carl. Elmer I remarried 11 years after Margaret’s death around October 23, 1957. Elmer, who resided at 944 Franklin in Grand Haven, died in Tucson, Arizona, in 1992.

Cornelius Westerhouse [Westerhuis] [1864-1900]
Born in 1864 in The Netherlands, Cornelius Westerhouse came to Ferrysburg in 1882. He worked a year and a half at the Cutler & Savidge Sawmill, where he lost his left hand in an industrial accident. He then attended Bennet Business College in Grand Rapids, where he was trained to be a bookkeeper. Upon returning to Ferrysburg in 1889, he became an itinerant peddler. Soon, with the help of a partner, he was able to open a small store in Spring Lake. He sold his interest in that enterprise and opened another store in Ferrysburg in 1892 on the northwest corner of Maple and Third Streets [Lot 1, Block 21]. He carried dry goods, groceries, and feed. He continued his itinerant salesman’s route, as well. About 1905 he sold the store to Rolef Ruiter.

On June 9, 1892 in Spring Lake, Cornelius married Kathryn Yonker, who was born in Ferrysburg and lived from June 1872 to 1909. Their children, all born locally, were Albertha [Alice] born in June 1892; Maria [Mary], who was born in October 1894 and married Sybrant Olthoff of Ferrysburg; William, born in August
Charles Weedon Westover [1934-1999]

“Congratulations, Chuck. It is unfortunate that your record is not better. You need to improve in the years to come.” Those words, written by a teacher, were permanently emblazoned in Charles Westover’s 1953 yearbook at Coopersville High School. The educator was referring to Chuck’s reputation for chronic underachievement and misbehavior. The young hipster had purchased a used guitar for $5. The guitar, like an imaginary friend, would be ever-present to the annoyance of school staff who interpreted it as rebellious, attention-seeking nonsense. In 1953 there was far more concern for Chuck’s future than appreciation for his potential, but rural Coopersville’s identity as a community would one day focus on this most unlikely native son.

Charles eventually moved to Battle Creek, where he worked a series of dead-end jobs and moonlighted with his guitar at the Hi-Lo Club, a local tavern. Years of feeding his musical obsession had expanded Chuck’s talents from guitarist to singer and lyricist. In 1960 Westover signed his first contract, promising him 2% royalties on domestic releases and 1% on European releases over five years. His talent agent suggested a name change, and in an instant a rock star was born. “Charles” became “Del” after the Coupe deVille Cadillac, and “Westover” was changed to “Shannon”, for a bouncer at the Hi-Lo Club. The newly hailed “Del Shannon” released Runaway in February 1961. By April it was #1 on Billboard, Hats Off to Larry, Little Town Flirt, Handy Man, Do You Want to Dance and many more recordings soon followed. Shannon was a household name in the United States, but even more popular in Europe. He shared the bill with the up and coming Beatles at London’s Royal Albert Hall in 1963.

As time passed, legal and personal problems emerged. By the 1970s Shannon’s career had nose-dived, fueled by alcohol and painful memories woven into the lyrics of his greatest hits. On February 8, 1990 Charles Westover discharged a .22 caliber round into his head. Born in Grand Rapids on December 30, 1934, Del was 56 when he died. Today the small town of Coopersville hosts an annual festival, essential to its economy, to celebrate Del’s music and classic cars of his era. Del Shannon was inducted into the Rock and Roll hall.

Lydia, a native of Michigan, was born on October 17, 1882. Their son, James C., was born on January 8, 1908 and died in Grayling, Crawford County on May 4, 1988. Jacob passed away on August 29, 1943, and Lydia died on January 26, 1977. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.
Amanda White [1797-1870]

Amanda White, born in Ashfield, Massachusetts on August 20, 1797, married Rev. William M. Ferry on Mackinac Island in 1823. She moved to Grand Haven with her family on November 2, 1834 and died there in 1870. Her parents were Thomas and Hannah Harwood White. For more detail, see Amanda White Ferry.

Andrew J. White [1860-1950]

Around 1900 Andrew White owned a grocery store in Bass River, Section 7, Allendale Township. He was born in New York on April 24, 1860, died in Jenison on May 3, 1950, and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. His wife, Anna [Annie], died about June 4, 1941 and also was buried at Robinson.

Born in Davenport, Iowa on November 24, 1936, Doug White married Judith Elizabeth Meany on May 31, 1971 in Grand Haven. They lived at 601 Sheldon Road. Judy was born in Boston, Massachusetts on January 7, 1947. In Grand Haven, she worked for Re-Max Real Estate as a sales agent and broker. Doug was a sales representative. He died in Grand Haven on February 14, 2002 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. After his death, Judy continued to reside in Grand Haven. She passed away on October 12, 2019. Doug and Judy had two daughters, Gretchen White, who lived in San Francisco, California, and Heather, who married John Pitsch and moved to Wyoming, Kent County. They also had a son, Greg, who lived in Deerfield, Illinois.

Francis H. White [1842-1893]

While in Ypsilanti, Frank White of Grand Haven enlisted as quartermaster sergeant with the 14th Michigan Infantry on February 5, 1862. He was promoted to second lieutenant on December 1 that year and simultaneously to first lieutenant and quartermaster. He was mustered out on March 14, 1865. Frank, the son of Nathan and Sarah Brittain White of Grand Haven, was born in April 1842 and died on January 10, 1893. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members.

Lucas A. White [1808-1858]

Originally from Ashfield, Massachusetts, where he was born on October 17, 1808, Luke White arrived in Grand Haven in 1835 with his sister, Mary. His parents were Thomas and Hannah Harwood White. Lucas was one of the organizers of the first Grand Haven Company, formed in 1835. Lucas married Clarissa J. Perkins in September 1836. Born November 30, 1818, she was the daughter of Jedidiah and Lucy Ingersoll Perkins of Norwich, Connecticut. The Whites’ son, Thomas Perkins White, was born on June 3, 1844. The family home was located on the southeast corner of Franklin and Second Streets. Luke died in Grand Haven on October 15, 1858.

Mary Arms White [1813-1901]

Born on September 18, 1813 in Ashfield, Massachusetts, Mary White followed her sister Amanda to Grand Haven, where she arrived with her three brothers on June 10, 1835. Her parents were Thomas and Hannah Harwood White. From 1828 to 1830 Mary had studied under Mary Lyon, founder of Mount Holyoke College for Women in Massachusetts, at the Buckland School. In Grand Haven, Mary became the teacher of the day school as well as Sunday school. Her classes at first were held in the attic of the Ferry home. At the beginning she had six students: the three Ferry boys, William, Thomas, and Noah, and Peter, Francis, and Louise Duverney, children of a French-Canadian father and a Native American mother. A bit later the Timothy Eastman family moved to Grand Haven from Maine, and their three sons, Mason, Galen, and George, joined Mary’s school. Her adult classes, offered at night, included sailors, lumberjacks, and other laborers, who enrolled for short periods of time. It was the Great Lakes sailors who spread news of her teaching abilities. Students, or their parents, paid what they could to support the school.

Within a year of Mary’s arrival in Grand Haven, a school building was erected at 16 South Second Street. The building also served as a church on weekends and as territorial court and meeting hall, when needed. She taught local girls sewing and handiwork on Saturday afternoons. Mary served as teacher until leaving.
Grand Haven in 1851 to teach science and mathematics at Rockford Female Seminary [Rockford University] in Rockford, Illinois, which was founded and directed by students of Mary Lyon. She also worked as accountant at the college in 1863., the year she returned to Grand Haven.

In Grand Haven, Mary resumed her teaching role. Affectionately known to young and old as Aunt Mary, she was considered West Michigan’s first teacher. Mary was engaged to Dr. Sydney Williams, but he died suddenly a week before their planned wedding. Toward the end of the nineteenth century she maintained the home of her bachelor nephew, United States Senator Thomas White Ferry. Mary died on September 12, 1901 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Mary A. White Elementary School was named in her honor.

Nathan Harwood White [1811-1875]

Rev. William Ferry’s brother-in-law Nathan White arrived in Grand Haven on November 2, 1834, after previously visiting the area with William. It was Nathan who hiked to Kalamazoo in the winter of 1835-36 to bring back supplies for the new arrivals, after the ship bearing food for the season was wrecked in Lake Michigan. In addition to 160 bushels of wheat and other foodstuffs, Nathan herded 100 hogs down the frozen Grand River to Grand Haven. Nathan, Ferry, and Robert Stuart were the founders of the first Grand Haven Company, whose purpose was to buy land, build sawmills, and produce lumber. Nathan managed the company’s sawmill in Grandville. He reportedly enlisted in Captain Elmer Dicey’s “Ottawa Wild Cats” regiment in 1863, then known as the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters. [Nathan’s service records were not found. Elmer Dicey served as second lieutenant with Company C of the 5th Michigan Cavalry, Captain Noah Ferry’s unit.] In partnership with A. M. Dickee, Nathan operated a hardware store at the northeast corner of Washington and Second Streets as early as 1871.

Nathan was born in Ashfield, Massachusetts on April 13, 1811. On June 28, 1840, he married Sarah M. Brittain, originally of Batavia, New York, where she was born on December 17, 1822, but later moved to Grandville. They had six children, all born locally, including Francis, who was born in April 1842; Clara Virginia, who was born about 1845 and married Edward Payson Ferry; Nathan B., who was born around 1848 and married Melissa Moss in Grand Haven on September 7, 1871; Luke A., who was born about 1852 and died in Grand Haven on December 18, 1884; and Helen E., who was born about 1857. At the time of the 1900 Federal Census, Sarah had returned to Grand Haven, sharing her home in the first block of North First Street with a granddaughter, Edith Ferry. Nathan died on May 13, 1875 of a liver ailment, and Sarah died on February 21, 1904. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Oren [Orin] Delos White [@1845-1924]

In 1893 the Compendium listed Oren White as butcher living in the Village of Spring Lake. He married Delaphine [Delphine/Delaphene] Ralph, who was born in Galesburg, Kalamazoo County on October 28, 1850. Oren was born about 1845. Natives of Michigan, they moved to Spring Lake about 1885. In 1900 Oren was a trust agent. Living with him and Delaphine was a son, Oren A., who was born in Spring Lake on October 29, 1889. Another son, Clarence D., was born about 1876. He married Henrietta, daughter of Klaas and Alberdina Huizenga Pruim. Clarence died March 1, 1947 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. A third son, Hugh, died on July 10, 1885, just under 17 years old.

In 1910 Oren was doing odd jobs. A granddaughter, Helen W. White, was living with the Whites on Exchange Street in 1910. She was born in Michigan about 1899. Helen was with them ten years later, working as a teacher. On July 19, 1923 in Spring Lake Helen married Harlan D. Kimmey of Cleveland, Ohio. He was a year older than Helen. Delaphine was a widow, still living in Spring Lake when she died on May 20, 1930. She was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Oren, who died on November 8, 1924, also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. He served with Company E of the 25th Michigan Infantry during the Civil War and was wounded at the Battle of Gettysburg on July 4, 1863. The younger Oren on March 26, 1910 married Florence Chittenden in Spring Lake. Florence was born on April 19, 1889 and died on January 21,
Her husband died on October 15, 1973 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as was Florence. [Tribune obituaries November 10, 1924 and May 21, 1930.]

Robert E. White [1923-1976]

Robert White resided at 514 North Fifth in Grand Haven and worked for the railroad as section foreman for the Grand Trunk Railway. He also produced postcards. Clarence Poel wrote an article about Robert that appeared in the Grand Haven Tribune on January 12, 1956. Titled “Makes Picture Postcards,” the article pointed to Robert’s hobby of producing postcards for fun and profit. On the back of one of his advertising postcards Bob wrote, “It cost 25 cents for a negative for Personal Cards like this and 5 cents each for any number of cards from it.” Bob had one daughter, Pearl. Born on December 27, 1923, Bob died on March 29, 1976 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Social Security records note he was a resident of Rockwell, Texas at the time of his death.

Stewart Edward White [1873-1946]

Stewart Edward White lived in Grand Haven in the Boyden House at 301 South Fifth Street for the first six or seven years of his life. He was born March 12, 1873, the son of Thomas and Mary Eliza Daniel White. His grandfather was Thomas W. White and his great aunt was Mary A. White. The White family moved to Grand Rapids in the late 1870s, where Stewart began his formal education and later obtained bachelor and master degrees from the University of Michigan. He spent eight or ten years in lumber camps and on the rivers where he gained the background for his novels and became a well-known author of such works as Blazed Trails, The Riverman, Daniel Boone, and Wilderness Scout. Twelve of his novels and short stories were made into movies, mostly during the era of the silent films. A 1941 film, Wild Geese Calling, starred Henry Fonda. As a result of Edward’s study of bird life, six or seven hundred bird skins were preserved in the Kent Scientific Museum [Grand Rapids Public Museum]. On April 28, 1904 in Newport, Rhode Island, Edward married Elizabeth Colvert [Calvert] Grant. The couple returned to California, where Stewart had lived since 1897. Stewart enlisted in the Army at the start of WWI and was given the rank of major of U.S. Field Artillery. Betty became a medium, and Edward wrote several books on the occult that focused on “channeling,” or conversing with the dead through a medium, such as Betty. She was born in Panama around 1881 and died in California in 1939. Stewart died on September 18, 1946 in Hillsborough, California.

Thomas Stewart White [1840-1915]

The son of Thomas Wait and Caroline Norton White, Thomas was born in Grand Haven on June 28, 1840. In 1859 Thomas became an employee of the bank of Ferry & Son, located near the southwest corner of Franklin and Harbor Streets, where he served as a teller for three years. In 1863 he accepted a position as shipping clerk with Gray, Phelps, & Company of Chicago, and then two years later returned to Ferry & Son as cashier. About the same time he operated the Stevens Mills in Grand Rapids, which his father in 1865. In 1867 Thomas entered a partnership with Heber Squier as Squier & White, general contractors and ship builders and tugboat owners. They also advertised their company as “Wreckers & Contractors.” Thomas next developed a line for transporting freight between Chicago and ports on the eastern shore of Lake Michigan with the name Kirby, Furlong, & Company. In 1869 he joined with Thomas Friant and entered the lumber business by building a sawmill at Spring Lake on the site of the former Norton mill. It was called the White, Friant, & Company Mill. Also in 1869 Thomas helped start the Grand Haven fire department. In 1871 Thomas was named director of the First National Bank of Grand Haven, and in 1873 he was appointed secretary and treasurer of the new Wait Manufacturing Company. He contracted with Charles Boyd to build the house at 301 South Fifth Street about 1872.

On April 20, 1870 Thomas married Mary E. Daniel of Milwaukee. She was born in Michigan about 1847. Stewart Edward White, born on March 12, 1873, was one of their sons. Another was well-known artist Thomas Gilbert White, who was born in 1877. One of his paintings in 1902 was accepted for a Paris exhibit. Gilbert moved to Paris, where he died in 1939. A third son was Roderick I. White, who was born on February 26, 1890 and became a respected violinist. He died on February 28, 1945 in California, where he once played with the Los Angeles Symphony. Thomas and Mary moved to Grand Rapids in the late 1870s, and resided at 427 Fulton Street, later the site of the first Grand Rapids Furniture Museum. Thomas died in October 1915.

Thomas Wait White [1805-1884]

A native of Ashfield, Massachusetts, where he was born in 1805, Thomas White was the son of Thomas and Hannah Harwood White. Young Thomas was an early Grand Haven settler. He arrived in the area in 1836 with Caroline Norton, whom he had married on September 19 that year. Caroline was born about 1806 in St. Albans, Vermont. The newly-weds traveled to Detroit and walked along the Indian trails from there to Ionia, and then they rafted to the mouth of the Grand River. In Grand Haven Thomas built his house on Lot 95 on First Street, near the northeast corner of Columbus. In 1837 [1838] he became captain of the Owashtanong, a flat-bottomed boat used for freight. This river steamer was built in Grand Haven by the Grand Haven Steamboat Company, owned by Thomas, Rix Robinson, and Dr. Sydney Williams. It operated between Grand Haven and Grand Rapids. A blacksmith by trade, Thomas worked for William M. Ferry, and helped build the Butts and Hathaway Sawmill and the Throop Mill in 1855. He served in the Michigan Legislature in 1844. In 1845 Thomas and others were charged with the responsibility of laying out a road between Grandville and Grand Haven “on the most eligible and direct route.” He and Silas C. Hopkins platted the Village of Mill Point [Spring Lake] in late 1849. Thomas was credited with planting many of the maple shade trees throughout the Village and for building the first bridge across the Grand River at Grand Rapids. He bought Stevens Mill in Grand Rapids in 1865 and operated it with his son, Thomas S. White, until his retirement in 1881. He died three years later. Thomas and Caroline had three children: Louisa H., born on February 4, 1838; Thomas S., born in Grand Haven on June 28, 1840; and John B., born on June 14, 1843.

William S. White [1806-1884]

William White moved to Grand Haven with his family in 1867. He was born in Massachusetts on July 4, 1806, and his wife, Hannah D. Ames, was born in Vermont in 1815. William was a farm laborer. Their daughter, Frances, was born in Wadsworth, Vermont, in 1851 and married David Fletcher Hunton of Grand Haven. Two other daughters were Martha, who was born on May 9, 1840 in New York, married Civilian Phelps, and died in Grand Rapids on May 18, 1916, and Mary, who was born in Vermont on August 1, 1845, married Amos May and died in Wyoming, Kent County, on November 18, 1928. William passed away on December 14, 1884, and Hannah died in Grand Haven on October 31, 1886. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Bert H. Whitely [1861-1917]

Bert Whitely was born in Springfield, Ohio on March 14, 1861. He married Mary Elizabeth Painter, who was born about 1863. They were married in Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania on August 9, 1883. The Whitelys owned a home and 38 acres in Section 3 of Spring Lake Township, which included lake frontage. The home was called, appropriately, the “White House.” Amos Junior Whitely, their son, was born January 5, 1885 in Muncie, Indiana. Burt died on March 21, 1917 in Muncie, and Mary passed away on June 6, 1920, also in Muncie.

Robert G. Whitesides [1927-2003]

After Bob Whitesides retired as vice president of Sales at Dake Corporation in 1989, he spent ten years as a Realtor with the J. W. Oakes Agency. He was born on January 31, 1927, to William F. and Bertha Louthan Whitesides in Jefferson City, Missouri. He and Lesley Echlin were married in Ionia on June 1, 1947. After serving in the Navy as radioman during WWII, Bob graduated from Davenport College of Business in 1947. Bob and Lesley attended the United Methodist Church of the Dunes. He was active in the Stephens Ministry, and was a member and president of the Spring Lake Country Club, member of the Elks, North Ottawa Council on Aging, American Legion, Grand Haven Township Board, American Heart Association, and Stag Club. He also served on the Board of Goodwill. The family resided at 18295 Holcomb Road. Their children were Laura Host and Tom Whitesides. Bob passed away in Muskegon on March 27, 2003. [Tribune obituary, March 29, 2003.]

Gerald D. Whiting [1915-1971]

Gerald Whiting was born on June 26, 1915, died in Spring Lake on September 26, 1971, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. In 1960 he married Kathryn Jane Boon Boot, the daughter of Martin and Kate Yock Boon of Ferrysburg. Kathryn was the widow of E. Raymond Boot, whom she married in 1940. Boot died in 1943. Kathryn and Gerald resided at 718 Winter Street in Spring Lake. She was a graduate of Hope College and taught at the elementary school level in Grand Haven and Spring Lake for more than 30 years. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven. Her daughter Kathleen married Jim Bolthouse, a Grand Haven Realtor. Another daughter, Judy, married Rick Tompke of Haslett. She also had two sons, David Whiting and Curt Whiting, both of Spring Lake. Kathryn died in Spring Lake on March 27, 2002.

Oliver A. Whitney [1830-1918]

Oliver Whitney, born on October 24, 1830 in Perry, Washington County, Maine, was an early settler in Robinson Township. His parents were Ezra and Sarah F. Slack Whitney. On March 1, 1856 Oliver acquired 40 acres in Section 25 of Robinson Township, which by 1864 had grown to an 80-acre farm. On August 14, 1862 he enlisted as blacksmith in Company B of the 5th Michigan Cavalry. He was promoted to sergeant on October 11 that year and to regimental quartermaster sergeant the following February 20. Oliver was mustered out on June 22, 1865 and returned to Robinson. From 1874 to 1879 he was township supervisor, and he owned a dry goods store in the Village of Robinson, which later was taken over by John Brady. Oliver and his wife, Julia, had two children, both born in Michigan: Ezra, born in 1860, and Arthur, born in 1861. Julia, a native of New York State, was born in 1830. Oliver moved to San Jose, California, where he died and was buried at Oakhill Memorial Cemetery. He applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension on August 15, 1891, while living in California. He died on October 27, 1918 at a Soldiers’ Home in Sawtelle, California.

William Whitters [Witters] [1829-1917]

William Whitters was born in Ireland on November 4, 1829 and came to America in 1850, eventually taking residence in Ottawa County. During the Civil War, recognized as an exceptionally accurate sharpshooter, he served as private in the 21st Michigan Infantry, but was not assigned to a company. At the time of his enlistment, he was living in Jackson. After the war, he returned to Ottawa County where he purchased a 40-acre parcel of land in north Blendon Township. William dug a sizable pit on his Blendon Township property and constructed a shack within it. Only the roof could be seen above ground. William lived mostly underground for the remainder of his life. He saw everyone as a potential trespasser and often guarded his property armed with a shotgun in hand. He rarely came into contact with his neighbors. It was said he knew Bible scripture better than any preacher and claimed to have visitee “nearly every country on the face of the globe.” He farmed only a small section of his land and hunted in a small wooded area on the property. He disavowed modern conveniences and never had electricity or running water in his dwelling.

In 1880 William was residing with his brother’s family in Georgetown Township. By 1900 he was a widower living in Blendon Township with his daughter, Mara and Mara’s husband and their family. In 1905 he was jailed for arming himself behind a barricade on Taylor Street in Blendon Township, scaring off surveyors on a street expansion project. On April 26, 1909 he applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. The next year, at the age of 80 he had plans to move into a Soldier’s Home in Grand Rapids and an auction was held to sell off his farming implements. Concerned he was not getting a fair price, William outbid everyone and purchased back all of his own goods. He became angry when the two auctioneers presented him a bill for their commission on the sale of each item. Broke, he decided to remain on his property. In the 1910 census he was listed as a single man, living alone, and working as a farmer. On the morning of April 12, 1917 neighbors saw smoke rising from the Whitter property and raced over to see a smoldering fire pit. The old man had burned to death after his shack caught fire. The cause of the fire was unknown. William was six months away from his 88th birthday and was buried at the Blendon Township Cemetery. The December 4,
1910 edition of the Detroit Free Press described Whitters in a newspaper headline as “The queerest man in Ottawa County.” [Adapted from an article written by Kevin Collier.]

Gerald Witherell I [1915-1960] and Izetta M. Decker “TuTu” Witherell [1918-2009]

Izetta was born in Galien, Berrien County on September 20, 1918. Her parents were Robert and Louisa Murdock Decker. Izetta married Gerald A. Witherell I in St. Joseph, Berrien County on September 26, 1936. They had two children, Mary Lou, who married David Matzen and relocated to Newburgh, Cass County; and Gerald II of Grand Haven. From the mid-1960s to the time of her death, Izetta resided at 527 Butler in Grand Haven. The elder Gerald, the grandson of early Muskegon settler, Captain John Witherell, was born in Muskegon on May 18, 1915. Gerald was a Surfman with the Coast Guard and stationed in St. Joe at the time of his wedding. In 1937, he was transferred to the Coast Guard Station in Manistee. Gerry and his mates were called to provide lifesaving service in the Ohio floods of that year. In the course of carrying out his duties, Gerry injured his back. The injury ultimately led to his discharge from the Coast Guard. Izetta’s father, Frank Decker, owned and operated Decker Bus Lines. Grand Haven was one of its stops. After his discharge from the Coast Guard, Gerry I was hired as a mechanic and driver for the firm, but later drove for Greyhound Bus lines. Gerry died of pancreatic cancer on May 9, 1960.

Izetta was a member of the United Methodist Church of the Dunes, the Tri-Cities Council of Churches, and the Eastern Star Chapter No. 132 of Grand Haven and Spring Lake, where she once was Matron. She held leadership positions with the North Ottawa Community Hospital Auxiliary, PTA, and Girl Scouts. She was named Woman of the Year in 1968. Izetta was manager and Buyer for Reichardt’s in Grand Haven until her retirement in 1998. Izetta died on August 8, 2009 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Her nickname TuTu came from the Hawaiian word for grandmother. [Tribune obituary, August 11, 2009.]

Lewis Hindsdill Withey [1847-1925]

In 1873 Lewis Withey joined Edward P. Ferry and others to form the “Michigan Bunch” in Utah and entered the silver mining business. He also was a founding trustee of the Michigan Trust Company in Grand Rapids from its start in 1889 to 1923. Van Irving Witt [1868-1952]

In 1907 Van Witt purchased Henry Baar’s drug store at 216 Washington. He had earlier purchased Frederick Hutty’s drug store at 135 Washington, and for a while ran both enterprises. He operated the business at 216 Washington under his name for nearly 20 years, when he sold it to Edward W. Ewald in late December 1926. In 1910 he opened another drug store, this one at 1125 Washington Street, which he sold in the 1920s to Carl Hetzel. Van was born in Mt. Pleasant in February 1868 and came to Grand Haven around the mid-1890s from Lake City, Missaukee County. He worked as a druggist before opening his own store. On June 18, 1891 he married Lulu Barr in Chicago. Lulu was born in Indiana in April 1871. They lived at 614 Lafayette in the early 1900s. Van, who was a member of the Grand Haven Stag Club, died in 1952. Lulu passed away around November 7, 1955. Both Witts were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. A daughter, Marian, was born in August 1895.
Jacob “Jack” Frederic Witteveen [1908-1995] and Esther Witteveen [1913-1993]

Jack and Esther M. Witteveen owned a 160-acre farm in Section 10 of Grand Haven Township. There they operated a business called Evergreen Farm Nursery and sold Christmas trees wholesale and retail. The house address was 13894 168th Avenue. Prior to the nursery, Jack owned Grand Haven Heating Company, located at the same address. Jack married Della Brower in Holland on March 14, 1935. Born in 1911, Della passed away in 1940. On March 29, 1944 he married Esther Dyhouse in Grand Haven. Jack lived from August 14, 1908 to June 11, 1995. He was buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery in Holland with Della. Esther was born on May 3, 1913, passed away on October 2, 1993, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. She was the daughter of Baldwin and Laura Saul Hery of Grand Haven Township.

Joseph Townsend Wixon [Wixon, Wixen] [1840-1907]

In June 1880 Joseph Wixon sold his photography studio, which he had opened in 1877, to Edwin P. Baker. The studio was located over the post office at the southeast corner of Washington and First Streets [100 Washington]. Joseph was born on May 29, 1840 in Steuben County, New York and came to Grand Haven from Iowa. On July 13, 1877 in Spring Lake, he married Julia Van Camp. She was born on July 4, 1852 in Sanilac County. The Wixons had four children: Chester Addison, born on February 27, 1872 in Iowa; Tina, born about 1875; Lilly, born about 1876; and Luella, born about 1878. The three older children were born in Michigan. The Wixon home was on Clinton Street. Joseph died in Rhinelander, Wisconsin on December 8, 1907. Julia passed away on January 3, 1922 in Valley Springs, California.

Adolph Wojahn [1840-1915]

A native of Posen, Germany, where he was born on June 11, 1840, Adolph Wojahn moved to Grand Haven in 1909. He previously had lived in Chicago, where he settled with his parents from Germany in 1865. He died September 4, 1915 at the home of his son, Reinold [Reinhold], at 1250 Franklin Street. He had two other sons, Herman of Chicago and Carl [Charles] of Mobile, Alabama. Adolph’s wife, Augusta, died the next year on December 13, also at Reinold’s home. She had immigrated to the United States from Germany about 1896. Reinold had a son, Otto, who died at his father’s home on April 27, 1918 at the age of 25, five months after his marriage. Otto was employed by the Keeler Brass Works in Grand Rapids. [Tribune obituaries, September 7, 1915 and April 27, 1918.]

Charles Edward Wolbrink [1875-1946], John Wolbrink [1842-1899], and John J. Wolbrink [1878-1955]

In 1894 John Wolbrink and his cousin, Charles E. Wolbrink, bought a general store in Allendale from Isaac John Quick. John Wolbrink, who was born in The Netherlands in 1842, was buried at Allendale Cemetery. On April 24, 1868 in Allendale, John married Harriet Ann Quick, Isaac’s sister. Harriet was born in Michigan in 1852, passed away in 1935, and was buried with her husband at Allendale Cemetery. Harriet and John had a son, John J. Wolbrink, who was born in Allendale on February 3, 1878 and died in 1955. Around 1918 John J. bought out his cousin’s interest and made his son Francis a partner. When the building burned down in 1920 it was replaced by a brick structure. Two more of John’s sons joined the business and the name J. J. Wolbrink & Sons was adopted. John J. married Zodie Maud Brown on June 20, 1894. She was born in Allendale on June 17, 1872, died there on January 29, 1946, and was buried at Allendale Cemetery with her husband. Charles was born in the same community on September 29, 1875, died in Grant, Newaygo County on February 6, 1946, and was buried at Allendale Cemetery with other family members. He owned a grocery store in Grant. Charles married Artie L. Parish of Allendale on December 17, 1902. She was born in Allendale on January 4, 1882 and died in Cadillac on May 4, 1973. Like the others, she was buried at Allendale Cemetery with her husband. Charles and Artie had three children.

Sarah Wolcott [1822-1902]

After her husband’s death, Sarah Wolcott managed the family’s strawberry farm in Section 35 of Grand Haven Township. She was born in New York in April 1822 and died on April 23, 1902. Evidently her husband’s name was Seth, also from New York. He died on August 7, 1892. Their son, Charles, was born in Illinois in November 1856.

Anthony Wolf [1909-1987]

Born in Chicago on July 19, 1909, Tony Wolf was a Robinson township supervisor and school board member. On September 19, 1933, he married Margaret Pearl, the daughter of John and Josephine Stark Holtrop. Margaret was born on March 6, 1912. The Wolves, who had no children, resided at 12328 120th Avenue in Robinson. At age 59 Tony founded the West Indies Self-Help Mission on the island of La Gonave, Haiti, for the purpose of helping residents learn the art of agriculture. After his wife’s death in October 1979, he constructed a library in her honor on the island. Hundreds of school children on the island benefited from the library for their educational needs. The library also devoted a section to pastoral use. Anthony and Margaret considered a Haitian orphan, Premire Verdieu, their daughter. Premire she continued the mission and sewing school after the Wolves’ deaths. Tony died October 15, 1987. He and his wife were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 15, 1987.]

Eugene M. “Ducky” Wolfe [Wolf] [1898-1987]

Eugene Wolfe was born in New Orleans, Louisiana on July 6, 1898. Around 1926 he married Esther, Luella Pinto’s daughter. It was his second marriage. Esther was born in Arkansas about 1912. In 1930 Ducky and Esther were living with John and Luella Pinto at 1329 Franklin Street in Grand Haven. The Wolves had two children: Charlene, who was born in Illinois about May 1927, graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1945, and was deceased by 2000; and Tyrie “Bubbles” Leevester Wolfe, who was born in Illinois [Michigan] on February 19, 1929. In 1949 he graduated from Grand Haven High School, where he played an instrument in the marching band and in a dance band. He also competed in football and baseball. After graduation Tyrie enlisted in the Army, served in Vietnam, and retired as SFC. He settled in Waynesville, Missouri where he died on June 30, 2000. He apparently had a son with the same name, who was born in Muskegon in December 1966. In 1948 the family resided at 1321 Franklin, formerly the home of another African American family, Zachariah and Lottie Morgan. Eugene Wolfe, who worked at odd jobs, died in Grand Haven on August 19, 1987. [Tribune obituary, August 21, 1987.]

William Martin Wolff [@1884-1947]

In 1930 William Wolff was stationed in Grand Haven as Head Crewman for the 10th Coast Guard District. He was born in Massachusetts on January 1, 1884. He married Edith Eugenia Northrup on November 11, 1912 in Manchester, Massachusetts. Edith was born in Canada on July 16, 1889. In 1930 she resided at 508 Slayton with her two children. William was included with his crew mates in the Federal Census of that year. William died on November 17, 1947 and was buried in Provincetown Cemetery, Massachusetts. Edith passed away on November 2, 1957 and was buried with her husband.

Arie Woltman I [Waltman] [1843-1892]

Born in The Netherlands in 1843, at age ten Arie Woltman, his brother Jurrien, and their father arrived at Staten Island, New York. The father passed away just days after arriving, so Arie did odd jobs to support himself. Around 1852 he settled in Holland, Michigan and became a cook’s assistant on numerous schooners. Arie and his brother Jurrien began business in Grand Haven in 1875 as partners with Jurrien Ball at a store called Woltman, Ball & Company, located at 201-203 Washington Street [Howlett Block]. On November 1, 1877 the business failed, but Jurrien Ball appealed to their creditors to let him carry on. He and a brother bought out the Woltmans and operated a dry goods and grocery business as the J. Ball Store. Arie was elected sheriff of Ottawa County in 1876 and served four terms. In the mid-1880s he was probate judge, and at the end of that decade he moved back to Holland and opened a cigar store. In the summer months he commanded the steamer Lizzie Walsh. Arie was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. He passed away on March 9, 1892. His wife, Altje “Alice” Lubbers, died two years later on April 1. She was born in The Netherlands in 1845. The Woltmans’ children, all born in Michigan, were Herman, born about 1869; Jennie, born about 1871; Martin, born about 1873; Anna, born about 1878; and Arie II, born about 1884. Arie II married Ella Case in Zeeland on November 25, 1908. [Tribune obituary, March 10, 1892.]

Jurrien “Jerry” Woltman [Waltman] [1844-1916]

On September 5, 1916, Johanna Dipenhorst Woltman, Jurrien Woltman’s wife, applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. The application cited Jerry’s service in Company I of the 25th Michigan Infantry and Company K of the 28th Michigan Infantry. He enlisted in Grand Rapids at the age of 20 as private. Born in The Netherlands in November 1844, Jerry immigrated to America with his brother Arie and their father in 1851. A few days after arriving at Staten Island, New York the father passed away. Eventually he and Arie settled in Holland, Michigan. Jerry began business in Grand Haven in 1875 as partner with his brother and Jurrien Ball. They opened a store, called Woltman, Ball & Company, at 201-203 Washington Street [Howlett Block]. On November 1, 1877 the business failed, but Jerry appealed to his creditors to let him carry on. He and a brother bought out the Woltmans and operated the dry goods and grocery business as the J. Ball Store. Jerry was listed in the 1893 Compendium as “drummer,” or salesman, in Grand Haven.

Before Johanna became his wife, Jerry in 1867 married Guertje De Vries. She lived from 1844 to 1873. She and Jerry had a daughter, Antje “Anna,” who was born on March 9, 1868, and a son, John, who died in 1870 at the age of one. Jerry and Johanna also had children: Harry, who died in May 1891 at the age of 14, and two daughters, Anna and Maggie. Jerry died in 1916. He and Johanna were married Noordeloos, Ottawa County, on November 2, 1875. Johanna was born in The Netherlands on January 17, 1850 and immigrated to the United States aboard the Jacob A. Westervelt on September 20, 1855. The Woltmans lived at 228 Columbus. Johanna died about January 18, 1926 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Jurrien and other family members.

Alexander Wood [1838-1917]

Born in Scotland on April 28, 1838, Alexander Wood came to America by way of Canada with his parents about eleven years later. He worked on a farm in New York and started to learn the blacksmith trade. Prior to the Civil War he was agent for the Creek Indians. At the onset of the war, Alexander was taken prisoner by Confederate soldiers and kept at his trade of blacksmithing. When the war ended, he was sent by the U.S. Government to Fort Leavenworth, Arkansas for two years. He also served in Arizona and participated in several Indian battles. In 1870 he moved to Port Washington, Wisconsin. About 1872 he and his wife came to Spring Lake where he operated a blacksmith’s shop until 1916. It was located on the southwest corner of Park and Savidge Streets. During his time in Spring Lake Alexander served as village president in 1898, was a member of the Spring Lake School Board, and held other offices.

On April 4, 1871 Alexander married Ella Chamberlain. Ella was born in Port Washington, Wisconsin on March 4, 1847 to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Chamberlain. Ella was one of the organizers of the Hatton Memorial Hospital Board and the Spring Lake Cemetery Association, and she was a member of the Spring Lake Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star and the Daughters of the American Revolution. She also was active with the Women’s Christian Temperance Union [WCTU] and helped collect money for the maintenance of a water fountain donated by Spring Lake businessman, Enno Pruim. The fountain, installed at the corner of Jackson and Savidge, encouraged passersby to slake their thirst there instead of at a saloon. Alexander and his wife moved to 114 East Savidge in Spring Lake after 1899, the year the previous owner, James Emery, passed away. The Woods’ son, Harry A., was born in Michigan around 1874, and they also had a daughter, Mary F., born in March 1882. Ella died on September 23, 1928 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with her husband, who had died in 1917.

Horace Bowen Wood [1846-1939]

While living in Coventry, Rhode Island, Horace Wood enlisted with the Federal forces as private on February 19, 1862. He transferred from Company A of the 4th Rhode Island Infantry into Company G of the 7th Rhode Island Infantry on February 1, 1865 and was mustered out on July 13 that year. He applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension on February 17, 1890 while residing in Crockery Township, where he was still residing in 1920. Horace, the son of David and Mary Wood, was born on October 30, 1846. He died on February 18, 1939 and was buried at Crockery Township Cemetery.

John Wood [1836-?]

John Wood was born in Detroit on April 14, 1836. On April 20, 1861 he enlisted as private in Company F of the 1st Michigan Infantry and was mustered out on August 7 of that year, evidently while serving in the quartermaster’s office. After the Civil War he married a widow, Elizabeth Beard Sherman, in Illinois. They moved to Saginaw, where John worked for three years at a lumber business. He then settled in Olive Township in 1870. He served as clerk, drain commissioner, and justice of the peace. Elizabeth was born in Seneca County, New York, in November 1837 and died on June 14, 1878.

Silas T. Wood [@1816-?]

After the first bridge over the South Channel opened in 1872, the City of Grand Haven paid Silas T. Wood $30 a month to serve as bridge tender. Silas was born in Massachusetts around 1816. His wife, Elizabeth, came from New York, where she was born about 1824.

Giles Woodbury [1816-1867]

Giles Woodbury was born in Perryville [Tomkins County] New York on November 11, 1816. He settled first in Muskegon, then moved to Grand Haven. A tanner by trade, Giles went into the tanning business when Clark Albee bought the Sheldon Tannery in Grand Haven in 1854. On November 14, 1860, he married Matilda Gardner Fox, a widow who had settled in Allendale Township in 1840. She was born in England around 1821, died in Allendale on March 9, 1891, and was buried at Allendale Township Cemetery. The Woodburys moved to Section 11 of Allendale Township in 1861, where Giles took up farming. The Woodburys’ two children, both born in Michigan, were Jesse, born in 1861, and Warren, born about 1865. Matilda had two sons by her first marriage, Charles D. Fox, born in Michigan in 1840, and Frank J. Fox, born in Michigan on May 3, 1849. Giles died on August 16, 1867.

Jesse Giles Thomas Woodbury [1860-1912]

As sheriff of Ottawa County, Jesse Woodbury and his wife, Alice, lived at the building that housed the jail and sheriff’s office on the northeast corner of Fourth and Franklin Streets in Grand Haven. A daughter, Eva, lived with them. Jesse, born in Grand Haven on August 6, 1860, was the son of Giles and Matilda Fox Woodbury of Allendale Township. On December 24, 1887 in Allendale Jesse married Alice Wolbrink. She was born in Georgetown Township about 1865. In 1892 Jesse gave up the family farm in Section 11 of Allendale Township and started a planing mill in partnership with Dennis Bennett. Jesse died in Grand Haven on April 16, 1912. Alice passed away about June 16, 1946. Both she and Jesse were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Joseph C. Woodford [1896-1979]

Henry J. Woods [@1888-?]

Henry J. Woods, a Grand Haven resident for a brief time, was born in Michigan about 1888 and was listed as Negro in the 1930 census. He was a laborer in a coal yard. Henry and Esta were married about 1920. Esta, another Michigan native and Black, was born about 1893. They resided at 515 North Seventh Street. Living with them was their daughter, Harriet, who was born in Michigan about 1923.

William E. Woodworth [1903-1963]
William Woodworth was born in Shelbyville, Indiana, on August 3, 1903. He became president of Kent Products, which was started in 1952 at 427 North Griffin. He married Kathleen Davison, also from Shelbyville, on July 15, 1936. William died in Grand Haven on March 8, 1963, after a lingering illness. Kathleen was born April 8, 1905 and died in Miami, Florida in April 1981.

Stephen Wooley [1829-1913]

Spring Lake resident Stephen Wooley was born in England in December 1829. His wife, Elizabeth M. [Mary], was born in Pennsylvania in November 1832. They had several children, all born in Michigan, including Henry A., who lived from July 1862 to 1911; Herbert, who lived from 1866 to 1882; Phoebe, who was born about 1868; and Bertie, who was born in 1871 and died in 1932. Stephen, who was classified as a “laborer” in the 1893 Compendium, passed away in 1913. Mary lived from 1834 to 1873. The family was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They lived in a two-story, frame house on Savidge, later occupied by the Barrett family.

Harold Worm [Warm] [1899-1969]

Anthony and Bibianna Worm were residents of Kent County as early as 1870. Their son Harold was born in Grand Rapids on June 8, 1899. Harold resided in Grand Rapids, where he was an artist, real estate developer, and architect. In 1927 Anthony constructed a log cabin near the future North Shore Drive, about a half-mile south of today’s North Beach Park. All the construction materials were delivered by boat, since the road wasn’t put in until the next year. The small, four-room log cabin remained in place until 1998, when it was dismantled in sections and moved. Also in 1927 Harold and his wife, Jean, built a more substantial two-story, Tudor-style home closer to the beach [18889 North Shore Drive]. Their daughter and son-in-law, Janet and William Grant, took title to the home and continued to live in it into the 21st century. By 1930 Harold and his partner, Lincoln Vercoe, also of Grand Rapids, owned a number of acres in the area, which they purchased from Orphie W. Gotto of Long Beach, Indiana. Harold and Lincoln opened an office and distributed a brochure called “Green Banks” in order to promote their North Shore development. The Depression slowed growth of the North Shore but did not stop it. In 1931 Harold started the Cabana Colony Club, a group of cabins with adjacent restaurant just south of today’s North Beach Park. [Ottawa County purchased the property used for North Beach Park from Harold.] The Cabana Colony became a popular nightspot, which offered dancing and entertainment. During WWII the club shut down and never reopened. After the war James and Yvonne Farley purchased several of the cabanas, moved them to 17485 Fruitport Road and opened a resort business known as the Spring Lake Cabanas.

About this time, Harold and his son David formed the Michigan Development Company, with plans to extend North Shore Road northward into an area called North Shore Estates. In 1959 Dr. David and Dottie Seibold built a home at 18381 North Shore Estates Drive and became the first year-round residents of the area. Harold died in August 1969. His family purchased land for two tennis courts, which they built in his memory and donated to North Shore residents. In the early 1950s the family name was legally changed to Warm, but it was a few years before the new name was commonly accepted. David married Paula Gerber of the Gerber Baby Food family on February 23, 1957 using the name Warm. Born on July 9, 1924, he died on May 20, 1995 in Leelanau.

John Worsfold [1841-1940]

Born in London, England on November 18, 1841, John Worsfold lived in Ontario, Canada and Illinois before coming to Grand Haven in 1910 [1909]. He became known as “Grand Haven’s Honey Man,” and would walk with his heavy merchandise in pails suspended from a harness pole on his shoulders. He hiked many miles each day from Highland Park to Spring Lake, where he would sell his wares. John, along with Martha Rice, appeared in several Coast Guard Festival Parades as Grand Haven’s oldest citizens. John was one of the founding members of the Christian Science Church in Grand Haven. After his wife died before 1930, John resided with his son and daughter-in-law, Charles and Cordelia Worsfold. Charles was born around 1878 in Canada, and Cordelia was born in Missouri around 1875. Charles and Cordelia resided at 537
Lafayette. Their children were Renton, born in Michigan about 1904; Dorothea Sue, born in Illinois about 1911; and Charles R., born in Michigan about 1916. By 1930, still residing at 537 Lafayette, Charles’s wife, Cora, was born in Illinois about 1876. At that time Charles was custodian at the Elks Club on Second Street in Grand Haven. John died about June 26, 1940 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Cora passed away three years later about July 9 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Stanley L. Worthing [Worthy] [1890-1986]

Born on January 7, 1890 in Footsville, Wisconsin, Stanley Worthing married Eva Lex on June 26, 1910 in Spring Lake. At that time, he worked as a boiler maker at an unspecified factory. About the time of WWI, Stanley was a private in the Illinois National Guard. Stanley and Eva were living in Crockery Township in 1918, but had moved to Grand Rapids by 1920, where he worked as an engineer in a factory. Ten years later they were running a fruit farm in Crockery Township. Their next move was to Spring Lake Village. They remained in the Spring Lake area the rest of their lives. Stanley established himself as a self-employed artist. He attended Unity Church in Grand Rapids. Stanley died in Spring Lake on February 20, 1986. Eva, who resided in Crockery Township as a child, was born in Six Lakes on June 14, 1886. She passed away on March 12, 1970 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. At the time of her death, the couple resided at 13556 Cypress Avenue in Crockery Township.

John Wright [1815-1874]

John Wright owned an acre of land that he sold for $120 to the U.S. Government in 1838 as a site for the first lighthouse. He owned other parcels in the area. [This may be John Stephen Wright, born on July 16, 1815 in Sheffield, Massachusetts. He ran a manufacturing business in Chicago, where he died on September 26, 1874.]

John Sampson Wright [1820-1904]

Born in December 1820 in Ohio, John Wright was a physician in Indiana before coming to Crockery in 1875 to set up practice. He also had “Blooded Horses for Sale,” as advertised in the 1893 Business Compendium. His wife, Nancy, was born in New York about 1823, died on August 9, 1895 at the age of 73, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. John died the week of February 19, 1904. The Wrights owned property in Section 15 of Crockery Township. Their daughter, Della, was born in Indiana on June 27, 1860 and married John Fremont Brown. She died on November 3, 1888 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. At the time of her death, the couple resided at 13556 Cypress Avenue in Crockery Township.

Mell Wright [1896-1971]

Born on November 20, 1896, Mell Wright managed the Grand Haven Kroger Store before opening Wright’s Grill in downtown Grand Haven [211 Washington] in the 1940s. He purchased Highland Park Hotel in 1947 and operated it until the building was destroyed by fire in December 1967. He also owned Highland Park Hotel Annex, which Mell’s wife, Ruth E., continued to operate after his death, until she sold it. Mell died in Grand Haven on March 21, 1971 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ruth was born on May 6, 1898 and died in Ferrysburg on May 8, 1995.

Squire Austin Wright [1838-1862]

S. Austin Wright, a native of Grand Haven, was born on December 23, 1838. On October 31, 1861 he enlisted in Company C of the 55th Illinois Infantry as second lieutenant. He was wounded at the Battle of Shiloh on April 6, 1862 and died from his wounds in Quincy, Illinois on May 12. According to his headstone at Lake Forest Cemetery, he held the rank of captain, although that promotion was not recorded in his service records. Prior to entering the military, Austin was engaged to be married to Sarah Pennoyer, daughter of Henry and Harriet Pennoyer. Sarah was born in Muskegon on April 29, 1841.

George Henry Wuennecke [Winicka] [1881-1964]
George Wuennecke was an employee of Variety Woodwork Company at 350-407 Davis in Grand Haven. The company was active from about 1932 to 1945. Prior to that, George was foreman at the Higman Basket Factory on Sixth Street. He was born in Minnesota on February 15, 1881. His wife, Jennie, was a Michigan native, where she was born around 1883. Their children, all born locally, were William born about 1910; Wilhelmina, born about 1911; Katherine, born about 1913; and Bertha, born about 1916. The couple and their four children resided at 817 Madison. Jennie passed away about October 24, 1963, and George died around September 22, 1964. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles E. Wyman [1826-1899]

Born in Schroon, Essex County, New York on February 10, 1826, Charles Wyman moved to Ohio when he was 20 and remained there for six years before coming to Michigan. His parents were John and Abigail Potter Wyman. In 1864 Charles built a sawmill in Blendon Township, which necessitated a six-mile lumber run to the river. In 1865 he sold the mill and went into the oil business in Oil Creek, Pennsylvania. Returning to Grand Haven in 1866, Charles formed a partnership with Henry W. Buswell. They bought the Ferry Mill at the foot of Columbus Street, and when that mill burned down in 1868, they erected a new mill a little farther up the river and also opened a mill on the Muskegon River at White Cloud. That mill employed about 35 men and produced approximately 50,000 board feet a day. In 1887 Charles was named director of the newly formed Dake Engine Company. He was one of the major shareholders of the company.

In 1851 Charles married Harriet Reynolds of Cuyahoga, Ohio. She was born about 1824 and died on March 8, 1895. The Wymans had four children: Harvey P., born in Ohio in 1852; Charles R., born in Ohio on January 16, 1855; George R, born on November 10, 1859 [May 1858]; and William Potter, who was born about 1862 and married Arminnie Lydia “Minnie” McKee on October 27, 1885 in Laingsburg, Shiawassee County. The Wyman home was at 308 Franklin Street. However, Charles died at another home near Nunica on May 11, 1899 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as were other family members. [Tribune obituary, May 11, 1899.]

Charles R. Wyman [1855-1899]

Charles, the son of Charles and Harriet Reynolds Wyman, was born in Ohio on January 16, 1855. He married May Perkins, a native of Michigan, where she was born on May 1, 1859. She was the daughter of Noah and Ellen Turner Perkins of Spring Lake. The Wymans’ children included Alice Wyman, who attended Ypsilanti Normal College [Eastern Michigan University]; Edgar P. Wyman, who lived from November 11, 1888 to March 9, 1955; George L Wyman., born in October 1892; and Ruth, R. Wyman, born on August 16, 1898. In 1877 Charles and Daniel Garnsey operated the Garnsey & Wyman Insurance Company in the Cutler House. The Wyman family later resided in Crockery Township, where Charles was an insurance agent. He died on May 11, 1899. May passed away on July 21, 1913. Charles and May were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as was Ruth, who died on November 22, 1901. George and Harvey Wyman were his brothers.

George R. Wyman [1859-1905]

Born in Blendon Township on November 10, 1859, George was the son of Charles and Harriet Reynolds Wyman. His brother Harvey J. Wyman moved to Johnson City, Tennessee and another brother, William P. Wyman, relocated to Santa Barbara, California. George came to Grand Haven with his family about 1865. For some years he was engaged as a clerk in the lumbering business with his brother, but in 1895 he joined the Dake Engine Company. He was a member of the Board of Public Works, alderman from the Second Ward from 1897 to 1900, and member of the Masons, Knights Templars, and Modern Woodman Lodge. He died of Bright’s Disease at his home on Franklin Street on August 7, 1905. Charles R. Wyman of Grand Haven was another of his brothers. [Tribune obituary, August 7, 1905.]

Harvey P. Wyman [1852-1924]

When the Dake Engine Company was organized in 1887, Harvey Wyman was a major stockholder and from 1892 to 1895 served as its second president. Harvey also was secretary of the Chippewa Lumber Company in 1893. Born in 1852, he was the son of Charles and Harriet Reynolds Wyman. Harvey died in 1924 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Ellen M. Wyman, lived from 1853 to 1940 and was buried with Harvey at Lake Forest. Charles R. Wyman and George Wyman were his brothers.

While living in Section 3 of Olive Township, Ida Yaggie found a Clovis point, or arrowhead, indicating the presence of Native Americans in Northwest Ottawa County as early as 10,000 B.C. On July 1, 1922 Ida married Henry Joseph Yaggie in Muskegon. They relocated to Robinson Township, and around 1950 they moved to Grand Haven and resided at 1215 Beechtree Street. They had one son, Joseph. Ida, the daughter of Peter and Mary Madison of Robinson Township, was born on April 25, 1899 and passed away in Grand Haven on April 22, 1982. Henry was born in Pennsylvania in July 1892 and died of a heart attack on February 18, 1954. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Frank E. Yates [@1841-1921]

Frank Yates on April 20, 1861 enlisted in New York City as first lieutenant in Company G of the New York 11th Infantry. He resigned on June 15 the same year, and on November 24, 1861 he enlisted again as 1st lieutenant, this time with Company D of the New York 73rd Infantry. He was discharged from this post on December 11, 1862. By 1870 he and his wife were residing in Grand Haven, where Frank was listed as a “commission merchant.” In 1879 Frank organized Company F in Grand Haven and was elected its first captain. The unit was called Yates Light Infantry initially. He served one year. Company F eventually became part of the 126th Infantry. Frank was agent for the Goodrich and Grand River Transportation Companies. His wife, Alice, was born about 1847 in Michigan. A daughter, Florence, was born in Grand Haven in 1872 and died on September 5, 1875. His wife, Alice, was born about 1847 in Michigan. A daughter, Florence, was born in Grand Haven in 1872 and died on September 5, 1875. On December 8 that year another daughter, Fritey, was born. [Fritey’s mother was listed as Fannie.] Fritey died on April 7, 1880. On February 4, 1880, Frank married Ida M. Anderson in Grand Haven. By 1900 he was living in Chicago with a widowed cousin, Isabella Howard, working as a stockbroker, and listed as single. He and Isabella were still together in Chicago in the 1920 census. Frank was then working as a reporter for the Chicago Board of Trade. Frank, a native of Wisconsin, was 80 years old when he died on July 28, 1921 in Chicago. Isabella, also a native of Wisconsin, was ten years younger than Frank.

George W. Yates [1831-1902]

George Yates was born in Clermont County, Ohio, in April 1831 [April 19, 1837]. He moved with his father to Iroquois County, Illinois in 1844 and remained there until August 15, 1861, when he enlisted in Company D of the 10th Illinois Infantry as private. He was discharged on July 3, 1863, but his service record stated that he also saw service with the Mississippi Marine Brigade. By 1870 George was living in Olive Township and working as a laborer. His wife, Mary, was born in Ohio around 1844. By 1882 they lived in Section 27, and George had entered the lumbering business. He was buried at the Spence Family Burial Ground in Iroquois County, Illinois, where his grave was marked by an undated monument. He was residing alone in Ashkum, Iroquois County, in 1900. He died there on October 23, 1902.

Robert M. Yelton [1913-1988]

Working with Al Jacobson and Jack Jordan, Robert Yelton in the early 1960s helped develop the east slope of Five Mile Hill in Mulligan’s Hollow for skiing. Robert was born on November 15, 1913 and died on August 3, 1988. Bob and his wife, Patricia L. resided at 910 South De Spelder in Grand Haven. Bob worked a mechanic, and Patricia was office secretary at the State Police Crime Laboratory in Holland.

Mary Helen Yerkes [1859–1943]

Mary was born on October 3, 1859 in Livingston County, New York, the daughter of James Hill and Mary Norton Bristol Yerkes, who were married in Lima, New York on August 31, 1858. James Yerkes was born in Rochester, New York, on April 1, 1836, the same year and state as his wife. With her sister Susan, Mary was named co-principal of Akeley Hall when Rev. and Mrs. Wilkinson retired in 1901. The sisters held the position until Akeley closed in 1926, about the same time they bought Khardomah Lodge. The Yerkes sisters sold the lodge to Jenny Smith in 1937. The sisters also owned a cottage near the pier on the North Shore called Never-Never-Land. They were members of the Woman’s Club of Grand Haven and the Tuesday Musicale.

They were educated in the East and spent several years in European study, particularly art and modern languages, in Munich, Paris, and Italy. Mary began teaching at Kemper Hall, a girls’ boarding school, in Kenosha, Wisconsin, where for nine years she was head mistress and then vice principal, the first person at Kemper to be given that title. Meanwhile Susan began her career at a girls’ school, St. Mary’s in Faribault, Minnesota, which she left to become preceptoress [teacher] of the Staten Island Academy in Richmond Borough, New York City, post she held for the next eleven years. This co-educational school served grades kindergarten through twelfth. The sisters worked together for the first time when Mary was named Associate principal of Knickerbocker Hall in Indianapolis, while Susan took the position of assistant principal. At Knickerbocker, yet another girls’ boarding and day school, the attendance multiplied 13 times during their tenure. The sisters’ success at Knickerbocker led them to their assignment at Akeley Institute when Rev. and Mrs Wilkinson retired in 1901. Mary was named head mistress, and Susan became a Latin teacher at the Institute, although they were considered co-principals. In Grand Haven Mary and Susan hired a teaching force notable for culture and advanced education. It was under their direction that Akeley Hall, as the Institute came to be called, attained a unique place among institutions of its kind. The sisters retired in 1926, when the Hall closed its door to new admissions. The last class graduated in 1928.

Mary and Susan lived in a large home atop a wooded dune at 819 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven., built for them by August Boseker. Residing with them in 1920 were their parents, James and Mary Yerkes, who died on July 8, 1922 and September 29, 1920, respectively. By 1928 Mary had moved to 806 Sheldon Road, while Susan continued living in the Lake Avenue home. A few years later she moved in with her sister on Sheldon. Later, perhaps after her sister’s death, Mary’s home was on Sheldon Road. Mary died in Hartsdale, New York, on June 8, 1943. She was buried at Mount Hope Cemetery in Rochester, New York, with her parents and sister Susan. [Tribune obituary, June 21, 1943.]

Susan Hill Yerkes [1861–1937]

Gertrude, the daughter of Anne and Sadie Stap, was born on March 20, 1888 and died in Grand Haven on March 1970; she was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Yonkers had one son, Harold John Yonker, who died on February 25, 1924, less than one month old. The family resided at 710 Fulton Street.

Klaas Yonker [1823-1909]
On May 15, 1847, in Uithuizen, Groningen, The Netherlands, Klaas Yonker married Jantje “Jenny” F. Balk. Both of them were born in Uithuizen, he on December 9, 1823 and Jenny on January 18, 1823. By 1870 they were residing in Grand Haven, where Klaas was a laborer. Later he was a gardener. Three of their children were born in Illinois: Hendrick in 1847; Duke in 1852; and Grietje in 1854. The other four were born in Michigan: Johanna in 1857; Frederick in 1859; Gerrit in 1861; and Tryntje in 1864. The Yonkers’ home was at 409 North Seventh. Jenny died on April 21, 1909 and Klaas passed away on May 16, 1909. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Klaas’s sister, Renske “Rosa,” married Jan “John” Danhof of Grand Haven.

Nicholas F. Yonkman [1894-1967]
Nicholas Yonkman and his wife Harriet at one time lived in Spring Lake Township and at 1222 Pennoyer, but later relocated to 14705 Lakeshore Drive. He was born on August 19, 1894, died in Grand Haven about October 10, 1967, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Harriet was born on January 25, 1903 and passed away in Grand Haven on March 9, 1994. She also was buried at Lake Forest. They were members of the United Methodist Church of Grand Haven. In 1930 Nicholas was working for Ottawa County as Civil Engineer.

Elias G. Young [@1821-1895]
The son of George Young, Elias came to Grand Rapids with his father and settled on a farm near Reed’s Lake in 1836. By 1880 Elias was located in Grand Haven, where he was elected county clerk and register of deeds of Ottawa County. He eventually returned to Grand Rapids, where he died at the age of 74 on September 17, 1895 at his residence on Burton Avenue near Reed’s Lake and was buried at Valley City [Oakhill] Cemetery in Kent County. His wife, Melissa D., was born in New York around 1832. [Tribune obituary, September 18, 1895.]

Frank K. Young [? - ?]
Frank Young had a barber shop at 10 Washington in the early 1900s. He also offered cigars and tobacco for sale. He and his wife, Aurelia, lived upstairs at the same address.

Hattie E. Young [1892-1978] and Minnie Young [1894-1984]
From 1924 to 1958 Hattie Young taught Latin at Grand Haven High School. Her sister Minnie started teaching English at Grand Haven High Junior School in 1924 and retired in 1960. Minnie was instrumental in organizing the first Girl Scout troops in Grand Haven in 1924, and she remained active with the group for many years. The sisters resided in the family home at 1221 Sheldon Road most of their lives. Hattie lived from October 20, 1892 to June 1978, and Minnie lived from August 28, 1894 to October 1984. They were the daughters of James and Rebecca Young and both of the sisters were born in Nebraska. James was born in 1863 in Illinois, died in 1935, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Rebecca was born about 1874 in Iowa and married James when she was 17. James was foreman at a machine shop in Grand Haven.

James H. Young [1834-1904]

Charles Samuel Zellar [1886-1954]
Charles Zellar was born in Whitehall on September 20, 1886. He and his wife, Gertrude Matilda Turns, were married in Montague on August 2, 1911. She was born on March 1, 1890. They moved to Grand Haven from Whitehall in Muskegon County sometime between 1911 and 1920. They were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Charles first worked for the Dake Foundry, then he and his brother Fred opened a grocery and dry goods store at 1320 Washington Street, where they also lived. Charles sold his share of the business to his brother in 1929 and moved to Anderson, Indiana. Charles died there on December 4, 1954 and his wife died in Bourbon, Kentucky on April 10, 1966.
Frederick James Zellar [1885-1959]

Born in Whitehall on January 31, 1885, Frederick was the son of Henrich Albert Zellar, a native of Germany. Frederick settled in Grand Haven sometime between 1911 and 1920 and with his brother, Charles, opened Zellar’s Grocery store at 1320 Washington Street. After the grocery store was sold, he worked as an engineer for the Dake Corporation, where he retired in 1945. Frederick was also secretary for the Eagles Organization.

On June 29, 1904 in Grand Haven, Frederick married Mary Agnes Merz of Crockery Township. The daughter of John and Caroline Henley Merz, she lived from December 24, 1884 to November 1, 1938. The Zellar family lived at 1250 Franklin Street and later at 732 Columbus. A daughter, Dorothy Marie, was born on January 17, 1913 and married Joseph John Bessinger in 1934. She died the following January 17 at age 22. Another daughter, Caroline, was born in Grand Haven on April 12, 1906. She married Leroy Hommer of Muskegon on June 29, 1929 at St. Patrick’s Church and died on November 12, 1930, following the birth of a daughter, Joyce Carol. The Zellars had a son, Louis James, who was born on May 20, 1910. Another son, John, followed four years later. Frederick died on October 18, 1959 at Eastmanville. Both Frederick and Mary were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Louis James Zellar [1910-1986]

Born in Grand Haven on May 20, 1910, Louis Zellar attended area schools. His parents were Frederick and Mary Agnes Merz Zellar. Before World War II Louis was a deck hand on the dredge General Meade, and then received his officer’s papers and was attached to the dredge Burton. After the Burton was scrapped, he was made third officer on the dredge Peter Conover Hains, which operated out of the Port of Grand Haven. On May 21, 1932 Louis married Emily Hall in Grand Haven. They were divorced on August 28, 1943. Apparently they remarried on November 29, 1946 and were again divorced, this time on October 12, 1948. They had two children, Kenneth, born about 1934, and Paul, born about 1936. Louis also was superintendent for the City of Grand Haven Parks Department for ten years. He died in Grand Rapids on July 31, 1986. He was buried at Rosedale Memorial Park in Tallmadge Township.

Edward J. Zenko [1916-1987]

The son of Joseph and Mary Cech Zenko, Edward was born in Chicago on April 9, 1916. His mother died in 1918 and his father left the family farm in Grand Haven Township and returned to Chicago. At that time Edward was taken in by his grandparents, Frank and Josephine Cech of Grand Haven Township.

Edward owned Ace Mfg. Corp. and Progressive Engineering Company, and he was a machinery dealer throughout the state. He helped many companies in the area get started. He invented the first baby bottle holder, helped develop the first automatic blueberry picker, and developed a fiberglass bike and a flying car. Edward studied at a college in Lake Forest, Illinois to learn how to make holograms. His first hologram was for the 50th Anniversary of the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco. He was a member of the Eagles, Moose Lodge, Slovenian Farmers Club, and Duplicate Bridge Club.

Although the catwalk on the south pier was closed to the public, people still scaled the structure. Safety and liability concerns led to its scheduled demolition in early June 1987. Edward and his daughter Terry headed a volunteer group, called the Save the Catwalk Committee, that raised sufficient funds, $133,000, to remove the wooden planks which formed the walkway, to reinforce the steel supports, and to install lights the full length of the pier. Edward did much of the repair work himself. The lights were turned on for the first time on November 25, 1988 and became an attraction themselves each night thereafter. The lights were replicas of those used on the Coast Guard cutter Escanaba, which was sunk in the North Atlantic in June 1943. A total of $91,000 was spent on the improvements, and the remainder was invested to provide sufficient income to meet maintenance costs.

Edward’s love of history and antiques led him to form and lead the committee that raised $22,000 to save the catwalk on the south pier from being torn down and to install lights on the pier.
On November 20, 1939 Ed married Margaret Louise Anderson in Grand Haven. The daughter of Louis and Stella Featherstone Anderson, Margaret was born in Sparta, Wisconsin on August 11, 1918. The Zenkos had two daughters, Terry and Holly, and a son, Jack Edward, who was born on November 17, 1948, died on April 7, 1988, and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. After a visit to Andrew Jackson’s home in Nashville, Tennessee, the Zenkos built a similar structure at 18710 168th Street in Spring Lake Township. Edward died on December 31, 1987. Margaret was buried with her husband at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.
